MADAGASCAR HORRORS.

LA GRIPPE IS TERRIBLY FATAL AT PITTSBURG.

Trouble Abounds in Foreign Countries—A Texas Woman Splits Her Husband's Head with an Ax—General News of the World's Doings.

INHUMAN BUTCHERY AT MADAGASCAR.

Two Hundred and Seventy-eight Persons Put to Death by Torture.

Prompt vengeance has fallen upon Ramasatra, Governor of the Province of Belanona, Madagascar, who massacred 278 men, women and children belonging to the leading families. Dispatches state that Ramasatra, together with his brother, who instigated the massacre, has been executed on the spot where the wholesale killing took place under the cruel Governor's directions. The populace addressed the Government, asking protection from his repeated acts of cruelty. This so enraged the Governor that he commenced to slaughter men, women and children, and continued so doing for several days. In many cases the agonies of the victims were protracted by the Governor's causing their limbs to be gradually dismembered, their heads to be slowly sawed off, and by subjecting them to other acts of torture. Survivors were compelled to erect a trophy composed of the heads of the murdered people, upon a spot near the scene of the butchery. The fury of the populace was aroused, and Gov. Ramasatra and his equally ferocious brother have not the fate they so richly deserved.

SCARCITY OF HEARSES.

Pittsburg Undertakers Overworked to Bury the Victims.

Pittsburg, Pa., undertakers cannot get enough hearses to bury the dead. The grip and diseases of the respiratory system have claimed so many victims that the funeral directors find it impossible to supply the demand for their services. In several cases hearses had to be used to convey the coffins at funerals. A double funeral took place from the residence of John Hill. It was the interment of his two children, and the coffins were placed in one carriage across the seats, it being impossible to get a hearse. In Pittsburg and Allegheny there were fifty-one funerals one day. At the Pittsburg department of health 438 deaths were reported. In Allegheny there had been 149 deaths, making a total of over 600 deaths for twenty-four days in the two cities. Thirty-eight deaths were reported in twenty-four hours. Nearly every physician in Pittsburg is suffering from overwork caused by the grip. It is estimated that there are now over 10,000 cases in the city.

Insolvent for Ten Years.

At Louisville, the further the affairs of the Schwartz Bank, which failed, are investigated, the greater the liabilities and the smaller the assets. The investigation shows that the bank has been insolvent for ten years, since which time it has been robbing Peter to pay Paul. So far the liabilities reach nearly a million, while the assets consist of nothing but $300 worth of mutilated currency left in the safe. The cashier has disappeared. The directors will be arrested on a criminal warrant.

Drifted Out to Sea.

Captain Monroe, of the schooner John G. Whittier, reports that at Red Island, N. F., the daughter of a French woman was sliding on the ice, when it broke away from the shore. The mother put out in a dory to the rescue. On reaching the cake of ice she stepped from the dory to get the child. The dory slipped off from the ice and mother and daughter drifted to sea and were never heard from.

Brained Her Husband with an Ax.

At DeKalb, Bowie County, Texas, William Watts, a plantation laborer, on arising told his wife to say her prayers as he was going to kill her as soon as he had put on his shoes. The woman, to save her own life, determined to take that of her husband, and stepping out to a wood-pile secured an ax and returning to the house buried it in the back of his head.

Ashore at Long Branch.

The brig Joseph Barigan, from Jamaica, W. I., for Havre, with logwood, went on the beach at Long Branch, N. J., during a dense fog. Two seamen jumped overboard, and one, Thomas Lawson, was drowned. Capt. Laytons says the vessel, which is half a century old, and so unseaworthy that several crews had refused to sail on her, had behaved badly during the voyage.

Proclaimed a State of Siege.

In Manicland, South Africa, the Portuguese have proclaimed a state of siege. The siege is said to have been proclaimed by the Portuguese with a view to coercing the British subjects who have sought to establish themselves in the colony.

General Ekin Dying.

Brigadier General James A. Ekin, of the United States army, retired, is dying at Louisville of disease incident to old age. He was in charge of the Government depot at Jeffersonville many years previous to his retirement.

Anti-Pinkerton Bill Defeated.

At Columbus, Ohio, the bill prohibiting the bringing of detectives into the State to do police or military duty, known as the "anti-Pinkerton" bill, which recently passed the House, was defeated in the Senate.

Killed by Disipation.

James Watt, son of Millionaire Watt, of San Francisco, was found dead in a 10-cent lodging house on Chatham Square, New York. Mr. Watt was greatly addicted to the use of chloroform, and his death was the result.

Her Body Found Hanging in a Barn.

Kittie Dettwiler, a young lady of Canton, Ohio, committed suicide in Louisville, Ohio, where she was visiting. Her dead body was found hanging in a barn. She was crazed by la grippe.

Verdict in the Cincinnati Tragedy.

At Cincinnati the verdict of the Coroner's jury in the cases of Salinger and Frankenthal was to the effect that death resulted from pistol ball wounds inflicted by themselves; the testimony did not bear out the theory that Salinger shot Frankenthal and then himself.

Joined the Rebel.

A report from Buenos Ayres says that the Chilean Governors of Taltal and Caldera have gone over to the revolutionists, and that the massacre of prisoners is common to both parties to the struggle.

BARRETT'S FINAL EXIT.

The Well-Known Tragedian Dies in New York City.

Lawrence Barrett, the tragedian, died at the Windsor Hotel in New York City.

The demise was due to heart failure. The actor was unconscious but a short time before he died. His wife and Dr. Chambers, of New York, were with Mr. Barrett when he breathed his last.

His last sickness dated from but two days before his death, when he was obliged to leave the theater where he was engaged. It was said at that time that he was merely suffering from a severe cold, and would be out in a few days, and the same report was made the following day. Even a few hours before the end the reports from the sick chamber were very favorable. Lawrence Barrett was born in Paterson, N. J., on April 4, 1838. His father was an Irishman and his mother a frugal American. His mother did her best to gain for her children a good education. Barrett was sickly and feeble. His health improved after his family removed to Detroit, while he was quite young. But the family was poor and he had to seek employment while still a boy. He accordingly became call-boy at the leading theater of the city, and from that humble calling rose to be probably the greatest tragedian of his day.

LAWRENCE BARRETT.

CONVICTED THE PREACHER.

Rev. T. H. Macquary Expelled for Heresy by an Episcopal Court.

The Episcopal court which heard the charge of heresy against the Rev. Howard Macquary, of Canton, Ohio, found him guilty as charged, by a vote of 3 to 2.

The verdict means that Macquary will leave the church. The Rev. Howard Macquary is pastor of an Episcopal church at Canton. The cause of his arraignment for heresy was a book which he wrote, in which he denied the immaculate conception and the physical resurrection of Christ. He held, in brief, that God's spirit entered Christ and made Him a perfect man, and that when He arose from the dead it was a spiritual resurrection, and not a resurrection of the body.

DEATH OF EX-GOV. LUCIUS ROBINSON.

The Noted Political Leader Expires at Elmira, N. Y.

Ex-Gov. Lucius Robinson died at Elmira, N. Y., at his residence. For several days he had been seen that the ex-Governor's great age rendered it almost impossible that he should survive the attack of pneumonia from which he had been suffering. Lucius Robinson was a native of Windham, Greene County, N. Y., where he was born Nov. 4, 1810. He was educated at the Delhi Academy, studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1832. In 1837 he was chosen District Attorney of Greene County and served three years, afterward removing to New York City. In 1843 he was appointed Master of Chancery in New York City, and in 1845 he was reappointed. Originally a Democrat, he became a Republican when that party was formed. He was elected an Assemblyman in 1859, State Controller in 1861 and 1863. In 1865, again a Democrat, he failed of election to the Controllership, but was elected to that office in 1875, having meanwhile in 1871-'72 been a member of the Constitutional Commission. He was elected Governor of the State in 1876, was renominated by the Democrats in 1879, and was then defeated.

GEN. JOHNSTON DEAD.

The Well-Known Confederate Commander Breathes His Last in Washington.

Gen. Joseph E. Johnston died in Washington, D. C., at his residence on Connecticut avenue. He was born in Virginia in 1807. The General had been suffering for the last three weeks with an affection of the heart, aggravated by a cold he caught soon after Gen. Sherman's funeral in New York. His physician had been trying to keep his strength up for some days, but his advanced age had given little hope for his recovery from the beginning of his illness. At times for about two years Gen. Johnston had shown unmistakable signs of a general breaking down. His mind often became bewildered so that he could not tell where he was or how he came there. Gen. Johnston's nearest living relative is a sister, Mrs. Mitchell, who lives in Washington. The funeral services were held in Washington, and the interment in Green Mount Cemetery in Baltimore.

BRUTAL WORK OF STRIKERS.

A Reign of Terror at Braddock, Pa.—Three Men Cruelly Beaten by the Mob.

A special from Braddock, Pa., says: The west end of Braddock is under a reign of terror. August Coulson, a Swede, came here from the East to go to work at the Carey blast furnaces. He was met at Copeland Station by his brother-in-law, John Martin, and in making their way toward Rankin Station with two valises thrown over their shoulders were thought to be men coming to go to work in the wire mill where a strike is in progress. They were set upon by a crowd and unmercifully beaten with stones and clubs. Martin is under a doctor's care. Coulson has not yet turned up. Martin thinks that Coulson has been dangerously hurt.

BROKE INTO THE WHITE HOUSE.

A Stepson of Senator Vance Caught Jumping from a Window.

At Washington, D. C., Special Officers Dubois and Kenney, on duty at the White House, saw a man jump to one side as though to escape through a window, but before he could effect his purpose the officers had seized him and thrown him to the floor of the porch. He was a young man of about 25 years of age, and had on no clothing except trousers, undershirt and shoes. He had the appearance of being a raving maniac, and fought the officers like a demon. He was taken to a police station, and was identified as Harry Martin, the stepson of Senator Vance. He has had the reputation of being one of the best all-around athletes in the city, but his besetting weakness is said to be drink.

Two Firemen Killed and Two Seriously Injured—Loses by the Flames.

An explosion of an oil still owned by the Tide Water Oil Company caused a dangerous fire at Bayonne, N. J., and John Hayes and Michael Haley were both killed. Two other firemen, John Gallagher and John Anderson, were seriously burned by the explosion. A third man, George Gregory, of Elizabethport, who was passing the still at the time, sustained serious injuries. At New Orleans, La., the large and elegant St. Paul's Church took fire and was completely gutted. The building was insured for $40,000. It was erected under the personal supervision of Bishop Polk in 1852 and occupied by the Rev. Dr. Goodrich, who was arrested while conducting the services in the church for disobedience of a military order issued by Gen. Butler, commanding the clergy to read the prayer for the President of the United States.

ACT OF A DESPERATE CRIMINAL.

Burglar A. G. Budd Murders Detective Gilkinson, of Pittsburg.

A desperate shooting affray took place at Peter's Run, near McKeesport, Pa. The shooting was the sequel of a bold burglary at Homestead. Chief Detective Gilkinson, of the Pittsburg agency, with Detective Pat Murphy and two McKeesport policemen, drove quietly across the river to Peter's Run, reaching the house of the leader in the robbery, A. G. Budd, alias "Fitzsimmons." When Gilkinson threw open the door Budd stood in the lower room, apparently changing his clothes. The moment Budd saw Gilkinson he threw up a revolver and fired, the ball entering Gilkinson's forehead, killing him instantly.

Had to Use a Crowbar.

At Hartford, Conn., when Governor Bulkeley reached the Capitol, he found the anteroom connecting the executive room with the House retiring rooms locked on the inside. This is the room that has been occupied by the special deputy sheriffs employed by the Governor to hold his room and the State seals against any attempt by the Democrats to secure possession of them. He had Executive Clerk Boon get a crowbar, and the lock was soon knocked off and the door opened.

Murdered for Twenty-five Cents.

Will Schwab and William Fleischer quarreled at El Reno, Oklahoma, over a debt of 25 cents. Schwab claimed that Fleischer owed him that amount of money on a wager. Fleischer owed Schwab 75 cents on another account, and in paying it handed Schwab a dollar. Schwab kept the full amount. This enraged Fleischer so that he stabbed Schwab with a long dirk under the heart, remarking as he did so, "I guess that's worth a quarter."

To Sing at the Fair.

A large party of the leading singers of Scranton, Pa., organized for the purpose of competing in the great choral contest at the World's Fair. The Welsh choirs in the coal regions are famous for their choral singing. The choir will consist of over 1,000 picked voices and be under the direction of a celebrated leader.

Against the Union Pacific.

At Omaha, Neb., the suit brought by the citizens to restrain the city from delivering $150,000 in bonds to the Union Depot Company was decided against the railroad. Judge Duane said the road had always taken everything offered, but had always failed to give anything in return.

A Woman Charged with Counterfeiting.

A secret-service officer has brought to Erie, Pa., on the charge of counterfeiting, Mrs. Sarah J. Grant, of Jamestown, N. Y. The detectives believe that they have captured in Mrs. Grant the link between the Western New York and the oil country gangs of counterfeiters.

Three Children Drowned.

At Birmingham, Ala., Isaac Buford, a farmer, attempted to cross Valley Creek in a wagon in which were his wife and children. The creek was much swollen, and the wagon and team were washed down stream. The three children were drowned. The father and mother barely escaping with their lives.

Rare Plants Destroyed.

Near Islip, N. Y., eleven large greenhouses, belonging to the celebrated "Idle Hour Farm" of William K. Vanderbilt, were burned. The loss is estimated at $100,000. The greenhouses were famous. They contained many plants and ferns, some of them 200 years old.

The Road Held Responsible.

Indianapolis special: The Coroner in his verdict on the people killed in the railroad wreck on the Pan Handle Road at Hazers-town, says that the train was run at an unsafe rate of speed at curves and therefore holds the road responsible for the deaths caused.

Strikers Are Desperate.

The union shearers of Queensland, Australia, have cut the telegraph wires and have attempted to wreck the railroad trains conveying troops to the scene of the troubles, which have been going on for some time past between union and non-union shearers.

Bridge Carried Away.

The high water in the Des Moines River carried away forty feet of the Main street bridge in Ottumwa, Iowa. At points below much damage has been done, notably at Eddyville, where an ice gorge flooded the village and inundated the town, driving the people to higher ground.

Funeral of Prince Napoleon.

The remains of the late Prince Napoleon were met at the railway station at Turin by the Duke of Genoa, the Count of Turin, and by a guard of honor, and were conveyed, followed by an imposing procession, to the Church of La Superga, and were there deposited in the royal crypt.

Eight Passengers Hurt.

There was a serious wreck on the Little Rock and Fort Smith Road, near Ozark, Mo., in which a number of passengers were more or less injured. The wreck was caused by spreading rails. Three coaches and the baggage car left the track and toppled over.

A Husband Hangs Himself.

Shot Dead by a Mississippi Editor.

At Vicksburg, Miss., Ernest Hardenstein, business manager of a weekly publication, was shot and killed by John G. Cashman, editor of the Evening Post, on Vicksburg's principal thoroughfare. The tragedy grew out of the lynching of the Italians in New Orleans.

Aided in the Murder.

Mrs. Quigley, sister of Arthur Day, who was executed at Welland, Ont., Dec. 18, 1890, for pushing his wife into Niagara, July 27, 1889, confessed on her death bed that she incited Arthur to the murder and helped him to push his wife over the precipice.

Montreal Brokers Fail.

James R. Barclay & Co., Montreal stockbrokers, announced themselves as unable to fulfill their stock exchange obligations. Canadian Pacific stock is the rock on which they split. J. R. Barclay has disappeared, and his partners are unable to assign any reason for his disappearance.

Atrocious Butchery at Valparaiso.

Dispatches from Chili, received via Buenos Ayres, say there has been severe fighting near Valparaiso recently, and that 200 of the insurgents were taken prisoners, tied together, and shot with cannon and musketry by the Government troops.

Small-Pox Case at Mexico, Mo.

At Mexico, Mo., Dixie Barton died. Two hours later his remains were interred, and by daylight the house where he died had been fumigated and quarantined. An expert, Dr. Adams, said that without doubt he had the small-pox.

Driven Insane by Poverty and Hunger.

At Kansas City, Kan., S. M. Garrette, an attorney, was found in his office a raving maniac. He had no money to buy food, and was too proud to beg. Hunger drove him mad.

Mafia Jurors Indicted.

The New Orleans grand jury returned two indictments in blank. They are for attempting to bribe jurors and are supposed to be against McChrystal and Cooney, the two men previously indicted.

Big Bank Failure.

Theo. Schwartz & Co., private bankers of Louisville, have assigned. Their liabilities are $500,000. The Union Tobacco Works, of the same city, were forced to the wall by the failure of Schwartz & Co.

A New Steamboat Line.

The recent rumors and suppressed negotiations in regard to a direct steamboat line between Holland and Milwaukee have at last culminated in a well-defined and promising enterprise. However much uncertainty there may be as yet in regard to the final outcome of the efforts in behalf of a similar line this summer between Holland and Chicago, the former project, at the time of this writing, appears to have been fully determined upon and ere long, as the season advances, a direct communication between the Cream City and Holland, and ports south of us, will be one of the local events upon which our citizens can exchange mutual congratulations.

An organization to carry the above project into effect was perfected last week at Milwaukee, to be known as "The Milwaukee and Eastern Transit Company," with a capital stock of $150,000, all of which has been duly subscribed. The officers of the Company are A. E. Smith, president; Geo. S. Bartlett, vice-president; Harry E. Dickinson, secretary and general manager.

The company expects to start out on the 1st of May, with two boats, which have already been secured, each of 775 tons burden and 180 feet in length, drawing 10 feet of water, when loaded, and fitted up for both passenger and freight business. They are to run all the year round, and as traffic and business increases the number and size of the boats will be increased and changed as the different seasons of navigation may require.

The object in establishing this line appears to be two-fold. The Milwaukee people for years have been anxious to promote their commercial and shipping interests by establishing one or more steamboat lines with points east and south-east on Lake Michigan, especially with an eye to the fruit business. Hence Holland and Benton Harbor with the intermediate places are the objective points. The boats will run direct from Milwaukee to Holland and return, forming a daily line. At Holland they will either connect with a shore line to St. Joseph and Benton Harbor and intermediate points, or it may be that they will continue their run to those ports direct, in which case a third boat may be put on at once.

The enterprise however, in its conception and sphere, is not limited to this local object only, as far as Milwaukee and its eastern terminus are concerned. At Holland the line will run in connection with the Chicago & West Michigan Railroad, and thence with the Detroit, Lansing & Northern at Grand Rapids, thus establishing a shorter and more direct route from Milwaukee to Detroit and points further east, by way of the Canadian Pacific, which latter controls also the Niagara Falls line.

At Benton Harbor the connecting road will be the Cincinnati, Wabash & Michigan, which will take freight and passengers to points south-east and south.

It is further conjectured that at Milwaukee the enterprise is backed by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway Co., and that the Eastern Transit Co. will to a large extent during the favorable season, receive the passenger traffic of this extensive system from the north-west. Parties that are supposed to be well informed further assure us that in order to secure immediate success and permanency, arrangements have been entered into on the part of these several railroads with the steamboat company, by which the former are to secure the boats a certain amount of freight, each trip, sufficient to warrant the undertaking.

At Milwaukee a suitable wharf is being secured now, while at this point the exact site for dockage has not yet been located. As near as can be ascertained the idea is to have the landing, during the summer season, somewhere at the head of Black Lake, or as near by on the south side as may be; all of which however is somewhat contingent upon pending negotiations. For the winter traffic commodious docks will be established near the harbor, on the north side, most likely around the point at Bosman's. At which of these two locations work will be commenced first has not yet developed.

Capt. J. L. Griffin, of Milwaukee, formerly master of the steamer Messenger, was in the city last week, and in company with Capt. Morton, of the Life Saving station, made an accurate survey and soundings of the harbor, to be laid before the officials of the line at Milwaukee. It appears that the condition of the harbor is such that with a limited amount of dredging ample water can be secured to meet present demands. In view of what has been so successfully accomplished last spring by the prompt action of our citizens and Common Council, through the friendly and energetic co-operation of Col. Ludlow, U. S. A., there is no occasion for fear along this line. By a concert of action last summer a sufficient amount was appropriated by Congress in last year's River and Harbor bill for Holland harbor to obtain for us this year the required depth of water.

In connection herewith it may also be stated that under instructions from Col. Ludlow one of the government dredges, that was wintered at St. Joseph, will leave there as soon as that harbor has been opened, come north, and attend to the needs of Holland harbor at as early a date as possible.

This enterprise, when duly established, will be the realization of a long-felt desire on the part of our businessmen to establish direct communication by water with the west shore. As far back as 1875 a representative delegation of our citizens was sent to the Cream City, in response to an informal invitation received from there, for the express purpose of consummating a similar object. Even at that early day the Milwaukee people were equally anxious with ourselves to bring about a direct line of communication. Several causes, prominent among which was the scarcity of boats at that time, prevented the realization of the scheme.

The project has been freely commented upon by the press. Says the Milwaukee Sentinel:

"The promoters of the enterprise are aware of the fact that by putting heavier and faster boats on the Lake a good deal of the travel from Milwaukee, now going by way of Chicago, could be diverted directly to Michigan, and their efforts in the future will be to improve the line accordingly. The trip between Milwaukee and Holland by the new line will be accomplished in six to seven hours, and Milwaukee will be placed in close communication to all Michigan points. The commission men especially will soon learn to appreciate the new line. At present they must get fruit via Chicago, while after May 1 they will get the orders direct from Michigan. The same will be the case with other products, and Milwaukee, with proper encouragement, will become the distributing point for Michigan manufactured goods."

The Wisconsin, also a Milwaukee paper, speaks less favorable of Holland as a terminus. It classes our harbor as among the poorest on the east shore, and adds that there is no existing congressional appropriation for a marked improvement of our facilities—which very unjust criticism was also forthwith copied by the G. H. Tribune with an apparent relish betraying the opposite of a laudable entente cordiale on its part. Nevertheless as long as Holland obtains the goal of her desires it matters little how it strikes our jealous neighbor. Grand Haven's constant sneering about other harbors seems to carry in its trail a retrogression painful to observe even by those whom it calumniate, and has often forced the query with them: What has it benefited that town to have a good harbor; what relative showing can it make with neighboring points, less favored in this respect? In view of the recent manifestation throughout the county of a desire to abandon Grand Haven as its county-seat, and of the desperate efforts on the part of the Chester people to trade her off in favor of Muskegon, we would suggest to our neighbors to check this breezy propensity to alienate, and endeavor for once to cultivate a friendly sentiment with their equals.

The following extract from the last annual report of Col. Ludlow, U. S. A., engineer in charge, with reference to Holland harbor, should be considered authoritative on this matter and a sufficient answer to the hostile remarks above referred to.

"Black Lake has a length of 5 miles, an average width of between one half and one third of a mile, and a navigable depth from end to end of nearly 4 fathoms, and the banks on both sides are of good elevation. The town of Holland, a thriving place, with a population of 4,000 and four lines of railway, is built at the head of the lake. The circumstances are favorable for the construction of valuable water facilities, and the official project for the improvement of the harbor provides for a 12 foot channel into Lake Michigan between piers and revetments 200 feet apart, but the requisite depth, owing to the inadequate appropriations, has never been secured. The protecting works need greater extension, and admit large quantities of sand from the beach through and over them, and the absence of a scouring current makes frequent dredging necessary. In July, 1889, with the small balance of $400 to the credit of the harbor, the Government dredge was sent to open the navigation in order to permit a steamer drawing 8 feet to ply to Chicago. A cut 25 feet wide was made, 100 feet long, and 12 to 13 feet in depth, but this could not have been completed so as to open the channel through between the lakes had not the citizens of Holland raised a fund of $320 to enable the dredge to finish its work. The effect of the dredging, as was expected, was but temporary, and an examination October 30 showed that while 13 feet could be carried from Lake Michigan to the entrance, between the piers the depth barely exceeded 7 feet, a condition of affairs that practically blockaded the harbor. In February, 1890, as the Government funds were all expended, a citizens' fund of $1,500 was raised with which to open the entrance as early as practicable in the spring. With this subscription two dredge cuts, each 25 feet wide and 13 to 14 feet deep, were made between April 16 and June 14, 1890. The material removed was 14,526 cubic yards, and the navigation at the close of the fiscal year is in a satisfactory condition, although a bar about 400 feet outside the piers has a depth of not over 10 feet. This is an unusual feature at this harbor, and as at other points, probably results from the abnormal conditions prevailing during the winter of low level in the lake and an entire absence of ice. The expenditures for the year were $444.26, viz.: for construction $68.06, and for dredging $376.20, in addition to which $1,722.46 was expended for additional dredging at the cost of the city of Holland. What is needed at this harbor to secure the navigation intended is to extend the piers sufficiently to protect it, to make the piers and revetments sand tight, and to give the channel from lake to lake a thorough dredging, after which a moderate expenditure for further dredging from time to time would maintain it in a satisfactory condition."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Stands at the head of all blood medicines. This position it has secured by its intrinsic merit, sustained by the opinion of leading physicians, and by the certificates of thousands who have successfully tested its remedial worth. No other medicine so effectually

CURES

Scrofula, boils, pimples, rheumatism, catarrh, and all other blood diseases.

"There can be no question as to the superiority of Ayer's Sarsaparilla over all other blood-purifiers. If this was not the case, the demand for it, instead of increasing yearly, would have ceased long ago, like so

SUPPLEMENT

Holland City News,

March 28th, 1891.

Report of Committee.

To the Honorable the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Holland:
GENTLEMEN:—Your committee appointed to make the annual settlement with the city treasurer, would state that they have examined the report of the city treasurer herewith submitted and constituting the settlement, and that they have examined the books and vouchers of the city treasurer, comparing them with the accounts as kept by the city clerk, and found a balance on hand, in cash, of Three Thousand Nine Hundred and Sixty-four Dollars and Six Cents, ($3,964.06) and a certificate of deposit in the Holland City State Bank, as herewith presented, showing that the said amount of Three Thousand Nine Hundred and Sixty-four Dollars and Six Cents ($3,964.06) stands placed to his credit as city treasurer upon the books of said bank, and we recommend that the settlement herewith presented be approved.
All of which is respectfully submitted.

Holland, Mich., March 17, 1891.
R. H. HABERMANN,
J. A. TER VREE,
Committee on Settlement.

Treasurer's Report.

TREASURER'S OFFICE,
CITY OF HOLLAND,
March 16, 1891.

To the Honorable the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Holland:
GENTLEMEN:—In accordance with the provisions of Sec. 10, Title III, of the City Charter, I have the honor to present the following account of the Receipts and Disbursements of the Treasury since the date of the last annual report, classifying them therein by the funds to which such receipts are credited and of which such disbursements are made and the balance remaining in each fund at the close of the fiscal year ending on the third Monday in March, A. OUR NEIGHBORS.

New Holland.

The grip, same as everywhere. In District No. 9, Olive, school has closed on account of it.

Maurice Luidens has returned from a week's visit to Muskegon with Mr. and Mrs. Westmaas.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Rooks are spending their honeymoon with their respective parents.

Dick Smith expects to move with his family to Grand Rapids.

Mrs. N. Nienhuis is suffering from a relapse of the grip.

The people of the Ref. church expect to have their new pipe organ in place by the 1st of July.

W. Douma has reopened his school in District No. 4, Olive. It had been closed by order of the board of health for 3 weeks, on account of scarlet fever.

Since the departure of Dr. Reus our people would like to see his place filled by another competent physician.

Miss Minnie Van Blois is making a visit with her relatives.

M. Stegenga intends to erect a handsome new residence during the summer.

Election Notice.

CLERK'S OFFICE, CITY OF HOLLAND, Michigan, March 19th, 1891.

To the Electors of the City of Holland.

Notice is hereby given that the annual charter election for the City of Holland will be held on the first Monday (the sixth day) of April A. D. 1891, in the several wards of said city at the places designated by the common council, as follows:

In the First Ward at the Common Council room.

In the Second Ward at Engine House No. 1, Eighth st. west.

In the Third Ward, at the office of Isaac Fairbank, River street.

In the Fourth Ward, at the residence of Geo. H. Sipp.

At said election the following officers are to be elected, and propositions voted upon, viz:

An Assessor to the City of Holland, whose term of office will expire December 31, 1891.

Also two Regents of the University in place of Charles J. Willett and Arthur M. Clark, whose terms of office will expire December 31, 1891.

Also the following amendment is to be voted upon, viz:

JOINT RESOLUTION.

Proposing an amendment to section one, article nine, of the constitution of this State, relative to the salary of the Attorney General.

Resolved by the Senate and the House of Representatives of the State of Michigan, That an amendment to section one, of article nine, of the constitution of this State be and the same is hereby proposed to be read as follows:

SECTION 1. The Governor shall receive an annual salary of four thousand dollars; the judges of the Circuit Courts shall each receive an annual salary of two thousand five hundred dollars; the Attorney General shall receive an annual salary of two thousand five hundred dollars; the Secretary of State shall receive an annual salary of eight hundred dollars; the State Treasurer shall receive an annual salary of one thousand dollars; the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall receive an annual salary of one thousand dollars; the Commissioner of the Land Office shall receive an annual salary of eight hundred dollars. They shall receive no fees or perquisites whatever for the performance of any duties connected with their office. It shall not be competent for the Legislature to increase the salaries herein provided.

Be it further Resolved, that said amendment shall be submitted to the people of this State at the next spring election, on the first Monday of April, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one, and the several counties, cities and villages of this State shall prepare suitable boxes for the reception of ballots cast for or against said amendment. Each person voting for said amendment shall have written or printed on his ballot the words, "Amendment to the constitution relative to the salaries of the Attorney General—Yes" and each person voting against said amendment shall have on his ballot in like manner "Amendment to the constitution relative to the salaries of the Attorney General—No." The ballot shall in all respects be canvassed and returns made as in general elections of State officers.

EASTER EGGS.

A Glimpse at the Religious Feature of the Egg.

The egg is the germ of life. From the egg comes forth all things that live and breathe. The egg, therefore, is the emblem of the rising sun, of the coming forth of vernal life—of the bursting of environment—the tomb, and coming forth in life. The egg has been intimately connected with religious worship for many thousands of years; and yet clings to its place in the ceremonials. The Buddhist, Moslem, Christian—all connect the egg with Easter—with the resurrection—with the coming forth of life.

In the matter of color—it sometimes runs to fantasy, but red is commonest—blood-red—in imitation of the blood that the pre-Christian Mediators shed in giving up their lives for sinful man. Both the idea and color passed into Christian custom. Indeed, it would be difficult to point out the year or century when the Easter egg custom ceased to be Pagan and became Christian, since it has undergone no material change in all the ages. Tracing it back it becomes connected with the crescent moon at Heliopolis—the city of On in the Bible pages, also with the serpent—like as the Eden apple and the serpent. Among the Cyprus ruins is found an enormous carved stone egg, adorned with grotesque emblems.

The practice of presenting eggs to friends on Easter day is Magian or Persian, alluding to the mundane egg for which Ormuzd (Supreme Being) and Ahriman (the Devil) were to contend to the end of all things. It was said that on Easter the earth was hatched or created. In most pagan lands it was a type of the resurrection. The ritual of Pope Paul V. reads:

Bless, Lord, we beseech Thee, this Thy creature of eggs, that it may become a

Her Easter Bonnet.

HE seats are taken, every one; My heart is beating in my ear; The sermon is but just begun.

I look around—she must be here! Ah, no—alas! Her place I see Filled by a maiden strange to me. And all at once how empty seems The crowded space; how dim and cold The tender morning light that streams Through windows stained in blue and gold. The craven cherubs look quite dumb. And even the organ pipes seem dumb. The preacher tells of peace and bliss, Of Easter joy. Ah, well, no doubt Some other sinner will not miss The comfort that he talks about. For me, my altar shrine is bare Since my fair saint's smile is not there.

chosen by Chester, and was enlivened by sports—everybody played football, there being two games, one for the men and one for the women—and an imposing procession. This latter was not discontinued until 1756, having been kept up for centuries. It had its origin in the delivery from the Welsh of Lord Dutton's castle. Many minstrels and other roving characters were gathered together and marched toward the invaders' camp. They made an imposing appearance, and although they could not have fought for half an hour, frightened the Welsh away. Lord Dutton, out of gratitude, declared that a parade should be given every Easter for all time to come. Various sports are still held in Chester on Easter, and a dinner is still the reward of the winners as in ancient times.

EASTER SUPERSTITIONS.

Curious Customs of Various People on That Day.

The curious practices and beliefs that cluster about Easter would almost be laughable to an American if he were not able to trace many of them to a source anterior to Christianity, and if he did not know that they once had a profound significance for his ancestors. The world is a big child, which often affects to look with contempt upon the broken toys of its babyhood. This is particularly so in America, the most precocious of countries. The old-time feasts for us are stripped bare like the interiors of our churches or the walls of our imagination.

One must go to some hamlet in Germany, or some village in the North of England to find a survival of Easter customs, or, as some might call them, superstitions. This word may be discarded, however, as it is too harsh to be applied to our ancestors.

wasling by the king or queen of the feet of beggars, after the example related in the Scripture. There were many beggars as the sovereign was years old. For instance, if her Majesty was 49 years old there were exactly forty-nine beggars. This was no doubt thought in ancient times a salutary way of reminding a woman of her age.

SIGNIFICANCE OF MASTER CUSTOMS. The passing of the feast of Easter from Semitic to Aryan lands is really the history of humanity, and the story of Easter practices is the story of civilization. These practices link us with the remote past, and in their decadence from earnestness to sport they show how the world has grown from childhood to the age of reason.

The Reformation in England did away with a number of pagan practices that were supposed to be "popish."

The fact was that the peasants had kept them from pagan times, and the Roman Church may have tolerated but did not encourage them. They would have died a natural death if left alone, for many that did survive the Reformation gradually became ridiculous, and died to the music of a laugh.

GIVE BREAD TO THE POOR. In England and other parts of Europe the observance of the feast began about the Thursday before the feast and lasted about a week. Maundy Thursday was so called because loaves of bread in maunds or baskets were distributed among the poor.

DECORATING THE WELLS. Easter is the time for the divining of a good year by the height of the water, and for the decoration of wells.

Great Guns.

"Few people," says a naval officer, appreciate the tremendous power of the blast caused by firing a big gun on board of a ship. An example of its effect was seen in some recent trials in firing the 64-ton gun of the new battleship Trafalgar, considered one of the three or four finest vessels in the British navy. The gun was pointed directly ahead, and fired with a charge of 630 pounds of slow-burning powder and a 1,250-pound projectile. The blast produced by a rush of the powder-gas and the shot was so tremendous that the plates of the fore-castle were forced in and the deck-beams bent out of shape, while almost every round carried away some fragment of the projecting portions of the ship, even when the training was to the right or left. It is estimated that the vessel would be reduced to something very like a wreck, were twenty-five rounds to be fired, either directly ahead or directly astern. This interferes with, or renders impossible, firing when either in flight or chase, and has caused our naval constructors to modify the plans for the projected battle-ships, as it is not deemed desirable to have them sink from the discharge of their own guns.

Is Your Mustache Uneven?

A writer in the Albany Express says: "A friend of mine has for several years been annoyed by a curious circumstance. One side of his mustache grows about twice as fast as the other, and if it is neglected for a few weeks he will suddenly notice that it is from half an inch to an inch longer on the left than on the right. He is obliged to keep cutting it off from time to time to make things even. He had not the faintest idea what caused the greater luxuriance on the left, until some days ago he asked a barber about it, and the man questioned him as to how his desk stood in relation to the light."

"He replied that for years he has occupied a desk with a window on his left, which at once explained the difficulty. Hair, like vegetables, grows best in the light, and ascertaining the fact my friend at once had the desk changed to the other side of the window in order to give the right side of his mustache a chance to develop. He is awaiting the result with some interest, and if the change in growth shifts with the light he is going to face the window."

He Oiled His Own Watch.

A prosperous farmer recently entered a jewelry store in Bay City, Mich., and asked if the repairs on his watch, which he had left there a short time before, were completed. The proprietor said the watch was ready and delivered it with the remark: "Next time don't use quite so much kerosene." The man looked surprised and embarrassed, but managed to say: "I guess I won't oil it any more at all. It costs too much." He paid his bill and departed. After he had gone a reporter asked if the man had actually put kerosene oil into his watch. "Certainly he did," said the jeweler, "and he is not the only one who does it. We have cases of a similar kind every few weeks, and people who one would think know better are generally the ones who commit such folly. I suppose a little kerosene would not do a watch much harm, but when it is poured in something happens and we are called upon to remedy the difficulty. I suppose I should not complain, for it is a good thing for us, but it is strange how foolish some people are."

Quail in a Skunk Trap.

A skunk has been taking too much interest in his poultry for my benefit. I found his tracks in the snow, and they were very plain and easy to follow. I found what seemed from the number of tracks to be quite a den of them. Procuring a good trap I placed it well down in the hole, and in the morning the skunk was in the trap all right. I let the trap remain in the same place until seven had been caught; and then imagine my surprise to find a quail in the same trap that all of those deadly foes of quail and all birds that roost on the ground had been caught in. Have they no instinct to tell them to keep away? There was quite a flock I should think by the tracks around the hole. —Forest and Stream.

MICHIGAN HAPPENINGS.

INCIDENTS THAT HAVE LATELY OCCURRED.

An Interesting Summary of the More Important Doings of Our Neighbors—Weddings and Deaths—Crimes, Casualties, and General News Notes.

A lot of sea captains had a feed at Bay City, and some joker put leather sandwiches in place of the regular ones. The old sea dogs shivered their timbers, heaved hard to, took a reef in the proceedings and went after the joker with an ax. They had, however, eaten most of the nice tender leather before the joke was discovered.

An ore chute fell at Escanaba, struck Jacob Schimberg on the head and killed him instantly.

WEST BAY CITY was assessed $75,000 worth of taxes, and the delinquent list shows that $28,599 are yet unpaid. This is the largest delinquent list ever reported, and it is said to be an indication of the hard times this winter.

The coal hole at Bad Axe has failed to discover anything but dirt, and the test will therefore be discontinued and the expense charged up the cause of science.

ANTONIO G'ACOMELLI, a dagger, stabbed A. Franciscan, at Iron Mountain, and the man hurt will not recover. The stiletto did the work, and true to the custom of his country, he drew it from his bootleg.

The winter's log product in the Au Sable district will be 50 per cent. of last year's yield. The weather has been favorable, but the timber is on the decline.

A NEW $500,000 brownstone company will open a quarry near Rock River.

A MINER, at Negaunee, was told by a fortune teller that it would be absolutely useless to make any arrangements to live after March 14, as that was the date of his call to go hence. He resigned his job and has been getting the most out of life ever since, and asked his friends in on the date named to see him die. The programme was found to have been a mistake, and now the laborer is looking for the man who thus lost him a month's time.

The ladies of Cadillac sleep with their heads in slings now, fearing pillows will muss their hair. A real, live hairdresser, shampoo artist and manicure has been there this week, and of all the crimp, bangy and tightly pulled capillary adornment, the average Cadillac matron has the finest specimen. The dressing is warranted to last a week, after which—well, the madame expects to make regular visits and lots of shekels.

FRANK ROWLING, of Fort Gratiot, has been missing a week, and it is feared he has fallen into the river. He carried $4,000 life insurance.

WARREN AIKENS and bride, of Sullivan, did not like the charivari given them by some young men, and now they have the leaders defendants in a $5,000 damage suit. The leaders are in jail, falling to secure bondsmen.

JOHN E. SMILEY, of Port Huron, and Isaac Miller, of Sarnia, sawed wood for the championship of Michigan, at Port Huron. The Canadian man won the title and $50 cash, sawing a cord in an hour and forty-two minutes. It's really a pity that the State lost this honor.

MOSES ALDEN, a young red man, has been fined $100 and sixty days in jail for selling budge at an Indian picnic near Northport, last summer. He has been in jail 125 days awaiting trial, and this will make his total punishment surely commensurate with the offense.

THERE are about 10,000 people in Iron Mountain waiting for the Chapin mine pay-day for February, and many a poor family is cramped for the necessities of life.

JOHN LYNCH, a boy of near Gladwin, was frightfully crushed by a falling tree, and he will die.

WELLINGTON R. BURT, of Saginaw, says he is confident a new State salt association will be organized, and possibly a national trust upon a very broad basis will be formed.

BAY CITY people do not like the plan for their new Federal building, and a delegation will go to Washington with a complaint.

MARCUS POLLASKY, of numerous and divers places in this State and country, has presented his law library of 700 volumes to Alma College.

ISCO COUNTY has a sportsmen's club of 80 members, all pot hunters, each man sworn to aid in the enforcement of the game laws.

SAGINAW COUNTY will build a $20,000 poorhouse. The one burned was worth $6,000.

THE box factory of Bonfield, Perrin & Co., at Bay City, burned partially. The loss is $10,000.

ISHPEMING will build $70,000 worth of churches this summer.

SAM BETLES, of St. Clair County, is creating considerable religious excitement in Buffalo, as the "cowboy preacher" from Nebraska. A prophet is not without honor save in his own country.

ROBERT WALLACE was showing his brother Langford what a fine rifle he had, at Otsego Lake, the other day. The ball struck Langford in the leg and he died soon afterward.

FRED BOUTDETTE shot Fred Lavigne, at Escanaba, the ball entering his side and producing a fatal wound. Both were boys, playing with a revolver.

THE University catalogue, soon to be issued, will contain 2,425 names of students. This beats any other university in the West.

HENRY RANDALL, of Corunna, has made $228.93 by shooting sparrows. He has been in the bounty business a year.

A VEIN of ore rock which assays $18 worth of gold to the ton is the most recent valuable discovery near Negaunee. Experts claim it an Eldorado.

FRED DETZ, of near Leland, mistook strychnine for smoking tobacco. He nearly went over.

CHEBOYGAN has ordered 1,000 new books for its public library.

THE young man Eager, of Ionia, killed himself with morphine, says the Coroner's jury, and this destroys the murder theory.

THE Saginaw Bay Coal Company has received two engines, elevators, and cages for its new mines at Sebawing, amounting to $40,000.

SAND BEACH will build a $6,000 municipal building.

KALAMAZOO has voted to float $25,000 worth of additional school bonds.

MARINE CITY has 150 people down with measles.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

Of Pure Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites Of Lime and Soda.

There are emulsions and emulsions, and there is still much skinned milk which masquerades as cream. Try as they will, many manufacturers cannot so disguise their cod liver oil as to make it palatable to sensitive stomachs. Scott's Emulsion of PURE NORWEGIAN COD LIVER OIL, combined with Hypophosphites, is almost as palatable as milk. For this reason, as well as for the fact of the stimulating qualities of the Hypophosphites, Physicians frequently prescribe it in cases of wholesome sustenance to Thy faithful servants, eating it in thankfulness to Thee on account of the resurrection of our Lord.

Come with me to Cairo. This is Easter week. These women you see are Moslem—Mohammed is their savior. This is Palm Sunday—and as you see they bind palm twigs about their heads and fingers. Each succeeding day has its peculiar ceremonials. On Shrove Tuesday the diet is cheese broth and onions; Ash Wednesday is Arba Eyub—Job's day; Maundy Thursday is their pea soup day, and Good Friday is their gum's el-maf-ruka—day of butter cakes; and Saturday is sebt ennur, or Sabbath of light—so named from the sacred fire which on this day bursts forth from the Holy Sepulchre at Jerusalem. Now do they strengthen their eyes with powders, get themselves oiled and eat colored Easter eggs. On Easter Sunday, 'id en-nusara, they love their neighbors as themselves—even make friendly calls upon their Christian neighbors—calls that are to be returned during the feast of Beriam.

In the discussion of Plutarch and Macrobius we find that the egg plays a prominent part in the religions of the ancient world. It was used in auguries, was placed by the Romans upon the table at the beginning of the repasts, and at feasts in honor of the dead it was also prominent. The ancient Jews at Pasqua, after purifying and cleaning the house, placed hard eggs on the table as a symbol, and also cakes of peculiar form, and later and eggs—three emblems of fecundity. The Greeks and Romans used the egg in explanations, and when they had blessed the houses and temples, and sprinkled them with lustral (purification) water, they carried an egg with them. The account of blessing the ship by Apuleius might almost stand for a description of the modern ceremony at Pasqua. "The high priest," he says, "carrying a lighted torch and an egg, and some sulphur, made the most solemn prayers with his chaste lips, completely purified it, and consecrated it to the goddess."

Besides the blessing of the eggs and house, it is the custom in some parts of Italy for the priest at Easter to affix to the door of the palaces and villas a waxen cross to guard against evil spirits—and seal it with the letter M—Misericordia—Have mercy on us.

What's this? A sweet face turned my way. A gently welcoming look; dear eyes! Ah, now, indeed, my prayer I'll say. And now the preacher's words seem wise. To think my love I did not know. Her Easter bonnet changed her so! —Madeline S. Bridges.

Of fond eyes with love brightened o'er, Eyes that ne'er shall be litten more.

Bells of Easter, thy loved voices Will ring clear, Tho' one year Comfort glad heart that new rejoices, Then at rest, Comfort-bliss, Will not throb for earthly noises—Sleeping calmly on, below Summer's bloom and winter's snow.

Bells of Easter, lo! thy sweetness Shall bring peace, Care's surcease, While the years with 'twining fleetness Wing their flight To Time's night.

And some souls—past incompleteness—List to sounds more sweet by far Than thine, O bells of Easter, are!

Easter Festivities at Chester.
There is hardly an ancient English city which is not surrounded by the memories of the quaint customs of bygone times. Most of them selected some particular day to celebrate. Easter was

THE SUN DANCE. The first of childish fictions about Easter, and the one that has longest survived in America, is that the sun dances or takes three steps on Easter morn. One has a suspicion that this fable was invented by nurses who wished to encourage in youthful Christians a habit of early rising. Little ones go to bed Easter evening fully determined to get up to witness the phenomenon; but as they oversleep themselves they generally remain credulous and unsatisfied. Perhaps it would be wrong to rudely disturb their beliefs.

One of the minor English poets has given a metrical explanation which is satisfactory of the Easter jocularity of the sun. He thus addresses the luminary:

Phoebus, the old wives say That on Easter Day To th' music of th' spheres you do caper; If the fact, sir, be true, Pray let's the cause know When you have any room in your paper.

A NEW BONNET ESSENTIAL. Speaking of superstitions one had almost forgotten that there is one as old as the hills in which all women believe even to this day. It is that a person will have no luck for a year who does not wear a new article of dress Easter Sunday. It will be observed that it is not necessary to order an entire outfit. A bonnet, for instance, will suffice, and if it is new and pretty that is sufficient. It is not necessary that it should cost a week's salary.

TANSY TEA AND RED HERRING. To entirely propitiate fate the true observer of Easter should dine on tansy tea and red herrings. At least this is in accordance with the rules laid down in ancient and reliable English chronicles.

The beggars were presumably first made presentable, and then their feet were washed in turn by the laundress, the sub almoner and the grand almoner. Then the Queen repeated the ceremony while her lords and ladies of the court waited on her, carrying towels, etc. She wiped, crossed and kissed the feet of the fortunate unfortunates, and then distributed presents among them.

BEGGARS' FEET WASHED BY THE QUEEN. A royal custom on this day was the

THE REAPPORTMENT

BOUNDARIES OF THE NEW CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICTS.

Changes that have been made in the Legislative Topography of the State—One New District Added for the Increased Population.

Below will be found maps illustrating the division of the State into Congressional districts, the first showing the apportionment of 1880, with eleven districts, and the second, the disposition made by the present Legislature, with twelve districts—one having been added.

The First District will consist of thirteen of the sixteen wards of the city of Detroit. It now comprises the whole of Wayne County, and is Democratic by from 5,000 to 7,000. The new district will be Democratic by from 2,500 to 3,500.

The Second District has been closely contested in past years; but the new apportionment, by exchanging Hillsdale for Jackson County, makes it Democratic by 1,500 to 2,000.

It is estimated that the third, by the addition of Hillsdale and St. Joseph

CONGRESSIONAL APPORTIONMENT OF 1880.

Countries, will be Republican by from 4,000 to 6,000.

The Fourth, also, by the addition of Allegan and St. Joseph, becomes Republican by 3,000 to 4,000.

The Fifth District, which has been won alternately by both parties, loses Allegan County, and now comprises only Ionia, Kent, and Ottawa, making it Democratic.

The Sixth District loses Clinton County, and has added to it that part of Wayne south and west of Detroit. Politically it is about evenly balanced.

The Seventh, comprising the lower Huron and St. Clair shores, has been increased but slightly in territory, two towns from Wayne County and one ward of Detroit being added. It is estimated that the Democrats will have 1,200 plurality in this district.

Of the former Eighth District, only Saginaw and Shiawassee counties remain, comprising the whole of it. It is estimated that the district will be Democratic by 1,500.

A whole row of counties upon the eastern side of the Ninth District has been taken off and given to the new district, the Eleventh.

The Tenth District has been relieved of several interior counties, which go to the new Eleventh. With Manistowick County, which includes the Beaver Islands, added, the district becomes Democratic by 2,100 majority.

The Eleventh District, which formerly was partly in the lower and partly in the upper peninsula, is now altogether in the lower; it is overwhelmingly Republican. The upper peninsula has been relieved of the lower peninsula counties, and is the Twelfth District by itself. It is not debatable ground. Republican chances are bright.

A LITTLE over twenty-three years have elapsed since the English Parliament was first plainly asked to grant to women the right to take part in the election of members to the House of Commons.

MICHIGAN LEGISLATURE

A CONCURRENT resolution passed the Senate on the 18th, by a vote of 25 to 5, fixing the date of adjournment at April 30. It will undoubtedly pass the House, but strictly as a party measure, for its influence on the spring election. The Democrats expect it to turn the election in their favor, and do not hesitate to say so. This will make it necessary to dispose of thirty bills a day for the remaining working days in session. It seems hardly possible to consider more than half of the measures introduced; many require much discussion. The House passed the university appropriation bill. It provides $90,800 for 1891 and $91,200 for 1892. The House Committee on Railroads reported favorably a bill providing for the free transportation of members of the Legislature and their baggage on all of the railroads of the State. Bills for capital punishment and executions by electricity are practically killed.

Born branches sat in committee of the whole on the 19th. The Senate considered the free text-book bill, but did not finish. The House committee agreed to the appropriation of $70,000 for the support of the State public schools. The House Elections Committee, in the contest of Eugene Keely (Dem.) for the seat of Devoe Hall (Rep.) reported unanimously in favor of Hall, the sitting member. It was stipulated that evidence of illegal voting in Cummings Township taken in the Senatorial contest, Friedlander (Dem.) vs. Morse (Rep.) should be used in this contest, the result being that the vote of the township was not thrown out, resulting in the Republican retaining his seat.

When the Senate convened at 9:30 p. m., on the 23d, Senator Park at once introduced a resolution rectifying the charges of attempted bribery that had been published, and providing for the appointment of a committee of five to make a searching investigation of the matter. The resolution was adopted, and the committee will sift the matter to the bottom, as the resolution gives it full power to send for persons and papers. This was the only business transacted.

Devil Dance in Africa

A fantastic orgy was witnessed at Loongi, the capital of Bullom, west coast of Africa, by a party of officers from the West India regiment quartered at Sierra Leone. The people of Loongi are Mohammedan, but the dancing devil himself is a relic of not long departed paganism, and so also probably is the dance itself. It takes place in the courtyard of the chief's premises, which is entered through a circular hut. The scene which presents itself to any one coming suddenly out of the darkness into the noise and glare is decidedly uncanny. In the center of a circle which fills the courtyard, the devil, with an orthodox tail, a great crocodile's head, and long grass, looking like hair, depending from his body and legs and swaying as he moves, leaps, beating time with his feet to the beat of the drums, while the women, two deep, wail a chant, and strike their palms together in slow, rhythmic measure, those in the front row bowing down between each beat.

The young men, in long robes and caps, wail with the women. Both are under vows, the dance being one of their rites. They look dazed, to begin with, but gradually work themselves into a frenzy; and the black faces, the monotonous wailing cry, the thrumming of the drums, the rattle of the clackers, and the beat of the devil's feet as he springs up, crouches down and swings about, make a scene to shock the quiet moon and stars and gladden Gehenna. North of Sierra Leone, Africa is Mohammedan; south, pagan, and the southern people have this devil. When peace is declared between two native tribes, the peace devil, who is fetich, comes leaping into the town; but if he stumbles or falls it is considered a bad omen and he is put to death for his pains. His dress is sacred, but his person is of no consequence.

Spontaneous Speaking.

Monsieur Paul de Remusat relates that once, visiting his friend Monsieur Thiers, who had not yet become President of the French republic, but was one of the most noted orators of Europe, he found the great statesman seated at his desk, busy with paper and pen.

"You come just in time," said Thiers. "I am just finishing the speech that I am to deliver in the Corps Legislatif to-morrow. I will read you some passages, and you may tell me just what you think about it."

It was, perhaps, Thiers' most famous speech—his great impeachment of Napoleon III. and his policy. The young man listened with interest, and after the reading ventured to say that, while the address was a remarkably strong one, he missed something of the easy, natural, perfectly simple method which was one of the orator's characteristics.

"You are right," said Thiers. "I haven't put in the negligence yet."

Taking his pen, he proceeded to add a touch of negligent ease here and there, changing careful expressions to careless ones.

"Now it is spontaneous!" he said. Monsieur Thiers once wrote to Sainte-Beuve:

"I have spent my life in public assemblies, and have been struck by one thing: the moment a speaker begins to make what we call phrases the audience begins to smile disdainfully and cease to listen."

FINLAND, the northwesternmost province of Russia, is a country 700 miles long, and on an average, 500 miles wide, embracing an area nearly 14 times that of the British Isles. It has a commerce of considerable importance, several interesting towns, a university enrolling 1,700 students annually, a hardy, thrifty peasant population, and scenery peculiarly and characteristically its own.

FOREIGN powers are about to adopt the electrical welding method of making shells for artillery.

New York's Crowned Heads.

At the opera a few evenings ago the wife of one of the hereditary millionaires of New York wore a genuine real all-gold-and-jeweled crown, constructed at a cost of $300,000. It has leaked out that two other New York ladies have crowns. The peacock feathers did not make a peacock of the crown in the fabric; neither will a $300,000-crown make a queen. If the wives of New York's wealthy men want to wear crowns, of course they have a perfect right to; a crown in this country has no more significance than a Leghorn bonnet, no matter whose head it is on. But would it not look better if these ladies would just lay the crowns away until they get the wings and harps that go with them?—Texas Siftings.

The Prostrating Shocks

Of malarial fever are not to be counteracted by quinine with any degree of certainty, or for any length of time. The eradication and prevention of diseases of a malarial type are, however, ascertained possibilities. Long experience has shown that there is infinitely more preventive efficacy in the fine botanic medicine, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, than in the alkaloids, drugs and poisons; which were formerly the only recognized means of removing and anticipating attacks of fever and ague and bilious remittent. When the system has been depleted by periodically recurring prostrations, this agreeable restorative renews the fund of energy, and is not only a positive specific, but repairs the damage to the general health inflicted by all febrile complaints of the malarial character.

Beautiful Swiss Custom.

As soon as the sun has disappeared in the valleys, and its last rays are just glimmering on the snowy summits of the mountains, the herdsmen who dwell farthest up on the mountain take his horn and trumpets forth. "Praise God, the Lord," and all the herdsmen in the neighborhood take their horns and repeat the words. This often continues a quarter of an hour, while on all sides the mountains echo the name of God. Solemn stillness follows, and every shepherd, on bended knees, with uncovered head, offers his secret prayer. By this time it is quite dark. "Good-night!" trumpets forth the herdsmen on the loftiest summit. "Good-night!" is repeated on all the mountains from the horns of the herdsmen and the clefts of the rocks.

Deafness Can't Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that we cannot cure by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

William Penn's Statue.

The bronze statue of William Penn, which is to crown Philadelphia's city building, is now being cast in different sections and will soon be ready to be put in place. In height and weight it will be larger than the Statue of Liberty on the Washington Capitol. The statue will be higher than the apex of the Washington Monument, and the broad hat of the "quaker" bronze will be the first artificial object in the country to catch the rays of the morning sun.

The Monon Route.

No other line out of Chicago seems to be more abreast with the times than the Monon Route in the equipment of its passenger trains. It has solid vestibuled trains, from the engine to the parlor and sleeping cars, besides being heated by steam and lighted by electricity. "The Velvet Vestibule," leaving Chicago at 8:30 a. m., and "The Electric," at 8:35 p. m., both for Cincinnati, are marvels of elegance and comfort, having no superior in the United States. The new compartment sleepers, just out of the Pullman shops and now running on the 8:35 p. m. trains, are simply super in their appointments, and cannot fail to be appreciated by families and small parties desiring privacy, comfort and convenience. These magnificent palaces, together with the regular Pullman sleepers on this train, make it about as near perfection for the comfort and convenience of travelers as train service can possibly be made.

Success in Life.

The way to succeed in life is to be faithful in the performance of whatever duties lie before us. Some of these duties may be irksome and unpleasant ones, but we will lose much by shirking them. Ordinarily the road to wealth, fame, or greatness is not strewn with roses. Those who have succeeded have found the way difficult and rough. They have come up through "great tribulation" and not "on the flowery beds of ease" and indolence. To succeed, in the true sense of the word, consists in living to some purpose, in improving our opportunities, and in seeking to elevate ourselves and those around us to a higher plane of intelligence and morality.

Our efforts may bring to us wealth, fame and position, but we should not regard them as the principal evidences of success, but rather as incidents of a well-spent life. To be successful in life, it is not essential that we accumulate great wealth, lead armies to battle, or attain to high official position; but it is incumbent upon us to do our duty in whatever station in life we may find ourselves placed, and to make the best possible use of our time and talents. If we do these things, we may account ourselves among those who attain real success in life.—Household Magazine.

A Real Balm is Kemp's Balsam.

The dictionary says: "A balsam is a thick, pure aromatic substance flowing from trees." Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs is the only cough medicine that is a real balsam. Many times, such remedies are called balsams, but such are not. Look through a bottle of Kemp's Balsam and notice what a pure, thick preparation it is. If you cough use Kemp's Balsam. At all druggists. Large bottles 50 cents and $1.

Hood's

Sarsaparilla is carefully prepared from Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Mandrake, Dock, Juniper Berries, and other well-known vegetable remedies, every ingredient being carefully selected and every step of preparation being carefully watched to obtain the best possible result.

Hood's

Sarsaparilla will cure, when in the power of medicine, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Scaldhead, Rosacea, Pimples, all Humors, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Sick Headache, Indigestion, General Debility, Catarrh, Malaria, Rheumatism, Kidney and Liver Complaints.

Hood's

Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which "100 Doses One Dollar" can truly be said. Each bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla contains 100 doses and will last a month, while other preparations last from one to two weeks; therefore Hood's Sarsaparilla combines economy and strength.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

Success in Life.

The way to succeed in life is to be faithful in the performance of whatever duties lie before us. Some of these duties may be irksome and unpleasant ones, but we will lose much by shirking them. Ordinarily the road to wealth, fame, or greatness is not strewn with roses. Those who have succeeded have found the way difficult and rough. They have come up through "great tribulation" and not "on the flowery beds of ease" and indolence. To succeed, in the true sense of the word, consists in living to some purpose, in improving our opportunities, and in seeking to elevate ourselves and those around us to a higher plane of intelligence and morality.

Our efforts may bring to us wealth, fame and position, but we should not regard them as the principal evidences of success, but rather as incidents of a well-spent life. To be successful in life, it is not essential that we accumulate great wealth, lead armies to battle, or attain to high official position; but it is incumbent upon us to do our duty in whatever station in life we may find ourselves placed, and to make the best possible use of our time and talents. Anton Seif has recently added several improvements to his brewery, the latest being a steam pump to convey his beer from the mash-tubs to the kettle. He has engaged the services of a special malster from Milwaukee, and claims to manufacture a first class article from the purest malt and the best hops, so that there is no need of bringing in beer from outside. In his new "ad" elsewhere he advertises a new kind of Munchner Lager Beer, during the spring, for which he is prepared to receive orders.

Grand Rapids Press: "In speaking of the proposed ship canal a gentleman who has devoted a life time to public improvements, remarked the other day that there were other projects that could be built for a tithe of the money, and in one twentieth of the time. One of them was the road proposed by S. B. Tibbits to Holland, with a connecting line of steamers to Chicago. The distance would be only 125 miles against 185 by all rail, and 95 miles of this would be by water, enabling the company to give a rate probably 75 per cent of the present all-rail route, and still make money."

Mortgage Sale.

DEFAULT having been made in the conditions of payment of a mortgage executed by Jan. J. Post, to William Pycock, of Zeeland, Michigan, to William Pycock, of Zeeland, Michigan, dated the twentieth day of December, A. D. 1888, and duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds of Zeeland county, Michigan, on December twenty-second A. D. 1888, in favor of mortgages, on page 33, by which default the power of sale in said mortgage contained has become operative; and upon which mortgage there is claimed to be due at the date of this notice, the sum of Five Hundred and Seventy-three Dollars and fifty cents ($573.50) and no suit or proceedings having been instituted at law to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof, notice is therefore given, that by virtue of said power of sale, and the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale at public vendue of the mortgaged premises there described, to-wit: All of that tract of land situate and being in the village of Zeeland, in Zeeland county and State of Michigan, known and described as follows: Lot number Two (2) of Block number Two (2) of Reppel's addition to the village of Zeeland, and being the East part of said lot two which is twenty-four (24) feet in width and extends the whole length of said lot, according to the recorded plat of said Reppel's addition, said sale to take place at the front door of the Zeeland County Court House, at Grand Haven, Michigan, on the Thirtieth day of March, A. D. 1891, at one o'clock in the afternoon of said day, to pay the amount due on said mortgage, with interest and costs of fore-closure and sale, including the attorney fee provided by said mortgage and by law.

Dated December 30th, 1890. WILLIAM PYCOCK, Mortgagee. J. C. POST, Attorney for Mortgagee. 49-13w

Mortgage Sale.

DEFAULT having been made in the conditions of payment of a certain mortgage made and executed by S. J. Dyer, to S. J. Dyer, of Zeeland, Michigan, to S. J. Dyer, of Zeeland, Michigan, dated the sixth day of November, A. D. 1888, and duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds of Zeeland county, Michigan, on the eighth day of November, A. D. 1888, in favor of mortgages, on page 47, on which mortgage there is claimed to be due at the date of this notice one thousand three hundred and eighty-two dollars and ninety-four cents, and no suit or proceeding having been instituted at law, or in equity to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part of it; and the whole of the principal sum of said mortgage, together with all arrearages of interest thereon, having become due and payable, by reason of the default in payment of interest on said mortgage, on the day when the same became due and payable, and the non-payment of said interest in default for more than sixty days after the same became due and payable, whereby under the conditions of said mortgage, the whole amount of said principal sum of said mortgage, with all arrearages of interest thereon, at the option of said S. J. Dyer, became due and payable immediately thereafter, and said S. J. Dyer, hereby declares his election and option to consider the whole amount of the principal sum of said mortgage due and payable: Notice is therefore hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained and the statute in such case made and provided, a sale of the mortgaged premises by sale at public vendue of the mortgaged premises or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount due on said mortgage, with interest and costs of fore-closure and sale, including the attorney fee provided by law; said sale to take place at the Zeeland County Court House, at Grand Haven, Michigan, (that being the place where the Circuit Court for Zeeland county is held) on the Thirtieth day of April, A. D. 1891, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon of said day. The said mortgaged premises to be sold being described in said mortgage as: All those certain tracts or parcels of land situate and being in Zeeland county and State of Michigan, and being described as follows: The West half of the North East Quarter of section seven (7) and the South Half of the North Half of the North West fractional Quarter, and a strip three rods wide off the South side of the North Half of the North Half of the North West fractional Quarter, of Section number nineteen (19) all of which is in Township Six (6) North of Range Fourteen (14) West, containing one hundred twenty-seven acres more or less.
