School Millage Needs Are Reviewed by Board

Resolutions pertaining to the Holland school district millage election April 16 calling for 12.15 mills for school operations for one year were approved by the Board of Education Monday night.

Action also included information for a brochure explaining school needs and pointing out that the 12.15 mills is a 2.5-mill reduction from last year's operating millage which included 10 mills approved for five years and 4.65 mills for one year. All millages expired this year.

Information said a "yes" vote will enable the board to provide a comprehensive educational program within a balanced budget and a "no" vote would result in a loss of approximately $1.8 million or 35 per cent of the entire district budget, making it impossible to provide a quality educational program for approximately 5,500 Holland boys and girls.

President James O. Lamb felt there should be more emphasis on the problems the district faces if the millage does not carry. "I don't like to make it sound like a threat, but it would be extremely difficult to open school doors next September for a program such as we know it," he said.

The board also approved resolutions for shared time agreements with the Ottawa Area Intermediate School District, and granted a request for a Junior High School Girls Swim Team. Junior High Principal John Noe explained the program would be for seventh, eighth and ninth grade girls at the Community Pool. Plans call for six to eight meets with other junior high girls' teams in the local area. An experimental program was initiated last year which worked out well, he said.

Supt. Donald L. Ihrman called attention to a tri-Intermediate meeting on negotiations for board members of Kent, Muskegon and Ottawa counties Wednesday, March 28, in the Muskegon Heights Holiday Inn. He also said Atty. Jack Marquis has obtained the last of the parcels needed for the junior high site from Christ Memorial Church.

Charles Bradford of the finance committee presented several requests for capital expenditures which the board approved. These included six pianos for elementary schools; additional offset printing equipment of $3,000 (the board previously allocated $15,000 for new offset press and equipment); replacement of a nine-inch lathe for the high school shop, and replacement of two school buses. The latter are in the budget, but the purchase was authorized early for possible savings.

The board also allocated $500 so that the Washington School PTO could complete payment of the school public address system this year. For four years, the PTO had paid over $200 a year and plans to pay $500 this year, effecting a saving of some $240. The board authorization will allow the PTO to go into other projects.

Supt. Ihrman also reviewed requirements for Board of Education membership for the June 11 election. Candidates must have petitions bearing the names of 40 qualified voters by 4 p.m. Friday, May 11. Terms of two members, Kay Mackenzie and Dr. James Prins, expire this year.

At the close of the meeting, Dennis Shufelt, assistant high school principal, asked the board about a letter he had received, and President Lamb said he had not seen such a letter and asked Shufelt about it. Shufelt read the letter signed by Principal Fred S. Bertsch informing him Bertsch was not recommending him for a 1973-74 contract because of lack of confidence over a 3½-year period.

Shufelt asked if he might present his case to the board in executive session, and Lamb assured him he could but added that such sessions are for discussion only, not for decisions, and that the board can take action legally only at regular meetings or at specially called meetings.

The meeting adjourned after 1¼ hours. All members were present. Robert Gosselaar gave the invocation.

Build Hope Fund at 45 Per Cent

Business and community leaders from the Holland-Zeeland area received a progress report on a multi-million dollar fund-raising program that is underway at Hope College during a luncheon meeting Wednesday in Carnegie - Schouten gymnasium on the Hope campus.

National chairman James M. Ver Meulen of Grand Rapids announced that $4,028,000 or 45 per cent of the $8,850,000 goal has been contributed to the Build Hope fund, a program to support the college's capital, endowment and academic programs.

The report luncheon coincides with activities of the campaign's business and industry committee which will be asking for gifts from local businesses during the rest of the month.

Mayor L. W. Lamb, Jr. spoke at the luncheon of the strong traditional influence of Hope on the Holland-Zeeland area, citing the common heritage of the college and the community. He emphasized the importance of the college to the continuing life of the community which he characterized as an aspect which makes Holland unique and distinctive.

The mayor also viewed the college's physical location as a "stabilizing factor" in preventing the core of the city "from going downhill like in many other communities."

"Hope College gives something to each of us individually and collectively and is one of this community's greatest assets," he said.

"Hope, like anything else, can and will only grow in a ratio to the amount of time, talent, energy and money you and I are willing to invest in her. We as a community have been so blessed by Hope. May she be so blessed in return by you and I."

College president Gordon J. Van Wylen spoke of the importance of the Build Hope fund saying that contributions would enable the institution to complete its campus development plan and increase endowment for the support of student scholarships and other programs.

"We recognize that our primary obligation relates to the lives and minds of students and that buildings and endowment are only the means to fulfill these responsibilities," said Dr. Van Wylen.

He concluded by saying, "You can invest in Hope knowing that we will strive to be good stewards of our resources and will carefully utilize every contribution for the furtherance of our work as a quality liberal college. With the help of local businessmen and friends, we will reach our goal and in turn strengthen Hope College in its role as a vital part of the Holland-Zeeland community."

The Rev. Eugene W. Los, pastor of the Third Christian Reformed Church in Zeeland and president of the Zeeland Ministerial Association, delivered the invocation at the luncheon.

Build Hope Fund committee chairmen who reported on their division's progress to date included Ekdal J. Buys, advance gifts; Harvey J. Buter, special gifts; Henry J. Steffens, trusts and legacies; and Paul J. Baker, church fund.

The Build Hope Fund was publicly launched last October. At that time $2,273,000 had already been contributed or pledged. Gifts included $2.2 million from members of the College's Board of Trustees, $120,000 from faculty, students and administrative staff members and $403,000 from friends of the college.

The goal of the business and industry campaign is $550,000 according to committee chairman George D. Heeringa. Vice-chairmen of the committee are Bruce G. van Leuwen and Roger J. MacLeod.

Among the major goals of the Build Hope fund will be the construction of a $2.5 million physical education center. The new facility will be activity-oriented for maximum participation. The building, which is in preliminary design stages, would contain a gymnasium, olympic-size swimming pool, handball courts, wrestling area, training room, lockers classrooms and faculty offices.

Another $1.6 million will be used to complete financing of the new $3.6 million Peale Science Center which is scheduled to be completed for the start of the 1973-74 academic year.

Other projects to be undertaken include conversion of the present science building for use in the social sciences and humanities programs, completion of the art education center, additional student housing, environmental and ecological science programs and retirement of a debt on the recently completed De Witt Student and Cultural Center.

Two other major objectives include a $520,000 scholarship fund to allow qualified young men and women to attend Hope and a $1.9 million fund for faculty development and endowment of faculty services.

James Brickley Dinner Speaker

ZEELAND — The Republican party's role in providing accountability and high performance in government was cited by Lt. Governor James H. Brickley who spoke Thursday at the Ottawa County Republican Lincoln Day dinner.

The event was held in Zeeland Middle School and Paul H. Walbridge was chairman of the event, and master of ceremonies.

Brickley praised the party faithful at the dinner, for hard work and dedication during "lean years" as well as recent Republican victories in the state and nation. He also stressed the importance of party solidarity in spite of wide differences of opinion on many issues.

Tony Garafalo, party chairman, introduced county officials attending the dinner including supervisors Eunice Bareham, James Dressel, J. Nyhof Poel and William Winstrom; county treasurer Riemer Van Til, drain commissioner Roscoe De Vries, register of deeds Robert Kammeraad and county surveyor, John Clapp.

Garafalo also read greetings from Sen. Robert Griffin and Rep. Guy Vander Jagt and introduced state Reps. Ed Geerlings, Melvin De Stigter and William Farnsworth, as well as State Sen. Gary Byker, who introduced Brickley.

Church gave the invocation, while Corey Van Koeveering, Zeeland City Councilman welcomed the group.

A group of Hope College students who had worked for the party in the last election were special guests at the dinner.

Brickley was also presented a pair of wooden shoes, commenting that he is probably one of the last Republican officials who has never been so honored until now.

Flood Control Plan Studied By Township

Park Township and other governmental units in Ottawa County are studying assistance programs offered by the Corps of Engineers to combat high water threats from Lake Michigan and connecting waterways.

Representatives met with Corps officials this week in Grand Haven to review specific programs offered by the Corps. They include a dike building program with use of sand bags and pumps and a flood insurance program.

Park Township supervisor Jay Van Wieren said a special township board meeting is tentatively scheduled March 27 to hear from residents concerning water problems and to provide information concerning the assistance programs.

Van Wieren said the township was concerned about the Chippewa area along the north shore of Lake Macatawa where higher water levels and winds could put some of the land under water.

The lake levels are expected to rise an additional four to eight inches by July, Corps officials said.

Van Wieren said the Corps programs known as "Operation Foresight" are designed to counteract such flooding as occurred about 20 years ago.

Under the program sand bags and pumps would be provided if property owners would give the necessary property easements and provide the manpower. The sand bags, pumps and other materials would have to be removed by the residents once the water levels go down.

The governmental units are to adopt resolutions paving the way for participation in the assistance programs.

In addition to Park Township, representatives from Holland City, Ferrysburg, Spring Lake Township attended the Grand Haven meeting sponsored by the Ottawa County Civil Defense.

CENTER OCCUPIES FORMER WEST SIDE CHRISTIAN SCHOOL

RESIDENTIAL CENTER CONVERTS CLASSROOM INTO LOUNGE

Open Mental Health Center in Holland

By Ann Hungerford

Keeping people who need around - the - clock mental health assistance within their own community is the purpose of the Residential Treatment Center which opened recently in Holland.

The center is functioning as a segment of the Community Mental Health Services of Ottawa County.

"When we remove people from their community we force them to break some of the ties that have been very healthy for them. That is often the case in sending Ottawa County residents to state hospitals," administrative director James McDowall said.

"There are healthy things about every person with emotional problems and we try to keep him here where he is close to the persons and activities he enjoys," McDowall said.

Located at 468 Cleveland Ave., the center is equipped to help six men and six women over 18 years of age. If the average length of stay is 45 days the center will be able to treat 100 clients over the course of a year.

Priorities is given to people who might otherwise have to be admitted to a hospital. People returning home from treatment in a state or private psychiatric facility may also spend some transition time at the residence. Because it is an open facility some persons may require hospitalization prior to being accepted at the residence.

After McDowall and several members of the Ottawa County mental health services evaluated area people going to state or private hospitals, they concluded that 50 per cent of them could be treated in a residential center if a facility could be found. Since a lack of students in the area forced West Side Christian Elementary to close, the Holland Christian School system leased the building to the Mental Health service.

The resident program includes exercise, work, therapy and weekly organizational meetings run by the residents and nursing staff to provide a forum for establishing responsibilities and implementing suggestions from the residents.

McDowall allows the residents to have a voice in all functions of the center, including what the meals will be, what color the walls are painted, how the rooms are arranged, and other suggestions designed to make the center as pleasant and as much of a home away from home as possible.

The center provides each resident with as much community contact as possible. Social activities, the theatre, concerts, bowling, restaurants, dances, tours, all provide contact with the community in such a manner that minimizes the stress a person is ordinarily placed under when he is removed from his community and familiar surroundings to a distant hospital.

Under the direction of Bernice Moore, R.N., the nursing staff, two of whom are on duty 24 hours a day, dress in street clothes as do all members of the staff which reduces the "institutional image."

"Our nurses do so much more than typical nursing duties," McDowall said. "They also cook, clean, paint and are available to talk with a patient at any time." MORE MORE ning to end, once again alleviating possible stress to a patient which comes with the change of therapist.

The purpose of the 20 or more crafts, such as rock polishing and macrame, offered residents and 40 to 60 out - patients, is to improve the patient's self - image with a craft or hobby which may be continued when the resident leaves the center. They are also encouraged to join clubs centered around their new found interests.

Dave Dick, adjunctive therapist in the arts and crafts program, anticipates that this will shortly become a county wide project.

In addition to sleeping rooms for men and women, the 25 year old school building has been renovated to include offices, recreation room, kitchen, creative arts room, lounge, dining room and individual conference rooms for workers and residents.

The cost of residential treatment at the Holland center is $25 a day compared with $80 at private hospitals for accommodations, meals, therapy and basic activities. Since some people who could benefit from these programs cannot afford these costs, a sliding scale is used when necessary. No one is refused services because of inability to pay. However all residents must be referred to the treatment center through the out - patient clinic.

Financed by state and county funds, United Fund and private contributions, the center has sent letters to municipalities to see if they can help get the much needed additional funds for capital improvements.

'Brigadoon:' Another West Ottawa Success

Swords slashed. Kilts clashed. And the audience adored it. Traditionally West Ottawa musicals are outstanding productions and Wednesday's opening of Lerner and Loewe's "Brigadoon" was no exception. With its citizens granted a miracle to escape the evils of the world, Brigadoon appears for one day every hundred years.

Utilizing the entire cafetorium, the fine chorus produced a stereophonic effect. The expanded stage with entrances everywhere encircled the audience in the reality and enchantment of Brigadoon.

Rick Van Wieren, as Tommy, the young American traveling in Scotland on the day Brigadoon appears, and Cheryl Hill as the Lassie he loves and loses in the highlands, performed with confidence and pleasant voices especially in their duets, "Heather on the Hill" and "Almost Like Being in Love."

Appearing as Jeff, Tommy's American friend, John Beem and Gail Veneklasen, as a promiscuously persistent lassie, handled their demanding comic roles with remarkable maturity. For such a young performer, Miss Veneklasen belted out her solos with disarming power.

Jodi Hansen and Dan Dekker as the betrothed couple added warm sentimentality to the quick - moving boisterous play. Dekker's strong voice added quality to his rousing solo "Bonnie Jean" and serenely to "Come to Me, Bend to Me."

Portraying the sullen and spurned lover who threatens the existence of Brigadoon, Jim Stevenson provided a fine portrait of a desperate young man.

When two bonnie lassies (Beth Coats and Cathy Zeeb) embrace the same laddie, the resulting debate generates a raging hair - pulling, face - slapping fight, probable black and blue marks for the two spirited actresses and an applause exit. Miss Coats also gave a touching performance at her lover's wake.

Others in director Phillip R. Sturdevant's well rehearsed cast include Brian Everitt, Phil Plomp, Norm Bredeweg, Burton Vrieling, Randy Bower, Ed Sosa, Jim Hammond, Mark Sova, Ellen Doyle, Laura LaCombe, Paula Vande Hoef, Mary Breuker, Karen Seidelman, Cindy Vanders, Kim Macqueen, Nancy Dekker, Deb Lamberts, Cheryl Spaulding, Yvonne Lucas, Greg Macqueen, Dennis Neinhuis, Kris Lare, Glenna Webster, Deb Barrow, Norm Boeve, Stan Hansen and Parker Everitt.

"What a day this has been" the young lovers sang and what a night it will be for the audiences tonight, Friday and Saturday when Brigadoon reappears at 8 p.m.

SIMPLE AID TO TIRE BUYING

The prospective tire buyer needs to know certain things if he is to make an intelligent purchase. Price may bulk large in his consideration, but as with many other things the price of a tire is a meaningless figure unless the buyer knows enough about the product to make comparisons.

Such knowledge is often hard to obtain. The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration proposes to make it readily available. This government agency has put forward regulations, to take effect in September 1974 unless modified, which would enable the consumer to find out quickly how a given tire rates as to high speed performance, tread wear and traction.

An earlier effort to establish federal tire quality standards, in September 1971, was aborted because of protests that the proposed regulations were too complex. The new proposal gets away from that. It sets up a simple grading system, with code numbers and symbols moulded into the tire sidewall. Each tire would bear a label explaining the meaning of the symbols. Thus the buyer could tell at once how a tire compared with others in its price range. That is just what the doctor ordered.

Mrs. E. Donovan Reviews Book For Trinity Guild

Trinity Reformed Church Women's Guild for Christian Service held its monthly meeting in the lounge Monday evening with about 100 women in attendance.

The program was in charge of the Peace Circle and devotions were presented by Mrs. Alton Kooyers Sr. who based her thoughts on "Living," using Ephesians 6 where Paul said "for me to live is Christ," urging Christians to take up God's armour and work for Him.

Mrs. Ted Boeve introduced the speaker, Mrs. E. Donovan, who reviewed the book "The Legacy of Tom Dooley." Mr. Dooley has written many books and lived a useful life in building hospitals in Laos, Vietnam and other areas. His philosophy of life was "people to help people." At the time of his death in 1961, it was announced "we all have lost a good friend."

After Dooley's death, this work was taken over by a capable doctor named Vern Chaney who raised money to build several hospitals in Asia. One year later Dr. Chaney had a Medical Mobile Unit sent to Laos.

This was followed by several more units partially staffed by stewardesses from different American airlines which released them for volunteer work for this project. These stewardesses gave from two to six months of free help to this project, working with the ill and giving their love to the Asian children.

They now work under the Thomas Dooley Foundation which is supported by many concerned and interested individuals in this country, making it a large project.

The guild president conducted a short business meeting, reminding the members of the Spring Missionary Conference to be held in First Reformed Church on April 12. The April meeting to be held April 19 at 9:30 a.m. in Ter Keurst Auditorium will be a Maundy Breakfast to which all the women of the church are invited.

Guests were Mrs. James Yonkman and Mrs. Theodore Vander Ploeg. Hostesses were members of the Faith Circle with Mrs. Gary Brewer as chairman.

Man Has Gone Astray
Psalm 14:2-3; Jeremiah 10:23; 17:9-10;
Romans 1:23, through 2:1.
By C. P. Dame

Some people realize that man has gone astray but some do not believe this. This lesson makes it plain that man is lost and needs God's concern. The great message of the Bible is for lost people. It has the good news that God is seeking man. It is the task of the church to teach mankind its lost condition so that people may feel their need.

I. God looks around. "The Lord looked down from Heaven upon the children of men, to see if there were any that understand, and seek God." The Bible uses human language about God so that we may understand Him better. God is everywhere present. But the Bible also says that His throne is in heaven and that He looks upon people. He looks because of His concern. God reached the conclusion that no one had understanding and no one was seeking Him. The words, "all," "none," "no, not one" make it clear that sin is universal. That there is much kindness and goodwill in our world is a fact, but the trend of mankind is toward evil.

Jeremiah preached to a generation that was going astray. The prophet's words were scorned. The people believed they could manage their own affairs. They did not feel the need of God's help. Man has his limitations but he does not want to know it. When God's word comes, many pay no attention to it. This happens today again and again.

II. The source of a man's troubles lies in the heart. The Bible has much to say about the heart. Jeremiah portrays it as "deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked." God created the heart good, but man ruined it. Out of the heart are the issues of life. God searches the heart and gives to every man "according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings" and it is the heart that explains the man's actions. Man needs a new heart and this God gives.

III. Man's mind is wicked. The passages from Romans 1 contain the words, "God gave them up" three times (1:24, 26, 28). Mankind willingly rejected the knowledge it had, which nature revealed. Sin's course is downward. First man was thankful, then he turned to idolatry and this was followed by immorality. Verses 26 and 27 tell about unnatural vice.

The sins of the first century are boldly committed today and not only excused, but even praised. Morality is at a low ebb when it is commended without shame. God judges sin now and will judge it in the future for He is holy. This truth ought to be proclaimed in season and out of season in these decadent times.

County Board Decides To Keep Landfill Open

GRAND HAVEN — The Olive Township Landfill will remain open for at least another six months.

Following a report by Mrs. Philip Leech, Spring Lake, co-chairman of the Citizens Advisory Committee on Solid Waste, a county-appointed committee, that suggested that the landfill be closed, the Ottawa County Board of Commissioners Monday voted to continue its operation for at least another six months.

Commissioner Raymond Vander Laan objected to closing the landfill and made a motion with the following four stipulations: that the landfill remain open for another six months; that opening hours be revised by eliminating Tuesday hours and adding all-day Saturday; that Haven Garbage would operate the landfill for six months on a five per cent revenue basis; and that if after six months, the landfill failed to financially support itself, he would suggest that it be closed.

Commissioner William Kennedy made a substitute motion that the Olive Township Landfill be closed as of April 1. According to Kennedy, the landfill is not serving a useful purpose since the county has spent $17,000 to $18,000 on the landfill and its revenue has total $5,814 from February through December of 1972.

Kennedy suggested to commissioners that the credibility of the county with local boards was at stake. He made reference to a letter from the Olive Township Board requesting permanent closing of the landfill. The letter declared that all legal action against the county would be dropped upon the closure of the landfill. The township is suing the county for operating a landfill on property designated for park purposes.

Kennedy stated that county residents that do make use of the landfill which is 13 miles south of Grand Haven could just as well use the private operated landfill which is located directly north of Nunica, approximately 14 miles north of Grand Haven.

The board defeated the substitute motion and approved the original motion.

Five rooms in the basement of the Holland District Court Building will be completed. Commissioners approved the expenditure of $3,309 to complete the offices.

A total of $160,000 will be transferred from the improvement fund to the park fund for the purchase of Camp Kirk. The Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, according to a letter from Robert Griffin, has approved $80,000 matching funds, so the county will be reimbursed in that amount.

The board approved the expenditure of $460,648 revenue sharing funds. The breakdown is as follows: development of parking facilities, $40,000; park improvements at Hager and Tunnel Parks and at Camp Kirk, $85,000; scenic route study, $10,785; bridge replacement program, $106,150; "Project 40," $40,000; EEA support (sheriff, equalization, and social services), $92,000.

Revenue sharing funds already spent are as follows: land purchase, $32,000; soil conservation service office, $7,500; community mental health board to remodel building, $10,000; solid waste program, $15,000; a furnace for the Friendship Center, $2,000; Community Haven Building improvements, $10,000, and Holland Branch building air conditioner, $10,213.

Persons wanting to appear before the Board of Commissioners no longer have to wait until the entire session is completed, according to one of the stipulations of the rules of the Ottawa County Board of Commissioners approved Monday. Presentation of petitions, communications and new business is slated for early in the meetings.

Three monitors with crystals will be purchased by the Civil Defense for the use of the Department of Natural Resources, aviation service, and the Coast Guard. The board agreed to appropriate $518 from the contingency fund for the purchase of the monitors.

The sanitary sewer system in Georgetown Township will be extended 800 feet. Surplus money from the sewage system under construction will be used to finance the sewer.

New Pool Assured For Handicapped

A therapy pool for physically handicapped children in Thomas Jefferson School is now assured, the Board of Education was informed at its monthly meeting Monday night in the high school library.

News of the gift was announced by David Vander Kooi, president of Holland Jaycees and chairman of the Inter-Club Council which unites many service organizations of the city. Vander Kooi said the Inter-Club Council at present lacks about $1,000 of the estimated cost of $13,000, but is optimistic the difference will be resolved and construction can start soon after school closes in June.

Board President James O. Lamb gratefully accepted the gift on behalf of the board.

James Barker, who heads the special education department, says the special education department in Jefferson school serves 16 districts including all school districts in Ottawa county, four in Allegan county and one in Van Buren county.

Architect Paul Vander Leek displayed a sketch of the proposed pool which he said will be located in the area where the whirlpool presently is located. The 10 by 16-foot pool will be for therapy, not for swimming. It will be two to three feet deep and will be equipped with movable seats and parallel bars.

Barker explained that the pool initially was spearheaded by the Holland Rotary Club of which Supt. Donald L. Ihrman is a member and that Architect Vander Leek has donated considerable time in drafting plans.

In other presentations, Vander Leek presented plans of land use on the high school campus for outdoor athletic and physical education facilities. Plans call for a practice baseball diamond, 10 tennis courts and two practice areas on school-owned property east of Van Raalte Ave.

West of the high school complex, topography drops and Vander Leek recommended two grade levels. Just west of the fieldhouse is sketched an eight-lane track and practice football field with bleachers. On another level would be a varsity baseball diamond and two softball fields. There could be a storage building and a service drive off 28th St. continuing to the area west of the industrial arts building where another elevation could accommodate archery, rifle range, shuffle boards and horseshoe pits.

Vander Leek said present plans do not provide for a stadium for varsity football and the necessary parking, but would not preclude such future development.

The plot plan also provided sites for necessary school expansion in additional buildings. In the athletic area, Vander Leek figured eight acres on the east section and 34 acres on the west.

Vander Leek also presented revised plans on floor plans for the two proposed junior high schools. Changes include a cafeteria, and the total square foot area reduced from 124,000 square feet to 113,000. He said further meetings are planned with school staffs.

Cornie's Corner

Tucson, Ariz., through Don Schellie's column in the Tucson Daily Citizen, is now well aware of Holland's winter weather and Tulip Time.

Two of his columns in February had to do with the weather in Holland, Mich. The first quoting Grit, harked back to last year's experience on lousy weather when the U.S. Army chose Holland to test helicopters that had rough going in heavy wet snow. That condition was more common in Holland than at Sault Ste Marie, site of a nearby army air base.

Former State Sen. Clyde Geerlings, now living in Tucson, was one of the first to set Mr. Schellie straight not only on the weather but also on the beauties of Tulip Time, something Mr. Schellie shouldn't miss.

Others joined in Holland's defense and the second column was considerably longer than the first.

Now a third column has appeared in the Daily Citizen, not so much about weather but winter visitors in Tucson and what they can do during pleasant sunny days.

In it Schellie has listed lots of attractions for the masses of winter visitors tucked away in apartments, motel and hotel rooms, in their travel trailers, their campers, their motor home, and on guest ranches.

This column (including the one on Tulip Time) was sent to the Sentinel by Mrs. Paul Henderson of Benson, Ariz., who has lived in Hamilton over 20 years. She did not agree with Schellie over the nasty weather in Holland.

She writes: "This is our sixth year in Benson for the winter months and we can't say it has been as warm as one would expect. Today (March 6) is really lousy, cold rain predicted. Holland is beautiful, tulips especially. We miss it all, having moved away."

The best note of all came from Bill Murdoch of Adex Advertising in Holland. Bill happened to be visiting Tucson when Schellie's column appeared, and has sent him brochures on Tulip Time and Windmill Island, plus a handout on this year's Tulip Time festival.

Have fun reading them, Mr. Schellie!

Here's a tip for program chairmen of local organizations. Ron Rainsford of the Board of Public Works has a color slide presentation on services of the BPW which runs 30 to 45 minutes. It can be tailored for age groups or special interest groups with emphasis on engineering, ecology, environment, area services, or what have you. Call him at City Hall.

A picture of Jerry Battjes of Hudsonville, wearing a wide smile and holding a 24-pound redfish, appeared in the Miami Herald earlier this year.

Jerry caught it at the new Marco Island artificial fishing reef on a charter fishing trip on a 31-foot boat.

Caught on mullet bait, the big 38-inch fish staged a game battle for nearly an hour.

The average size redfish caught on the Lower West Coast easily weighs less than five pounds. Big as Battjes' catch is, is not a record. The record of 32½ pounds was set in the Metropolitan Miami Fishing Tournament in 1961, not far from Marco Island.

The world record, according to the International Game Fish Association, is 83 pounds, set at Cape Charles, Va., Aug. 5, 1949.

The reef less than two miles offshore consists of about 24,000 old tires which were compacted and bundled before being dropped. It was started a year ago in cooperation with the Good-year Tire and Rubber Co.

Holland people are always meeting some place far from home.

HOLLAND COMMUNITY CHORALE, CALVIN LANGEJANS CONDUCTOR

Brahms 'Requiem' Thrills Audience at Concert

By Cornelia Van Voorst

Three major selections from the Brahms "Requiem" proved to be a thrilling and soul-satisfying experience for the large crowd attending the winter concert of the Holland Community Chorale Saturday in Dimment Memorial Chapel.

Under the able direction of Calvin Langejans, the 58-voice singing group which attracts vocalists from as far away as Grand Haven and Hamilton sang the German Requiem with a depth of feeling that left its mark on the attentive audience.

Contrasts in the selections, "Blessed Are They That Mourn," "Behold, All Flesh Is as the Grass" and the spirited "How Lovely Is Thy Dwelling," showed to advantage the finished showcase product that comes with hours of practicing each week over several years.

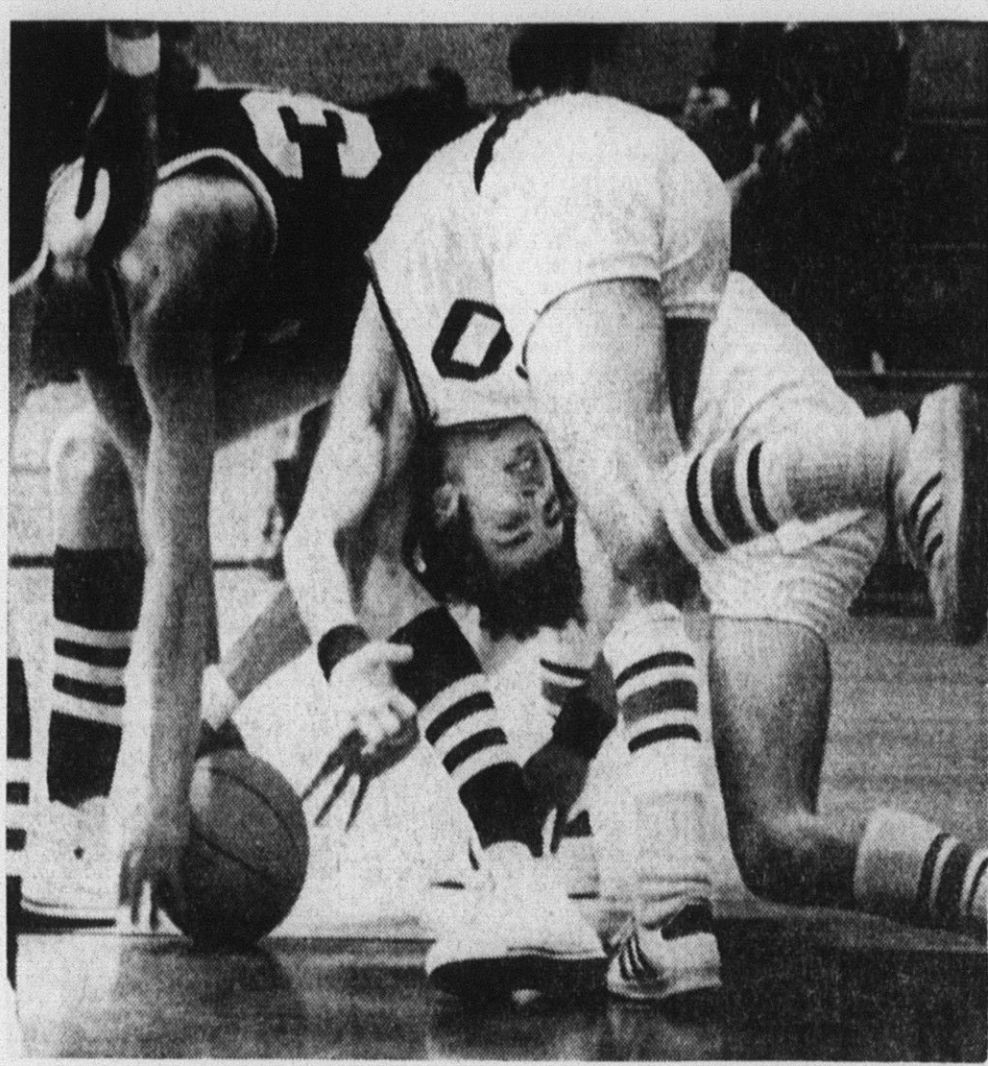

Two of the three selections will be sung when the chorale presents a concert April 28 in Orchestra Hall in Chicago and the lively "How Lovely Is Thy Dwelling Place" also will be sung at the Tulip Time Festival Musicales May 16 in Civic Center.

The requiem rendition was enhanced by organ accompaniment by Wenda Brink De Vries of Highland, Ind., formerly of Zeeland. The console of the organ was moved to the center front of the auditorium for the masterwork.

The remainder of Saturday's concert included many selections heard for the first time in Holland. Women of the chorale formerly known as the Bel Canto Singers, sang three selections and the men, formerly known as the Magnachords, also sang three selections.

There was something for everybody in the program, a contemporary novelty by Aaron Copeland, a Welsh hymn tune, a Hammerschmidt selection with an antiphonal choir, the Christiansen arrangement of "Beautiful Savior," (always an audience favorite) and two Negro spirituals. A rising ovation followed.

Mrs. Henry P. Vander Linde and Kenneth Bos served as accompanists. Other accompaniment was provided by Melody Knoper on the harp, Peggy Lubbers on the string bass and David Tittle on the tympani. Among soloists were Eugene Westra, Harley Brown, Marvin Ritsema, Pam Meinke and Ed Diepenhorst.

FOOTBALL? — This play might resemble a Saugatuck football game, as Dave Mocini throws his body into a pile of players. The Indians probably wished they were playing on the gridiron instead of on the basketball court, as Grand Rapids Covenant Christian knocked them out of the state tournament Saturday at Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills by winning, 70-53.

Covenant Decks Saugatuck In District Finals

GRAND RAPIDS — Saugatuck picked a bad time to play its worst basketball game of the season here Saturday, as they fell in the championship tilt of the Class D District finals to Grand Rapids Covenant Christian, 70-53.

"I just can't explain it," said a dejected Coach Wayne Fries in the quiet Indian lockerroom. "We just didn't do much of anything right while they played a fine game."

"I feel bad for the kids because they have played so well this year and this one bad game shouldn't be a reflection on our great season," Fries continued.

The Indians ended the 1972-73 year with a 17-3 overall slate, including a 8-0 mark in the A-O Conference. Two of the teams that they had beaten twice each during the season, Hopkins and Allendale, defeated Covenant Christian once during the season.

While the other teams in Saugatuck's loop managed to upset the tall Chargers, the Indians just weren't up to it Saturday.

After playing a strong first period in which they led 18-14 at the buzzer the Indians' clever guard Dave Mocini, twisted his ankle and was forced to the bench for a few minutes.

The few precious minutes must have felt like hours to Saugatuck's large following, who were hoping to reach the finals of the state tournament in Ann Arbor but now are just another team from the outside looking in.

With Mocini on the bench, the Chargers' full court press drove Mike Baker and his teammates out of their minds.

The Indians kept throwing or turning the ball over to the Chargers, who would go to one of their big men for two more points.

The results after the Indians had led, 18-14, they now trailed 19-18 and the momentum was on the Chargers.

Before you knew it, the Chargers were on top, 29-23 and 37-27 at the half and pulling away.

Even though his Indians were down by 10 at the intermission, Fries knew what kind of a team he had and thought they could pull it out in the second half.

When Saugatuck scored the first bucket, it looked like they had a chance because Covenant failed to hit on four straight shots but the Indians probably wished they were back in the reservation, as they couldn't cash in another basket during that span either.

"I thought we had them on the run after that first score," added Fries. "But I guess it wasn't to be."

The Chargers' front line of 6'4" Rick Norman, 6'5" Craig Dykstra and 6'8" Jon Bol gobbled up most of the rebounds and if they weren't scoring themselves they would pass off for buckets.

Saugatuck was still only down by 10 points 59-49 in the fourth quarter but the Chargers connected for the next 11 points while holding the Indians to only four markers.

Earlier in the season the Chargers edged the Indians, 75-74 but in the championship game, it was never a doubt who the better team was.

Saugatuck's outstanding senior forward Denny Bale played his heart out in a losing effort. The 6'4" Bale took down 13 caroms and scored 10 points against the Chargers. Bale could have scored many more points but passed off instead which resulted in a miss basket most of the time by the cold shooting Indians.

Another senior Dave Bekken flipped in 14 counters to top the Indians in that department while junior Mike Baker had 13 and senior Mocini 12.

Dykstra paced the winners with 25 markers while Norman and Bol followed with 19 and 16 respective totals.

State Fishmen Redeveloping Swan Creek

ALLEGAN — As part of a federally funded project to improve the fish habitat along Swan Creek, the Michigan Department of Natural Resources has drained the Swan Creek pond in Allegan County northwest of Allegan.

David Johnson, district fish biologist at Plainwell, said the water was drained during the winter to rid the lake of pan fish and northern pike which he said were considered more harm than good for trout.

Johnson said the development project includes building of fish shelters and bank stabilization and restocking. Once the lake has been treated for vegetation and refilled, perhaps in May, it will be stocked with trout.

The program along Swan Creek is part of a three-year project to improve the habitat of a 20-mile stretch of the creek.

The area extends roughly from 112th Ave. to the mouth of the creek.

Johnson said the creek now has a low density of large trout but has good potential with an excellent water supply.

The project seeks to increase the capacity and production of trout fishing in the creek.

Federal funds were made available through a federal law that returns a percentage of funds derived from the sale of fishing and hunting licenses to the states for habitat development programs. At least 11 other such projects are being conducted in the state, Johnson said.

The Swan Creek project was allocated $15,000 for the current fiscal year and hopes to obtain $20,000 for each of the remaining two years.

METROPOLITAN CHOIR OF PRAISE

Dimnent Concert Will Preview Tour

GRAND RAPIDS — Before the Metropolitan Choir of Praise leaves on March 29 for a 10-day concert tour in The Netherlands, it will present its concert program on March 25 in Dimnent Chapel on Hope College campus in Holland.

The choir will be presented with a framed photograph of Holland's windmill De Zwaan by Mayor L. W. Lamb Jr. and Willard Wichers of the Netherlands Information Service, to be presented to the mayor of Alkmaar, site of the group's first Netherlands concert, where a mayor's reception is scheduled on Saturday, March 31.

The Netherlands tour will be co-sponsored and was suggested by The Dutch Immigrant Society to mark the 125th anniversary of the Dutch settlements in Western Michigan. The choir will be one of the first "ambassador" groups to the Netherlands and will take advantage of a standing invitation from one of the Netherlands choirs which visited Michigan to organize concerts and provide home stay for a Grand Rapids group. The choir members also felt the tour would be a memorable way to mark its own 10th anniversary.

Organized in 1963 by its director Peter J. Vanden Bosch, with Alvin J. Ritsema, accompanist, the Metropolitan Choir has 122 members, 108 of whom will be making the trip. In addition, a group of 40 choir members' wives and husbands and interested friends will also travel with the choir.

The return is scheduled for April 7, by which time the choir will have traveled nearly 10,000 miles; will have performed seven, concerts, one of which will be a live television broadcast; will have created many new bonds of friendship between Grand Rapids and the Netherlands and will have centered the attention of Holland's most densely populated areas on Western Michigan.

While in The Netherlands, the group will spend four nights in hotels and four nights with private families. Time will be available for tours and independent excursions.

The first concert will be in Alkmaar, home of the celebrated cheese market for the sale of red-skinned balls of Edam. The mayor of Alkmaar will host a reception in the afternoon prior to the concert which will be held in St. Laurens Kerk, one of the country's historical churches.

St. Catherine Kerk in Brielle, a 12th century structure and the Grote Kerk (great church) in The Hague will be the sites of two Sunday, April 1 concerts. The choir will sing in Brielle as part of a combined church service of the Reformed and Christian Reformed denominations.

The fourth concert, April 3 in the Grote Kerk in Ede, will be televised for the Netherlands Evangelical Broadcasting. Succeeding concerts will be April 4 in the Ooster Kerk in Groningen; April 5 in the Reformed Church at Loppersum and the Koepel Kerk in Leeuwarden for the final April 6 concert.

According to Director Vanden Bosch, many of these old churches have their organs in lofts, above the main auditorium, and the organist's back is generally to the choir and congregation. For the televised concert at Ede, closed circuit television will be installed for the benefit of the organist and choir director.

During the Netherlands stay, the choir will stay two days in Amsterdam, leaving from there April 7 for home and will also spend a day in Arnhem, as well as the cities and towns where they will give concerts.

In the sprint competition, Doug Sage earned first place for the Dutch with a :24.5 clocking, while Paul Doyle posted a second place school record for the Panthers with a :25.2 clocking. Also scoring for the Panthers in the 50-yard freestyle were Kerry Wheeler in sixth and Dave Myrick in 10th.

Sage also snatched first place for the Dutch in the 100-yard freestyle with a time of :56.8, with teammate Steve Ringleberg in third spot. For the Panthers it was Doyle in second and Mikula in seventh.

In the competition off the boards, Ray Juergen bounced in eighth for Holland, with Randy Rowan, Tom Bossardet, and Brant Bunnell in ninth, 10th and 11th for the Panthers.

The Panthers picked up their sole first in the butterfly as Jeff Reest clocked a :31.4, while Reinkink posted fifth for E.E. Fell. Panthers Steve Brink and Mark Pearson pulled for 11th and 12th places.

Tallying firsts for the Dutch in the backstroke and breaststroke were Sligh and Bill Derks. Jeff Underwood and Dave Myrick chalked up fourth and ninth for the Panthers in the backstroke, while Dave Wierenga and Paul Van Allsburg netted fourth and 11th in the breaststroke for the Panthers.

All-State Choices

Last year's area player of the year, Mark Veenstra of Hudsonville Unity, heads our all-state nominee list sent in to United Press International last week.

The giant Veenstra is averaging over 30 points a game and 20 rebounds as well.

We also nominated him for state player of the year. Veenstra takes a rebound down like Wilt Chamberlain of the Los Angeles Lakers and fires.

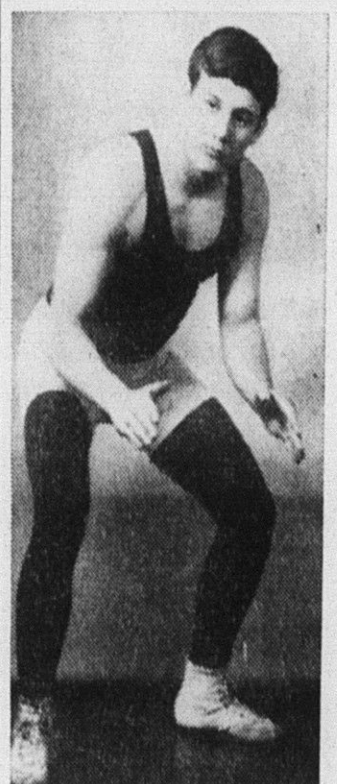

Other Class B selections include Sid Bruinsma of Holland Christian, Tim Glupker of West Ottawa, Al McGlothlin of Muskegon Heights and Darnell Flourney of Muskegon Reeths Puffer.

Named to the Class A squad were Eric Morris of Muskegon, Tom Scheffler of St. Joseph, Mark Rayner of Mona Shores, Bill Weaver of Niles and Bob James of Grand Rapids Union. Gladwin's Dave Ward, Hop-Hamilton's Warren Berens, Rick Smith, Byron Center's Juergen Spindel and Forest Hills Northern's Rod Lanning received are Class C all-state votes.

Heading the Class D list was Saugatuck's "jumping jack" forward Denny Bale.

Also on the squad were Grand Rapids Covenant Christian's Craig Dykstra, Allendale's Wayne Van Dyke, Martin's Wayne Mills and Covenant Christian's Rick Noorman.

Brink 2nd in Nation
Dan Brink of Holland, a 1971 graduate of Muskegon Orchard

Dan Brink
... ex-Orchard View star

View, took a second spot in the Junior College National Wrestling Tournament at Worthington, Minn. recently.

The Muskegon Community College sophomore lost to Ron Rey of Chicago, 5-4 in the finals of the 167-pound division.

Brink, who won the Holland Invitational three straight years at three different weights, also won the rugged Michigan Open this winter, and captured the state and Regional 12 championships.

He also won the state high school Class B state title as a senior in the 145-pound class.

Two-years-ago Brink competed at the Junior World Try-out Camp in Beaverton, Pa. and according to his father, who is employed by Holland Motors, is shooting for the 1976 Olympics.

His overall record since starting wrestling as a sophomore is a blistering 181-36. It's actually amazing when you consider that he dropped his first 11 matches and 16 of his 36 defeats came in his rookie season.

His parents live at 2229 Marla-coba Dr.

Hockey's Most Overrated
You might be surprised to find out that hockey's most over-rated player is the Detroit Red Wings' Red Berenson. That is according to Hockey Digest.

Following Berenson in this order are Chicago's Tony Esposito, New York's Vic Hadfield, Garry Parent of St. Louis, Bernie Parent of Philadelphia, Chicago's Keith Magnuson, Vancouver's Orland Kurtenbach, Minnesota's Billy Harris and Bill Goldsworthy and Boston's Phil Esposito.

It is kind of surprising to us to see the Esposito's brothers on the list since we think both of them are deserving of their superstar status.

Friend Helps Wes Parker

Wes Parker, Los Angeles Dodger first sacker, was called in to do some emergency babysitting for a neighbor's six month-old child when a familiar crisis arose.

Wes frantically called a friend and asked, "How do I change a diaper?" "Place the diaper on a table like it was a baseball diamond with you at bat," his friend said. "Fold second base over home plate and place the baby on the pitcher's mound."

"Then pin first and third to home plate." Parker understood perfectly after that.

Van Sweden Named MVP In League

The balanced MIAA basketball race is reflected in the all-league team announced by the conference coaches today.

Five schools are represented on the first team and no school has more than two representatives among the top ten.

Kalamazoo senior center Jim Van Sweden, who led the Hornets from the league's worse record a year ago (4-18)

Lee Brandsma
... Hope Standout

Art Tuls
... only all-league repeater to the best this season (15-7) is the MIAA's most valuable player.

Van Sweden, who prepped at Kalamazoo Loy Norrix high school, was selected from nominees submitted by each MIAA member. Each coach did not vote for his own nominee.

Van Sweden, was second in the league scoring race averaging 18.5 points per game. He made 49 per cent of his floor attempts (75 of 154) and 74 per cent of his free throws (72 of 97).

Van Sweden missed the 1971-72 season when the Hornets ended in the league cellar because of the college's career service work program. He led Kalamazoo to its third place finish this year in the standings.

Other members of the first team are: Calvin senior guard Art Tuls of Holland Christian, Hope senior guard Lee Brandsma of S. Holland, Ill., Albion senior guard Damon Huffman of Homer and Alma senior forward Craig Bahle of Suttons Bay, Mich.

Tuls is the only all-league repeater.

Unity Unloads On Wildcats

JENISON — Make no mistake about it, Hudsonville Unity's basketball team is very much worthy of its top billing as the No. 1 Class B team in the state.

If you have any doubts, ask Jenison last Thursday's victim. The host Wildcats were hoping to pull off the upset of the season but came away holding an empty bag, as the Crusaders made things look easy by winning, 84-60.

Young Artistic Imagination Is Encouraged In Holland Schools

By Ann Hungerford

"Almost better'n mud" a male moppet says as he nudges the gooey clay into a non-descript form ("It's a porcupine, of course" he insists rather belligerently.)

Technically, March is National Children's Art Month. But art activity in Holland public, Christian, and West Ottawa schools progresses at its usual pace — high gear.

Paints, paste, pottery wheels, candle makers and all art paraphernalia are in constant and fervent use from kindergarten through senior high.

Possessing a "bit of scavenger" peculiar to and demanded by their specialty, art teachers scrounge for yarn, leather, chicken wire, wood chips and other materials from ecologically minded friends and companies to supplement their general, and sometimes limited art supplies.

"Remind everyone we can make use of almost any material" is the most frequent plea of art teachers who have also become adept at reprocessing materials such as wax and clay which hasn't been fired.

From a construction paper rocket ship to a fantasyland of pink yarn and cotton puffs, the unharnessed imagination of elementary students makes a trip through their classroom displays more entrancing than paging through a professionally illustrated storybook.

Frequently in the grade school "we pick the medium and the students pick the subjects," Mrs. Lois Matchinsky, West Ottawa art teacher noted. "This allows for individuality in each project."

Whenever possible art teachers coordinate their projects with classroom activities while still teaching the basics of color, line, shape, space and texture.

"There's nothing we can't do here in art," West Ottawa Middle School art teacher, Dean Weillacher said, speaking of the expansive and well-equipped school.

Presently all students are enrolled in a required course but next year seventh and eighth graders may elect courses.

Plans for next year now being organized by the art department call for a portable room, possible in a Japanese motif, to be constructed in the shop. Weillacher hoped that contributions from various departments would include music, sports, an abacus from math, and Japanese drama from communications.

The combined efforts of Gene Westra, Bible instructor, Mrs. Linda Schippers, art teacher, and Christian Middle School students, have produced a seven by 30 foot wall mural, "The Creation — The Fall — The Re-Creation" for their semester project.

The middle school students have taken trips to the Grand Rapids art museum and one group will visit the Chicago Art Museum in the spring.

A nine-week exploratory course is required of all E. E. Fell eighth graders who work with classroom fabricated potter's wheel, wedge table, candlemaker, and buffing wheel. To date the favorite project has been candlemaking, followed by pottery.

Since finances and facilities are limited Christian sixth graders and E. E. Fell seventh graders cannot take art until they have advanced one grade.

Art enrollment reflects the national trend toward "do-it-yourself" arts and crafts and Holland High in particular feels the surge of students who seek the satisfaction of designing, completing and displaying or wearing their creations.

"With 30 per cent we have the highest elective enrollment in the state," Holland High art director Jean Visscher said. "This year we've had to convert one third of the Herrick Art gallery into a second painting studio to accommodate the additional students."

A semester course in jewelry at Holland High, which has drawn large enrollment, covers everything usually taught in a college course. Presenting each of their courses such as printmaking and sculpture, in a concentrated form gives the student a feeling of security in a particular area.

Dennis Matheis, Holland Christian High art teacher, directs his advanced students to study advertising, explaining that "religion to toothpaste" are sold through art in advertising. "Students can make a pitch for their own philosophy in the same way ad men do," Matheis said.

Several West Ottawa girls have reported teaching their mothers how to knit or crochet, skills they learned in the expanded arts and crafts program taught by Mrs. Marilyn Fisher. In creative stitchery students can also learn weaving and macrame and proudly display afghans and stuffed animals, for which they now receive credit.

Each high school offers four full years of art, though the course content varies according to the facilities at each particular school.

Certain pronounced similarities arise in the three school systems.

—Each student from kindergarten to senior high level receives some form of art appreciation.

—All art teachers note the importance of displaying student work but the facilities range from excellent — Herrick Art Center at Holland High to poor — E. E. Fell Junior

—All art teachers strive to satisfy the creative impulses of low academic achievers who turn to art to improve their self image.

—Each high school and junior high reports scores of students who use their free time in the art classrooms.

—All art programs exist to enrich the lives of the students. None are intended to produce commercial artists though some students have moved from high school art classes into successful employment.

Elementary students every two weeks ("Far too little" say the specialists, but still an improvement over a few years ago.)

Other art specialists not previously mentioned are William Magsig and Bruce Krakowski, Holland High; Dave Dickerson and Joseph De Neve, E. E. Fell; Mrs. Karen Hicks, Brenda Vande Polder and Douglas Lowe, Holland elementary; Miss Sylvia Stielstra, Christian elementary; Mrs. Dody Fredrickson and Tom Hammond, West Ottawa High School; Lee Storey, West Ottawa Middle School; Mrs. Karla Huitink, West Ottawa elementary.

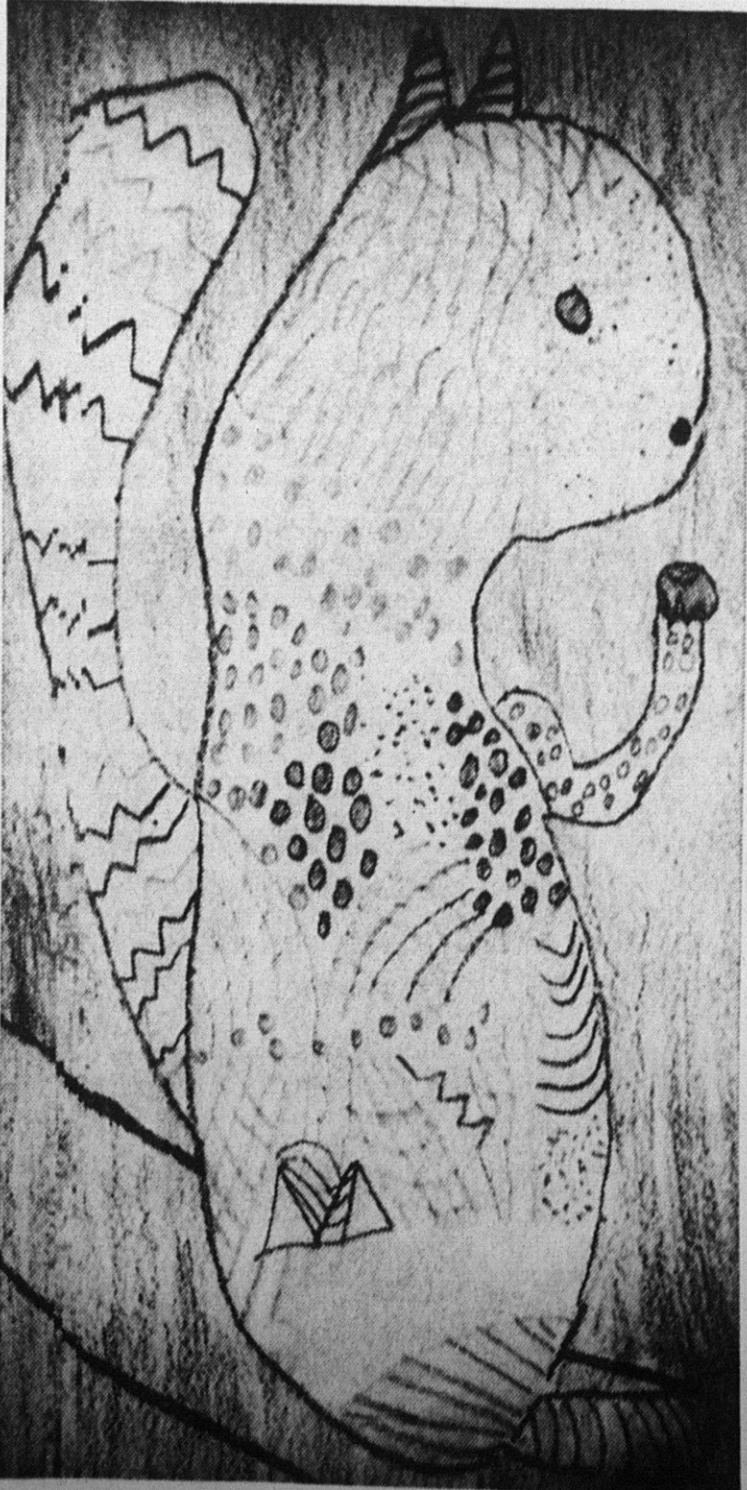

Student art works reproduced on this page were chosen for their general interest and do not necessarily reflect the finest quality produced in area schools.
