Completion Date Set For 1965

City Council Wednesday night sold $450,000 worth of revenue bonds to finance Project Windmill to Goodbody and Co. with offices in New York, Chicago and Detroit, at an interest rate of 4.224 per cent. One other bid had just exceeded 4.25 per cent.

Over a 20-year period, total interest will amount to $236,650. The project is scheduled to be completed and open to the public by Tulip Time (May) of 1965.

Meanwhile, several local persons have expressed interest in purchasing bonds known officially as Windmill Island Recreational Facilities revenue bonds. City Auditor John W. Fonger said inquiries totaled in the neighborhood of $55,000. A representative of Goodbody and Co. was in Holland today to talk with would-be purchasers.

The bond sale was approved by an 8 to 1 vote with Councilman John Van Eerden dissenting.

Later in the evening, Council unanimously approved a recommendation outlined by City Manager Herb Holt to set up a Windmill Island department in the city which will operate, maintain and manage the Windmill Island Recreational system in accordance with the ordinance, the charter, and the policies of City Council.

The recommendation also called for creation of the office of Director of Windmill Island who will be responsible for the operation of the department. The director will be appointed according to provisions of the city charter. Holt's report included a job description as prepared by the personnel officer.

This director will be responsible for the administration, operation, maintenance, promotion and advising on development of a municipally owned, cultural and recreational revenue-producing facility in Holland.

Windmill Island covers an area of 36 acres with potential future expansion. The $450,000 will finance development of the facility, and the annual operating budget is estimated to be $125,000. It is forecast that within two years the annual average attendance will approximate 500,000 visitors.

The island will emphasize Dutch culture and heritage of the community through such features as an authentic, operating Dutch windmill imported from the Netherlands which will dominate the landscape, a Dutch church, a miller's house and barn, a museum, draw bridge, canals, dikes, boats and flowers — especially tulips.

The Project Windmill manager will work under the general administrative director of the city manager in accomplishing assigned responsibilities. This includes a continuous awareness of the fact that Windmill Island must be operated as a self-supporting facility and be made to pay all costs involved, including principal and interest on the revenue bonds.

The manager will recommend the type of concession sales to be made at the island, not only as a service and convenience for visitors, but as a source of revenue for the facility. This involves location of concession stands, negotiations for merchandise to be sold, and control procedures on receipts and inventory. The manager also will be responsible for promoting Windmill Island through utilization of all recognized media of mass communication and advertising.

Still later in the evening, Park Supt. Jacob De Graaf spoke briefly at attending conferences in Wheeling, W. Va., with City Treasurer Jack Leenhouts, also Holland's personnel officer, last week.

The conferences were geared to revenue producing projects and sponsored by the American Institute of Park Executives. De Graaf said tourism is increasing all over the country and in the world, and found the professionals present at the conference most interested in Holland's plans for establishing a windmill development.

West Ottawa Will Accept Tuition Pupils

Seventh and eighth graders of Federal and Harrington schools will be accepted as tuition students next year at West Ottawa Junior High School, the West Ottawa Board of Education decided Monday night.

Federal school will have 27 seventh and eighth graders and Harrington School 58 seventh and eighth graders, according to communications from the two school boards.

Five new elementary teaching candidates have accepted invitations to join the West Ottawa faculty next fall. They are Judith Ryce, Susan Mooy, Louise Thiesse, Karagay Smith and Mary Proos. On the secondary level, the board will offer contracts to Harley Brown for vocal music and Judy Quist for girls physical education.

The board paid tribute to the memory of William Machiele, a school bus driver since the district was organized in 1955 who died Feb. 29. Besides driving a bus, Machiele was instrumental in acquiring automobiles for use in driver education. It was recalled that when his bus of kindergartners was stuck one stormy day a half mile from the nearest shelter, he carried the children one at a time through the snow to a safe location.

Supt. Lloyd Van Raalte informed the board the option had been exercised for the new site for a central elementary school and bids will be opened March 31 in the little auditorium of the high school. A service area boundary report revealed that boundaries were being set up in quarter-mile squares. Based on the number of students within these areas, schools will be assigned for the 1964-65 school year. The new Central school will be included in the assignments.

The board spent considerable time discussing salary schedules, possible state equalized valuations, reimbursement per child for state aid and deductible millage. An estimated 1964-65 budget with operating costs was worked out.

The board scheduled a special meeting March 26 to take final action on salary schedules. Robert Darrow, salary committee chairman of the West Ottawa MEA district, submitted the committee recommendation for salaries. The March 26 meeting was scheduled so that contracts could be in the hands of teachers before spring vacation.

In other business, the board approved payment of $91,306.95 in bills payable and adopted a policy on transportation. Included in this policy is retiring school buses every seven years.

Hospitality Will Accent Tulip Time

Dutch hospitality will be sharply emphasized this year during the Tulip Time festival May 13 through 16, according to information submitted at a regular meeting of the Tulip Time board of directors Tuesday afternoon.

Downtown merchants plan to set up a Hospitality House, possibly in the Nies building, where visitors will be welcomed by merchants in Dutch costumes speaking Dutch phrases if not the Dutch language.

Participating merchants will pass out cards making visitors honorary Dutch citizens. These cards, bearing some Dutch words and signed by Burge-meester Nelson Bosman, will bring the visitor a cup of coffee on presentation at the hospitality center.

Besides this bit of Dutch hospitality, merchants already have ordered 100 plastic liners for potted tulips to be placed in display windows. Arrangements also have been completed for special Dutch displays through the Netherlands Chamber of Commerce in New York. These will include small windmills, carousels, Dutch wares and general display materials.

Miss Lavina Cappon and Mrs. Duncan Weaver will arrange for displaying authentic Dutch costumes on mannequins in downtown windows, providing further interest in festival displays. Several stores and other institutions such as local banks are ordering Dutch costumes for their employees this year.

Proposed major changes included the changing of Lake Ave. to Second St., Sheldon Rd. to Fifth St., and a drive along the lake front and river front to a Fountain Way. A tank of butane gas, which apparently developed a leak during the night, exploded when Schrotenboer plugged in an electric extension cord.

Driver Ticketed

ZEELAND — Zeeland city police ticketed Mrs. Evelyn Van Dorp, 47, of 520 West Central, Zeeland, for improper starting from a parked position when she pulled away from a curb and hit a car driven by Mrs. Marion Schaaap, 41, of 207 North Michigan, Zeeland. The accident occurred Tuesday afternoon on Main Ave. in Zeeland.

As of July 1, rates in Holland Hospital will be increased $3 a day to provide funds which in time will pay off revenue bonds which will finance the next scheduled addition to the hospital.

This information was made known to City Council Wednesday night in a communication from the Hospital Board. Similar information was in the mail today to local businessmen and other leaders well in advance of the scheduled increase so that there will be ample time to adjust insurance plans, etc.

Holland Hospital currently is planning another addition to meet the growing needs of the community, and the finance committee after exploring all possible means has concluded that the most equitable method would be through the sale of revenue bonds. This decision was made after an occupancy study indicated that almost half of the patients come from outside the city.

Because of this, the committee felt it would be unfair for the taxpayers in the city to bear the entire cost if financed through general obligation bonds. Through the revenue bond plan, bonds will be paid for by revenue from patients using the hospital, thus spreading the cost more equitably.

Probable costs of the new addition may range from $1.5 million to $2 million. Spread over a 20-year period, this would mean an increase in rates of $3 to $4 a day, over and above any increase needed to cover higher operating costs.

The proposed $3 increase a day will place ward rates at $22 and semi-private rates at $24.50. These rates may have to be adjusted when final building costs have been determined. Putting this increase into effect now will enable the hospital to build up some reserve by the time first bonds fall due. Funds also are needed for planing purposes. The hospital has no such reserves.

The letter to businessmen, signed by John H. Van Dyke, president of the Hospital Board, also pointed to recent changes in policies in that it has been necessary to refuse admission to some non-emergency patients because there are seldom enough beds available.

To compound this problem, the State Health Department has directed Holland Hospital to remove all beds from corridors and has told the hospital administration that there are no conditions which justify putting beds back in the corridors.

The letter also pointed out that most other departments are in need of more space. These needs have been documented by the hospital consultants, the James A. Hamilton Associates.

Women's Achievements Recognized by Club

Recognition of women's efforts to better the community, past, present and future, provided an interesting and informative program for the Woman's Literary Club Tuesday afternoon.

The well rounded program covered volunteer effort in hospital work, migrant ministry, education, mental health, library, plus the encompassing concern of home and family life, and the welfare of the community.

Mrs. Richard Oudersluys, a member of the hospital board, quoting Shakespeare in "mercy twice blessed" said the women who gave 12,848 hours of volunteer service in Holland Hospital last year derive a measure of satisfaction in helping others. This huge volunteer effort is equivalent to the services of six full time employees. In addition, the auxiliary purchased about $5,000 worth of furnishings and equipment last year.

Mrs. Oudersluys pointed to the new building program which is slated for completion in 1967, general plans to finance it through revenue bonds, and the fact that 47 per cent of hospital patients come from outside Holland city.

Mrs. Robert Horner, president of Family Service and the Michigan Children's Aid Society, said the family usually comes first with women, then come such interests as PTA's and church, and as women learn more about their communities they sometimes uncover needs not readily recognized. She explained the new family counseling service and the established services of adoptions and care to foster children of the society, and said awareness of mental health in Holland has improved by leaps and bounds but there still is much to be done and a need for continued volunteer work.

Mrs. George Pelgrim described the work of the Migrant Ministry as a service to the invisible poor of America—that group of migrant crop workers whose income ranks under adject poverty, people who have no roots, no homes and no education. She explained the child care center north of Holland and the dedicated work of hundreds of Holland women in improving the lot of this group of seasonal workers.

Mrs. Calvin Vander Werf, as final speaker, did an excellent job of pulling together a mass of facts and attitudes in stating that women see things from a peculiar vantage point and usually are geared to the needs of their own families and children. "Men get tied up with all other angles such as costs (very important) but women usually end up thinking about the children (equally important.)"

"Children seldom know what is good for them and when we are faced with a problem such as eliminating science in junior high, the youngsters may regard this as a break because it is a hard subject, but it is the parents (often the mothers) who must stand up and see such things are corrected," she said. She pointed out that in 1961 Holland spent $428 per child on education, one dollar more than the state average, but in 1963 Holland was spending $367 while the state average has risen to $478.

Mrs. Ralph Stolp explained the work of the Holland Assembly of Women's Organizations: covering some 30 women's groups whose representatives meet twice a year as a clearing house for information as well as setting up a calendar of important dates, working through the Chamber of Commerce.

Margaret Van Vyven, coordinator for elementary schools, talked generally of educational systems in Holland, and the great concern for the best possible education in public and private schools as well as in Hope College. She told parents to be good examples to children—let them see you reading a library book instead of telling them to read, and urged positive attitudes to provide the best in education.

She mentioned the possibility of having the club promote a woman as member of the school board where a vacancy exists and paid tribute to three previous women members, all members of the club, who had served extremely well as members of the board. They were Mrs. George E. Kollen, Mrs. Kenneth De Pree and Mrs. John K. Winter. This suggestion bore fruit later in the meeting when the club decided to promote Mrs. Jerome Counihan for this office and provide petitions for signatures.

Mrs. Henry Steffens, a member of the library board, said libraries no longer are storehouses for books, but they are everybody's university in that in addition to books, they provide art, films, music, puppet shows, adult programs and a variety of other services. As a representative on the Community Ambassador board, she interviewed Jane Onken of Christian High school who had attended Girls' State in Ann Arbor last June under sponsorship of the Literary Club, and Judy Swieringa, a Hope student, who spent two months in India last year as Holland's Community Ambassador.

Both girls spoke of the rare experiences they had had in meeting other people, and Miss Swieringa spoke of wholesome attitudes in India in breaking a previous barrier of hate toward the British and Americans.

Mrs. Counihan, club program chairman, served as moderator of the group. The program was arranged by the Current Affairs committee headed by Mrs. Thomas De Pree and Mrs. Robert Mills. Mrs. W. J. Van Dyke explained the upcoming "Attic Specials" April 24 in the club building. Mrs. Kenneth Kooker, club president, presided.

City Hospital Is Accredited For 3 Years

Holland Hospital has been accredited for another three-year period by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals with headquarters in Chicago which issued its annual report as of Dec. 31, 1963.

The presence of hospitals on the list means they have complied in the main with the standards of the joint commission. These standards have been compiled over the years by the medical and hospital professions. They are minimal and it is hoped hospitals will make every effort to exceed them. Hospitals with less than 25 adult beds are not eligible for accreditation.

The inspection team of the joint commission visited Holland Hospital Monday, Nov. 25, the date of President Kennedy's funeral.

Other hospitals accredited in the local area are Allegan Health Center, Grand Haven Municipal Hospital and Pipp Community Hospital in Plainwell.

A Teacher's Credo

By Calvin A. Vander Werf
My business is education. I am proud to be a teacher. I believe in education with my whole heart.

To guide, to lead, to inspire, to ignite the spark and fan the fire, as the young begin their eternal quest to develop their God-given powers and capacities — this is indeed a sacred and holy calling! For me, there is no more significant mission under Heaven.

For we, as teachers, are entrusted with society's most priceless possession—your sons and daughters. In our hands is placed the most precious commodity on the face of the earth — educated talent. Here alone is potential unlimited — human resources, as yet undeveloped and unfulfilled, but with possibilities that are divinely endowed.

And never before in the history of mankind has the task of education been more challenging or more crucial. For you and I, and all of civilization, are standing at the threshold of the knowledge explosion. Mankind is just now learning how to learn. We are entering the age of intellectual revolution. The wick in the lamp of knowledge has just been trimmed — the fuse on the dynamite of education has at last been lit.

Growth of Knowledge
Man has learned more in the

has held back the flood of knowledge is about to burst; the flood gates of education are about to be opened. From this will come advances such as the world has not yet seen.

The development of computers, for example, will alone extend the power of man's mental processes as fully as the machine has extended his manual strength and dexterity. Our computer manufacturers predict that within five years they will develop a machine that can think somewhat better than the average high school graduate.

As never before in the history of man, the age of the intellectual revolution will demand men and women whose mental and spiritual powers are developed to the limits of their capacity. Never before has a man or woman who has nothing to offer but a strong back been so completely dispensable. It is a stark fact that the age of automation will hold no place for the unskilled, the uneducated, or the poorly educated.

But do not think that I intend to lead the charge of the fright brigade. For it is now apparent that, just in time to meet the challenge of the exponential burst of knowledge and of the demand for higher quality education than we have ever known before, a dynamic, re-vitalizing enthusiasm for learning is sweeping the country. I have visited school systems for the National Science Foundation in almost every state in the nation, and almost everywhere I have found the educational ferment inspiring.

New Learning Programs
Teachers and students, alike, in the urban centers and in the backwoods are excited, thrilled, and stimulated. They are challenged by the new math, they are arguing CHEM study vs.

Chemical Bond Approach, they are proving that language learning should begin in the grades. They are sold on PSSC physics, they are debating the relative merits of "blue," "red," and "green" biology, and they are exploring exciting methods for teaching English, history, government, and social studies.

Administrators and teachers are discovering that even the "dull" and the "lazy" have special aptitudes which flower and flourish when properly cultivated.

The total effect can be stated in simple terms. From kindergarten on, the love of learning, the exhilaration of thinking, and the joy of knowing are no longer reserved for the brain and the grind. They are gripping students across the board at all levels, and the results are amazing — we are just beginning to discover how much the average boy or girl can really learn. And for the sake of a better tomorrow, we must teach them, and teach them well.

Education A Necessity
Our patriotic duty is clear. The handwriting on the wall is unmistakable. No nation, no state, no community which loses its faith in or vision of education will cut much ice in the days to come.

Nikita Khrushchev says repeatedly, "We will bury you." Who will bury whom? The answer is straightforward. On an international, on a national, on a state, and on a community level, literally and figuratively, the educated will bury the uneducated. Where there is no educational vision, the people will indeed perish.

Economically, the answer is the same. Never before in the history of our economy has the road to abundance been so clearly marked. The vehicle is education, and the fuel is knowledge. The lasting antidote for poverty is education.

A community that builds a strong and vital educational program throughout all its school systems has taken the first and most important step in attracting its share of the nation's industry. Any community with the type of skilled and educated labor pool which the space age demands tells the world that it is building an environment in which the future can be born.

Our Religious Duty
What is our religious duty? Theologically, the answer seems to me to be unequivocal. What could be a purer expression of true religion than to provide for all of God's children an opportunity to develop fully their God-given talents? One of the great hallmarks of a God-fearing community should certainly be a total educational program that is second to none in the land. What a tragic risk we run, through irrelevancies, evasion, and excuses, of selling our children's educational birthright for a mess of pottage. The golden, receptive days of youth are irredeemable and ir retrievable — once gone, they are lost forever.

When our eight-year old son runs to me calling, "Dad, Dad!" I know what is coming. It's a question, because like all eight-year olds, Pieter is a bundle of questions.

And time after time, as I see his eagerness, his burning curiosity, his yearning to learn and to know, I say to myself, "What an awesome responsibility, before God, we owe to this young life and to all our youth, to make it possible for them to love the Lord their God with all their minds."

And I thank God that Pieter's teacher is a great teacher who shares this deep concern. For the influence of great teachers does in truth extend to eternity.

My fervent prayer is that the generation of tomorrow's leaders who are educated in our community may always say with Matthew Arnold:

"For eager teachers seized my youth,
Pruned my faith and trimmed my fire,
Showed me the high, white star of Truth,
And there let me gaze, there aspire."

A VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

The announcement of Consumer Power Company that it will spend $45 million at the James H. Campbell plant on Lake Michigan at Port Sheldon is an example of the kind of spending that reaches into every area of the economy.

It indicates a confidence on the part of Consumer Power Co. and the Detroit Edison Co. in the growth of the Michigan economy. The announcement by the officers of the two power companies said the project would "put the Michigan power pool in a still better position to meet increased use of electric power that we foresee for Michigan in the years just ahead."

A few years ago we were besieged by dire predictions of a sharp drop in industry by the State of Michigan. It seemed rather difficult to believe that a State which possessed in abundance that very important ingredient of industry, water, was on the verge of losing its place as a great industrial state.

In addition Michigan had always had a great supply of men whose background had been in a great diversity of industry. We had also the ports which were now connected via the St. Lawrence Seaway with the great ports of the world.

Certainly Consumer Power Company has shown us a different spirit. Along the shores of Lake Michigan it has built the Big Rock Atomic Plant just north of Charlevoix. Only last year it dedicated its James H. Campbell plant at Port Sheldon. Now it is ready to spend $45 million more at Port Sheldon. This is confidence. We congratulate the Company.

Sunday School Lesson

Sunday, March 22
The Two Thieves
Luke 23:32-43
By C. P. Dame

There are a goodly number of contrasts in the Bible. This lesson tells us about the striking contrast that existed between the two thieves who were crucified with Jesus—the one repented and the other one did not.

I. Jesus died with and for sinners. It was not an accident that Jesus was crucified between two thieves. There was malice in this arrangement. The Romans often crucified several criminals at once. This made the retribution more grimly spectacular and besides it saved time. Jesus in life and in death associated with sinners. We do not know for what crimes these two men were crucified—Matthew and Mark call them robbers, they are not mentioned in John's gospel.

Only Luke records the words of the two robbers and the response of Jesus. What a contrast between the two robbers and Jesus! The two were guilty, the one, Jesus was innocent. Jesus prayed for those who crucified Him while the other two at first cursed. Before the cross, the soldiers gambled, "the people stood before him," the rulers "derided Him"—sinners on the cross, sinners before the cross!

II. Sin hardens the hearts of people. Mark says that at first both thieves reviled Jesus, Luke informs us that one was converted. The conduct of Jesus made an impression upon him. When the one thief railed on Jesus the other thief reproved him, saying, "Dost thou not even fear God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation? And we indeed justly; for we receive the due reward of our deeds; but this Man hath done nothing amiss." Sin still hardens the hearts of people. There is plenty of evidence found in our newspapers.

III. Jesus saves sinners to the uttermost. The penitent robber who in legend is called Dismas, Demas and Dumachus asked Jesus to remember him when He would come into His kingdom. Jesus replied, "Today shalt thou be with Me in paradise." Observe that the penitent man confessed his sin. He did not blame conditions, heredity, environment, but himself. The man showed that he was converted by witnessing for Jesus to the other thief, thus showing concern for his eternal welfare.

The Lord's words made the dying thief's closing moments more bearable. The word "today" foretold a speedy end to his suffering. From the cross to heaven—not to purgatory, not to sleep! In the morning the robber was far from Christ, at noon he was close to Christ and in the evening he was with Christ and all the holy angels and the redeemed of all the ages. In order to get to heaven we must repent of our sins and believe in Jesus Christ as Saviour and Lord.

Questers Club Chapters See Antique Collections

The Etta Fox Chapter of Questers entertained the Christine Van Raalte Chapter and the Jane Steketee Chapter Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Will J. Scott. Members of the hostess group appeared in antique costumes and displayed samples of their favorite hobbies.

One member displayed her collection of spectacles which went back as far as 1750. Her collection is called "Eye Glasses Through the Ages."

There was a miniature collection of sterling silver. The collection was inherited from the stock of one of Holland's early and prominent jewelers. The costly jewelry display was much admired as well as the collection of Moon and Star glassware. The beautiful Green Thumb and Bulls Eye glassware caused much comment as well as the Sandwich glass.

There were many pieces of gorgeous china displayed. These included a set of pictorial plates of local scenes which were included in Austria for Holland's Semi-Centennial. The antique hat display was called the "Easter Parade" and consisted of hats worn by the early settlers of Holland, Mich.

There was a large collection of country kitchen pieces. A beautiful antique "Battenburg" tablecloth graced the tea table. A lovely piece of tapestry came from India. Two embroidered Spanish shawls were on display as well as a hand loomed cashmere shawl.

An interesting display of French imports graced the room. The French costume had been worn by the owner's grandmother. This Alsatian costume was used in France on special occasions such as "Bastille Day." The antique linen tablecloth was embroidered in the fashion of Alsace, depicting French scenes and buildings.

Two needlepoint pictures "Christmas Morn" and the "Madonna" were from the large collection of needlepoint pictures embroidered by one of the Quester members.

Panthers Take Second In 5 Events

EAST LANSING — West Ottawa's swimming team placed second in the state in Class B in the championships held at the Men's Intramural Pool at Michigan State University Friday and Saturday before 700 fans.

West Ottawa scored 54 points to far outdistance all but one school, the powerful defending champion Wyandotte Riverview which had 87 points. Riverview won five of the 12 events. Although the Panthers were not able to capture any firsts, they were far ahead of their closest rival, Ypsilanti Roosevelt, which had 26 points.

The other teams which scored points were Detroit Visitation 23, River Rouge 20, Oscoda 18, Harper Woods 15, Detroit Benedictine 14, Fremont 10, Erie Mason 7, Ann Arbor University High 6, Willow Run 4 and Dearborn Sacred Heart 2.

Coach Henry Reest was proud of the showing of his team as they placed men in the finals of eight of the 11 events, with two men qualifying in five events. The Panthers tallied five seconds, one third, three fourths, two fifths, and two sixths in running up their points.

Reest knew by comparing times with different schools that the Panthers had the ability to finish this high but he noted there is a lot of pressure in a meet of this kind and a lot of funny things can happen.

Tom Nienhuis, for example, was off his usual form because of a cramp sustained by the unusual amount of walking required on MSU's campus to get from the dorm to the pool, Reest said.

Reest felt that this year was important even though his squad is young, because next year the Panthers will become Class A and the competition becomes much stiffer. None of the boys who scored points were seniors.

Reest was happy with the performance of several individuals as many new West Ottawa varsity records were set. The 200-yard medley relay team of Dean Boeve, Glenn Hoek, Tom Nienhuis and Bob King placed second in the meet and set a new varsity record of 1:52.3. Rex Smith broke the varsity records in both the 200 and 400-yard freestyle as he placed third and second respectively in the meet. Reest was most pleased with Ron Rosie, who swam the same races as Smith, as he lowered his best time in one event 15 seconds over his best previous showing. Rosie finished fourth in each of these events in the meet.

Walter Seidelman broke the record in the individual medley as he finished second. The 200-yard freestyle relay team of Larry Essenburg, Glenn Hoek, Bob King and Walt Seidelman placed second in the meet and broke the record in this event.

The other West Ottawa point makers were Steve Karsten and freshman Steve Leggett, second and fifth respectively in diving; Nienhuis and Dan Avery, fifth and sixth in the 100-yard backstroke; Ralph Nelson, sixth in the individual medley; and Dean Boeve, fourth in the 100-yard breaststroke. This was one of the few times Boeve has been defeated this season.

Reest was accompanied to the meet by Bruce Pearson and the Athletic Director Herb Maatman. The Panthers received a large trophy as state Class B runnerup. This is the second year West Ottawa has had a swimming team and its second year of competition in the state meet. The Panthers finished sixth last year.

Streuer, travelling west on Douglas Ave., lost control of his car and swerved to the left on the curve at Post Ave. crossing into the parking lot of Jack's Drive In and hitting a parked car owned by Harris Peiper of 114 West 18th St. on the left front. # Youth Jailed Year Awaits Hospitalization

ALLEGAN — A 16-year-old boy has been languishing in Allegan county jail for more than a year—victim of overcrowded conditions at the state hospital to which he was committed by court order.

Reminiscent of the dark ages, the law states that the county sheriff has to care for him until provision can be made to enter him at the hospital. But nobody seems to know when that time will come.

Meanwhile, Children's Services workers of the County Probate Court daily grow more concerned about the youth's welfare, and a juvenile worker assigned to the case says he finds it increasingly difficult to face the same question on every visit, "When am I going to the hospital?"

Mentally unable to cope with society, even within his own home, the boy was originally declared "incorrigible and uneducable" by the court. The only recourse is a mental institution.

The youth was admitted to the jail in November, 1962, at the age of 14. Last summer, the sheriff's staff arranged with the court for another "try" at his own home, and even helped line up a job. Pulling a knife on his employer complicated the situation, and within a relatively short time, the boy was back in jail.

The boy, a husky six-footer, does not qualify for children's wards at state mental institutions, and such youngsters must wait until a vacancy occurs in the already overcrowded adult male wards. No suitable youth detention facilities are available in Allegan county, and officials say the new county youth home will have no specific provision for such cases.

No local law enforcement or probate court official can be blamed for this or similar situations that must exist all over the country; but there must be an answer somewhere, say juvenile workers who are hoping some one will come up with it soon.

West Ottawa May Join OK; Dutch Get Bid

West Ottawa High School has been invited to join the Ottawa-Kent athletic conference, athletic director Herb Maatman said today, and West Ottawa will decide by April 15.

The invitation was extended Tuesday night at a meeting in East Grand Rapids of Ottawa-Kent and Grand Valley League schools.

It was announced at the meeting that Zeeland is contemplating entering the OK League and to begin playing the OK in the 1965-66 season and this would mean dropping out of the Grand Valley League.

"If Zeeland would drop out that would leave the Grand Valley with four teams and cause us to look around," Maatman said. He reported West Ottawa is in the process at present of discussing the OK invitation with the coaches, board of education and fans.

As the result of Zeeland's move, the Grand Valley issued an invitation to nine schools to attend the Tuesday meeting. Five schools attended, including Holland, Hastings, Grand Haven, Muskegon Orchard View and Muskegon Catholic.

These schools were then invited to join the Grand Valley League. The other schools presently in the Grand Valley are East Grand Rapids, Grandville and Godwin.

Maatman reported the OK plans to have 14 or 16 teams and will be divided into a large and small division. The basis for division will be on enrollment and the league "will be a more realistic alignment of schools." "All of the schools are primarily suburban schools comparable to West Ottawa," Maatman said.

Schools presently in the OK are Hudsonville, Forest Hills, Kentwood, Byron Center, Kelloggsville, Lee, Rogers and Wyoming. Invitations were also given to Comstock Park, Middleville, Caledonia, Wayland, Grand Rapids Northview and Kenowa Hills. The last five schools are members of the Expressway League.

Each division of the OK would have the major sports of football, basketball, track and baseball and there would be crossing of divisions in sports such as golf and wrestling where all of the conference teams didn't have a specific sport.

Holland must report to the Grand Valley League by April 10 on its interest in the league. The LMCA will meet next Monday in Muskegon and the question of league realignment will be discussed. Grand Haven is also interested in the Grand Valley League.

A Greater Muskegon League has been proposed but if it fails to materialize Orchard View and Catholic would be interested in the Grand Valley. East and Godwin are not interested in the Grand Rapids City League.

Joe Moran, Holland athletic director, said Holland is bound by the LMCA constitution to remain two years in the LMCA. He felt the biggest obstacle of the LMCA was the travel distance involved. Holland will discuss the new league with the administration, coaches and board of education.

Looking at the Grand Valley, Moran noted that in addition to athletics, the league has competition in debate, vocal and instrumental music and the student councils exchange ideas.

Noting enrollment, Moran said Holland and Grand Haven are on 9-3 plans and have 980 and 1,135 students respectively. The other schools are on an 8-4, and may use freshmen on their athletic teams. East has 927 students; Godwin, 908; Grandville, 1,045; Orchard View, 880; West Ottawa 972 and Hastings, 1,050.

Muskegon Catholic has 1,190 in its top three grades. All of the schools plan increased enrollment in the next few years. Holland's projected enrollment is 1,200 by 1970 while Orchard View with 1,025 next fall and Muskegon Catholic will be 1,500 in the next four years.

Tuesday's meeting resulted from a meeting held about two months ago in Comstock Park when 35 schools met to discuss realignment. Attending the initial meeting were schools from the OK, Grand Valley, Expressway, Tri-River and Seaway conferences.

Auto Rams Into Truck; Two Killed

Couple Were Returning From Trip; Zeeland Truck Driver Injured

An elderly couple was killed and a truck driver injured Thursday at 8:45 p.m. in a car-truck collision at M-40 and the US-31 by-pass.

Adolph Sharlein, 71, and his wife Maude, 70, of 3229 North Alcott Dr., Lupton, Mich., were dead on arrival at Holland Hospital.

Darle Dwayne Meinema, 29, of 450 West Main Ave., Zeeland, driver of the truck, received multiple lacerations and abrasions of the face, knee and forearm. He was released after treatment at Holland Hospital.

Sharlein and his wife were returning from a California vacation and had planned to visit a daughter, Mrs. Harold Romine, 2117 Richardson Dr., before returning home.

The Sharlein car was northbound on M-40 and the truck was heading west on US-31. Police said the Sharlein car crossed the eastbound lane of the highway and rammed into the side of the truck.

Authorities said the truck driver started to swerve off the road just before the impact. The truck knocked down a power pole and ran into a ditch. The truck did not overturn.

Broken glass and pieces of the late model car littered the highway. Fuel leaking from the ruptured gasoline tank of the truck brought a warning from authorities against smoking.

The car was a total loss. The front was completely demolished, the windshield gone, its frame twisted from the force of the impact. The right front wheel, though still attached to the car, lay almost flat on the ground.

Traffic was backed up in all directions around the scene of the accident. Police and volunteers were kept busy trying to clear the area of congestion.

Heavy trucks had to be re-routed through residential areas of the city. The Board of Public Works was called to remove the wires and remains of the flashing warning light that littered the intersection.

Maroons Lose 82-69 Game In Regionals

KALAMAZOO—Holland Christian's basketball team made a valiant try for three quarters here Thursday night but a fourth quarter surge gave Benton Harbor an 82-69 victory in the Class A regional tournament semi-finals.

More than 6,500 persons jammed into the Read Fieldhouse at Western Michigan University to witness the two Class A games. Albion stopped Battle Creek, 74-60 in the opening contest.

Benton Harbor, now 15-3, will meet Albion, 20-0 for the Class A regional title Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in the Read Fieldhouse.

With 5:37 left in the game, Ken Geurink drove the length of the floor and put in a layup to give Christian a six-point, 61-55 lead and it appeared that the Maroons were in a good position to bump the fourth-ranked Tigers.

But then the Tigers began a comeback that netted 10 straight points and gave Benton Harbor command and from then on the Tigers took over complete control to notch the 13-point win.

Three straight Christian mistakes and a four-point Benton Harbor play resulted in the 10 points. Seven seconds after Geurink's basket, Tony Ashman was fouled and hit two free throws.

Mike Pollard took advantage of a Christian misplay and tallied with 4:30 left. Four seconds later, L.C. Bowen countered on a rebound shot to tie the game for the ninth time, 61-61.

With 4:32 left Fred Lewis made four points on one play as he scored a basket and was given two free throws to put the Tigers in front 65-61. In the next minute Tom Dykema scored and Pollard hit two baskets and the Tigers were seven in front, 69-62 with 3:21 to play.

Jim Otte, who played a strong all-around game, made his final effort with a jump shot and a free throw to pull the Maroons within four, 69-65 with 3:08 remaining.

When the Tigers grabbed the lead, Christian was forced to come out of its 2-3 zone and on the man-for-man game, paced by 5'7" junior John Rudley, the smallest man on the floor, the Tigers broke the game open.

Rudley made nine of Benton Harbor's last 13 points. He sank seven straight free throws. Langeland and Otte fouled out in the last two minutes and 40 seconds.

Both teams started fast and in the first three minutes, Benton Harbor hit six of its first eight shots and Christian four of five. With three minutes left, the Tigers were in front 18-9 but Don Kronmeyer hit seven straight points to put Christian within four, 20-16 at the quarter.

Otte tied the game, 27-27 on a times in the next three minutes before Christian took, a 53-52 third period lead. The lead changed hands nine times in the game.

Kronmeyer picked up his fourth foul with 3:16 left in the third period and didn't return until 4:32 of the final frame. Bowen committed his fourth foul with 4:11 left in the third but Coach Don Farnum kept him on the bench for less than two minutes. Bowen didn't play defense the rest of the game.

Christian double teamed Bowen, with two men moving over on him each time he got the ball. He made only 11, his smallest point total this season. He was averaging 30 points a game. Ashman, who had a nine-point average, hit 26 for the winners, 17 in the first half.

Otte led Christian with 22, including 12 of 14 free shots. Kronmeyer had 17 and Langeland and Dykema, 10 each. Christian closed with a 15-6 record.

Hope Basketball Team Claimed '14 State Title

It was 50 years ago this season that Hope College's basketball team claimed the state collegiate basketball championship.

Because of its fine record, the 1913-14 Hope team claimed the state intercollegiate championship. The picture of the team was given to The Sentinel by Dr. Otto van der Velde, Holland physician and team member.

Other Holland residents on the team were the Rev. Miner (Stogie) Stegenga, D. D., a retired minister and Clarence Lokker, a Holland attorney.

Also on the team were George Veenker, Paul Stegeman, Richard (Slim) Smallegan, Lawrence Dalman and the Rev. George Steining.

Veenker, who served for several years as an assistant coach at Michigan, died in 1959 in Malta, Ill. Smallegan died in 1953 in Hudsonville and Steining died in 1944 in World War II.

According to Hope records Dalman, who received his Ph.D. in chemistry in 1928 from New York University, resides in Westport, Conn.

The Sentinel files reported on March 6, 1914 "Hope clinched its title on the inter-collegiate state championship by defeating Olivet, 33-20."

"Hope claims the championship on the following grounds. She has beaten Olivet, Kalamazoo Northwestern, Mt. Pleasant Normal, 53-21; Northwestern, 35-33; Kalamazoo Normal, 35-22; Grand Rapids "Y", 43-28; Kalamazoo College, 35-30 and Olivet, 33-20."

The Sentinel files also reported Hope defeated Traverse City, Manistee and the Grand Rapids Y twice.

Victories were scored over the Grand Rapids Ramblers, 74-11; Mission House College, Sheboygan, Wis. 46-21; Mt. Pleasant Normal, 53-21; Northwestern, 35-33; Kalamazoo Normal, 35-22; Grand Rapids "Y", 43-28; Kalamazoo College, 35-30 and Olivet, 33-20."

The Sentinel files also reported Hope defeated Traverse City, Manistee and the Grand Rapids Y twice.

Five persons were treated for cuts and bruises and released from Holland Hospital following a two car accident at the intersection of East 8th St. and Paw Paw Drive at 8:20 p.m. Thursday.

Stegenga. Three of the players, Veenker, Smallegan and Steining are dead. Team manager the Rev. Richard Vandenberg, D. D., died on Feb. 16 in Holland.

Lokker was a 1914 Hope graduate while van der Velde and Miner Stegenga graduated in 1915; Veenker and Steining in 1916 and Dalman in 1917. Paul Stegeman was a member of the class of 1917.

A junior Dr. Stegenga was captain of the team. He was also captain of the 1912-13 team as a Hope sophomore. Lokker was also listed as captain for one of the 1913-14 games in The Sentinel files.

VIEW OF POINT — This view of Chippewa Point shows how the drop in the water level of Lake Macatawa has left soggy sand instead of water in front of private docks in the area. The photographer was standing with his back to the present water line of the lake when this picture was taken. He would have had to have used a boat to take this same picture last year. (Sentinel photo)

Lake Macatawa At Record Low

The latest Corps of Engineers report shows the level of Lake Michigan is still three inches below the previous all-time low, but the current water surface elevation of 575.45 feet is expected to rise three inches in the next month.

Just as Lake Michigan suffers from low water, so does Lake Macatawa. And although a slight rise in the water level of Lake Macatawa is expected, as it is for the Great Lakes, boat owners and marina operators may still expect some difficulties to arise.

The Jesiek Brother's Ship Yard, although not bothered by sand buildup because of a clay shelf located in the dock area and a strong channel current, may have to dredge out six slips. The low lake level has left some slips close to shore with little water below them.

The water level last year at the docks was five feet at its shallowest point at the beginning of the docks and 19 feet at the end of the docks. This year, however, the figures are three feet and 17 feet, a drop of two feet.

Observation of the Macatawa Bay Yacht Club docking facilities a short distance from the Jesiek Brother's docks revealed enough water to accommodate most boats, but on the other side of the club, there is a new "lake" about a foot deep separated from Lake Macatawa by a few feet of sand. The new lake was formed when the lake level dropped leaving water trapped in a depression near shore.

Most of the sea walls along the south shore of the lake are now merely "sand" walls. Most of the shorter docks stop before they reach the water, and almost every boat ramp along the shore will be useless unless the water level rises.

The lagoon on Bay View Avenue also shows evidence of the ebbing water line. Tires attached to docks along the sides of the lagoon are now too high above the water line to be effective buffers for smaller craft. The water in the center of the lagoon is deep enough for use by most pleasure boats, but the water below the docks has receded, leaving sand visible around the perimeter of the lagoon.

Bay Haven Marina on Ottawa Beach Road on the north shore of the lake has enough deep water to allow the bigger pleasure craft to use the larger slips, but closer toward the shore, sand is visible where water once was.

Robert Linn, owner of Bay Haven, said if the water does not rise soon, some dredging will have to be done to allow boats to use the slips closer to shore. He also said that the lake may be difficult to navigate, with sand bars near shore being a particular problem.

Along Chippewa Point private docks are as much as hundreds of feet from navigable water. Some people with homes on the lake front plan to lengthen their docks if the water rises. One woman stated that she won't even bother to launch her boat if the water doesn't rise far enough to allow the lengthening of her dock to be practical. Her dock is now about a hundred yards from the water.

All along the lake there is evidence of the low water level, docks and boat ramps ending in sand, old tires and tin cans lying uncovered in the afternoon sun. But regardless of the problems posed by the low water level, it may bring at least one small advantage.

There will be an overabundance of beach this summer for home owners on the lake who like to lie in the sun.

Ottawa County Farm News

By Richard Machiele

Ottawa County Extension Director, representing himself as a member of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, a glitzy salesman of an eastern nursery firm has been soliciting orders in some cities in the state.

Here's how the gag works. The salesman calls at a home and tells the resident he is a representative of the Michigan Department of Agriculture and wishes to discuss community beautification in which the Department is concerned. He flashes before the resident a nursery agent's permit which has the Department name at the top. These are required by all agents selling nursery stock in the state. The Department issued 232 of them last year.

In the course of the conversation on community beautification, the salesman works into his pitch. He suggests that the resident beautify his own property with nursery stock sold by an eastern firm. The order pad comes out after a little further discussion.

The Michigan Department of Agriculture has no product to market and therefore does not have salesmen out selling anything. The Department is a law enforcement agency. One of its many responsibilities is the inspection of nursery stock and plant materials to assure buyers are not being bilked. But the Department is not in the sales business for any product. We suggest police be notified in any instances where salesmen represent themselves as being Department representatives.

Michigan State University soil scientists remind us of the following timely topics: Get nitrogen applied on wheat before April 15. Apply the nitrogen as soon as possible after fields are dry. Also remember not to apply nitrogen on wheat field areas where lodging is likely to be a problem.

If you have had trouble in the past getting legume seedlings in oats or wheat, consider making seedlings next August following your grain harvest. There is still time to have soil tests made before planting spring crops. If legumes are to be seeded during 1965, better apply needed lime this spring before plowing for corn or other crops.

Livestock specialists offer these tips: This is the time of year when white muscle disease often appears in newborn beef calves. The critical period is from March until cows go on pasture later in the spring.

Calves with the disease generally appear lame, dull-looking and are slow growers. The calf may discontinue nursing, stop walking or even die. Livestock specialists suggest feeding vitamin E tablets available from local drug stores or alpha-tocopherol to prevent this disease. Check with your local veterinarian if calves appear slow or inactive.

DISMANTLING NEARS COMPLETION — The scarred and rusty hull of the once proud S.S. Alabama is moored at the Brewer City Coal Dock as dismantling nears completion. The Alabama, once known as the "Queen of the Great Lakes," was recently bought by Bill Stender, a Bay City construction company owner. When the Alabama is cut down to the level of the first ridge above the nameplate, the hull will be towed to Bay City to be converted into a tow barge for use on construction projects.

Alabama Faces Future as Barge

The hull of the S. S. Alabama now has a new owner and a new destiny. The remains of the once proud cruise ship were sold recently by Ted Brink of Saugatuck to Bill Stender, a Bay City construction company owner.

Instead of being completely torn down for scrap, the hull of the Alabama is to be refitted with cranes and turned into a tow barge for use on construction projects. Preliminary work is being done at the Brewer City Coal Dock. Final refitting, including the installation of cranes will be done in Bay City.

The Alabama was built in 1910 by Manitowoc Shipbuilding, Inc. According to two officials of the company, the Alabama earned the title "Queen of the Great Lakes" during the twenties, when the ship could not be matched for its appointments and accommodations.

The Goodrich Steamship Co. were its first owners, but the company went out of business in the early thirties, and the Alabama was sold to Manitowoc builders.

The ship was eventually sold to Chicago, Duluth and Georgian Bay Transit Co. For 15 years the Alabama was tied up at the Montello docks on 16th St. and became a Holland landmark.

In November of 1961 the Alabama was sold to Ted Brink of Saugatuck for scrap. Some of its furnishings were removed for use in the S. S. North American and the S. S. South American, also lakes cruise ships.

All that remains of the 222 foot, 3,000 ton Alabama is the rusted hull tied up at the Brewer City Coal Dock, and a five foot model that was built in Scotland over 45 years ago.

Warn About Spring Fires

A warning about the spring fire season was issued today by the Michigan Department of Conservation and Ottawa County conservation officer Harold Bowditch.

"Be sure and contact your local fire department or the Department of Conservation before starting an open fire as a burning permit is required by law for certain types of burning," Bowditch said.

"When possible do your burning prior to 9 a.m. or after 6 p.m. because the wind usually has died down at this time and never start a fire during a period of high winds," Bowditch continued.

"Keep trash burner away from high grass and leaves and be sure fires are out before leaving them," Bowditch said. "Report immediately any fire which is not under control to your local fire department or the Department of Conservation," Bowditch said.

"Remember 95 per cent of all forest fires are caused by man's carelessness. So let us try and prevent this needless waste of our wildlife, recreation and personal property," Bowditch said.

Bowditch reported in the Holland area burning permits may be obtained from Andrew Westenbroek, John Dokter, Vernon Van Oort of Holland, Wilfred Heyboer of Zeeland in Holland township; Jake De Feyter and Jack Zwiers of Holland in Park township; Marion Van Slooten of West Olive in Port Sheldon township and Henry Geerts of Borculo and Dale Wilson of Bauer in Blendon and Olive townships.

For many years Korea had been under the dominance of Japan as well as under the caste system," he said. Members learned of the many obstacles to be overcome in building up the Korean navy.

Lake Macatawa Drops to All-Time Low Level

BAY VIEW LAGOON — The sand visible around the base of the sea wall surrounding the lagoon on Bay View Avenue reflects the symptoms displayed around Lake Macatawa because of the unusually low water level. Former high water marks are visible on the boards of the sea wall.

VIEW OF SHORELINE — This is a view of the north shore of Lake Macatawa between Bay Haven Marina and Chippewa Point showing a ridge formed in the sand by the previous water level of the lake. Although the water line has receded, the floor of the lake at this point drops away sharply from the water line, making the lake fairly deep only a few feet from shore.

USELESS EQUIPMENT — Tracks intended to be used to move boats from storage into the water at Jesiek Bros. Ship Yard stop in the sand short of their goal. The gas pump in the background is above water too shallow for most boats to use.

BEACHED ROWBOAT — An old rowboat remains at an all-time low. Previous high water marks are visible on the pilings near the boat.

SITE OF OLD YACHT CLUB — These pilings on the south shore of Lake Macatawa were formerly the supporting structures of the Macatawa Bay Yacht Club that was destroyed by fire last July. The water marks on the barrels show the previous water levels of the lake. The barrels, in contrast to the current level of the lake, were at one time almost completely submerged under water.

NEW LAKE — A new lake was formed on the east side of the Macatawa Bay Yacht Club when the level of Lake Macatawa dropped leaving water caught in a depression in the sand.

SHORT DOCK — This dock on Chippewa Point stops about 300 feet short of the present water line of Lake Macatawa. The water was deep enough at this site last year to allow boats to use this dock without difficulty. Many persons in the area plan to lengthen their docks, but the water level of the lake must rise appreciably to make the effort at all practical for some docks such as this one.

Winter Pays Unwelcome Return Visit

Gentle Spring, who had paid several welcome pre-season visits to Michigan in recent weeks, was rudely put in her place Tuesday by Old Man Winter who proved the old boy was far from dead.

Blustery winds, swirling snow and a sharp drop in temperatures combined to make hazardous travel conditions Tuesday. Snow covered the ground and streets, and street department men were out an early hour spreading salt at intersections. Intermittent bright sunshine throughout the morning cleared traveled streets in a relatively short time. Less traveled streets and parking lots remained slippery.

It was 19 degrees at 11 a.m. Tuesday compared with 50 at the same time Monday and a maximum of 61 later in the day. Several motorists wisely put on car lights when heavy snows swirled at times throughout the morning.

The State Highway Department reported generally slippery roads in the northern lower peninsula and the eastern sector of the upper peninsula. Light snow and drifting were reported in the western upper peninsula.
