LARGE BOWLING ALLEY HAS OPEN- ING TONIGHT

PROPRIETOR LIEVENSE INVITES HOLLAND AND ENTIRE COUNTRYSIDE

One of the finest bowling alleys in western Michigan will be opened to the public tonight, Friday, at 7:30 o'clock. The beautiful new building, housing the garage and battery shop, together with the best bowling alley on the second floor, has been the dream of Benjamin Lievens, popular legionnaire, for several years, and tonight at least a part of this dream comes true, when the large eight-alley bowling parlors open up at the corner of Central avenue and Ninth street.

Mayor-elect Ernest Brooks has rolled the first ball on the first alley and if he does as well as he did in election it surely will be a spare. Alderman Alex Van Zanten of the People's State bank will then play the mayor-elect a game, and the best man is to win a handsome prize selected by the proprietor, Mr. Lievens. Mr. Van Zanten was selected as the mayor's partner since a few years ago he suggested to Mr. Lievens that a fine bowling alley was a real necessity in the city.

On opening night there will be a continuous program of music furnished by an orchestra and the ladies as well as men are invited. Carnations are to be given to women who attend and the men will all be lit up with cigars.

The beautiful new building is well lighted from three sides by a flood of daylight and at night the latest in lighting arrangements have been provided, illuminating the entire place thoroughly.

The building has been specially constructed without pillars so there will be no obstructions on the entire floor. The alleys and the installation cost the proprietor $15,000.00 while the large building, battery department, etc., not quite completed, will amount to $48,000.00 more, including the site.

Bowling experts pronounce the alleys second to none in Western Michigan. They were installed by the Brunswick-Balke - Collender Company known the world over as manufacturers of fixtures, billiard tables, bowling alleys, etc.

Mr. Lievens's venture has meant much to the heart of the city. Within a stone's throw of Warm Friend Tavern stood a group of unsightly rookeries and these have been removed and a beautiful new structure in line with the best buildings in Holland, was erected by a young man who has shown faith in his city, with abundance of nerve to back up this faith.

Mr. Lievens besides being an overseas man during the World War, in fact a "Polar Bear" from Russia, is prominent in Legion circles having gone through all the offices including the command.

ASSASSINATION OF GARFIELD SHOOK ENTIRE NATION

Above is a picture of the old City Hall in 1881, draped in mourning because of the death of President James A. Garfield who was shot at the Pennsylvania depot at Washington on the morning of July 2, 1881 by Charles J. Guiteau.

Guiteau was a disappointed office-seeker, and even considered by his family as a "bad egg." President Garfield, after the shooting lived until September 19 of that same year.

It was a trying period for the nation, hoping against hope that the president might live. He was taken to Elberon, N. J., since it was considered that sea air might benefit him. But death came after months of lingering, while daily bulletins were being published telling of the president's condition.

Guiteau was tried, the trial lasting 53 days. He pleaded his own case, since he had trouble with his attorneys. The insanity plea was already in vogue at that time, since Guiteau stated that he was insane and that God had directed him to kill Garfield to save the nation from degradation, and it was God who really directed the pistol shot rather than he, Guiteau.

The long drawn out trial finally came to an end and the jury was out 40 minutes, pronouncing Guiteau guilty.

Judge Gray sentenced Guiteau, saying, "I sentence you to be hanged by the neck until dead and may God have mercy upon your soul."

When sentence was pronounced, Guiteau in court swore vengeance upon the judge and jury and especially on the prosecutor, cursing them all, and predicting that God would bathe the government in blood, if he should die.

The Holland City News at that time gave the entire trial from day to day, nearly a hundred columns being devoted to it. Many historic facts came out, but apparently the prediction of Guiteau never came true. Holland had made preparations to celebrate the Fourth during that year, but the shooting of the president two days before stopped all arrangements.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

P. T. Barnum and his agents are again in Europe in search of curiosities for his great circus. He and his secretary, Mr. Bailey, purchased several animals that the Prince of Wales brought from India. A performing ostrich was purchased in Paris for 50,000 francs. Nearly every country in Europe and Asia and Africa will be visited and a collection of lions, tigers, elephants and fine horses purchased.

The news reached Holland that Captain Cask Dole of the schooner Pluggar was dangerously ill on board his vessel lying in Racine harbor. Captain B. Van Ry left for Racine.

Quite a sensation in Fillmore township when a man of that village, now dead, endeavored to sell a bundle of human bones for $150, claiming them to be those of John Bergman, a man from that place who had disappeared and was never heard from again. Anyway, this man was arrested and his examination was held before two justices, namely, Garvelink and Eppink of Fillmore. He claimed to have found the bones in a woods near by but the owner of the woods states that he had passed the designated spot several times during the year and never discovered bones there. Dr. Leo Best and Dr. Morris of Holland, and also editor of the News, claimed the person whose bones were found could not have been dead over a year so that exploded the theory that the long lost Bergman had been found. It appears that the man demanded the $150 from certain persons in Fillmore about whom gossips were talking and connecting up with the disappearance of the Fillmore man, although it was later shown that there was nothing to these stories. The file copy shows that the man promised these people that for the above amount the bones would be deposited in Lake Michigan. The justices of the peace and the officers went to the woods where the bones were found and the skeleton was removed only an arm and a few other small bones were left. No one knows where the bones came from, nor does anyone know where they went to. The "bone man" claimed they were stolen. He states.—Note: The man was well known in Holland and the bones were taken from the office of a local doctor. The joke nearly proved serious for the offender.

HOLLAND CLASSIS FIRST TO CELEBRATE TERCENTENARY

Holland, March 29.—The Holland classis in the Reformed Church in America will be the first of the western classis to feature its annual spring sessions with a celebration of the denomination's tercentenary in 1928.

The celebration will be featured with a public service next Tuesday evening in Third Reformed church. Speakers will include Rev. W. H. S. Demarest, president of New Brunswick seminary, and Rev. S. C. Nettinga, professor in Western seminary.

Floyd Harter, president of the Allegan Isak Walton chapter, received 30,000 German brown trout fry Wednesday from the Benton Harbor fish hatchery. The fish were planted in Swan creek, west of this city.

Ten thousand fry were delivered to Fennville chapter Wednesday to be planted in a stream there.

By all odds the most successful style show ever staged in Holland was put on Wednesday and Thursday evenings for the first time at the Holland theater and was witnessed by a crowded house.

Those sponsoring the show were the Allen Tot & Gift Shop, the Vogue Hat Shoppe, the Rose Cloak Store, John J. Rutgers Company, the B. & M. Shoe Store, Ollie's Sport Shop, and the Huizenga Jewelry Store.

The whole show climaxed in a wedding scene in which groom and bride, in the season's correct wedding costume, were preceded by the bridesmaids and flower girls and ring bearer, also in the correct costumes of the season. The orchestra played the wedding march and the curtain went down on a scene that was lovely in itself and that added a fitting climax to a beautiful display.

The following were in the wedding scene: the Misses Edith Tyner, Marie Kleis, Eunice Hyma, Beatrice Tyner, Lois De Wolf, Jeanne Van Zyl, and Mrs. Katherine Gage. The men who took part were Russell Rutgers, Fred Van Lente and C. Braamse. This part of the program was planned and directed by Mrs. Thad Taft.

Two little Cherven girls made a big hit with their dancing between the acts and were recalled again and again. In their second act they appeared in Dutch costume and won thunderous applause.

The names of the children who took part are Jean Van Raalte, Betty McLean, Allen Rhea, Eleanor Duffy, Phillips Pelgrim, Janet Brooks, Jimmy Brooks, Anita Cherven, Selma Cherven, Alice Hutcherson, Donna Zwemer.

FORTUNATELY NO ACCI- DENTS THOUGH MANY THRILLS ARE SHOT

James Cruze's "Old Ironsides," which comes to the Colonial theatre beginning next Wednesday might truly be called a picture of miracles.

Although ten thousand people were engaged during the filming of the Paramount photoplay, not a single serious injury marred the making of the production. All the more astounding is this when it is considered that "Old Ironsides" is declared to have more thrills and more intense action than any other picture ever produced.

Following are a list of some of the close calls experienced while the picture was being made:

Eight sailing vessels were sunk in a terrific storm off Cape Hatteras while towing them to the Pacific coast for use in the photoplay. No lives were lost in the storm.

Three masts snapped aboard the frigate "Constitution" when the ship was caught in a heavy ground swell. One of the yard-arms, weighing eight-hundred pounds, landed but a few feet from Director Cruze, Esther Ralston, Wallace Beery, George Bancroft, Charles Farrell and Johnnie Walker.

The entire company was lost at sea in a storm for seventy-one hours.

Six cannons exploded when over-enthusiastic gunners filled them with overcharges of powder during the terrific battle sequences.

THE REASON FOR A SUGAR TARIFF

The United States consumes 12 times as much sugar, per capita, as it did a century ago, says United States Beet Sugar Association. In 1828 the average was .88 pounds; people used molasses, maple sugar, or nothing. Today the average is 107 pounds.

It would have been impossible to cripple America, if all the sugar imports had been held up, 100 years ago; today it would be a national calamity.

The beet sugar industry supports more than a million people, part or all the time; and it is definite insurance against a foreign sugar monopoly. Our domestic sugar industry depends upon a reasonable tariff to save it from destruction by cheap labor, foreign competition.

TEACH FIRE PREVENTION IN SCHOOLS

Teaching fire prevention in schools along with fire drills, is to be highly commended. If our citizens of the future are grounded in the facts of the case, and understand the uselessness of fire, we can look forward to a time when fire will be reduced to a minimum.

The average citizen seems to forget that destructive fires are a great enemy of economy and progress. Eighty per cent of all conflagrations are preventable, and the result of carelessness, ignorance or incompetence. Very few fires may be classed as unpreventable.

Educational organizations are laboring to teach us practical fire prevention. Yet every year the great fire waste continues.

It is to be hoped that 1928 will see a decrease in the waste of money, property, lives, time and damage to industry. The movement to teach prevention in schools will bear results in the future, and its sponsors are rendering a valuable public service.

INDUSTRY GREAT GAS USER

While the use of gas is growing daily in industry and the home, a comparatively few people realize the hundreds of different uses to which gas is put.

Furnaces use gas to dry rabbit skins more rapidly and uniformly than by any other means. Willow furniture is singed by means of gas flame. A single plant for retinning milk cans is using 5,000,000 cubic feet of gas a year to heat the metal.

An automatic gas iron has been developed to iron new hats while they are still on the block. A gas flame transmits sound vibrations with notable smoothness in a new type of phonograph. Combined with hardwood sawdust, gas is used to smoke hams and bacon. Hundreds of miles of cloth in textile mills are singed by gas.

It is estimated that approximately 5,000 industrial applications of gas have been developed in the United States, nearly all of them since 1900.

Mr. and Mrs. Hein Brower celebrated their golden wedding last week Wednesday evening. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lugten, Florence Lugten, Mabel Lugten, Mr. and Mrs. James Lohman and son, Donald; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Rankens, Hilda Rankens, Gordon Rankens, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brower, Juella Brower, Florence Brower, Henrietta Brower, Mr. and Mrs. James Hulst and son; Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Roggen and family. Mr. Hein Brower in a very interesting manner told of his experiences during the fifty years, to which Rev. Roggen responded for the children. Mr. and Mrs. Brower were among the first settlers of this community and have always resided on the present place. They are also among the charter members of the First Reformed church, and the growth of the church was to a large extent the result of their work. Mr. Brower has served as elder of the church for twenty-five years, while Mrs. Brower was one of the faithful members of the missionary society of the church. The community extends to them hearty congratulations.

The quarterly meeting of the teachers and officers of the First Reformed Sunday School was held last week Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Nyhoff, a large number being in attendance. Mr. Wm. Denten, the superintendent, had charge of the business. Talks were given by Mrs. B. Borgman, Rev. Roggen and Mr. Drenten. It was decided to buy a piano for the church. A social hour was spent after business had been transacted.

The teachers of the local schools attended institute at Allegan last week Friday and the children enjoyed a day of rest.

The Bee Line and also the town line road leading to East Saugatuck are in very bad shape. A large number of cars were pulled out of holes last Sunday and Monday.

James Pokkert, teacher at the Overisel school motored to Allegan last Friday to attend the Teachers' Institute which was being held in that city.

The play, "The Little Clod Hopper," was given by the High school students at the Community hall last week Thursday and Friday evenings. The youngsters did very well and they were rewarded by large audiences both evenings.

Mr. and Mrs. Marinus Hoffs of Chicago were week-end guests at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Brower.

A few days ago the press contained an item of great interest to the people of this village and community. For some time the local business men have been trying to prove to the "powers that be" that the Bee line should be paved. The Holland City News and other friends of Holland now have taken an interest in this matter with the result that as the press stated a few days ago, that the improvement is practically a sure thing. Not a few of the Hamilton folks, who are driving back and forth to their work in Holland, consider this as the "best ever." Most of the people, also, consider Holland as the "Home town" for business, but poor roads kept them away. Furthermore, Hamilton in many respects is an ideal place for a country home "and with a paved road to Holland it is a safe guess that some will see the advantages of this locality over the crowded apartments and streets."

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schulmaat and family motored to the windy city to spend the week end with friends.

The pupils of the local school are enjoying the annual spring vacation.

Allegan Paper Points to City Light Plant

SAYS ALLEGAN COULD DO EVEN BETTER WITH WATER POWER

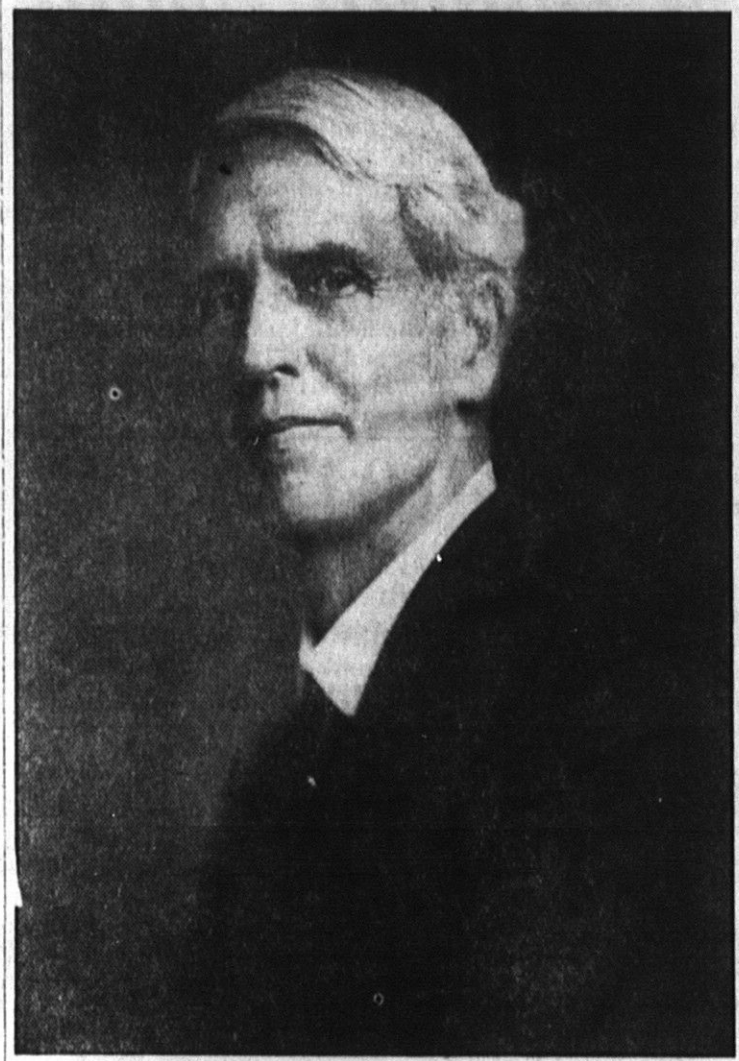

ALLEGAN DAM PROBLEMS CLEARING UP WITH GOVERNMENT DECISION

Allegan Gazette—Great was the satisfaction last Friday when a dispatch from Congressman Ketchum told that the war department had finally approved of the application of this city for permission to construct a dam at the Calkin bridge site. The apparent indifference, if not hostility, shown by that department had about extinguished the hope cherished that we would get a favorable decision. This does not mean, in all probability, that we shall have no further obstacles in our path to completion of the plan. It is rather more than conceivable that there will be opposition by the Consumers Power company, because that company's interests are at stake to a considerable degree. In the end some compromise may be made to such extent that it may not seem necessary for the city to complete the enterprise. There have been such instances elsewhere. The Consumers company have bought and paid for a large number of acres of flowage land above the dam site; and while the city has legal right to condemn this land (which a private company would not have) there may be disposition on the part of the company to resist by proceedings in court. If this course is taken, a long delay would be possible and, quite as possible, a degree of ill-will developed that would be unfortunate to both the city and the company. The Consumers company is beginning the construction on the Muskegon river of another dam, the greatest of all its waterpower plants in Michigan—and there are many of them. Its officials frankly admitted, when this matter was first agitated, that they had bought land at the Calkin site and other places not for use but to prevent any rival getting opportunity to establish plants in opposition to them. This attitude did not have any mollifying effect upon Allegan citizens and doubtless had much to do with the very great majority by which the voters adopted the plan of constructing a municipal plant. This position, however, is only in line with the general character of management of electric light and power plants throughout the United States. They comprise the most completely organized industry in the country and perhaps the most efficient. They will relinquish nothing they at present hold, with no other motive than generosity toward rivals. The Consumers company have an immense combination of plants in Michigan which are united for service in such way that, should any one of them fail, the turning of a switch would provide customers with uninterrupted service. The advantage and benefit of this to patrons can scarcely be overestimated. In all ways the service lacks nothing of completeness, and the management is always attentive and courteous. But there are numerous instances of successful and economical municipal plants, one of which is in our neighboring city of Holland, which has provided the best of service at low rates and produced an exceedingly large surplus. Allegan people are firmly convinced that they can do quite as well as has Holland, and should be able to do better because Holland operates by steam and Allegan would have the cheaper service which water provides.

HARRY HARRINGTON IS NOT TO BLAME FOR ACCIDENT

Harry Harrington of Holland was found not guilty of a charge of reckless driving at a trial in police court Friday before Judge Frank A. Hess, Grand Rapids. The charge was placed against Harrington by Mrs. Clarence Boomstra, wife of a city patrolman, who was badly injured last November, when her car collided with one driven by Harrington at Eastern ave. and Franklin st.

State Mourns Death of Sen. Ferris

Late Senator Woodbridge N. Ferris

Michigan mourns the sudden taking away of Senator Ferris, educator, statesman and one time governor of his State, who's home and the College he founded are in Big Rapids. Some of the foremost leaders of the nation representing all parties were present Tuesday at the funeral, coming on a special train following the funeral train. Gov. Fred Green personally received the visiting statesmen and also attended the services. More than 10,000 came to Big Rapids from abroad to honor Ferris. The funeral was attended by probably the most cosmopolitan gathering that ever has attended a funeral service in Michigan. The body of the Senator was laid at rest in the Ferris Mausoleum in Highland View Cemetery, Big Rapids. There were many, many flowers, however, on the casket was only one large rose, laid there by his beloved wife, Mrs. Ferris.

BIDS FOR FENNVILLE PAVING ARE OPENED

A score of paving contractors from Michigan and Indiana were at Fennville, to try for the job of paving about a quarter of a mile of Main-st. in the east end of town. It was estimated that the work would cost about $14,000, but only one of the seven bids was above that figure. The lowest bid was that of the Northern Construction company of Elkhart, $12,748.60. Two other bids were very close to that bid and the council held the lowest three bids for further consideration. The work must begin within ten days from the time of letting the contract and it must be finished by June 15. The state pays one quarter of the cost of the center twenty feet.

PROF. HEYNS IS PAROCHIAL SCHOOLS HEAD IN HOLLAND

Prof. Garrett Heyns has accepted the position of superintendent of the Holland Christian schools and plans to begin his work here with the opening of the new school year in September. He was offered the position a few years ago, but declined. Mr. Heyns is considered one of the leaders in the Christian school world. He has been connected with the academy at Hull, Ia., for several years and has had 13 years of experience as a teacher. He attended the University of Michigan and is working for his Ph. D. degree. He is a son of Prof. W. Heyns, who occupied the chair of practical theology in the theological seminary of the Christian Reformed Church in America in Grand Rapids for 24 years and became professor emeritus in 1926.

APRIL TO SEE LENTEN SERVICES IN ZEELAND

A series of Lenten services will be held in local churches in Passion Week. On April 4 a union meeting will be held in Second Reformed church. The address will be given by Rev. Henry Hospers, professor of Old Testament languages and literature at Western Theological seminary. Dr. John E. Kuizenga, president of Western Theological seminary, will conduct the union meeting in First Reformed church April 5. On April 6 two services will be held, one in each church. The services in First Reformed church will be in charge of Rev. Harry Hager, professor of Bible at Hope college, and the meeting in Second Reformed church will be in charge of Rev. Seth C. Nettinga, professor of historical theology at Western Theological seminary. Arrangements have been made for special music and other features.

ALLEGAN FINDS SOURCE OF RADIO INTERFERENCE

Grand Rapids Press—Troublemakers for radio reception here have been found. One source of interference was found in the high school building, where it was learned a battery charger was defective. This was ordered replaced at once. Several wires on lines used by the city for its lights were old and bare wires were discovered in several places. Electric signs in the business section were found to be poorly constructed and installed. Wires running through trees were found to be another cause, as every time the wind whipped the wires against limbs the radios emitted a roar.

Holland Poultry Association Elects Its Officers

ED BROUWER SECRETARY FOR ELEVEN YEARS, RESIGNS

Election of officers was the principal business of the Holland Poultry association at its meeting in the city hall Thursday night. William Wilson was re-elected as president without any other nomination being offered, and Jim De Koster was re-elected treasurer by acclamation.

Edward Brouwer resigned as secretary, a position he has held about 11 years. He asked that someone else be elected and Dewey Jaarsma was selected from a field of three candidates. Henry S. Bosch, city inspector, was elected vice president.

John Ter Vree, Rufus Cramer and Edward Brouwer were elected as new members of the board of directors of the association. Ed Brouwer has made an enviable record as a secretary and the association has prospered materially under his guidance. It was Mr. Brouwer who was in charge when the local association celebrated its 25th anniversary and he delved into files and reports, compiling a complete history of the organization since its inception. It was a complete resume of the poultry industry and its development, which really began in the Holland association.

FERRYSBURG MAN SOUGHT AFTER MOTOR ACCIDENT

Grand Haven Tribune: The police are looking for William Dreese of Ferrysburg who Elmer Bush of this city claims Saturday afternoon took his Studebaker car from a parking place near the Eagle-Ottawa Leather Co. without permission and later ran into a milk truck and damaged both cars. The accident occurred on the corner of Hopkins and Washington street Saturday at 4:45 p. m. The truck was owned by the Schilleman Milk Co. and was tipped over. The touring car was damaged somewhat. Dreese was gone when the officers arrived and they are now looking for him. He has been in trouble of this kind before, police said. A large crowd quickly gathered at the crash. With the assistance of bystanders the cars were moved away for repairs.

OVERISEL AND FILLMORE TOWNS GOOD TAXPAYERS

Resort District Slow in Paying Since Owners Are Away

Allegan County Treasurer Vida Congdon reports delinquent taxes amounting to $60,873.23 for the past year. The total has increased four fold since 1921 when returns showed only $15,833.26 uncollected taxes. The smallest township delinquent tax return, $162.68, came from Overisel where Alice Vanden Bosch is township treasurer. Fillmore township was second with a return of $531.88 and Hopkins a close third with $586.29. Martin is the only township to lower its delinquent tax this year. Elmer Sebricht, treasurer, reported $600 less uncollected tax this year than in 1927. Saugatuck showed a very slight increase. Larger state taxes, the spring frost in 1927, and non-resident owners or resort property are the main causes for unpaid taxes according to Miss Congdon. These taxes will not go by default for resort property is too valuable and owners will pay when sent statements or when they arrive in spring. Dog licenses brought $8,789 into the county treasury this year. George W. Thompson, gunpains township treasurer, and George Easton, city clerk of Otsego, reported the greatest number of licenses issued.

Western Michigan Resorts to be Clean Places

GOV. GREEN WILL TAKE HAND IN SUMMER RESORT SANITATION PROBLEMS

FRESH MILK GOOD BEDDING AND STRICT HEALTH RULES FOR THIS SUMMER

Clean milk, pure drinking water and sanitary conditions in all hotels, lodges and rooming houses of the western Michigan vacation section will be assured this year by the co-operation of the state government, according to Hugh J. Gray, secretary-manager of the Michigan Tourist and Resort Association. Gov. Fred W. Green has assured the organization of the healthiest co-operation and Dr. Guy L. Kiefer, commissioner of the Michigan department of health, has planned a campaign of inspection to result in first class health conditions.

All bedding in rooming houses and tourist lodges will be changed each day as sleeping rooms are vacated. Thorough inspection will be made of drinking water, its source, mains and pipes. Milk will be constantly subject to inspection. While the state has almost an unblemished record for health conditions in the resort areas, the health department is planning to make conditions even better. The Western Michigan Motor Club has lent its support to maintaining the highest conditions in all vacation sections. The new 56-page vacation directory with 25 county maps in colors showing all main highways and lines of transportation, as well as every body of water, river and stream, the leading hotels and golf courses will be off the press about April 10. Those who have seen advance proofs believe that it will be the most comprehensive and attractive tourist and resort brochure published in the United States this year. There will be a large folding map of western Michigan showing highways up to the time of publication.

The advertising campaign is already under way in several magazines, including "Outdoor Life," "Outing" and "Normal Instructor & Primary Plans." The last named, a teacher's publication, has brought a large number of replies. Quarter pages will be started in "The Saturday Evening Post," April 21. Newspaper advertising will begin in a selected list of leading southern and middle western newspapers, Sunday, April 2.

DE JONG SEEMS A POPULAR DOMINIE NAME

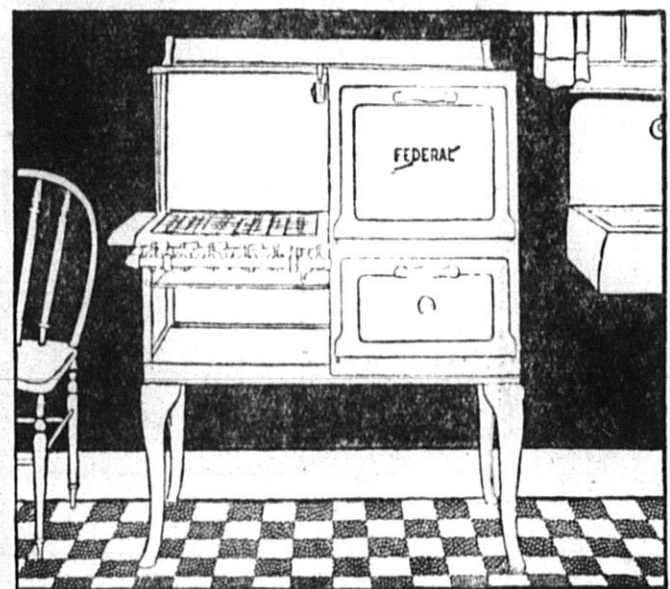

Although the names of Smith and Jones are found oftener in the compilation of directories than most any other name, for once at least these names form a negligible number in comparison with the name of DeJong in the list of ministers connected with the Reformed Church in America. The ministers directory lists two Joneses and two Smiths, but there are eleven DeJongs spelled in four different ways. The first group of four consists of Rev. Fred H. DeJong of McKee, Ky., Rev. Gerrit E. DeJong of Persian Gulf, Rev. Jacob A. DeJong of Leighton, Ia., and Rev. Jacob P. DeJong of Holland. Two groups of three each are: Rev. A. W. DeJonge of Paterson, N. J.; Rev. Bernard DeJonge of Muskegon; Rev. Garhard DeJonge of Zeeland; Rev. Abraham DeYoung of Grand Rapids; Rev. Benjamin DeYoung of Newark, N. Y.; Rev. Cornelius DeYoung of Litchfield, N. Y. The only one in a class by himself is Rev. John DeJong of Rock Rapids, Ia.

The local Lions club is making preparations to put on a membership drive in the near future and a committee was appointed Monday to make plans for its successful conduct. The committee consists of Phil Brooks, Lee Moody, Rex Chapman, Jack Zwemer and George Damson. They met yesterday after the regular noon luncheon and drew tentative plans for the drive. Dr. E. D. Dimment, president of Hope college, was the principal speaker at Monday's luncheon, and Dr. Otto Van der Velde, president of the club, introduced him as the president of one of Holland's most important industrial concerns. That was because the college turns out a product consisting of more highly educated individuals and representatives of Holland not only all over the United States but in many foreign countries. Dr. Dimment laid special emphasis in his talk on the fact that Holland is a particularly attractive city, with assets more and more decided all over the country. He said he personally knows of dozens of industrial concerns that are anxious to come to Holland but that it is quite as important that certain concerns employing undesirable be kept out of our community as it is that other industries of various lines be brought in. He believes that the Lions club, being made up mostly of younger men, should bend their efforts toward impressing the public with the necessity of keeping at home such men power as we already have, emphasizing the fact that there are as great opportunities here as anywhere, and in the long run the young people will be better off to stay in a desirable community. He also spoke on the value of our Federal Reserve building system.

HAMILTON

A regular meeting of the P.T.A. was held in the high school room last Tuesday evening. The meeting was in charge of the fathers. At the business session the following were elected as officers for the coming year: Pres., Henry Schutmaat; vice-presidents, Marvin Brower, Mrs. Rigerink and Miss Fannie Bultman; Henry D. Stabbing, sec-treas. Thus far the ladies have been doing the lion's share of the work and have made it a success. It will now be the responsibility of the men to keep up the good work. Following the business session the men staged a "Mock Trial" which was very much enjoyed. A social hour was spent at the close of the meeting.

Bert Voss is out for the office as sheriff for this county. It makes the race for this office a three-cornered affair in as much as Sheriff Lugten intends to seek re-election and Van Arkel of Allegan has ambitions for the job.

Roy Ashley of Holland has purchased the Kooiker home in the North end of the village. He is building a slaughter house and intends to keep the community and town well supplied with fresh meat.

Roy Maatman lost a wheel of a Ford last Saturday afternoon while on the way from work at Holland. Roy says that he had a hard time to stop the old Ford even then.

Mrs. Henry Drenten is in the Holland Hospital where she underwent an operation for appendicitis. The operation was successful and she is on the road to recovery.

Mrs. Peter Rooks has opened a millinery store in the Ensing building.

Mr. A. J. H. Klomprens motored to Allegan to consult a doctor at that place. Mr. Klomprens is still afflicted with dizziness and does not seem to be able to obtain relief.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Nakken and family were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Van der Meer last Sunday.

A large number of Hamilton folks attended the funeral of John Lubbers of East Saugatuck last Monday afternoon. Mr. Lubber is the father of Andrew. This is the third death in the family within a few weeks. The bereaved family is assured of the heartfelt sympathy of the community.

Communion services will be held in both churches. The pastors are preaching a series of Lenten sermons.

STARVING DOVES HELD IN CAR ARE RESCUED

Henry Hoebeke, driver of the Grand Haven fire truck, rescued two doves from starvation when he discovered them in a car held by the police while the owner, Victor Machata, is serving ten days in the county jail for being intoxicated. The doves were in a sack and as Henry went by he heard a peculiar noise. The birds had been there since Monday without food or water. They staggered to the water and drank heavily and then ate a little food. In a few hours they had recovered almost completely. They are a good breed and will be well taken care of by the police force for their owner, who has apparently completely forgotten them.

FORMER SAUGATUCK BOY OFF FOR PHILIPPINE TRIP

Word has just been received at Saugatuck that Bertal Swanson, who has been in the Great Lakes training school since 1926, will leave Wednesday for California to start on a cruise to the Philippines.

Mr. Swanson graduated from the local high school in 1926 and left at once for the training school.

FENVILLE FIELD DAY ANNOUNCED FOR MAY 19

The first rural school field meet and festival to be sponsored by the agricultural club of the Fenville high school is to be held Saturday, May 19.

The meet is to be held under the supervision of Keith R. Landsburg, teacher of agriculture in the local school, and is expected that nearly 25 of the rural schools of western Allegan county will enter contestants in the various classes. Classification is to be made according to weight with four classes each for boys and girls.

ALLEGAN FARM HOME DESTROYED BY FIRE

A chimney fire at the Emil Stokke farm on the Hooker road near Allegan, caused the destruction of the home and part of its contents. The Allegan fire department responded, but was too late to save the dwelling. The house was valued at $2,500 and was partly covered by insurance.

How the Useful Plants Came to Mankind

By T. E. STEWARD
WNU Service

The Tomato

OF ALL widely useful food plants of the present day, the tomato is probably the most recent in its adoption into the garden. With such other splendidly useful species as maize, potatoes and tobacco, it boasts an American origin. The original home of the wild tomato was the west coast of tropical America, certainly in Peru, and possibly all up the coast from there to Mexico and even into what is now California.

The tomato has no ancient name in any Asiatic or European language. It was unknown in Japan as recently as 100 years ago. Even in the United States it was viewed with suspicion for many years, and there was a tradition that this bright red "love apple," as some called it, was poisonous fruit. The first names given to the tomato by botanists who saw specimens brought from America was "tumate Americana." Early writers do not mention it as one of the plants of the West Indies, which, taken with other evidence, would show that it was carried into the islands from the South American mainland.

Location of its early home on the West coast is helped by the fact that writers on Brazil and the La Plata district, now the Argentine, made no mention of this plant. A process of elimination places it almost certainly in Peru.

Wild specimens that have been found are similar to the cultivated tomato, except that they are smaller, as is usually the case with wild fruits, and are smoother in contour, lacking the outward bulge that distinguishes the different sections in the fruit of a cultivated tomato.

The wild tomato is a seashore plant, indicating, as have several other plants considered in this series, the friendly atmosphere for plants created by the modified temperatures and assured moisture that accompany a location near large bodies of water.

The tomato happily takes its popular name from the American Indian word "tumate," rather than from the pompous botanical name that has been given the species, "Lycopersicon esculentum." If the latter name had been adopted it would now have been up to the canners' association to shorten it, at least to "Lycos."

MEDITATION

This is Home Building Season

Q A home of one's own is the hope of any well regulated family, and the head of a family who has the fixed purpose of buying a home has a splendid goal.

Q The quickest way for most of us to reach this goal is to start saving money for it and from week to week regularly lay by a small part of the income.

Q See how rapidly a savings account piles up—in fact it is surprising and before you are aware of it you have enough stored away in a savings book to swing the deal.

Q A man with a savings account or a home of his own commands the respect of the entire community. He surely is not considered a failure, but rather a person one can bank on.

MRS. HIGGINS, HOLLAND PIONEER, LEAVES HOLLAND

Mrs. J. A. Higgins, one of Holland's pioneer citizens, left Holland Monday to make her home with her son, F. L. Higgins, in Chicago. Mrs. Higgins had lived in Holland for 54 years and is nearing her eighty-ninth birthday anniversary. She became a great-grandmother only six weeks ago. The family Bible records the lineage of the family back to 1492.

Mrs. Higgins' husband, who died in 1914, was one of Holland's pioneer photographers. Higgins in his early years followed the sea, served in the navy and was a cook on one of the boats in the Merrimac-Monitor engagement. Three generations of the Higgins family were born in Bath, Me. Mrs. Higgins was born in Massachusetts.

Talks by the captains of the high school and independent teams, the presentation of letters by Coach Paul Kingman, and talks by Ernie McCoy, captain-elect of the University of Michigan team, and Coach George Veenken, a graduate of Hope, now of Michigan, featured the program.

Holland Family Goes To Grand Rapids to Live; Stays One Day

Grand Rapids Press.—It didn't take Mr. and Mrs. Henry Timmer long to decide their home in Holland after all was the best. Timmer recently accepted a position as caretaker of a wealthy man's property near Reeds lake, Grand Rapids. He had investigated conditions and appeared satisfied.

Last week Timmer packed his furniture, chartered a moving van, bade his neighbors goodbye and took his family to the new place. The furniture was unloaded and the place was inspected. Then something happened. Conditions were different than they had anticipated.

"Let's go back," said Mrs. Timmer. "I'm with you," replied Timmer. Timmer chartered a moving van, reloaded the furniture and headed for Holland.

"We're glad to get home again," said Timmer to his neighbors. "It was more than we bargained for, leaving Holland one day and returning the next."

"The moving cost me $50, but then—" and Timmer displayed a look which indicated his satisfaction of being back home.

West Virginia Operators is Interested in Oil Fields of Ottawa; Leases Signed

Grand Haven Tribune.—The first oil man of long and varied experience who knows the game from securing leases to the gushing of the wells, is here in this city, C. F. Miller representing C. L. Bullock of the Daly Oil Co. of New Lexington, W. Va.

The company, ever on the alert for new fields, sent Mr. Miller to the Muskegon fields some time ago and he feels there is the same opportunity for oil in this locality as there is in Muskegon County. He has been gathering leases and already has obtained 203 including 25,834 acres in the townships of Holland, Zeeland, Olive and Allendale.

This week his company has taken a contract to put down the first oil well in the county at Ottawa Center under contract for the Ottawa Development Co. of Holland. They have $32,500 worth of machinery on the spot now and are beginning to make their first borings.

Mr. Miller and Mr. Bullock have been in the oil game for 30 years. They have large holdings in West Virginia and Ohio. They are not organizing any companies, or buying and selling leases but have undertaken the drilling for the above company as they have not yet obtained a large enough block of acreage to warrant their drilling.

The cost of drilling a well is from $10,000 to $12,000 to the usual depth of 1661 feet in this field and striking oil in one section is not proof it will be found near by he said.

Mr. Miller is a man whose long association with oil never allows him to become enthusiastic over any new field. There are no proofs from the topography of the country just where the oil lies and contrary to general belief, a lake or river of oil does not exist on a mysterious crevice of the earth's interior but is held in sandy sand, he says, similar in looks to bread sponge.

Few wells are flowing continuously and pumping is not a discouraging factor, he said. The deepest well in the country he believes to be located in Harrison Co., W. Va. It is down 7,861 feet. One of the oldest in that section is now yielding only a quarter of a barrel a day. Yet the 20 cents expense in pumping, warrants keeping it going.

If oil and gas are to be found in quantities here this section will see the greatest change in a few months it is possible to realize, he said. He has seen hamlets of 500 grow to 5,000 and 8,000 almost overnight and oil men from every section will be drawn here. The advantages of finding natural gas are extraordinary to the manufacturer and the householder. Mr. Miller, who lives in Parkersburg, W. Va., heats and lights his house, a large one, at $4 a month.

Mr. Miller tells of previous successes but also knows many disappointments and failures. He says nothing to unduly excite and feels no one should go into the oil game unless he is a good loser and can afford it. The company he is with has been successful but only by constantly keeping after new fields can they hope to expand.
