Two Local School Districts Plan Elections Tuesday

Two school districts, Beechwood and Federal, face special elections Tuesday, March 17, to elect bond issues covering proposed construction.

Voters in the Federal school district will go to the polls from 2 to 8 p.m. to cast votes on a $150,000 building program which includes a new gymnasium with adequate facilities for community purposes.

Beechwood residents will vote from 7 to 9 p.m. on a $225,000 bond issue to finance a new elementary school on a newly acquired site of 22 acres on Lakewood Blvd. located a half-mile west of North River Ave. Plans call for seven classrooms, an all-purpose room, a kindergarten room and other facilities. Present facilities are overcrowded with the 415 students attending school. Plans call for the new building to house the early elementary grades.

Federal School PTA organized a citizens committee several months ago to study school needs. The $150,000 means the district would raise an additional 8½ mills over the present 4½ mills being raised for building and site, and debt retirement funds. Passage of the proposal, the committee says, would give the district one of the most up-to-date plants in the county, yet keeping the tax rate among the lowest in this area.

James Nienhuis was chosen chairman of the committee for the "get out the vote" campaign and the committee will provide transportation for any voter desiring it. A district meeting will be held at 1:30 p.m. to name an elector to serve with the Board of Education in taking charge of the election. Booths will be set up in the principal's room.

The vote at Beechwood district means an additional 9 mills on top of the 5 mills being raised under a previous bond issue and 7½ mills for operation. Polls will be set up in the school gymnasium. Peter Meurer is president of the district; John Essenburg, secretary; Fred Bocks, treasurer; Ted Van Oosterhout and Harvey De Vree, trustees.

Guard Rails Halt Semi-Truck Plunge

ZEELAND (Special) — A Grand Rapids man narrowly escaped injury Wednesday when a semi-truck loaded with eight tons of merchandise ploughed into the guard rails along M-21 near the Beaverdam road intersection.

Ward Bush was driving a Holland Motor Express semi-truck east on the highway when a guard rail stopped to make a left hand turn. A car driven by John Housinga and a truck driven by Jake De Vries both of Holland, were also stopped waiting for the gas truck to turn. Bush felt that his vacuum brakes were not holding and attempted to go around the right side of the parked vehicles. He scraped the car and the small truck before hitting the guard rail.

The truck came to rest inches from a 12-foot water-filled ditch and was held back only by the cables of the guard rail. No one was seriously injured and the load was transferred to a smaller truck and returned to Holland.

A similar accident happened less than a month ago in almost the same manner in that area.

11-Year-Old Boy Falls Under Truck

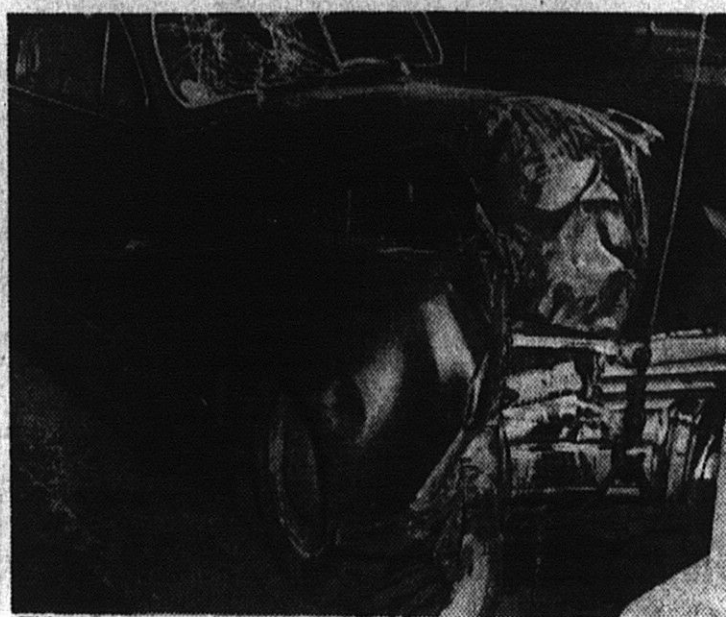

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Eleven-year-old James LaRue, is in serious condition today in Hackley Hospital, Muskegon, following an accident at about 4:30 Monday afternoon. James, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. LaRue, 1428 Pennoy Ave., fell under a garbage truck in the alley behind his home and received a fractured right leg and pelvic and internal injuries when the rear wheels of the truck ran over him.

Clyde Spencer, 30, route 2, Spring Lake, was collecting garbage when six children hung on the back of the truck. He chased them off, but unknown to the driver, James again jumped on the side of the truck and held to the door handle. As the truck started, the boy lost his balance and fell.

Glen Hill, another garbage collector, saw the incident from about a block away. He had called a warning to Spencer, but the latter was unable to hear him. Hill arrived on the scene almost immediately. The child was taken to the local hospital by ambulance and immediately transferred to Hackley hospital. Because of his condition, it was impossible to move him to Grand Rapids.

The boy, who suffers from a bone disease, usually has one leg in a sort of sling and uses a crutch. He was not using the crutch, however, at the time of the accident.

Officer Delbie De Gram of the city police investigated.

This photo shows damage to a car owned by Senator Clyde Geerlings after it jumped the curb and sent his wife and daughter and a youthful companion to Holland Hospital early this morning. Most seriously injured was Mrs. Geerlings who received a fractured right knee. She was to be taken to Blodgett Hospital in Grand Rapids this afternoon. (Photo by Howard Voss)

Senator's Wife Fractures Knee In Car Accident

The wife of a State Senator received a fractured right knee and her 17-year-old daughter and young friend were less seriously injured when their car crashed into a tree at the six-way intersection of State and 21st St. at 8:03 a.m. today.

Mrs. Clyde Geerlings, wife of the State Senator of the 23rd district, was to be taken to Blodgett Memorial Hospital in East Grand Rapids this afternoon for a specialist's treatment for a bad fracture of the right knee.

The Geerlings car, a '41 model was damaged to the extent of about $400 when it jumped the curb and plowed into a large tree between the curb and sidewalk near the intersection.

Ann Geerlings, 17, the driver, was unable to explain just what happened, and Gerrit Rooks, of 196 East 29th St., whose car was following the Geerlings car told police the car just seemed to run off the highway and hit the tree. Miss Geerlings received a lacerated tongue and bruises and was discharged after treatment in Holland hospital. The third occupant, 13-year-old Mary Ellen Dalmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Dalmann of 610 State St., received a laceration of the left cheek and shock. She is expected to leave Holland Hospital Friday. All three victims were taken to the hospital in two ambulances.

Senator Geerlings who was attending to legislative business in Lansing was called home, arriving shortly before noon. He and another daughter, Mary Jo, a student at Hope College, were to go to Grand Rapids this afternoon.

Workman of Spring Lake Wednesday night, and pleaded guilty to a charge of manufacturing five rings of fresh liver sausage which contained a quantity of animal hair. Youth of County Join in National 4-H Observance

More than 1,400 Ottawa County 4-H club members are observing National 4-H Club Week this week. As a part of the national observance Eugene F. Dice, 4-H Club agent is urging boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 21 to join in the program which teaches youngsters to learn by doing.

Day of Prayer Observed Here

Most Holland churches scheduled special prayer services Wednesday to observe annual Day of Prayer for Crops and Industry. The day had originated as a day for special prayers for crops. Later industry was added, but in general it is observed in this area as plain Prayer Day. Schools observed the event at special exercises Wednesday morning.

At Holland High School, the Rev. Henry Van Dyke of Fourth Reformed Church gave an appropriate illustrated message. Music was provided by a trio consisting of Norma Nynas, Norma Scully and Nita Van Lente, all members of the a cappella choir.

At a Junior High School assembly, John Hesselink, student at Western Theological Seminary, gave a message. Coralee Kaepfer sang a solo and an ensemble of eighth grade girls also provided a vocal selection.

Mrs. Pearl Sandberg, director of the junior church and the week-day Bible school at Third Reformed Church, gave a talk at Van Raalte School. The early elementary children sang a prayer song and other groups also provided appropriate music.

Mrs. George Huff, missionary from Africa, spoke briefly to the children at Longfellow school for their Prayer Day assembly. Herbert Harrington was announcer and Peggy Tillema led responsive readings. Mrs. Van Wyk's group sang a prayer hymn and James Bos played two trombone solos.

Miss Esther Everse gave a chalk talk at Washington school, accompanied by John Bos at the piano. Two songs were sung by the children and special three-part music by Mrs. Gertrude Douwstra's sixth grade chorus.

John Pelon, student at Western Theological seminary, spoke at Lincoln school. The student body sang two hymns and sixth graders provided other music.

At Christian High School Hero Bratt of the faculty led the exercises. Appropriate services also were held in other Christian schools.

Rep. Hoffman Asks Critics to Take Look at Record

By Rep. Clare E. Hoffman
Please don't yell at me if the 83rd Congress does not cut taxes, balance the budget. I will do my part.

My ears still ring because of the criticism of some commentators, columnists and editors—one or two in my own District—who jumped all over me when I voted in accord with a practically unanimous 13-year-old policy of the Republican Party and its leaders, which opposed a grant of legislative power to the Chief Executive.

Oh, sure I am accustomed to a lambasting by left-wing "experts," but some of this latest blast came from friends who should know better, but apparently thought a little "taking him down" would be helpful. Maybe so.

It never did seem important to me when eating a breakfast egg or a hen for supper, whether the hen or the egg came first.

Nor, do I now think it important whether this Congress first balances the budget or first cuts taxes. But, one thing I do know: We promised the people that we would do both and a Congressman had better keep those promises or have a mighty good alibi ready come November, '54.

Though Truman was in power, the Republican-controlled 80th Congress reduced taxes and balanced the budget. It can be done again, but only if we cut expenditures, and that we can do by eliminating the waste and extravagance, quit spending so many billions abroad, practice a little economy ourselves.

If when you, or someone jumps on me because of some fancied failure to follow the orders of someone never elected to office, just take a look at the Record. I am only one of 435 in the House. It is my purpose to vote not only to balance the budget, but to cut taxes because I believe that a campaign promise is something more than "political oratory"—as do other Michigan Republican Congressmen.

President Eisenhower gets a New Deal Congress of domestic and international spenders in '55, it won't be because I haven't gone along with the Party's campaign promises, worked and voted to clean up the "mess" here at home and abroad.

Again, I suggest to my friends, "Take a look at the Record."

Fire Razes Large Fennville Barn

FENNVILLE (Special) — Fire of undetermined origin Tuesday afternoon destroyed one of the largest barns in the area, a 200 by 80 foot structure with surrounding sheds, owned by Clarence Kublick. The place is better known as the Clark Raymond farm.

Mrs. Kublick was home alone at the time and after she noticed the blaze she went a mile to the home of a neighbor, Clifton Batey, to call for help. Batey was the first to arrive on the scene and said the whole interior was ablaze by that time. The barn was wired for electricity.

Also lost in the blaze were three tractors and accompanying tools, three trucks, a large quantity of corn and many head of hogs. Extent of loss had not been determined today, but is partly covered by insurance.

Kublick was in Benton Harbor where he is working with his brother, Gilbert a contractor. Kublick had purchased the farm about two years ago from Clark Raymond. The Fennville Fire Department was unable to control the blaze but was instrumental in keeping it from spreading to a garage.

Hunt Resigns Chicago Post

CHICAGO — In a surprise move, School Supt. Herold C. Hunt Wednesday asked for a release from his $30,000 a year job effective Sept. 1 so that he can accept a newly created job in the graduate school of education at Harvard University.

At Harvard, Hunt will hold the Charles W. Eliot professorship of education in the graduate school. He will be the first professor in this endowed chair which was offered him a year ago.

Hunt came to Chicago nearly six years ago from Kansas City, Mo. He was selected at the time after a year-long search for a successor to William H. Jonson who resigned under fire of several civic and school organizations in 1946.

Hunt lived in Holland, Mich., during his high school years and during his senior year was mayor of Holland High School. He has degrees from the University of Michigan and Columbia University. He has taught school at Hastings, Mich., and served as superintendent at St. Johns and Kalamazoo, Mich., and New Rochelle, N.Y., before going to Kansas City.

High School Five Comes Out Strong In Second Half

After a so-so first half, Holland High School's basketball team really let loose in the second half and trampled Grand Rapids Central 73-56 in the local's opening regional tournament game at Western Michigan College gym in Kalamazoo Tuesday night.

Thus, Holland advances to the regional semi-finals and meets Battle Creek on the same floor Friday night at 7 p.m. Battle Creek drew a first-round bye. In the other game Tuesday, Grand Rapids Creston defeated Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills 63-46 and will play the winner of tonight's Kalamazoo Central-Benton Harbor game Friday at 8:30 p.m. The two finalists meet Saturday at 8 p.m.

In Tuesday's game, Central was able to stay with Holland for two quarters, but "school was out" for the Hilltoppers shortly after the third quarter started when versatile Jack Kempker drove into the basket for two quick field goals and Carl Vischer and Terry Burns added free throws to put the locals out ahead 39-31. From then on it was Holland all the way.

The Dutch outscored Central 20-13 in the third quarter and 20-12 in the fourth quarter. At the end of the third quarter the score stood at 53-44 in Holland's favor.

During the third period Holland made five out of 12 field goal tries and 10 out of 11 foul shots. And in the last quarter the locals connected on eight out of 13 field goals and four out of five foul tries.

Central, meanwhile, missed 11 out of 16 field goal tries in the third period and two out of five foul tries, and in the last quarter the Grand Rapids team missed 15 out of 20 field goal attempts, but made two out of two good from the charity line.

During the first quarter, Holland was off in the passing department and many of the close-in passes seemed to be just a bit off timing. Central, on the other hand, was hitting consistently from outcourt and forged ahead 8-3, 12-7 and 17-13 before a Holland spurt made it 18-19 in Central's favor just before the horn sounded.

During that first period big Dean Vander Wal plunked in 11 of Holland's 18 points. Bob Bouknight had six for Central and Terry Barr had five.

Both teams were off during the second period, although Holland did manage to outscore Central 15-12. Kempker paced the locals with seven points. During that quarter Holland missed on nine out of 12 field goal attempts.

And in those first two quarters the score was knotted seven different times.

Holland's superb teamwork shined to the fore in the second half and such combinations as Kempker to Vischer, back to Kempker or over to Israel, or to Vander Wal really dazzled the Hilltoppers and showed the fans just why the locals are ranked No. 2 in Michigan high school circles.

Besides teamwork, Holland's timing of rebounds was vastly improved during that second half and Central had to fight to get more than one shot at a time at the hoop.

For the evening Holland connected on 22 out of 48 field goal attempts for an excellent 45.8 percentage. Most of the Dutch shots were from close in. And in the foul department, Holland made good on 29 out of 36 attempts.

Central faltered badly in the field goal column, making good on just 21 out of 67 tries for 31.3 per cent. The Hilltoppers, however, cashed in 14 out of 17 times from the charity line.

High point man for the evening was Vander Wal with nine field goals and three free throws and a total of 21 points. He was followed by Kempker with 16 points. Bouknight was high for Central with 13.

M. C. Proctor, Central forward, was waved to the bench with five fouls in the third quarter and Bob Tazelaar, also of Central, was benched for the same reason in the last quarter.

It marked two out of three this season for Holland against Central. The Dutch defeated Central just a week ago Tuesday in regular season play.

The Champ, the Colonel and the Horse All Out for a Canter

Rocky Marciano Steps Up Training By Racing With Col. Cheff's Horse

Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano races with horses sometimes and says they're perfect for conditioning.

The blockbuster from Brockton, Mass., cantered along beside a horse for as much as six miles during his morning roadwork as he trains for his April 10 title fight with Jersey Joe Walcott in Chicago.

Rocky's host at his training camp, here, P. T. Cheff, often takes a routine ride in the morning.

"I thought it would be a good idea to run with his horse," the champion decided. "I don't say I can beat the horse, but it's good conditioning for my legs."

Meanwhile, Marciano also is concentrating on other phases of his spirited and strenuous training program. It's becoming more evident each day that all the emphasis isn't being placed on just one punch. Rocky is throwing a multitude of left jabs and he's feinting, bobbing and weaving constantly in the warm-up drills.

Both Al Weill, his manager, and Charlie Goldman, his trainer, think the champion's races with the horses are a good idea.

Weill chips in philosophically. "Rocky had the first laugh on Walcott and he'll have the last. It may even be a horse laugh."

Three All-Star games will feature the final Saturday of basketball at the Holland Christian high school gym, according to John Ham, supervisor in charge for the Holland Recreation department. The three loops wound up regular season play last Saturday.

All star teams chosen from each of the three leagues participating will meet the champs of each of the three leagues in Saturday's finale. In addition, one playoff is scheduled for the eighth grade circuit. Both the Spartans and Blackjacks are tied for the top with 4-2 records. In games last Saturday in the eighth grade division, the Blackjacks edged the Eagles, 14-12 and the Lakers stopped the Spartans, 15-4. High for the Blackjacks was Dave Klaver with eight and Paul Sternberg with seven for the Lakers.

Trailing the loop leaders are the Eagles with a 3-3 mark and the Lakers with 1-5. High scorers in the loop are Klaver, 45; Herm Tuls, 37; Gord Mouw, 24; Ron Weener, 19; Sternberg, 18 and Chuck Vander Vusse, 17.

In the seventh grade loop the Shooting Stars clinched first place beating the Rockets, 11-8. Jim Kool had seven for the Stars. The Lakers took second spot by edging the Warriors, 14-12. Jeff Altens had 10 for the Lakers. Following the pacesetters in the standings were the Rockets and Warriors with identical, 2-4 records. High scorers are Altens, 49; Kool, 45; Cal Klaasen, 29; Joe Czarkies, 24 and Paul Johnson, 22.

The Wolverines took the sixth grade title with a 4-1 mark despite a 48-3 shellacking by the Globetrotters, Saturday. Paul Rillema had 20 points to pace the Trojans. In the second game, the Spartans walloped the Little Maroons, 48-6. Arlyn Lanfing led the winners with 26 markers. The Spartans finished second with a 3-2 mark, followed by the Trojans with 3-2 and the Maroons with 0-5. Leading scorers are Jim League director Harold Streeter said he has to get the tournament finished before the end of the month and therefore will have games on both Thursdays and Fridays at Junior High gym.

Three games are scheduled on Thursday. At 6:30 the All-Americans take on the Knights and at 7:15 Seven-Up and Rockets clash. In the 8 p.m. game it will be Kopper Kettle against the Independents.

Friday at 6:30 the Yellow Dogs will play the winner of the Seven-Up-Rocket game and at 7:15 Friday Baker Furniture will play the winner of the Kopper Kettle-Independent game.

Hope College's locker room at Plainwell High School gym Monday night was a bedlam of excitement for about a half hour after the Dutch won that thrilling 91-85 victory over the Kalamazoo College Hornets. Well-wishers and friends of the team jammed the small locker room to congratulate the players. And the players were just as enthusiastic as they exchanged greetings and cheers with each other. Coach John Visser called it a team victory and personally congratulated each player.

Rocky Marciano Attracts Capacity Crowds to Drills

Capacity crowds both Saturday and Sunday afternoons watched world's heavyweight boxing champion Rocky Marciano work out at the pavilion on the Holland Furnace Co. picnic grounds.

Several were turned away Saturday and Sunday the "standing room only" sign was up before the champ started his drills.

Rocky was about as sharp Sunday as he has been since the starting drills in Holland a week ago Saturday. The champ repeatedly connected with his favorite punches against three different sparring partners.

The two week-end workouts now make a total of 104 rounds of sparring since the champion started training for his April 10 bout with Jersey Joe Walcott. He has had 340 miles of roadwork in that time.

Sunday's first sparring opponent was big Billy Noble of Grand Island, Neb., and a sharp right to the midsection by Marciano just before the end of the first round staggered Billy, but he regained his poise and went on to box the champ for another round.

Phil Sanderson was next on the list and the fast-stepping Negro from Chicago caught a couple of Rocky's good lefts during the one round.

Eighteen-year-old Ronny Sidortz from South Bend, Ind., also went one round with the champion. He is a student at South Bend Washington High School and keenly interested in the boxing game. Ronny said he "just wanted the experience."

Saturday the champion went two rounds with Noble and two with Sanderson.

He also punched the bags both afternoons. Sunday's entire workout consisted of 13 timed rounds. The championship fight will be a 15 rounder.

Stan Vine and Jerry Roberts from the Kalamazoo CAA boxing club put on an exhibition bout Saturday. Sunday Dick Van Linden and Jimmy Weller provided the extra attraction.

Wesley Ramey from Grand Rapids had several of his "boys" down to watch Sunday's workout. They included Johnny Butler, who won the tournament of champions 126-pound title at the Golden Gloves finals in Chicago Friday night; Lowell Patrick, state middleweight champion, and Charles Kreuger, 1950 welterweight champion.

Ramey runs the DAV boxing club in Grand Rapids. George R. Walker is coach for the CAA boxers in Kalamazoo.

Hope College's locker room at Plainwell High School gym Monday night was a bedlam of excitement for about a half hour after the Dutch won that thrilling 91-85 victory over the Kalamazoo College Hornets. Well-wishers and friends of the team jammed the small locker room to congratulate the players. And the players were just as enthusiastic as they exchanged greetings and cheers with each other. Coach John Visser called it a team victory and personally congratulated each player.

Locals Pull Ahead In Final Minutes At Plainwell Gym

Hail to the MIAA basketball champion—Hope College.

The Dutch were champions every inch of the way Monday night as they battled their way to a 91-85 victory over the Kalamazoo College Hornets in that crucial playoff game at Plainwell High School gym.

A crowd estimated at 1,350 jammed every available space in the gym to watch the thrill-packed game.

It gives Hope undisputed first place in the 1952-53 race and also the first place points toward MIAA all-sports trophy. Thus the Dutch end their season with a record of 11 MIAA victories and just two defeats. The overall season record is 14 victories and eight defeats.

Coach John Visser's charges now have the MIAA title for two consecutive seasons.

Monday's win for Hope must be termed a team effort. However, one can't help but single out veteran guard Ron Bos, who was playing his first starting role since he injured his knee against the Adrian Bulldogs at the Armory Feb. 12.

His all-around floor play, both on offense and defense, particularly the way he repeatedly fed the ball into the forward line of Bob Hendrickson, Bob Visser and Jerry Jacobson, more or less overshadowed his point total of 21 for the evening.

But that constant threat of Bos proved a prickly thorn in the Hornets' defense all evening. Add to his performance the outstanding play of such men as John Brannock, Hendrickson, Visser and Jacobson and you have the reasons for Hope's great showing.

Brannock, especially, who was playing in a reserve role, was outstanding as he repeatedly outgunned Kalamazoo's flashy Manny Glasser. The Benton Harbor product covered the boards like a blanket and gained a good share of his 21 points by tip-ins and close-in shots, many times after taking the rebound.

Paced by Hendrickson's eight points, Hope managed to stay at least one or two points out front most of the first quarter. When the horn blew it was 24-22 in Hope's favor. During that time Glasser counted 12 points for K-College.

Brannock with eight, Bos with seven and Hendrickson with six kept Hope in the game during the second period and the count ended at 49-47 in Hope's favor when the teams left the floor for the intermission. John Gideon who replaced Sam Grow early in the stanza, paced the Hornets with eight points followed by Glasser with seven and Gordon Dudley with five.

Coach Visser had to replace Hendrickson during the third quarter because the big fella had four fouls and was shaking off the effects of a cold. The loss of height told many times under the boards and Kalamazoo was able to tie it up at 68-all as the horn ended the period.

With the lead see-sawing back and forth during the early part of the fourth quarter, Coach Visser sent Hendrickson back into the game and he helped the locals pull to an 83-78 lead before he retired with five fouls.

From then on Hope stayed ahead by first 85-82 and then 88-82 and finally 91-85. In those final stages Brannock came through with three vital foul shots and a field goal while Bos counted two foul shots and Jacobson one.

Kalamazoo players repeatedly fouled the Hope men bringing the ball down the floor and had the Dutch beat 100 per cent at the foul line the score might have been larger in their favor.

One of the biggest factors contributing to Hope's success, besides Bos' outstanding play, was the deft work of Hendrickson, Brannock, Visser, Jacobson and Bob Bolema under the boards. The locals were getting the short and the long rebounds on both boards a good share of the game.

Hope made 19 out of 38 foul shots to 29 out of 38 for the Hornets. The locals cashed in on 36 out of 89 field goals tries for a 40.4 percentage.

During the close game, the score was tied nine times.

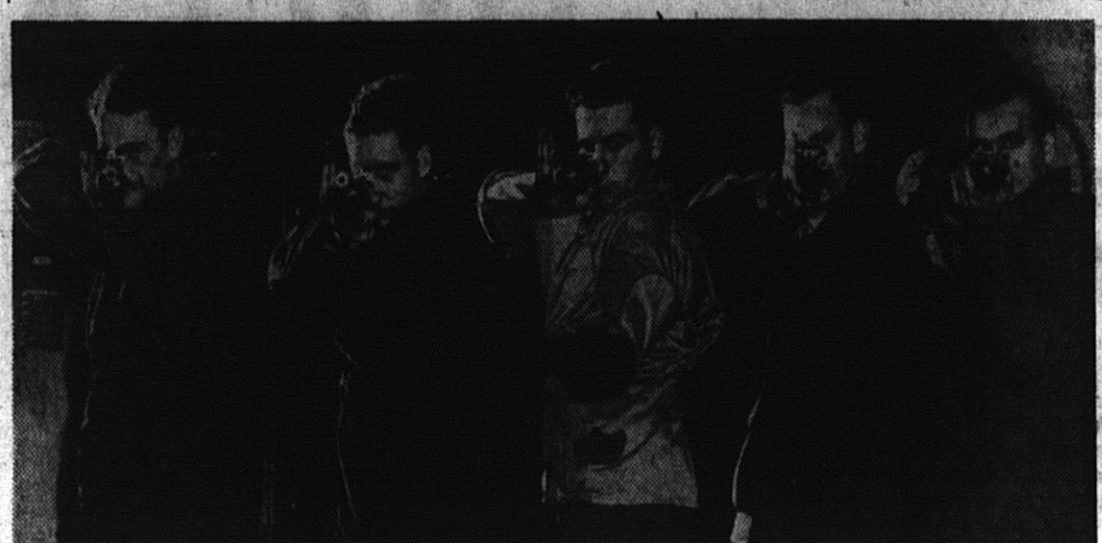

The 91 point total gives Hope a season average of 91 points per game against MIAA opponents and almost 88 points per game against all foes.

In the scoring column, Glasser topped everyone with 29. Bos and Brannock each had 21 for Hope, Hendrickson 20, Visser 15 and Jacobson 11.

Hendrickson was waved to the bench with five fouls with four minutes and 35 seconds remaining in the game and Kalamazoo lost Gideon and Dudley in the last rough-and-tumble minutes.

Indians Clobber Hapless Rogers For Class D Title

Coach Harley Henderson's Saugatuck Indians had an easy time in taking the class D district trophy Saturday night at the Armory by outclassing a hapless Grand Rapids Rogers outfit, 70-27.

The Indians won the local tournament the easy way, being forced to play just the Saturday game for the title. Saugatuck had drawn a bye while Rogers had already walloped Marne for a finals berth.

Saugatuck had too much height and too much poise for the outmanned Rogers outfit. With the exception of one man on the Rogers team, the Indians towered over the losing quintet. In addition, the Indians handled the ball much better than did the jittery Grand Rapids club.

From the outset, it was apparent that the game was going to be little more than a warmup for the Henderson club. Consequently the Indian coach had good chance to use most of his reserve material.

Saugatuck got off to fast start, but then slowed up the attack somewhat enabling the pint sized Rogers outfit to narrow the margin to 8-5 with two minutes left in the period. Five quick points in the last minutes, however, gave the Indians a 13-5 lead at the horn.

From this point on, it was a rout with the Saugatuck club scoring at will against an exceptionally loose Rogers zone defense. Paced by William Bale with 12 markers in the second stanza, the Indians doomed the Rogers hopes early. By halftime it was Saugatuck 35, Rogers 10.

Balanced scoring featured a 19 point Indian scoring spurge in the third quarter with four players doing the scoring. Ralph Troutman led the attack with six markers with his teammates close behind. Rogers could do little in the way of scoring as they were forced to shoot from outcourt and were getting one shot at the basket each time. By the end of the third period the score stood 54-20.

Saugatuck used reserves much of the last quarter, but still managed to outpoint the Grand Rapids club. The Rogers crew lost all semblance of an attack in the final quarter when they lost their only big boy, Ray Bultema, on five fouls. John Nelson also left via the foul route for the losing aggregation.

Bale led the Saugatuck scoring attack with 22 markers, followed by Troutman with 15, Kim Greene with 14, Howard Schultz with nine, John Clough with four, and D. Kosiarz, B. Kosiarz and John Diepenhorst with two apiece. Tom Koolek led the Grand Rapids attack with nine tallies.

Saugatuck hit on eight out of 23 foul tries, with Rogers scoring on 11 out of 23 attempts.

College Students Given Glory Day

Winning the basketball championship of the MIAA conference was the big news on the Hope College campus Tuesday and students and faculty celebrated it in the traditional manner with a Glory Day.

Following Hope's 91-85 victory over Kalamazoo Monday night it was only natural that books, studies and all the serious things of life come to a halt.

By prior arrangements with the administration, chapel period was moved to 9 a.m. Tuesday, that was only if the team won. Usually it is held at 8 a.m. so the student body knew something was up.

Devotions were held under the direction of Carol Kuyper and included the presentation of an oration by Don Lubbers.

Dr. Irwin J. Lubbers, college president, introduced the Rev. Paul Muyskens, president of the Holland Classis, and Superintendent Walter W. Scott of the Holland school system who spoke briefly.

Everyone moved to Carnegie gym where a short honor session was held. Coach John Visser and captain Ron Bos both gave short talks thanking the students and faculty for the support given during the past season.

The team was honored at a special luncheon this noon in Durfee hall. Present were many of the faculty and some long-time basketball boosters.

For the rest of the day, however, it was time to relax and enjoy the privilege of being "champs."

Maroons Capture Fourth Straight Against Zeeland

Holland Christian High School cagers capped their fourth straight district basketball crown at the Armory Saturday night by subduing a stubborn Zeeland quintet, 49-35.

Christian built up a commanding first half lead on the Chix Saturday night and then coasted to victory. The Hollanders looked good in the first 16 minutes of play, flashing a smooth passing attack and some well executed cuts and screens. Shooting was definitely off form as the Maroons had to take several pokes at the hoop before connecting. The second half was a different story with the Chix fighting back to get into the game while the Maroons were showing as little as possible to take the decision.

Four Young Men Injured as Car Hits Power Pole

Four young men were injured at 9:15 p.m. Friday when a car driven by Duane Lyons, 20, of 119 East 15th St., left the highway and wrapped itself around a power pole in front of the Edward Herpolsheimer home at 1711 South Shore Dr. The car was demolished.

The driver and three passengers were taken to Holland Hospital in an ambulance. Two were discharged after treatment and two remained there today.

Most seriously injured was Roland Vander Veen, 19, of 307 College Ave., who received a fractured left leg and head injuries. Vander Veen and Guunduman were sitting in the front seat with Lyons and Johnston was sitting in the rear seat, according to Deputy Sheriff Clayton W. Forry who is continuing the investigation.

The '48 model car was owned by Garry Grissen, route 4.

Conservation Director Discusses Soil Problem

Paul Slabaugh, director of soil conservation service from Grand Haven, struck a somber but vital note Thursday afternoon at Hope Church when he spoke to the Holland Tulip Garden Club. "I am much interested in conservation of all forms, but America is facing a big problem, soil, and how to hold that heritage of soil we now have." Then he explained how it is necessary to have two and one half acres per person to feed and clothe him. "America is lucky now with an average of three acres per person, but with the loss of soil base plus an increasing population, by 1965 this average will be cut to two to two-and-a-half acres."

Bringing the subject close to home, Mr. Slabaugh dwelt upon the problem of soil erosion in Ottawa County. Soil conservation groups have been at work since 1938, formed by local men who have worked out their problems in their own ways with the U.S. government loaning them a learner technician to help in the solving of the problems, he said.

The speaker told how the shifting dunes are being put under control, beach grass has been planted and evergreen plantations are being started. In fact 25 million trees have been planted in Ottawa County during the past 12 years. "Talk conservation as club members," he urged. "Be on the alert in helping with fire prevention, spread the word for better facilities for disposal of refuse so that highways will not be littered."

To highlight his talk, an interesting color film was shown of work done in Ottawa County, starting with eroded land, which in turn meant abandoned farms, schools and churches. Evergreen plantations in different stages of growth showed what could be done to make sand productive as well as beautifying the state.

Miss Lida Rogers, who was ill, was unable to present her film "A Day in the Forest," which showed members of Holland High and their activities in the Albert Keppel School Forest. Mr. Slabaugh presented the film, showing the work of planting seeds, transplanting, the killing of injurious insects and the fun of accomplishment. Also he paid high tribute to Miss Rogers, telling of the outstanding work she has done, how her name is known far and wide, an outstanding example of a person who has devoted her life to future generations. Several posters and a scrapbook of the work done at school were also on display.

Mrs. Edward Herpolsheimer, chairman of the nomination committee, submitted the slate of officers to be voted on at the April meeting. They are president, Mrs. William Schrier; first vice-president, Miss Lida Rogers; second vice-president, Mrs. I. H. Marsalle; recording secretary, Mrs. Linn; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Ervin Schneider, and treasurer, Mrs. John Eaton.

Several announcements were made by Mrs. Schrier, president. April 2, the annual election will be held at Third Church at 2 p.m. There will be a panel discussion by Mrs. Fred Stanton, Mrs. Carl Cook and Miss Gertrude Steketee, with Mrs. J. J. Brower as moderator. The meeting will be an open one as the topic for discussion is: "Planning a Beauty Program for Holland." March 21 to 29, the Michigan Flower and Garden Exhibition is scheduled at Coliseum, State Fair Grounds, Detroit. The flower arrangement section will be sponsored by the Detroit Garden Club. April 15, Region 4 will hold its annual meeting at Greenville; May 6, 7, 8 Flower Show School at the Hackley Art Gallery in Muskegon with Dorothy Biddle and Maud Jacobs, instructors.

Mrs. Lawrence E. Towe was acting chairman of the day and Mrs. Herpolsheimer was club hostess.

Mrs. William Norlin, past orator, presided at a brief business meeting. Announcement was made of the 58th anniversary party to be held March 19, with a polka supper at 6:30 p.m., and a convention at Whitehall on April 29.

During the social period, cards were played and prizes awarded to Mrs. Alice Rowan, Mrs. Nellie Kleis and Mrs. Sadie Van Oort. Refreshments featured a birthday cake with candles. Mrs. Juanita Kimber and her committee were in charge.

Oudemools Show Slides At Missionary Meeting

A regular meeting of the Bethel Reformed Church Women's Missionary Society was held Wednesday evening with Mrs. C. G. Reynen, president, in charge. The devotional chairman was Mrs. B. Wolters.

Mrs. and Mrs. Martin Oudemool showed pictures of the work being done among the Dutch immigrants in Canada. Vocal duets were given by Mrs. James Assink and Mrs. Don Bloemers.

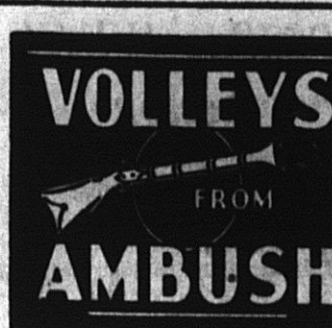

A social time followed the program with Mrs. C. Elander, Mrs. J. Koning and Mrs. A. Lucas as hostesses.

Parked Car Damaged In Highway Accident

Hubert Jaragosky, 45, of 56 West 13th St., was to be charged today with failure to have his car under control after his car went out of control at 8 p.m. Saturday on US-31 a mile south of Holland and hit a car which had parked for the home show.

The parked car belonged to Henry R. Walcott, route 2, Zeeland, and was damaged on the left side to the extent of $200. Damage to Jaragosky's car, a '42 model, was estimated at $75.

Deputy Sheriff Henry Bouwman investigated.

Hans Piepho, the young German student who is spending three weeks in Holland studying education at the elementary level, spent a short time in the German Army when he was 16 years old. It was near the end of World War II when he and other youths his age were put into an emergency force as a last stand against the invaders.

"We had no idea how things were shaping up, and in two months it was all over. No, I wasn't hurt," he said.

A 12-page Danish extra on floods in the Netherlands has been received in Holland. It was sent to Oscar Hallquist, route 1, from his sister in Copenhagen. The paper cost two crowns in Denmark (40 cents American money) and proceeds were turned over to the Netherlands Flood Society.

The remarkable edition is notable for its excellent flood pictures and the clear-cut engravings are superior to most engravings in American newspapers. Most engravings were large and reproduced from excellent photographs, all of which had credit lines. The paper also was of a better grade than common newspaper used in this country.

Here's another one, 1833 vintage: A coachman calls upon the doctor to ask what can be the matter with him. "My good man," said the prince of science, "you've got dropsy — that's what ails you."

"Dropsy! What's that?" "It's a morbid collection of fluid in the serous cavities within the body — in your case, I take it hydroperitoneum caused by cirrhosis of the liver but caused by paracentesis."

The advancement committee discussed the national goal of 40 per cent first class or better in all troops. They also talked about the 1953 Cub Scout day camp and commissioners indicated progress on Camporees scheduled for this spring in the various districts.

Chippewa and Wabesic districts jointly received the award for highest attendance at the meeting.

Games were in charge of Mrs. Ted Kragt and Mrs. L. Ten Brink. Hostesses were Mrs. Jacob Zuidema and Mrs. Gary De Jonge.

Disorderly Charge Results in $54 Fine

George Gahan, 40, route 1, Zeeland, paid fine and costs of $54.70 after pleading guilty to a drunk and disorderly charge before Municipal Court Judge Cornelius vander Meulen Thursday.

Others paying fines were James D. Meyer, 17, of 201 East 16th St., speeding, $15.10; David Meyer, 20, route 3, failure to keep an assured clear distance ahead, $7; Lester De Pree, 81 West 29th St., parking, $1.

Mrs. Jeanette Kremer, route 3, Holland, has come across a clipping of the death of a relative which occurred in Wilmington, Ohio, Feb. 7, 1883. On the opposite side was a column containing some good quips. For instance:

"It is said that the debt of the world is over $23,000,000, but so long as it is not in shape of a contested will, the lawyers may gnash their teeth in vain."—Detroit Free Press.

An alert New York Times reporter made a notable discovery this week at a Senate hearing in Washington. He discovered Attorney General Herbert Brownell, Jr., was wearing two black shoes that were not mates.

When the reporter called it to his attention, Brownell did not fall back on the unusual Washington snowfall or the early hour of the hearing as an excuse.

"I guess I just wanted to let the folks know I owned two pairs of shoes," he quipped. The Times ran a picture of the attorney general's feet too. One shoe was a wing-tip type and the other a dress shoe. They really weren't very different.

THE UNHAPPIEST DAY

Here comes a columnist who weeps on the public's shoulder
over the subject of the unhappiest day of the month. Columnists of course have to write something,
and the chances are that this weedy lady got a good deal of pleasure out of her printer's ink tears, glad that she had hit on a subject that would win the attention of her public.

The unhappiest day of the month, according to this columnist is the day when the bills fall due.
The sobs that she dragged up on this subject were almost too pathetic for words.

Obviously, it isn't pleasant to pay bills, but only unrealistic sentimentalists will allow themselves to become unhappy over the inevitable process. A few simple rules will serve as an antidote to unhappiness over monthly bills.

The most elementary, and the simplest, of them is to pay cash for what you buy. That applies not only to people with plenty of money who maintain fat bank accounts. People who live on a slender margin know beforehand what they can afford and what they cannot pay for. By restricting their outgo to their income, small though the latter may be, they at least avoid making themselves miserable one day a month.

Or if you want to take advantage of the convenience of paying all the month's bills at one time, even the simplest budget system will prevent unhappiness on bill paying day. Anyone can plan with reasonable accuracy not to run up any more bills than he can pay for. Then why should it make him unhappy to pay those bills on a given day? The day should be unhappy only for those who let their desires outrun their common sense.

The real cause of the unhappiness of bill paying day does not lie in the fact that bills fall due but in the fact that about a third of the American people live beyond their income. This startling fact was brought out a year or two ago, but it is probably as true today as it was then. No wonder bill paying day becomes a kind of heck for many. But the day is not at fault; as a very wise man said, "We ourselves are heaven or heck."

Three Pay Fines
In Justice Court

GRAND HAVEN (Special)—
John C. Jackson, 31, Grand Rapids, who was arrested Feb. 27
by State Police on a reckless driving charge, paid $45 fine and $3.90
costs in Justice Frederick J.
Workman's court in Spring Lake Monday. Jackson was allegedly driving 50 miles an hour in a 25 mile zone on US-16 in Tallmadge township and also is alleged to have been passing on a marked hill and driving with a defective light.

Kenneth S. Walters, Jr., 19, Muskegon Heights, appeared on two counts, one for possession of beer and the other for throwing glass on the highway, and was assessed a total of $40 fine and $3.90 costs. He was arrested by Spring Lake Constables Leslie and Donald Vander Wall Saturday afternoon.

Walters was one of five boys riding in a car on US-31 north of Grand Haven. Three of the youths were 16 and the other 17. During the chase the boys threw the contents of a carton of beer to the highway. After the boys were taken into custody the officers made them pick up the broken glass.

David R. Jewell, 50, route 1,
Spring Lake, charged by State Police with failure to signal for a left turn and for failing to identify himself after a property damage accident, paid $10 fine and $2 costs on the first count, and $20 fine and $2 costs on the second.
The arrest followed an accident
March 6 at the intersection of Left Rd. and US-31 in Spring
Lake township. The other car, owned by Eugene Ott, route 1, Grand Haven, was damaged to the extent of $150.

Accountable to God
Matthew 25:14-46

By Henry Geerlings

This Scripture passage has long been a center of vigorous controversy among Christians mainly because it gives a detailed description of the final judgment. Luke and John, who were undoubtedly familiar with the gospel of Matthew, made no mention of this important address. Therefore, one is obliged to form opinions about this choice section without the benefit of parallel testimony from other gospel writers.

At least it is clear that the discourse on the final judgment is a part of the two parables that preceded it. The parable of the ten virgins was obviously intended to stimulate the minds of the disciples to think on the glorious climax of the Christian life and to make sure of their preparedness for the joys that would come to them.

Jesus followed this parable with that concerning the talents which pictured the necessity for preparation in more explicit and personal terms. It emphasized the importance of developing one's latent abilities. The discourse on the final judgment laid down the basic principle of all Christian living and therefore of the eternal security upon which Jesus wanted His disciples confidently to depend.

It is not given us to know all the details of the coming judgment, but we are variously informed that God has appointed a day in which to judge the world. The day, of course, means a period, and there will be various stages in the event, one of which will be the second coming of Christ. This is a part of the divine program of restitution consequent upon the fall of man which has been recognized from the beginning.

It was revealed to the spiritual leaders who walked with God as far back as the time of Enoch, who is quoted by Jude as saying, "Behold
the Lord cometh with ten thousand of His saints, to execute judgment upon all." No doubt the apostle was impressing upon his readers the fact that judgment was a universally recognized event from the beginning. He calls attention to the fact that Enoch was only seven generations removed from Adam.

Paul reminds us that we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ. Solomon mentions the judgment, and Daniel in the twelfth chapter makes a striking reference to that day, as he does in other parts of his book.

This topic of accountability to God is pertinent today. We are living in an age that is losing its sense of accountability to God.
This is seen in the amazing growth of crime, in the disrespect for law and indifference to religious and moral teachings and restraints.
This spirit of lawlessness pervades all classes of society and all nations of the world. Men are trying to make themselves believe that there is no judgment, and if there is a God, He is too good to inflict punishment on any one. History has furnished us with records of times and peoples like this. They sowed
the wind and reaped the whirlwind.
And how can we escape if we follow this course.

We are accountable to God because of divine ownership. The parable of the talents reveals that we are accountable. This is a lesson that some church members never seem to learn. God evaluates the way we make use of our time. Our talents and their use are to be judged by God. One day we must each render an account of the use to which we put our possessions. This concept of Christian stewardship is basic to an understanding of living in the will of God.

We are accountable to God for how we live in relationship to others. This teaches that the basis for final judgment is the way we have actually lived. Here is no static faith, but a devotion that expresses itself in serving needy human beings. The blessed held an exalted view of humanity because they held an exalted view of Jesus as divine Lord and Savior, and their service was rendered as unto Him.
Here is the real crux of Christian social action, which is Christian only when it is rendered by men who first of all believe in and seek to honor the Lord.

We are accountable to God at the final judgment. The judgment is a time when every man will be evaluated for the use he made of what was loaned to him. The Bible does not reveal a God who is capricious in His judgments. It portrays a God who confirms at the judgment the choice which one has already made in this world of what he likes and wants.

School Board
Raises Tuition
For Next Year

At its regular monthly meeting
Monday night, the Board of Education voted to charge the legal limit for both elementary and secondary tuition for the coming school year. However, tuition will not exceed $165 and the board will continue its established policy of setting aside $50 into a building and site fund for each outside student on the secondary level.

Exact amounts will be announced
as soon as the legislative session ends and operating figures for the 1932-33 school year are available.
New figures, however, are expected to differ but slightly from current figures. Total operating costs for the 1931-32 year totaled $680, 097.64, which divided by the average membership of 2,859.3 gives an average per capita of $237.85.

Minimum elementary tuition rate is $84.85 which is the per capita of $237.85 less state aid elementary membership allowance of $153. The state code permits the addition of an amount not to exceed 25 per cent, which yields a total of $297.31.

Secondary per capita cost of $297.31 less state aid secondary allowance of $173 equals $124.31 minimum tuition. Secondary per capita cost plus 25 per cent, less state aid secondary allowance gives a maximum secondary tuition of $161.47. New legislation may boost the 25 per cent to 25 per cent, but in this case, the limit is set at $165. Present tuition charged is $150.

It was pointed out that the equalized valuation of Ottawa county is $30,000,000. A levy of 10 mills raises $300,000 for 2,330 resident pupils in Holland public schools. This amounts to slightly over $128 per child. Of $150 tuition that sending districts pay, the state reimburses them in the amount of $75 per child. Thus, the sending district has been paying $75 per child compared with Holland's $128 per child.

Elected representatives of the sending districts met with Supt.
Walter W. Scott, Mrs. Kenneth De Pree and Edward Donovan, administrative assistant, Feb. 6. April 21 was set as date for a meeting of board members of all sending districts.

All trustees were present with the exception of Alvin J. Cook and E. V. Hartman. Supt. Scott gave the invocation. The meeting lasted 34 hours.

Architects Plan Addition
For Van Raalte School

The Board of Education Monday night approved an order to its architects, the Warren S. Holmes Co. of Lansing, to prepare sketches and estimates for an addition to the present Van Raalte school.
The new addition will include an all-purpose room or gymnasium,
a heating plant and possibly a kindergarten room and other class rooms.

These plans are in keeping with action taken last month in which the board abandoned plans for building an entirely new Van Raalte school. Present plans call for retaining the present Van Raalte building with possibly an addition, building a fifth elementary school on a school site between 30th and 31st St. bordered by Washington Ave., and eventually developing a high school campus on the site on Van Raalte Ave. between 24th and 26th Sts., originally earmarked for the new Van Raalte school.

The change in plans came after several meetings with the Holland Planning Commission and out of the many discussions evolved the plan for five elementary schools eventually housing 2,000 children.
This calls for 300 pupils in the present Van Raalte school, 450 at Longfellow school, 400 at Lincoln school, 400 at Washington school, and 450 in the fifth school. The new school also would house special departments for crippled children and the like, thereby releasing valuable space in Washington school, it was said.

With the development of these plans, the Board of Education also is looking toward a bond issue to finance the improvements, possibly to be held next fall.

The board also adopted a resolution listing methods of reducing the board from nine members to seven and providing for the four-year term as required by law.
This action is in keeping with a public vote July 14, 1952, making Holland city a third-class school district instead of a special school district.

According to the resolution, two members will be elected in 1953
for a four-year term, two in 1954
for a four-year term, two members in 1955 for a four-year term and one for a one-year term. In 1956, one member will be elected for a four-year term. In succeeding years, members will be elected in the same number as those whose terms have expired, all for four-year terms.

The election last July came as the result of many technical problems particularly with regard to bond issues for new schools. As a third-class school district, Holland
now comes definitely under established state law.

Crowd Attends First in Series of Four Meetings on Michigan Outdoors

A standing room only crowd, including several local Boy Scout troops, attended the opening session Monday night of the Michigan's great outdoor series sponsored jointly by the Holland Fish and Game Club and the Holland Adult Education Program. The series continues for the next three Monday nights and is open to the public. It is free.

The meeting was held in Washington school gymnasium.

Functions of the Conservation commission were described in a brief talk by W. A. Butler, publisher of The Holland Evening Sentinel. Butler was a recent member of the commission and still maintains an avid interest in conservation.

Pointing out that a member of the commission could easily spend full time at the task, Butler enumerated some of its activities. In addition to running the hunting and fishing programs, such varied duties as park maintenance, fish stocking and a fairly extensive educational program fall within its administration.

He said the commission is composed of seven members who serve six-year terms. Five of the present members have been appointed by Gov. C. Mennen Williams, but some quarters of the state are hoping that two long-time members, Richard H. Fletcher and Harold W. Glasson, will be allowed to remain on the body.

Butler told the group that as present there is 1,709 paid employees administering the policies of the Commission. This relatively small group is responsible for all the varied activities of hunting, fishing and conservation methods.

One fact that most persons don't realize is that federal taxes on ammunition and firearms are put into the Pittman-Robertson fund that is made available in Michigan for purchase of park and forest areas. The Todd farm near Fennville was secured in this manner. According to the law, the state provides 25 cents from hunting and fishing fees for each 75 cents provided by the federal government.

The 30-voice Windmill chorus of the Holland Chapter of the SPEBSQSA, under the direction of Francis Hodgeboom, opened the meeting with a lively rendition of barbershop melodies. The group drew repeated applause.

The meeting closed with a film on travel in Alaska, narrated by Phil Rich, publisher of the Midland Daily News.

Neal De Waard of the Fish and Game club presided and introduced the speaker.

An estimated 3,548,000 live births were registered in the United States in 1950.

Ottawa Nurses Honor Founder Of Nursing Corps

Ottawa County nurses participating in the local blood program met for luncheon Friday to discuss clinic procedures and to commemorate the birth of Jane A. Delano founder of the American Red Cross Nursing Services and head of the Army Nurse Corps from 1909 to 1912. America's most famous nurse from the turn of the century until the time of her death in 1919, was born March 12, 1862 in Townsend, N. Y.

A graduate of Bellevue Hospital School of Nursing, New York, Jane Delano pioneered present-day standards of public health nursing when assigned to a mining camp during a typhoid epidemic in Arizona shortly after her graduation.

Isolated from "civilized" medical facilities, she observed and determined to crusade for the importance of having women learn to care for their own family illnesses without expensive equipment or professional tools.

To date approximately three million people have received such training under the Red Cross Home Nursing program begun in 1908. Thirty classes in Home Nursing were offered to the people of Ottawa County during the last year. Some of the nurses serving in the blood program also serve as volunteer instructors in these nursing courses.

Dr. O. van der Velde, medical director of the program, paid tribute to the nurses and the hours of service they have given to make the Community Blood Program, the complete cost of which is underwritten by the Red Cross, a success. The local program is known not only in the state of Michigan but nationwide and inquiries about its operation come regularly.

Following the example of Miss Delano who resigned as head of the Army Nurse corps in 1912 so she could give her full time as a volunteer to the development of Red Cross Nursing services, today one out of every 11 active registered nurses in the United States is now enrolled for community service through the Red Cross. Besides those working in the Blood Program and those in Home Nursing, there are those who are enrolled for emergency duty in disasters or epidemics.

Mrs. Angie Van Hoven serves as the enrollment chairman for the local chapter and states some 60 nurses are enrolled in active volunteer service at the present time in this community.

Large Sum Taken In Moose Break-In

City police Monday were continuing their investigation into a break-in Sunday morning at the Moose hall in which $787.37 was taken in cash and checks from the cash register and steel boxes. Four packs of cigarettes also are missing.

The place was entered through a door which has no outside knob or handle. A hole the size of a silver dollar was punched through a panel near the iron bar which fastens the door from the inside.

The hall was particularly active Saturday night with a large fish fry, but the last of the guests left at 1:30 a.m. The break-in occurred after employees left at 3 a.m.

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — State Police and Deputy Leslie Vander Wall of Spring Lake Township are investigating an attempted larceny at a filling station in the building of the Spring Lake Ice and Coal Co. at the junction of US-31 and M-104 in which attempts to remove a lavatory from the men's rest room were unsuccessful. Pipes had been disconnected underneath the tank, and there was considerable damage caused by water. The damage was noted by a workman who customarily waits for a ride at that location early in the morning. The incident occurred between midnight and 5:40 a.m. Monday.

Approximately 19 million new homes and apartment units are expected to be constructed in the United States in the next 25 years.

Thorough Study In Curriculum Scheduled Here

Public schools will be dismissed at 2 p.m. Monday, March 16, to allow all teachers, clerk, secretaries and custodians to gather in Longfellow gymnasium to discuss curriculum.

Attending the meeting will be Dr. Tom Herriek, curriculum director of the Kalamazoo Board of Education, and Dr. Otto Yntema, extension director for Western Michigan College of Education, who were appointed by the local board two months ago to aid local leaders in developing a curriculum study prior to the secondary school building program.

The first meeting of a group of junior high and high school teachers with the two representatives was held Feb. 17 and it was immediately apparent that the entire faculty should be fully aware of the program in the elementary building planning and the need for thorough curriculum study before secondary building planning can take place.

Opportunity will be provided for questions from the faculty. Group discussions also are scheduled. Out of the general thinking, it is expected a steering committee will be named consisting of representatives of the board, faculty, parents and students. This committee will have no legal responsibility but will pull together trends in secondary schools. From all the study is expected to come an answer to the question, "What will we teach in Holland and how?" and then plans for a new high school building can really take shape.

In other business, the board approved preliminary plans for a Business, Industry and Education Day now under consideration by the Chamber of Commerce. The event is tentatively scheduled April 16.

Safety programs at elementary schools will be further discussed at a meeting of the schools committee, following a communication from Russell Welch, principal at Lincoln School, who had conferred with an AAA representative on the school safety program. Certain designated crossings for children at Lincoln school and at some other elementary schools are in question, the communication said.

The board granted permission to the Model Airplane Club to see the northwest corner of school property at 30th St. and Van Raalte Ave. for use in flying model planes. The request came in a communication signed by William M. Aldrich of the Exchange Club.

Claims and accounts for February amounted to $63,588.65 of which $44,353.36 went for teachers' salaries.

'52-'53 Team Has Best Season Mark In School History

Coach Fred Weiss' team wrote this Friday night to one of the most successful basketball seasons in Holland High School history when the locals downed a scrappy Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills team, 65-58, at Ottawa.

A hurried check of the records as far back as the early 20's show no team in Holland through that time compiled a record comparable to this 1952-1953 team's record during regular season play.

By beating Ottawa, Holland posted its 14th victory of the season against just one defeat, that 48-47 loss to Grand Rapids Central last December.

Friday's victory over Ottawa was anything but a good performance by Holland. As many local fans said on leaving the Grand Rapids gym, "I'm glad they got that one out of their system before the tournament."

Holland played just good enough to win against the mediocre Indians Friday night. The locals threw away more passes—20—than they had in any other game this season. The previous high was 16. Besides that, Holland was called for steps seven times and fumbled the ball away one.

But despite the fact the locals were repeatedly outmaneuvered under the boards, they came through when the chips were down and consequently walked off the floor with the victory.

The first quarter was especially rugged for Holland. Holland made five out of 13 field goal tries during the period and when the whistle blew it was 15-all. And in the second quarter, Holland outscored Ottawa with the aid of six out of 16 good shots from the floor to take a 33-30 halftime edge.

In the third period Holland spurred ahead 48-40.

But Ottawa bounced back in the last quarter and the partisan crowd had high hopes at one time of seeing one of the biggest upsets of the current season. However, with the score standing at 59-56 in Holland's favor and one minute and 44 seconds to go, big Dean Vander Wal and Jack Kemper came through in calm style to tie the game and erase any Ottawa upset hopes.

For the evening Holland made 21 out of 55 tries for a good 38.1 per centage and cashed in 23 out of 33 times from the foul line. Ottawa made good on 18 out of 31 foul tries.

Vander Wal, who had been averaging better than 20 points per game going into the Ottawa tilt, definitely had one of his rare "off" nights. He accounted for 13 points, however, to take runnerup scoring honors. The big fellow was taken out because he had four fouls midway in the third period.

When he did come back in in those final crucial moments, however, he made up for it with a vital field goal and free throw.

Stellar guard Jack Kemper carried the brunt of the scoring attack for Holland as he totaled 19 points on seven field goals and five free throws. Kemper disregarded the wild-choir Ottawa fans in the final seconds of the game when he stepped to the foul line and sank points No. 63 and 64 and a moment later tallied No. 65 from the same foul line.

Coach Weiss started his tall forward line of Ken Armstrong, Ron Isaacs and Vander Wal. Later he inserted reserve forward Dick Plagenhoef who ended up playing a good share of the game. And "Plagie" showed he has the stuff to play a lot of ball during the upcoming tournament. He scored 10 points and did his share under the boards.

Ottawa showed one of the most balanced scoring columns seen by Holland this year. Forward Ted Grainger and Bob Driscoll tallied nine and 13 points respectively, center Pete Sabor tallied 10, and guards Mert Vander Lind and Jim Hedberg scored 12 apiece.

Ottawa's all-city center, Ron Lang, did not play. He is confined at home with chicken pox.

Thus, Holland ends its season certain of being ranked No. 2 among state class A high schools. Only undefeated Lansing Sexton has topped Holland's season record.

More than 200 Camp Fire Girls and their fathers gathered at the Woman's Literary club house Saturday evening for "Forest Fun," annual dad-daughter party staged by Junior High School girls.

Cardboard bears and forest boughs decorated the tables for the potluck dinner. On stage was a clever scene featuring a fisherman in an appropriate setting. Cherrie Copeland was toastmistress for the after-dinner program. Martha Ann De Groot gave a toast to the dads and Adrian De Groot, her father gave a toast to the daughters. Walter W. Scott gave the invocation. Group singing was led by Kenneth De Pree, with Judge Raymond Smith at the piano.

Guests divided into two groups for the evening of fun. Games were played in the club tea room under direction of Mrs. William Plum, Mrs. Clifford Onthank, Mrs. Clarence Becker and Mrs. Carroll Norlin. Mr. and Mrs. Claude Ketchum supervised square dancing in the upstairs auditorium.

An "ice-breaker" game was conducted by Mrs. Julian Lubbers as the guests arrived.

Fouls Take Heavy Toll of Maroons In Final Quarters

Holland Christian's basketball squad came to the end of the tournament road Tuesday night at Kalamazoo, bowing to an inspired Allegan outfit, 47-39, in a first round regional contest. Coach Ken Otis' Tigers will now meet St. Joseph on Thursday in a second round affair.

It closed one of the most successful seasons in Christian high school history, as Coach Art Tuls' club ended play with a 17-3 mark. The only three defeats came at the hands of Muskegon St. Marys, Grand Haven and Allegan Tuesday. Allegan's victory over the Maroons was especially rough on the Dutch since it came in tournament play and also because the Hollanders had trounced the Tigers twice before this year.

Allegan's win wasn't one of those explosive final-minute uprisings, but a gradual creeping affair which started as early as the first minute of the third period. It was a situation which Coach Art Tuls was helpless to correct as the Christian lead dwindled.

Although the Hollanders were not sharp and were not playing top caliber ball, they were still playing well enough to hold a rather substantial point lead at the intermission. They upped it to nine points in the third quarter before the painful exodus of Christian regulars began.

Dave Schreier, one of the Dutch sparkplug guards and ball handlers, was caught with his fifth personal foul early in the third quarter, with the Dutch still holding a good margin. Tuls plugged the gap with an inexperienced out-courter performer, forcing the Maroons to go into their rotary offense to take the strain off the now weakened back line.

Meanwhile, the Maroons kept garnering personal fouls and Allegan kept sinking them. With 30 seconds left the relentless Allegan crew had knotted the count, but a basket by Earl Schipper gave the Dutch a two-point lead going into the final period.

After Christian had moved out to a four point bulge on Merle Van Dyke's three quick points, the roof literally fell in on the Hollanders. Both Schipper and Van Dyke were forced from the game on five personals and that was the ball game.

Allegan's clever Roger Newman stole the ball away twice in succession in the backcourt from the green Dutch backline to give his club a two point margin with five minutes left. From this point on, it was just a matter of how much, as the riddled Dutch lineup fought gamely but helplessly against the confident Tigers.

Coach Ken Otis' aggregation was a good ball club Tuesday night even though they were outscored in field goals, 14-12 by the Dutch. They were opportunists as they cashed in on 23 out of 44 foul tries, compared with Christian's 11 for 24. Besides Newman, Roger Smith and George White also turned in outstanding ball games.

But it was the foul department that told the story. Christian was detected 25 times, compared with 14 for the Allegan quint. One advantage the Tigers had in the final half is that they were detected three times, despite the fact they were employing a tight pressing defense all over the court.

Both clubs started slow, with Allegan managing to pull out to a three point lead early in the first period. Christian, however, took over with a 13-12 lead by the end of the quarter.

The second quarter definitely tipped to the Maroons as they showed flashes of early play this season and slowly crept away from Tigers. With Van Dyke and Schreier's ball handling and Scholten hitting from the pivot, the Dutch took a 29-21 lead at half-time.

Allegan garnered just two baskets in a foul-marred third quarter as they crept up by one point each time to catch the Maroons before the quarter's end. The locals' shooting dropped off and they were definitely "hanging on" as the quarter ended in their favor 34-32.

They showed signs of coming to briefly at the start of the final quarter, but the fouls quickly ruined any victory chances. With three regulars out for the great share of the final quarter, the Dutch were a disorganized ball club that had only the will, but lacked the power to win.

Allegan's Newman was the game's outstanding performer as he collected 15 points on three baskets and nine foul shots. Ken Scholten and Van Dyke each had 10 for the Dutch.

Club Women Entertained By Student Musicians

A group of Hope College students interrupted their basketball championship "Glory Day festivities" Tuesday afternoon to present an unusually fine musicale for members of the Woman's Literary Club.

The young musicians displayed outstanding talent in their well-chosen program which included vocal, violin and piano selections. All students in the college department of music, the performers were especially impressive in their stage poise and ability to handle well many difficult selections.

Prof. Robert W. Cavanaugh, who heads the college department of music, made arrangements for the student musicale and introduced the individual performers.

Marcia Veldman, mezzo soprano, opened the program. A freshman from Grand Rapids, Miss Veldman sang the descriptive "Monte Pincio" by Debussy, the dream-provoking "Clouds" by Charles and "Silent Noon" a beautiful selection by the British contemporary composer, Vaughn Williams, which is based on a poem by Dante Gabriel Rossetti. Miss Veldman was accompanied by Miss Alyce Hilbert, junior from Kalamazoo.

Violinist David Martin, a freshman from Herkimer, N.Y., performed Magnani's "Allegro" and then changed the mood with Massenet's "Meditation" of Handel's "Fourth Violin Sonata." David De Jong of Kuwait, Arabia, was piano accompanist.

Selections by Robert Struyk, baritone soloist from Boyden, Iowa, included an aria from a Verdi opera, "Il Lacerato Spirito," and Clark's well-known and loved "Blind Ploverman." Struyk closed with the gay, enchanting "When I Think Upon the Maidens," by Head. His accompanist was Miss Arlene Ritsema, senior from Momence, Ill.

"Sonatina" by Bartok and "Gollwog Cake Walk," a charming Debussy composition with unusual harmonies and rhythms, were well-performed by Carole Hofis, pianist, sophomore from Lake Odessa. Soprano solos by Miss Harriet Pennington, sophomore from White Pigeon, included the area "Vol Lo Sapete" from "Cavalleria Rusticana" by Mascagni, "When I Have Sung My Songs," Charles, and "Yesterday and Today" by Spross. She was accompanied by John Scholten, Grand Rapids junior.

Closing the program was a clarinet trio — Lois Maier of Newark, N.J., Erma Derks and Ruby Nyenhuis of Holland. Their numbers were "Andante" and "Allegro" by Busch and "A Tunesful Trio."

Much praise should be given to the student accompanist, who, although they did not "star" in the musicale, enhanced the program with their fine musicianship.

Local VFW Drill Team Will March

Holland will be represented in a parade honoring an area Congressional Medal of Honor winner, it was announced today.

The 21-member Henry Walters VFW post drill team will travel to South Haven Saturday when that city turns out to honor its returning war hero — 21-year-old Cpl. Duane E. Dewey.

The Holland drill unit will be attired in their snappy uniforms with white leggings and matching white helmets. The parade will start at 2:30 p.m.

Cpl. Dewey will be greeted by almost the entire population of the city and his wife and 10-month-old daughter. He will be the first soldier to receive the Medal of Honor from President Eisenhower. The ceremony takes place in Washington Thursday.

Dewey earned the nation's highest military citation when he threw himself on an enemy hand grenade, taking the explosion himself rather than endanger the lives of his buddies. He was seriously wounded as a result of the feat which occurred near Panmunjom.

A more tangible honor than a parade will be given the Marine corporal by South Haven residents. Ground has already been broken for a $15,000 home for the war hero. Contributions have reached the $9,000 level.

Approaches to Aging Discussed by Speaker

Members and guests of the Public Affairs Committee of Women's Literary Club heard an interesting analysis of problems of the aged at a meeting Tuesday afternoon. Woodrow W. Hunter from the Institute of Human Adjustment, University of Michigan, told of the work of the department of gerontology, science of the aged.

Mr. Hunter, an outstanding speaker, said that in research and in study of problems of the later years, it was found that there are seven principal needs for older people: Love and understanding; a need for recognition and status; useful activity such as important work in the community; creature needs, that is, health, food, clothing etc.; financial security; recreational opportunity, and spiritual needs.

For a community interested in the problem of its aging population, Mr. Hunter cited four approaches — to find out who are the aging, their numbers and situation; what are their needs; what is now being offered to them, and what more can be offered. He emphasized that it is important for older persons themselves to consider their problems, as well as the community as a whole.

Problems of old age he said, shouldn't be left until they're 65 or over. Persons in their 30's and 40's should be planning for good adjustment in their old age.

Meeting Monday afternoon at the hospital, auxiliary representatives voted to accept the constitution as presented by the committee which included Mrs. J. J. Brower, Mrs. Frank Klann, Mrs. Clarence Greengood and Mrs. Ray H. Fehring.

Active members are those who are members of organizations affiliated with the auxiliary and taking part in support of the hospital. Associate members are those who shall pay annual dues of $1. The latter involves a community-wide drive in April to enlist 1,000 or more associate members whose $1 membership will help purchase a new x-ray unit.

Visitors Stymied And Held to Just Two Field Goals

Holland Christian's basketball team won an 53-19 victory over South Haven in a class B first-round game on the Armory court Thursday night.

A terrific defense and some fancy outcourt shooting on the part of Coach Art Tuls' Maroons was more than enough to sink the outclassed Rams. A glowing tribute to the Christian defense was the fact that South Haven was able to garner but two field goals in the entire game. Those two baskets came in the second and third quarters.

Coach Ade Slikkers' defensive strategy obviously was to drop as many defenders as possible into the pivot slot on the Hollanders in an effort to stop the Dutch offense from the foul area. In fact the Rams defense was so loose at times that it resembled a zone. Consequently the Hollanders moved the ball until they had shaken either Dave Schreur or Merle Van Dyke loose for an easy shot. Both clever guards were hitting and doomed the Rams' chances from the outer area. At one point in the game, Schreur had connected for six straight. Then when the locals had opened up the middle with their outcourt shooting, forcing the Rams' defense to come out, the Maroons went around for easy scores.

Christian definitely showed an improved brand of ball over the contest last week at Grand Haven. Passing was sharp as the Dutchmen seemed to have regained their poise. South Haven gave a good ball handling club using a rotary offense as its best weapon. However, they failed to make a dent in the local defense for easy shots. In fact the greatest share of the Rams' shots were of the hurried variety.

The Hollanders had command of the situation all the way, giving Tuls plenty of opportunity to substitute freely. Although he did not substitute an entire new team until the last quarter, Tuls used reserves interchangeably throughout the game with 11 men getting into the fracas.

Christian got off to an early 8-0 margin before the Rams could break into the scoring column with a free throw. The Dutch added three more points before the end of the period to lead 11-1 at the buzzer.

Van Dyke and Schreur started the fireworks in the second quarter with their outcourt bombs to give the Maroons a 19-1 margin with just two minutes gone in the period. Schipper came through with two quick baskets from under the hoop before Schreur and reserve Rich Sharda tallied two apiece. Finally when the shooting was over for the half, the Dutchmen had rolled to an impressive 31-7 lead. Art Niffenegger got the lone South Haven basket midway in the period.

Christian definitely played under wraps in the second half, content to keep possession of the ball and shoot only when they had a good shot. Schreur continued his phenomenal shooting in the third period to bag four more long toms. It was 43-15 at the end of the third quarter.

The local reserves played most of the final period and managed to outscore the Rams, 10-4.

Christian hit nine out of 10 free throws with Schipper connecting on eight out of nine. The Dutch forward collected most of his shots on breakaways from the pivot post. South Haven hit on 15 out of 30 tries.

The Hollanders again showed balanced scoring with Schreur leading with 15 markers, followed by Van Dyke with 14 and Schipper with 12. Both Nykamp and Scholten, the other Dutch starters, sat out a good portion of the fray.

Arrival of 165-Pound Punching Bag Gives New Thrill at Marciano Camp

Arrival of the world's largest punching bag, a 165-pound monster designed only for heavyweights, provided a new thrill for visitors to Rocky Marciano's training camp Thursday.

And what the champion did or tried to do to that bag demonstrated that such toys are for champions only—the rest of the world had better use hands for other purposes.

The giant bag is suspended on eight chains from the special cross beam that had been put up in the big pavilion for the punching bags. A few feet away is the regular "big bag," a regulation 60-pounder.

Rocky rested today—his days off are Friday and Monday—and the camp at the Holland Furnace Co. picnic grounds north of Holland prepared for another heavy week-end of visitors.

During his workout Thursday, the champ boxed two rounds with Billy Noble of Grand Island, Neb., and two rounds with Phil Sanderson. Rocky had Noble against the ropes twice in both rounds. His bouts with Sanderson looked sharper. In the fourth, he landed one good one which sent Sanderson half way across the ring.

The training exhibition Thursday included the usual routine of shadow boxing and workouts on the little and medium bags, both of which he had knocked down Wednesday, and on the big and giant bags.

Youngest rooter present at Thursday's workout was 24-year-old Mark A. Kuipers who accompanied his parents, Dr. and Mrs. S. Walter Kuipers of Holland. Mark has an unusual vocabulary for a two-year-old and his first comments when the men started boxing were "Don't do that" and later "That hurts!" It did too.

Later young Mark started talking with people near him and gave what seemed like several hundred words on unrelated and varied subjects. Prompted probably by seeing perspiration roll from Rocky's face, Mark said, "My mommy cries when the onions are too strong."

During Rocky's quieter rounds on shadow boxing, Mark's antics threatened to become more entertaining than what was going on in the ring. Then Rocky started hitting the bags, and Mark no longer competed.

The champ weighed 189 pounds before Thursday's workout. That's three pounds more than his normal weight of 186 pounds, according to his chef, Al Reinauer, who supervises all of Rocky's meals. The champ's menus run mostly to beef and lamb, with sometimes veal and liver, and of course, fish on Fridays since Rocky is a devout Catholic.

For dinner Thursday night, Rocky had two large patties of chopped steak, weighing about a pound. The chef tries to vary the meals as much as possible. "Rocky eats and likes everything I cook for him. He's a good boy," the chef said. "We still have five weeks to go and the last week means steak every day. I don't want him to get tired of any one dish."

Al was chef for Joey Maxim when Joey won over Sugar Ray Robinson in New York City in 104-degree heat last year.

Rocky's younger brother, Louie, 19, was scheduled for a try-out with the Brooklyn Dodgers Wednesday, and Rocky and his father were awaiting word Thursday on the outcome.

"Louie is 19 and has received a call to the Army. We don't know how all of this will shape up," said Rocky's father, a slightly built, gray haired man who helps about the camp and is usually near the ticket entrance.

Grandstanding...

Holland has the best record of any team entered in the class A regional tournament that opens Tuesday at Western Michigan college gym in Kalamazoo.

The Dutch open against Grand Rapids Central in the 7 p.m. game. Holland has gone through a 15-game schedule and lost only one game, that by a 48-47 score to Grand Rapids Central last December. Closest to matching that record is Kalamazoo Central. The Maroons have won 13 and lost two, one to Lansing Sexton and the other to Jackson.

Coach Fred Weiss scheduled a workout for his squad this afternoon and then it's on to tournament play Tuesday.

Other teams entered in the Kalamazoo regional are Battle Creek, Benton Harbor, Grand Rapids Creston, Grand Rapids Ottawa, Central and Kalamazoo.

Special guest at Rocky Marciano's Sunday workout was Truman Gibson, secretary of the International Boxing Club. He flew from Chicago to Grand Rapids and motored to Holland to watch the workout. He left immediately after the session.

Another guest Sunday was Mickey "Soldier" Farr from Chicago, long-time friend of manager Al Weill.

Billy Noble of Grand Island, Neb., one of Marciano's sparring partners, formerly played football at the University of Nebraska. Billy, who has won 21 out of 22 professional fights in the heavyweight ranks, will be on the card April 10 when Marciano meets Jersey Joe Walcott in Chicago Stadium. He might have a tune-up fight before that time if it can be arranged. He is not sure who his opponent will be April 10.

And take it from Billy, "You can't lose a second while fighting Rocky," he said. "He makes you work all the time."

Daily broadcasts of the Rocky Marciano workouts are taped, and sent to four radio stations in the area—WHBF, Benton Harbor; WKMI, Kalamazoo; WGRD, G. R. and WKBB, Muskegon, Holland.

Workmen carefully lower a crate containing part of a complete block building plant onto a railroad gondola for shipment to New York and then by ship to its final destination in Saudi Arabia.

Twenty-one crates weighing 61,320 pounds left Holland late Wednesday with the machinery some 30 days after the original order had been received here, by the Lith-I-Bar company (Sentinel photo)

Holland Firm Sends Complete Plant To Government of Far-Away Arabia

"Destination: Saudi Arabia."

Twenty-one huge crates with these words stenciled across them, containing a complete cement block manufacturing plant, were loaded aboard a railroad gondola here in Holland late Wednesday afternoon.

Back of the shipment lies a story of local business enterprise dating back some nine months. Early last summer, a Lith-I-Bar salesman, John Bakker, made a stop at the purchasing office of the Saudi Arabia government in Rochester, Pa. Bakker discussed the products of his company with government officials seeking equipment and goods to modernize their country.

The officials were interested in the block building equipment and asked the local company to furnish specifications, delivery dates and other pertinent details.

After routine checking by the Saudi Arabia government into the local company, its products and reputation, a purchase order was issued for the equipment.

The order passed through the hands of Lith-I-Bar vice president and general manager, Robert E. Lee Graham to L. M. Williams, plant superintendent who put operations into motion to fill the order.

Meanwhile, G. H. Ramsey, export director, began checking shipping schedules and arranging export clearance. At the same time steel pallet plates, manufactured in Pennsylvania, were ordered and scheduled for delivery at the same time equipment here was ready.

Some 30 days after the go ahead was received, the machinery was ready for shipment. The equipment, including the block building apparatus, air compressors, skip hoists, mixers, racks, lift trucks and other supplies were created and loaded aboard a train.

As the train shipment left here another train bearing the steel pallets from Pennsylvania was heading for New York and a waiting cargo ship.

Ramsey estimated the ship would arrive in Saudi Arabia about April 1 and be set up and operating by the middle of April. The blocks will be used for building homes and commercial establishments.
