Religious services will be held in Grace Episc. church, Sunday evening.
Architect Price has completed the plans for the new residence of Tom Huizenga, and is engaged upon three others.
M. Van Patten, the news dealer, offers the G. R. Evening Press at 25 cents a month. Marine says it's a live paper.
The store occupied by L. Henderson, River street, will be to rent April 1. The location is a very desirable one. See notice.
E. Takken, Jr., was the successful competitor for the erection of the new residence of Prof. D. B. Yntema. Building operations will begin at once.
Easter was not forgotten by all of our merchants. C. L. Streng & Son, C. A. Stevenson, and Will Botsford had Easter window trims that would do credit to any of the Grand Rapids stores.
The Republican ticket of Jamestown enjoys the distinction of having among the list of the nominees the name of James A. Garfield, candidate for school inspector. The late President was his uncle.
Geo. E. Kollen attended the funeral Wednesday, at Overisel, of his niece Mrs. J. H. Koopman, nee Kollen. Had she lived until that day she would have been 32 years old. Her grandmother, Mrs. G. Kollen, mother of Prof. G. J. Kollen, on that same day reached the ripe old age of 91 years.
Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Nibbelink celebrated Saturday as the 25th anniversary of their marriage. Owing to the day they postponed its observance until Thursday evening, when a goodly number of their friends gathered at their home on Ninth street to help them celebrate. The news was also kindly remembered.
There will soon be issued in the News a carefully classified index of the principal corporations, merchants, manufacturers, and financial and professional firms of Holland, to be circulated throughout the city and country. A solicitor will call and explain the nature of the enterprise and no doubt the business men will give it their support.
The members of the life saving crew at Holland harbor, before entering upon the duties of the year, were mustered for inspection Wednesday before Capt. Robbins and the marine surgeon at Grand Haven, and stood their examination successfully. The crew is again in charge of Capt. Morton and composed of last year's members: J. S. Skinner, John H. Smith, Frank E. Johnston, Geo. C. Robinson, Austin J. Fairbanks, Albert Tanner, Nicholas J. Whelan. The last named spent the winter studying law, at Valparaiso, Ind.
The leading position among dealers in agricultural implements is maintained by H. De Kruijff is a matter for congratulation to all that recognize push, fair dealing and commercial integrity. By reason of his location, in the heart of a rich agricultural district, his large sales secure to him the right to make his own selections from among the many manufacturers, and his long experience enables him to make these selections judiciously. He has added this year a line of wagons, harnesses, and fertilizers, and deals also largely in horses. In fact he is a complete "outfitter" of the farmer. We refer the readers to his new ad.
The sudden change in the weather and the cold spell that followed gave rise to a great deal of anxiety about the fruit prospects. The thermometer throughout the fruit belt on Saturday ranged from eight to ten degrees above zero. Ordinarily this would not endanger anything; but coming close upon the warm weather of the two previous weeks there was a reasonable ground for alarm. The fruit reports that came in on Monday were very discouraging and gave out that the cold wave had destroyed the peach bud along the entire lake shore, from Benton Harbor to Hart. It appears however that this was exaggerated, and that while the cherry, plum and other small fruit may have been injured seriously the peach bud as a whole has not been injured. The early peach if anything has suffered more than the late. Geo. H. Souter showed us some buds that were cut from his place on the Lake Shore, and they seem to have survived the cold spell remarkably well. It is probable that the further north the less the damage, the bud in the southern part of the fruit belt being further developed and less able to resist the attack.

CITY AND VICINITY.

Dr. P. Meengs of Eastmanville has removed to Coopersville.

A stray hound is awaiting the call of its owner, at J. Woldring, north of the creamery.

The schr. Addle arrived Monday from Manistee with a cargo of shingles. She unloaded at Bradshaw's dock.

The show window in the millinery store of Benjamin Sisters is among the leading attractions of its kind in the city.

At the bakery of C. Blom Jr., they experience a marked increase of trade since they have engaged their new baker. In the pastry line especially orders come in lively.

Benton Harbor has obtained a contract to supply St. Joseph with gas. The latter city, while the county seat contest is on, is willing to take anything now from Benton.

The C. & W. M. at its shops in Muskegon, is building one of the largest steam shovels ever operated. It will be used largely at St. Joseph, where one is needed a large portion of the time to keep the tracks clear of drifting sand.

Castle Lodge No. 153, K. of P., will give its first annual ball and banquet at Lyceum Opera Hall on Friday evening April 7. The banquet will be at the City Hotel and the music by Prof. G. B. Newell's orchestra, Grand Rapids.

Thirty-two reasons are given by H. Meyer & Son to demonstrate that the Story & Clark organ, is the best in the market. This array of evidence is backed up by the large number of instruments that are being constantly sent out from their River street musical depot.

Prof. Charles B. Scott, who is planning establishing a class in "nature study" at Macatawa Park this summer, has been invited to address a convention of teachers of the several western states in Chicago on this topic, in April, also the National Teachers convention which meets at Asbury Park, N. J., in July.

The Chicago and West Michigan and Detroit, Lansing and Northern system has proposed to its bondholders a plan for an issue of 4 per cent bonds, secured by a mortgage on the entire system on the plan adopted last year by the Grand Rapids and Indiana. Decreased earnings made this step necessary, as the old bonds in some instances draw as high as 8 per cent.

A missionary meeting will be held at the M. E. church, Monday evening next, at 7:30 o'clock. Addresses will be delivered by Rev. James Hamilton, pastor of the East st. church, Grand Rapids, and a former student of Hope College, Rev. J. L. Davison, of Joy Memorial, Grand Rapids, and Rev. W. J. Cogshall, presiding elder. All are invited to come and hear these brethren represent the cause of missions. A ten-cent missionary tea will be served from 4:30 to 7:00 P. M. Come and get acquainted with the speakers and help the cause with your presence.

The Chief of the Weather Bureau desires to call attention to the investigation of the currents of the Great Lakes during the seasons of 1892-'93, and would request the assistance of all interested persons in advancing this important work. Vessel masters have kindly floated in the different lakes bottles containing a paper giving the position where the bottle was floated and date of floating. A number of these bottles has been recovered, but there is still a large number yet to be found, and it is thought possible they are now lying on the beach. It is requested of all persons who frequent the lake shore to keep a lookout for these bottles, and when found please complete the paper in the bottle, inclose it in the penalty envelope (which requires no postage), and forward it promptly to Washington, when the finder will receive proper acknowledgment. Many interesting features have been developed from the return of the bottle papers.

A synopsis in Friday's papers of the amounts recommended for the harbors on the east shore of Lake Michigan includes only the following: Grand Haven, $25,000; Manistee, $12,000; Muskegon, $3,000; St. Joseph $30,000; South Haven, $10,000.

The Death of Four Young Persons by Drowning.

With Easter morning of 1894 will be chronicled in the annals of our city a fatal and mournful event—the death of four young persons by drowning. They constituted a hunting party that left their homes on Saturday evening late, in order to be on hand at daylight the next morning and shoot the ducks in their early flight.

The party comprised Charles Petrie, aged 30 years, and his wife's brother Eugene McKay, aged 18 years. J. C. Schafer, aged 25 years, and his wife's brother Irwin Thake, aged 22 years. Schafer was employed at King's basket factory; the others at the C. & B. tannery.

They left the dock here in two small boats and crossed to the north side of the lake, calling at Ed. Scott's place, and later at S. L. Strong's, east of Pine bay, where they took in some decoy ducks. This was at one o'clock Sunday morning, and the last that was seen of any of them. Their intention was to go to the bayou and land at what is called Frenchy's point on the northerly or easterly shore of the bayou after passing out of the Superior narrows. This point is a favored spot for shooting ducks, especially in the morning, and here is where they intended to camp out, being provided with a tent, cooking utensils and camping outfit. It is evident however that they never landed there. Towards midnight a strong wind was blowing from the northern. Being on the north side of the lake it is presumed that they kept close under the lee shore, until they emerged out of the Superior narrows into the big bayou. Here's where the wind and waves must have struck them with full force, proving too much for their frail boats. Such was the supposition of those best qualified by experience to express an opinion, and they concluded that the boats must have capsized a short distance west of the grassy point. In this opinion they were confirmed by the recovery on Tuesday of one of the decoy ducks among the weeds covering that point.

Sunday forenoon, about 10 o'clock, Mr. A. Satterlee, who resides on the south side of Black Lake, about half a mile west of Central Park, discovered the two boats bottomside up, near the shore; also a tent and a boat seat floating outside the boat, close to the beach. A short distance further west, about 300 rods, a lunch basket and a cap were also found. For some reason or other the knowledge of this incident was not communicated to anybody that day.

The several members of the party had left word that they would return on Sunday afternoon. As Monday morning came, and no tidings of any of them had reached their homes, Mr. J. N. McKay and his son-in-law Mr. Bingham started down the south shore, making anxious inquiry as they went, until they reached the place of Mr. Satterlee, where they were informed of the recovery of the boats, etc. It was there that their saddest fears were being fully realized, and they returned to town. As soon as the news reached the tannery, and factory, there was a general lay-off among the employees. Men quit work and forming themselves into searching parties, began a search of the lake in the vicinity of the spot where they were supposed to have perished. Drags of different kinds were used and dynamite exploded, and a thorough search was instituted and kept up, to the extent that it was possible to do so in the face of a blinding snow storm.

Thursday afternoon the first body was found, that of Mr. Petrie. It was brought to the city, conveyed to Mr. Nibbelink's and from there home. No inquest was held, it being deemed not necessary. The remains will be taken for interment to Brantford, Can., Mr. Petrie's old home, from whence he came to this city about four years ago. He leaves a wife, nee Levanche McKay, and two children, aged five and three years.

To Mr. and Mrs. J. N. McKay, who sustain a double loss, the trial is also very severe. On account of the high wind and the inclemency of the weather they refused their son Eugene permission to go. Nevertheless he did go, leaving a note on the table informing them to that effect.

J. C. Schafer leaves a widow and one child. He moved here with his family a few years ago from New Richmond, Irwin Thake, a brother to Mrs. Schafer, was said to be the main support of his aged parents, who reside some few miles south of here, in Allegan county.

The four men were favorably known, well liked, steady and industrious and, as is but natural, much sympathy is felt and expressed for the bereaved relatives.

Friday noon, at about one o'clock, another body was recovered, that of Irwin Thake. It will be taken to Saugatuck for interment.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

If subscribers order the discontinuance of newspapers, the publishers may continue to send them until all arrears are paid. If subscribers refuse or neglect to take their newspapers from the office to which they are sent, they are held responsible until they have settled their bills and ordered them discontinued.

If subscribers move to other places without informing the publishers, and the newspapers are sent to the former place of residence, they are then discontinued.

CONCERNING DELINQUENT SUBSCRIBERS: The latest postal laws are such that newspaper publishers can have arrested any one for fraud who takes a paper and refuses to pay for it. Under this law the man who allows his subscription to run along for some time unpaid and then orders it discontinued, or orders the postmaster to mark it "refused," and to send a postal notifying the publisher, lays himself liable to arrest and fine.

The Great Convention in Detroit.

The local delegates that attended the Eighth Convention of Michigan Endeavor Societies last week returned home with enthusiastic reports of the proceedings of that body and of the reception they met at the hands of the christian people of the City of the Straits, and for that matter of the entire state.

It may not be generally known that Michigan was one of the first states in which a Y. P. S. C. E. was organized: This was in December, 1881. There were at that time but five or six others in existence in the United States. Careful record shows that there are now nearly 29,000 societies, with a total membership of over 1,700,000; 25,000 of these societies are in the United States, the others being scattered through Great Britain, Australia, India, China, Japan, Turkey and 16 other foreign countries. Christian Endeavor is adapted to almost every kind of church organization, being found in over 30 evangelical denominations.

The first convention met at Kalamazoo in the spring of 1887. Only 14 societies were then reported. At this convention the Michigan Christian Endeavor union was organized with B. F. Sargent, of Grand Rapids, as president. The second convention met in Lansing in April, 1888. At the third convention in Detroit in April, 1889, the number of societies had swelled to nearly 250, with about 10,000 members. The next three conventions were held respectively at Saginaw, Grand Rapids and Benton Harbor. At Benton Harbor 500 societies were reported, with a total membership of 25,000. There are now in Michigan about 700 societies, with 30,000 members.

Among the many able addresses delivered before the convention the one of Judge C. B. Grant, of the supreme court of this state, is full of practical application, especially at this season of the year:

"My young friends of the Christian Endeavor union," said he, "when youth invites aid and counsel in the great battle for the advancement of morality, purity, honest government and Christianity, older age is not at liberty to decline. The older may not keep pace in the line of battle, but from their larger experience may point out the salient points for attack and direct courageous youth to the accomplishment of good results. Christian duty does not end with praying, preaching and attendance upon religious meetings. It has just begun.

If there is one thing over and above all others in which the Christian citizen ought to be interested, it is the character of his government. Every Sunday all over the land ascend prayers for all those in authority, for they determine the character of the government. There is just as much necessity for constant fighting as for constant praying. Courage, heroism and sacrifice are as essential upon the battlefield for morality as upon the physical battlefield. There is no such thing as negative evil, but there is plenty of negative goodness. So a criminal or a corrupt politician will put to flight a whole regiment of negative Christians, but when brave Christian manhood is in line of battle, criminals and politicians hide themselves to cover. Crime and corruption exist in proportion to the blindness of justice, neglect of official duty and the apathy of honest manhood and womanhood.

Who, a few years ago, placed the government of Detroit in the hands of seventeen liquor dealers? The people. Would that have been possible had honest men been as active as the ward heelers, lawbreakers and politicians? Certainly not. There is too much politics in religion and too little religion in politics.

Church and state must forever be kept separate in this republic. Churches must keep their hands off the government and the public schools, which are the nurseries of American liberty. But it by no means follows that church members are to be inactive in the selection of capable and honest men for places of public trust.

The municipality, the state and the nation is cursed with "practical politics," which means the exclusion of honest methods. The motto of the practical politician is "All is fair in politics." He will buy votes, pack caucuses, buy delegates or be elected delegate for the sake of selling his vote. In large cities he will call caucuses in saloons to keep decent people away.

No law will enforce itself; no law will of itself place honest men in official stations. Law furnishes the tools and machinery by which the people carry on their government. So long as honest citizens will not use them, criminals and law-breakers will. So long as honest citizens avoid the jury box, the caucus, the convention and all participation in municipal affairs just so long no change will be effected. There is no other remedy than the activity of all good citizens in municipal affairs. Those who neglect these things neglect a solemn, imperative Christian duty. Voting is the fountain head of the American system of government. When it becomes foul and venal the whole body politic becomes tainted with corruption.

The times are propitious for organized effort. The disclosures of the last year in several states have awakened the public conscience as never before. It will be a long and constant warfare, to be won only by eternal vigilance and eternal fighting.

Into this contest for good government, my young friends, your duty calls you."

PRETTY RUSTIC WORK.

Pleasant Employment for Winter Days and Evenings.

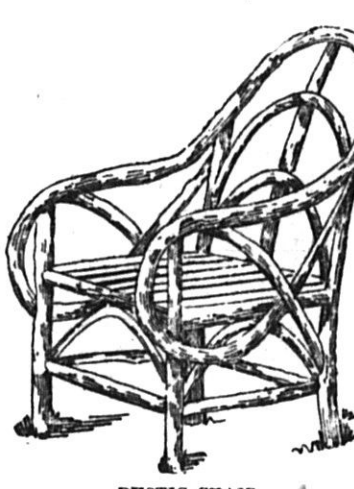

There is nothing more pleasing to the eye, or more acceptable, than a rustic chair or settle, on porch or lawn; and yet the purchase of these things is often so expensive to be impossible for the average purse. Two home-made articles seen on a recent trip have led me to think how easy to make and substantial such things can be. The first, a long and broad settle with a high back, I came upon suddenly to my surprise and gratification, on the veranda of my friend, C. D. Tylee, at Ste. Therese, Can. It has a high and comfortable back and solid legs to which the seat and arms are mortised. A seat is made of round sticks shaved flat on the surface side, and the whole is well braced and graceful, as the cut shows. The arms are made from natural crooks found in the woods, the mountain laurel serving admirably. In reply to my inquiry I was told that the young son of my host had constructed it, and had become quite an adept at such work with a little practice.

The second is a chair, capacious, with a seat like that of the settle. It has stout legs supporting the back, and the arms are well braced by crooked sticks neatly mitered and nailed in place. It possesses the advantage of being quickly made, as there are but few pieces to it. A long, limber sapling, such as can be got by the thousand in any dense, second-growth timber, can be fastened to the back at A, carried down to the forward leg below the seat and neatly pinned or screwed on, bent about over the forward leg to serve as an arm, carried back to the top of one rear post, fastened and bent around to the other, carried down to the forward post and fastened, bent still again and run back nearly parallel to a point on the rear post midway between the seat and top to correspond with the opposite side on which it started. If this chair is not to be left in the weather, grape vines serve a speedy and satisfactory purpose. In the manufacture of camp chairs the vines of the wild grape are without parallel for this purpose. This chair was made and is in use at the charming farm home of L. D. Smith, St. Albans, Vt.

From these few suggestions other articles of furniture may be easily made; they include plant boxes, urns, fences, gateways, swings, porches, summer houses and a score of other useful and at the same time ornamental things.—Hollister Sage, in Country Gentleman.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES.

THERE is no profit in fondered pigs. Poor quality lowers prices more than overproduction.

THERE is always a good demand for strictly first-class stock.

MORE fat can be laid on with ground than with whole grain.

VENTILATION and warmth should go together. Avoid draughts.

THERE are reported to be 998 abandoned farms in Massachusetts.

It turns out before milking they will affect the flavor of the milk.

LEAVES are excellent as a mulch, as stock bedding and as a stable absorbent.

SHEEP produce four crops every year, namely: Mutton, wool, lambs and manure.

THE greatest profit in feeding sheep for mutton is made while the animals are young.

CASES of caked udder may be quickly relieved by liberal applications of very hot water.

STATISTICS show that England annually spends $80,000,000 for foreign butter and cheese.

BEFORE setting, air your milk thoroughly, so as to allow animal and other matter to escape.

It is said that when the cows have been fed on bran the milk rises slowly and is hard to churn.

FIREWOOD is more easily cut when green and makes quicker and better fires when well seasoned.

THOSE trees whose leaves stick to the branches in the spring are to be looked upon as lacking in stamina.

If the stock are to be kept thrifty they need more variety of food in winter than at any other season.

THE largest cemetery in the world is said to be at St. Albans, Vt. The capacity is 23,000 pounds a day.

In many parts of India oxen still serve as carriers of merchandise, and buffaloes are kept for milk and plowing.

BUTTER from fresh cows is more highly flavored than that from cows long in milk, so the latter requires more care in ripening.

A SAILOR'S ESCAPE.

The Remarkable Adventure of a Frenchman in Africa.

When Africa was first opened to adventurous explorers, a French vessel sailed up one of the African rivers that empty into the Gulf of Guinea, to trade with the natives; and while engaged in this expedition the captain, first and second mates and a majority of the crew were prostrated with the fever of that region, which so often proves destructive to unacclimated persons. On learning that the crew were not in a condition to either work the vessel or properly defend themselves, a body of hostile natives, one dark night, made a sudden attack, and succeeded in capturing the ship and murdering all but one sailor, named Jarvene, who escaped by jumping into the river and swimming ashore.

Crawling up the maddy bank, and finding himself on the edge of a thick jungle, Jarvene, anxious to preserve his life, and not knowing better what to do, at once plunged into the vegetable labyrinth, and hurried forward, he knew not whither. For hours he continued to work his way through the tangled mass of leaves, vines, reeds and bushes, thinking only of making himself safe from the danger behind, and giving no heed to the perils before him.

The awful roar of a lion brought him to a realization of the fact that his condition might be no better where he was than when surrounded by the murderous natives, and he stopped and shuddered, and said over the few prayers his mother had taught him when a child. The lion roared again, much nearer than before; and soon after, he heard a heavy rustling in the thicket before him, and fell down on his knees, believing that his last hour had come. The beast, whatever it was, came crashing toward him through the jungle, and finally passed within a few feet of him. He knew it could not have been the lion himself, for he would not have made so much noise.

Jarvene got up and went forward again, trembling from his late fright and at the thought of the awful perils that surrounded him. He had not gone much further before he found his feet sinking in mud and water, and knew himself on the borders of a marsh that might engulf him should he advance. The foliage overhead was so thick and dense that daylight would only have come dimly into this fearful place, and, being night, he could see nothing, not even his hand when he held it close up before his eyes, nor had he seen a single object since leaving the bank of the river. He turned and retraced his steps till he found himself on hard ground, and then threw himself down in despair, almost wishing he had remained and shared the fate of his companions. He was very tired, the night was warm, his agonizing sense of misery brought on a stupor, and he soon fell asleep.

When he awoke it was broad day, the sun was at least an hour high, and yet the light under the thick canopy of leaves was like the dusk of evening. He started up, somewhat bewildered, but soon remembered all that had occurred, and looked around him with a feeling of terror linked with despair. He was in an African jungle, surrounded by enemies of all kinds, thousands of miles from home, his friends all dead, and with very little chance of ever again beholding the abodes of civilized man. He had no food with him and no weapon but a sheath-knife. He might starve in the jungle, he might be destroyed by serpents or wild beasts, or he might escape these perils only to fall into the hands of robbers or cannibals.

There was no use, however, in remaining where he was, and he started on, going southward only because he thought it the nearest way to the sea coast. He avoided the marsh, and walked some hours, still in the thick jungle, when he became very hungry and thirsty. At length he came to a small, narrow stream, overshadowed by trees; and, hastily constructing a cup of leaves, he sat down on the bank to rest and refresh himself with the liquid element.

He had just done drinking, and was sitting very still, concealed by the rank vegetation which grew up all around and spread all over him, when he heard the bushes slightly rustle on the opposite bank, and saw the head of a beautiful blue antelope peep timidly through the leafy covering and reach down to the water. The next moment something descended swiftly, with a crash, through the leaves and bushes, as it might be the limb of a tree; there were a terrific floundering on the bank, a wild, plaintive cry from the antelope, and the coils of a huge serpent, as it wound around and crushed the poor little animal, met the horrible gaze of Jarvene, who bounded to his feet and rushed swiftly away.

Toward evening of that day the sailor got clear of the jungle and entered a beautiful open wood, which was perfectly clear of underbrush, and the ground of which was covered with flowers of every color and form, looking, at a little distance, as if a magnificent carpet was spread over it. Here the trees were alive with birds as handsome as the flowers; bright, glittering lizards were running up and down the trunks and out upon the limbs, and the air was filled with shining insects and butterflies of all sizes and hues.

At last, as he still walked on, feeling faint for want of food, he came to a cluster of plantain trees, which were from fifteen to twenty feet high, with leaves six feet long, and filled with flowers and fruit, the rich and delicious banana. He quickly ascended the trunk of one of these, but as he put his hand over the first limb a snake wriggled under it, which so shocked and startled him that he let go his hold and came heavily to the ground, fortunately without serious injury. He got up and tried his fortune in another tree, and this time succeeded in plucking off quite a number of heavy branches, of which he ate sufficiently to satisfy the cravings of hunger.

As it was now near night, and he did not wish to sleep again on the ground, he began to look for a tree in which he could lodge, and at length discovered the wide-spreading banyan, whose branches, bending to the ground, take root and form new stocks, until they not unfrequently cover a space several hundred feet in circumference, and whose main trunk, if hollowed out, would be large enough for a family to live in. Ascending one of the stocks to the principle crotch Jarvene found room enough there to stretch himself at full length, and, commending his soul to his Maker, he lay down and went to sleep.

He was awakened in the middle of the night by the fighting of some wild beasts at no great distance, but after the noise had ceased he again fell asleep and slept soundly till morning, when he descended, made his breakfast on bananas and resumed his lonely wanderings.

About noon he came to a clearing, and saw before him on a hillside a small village of rude huts, part bamboo and part wood, with several of the natives moving lazily about. While he stood looking at them from the edge of the wood, not decided whether to make himself known or steal off and continue his wanderings, he heard a stick snap behind him, and, turning round, found himself confronted with four black, almost naked, villainous fellows, who were armed with bows, arrows and spears, and who, having discovered him, were stealing up to take him prisoner. Resistance was out of the question, for two of the party had their arrows drawn to the head, ready to send them through him, and the others had their spears poised for the same purpose; and so, anxious to preserve his life, he held up both hands, palms outward, in token of peaceful surrender.

WATERY GRAVES.

Fate of a Party of Four Fishermen of Holland.

Their Boats Are Capsized During a Furious Storm and All Are Drowned—Futile Attempt to Recover the Bodies.

FOUR LIVES LOST.

HOLLAND, March 27.—A party of four men went fishing in two small boats Sunday morning in the awful storm that was raging. The boats have just been found capsized. The boats were frail concerns, and it is supposed that all the occupants were drowned, as none of them have returned to their homes. The names of the lost are: Charles Petrie, married; Jean McKay, single; J. C. Shafer, married; Irwin Thakies, single. Thakies was the only support of his father and mother. Petrie and McKay were brothers-in-law, as were also Shafer and Thakies.

HOLLAND, March 28.—Large parties of men in boats have been searching for the men who were drowned in Black lake Sunday night. Drags have been used and dynamite exploded, but no bodies were discovered.

UNITED AFTER SEVEN YEARS

Michigan Woman Recovers Her Daughter, Who Was Stolen in 1887.

JACKSON, March 28.—Lillian Madison, who was stolen from her home in Lansing in 1887, has been found by her mother at Free Soil. Her story is quite romantic. Mrs. Sarah Madison became a widow in 1886 in Bellevue, being left with seven small children. She moved to Lansing soon after and went to work in a hotel. On the last day of October, 1887, a man and a woman in a closed carriage drove up to her residence while she was away and told her oldest daughter (Mabel) that her mother had sent them for Lillian. Lillian was placed in the carriage, which started in the direction of the hotel, and that was the last the mother saw or heard of her for seven years. The mother spent her property, in all over $8,000, in vain attempts to find her daughter. Mrs. Madison finally removed to her old home in Albion, a few miles west of Jackson.

In January last a couple who staid over night at Mrs. Madison's told her that they knew of a young lady named Lillian Madison, who had been taken from the Coldwater state school by William Freeman, living near Free Soil. The mother at once wrote to the address given, and on March 3 a reply was received from the girl which convinced the mother that the writer was her child. She went immediately to Free Soil and mother and daughter were reunited.

Miss Madison's story is that she was abducted by a woman named Davis, who compelled Lillian and other children to walk about the country and beg for her. Lillian was told that her mother was dead. She wandered around for three or four years, until this woman and her mother were arrested and sent to Kansas as being connected with the Bender murder. The girl was then taken to Coldwater, where she was found by Mr. and Mrs. Freeman.

To Evangelize Southern Negroes. ALLEGAN, March 24.—The Adventists here have just completed a boat capable of accommodating 150 persons. The party will start for the south in a few days by way of Lake Michigan and the Mississippi river. On reaching Tennessee a stop will be made at all settlements along the river, and the Gospel according to the Adventists will be preached. The projectors of the expedition say they will evangelize all the southern negroes before they return.

Will Open Unusually Early. SAULT STE. MARIE, March 21.—Indications now all point to the earliest opening of Lake Superior navigation on record. Reports from Detour, at the mouth of St. Mary's river, announced that the channel is open near there. Above Detour several horses have broken through the ice. Near Lime island and Sallors' Encampment the ice is rotten and will move out. It will take but little warm weather to clear the way above here.

Will Get Bonus of $3,000. ITHACA, March 24.—The stove mill recently burned here will be succeeded by another structure of a permanent nature, and will be running in fifty days. Mr. C. W. Althouse, its owner, has received enticing propositions from Saginaw and other cities, but has submitted to this village a proposition to rebuild in a permanent manner if the village would give him $3,000.

To Finish Ann Arbor's Gymnasium. ANN ARBOR, March 22.—The regents of the University of Michigan have decided to finish the Waterman Gymnasium. The Greek hieroglyphics were ordered cut from the stone over the door. In their place the words "Waterman Gymnasium" will be cut. Permission was granted to hold the coming athletic indoor meeting in the gymnasium.

An Appointee of Lincoln Dead. MARQUETTE, March 24.—James Edward Dalliba, an old resident of this city, died Friday. He was born at Watervliet, N. Y., December 8, 1821, graduated from Hamilton college in 1841, studied law at Utica, N. Y., and settled in Chicago about 1850. He was appointed attorney general of Colorado territory by President Lincoln and held that office about five years.

Flint Democrats Nominate. FLINT, March 22.—At the democratic city convention the following nominations were made: Mayor, Frank Dulam; clerk, Walter R. Robinson; attorney, Clinton Roberts; treasurer, Charles Ripley; marshal, Charles E. Miller; justice of the peace, Marvin L. Seeley; health officer, Dr. Bela Cogshall.

A Sudden Call. DETROIT, March 27.—William Leach, a painter, 37 years of age, dropped dead Monday morning on Michigan avenue. It is believed his death was caused by lead poisoning.

DE FRANCE IS GUILTY.

Convicted of Passing the Forged Draft at Kalamazoo.

The Evidence Was Very Conflicting—Rev. Dr. Henderson Swore the Prisoner Was in Detroit When the Crime Was Committed.

WILL GO TO PRISON.

KALAMAZOO, March 23.—Stonewall J. De France was found guilty of passing a $12,500 forged draft on the First national bank of Kalamazoo on November 23, 1891, after a trial lasting fifteen days. The case has been the most interesting tried here in many years. The courtroom was packed at each session and many of the developments have been of the highest sensational character. Thirteen witnesses positively identified De France as Louis Forrest, who passed the draft. The defense showed by Rev. Dr. Henderson, of Chicago, and witnesses from Detroit that De France was in Detroit when the crime was committed. The three Galvin brothers swore that a contract was made between them and De France to borrow money of him and that they received the same in Detroit on the day he is charged with being here. Con W. Britt, an attorney for the defendant, was arrested and brought here in irons, placed on the stand and swore that he wrote the contract and signed De France's name to it by a power of attorney last January. A telegram from De France to Britt to push forward the matter and other papers were produced to corroborate the evidence of Britt and prove that the defense had been manufactured since the arrest of the respondent. This was denied by the respondent and wife. Within a week after the forgery De France had false teeth placed in his mouth in place of teeth that had wide spaces between them. Dr. Land, a Detroit dentist, did the work and he swore that the wife of the defendant attempted to bribe him not to come here and testify.

Andy Rohan, the Chicago detective, has been here during the trial awaiting the result. He says that he knows that De France is the man who bunked Banker Jacob Newman. Banker Anderson knows De France to be the man who secured a big bundle from his bank in April, 1892.

To the special charge to find whether Hammond signed the draft the jurors answered "No."

KALAMAZOO, March 26.—Judge Buck on Saturday sentenced Stonewall J. De France, the forger, to eleven years at hard labor in the state prison at Jackson. Ninety days were allowed the attorneys for the defense to prepare a bill of exceptions. De France was taken to Jackson immediately.

STOOD THE STORM.

Experts Say That Michigan Fruit Prospects Are Still Good.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., March 28.—The loss to fruit-growers from the recent cold wave seems to have been greatly exaggerated so far as this part of the state is concerned. Fruit-growers from Allegan, Ottawa and Kent counties, constituting the Grand River Valley Horticultural society, met here Tuesday with samples from their trees, and expert examination showed very few buds injured by the cold weather. Most of the farmers present estimated their loss at not over 10 per cent.

BENTON HARBOR, Mich., March 28.—Polad Morrill, one of the principal fruit growers of this section, says that upon examination but few fruit buds are found to be injured by the cold wave. He says there will be full crops of peaches, apples, cherries and pears. Small fruits and grapes are not advanced enough to be hurt. Apricots were killed.

Served Notice Again.

LANSING, March 27.—Pension Examiner Dudley has personally served upon Justice Charles D. Long Commissioner Loehren's order directing the latter to submit further evidence relative to his disability within thirty days or submit to a reduction of his pension from $73 to $50 per month. Judge Long's counsel are now taking depositions in Michigan to support allegations which will be made in an application soon to be filed for a permanent mandamus to prevent the proposed reduction of pension rating.

Stabbed the Deputy Sheriff.

GRAND RAPIDS, March 23.—George W. Wright, a painter, stabbed Deputy Sheriff Harmon Cowan in the breast Friday night when the latter endeavored to replevin some goods, and then when Cowan returned with other officers and forced an entrance to the house, his wife fired twice at the posse. Neither of the shots took effect. Wright and his wife were arrested.

Died in Prison.

JACKSON, March 24.—The first natural death for over a year has occurred at the prison. Murders, suicides, escapes, etc., have followed each other down to the present peaceful condition of prison affairs. It was Samuel W. Bishop, No. 5310, who came to the prison May 25, 1892, from Berrien county to expiate the crime of forgery, for which he was to have served eleven years.

Michigan Postmaster in Trouble.

BAY CITY, March 27.—George W. Jones, postmaster at Otsego Lake, has been complained of before United States Commissioner McMath by Postmaster Inspector Laughlin for the alleged embezzlement of $974. He will be brought to Bay City for a hearing.

Ann Arbor Calendar for the Year.

ANN ARBOR, March 24.—The final figures for the university calendar have been compiled and show a net loss of only 119 students from last year. The registration is: Literary, 1,437; medical, 626; law, 607; pharmacy, 60; homeopathic, 27; dental, 185.

Death of Col. Peavey.

BATTLE CREEK, March 27.—Col. John Peavey died here Monday, aged 90. He was formerly a member of the New Hampshire legislature. For three years he was state bank commissioner. He was prominent in grand army circles in this state.

A FEW NOTES.

The remains of Leander Simoneau of Saginaw, who disappeared suddenly the night of January 20 last, were discovered Monday about 10 miles down the river by two boys who were catching driftwood.

Frank Goss and Frank Waverly, two young men living in Cedar Creek township, discovered the skeleton of a woman interred beside a lonely road in such a manner as to suggest foul play. The sheriff is investigating.

Mrs. Holliday Gets a Divorce.

ANN ARBOR, March 22.—Mrs. Susie A. Holliday has been granted a divorce from her husband, Louis W. Holliday, and was allowed $20,000 alimony and $350 counsel fee. The couple were married in 1883, while Holliday was attending college. He belonged to a wealthy Chicago family. They afterwards removed to Detroit, where his escapades and threats to shoot his wife caused him considerable notoriety. Holliday now lives in Chicago and did not contest the divorce except as to alimony.

Extradition of Truite.

DETROIT, March 23.—Requisition papers have been issued for the extradition of Thomas P. Truite, ex-city treasurer of Detroit, who in 1892 embezzled $15,000 of the city's money. He is under arrest in Brooklyn, N. Y. Truite was defeated for reelection to the office of treasurer and left the city. He settled at Fort Lee, N. J., and an examination of his books disclosed a shortage of $15,722. He had served the city as treasurer for ten years and was known in Detroit as "Honest Tom." He is 45 years of age.

Will Start a Colony in Florida.

BATTLE CREEK, March 27.—Seven different families in this city are arranging to go to Florida this spring in a caravan. They will go overland, and expect that it will take about three months to make the trip of over 1,200 miles. They expect to forage along the way and partially subsist on fish and game. They will start a colony on Tampa bay as soon as they get there.

Ten Houses Burned.

LICHFIELD, March 25.—A row of wooden buildings in the business part of this village was destroyed by fire Saturday morning. Ten business houses were destroyed, aggregating $10,000. The principal losers are S. Fowler, boots and shoes; S. Riblett & Co., notions, and A. J. Lovejoy. Insurance small.

Planted Whitefish.

BENTON HARBOR, March 26.—Fish and Game Warden Boswell, accompanied by a government fish commissioner, planted 2,000,000 young whitefish in Lake Michigan off St. Joseph Saturday. They were out eight hours and planted these in 14 fathoms of water.

SIoux FAMILY LIFE.

Quarrels and Punishments Are Very Rare Among Relatives.

A writer in Outing gives an amusing account of "Sketching Among the Sioux." He says that the kindness and patience of these people in their domestic relations are very noticeable. The women have certain duties to perform, as among other races; but the men do not disdain to help them on occasions any more than does a white man of good disposition.

We never saw, during our whole residence in the Sioux village, a single family quarrel, and the children were rarely, if ever, punished.

One example to illustrate this characteristic pleased and amused us not a little. One day Flying-by's wife came to our tent and asked us to lend her a small hand-mirror which we possessed. We gave it to her, and then watched her to see what she would do with it. About a mile and a half or two miles away a horse race was in progress, watched by three or four hundred mounted Indians.

The squaw took the mirror, stood in front of the tent, and reflected a beam of sunlight from the glass along the ground in line with the group of Indians.

It was only two or three minutes before a solitary horseman left the band and came tearing over the prairie toward us. It was Flying-by, who sprang off his horse at our door and looked inquiringly around. His wife had gone back to her cooking, and was apparently quite heedless of his coming.

To his question whether some one had not sent for him, we could only reply that we had seen his wife playing heliostat with our mirror, whereupon he went over and spoke to her.

In a moment he returned, and with a grin told us that, knowing he had money, his wife had called him home for fear he might be tempted to gamble it away. He chuckled over her prudence, and told us that he might have made a lot of money if he had stayed; and not a cross word was spoken.

WHAT SCRAPPLE IS.

A Diner Who Had Some Trouble in Finding It Out.

"For years," said a cosmopolitan diner, "one triumph of Philadelphia cuisine was denied me. I had eaten catfish and waffles at the Wissahickon roadhouses, terrapin and redbirds at the clubs and private tables, and oysters brought unshooked to my host's house in a basket; but scrapple for me existed only as a name. Philadelphians feigned ignorance concerning it, and in all my range of New York acquaintance I found no one who could even tell me about it. So at last I gave up scrapple as a dream of the unattainable; a creature all too rare and good for aught but Quaker daily food. Then, as often happens when you give a thing up and cease to think about it, in Third avenue one day I saw in the window of a butcher's shop the placard: 'Genuine Philadelphia Scrapple.' The words identified a block of what looked like sausage meat, about a foot square and as thick as a brick, and, with the thrill of a discoverer, I first beheld scrapple. Entering the shop, I learned from the vender that this delicacy is a compound of horseshoe cheese and Indian meal, cooked together and molded, ready to be cut in slices and fried. The marketman cut off for me a large slice of scrapple, which I took to a restaurant and had fried. It was highly seasoned with pepper and sage, and was decidedly an agreeable dish."

BRUIN AS A DEFENDER.

A Trapped Bear Whips a Mountain Lion and a Coyote.

A Montana ranchman, having lost a fine brood of ducks, set a bear trap baited with fresh beef, and that night heard a howl, which he recognized as that of a coyote. Knowing that the animal could not escape he turned over to sleep again, when he heard such a chorus of howls that he went out to investigate. He found a coyote and a cinnamon bear caught in the trap, showing that both animals had made a strike for the beef at the same time, while ten feet away was a mountain lion, waiting until one of the fighters had killed the other before finishing the winner. The bear and coyote seemed to know this, and made no hostile sign, so the lion sneaked around to the top of a sheep shed near by, where he lay crouched for a moment, and then made a spring, dropping squarely on the bear. A terrific struggle followed, in which the lion at first had the best of it; but finally the bear got a grip on his adversary's neck, the lion's head dropped and he was strangled to death. The bear was not much better off, bleeding from many wounds, but he still had life enough to look after the coyote. He made two strokes at the coward of the plains and crushed the life out of him. Then the bear staggered around a minute and rolled over dead.

A WEDDING NOVELTY.

Marriage Certificate Six Feet Long Engraved and Framed.

An expert engraver in Philadelphia tells of a recent society event in which an example of his work figured as the chief object of interest. This was a highly ornate marriage certificate, executed chiefly with a bamboo pen on the finest "Yellow Mill" drawing paper. The signature of the legally authorized Camden official who performed the ceremony was written with the same pen. When framed and hung above the folding-doors facing the dining-room of an uptown mansion, it measured six feet in length and twenty-inches in width.

"The young couple were delighted with my work," said the engraver, "and after I had helped to conceal it with an artistic drapery of white silk, the wife remarked: 'I shall not unstrap this until all our guests are seated at the table this evening, and then,' she added, with scornful emphasis, 'I guess they will know whether we are married or not.'"

RESORT!

To the Farmers!
Be sure and look well this season to your own interests, in buying your Hay Loaders and other farming tools.
I keep at present the Rock Island Rake and Hay Loader combined, which is far ahead of anything yet offered in this vicinity. It has already been tested, to the best satisfaction, by one of our largest farmers in Fillmore, Kansas Dykhuil. He prefers it far above the Keystone.
Also something new in the Hay unloading line, with which you can unload your grain as well as your hay.
The American Cultivator and Seeder and Bean Puller Combined. Will pull from 8 to 10 acres in one day.
The American Disk Harrow and Pulverizer.
Also the North Molder Spring Tooth Harrow, all steel. No loading up of dirt.
The Five-tooth Cultivator, all steel.
Land Rollers, Plows, Hay Rakes, Double Shovel and Three Shovel Cultivators, Hay Forks and Hay Attachments.
I also keep on hand a full line of Buggies, Road and Farm Wagons, and Carts.
Particular attention is called to my new Patent Double Tross Brace, which I now put on all my wagons, and of which I am the sole proprietor for this city. This is the only true tross brace made. No extra charge. Upon short notice I fill every order in the wagon and blacksmith line. Carriage and Wagon Painting done in the most satisfactory manner.
At Wholesale and Retail—a full line of Iron and Steel.
I buy all kinds of Furs, and keep a full line of Bee Supplies.
All the above goods I will sell at close margin, for Cash, or good Bankable paper.
Thanking you for your past patronage, I solicit your further trade during the ensuing season.

Our Nominees.

The Republican city and ward caucuses, held Friday, were largely attended. Notwithstanding the heavy vote that was brought out in the Citizens caucuses, it was evident that this spring the devotion to the principles of the Republican party and a desire to express disapproval with the mad career of the Democracy were uppermost in the minds of many a devout adherent of the G. O. P. The ballot for mayor showed an attendance of over two hundred voters.

P. H. McBride, chairman of the Rep. city committee, called the convention to order and at his suggestion the several ward and district caucuses were held first, at the conclusion of which the city convention was duly organized by the election of G. J. Diekema as chairman and G. Van Schelven as secretary. Tellers—L. Marsilje, F. Van Ry, Ed. Vaupell, A. Verlee and A. Visscher.

Ex-mayor Harrington then placed in nomination as candidate for mayor the gentleman who was honored with that position during the first year of our incorporation, and who has twice since filled the mayor's chair with credit to himself and to the satisfaction of our people—Hon. Isaac Cappon. The first ballot showed how well the selection had been made, Mr. Cappon receiving 179 votes out of a total of 208.

In response to the demands of his fellow-citizens the nominee appeared before them and acknowledged his satisfaction with having the opportunity of expressing himself as to where he stood. The people of Ohio, Pennsylvania and even the Tammany districts in New York had done so recently, and he was glad the people of Holland were about to have the opportunity to express themselves likewise. He accepted the nomination in that spirit, and thanked the convention for the honor conferred.

The ballot for marshal was nearly unanimous for Frank Van Ry. For treasurer it required two ballots, the final vote standing: W. Brusse 137, S. Bos 79.

For justice Geo. E. Kollen received 151 votes, and H. D. Post 32.

The result of the ward and district caucuses is given at the head of this column.

The new Republican city committee is composed as follows: 1st ward—G. J. Van Duren, Harry O. Doesburg; 2nd ward—John Van den Berg, Peter Schoon; 3rd ward—John Kramer, Henry Kleintveld; 4th ward—G. W. Mokma, H. Boers; 5th ward—Austin Harrington, J. W. Visscher. The committee organized by electing G. W. Mokma chairman and H. Boers secretary.

The People's party also held their convention on Friday evening, in the skating rink, with an attendance of about 30. Their nominations and endorsements will be found in the fac-simile of the official ballot on our last page. While this ballot is not an exact fac-simile, since it is a grouping of all the district and ward nominations, it will nevertheless give the voter somewhat of an idea of the document that will be handed out to him on Monday next.

Board of Supervisors.

The board convened in special session Tuesday, being called together for the purpose of accepting the new court house, as shown by the following report of the building committee:

To the Honorable the Board of Supervisors of the County of Ottawa:

I, Your committee having been notified by contractor A. J. Ward that the new court house was about finished and ready for acceptance, have caused this special session of the board to be called for the purpose. They felt, inasmuch that opportunity for doing so presented itself, it was but fitting that the same board under whose direction the work was commenced and so successfully carried on, should also be permitted to bring it to a formal close.

The building is submitted for your inspection, completed according to contract, as your committee can truthfully report, except as to a few minor details, some of which will have to be acide the vacating of the old building. The contract, including additions and changes since letting, calls for $46,803.81. Of this amount contractor Ward has been paid $43,318.39, leaving a balance due him of $3,485.42.

Your committee, in view of the premises, therefore, present the following for adoption:

Resolved, that the contract entered into June 7th, 1893, between the county of Ottawa and Andrew J. Ward of Flint Mich., for the erection of a new court house, be and the same is hereby declared as practically fulfilled and the building as such accepted; and that the building committee is directed to pay the said A. J. Ward the balance of $3,485.42 still due him on said contract in manner as follows, to wit: $3,000 upon the adoption and passage hereof and $485.42 whenever the minor details, hereinabove referred to, shall have been completed to the satisfaction of the committee; provided however, that the labor and material bond filed by the said contractor shall continue in full force until satisfactory evidence is furnished to the building committee that the condition thereof have been fully complied with.

II. Your committee deem it but proper that fitting expressions be given of the satisfactory manner in which the work entrusted to both architect and contractor has been performed. However, they prefer to delay this until such date as the labors of your committee shall have been completed and the building duly furnished, delivered to the board, at which time they expect to refer to this matter more fully, submitting in connection therewith a full and detailed statement covering the entire of their operations. Your committee anticipate they will be enabled to do this in the early part of June next, and in harmony therewith they suggest and recommend that they be empowered and directed by this board to arrange for suitable dedicatory exercises and to regulate the occupancy of the building by the several officials, as fast as its furnishing shall so warrant.

III. Your committee would further report that since the January meeting of the board they have entered into the following contracts:

With the Grand Rapids School Furniture Co., for the fixtures and furniture in the court room and the four offices on the first floor. Contract price, $2,958.

With the Fenton Metallic Mfg. Co., of Jamestown, N. Y., for the metallic fixtures in the four vaults. Contract price, $1,500.

With the White Mfg. Co., of Chicago, Ill., for the lighting fixtures (combination). Contract price, $1,100.

With F. Engle & Co., of Muskegon, Mich., for the mantels in court room and offices. Contract price, $689.

With G. Van den Bosch & Bro., of Grand Haven, Mich., for the curtains and fixtures. Contract price, $91.

The aggregate of these five contracts is fully $2,000 less than the estimates submitted at the January session of the board.

The completion of the basement, as directed by the board, involved an extension of the heating apparatus in the two main offices, beyond what was covered by the contract. This work has been ordered by your committee at a cost of $132.

Your committee became fully convinced, through the experience of others, of the desirability of outside ventilation for the vaults, as being conducive of a good state of preservation of their contents, and hence they directed the placing of a dead-light in the outside wall of each of the eight vaults, at an expenditure of $200.

IV. As to the financial features connected with the building operation, it may not be amiss here to give the following resume: Of the $35,000 voted by the people the first installment of $10,000 has been paid during the past winter. For the second installment of $15,000 bonds have been issued, maturing in February next. These bonds are the only ones out at present. Of the third installment ($10,000) the sum of $2,000 is designed for the court house and $8,000 for jail improvement. The issue of this installment has been and will be delayed by your committee until such time as the finances of the county demand the same, the funds on hand being used in the mean time to meet our current expenditures, thereby saving interest.

V. In accordance with the instructions of the board, as regards a janitor for the new building, we would recommend the appointment of C. Christmas at a salary of $300, to be paid in monthly installments; said appointment to go into effect April 1st next, and to remain in force during the pleasure of the board of supervisors. We would at the same time recommend that during the continuance of your committee the jan-tor be subject to their directions, and that your committee be charged with submitting to the board, as they retire from office, a schedule defining his duties; it being understood however that from now on the janitor's undivided time and personal attention be devoted to the position.

VI. As directed by the board your committee have made a tender of the old court house to the city of Grand Haven, and they have been formally notified of the city's acceptance thereof; the time and manner of its removal to be regulated between them hereafter.

VII. With reference to the court house square and the grounds proper, your committee submit the following for the adoption of the board:

Resolved, that the committee on buildings be directed to complete the grading and cover with sods so much of the grounds as immediately surround the new building and are not likely to be disturbed hereafter.

Resolved, that inasmuch it is sentiment of the board that eventually the court house square be occupied by the court house only that therefore the attention of the citizens of Grand Haven be directed to the desirability of an early removal of the engine house at present located on the north-east corner of the grounds.

VIII. Your committee would suggest that the board at this time determine the total insurance to be placed on the new building. The amount carried at present is $25,000.

IX. With reference to the leasing of the basement rooms your committee have received an application of Geo. D. Turner, who desires to rent the two rooms in the north-east corner for the term of ten years from July 1 next, at an annual rental of $130, payable quarterly, to be occupied as abstract office. Your committee submit this to the favorable consideration of the board. All of which is respectfully submitted.

The report was made the special order for Wednesday morning.

Mr. Van Loo offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Whereas a new court house has now been built, which is an honor and pride of the people of the county; and

Whereas with the passing away of the old court house many associations of the era of first settlement and early development of this county are connected, which ought to be kept in remembrance; therefore

Resolved, that a picture of the old court house be made and suitably framed and placed in some conspicuous position in the new court house.

Resolved, that the friends of Rix Robinson, the first white settler of the county, and of Rev. Wm. M. Ferry, the first representative of the religious development of the county, and of Rev. A. C. Van Raalte, the representative of the large and flourishing Holland settlement of the county, be respectfully requested to furnish to the building committee portraits of these several gentlemen, and the said committee directed to have suitable enlarged portraits made thereof and properly framed and placed in the new building, at a cost of not exceeding the sum of one hundred and fifteen dollars for the four pictures.

In view of an increasing tendency towards a slackness in the collection of taxes, the following preamble and resolution were unanimously adopted:

Whereas some of the township and notably Grand Haven city treasurers, return a large amount of real estate upon which the taxes have not been paid, the amount of such unpaid taxes amounting to the immense sum of $9,800 in the city of Grand Haven alone; and

Whereas it is evident from an inspection of the descriptions returned and of the names of the owners to whom they were assessed, that with due diligence upon the part of said treasurers said taxes could largely have been collected; and

Whereas the illegal return of such unpaid taxes requires a large amount of labor of the county treasurer in the transcription of such returned lands and in collecting such taxes, and an outlay for books and blanks is required of the county, which should not be required; therefore

Resolved, That the prosecuting attorney be directed to investigate said illegal return and report to the board of supervisors at its next session whether anything can and ought to be done on the part of the county to correct this evil, or whether any of such treasurers ought to be proceeded against for neglect of the duties of their office or for making evidently false affidavits to the said returns.

On motion of Mr. Kerkhof the following humane action was taken in regard to the disposal of the dead bodies of the inmates of the county infirmary:

Resolved, That the county superintendent of the poor and the keeper of the county infirmary be instructed hereafter to bury all inmates, that may die in the infirmary, in the cemetery of said infirmary, except such whose friends consent that they be sent to Ann Arbor, or that are claimed by relatives or friends.

At the session on Wednesday the report of the building committee was unanimously adopted, excepting, a reduction in the salary of the janitor to $500. A large number of accounts was allowed, and the thanks of the board expressed to the chairman and clerk for their efficiency in the discharge of their duties; whereupon the board adjourned.

There is lively competition among several southern cities for the national encampment of the G. A. R. next year. Members of A. C. Van Raalte post of this city who have expressed themselves as favorable towards the selection of Louisville, have received due acknowledgment from there.

A woman's willfulness.
"Admiral Farragut's death was due to the selfishness of a woman," Rev. James J. Kane, chaplain of the Brooklyn navy yard, said in a recent lecture. "The admiral and his wife were coming from California when a woman occupying a seat in front of them in the car opened a window. Admiral Farragut was ill, and the strong draught of wind which blew directly upon him chilled him. Mrs. Farragut asked the woman courteously if she would not kindly close the window, as it was annoying to her husband. The woman snapped out: 'No, I won't close the window. I don't care if it does annoy him. I'm not going to be smothered for him.' Admiral Farragut thus caught a severe cold, which resulted in his death. A few days before the end came he said: 'If I die that woman will be held accountable.'"

A Queer Volume.
One of the most singular volumes extant is the manuscript diary of James II. It is preserved in the imperial library in Paris and is filled with reflections on the course he should have pursued in order to retain the English throne. He says in one place: "I did not retire from the battle on the Boyne from a sense of fear but that I might preserve to the world the life that I felt was destined to me." "I felt that I might preserve to the world the life that I felt was destined to me."

Good Roads AND Spring Elections.

For several years past it has been our practice to contribute $25 towards every $1000 raised for the purpose of improving country roads leading into Holland. Desiring further opportunities of this nature, we wish to call the attention of our friends in the country to the importance of agitating the subject of road improvement at the spring elections to be held next Monday.

Yours truly,

Farewell, Kearsage!

Let us then of Kearsage,
Never to sail the wide seas more!
We could better have spared a daintier boat,
The newest and janniest at thing afloat,
Than this sturdy and gallant old dog of war,
Lost on the reef of Ronador.

In storm and thunder
She rent asunder
Her arrogant foe in the days gone by;
Then proudly we saw her pennon fly,
And our shouts went up 'neath the alien sky
For the ship that had saved her own once more.

Our pride and hope in the days of yore,
Lost on the reef of Ronador,
Where the churned foam breaks on the yellow shingle.

And the sullen currents meet and mingle.
Vale, Kearsage! Our hearts are sore
For the loss on the reef of Ronador.

Improvements of Roads.

The road improvement meeting at Smith's school house, in Olive township, was held on the evening of the 17th, pursuant to call, and there was a good attendance. However when they got down to business, every one seemed to have an idea of a road of his own. Some even acted as if they had come there to defeat any and all propositions advanced.

The committee appointed to investigate the roads made their report. They recommended buying the right of way around Five-pine (O'Brien's) hill, and then to cut it down on the east side to the section line on the flat to the range line road and improve the road by ditching, and then further grade it around to the Grand Haven road, at the corner of Mr. Van Lente's.

Another proposition was made by Mr. Johnson, to try and buy the right of way on the west side of O'Brien's hill, where the old road formerly used to be.

Mr. Rooks, highway commissioner of Holland town, and others explained that it was not feasible to improve the Decker hill and keep it in good condition, without incurring a heavy expense and a great deal of labor on, account of the sand hill on the west side of the road blowing in with the strong west winds.

The first proposition made by the committee was carried by a small majority.

The agitation has accomplished another good thing: it has given the commissioner of Holland the occasion to see and examine the bad condition of the roads, so that in case he should be re-elected he will put some work where it is most needed during the following summer.

Endeavors will now be made also by those who are in favor of good highways to bring the new law into force in this county, which provides for a county system of roads, and the next board of supervisors will be asked to take the necessary steps in that direction.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

Zeeland.

Miss Katie Van Loo, the popular clerk at E. Boone & Co., is enjoying a two weeks' vacation.

J. H. Petre, principal of the Zeeland public school, spent a few days in Grand Rapids this week.

Miss Hannah Gretzinger spent a few days in Holland and East Saugatuck.

A prominent doctor of the East called on F. Boonstra Monday.

Many young people of the village attended the nuptials of John Van Koeveering and Nellie Brink last week.

The Misses Grace and Sadie Cass were in Holland Tuesday.

The Misses Martha Baert and Katie Den Herder, delegates to the C. E. convention at Detroit, submitted their report at the meeting on Tuesday evening. It was lengthy, interesting and instructive. Miss Martha Baert intends to remain in Detroit a few weeks, visiting with the family of Rev. Kremer.

Miss Hannah Van Loo is spending her vacation in Grand Haven, visiting parents and friends.

Mr. Muller was in Grand Rapids a few days this week.

K. S. Jones has moved his stock of jewelry to his residence on Centennial street, where he will wind up his business. He expects to leave soon and settle on a tract of land near Macatawa Park. This leaves but one jeweler in our village and an excellent chance is open for an energetic man in this line of business.

Miss Delta De Kruff left for Holland Wednesday for a few days' visit with friends.

Miss S. Coburn is visiting her parents in Beaverdam.

Dick Boonstra, student at Albion College, is home on vacation till April 3.

Henry Van Eyk has returned from his trip east. His new invention gave good satisfaction and he expects orders in for more, in the near future.

Mrs. J. Fox has obtained the assistance of Miss Oltman of Grand Rapids, in her hat trimming establishment.

J. Elenbaas, who was seriously hurt a few days ago by falling out of a tree, is recovering nicely.

Dick Boonstra and Arthur De Pree were in Holland Thursday.

J. D. Koontz, of the Mutual Life Ins. Co. of New York, was in town Thursday.

The Zeeland Brick Co. will resume operations next week, if the weather permits.

We are sorry to mention that Mrs. Ralph Veneklassen is slowly declining.

Mrs. H. Boone of Holland was in our village Thursday.

Mrs. E. Breckenridge of Cleveland, O., is visiting with her mother Mrs. Wiersma.

A. Lahuis went to Muskegon on business Thursday.

The Hulzena auction at Groningen was largely attended and prices were way up.

Bert Borst has fully recovered of his slight illness.

Wm. Blijtwerk, who has for many months been confined to his bed, is again able to be around on crutches.

Ben has a bad attack of the ballot fever this week.

Miss Lena Dorajin is visiting the home of R. De Bruyn this week.

Oscar De Groot went to Grand Rapids on business Thursday.

The township election will pass off very quietly, as there is but one ticket in the field, the Republican.

Lamont.

About six months ago Nicholas Scanlon, who was given the post office at Lamont by the present administration, reported that the postoffice had been entered and $108 in money and stamps taken. There are some features of the case which looked suspicious to the authorities, and Inspector Lamour and Deputy Marshal Brewster have been looking into the matter ever since. As the result of the investigations they went to Lamont Saturday, and unexpectedly the inspector inaugurated an examination of Scanlon's books. They showed in addition to the $108 said to have been stolen a shortage of $50 accrued since that time, and as a result Scanlon was at once arrested on a charge of embezzlement and brought to Grand Rapids, where he will have to stand trial.

Allegan County.

The Allegan post office is creating war trouble well as at Washington at home. Says the correspondent of the Detroit Journal: "This Allegan affair is peculiarly interesting, in view of the fact that a seat in congress is said to be involved. When the Allegan contest opened there seemed to be no doubt of the appointment of Joseph Killen. His commission was even made out by Postmaster General Bissell and sent to the White House. But it never got further than there. It seems that one of Mr. Killen's main backers was Richard Newham, who has aspirations to a seat in congress. With Killen in the Allegan postoffice it looked a good deal as though Newham would capture the Allegan delegation in the congressional convention. This put some of the anti-Newham people on the alert. Joseph Fletcher, of St. Joseph, is also a candidate for congress from the Fourth district. It is said that he looked upon the choice of Killen as very antagonistic to the Fletcher congressional boom. As a result, Mr. Fletcher threw his influence to Mr. Bracken, who keeps a hotel, with an extensive bar and billiard room annex. Mr. Bracken also secured the support of ex-congressman Yapple. President Cleveland nominated Bracken. Thus the congressional aspirations of Mr. Newham received a shock, and those of Mr. Fletcher went up with a bound. Since then prominent people at Allegan have been writing to the two Michigan senators and have been making strong protests against Bracken's confirmation. Senator Stockbridge's familiarity with the Allegan locality has permitted him to advise the postoffice committee on the subject. Senator McMillan is a member of this committee, and has brought the Bracken nomination to a complete standstill. There is no present prospect of a confirmation, so that the congressional aspirations of Messrs. Newham and Fletcher promise to languish for some time to come. In one of the letters received against Bracken's confirmation an elaborate pen picture is given of the bar operated by the nominee. The letter is from a prominent judge. It states that the size of Bracken's bar is entirely out of proportion to the majority recently given by Allegan county, when it 'went dry.'"

ORANGES are said to be absurdly cheap in Florida now, and part of the crop was not picked for market because of the small demand. The mechanics of northern cities are, in good times, large consumers of oranges, but this season hard times have made the fruit a luxury, and the rigid economy of workmen has been disastrously felt all over the orange-growing regions of this country.

A BATTLE CREEK (Mich.) young man recently wrote a letter of proposal to a young lady, and in order to give a unique turn to the event he sent the letter directed to her around the world. Not to be outdone, she has just sent her answer to him around the world also, and he won't get it until about the fourth of July. In the meantime they will probably come to a verbal understanding before that date.

Thirty-two reasons why the Story & Clark organ is the Best.

1. Our tone is mathematically and theoretically correct; is based on principles and proved.
2. Our cases are the latest and most unique in architectural beauty, and always popular. So successful are they that unprincipled organ manufacturers often copy badly.
3. Cases are heavy and of solid walnut, or of any hardwood. Never misrepresented.
4. Cases are framed and paneled. No wide boards. No warping or splitting.
5. Large bellows and wind-chest. Full capacity; gauged accurately.
6. Our top drops back on hinges, exposing to full view the whole interior; take out two screws.
7. Cases are mouse proof. Mice have no access to vital part of organ.
8. The reeds can be easily reached. By simply turning a button, a door in the back opens on hinges.
9. Our pedals are boxed up close, leaving no open space that would be unpleasant to the sight.
10. Our action is trim and practical and cannot get out of order. Wires are nickel-plated, and the simplest mechanism used with direct results, giving largest variety of tone effects from stop combination.
11. Our foundation-boards are framed and paneled; cannot warp or split, consequently, bellows never leak.
12. Our keys never fall; pitmans and valves being so arranged that they cannot possibly be displaced.
13. Our keys do not stick; pitman rods are thoroughly relieved and holes to received them large enough to allow for swelling and shrinking.
14. Action bushed with fine felt at every bearing to prevent jarring or rattling.
15. Key-board frame is strongly supported by two level pins on each end, and iron brace in back center and front.
16. Our organs have the Wilcox octave coupler, the best in use; is simple in mechanism, never gets out of order, and for endurance is without an equal.
17. We use the dull rubber cloth; lasts longer than in keeping with good work and material.
18. Our closing music pocket protects an expensive sheet music free from dust.
19. Many of our cases have elegant French plate mirrors, the most costly and perfect, with the indestructible patent-back.
20. The stop knob is the latest make; is of high grade china, highly decorated; will never become in the least affected by time, wind or weather. Old defects cease. Cannot crack. Letters or faces never wear off.
21. The swinging fall-board never sticks at side; always runs perfect and smooth.
22. The anti-friction patent roller which relieves friction, makes the knee swell the easiest in use.
23. The grand-organ is the most perfect known, is patented, and for graduating purposes is general marvelous.
24. Highest grades of felt are used.
25. Highest grades of specially toned leather are used.
26. Highest grades of all stock material are used.
27. The oxy-hydro-silver ornamentation on special cases, the costliest made.
28. Our pedals are absolutely non-squeaking.
29. Our bellows webbing is detachable and adjusted to pedals by a simple button hole attachment.
30. Our nickel finger-guard protects the name-plate and adds to the beauty of the organ.
31. Our cases can be so taken apart as to pass the smallest practical openings.
32. We make but one grade of actions—that the best.

In his address on the negro question in Philadelphia the other evening Prof. Booker T. Washington, of Tuskegee, Ala., himself a negro, related an amusing anecdote to illustrate how in the Ethiopian mind religion is often divorced from morality. "An old darkey," he said, "arose recently in one of the southern prayer meetings and exclaimed: 'Brethren and sisters, I've been having a dreadful time since last we were together. I've been chawing hard bones and swallowing bitter pills. I'm afraid I've broken every one of the ten commandments, but, thank the Lord, I haven't lost my religion.'"

During the last smallpox epidemic in Winsted, Conn., services were discontinued in the churches. This made a certain little girl in the town very unhappy, and one Sunday she started a service by herself and for herself. Her prayer was not long, but it was to the point. "Oh, Lord," she said, "make the smallpox go away. Don't let the smallpox get my papa, nor my mamma, nor me, nor any of us, oh, Lord; we've all been vaccinated, and it's working better than ever on all of us, amen."

The person who has the reputation of being the oldest living woman in Illinois, if not in the United States, is Mrs. Ann Lichner of New May, Ill., who was born December 18, 1776, and is thus one hundred and seventeen years old. She is of Norwegian descent, was married in 1800, and of her eight children, the youngest, Samuel, now eighty-one years old, lives with his mother.

The late Chief Justice Stone, of Alabama, was held in high esteem as a man, as well as in great repute as a jurist. He served on the bench for more than fifty years, in that time deciding more than twenty-four hundred cases. Gov. Jones, in announcing his death, said: "No greater or purer man ever lived or died in Alabama, and none whose death was a greater calamity."

The highest broad-gauge railroad in the United States is the Denver & Rio Grande, and its highest point is at Marshall pass, where it climbs to a height of ten thousand eight hundred and fifty-five feet above the sea. There are some narrow-gauge roads that go a little higher, but this is the highest point attained by a through route.

COL. J. D. STEVENSON, who died in San Francisco recently, was one of the best known pioneers of that state. He was born in 1800 and was private secretary to Vice-President Tompkins. At the outbreak of the Mexican war he took a regiment around the Horn to California.

OLDEST DOLL IN THE WORLD.

Believed to Date from the Beginning of the Christian Era.

Francella A. Hitchcock, in the "Doll's Dressmaker," tells an interesting story of the famous Bambino di Ara Coeli. It is the oldest doll in the world, and if tradition is true, almost as old as the Christian religion, for it is claimed to have been carved out of a tree from the Mount of Olives in the time of the apostles, and to have been painted by St. Luke. Be this true or not, it has been in the Eternal city many hundreds of years, and is called the "Ara Coeli Bambino" (baby), because the church of that name, one of the oldest and most interesting in Rome, is its home. This church is built on the site of a very ancient pagan temple, and its nave is formed of twenty two columns, the spoils of the ancient buildings, the inscription on the third on the left proving it to have been brought over from the palace of the Caesars. I shall never forget the first day we visited this vast and solemnly picturesque edifice. It was just at sunset, and golden shafts of light illuminated the mosaic floor, lighted up the richly gilded ceiling above, and flashed in wondrous brilliancy over the Prespio, or manger, where lay the miraculous Bambino in swaddling clothes, literally crusted over with diamonds, emeralds, rubies, sapphires and other precious stones, while its neck and wrists were entirely covered with strings of the purest oriental pearls.

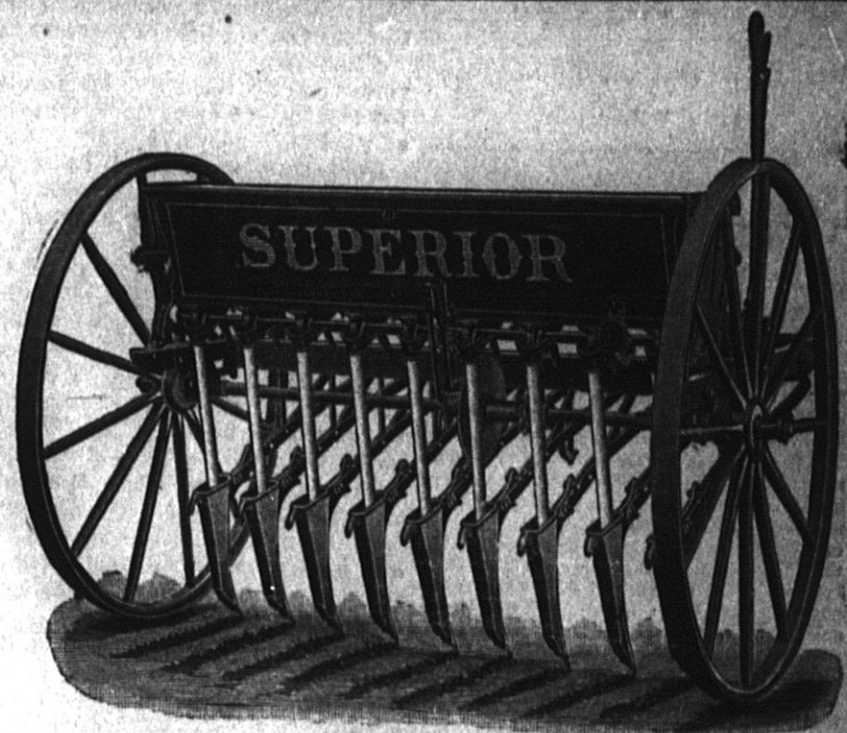

INDIAN CORONETS.

They Are the Most Expensive Sort an American Girl Can Buy.

American women who long for coronets should hesitate before accepting Indian ones. The case of the recent suit in which an English woman sues for divorce from her Hindoo husband, points a moral. She alleged cruelty as a ground for her suit, and it is claimed that the same plea might be made by nearly all the women who marry orientals and go home with them.

As a usual thing, the oriental gentleman, pursuing his studies at an English or American university, is a picturesque figure. He is likely to be very clever, and it is taken for granted that he is a prince at least when he is at home. He is popular with his fellows, and through one of them he meets and marries a pretty, freely-brought-up girl. Then he takes her home.

She may not meet with unkindness from her husband's family, for the orientals have many amiable and attractive qualities, and they are not cruel. But if the husband has not cut himself adrift from the religion and ties of his childhood his wife must conform to a certain extent to the ordinary life of the native woman. And, inasmuch as she will only do this so far as her love and duty to her husband oblige her, she will certainly fail to satisfy her new relatives, and will be looked on with coldness and suspicion by them.

CONGRESSIONAL Regular Session.

A TREATY which provides for restricted Chinese immigration has been negotiated and was under consideration in the senate on the 21st. The house was not in session.

In the senate on the 22d a number of bills of minor importance were acted upon. Mr. Sherman introduced a resolution directing the committee on judiciary to investigate the charges of "simulation" of United States coins or of the coinage of standard silver dollars. After a brief executive session the senate adjourned on the 23d. The house spent the entire day in filibustering over the O'Neill-Joy contested election case from the St. Louis district. The bill for the construction of a bridge across the Monongahela at Pittsburgh was passed.

THE senate was not in session the 24th. In the house a joint resolution appropriating $10,000 for the salaries and expenses of additional deputy collectors of internal revenue to carry out the provisions of the Chinese exclusion act was passed. The struggle over the O'Neill-Joy contested election case was resumed and occupied the remainder of the session.

THE senate was not in session on the 25th. In the house the post office appropriation bill was considered. It carries $87,470,500, which is $1,142,651 less than the estimates and $3,469,355 more than the appropriation for the current fiscal year. An amendment to set aside $50,000 for the purpose of free delivery experiments in rural districts other than towns and villages was adopted.

In the senate on the 26th the death of Senator Colquitt, of Georgia, was announced, the customary resolution of regret was adopted and a committee of ten senators was appointed to accompany the remains to Macon, Ga., after which the senate adjourned. The house adjourned after a brief session on account of the death of Senator Colquitt.

SAILED THE SEAS 38 YEARS.

One of His Experiences.

For thirty-eight years Capt. Loud followed the sea, most of that time as master of a vessel, and upon retiring from the water was appointed by the Secretary of the United States Treasury to superintend the seal fisheries in Alaska, which position he held five years. He relates one experience as follows:

"For several years I had been troubled with general nervousness and pain in the region of my heart. My greatest affliction was sleepless; it was almost impossible at any time to obtain rest and sleep. Having seen Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine I began using Nervine. After taking a small quantity the benefit received was so great that I was positively alarmed, thinking the remedy contained opiates which would finally be injurious to me; but on being assured by the druggist that it was perfectly harmless, I continued it together with the Heart Cure. Today I can conscientiously say that Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and Heart Cure did more for me than anything I had ever taken. I had been treated by eminent physicians in New York and San Francisco without benefit. I owe my present good health to the judicious use of these most valuable remedies, and heartily recommend them to all afflicted as I was."—Capt. A. P. Loud, Hampden, Me.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and Heart Cure are sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or by Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5, express prepaid. They are free from all opiates and dangerous drugs.

Sold by all druggists.

Dykema Druggist, Catskill, N. Y., says that Dr. King's New Discovery is undoubtedly the best Cough remedy; that he has used it in his family for eight years, and it has never failed to do all that is claimed for it. Why not try a remedy so long tried and tested. Trial bottles free at Heber Walsh, Holland, and H. De Kruij Zeeland, Mich. Regular size 50c. and $1.00.

A severe rheumatic pain in the left shoulder had troubled Mr. J. H. Loper, a well known druggist of Des Moines, Iowa, for six months. At time the pain was so severe that he could not lift anything. With all he could do he could not get rid of it until he applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm. "I only made three applications of it," he says, "and have since been free from all pain." He now recommends it to persons similarly afflicted. It is for sale by Heber Walsh, Holland, Mich.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives the best satisfaction of any cough medicine I handle, as a seller leads all other preparations in this market. I recommend it because it is the best medicine I ever handled for coughs, colds and croup.—A. W. Baldridge, Millersville, Ill. For sale by Heber Walsh, Holland, Mich.

and your opinion on this subject.

What is the best Monetary system for the United States? This is the greatest problem confronting the American people. It is the intention of the publishers that "THE MONOGRAPH" shall contain the best thought of the nation on this question. The recognized leaders in all political parties have been called upon to contribute plans for their ideal MONETARY SYSTEM. But not content with this, we are determined to embody in the same volume the opinions of those of the "Great Common People" and to that end we will allow two dollars on the price of the book for your solution of this problem, expressed in not more than 80 words. THE MONOGRAPH, the best modern work on Monetary Systems, will be sent to any address on receipt of $3.00. It is a book that will interest and instruct, and is destined to become a giant factor in shaping the future monetary system of the nation.

"Perhaps you would not think so, but a very large proportion of diseases in New York comes from carelessness about catching cold," says Dr. Cyrus Edson. "It is such a simple thing and so common that very few people, unless it is a case of pneumonia, pay any attention to a cold. New York is one of the healthiest places on the Atlantic Coast and yet there are a great many cases of catarrh and consumption which have their origin in this neglect of the simplest precaution of every day life. The most sensible advice is, for you to get rid of it as soon as possible. By all means do not neglect it." Dr. Edson does not tell you how to cure a cold but we will. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will relieve the lungs, aid expectoration, open the secretions and soon effect a permanent cure. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Heber Walsh, Holland, Mich.

Probate Order.
STATE OF MICHIGAN, ss.
COUNTY OF OTTAWA.
At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Ottawa, holden at the Probate Office, in the City of Grand Haven, in said county, on Tuesday, the Twentieth day of March, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety four.
Present, JOHN V. B. GOODRICH, Judge of Probate.
In the matter of the estate of Anton Steffen, deceased.
On reading and filing the petition, duly verified, of Louisa Steffen, widow of said deceased, representing that Anton Steffen, of the township of Jamestown, lately died intestate and leaving estate to be administered and praying for the appointment of James Brandt as administrator thereof.
Thereupon it is ordered, That Tuesday, the Seventeenth day of April next, at 6 o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that the heirs at law of said deceased, and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said Court, then to be holden at the Probate Office in the City of Grand Haven, in said county, and show cause, if any there be, why the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted: And it is further Ordered, That said petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate, of the pendency of said petition, and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the HOLLAND CITY NEWS, a newspaper printed and circulated in said county of Ottawa for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.

A Little Daughter
Of a Church of England minister cured of a distressing rash, by Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Mr. RICHARD BIRKS, the well-known Druggist, 207 McGill st., Montreal, P. Q., says:
I have sold Ayer's Family Medicines for 40 years, and have heard nothing but good said of them. I know of many Wonderful Cures
performed by Ayer's Sarsaparilla, one in particular being that of a little daughter of a Church of England minister. The child was literally covered from head to foot with a red and exceedingly troublesome rash, from which she had suffered for two or three years, in spite of the best medical treatment available. Her father was in great distress about the case, and, at my recommendation, at last began to administer Ayer's Sarsaparilla, two bottles of which effected a complete cure, much to her relief and her father's delight. I am sure, were he here to-day, he would testify in the strongest terms as to the merits of

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE conditions of payment of a certain mortgage made and executed by Marcus Kuizenga and Bouwina Kuizenga, his wife, of the township of Olive, County of Ottawa and state of Michigan, parties of the first part, to Jacob Van der Ven, of the city of Grand Rapids, county of Kent and state of Michigan, party of the second part, dated on the first day of October, A. D. 1891 and recorded in the office of the register of deeds of Ottawa county, Michigan, on the 27th day of February, A. D. 1892, in Liber 36 of Mortgages, on page 88, on which mortgage there is claimed to be due at the date of this notice the sum of Four Hundred and Forty Six Dollars and Forty cents, besides an attorney fee of five dollars ($5.00), provided for by law; and no suit or proceedings having been instituted at law or in equity to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part of it, and whole of the principal sum of said mortgage, together with all arrearages of interest thereon, having become due and payable by reason of default in the payment of interest on said mortgage on the day when the same became due and payable, and the non-payment of said interest in default for more than thirty days after the same became due and payable, wherefore under the conditions of said mortgage the whole amount of the principal sum of said mortgage with all arrearages of interest thereon at the option of the said Jacob Van der Ven became due and payable immediately thereafter; and the said Jacob Van der Ven hereby declares his election and option to consider the whole amount of the said principal sum of said mortgage due and payable; Notice is therefore hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained and the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed by sale at public vendue of the mortgage premises or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount due on said mortgage with interest and costs of foreclosure and sale including an attorney fee of fifteen dollars ($15.00), provided for by law, said sale to take place at the north front door of the Ottawa county court house, at the city of Grand Haven, Ottawa county, Michigan, (that being the place where the Circuit Court for the county of Ottawa is holden), on Monday, the 28th day of May, A. D. 1894, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, the said mortgaged premises to be sold being described in said mortgage as all that certain piece or parcel of land situated and being in the township of Olive, county of Ottawa and state of Michigan and described as follows:—The North East quarter of the North West quarter of section 11, in township 5 North of range 15 West, containing forty acres of land more or less, according to U. S. survey.
Dated Holland, March 1st, A. D. 1894.

PRETTY SLEEP WOOLERS.

Useful Novelty Pillows for Couch or Divans.

When Filled with Clover, Sweet Lavender or Bits of Thyme They Are More Attractive Than If Stuffed with Feathers or Hair.

Present-day luxury, so it would seem, begins and ends with the sofa pillow. No matter who is to be the recipient, if you select the popular head rest of the moment for an offering, you cannot go amiss. Here is a chance to utilize the field and meadow treasures collected by you during last season's country summering.

A pillow with odorous filling of clover, sweet lavender, bits of thyme, life everlasting or the fragrant and invigorating fir is many times more attractive than that stuffed with down, feathers or hair. Even the elaborately perfumed fancy, with cotton batting lining, loses its charm when brought beside a group of meadow scented morsels.

An especially industrious holiday worker has added to her list of lovetokens a batch of pillows for the pet divan of an invalid friend. Some of them might suggest to you an idea for your cushion-making.

Of course denim is given first showing in this graceful pillow array. A trio of fascinating sleep woovers have slips in golden brown, dark blue and flaming scarlet. Each denim background is webbed over with a curious design outlined with white linen floss.

The straggling tendrils, half moons, pilot wheels and graceful, intersecting geometric figures are not the work of a professional "stamper," but were originated by the clever embroideress herself, who, with a piece of common white chalk, boldly traced her own patterns upon the denim covers.

Besides the denim pillows, there is a dainty conceit in white linen, powdered with Pompadour flowers, pinky rosebuds, old blue blossoms and buttercup-bued blooms. A full ruffle of Mechlin lace completes this delicate cover, which may be laundered as often and as satisfactorily as plain linen, if embroidered in washable silks. This pillow collection includes a couple of Oriental looking fancies made out of an old Persian shawl whose wearing days were over. The circular shape of these head-rests affords an excellent display for the dusky-colored fabric, which, carrying out a decorative whim, is simply drawn in at the corners, and boasts of not the slightest trimming about edges or top.

A hop pillow is going to soothe the future mistress of these slumber aids in many an hour of pain. Its fresh muslin cover, slipped over the hop-bag at will, may be sent to the wash as often as it soils, each time returning with pristine daintiness.

A sage green satine cushion, crossed by bands of old gold ribbon, and another one in tones of gray and crimson, are each to take their place among the jumble of charming sleep woovers. —Golden Days.

FAMILY SCRAP BAG.

TURKISH crinkled seersucker, either plain, white, or in stripes of white and red, makes dainty bedroom curtains that are easily laundered.

KEEP a box in the store-room to receive all waste corks, and if they are not clean scald them before you put them away. You will often find them a great convenience, and the trouble of saving them is slight.

ON uncolored table linen both china and silver are seen to the best advantage. If a bit of color is liked, it may be introduced in center pieces and serviettes for the bread plate, the olive dish and doilies. In fact, the cloth may serve as a background for as much display as convenience will allow.

FOR a hanging pincushion the Welsh hat is quaint. It is made of cardboard, and covered with black satin. Inside the crown the round pincushion of yellow velvet is fixed, but it is raised in the center much higher than the brim. The hat is suspended by the yellow satin strings, which are tied into a bow.

OFFICIAL BALLOT.

INSTRUCTIONS.—In all cases stamp a cross (X) in the circle under the name of your party at the head of the ballot. If you desire to vote a straight ticket nothing further need be done. Where only one candidate is to be elected to any office, and you desire to vote for a candidate not on your party ticket, make a cross in the square before the name of the candidate for whom you desire to vote on the other ticket.

Where two or more candidates are to be elected to the same office, and you desire to vote for candidates on different tickets for such office, make a cross in the square before the names of the candidates for whom you desire to vote on the other ticket; also erase an equal number of names of candidates on your party ticket for the same office for whom you do not desire to vote.

If you wish to vote for a candidate not on any ticket, write or place the name of such candidate on your ticket opposite the name of the office. Before leaving the booth, fold the ballot so that the initials may be seen on the outside.

THE MOURNING DOVE.

Romantic Story of a Pair of Unfortunate Kentucky Lovers.

There is a peculiar belief existing in my county, said a resident of Barbourville, Ky., to a St. Louis Globe-Democrat reporter. Upon one of the creeks can be heard the cry of a mourning dove answered by its mate. It can, of course, be heard upon any creek, but always upon the one I named. The mountain people believe that these two doves are the spirits of a moonshiner and his sweetheart. It arose many years ago, and but the merest outlines can be given. There was a young girl who had been raised in Louisville with all of the advantages of a city life, and she came to our place after the death of her parents in order to be a solace to her old grandfather in his declining years. She taught him to read and was all that a granddaughter could possibly be. A young man at Barbourville was a son of a moonshiner, the most intelligent man in the county, and possessed of the most personal magnetism. It was not surprising that the two became lovers. He had agreed to destroy the still and study for a profession, when upon a raid the revenue officers found him in the act of destroying the still, a fact which, of course, they could not know, and his sweetheart, hearing their attack, rushed to her lover's arms, and both were buried together. Since that time the mourning doves have appeared every night upon the creek.

A Man of Method.

I got an amusing answer from a Boston lawyer a few days ago, says a correspondent of the Boston Record, relative to an equally famous colleague of his who had died only a few hours previous. I asked him if there was any particular characteristic of his friend's life worthy of special notice. "Yes—yes, there was one—just one, and it should receive due attention in any obituary. He had a habit of eating the same sort of breakfast for fifteen years at the same hotel—four eggs, two slices of toast, a rasher of bacon and a cup of coffee—a most remarkable habit, most remarkable, and never broken in all that time. That is all that marked his social life as being out of the ordinary."

A HUNTER'S GOOD LUCK.

If He Had Found His Bear It Might Have Gone Hard with Him.

The hunters were sleeping in their cabin in the mountains of Idaho one September morning, when the tallest one, Bill by name, woke with a start, listened intently for a moment and then sprang to his feet and dressed hurriedly. Then he snatched an old muzzle-loading musket from the corner, and shouting "Bear!" at the top of his voice, dashed out of the cabin. Hours passed and the sun was low when Bill returned, tired and hungry and without bear meat. He had followed Bruin from thicket to thicket, through swamps and over hills, sometimes catching a glimpse of black fur, but never getting a chance to shoot, till at last he lost the trail in a rocky gorge and was forced by the approach of night to give up and return empty handed. The other two hunters sympathized with their companion until one of them suddenly happened to see on the shelf the lock of the gun, where William had placed it the night before after cleaning the musket. "Well, I'll be hanged!" cried Bill, when the discovery was communicated to him. Then he reflected a little and said, cheerfully: "What's the odds? The bear didn't know that."

He Was Sensitive.

Courtesy at sea is a scarce and highly valued commodity. The mate of a whaling vessel once announced to the captain that he saw a whale breaching and blowing, and gave the location. The captain looked, and said he could not see it. The mate again announced the fact, but the captain could not make it out, and finally said, impatiently: "If you think you see a whale, go and catch him." The mate promptly ordered out a boat, and, sure enough, found the whale and captured him. He returned triumphant with his prize, and of course, the captain was highly gratified. "Mate," he said, cordially, "you have done well. You shall have the thanks of the owners and perhaps a reward." The mate replied: "Capt'n Jones, I don't want no mention; I don't want no thanks, and I don't want no reward. All I want is civility, and that of the kindest civil kind."

Graduated Appellations.

When she was introduced to him she called him Mr. Gildersleeve. After she was well acquainted with him "Charles" was the usual term. When they became engaged she addressed him as "Charlie."

As the engagement progressed he became "dear."

Just before the wedding she called him "dearest."

During the honeymoon she called him "darling."

To her friends she alluded to "Mr. Gildersleeve."

One year after marriage she called him: "Say, you," while in speaking of him he was "that husband of mine."

—Judge.

Consolation.

"No, Miss Jamerson!" exclaimed the young man, bitterly. "My life henceforth is blighted! I shall never love again. My heart is dead, and a dead heart can never be resurrected."

"Mr. Highstreet," said the Boston maiden, gently, "do not say so, I implore you! In the vocabulary of our best writers of English there is no such verb as 'resurrect.'"
