Holland Women Killed By Rural Gasoline Truck

DRIVER AND THREE OTHERS
IN FRONT SEAT IN CAB OF TRUCK.

Mrs. Alice Poppe, aged 36 years, living at 182 East Eighteenth street, was almost instantly killed on the highway at Lincoln avenue and Twenty-seventh street at 8 o'clock last evening.

Mrs. Poppe had been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Ryzenka, at Lincoln avenue and Thirty-first street and was going home, escorted by her brother, Maurice. Just then the oil truck driven by Henry Kremer of East Saugatuck came along the highway, going in the same direction. The truck was used to peddle oil and gasoline in the rural districts and belongs to Mr. Kremer. The truck has drop sides with oil barrels on them. One of these drop sides, which extends from the truck, struck Mrs. Poppe full in the back, causing terrible injuries which brought almost instant death. It was found that her back was broken and badly crushed.

Constable Peter Lugten of the fifth ward, who was riding by on his bicycle, was the first on the scene.

Coroner Gilbert Vande Water was also on the scene shortly afterwards and found that with Henry Kremer, the owner, who was driving, there were three other passengers, Mrs. Kremer and daughter, Miss Arlene Kremer, and Mrs. Grace Burton, a sister of Mrs. Kremer, from Kalamazoo.

Coroner Vande Water immediately called a coroner's jury composed of E. P. Stephan, Bert van der Poel, Simon Kappers, Burke Taylor, Martin Wabeke and Bert Golds. The inquest will be held some time after the funeral when more details can be secured. The jury visited the scene of the accident and viewed the remains.

Funeral services are to be held Saturday afternoon at 1:30 from the home of the parents, which is private, and at 2 o'clock from Dykstra's funeral home, Rev. James A. Weyer, pastor of First Reformed church, officiating. Interment will take place in Pilgrim Home cemetery.

Mrs. Poppe is survived by four children, Ruth, Ervin, Donald and June. They range in ages from 4 to 15. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Ryzenka; five brothers, John H. of Mt. Pleasant, Henry, Marvin, Maurice and Reakus of Holland, and also one sister, Mrs. Henry Steepker, also of Holland, survive.

Mrs. Poppe was born on March 13, 1897.

SPECIAL COUNCIL SESSION

Tonight, Thursday, as The News goes to press, the common council will be holding a special meeting in the city hall relative to the selection of an executive for the welfare department here.

Saturday will mark the close of the three months for which term Cornelius J. Dregman was appointed to place the welfare department upon a new system. Mr. Dregman is subject to reappointment.

REFORMED CHURCH SYNOD MAY NOT HOLD MEETING THIS YEAR

Classis of the Reformed church in America between now and April 18 will be voting on the question of whether or not to omit for the first time in 300 years the annual synodical session, which is scheduled to meet at Central Reformed church, Grand Rapids, next June.

Omission of the session as an economic measure has been proposed by Rev. Edward Dawson of Passaic, N.J. Previously the economy committee of the synod had recommended reducing the number of delegates to the synod by half; the 40 classes to the denomination, all of which will meet before April 18, will vote on the two recommendations, Dr. John A. Dykstra, pastor of Central Reformed church, Grand Rapids, states, and the decision will be made on the basis of their action. Grand Rapids classis meets next Tuesday.

Dr. Dykstra suggested that there is some question whether omitting the synodical session would actually be an economy or not since the synod might be able to put certain new economies in effect throughout the denomination if it met which would more than make up the cost of the session. Sentiment for omitting the session comes mainly from the eastern part of the country, he said.

The classical board of benevolence, representing seven classes in the particular synod of Chicago in the Reformed Church in America, has changed its annual meeting from March to September. Present officers are: President, Rev. J. F. Heemstra of Hudsonville; vice president, Rev. Henry J. Veldman of Muskegon; secretary, Prof. A. E. Lampen of Hope college; treasurer, George D. Albers of Holland.

At the meeting here this week appointments were made to present the needs of the board to the seven classes at their spring sessions in April, as follows: Classis Grand Rapids, Rev. H. Fryling of Grand Rapids; Holland, Rev. H. W. Pyle of Overisel; Muskegon, Rev. J. H. Bruggers of Coopersville; Kalamazoo, Rev. G. Flikkema of Martin; Chicago, Elder Thomas Mulder; Illinois, Rev. Isaac Van Westenberg; Wisconsin, Rev. Cornelius Kuyper.

The board furnishes support to thirteen students of which twelve are at Hope college and one is at Rush Medical. As a result of bank moratoriums deposits approximating $5,000 are not available. One new applicant for aid was accepted.

HOW TO VOTE!

There will be a third ballot to vote next Monday containing the names of justices of the supreme court, state highway commissioners, etc. The Republican ticket carries first, followed by the Democratic, Socialist and Prohibition tickets.

A Hold-Up Man Is Soon Captured

MAKES RAID ON STANDARD OIL STATION AND ALSO STICKS-UP CAR DEMON-STRATOR AT HAVEN

Paul Fay Larson, a farmer boy from around Ludington, who confesses to having held up the Standard oil station on River Ave. and 16th St., relieving Anso Boersma of $17, was sent to Grand Haven jail by Judge Hoffman of Holland awaiting trial in circuit court.

He talked freely and told the officers that he stopped at the oil station, Holland, ordered seven gallons of gasoline and a quart of oil and paid the attendant. Then he covered the attendant with a 22-caliber gun, which was empty, and took the money. He dashed south on US-31 and then took M-58 at Agnew into Grand Rapids. While Larson stopped to count his loot, the report of the hold-up and the description of the car used were flashed to the police stations throughout the state by the Holland police.

Within an hour after the robbery, the youth was arrested two miles west of Grand Rapids on M-50 by Deputy Sheriff Edward Leetsma, Kent county, and Aldon Warner, chief and assistant operator of the Grand Rapids police radio station. Officers Lawrence DeWitt and Edward Ryenga of the Ottawa county sheriff's department, went to Grand Rapids and took the man in custody. He was taken to Holland where he was arraigned on the charge of robbing the oil station and is now in the Ottawa county jail.

The recovery of Orville Beers' motor car from Grand Haven which was taken from him on US-31 a month ago was assured by local officers after they had located the car at the Grand Rapids police department following the arrest of Larson, who confessed to holding up a Standard oil station in this city.

The Beers car was taken out following the plea of a supposed purchaser that he wanted to try the car. When about three miles from the city limits, the man, who was driving, stuck a gun in the ribs of Mr. Beers and ordered him to get out of the car. Mr. Beers was forced to walk to the nearest farm house and notify the Grand Haven police of his loss. He had heard nothing of his car until the arrest of the Ludington farm hand.

The insurance company has the car in charge now and will return it to the owner, the police stated. It is believed the car has been used considerably as Larson has already admitted the theft of the car and the hold-up and the local officers suspect him of a job at Traverse City.

The car was run on two sets of plates, the Beers plates, 595-361, and another set, which Larson claimed belonged to his grandmother. At the time he was caught he was using the Beers plates and the officers identified the car immediately.

The officers stated the man was 22 years old, a likable inexperienced farm lad. The gun was borrowed from a neighbor a month ago and was triggerless and unloaded, it was stated. Grand Rapids officers were doubtful if he was mixed up in the Traverse City and Muskegon jobs recently pulled.

BEET CONTRACTS SIGNED

Michigan Manufacturer and Financial Record—An estimated record of $200,000 is predicted for Ottawa county farmers growing sugar beets this year, if the sugar factory at Holland resumes operations this fall. This amount is exclusive of the return to Oceana, Muskegon and Newaygo county farmers, who also would be able to dispose of their acreage to the Holland Sugar Company.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Holland was having a terrific "wet and dry" battle locally and the ballot was so arranged that it caused considerable confusion. When you voted "yes" you voted against the saloons and "no" for the saloons. All saloons in Holland were just how to vote in order to retain the saloons. There was considerable explaining about that ballot. The vote stood against saloons was 496 majority. The second ward was the only ward to vote for the saloon 93 to 128. Then came the wholesale and basket beer regime which proved even worse than saloons. But that is another story.

Weighed down by the pressure of official duty, Sheriff Woodbury popped asleep on the couch in Prosecuting Attorney Coburn's office Saturday afternoon and when he was safely wrapped in heavy slumber, the prosecutor slipped out the door, leaving the high sheriff of Ottawa, an unconscious prisoner. Gradually the news spread and one after another called up the prosecuting attorney's office with the message for the sheriff, urging him to come down town at once as there was urgent business awaiting him at the jail and the justice offices. Mr. Woodbury attempted to get out and suddenly he realized that urgent business or not, he must remain a

He said that the struggle for the old age pension would continue. It was his hope that Michigan would adopt the system this year as it meant a saving over the present "poor house" plan and is one of the most humanitarian acts which the state can accomplish.

Those filling the various chairs of the organization at present are President, R. J. Brown, vice president, Ray Lightheart; chaplain, Louis Haight; secretary, O. DAVE CLINE IS OPPOSED

A real battle appears brewing for the Spring Lake township elections Monday. David M. Mr. Cline is running on the Republican ticket.

CONGRESSIONAL RECORD PRINTS BORCK LETTER

In the recent congressional records just published appears a letter from George Borck, secretary of the Soldiers Relief Commission of this county, protesting against the proposed economy bill which would cut the pensions of many of the veterans of the several wars. He stated that welfare work in this county would be increased 200 per cent if the drastic cuts were made.

His letter and one from Detroit were cited in a speech which was given in congress against the proposed bill.

A prominent Spanish war veteran of Holland stated today that if the government made a whole sale cut in soldiers pensions that Holland would suffer at least $6,000 a month, now spent with local merchants for necessities.

Miss Adelia Beuwkes of Ann Arbor University hospital and Dr. L. E. Beuwkes of Lansing were the guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Beuwkes, at their home on East Ninth street over the week-end.

"On With The March Of Holland Men"

ANOTHER HOLLAND BOOSTER MEETING TO STIMULATE BUSINESS

Monday evening at the city hall a joint meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and Holland Merchants' association and several guests was held which was in charge of W. R. Pemberton of the Chevrolet Sales company, where he again stressed his educational campaign of trading in Holland.

Mr. Pemberton's plans, although quite extended, are nevertheless soundly based and will take some time to work out. We believe that his campaign of education, if selflessness does not creep in, will stay put and will bring business not only to this community but the smaller communities within twenty miles with whom we are to co-ordinate. That is one of the fine features of the whole plan. We are not only thinking of ourselves, but of our neighbors and the entire countryside. We are to "play ball" as it were with the entire area that represents our resort district and the resort districts of our neighbors as well as our neighbors to the east of us.

What we do for ourselves must be done through salesmanship and building good will, and that can be done even though we share with our neighbors. Holland stores can be made as fine as any. They can be given a homey aspect; they can be filled with cordiality, customers can be met by an alert sales force, rather than those who are too tired to move or exert themselves. Trade will be stimulated through button badges through our schools and our societies, pointing out that a dollar spent in Holland means a dollar that builds Holland.

Merchants from our neighboring towns could occasionally meet with us and we with them, when ideas could be exchanged which would bring about friendly competition. A competitor does not necessarily have to be an enemy as is so often the case for the merchant who has animus in his heart towards a competitor, while his competitor is friendly, will surely lose out. In the first place he is unfit for business and in the second he takes too much time nursing a grudge.

Mr. Pemberton outlined his plans as has been given in The News before and that are real unselfish plans where "one works for all and all for one."

Chairman of the Merchants' Association, Charles Van Zyl, was called on to speak, outlining many plans that were in vogue in other cities, some of them very successful.

The new chairman of the Chamber of Commerce, Arthur W. Wenden, also spoke on the plans but he stated that the first and paramount question was the opening of our banks to full capacity, and he asked everyone to give full constructive co-operation to help bring this about.

Fred Beuwkes spoke at some length on the prospects of the Peoples State Bank being opened in the near future. He stated that the state inspectors were on the job even now checking up the assets of the bank, and the bank officials were giving full co-operation.

ZEELAND BROODER HOUSE DESTROYED

Fire, presumably from brooder stove, destroyed the brooder house and a bunch of baby chicks at the rear of the Peter Brower residence on Lincoln street, Zeeland, Tuesday night. The fire had made great headway and no other buildings were in danger when it was discovered, so the department was not called.

KETCHUM AND MILES SPEAK ON LIQUOR TAX

In an effort to arouse the "dry" interests of Grand Haven to get out the "dry" vote on Monday, April 3, Hon. John C. Ketchum, former congressman from the fourth district, Michigan, which includes Allegan county, and Judge Fred T. Miles of Holland, addressed an audience at the Methodist church of that city on the need to fight to the last minute to save the eighteenth amendment to the constitution and protect the people of this country from the ravages of the liquor interests.

Mr. Ketchum stated he would attack the subject on two angles, taxation and economics, or the dollars and cents view of the matter. Based on a computed consumption of 13,000,000 barrels of beer a year, netting $150,000,000 revenue to the government, Ottawa county must pay $66,500 additional taxes if it consumes the amount per capita which is estimated by those favoring the rejection of the eighteenth amendment.

Judge Miles introduced the speaker and briefly pointed to the method of selecting the candidates who are pledged to both sides. He cited conditions as he knew them prior to 1918 and stated figures to show the tremendous difference in liquor convictions as compared with the years that the prohibition law has been in effect in this country.

Rev. Cornelius Lepeltak of Spring Lake was in charge of the meeting.

The young people have received an invitation to attend an inspirational meeting sponsored by the Holland League of Young Men's Societies, on Tuesday evening, in the Ninth Street Christian Reformed church in this city. Rev. E. B. Pekelder, pastor of the Coldbrook Christian Reformed church of Grand Rapids, will give a lecture on "The Present-Day Challenge to Our Covenant Youth."

Mr. C. Van Raalte Gilmore, only survivor of the family of Rev. A. C. Van Raalte, founder of the Holland city, will mark the eighty-seventh anniversary of her birthday March 30. Since the death of her husband, Rev. William B. Gilmore, in 1884, she has lived here with her son, Dr. A. C. V. E. Gilmore.

BANK HAS "ANCIENT" CURRENCY ON DISPLAY

Anti-hoarding has brought out some interesting old coins and currency. The Grand Haven State bank has a display of old currency which came into the bank recently. Among the old notes are some 1862-63, which had been out of circulation for many years. There are a number of old National Bank notes and some of the Lumberman Bank in Muskegon.

One depositor said he had sold some land many years ago and had $75 of the old currency which he had never deposited until this time when "Uncle Sam" needed it. Some of it was such that inquiry was made at the Federal Reserve bank as to its value. The report came back that it was still good and the owner was given full value.

Considerable gold has been brought into the Grand Haven banks and the anti-hoarding order has brought to light many interesting stories.

OTTO KRAMER APPOINTED CONSERVATOR FOR HOL- LAND CITY STATE BANK.

Banking Commissioner R. C. Reichert appointed Otto P. Kramer, president of the Holland City State bank, to act as conservator for that institution. Like the First State bank, which is shown in an article elsewhere in this issue, the reorganization will be handled by men now connected with the bank. Mr. Kramer has been connected with the Holland City State bank since a boy, and has graduated from teller to assistant cashier to cashier and is now the president of the institution. He has the confidence of the community and the appointment will meet with general approval.

All assets and information relative to the condition of the bank are already at Lansing, given to the state banking department. This department is working out a plan under which conservator banks will be re-opened in full, subject to the approval of the federal reserve of this nation. These plans are now in the morning and before very long Holland's financial condition, as this relates to banks, will be in far better shape.

The state banking department has given no inkling on what basis conservator banks can be re-opened.

This will undoubtedly be determined after a closer study of the situation here and elsewhere.

Detailed rules for the guidance of conservators were approved by the state commissioner at yesterday's session. Under them the conservators, among other things, are directed to allow offsets by deposits against obligations; are instructed to permit no transfer of bank stocks and to list transfers since Feb., 1932; are ordered to permit free access to safety deposit vaults, but are forbidden to sell bonds, mortgages or other assets of their bank at less than cost unless such action is approved by the banking commissioner.

In the meantime new deposits and present trust accounts are available upon demand in the two institutions in accordance with the policy established at the close of

A LITTLE PATIENCE

It is hoped and believed that very shortly Holland's financial skies will be brighter than since the state and national bank moratoriums were inaugurated. Holland's situation is no different than the situations in more than two hundred other communities in the state, Detroit and Grand Rapids, the two larger centers, not being excluded. Citizens often become restive and for good reasons for a continuation of this condition would not be very reassuring to re-establish "better times."

One fact, however, we must not overlook—that the local banking officials and their entire forces are working intensely to list their assets and liabilities in order that some plan of operation may be decided upon from these findings by the state banking department.

No banks for which conservators have been appointed have up to this time been given a plan and a basis of re-organization. All the local bankers can do is to list their holdings and submit these to Lansing.

Holland as a community is indeed anxious to have this vexing problem taken care of quickly and immediately, but no one is more anxious to have this done than is the local banking fraternity. These men are putting in hectic days and nights and have for the last two months. Their hands are tied—they are doing what is required of them with the greatest possible speed and we can fully realize that they, more than anyone else concerned, are looking anxiously toward a just and satisfactory solution.

The plan upon which the banking institutions will be re-established must come from the banking department and they have not spoken up to this time for any bank where readjustment is necessary. Undoubtedly the state banking department will be heard from very shortly for this department fully realizes what a continuation of this financial condition would bring about with the opening of spring business now at hand. It would seem that when workable plans are given to conservators banks that then is the time to offer our good offices and help re-establish a strong banking system, wholeheartedly backing the proposals with both our efforts and our confidence.

JUDGES OF THE SUPREME COURT

Two outstanding figures as jurists in Michigan, who are candidates for re-election to the supreme bench are Justice John S. McDonald and Justice George M. Clark. Forgetting about partisan politics, these two men have for some years been outstanding figures in the supreme court of Michigan. Many intricate cases have come before and were decided by them. Their judgment has not only been wise but unbiased and never political. Their record of decisions show that it does not bear—and belies the stigma so often heard that you "cannot convict a rich man."

Both Justices McDonald and Clark not only hold the respect and the esteem of their colleagues on the supreme bench, but that holds true of the Michigan Bar Association.

tion, regardless of the political complexion of its members.

Attorneys receive first-hand information by virtue of their constant contact with these jurists through the law—to become conversant as to the qualifications and the caliber of the men who grace the Supreme court bench, and their opinions should carry much weight with the voters who are not so closely allied.

A resolution passed by several members of the Ottawa County Bar association would indicate, it seems, just what forceful characters Mr. McDonald and Mr. Clark have proven to be.

The signed endorsements found below tell their own story.

"The rights of the citizens of Michigan have been protected and maintained by our Supreme Court, composed of such leaders and jurists as Judge Cooley and his associates.

"Two of the present leaders of our Supreme Court are now candidates for re-election, namely, Justices John S. McDonald and George M. Clark.

"Their unusual qualifications, their years of experience, should cause every voter to regard it as his individual duty to see to it that these men are retained in office, that our Supreme Court may continue to enjoy the distinction of being of the best in the United States.

"We who have practiced before the Supreme Court and personally know the real value to the public of the services of these men, take this opportunity to urge the voters, on next Monday, to vote for Justice McDonald and Justice Clark, and thereby be assured of maintaining the high standard of our Supreme Court."

"SHE STOOPS TO CONQUER"

"She Stoops to Conquer" was presented this week by the Attic Players under the auspices of the Ladies' Literary club. The play was given two nights before large and appreciative audiences. Each character was well portrayed and acted, the costumes and stage settings were particularly attractive. The Attic Players organization is very much encouraged by the fine response they received from the Holland people, and as a result are planning more productions for the future.

The Players hold their regular monthly meeting next Tuesday evening, April 4, at the Washington school. It is expected that plans will be immediately put under way for a play to be given in May, perhaps during Tulip Time.

Miss Bernice Beeuwkes who will become the bride of Julius Bontekoe in April, was honored with a kitchen shower recently by Mrs. Leonard Greenway of Grand Haven at the home of Mrs. P. A. Selles, 50 Graves Place. Games were played and prizes were awarded. Refreshments were served to the twelve guests present.

EXAMINER HAS BEEN GOING OVER BOOKS OF PEOPLES STATE BANK

C. C. Tyson of Lansing, state bank examiner, has been in Holland for a few days to inspect the Peoples State Bank to determine whether the institution is in a position to reopen, and has gone back to Lansing where he will report his findings to the state department. In case the check-up is favorable a hearing in the circuit court in Grand Haven on petition from the state that the court issue an order authorizing the reopening of the bank will be the next step in the reorganization process of the institution, closed since January 6, 1932.

Just how much time will elapse cannot be determined definitely, according to Clarence Jalving, receiver, but all possible haste to place the bank in operation is being made.

The depositors' committee, John Vandersluis, George Tinnhoff, Oscar Peterson and Fred Beeuwkes were informed at Lansing that the bank would be given as speedy accommodations as possible. Mr. Tyson changed to be available and was on the job at the Peoples bank almost as quickly as the above committee, which went to Lansing, had returned.

Opening of the Peoples State bank will mean the immediate release of approximately $125,000, representing 10 per cent of the 50 per cent of respective deposits in accordance with the depositors' agreements, Mr. Jalving stated.

First State Bank Begins Early On Re-Organization

SAVES MONEY BY NAMING THEIR OWN CONSERVATOR

The First State Bank of Holland was the second banking house in the state of Michigan to make an early start on a re-organization of its banking institution. It was very gratifying, indeed, that the local bank was given the privilege to name its own conservator in the person of R. Don Matheson, one of the directors of the First State Bank, who has become closely allied and deeply interested in the city of Holland, its resorts and immediate surroundings, financially and otherwise.

This means that the bank can be reorganized by its own management without any expensive salaries to outsiders, court costs, etc. It means that the state department, after examination of the affairs of the bank, is satisfied that the management of the bank has been honest and efficient. It means that the reorganization of the bank will be in the hands of men who have a deep personal interest in the community and in the depositors of the bank.

Mr. Vander Meulen, cashier of the bank, stated that the appointment of Mr. Matheson as conservator was much appreciated by the local organization. The entire bank force was busy an hour after the appointment was made, beginning to tabulate and classify assets of the bank.

When this work has been done, which will be completed within a few days, the findings will be sent to the state banking department at Lansing and from those assets, a plan will be worked out that will be far more gratifying.

Holland is not the only community having its bank troubles. Only a third of all the banks in the state of Michigan are open to full capacity, the rest are on a restricted basis and even less liberal than is the case in Holland.

The banking department of Lansing is flooded with requests for conservators and it may take a little time to work out the proper plans fitting the different communities.

Since the Holland institution is second in the list through instant action locally, undoubtedly they will be given early consideration and it is felt that Holland's banking skies and financial complex will soon be much brighter than it has been in the last eight weeks.

A little patience, a little boosting instead of knocking, a little less loose talk will help the situation considerably. Remember that Holland is only one of 250 other communities in the state in a similar situation.

The writer has found repeatedly that there is a misconception of what a "conservator" means to the bank. Far too many of the "men in the street" consider him a receiver—this is far from the truth. A receiver is a rule winds up the business affairs of a receivership.

The Forty-Niners

A conservator in the case of a bank keeps the institution a going concern while the bank continues to function during the reorganization. The conservator in the meanwhile conserves the assets, puts these to work and through a well-defined plan on a tenable basis makes the banking institution a healthy, safe and reliable concern again.

This needs the co-operation not only of the conservator and the banking organization, but of the bank depositors and the community at large as well. This co-ordination will be a real asset in building up a better and stronger banking structure, not only in Holland but everywhere.

Officials of the bank wish it emphatically understood that although the bank is now on a restricted basis, all new deposits in savings or trust funds are available on demand at any time. These funds—by order of the state department—are segregated but not re-invested.

Application blanks for emergency loans (seeds, feed and fertilizer), have arrived and are in the office of the county agricultural agent at Allegan, where all applications will be made out this year. The county committee is composed of Frank Peck, Allegan, chairman; George Masters, Pullman, and R. A. Deal, Martin. Information as to the necessary data for securing a loan can be secured from these men, as well as from County Agent A. D. Morley at the courthouse in Allegan.

What looks like a case of "love's labor lost" is the very generally signed petition of patrons of the Fennville post office, asking that Charles Severens be given the job of moistening stamps at this office. It is generally understood that the "die is cast" and that the name of the winner is George. Petitions do not cut much of a figure in a political game.

The people in charge of signing sugar beet acreage for the Holland Sugar factory have secured an extension of time for the signing of contracts and are still looking for acreage. Over half of the desired acreage has been signed up for, but unless the entire 6,500 acres are secured the plant will not operate this year. This is a good cash crop for any farmer with the right type of soil. A. D. Morley, county agent says. In many sections of the state it has been a "life saver" to the farmers, he points out.

With all the many attractions which the Fennville district offers, it is any wonder that prospective citizens select this section for their residence? About twenty-five fine babies have made their advent in this neighborhood during the last three months and we are getting ready to welcome about thirty more in the not distant future.

THE SPRING

By Ray Souter of Holland Near the sea, by the side of the road,
At the base of a hickory tree,
A tiny spring is bubbling up,
And sings quite merrily.

This little spring by the side of the road,
Is happy as can be,
And blends its notes with the laughing breeze,
Which whispers through the tree.

Its crystal waters form a creek,
A stream with water pure,
Along whose tiny banks are spread
The violets it does lure.

This stream meanders as it goes,
And playing, leaps o'er the sea,
Till with a weary murmuring,
It joins forces with the sea.

I hope that this clear tiny spring,
By the roadside near the sea,
Will always remain as now it is—
Cheering lonely hearts like me.

OLD TIMES RETURN

By Ralph Schepers, R. R. 6, Holland, Mich.

Long ago the Creek tribe wandering
Southward from the Tennessee,
Eastward from the Mississippi Camped wherever they might be;
Was it on the Chocktawatchee
That the journey lost its zest?
It was homeland, Alabama—
"Alabama"—"Here we rest."

Campfires gleamed 'neath drowsy pine trees
On the banks of river Coosa,
On the Appalachicola,
And along the Tallapoosa;
Eastward from the Chattahoochee
Lay their land so long possessed
To the winding Alabama—
"Alabama": "Here we rest."

How they fought for their home country
Which alas they could not keep,
Ceded, ceded territory
Till was left no place to sleep;
Far away from the Tombigby
They were taken to the west, Away, away from Alabama—
"Alabama": "Here we rest."

All about our loved country
Happy homes were just the rule,
Tower stood with tail awavering
When the children came from school;
Father used his best endeavors—
Mother made a fine home nest,
'Twas for them an Alabama—
"Alabama": "Here we rest."

But then came the great Depression.
Sheriff took the wagging pet,
Goods near paid for in installments—
Lost, for those not paid as yet,
Ceding, ceding their possessions,
Till at last what they loved best—
Lost their home their Alabama—
"Alabama": "Here we rest."

DUTCH-IRISH FOR ONE NIGHT

Saugatuck Commercial Record—Tradition has it amongst our visitors that Saugatuckians are good fellows and royal entertainers. Mr.
and Mrs. George C. Wright proved that they were no exceptions to the rule when they entertained their daughter and twenty-six fellow Do-rians of the Dorian Society, Hope College.

Games, singing and jig-saw puzzles made the girls happy, to say nothing of the wonderful variety of sandwiches, cakes, ice cream and punch.

St. Patrick's day, such an ideal feast for the Hollanders to celebrate, but one and all recognized the shamrock, played Irish for an evening and called it one for the Irish.

The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion, even the punch was green.

WHEN SAUGATUCK WAS A SHIP BUILDING BURG

March 21, 1873—The Saugatuck House is undergoing repairs and will soon present a more inviting appearance and furnish better accommodations to its guests. "Jake," the obliging barber, has recently had his chair newly upholstered and made more comfortable for those undergoing "tonsorial operations." Those desiring a clean shave and a clean towel should visit "Jake." About $60,000 have been used thus far in ship building in Saugatuck this winter.

SLEET STORM DAMAGES
TURTLE RACING GAINING FAVOR

Turtle racing is rapidly gaining favor as a sport among the "cowboys" and "cow-girls" of the West.
More than 1,500 turtles were entered in a turtle racing contest held recently in Oklahoma and prizes offered the winners totaled $1,700.

The uncertainty of what to expect from the contestants adds considerable zest to turtle racing. For instance in the above mentioned race one turtle beat all the others to a point within an inch of the goal line and then refused to budge further until the race was all over.
In this race the turtles, each with a number pasted on its back, were lined up around a circular corral which was so arranged that the turtles could be started in the right direction by the lifting of a pole support. The finish line was 75 feet from the starting point.

MUMPS PREVALENT
IN GRAND HAVEN.

Mumps has been making the rounds in Grand Haven during the past two or three weeks according to the reports filed with the Ottawa county health unit by Mrs. Ann Lundborg, city nurse. A large number of families have reported one or more cases, although health officials believe that many afflicted with the malady have not reported.

German measles has been prevalent in the county, Dr. Ralph Ten Have, health commissioner, says.
Dr. Ten Have says that although German measles are considered a mild disease, all cases should be reported and watched as it is somewhat difficult to differentiate between this malady and scarlet fever, another prevalent disease of more serious nature.

Cases of German measles should be reported and isolated for a week. The house does not need to be placarded and children who have been in contact need not be isolated. The disease is contagious.
Enlargement of neck glands, slight temperature, and mild catarrhal symptoms herald the disease, Dr.
Ten Have says.

MOTHER OF MRS CHAMPION

Mrs. Nancy Schaeffer, 87, died Wednesday evening at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. B. Champion, 36 West Twelfth street. While in Holland she resided with Mrs.
Champion.

Mrs. Schaeffer was born in Pennsylvania on July 22, 1845. She was the widow of Rev. George W.
Schaeffer, who died more than 42 years ago in Iowa City, Iowa, where she resided before coming to Holland twenty-six years ago.

Surviving besides Mrs. Champion is a son, Ort A. Schaeffer of Detroit; a brother, Jacob George, of North Liberty, Iowa, and a granddaughter, Miss Eula Champion, of Holland.

Funeral services will be held on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home, with Rev. James M.
Martin, pastor of Third Reformed church, officiating. Interment will take place in Pilgrim Home cemetery.

FAVORS DILLMAN
FOR RE-ELECTION

If there is one man deserving to be elected on the Republican state ticket this spring it is Mr. Grover C. Dillman, candidate for re-election to the office of state highway commissioner, because his views are broad as the state, and he is friendly to every section of the state without being unfriendly to ward any. His re-election, we believe, is important to the best interests of the state.

We have one citizen, Mr. Peter Brill, who is trustworthy and qualified to speak from experience. Mr.
Brill says:
"Mr. Dillman, always a hard, conscientious worker of unimpeachable integrity, has consistently subordinated politics and favoritism and has pursued a course, many times in the face of stringent opposition, which he believed to be to the best interests of the state as a whole."

That is the type of state officers that should be permanently kept on the job.—Zeeland Record.

SCHOOLING SPEAKS
AT W. C. T. U. RALLY

The Women's Christian Temperance Union held a rally in Third Reformed church Tuesday evening.

A declamation contest was held in which Miss Esther Bultman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Bultman, was awarded the gold medal. Other participants in the contest were Miss Mildred Borr, Ray White and Raymond Bouwman.

Mrs. M. Oudemool, Mrs. E. Walvoord and Mrs. E. F. Penna were judges. Mrs. W. E. Van Dyke, president of the W. C. T. U. in Holland, presided.

George Schuiling, president of the Ottawa County Sunday School association, gave a fine address on the prohibition question. Mr.
Schuiling gave some worthwhile facts and figures on the subject.
He stated that the recent vote on prohibition was "won on false statements." He declared that people who were "depression-minded," were influenced by false statements.

In closing Mr. Schuiling pointed out some encouraging signs, one being the recent Christian Endeavor convention in Grand Rapids when more than a thousand young people paraded the streets of that city with banners denouncing the liquor traffic. He also said that a million youths have signed a petition for prohibition in the United States.

Sheriff and Mrs. Ben Rosema drove to Detroit and Ionia to take Miss Kathryn DeWitt of Holland and Matt Kumischof, Muskegon, to serve their respective terms after having been sentenced from the circuit court.—Grand Haven Tribune.

BURGRAAFF IS SPEAKER
AT GRAND HAVEN

Grand Haven Tribune—"Why I Go To Church" was the subject of a stirring address given by Dr.
Winifred Burgraaff of Western Theological Seminary last night at a fathers and sons banquet given under the auspices of the Grand Adult Bible Class and the Young Men's Bible Class of the First Reformed church.

Speaking before an audience of 225 men, young men and boys, Dr.
Burgraaff said that he attends church because the church of Christ was built with the Bible as its foundation. This Bible, he declared, has been the most potent force, other than the power of God itself, in the history of the world.

The speaker said another reason he goes to church is that he loves the fellowship of Christian people.
He said that what this world needs today is a united front to fight off evil and that the church is the best means of supplying this front.

Little Yellow
Dandelion Once
Valued Flower

GRANDMOTHER FOUND USES FOR THIS GOLDEN FLOWER WHICH IS TODAY CLASSIFIED BY MANY AS A WEED.

The "little yellow" dandelion has an interesting history and is put to many uses besides being a menace in the lawn. The early ones are as welcome as the robin in the spring but they soon lose caste when they multiply and multiply. The latest use since the Volstead law was to convert the yellow blooms into "dandelion wine," which has an awful "kick," it is said. So you see even your lawns are anti-prohibition.

An article on dandelions by Clara B. Joyce in the Grand Rapids Herald of Sunday is indeed interesting. It follows:

The yellow dandelion is the most common of our large family of native wild flowers, a nuisance in some garden spots, classed as a weed generally, but the welcome accorded this cheerful gipsy-like flower of such wandering tendencies that the dandelion has spread to all over the world, is unanimous when it appears in its bright golden garb with the first breath of spring. All distaste toward the ordinary dandelion is laid aside when it lines every footpath to the open in April and spreads a halo of color throughout the land following long tedious months of winter's drabness. Its presence brightens the outdoors at a time when even nature is down-spirited because of the reluctance of winter to release its icy grip on the woodland, but would hold court there forever, or so it sometimes appears.

The dandelion family does not confine itself to one single member, but has branched out into quite a sizable group. The dandelion which attracts us in the spring and blossoms along with the coming of the robins is the one we know the most about because it is the more prolific and the gayest in color. This common dandelion, named by the world's botanists, "taraxacum officinale," is used by many people of many countries as a table vegetable cut into green salad or cooked as a green. For more years than we know about the root of the common dandelion has been used as a tonic for persons suffering from liver complaints and as a remedy for dyspepsia. In olden days it was the custom for grandmothers to keep a little pot of dandelion tea brewing on the back of the kitchen stove where a warm sip could be taken as needed by the members of the household. In grandmother's day an ounce of prevention was worth more to her household than several pounds of today's cures because medicines and surgery were more or less of an enigma to her and one of the sciences yet to be better understood, while being physically far removed with days of travel in between. Another way of administering dandelion tea was to grind the bitter root and serve like coffee.

The plants of the dandelion family have long, thick, bitter roots and it is not unusual to find them as long as 20 inches. When the flowers go to seed children find much amusement gathering the fuzzy white heads by which they seem to know how to tell the time of day, their fortunes in matrimony, make curly ribbons of the stems and other unique performances that belong strictly to childhood.

Beside the dandelion of the town lawn, garden path, field border and pasture there is a tiny summer dandelion which is a miniature of taraxacum officinale with a wee daisy-shaped head whose silky fuzzy seeds also blow away with the summer winds. During the day these two dandelions open their blossoms wide but close them tightly at night, which must be some disappointment to the moths that come flitting to them under the cover of darkness. Dandelions may be found in blossom as late as frost comes, putting forth a succession of bloom and fuzzy seed balls through the entire summer from spring until fall.

The false dandelion, or goat's beard, is found in waste places and has a fondness for following the edges of country roads where it is easily recognized by the large round ball of hairy seeds which strikingly resemble the white beard of certain billy goats. This peculiarity of likeness to a white beard has given the false dandelion the unusually common name of goat's beard and the plant appears to have been noticed more for the "beard" than the blossom.

The false dandelion has strayed away from the other dandelions and has a relative that has a purplish-rose colored blossom. Strange to say these dandelions like the noise of town life because they are found growing in the streets, vacant lots and at the backs of old buildings where there is a bit of dirt for them to grow in. Dump piles are also a favorite rendezvous for the false dandelions, whose taste is not at all fastidious. The false dandelions also bloom throughout the summer until late in the fall, blooming until after the leaves have fallen from the trees.

PIER AFTER REPAIRS

Traffic was held up for several minutes in Grand Haven when the General Meade, federal sand-sucker, was brought down from Ferrysburg to the government docks on the river. The General Meade has been undergoing some repairs at the Johnston Bros. boiler shop. She is being outfitted for the season and is expected to be ready for duty next month. The Meade came down more easily than she went up the river, as, due to the recent snow and rains, the river is considerably higher.

Urges Care Of Highway Signs

Highway Officials Cite Harm Done by People Who Damage Markers.

For the last few years the state and county highway officials have been erecting and maintaining signs along public highways for two very good reasons. First, as a measure of public safety, and second, for information. Care has been taken to select durable signs and signs of uniform design throughout many states. The cost of a sign, including the post and erection, varies from $2.50 to $30.

Warning signs are of greatest importance. They may indicate a steep hill, a curve to right or left, a sharp turn, or possibly a railroad crossing or a stop. The highway traveling public has become accustomed to these warnings of danger and conclude that no signs, no danger, or no news is good news.

It is quite customary for anyone having an accident on the highway to observe immediately whether there were any warning signs in that vicinity.

Anyone wilfully taking down or molesting or defacing these signs is not only breaking an important law but jeopardizing the safety of the users of the highways.

Many of these highway signs are accidentally damaged. A report to the proper highway officials or employees would insure prompt attention. Every few days throughout the past year a new sign has been discovered that has apparently been turned around if its post or defaced in some manner that makes it useless. Probably much of this tampering is done by youngsters who do not realize the harm it may do someone, neither do they realize there is a punishment imposed for such offenses. If it is hoped through bringing this matter before the public that less damage may be found on the signs in the future, said one of the officials.

Hope Senior To Use High School
For Play in April

"LITTLE WOMEN" WILL BE GIVEN BY CAST OF TWELVE

The senior class has chosen as their senior play presentation, "Little Women," adapted from Louise M. Alcott's story of the same name. The play will be presented in the Auditorium of Holland High School on the afternoon of April 25th, and the evenings of April 27th and 28th, under the able direction of Miss Shirley Payne of the college faculty.

The appellation "little" in regards to quality, is hardly appropriate to the girls who take the various parts since each of them is excellent in portraying the real character of her play "double." Jean Herman as Jo embodies the spirit of the play in her boisterous, tempestuous self. Helen Pelon, as Meg, with Victorian shyness, tempers the action in a quaint bisterly attitude. Helen Johnson, as the demure and lovely Beth affords the pathos in the play. Arlo Van Peursem, as Amy, the would-be sophisticated, converts smiles into laughter at her attempts to be elegant. Alma Plakke, as Hannah, carries off the honors as the traditional Irish maid. Evelyn Van Bree, as the wealthy old maid, Aunt March, doesn't spoil your conception of the fussy, whining old ladies you've heard about. Irving Decker, and Louise Kieft, as Mr. and Mrs. March, form a perfect picture of the fond parents who are sympathetically interested in their children, and understandingly interested in each other.

The reserve of Meg plus Aunt March ensnare the diffident John Brooke, in the person of Bruce Van Leeuwen. Herb Marsijle as Mr. Bhaer adds a quietly humorous touch, as the eccentric professor with a german accent, and you'll smile at his old fashioned courting of the stormy Jo. Jim Van Veenen, as Mr. Laurence, becomes the role of a dignified courtly old man, and John Mulenberg, as Laurie, his grandson, plays well the role of the dashing, vivacious college youth.

If you're romantically inclined, behold—three love affairs, to arrest your interest. If you're emotionally high-strung and would like a good cry, you'll have your opportunity. If you're looking for the humorous, you'll be hilariously satisfied, for the antithesis of character, coupled with clever conversation and incongruous incidents will take care of that. If what you want is action, you'll not be disappointed. The cast, under Miss Payne, is working hard to make a success of this widely recognized play and every indication points to a delightful entertainment for the audiences.

Vander Velde
Key Will Go To High-Point Man

SENIOR SCHOLAR-ATHLETE WILL RECEIVE AWARD FROM ALUMNUS

—from Hope College Anchor.

Each year Dr. Otto Vander Velde, alumnus of the college, presents a Gold Key to the best all-around senior scholar-athlete on the campus. There are two symbols on this key, a burning torch to represent scholarship, and a winged foot to represent athletics.

In order to qualify for this key a man must win three major letters during his college career. Three different fields are taken into consideration for this award—40 per cent for scholarship, and 20 per cent campus activities. In regard to athletic ability 2 points are given for each "H" or numeral earned while 1 point is given for a man being on the squad, but failing to earn his "H" or numeral. In regard to scholarship, 2 points are given for each A and 1 point for each B earned in classes. Regarding the campus activities, 1 point is given for each of the following:

Class president, president of H club, captain of any athletic team, member of Interfraternity council, Blue Key, debate squad, chapel choir, glee club, student council, board and control of athletics, college orator or president of Y. M. C. A.

No credits are given for subjects taken or letters earned in another school, nor is any credit granted for offices held in literary societies.

We are very grateful to Dr. Vander Velde for making this an annual award. It is rumored that athlete's marks are usually lower than the average run of students. This is far from true, for our athlete's marks are far above the average. Dr. Vander Velde is attempting to raise athlete's marks by offering this award. It is a fine spirit of co-operation manifested by our alumni who are really interested in the welfare of the school. This award will not be made until the night of graduation.

Muirhead To Give Classes
In First Aid

Intensive Course to Be Given by Red Cross at Holland April 3-15

Intensive, advanced instruction in approved American Red Cross first aid methods, will be given at Holland to persons anxious to qualify as Red Cross lay instructors in first aid April 3 to 15, by Dr. R. M. Muirhead, first aid representative of the national Red Cross. P. H. Norg, life saving and first aid chairman for Ottawa county, announced today. The Red Cross is engaged in a nation-wide program of training people with teaching ability, as instructors in what to do following accidents, before the doctor arrives. Industry, the building trades, and the maintenance of power and telephone lines are among the occupations presenting the daily risk of personal injury. Even home accidents are an increasing menace such as falls from ladders, burns, scalds and cuts. Lay instructors are qualified by the Red Cross to organize and conduct classes according to a sound program of community education, under the leadership of Red Cross chapters.

R. M. Muirhead, M. D.

Dr. Muirhead, a member of the first aid staff of the midwestern branch office of the American Red Cross, St. Louis, received his bachelor of science degree from the University of Saskatchewan. He has studied at the University of Chicago, and received his medical degree from Rush Medical college. Since 1929 he has been in the field of industrial surgery. Muirhead is a member of the Alpha Kappa Kappa medical fraternity.

The midwestern Red Cross headquarters advises that Dr. Muirhead's training has particularly fitted him for his responsibility. Classes for the course will be held at the city hall every day starting April 3 and running to the 15. Persons interested in taking the course should communicate with P. H. Norg, chairman of Life Saving and First Aid, City Hall, Holland, Michigan.

Mrs. W. Curtis Snow and children are spending the week in Sioux Center, Iowa, with Mrs. Snow's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kline and family of Hamilton have moved to Holland and are making their home at 79 East Seventeenth street.

Campaign to Boost Hope

PROGRAMS ARE GIVEN IN WESTERN MICHIGAN HIGH SCHOOLS

In direct defiance to Dame Rumor, who said that Hope College was going to suspend operations for next year, comes the word that preparations are being made to make next year a bigger and better Hope year. Professors Winter, Payne, and Raymond as a committee of three have organized a plan of school-visiting that will include over fifty schools in western Michigan from Manistee to Watervliet. The purpose of these visits is to secure a desirable class of students for enrollment next year. Schools already visited by the committee include those in Allegan, Muskegon, Gables, Mattawan, Fennville, Sparta, and Ravenna. Other faculty members who will take part in the school-visiting are Professor McLean, Timmer, Kleis, Lampen, Ross, Wolters, and President Wichers.

In addition to an address by the Hope faculty representative, musical selections by a group of students are presented. Three groups of students have participated in these assembly programs: the Stryker sisters, Jean Herman and Ruth Van Os, and the male quartette of Mulenberg, Meyer, Cotts, and Cook. Private interviews are arranged for those students who are interested, and they are given catalogs. The names and records of these students are also considered for scholarships. In the interests of the seniors, inquiries are made about possible teaching vacancies.

President Wichers has launched on another part of this campaign by sending letters to ministers and Hope graduates in an effort to secure their aid and support. With all these preparations it looks as if we can all look forward to a great year, full of splendid possibilities, for our dear Alma Mater.

OTTAWA COUNTY

During the first four years of Grover C. Dillman's administration of the state highway department, Ottawa county and its trunk line highways have been greatly benefited.

Since January 1, 1929, the following major improvements to the trunk line roads in Ottawa county have been completed or started: 20.2 miles of concrete pavement on M-50 from US-31 east to the county line; 4.8 miles of concrete pavement and a bridge between Zeeland and Holland; 0.3 miles of pavement and a bridge at Vriesland on M-21; 0.5 miles of grading and a bridge at Jenison; 4.9 miles of grading between Nunica and Fruitport; 0.8 miles of new pavement and 4.8 miles of grade widening on US-16 west of Nunica; 0.3 miles of 40-foot pavement on US-16 at the east county line; 0.6 miles of pavement and a bridge on US-31 at Holland; 0.7 miles of pavement, 0.4 miles of pavement widening, and a bridge on US-31 at Grand Haven, and 19.0 miles of grade widening on US-31 between Holland and Grand Haven, and considerable pavement widening.

Expenditures by the department in Ottawa county during the four-year period ending December 31, 1932, were as follows:

New construction and improvements of state trunk line highways, $1,086,558.77; maintenance of state trunk line highways, $190,247.12; construction under contract for 1933, $43.83.

Ottawa county's share of the motor vehicle registration fees returned to the county during the four-year period amounts to $471,733.90.

Mrs. Gerrit Gommers and Mrs. Len Kievit were hostesses at a surprise party in the form of a miscellaneous shower given for Mrs. Richard Huyser on last week, Wednesday evening, at the home of Mrs. Huyser's mother, Mrs. S. Enslung. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Peter Verburg of Grand Rapids; Mr. and Mrs. Chester Van Null of Holland; Mr. and Mrs. P. Huyser and children, Warren and Ethel; Edith Huyser and Alvin Jager, all of Beaverdam, and Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Gommers, and Mrs. Len Kievit, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Volkers and baby, Miss Ella Poll, Miss Anna Kampa and friend, Melvin Huyser, Mrs. S. Enslung and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Huyser, all of Zeeland. The young bride received many beautiful and useful gifts. Games were played and a lap lunch was served—Zeeland Record.

Holland's fourth annual tulip festival is dated tentatively for the third week in May. Mrs. J. E. Telling is chairman of the general committee and Mrs. C. H. McBride heads the garden club display committee. The tentative program will feature the annual typical Dutch street "crubbing scene" by Holland residents in Dutch costumes and clattering wooden shoes. The home garden club exhibit will be staged in the Women's Literary club house, and the flower show in Holland armory will be designed by Harry Nelis, assisted by Holland florists. Band tournaments and other features are being considered. Park Commissioner John Van Bragt estimates over 2,000,000 tulips in a variety of colors will be in bloom to greet the thousands of visitors from all parts of the country. Tulip lanes now extend from Centennial park to all approaches to the city.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. John Schenboer, 337 West Eighteenth street, on March 18, a son, Paul Ernest; to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McFall, 379 West Twentieth street, on March 21, a daughter, Norma Jean.

PUT IN LAST-QUARTER RALLY TO WIN BY 19-16

By virtue of their 19 to 16 win over the Fraternals Monday evening at Carnegie gym the Cosmopolitan basketball team retained the championship of the Interfraternity league.

The game was hard fought the entire way, neither team at any time holding a substantial lead. However, the defending champs put on their usual last-quarter rally to change the 13 to 11 score against them into victory. The two teams battled evenly during the first quarter to a 6-all score, but the Cosmos obtained a slim 9 to 7 lead during the next stanza.

In the closing minutes of play Jim Wiegierink made a foul shot which was followed by a field goal to put the frame on ice. The Wiegierink brothers led the Cosmos in scoring as well as playing nice floor games. Gerrit coming for 9 points, and Jim garnering 6. Van Kolken looked best for the Fraternals with 10 points.

The semiary in the first game pulled a game out of the fire with the Knickerbockers in an overtime period. The final score was 22 to 17. Muyskens and Zwemer led their teams with 10 and 8 points, respectively.

HONOR FALLS TO JUNIOR VETERAN OF TWO YEARS' EXPERIENCE

With basket ball season over Andrew John Dalman has been chosen as the honorary captain for the season of 1932-33. There being no Seniors on the squad, the honor fell to a Junior.

"Andy" is a veteran of two years' experience, having played his Sophomore year as a regular guard. He saw plenty of action. It is the custom, after the completion of each season of athletics to elect an honorary captain of the team.

This year as well, alternating at the guard position with Bonnette and Van Zanden. "Andy" has another year of competition and is rated highly in the conference as a guard.

With two years of experience behind him, we are expecting great things from "Andy" next year. Congratulations, "Andy"!
