6-Year-Old Girl Killed by Auto In Grand Haven

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — A six-year-old Grand Haven girl was struck and killed by a car Tuesday afternoon at Fulton and DeSpelder Sts., as she walked home from school.

Jeannie Lynn Schubert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Schubert of 916 Madison St., died instantly of a fractured skull.

Grand Haven police identified the driver as Harold Lutz, 20, of route 2, Grand Haven, who said, "all of a sudden the child came into view from nowhere."

Officers said the front of the car struck the girl as she crossed the street at the intersection. A hood ornament pierced the left side of the youngster's head. The entire left side of her body was crushed.

The girl had just left the Ferry School shortly before 4 p.m. and was only 2 1/2 blocks from home when she was killed.

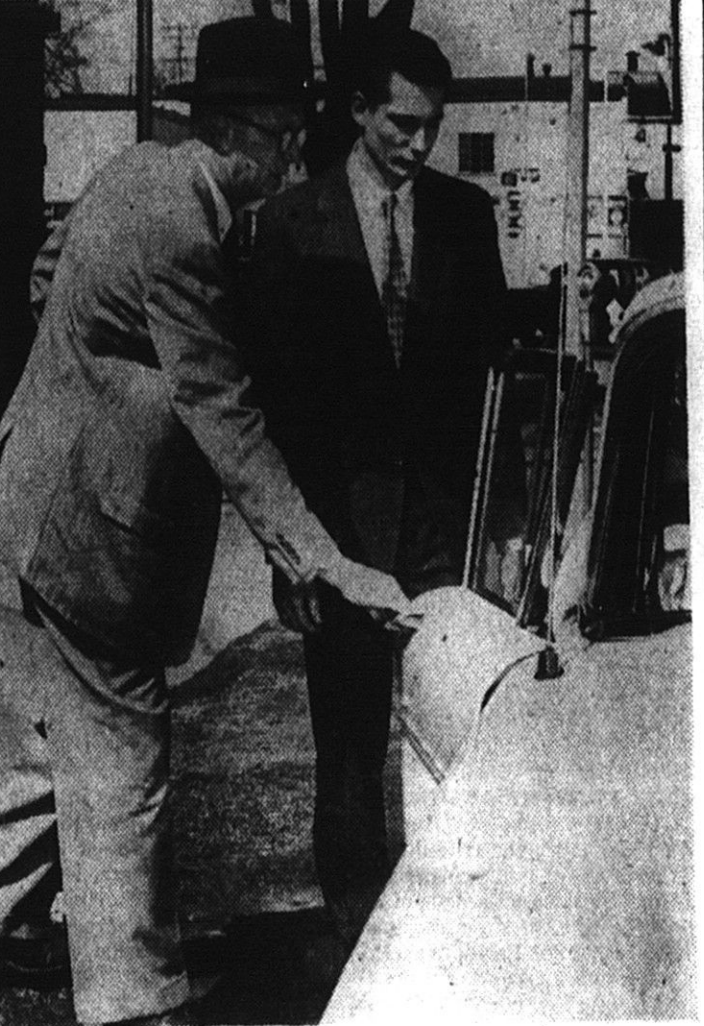

It was the first traffic fatality in Grand Haven since May 17, 1953 when Bette Mae Martin was killed when a car in which she was riding was struck by another vehicle.

No charges were filed immediately against Lutz pending further investigation by Grand Haven police.

The victim was born June 23, 1950 in Trenton, Mich., was in the first grade of Ferry School and attended the First Baptist Church.

In addition to her parents she is survived by two sisters, Glenda and Kimberly, three brothers, James, Terry and Mitchell, and the grandparents, Mrs. O. T. Schubert and Mr. and Mrs. William Van Bogen.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. at Van Zantwick Funeral Home with the Rev. Frank Nelson, pastor of the Baptist Church officiating. Burial will be in Lake Forest Cemetery.

FACES CIRCUIT COURT — Edward Van Eenennaam, 17, of 14 West 25th St., (right) prepares to step into Sheriff Gerald Vanderbeek's cruiser following his appearance in Municipal Court Wednesday afternoon. Van Eenennaam waived examination on a first degree murder charge resulting from the death of Gordon Boer, 18, of 63 West 18th St., and was bound over to Circuit Court for arraignment there at 10 a.m. April 2. Following the brief hearing the youth chatted with his mother who later visited him at the Holland police station before he was returned to the Ottawa County jail. (Sentinel photo)

'Instinctive' Reasoning Backfires on Speeder

A Saugatuck youth has the next 15 days to ponder his "instinctive" reaction.

Arkie Goodin, 20, of Saugatuck, said it was "instinct" that caused him to speed up and lead a Holland detective's cruiser on a chase Wednesday afternoon that covered 25 miles.

Goodin pleaded guilty this morning to reckless driving and was sentenced by Municipal Court Judge Cornelius Vander Meulen to a 15-day jail term and fined $104.70 or an additional 30 days.

The chase started in front of the People's State Bank shortly before 3 p.m. when Goodin's car narrowly missed two men crossing the street in the pedestrian crosswalk.

Detective Dennis Ende, sitting in a cruiser nearby, yelled at Goodin to stop. Apparently it took point Goodin's "instinct" took over.

Ende said Goodin sped off east on Eighth St., driving on the left hand side of the road, until he came to near Hart and Cooley where he came back on the right side of the road.

Ende said Goodin passed every vehicle in his path and ran through several red lights.

The chase, at speeds up to 90 miles per hour, continued to the US-31 bypass to 16th St. and then east on 16th St.

Zeeland police were contacted and moved in to intercept. Goodin cut back near Overhill, foiling this plan. The speeding car passed through Fillmore, East Saugatuck and West Richmond.

South Haven state police also were heading in from the south to cut Goodin off. At this point the brakes on the cruiser burned out and Ende was forced to give up the chase.

He had obtained the license number of the car and a quick check at the youth's Saugatuck residence led police to where he was working in a Holland plant. His arrest followed.

Besides his "instinct" reason Goodin also said he wanted to show "courage." He was unable to explain how "courage" figured in the chase.

Mother, Daughter Burned, Hospitalized After Mishap

Seven-year-old Eileen Cavanaugh, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert W. Cavanaugh, 743 Lugers Rd., is in "fair" condition at Holland Hospital after suffering severe burns on her back and left arm this morning. Her mother, Florence is in "good" condition with burns on her hands and Dr. Cavanaugh was discharged after treatment for burned hands.

Dr. Cavanaugh said the accident occurred when the child was reaching for a bread box on the kitchen counter when an open flame on the gas stove ignited her dress. The parents' hands were burned as they attempted to extinguish the flames.

Boy Fractures Leg

David French, 12, of 122 East 24th St., has been released from Holland Hospital after suffering a fractured left leg Friday afternoon when his bicycle and an automobile collided on College Ave. near 10th St. Driver of the car, according to police, was Walter De Vries, 28, of 77 East 31st St.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Koepke who were injured in a two-car collision on M-21 and the Byron Rd. on March 17, have been released from Zeeland Hospital and are convalescing at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Schuur, three miles south of Zeeland on M-37. Friends are invited to call.

City 'Holding Own' With Well Water While Paint Dries

Holland will be using well water for at least the rest of the week on a "neck-and-neck" basis, Harold Karsten, assistant superintendent of the Board of Public Works, said today.

The city has temporarily gone back to the old supply while pipes in the filtration plant at Tunnel Park are getting a special painting — probably the last step before Lake Michigan provides all of Holland's water.

"We're barely holding our own," Karsten said of the results of using three wells and the reservoir for city water. Three wells are in use, including the 19th St. well, No. 1 on Eighth St. and No. 4 on Waverly Rd. The reservoir, which is filled from the wells every night, has to be used every day to meet the demand, he added.

"We've gotten through two Mondays (washdays) without trouble," Karsten said. "But it's neck-and-neck."

The pipe painting is coming along well, Karsten said, but it is taking quite a while to dry. Fans and ventilation are being used to aid the drying, but caution has to be taken to avoid drying the paint too fast, since it might crack, thus destroying its insulating purpose.

Although officials hope it isn't necessary, a switch can be made to the lake system at any time in case it's needed. Also, in case of emergency, there are a million and a half gallons of water in the Tunnel Park tank which can be sent into the city without disrupting the painted pipes.

Lumsden Will Direct Stage Shows at Fair

George Lumsden, assistant program chairman for the Scout Fair, will direct three special stage shows during the annual Scout event at the Civic Center on Saturday.

Several Boy Scout acts will be staged at 7 p.m., including additional Indian pageantry, music numbers, and a firelighting contest. At 8:30 the final show by Explorers group will feature solo Indian dances under the direction of Ben Mulder. Bruce Van Leuwen will present ticket sales prizes, and winners will be announced for the poster contest.

Coaches Weiss, Russ De Vette of Hope and Art Tull of Christian introduced their teams, managers and coaching staffs. The three coaches reviewed their seasons briefly.

John Meyer of Chicago presented motion pictures of big games in India as an added feature. Bud Baker introduced Meyer.

DeBruyn was elected to be the official representative of this area on the Grand Valley Council Executive Board, which is the governing body for the seven-county area of the Scout organization.

Wade, who is currently vice-chairman of the district and member-at-large of the executive board, is a jamboree chairman for the Chippewa district and has given leadership to the organization and leadership of the annual scout shows during the past three years.

Four vice-chairmen for the district were also elected. They are James E. Townsend, Holland; Robert J. Den Herder, Zeeland; Ab Martin, Holland; Robert L. Hutchinson, Fennville.

Dr. P. Fried Will Direct Summer School in Vienna

Dr. Paul Fried of the history department has been named director of the Hope College Summer school in Vienna, Austria. The announcement was made today by Dr. Irwin J. Lubbers, Hope president.

The summer school in Vienna will be conducted in cooperation with the ancient University of Vienna, founded in 1365, and the Institute of European Studies in Vienna. The faculty will consist of members of the faculties of the Vienna schools and Hope College. Other recognized European and American scholars may be added to the staff as visiting professors.

Dr. Fried said courses offered will be mainly in those fields in which the European location will add to the value of the material covered: art, German, history literature and music. Courses in other fields will be added on sufficient demand.

Approximately 30 young people, including 14 Hope students, 4 recent Hope alumni and several students and alumni from Albion and Calvin colleges, some teachers from West Michigan, and one employee of the U. N. have registered for the program, to date.

The group will leave Quebec on June 19 and will land in Scotland on June 26. From there they will travel south through London and then cross to the Netherlands. After a brief introductory trip through several other West European countries, the group will arrive in Vienna on July 8 to take up formal study for six weeks. Ten days of independent travel will follow and on Aug. 25 the group will sail from Rotterdam to New York, Sept. 7.

During their six weeks in Vienna all students will be housed with Austrian families to test and improve their linguistic skill and gain insight into European life not available to the average traveler, according to Dr. Fried.

Mrs. Esther Snow of the German department will travel with the students. Besides her duties as a member of the faculty of the Summer School in Vienna, she will enroll in the course entitled "German for Teachers of German."

Dr. Lubbers said that Dr. Fried is well qualified to direct the Summer School. Not only is he a native of Germany who holds the Ph. D. degree from the University of Erlangen, but he has spent 8 of the past 12 summers in Europe. Last summer he taught European History to a group of Hope students who studied in Europe.

Fire Destroys Home In Jamestown Area

JAMESTOWN (Special) — Fire, believed started from a defective chimney, totally destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack De Zeeuw Monday morning at Gitchell, located three miles south and a half mile northwest of Jamestown.

Jamestown fireman aided by Salem Township volunteer firemen fought the blaze for more than two and a half hours and were able to save some of the furniture.

Mrs. De Zeeuw noticed the fire in the corner of the building and turned in the alarm at 10:50 a.m. The De Zeeuws moved into the house last summer.

They Saw Leave Time Slip Away

William Jackson, son of Henry Jackson of route 4, Ottawa Beach, today is bemoaning the fact that he had to spend some of his precious leave time from the Navy aboard a cross-country train stranded in the blizzard at a small town in Colorado.

Jackson left Los Angeles aboard the Santa Fe "Chief" last Friday at 6 p.m. and was due in Chicago at 3 Sunday afternoon. However, the blizzard struck and the Chief along with the Santa Fe's "Super Chief" and "El Capitán" all were stuck in drifts near the same area.

The monotony of being "couped up" in the train, etc., was no fun, especially for the Navy men who were en route to their homes for furloughs. Toward the end of the ordeal the food and water supplies were exhausted and the heat was off.

According to Jackson, no one dared leave the train because some gusts of wind reached 110 miles an hour.

Finally the train reached Chicago Monday afternoon at 5 a.m. Jackson is home for a while but must leave again on the same train April 3 or 4 to be back in San Diego April 7 for assignment to Japan.

Fourth and Sixth Wards Will Vote for Councilmen

Tallying the number of applications for absentee ballots for Monday's election, City Clerk Clarence Greengrove noted this morning that perhaps residents of the fourth and sixth wards don't realize that they will have a big voice in the voting for city positions.

Applications have been received from 34 electors for absentee ballots, but, with the exception of one precinct, only six have come from wards four and six. Fifteen applications are in from the second precinct of the sixth ward, but only one from the second. In the fourth ward, there have been five applications, one from the first precinct and four from the second.

There are no candidates running for the City Council from the fourth or sixth wards, but, since under the city charter all residents vote for all councilmen, these two wards will cast ballots for representatives from the four wards who will be naming councilmen. Of course, they also may vote for the one alderman at large that will be chosen.

Truck, Car Crash Injures Couple

Two persons were seriously injured at 7 a.m. today in a collision between a car and a pickup truck on the Graafschap Rd. at 60th St.

His wife, Esther, 26, a passenger in the truck Broekhuis was driving, received a fractured left knee. Both are in "good" condition at Holland Hospital.

Allegan County deputy Henry Bouwman said the gas did not catch fire but Broekhuis' back was saturated with gas that leaked from a ruptured tank on either the car or truck.

The driver of the car, Raymond Stitt, route 1, escaped injury except for severe body bruises. Bouwman said both vehicles were demolished following the impact in the open intersection.

No tickets were issued pending further investigation by Bouwman.

Expected Apathy Extends To Zeeland Election Plans

ZEELAND (Special) — The expected apathy of Zeeland voters in the April 1 election has extended to election officials, who will put up one less voting machine for Monday's balloting.

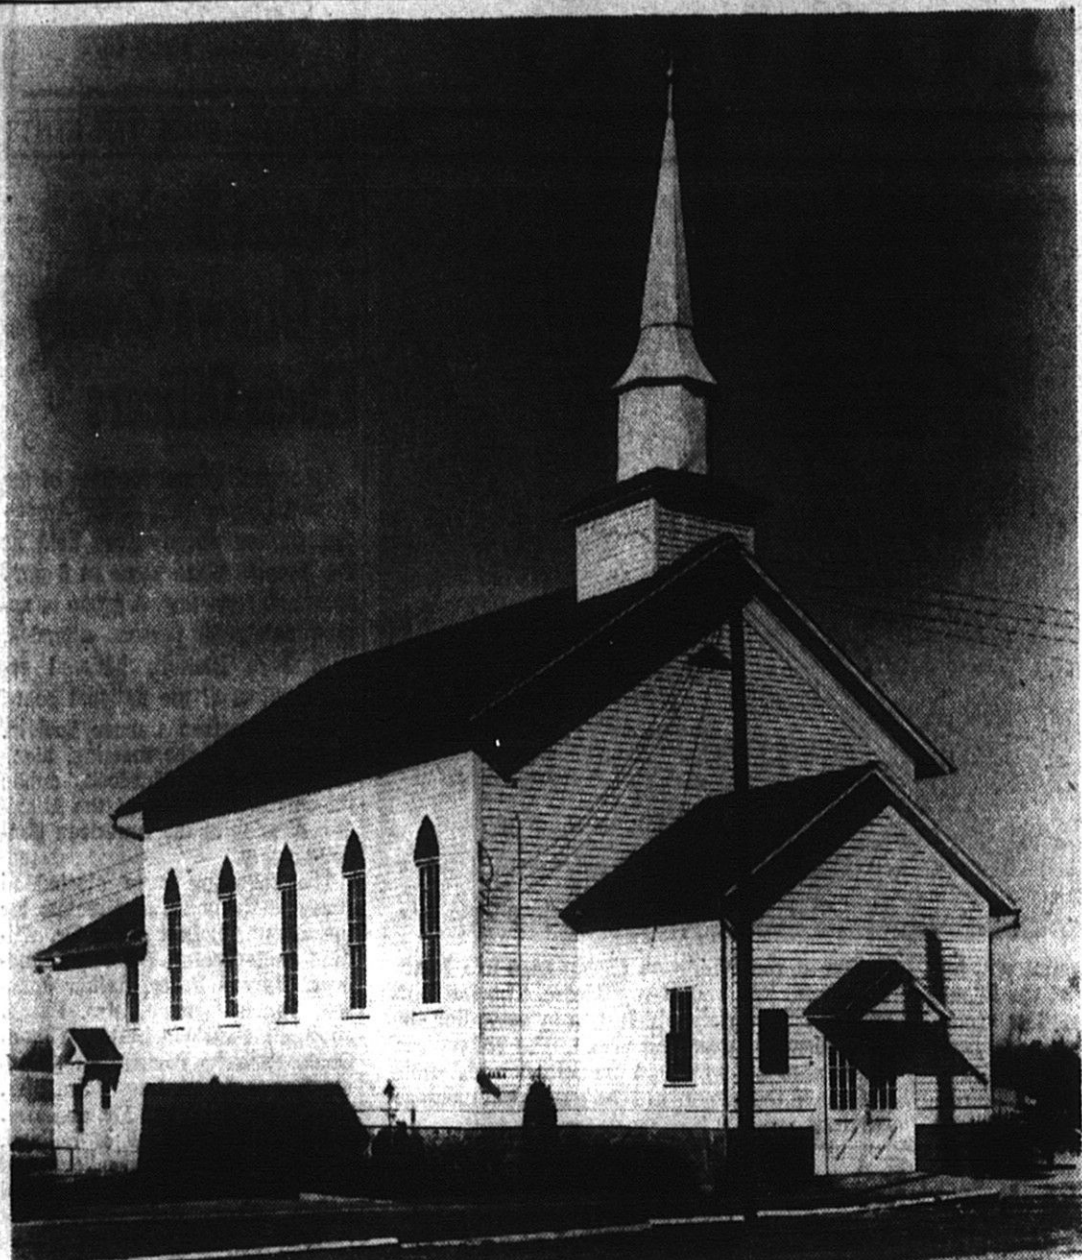

City Clerk John Holleman said this morning just four machines will be used—two on each floor of the City Hall. Ordinarily there are three downstairs and two upstairs.

Holleman said he expects a turnout of only 500-600 voters and said anything over that will be an "upset."

To date, 17 applications for absentee ballots have been received by Holleman for the election which will name a mayor, two councilmen, a supervisor and an assessor in addition to state and judicial positions.

NOORDELOOS CHRISTIAN REFORMED Church, named for a place in the Netherlands where the first pastor had come from, has completed plans for celebrating its 100th anniversary early in April. Former ministers will speak at four special meetings, closing with a congregational banquet April 12. The Rev. John Calvin Rickers has been minister at Noordeloos since 1955.

Noordeloos Church Will Mark 100th Anniversary

The Noordeloos Christian Reformed Church located about four miles northwest of Zeeland will celebrate its centennial at a week-long series of gatherings starting April 2.

The name "Noordeloos" was adopted from Noordeloos in South Holland, the Netherlands. When the church was organized in 1857, the Rev. Koenen Vanden Bosch was the first pastor. He previously had served a church at Noordeloos in South Holland before coming to America. He was installed as the first pastor of the new Noordeloos Church by the Rev. C. van der Meulen, one of the founders of Zeeland.

In 1857, Rev. Vanden Bosch severed relations with the Reformed Church. He served as pastor of the Noordeloos Church until 1869. In 1874 the congregation decided to erect a building 45 feet by 35 feet. Money for labor and lumber was raised by free will offering. Hemlock lumber per 1,000 feet cost $4. Common labor was $1.25 per day and carpenters $2. In 1875 a parsonage with a picket fence around it was built. All members were asked to donate a half cord of wood for the stove. A janitor was hired for 25 cents a week and he also was instructed to keep a record of those who donated wood.

The Noordeloos Church's second pastor was Candidate G. Broene who was installed in 1877. The next pastor was the Rev. H. Vander Werp who conducted his first service Jan. 8, 1882. His stay was short and he left for Drenthe Aug. 9, 1883. The following August, a meeting was held to consider moving the church farther north, but the majority opposed this move. After several years of being without an ordained minister, the congregation welcomed the Rev. K. Kreulen in 1898. He retired in 1900 because of advanced age. Elder J. Molhoek came in 1902 and did much to stimulate spiritual growth. A singing school, a young men's and young women's society were organized. The church was shingled and redecorated. Old stables were torn down and new stables were constructed. The congregation experienced great sorrow when Elder Molhoek passed away on Christmas day in 1906. He had won the respect and love of all.

The following year Rev. Van Wesep became Noordeloos' pastor. A new parsonage was built along with a barn for the pastor's horse. In 1909, it was decided to have an evening service once a month — the Sunday when it was full moon. Because there was no janitor in 1910, Rev. Van Wesep agreed to do the janitor work during the week, but not on Sundays. In 1917 Rev. Van Wesep asked for permission from the consistory due to illness.

In February, 1919, Rev. H. Heyn came to serve the Noordeloos Church. In August of that year, a committee was chosen to improve the church building. The church was raised and furnace installed. A room was made for catechism classes. The budget system was introduced in January, 1920. It also was decided that the deacons would sit behind the elders on the right side of the pulpit. An English language service was begun and was held one Sunday evening a month.

Rev. Heyns left for East Paris in 1920. Several ministers were called during the two years but all calls were declined. The congregation voted twice on whether or not to disband but both times the vote was in favor of continuing. During the summer of 1922, Herman S. Koning, a student at Calvin Seminary, became student-pastor at Noordeloos. In September, 1922, Rev. J. J. Zeeuw, who had just been graduated from Calvin Seminary, was ordained and installed as pastor. In 1924 a telephone was installed in the parsonage.

Rev. Zeeuw left for Kalamazoo in 1925 and the Rev. Samuel Fopma became pastor in June, 1925. His ministry was in the transition period as far as the Dutch and English languages were concerned. During the latter half of his ministry, the church developed into an entirely American speaking church. This was a difficult time for the congregation since the depression years worked hardship on the people.

In 1932, the church celebrated its diamond jubilee. It was a time of great rejoicing and Rev. J. Zeeuw, Rev. Van Vliet and Elder Diepenhorst were invited to speak at the celebration.

In May, 1944, Rev. Fopma accepted a call to Rock Rapids, Ia., and the following May William F. Vander Hoven was ordained and installed as pastor. In 1947 the church ordered a new electric organ and also installed new light fixtures in the auditorium. In 1948, Rev. Vander Hoven left for Edgerton, Minn., and the following October Rev. A. Walcott was ordained and installed. Additional land was purchased and a full basement was completed and new entrance added.

A summer daily vacation Bible school was introduced for the first time in July, 1950. That month, the congregation voted in favor of evening services in place of afternoon services for the summer months.

Rev. Jacob Hekman served the congregation from 1951 to 1955 and during this period debt from previous remodeling was liquidated. Substantial improvements in church property were made. During this period the number of children attending Christian schools, increased from 30 percent to 50 percent.

A few months after Rev. Hekman left for Oak Harbor, Wash., Candidate John Calvin Rickers became minister at Noordeloos.

The church has planned a series of meetings to celebrate its centennial. The schedule follows: April 2, Rev. Zeeuw speaker; April 5, Rev. Fopma; April 7, Rev. Vander Hoven; April 9, Rev. Alfred Walcott; Friday, April 12, congregational banquet with the Rev. Hugh Koops, missionary pastor at Urbana - Champaign, Ill., a son of the congregation, as speaker. Rev. Hekman, now of Oak Harbor, Wash., will not be able to come for the event.

Hope Announces Spring Schedules

Slates Set for Baseball, Track Tennis and Golf

Winter returned to Holland today and will put a kink in any spring sports plans for the rest of the week.

Local Student at San Francisco Tells About Recent Earthquakes

In a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Pelgrim, Sr., South Shore Dr., received by them Monday, their son, George, who is now taking post-graduate work at San Francisco State College, wrote them Friday about the San Francisco earthquake. The letter follows:

"Dear Folks

We had an earthquake today. You've probably heard of it by now. After my 9 p.m. class I drove down to the Sea Scout headquarters on a class research project and getting there felt the pier under me move about an inch. But that was all. From there I went to an office on the 8th floor of the Whitcomb Hotel.

There I started talking with one of the office people when suddenly the whole place began to jump and sway. Now when I say jump, I mean jump. A trophy standing on a nearby filing cabinet toppled and smashed. Everybody near enough something to hang on to, did just that. It was quite a bit worse than the Ecuador experience. To put it plainly, I was scared.

Several of the female office workers were completely unnerved. Some cried after it was over, and some were nearly hysterical. The shock lasted for what seemed a long time although most likely not more than a minute.

After it was over I went downstairs on foot, the elevator being stopped. Along the stairs there were spots where considerable plaster had fallen. Along the streets there were many broken windows and more plaster, etc. In the huge excavation across from the City Hall a large caisson had broken and water was pouring in from a broken water main.

At home I found all the pictures hanging at unusual angles. Luckily nothing was broken. I must eat and go to class. By the way I just felt another small shiver.—And another. You can hear them coming. First a tinkle of the dishes in the cupboards and then finally a rumble as everything shifts.

Well, I've just got to run. I'll mail this on my way to the campus.

Methodist Men Hear Avery Baker On Delinquents

Avery Baker, former Holland juvenile agent, spoke to a meeting of the Methodist Men at their March meeting Thursday night on "Prevention and Rehabilitation." A potluck supper and business meeting preceded the program which was open to the public. President Harold Roach presided and introduced the speaker.

Baker showed slides showing some of the conditions found in Holland that contribute to juvenile delinquency. The speaker said that Holland should not adopt a complacent attitude because it has many juvenile problems.

Mr. Baker who is now Executive Director of Big Brothers of Midland, Mich. Inc., told about Midland and how it handled its annexation problem and he discussed Big Brother Inc. Midland has recently annexed quite a large area of surrounding land which includes some farms. They have just completed a new High School built for 1,500 students. They intend to build another High School later on. He was asked if it was true that schools of large enrollments make it difficult to control juvenile delinquency. He said, "That he was not familiar with this statement" and could not answer the question.

Midland has a new Civic Center and Mrs. Baker was questioned about its operation. Midland's Civic Center is open every day of the year except Christmas. They have an annual outlay of $66,000 for personnel to administer the Civic Center. He mentioned that a city not only needs a good recreation facility but must have an adequate staff.

During his talk Mr. Baker mentioned that nine out of 10 juvenile delinquents are cigarette smokers. Smoking is not a direct cause of juvenile delinquency, but in his opinion, a contributing factor. Another item that causes delinquency is the auto, it transports the delinquent to the crime, it causes him to rob to make a payment or keep it running. No child should be allowed to drive before the legal age. The father who lets the small child sit on his lap and drive at an early age is making a mistake for he is allowing his child a pleasure which he will not legally be able to enjoy for a number of years, he said.

When asked if Holland should provide additional recreation for its children, Mr. Baker mentioned that this would be a good idea. Properly supervised recreation with no restrictions as to "Blue Laws" would do much to provide the younger generation with recreation and help prevent juvenile delinquency.

Mr. Baker concluded his talk by saying that recently Ottawa County voted against the erection of a juvenile home. This is the prime reason that a juvenile delinquent is released immediately following an illegal act, because we lack the proper facilities to detain a youth. The rehabilitation of a juvenile delinquent is difficult under these conditions. Mr. Baker mentioned that he hoped that Ottawa County would awaken to this fact and when the juvenile home is again proposed on the ballot that it will be approved by the people of Ottawa County.

Snafu Hits Fire Stations Too

A strange coincidence delayed the Park Township Fire Department No. 2 in responding to a truck fire on North Shore Dr. around 8:30 p.m. Thursday. The call reported a car fire near the Moorings on North Shore Dr. but on the way, the trucks were flagged down at Division and the Ottawa Beach Rd. where a car was burning because it had been driven with the emergency brake on.

Firemen put out the smoldering fire and figured this was the call and somebody had given erroneous directions. But when they returned to the station they were informed the fire was on North Shore Dr. and it was a truck, not a car. The second run brought the firemen promptly to the scene of burning truck which by this time was in full blaze. To complicate matters, the truck owned by Vern Bush contained two tanks, one filled with oxygen and the other with acetylene gas. Using due caution, firemen soon extinguished the fire and then found that the acetylene tank had ruptured earlier. Cause of the fire was undetermined.

The truck was equipped with gear used in raising large smoke stacks for industrial plants.

The cab of the truck was completely burned out and the gear was a total loss. Damage was estimated at $2,500 including $1,000 loss of gear. The latter was not covered by insurance.

Bush today expressed appreciation to the firemen who managed to extinguish the blaze before the oxygen tank, already hot, could explode. He said such a blast could be extremely dangerous, and he had been engaged mainly in keeping onlookers at a safe distance.

It's Time to Spray Those Elm Trees

It's springtime (officially, that is) and the park department is out these days spraying for Dutch Elm Disease.

Because wind and weather conditions must be right for such operations, Park Supt. Dick Smallenburg said today that it is almost impossible to inform people ahead of time just where spraying will be done.

Consequently, if the city spray rig is in your neighborhood, remember to put your car in the yard instead of parking it out in front under the trees. The DDT spray used in combating Dutch Elm Disease is not harmful to the finish of a car, but is a nuisance in that it must be washed off if left on to dry. When fresh, it can be wiped off.

Smallenburg said after the elm tree spraying is completed, the rig will be fixed up to spray maple trees. This is an oil spray without DDT, and likewise is not harmful to cars, but still a nuisance.

The park department men are as careful as possible in avoiding spraying parked cars, etc., but cannot avoid it entirely. In deference to the many housewives who do the laundry on Mondays, the department schedules no spray operations on Monday mornings, Smallenburg said.

"Holland is proud of its many fine shade trees. We must do all we can to keep them healthy," Smallenburg said.

No Straw Vote Taken At Waukazoo Meeting

No straw vote was taken at a meeting of Waukazoo school area residents who gathered about 75 strong in the school Thursday night to discuss possibilities of consolidating with other school districts outside Holland city in solving school problems. It was the last of a series of 10 such school meetings arranged by the Citizen's Study Committee of Holland and Park townships.

It was almost exclusively a meeting to discuss school annexation problems, and, since the whole subject is still in the study stage there appeared to be no point in taking a vote. The 1½-hour meeting allowed a thorough discussion on school problems.

Walter Vander Haar, chairman of the citizens committee, explained the proposed program and appraised facts and situations. An unscheduled interruption was a fire alarm which took several volunteer firemen from the meeting to extinguish a truck fire.

AFTERMATH OF DUTCH COLONIALISM

People who have Dutch blood in their veins doubtless take a special interest in what is going on in Indonesia. For that large island republic seems to be in for trouble; for months it has given the impression of falling apart. As things stand at the moment, it does not look as if Indonesia were ready for self-government.

The Netherlands argued all along that this was the case. Holland loosened its grip on those rich islands only because it had to; revolution and bloodshed would have been the alternative.

But the government of the Netherlands warned that the Indonesian islands were not ready, that they needed the hand of Holland to prevent the parts from flying apart. In the forties the climate for such an argument was not favorable; colonialism all over the globe was in disfavor, and Holland was too far away to impose its rule on the Indonesians.

Perhaps it is unfair to expect the Indonesians to impose an orderly government on the hundreds of islands composing Indonesia, in the short space of less than a decade. The difficulties are according to our meager information far greater than in some other former colonies of a world power. The Indonesian islands are scattered over an area of ocean that is some thousands of miles in extent. Communication between the parts is some thousands of miles in extent. Communication between the parts is difficult; the central government cannot get at unwilling members, even should it have the resources to do so.

Moreover, Indonesia is not naturally a unified nation. It is composed of a large number of different languages, customs, beliefs, religions, and tribal prejudices. Illiteracy is the rule rather than the exception, and industrial know-how is at a very low ebb.

Given those and many other unfavorable circumstances, it is not all a surprise that the Indonesian Republic is running into trouble. There is no reason why it should not be a free, self-ruling republic, but freedom is a slow growth and it looks as if Indonesia has not yet done enough growing.

It is one of the richest areas on the earth's surface but tapping those riches calls for far more than the mere wish for national independence. As things stand today, millions of Indonesians may wonder whether they would not have been better off if they had kept the rule of the Dutch government.

Slides on Canada to Be Shown at Meetings Here

The Last Judgment
Matthew 25:31-46
By C.P. Dame

(Based on copyrighted outlines produced by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S. and used by permission.)

The Christian religion teaches about the Last Judgment. In our day we do not speak much about the fact of judgment although we are living in a time when judgments are falling fast upon the nations. Life becomes more meaningful when we realize that life will be judged.

I. The Bible says that there will be a Judgment Day. When Jesus was upon the earth he said that he did not come to judge but to save. He also said that he would come back to judge. In a certain sense every day is judgment day. We live in a moral world. Some things are right, some things are wrong. Immoral and moral acts have different consequences. The violation of a moral law hurts. Not only is it true that every day is a judgment day but it is also biblical to believe in a judgment day. Every person immediately after death will be judged and all people will be judged publicly at the judgment day. Jesus will be the Judge. Because he is both God and Man therefore he is qualified for this position.

II. At the judgment day there will be a final separation. In our world all kinds of people are mixed together and sometimes it is hard to distinguish one from the other. On the judgment day the Lord will separate "them one from another, as a shepherd divideth his sheep from the goats." During the day time the sheep and goats pastured together but at night they went into separate folds. The Syrian sheep are white, the goats black. The Judge will set the sheep on his right hand, the position of honor, and the goats on the left, the place of dishonor.

The Judge spoke pleasingly to the people on the right but sternly to those on the left. Those on the right were complimented by the Lord and told to enter the kingdom because they had ministered to him when he was in need. When they heard about having rendered him a service they were surprised. Jesus said that when they had ministered to the hungry, thirsty, the sick, strangers the naked and the imprisoned they had ministered to him.

Their concern was like the concern of Jesus. Those on the left heard the stern words, "Depart from me ye cursed. The reason why Jesus was so severe to them was because they had not ministered to him. Great was their surprise when Jesus said, "Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye did it not to one of the least of these, ye did it not unto me." III. The Lord speaks of two destinies. Those on the right inherited the kingdom while those on the left shall "go away into everlasting punishment." Some people do not want to believe in punishment beyond the grave. The subject of punishment of the wicked and the reward of the righteous is not talked about much in these times.

The Bible teaches that sin is most grievous indeed and deserves punishment. And God will punish sin in eternity. Remember that the person who sins here and continues his life in the other world and keeps on sinning there will also reap the ill consequences of his sins. The Bible urges people everywhere to repent and believe in Jesus Christ and accept him as Saviour and Lord—and to do this now—today and not to wait until tomorrow. Yes, there is a heaven and a hell. Faith in Jesus Christ expressed in good works makes all the difference.

In the Eggen property, which is 1.70 acres, for which the state offered $2,950, the commissioners awarded damages in the amount of $2,950.

Troop 6 Plans Tower at Fair

Visitors at the Scout Fair in the Civic Center Saturday March 30, will see a 16-foot signal tower put up on the stage.

No nails or bolts will be used—just clothes line. The lashings will fasten together pine poles cut near the Scout Cabin and peeled.

Putting up and dismantling the tower will be the work of Troop 6 of First Reformed Church. Elmore Van Lente is scoutmaster and planned the exhibition.

The tower will be 7 feet square at the base and have a 4-foot pole platform at the top. A ladder, also made entirely of poles and short lengths of pine, is fastened to one side.

Last Saturday afternoon members of the Troop, Van Lente and a few onlooking fathers gathered at the vacant lot on 10th St. East of Central Ave., and staged a dress rehearsal. It took longer than the 2 minutes the scoutmaster says it will take at the Scout Fair.

PEO Members Study College

Mrs. Leonard Swartz was hostess to PEO Chapter BW Monday evening, when Mrs. George Steininger, Jr. presented an interesting program designed to acquaint members of the chapter with the advantages offered to students at PEO-owned Coty Junior College at Nevada, Mo. Coty is a fully accredited, two-year liberal arts college for women preparing for further college training. In addition, Coty now offers a third year which includes foreign travel in France, courses at the Sorbonne and Louvre, and living in a French atmosphere for a year. When the student returns to this country, she may take her fourth year in the college or university of her choice for a degree.

Since the enrollment is around 250, each student has the advantage of being under the instruction of the most highly qualified teachers. Each student has a thorough pre-natal health examination and has periodic health checkups at the college, with emphasis on weight control, clinic care, and psychiatric help, if needed, to keep her in as good health as possible.

Religious and academic programs go hand in hand at Coty. Students grow weary of study and need meditation and worship to renew the mind—and in its unique residence program, Coty students learn the gracious art of living and apply their religious principles to the down-to-earth problems of getting along with each other in every day life. Mrs. Steininger explained the suite-plan of living in the residence halls. There are 10 girls in each suite, living and working together as members of a family. Each suite has a student counselor and each residence hall, a house council, which meets once a week.

Thus Coty girls learn responsibility through campus governing of themselves and their fellow students.

Coty's president, Dr. Blanche Herman Dow, has placed special emphasis on the importance of a better understanding of other peoples. Since 1950, girls from 20 different countries have been students at Coty College. This year, Coty students have the privilege of living with and learning to love and admire, and respect girls from 21 different states and Argentina, Brazil, Canada, Colombia, Hawaii, Holland, Korea, Italy, and the Philippines.

Coty students have the opportunity to hear many celebrated artists appearing in Kansas City, and side trips for plays and philharmonic concerts are included in the tuition.

While these advantages appeal strongly to parents and educators, the girls themselves grow equally enthusiastic about the swimming pool and the over-all sports program, the "suite-fests," picnics, and exchange dances with students at Wentworth Military Academy, which round out the college picture.

Mrs. Lawrence Wade is the Coty College representative in Chapter BW, having information on tuition, scholarships, educational loans and other data.

Following the Coty College report, Mrs. M. G. Harter conducted a constitutional quiz in the form of a crossword puzzle. Mrs. William Schrier presided at the business meeting.

Twenty-five members were present and Mrs. Walter Robinson, a member of Chapter AY, Chicago, who has recently moved to 792 South Shore Drive, was a guest. Mrs. Gerald F. Bolhuis assisted Mrs. Swartz, as co-hostess.

The April 8 meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. E. Hildebrand.

Tanker Michigan Makes First Trip This Year

The Michigan is again! That familiar phrase is used regularly when the tanker Michigan enters Holland Harbor but this time it is used because the Michigan came in for the first time this year on Saturday afternoon from Indiana Harbor, Ind.

Capt. J. F. Fitch of 1908 South Shore Dr., told The Sentinel Tuesday that he planned to take the tanker out Tuesday if the weather report stays the same.

"The first trip this year was much better than last year," Capt. Fitch said. "There was no ice this time. In reports I received from the Coast Guard at Sturgeon Bay, Wis., they reported 24 inches of ice at the Straits, too."

The Michigan docks at the Montello Park pier.

Love Thy Neighbor
Acts 20:32-35; Matthew 22:39-40
Leviticus 19:18
by Darrell Franken

"Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." This is the second half of Christ's summary of the law. It seems that Jesus knew how we are inclined to love ourselves. Being sinful creatures we are more inclined to look out for our own welfare before others. Jesus turns this bit of insight into a powerful illustration of how much we are to be concerned for others who are our neighbors.

The dictionary says that a neighbor is "One person living near another one." This is a rather limited meaning for a Christian. It restricts him to loving to those with whom he lives. For Christians, this love must not halt at the next door neighbor, but must reveal itself to those with whom he works, plays and prays. It must unveil itself to natives and foreigners alike.

The story of the Good Samaritan is a pointed illustration of loving one's neighbor. To him the one who had been robbed and beaten was his neighbor and he performed an act which is a show-case example of Christian love.

The apostle Paul also displayed an abundant supply of Christian love. In Acts 20:32-35 we have Paul's own words of how he ministered the gospel of love to the Ephesians. He did not covet their silver, gold or fine clothes, but he labored unselfishly to help the weak and weary residents of that neighborhood. Nor was Paul left without a reward. They shed many tears when he left, thus showing that they loved him for all that he had done for them.

Christ's gospel of love is the most powerful example of the fruit which Christian love produces. It is the sweet tasting fruit which nourished souls for centuries. The seeds of this fruit have been planted in human hearts for generations. As another new generation of Christians is produced it again bears the fruit of love which can again be passed on to others. The cycle of productive love shall not die either, for it is continually fed and watered by the love of God. We are thankful for this great source of human love and our daily prayer should be directed to God that he may increase within us that love which was displayed in Jesus Christ.

Free Soil Testing Clinic Planned for Wednesday

Soil will be tested free for residents of Holland and the surrounding area at the second annual soil testing clinic Wednesday at 9 a.m. at the Vocational Agricultural Department of Holland High School and the Ottawa County Extension Service.

Purpose of the clinic is to provide this service to include an analysis of the soil, its needs and recommendations to fit each situation.

The following directions are given for persons interested in taking advantage of this service: Take a soil sample carefully, the test is no better than the sample from which it is made. Take the sample at least a day before the test. It should be brought in a clean jar or heavy bag.

Take a representative sample from the area to a depth of 2' to 4". Mix this sample in a clean pail. About 1 pint of soil is needed for testing. If there is a great difference between the soil in the front and back yards, a sample of each should be tested.

Wax line bags especially adapted for taking soil samples may be had free of charge at the following places: "The Farm House" on 16th Street between Junior and Senior High Schools, Chamber of Commerce at Civic Center, Gambles, Nels Nurseries, Reliable Cycle Shop, Smith Agricultural and Chemical, Stanton Co., Teerman Hardware, Van Bragt Tulip Farm, Van's Garden Center, Vogelzang Hardware, Warm Friend Flowers, Weller Nurseries, Zwijs' Seed Store, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Nies Hardware and Steketee Hardware and Plumbing.

Mrs. Theodore Bevier Bosch

In a lovely spring ceremony Friday evening, Miss Shirley Ann Schaafsma of Grand Rapids became the bride of Theodore Bevier Bosch. Dr. M. Rion de Velder performed the double ring ceremony in Hope Church before a chancel setting of banked Oregon fern, arrangements of white gladioli and white stock with two pairs of candelabra. The pews were marked with white satin bows and Salal foliage.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Schaafsma of Grand Rapids. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Randall C. Bosch of Holland.

Mrs. W. Curtis Snow played the traditional wedding music and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Marion de Velder when she sang "O Promise Me," "The Wedding Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Attendants were Miss Marcia Custer of Grand Rapids, maid of honor; Miss Marilyn Schaafsma of Grand Rapids, sister of the bride; Miss Mary Bosch, sister of the groom, and Miss Isla Van Eenenaam of Muskegon as bridesmaids.

The bride wore a lovely gown of chiffon antique silk. The fitted bodice featured a Sabrina neckline bordered with re-embroidered Alencon lace. The bouffant skirt had a deep flounce at the bottom ending in a chapel length train with tiny bows of the material as the only decoration. She wore a matching pillbox headpiece of antique silk and Alencon lace, delicately trimmed with iridescent sequins and pearls to secure her scalloped fingertip illusion veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of snow white roses and stephanotis.

All the attendants were gowned alike in street length dresses of Copen blue taffeta. The fitted bodices featured Italian necklines. The very full skirts were decorated by matching velvet bows with streamers in the back. Their headbands were of Copen blue velvet and illusion veil. They carried Colonial bouquets of white feathered carnations and stephanotis centered with blue carnations.

Mrs. Schaafsma wore a navy blue silk shantung dress with navy and white accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Bosch selected a navy blue sheer gown with Brilliant pink and navy accessories. Both mothers wore white orchid corsages.

Randall B. Bosch of Pottersville, N.J., served his brother as best man. Brothers of the couple, David C. Bosch and Robert Schaafsma, John Adams of Holland, Wilmer Koster of Litchfield and James De Vries of Grandville served as ushers.

At the reception for about 200 guests in the church parlors, Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Hakken of Grand Rapids acted as master and mistress of ceremonies.

Assisting about the rooms were Miss Martha Bosch, James Schaafsma, Miss Mary Yeomans, Miss Carol Beuker, Jack Krause, Mrs. John Adams, Miss Alice Proos, Miss Peggy Koke, Miss Helen Hungerink, Miss Janet Mackay and Miss Janice Miller.

For their wedding trip to Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Washington D. C., the new Mrs. Bosch changed to a beige linen-silkara sheath dress with a short matching jacket and navy and white accessories. She wore a white orchid corsage.

After April 6 the couple will be at home at 81 1/2 East 16th St., Holland.

'Shikar in India' Shown At Literary Club Meet

From the moment the lights at the Woman's Literary Club were turned off Tuesday until they came on again almost two hours later, the members of the club sat completely charmed by the color pictures of John Moyer and his "Shikar in India."

Moyer, of the Chicago Natural History Museum, spent 3 1/2 years in India taking his documentary films. He was appointed by the U. S. government to take these films to show the big game in India.

The word "shikar" means journey or safari, and the shikar that took Moyer and his guides into the jungles to get pictures got outstanding results.

Especially interesting was the latter part of the film showing an elephant "keddah" or hunt. Moyer's pictures with the aid of his guide on another elephant showed the rounding up of the herd and driving them into a stockade. The young elephants were kept and the mothers and the others in the herd were allowed to escape.

Back at the elephant camp the training of the young elephants begins. It is a long and tedious job for both the animals and the men. The training elephants and the mahouts who are assigned to one elephant and stay with it until it is trained perform almost incredible tasks. Some of the elephants are trained to work, some for Maharajas and some are sent to America or Europe for zoos and circuses.

From his personal narration of the film it was evident that Moyer became quite attached to pack elephants and his guides.

Some of the places in India covered by the "shikar" included Chitla Lake, the State of Assam, the Central Provinces, the state of Mysore in the jungle country and the State of Travancore in the Southern tip of India.

Of the most difficult animals to photograph, the narrator said the Bengal tiger was the hardest. Moyer did get some very fine pictures of this animal, the much sought after prize of big game hunters.

Other animals photographed in their natural habitat were walking fish, vultures, jackals, rhinoceros, flying foxes, gibbons, cobras, bison, wild dogs and wild birds.

All during the shikar Moyer did not carry a gun and only once was he in any grave danger during a cattle stampede. All his "shots" were with his camera.

Next week is the closing meeting of the club until fall. The Junior Welfare League will present the program.

Mrs. Alvin D. Bos presided and introduced the guest.
