Bids Opened for Addition To Holland Light Plant

Council Chambers on the third floor of City Hall were crowded this morning as the Board of Public Works opened bids at 10 a.m. for the new addition to the James De Young light plant on Third St. Bids were in three categories, electrical, mechanical and structural.

Of the 24 bids opened this morning, no contracts were let since engineers of Black and Veatch, consulting engineers for the project, will study all bids and make recommendations to the board which in turn will make recommendations to City Council.

BPW President Randall C. Bosch presided at the morning's gathering at which representatives of nearly all firms entering bids were present. In general, bids appeared favorable with low bids under the cost estimates drawn up by engineers. Preliminary engineering estimates had listed $945,000 for structural, $650,000 for mechanical and $251,500 for electrical.

Several Holland firms entered bids. Of six bids entered for structural construction, Elzinga and Volkens with a bid of $918,000 was only $2,000 more than the $916,000 which was the low bid by Herlihy of Comstock, Mich.

Of the 12 bids entered for mechanical work, the Lorne firm of Flint which has similar contracts for the Parke, Davis addition in Holland had a low bid of $577,850, approximately $10,000 lower than the $587,824 bid entered by Industrial Piping of Holland.

For electrical work, a Grand Rapids firm appeared low with a bid of $199,600. Next high was a bid by another Grand Rapids firm of $211,450.

President Bosch said it appears that low bids amounted to about $150,000 under preliminary estimates.

The bids were opened by City Clerk Clarence Greengood who serves as clerk of the board and bids were read by Engineer Robert Oliver of Black and Veatch. The session lasted about 35 minutes.

Tryouts Thursday for Three Community Theater Plays

Tryouts for the Holland Community Theater's initial offering, an evening of three short plays, will be held Thursday from 6:30 to 10 p.m. in room 103, 105 and 106 in Holland High School. All residents of the area with or without theater experience are invited and encouraged to come to the tryouts.

The three plays for which tryouts will be held include two comedies and a drama. "The Tenor," a comedy set in Austria at the turn of the century, by Frank Wedekind, will be directed by Peter De Moya. A contemporary comedy, "The End of the Beginning," by the Irish playwright Sean O'Casey will be directed by Vern Stillwell, and a powerful stage adaptation of the award winning Studio One production of "Twelve Angry Men" complete the bill. Author Reginald Rose has adapted the play for performance by women, and the Holland Community Theater will present this version entitled "Twelve Angry Women." Directed by the latter play will be Robert L. Smith.

Thursday's tryouts which are open to all in the Holland area offer opportunities to persons of varying levels of interest and experience. Altogether, 17 women and nine men are needed for roles in the three plays. In addition, a host of people are needed to handle production and technical areas for the staging of these plays.

Those interested in the behind-the-scenes work should call the secretary of the community theater, Evie Shaw, at EX 2-9435, as soon as possible.

Tentative production dates for the three plays are April 21, 22 and 23 in the Woman's Literary Club.

Oil Drilling Ordinance Approved

Following nearly an hour's discussion in a meeting of the committee of the whole, City Council adopted a new oil and gas drilling ordinance Wednesday night.

The ordinance which has been under study close to six months was explained by Assistant City Attorney Gordon Cunningham who had drafted the document after conferring with officials in several areas of the state involved in oil wells.

Cunningham explained that permits for wells would go through the clerk's office but pointed out that drillers also must apply to the State Department of Conservation. A $250 local fee would cover the cost of administration and the cost of the necessary investigation. The state fee is minimal but provides for returns on all oil or gas produced by said wells.

Under the ordinance, 10 acres would be required for an oil well and 160 acres for a gas well. The ordinance provides that if a drilling company has obtained 75 per cent of the necessary property leases, it may request a board of appeals hearing. Should the permit not be granted, the permit fee would be returned, less $100 for expenses, etc.

The ordinance also provides for bonds and insurance required by drilling companies, limitations in built-up areas, portable slush pits in certain areas, and the use of rotary tools regarded as more modern and safer than cable tools.

The ordinance also requires safeguards in the case of unmeted gas and other safety precautions. Cunningham expressed appreciation to Don Vink, manager of the Holland plant of Parke, Davis Co. and member of the Board of Public Works, who had given invaluable aid in drawing up the ordinance. Vink, who holds a master's degree in petroleum engineering from the University of Michigan, had worked for major oil companies as an oil field supervisor in California for several years before coming to Holland.

Council approved advertising in the Tulip Time edition of the Sentinel, a matter previously tabled. The city manager was instructed to work out the ad with Lindeman Advertising Agency.

Council approved payment of $100 for 1960 dues for membership in the Great Lakes Harbors Association.

Councilmen were informed that the region 5 meeting of the Michigan Municipal League will be held April 14 at the Elks clubhouse in Ionia.

Permission was granted to the Tulip Time board for using the annex building at the rear of Netherlands Museum for an art exhibit during the Tulip Time Festival May 11 through 14.

Holland Hospital's proposed budget for 1960-61 was presented and was referred to the city manager for later study. The budget provides for some increases which the board proposes to meet by means of a rate increase.

A library board agreement with Gerald Mast of Grand Rapids to paint a mural in the children's room of Herrick Public Library was approved. Mayor Robert Vischer commended the library committee for selecting a fine artist for the project.

City Clerk Clarence Greengood was instructed to make the necessary arrangements for outfitting Councilmen with suitable garb for Tulip Time parades.

Councilman John Belman gave the invocation. The meeting adjourned at 9:20 p.m. Mayor Vischer welcomed several local students who were attending the Council meeting.

Curriculum Council Now Under Study

Board of Education Studies Constitution For New Organization

Progress in organizing a curriculum council for Holland public schools was outlined at a regular meeting of the Board of Education Monday night in E. E. Fell Junior High School.

A constitution has been drafted for the new organization and currently is under study by the board and administration as well as a large number of teachers. Membership eventually calls for 50 to 60 persons, serving as an advisory group making recommendations on curricular matters to the administration. Membership would have representatives from organized parent-teacher groups, teachers, students, principals, etc. Membership would be for a period of not less than two years on a rotating basis so that not more than half the membership would retire each year.

Purpose would be to work together for better education by providing opportunities for students, teachers, administrators, supervisors and others. Plans call for meeting once a month.

Supt. Walter W. Scott has been serving as chairman, Fred Bertsch of Holland High School, vice chairman, and Margaret Foster of Lincoln School, secretary.

In other business, Supt. Scott reported on progress in advancing plans for the new high school. He said applications are being drafted for the qualified bond issue which must be approved by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, and for the sale of bonds which must be approved by the Municipal Finance Commission.

Since both involve time for study, it will perhaps be early June before the bond sale can be scheduled and perhaps two weeks later that the funds arrive. Consequently, he was hopeful that there could be groundbreaking around the middle of June.

Scott also reported on applications made under the National Defense Education Act for equipment for science in the elementary schools, and science, foreign language and mathematics in the secondary schools for an entire outlay of $27,000, with the local system paying 50 per cent of the costs.

Member Jack Plews pointed out that federal aid to education is always a controversial subject and the fact that the board is applying for funds does not necessarily mean that the board favors the whole concept of federal aid.

After Plews' stand on federal aid, Member Wendell A. Miles added a plug for a debating program for the public schools, pointing out that activity of this type probably does as much or more for the academically inclined as sports do for the six-footers.

A large delegation of teachers attended the meeting. Apparently they were there mainly for work on the curriculum program, but only a few contributed to the discussion, and briefly at that.

A letter from Arthur C. Hills announced plans are under way for presenting the musical, "The King and I," by the total music department in Civic Center Nov. 17, 18 and 19, 1960. These plans were enthusiastically approved by the schools committee which recommended that the high school music staff organize a committee to take care of such details as advertising, ticket sales, business management, properties and other incidental matters.

Plans are under way for the 1960 public schools summer session as outlined by Vern Schipper. Courses anticipated this year are typing, developmental reading, junior high mathematics, social problems and economics workshop. The latter program will be in charge of Robert Van Dyke.

Plans also were announced for an all-day session March 23 with Dr. Lawrence Senesh of the University of Purdue meeting with selected representatives of schools, business, industry and Hope College.

The teachers committee recommended that Rober Slocum, director of vocational education, take over teacher recruitment for 1960-61 so that Supt. Scott may spend more time in planning school facilities. The recommendation was approved.

Vice President Harry Frissel presided in the absence of President Carl C. Andreasen. All other members were present. High School Principal Jay W. Formosa gave the invocation. The meeting adjourned at 8:48 p.m.

A devotional meeting for the intermediate and senior CE groups of the Golden Chain, the Allegan and Holland CE unions is scheduled for Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the Rose Park Reformed Church. Elwood Dunn, general secretary of the Michigan CE Union, will speak on "Christian Living" and Jim Knoll of the Immanuel Baptist Church will provide the special music and lead the singing. Miss Patricia Vander Beek of Hope College will accompany Mr. Knoll at the piano. Miss Carole Elferdink is chairman of the meeting.

Holt said any discussion of annexation necessarily involves the question of extension of city services, and some of his statements on school problems and water shortages outside the city were distorted and reported out of context in a daily newspaper and the Wyoming editorial made further exaggerations and brought in religious connotations.

Holt's report added that Grand Rapids City Manager Al Rypstra had forwarded a clipping of the Wyoming editorial soon after it appeared and Rypstra had showed concern over the unwarranted attack. Holt said he was submitting the report because of the number of inquiries his office had received. It was filed for information.

Questioned by state police and Grand Haven city police, Chittenden admitted breaking into the Gulf Service Station on Savidge St. in Spring Lake Feb. 4 and Rycenga Lumber Co. in Grand Haven March 4. Missing from the gas station was $60 in cash plus three checks and from the Lumber Co. $83.15. Three fireproof safe cabinets valued at $200 each were badly damaged at the Lumber firm.

Arraigned today before Justice Lawrence De Witt, Chittenden waived examination on a nighttime breaking and entering charge. Unable to furnish $5,000 bond, he was taken to the county jail. He is scheduled to be arraigned in Circuit Court March 30.

It was when Chittende attempted to pass a check in Spring Lake that a clerk became suspicious and notified state police. Chittenden was picked up by Village Chief Richard Livingston and state police.

City Council Okays Boat Ramp Plan

Holland Will Lease 150 Feet of Lake Frontage for $1 a Year

City Council Wednesday night approved a license agreement with the West Michigan Furniture Co. to lease to the city 150 feet of lake frontage on Lake Macatawa west of Pine Ave. between Fourth and Fifth Sts. for small boat launching together with parking area for cars and boat trailers.

The $1 a year arrangement calls for the city to improve the lake front as well as preparing a road, leveling the parking area and providing cinders. This improvement which involves a minimal outlay in cash can be accomplished by the street department under its current budget. Some other work can be done by volunteer organizations interested in promoting the project.

Councilman Ernest Phillips who has worked closely in the program expressed gratitude to Bob Fitzgerald and the Kirshens for their cooperation in the lease arrangement. He said the new facility will not necessarily eliminate use of the boat ramps at Kollen Park but since it will be better suited for the purposes he expected most boat owners would prefer the new ramps.

William H. Vande Water, executive secretary of the Holland Chamber of Commerce, said his organization was grateful to Phillips and City Council for arranging for ramp facilities which are needed badly to accommodate the many boat owners in the area.

Phillips explained that the lease arrangements may be cancelled by either party on a 90-day notice. The city will assume liability and will provide the necessary fences and lighting.

In other business, Council set April 6 as date for public hearing for two water main projects. These programs call for mains in Cambridge Blvd. from Harvard Dr. to Paw Paw Dr., and in 20th St. from Ottawa to Homestead Aves.

A report from City Manager Herb Holt informed Council that departmental report on post audit suggestions are now in his office and will be duplicated and presented at the April 6 meeting.

A report from the city manager referred to an editorial in the Jan. 20 issue of the Wyoming Advocate, reprints of which have been circulated in this area. The editorial concerned statements made by Holt at a panel discussion on annexation matters before the Southern Michigan Public Works Forum in Grand Rapids Jan. 14.

Holt said any discussion of annexation necessarily involves the question of extension of city services, and some of his statements on school problems and water shortages outside the city were distorted and reported out of context in a daily newspaper and the Wyoming editorial made further exaggerations and brought in religious connotations.

Holt's report added that Grand Rapids City Manager Al Rypstra had forwarded a clipping of the Wyoming editorial soon after it appeared and Rypstra had showed concern over the unwarranted attack. Holt said he was submitting the report because of the number of inquiries his office had received. It was filed for information.

Holland Man Stabbed in Arm During Fight

A Holland man was stabbed at 6 a.m. today in a fight outside Zig's Restaurant on M-21 just east of Holland during an argument which apparently started over a girl.

Jack Bronson, 24, of 120 Walnut Ave., was treated at Holland Hospital for a five-inch stab wound in the upper left arm requiring approximately 20 stitches, according to Dr. W. C. Kools. Bronson was released after treatment, hospital officials said.

The Ottawa County Sheriff's Department and State Police apprehended Wayne Lewis Johnson, 20, of 280 Elm Rd., Fruitport, at his home at 9 a.m. He was taken to the county jail where he admitted being involved in the fight with Bronson.

In a statement given to Sheriff Bernard Gysen this morning, Johnson said he took the hunting knife from the glove compartment of the car he was driving. The knife had a six-inch blade.

Johnson said in his statement that he met Sharon Achterhof, 20, of route 1, Holland, at a night club in Muskegon where he played as a drummer, and offered to take her home. On the way home they stopped at the restaurant where Bronson was.

The two men had argued earlier at the Muskegon night club, according to Ottawa County deputies.

Johnson left after the fight and threw the knife into Black River at the bridge on M-21, deputies said. The knife was found by deputies Gerry Witteveen and Merlin Timmer at 11:15 a.m. in about 16 inches of water.

Questioned by state police and Grand Haven city police, Chittenden admitted breaking into the Gulf Service Station on Savidge St. in Spring Lake Feb. 4 and Rycenga Lumber Co. in Grand Haven March 4. Missing from the gas station was $60 in cash plus three checks and from the Lumber Co. $83.15. Three fireproof safe cabinets valued at $200 each were badly damaged at the Lumber firm.

Arraigned today before Justice Lawrence De Witt, Chittenden waived examination on a nighttime breaking and entering charge. Unable to furnish $5,000 bond, he was taken to the county jail. He is scheduled to be arraigned in Circuit Court March 30.

Safe Stolen From Local Gas Station

Torch Used to Free Safe; Car Stolen From 8th St. Gas Station

Bold, fast-moving thieves broke into the H & B service station at 125 West Eighth St. last Thursday night or early Friday and made off with a 500-pound safe containing an estimated $700 and stole a 1947 model car to haul the loot away.

The safe, which was bolted to the concrete floor, was cut loose with an acetylene torch from the station's service department. The burglars dragged it 30 feet from the front of the station to the service department where the thieves loaded it into the station-owned car used in the getaway, according to Holland police.

The car was found by police at 9 a.m. Friday. It had been abandoned on North Pine Ave. about three blocks from the scene of the theft.

The thieves gained entry to the station by breaking out a window at the rear of the station's service department. Time of the breakin was placed between 9:45 p.m. Thursday when the station owners, Donald Hartgerink and Herman Blok, closed up for the night, and 12:50 a.m. today when a routine police check revealed one of the large overhead doors to the service department was unlocked although in a closed position, police said.

The two officers made a check inside the building but failed to notice the broken window and the debris left when the burglars cut the safe from the floor.

The officers, who had been on the force for six to seven months, did not know the location of the safe, which was hidden behind a partition.

The safe was not reported missing until 6:35 a.m. Friday after Blok had come to the station to open for business. The safe had been torn from its position against the rear wall of the part of the station which is adjacent to the service department, Blok said.

The cash drawer of the cash register had been put in the safe just before closing Thursday night, he said.

Two showcases, one by the front window of the station and the second near the rear wall, hid the safe from the street.

Holland detectives linked the breakin with a similar breakin, which occurred at the R.E. Barber Ford agency on Jan. 10. Detectives said that the similar method of operation used by the burglars led them to believe the two breakins were the work of the same persons.

In the Barber breakin, the thieves also tore the safe from the office wall and dragged it to an agency-owned station wagon used in the getaway. In both cases acetylene torches were used.

Police continued searching north of Holland for the missing safe in the same general area where the Barber safe was buried after it had been cut open with an acetylene cutting torch.

Detectives said that the thieves may have transferred the safe from the getaway car to a car they may have had waiting where the stolen car was found. They said that poor roads in rural areas and the great amount of snow covering the ground would make it difficult for the thieves to easily dispose of the safe.

Detectives also considered the possibility that the thieves may have taken the safe to a nearby building or home to hide it.

Driver Slightly Hurt In Two-Truck Collision

Edward Hornburg, 53, of Grand Rapids, was released from Holland Hospital following treatment for strained back and neck muscles suffered in a two-truck collision Monday at the intersection of the US-31 bypass and East Eighth St.

Ottawa County deputies said that Hornburg had stopped at the traffic light at the intersection when his panel truck was struck in the rear by a semi-truck driven by 24-year-old George Witt of Grand Rapids. Witt was charged with failing to maintain an assured clear distance, deputies said.

Deputies estimated damage to Hornburg's truck at $800 and said that damage to Witt's truck was minor.

Chamber Membership Banquet Attracts 350 to Civic Center

More than 350 persons attended the annual membership meeting of the Holland Chamber of Commerce Thursday night in Civic Center, starting with a smorgasbord buffet and continuing with a program of entertainment, inspiration and, as Master of Ceremonies, Ab Martin put it, "a little Chamber business."

The speaker, Dr. Ralph L. Lee, nationally known speaker and author, proved to be as entertaining as he was inspirational in his talk entitled "People as They Come and Are." Slightly reminiscent of Tennessee Ernie Ford, Dr. Lee was a folksy sort, jumping from one story to another, yet managing to put in a serious punch here and there.

The basic point of his message was that while groups of people struggle against other groups and nations against nations, these are not material problems — they're "people" problems, and if people would just settle down and try to get along the world would be a lot better off.

"Most people are proud of being different . . . it's all associated with our liberty and individual rights. Besides, wouldn't it be horrible if we were all alike? Yet it's God who put those differences in us and, aided by our mothers, our education and all the other forces, it's really a miracle that we all grow up and get a certain amount of recognition," Dr. Lee said.

He prescribed a certain formula for life which went something like this: behavior equals the kind of person you can't help being, multiplied by the things you can't control, divided by the shape you're in.

"If people would take one-tenth of the time and investment in accumulating facts on physical things and put this energy into the field of humanities, we'd have a new age in humanities which would far exceed our efforts in the field of physics and electronics. From what I've seen of Holland during the short time I've spent here, I know you've been doing work on humanities here for a long time," Dr. Lee concluded.

President Charles Cooper presented awards to John Kooiker and Isaac Kouw for being associated with the Chamber of Commerce or its predecessors for a period of 50 years. Cooper also reviewed Chamber functions, pointing out Holland's diversification of industry, progress on attracting industries to Holland, hopes for better airport facilities and progress in many fields.

Music was provided by the Chord Counts, a local barbershop quartet which won the state championship last year. The dinner was catered by Hotel Warm Friend. Organ dinner music was provided by Lois De Jonge. Dr. Miner Stegenga gave the invocation. C. J. Skeetee led the closing song, "God Bless America."

There will also be a special education teacher to assist with the instruction of retarded children for the 1960-1961 school year. The teacher will aid slow youngsters who now attend the Grand Haven district schools.

Six Cases Processed In Court

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — On the basis of testimony by three psychiatrists, Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith Friday ruled that James Lee MacOwen, 39, Jensen, is a criminal sexual psychopathic person.

MacOwen pleaded innocent last August 17 to an indecent liberties charge and changed his plea to guilty Oct. 12, after which he requested psychiatric examination. The offense dates back to May 29, 1959.

Psychiatrists testifying were Drs. David B. Davis, Leonard M. Rosenzweig and Kenneth C. Nickel, all of Grand Rapids. The examinations were held Feb. 4.

Dale Van Huis, 26, of 629 Midway, Holland, pleaded guilty to charges of obtaining money under false pretenses. Bond of $500 was not furnished for his return for sentence April 5. Van Huis allegedly obtained $100.20 from Domestic Finance Co. of Holland Jan. 14 using an altered name.

Karl Arnold Parchert, 25, Grand Haven, pleaded guilty to carrying a concealed weapon and will return for sentence April 5. He was found carrying a blackjack on his person March 6.

Cecil Robert Herrell, 16, of 630 Myrtle Ave., Holland, in whose case Ottawa Probate Court waived jurisdiction, pleaded guilty to nighttime breaking and entering and will return for sentence April 5. Herrell was charged with breaking into the Wooden Shoe Restaurant at Holland July 20, 1959, and taking $100.

David Wilder, 25, Grand Rapids, pleaded not guilty to desertion and non-support of his wife and three children. He failed to provide $500 bond. Date for trial was not set.

A petition of Jack Arthur Dunn, 24, Ferrysburg, seeking restoration of driving privileges, was denied. Dunn's license had been suspended by the license appeal board of the Secretary of State's office for an unsatisfactory driving record.

Maroons Lose Tournery Bid In Thriller

KALAMAZOO (Special) — A last quarter surge by Grand Rapids Godwin's cage squad dashed Holland Christian regional tourney hopes here Thursday night as the Maroons bowed in a thriller, 58-55. Godwin now moves into the Saturday finals on the Western Michigan fieldhouse court against Buchanan which stopped Coopersville in the night's first game at 7 p.m.

The game was a heartbreaker for the Maroons to lose inasmuch as they led by slight margins during most of the game, only to see it slip away in the final minute. It was a thriller for the opening whistle with six points being the biggest point difference during the night. The contest was tied eight times and the winners never led by more than five points, that coming in the last two minutes.

Fouls played a big part in the Maroon defeat as the Maroons were in trouble most of the night with key personnel in danger. Capt. Vern Wedeven picked up three in the first period and didn't return until the last quarter when he fouled out in the closing stages. Doug Windemuller fouled out in the last period while another starter Jim Smits picked up his fourth in the third stanza and had to sit out a good share of the second half.

Despite the aggressive game played by the Wolverines, only 17 fouls were assessed against them compared to 26 for the Maroons. Consequently the Wolves shot 14 more foul shots than did the Maroons in the game. Godwin connected on 22 out of 37 while Christian hit on 13 out of 23. In the field goal department, Christian outscored the winners 21-18.

Coach Gene Nyenhuis' crew used power basketball to whip the Maroons. They applied pressure relentlessly, sometimes with a full court press or a half court variety, but still stuck with the Maroons. They showed little in the way of a team offense, but relied mainly on individual work on drives or some outcourt shooting.

Christian, paced by juniors Frank Visser and Ken Disselkoen, and seniors Smits and Wedeven more than held their own on the boards against the big Godwin outfit. They also did a good job of keeping the Godwin fast break in check, but the Wolves did score on a couple at crucial times.

Coach Art Tuls' Maroons opened with a rush and within three minutes time had bounced out to a 9-5 margin, on some fine shooting by Wedeven and Visser. But lefty Dick Melville started to connect for the Wolves to pull them back to a tie. By the end of the period, the clubs had fought to a 14-14 deadlock.

With two reserves in the lineup the locals pulled away in the second stanza after the count had been knotted three times. Five fielders by Visser in the period sent the Maroons out to a 26-20 bulge with four minutes gone. However some balanced scoring and great individual effort by reserve Sandy Sasso with his backcourt harrassing narrowed the count to 30-28, but the Maroons still managed to lead 33-30 at the half. A basket on the horn by Visser was nullified by the timer, while the two officials split on their decision, one calling it good, the other disagreeing.

The Maroons hit their low point in the third stanza as they couldn't find the range to take advantage of a long Godwin lull. The two clubs battled over four minutes with the count still knotted at 36-36. Then sparked by guard Ken Walters the Maroons applied some pressure of their own to snare three straight passes, scoring on two. By the end of the period, the Maroons led 42-40.

Christian missed excellent scoring chances off a new offense which had the Wolves in trouble, and it cost them the game. Holland last led 48-46, before the determined Wolves took over with 5:21 remaining. Although they led by just two and four points, the pressure was now on the Maroons.

Godwin, through foul shots led 56-51 with two minutes left. Two outcourt shots by Ben Bonselaar and Walters narrowed the gap to 57-55 with 40 seconds left, but Godwin then went into a stall which the Maroons couldn't break and that was the game.

Visser, playing a great game led all scorers with 19 points. Al West a fine driver and shooter led the winners with 15.

A crowd of 4,000 fans witnessed the two game class B card. Godwin now has a 16-3 mark, while the Maroons close with a 13-9 record.

Don Boyink . . . from Grand Haven

Don Boyink Helped Hope

Don Boyink, Grand Haven's contribution to the Hope College basketball team, was a valuable addition this season and he is expected to figure prominently next season in Coach Russ De Vette's plans. Boyink showed a lot of improvement this season and his best single effort was 16 points against Kalamazoo. He was a top reserve man and saw action in 19 of Hope's 21 games.

A 6'5" junior, Boyink was also on the team last season and played on the Hope JV team as a freshman. He formerly played basketball at Grand Haven High School and was an outstanding two-hand set shot.

At Hope he has developed several other shots and has also increased his leaping ability and can now "dunk" the basketball. A tireless worker in practice, Boyink worked on getting off his feet and although unable to "dunk" the ball last season, he developed the spring to accomplish the feat this season.

Boyink scored 34 points this season and hit on 35 baskets. He sank 14 of 21 free shots. He started a string last season which numbered 20 straight free shots but the mark was snapped when he missed a shot in the Wheaton game.

Learning the importance of team play was probably the biggest single thing the Holland eighth grade basketball team learned this season according to Coach Chuck Dornbos.

The eighth graders learned play patterns and how to work the ball toward the basket and to spot the open man. They showed good improvement throughout the season.

Winners of five of eight games, Dornbos was pleased with the progress of the club and expected the boys to make a good showing on the freshmen team next season.

Several of the players developed jump shots during the season. The jump shot is one of the most popular shots in basketball at the present time and some of the boys were quite consistent in making jump shots.

TOMORROW IS TAX DAY

This is for many people who are charged with the responsibility of furnishing the money so Uncle Sam can pay some of his bills.

We who are in business and have to supply the cash for these tax bills sometimes wonder if we will ever find a way to get a little reduction.

There will never be a reduction as long as we continue to grow larger or unless we find a way to reduce the cost of government.

There is always talk about cutting the appropriations all along the line. There are, however, so many large projects that are projected into the future years that some would need to be stopped if the people in government would just get their dander up and start cutting out some of the waste.

This makes a fine subject for everyone to use when you write your congressman. The national level is a good place to start because this is where the billions are talked about every day.

We get men from large business to come into government service and in most cases they find that there is so much waste and red tape connected with government affairs that they remain a short while and return to private business.

Yes, we know that it is hard to run any government business like one would try to run any business large or small. We think that we are going to need to find a better way to reduce some of the waste of government somewhere along the line. Give this some thought. Remember to vote at every election.

Government today is no doubt the largest spender of your dollars. If they, the many people who are working for us in government affairs, are going to be charged with the spending operation, then we think that we the people must spend more of our leisure time trying to reduce the waste.

Keep on writing your congressman. Send us a copy if you care to for publication. Remember 300 words and be sure to sign your name and address.

Sunday School Lesson

Sunday, March 20
Paul's Voyage to Rome
Acts 27:1; 27:21-26 28:1-2 28:11-14
By C. P. Dame

This lesson tells about the most famous and important sea journey recorded in the Bible. Paul wanted to get to Rome and he got there but not the way he had planned. Rome was the center of the world and that was the reason why Paul wanted to go there and preach.

I. Some men are natural born leaders. Paul was one of them. Paul had appealed to Caesar and that meant that the government had to send him there. With a number of other prisoners Paul was put in charge of a centurion, named Julius, who was a good man, and showed favors to Paul. Two of Paul's friends, Luke the beloved doctor and Aristarchus, a man from Thessalonica went along with him.

Paul embarked at Caesarea. At Myra, the centurion put all the prisoners on one of the great cork ships which was bound for Italy. When the ship got to Fair Havens the decision was made to go further to a harbor called Phenice and winter there — this was against Paul's definite advice. They never reached this harbor for a storm upset all their plans. In the midst of this storm Paul, the natural born leader took charge. He first reminded them of the counsel he had given them which had been rejected. Every one on the ship was in terror. Paul told his hearers to be of good cheer since they all would be saved for an angel of the God to whom he belonged and whom he served had told him this good news.

The angel said to Paul that "God hath granted thee all them that sail with thee. God willed Paul in Rome. Those who traveled with Paul were blessed because of him. In times past God blessed "the house of Potiphar for Joseph's sake." If there had been ten righteous people in Sodom it would have been saved. The godly often benefit the godless.

II. Some people can instill confidence in others. Although Paul was sure that all would be saved he did not become careless. When the sailors tried to make a getaway and to leave all the others to their fate Paul noted it and reported to the centurion what they were doing and he centurion ordered the soldiers to cut the ropes which supported the dinghy and let her go and the plot failed. It is worth noting that although Paul was under arrest and supposed to be a criminal on his way to Rome for trial the centurion and the soldiers recognized the leadership of Paul. It has been rightly said that there are but two kinds of people—those who are mastered by circumstances and those who master the circumstances. Some people always have to lean on others and some are always leaned on by others.

After going without food for a long time Paul persuaded all to take some food. Paul set the example and took bread and in the presence of the two hundred and seventy-six souls he thanked God and ate food. The ship was wrecked on the beach of an island and all reached land safely. The soldiers wanted to kill all the prisoners but the centurion who had learned to respect Paul highly forbade it. The prediction of Paul was fulfilled and no one lost his life. Undoubtedly all got a deep impression of Paul who showed no fear because he trusted in God.

III. Those who minister to others are usually ministered to by others. On the island Paul was a blessing to the inhabitants—he healed the father of the chief man and many others. After staying on Malta for three months the journey was resumed again. On the way to Rome Paul met Christians. At Puteoli, which has been called the Liverpool of Italy, Paul found brethren and remained with them for a week. Christians from Rome came to meet Paul at the Forum of Appius and at Three Taverns and when Paul saw them he "thanked God and took courage." Paul came to Rome "and was allowed to stay by himself with the soldier that guarded him."

Ottawa County Farm News

By Richard Machiele

Have you already pruned your grape vines and fruit trees? If not, there is still time for it now. If you need some suggestions as to how it should be done, we have two bulletins that will help you: "Pruning Grapes in Michigan" (No. 347) and "Pruning Young Fruit Trees" (F-122).

Perhaps your raspberries dried up last summer just before they ripened. If so your bushes no doubt were infected with a disease called anthracnose. The surest way to control this disease is by using lime-sulfur spray in early spring about the time the first leaves emerge. In severe cases a second spray may be necessary later in the season. We suggest using "Ferbam" according to manufacturer's direction.

We would like to urge all farm organizations who are planning to enter the Community Cooperations contest ("Farm-to-Prosper") to send the enrollments in. If you do not have an enrollment form we will be glad to send one, and we would like to encourage more groups to enter this program. This is one sure way of doing community service through your organized group.

Our office staff is cooperating with Don's Flowers in a garden clinic to be held on Wednesday, March 23, beginning at noon. Don will welcome any problems you may have in lawns, flower gardens or vegetable gardens. In cooperation with the High School Agriculture class there will be a soil testing service, and fertilizer recommendations will be made for all ornamental and vegetable plantings. Come and spend the afternoon or evening.

Early planting is a must to get top yields of oats or barley in Michigan. Seeding in March can double or even triple the yields obtained from May plantings. Planting either oats or barley after mid-April will probably mean lower yields in the average season.

The difficulty is that thawing, spring rains and heavy soils may force one to wait until May before fitting the soil. By then, it's too late to expect good yields. Where this is a problem, a late winter seeding may be justified.

In tests at the Michigan State Experiment Station in 1957 and 1959, early barley seeding tripled the yields from May sowing. Late February and March oat seedings yielded 20-40 bushels more than May plantings. A late winter seeding works best where the field has been plowed. On a day when the ground has thawed about one inch, you can use a tractor and an ordinary grain drill. Double seeding rates are usually necessary, so the farm crops men recommend 3 bushels of barley or 4 bushels of oats per acre. Regular amounts and analyses of fertilizer should be used. Good seed coverage is the secret to successful seeding. Covering chains behind the drill are essential.

tial. In the M. S. U. trials, an iron bar dragging behind the tractor smoothed over the wheel marks effectively and gave good coverage. Broadcast seeding followed by a harrowing is another method of winter seeding.

Close attention must be paid to the weather. There may be only a few days when the soil will thaw enough to provide a good seed bed while still holding up equipment on the surface. The seeding can be made even with snow on the ground, however the seed must be covered with soil and not just snow. Where planting of either grain had been a problem, farmers might try seeding some of their crop by this method. They might then compare results with those from conventional methods.

Law of averages doesn't quite work for the dairyman in raising herd replacements. A U. S. Department of Agriculture study reported by Michigan State University dairy specialists shows that a dairyman can expect to get only 34 heifers per year that might be good replacements in a herd of 100 milking cows. To begin with, he can expect only about 42 heifer calves born. Death losses and sterility cut this down to 34 at the time the heifers are ready to enter the herd. About 25 of these heifers are needed to replace the animals that will leave this 100-cow herd in a year.

In other words, the dairyman doesn't have much culling room with only nine more heifers available than he needs. This situation really pin-points the need for a breeding program that will upgrade herd replacements as much as possible, and further points to the value of a record keeping program to better identify the most promising herd replacements based on their dams' records.

Whitcomb Seeks Beauvais Ouster

ALLEGAN (Special) — Councilman William Whitcomb Monday night presented a resolution to Allegan Council demanding a public apology from City Manager Phillip Beauvais as well as Beauvais' resignation no later than May 1, but there was no support to the resolution.

Ironically, Beauvais who also serves as city clerk read the resolution at the meeting of council. Whitcomb is one of Allegan's five council members which includes the mayor.

The lengthy resolution called for the apology and resignation on the basis of what Whitcomb considered widespread and unfavorable publicity to Allegan resulting from an investigation by the state attorney general's office at the instigation of the city manager.

The Attorney General had been requested to investigate alleged wrong doings into various law enforcement groups in Allegan County but eventually returned a report indicating no criminal wrongdoings.

Previously, a resolution had been drafted calling for the recall of Councilman Tom Surprise for not keeping a campaign promise. Because of legal technicalities, this resolution was declared invalid.

Slocum Speaks To Exchanges

Robert Slocum, director of vocational training in the Holland Public Schools, addressed the members of the Holland Exchange Club at their regular luncheon meeting Monday.

Mr. Slocum resumed his work in Holland last September after being on loan for the United States government for two years. He was sent to Okinawa to aid in setting up vocational training on both university and high school levels in the islands.

Okinawa is a 67-mile long island, 1,000 miles southwest of Japan and is from two to 12 miles wide. It is under the control of the United States although owned by Japan. Mr. Slocum showed pictures showing living conditions on the island.

Agriculture is the chief industry but methods are exceedingly primitive. Sweet potatoes, sugar cane, and rice are the chief crops. The average farmer owns only three fourths of an acre of land but tries to make every inch count. Mechanized equipment is out of the question. One rich farmer owning three acres of land had to rent some of it because it was more than he and his daughter could care for. Damage to crops is a calamity and most of the damage is due to the salt spray blown from the ocean by typhoons, Slocum said.

The United States military have large installations on the island and have paved many of the main highways. The U. S. paves the roads and the Okinawans own the land under them. The same is true of the air fields. One airfield alone had 10,000 owners.

The islanders are very intent on educating their people and are exceedingly proud of their university. They are a very warm-hearted people and are industrious although all their manufactured articles are hand made.

Prior to Mr. Slocum's address, a check for $2,500 was handed to the chairman of the Goodfellows foundation, Russell Welch by Dwight Ferris, the Exchange who was in charge of the Home Show.

In the declamation event, Linda Hertel took first honors and Helen Wolters received second honors. Other contestants were Esther Timmer and Irene Jaarsma.

In the original oration division, Paul Brink took first honors and Martin Bolt received second. Other contestants were Esther Brink, Karl Westerhof, Ken Koeman and Delwyn Nykamp.

Holland DAR Members Attend Conference

Mrs. Charles Murrell spoke on "The Enchantment of Steins" at a meeting of the Elizabeth Schuyler Hamilton Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Thursday afternoon at the home of Miss Maibelle Geiger.

She traced the history of steins as produced in England, Germany and America. She told of the humor displayed in the patterns and designs of earlier steins. The study of designs through the different periods gave an insight into the customs and interests of the periods. They portrayed all phases of life, she said.

Mrs. Murrell said many beautiful steins have been produced in this country and many famous collections of steins are found here. The silver tankards made by Paul Revere are the most highly valued. The steins Mrs. Murrell showed were from her husband's collection.

Miss Laura Boyd, regent, presided. Mrs. Benjamin Van Lente, chaplain, led devotions. Miss Katherine Post gave the report for the national defense committee.

It was announced that Miss Boyd and Mrs. Harold Niles would represent the chapter at the state conference in Flint, March 14-16. The Holland Chapter will also have three pages, daughters of members serving at the conference. They are Elizabeth Becker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Becker; Rebecca Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Lee and Elizabeth Niles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Niles.

Attending the conference on Wednesday were the senior girls from Holland and Zeeland High schools who have been elected DAR Good Citizens, Judy Martin of Holland High and Linda De Witt of Zeeland. They attended a meeting of all Good Citizens and be guests of honor at a luncheon.

Dessert was served by a hostess committee consisting of Mrs. William Hakken, Mrs. Stephen Sanger, Miss Lida Rogers, Mrs. Milton Hinga and Miss Boyd.

Nixons Can't Attend 1960 Tulip Fete

The Nixons will be unable to be in Holland for Tulip Time, according to a gracious note received today from the Vice President in Washington, D.C.

He wrote: "This is just a note to thank you for your letter of Feb. 26 extending an invitation to Mrs. Nixon, my daughters and me to attend your 31st Tulip festival May 14. Cong. Ford has urged me to give this every possible consideration which you may be sure I was glad to do."

"It would be most enjoyable, I know, to have an opportunity to come to Holland for such a delightful affair and we greatly appreciate your thoughtfulness in inviting us. Unfortunately, however, the President will be out of the country at that time and I have been asked to remain in Washington as much as possible during his absence.

"Consequently, we must decline most regretfully your cordial invitation. Although we shall not have the pleasure of being with you, we should like to take this opportunity for your generous invitation and extend our best wishes for what is certain to be a spectacular and memorable festival."

The invitation had been sent to Vice President Nixon through the board of directors of the Holland Chamber of Commerce and the Tulip Time festival board.

Among the samples Mr. Donnelly brought with him was a piece of glass so thin it could hardly be seen.

Coming to Holland from Chicago in 1905, the Donnelly-Kelley Glass Company was at first engaged in the manufacture of mirrors for the furniture industry as well as stained glass for windows. During the Second World War the company made mirror parts for tank periscopes and various other uses.

Driven into new types of products by keen competition, the company is currently engaged in manufacturing chrome mirrors for the auto industry, specialized decorative mirrors, and a new type of one-way mirrors for oven doors.

Feher will build his club next season around Stunad, Chase and Damanskas. Added to this will be several fine reserve team players, paced by Adrian Van Lonkhuyzen and Donnie Jim Dickinson.

Jim Kaat . . . bright future predicted

Kaat's Hurling Impresses In Spring Training Opener

Jim Kaat, Zeeland's contribution to major league baseball, made an auspicious start Saturday with the Washington Senators in a spring training contest against the Detroit Tigers in Lakeland, Fla.

The 21-year-old lefty faced 10 Tigers in a three inning relief stint and after allowing a base hit to leadoff man Eddie Yost he retired nine batters in a row.

He struck out four of the hitters, including Al Kaline and Steve Bilko, and didn't walk a man. Yost's hit was the only ball out of the infield.

Kaat joined the Senators last Aug. 1 in Chicago and pitched the following day. He lost his first contest and then underwent an operation on his back. He also pitched against Boston in September and lost.

Manager Cookie Lavagetto of the Senators has been high on Kaat since the ex-Zeeland High star signed his contract in 1957, while a student at Hope College.

Lavagetto was quoted Sunday as saying "Kaat is so far advanced for a kid of 21 with three years experience that he very definitely could be one of the finest pitchers in the American League in the near future. Right now, he's as fast as anyone in the league. Herb Score, a couple years ago with Cleveland, might have been just a mile faster. But Jim may put a little more on the ball in the future, too," Lavagetto said.

"There's absolutely no question about his making this ball club this year," Lavagetto said. The Washington manager went so far as to say that Kaat may become one of the great lefthanders of all time.

The Zeeland lefty, who pitched in Nicaragua this past winter, used his curve ball effectively in the game. He was described as working deliberately and mixing up his pitches. He also used change ups frequently.

Mrs. Donovan Reviews Life Of Great Philanthropist

Members of the Woman's Literary Club were introduced to Alfred Nobel, one of the world's great philanthropists, and members of his illustrious family, in a book review given by Mrs. Edward Donovan, Holland High School librarian, Tuesday afternoon.

In her customary stimulating way, Mrs. Donovan made her subjects come to life as she reviewed "Nobel, Biography" by Nicholas Halasz. To understand this great, yet retiring, industrialist who was ill all his life, Mrs. Donovan devoted considerable time to the family background, the dynamic father, the devoted mother, the bright healthy elder brothers and the promising younger brother who was killed in an explosion of his father's laboratory.

As an illustration of early mental promise, the reviewer told how young Alfred, ill in bed most of his early life, would translate Voltaire into Russian, English and German and then back to French again, comparing his results with the original.

It was his father's aim to develop an explosive, not so much for munitions as for moving huge portions of earth in road building, mining and other developments. Besides, plans were being made for digging the Suez canal around the time Alfred was born in 1833 and father hoped to recoup his fortune. But it was not until many years later that Alfred finally perfected a manageable explosive named dynamite, an invention which paved building booms all over Europe. It was the Nobel factories manufacturing dynamite in many countries of Europe which formed the basis of the huge Nobel fortune.

Besides dynamite, the Nobel family was associated with petroleum, refrigeration, mobile homes, lamps, and many other inventions. It was in 1888 when Alfred Nobel left his Paris mansion one morning that he read his own obituary in the newspaper. His brother had died, but the newspaper had used his name and his biography. Now 55 years old, this sensitive, intellectual man was appalled by the title of dynamite king, and in the eight years remaining in his life he perfected a legacy for the five great Nobel prizes, medicine, physics, chemistry, literature, and most important Peace. Prizes amount to approximately $42,000 each, representing returns from the $9,200,000 fortune Nobel left in trust. Sweden awards the first four prizes and Norway the Peace prize, always on Dec. 10, the date of Nobel's death.

Since the first prizes were awarded in 1901, 27 countries and 314 persons or groups have shared in the prizes. The United States has won the most prizes for medicine, peace and physics, Germany for chemistry and France for literature.

Alfred Nobel's great interest in peace was the result of a long friendship with Bertha von Suttner, his secretary-housekeeper for a very short time who later became an author and influential worker in peace organizations. It was Bertha von Suttner who won the Nobel Peace prize in 1905.

Mrs. Donovan was introduced by Mrs. Carl Harrington, club president, who paid tribute to the late Mrs. Edwin Heeringa, a faithful club member for many years. She also announced Hospital Hostess Day March 24, sponsored by the Frances Browning guild of the Hospital Auxiliary.

Four members in Dutch costume, Mrs. Harry Hakken, Mrs. Andrew Dalman, Mrs. John Van Putten and Mrs. Peter Boter, explained the club project in serving Dutch lunches during Tulip Time. Since serving of food involves health tests, Mrs. R. L. Schlecht explained that special health clinics for tuberculin tests have been arranged the second and third Wednesday afternoons of April from 1:30 to 3 p.m. in the office of Sanitarian Sam Stephenson in City Hall.

The proceeds from the benefit production to be staged in Allegan Griswold Memorial Building Friday and Saturday.

The musical is under the joint direction of Miss Patricia Ankney of the high school vocal department, and Mrs. Gordon Grinwis of the high school speech department.

Principal characters will be Robert Palmer who will play the part of Will; Walter Furjanic as Curley; Irv Bolks as Ali Hakim; Grace Wilcox as Ado Annie; Sue Follett as Aunt Eller and Peggy Friewald as Laurie.

Hospital Hostess Day Scheduled for March 24

Holland's third annual Hospital Hostess Day will be observed Thursday, March 24.

That's the day women (and men too) shop downtown for certain selected items in designated stores in the knowledge that a share of the profits will go to the Holland Hospital Auxiliary for its projects in the local hospital.

Twenty-three downtown stores will be cooperating this year. Most of them offer special items, but some will give a percentage on all business for the day.

Hospital Hostess Day is sponsored by the Frances Browning Guild of the Hospital Auxiliary, assisted by several other guilds. All guilds had been invited to send a representative to the planning session arranged by the Frances Browning Guild.

On its first venture in 1958, Hospital Hostess Day yielded about $600 for hospital work. Last year, the figure approached $1,000.

There will be hostesses from the auxiliary to greet the shoppers in all cooperating stores. Coffee will be served in the newly remodeled Brouwer Furniture store at Ninth and River. Last year, the coffee was scheduled in the morning but proved so popular it continued all day.

Hotel Warm Friend is arranging another smorgasbord for women shoppers in the hotel lobby, although arrangements call for diners to be seated in the various dining rooms rather than in the lobby. Since the Holland Rotary Club meets that day, the shoppers are urged to schedule their luncheon period closer to 1 p.m. than to noon so that the Tulip Room will be available for seating after the Rotary Club adjourns. All luncheons that day at the hotel will be keyed to the smorgasbord, eliminating other menus. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Clarence Becker or with any member of the Frances Browning Guild.

Local car dealers also are participating in Hospital Hostess Day by providing free transportation for any person desiring to shop downtown. Participating garages may be called directly for this service.

The following representatives of other guilds are assisting the Frances Browning Guild in this project: Mrs. William Jellema, Gray Ladies; Mrs. Stanley Boven, Martha Kollen Guild; Mrs. Nellis Bade, North Shore Guild; Mrs. Clarence Jalving, South Shore Guild; Mrs. W. C. Kools, Rena Boven Guild; Mrs. Frank Fleischer, Thursday Service League; Mrs. John F. Donnelly, St. Francis Guild; Mrs. James Den Herder, Children's Guild; Mrs. Walter Hoeksma, Christian Reformed Church.

COMPILE 9-3 RECORD — Members of the Hope College JV basketball team compiled a 9-3 record this season and Coach Gord Brewer called the group the best all-around team he has ever coached. Seated (left to right) are: Ken Kutzing, Arlen Ten Pas, Capt. Jim Hesse-

Hope JV Cagers Were Best All-Around

Coach Gord Brewer said today that his Hope JV basketball team was the best all-around group he has ever coached.

"These boys were fine basketball players, plus they had fine attitude, cooperated throughout and were good students," Brewer said.

"Frequently our ball clubs have been good the first semester but then we were hit by ineligibility and lost several players," Brewer said. "But that wasn't true of this season's team," Brewer said.

The Hope JVs compiled a 9-3 record which duplicates the mark made two seasons ago by the Hope JV team. This year's club set a new scoring record with 114 points against First Reformed Church of Zeeland.

Head Coach Russ De Vette was impressed with this JV team and feels that more players from this club will play varsity basketball for Hope in the next few seasons than have played in the past few years.

Brewer was pleased with the improvement his team made during the season. After dropping its first two games, the JVs won eight straight before losing to Mullett Motors of Battle Creek and finished the season with a win over the Aquinas JVs.

Included in the early losses was a setback to Calvin in Grand Rapids, which was avenged in Holland. Brewer pointed the work of his guards, Dale Scheerhorn and Arlyn Lanting, in the Calvin game.

"They turned in excellent games that night," Brewer said, "and played consistently throughout the season." Scheerhorn hit 20 against Calvin and Lanting, former Holland Christian player, made 18.

The other loss was administered by Jack and Earl's Texaco of the Recreation A League while wins were recorded over the Kalamazoo JVs twice, Marshall Heat of Muskegon and First Reformed Church of Zeeland along with Christ Memorial Church, H. E. Morse and Barr's Boaters of the Recreation A League.

Other scorers were: Carl Nykamp, 30; John Fieldhouse, 23; Dave Bolhuis, 17; Bill Vandenberg, 13; Arlen Ten Pas and Ken Kutzing, six and Bert Koster, four.

from Byron Center, also showed plenty of improvement this season. He led the team in scoring with 212 points for a 17.7 average.

Nederveld can shoot well with either hand and can dribble well for a big man. He hit 33 points in one game and 32 in another tilt.

Capt. Jim Hesselink, a sophomore, was another consistent scorer. He made 187 points for a 15.6 average and led the club in free throw shooting with 27 of 38 for 71 per cent.

Hesselink, who's twin brother Jerry played on the Hope varsity, developed a fine set shot and he improved driving and made many more layups.

Jon Schoon tallied 142 points for an 11.8 average while Scheerhorn had 130 for 10.8 and Lanting, who missed one game, had 112 points for a 10.2 average.

Other scorers were: Carl Nykamp, 30; John Fieldhouse, 23; Dave Bolhuis, 17; Bill Vandenberg, 13; Arlen Ten Pas and Ken Kutzing, six and Bert Koster, four.

Artist Commissioned for Mural in Herrick Library

Gerald Mast, assistant professor of drawing and painting in the College of Architecture and Design at the University of Michigan, has been commissioned to do the 40-foot mural in the children's section of the new Herrick Public Library.

The mural is the gift of the

Gerald Mast
Goodfellow Foundation of the Exchange Club and was announced several months ago.

Mast was selected from a field of artists screened by a local committee which recommended Mast's selection to the Library Board. Serving on the committee were Mrs. Preston Luidens, a member of the Library Board and chairman of the committee, Mrs. Wilma Reed, local artist; Mrs. G. S. MacKenzie and Mrs. Vern Schipper of the Junior Welfare League, Mrs. Louis Nykamp, interior decorator, and Librarian Hazel Hayes.

The 40-foot mural which will appear above the shelving in the children's area, will portray four different steps of the animal kingdom, showing plant life, insects, animals and birds. It will be done in the modern manner and is calculated to inspire creative work on the part of the children. There will be two end panels, one showing a boy and the other a girl.

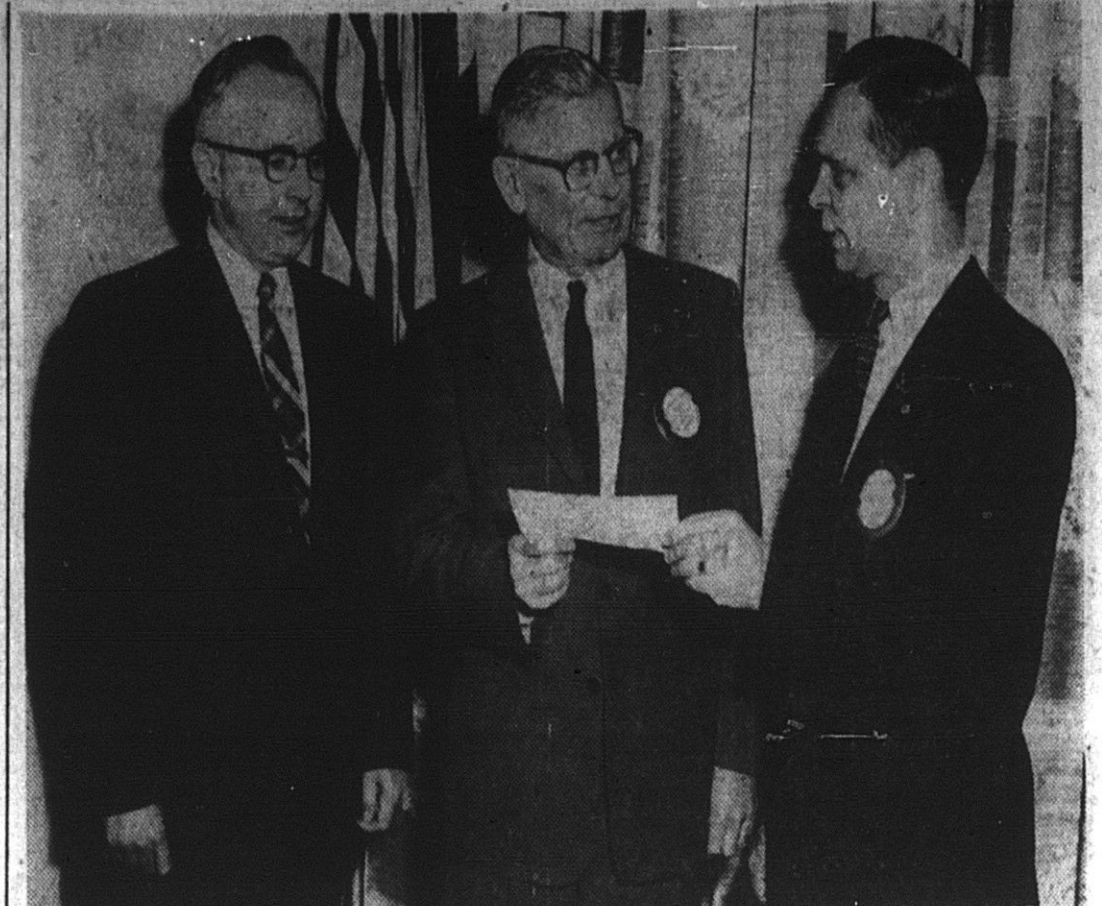

The contract with the artist calls for completion by May 1. Mast expects to spend several days a week over a period of weeks working on the mural.

Mast is a graduate from John Herron Art Institute and did advanced study under John Carroll at the Society of Arts and Crafts in Detroit. He received a degree of Bachelor of Fine Arts from the Rhode Island School of Design. He joined the university faculty in 1948 with residence at the Grand Rapids Center. He was assigned to the Grand Rapids program to assist with organizing an accredited art program for the university which was to be carried on in the studios of the Grand Rapids Art Gallery.

Since his appointment, he also has assisted in establishing art education programs with the Institute of Art in Kalamazoo which led to the affiliation of this program with Kalamazoo College, and in Muskegon in connection with the Hackley Art Gallery.

Before joining the university faculty, Mast was for nine years assistant professor of painting at the Rhode Island School of Design in Providence, R.I.

He has exhibited extensively and has been awarded a number of prizes. He was the recipient of the John Newberry prize (water color); Michigan Artists Exhibition, 1947; Western Michigan Show, first prize in painting (water color), 1953; his most recent award (first prize for mosaic) came from the National Exhibition of Ecclesiastical and Religious Art sponsored by the Detroit Institute of Art and held at the Holy Name Parish in Birmingham in 1959.

HOME SHOW PROFITS—Mel Van Tatenhove (right), chairman of the Home Show staged in Civic Center a few weeks ago, presents a check for $2,556.22 to Russell Welch, president of the Goodfellow Foundation of the Exchange Club while Dwight Ferris, home show manager, looks on at left. Last year the foundation spent more than $3,000 for milk for needy children, milk for indigent children as well as $1,000 for a mural in children's room of the new Herrick Public Library. The balance went for dental supplies, tonsilectomies, adenoidectomies, hearing aids and footwear purchases on referrals from the Bureau of Social Aid and the Ottawa County Health Department.
