On Hope College Music Faculty Since 1940

Dr. Cavanaugh Succumbs at 60

Dr. Robert W. Cavanaugh, 60, of 743 Lugers Rd., who was a member of the Hope College music department faculty since 1940 and long-time director of the college's Chapel Choir, died Monday night in Holland Hospital after an extended illness.

He had been on a medical leave of absence from Hope College this school year and had been a local hospital patient many times in recent years.

When Dr. Cavanaugh came to Hope College in 1940 he stepped into a full schedule of teaching voice and theory and directed the Chapel Choir and the Men's Glee Club. In 1953 he originated the annual tour of the Chapel Choir which gave the choir and college a national reputation in tours of half the states in the union, the Canadian province of Ontario and a foreign tour in 1967 of seven European countries.

The choir sang at Easter dawn services in Radio City Music Hall in New York City on six occasions and at a Sunday service in the East Room of the White House Nov. 22, 1970. The choir had made several recordings.

A native of Milwaukee, Wis., Cavanaugh received two baccalaureate degrees from the University of Wisconsin in 1937, and later studied at the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago under Theodore Harrison and Leo Sowerby. He received a bachelor of music degree there in 1939 and a master's degree in 1940.

That was the year he came to Hope College. In 1943 he entered the U.S. Navy as a lieutenant and was discharged in 1946, returning to Holland.

Dr. Cavanaugh was admitted to candidacy for his doctorate in musicology at the University of Michigan during summers and spent the school year of 1949-50 in residence there. He passed his final oral exams and received his doctor's degree in the spring of 1953.

Dr. Cavanaugh was the senior member of the Hope College faculty. He served as instructor of music from 1940-43, associate professor of music, 1946-50 and professor of music, 1950-present.

He was chairman of the music department from 1950 to 1969. He was instrumental in developing the curriculum that resulted in the college being able to offer a Bachelor of Music degree and being accredited by the National Association of Schools of Music.

The Nykerk Hall of Music and the Wynand Wichers addition to the music building were constructed under Dr. Cavanaugh's leadership. When he joined the Hope staff there was just himself and the late Mrs. Esther Snow on the music department faculty. This year the music faculty includes 12 full-time and 13 part-time members.

Dr. Cavanaugh was the composer of the Hope College Alma Mater hymn.

In 1975 he was recognized as an Outstanding Educator of America and is included in the Dictionary of American Musicians and the Dictionary of International Biography.

He held memberships in the National Association of Schools of Music, National Association of Teachers of Singing, American Musicological Society, Music Educators National Conference, Holland Professional Club, Michigan Audubon Society and National Wildlife Society.

While in Holland, he directed choirs at Hope, Third and Trinity Reformed Churches. He was a member of the consistory at Hope church.

Surviving are the wife, Florence; a daughter, Mrs. Chris (Eileen) Oxley of Pontiac; a son, Kevin Robert of Holland; a sister, Mrs. Harry (Jeanne) Olstad of Menominee, Wis., and several nieces and nephews.

A memorial service will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in Dimnent Memorial Chapel on Hope College campus.

It was Dr. Cavanaugh's request that his remains be given to the University of Michigan Department of Anatomy for further research in leukemia.

Arrangements are by Dykstra Funeral Home.

Three Injured In Saugatuck Crash

Three persons were injured in a two-car collision along Blue Star Highway at 134th Ave. at Saugatuck Sunday, at 1:20 p.m.

Admitted to Holland Hospital with a fractured foot and possible concussion and listed in "good" condition today was Donald Currie, 34, of 160th Ave., driver of a car southbound on Blue Star.

Allegan county deputies said the Currie car was struck by an oncoming auto driven by Ted McAlpine, 17, of route 2, Hamilton, which crossed the centerline. McAlpine and a passenger, Troy Grant, 7, of Hamilton, were injured and treated in Douglas Community Hospital.

Deputies said Blue Star Highway was covered with wet slush and McAlpine's car became caught in the slush which pulled it across the centerline and into the path of the Currie auto.

Republicans Hear Secretary of Agriculture

Butz Engages In Plain Speaking

ALLENDALE — Secretary of Agriculture Earl F. Butz combined humor with some hard-hitting practical home truths to inform Americans "where it's at" at the Ottawa County Bicentennial Lincoln Day Dinner Friday night at Grand Valley State College before close to 500 persons, described as the largest crowd ever to attend the county Lincoln Day event.

Butz made no attempt to deliver a Lincoln Day address — in fact, he set the audience straight that Lincoln lived in Indiana until he was 21 and it was Indiana that made Lincoln, and Lincoln made Illinois. A life-long Hoosier, Butz was a professor at Purdue University until he was appointed to the cabinet post in 1971.

And he made no apology for being political, ticking off hard facts of ever increasing government spending and the necessity to slow it down. "President Ford is trying to put a cap on it, and that's what the campaigning this year is all about. It's time to return government to the people."

He said when Gerald Ford became President 19 months ago, the country was badly divided, as badly divided as when Lincoln took over more than 100 years ago. And to curb the mounting inflation, he said, Ford had the courage to veto 46 acts passed by Congress and was upheld 39 times, resulting in saving $13 billion which otherwise would have been spent. This accomplishment, he said, cut the inflationary rate in half.

Butz said it took this country 180 years to spend $100 billion a year; nine years later in 1971 it was spending $200 bil-

BPW Plans Schedule For Conversion

The Holland Board of Public Works has set a schedule for converting electric power sources in the Euna Vista area of the city from Consumers Power Co. to the BPW.

BPW General Manager Frank Whitney said the schedules are subject to revision because of weather conditions and could be delayed from one day to another.

Rifle Slugs Hit House, Garage; Boy, 12, Involved

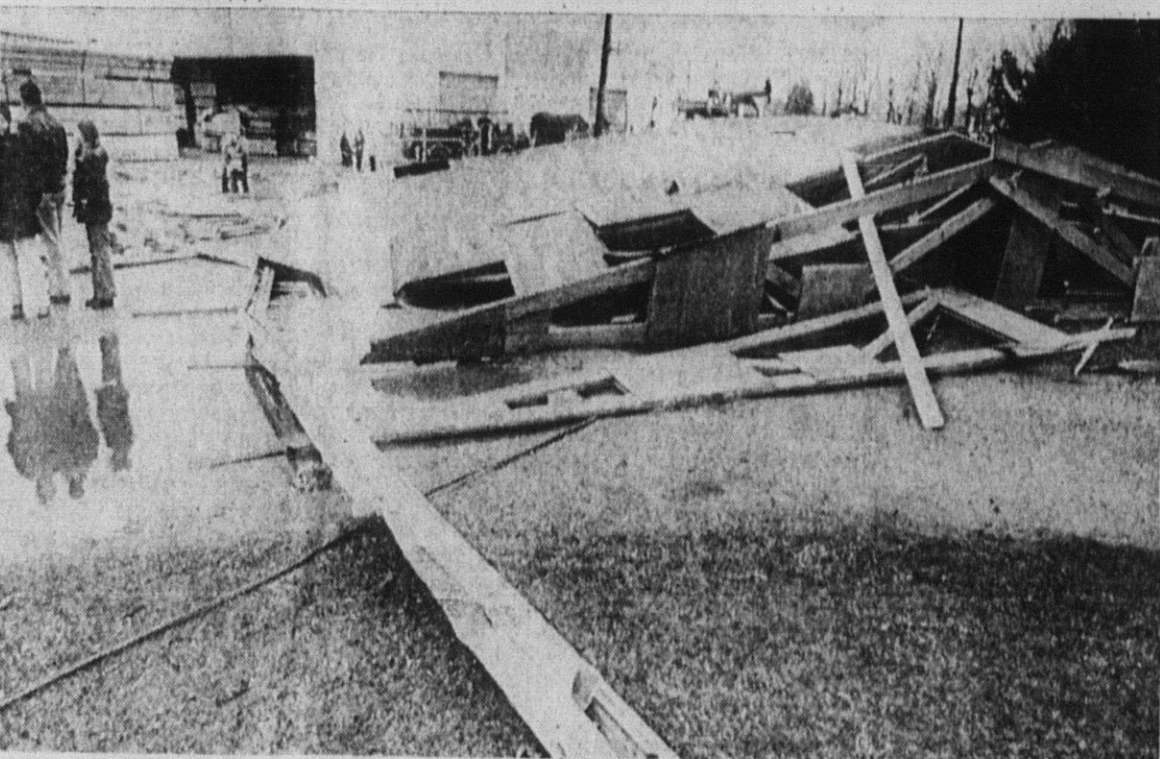

A 12-year-old boy was referred to juvenile authorities after Holland police said they received two reports of gunshots in a near-downtown neighborhood.

No one was reported injured but a man said he was working in his garage when slugs slammed through the garage wall and showered him with plaster.

Officers said the first report was received at 4:04 p.m. Thursday from Earl Krontz of 130 West Ninth St. who was working in his garage when he heard gunshots and saw plaster fall about him. Two holes were found in a garage wall.

At 5:13 p.m. Thursday police received a report from Kay Rotman, 119 West 10th St., that a slug fired from a weapon smashed through a first floor window on the west side of the home and lodged in a wall. No one was reported injured.

Meijer Cashier Slightly Injured

DeLeeuw Loses Roof in Storm

By Paul Van Kolken

Tornado-like winds swept in to Ottawa County Friday afternoon causing considerable damage in Holland township and Allendale but few serious injuries.

The roof of a warehouse at De Leeuw Lumber Co., 80 Lakewood Blvd., was lifted by winds and tossed onto Lakewood Blvd., and scattered onto neighboring homes.

Two plate glass windows at Meijer's Thrifty Acres were blown out and a portion of the roofing was peeled back. One cashier in the store suffered minor cuts from flying glass and was treated in Holland Hospital and released.

Power was cut to an estimated 4,000 Consumers Power Co. customers in the area when the De Leeuw building roof was ripped apart. Consumers said poles and transformers were knocked apart and power was out for about two hours.

Civil Defense personnel said the winds struck at 4:19 p.m. and lifted the De Leeuw roof from a warehouse to the east of the main office building and sucked some panelling from inside the warehouse and sent the debris north onto Lakewood Blvd. Damage was estimated at $50,000.

Civil Defense spokesman James Huisman said the Grand Rapids weather bureau would not confirm the winds were a tornado.

Other debris damaged homes across Lakewood Blvd., from De Leeuw's.

At least two garages were blown apart and debris scattered across open land behind the homes. A portion of one garage landed in a swimming pool of neighbors.

A garage at the rear of the Ronald Weener residence, 57 West Lakewood Blvd., was blown apart and a camper parked alongside was destroyed. Some of the debris was scattered across a field at the rear of the house and landed in a swimming pool.

Ted Zondervan, manager of Thrifty Acres, said winds peeled a portion of the roof over the food section of the store at the west end of the building and allowed water to seep into the building. Winds blew out two plate glass windows and the store was closed for about 1½ hours while water and debris were cleaned.

The store was without electric power after transformers at the rear of the building caught fire. Zondervan said only the cashier was injured. Jacqueline Kleijans was treated in Holland Hospital for lacerations of the scalp and hand and released.

Ottawa County deputies sealed off the area near Thrifty Acres and De Leeuw Lumber Co. while Consumers crews began restoring power lines ripped down. Holland township firemen stood by.

Winds also were reported at the Calvin Krause residence, 12271 Riley St., where a garage containing two cars was destroyed and damage was estimated at $4,000.

Cornelius Staat, 2490 Miles

Standish, said a garage was blown off its foundation and a camper and trailer outside were destroyed.

Winds ripped away part of a roof and collapsed a portion of a wall of a 300-foot long chicken coop at the Chester De Frell residence, 2640 Beeline Rd.

Five windows were reported blown out at the Wayne House of the Grand Valley Campus Apartments at Grand Valley State College.

Mart Bystra, 9510 48th Ave., told Ottawa County deputies winds twisted his barn from the foundation one foot and moved the garage away from the house one inch. The house was not damaged. A 40 foot silo collapsed.

James Wegner, 4779 Fillmore, said the south side of his garage was blown out but his house was not damaged.

In Holland, crews repairing the chimney on the southwest corner of City Hall speeded up their work when the winds came Friday afternoon.

Employees of Elzinga and Volkman had been repairing the chimney when it began to sway in the wind and the 1,000 pound cap was removed to prevent possible damage to the City Hall and the computer services building to the west of City Hall.

The top ten feet of the chimney also was removed and persons in that section of the building were evacuated.

A truck crane with a 110 foot boom was used to remove the chimney cap.

Moore Sentenced To 9-15 Years

GRAND HAVEN — David B. Moore, 28, of Grand Haven, was sentenced in Ottawa Circuit Court Tuesday to nine to 15 years in prison in the death of his wife whose body was found in Olive Township June 9, 1975.

Moore was charged with manslaughter in the shooting death of his wife, Patricia. The body was found in a field by a girl on horseback.

Judge James E. Townsend said the actual time spent in prison would be based on Moore's conduct. He was given 284 days credit for time spent in jail.

Industrial Arts Set For Wing

Five Board Members Elected at Annual Meeting of Society

An anonymous donor provided $175,000 for an addition to the Holland Christian High School, it was announced at the schools annual Society meeting Tuesday at the Christian high school.

The 7,500 square foot wing to the southwest corner of the building was approved by the society and will provide facilities for industrial arts, mechanical drawing, homemaking and new administrative offices.

The society also approved a $1,945,000 budget for the 1976-77 school year and elected five members to the board.

The proposed budget was introduced by treasurer Kenneth Vanden Bosch who explained major increases. The increase in cost per student was 8.8 per cent bringing the figure to $865 per student. The budget was approved on a 632-48 vote.

Discussion of the proposed addition to the high school centered around matters relating to educational philosophy and the purpose of schooling at the secondary level as well as the operating costs.

The operating costs were estimated at $24,000 to $34,000 annually. The proposal, approved on a 592 to 189 vote, aims to relieve crowded conditions in the high school, provide adequate office space and broaden the high school curriculum.

Supt. Martin Essenburg's report included information on enrollment trends, a statement of educational philosophy and the evaluation plan in use for two years.

Three teachers will be retiring at the end of the school year. They are Martin Van Beek, Merle Kallmyn and Marinus Pott.

A report was received from Norm Lokker concerning band and orchestra parents, an organization which provides support for the instrumental music program. He was introduced by John Swierenga, director of orchestras.

Elected to the board were Harvey Scholten, Gordon Schrotenboer, Paul Wolters, Kenneth Laninga and James Bultman.

Scholten, 50, is president of Rivulet Hurst Dairy and The Restaurant and worked on the scholarship study committee for the Christian schools.

Schrotenboer, 43, is controller of the Holland Board of Public Works.

Wolters, 42, is data processing officer at People's State Bank and served on the SMP committee.

Laninga, 45, provides engineering service for Hamilton Distributing Co. and has served on the SMP committee and the bus committee.

Bultman, 34, is associate professor of education at Hope College and is chairman of the Education Department.

Retiring board members are Thomas Bratt, Philip Michmerhuizen, Marvin Gritter and Jerry Heerspink. Also retiring is Howard Johnson who is chairman of the board and who presided at the meeting.

Driverless Car Leaves Damage

ZEELAND — The last time Thomas A. Cornell of 10808 Otogon St., Holland, saw his car it was parked in front of 328 North Colonial St. with the motor running in "park" gear. Zeeland police said something happened and the car slipped into reverse gear and took off while Cornell was in the house at 11:42 p.m. Tuesday.

Officers said the car backed east across the Colonial and struck a house at 337 North Colonial. The shift slipped into forward gear and the car headed back across the street, went through the yard at 336 North Colonial and struck a vehicle registered to Robert Garcia of that address.

The Cornell car shoved the Garcia vehicle into a third car owned by Glenn Van Koeveing of 328 North Colonial at whose house Cornell was visiting.

Sentinel's All-Area Basketball Team Is Talented

Hawk Star Spearheads 1976 List

By Leo Martonosi
The Sentinel's 1976 all-area basketball team is one of the most talented ever.
Heading the list is Fennville gunner Marc Moeller, the No. 1 marksman in the area. Moeller poured in a state season high 63 points against Gobles in one of the Blackhawk contests this past winter.
Holland and Zeeland were the only two schools to place two players on the honor squad. Loren Schrottenboer and Dennis Lawson were picked from Holland and Doug Wabeke and Dave Janssen from Zeeland.
The 6'3" Moeller is his

school's biggest scorer since the glory years of famed Richie Jordan. While the short Jordan tallied most of his points from far out, Moeller was just as effective from underneath or out from the hallways.

Moeller averaged 30.1 points per game compared to Jordan's over 40 figure.

"He's just a super kid," said Coach Tom Pelon, who stepped down as Blackhawk mentor at the conclusion of the season. "Marc is a real gentleman and will make it big in whatever he chooses to do."

In Lawson and Schrottenboer, the Dutch had two of the best big men in the state. In fact, the recently retired Coach Don Piersma said they were his best one-two bunch ever.

Lawson is sought by many colleges but will probably end up at Central Michigan University, like former Holland star Jim Helmink.

There's a good chance that Schrottenboer will be wearing Hope College or Western Michigan University colors next winter.

The flashy Wabeke is considered the quickest and most aggressive ball player ever coached by Norm Schut.

"Doug was definitely the best guard in the O-K White Division and Dave one of the best big men," Schut insisted.

Janssen, who has expressed a desire to attend Michigan State University, can even make the grade, according to Schut.

"Dave hasn't really reached his full potential and there's no telling how good he can get," explained Schut. "He reminds me a little of Mark Raterink. He didn't have to shoot from outside for us but I'm sure he could."

If Wabeke doesn't play basketball in college, he'll definitely make it in baseball like his Zeeland idol, Terry Hop.

Van Langevelde might end up at Calvin College like his older brother Bob but don't be surprised if he chooses Hope to gain his college education. Bob and several other Holland Christian people are still smarting over how the ex-Maroon all-star got lost in the Knight shuffle.

White was not only the Panthers leading scorer and top rebounder but could undoubtedly lead his school to the O-K Red Division baseball crown. White is a hard throwing right-handed pitcher and part-time first sacker.

He averaged in double figures in both scoring and in rebounding.

Ex-West Ottawa Coach Jerry Kissman once said, "there's no harder worker than Jim."

Immink is not only brain but brawn as well. The 6'3" Hamilton senior, is his school's salutatorian. He was captain of both football and basketball and is a terrific leader.

Like most of the big men on the list, he scored over 10 points and grabbed over 10 rebounds in each game.

ference O-K Blue Division choice and a three-year starter for the Eagles.

"He's a fine student of the game," replied Coach Jim Huist. "He led us in scoring and did a fine job in directing our attack."

Van Tubergen's real worth to the Crusaders in terms of leadership was impossible to determine, according to Coach Dave Bos. "Brian ranked seventh academically in a class of 220, is hard working and coachable," offered Bos. "No matter how long we practiced, he always wanted to stay longer or work on free throws or his shooting."

"Forrester really developed through hard work for us," commented Indian mentor Ron Westrate. "He was a two-year starter and led us in scoring this past year at 16.0."

Average
Marc Moeller 30.1
Loren Schrottenboer 19.6
Doug Wabeke 18.8
Dave Van Langevelde 18.8
Dennis Lawson 16.9
Doug Forrester 16.0

Holland police today investigated a larceny from one Holland church and a break-in at another, both reported early Monday.

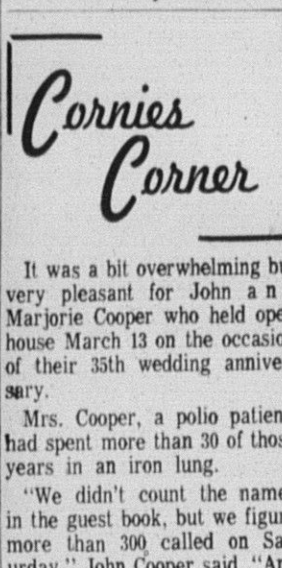

Two small boxes from a display case at Grace Episcopal Church, 555 Michigan Ave., valued at $20, were reported missing at 3:32 a.m. today. An entry at Central Wesleyan Church, 101 West 17th St., where an office was ransacked but nothing appeared missing, was reported at 2:26 a.m. today.

According to an item in the Jan. 1 issues of News and Views, dissolve a milk of magnesia tablet in a quart of club soda overnight. Pour into pan large enough to accommodate the flattened newspaper. Soak newspaper one hour, remove and pat dry. Estimated life: 200 years.

Chemically, the magnesium oxide combines with the carbon dioxide in the soda to form magnesium carbonate. This neutralizes acids in the paper that cause deterioration.

The recipe originally came from Richard Smith, assistant professor at the University of Washington.

"You and your fellow citizens can be justifiably proud of the float which you entered in that event, and the President adds his commendation and congratulations to the many who have already received," the message read.

Cornies Corner

It was a bit overwhelming but very pleasant for John and Marjorie Cooper who held open house March 13 on the occasion of their 35th wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Cooper, a polio patient, had spent more than 30 of those years in an iron lung.

"We didn't count the names in the guest book, but we figure more than 300 called on Saturday," John Cooper said. "And that doesn't count all the cars that went back and forth unable to find a parking place."

As for mail, it's been coming in from all over the country ... and telephone calls too, many from acquaintances now in other parts of the nation, but a lot from strangers touched by a heart-warming story of a woman who is grateful to God for a loving husband, family and a host of friends.

The Cooper story appeared in The Sentinel March 8, the day Marjorie marked her 57th birthday anniversary. Two days later, picture and story appeared on the Michigan UPI wire. UPI headquarters in New York became interested and put the story on the main trunklines and picture on the UPI facsimile machine which transmits pictures line by line.

Initially, the story appeared in several Michigan newspapers. Now the Coopers are hearing from widely separated points ... Florida, California, Wisconsin, Chicago, Denver ...

Since iron lungs are powered by electricity, outages are always a concern.

The big ice storm of March 2 fortunately caused no outages at the Cooper home on North Division Ave. north of Holland.

"But our home in Holland was struck by lightning," John recalled. "Everything was in darkness, but Marjorie's iron lung kept operating."

"How could that be?"
"The lung was on another circuit," he said. "But it happened twice!"

Dr. A. C. Van Raalte, founder of the colony which later became Holland, Mich., died in 1876.

Now during the 100th anniversary of his death, and the 100th birthday of Calvin College in Grand Rapids, a book by Dr. Gordon Spykman is being published about Van Raalte's influence on Reformed thinking during the last century.

Spykman, professor of theology at Calvin College, took all 300 Van Raalte sermons held in the college's Heritage Hall archives, studied them thoroughly during a sabbatical in 1973, and wrote a critical analysis in a book "Pioneer Preacher" published this month.

A reproduction of the Van Raalte memorial wall plaque on the Pillar Church in Holland is shown on the book's cover. Spykman has included his own translations of 12 representative, historically significant sermons, actual reproductions of sermons in Van Raalte's own handwriting, and a photograph of the preacher himself. The book is being published by Calvin College's Heritage Hall.

Trees, Wildlife Shrubs Available To Cooperators

Trees and wildlife shrubs will be available for spring planting to cooperators of the Ottawa Soil and Water Conservation District according to Clarence Reenders, district chairman.

Cooperators are urged to get their nursery orders in as soon as possible. Deadline for ordering is April 1.

According to Reenders, the following tree and shrub seedlings will be available: red, white, Austrian, Scotch pine and white spruce. The wildlife shrubs will include autumn olive, multiflora rose, silky dogwood, and wild grape.

It is important we know the number and kinds of trees and shrubs that will be planted this year, Reenders said.

Cooperators who did not receive order forms will be able to obtain them from the district office in the post office in Grand Haven. The address is The Ottawa Soil and Water Conservation District, P.O. Box 230, Federal Building, Grand Haven, 49417.

Piersma, Schut Share Coach of Year Honors

By Leo Martonosi
For the first time, The Sentinel named co-area basketball coaches of the year this winter in Holland's Don Piersma and Zeeland's Norm Schut.
We felt that it wouldn't be fair in leaving either Piersma or Schut off the list. The Dutch were 14-6 through the regular season and the Chix 17-3.

Schut rejoined the Zeeland school system after a five-year layoff. He directed the Chix to a 12-5 slate in 1969-70 and coached Zeeland to a fine 17-2 mark in 1968-69.

The graduate of Hudsonville and Hope College replaced Dan Shinabarger not only as Zeeland mentor but as the area's No. 1 coach. Last year, the Chix were 17-5 for the season and 11-3 in the O-K White Division.

Piersma's Dutch finished last year at 10-11. This past winter, his club could have easily won 20 games with a little of luck. Going into the district, Holland lost six games by only nine points.

Piersma, who stepped down from the Dutch post at the conclusion of the season, was the 1971 area Coach of the Year.

The 45-year-old Piersma coached Holland to a 14-3 mark in 1970-71 and a 14-5 slate in 1964-65. His 1967-68 squad was 15-4.

Only Tom Pelon of Fennville, who also resigned at the end of the season, was considered for area coaching laurels. Pelon directed the Blackhaws to an overall 14-8 campaign.

Must Submit Annual Report

People under 72 who earned over $2,520 and got one or more monthly social security checks in 1975 must submit an annual report of their earnings to social security by April 15, according to Robert Black, social security branch manager in Holland.

The report shows how much was earned in wages and self-employment income last year by people who got monthly social security payments — as well as how much they expect to earn this year.

"The report will be used to determine if people were paid the correct amount of social security benefits for 1975," Black said. It will also be used to adjust their monthly 1976 social security payments according to their estimated earnings.

Full social security benefits could be paid to eligible people in 1975 if they earned $2,520 or less for the year. But no matter how much they earned for the year, they could be paid their full social security benefits for any month they earned $210 or less and didn't do substantial work in their own business.

People who were 72 or over in all months of 1975 don't need to file an annual report of their earnings.

If you have questions about the annual report or need an earnings report form, call or write any social security office. Office is at 595 East 16th Street.

Moeller Is Area's No. 1 Cage Scorer

Fennville's Marc Moeller, the greatest season scoring basketball machine at Fennville since the days of Richie Jordan, led the area in scoring this season. Holland's top gunner point wise was Loren Schrottenboer at 18.8. Holland Christian's Dave VanLangevelde had the same count while West Ottawa was led by Jim White's 13.1 norm.

Dave Janssen was Zeeland's top marksman at 19.6 while Gary Immink led Hamilton with a 14.4 figure. Larry Hall and Robert Jackson paced Alledale with 15.9 averages.

Dave Schut led Hudsonville in scoring with a 15.5 mark and Doug Venema paced Hudsonville Unity at 15.3. Doug Forrester had a team leading 16.0 average for Saugatuck.

Modern Partitions Sold to Trendway Corp.

Haworth, Inc., Holland manufacturer of office interior systems, has announced the sale of its Modern Partitions Division to Trendway Corporation, also of Holland.

The recent announcement, made jointly by G.W. Haworth, chairman of the board at Haworth and George Heeringa, president and chairman of the board at Trendway, positioned the transfer of the Division's ownership as a material aid to the growth plans of both companies.

The Modern Partition Division was that part of Haworth, Inc., which manufactured and sold movable floor-to-ceiling and bank-rail height partitions for use in office and plant interiors. Haworth first began manufacturing partitions 23 years ago, earning and maintaining a position of national leadership in that industry.

Trendway, in purchasing the Division, will greatly add to both its product line and market penetration. The firm has been expanding its floor-to-ceiling partitions since 1968, and the Modern purchase adds several complimentary partition series to their current lineup. Additionally, Trendway acquires established customer and dealer relationships, receives rights to the name "Modern Partitions" and, under a licensing agreement, the right to use the trademark "Xidene."

The transfer of operations and inventories will take place in stages between April 15 and June 1, 1976. George Heeringa said of the move, "We will be expanding our facility two times to accommodate increased volume and we're looking forward to greater market involvement than ever before." Heeringa is joined by his two sons in the management of Trendway. Don Heeringa is vice-president and general manager and James Heeringa serves as vice president of sales.

In signing the sale agreement, G.W. Haworth said, "It is our hope that the success and growth in the partition business we at Haworth have experienced will be continued under the new ownership by Trendway."

LET'S DO IT RIGHT

Individuals may have embarrassing moments, but nations can have them too. The House of Representatives created such an embarrassment, when it made a fuss about sending a formal delegation to London to pick up a copy of the Magna Carta. England's Queen Elizabeth had invited 25 members from the Congress to go to London for this ceremony.

Nations need a bit of ceremony to remember their history. And in this case there was involved a common heritage of freedom. What probably was the most embarrassing was the childishness about who was to go. And then there was the pious platitudes about spending $50,000, a bit of a joke when coming from those who will dump a billion at the very thought of good campaign strategy.

We expect the congress, and especially the house, will have second thoughts and be a bit sheepish about the whole episode, and will begin to act like representatives of a people to whom the symbols of freedom are very important. And we hope the acceptance speeches will be worthy of the English language in both thought and word. Try again, this time with dignity.

Man's Body Found Along Lake Beach

SOUTH HAVEN — State Police today were checking leads from Illinois and Indiana to establish identification for a body found washed ashore Sunday along Lake Michigan in the area of a county park off 121st Ave. west of Ganges in Allegan County.

Officers said the body was that of a white male subject in his 30s about 5-foot-10 inches to six feet tall and wearing a pair of jeans. A ring and some keys were found on the body. There was no sign of foul play.

Troopers said Charles Plummer of Fennville found the body at 12:30 p.m. Sunday while walking a dog along the beach area.

An autopsy showed the body may have been in the water since September.

Bus Policy Reviewed For Schools

A policy for use of school district buses was distributed at the monthly meeting of the Holland Board of Education Monday night, bearing in mind that the first priority of a bus program is to provide transportation for children to and from school.

After that can come co-curricular activities including scheduled athletic events, musical competitions, and the like, and next, instructional activities of classes or class group curricular activities of clubs and organizations, and then such community services as senior citizens, city groups, service clubs and the like.

It is recognized that district resources do not allow for unlimited use in all these areas. To accomplish the proper and fair use of vehicles, guidelines and procedures are outlined in detail, limiting number of trips, distances, and in some cases, charges. Requests from teachers must be approved by principals and administrators, with all requests seven days in advance.

The board was invited by Daniel Lukick, director of community education, to participate in an informal evening program Tuesday, March 23, at the Holland High School Library. The program lists orientation at 7 p.m., the showing of a film, "To Touch a Child," prepared by the Charles Stuart Mott Foundation of Flint, a social hour with review of community education, and an informal question-answer period.

Lukick said the 1975-76 school year has been an overwhelming success in terms of total numbers of participants in all programs. An influx has caused five additional sections for overcrowded classes in U.S. history, English, mathematics, spelling and basic reading. Classes ranging from 35 to 45 students the first night were cut to 20 to 22 with the hiring of additional staff.

Richard LeBlanc, Janice Bosch and Don Johnson, in a progress report of the Mathematics committee, reviewed the new Scott Foreman's math program which has met with a high degree of success. A math inservice program Jan. 22 at Maplewood School reviewed the new study of the metric system being introduced at first grade level as well as other developments in mathematics education.

In the report, one excerpt of the National Council of Teachers of Math Newsletter states that beginning in the eighth grade, every student should have a hand calculator available for use in mathematics instruction and testing. Arguments that ask what happens if the calculator is not available when a pupil needs it, or if it breaks down, are "weak motivations" for students to struggle through pen and paper computations. However, calculators should not eliminate teaching of "Mathematical concepts which are of fundamental importance."

The board approved a contract for Monika A. Giddy who holds a B.S. degree from Eastern Michigan University in 1971 as a resource teacher in the bilingual program.

Supt. Donald L. Ihrman announced that Holland has been approved for Title VI funds of $2,920 to finance a two-week summer program in 1976 and 1977 for elementary hearing impaired children.

Announcement was made that the second annual conference on Michigan Education and the Latino will be in the form of four regional meetings, March 13 in Flint, March 27 in Adrian, April 3 in Kalamazoo and April 10 in Holland. The local meeting place will be Lincoln Elementary School. Purpose is to explain the role of the community in implementing bilingual education locally and to inform participants of resources available for such programs.

Supt. Ihrman reviewed eligibility for persons seeking office on the Holland School board. There will be only one opening this year, the term of Charles Bradford expiring. The election will be held June 14, and candidates should file nominating petitions with the secretary of the board not later than 4 p.m. May 14. Each petition must be signed by not less than 40 registered school electors of the district. Any school elector in Holland is eligible.

Ihrman also said that organizational work is going ahead for the issue of building a new junior high school at the June 14 election. The committee working on promotion aims for citizen involvement, a speakers' bureau and volunteers to work on getting out the vote.

The board scheduled a meeting March 24 at 4 p.m. to review probationary tenure recommendations for school district teachers.

Secretary Kay MacKenzie

Two rezoning applications, already referred to the Planning Commission for study, were presented. Several city manager recommendations for changes in speed limits and parking were tabled until the next meeting. The recommendations:

Council approved adding 33rd St., Washington to Pioneer Ave., to the 1976 proposed resurfacing program. This project has been delayed several years in anticipation of constructing a Maplewood-Lela drain down the center of a portion of the street. Cost of the storm sewer is estimated at $296,000 and the Inter-County Drainage Board has informed the city that work could not begin until, at least the summer of 1977 because of legal and bonding problems. The appearance of the singers was a complete surprise when Beidler introduced them. John Breen, a senior, directed the group of 10 in a group of songs from Thomas Moore's poetry.

Beidler took the stage and with his autoharp sang some of the most popular ballads from the "uld sod" including "Molly Malone" and "Johnny, I Hardly Knew Ya," to the tune of "When Johnny Comes Marching Home."

Other favorites from his repertoire were "Pat on the Railway," "Galway Bay," "John Riley," "I'll Take Ye Back, Kathleen," and "Praties (Potatoes)" at which point he told an Irish joke.

He concluded his group of songs with "Danny Boy," a love song and also a war song, with harp accompaniment. Beidler and the singing group ended the program with a Gaelic Blessing with members joining hands during the singing.

A luncheon with an Irish motif of shamrocks, clay pipes and lots of green preceded the program.

Unemployment, Inflation Must Be Solved Together

The twin problems of unemployment and inflation should be resolved at the same time in America, Dr. Allen Meltzer, professor of economics and social science at Carnegie Mellon University in Pittsburgh, told a group of local businessmen at breakfast Monday in Durfee Hall on Hope College campus.

Addressing the businessmen on "The Future of the American Economy," Dr. Meltzer expressed faith in the current state of economy and its ability to return to full employment and end inflation.

He was scheduled to deliver two lectures later in the day on "Why Governments Grow" and "Why There Are Fluctuations — Inflation and Unemployment."

The visiting economist regards full employment at a 4 to 4½ per cent rate in view of the great employment turnover in America, maintaining that such a rate is a fact of life in a democracy which has no slavery. He said the average person out of work today is out for 10 weeks although some months ago it was 17 weeks.

Even with a brighter economic outlook today, he figures it will be 1979-80 before a moderate program can return employment statistics and the rate of inflation to the 1950s and 1960s.

He said political policy can override the monetary policy to a big degree, thereby affecting interest rates, but he added Congress today is passing a good many bills they want vetoed so they can be used as a campaign issue, and he saw the spiraling national debt up $150 billion in two years.

Dr. Meltzer was of the opinion that any tax cut is a good tax cut since it has the effect of cutting the size of that national government, and he favored taxes on consumption rather than accumulation, expressing the hope that the former can lead to social benefit.

As for the stock market which has been making big news in recent days, he found the economic upswing cheering but he does not expect interest rates to change to any great degree.

As for OPEC, he said the biggest problem is an overall adjustment on oil prices, and this has nothing to do with inflation. He said U.S. technologists had "guessed wrong" on energy, and must now revamp its findings to "do more with less energy." He sees Saudi Arabia as having a disproportionate influence on the world energy problem and that country's ability to restrict production will have great influence.

But he could not see any great change in American use of energy and fully expects Americans will continue to operate family cars and use air conditioning. He does not expect big new transportation programs unless the government moves in this direction. Dr. Meltzer was introduced by Dr. Barry Richardson, head of the economics department at Hope. Hope President Gordon J. Van Wylen presided.

Bicentennial Cookbook

BICENTENNIAL EDITION COMMITTEE—The task of compiling a new edition of the Junior Welfare League's cookbook "Eet Smakelijk" has been completed by this group and the results will be seen within a month. Mrs. Donald Miller, seated at right, is editor-in-chief, with Mrs. James W.F. Brooks as an associate editor, at left. Other associate editors include, standing, left to right, Mrs. Alex Rivera, Mrs. Ray Backus, Mrs. Robert Hampson, Mrs. Michael Calahan, Mrs. Jack Dozeman, Mrs. Jay Freriks, Mrs. William Beebe and Mrs. Herb Eldean. Mrs. Arthur Garofalo is advance publicity chairman. (Sentinel photo)

"Eet Smakelijk" is the Dutch invitation to eat well and with taste. Beginning in 1964, Junior Welfare League of Holland turned this invitation into a best-selling cookbook which has been used by more than 40,000 cooks throughout the world. Because of the enormous success of "Eet Smakelijk" and the community's endorsement as the "Official Cookbook of Holland" it was decided in October of 1974 to begin work on a new edition which would be published in 1976 to commemorate the Bicentennial. This new edition is part of Junior Welfare League's contribution to the community's Bicentennial celebration and blends selected favorites from the previous edition with over 800 new recipes representing current cooking trends.

The Cookbook Bicentennial Edition Committee was formed with Mrs. Donald Miller heading it as editor-in-chief. Associate editors include Mrs. William Beebe, Mrs. James W. F. Brooks, Mrs. Michael Calahan, Mrs. Jack Dozeman, Mrs. Herb Eldean, Mrs. Jay Freriks, Mrs. Robert Hampson, Mrs. Alex Rivera and Editorial Assistant Mrs. Ray Backus. Beginning in November of 1974 the committee met bi-weekly for a year and a half. They began with a thorough review of the cookbook and selection of those recipes considered to be all-time favorites, especially those reflecting the Dutch heritage. Then the search was on for new recipes. League members searched their recipe files and those of family, friends and well-known good cooks throughout the community. With the help of League members recipes were then tested and re-tested. An area-wide Recipe Hunt was held from Feb. 21 to March 31, 1975, in which winners in each of eight categories were chosen from over 500 entries. Each final winning recipe was featured at a local restaurant during Tulip time and all finalists' recipes are included in the Bicentennial Edition. The members of the Cookbook Bicentennial Edition Committee will soon see the results of their long hours of testing, copying and proofreading recipes as they await the release of the Second Edition of "Eet Smakelijk." The totally new, hard-cover book will be available within a month from League members or from many local merchants.

'George M!' Bicentennial Treat for Entire Family

By Ann Hungerford
Holland Community Theatre has a problem.

If they are to match or exceed their fine, almost flawless, production of "George M!" in the future, their only likelihood would be to select a vehicle with more substance to adequately showcase the accomplished actors in the area.

The script of "George M!" is skimpy. Holland Community Theatre's production being presented in the Holland High School auditorium is splendid.

Although E. Dale Conklin shines as the arrogant, ruthless hero, the highlight of the show was the far-better-than-anticipated tap dance routines which were decidedly too few.

Prior to the holidays, Marilyn Perry had already been drilling her cast for the demanding tap numbers and what appeared on stage Friday night was a salute to her toil as well as the dancers.

The younger members of the near full house were fascinated with the tap dancing, the older, charmed with the nostalgia that tap dancing has so regrettably become.

Conklin himself displayed a fine Cohan style flair in his theatrical numbers, gaining strength and bravado throughout his role. The scene in which he must subdue his own aging talent to work again was touching.

Cohan's mother, father and sister, warmly and humorously portrayed by Margaret Kennedy, Ray Van De Mark and Kathy Beery, were a constant asset with each appearance. The Cohan Klan's tap routine in the first act was a knockout drawing constant applause.

Kerry Wyckoff and Jean Barber, playing Cohan's first and second wives, were sensitively performed.

A comic sampler of the vaudeville era provided several talented residents to display their wackiness, in particular Joan Smullenburg, who manages to deliciously steal the scene as a "draped" chanteuse.

The score is a family album of patriotic tunes including "Yankee Doodle Dandy," "Over

There," and the production's stirring "You're a Grand Old Flag."

The momentum and pace of the production is nearly constant and the few lulls seem suspiciously to lie with the script, not the local company.

Lillian Ketchum's beautifully designed and executed costumes (almost 400 complete ensembles) drew gasps from the audience, particularly those designed for the huge chorus. In addition to his fine acting Conklin doubled as scenic designer, with sets and backdrops meticulously complementing the show.

Expanding their largest budget to date for a production, "George M!" is the community theatre's bicentennial gift to the community, a gift which according to brisk ticket sales (the remaining four performances will probably be sell-outs) is being tremendously well received in the community.

Due to the tentative release of the film "George M!" this year, stage rights to the musical have been suspended for at least a year. The local production is likely to be the only opportunity residents will have to view it. That isn't reason enough to see it. But the production is.
