Southern Ottawa Passes R. C. Goal

Nearly 22 Thousand Dollars Contributed;
Reports Incomplete

Southern Ottawa county had exceeded its goal in the Red Cross war fund campaign and the northern half of the county is believed to have successfully concluded the drive which formally ended Wednesday.

All that remains in the campaign is the receipt of final reports, the Rev. Paul E. Hinkamp, chairman of the drive in southern Ottawa, said today.

The lower section of the county thus far has contributed $21,857.54, 104 per cent of the $20,910 goal. Further reports are expected to increase the total donations. Reports from the north part of the county were not available.

The cities of Holland and Zeeland as well as three of the eight townships, Olive, Zeeland and Port Sheldon, exceeded the given quotas. Holland city already has passed the 150 per cent mark.

The Holland committee on residential solicitation in charge of Mrs. W. S. Merriam did commendable work. Final reports are as follows: Mrs. J. J. Good's division, $1,224.70; Mrs. Neil Bergen's division, $872.01; Mrs. A. W. Tahaney's division, $796.15; Mrs. O. A. Bishop's division, $902.10, and miscellaneous $231.87, making a total of $4,026.83.

The Red Cross drive in Fillmore township, Allegan county, was correspondingly successful, according to Mrs. George Klingenberg and Mrs. Ben Lohman, co-chairmen. The township's quota was collected.

Workers in the various districts included: Maplewood — George Koops, Mrs. Gerald Mannes, Mrs. Henry Menken, Mrs. Richard Streur, Mrs. George Koops, Mrs. Art Hoffman, Mrs. George Markvluwer and Henry Van Ark; Sunnyside — Henry G. Schrootenboer and Mrs. George B. Tubergan; Bee Line school — Mrs. John Kronmeyer, Mrs. Milton Timmerman, Mrs. Gerald Kleinhels, Miss Gladys Tucker, Mrs. Justin Oatman and Ted Kleinhels; Russcher school — Mrs. A. De Witt, chairman, R. Pelon, H. Mulder, S. Verburg, Mrs. J. Tien, Augustine De Witt, Mrs. William Vanden Belt and Mrs. Ed Boeve; Westview school — Ann Lelink Brink; Valleyview school — Gilbert Postma; Elmwood school — Jake Bush; East Holland school, Mrs. Albert Vos. The Fillmore Junior Farm bureau also contributed.

Officer With Candy Ends 'World Trip' for Three

Three Zeeland children, two of them about 3 years old, and the other about 5 years old, started out Wednesday afternoon "to see the world" but their trip on bicycles was halted on M-21 about one mile west of Zeeland when a deputy sheriff overtook them.

When noticed by the officer, they were westbound in the center of the highway and causing considerable confusion to passing motorists.

The deputy sheriff placed one of the boys and his tricycle in his car but the other two, apparently frightened by the appearance of the officer, "wheeled" about and headed toward Zeeland.

The officer was able to quiet the one boy with some candy and after overtaking the other boy and girl near the Zeeland city limits he became "acquainted" with the other two by offering them candy.

They got into his car and went with him in search of their homes. The officer chanced upon the father of one of the boys in downtown Zeeland at about the same time he came across Zeeland police who had spent the past half-hour searching.

Army Chaplain Talks to Holland Exchange Club

Capt. Willis A. Brown, chaplain of the army weather school at Grand Rapids, addressed the Holland Exchange club at its regular luncheon meeting Monday noon at the Warm Friend tavern, explaining in his talk some of the meanings of religion in the army.

Captain Brown who has been a chaplain in the army for some time said that from the commander-in-chief of the armed forces down to the buck private, there is an interest in religion.

The position of the chaplain has changed considerably since the last war, he pointed out. In World War I, the chaplains were given all kinds of duties but now their sole purpose is to administer to the spiritual and moral needs of the soldiers, he said, adding that the government has appropriated large sums of money for the purpose of erecting chapels in the army camps. At the present time there are about 1,000 of these chapels in the army.

"Chapel services in the army on Sunday are practically the same as the church services which civilians attend. It has been proven that more men in the army go to chapel than those who went to church services in civilian life."

Ervin Hansen chairman of the war effort committee, announced the plan of the Exchange club in Michigan to purchase a "link" trainer for the CAP of Michigan. The "link" trainer which costs about $10,000 is a dummy airplane which is used to teach pilots the art of "blind flying." The quota of the Holland Exchange club is $750. To raise this amount, each of the members was given a book of 10 honorary membership certificates in the "Sink-A-Sub" club which are to be sold for $1 each.

Special music was provided by Miss Ruth Ann Poppen and Miss Frieda Grote, Hope college students.

Guests of the club were the Rev. F. Yonker and Lieut. Lester Van Tatenhove. Dr. John R. Mulder pronounced the invocation and George Peigrim introduced the speaker.

Mrs. W. G. Flowerday Is Surprised by Class

On Friday evening 20 members of the Pahocha class of the First Methodist church met at the parsonage to surprise their teacher, Mrs. W. G. Flowerday, on her birthday anniversary. During the early part of the evening while the Flowerdays were calling on sick parishioners the members gathered in the parsonage to await the return of Mrs. Flowerday. As their teacher opened the door the group screamed 'surprise' and took Mrs. Flowerday entirely unawares.

The evening was spent in contests and games directed by Mrs. Barbara Greenwood and Mrs. Emily Shaffer. During the program written slips hidden around the house directed Mrs. Flowerday at last to a pile of 22 individual birthday gifts which were opened while various greetings were read. Mrs. Marjorie Van Huis, chairman of the refreshment committee, requested their guest to cut a huge birthday cake which was served with ice cream and coffee to those present.

Clear the lines for WAR!

MAYBE you have waited on a siding while a troop train, or a fast freight loaded with munitions, roared past on the main track. And you said, "Sure—that's as it should be. We've got a war to win!"

Like the railroads, the Long Distance telephone lines today are carrying a vastly increased load of wartime traffic... and the congestion can't be relieved by adding equipment, because the needed materials have gone to the fighting front.

You'll help give vital war calls the right-of-way if you:

Make only really urgent Long Distance calls.

Keep all calls as brief as you can.

Former Holland Man Sets Point Values on Meat

Bosch Has Gone Far Since He Worked Here During Period at CHS

Washington, April 1 (Special)—When OPA took over a local super-market for a preview of "meat by the point" for the Washington press, Administrator Prentiss M. Brown was unable to be present. But Michigan carried on anyway!

A former Holland butcher, Leon Bosch, the man who set up the point values for meat, stole the show. He, along with other OPA officials, donned butchers' aprons and personally weighed, wrapped, and sold bacon, hamburger and pot roasts to the press corps.

He did a good job, too! "Best butcher of them all," was the way the press put it. But Bosch, looking ruefully at his hands, admitted, "It's been 22 years since I've been behind a meat counter. That was back in my Holland Christian high school days when I was working at the East End market," he explained.

Since his "graduation" from the East End market, Mr. Bosch has had considerable experience in the meat industry and was so "drafted" to head up the points control and developing section of OPA. From this post he and his staff became the meat "czars" in determining that Americans would surrender five points for a pound of hamburger, nine points for a choice sirloin and so on.

"Wasn't it a tough job?" asked the press.

"Not so bad," explained Bosch, adding that the system was set up on such factors as the relation of the amount of lean and fat in meat, the popularity of certain types of meat and the spoilage degree of meat.

On cuts with great bone and fat wastage, points had to be set high, explained Bosch. This is to insure the retailer sufficient points to buy primal cuts. In other instances, he pointed out, points were set intentionally low to urge consumers to purchase "less popular" cuts.

For example, sweetbreads, although considered a delicacy, don't ordinarily "move fast" through a butcher shop. Liver, a popular dish, is among the best-sellers. Consequently 8 points are required for a pound of calf's liver but only 1 point for a pound of sweetbreads. This will prevent the industry from storing up a wasteful backlog of sweetbreads which the industry can't afford, explained Bosch.

"Is meat rationing a good thing?" The former Holland butcher thinks so. "After this war consumers will know about meat how to purchase and prepare it, than ever before in history, he predicted.

Between the East End market and OPA days, Bosch managed to collect several degrees beginning at Hope college in Holland, from where he continued his studies at the University of Illinois and finished the circuit with his Ph. D. in marketing from Northwestern's business administration school.

(Dr. Bosch, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bosch, 47 East 20th St., who is now living in Washington, D. C., has been with the OPA since Dec. 5, 1942. Previous to that time he was an instructor of economics at Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill., and made his home in Evanston. He left Holland in the fall of 1929 following his graduation from Hope college, and married the former Miss Virginia French of Grandville Aug. 24, 1935. They have no children.)

Firemen Answer Four Alarms and False One

Holland firemen responded to four alarms Tuesday and to a false alarm early yesterday.

They were called to the West Michigan Furniture Co. factory on West Seventh St. late Tuesday afternoon when a pile of sawdust on top of the roof caught fire. There was no resulting damage. W. L. Wisniewski said the fire broke out after working hours, otherwise employees could have extinguished the minor fire. He expressed belief that a flying ember set fire to the sawdust which had settled on the roof.

Firemen went to 21st St. and Central Ave. and twice to the vicinity of Holland hospital to extinguish grass fires.

Holland Fire Department Obtains Extra Equipment

Fire Chief Andrew Klompars has revealed that Holland has received a considerable quantity of firefighting equipment from the Michigan civilian defense council which will enable the Holland fire department to give increased fire protection, especially to war plants.

Included in the firefighting equipment are a 1½ ton fire truck with dual tires on the rear, an enclosed cab and the following apparatus: One 500-gallon per minute centrifugal pump, hose body with capacity for 1,000 feet of 2½-inch standard fire hose, one 150-gallon booster tank with 150 feet of booster hose, one 14-foot roof ladder with folding hooks, one axe, one 36-inch crowbar, six 14-quart pails, one eight-foot pike pole, two electric hand lanterns, two five-gallon pump type extinguishers, one 2½-gallon foam type extinguisher, various connections, nozzles, wrenches, one 100-foot length of ¾-inch rope and six tires.

The Holland fire department also has received three trailer pumps, each equipped with a cylinder Chrysler pumps with a capacity of 500 gallons per minute. The three trailer pumps are equipped with 1,400 feet of hose and each have two shut-off playpipe nozzles and a fog nozzle.

As soon as all the firefighting equipment is received and ready for service, a public demonstration will be held at Kollen park, Chief Klompars said.

Present plans are to station one of the trailer pumps on the north side of the lake, one in the east end of the city and the third at the No. 2 engine house.

H. DUCE'S OBITUARY

From a London gossip column, "Inside Information," comes the news that Mussolini is writing his memoirs and has already delivered the first half to a publisher in Switzerland. All such bits of news from sources obviously unfriendly to Mussolini must of course be discounted; it is not in human nature to be fair to an enemy, and there is no reason to suppose that Allied writers are much more objective than German or Italian scribes.

But if the report is true, then it furnishes excellent proof that Mussolini is through and that he knows it. Put your finger on anyone who indulges himself in autobiography and you can be certain that you are touching someone who is through, for all practical purposes. A busy man who is doing important things and who thinks of himself as having a future in the affairs of life does not waste his time on memoirs; he is far too much occupied with making things happen to record what has happened to him. This is certainly true of political figures.

This does not mean that autobiographies are somehow an evidence of defeat. Many a successful man feels moved to present a picture of his own life; but when he gets that impulse he has retired from the battle, at least psychologically. He has come to the period in life when he feels that he has a right to leave the hard knocks to others. If he wishes to fill that period with a record of what he has done, that is entirely legitimate. But it is, essentially, an obituary that he is writing. And Mussolini, if the London story is true, is giving himself away. He knows that he is through, even though he still clings to the trappings of active political life.

It happens now and again that a man who has written his own obituary is forced back into the battle by the pressure of events.
The best example of this is Benjamin Franklin. When he had retired—at least psychologically—he began to write his famous autobiography. He indicates clearly that he felt he was through with active life. But then the Revolution broke out, and Franklin was drafted for another and a more glorious service in active endeavor. But note that he did not finish his autobiography; he left it at the point where his greatest service to America began; he was from then on to the end of his life too busy doing things to be writing about them.

That does not happen very often. Mussolini, as things look at present, will hardly have the opportunity to add to his activities. He belongs in the past. And the fact that he is writing his memoirs seems to prove that he knows he's a has-been.

THE CHURCH INVITES YOU

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., says, "Countless are the needs of the present world, none is greater than its need of spiritual power, something to lift man above the sordidness of materialism; something to cause him to look up, not in; up, not down, to help him turn defeat of his selfish purposes into victorious living for others."

That "something" about which Mr. Rockefeller is speaking is found in the church whose most helpful program is the Sunday service of worship. Why not accept the invitation and go to church next Sunday?

Sunday School
Lesson

April 4, 1943
Peter and John Become Disciples of Jesus

John 1:29-42; Mark 1:16-20
By Henry Geerlings
Two men figure largely in the lessons for this quarter. They are Peter and John. Their purpose, however, whether in service or authorship was not to gain prominence for themselves, but to present Jesus to the people of their nation. We go back to the place where they become acquainted with Jesus and become His disciples. We know very little about them prior to that time.
Quietly they were in process of preparation for the advent of Christ and for their allegiance to him.

It seems probable that they had been followers of John the Baptist and through him acquired their first knowledge of the coming of the Messiah. In not a few respects we fail to appreciate what the Baptist did in preparing the way for the success that attended our Lord's earliest labors.
The greatness of this man is to be seen in the sincerity and earnestness of his efforts and a little later in his willingness to suggest to his disciples that they give their allegiance to the Lord.
Though the work of the Baptist seems to have terminated rather suddenly, it would be rather difficult to arrive at an appreciation of Christ's labors without understanding what his forerunner meant to the advent of the kingdom.

Our lesson calls attention to the character of Jesus as a power and influence in affecting the decisions of men. Not every person could call upon men and women in professions and activities and expect them to leave their life work to aid the propagation of a cause and movement. But such power and influence Jesus possessed. He extended an invitation to humble fishermen to leave their nets and follow Him.
His appeal was so strong and His message so engaging, that men left their work to be His disciples.
Jesus called disciples because first of all, they were in need of Him. Every individual needs the Savior. His invitation is extended to all. Their need prompts His offer. No disciple should think of his own achievements as of so great value that the kingdom of God could not succeed without him.

As we make a study of the followers of Jesus, one wonders how He was able to make use of such a diverse group of individuals. But he saw in each one certain traits and characteristics which made him valuable for the kingdom of God. Jesus used in special ways each individual according to his abilities and achievements. Thus it is that in our modern times, men from various walks of life are called by the Master to share in His mission and work.

Through human beings Jesus propagates His gospel. To mankind He looks for ministers, missionaries, teachers, and lay workers to serve Him and humanity in many ways. The preaching and the teaching of the gospel has been entrusted to human hands.
Through the normal activities of voice and pen, the gospel has been carried to the ends of the world.
Through the preaching of the gospel the kingdom of God has been built up in the hearts of individuals and in groups of mankind. Wherever the kingdom has found its way, we have a result of cooperation of God and man. Jesus calls disciples to extend His kingdom.

The church is largely the result of human activity under the inspiration of the Holy Spirit. While human in many of its characteristics, the church is divine in its essential character. The church is a group of believers dedicated to the service of God and man, and as such is the means through which God extends His message to mankind.

The call of these two disciples was a direct invitation from the Master. There are those today who believe that they have been called and do receive direct messages from God and Christ. Many of us must be content to have God call us into Christian service through human agencies. Frequently, a pastor's words have been the cause of a young man entering the Christian ministry, or young men or young women entering the missionary field of endeavor, or the office and work of a teacher. Through pastors and others, God speaks to a host of men and women who render voluntary service in the agencies and organizations of the church.

cense. Bristol was arrested by

Nineteen Tons of Tin
Cans Leave Holland

Thirty-eight thousand pounds of 19 tons of tin cans were shipped out of Holland Monday afternoon to the Vulcan Detinning Co. at Pittsburgh. L. Philip Van Hartes-veldt, chairman of the local salvage committee, reports.

Mr. Van Hartesveldt estimated there were 175,000 tin cans in the car. The cans were gathered recently in Holland, Grand Haven and vicinity. He urged housewives to continue saving their tin cans for future collections.

Bredeweg One of Advance Patrol

The name of Pfc. Arthur Bredeweg of Holland was listed as a member of a patrol which took part in a New Guinea jungle fight sometime ago, according to a story which appeared in the Detroit News.

Bredeweg is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Bredeweg, route 3, Holland. His parents received a letter from him Tuesday in which he wrote that he had returned to Australia and was "all right." He was inducted into the army April 23, 1941.

He was a member of a patrol which left Ombi Nov. 9 and made contact with the enemy three days later. Fighting by the Americans in the Buna area did not begin on a large scale until Nov.
9, thus the patrol in which Bredeweg was a member was among the first to draw enemy blood. Also in the same patrol were Pvt. Edmund Pigeon, Allegan, and five other Michigan men.

This patrol with three natives camped at a native hut between Ombi and Walropi and each day went out and lay in ambush waiting for the Japs to come along the trail. On Nov. 12, they were walking along a trail in a heavy rain when the leading native came running back with news of an approaching Japanese column.

The patrol members were members of an anti-tank unit. They preceded the main force to build up dumps of supplies dropped at a small native village, called Ombi about a day's march from Walropi.

The Americans dove into the bush a moment before the enemy soldiers came around a bend in the trail.

After the first burst of fire some of the Japs dropped bleeding to the trail and others tried to return the fire. The Americans were separated and wandered for hours in the jungle before they found their way back to their camp.

The men reported that they had killed at least 15 of 30 members of the Jap patrol. Their estimate was verified later by natives.

Will Explain Draft

Grand Haven, April 1 (Special)—Sheriff William M. Boeve, with Sam Rymer, a member of draft board No. 2, has arranged a meeting to be held in Allendale township hall April 6 at 8 p.m. for the purpose of explaining the classifications and deferments of certain residents in that vicinity.
Sheriff Boeve requests that all interested persons attend as an opportunity will be given them to ask questions.

This is the aftermath of the arrest of six persons who were charged with malicious destruction of property after they allegedly have painted such words as "Yellow," "Draft Dodger" and
"Slacker" on cars, tractors, store windows, and farm buildings at Allendale Feb. 12.

Those who were arrested and who each paid a $15 fine and $4.70 costs were Ben Van Farrow, 27, Edward Newman, 22, both of route 1, Hudsonville; Bernard Groeters, 43, Howard Hinken, 18, Lee Van Dyke, 19 and Thomas Rosema, 22, all of route 1, Jen-ison.

Tomorrow the canvassing board of the 23rd senatorial district will give the credentials of election to J.B. Hadden who was the Progressive candidate for state senator in opposition to Dr. Edward Hofma of Grand Haven, according to a story in the Tuesday, Dec. 10, issue of the Holland Daily Sentinel published in 1912.

Now that the question of street names has been agitated Anthony Rosbach comes back with a suggestion he made about a year ago, namely that the name of "Washington Ave." be made use of.
About a year ago Mr. Rosbach contributed an article suggesting that this be the name by which

SUNDAY DINNER
Suggestions

NOW that meat rationing has become a reality, the average homemaker probably will want to save the majority of her points for Sunday dinner. Seafoods, beans and vegetable dishes can be used as good substitutes during the week, thus making Sunday dinner an even more-to-be-anticipated event than usual.</

Prins Station Is Active 35 Years

The Prins service station, located at Eighth St. and Columbia Ave., has given service to the automobile owners of this community for almost 35 years. The station was opened in 1908 by Herman Prins, and at the present time is still owned by him. It is operated by his sons, Bud and Don Prins.

When the station was first opened, automobiles were still in their infancy. In 1930 a super-service station was added to give more complete service for the auto owner. Texaco products were obtained and today a complete line of Texaco products are available.

The Prins Service station carries a full line of batteries and other auto accessories. An internal motor cleaner is also available at the station. This machine flushes crank cases and cleans rings and cylinder walls of sludge. For a smoother running motor, this cleaner machine should be used at least twice a year, preferably in the spring and fall when changing to heavier and lighter oils.

In the years the Prins station has been operating and serving the public it has acquired many friends and has given continuous satisfactory service to a great many automobile owners.

Club Will Assist Lavoy in Creel Census on Lake

Data Will Be Sought In Connection With No-Stocking Period

The Holland Fish and Game club's board of directors, on a request from Fred Westerman, chief of fisheries of the state conservation department, will aid Forrest Lavoy, local conservation officer, in securing an adequate creel census on Lake Macatawa during the next five years, a period proposed for a no-stocking program.

Mr. Westerman pointed out that the real test of any management practice is fish in the angler's creel and that these records will indicate whether any changes in the fishing occur as a result of discontinuing planting in Lake Macatawa.

At a meeting Friday, March 19, in the Warm Friend tavern with directors of the club, representatives of the department of conservation discussed the results of the recent fisheries survey of the local lake, including a recommendation for no further planting of fish until such time as the need becomes apparent.

According to conservation department officials, the survey disclosed that Lake Macatawa has a good breeding stock of fish, excellent spawning grounds and highly spawning natural reproduction of all important species. Recent fisheries research in Michigan and other states has shown, they say, that where suitable species are established and spawning conditions are favorable there is no further need for fish plantings.

The board unanimously agreed to the department's recommendation and offered to turn over the club's rearing ponds to the department with their cooperation. Speaking for the club, President Cornelius De Waard said that the club's purpose was to aid in conservation and that if the fish were not needed for Lake Macatawa they could be planted in other nearby waters which might require stocking.

Mr. Westerman commended the unselfish attitude of the club and said the department would be pleased in this arrangement through its local district fisheries supervisor, Claude Lydell.

On one end of the egg was a raised marking which when turned one way looked like a "V" which could be taken for victory and turned another way it was in the shape of an "A" for America. The letter appeared to be in the old English style.

Sees President Roosevelt in Africa

Relatives here have received word from Lieut. Clarence Vande Water describing his experience in seeing President Roosevelt in Casablanca as a "real thrill." He said it gave all the boys in North Africa a feeling of confidence to think the president would come so near the battle lines.

Lieut. Vande Water, the son of Henry Vande Water, of 297 Lincoln Ave. was sent overseas early in November and because of strict censorship is not able to reveal many actual happenings. In the last letter received a week ago he states he is well and safe, but that every day things are really "getting rougher."

He says the one thing that keeps the soldiers going is the mail from home, because that is their only contact with civilization as they knew it here. Mail is their most appreciated gift.

Lieut. Vande Water is a graduate of Holland high school and attended the University of Michigan for two years where he played on the university football team. He was drafted in June, 1941, and served in Camp Wolters, Texas and Fort Ord, Calif., before being sent to officers' training

Many Attend Meetings In Interest of Lepers

The 24th annual prayer and praise service of the federation of women's societies in the churches of Holland and vicinity brought together a capacity audience of women in the Ninth Street Christian Reformed church Friday afternoon.

A high water-mark of enthusiasm was recorded as the speaker of the day, Mrs. Julia Lake Kellersberger, told of the various cures for leprosy which she had found recorded in literature published through the years by the American Mission to Lepers, of which organization she is promotional secretary.

The speaker termed her talk a "scientific lecture," but in reality she produced the actual objects which she mentioned as reputed cures, and attached spiritual value to each exhibit. She caught the interest of her hearers by holding up a "bigger bowl and a piece of rope," which, she said, used to be the only alternatives for a leper's fate in early years.

Imbuing the objects with meaning for Christians, she explained that "the rope symbolizes voluntary bond service to our Master, and the bowl urges us all to be beggars for eternal bread." In like manner, Mrs. Kellersberger treated a "knife that had tasted human blood," and a miniature firing squad, which were quick ways of getting rid of leprosy.

Other objects that were presumably cures for the disease were the amulets worn around the necks of natives, the bells and metal disks used by witch doctors, images made by human hands and worshipped by the victims of disease, the candle light which frightens the evil away, and the egg which can surround the evil and kill it.

The showing of Pete, the pig, "not the well-fed one which the little boy consecrated, but one which suffered from iron and vitamin deficiency," created unusual interest.

Last, "the lady of grace, grit, gumption, and gladness" lifted a small vial of chaulmoogra oil, the remedy which now offers a tentative cure to lepers in the first stages of the disease. With this she raised a little wooden cross that had been carved by a leper, and exulted in the love of the Christ who touched these people whom others call unclean.

In closing, Mrs. Kellersberger called for more prayer, saying, "If only by the prayers of some of you, a scientist or doctor might find a real cure for leprosy, wouldn't that be wonderful?"

The meeting was opened by a group of psalm and hymn tunes played by Mrs. Rudolph Mattson, and a call to worship by Mrs. E. V. Hartman, who presided as chairman. The prayer hymn, "Teach Me to Pray," and the favorite song of the lepers of Inhabance, "I'm the Child of a King," were sung by Mrs. Howard Dorgelo. Mrs. Paul E. Hinkamp led the devotional service and Mrs. William Van't Hof closed the meeting with a prayer for more power and love.

The evening meeting at 7:30 p.m. in Hope Memorial chapel, saw a well-filled auditorium. Mrs. Kellersberger told of many remarkable answers to specific prayer during the 10 years of her work in the Belgian Congo. The colored film, "The Healing of M'Vondo," was a story of a leper boy who found the way to abundant life in a mission leper colony.

The Rev. Henry Bast, college pastor, led the devotional period. The high school a cappella choir, under the direction of Miss Tridie Moore, sang two numbers. Mrs. W. Curtis Snow was at the organ, and the prayers of dedication and benediction were offered by Mrs. C. M. Beerthuis and the Rev. G. Visser.

A total offering of $2,465.36 for the year 1942-43 was contributed at the two meetings.

Next meeting of the leper board will be held in First Reformed church, Monday, April 5, at 2 p.m. when disposition will be made of the monies gathered. Four new societies were added to the membership of the federation, which now numbers 41 church affiliations.

War Prisoner's Letter Sent Here

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Klomprens, 328 Washington Blvd., are in receipt of a copy of a letter which their grandson, Lieut. Robert Menning of Pella, Ia., a prisoner of the Nazis, wrote to his father who in turn sent a copy to Holland.

Lieut. Menning was shot down during action against the enemy in North Africa Jan. 22 and his letter which follows was dated Jan. 30:

"I am now a prisoner of war, but please don't worry about me because a prisoner of war isn't as bad as it sounds or as you think. I am well and safe and will be home as soon as the war is over. I was shot down in the mountains of Africa. I was the only one who got out alive. I bailed out at 2,000 ft. It was by the providence of God that I was saved."

The Germans treat us good, good food, sports, movies, candy, cigarettes, etc., mostly from the Red Cross. It is certainly a great organization. The officers live together. We even have colonels and majors here, three from Iowa. I don't know how long the war will last but we hope and pray not more than six months.

"We all have one consolation as prisoners and that is that we will be alive after the war. The first thing they do after the war is that they exchange prisoners. No more room. I have my daily prayers. Don't worry about me and tell everyone to write. Have Don send his letters as a civilian for military reasons. Use your address. We are allowed to send only four letters a month."

Youth Uninjured When Buried Tank Explodes

An unidentified youth had a narrow escape from possible serious injuries about noon on March 24 when an abandoned gasoline storage tank in front of Van's drug store 24th and State Sts., exploded.

The explosion reportedly resulted when the youth dropped a lighted match into the gas tank. The force of the blast tore up a portion of the sidewalk in front of the drug store and hurled the youth into the air, leaving him dazed.

It was reported that youths first were dropping matches into the tank, buried underground, causing the fumes to ignite with a hissing sound. Surrounding homes were shaken when the tank finally exploded.

There are 30 cities in the U. S. of more than 300,000 population.

Hitch Company to Erect New Plant At Cost of $40,000

Factory in Southwest Section Required for Growing War Orders

Having obtained the necessary government priorities, permitting the use of vital building materials, the Holland Hitch Co., engaged 100 per cent in the production of war materials here announced plans for the construction of a modern fireproof factory building in the southwest part of the city at an estimated cost of $40,000.

As Ottawa Ave. is the dividing line between Holland city and Holland township, the building, being located on the west side of the avenue will be just inside the township.

The building will be located between 18th and 19th Sts., along the west side of Ottawa Ave. It will face in a northerly direction with a railroad siding along the east side of the building. The north end of the building will be 18 feet south of 18th St. sidewalk line. The company purchased 10 lots from property owners as the site for the factory in this commercial section of the city.

In announcing the company's plans, Henry Ketel, vice-president and general manager, said that breaking of ground for the basement got under way last week. Bert Habing and Wally Vander Kolk, both of Holland, have been awarded the general contract and Peter Elzinga of Holland is in charge of the architectural work.

A house on the corner of 18th St. and Ottawa Ave. is being moved to a location along the west line of the company's property to permit construction of the company's general offices across the front of the building. The office building will be 36 feet by 100 to 120 feet.

For some time, the Holland Hitch Co. has been occupying about 15,000 feet of space in the former Charles P. Limbert Co. factory at Sixth St. and Columbia Ave. Since occupying this building, there has been a marked increase in production in the increased space, Mr. Ketel stated.

Construction of the new building is expected to require about 60 working days, Mr. Ketel said. Operations in the new building will get under way as soon as it is completed. The company plans continued operations of its factory at 10th St. and Maple Ave.

The new factory building will be 135 feet wide and 170 feet long. Seventy-nine feet from the north end of the building, along the east side, there will be a 45-foot, six-inch indentation. This will leave a south wall of 89 feet, six inches.

The plant will be constructed of yellow face brick and glass block. The walls will be 12 inches thick and well insulated. There will be a concrete floor and a concrete roof, making the building fireproof. A skylight will run the length of the building in the center of the roof and fluorescent lighting will be used throughout the interior.

In addition to the factory proper, the building will house the guard house, factory office, toilet rooms, locker rooms, wash rooms and tool crib.

The company was organized 20 years ago in South Dakota as the Safety Release Clevis Co. and came to Holland in 1921. It was operated under this name until 1925 when it was changed to the Holland Hitch Co. as the plant moved out of existence and the trailer hitch was developed.

The business has been located in the 10th St. plant since coming to Holland. The building formerly was occupied by a brewery. In the intervening years, various improvements and expansions were made to the building but the increasing business still made it too small to continue operations without being crowded.

The company applied to common council for a building permit to remodel the 10th St. factory but after a petition of protest had been filed by nearby residents and property owners, the firm withdrew its request.

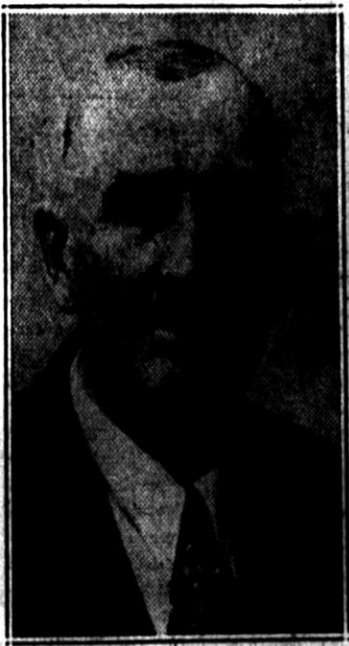

Mr. Ketel has been serving as manager of the company since May 1, 1935. George Ranger became superintendent of the company March 7, 1937. M. F. Feather has been sales manager since June 1, 1941.

Officers and directors of the Holland Hitch Co. are the following: Mayor Henry Geerlings, president; Mr. Ketel, vice-president and manager; Lieut. Col. Henry A. Geerds, now on duty with the army in the southwest Pacific, secretary-treasurer; Otto P. Kramer, assistant secretary-treasurer; Dr. William Westra, William Lawrence and Gerrit Koolker, directors.

Sure, it Makes You Mad!

DO YOU REALIZE that thousands of our good American soldiers are behind barbed wire—with Jap sentries marching up and down outside?

Do you know that American women and children, too, are in Jap concentration camps?

How long do you want them there—and what are you willing to do to get them out?

You can't do it by flag-waving, by slogans, and by cheers.

It takes planes—tanks—guns—bombs—shells—ships. And these don't grow on trees.

You—and you—and you—must buy these things. Not the Jap way, nor the Nazi way, nor the Fascist way. The American way—freely and gladly. In War Bonds!

The easy way—just by saving a dime from every dollar every payday. TEN PERCENT of your pay. The management of your company will save it for you, and every time it adds up to $18.75, they'll buy a WAR BOND for you.

You'll get interest on that money. It will increase every year, until for every $18.75 you invest, you'll get $25 in ten years.

And your money will buy the stuff to beat the Japs—to attack them—to bomb them, to make them wish to their heathen idols they'd never picked a scrap with Uncle Sam!

And the sooner you do your part, by backing up our boys, the sooner they will blast the Japs right out of their sandals.

Down will come that barbed wire, and out will come your fellow Americans. Home again—to a free, decent, clean country—the country we all love.

And you'll be sitting pretty, too. You'll have the clear conscience of having done your part, and you'll have built up financial protection for you and your family.

So let's get going. Do your part. Ten percent—a dime from every dollar every payday.

Invest your share in VICTORY!

5 Reasons Why

- ① By investing in War Bonds you help provide the planes, the tanks, the guns and the ships we must have to survive and conquer.
- ② You prove that you are a patriotic American.
- ③ You aid the morale of our fighting men, by showing them that the entire Nation is behind them.
- ④ You prove to our enemies that we are a United People.
- ⑤ You protect your own financial future, as every $18.75 you invest in a War Bond brings you back $25 in 10 years. You make the world's safest investment, by buying a share in the world's most powerful country.
