BPW Proposes Boosting Fund For Expansion

City Council is considering a proposal from the Board of Public Works whereby the latter would limit its annual contribution to the general fund and build up a sinking fund for further expansion by 1963.

The communication which the BPW sent to Council Wednesday night outlined power demands for the future, pointing out that power uses have increased 65 per cent since 1946 and may double or perhaps triple in the next 10 years. In view of the fact that proposed expansion in 1962 would cost some $3,000,000, the Board of Public Works proposes to limit its contribution to the city fund to $100,000, a year instead of the straight 50 per cent contribution as listed in the city charter.

The communication pointed out during the last 10 years, the board has paid $1,099,341.63 into the city's general fund, or an average of $109,934 per year. Thus, the city would not be losing much per year. In case profits fall below $200,000, the contribution to the city would not exceed 50 per cent, it was understood.

The communication further pointed out that the electric department is in arrears to the water department by some $300,000 which should be paid back within the next three years, in view of anticipated improvements to the city's water system. The board also made it clear that it would submit the same request limiting the contribution to $100,000 each year until 1962. In case of a complete change of plans which would involve no expansion, a lump settlement could be made to the city, the communication pointed out.

Council tabled the request for further study.

The Board of Public Works also presented its capital expenditures budget for the coming fiscal year for electric, water and sewage departments of the city. This budget also was filed for further consideration.

In other business, Council authorized payment on the special general assessment paving bonds series 1951 amounting to $9,000 which mature April 1, 1953, with interest of $641.25 on series 1951 and $619.80 on series 1952 becoming due on that date.

A communication from the Planning Commission concerning A. Patsy Fabiano's request to rezone a lot on West 19th St. recommended that the petitioner appeal directly to the Board of Appeals for permission to use his full business zone lots for building purposes by furnishing more than the required rear yard for driveway and parking purposes on the 43-foot lot.

Council approved high bid of $391 made by George Schout for the sales of houses and garages at 122 and 140 Columbia Ave.

A petition requesting vacating an alley between 17th and 18th Sts. and River and Pine Aves. was referred to the Planning Commission along with a petition protesting closing of said alley.

Council granted a license to construct sidewalks to Jack Lamar. An application to sell soft drinks was approved for Schippers Texaco Station at 316 River Ave.

City Clerk Clarence Greengrove presented a letter from the Michigan Mutual Liability Co. calling attention to its annual meeting in the home office March 26. The clerk was authorized to send in a proxy card.

A communication from the Municipal Employees Retirement Board together with a proposed amendment to the Municipal Employees' Retirement act representing changes recommended was referred to the city manager and city attorney with instructions to report back to council.

Resolution Adopted Honoring John Galien

City Council Wednesday night passed a resolution on the passing of John Galien, one of Holland's representatives on the Ottawa County Board of Supervisors, who died unexpectedly last Sunday. The resolution called attention to his contributions to the city and county and characterized him as one who gave liberally of his time and talents. Galien was vice-chairman of the Board of Supervisors and in all likelihood would have become chairman in due time, Mayor Harry Harrington said.

New Curriculum Study Launched For Schools Here

Holland's public school teachers today launched a program of curriculum study as a result of a meeting of all teachers Tuesday in Longfellow school to discuss increased enrollments and future school needs. Members of the Board of Education, clerks and custodians attended the meeting as well as teachers and principals.

Dr. Tom Herrick, curriculum director of Kalamazoo Public Schools, and Dr. Otto Yntema, director of extension at Western Michigan College, who have been retained by the local board as consultants, provided information and guidance at Monday's meeting. They pointed out that community representatives as well as teachers and administrators should study the curriculum for a long period before any definite plans are made for school buildings.

Such a study will require a knowledge of trends in education much like industries seek trends in consumer interests before investing time, money and effort in the manufacture of a new product. Schools must find which courses are useful and financially possible before planning buildings to carry on such a program. Monday's meeting opened with a short skit outlining overcrowding problems which will be even more apparent next year in Holland High School. Highly accurate figures indicate an increase of more than 1,000 pupils in the next four years, boosting the total public school population to 4,315 pupils. Enrollment in the two secondary schools would be 2,537 in 1957 compared to 1,794 presently accommodated. Present buildings were built to accommodate less than 1,000 students.

"Building schools to fit the program is more sensible than building programs to fit buildings," Dr. Herrick advised. He and Dr. Yntema agreed that all good citizens want to provide the best education for the young people and must consider seriously every aspect of program planning before approaching building needs.

Allegan to Host CAP Units Sunday

ALLEGAN (Special) — Allegan's municipal airport will serve as headquarters Sunday when more than 200 members of Southwestern Michigan Civil Air Patrol units swing into action in their first major post-war maneuver. Allegan, Kalamazoo and Austin Lake squadrons will participate in a simulated search and rescue mission, according to Michael J. Uramkin, commanding officer of the Allegan unit.

Some 50 planes will be in use supported by mobile radio units, police cars and ambulances, Uramkin said.

The maneuver, which will get underway at 8 a.m. and conclude at 4 p.m., will simulate the search for a crashed plane.

According to the "script" the downed aircraft was en route from Selfridge Field to Saugatuck with secret papers aboard. Last radio communication with the stricken plane will be heard by the Otsego airport and it will be assumed that the ship has crashed somewhere between Otsego and Saugatuck.

Object of the search will be to locate the plane, rescue the survivors and turn over the secret papers to representatives of the Air Force.

Activities at the airport will be open to the public, according to Uramkin.

Duffys Establish Nurse Scholarship

The Duffy family has established a nursing scholarship for Holland Hospital to be known as the Ella Coyne Duffy Memorial scholarship. City Council was informed Wednesday night. The scholarship is in memory of Mrs. Duffy who died last summer.

The arrangement calls for one person and alternate to be selected by a board of four by June 15. The scholarship offers up to $500 to the designated person to complete her nursing training. It imposes one condition, that the recipient promises to enter the employ of Holland Hospital for a minimum of six months after completing training.

The agreement, signed by J. Frank Duffy and Eleanor J. Duffy, also provides that the scholarship be made available annually. Serving on the board of four persons to screen applicants will be the director of the hospital, Miss Duffy as permanent member, a doctor of the hospital staff and a registered nurse of the hospital staff.

This is the season for grass and forest fires.

Conservation Officer Elmer Boerman points out that if this year follows the pattern of past years, forest fire-fighting equipment of the conservation, municipal and township fire departments will soon be busy suppressing grass and forest fires.

"Each year considerable damage to both private and public property results from these fires which almost in all cases are man-caused and the result of carelessness and negligence," Boerman said. "Not only do these fires prove expensive as far as taxpayers are concerned, but they are often urgently needed elsewhere to protect more valuable homes and property."

In an effort to cut down this needless waste, the 1949 legislature amended the existing forest fire law so that persons desiring to set fire to any woodlands, grasslands, brush or slash must first obtain a fire permit.

These permits are available from any of the fire chiefs of departments serving rural areas, from August Garbrecht at the West Olive Soil Conservation District Nursery, to the Allendale equipment station of the conservation department and from conservation officers.

Fire chiefs in this area who issue permits including John Vandenburg of Holland township No. 1; Alvin Potter, Holland township No. 2; Bert Schuitens, Holland township No. 3; Gerald Bolhuis, Park township No. 1; Herman Windemuller, Park township No. 2; John Van Eden, Zeeland; Herman Bussis, Borculo; John Brink, Hudsonville, and Allyn Rynbrandt, Jamestown.

No permit is required to burn when the ground is covered with snow or for domestic fires to burn leaves, trash, garbage, etc., in rubbish burners around homes. Farmers who practice spring burning are also reminded that burning ditch banks, fence rows and brushy swales is detrimental from a soil conservation standpoint and for game.

Those who do any burning, however, are advised to first obtain the necessary permit.

Boerman lists the following basic rules to keep such fires under control:

1. Construct a fire break such as a plowed furrow completely around the area to be burned.
2. Burn only on days when there is little or no wind.
3. Burn on humid days or else late in the afternoon when the humidity is higher instead of during the middle of the day.
4. Never leave a fire unattended.

"Every time you build a fire, keep in mind that you will be held liable if the fire does damage to the property of others, or if assistance is required from a fire department to protect the property of others," Boerman said.

Civil Defense Meeting Slated

A Civil Defense meeting to organize mobile support group from Kent, Muskegon and Ottawa counties will be held at Grand Rapids next Tuesday, March 24, at 7:30 p.m. in the city commission rooms at the City Hall, it was announced today.

At noon today, field representative R. J. Martin met in Zeeland with civil defense officials and local director Fred Hietje. The mobile support group is one of 20 being set up in Michigan. It will include representatives of air patrol, fire, police, engineering, emergency, welfare, rescue and health and special weapons for civil defense.

Mayors of communities in the area are especially urged to attend.

Truck Driver Ticketed After Intersection Crash

A pickup truck driver was issued a summons and a car was badly damaged in an intersection accident during heavy rain at 5:10 p.m. Wednesday at the corner of Paw Paw Dr. and 120th Ave.

A 1949 auto driven by Sidney Woudstra, 311 West 18th St., was hit broadside by a pickup truck driven by P. A. Weidenhamer, 562 Lawndale Ct. Weidenhamer failed to stop for the stop street and failed to hear Woudstra's horn warning. He was given a summons for failure to yield the right of way causing a property damage accident.

Woudstra's car was damaged to the extent of $300. The pickup truck was not damaged. No one was injured.

Investigating the accident was Deputy Lawrence Veldheer assisted by Deputy Ken De Jonge.

Crampton Vote Favors UAW-CIO Representation

In an NLRB sponsored election Wednesday afternoon, the 42 employees of Crampton plant No. 3, which has been turning out defense work on East Sixth St. for the last 10 or 11 months, voted 29 to 9 in favor of representation by the UAW-CIO. Four votes were challenged. The new action will be effective as soon as the vote is certified.

Local Chamber Approves Plans For Host School

The board of directors of the Holland Chamber of Commerce Monday night approved final plans for staging a host school for local persons who deal with visitors during the resort season.

Chairman C. C. Wood explained there would be two sessions, allowing local merchants and filling station operators to send their employees at different times during working hours. This will be the first host school of its kind to be held in Western Michigan and will be staged just before Tulip Time.

Local merchants also are exploring a sales refresher course, according to Chairman Percy Taylor. Plans also are progressing for a merchants' float in Tulip Time parades.

The safety committee under the direction of Clarence Greengrove presented an outstanding report on methods for correcting certain traffic conditions in Holland. Greengrove said the subcommittee on fire is studying possibilities of having Holland enter the National Fire Prevention contest in October. The committee also deals with school safety.

Henry Weyenberg explained plans have been completed for Business, Industry and Education Day in which facilities of local schools and the clergy will be guests of industry at a luncheon in Durfee Hall after which they will visit various plants. This is a part of the National Chamber program of American Opportunity.

The membership committee announced the following new members: Town and Country Shop, Sunday School Guide Publishing Service, Gray Auto Supply Co., and Robert W. Van Dongen, architect.

Local Chamber members are invited to attend a meeting of the National Security conference March 27 in Drake Hotel in Chicago, giving business leaders an opportunity to discuss questions on the new social security policy with leading experts in the field.

Because of difficulties in staging a hobby show this time of year, the board favored postponing the annual event until October or November.

Large Fines Paid In Justice Court

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Lester Boersma, 21, route 1, Zeeland, paid $75 fine and $3.90 costs when he pleaded guilty to reckless driving Wednesday afternoon in Justice Frederick J. Workman's court.

The arrest followed a wild chase by State Police early Wednesday morning through Borculo on 95th St. in Blenden Township. Boersma told officers he thought someone was racing with him even though officers signaled him to stop. He allegedly increased his speed until he was driving at least 80 miles an hour and then turned into a farm yard in an unsuccessful attempt to evade officers. Three or four other youths were passengers in the Boersma car at the time.

Hollie Gene Brown, driving a truckload of groceries for the Muskegon Wholesale Co. of Muskegon, was arrested by Weighmaster Sam Hartwell early Wednesday morning on a charge of having an overload of 12,650 pounds. The wholesale firm furnished $2,500 for an adjourned hearing set for March 23 when Brown appeared in Justice Court later Wednesday.

Helmuts M. Mednis, 19, Grand Haven, paid $100 fine and $3.90 on a reckless driving charge when he was arraigned before Justice Workman Tuesday afternoon. Mednis was arrested by State Police after an accident on Lake Shore Road in Grand Haven Township early Sunday morning involving two other cars driven by Frank R. De Rose of Muskegon and Carl Hartkopf of Milwaukee. Mednis' car was sold for junk and the other two cars were badly damaged.

Vernon R. Wellman, Jr., 25, Grand Haven, paid $50 fine and $3.90 costs on a charge of furnishing beer to a minor, and his younger brother, George Wellman, 17, paid $25 fine and $3.90 costs on a charge of drinking beer in a car. The pair was arrested by Constables Donald and Leslie Vander Wall Saturday night in Spring Lake township. The alleged offense occurred while the Wellmans were sitting in their car in front of an eating establishment on US-31.

It was pointed out that Ottawa is the first country to hold a meeting with their legislators where mutual discussion of problems is brought out in a forthright manner. According to Adema, his committee is planning another meeting of this kind.

Fishing Expert Talks to Overflow Crowd at Weekly Conservation Meet

Nearly two hundred persons filled Washington school gymnasium to capacity Monday evening to hear a state conservation department fish expert and see three films on fishing in Michigan.

The meeting was sponsored by Holland Fish and Game Club in cooperation with Holland Adult Education Program.

Max Hunt, district supervisor of fisheries, Michigan Conservation department, said Michigan fishermen are fortunate in having more than 11,000 inland lakes and more than 3,000 miles of shoreline on the Great Lakes where they may fish.

"The objective the conservation department is always seeking is how to get the greatest sustained yield of fish from each lake in the state," Hunt said. He added to the surprise of many that some lakes are overpopulated with fish, none of them ever reaching large size although they are capable of reproduction.

Hunt described an ideal lake for fish production. It would be shallow, about 20 feet deep, have a loamy type soil on the bottom to grow aquatic plants, would be located in good farming country where good farming practices were carried on, would have a moderate growth of vegetation and would be protected from high winds. Its balanced fish population would be free from disease, he added.

Hunt mentioned some methods of improvements used by the department although he admitted many are costly and not too feasible. New species may be introduced if proper conditions exist. Some lakes may be fertilized when brush shelters are installed, the lake level may be controlled and plant and water weed control may be practiced. In extreme cases all fish in a lake containing a preponderance of undesirable species may be poisoned and new species introduced.

Following Hunt's talk three films, "Better Fishing in Michigan," "Let's Go Fishing," and "Let's Go Fishing Again" were shown. The latter two films featured fly and plug casting expert Tony Accetta.

The Hollandaires, a quartet including Betty Comport, Mary Ann Miller, Wilma Hill and Phyllis Harrington, presented several numbers as the program opened. "After Dark," "Here's To You Oldtimer," "Shine on Me," "Do Lord," "Coney Island Baby," and "Old Joe."

A study of the state's mammals will be the topic next Monday, March 23, when William Hubbell, trapper instructor Michigan Department of Conservation, will be speaker. Several films will be shown.

Grand Haven Church Purchases New Organ

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Second Reformed Church of Grand Haven has purchased a new two-manual, 12-stop Kilgen organ, which is made in St. Louis, Mo. The organ is expected to arrive in May for installation.

Besides the organ, which will cost $12,000, chimes and a new grille in blond oak will be installed where the present pipes are now located in front of the church. New sections, such as a larger console or more manuals or chimes, may be added later to the organ, if desired. The new organ console will be near the pulpit rather than in the choir loft where it is presently located.

Sixty members of the church will conduct a canvass of the congregation after 7 p.m. Monday to raise $13,000 for the project. Money has been currently borrowed from the building fund to finance the purchase and is to be paid back in approximately two years.

Local Firm Wins Holland Paving Contract for '53

The West Shore Construction Co. headed by Harry Plaggenmeyer, was awarded the contract for Holland's 1953 paving program at a regular meeting of City Council Wednesday night.

The company's total bid was $81,124.60, compared to the only other bid of $82,466.26 entered by the Michigan Colprovia Co. of Grand Rapids.

The program covers 27,893 square yards of two-inch concrete asphalt wearing surface, 19,854 square yards, six-inch gravel base, 16,696 linear feet combined curb and gutter, 124 catch basins, 32 linear feet header, 1,459 square feet four-inch concrete sidewalk, and 5,584 cubic yards excavation.

The Grand Rapids firm has had several contracts with Holland city in previous years. City Attorney James E. Townsend introduced several bills under consideration by the state legislature which he felt would interest Councilmen. Council passed a resolution opposing House Bill 105 which would require ballot tabulation of all absentee ballots after the polls are closed. The local council feels such a procedure would in part defeat the purpose of voting machines which is mainly to give prompt returns with no fuss.

The present law provides that the vote from absent voter ballots may be transferred to voting machines at some lull during the day under supervision of the entire election board. As an alternative, City Clerk Clarence Greengrove suggested that absent voter ballots could be marked in case there was some question as to the validity of the vote and the vote was not transferred to the machine.

Also considered were House Bill 112 limiting policemen to a 40-hour week except for emergencies, and House Bill 113 establishing a 63-hour work week for firemen including sleep, compared with the present 73-hour week which also includes sleep. Also considered were House Bills 82, 83 and 84 which would repeal minimum hour and minimum wage laws for policemen and firemen and eliminate the Kelly day for firemen.

Council followed the lead of the Michigan Municipal League in opposing the first two bills and favoring the last three. The league explained that while it is sympathetic to the cause of firemen and policemen, it believes that such matters should rest with the local municipalities, particularly when they operate under Home Rule. Resolutions were adopted to that effect.

The last bill concerned cooking garbage to be fed to hogs, but no action was taken locally. City Manager H. C. McClintock explained he had talked with the local garbage collector who could either "cook" the garbage or dispose of it by trench burying. McClintock said either change would result in a boost of the 15 cents per can now charged in Holland city.

Newcomers Entertain

Newcomers Club members entertained at a guest luncheon Wednesday afternoon at the Warm Friend Tavern. Baskets of greens filled with Easter eggs, a variety of spring flowers and yellow tapers provided an attractive setting for the luncheon and card party. Mrs. Frank Klamm and Mrs. Sam Houston were hostesses.

Federal District Voters Turn Down Gymnasium Plan

Beechwood school district approved a $225,000 bond issue by a 5 to 1 majority in a special election Tuesday, but Federal school district lost its $150,000 bond issue by a narrow margin.

Both elections listed two proposals, one to increase the tax limitation and the other to raise a bond issue.

At Beechwood school, the vote to increase the tax limitation by nine mills resulted in 160 yes, 35 no, and two blanks. The vote to raise the $225,000 bond issue was 162 yes, 32 no, and three blanks. The response at the polls from 7 to 9 p.m. was considered good by school leaders. The Mothers' Club was particularly active in a get-out-the-vote program.

At Federal school, the vote to raise the tax limitation by 13 mills lost by only two votes, 93 yes and 95 no. The vote to bond the district for $150,000 carried by seven votes, 94 yes, 87 no, and one blank.

The Beechwood program calls for erecting a new school for early elementary grades on a recently acquired 22-acre site on Lakewood Blvd., a half mile west of North River Ave. Plans call for seven class rooms, an all-purpose room, a kindergarten room and other facilities.

Federal school had proposed to build a new gymnasium which would serve community needs as well as school needs. Polls were open from 2 to 8 p.m.

Registrants Need Birth Certificate

Red Cross workers at the local office today reminded all 18-year-olds that when they register for selective service at the Red Cross office they must present a copy of their birth certificate. Failure to bring it with them necessitates delay in securing their registration card.

It is a rule of the selective service system that the registrant must see the birth certificate before she can issue a registration card. This is just another service performed by Red Cross workers in the course of their daily assignments at the Red Cross office. Registration reports are sent regularly to the board in Grand Haven and all further responsibility lies with that board.

The Red Cross is happy to offer this service as a convenience to those boys living in this area. Daily service is rendered to students at Hope College who ask to have their physical examinations transferred to this county so they don't have to go home for that purpose. Red Cross workers also remind all men returning from their tour of service that they are to register with their local board within ten days from the date of discharge.

Following the service the body will be sent to Moundsville for burial.

Dutchmen Employ Fast-Break Style To Top Bearcats

The Dutch eagles from Holland High School beat the Battle Creek Bearcats at their own game—the fast break—to move into the class A regional tournament finals Friday at Western Michigan College gym in Kalamazoo.

Score of Friday night's semi-final game was a one-sided 62-42 count.

Battle Creek had been touted before Friday's game as a fast-breaking team, but Holland stole the show with the first fast break offense the Dutch have exhibited all season. And it was a dandy.

Although the Dutch threw quite a few down-court passes away in the second quarter trying to click on the fast break, they really mastered the situation during the third quarter and racked up 20 points to virtually put the game on ice.

Battle Creek on the other hand had a "cold" night and missed a total of 59 shots out of 74. Holland cashed in on 20 out of 47 field goal tries. And at the foul line Battle Creek made just 12 out of 23 while Holland made 22 out of 39.

Both teams were missing a lot during the first quarter and the score was tied at 1-1, 3-3 and 5-5 before Holland moved out front to stay for the rest of the game.

At the end of the first quarter, Holland held an 18-14 lead, thanks to nine points by forward Ron Isaacs and four by Terry Burns.

Both teams bogged down considerably during the second period and Holland scored just 12 points to only nine for the Bearcats.

It seemed as though Holland's fast break was almost too fast as the ball repeatedly went over the head of the lone Holland man breaking toward the Battle Creek basket.

However the timing was a lot better during the third quarter and Holland forged 20 points to another nine for Battle Creek to take a lopsided 50-32 lead. Jack Kemper with seven paces led the Dutch during that spurt.

Throughout the game, and especially during the fourth quarter, Holland Coach Fred Weiss used subs liberally in an effort to save his regulars for tonight's game.

Holland's scoring chart showed a team effort with Isaacs leading the way with 13. Big Dean Vander Wal, Terry Burns and Bob Van Dyke each had nine, Jack Kemper eight, and Carl Visscher, five. A total of 11 players contributed to the total.

For Battle Creek, Mac Behnke had 11 and Ken Griffin, 10.

Although Vander Wal didn't make his usual number of points, he repeatedly came down off the boards with rebounds and triggered Holland's fast break. And it was a job on the boards. Between Vander Wal, Isaacs, Ken Armstrong and Dick Plagenhoef, the Dutch repeatedly gunned off the taller Battle Creek men—Phil Jones, Tom Fegan and Dick McClary.

Friday's game ends Battle Creek's season at five wins and 11 setbacks while Holland now has a mark of 16 victories against one defeat.

Man Pleads Innocent As Second Offender

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Walter Wilson, 24, Hart, pleaded not guilty to a drunk driving charge, second offense, when he was arraigned before Justice T. A. Husted Friday. Wilson was arrested at 6 a.m. Friday by city police on North Seventh and Jackson Sts.

Unable to provide $300 bond, Wilson was returned to the county jail to await trial March 26. His companion, Eugene N. Bates, 24, route 1, Twin Lakes, charged with being drunk, is attempting to raise funds to pay $20 fine and $6.35 costs.

Wilson previously was convicted of drunk driving at Traverse City April 20, 1952. At the time of his arrest this morning, he was driving without a valid operator's license. Fritz Enenga, 50, Grand Haven, arrested by city police Thursday night on a drunk charge, chose to serve 15 days in the county jail rather than pay $20 fine and $6.35 costs imposed by Justice Husted Friday.

Brake Says New Revenue Only Answer to Deficit

ZEELAND (Special) — State Treasurer D. Hale Brake told Zeeland Chamber of Commerce members and their wives gathered at the annual spring membership drive Thursday night that plugging leaks in the state's financial system is not enough to cure the present difficulties.

Brake said that even foreseeable expenditure cuts would not be sufficient to balance the budget. He pointed to money that must be spent for such things as highways, schools, penal systems and welfare aid. With the many expenditures that are called for by constitutional amendment it will be impossible to balance the budget without new revenue from some source.

Declining to suggest a possible source, Brake gave an example of the problems met in determining who shall pay the increased tax. He said some circles have suggested a corporation profit tax. But this would be a tremendous handicap for concerns selling goods out-of-state. "It is this type of problem that is met in all discussions of possible revenue sources," said Brake.

His comments followed a review of the state's fiscal history. Brake told how during the war years a surplus was built up year after year. Steel, cement, and labor shortages made it impossible to maintain an extensive construction program.

As the building programs slowed down, highway depreciation and wear continued at the usual rate, and the end of the war found Michigan's highways and institutions in a bad state of disrepair. The rebuilding programs that were then started had to have money, and in a short time a small deficit was started.

"It is this problem of more than one or two years that must be faced," said Brake. The Higgins bill recently passed by the legislature is no more than a temporary solution, and by moving the date for payment of corporation franchise fees from August to May will create a problem in August.

The banquet was the conclusion of the annual membership drive. About 180 persons attended the affair on the second floor of the City Hall.

Banquet chairman was Tom Whitsitt. George Van Koevevering served as program chairman and John Bosch was in charge of food. George Van Peursem is secretary-manager of the group.

National Guard Provides Donors

Forty-eight members of Holland National Guard Co. D, 126th Infantry, have received appointments for the blood clinic Monday from 5 to 7 p.m. at Red Cross Headquarters.

Lt. Con Boeve has been responsible for arrangements with the blood bank for participation of the group. This is the second time the group as a whole has volunteered.

Many of the men are between the age limits of 18 and 21 when parents' written permission is necessary. These men will bring that written permission with them when they report for their appointments.

National statistics show that one in every 30 people between the ages of 20 and 60 donated blood through the Red Cross last year. One out of every two hospitals in the United States received Red Cross blood for treatment of civilians, veterans or servicemen.

During the last three months the local program has drawn between 35 and 50 units at each clinic. Reports show that an average of 45 units must be secured at each clinic to enable the local bank to support the program for national defense, gamma globulin, and local hospital use.

School Teachers Hold Symposium

A fascinating and enlightening meeting in the form of a symposium was provided for members of the Holland Public School faculty at their meeting Wednesday afternoon in Junior High School.

The program was planned by Supt. Walter W. Scott and the In-Service Education Committee consisting of Minnie Bennett, Fanny Bultman, Larry Masse, Marie Woldring, Ada Zickler and Jack Rombouts, chairman.

Participating in the symposium were Bernice Bishop, Lavina Cappon, Ed Damson, William Hornbaker, Joyce Keller, Ned Stuits, Gerrit Wiegink and Mrs. John K. Winter. Carolyn Hawes and Gladys Wiskamp were unable to take part because of illness.

Introducing the program, Mrs. Winter and Miss Bishop shared some of their experiences at the National Convention of School Administrators in Atlantic City, N. J., in February. The theme was "Education for National Security." Unity was stressed with emphasis on education for good citizenship. It is up to the schools to show the democratic way of life instead of the Communist way, the delegates said.

William Hornbaker and Ed Damson reported on meetings on "Higher Education" at Michigan State College where representatives of high schools and colleges discussed programs of each institution and how the high school should prepare youth for college.

Miss Cappon, who spent a week at a Central Regional Conference in Chicago on the subject "The Family in a Free Society," said the great question at the conference was whether children were being taught in a democratic way and are they able to make their own choices and live with them.

Questions were answered on the meeting of the Michigan Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation by Miss Keller and Ned Stuits. They said every student should have an opportunity for outdoor camping sometime during his school career. Wrestling was advocated for boys in the three-unit activity and more adaptive sports were urged for co-educational activities in the high schools.

In summarizing the reports, Lawrence Masse said the future is definitely challenging. "The world and education are growing more complex with emphasis on the individual and student's progress. But educators are recognizing problems and we are progressing."

Jack Rombouts presided at the meeting with George Lumsden as moderator.

Also praised is the efficiency of the present city government and the additional revenues brought in by the installation of parking meters.

Camp Fire Girls Join Celebration Of 43rd Birthday

Camp Fire Girls in Holland are joining in national celebration of Camp Fire's 43rd birthday, being observed March 15-21, according to announcement by Mrs. Andries Steketee, executive director.

In line with the national Birthday Week program, local girls will highlight their 1953 Birthday project—"Down to Earth"—a project in which more than 370,000 girls throughout the country are participating. The project gives opportunity for a first-hand study of the soil and things that are grown in it and on it, Mrs. Steketee said.

Although "Down to Earth" will be carried out in many ways, Mrs. Steketee said participation in the project is designed to help the Camp Fire Girls achieve several basic objectives—to broaden their appreciation of the world in which they live, to increase their knowledge of nature lore and to develop their powers of observation.

Local groups have centered their meetings on this project throughout the year with nature hikes, visits to farms, Allegan Soil Conservation Nursery, Kellogg's Bird Sanctuary and other places. They have experimented with growth of plants indoors, feeding birds and many other nature projects.

Throughout Birthday Week, a local store will feature a Camp Fire window display. Individual groups will celebrate at their weekly meetings and special events planned with their leaders.

Robert De Bruyn Agrees to Enter Mayoralty Race

ZEELAND (Special) — Robert S. De Bruyn, long-time civic leader, has agreed to becoming a candidate for mayor in the April 6 election.

De Bruyn consented to run after being urged by many friends and citizens who assured him of their support.

The announcement was made Friday following a meeting of the city nominating commission. According to the new charter, the nominating commission, a standing committee of council, is charged with attempting to secure at least two candidates for each municipal office for an election.

Incumbent D. C. Bloemendaal was unopposed in the primary election, and so the commission has been active in securing De Bruyn's candidacy.

De Bruyn served several terms as alderman before becoming a candidate to oppose Bloemendaal in the 1952 election. In a close race De Bruyn was defeated by a 20-vote margin.

The commission has also secured Anthony Mulder, a retired school teacher, to oppose incumbent Rosamond Moll for the city treasurer post. Miss Moll was appointed by council to serve until the election. The election will be for a one-year term to fill out the unexpired term of Nicholas Tanis.

Joseph S. Newell, high school faculty member and sports coach, has agreed to become a candidate for a three-year term on council. Two posts are to be filled, with Frank Hoogland, Raymond G. Schaap and Jack De Witt the other candidates.

Named to oppose incumbent Nicholas Frankena for supervisor was Matthew Lokse, a former city councilman. Frankena, a former mayor, won the supervisor position last year.

At the primary election, Herman A. Ten Harmel and George Van Eenennaam were named candidates for the single one year term to council.

Members of the committee charged with filling out the slate were Anton Winterhalter, Gerrit Veenboer, Bert Brower, George De Vries and chairman H. C. Miller.

Hope Players Score Hit In Shakespeare Comedy

A sell-out crowd of first nighters left the Hope College Little Theatre Friday night amazed at the remarkable ease with which Palette and Masque Players handled a full-scale Shakespearean production. An ambitious cast of 25 players opened in Shakespeare's famous comedy, "Taming of the Shrew" and the audience was spell-bound from the opening curtain.

The undertaking of any Shakespeare play is in itself a giant feat, but what made the college production even more creditable was the overcoming of many limitations in their tiny playhouse, which was transformed into a modified replica of those found on the Banksides outside Old London.

Truly outstanding in his role of the lusty Petruchio was Peter Kelly, a sophomore from Flushing, N.Y. He won the highest after-show praise as did his leading lady, Joyce Vanderborgh, sophomore from Sayville, N. Y., who became a convincing shrew in the role of Kate. The entire cast of supporting players seemed at home in their Elizabethan roles.

More prominent supporting roles were well-handled by Don Jacobusse as Lucentio; Bill Helder as his man, Tranio; Tom Ten Hoeve and Bob Hoeksema as Hortensio and Gremio, suitors of the lovely Bianca, played by Jane Noxon; Norman Lager as Baptista, and Dick Steiner and Dick Coffill as the laugh-provoking Grumio and Biondello. Dan De Graaf, John Scholten, Norman Ratering and Mary Karsten appeared respectively, as the Pedant, French tailor, Vincentio and the widow. All these were characters in the "play within the play."

Appearing in the "induction" were Jerry Kruyf as the stunned Christopher Sly, Marjorie Pickens, Bob Benson, Eugene Stoddard, Dick Orkist, Clarence Huizenga, Lee Fasco and Jerry Redeker.

Superb costuming was achieved by the players with the help of several church groups who helped Palette and Masque rebuild their wardrobes after a Christmas-vacation fire. The authentic Elizabethan fashions were not only beautiful but provided almost all the color for the production.

The entire play is done in true Elizabethan fashion, with no stage curtains for scene changes. Boy players change the set before the audience's eyes and a page places location cards to set the scene.

Even the music was taken from the Elizabethan era and recorded by the Hope College String Quartet and Clarinet Trio.

A pleasant surprise for the audience was an invitation to have coffee and view an exhibit of Japanese color wood-block prints in the Art Room during intermission.

The play will be repeated tonight and again Monday and Tuesday evenings. Curtain time is 8:30.

He said 5,000 programs have been sent to the new multi-million dollar bus terminal at Clark and Randolph Sts. in Chicago.

Hospital Needs More Beds for Children

Got a baby bed you're not using?

Holland Hospital could use it.

A plea for a few more children's cribs (not bassinets) was made today after a heavy influx of young patients over the week-end at the hospital. Most youngsters are there for treatment of upper respiratory ailments, many of them virus pneumonia.

Twelve children were patients in the hospital Monday afternoon and when the 13th was admitted, nurses went to the laundry for a laundry basket. The hospital already has borrowed one crib from a local family.

The type particularly needed is the small type baby bed with sides that slide. The Junior Welfare League is providing two new children's beds, but delivery is slow. Beds can either be donated or lent.

Skipper of the tanker "Michigan" which docked here Friday morning, Captain W. E. Unkuri, looks over charts as he planned the return trip to East Chicago to take on more cargo. He was given command of the "Michigan" by the Texas Company this season. Being captain of a lake boat is nothing new to Captain Unkuri, for he has served as relief captain aboard the "Michigan" and "Maine" during past seasons. The "Michigan" unloaded 30,000 barrels of gasoline Friday and left at dawn Saturday for East Chicago.

Started as Deck Hand, Now Guides Lakes Boat

Captain W. E. Unkuri had the honor of piloting the first cargo boat into Holland to officially open the 1953 shipping season.

Not only has the skipper had the distinction of breaking the ice, at least in Holland, but he is marking his first year as a ship captain on the Great Lakes.

Captain Unkuri received his Master's License in 1948 and for the last two years was relief captain for two Texas company tankers, the "Maine" and the "Michigan." This season marks the first time he has had full command of a lake boat.

Captain Unkuri had his start on the lakes in 1928 and with the exception of three years on the coast, he has been at it ever since. He is diminutive in size but speech and action indicate he is more than energetic enough to make up for a lack of height.

The skipper indicated it was good to be on the water again after going through the ordeal of outfitting the ship for the season at its winter port, Manitowac, Wis. Since leaving Manitowac, Captain Unkuri has taken the Michigan from East Chicago to Milwaukee and then the trip here.

How do you get to be captain? Start in as a deck hand if Captain Unkuri's formula is followed. He started on the great Lakes in 1928, was soon promoted to able-bodied seaman. He sailed on salt water from New York to France for a three-year interlude and then returned in 1935 to the lakes, sailing on tankers. He has been at it ever since.

The captain earned his pilot's license in 1938 and served on boats of the Lake Tankers Corporation from 1939 to 1944, when he joined the Texas Company.

Up until 1948 he was second mate on both the "Michigan" and the "Maine" and in that year he reached the top of the ladder—a master's license.

Captain Unkuri resides in Hammond, Ind., and has a wife and 15-year-old son living there.

Asked if being away from the family all summer was a bit lonely, the captain said he was indeed fortunate.

"It's only a 20 to 25 minute drive from the dock in East Chicago to my home. I can see the family every time we go into East Chicago to take on cargo," he said.

During the Western trip he called on radio and press personnel and visited industries and organizations that had made generous contributions to flood relief.

Wichers is expected to return to Holland after the Prince leaves on March 30.

DAR Meeting Features Review by Mrs. Cross

Mrs. O. S. Cross reviewed the book "Proud Kate" by Isbell Ross at a meeting of Elizabeth Schuyler Hamilton chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William Vandenberg.

The author is a well-known newspaper woman and she tells the story from a reporter's viewpoint, Mrs. Cross said. The heroine, Kate Chase, was the daughter of Salmon Portland Chase who was secretary of the daughter of Salmon Jortland Chase who was secretary of the treasury in Lincoln's cabinet and later, chief justice. Kate was born in Cincinnati in 1840 and her mother died when she was five. Two years later, her father remarried and sent the daughter to an exclusive boarding school in New York, where she remarried until she was 16.

The stepmother had died and her father had become a senator, so Kate became her father's hostess and worked hard to make him president. During Lincoln's administration, Chase became secretary of the treasury and although in personal business matters he was a poor business man, he was an able secretary and handled financing the war.

His daughter—a belle of Washington society—was rival of Mary Todd Lincoln. She had great influence with prominent Republicans in government. Lincoln appointed Chase to the Supreme Court, but this did not keep his daughter from trying to get him nominated for the presidency. Even after Kate married William Sprague, governor of Rhode Island, a wealthy cotton mill owner, she continued to scheme to get her father nominated president.

Later, she became interested in Sen. Roscoe Conklin, of New York, and divorced her husband. She retired to Edgewood after her husband's death and tried to support her family by raising cows and chickens. The was unsuccessful and her father's friends helped her out of her financial difficulties. She died at the age of 50 and was buried in Cincinnati beside her father.

Mrs. R. F. Keeler, regent, presided at the meeting and Miss Laura Boyd conducted devotions. Miss Lida Rogers presented a report from the state conservation committee regarding the Higgins Lake project. The chapter voted to send a teacher to Higgins Lake for a week next summer. Following a report by Mrs. John Rozboom, the chapter voted to support the Community Ambassador program. Assisting the hostess were Miss Katherine Post, Mrs. Martha Robbins, Mrs. Howard Lane, Mrs. Henry Hopper and Mrs. E. V. Hartman.

The charges were the outgrowth of a party held two miles north of Holland last week-end. Several of the youths implicated a 21-year-old girl who had been furnished money to buy the beer.

The girl, Leona Pieper, 21, of 285 East 13th St., pleaded guilty before Justice C. C. Wood to furnishing liquor to minors and was sentenced to 30 days in jail and ordered to pay fine and costs of $54.30 or serve an additional 15 days.

Russell Hoek, 18, of 1182 Graafschap Rd., pleaded guilty to having beer in his possession in an automobile and was ordered to pay fine and costs of $39.30 and placed on 90 days probation.

Christian School Bands Perform in Hudsonville

Despite unfavorable weather, about 400 persons gathered in the Hudsonville auditorium Thursday night for a concert by instrumental groups of the Hudsonville Christian School. Bert Brandt of Holland is director.

A tonette band of 50 students of the fourth and fifth grades played several numbers and the beginning band of 45 members of fifth, sixth and seventh graders also performed. This band was organized just four months ago.

The concert band of 30 pieces played the three numbers it had prepared for the band and orchestra festival at Muskegon and Muskegon Heights Saturday in which it took a second division.

For the finale, both beginning and concert bands played several numbers.

The Hudsonville High School band also participated in Saturday's festival taking first division. Although the band is again in class C, it entered class B competition. The enrollment was slightly over 325 last September and now is at 321. The limit for class C is 324.

Mowery-Porter Rites Performed

Mrs. Robert Earl Mowery

Miss Joyce Porter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey C. Porter of Allegan, was married on Saturday, Feb. 28, to Robert Earl Mowery of Holland, who is stationed with the Army at Fort Sill, Okla. The groom is the son of Gerry Mowery of Fort Wayne, Ind.

The Rev. Ralph Reed performed the double ring rites in the presence of 200 guests. Baskets of gladioli, palms and lighted candles decorated the church. Music was provided by Stan Farnsworth, soloist, and Mrs. Thelma Farnsworth, organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin and chantly lace and carried a bouquet of white roses.

Her sister, Miss Marilyn Porter, as maid of honor, wore a gown of pink net and lace. Miss Mary Vande Bunte and Miss Esther Porter, sister of the bride, were bridesmaids. They wore gowns of blue net and lace. They carried bouquets of gladioli. Linda Garlock, a cousin of the bride, as flower girl wore a pink shadow organza gown and carried a basket of rose petals.

Wayne Mowery assisted his brother as best man and Earl Kalkman and Dale Frank acted as ushers.

Mrs. Porter chose for her daughter's wedding a navy blue dress and a red rose corsage.

Assisting at the reception in the church parlors were the Misses Thelma Watts, Reva Garlock, Stella Value, Elsie Frank, Mary Mowery, Anna, Mae Ochamps and Mary Kindarski.

For going away, the bride selected a royal blue suit, pink accessories and a corsage of white roses.

After their honeymoon, the newlyweds will reside at 409 North Fourth St., Lawton, Okla.

Plan Your Garden Now and Plant Trees to Beautify Yards and City

Now that there is an occasional touch of spring in the air we can scarcely wait for things to turn green. We have the urge to "do something about it" and thumb through seed catalogues and garden magazines. It's too early to start more than a very few kinds of seeds, even in a flat, but it is just the time to do something much more important and that is to plan for more permanent beauty in your garden.

Wouldn't it be a joy to look forward to the blossoming of a few flowering trees and shrubs around your home year after year? All of us have enjoyed the blossoming of the oriental cherry (Kwansan) trees in the city's triangle park between State St. and Central Ave. and along Kollen Park. If each of us who has a suitable place for them would plant a few flowering trees, what a lasting beauty we should be building in our city!

One of the finest groups of such trees, which is hardly in Holland, are the ornamental crab apples. They blossom in great profusion, in colors from white through pink to purple, according to variety. They are exquisite in bud. Most of them are fragrant. In autumn their branches are loaded with brilliant fruits varying from yellow to deep red, fruits which the birds love.

The oriental crab (malus) grows in a variety of shapes and sizes and there is one for every sized lot. It is always compact and shapely, and its foliage is clean, ranging from green to bronze. The average blooming season is 12 days, but as different varieties bloom at different times, one can prolong the period by using an early and a late type.

Three of the best trees which bloom in early May are Arnold, Double Chinese, and Lemoine. All grow from 12 to 15 feet high. Arnold is mound-like in shape; its pale pink flowers are single, fragrant, large. The Double Chinese (spectabilis) would be better for a small lot as it grows upright, vase-shaped. It has large double flowers, pink, turning white. Lemoine's flowers, large and semi-double are deep purplish color, as are its fruits. Even its foliage is purplish green.

For later blossom in mid-May, Carmine, which grows from 10 to 12 feet, is a fine choice. Its buds are carmine but the flowers fade to pink. Its foliage, dark green and glossy is said to be about the best of any crab. Its shape is mound-like.

The smallest crab is the Sargent, growing to only seven or eight feet, but it may become twice as wide. It can be had with either pink or white flowers which are single, fragrant, not large. Its fruit is tiny, but dark red and comes late when it is much appreciated by the birds.

The smallest crab in older gardens. Its blossoms are full, large and beautiful, but Michigan State College does not advise planting it because it is a native tree and subject to a disfiguring Juniper rust (brown spots on the leaves) which does not affect the oriental crabs. Of course, like all fruit

THE OCEAN'S FLOOR

For the first time in the history of mankind there is some prospect that the ocean's floor will be explored. The oldest known cargo ship in the world is being raised from the bottom of the Mediterranean off the southern coast of France. The ship went down about 2,200 years ago—some 250 years before the birth of Christ.
During all that time it has lain undisturbed on the ocean's floor, so deep down that the tremendous pressure of the water would have killed any human being trying to reach it.

By modern scientific methods however that obstacle has been in part overcome, and enough has been brought up from the vessel so that some chapters in the history of the civilization of the time will have to be revised. For the sea is giving up its secrets.

It is fascinating to speculate what this may mean to human knowledge, if other vessels on the ocean's floor can be made to yield their secrets. For of course after many thousands of years of navigation, there are countless wrecks lying on that ocean's floor. Doubtless many thousands of them have disintegrated through the action of the water and of the chemistry of ocean depths. But the raising of the cargo of the ship that was down there for more than two millenniums proves that many types of metal and stone cargo are intact.

Men have been digging into the earth for centuries trying to find out how people lived thousands of years ago. The city of Pompeii, covered with the lava of Vesuvius since the time of Christ, has been exposed to the sunlight during the past century, and from it man has learned a great many things that were not to be found in books.

But up until now Davy Jones' Locker has remained a real locker. Ships that went down in seas of any depth were supposed to be down for good. Men have sometimes dreamed of recovering the wealth in gold and silver and precious stones that were known to have gone down to the bottom.
But that would be of minor importance.

Of far greater significance would be the increase of human knowledge if the ocean floor could really be explored in earnest. The story of Pompeii, and of all other excavations in the earth, would pale into insignificance beside the information that the ocean floor could reveal if men could get at
it. If that should happen, history itself might have to be rewritten.
We are progressing along the scientific road. All such progress should be for the good of all the people.

Lesson

March 22, 1933
In the Shadow of the Cross
Matthew 26:6-13, 26-30
By Henry Geerlings

Jesus was always a welcomed guest in the home in Bethany.
There are three incidents particularly recorded as occurring in this home—one when Jesus rebuked Martha for being troubled about many things when but one thing is really essential; another when Jesus raised Lazarus from the dead;
the third the anointing of the Master at the feast prepared in His honor.

In these incidents we see how this family loved Him on a high plane of real love. Real love always opens the home to Jesus. True love asks only to be near the object of its affection. Any one who has ever been in love will instantly verify it.
Mary's action indicates that the same principle holds true in the spiritual realm. Jesus had meant much to her as teacher and friend.
Understanding, therefore, as perhaps few others did that the critical hour of His ministry was at hand, she wanted her presence to be a source of strength to Him as He had been to her when Lazarus had died.

True love expresses itself by a worthy offering. Not only did she come herself, she brought a surprise gift that was perhaps a whole year's wages. Had our Lord known of it in advance, He might possibly have suggested less costly expression of devotion. However, once it had been proffered, He would not spoil the deed nor the love that had prompted it by any complaint about its costliness. Instead, He graciously accepted it as an advance burial tribute.

True love reaches the heights in self giving. Being a material gift of ointment, Mary's offering was something other than herself, and so did not represent the ultimate in giving. But in celebration of the Lord's Supper, we turn our gaze to the cross, which represents the heights of sacrifice. There was no offering for mankind apart from Christ Himself. His giving of Himself was a personal sacrifice by which man could be reconciled to God, and might acquire the power to experience reconciliation with his fellow man. Wherever the church has failed through the years, it has been because its members have been willing to give everything but themselves to Him.

Love is outpoured by Christ. This is set forth symbolically in the institution of the Lord's Supper. The anointing had been symbolical, and so was also the Memorial Supper.
This is pointed out by the Lord when He said "This do in remembrance of me." The anointing had been for His burial, and this Supper was to be a memorial of His death. It is not a means for obtaining forgiveness of sins, but a remembrance of and fellowship with Christ in His sufferings, sufferings He endured because of His love for us.

The emblems used are very simple. We are all familiar with bread and the juice of the grape.
This signifies that Christ is level to the approach of all and not for a chosen few. Little children may receive Him and show Him their love. Even those of inferior intelligence may believe on Him and be saved. And yet the profoundest thinkers can never get beyond Him, nor even fathom the depth of His nature and His love.

The emblems are representative as well as memorial. They represent the body and blood of Christ.
Both the bread and the juice of the grape have been procured by sacrifice. The grain of wheat could not be made into bread until it had been ground into flour and then exposed to the terrific heat of the oven. The fruit of the vine could not become a drink until it had been crushed and the juice extracted. If these elements had sentient lives, these processes would have caused a great deal of suffering.

They are symbolical of the sufferings of Christ. As long as He lived in the body He could not take away our sin. It was necessary for that body to be bruised and broken and for that blood to be shed from the wounds in His body before He could become our Savior.
This was accomplished by His death on the cross.

Not only are these elements memorial and symbolic, they are also prophetic. They point forward to that which would be accomplished by the suffering and death of Christ. The bread of the new body of Christ, the church, and the juice of the grape of the new life within that body. The fulfillment of this prophecy began when the church was formed on the Day of Pentecost by the coming of the Holy Spirit, by which the believers were baptized into that new body, which is Christ.

But the Lord coupled another prophecy with this observance. He foretold that He would never participate in it again under the same conditions. He predicted the coming of another occasion when He would do so. This would be in His Father's kingdom. And so He appointed this meal to be observed as an ordinance with a backward and also a forward look.

It was the outpouring of His love that led Him to die for us, and it will be the outpouring of His love when He comes to receive us to Himself, that where He is we may be also.

Wheat Grading Is Co-Op Meet Topic

Area wheat growers will have a chance to learn the fine points of wheat grading at the annual stockholders meeting of the Holland Cooperative company Wednesday.
Herbert Pettigrove, specialist from Michigan State College will be speaker.

The meeting will open at 1:30 p.m. at the Woman's Literary club.

Louis L. Van Huis, manager of the Holland Co-operative company, said today the topic "Wheat Grading" is timely to Holland area farmers. Much wheat was downgraded because it was of poor quality in 1952, the manager said, and to have an expert talk on the subject will tend to clarify any misunderstanding as to methods used in grading.

Van Huis extended an invitation to any interested persons to attend the annual meeting although only stockholders may vote.

Other business will include the election of two directors for co-op year terms and reports of co-op officers. Present directors are Frank Kroyers, president; Nicholas Prins, vice president; and Peter Baumann, Harold Slag, Harry Vander Zwaag and Henry Boeve.

Michigan Bell Has Record Year, But Returns Are Lower

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company today reported a record year for everything in its business during 1952 except its return on investment.

In the company's annual report, President Clifton W. Phalen cited a return of only 6.4 cents on each dollar invested in the business—no improvement over the year before despite the 1952 rate increase. Emphasizing the effect of inflation upon company operations, Phalen said earnings related to investment were 20 per cent lower than in the pre-inflation year of 1940. For the last seven years, he said, they have averaged only 5.1 cents on the invested dollar—"less than half the average earned by other major industries with which the telephone business must compete for investment money."

The company gained 93,000 telephones during the year with a total of 2,045,000 now in service. Eighty-three per cent of the families in areas served by Michigan Bell now have telephones, compared with 55 per cent 10 years ago.

An average of 10,300,000 local and long-distance calls a day were placed by Michigan Bell customers in 1952—200,000 more a day than ever before.

Furthermore, dependability of the service reached a new high with the average telephone reported out of order only once in over five years.

The company spent $40 million dollars on new construction to improve and expand its service during the year. Eleven new buildings were completed, 10 others were started. Major undertaking in the 1952 construction program was the completion of an eight-story addition to the company's headquarters building in Detroit to house special equipment to link Michigan Bell facilities with the nation-wide long-distance dialing network. To be completed late this year, the new switching center will speed long-distance service by permitting operators to dial a larger volume of calls across the country direct.

In addition, intercity circuits were expanded to help speed long-distance service. To meet growing defense needs alone, Michigan Bell added more than 4,000 miles of long-distance circuits.

Another major item in the construction budget was the conversion of 13 additional exchanges from manual to dial operation. About 89 per cent of all telephones served by Michigan Bell are now dial. Detroit is one of the few major cities in the nation to be completely dial.

Number of employees reached a new peak of 24,500. They were paid wages amounting to $88,500,000.

"This wage bill," Phalen said, "highest in the history of the company, went to telephone employees in hundreds of Michigan communities and was spent with local merchants."

Purchases from Michigan suppliers by both Michigan Bell and the Western Electric Company, manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell System, totaled $26,000,000 in 1952. Spread among 9,900 suppliers, the purchases involved everything from motor vehicles to linemen's gloves.

The 53-cent value of the 1952 dollar not only raised costs, Phalen said, but boosted the amount of investment needed.

Company costs per telephone averaged $6.38 per month, an increase of $2.52 over 1940, the report showed, while revenues climbed only $2.19 per telephone per month during the same period.

On a per month, per telephone basis, the report continued, wage costs amounted to $3.24 in 1952 against $1.54 in 1940. Company taxes also advanced materially in the same period. Including excise taxes, customers alone paid total telephone taxes last year of $2.46 per telephone per month.

Rate increases since 1940, the report said, "have averaged 27 per cent compared with a 91 per cent increase in prices generally."

As to investment, an average of $323 of plant was added for each telephone gained in 1952 whereas the average plant investment at the end of the year amounted to $251 per telephone.

Using the familiar telephone pole as an example, the report showed how inflation reduced the investor's share of the business. A pole in 1940 cost $12 whereas, in 1952, it cost $27.

"Depreciation accruals based on the $12 original cost recover for the investor only enough purchasing power to buy about half a pole at today's prices," the report said.

Pointing out that this means the investor has "had half his property taken away from him by inflation," the report said that "prices for telephone service should be sufficient to cover the cost of fully preserving the present investment in the business, as is generally true of prices in other business."

Dollar-wise, the company's net income amounted to $19,221,592, an increase of nearly $990,000 over 1951 but applicable to an average of nearly $14,000,000 more capital.

Hersey Station Awarded Plaque

BIG RAPIDS—Wolverine Electric Co-Operative's Johnson plant at Hersey, Mich. has been acclaimed as the most efficient Rural Electrification Administration generating station in the nation based on official operating records for 1952.

The magazine "Diesel Progress" awarded the Michigan plant a bronze plaque "for the most efficiently operated of all REA internal combustion plants."

Wolverine serves five generating stations through three distribution co-operatives, the Tri-County Electric Co-Operative of Portland, the O&A Electric Co-Operative of Newaygo, and the Oceana Electric Co-Operative of Hart.

In 1952, the plant produced 28,873,210 kilowatt-hours. The award was based on production cost per net kw. hr. with fuel prices equalized to eliminate regional differences. Actual production cost per net kw. hr. at the Johnson plant was 5.96 mills.

Holland Quintets Beat Grand Rapids In Both Contests

Holland City Basketball League champion Kole Auto scored a stunning upset Tuesday night in first-round play of the Tulip City Tournament play at the Armory by defeating Besteman Produce of Grand Rapids 81-75.

And another Holland team came through in the second game to defeat Leileit Iron Works of Grand Rapids to make it a clean sweep for Holland against Grand Rapids teams. Koop Heating won that one 81-79. Both games were thrillers all the way. In tournament action Thursday, Wettermar Market of Grand Haven will meet a strong team from Battle Creek at 7 p. m. and Whirlpool Dryers of St. Joseph will play Hastings in the 8:30 game.

Dave Kempker was the pace-maker for the locals in that first game as he racked up 30 points, including 13 field goals and four free throws. His total included five field goals and one foul shot in the first half and eight field goals and three free throws in the second half.

What made his contribution stand out was the fact that he was playing with a team that included Ken "Fuzz" Bauman at the other forward, Al Nelson at center, Don "Zeke" Piersma and Jerry Jacobson at guards.

The locals were trailing 28-21 at the end of the first quarter and went ahead 45-38 at halftime after outscoring the Grand Rapids Produce team 24-10 in the second quarter.

Besteman's outscored Holland 18-13 in the third quarter to pull within two points. Score was 58-56. And in the final stanza, Besteman's went ahead 66-62 before Holland rallied to go ahead 70-67 and step on to victory.

Other local scorers were Bauman, eight; Nelson, 11; Piersma, six; Jacobson, 16; Jim Van Hoven, four and J. King, six.

In the second game, Koops had a rugged battle all the way. Quarter scores were 21-22 in favor of Leileit, 42-38 at halftime and 57-55 at the end of the third quarter in favor of the heaters. In the final quarter it was a see-saw affair until the final two points.

Sharing scoring honors were two former Holland Christian and Calvin College standouts—Preston "Butts" Kool and Duane Rosen-dahl. The two aces playing for Koop scored 29 and 27 points respectively.

Kool made five field goals and two free throws in the first half and seven field goals and four free throws in the first half and six field goals and five free throws in the second half.

Other Koop scorers were Russ DeVette, two; Jun Bremer, 17; Kearney Zoerhof, two; Bob Al-tena, four.

Leading the Grand Rapids team was G. Stuart with 17.

License Plates Sell Better Than in 1952

License plates are a better selling item than in 1952, local branch bureau manager Al Dyk said today.

Passenger plate sales have topped last year through March 16 by 53 plates. Sale of 1953 tags totals 13,700. The bureau has also sold 1,630 commercial; 700 farm commercial; 1,400 trailer; and 125 motorcycle plates this year.

Manager Dyk added that it will be some months yet before half-year tags are available. They go on sale Sept. 1.

Jo Peerbolt and Ollie Wierenga look at 10 bottles of blood at Holland hospital. Ollie has given that much blood over a period of little more than a year. Now Holland's champion blood donor is heading for California to make his residence there. Blood giving is a 'must' with Ollie since his body makes too much blood and it is exceptionally high in quality. California banks may look forward to Ollie's arrival for he will continue to donate at his new home. (Sentinel photo)

California's Gain Will Be a Loss for Holland

California's blood banks are due for a big boost.

Holland's best blood donor, Ollie Wierenga is going west. Ollie does not claim any honors for being the city's best blood donor but he does modestly admit to giving 10 pints of the life-giving fluid in the past 14 months.

It keeps him healthy. Ollie's physician, Dr. O. Van der Velde, explained that Ollie's blood producing organs are too efficient for his health. Dr. Van der Velde, medical director of Holland Blood Bank is proud of Ollie's donations to the local cause.

Wierenga's body manufactures blood of extra-high quality and too fast. So Ollie just gives it away. Since doctors discovered what was causing violent headaches — an overabundance of blood—Ollie has given 10 pints. Eight of them he proudly states "have gone to Korea" and two for relatives.

There's nothing wrong with the blood Ollie gives either. It's high 'octane' so to speak. The red corpuscle count is extremely high and that makes the blood very rich.

After serving as the mainstay of donors at Holland City hospital Ollie says he's heading west. He has hopes of going into business for himself. He, his wife and two boys are leaving Holland for California where Ollie hopes to go into the motel business or a similar enterprise.

To prove that Ollie's got more than enough blood, he has donated in little more than a year what the average person would be allowed to donate in five years at the rate of a pint every six months.

When his condition was first discovered he was tapped for three pints of blood in a week and noted nothing but good effects. As a parting gift for Holland, Ollie gave two pints last week.

Ollie has sold his house, left his job at the Texas Company and is leaving Holland after 29 years residence here. He was born in Chicago, and came here in early childhood. He served on the city police force at one time.

Holland's loss is almost sure to be California's gain since so far, medical science has no other method of getting rid of surplus blood other than by donating it.

Children Pleased With Their 'Very Own' Concert

About 1,300 children of the Holland area were an extremely attentive and enthusiastic audience for their first "very own" concert Tuesday afternoon in Hope Memorial Chapel. Sponsored by Holland Branch, American Association of University Women, the young people's concert featured the Hope College Orchestra under direction of Morrette L. Rider. The orchestra was especially impressive in its program which was geared to the third through sixth grade age group.

The children especially loved the novelty "Tubby the Tuba," featuring Granville Cutler, instructor of brass instruments in Holland Public Schools, as the tuba player, and Prof. Robert W. Cavanaugh of the college music department, who narrated beautifully the story of neglected "Tubby" who wanted to play a pretty melody instead of the usual "oom-pahs."

Another big hit was the popular march, "On the Mall," by Goldman, in which the children were invited to "la la la" with the orchestra accompaniment.

Prof. Rider kept the young audience's interest with comments on use of the various instruments, how they are manipulated to change tone and pitch, etc., and illustrations by solos. He selected for the program numbers which illustrate the various orchestral effects, musical moods and tonal settings.

The children were pleased with the pizzicato string selection, "Buttens," and were fascinated by the brass fanfare. William St. John was featured as trumpet soloist in Anderson's "Promenade" and he showed the children how trumpet tones can be changed by the use of a mute.

The bassoon, dubbed the "musical bedpost," was demonstrated by Mary Hesselink in "The Mumpers" by Isaac. Other numbers by the entire orchestra, which were chosen for their qualities of descriptiveness and varied use of instruments, included two Spanish dances, "Serenade Espagnole," Blzet, and "Intermezzo," Granados; "Preludium" by Jarnefelt, and "Scene de Ballet" from Tchaikovsky's "Swan Lake."

School children had been well-prepared for the concert, through the co-operation of school music teachers, room teachers and principals. Although AAUW members, under chairmanship of Mrs. Morrette Rider, planned the event for grades three through six, many younger and some older children were present. The younger ones came accompanied by adults.

AAUW members hope to make this type of program an annual event for Holland children.

Phil Rich Finds Grand Bahama Mecca For Fishing, Swimming Enthusiasts

(Philip T. Rich, editor and publisher of the Midland Daily News, has started a series of articles on his cruise to the Bahama Islands. He is aboard the "Harriet," which is the former "Marie II," familiar to many Holland yachtsmen.—Editor)

NASSAU IN THE BAHAMAS — It is hard to visit these enchanted isles without being impressed by several things: The unbelievable clear water with its changing shades; the warm weather where you can also be cool in the shade; the number and variety of fish and the hospitality at every strata of the residents.

It was an accident I got here. Came to Florida for a brief visit with wife and daughter and my brother, Newton, invited me to cruise with him aboard the "Harriet," a comfortable yacht on which he has been living at Salerno and Stuart, Fla. So with his wife and daughter, Marian, and my wife and daughter, Jeri, we set sail.

Leaving Salerno, Fla., Capt. Toley Engelbreten headed for the open sea at 5:30 a.m. But fate stopped us. The first weather report had a warning for small craft, so after running about five miles in rough water Capt. Toley (As he's known far and wide) turned back and we ran down the inland waterway to West Palm Beach and tied up at Marina docks.

Wind bound us down and so we phoned Bob Duncan, an old friend from Cheboygan; he drove over from Southern Court in Riviera Beach nearby. We all went to the beach and had a good swim in the great rollers on the public ocean beach on Singer Island, just a step from where Bob lives. Weather has been cool this winter in Florida but on this day it was delightful. That night we "went to the dogs" as they say down here. The dog races are well patronized and the legalized betting is much like horse races elsewhere. A good rule is to bet what you can afford to lose for you surely will lose if you stay with such an alleged sport. But it is an "experience." (We all lost!)

After watching the weather like a hawk, Capt. Toley finally decided at 4:10 a.m. to pull out for the Bahamas. We ran into fog in the channel but soon were in the open sea and on our way to West End Settlement of Grand Bahama which lies almost directly east of Palm Beach, Fla. It was bright moonlight and the sea was full of big comfortable "swells" but not too rough. Only a couple of our party were feeling better abed and none got sick.

By 10 a.m. we were in and had tied up to a dock built and owned by John Smith, a friendly negro, who is also proprietor of the "First and Last Bar." This island is one of the largest of the group and the settlement is perhaps inhabited by 100 people... and practically 100 per cent colored. It is, however, a little gem with plentiful wide sand beaches, white sand bottom and stretching as far as the eye can see. It is one of the Northernmost islands.

Perhaps its chief claim to fame comes from the building of a vast resort by a chap named Butlin. This said he spent about eight million on the outfit in 1950 and only ran it a year. It has a large swimming pool with numerous fountains; beds for a thousand guests, it is claimed; a huge administration building for shops and stores and many other varied structures. It was all equipped with fancy furnishings and paintings on the stuccoed walls of the numerous walkways, bars, courts, etc. Caretakers are standing by and it is hoped the place can be opened again. If it isn't however, it will only take a few years for the jungle growth to swallow it up.

A group of us went swimming at the hotel location and the beach was wonderful. Only drawback was the presence of a sort of thin-shelled egg fish about 4 or 5 inches in diameter with his spine like a porky. You must not step on these.

The deserted resort (which even has small fishing boats afloat and its own dock) is a mile or two from "Settlement." At the dock, Capt. Toley knew most of the natives who met the boat as he fishes in these waters and takes out "charter" parties. One of the negroes offered to get us some crawfish (which they call lobsters in Florida). So we accepted his offer. A few hours later he came sailing in his little boat and said he would be back as soon as he cooked them.

Throwing the "lobsters" in a large can he soon boiled them up on the beach. The cost for a dozen was $2 and we threw in a half dollar for the cooking. He was immensely pleased. For dinner the six Riches and Capt. Toley and his mate, Allen Gray, cleaned up on 10 of the crawfish... the Riches dined a worthy share of the eating.

Natives seem to make a living by fishing or catching the crawfish for the Florida trade. There is a brisk demand for these crawfish and one chap has been flying them over to Florida. It was here that we saw the live conch being picked up and taken from the shells by native women. They used a big machete-type knife. After knocking a hole in the pointed end they grab the meaty conch (called conk) and pulled it forth. They are used for salad, soup, or cooked up in one fashion or another or eaten raw.

Before "anchoring out" for the night we visited the village, picked up some odd shells and listened to some calypso songs and music chiefly about the conch... "which ain't got no 'bone'..." (To Be Continued)

The new Calvary Reformed Church of modified colonial design will be dedicated at a series of three services this week starting with a dedicatory worship Tuesday night. The church has been under construction about a year and was recently completed at a cost of $70,000. It seats 400 persons. A bell in the tower calls people to worship each Sunday.

Calvary Church Being Dedicated This Week

The new Calvary Reformed Church, located about two miles east of Holland on Eighth St., will be dedicated this week at a series of three meetings. The church of which the Rev. Raymond Denekas is pastor was organized Sept. 6, 1951, with 42 families and now numbers 52 families.

Wednesday p. m., Dr. John R. Mulder, president of Western Theological Seminary, delivered the dedicatory message and Roger Hendricks, student pastor of the church during the summer of 1951, brought greetings. The service of dedication was read by the pastor, Henry Muyskens, co-chairman of the building committee, presented the keys to the pastor, Mrs. Preston Van Zoeren was at the organ and Mrs. Nick Oosterink of Grandville provided special music.

Wednesday evening was designated as Appreciation Night, and the Rev. Joshua Hogenboom, director of church extension of the Particular Synod of Chicago, delivered the message. The Rev. John Benes, chairman of extension work in the Holland classis, brought greetings. Music was provided by the Calvary Four and the Ladies Sextet of Calvary church.

This evening has been designated as Fellowship Night and greetings will be brought by the Rev. Harry Vander Ark of the neighboring Holland Heights Christian Reformed Church, by Rev. John Beebe of Niekerk Christian Reformed Church and by Wilson Reenker of Ebenezer Reformed Church. Music will be provided by the Junior Choir and by a mixed chorus.

The newly completed church has a seating capacity of nearly 400. The building contractor was Nick Oosterink, formerly employed by the Board of Domestic Missions of the Reformed Church in America.

When the church was organized in the summer of 1951, Roger Hendricks, student at Western Seminary, was the first student minister. In addition to preaching, he conducted a survey in the area. Serving on the first consistory were Maurice Vander Haar, Henry Muyskens, Gerrit Van Doornik and Gerrit Ver Beek, elders, and Jack Boeriger, William Oonk, Lester Van Ry and Preston Van Zoeren, deacons. John Baldwin is an elder in the present consistory.

Rev. Denekas, pastor of the church, came to Holland from Lennox, S. D. He is a native of German Valley, Ill. Mrs. Denekas is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Mooi of Holland. The Denekases have two children, Carol Rae and Jimmy.

Please Return Those Borrowed Costumes

Do you have a Dutch costume around the house that doesn't belong to you? One you maybe borrowed a year or two ago and didn't return it??

The Chamber of Commerce in taking inventory of the costumes it owns is about two dozen costumes short.

These costumes—all men's—were lent out mostly to persons participating in street scrubbing ceremonies. Then the men wear them home and forget to return them.

Send them back, please...

Millard Promises Full Enforcement Of Anti-Red Bill

LANSING (UP)—State Attorney General Frank G. Millard said Tuesday he will enforce the Trucks Communist-control law to the full extent of his ability, now that the U. S. Supreme Court has cleared the way.

But Millard said he must examine the high court's full, three-page opinion before he can determine how far the state can go in enforcing the 1952 law.

"You can depend upon it, we will do everything possible to make the law effective," Millard said.

Until Monday, the state was barred from enforcing the Trucks act by a federal court injunction which had the effect of suspending the law until the Supreme Court could decide a test case.

On Monday, the court, in a 7 to 2 unsigned opinion, side-stepped a ruling, saying it would withhold any decision until Michigan courts interpret its meaning. This nullified the injunction.

Attorney Ernest Goodman of Detroit said he hopes to start a new state court test within a few days. This could lead to another injunction prohibiting enforcement of the law.

Justices William O. Douglas and Hugo Black dissented from the high court decision to side-step a ruling.

The opinion came too late to bar candidates of the Socialist-Labor party from the April 6 Michigan election ballot. State officials had planned to ask that the party be barred under the Trucks act, but their hands were tied by the injunction.

The injunction was secured by William Albertson, executive secretary of the Communist party, who brought suit three days after the law went into effect, saying it deprived him of his constitutional rights.

Albertson appealed to the Supreme Court after a lower court panel of three federal judges upheld the Trucks law as constitutional.

The Trucks act, sponsored by Rep. Kenneth Trucks (R-Baldwin) requires Communists and knowing members of Communist-front organizations to register with the State Police within 30 days and once a year thereafter, bars Communists and Communist-front organizations from the ballot, opens State Police files on Communists to other police agencies, provides penalties up to life imprisonment for subversion and sabotage and requires the state attorney general to publish an annual list of subversive organizations.

Peter S. Boter, local attorney, continued his review on wills and trust funds at a meeting of the study group after the regular meeting.

Junior League Stages Play for Woman's Club

The weekly meeting of the Woman's Literary Club Tuesday afternoon was turned over to its junior organization, the Junior Welfare League, which presented a one-act farce for the program. Programs by the Junior League have become an annual tradition in club history.

Accomplishments of the Junior League the past year were cleverly related in poetry by Mrs. Lincoln Sennett who listed the various projects, the money earned and the objects purchased, all in rhyme. She also introduced Miss Kay Steketee, play director, who explained the one-act farce and listed the cast. Mrs. William Beebe assisted with production.

The rollicking farce, "Spy Me This One," by John Kirkpatrick, concerned the evening's adventures in the home of a pretty young matron who was joining the Secret Service. It was complete with exchange of black suitcases, guns, daggers and even a time bomb in a suitcase.

Mrs. Vernon Post, the former Roberta Gierich, took the part of Evelina Brackett, the young matron who took to spying while her husband was out on a business trip. Mrs. William Venhuizen appeared as the maid, Hannah, who spent most of the time in a locked closet. Mrs. Andrew Volink appeared as Susan Price, the agent employing Evelina. Assorted

Single Vote Delays Flat-Topping of County Building

ALLEGAN (Special) — The old town wouldn't look the same if they tore down the red and white tower of the old county building.

Even though voters okayed by a small majority a proposal to flat-top the 65-year-old building in the November election, it seems now that the citizenry isn't at all sure they want it that way. Flat-topping the familiar court house at a cost of $65,000 has become quite a controversy.

Well, the court house will not be changed for a while.

A motion to accept low bid of $40,747 and start work immediately on flat-topping the court house was defeated by a single vote Thursday afternoon at a special meeting of the Board of Supervisors.

The 17-16 vote climaxed three hours of discussion and argument and left the status of the building about where it was a year ago. At that time a firm of architects offered the board three choices — to make temporary repairs to the shaky clock tower and roof, to flat-top the structure, or to build a new court house. The board chose the flat-topping course and put the question to a vote of the people.

Thursday's vote concerned the low bid of Harrington Construction Co. of Fennville amounting to $40,747, considerably less than the $65,000 expenditure approved in November. Bert Person, who acted as spokesman for the building committee, originally submitted a report "without recommendation" in which it was reported Harrington's bid was a fair one and that he was a competent contractor.

The board room was filled with spectators. Several private citizens spoke in opposition to the plan. Leo W. Hoffman, publisher of the Allegan Gazette, urged that the board delay action until a more thorough study could be made. Others said voters didn't understand the exact meaning of the program when they voted in November.

Forest Pedge of Allegan presented petitions signed by more than 200 persons opposed to flat-topping. He said he had been refused by only three persons when he offered petitions for signatures during the two days he circulated them.

Dr. Russell Baker, president of the Allegan Junior Chamber of Commerce, presented a Jaycee resolution pointing out the plan was "not adequate . . . merely temporary and wasteful."

Clarence Mosser, Otsego city supervisor, accused the Allegan Gazette of printing "all sorts of untruths and trying to get the people all stirred up about this thing."

A motion to table the question until the April session lost 19 to 14. Later a motion for appointing a committee to work on alternate plans was defeated. A second proposal that the building committee be authorized to proceed with temporary repairs to the roof and walls was approved, however.

Interim BPW Head Named in Zeeland

ZEELAND (Special)—City Clerk John Holleman has been appointed temporary Board of Public Works Superintendent to succeed Robert A. Fricke whose resignation will become effective March 20.

The appointment was made at the regular meeting of Common Council Monday night in the City Hall.

Fricke had previously submitted his resignation to Council at the last meeting. He has accepted a position in Milwaukee, Wis.

Council authorized Mayor D. C. Bloemendaal to appoint a committee to investigate and recommend a candidate for the permanent position as superintendent. Bloemendaal named Alfred Berghorst, John Stephenson, Frank Hoogland and William Vandembush to this committee.

An election board for the April 6 election was approved. Appointed with chairman Holleman were P. T. Moerdyk, Peter Staal Jr., Al Geerlings, Nick Cook, Stephenson and Peter De Kock.

A report by the nominating commission of Council was presented by chairman H. C. Miller. The report listed candidates who had agreed to run for municipal offices in the election. Council commended the commission for its efforts and adopted the report.

Paas and Paas Construction Company of Spring Lake, who was awarded the contract for the new water project at the last meeting, was ordered not to obstruct or hinder Mulder construction company that is presently engaged in laying sewer in the same area. Paas had started laying some main lines and Council did not want the firm to hinder Mulder which might possibly have broken the City's contract.

Shore Damage Now Deductible

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty. WASHINGTON (Special)—Holland taxpayers can deduct from their income taxes any damage to shore property resulting from storms.

U.S. Rep. Gerald R. Ford received a letter this morning from the commissioner of internal revenue giving a favorable interpretation to the word "casualty." The Grand Rapids Republican said, "The letter states, and rightly so, that a large share of losses should be deductible where there is proof of damage from the elements."

That would include, Ford added, the destruction of seawalls, piers, or even flooding by rain and water.

Thus, Friday the 13th was a lucky day for Ford who last year got a blanket refusal from the Detroit office of internal revenue.

Ford introduced a corrective bill with Kenneth Keating of New York but that takes time so an "interpretation" was sought. The result could change many a tax return on Michigan owners of lake property.

Exchangites Hear German Speaker

Hans Eberhard Piepho of Hannover, Germany, spoke at the Holland Exchange Club meeting Monday at the Warm Friend Tavern. He is one of 108 young men and women from Germany who are studying public institutions and educational practices in the United States. His subject was "Life in Germany Today."

The speaker said that the job of establishing democracy in Germany falls on the youth who were disillusioned after the war and tended toward dictatorship. Work of re-education by the U.S. and German Youth Activity Clubs sponsored by the U.S. have been a great aid, he said.

Effort also is being made Piepho said, to erase the sharp differences between Germany's old educational groups. For a long time, a highly cultural education was provided for about only a fifth of German youth. The majority have had only vocational training.

Problems faced by youth promoting democracy include the struggle for power between labor unions and industrialists, the speaker said. In discussing Germany's co-operation in plans for Western defense, he said German reluctance stems from the hope for a United Germany and "co-operation means separation."

Since militarists say the only good defense line is along the Rhine River, any future war would be fought on German territory, and this the people dread, he said. Piepho also cited impressive evidence of democracy in action as he has seen it in the U.S.

Russell Welch introduced the speaker. President William Aldrich conducted the meeting.

Auxiliary Names 'Wife of the Year'

Mrs. Willis Welling was selected as Holland's "Jaycee Wife of the Year" at a regular meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Auxiliary Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Jay C. Petter, East 22nd St.

Mrs. Welling's name now will be sent to state judges who will choose the Michigan Jaycee Wife of the Year. She was chosen by the local group on the basis of home and civic interests, church activities, etc. Men of the local Jaycees nominated four wives of members for the honor and Auxiliary members made the final selection. Other nominees were Mrs. Peter, Mrs. Jerry Tillema and Mrs. George Braun.

During the business meeting conducted by Mrs. Braun, president, the organization voted to support this year's Community Ambassador plan. Mrs. Albert Schwartz was appointed by the president to represent JCC-Auxiliary on the Hospital Auxiliary board for a two-year term.

The remainder of the evening was spent sewing for the Tulip Time project. Mrs. Irvin De Weerd and Mrs. Welling were co-hostesses for the meeting.

In April, the group will have its annual dinner meeting and election of officers. Mrs. El Rowder and Mrs. Braun will be co-hostesses

Dutchmen Meet South at Civic Wednesday Night

Holland High School walloped Grand Rapids Creston 63-53 Saturday night in the class A regional basketball finals at Western Michigan College gym in Kalamazoo to move into the quarter-finals of the state tournament.

Big Dean Vander Wal was at his best of the season Saturday night as he plunked in 33 of Holland's total 63 points. That establishes a new Holland High individual scoring record. The previous one-game mark was 30 points by Roger Eggers back in 1950-51. Besides his amazing point total, Vander Wal was a tiger on the boards and repeatedly came down with the ball against the game, but outfought Polar Bears.

Vander Wal's point total included nine in the first quarter, four in the second, eight in the third and 12 in the fourth for 13 field goals and seven out of eight foul shots.

But Vander Wal's contribution must take into consideration the constant and accurate feeding of such men as Jack Kemper, Carl Visscher, Terry Burns, Ron Israels and Ken Armstrong. They kept the opposition off balance and then fed it into Vander Wal for the aggressive center's favorite jump shot.

Holland breezed out front 16-10 at the end of the first quarter and outscored the Furniture City team 14-9 during the second quarter to take a comfortable 30-19 halftime lead.

During that half, Holland was using the fast-break offensive a good deal of the time and the teamwork, especially close in, was outstanding.

Creston hopes were jolted the first time the Polar Bears took the ball down the floor when lanky center Stuart Joynte went up in the air and came down cockeyed and twisted his ankle. Joynte is the mainstay of the Creston attack and the ankle slowed him down considerably. However, he did finish the game and scored 11 points to share scoring honors with Bob McClelland.

During that first half Holland players were getting a lot of the long rebounds and were initiating their fast break from there. When the center man coming down was covered they threw out usually to a man on the side who always seemed to be all alone.

More than once during that first half Creston players faked Holland men and then went around for close-in shots. But the solid Dutch defense in toward the center of the basket gummed up Creston's deliberate-style of offense.

During the third quarter Creston managed to get a good share of the rebounds with Joynte and McClelland doing most of the work. Holland outscored the Bears 16-13 in the quarter, however, to lead 46-32.

And Creston came up with 21 points during the last quarter to 17 for Holland. However, at one time Holland was ahead 59-42 after Vander Wal's last six points. At that stage Coach Fred Weiss yanked all his regulars and let the subs finish the game.

Throughout the game Weiss alternated Armstrong and Visscher at the one forward slot and Burns and Van Dyke traded off at guard while Dick Plagenhoef spelled Israels on many occasions.

Besides Vander Wal, Israels had nine, Visscher five, Armstrong six, Kemper and Burns, three apiece. For the game, Holland made 22 out of 48 field goal tries for a solid 45.8 percentage. During the first half the Dutch made 50 percent—13 out of 26. In the foul department it was 17 out of 24.

Holland High School's basketball team was a pleased and determined bunch in the locker room Saturday night after walking off the floor with the Kalamazoo class A regional trophy. The Dutch defeated Grand Rapids Creston in the finals 63-53. But the pleasure was matched with a determination to keep going in state basketball tournament play. Holland met Grand Rapids South in the quarter-finals Wednesday night beginning at 9 p.m. at Grand Rapids Civic Auditorium. Players crowded around Coach Weiss, shown holding the trophy, after the game to pose for this one. (Sentinel photo)

Veteran of Boxing Game Predicts Rocky Will KO Jersey Joe April 10

"A man who should know better than you know brushing them off," heaves the April 10 Rocky Marciano-Jersey Joe Walcott bout at Chicago Stadium "will go a lot like their last fight" when Marciano wrestled the heavyweight crown from Walcott with that knockout punch in the 13th round.

Sam Pian made the remarks after watching Rocky's workout Sunday at Holland Furnace Company picnic grounds. Sam has been connected with the boxing game for more than 30 years and he has handled such fighters as Tony Zale, Barney Ross, Earl Mastro (brother of Chicago Tribune sportswriter Frank Mastro who also was in Holland for the week-end covering the champ's camp) and Davey Day.

At present Pian is directing the training of Alan Moody, 147 pounder who outpointed Joe Greenwood, 149, Akron, O., in an eight-rounder last night in Chicago. Moody knocked out Pat Manzi, the same fellow who defeated Pat Lowry in that Motor City fight last Thursday night.

Pian calls Marciano the "hardest hitter" in the boxing game today. He compares Rocky's punch with that of Jack Dempsey in the early days of colorful Dempsey's career. "He has everything," Pian said. "He's young, can take a punch and loves to fight."

To prove his point, Pian points out that Marciano knocked out such illustrious fighters as Rex Layne, Joe Louis, Walcott and Harry Matthews with "just one punch." Pian is especially impressed with Rocky's willingness to train and constantly keep in tip-top condition. "He reminds me a lot of Tony Zale," Pian said. "Zale used to work out for 10 or 13 rounds and we would have to kick him out of the gym and many is the time he sneaked back in for more work."

In answer to the question of whether or not Rocky takes too many punches to land a good one, Pian said, "He's a rugged fighter, and maybe crude, but he doesn't get hit as many times as it looks. He's got his own way, even if it looks crude, of taking those punches such as riding with them. . . and you know brushing them off."

After the workout, Pian commented that Rocky looks "plenty sharp" right now.

So for a man who predicted that Gavilan would knock out Chuck Davey in the ninth or 10th round, his forecast of the upcoming bout should mean quite a bit.

Grandstanding...

More than $500 worth of tickets to Saturday's Holland-Creston game were sold in Holland before the game time, according to Athletic Director Joe Moran. Many other Holland fans purchased their ducats at the gate.

It was strictly a Holland crowd at Saturday's game. And the local fans really whooped it up. Hats off to the corps of cheerleaders for their enthusiasm not only Saturday, but the other tournament games as well.

Midway in the fourth period when Coach Fred Weiss replaced his first stringers each was accorded a loud ovation from the crowd. And especially so for Dean Vander Wal, who scored 33 points.

Across the way, cheering about as loud as anyone were Superintendent of Schools Walter W. Scott, Principal J. J. Riemersma and Assistant Principal Austin Buchanan.

Creston had a few scattered fans, but no cheerleaders.

As soon as the final horn sounded players hoisted Coach Weiss to their shoulders and carried him across the floor while hundreds of students and fans crowded around to offer congratulations.

Tournament director Joe Hoy, coach at Western Michigan, had gone to the scoring table with the trophy and he followed the mob scene to the other side of the floor where he presented the trophy to Coach Weiss.

It was a full five minutes before the coach could get to the locker room. The players, meanwhile, went downstairs and congratulated the Creston players before going across the hall to their own locker room. And Creston Coach Henry Schrupp came into the Holland locker room to offer his congratulations.

Play Concludes In Grade League

Play in the Holland Recreation department - sponsored grade school league at Holland Christian high school gym closed Saturday with one playoff game and several All-Star tussles. John Ham was supervisor throughout the season.

In a special playoff game to decide the eighth grade champions, the Blackjacks edged the Spartans 9-6, in a nip and tuck ball game. Ron Weener was high for the winners with four followed by Dave Klaver with three. Rog. Mulder, had five for the losers.

The eighth grade All Stars, however turned the tables on the champs in the All Star tilt, however, by stopping the Blackjacks, 19-17 in overtime. Dale Klaver paced the Blackjacks with 13 while Rog. Mulder had eight for the Stars.

The seventh grade All Stars stopped the seventh grade champs, the Shooting Stars, 12-2 in a lopsided affair. However the runner-up Lakers in the seventh grade loop bumped the sixth grade All Stars, 25-18. Balanced scoring featured the Lakers' attack with Jeff. Altena, getting seven, followed by Bill Van Apiedorn and Andy Buursma with six apiece. Paul Rillema was high for the Stars with five points.

In a close ball game, the seventh grade All Stars eked out a 23-19 win over the eighth grade runnerup, Spartans, in two overtimes. Jim Kool and Cal Klaassen paced the Stars with seven and five points respectively, while Herm Tuls had eight and Jim Vander Vusse, six for the losers.

Closing out the action, the sixth grade All Stars walloped the Wolverines, sixth grade champs, 9-2.

According to the N. Y. Journal of Commerce, more than a billion air coach passenger miles were flown in the first six months of 1952, an increase of more than 70 per cent over 1951.

Carroll C. Crawford, former Superintendent of Holland schools and now with the Kalamazoo board of education, attended the game and came to the Holland locker room afterwards to congratulate the team and coaches.

Officials for Saturday's game were Del Anderson, head football coach at Albion College, and John Clevenger, who is rounding out his 30th year as a basketball official.

Dean Vander Wal actually scored 35 points, but two were credited to Stuart Joynte. Both went up for a rebound and Vander Wal accidentally tipped the ball upward and it fell nicely through the net for two points. In as much as Joynte went up with him, the official scorer credited the Creston center with a field goal.

Three radio stations, including WHTC of Holland, broadcast a play-by-play account of the game. The others were the Western Michigan College FM station and WKZO of Kalamazoo.

Rocky Marciano's two sparring partners, Phil Sanderson and Toxie Hall, have become avid Holland High fans during the tournament and listen to all the games. Rocky himself listens until his 9:30 bedtime.

The trophy presented to Holland High for winning the regional was nothing new to Coach Weiss. He was on a special committee of coaches that went to Lansing to select trophies for this year's tournament. "You should see the one for next Saturday night," he commented.

Castle Park Home Damaged by Fire

The interior of the ranch-type home of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Peirce was considerably damaged by fire Sunday evening. Firemen from the Graafschap Fire Department arrived at the home located a half-mile north of Castle Park at 9:45 p.m. and were at the scene for about two hours.

The fire believed to have started from an electric motor was confined mostly to the northwest side of the house although smoke damaged the south wing.

An invalid son, Joe, a student at Hope College, was removed from the home when the flames spread rapidly. Credit was given a local telephone operator when she traced the call to the home after the first call had been disconnected when flames reached the telephone.

Castle Park Home Damaged by Fire

The interior of the ranch-type home of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Peirce was considerably damaged by fire Sunday evening. Firemen from the Graafschap Fire Department arrived at the home located a half-mile north of Castle Park at 9:45 p.m. and were at the scene for about two hours.

The fire believed to have started from an electric motor was confined mostly to the northwest side of the house although smoke damaged the south wing.

An invalid son, Joe, a student at Hope College, was removed from the home when the flames spread rapidly. Credit was given a local telephone operator when she traced the call to the home after the first call had been disconnected when flames reached the telephone.

RON BOS
... Captain and Most Valuable ...

Team Names Ron Bos Captain, Most Valuable

Senior Ron Bos of Holland was voted captain and most valuable player of the 1952-53 Hope College basketball team by his teammates Thursday afternoon.

The double accolade is a fitting tribute to the versatile guard who, despite a painful knee injury, led his team to a victory over Kalamazoo College just last Monday night in that championship playoff game.

Bos thus is in the running for the Randall C. Bosch award presented annually to the most valuable player in the MIAA. Each member school selects a candidate and Judge Advocate DeGay Ernst selects the award winner from that list.

Bos injured his knee Jan. 24 in a game at the Armory and since that time has played on a part-time basis for the champion collegians. However, during the season he scored 269 points to end up second highest on the team. His average was a little better than 16 points a game.

Holland basketball Coach Fred Weiss (left) and his assistant Bob Connell are devising ways and means of beating Grand Rapids Creston in the regional finals at Western Michigan gym in Kalamazoo tonight. It's a tough job to keep the squad informed on what to expect from their foes time after time. But so far the Holland mentors have guided the 1952-53 team to one of the best season records in Holland High School history—14 wins and just one loss (not including two victories so far in tournament play.) It's tough going for these workmen shown laying tile for the main trunk line of the Zeeland sewer project. The picture was taken recently when the crew crossed State St. just south of the city. The trunk line is some 4,800 feet long and about 25 per cent of the total job. Constantly hampered by bad weather and surface water, progress has been difficult. A new crane will be put into use soon and is expected to greatly facilitate installation. The $150,000 contract from the City of Zeeland was awarded to Mulder Welding and Steel Fabricating company of Holland. Company officials estimate the project will be completed this fall.
