TEMPTING A PRINTER.

BY C. G. DONALD.

George Francis & Co. were organized at last. At first it was to have been Francis & Henderson, for Harry Henderson was the junior partner. Afterward it was decided that it would be better to make Nellie Francis the office boy, and, in order to avoid unpleasant complications, such as salary, they made her a member of the firm, with the understanding that she was to be a decidedly silent partner.

The firm of Francis & Co. transacted a job printing business. George had been presented with a handpress that was too large to be regarded as a mere toy, and Harry's father had given him some several new fonts of type.

By pooling their interests they found that they would have a considerable stock, so they retired to a corner and drew up the partnership. Mr. Francis leased space in his stable to the new firm for 25 cents a week, with the express understanding that they cleaned their type with lye instead of benzine.

Both boys had grown familiar with type setting through Harry's smaller press, and soon they not only had their printing office established, but they were in proud possession of a tin business sign, made for them by the regular sign painter in return for 10¢ business cards.

The parents of the heads of the firm were mildly skeptical as to the lasting powers of the concern, but before the month was over they had to admit it was strictly business.

There were internal dissensions, of course, as when Harry made the ridiculous rate of two cents a dozen for some cards to Frank Seymour because Gertrude Seymour was a pretty girl.

George retaliated by printing Gertrude herself another two dozen cards for nothing at all, and after that he and not Harry carried her school books home for her.

For a week business was suspended, and the firm was threatened. Then Nellie told Harry of an order that amounted to a whole dollar and a quarter, and a truce was patched up, the leading features of which was the understanding that prices were to be fixed by the three partners in joint session.

Nellie canvassed for orders, and they finally grew so prosperous that they decided to have a letter head and call themselves a "Printery."

They even laid in a new line of fancy cards, and were considering the idea of getting out comic Valentines, when the town election came and gave them higher ideals.

There were no job offices in the town, for Hastings was not large enough to support a local paper. The day of the election the mail train was wrecked and the ballots that had been ordered from the county seat were burned in the express car.

Then the town clerk turned to the printery. The printery promptly turned out the ballots.

Later in the afternoon Thomas Jackson put in an appearance. Mr. Jackson was the richest man in Hastings. He was running for clerk on an independent ticket and the town clerk had conveniently forgotten to provide him ballots.

The printery was very tired. From the senior partner to the silent one they had hurried to get the regular job out, and now here was Mr. Jackson insisting that they print another set.

"Never mind making a price," he said; "I'll make it all right with you; only have the ballots down at the town hall at 8 o'clock and see that no one gets them but me."

Mr. Jackson had been gone only half an hour and the forms were almost completed when the town clerk entered.

"Has Jackson been here," he demanded. The children said that he had.

The clerk unfolded a crisp $10 bill. "I paid $5 for the other ballots," he said smoothly. "I am willing to pay $10 for the ones Jackson ordered, and you won't even have to print them. Just upset that type and tell him you couldn't get them ready. I'll leave the money now. I can trust to your honor."

The three looked at each other. Fifteen dollars for the printery in one day was a terrible temptation. The clerk had ordered two sets of ballots, so that they could not very well charge Mr. Jackson more than half that sum for his single set.

It was an awful temptation, but George was equal to the situation. He picked up the bill.

"Mr. Stevens," he called after the retreating figure. "Better take this. The printery of Francis & Co. intends to do right by all its patrons."

Stevens turned angrily. "What do you mean?" he demanded. "Don't you want the money?"

"We want the money," George retorted quietly, "but we want honest money."

With a face red with anger Stevens watched the bill and at the same time struck out at the boy. George swiftly stepped to one side, and instead of hitting him Stevens' arm swept over the table and upset the can of lye with which they had been cleaning the type.

With a howl he dashed out of the place, for the lye had spilled over his legs. Two hours later the story of Stevens' bleached trousers was well circulated about the village.

That evening the printery made delivery of the ballots to Mr. Jackson, and after the most exciting contest in the history of the town Mr. Jackson was elected.

The children sent him a bill for $2.50, but beyond a note of thanks they received no reply for more than a month.

Then one Saturday afternoon one of the Jackson trucks drove up to the door of the printery and unloaded a brand new press and huge boxes of type. With it was a note from Jackson which read:

"My Dear Children—I send payment for my bill, which you will please receipt. The story of how you withstood Stevens' temptation is known to me, and I know that you saved the election for me. I am sending a press, which I hope will be frequently put to my service. I need a lot of printing and shall see that the printery of Francis & Co. gets my work, since it has proved themselves to be reliable. Faithfully yours,

Thomas Jackson."

For a moment nothing was heard in the office. Then, even the silent partner let out a yell that startled the head of the family and brought him out to see if another can of lye had been upset.

The printery has a bank account now and the handsomest printed check in the village with the line, "Official Printery for the Village of Hastings."—Boston Globe.

Proprietor (who has been looking over the accounts)—"Mr. Waddle, do you ever take any money out of the cash drawer?" "Salesman—'I occasionally take out a car fare.' Proprietor—'H'm, h'm! Do you live in San Francisco or Sitka?'—Boston Transcript.

"George says his father will cut him off with a shilling if he insists upon marrying me." "And what did you say?" "I reminded him that papa is a lawyer and that he'd be glad to take up the case against his father's estate on shares."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Grip

Brought On Sciatic Rheumatism.

Nervous Prostration Followed.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Gave Back Health.

"I was laid up during the winter of 94-95 with sciatic rheumatism and nervous prostration brought on by a severe attack of La Grippe. The rheumatic pains were so severe at times that it was impossible for me to turn in bed. I was unable to sleep. I had two of our best physicians in attendance, took all the advertised remedies for troubles of this kind but got no help whatever until I took Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. Six bottles restored me to health; I am better than for years; in fact am entirely relieved. I can say with a clear conscience that it was Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine that restored me to health. When the pains of sciatica and rheumatism were most severe I secured almost immediate relief by the use of Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. I have recommended Dr. Miles' Remedies to many people."—Fred Myers, Redfield, S. D.

"I was taken with pain in my heart and under the left shoulder; with such heavy oppressed feeling in my chest that I could hardly breathe. I had palpitation so bad and my heart would throb so that it would shake my whole bed. I also had a weak, all-gone feeling in the region of my heart. My doctor treated me for liver and stomach trouble but I failed to receive any benefit until a friend recommended Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Restorative Nervine. I used both and one box of the Anti-Pain Pills. I believe I am completely and permanently cured."—Mrs. J. W. Golding, Noblesville, Ind.

Brewers Quit Work.

Columbus, O., April 1.—Local brewery workers to the number of 600 went on strike Wednesday morning from three of the breweries, Born's, Schlee's and Hostler's. The fight will be a repetition of that recently waged by brewers in Cincinnati which was caused by the United Brewery Workers' crafts refusing to accept the decision of the American Federation of Labor conventy to the Connecticut border, was inaugurated Wednesday. The strike, too, has extended to points further up New York state and to places in Connecticut. The contractors as well as the men are organized and are prepared for a siege.

Men and Boys Out.

Shamokin, Pa., April 1.—Eighteen hundred men and boys went on strike at the three collieries owned by individual operators here, because the owners wanted them to go to work a half hour later than at present and take a half hour more time for dinner.

Demands of Builders.

Greenwich, Conn., April 1.—Nearly 1,000 men employed in the building trades in this and neighboring villages went on strike Wednesday to enforce a demand for an increase in wages, Saturday half holiday and the use of material bearing the union label.

Refuse to Lay Brick.

Sharon, Pa., April 1.—The bricklayers of the Bricklayers' and Masons' International union went on strike here and as a result building operations are tied up in Sharon and South Sharon. The strike is caused by the contractors' refusal to grant the demand of the men for an eight-hour day at $4.50, the rate they are now getting for nine hours' work.

THE OTHER SIDE.

Several Strikes in the West End and Men Return to Work.

Colorado Springs, Col., April 1.—The strike at Colorado City, which has been in progress since February 14, and the strike in the mines of the Cripple

STARTS ON HIS LONG TRIP

President Roosevelt Leaves Washington for His Tour Through the Western States.

CAREFULLY GUARDED ON EVERY SIDE.

Cabinet Members, Other Officials and the German Minister Bid Him Good-By at the Station—Train One of the Finest Ever Run—The Journey Will Occupy Nine Weeks.

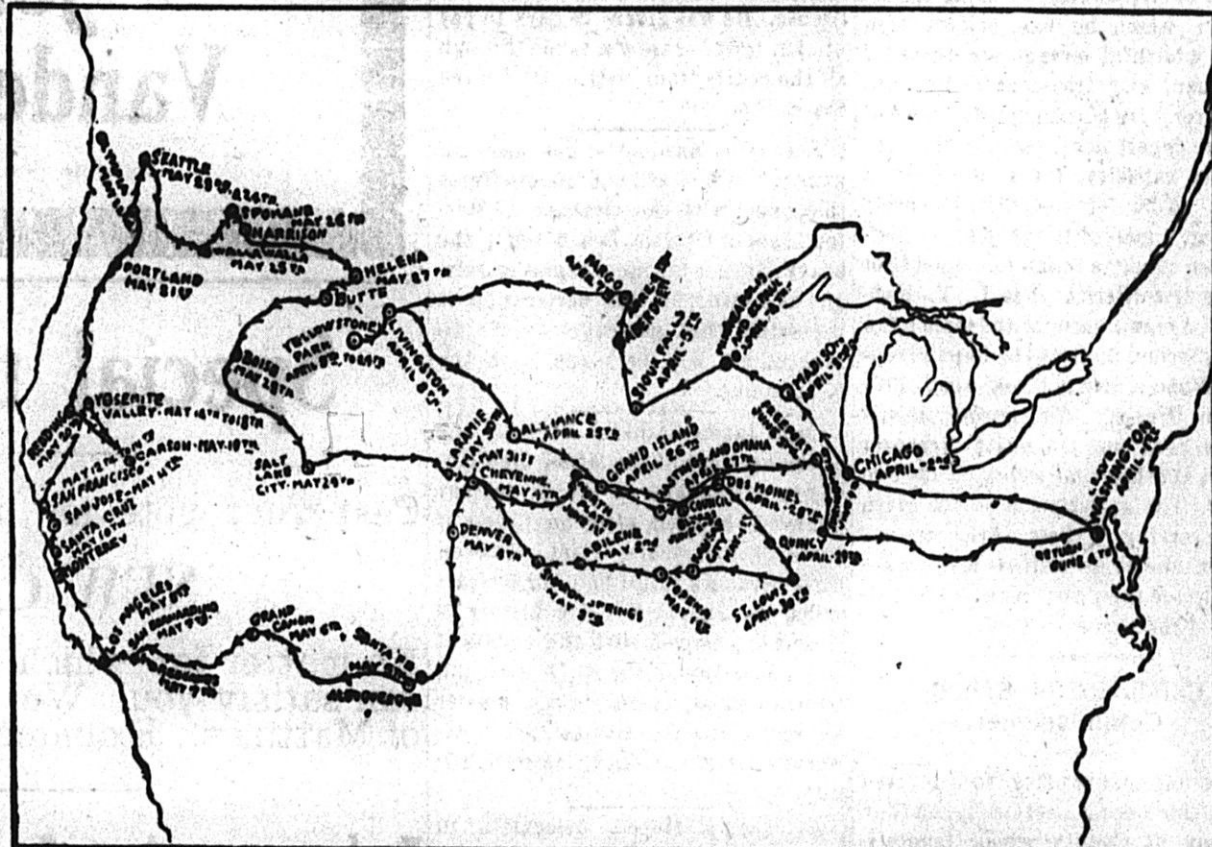

Washington, April 1.—President Roosevelt at 9:05 o'clock Wednesday morning started on his western trip under the most favorable auspices.

As the special train pulled out of the Pennsylvania station the president stood on the platform of his private car, tipping his hat and smiling in response to the enthusiastic cheers of hundreds of admirers and personal friends.

Guarded on Every Side.

The Pennsylvania station and platforms were crowded with people anxious to extend to the chief magistrate their good wishes for a safe and successful journey. Notable precautions were taken to insure the safety of the president. Uniformed officers, headquarters detectives, plain-clothes men and secret-service operatives surrounded the president and covered every point.

tion, to the effect that engineers and firemen in brewery plants must affiliate with their respective crafts. The engineers and firemen will remain at work.

Question of Veracity.

Terre Haute, Ind., April 1.—Ten thousand Indiana miners went on strike over a question of veracity and good faith and John Mitchell is coming to fight the point out with W. S. Bogle, of Chicago. The operators have asked for his presence and both sides have expressed such confidence in him that they predict a settlement within a few hours after his arrival.

Trouble in Chicago.

Chicago, April 1.—Every large tannery concern in Chicago was closed down Wednesday morning as a result of the strike of 2,500 tanners, curriers, and other employees. The principal fight of the tanners will be waged against the 14 tanneries of the American Hide and Leather company, which were consolidated in 1897. The strikers are demanding a nine-hour day, a 10 per cent. increase in wages, and recognition of the Tanners' and Curriers' union.

There was also a complete tie-up of steamers on the great lakes owing to the strike of 5,000 members of the Marine Firemen, Oilers and Watertenders' union.

Carpenters Lay Down Tools.

Schenectady, N. Y., April 1.—The long threatened strike of the carpenters for 40 cents an hour instead of 35 cents, the present rate, began Wednesday and building operations are tied up throughout the city. Over 800 men are affected and they declare they will have the support of the allied trades.

Painters Drop Brushes.

Cleveland, O., April 1.—Five hundred union painters went on strike here to enforce their demand for an increase of 2 1/2 cents an hour. Under the old scale the painters received 35 cents an hour and now ask 37 1/2 cents.

Strike in Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, April 1.—Two hundred and fifty painters and decorators, 135 steamfitters and 328 glass blowers quit work Wednesday. The men demand an increase in wages and recognition of the union. Several firms are affected.

Want Eight-Hour Day.

Wheeling, W. Va., April 1.—The building trade strike was inaugurated Wednesday morning as was predicted, and, with but few exceptions, the carpenters, tinsmen and roofers are idle. The contractors are firm in their claim that they will not sign an eight-hour day scale.

Will Involve Thousands.

New York, April 1.—A general strike for higher wages in the building trade which, it is believed, will involve between 15,000 and 20,000 men, and extending throughout Westchester county to the Connecticut border, was inaugurated Wednesday. The strike, too, has extended to points further up New York state and to places in Connecticut. The contractors as well as the men are organized and are prepared for a siege.

Men and Boys Out. Shamokin, Pa., April 1.—Eighteen hundred men and boys went on strike at the three collieries owned by individual operators here, because the owners wanted them to go to work a half hour later than at present and take a half hour more time for dinner.

Demands of Builders. Greenwich, Conn., April 1.—Nearly 1,000 men employed in the building trades in this and neighboring villages went on strike Wednesday to enforce a demand for an increase in wages, Saturday half holiday and the use of material bearing the union label.

Refuse to Lay Brick. Sharon, Pa., April 1.—The bricklayers of the Bricklayers' and Masons' International union went on strike here and as a result building operations are tied up in Sharon and South Sharon. The strike is caused by the contractors' refusal to grant the demand of the men for an eight-hour day at $4.50, the rate they are now getting for nine hours' work.

THE OTHER SIDE.

Several Strikes in the West End and Men Return to Work.

Colorado Springs, Col., April 1.—The strike at Colorado City, which has been in progress since February 14, and the strike in the mines of the Cripple

Creek district, shipping to the United States Reduction and Refining Company's plants, which was ordered as a result of the Colorado City strike, has been declared off by President Meyer, of the Western Federation of Miners.

Cars Running Again.

Seattle, Wash., April 1.—The street car strike is settled. The strikers decided to go back to work by practically a unanimous vote. The credit for the settlement is due largely to the efforts of the secretary of the chamber of commerce.

Strikers Win Victory.

Kansas City, Mo., April 1.—The strike of the Electrical Workers' union against the Missouri & Kansas Telephone company, which has been in progress a month, has been settled, resulting in a victory for the strikers. The men will receive $2.50 for a nine-hour day.

CORBETT WINS FIGHT.

Retains the Championship by Knocking Out McGovern in the Eleventh Round.

San Francisco, April 1.—Young Corbett is still champion. In the eleventh round of one of the hardest fought battles in California ring history the Denver lad gave the once invincible Terry McGovern another decisive defeat Tuesday night and gained for himself the undisputed championship of the so-called "feather weights." A right to the jaw put McGovern down for the count. The bout took place in the Mechanics' Pavilion. It was a wonderful fight, without a moment of idleness in it but at times marred by noticeable foul tactics on the part of the infuriated McGovern. The fight demonstrated beyond a doubt that it was no fluke that gave Corbett the championship at Hartford a year and a half ago.

To Inspect Canal Route.

Washington, April 1.—The isthmian canal commission has appointed a subcommittee to visit Colombia for the purpose of making a personal inspection of the route of the proposed Panama canal with a view to completing the preparations for the transfer of the canal property to the United States when the final details for such transfer have been completed.

Revenues Increase.

London, April 1.—The treasury returns show that the total revenue of the United Kingdom during the financial year ending March 31 was $805,998,900, compared with $763,008,185 for the previous year.

Cambridge the Winner.

Putney, England, April 1.—The Oxford-Cambridge annual boat race took place here, and Cambridge won by six lengths.

As President Roosevelt alighted from his carriage he was joined by Secretary Hitchcock and they walked down the station platform arm in arm, the president stopping now and then to greet personal friends. He was attired in a black cutaway coat, dark striped trousers, and wore a black felt hat.

In Good Spirits.

He was in the best of spirits and chatted enthusiastically to friends of the trip on which he was about to start. Near his private car he met Baron Speck von Sternberg, the German minister, who had come to see him off. The two had several minutes' conversation, the president thanking the minister for his thoughtfulness in coming to the station.

No member of the president's immediate family, except his sister, Mrs. Cowles, was at the station, Mrs. Roosevelt and the young children being down the Chesapeake bay on the Mayflower and Miss Alice being on her way home from Porto Rico.

Cabinet Members at Station.

Several members of the cabinet, including Secretaries Cortelyou, Wilson, and Hitchcock, were present. The president and Secretary Cortelyou chatted several minutes, the president expressing his regret that the secretary was not to accompany him. Other members of the cabinet had taken their formal leave of the president at the white house.

Trip Will Occupy Nine Weeks.

The train is one of the finest ever run out of Washington on the Pennsylvania railroad, handsomely equipped and manned by a crew of picked men. The only change in the personnel of the party as heretofore announced was that John McCoy went as special representative of the Pennsylvania railroad instead of C. R. Rosenberg.

In addition to those officially designated as members of the president's party three secret service men and two post office inspectors accompanied the president as a personal bodyguard. The journey, as planned, will occupy nine weeks and three days and the party will travel a little more than 14,000 miles.

On the Way.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 1.—President Roosevelt's train arrived here at 1:10 p. m., and remained for nine minutes. The president was greeted by a great crowd, including the members of the Pennsylvania legislature and city officials. Senator Focht, of Union, on behalf of the senate, presented greetings to the president who showed evidence of surprise at the reception, and he spoke for more than five minutes, thanking the senator and the speaker of the house for their kind words.

VARICOCELE NERVOUS DEBILITY CURED.

If you have transgressed against the laws of nature, you must suffer. Self abuse, intemperance and private diseases have wrecked thousands of promising lives. Treat with scientific physicians and be cured. Avoid quacks. E. A. Sidney, of Toledo, says: "At the age of 14, I learned a bad habit and at 19 contracted a serious disease. I treated with a dozen doctors, who all promised to cure me. They got my money and I still had the disease. I had given up hope when a friend advised me to consult Dr. K. & K., who had cured him. Without any confidence I called on them, and Dr. Kennedy agreed to cure me or no pay. After taking the New Method Treatment for six weeks I felt like a new man. The drains ceased, wormy veins disappeared, nerves grew stronger, hair stopped falling out, urine became clear and my sexual organs vitalized. I was entirely cured by Dr. Kennedy and recommend him from the bottom of my heart."

Democratic Cry, "Don't Draw Party Lines."

At every spring election the Democratic cry is "Don't draw party lines." They follow this in theory but not in practice. The Republicans have followed it in theory and practice both. What has been the result? Democratic mayor, marshal, clerk, supervisor, a majority of the aldermen, superintendent of electric lights, inspector of sewers, street commissioner, etc., etc. Republicans, one lean-salaried poor-master.

What is the trouble, fellow Republicans?

Your party constitutes two-thirds of the voting strength of this city. Can you not find one good man to represent you?

This year, as in the past, we have on our ticket as strong, able and conscientious men, as can be found in any party. Your duty is to stand by them. Are you going to do this, or are you going to again be carried away by pleadings from the opposition for support "to make a good showing," and incidentally to be elected?

The men we have on our ticket are the ones who help fight and win our State and Presidential campaigns, and deserve your hearty support. Let our cry be "Party Lines," because we have the men in our ranks to back it.

Republican's Strong Ticket.

At the primaries of the Republican party held March 31, strong men were nominated and with the support of the Republican voters all will be elected. No doubt the best men were chosen and therefore deserve the support of all. Though there was exciting competition for some of the offices, promises of support to the nominated candidates were expressed by all. The total number of votes cast was 394, large majorities nominating the following:

Mayor—Arend Vischer.
Clerk—Benjamin Brouwer.
Marshal—Dick Vander Haar.
Treasurer—Gerrit Wilterdink.
Justice—Arthur Van Duren.
Sup. for First District—L. T. Kanters.

Sup. for Second district—William Brusse.

Republican Ward Nominations.

The Republicans have also reason to feel proud of the ward nominations made last Monday night. In every case only representative business men of standing in the community were named, and every Republican and every voter can conscientiously vote and work for the ticket. The caucuses were marked with lively excitement, good feeling and harmony, all of which insure success at the coming election. Following is the result of the caucuses in wards:

FIRST WARD.

Alderman—B. J. DeVries.
Constable—S. Roos.
Members city committee—M. Wiltvelt, Frank Van By.

SECOND WARD.

Alderman—John Van Zanten.
Constable—P. Bontekoe.
Members of city committee—J. Wolfert, Klomprens.

THIRD WARD.

Alderman—H. Geerlings.
Constable—Gerrit Van Haften.
Members of city committee—E. P. P. Stephan, B. A. Mulder.

FOURTH WARD.

Alderman—Henry Landaal.
Constable—Dick Vander Haar.
Members of city committee—W. A. Holly, O. P. Kramer.

FIFTH WARD.

Alderman, 2 years—John Kerkhof; 1 year—A. Postma.
Constable—Dick Overweg.
Member of city committee—Nick Kameraad, Austin Harrington.

Two Township Tickets.

There has been a lively time in Holland township politics this year, and as a result two tickets have been placed in the field. In the first caucus a strong effort was made to land Geo. H. Souter as supervisor but John Y. Huizenga won out by 10 votes, the following ticket being nominated:

Supervisor—John Y. Huizenga.
Treasurer—Martin Pelon.
Highway commissioner—Gerrit Raak.

School inspector—John S. Brouwer.
Member of board of review—Henry E. Van Kampen.

George Souter and his followers, however, were dissatisfied and called for a citizens' caucus, as a result a citizens' ticket was nominated as follows:

Supervisor—George H. Souter.
Clerk—John Westbroek.
Treasurer—Gerrit Deur.
Justice of the peace—Edw. B. Scott.
School commissioner—Egbert Boone.
Highway commissioner—James Kapenga.

Member board of review—John Leenhouts.

Constables—John Meeuwse, Jacob Van Voorst, August Ausseker, Cass Jones.

This is the first time there have been two tickets named in this township. The Democrats were too weak and the Republican ticket was the only one. This year there promises to be plenty excitement. Souter is sure of victory, while Huizenga and his men mean to put up a good game.

Stand by the Party.

At the coming election it is of utmost importance in electing our men that we stand by our party. Never before has opposition been stronger. Though it is true that when opposing candidates were as strong as they are today we have won, it is also true that at that time the Republicans rallied around their men and by uniting their forces marched to victory. What has been done can be done again. We have nominated a strong ticket and we must elect it. We cannot afford to scratch. From mayor to constable we must elect the entire ticket.

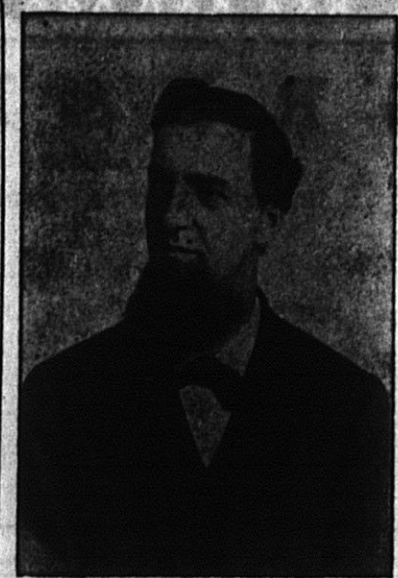

By standing by our party we are not acting blindly. We are simply electing able men from our ranks. We are honoring deserving men. If it were true that the Republican party in this city could present no men fit for office, no men worthy of office it would be right to elect the opposing candidates. But now, when the Republican party has a large majority over any other party and when it has always been the Republican's pride to count men in his party who are the leading and enterprising citizens of Holland, and we have selected from these and nominated them on our ticket, why should we not elect them? The men who lead this year are citizens whose capacity and integrity are well known and undisputed. The ticket is a strong one, and merits the support of all voters. Confident of having nominated the best men we can conscientiously urge every Republican to vote for his entire ticket.

On next Monday, April 6, when you step in your booth to cast your vote, remember your duty to the Republican party, and elect your candidates to the honored city offices.

The men you should vote for.

FOR MAYOR.

Before the primaries were held there was some speculation as to who would be the Republican candidate for mayor. A number of prominent business men were mentioned but these publicly made known that they did not wish to be considered. On the evening of the caucus, however, a determined effort was made in favor of Arend Vischer. Though Mr. Vischer had given public notice that he did not wish to be a candidate, a large majority of votes and an earnest demand of his friends induced him to accept the nomination. He is worthy of the honor. He is a leading citizen and an able business man. He is a man that has always labored for the welfare of Holland. For four years he was a prominent alderman. For seven years he was chairman of the Board of Public Works. A number of years he ably performed the duties of prosecuting attorney. In many other ways he has spent valuable time, without compensation, in the interest of the city. At this time when Holland is in a state of activity, when public improvements are in progress, it was necessary that a man was nominated who understood the city's affairs. As a progressive business man and one who has been for many years in close touch with public improvements Mr. Vischer is the right man. In every way he is able and well qualified for the office of mayor, but above all he is the Republican nominee and must be elected.

FOR CLERK.

Benjamin Brouwer has been for a number of years a prominent citizen of Holland. For thirteen years he has been engaged as bookkeeper and has always faithfully attended to business. No better man than Mr. Brouwer can be found to fill the duties of city clerk. For some time his friends had urged his nomination but he declined until he saw that his resignation would cause a scattering of votes and thus defeat a Republican candidate. At the caucus Jerry Leapple had a strong following but his supporters are now sided with the nominated candidate. All Republicans are united on electing and making Benjamin Brouwer the next city clerk of Holland.

FOR MARSHAL.

Dick Van der Haar is the man whom the Republicans have selected as the next city marshal. This is the second year that [Mr. Van der Haar is nominated. It is on the merits of his splendid showing last year that Dick has again been placed on the ticket. Mr. Vander Haar is especially fit for marshal. He is muscular, quick and has a good judgment. He has many friends, all of whom have pledged their support. In fact, wherever Vander Haar is known he is popular. He is a strong candidate and all are sure of his election.

FOR TREASURER.

Gerrit Wilterdink will no doubt be re-elected. He has performed his duties in the past accurately, and has proven an able treasurer. He is deserving of the office. In a quiet and unobtrusive manner he has proven a faithful city officer. A vote for Wilterdink is a vote for the right man.

FOR JUSTICE.

The Republican nominee for Justice of the Peace is Arthur Van Duren. Mr. Van Duren is a promising young lawyer of this city. For two years he has ably performed the duties of Justice, and in every way has proven himself a strict adherent to the law. His decisions have been impartial and his sentences just. His good record entitles him to re-election and deserves the support of every voter.

FOR SUPERVISORS.

In the place of John J. Rutgers in the district of Republican pluralities has been nominated a man worthy of his successor, worthy of the office of supervisor. This man is L. T. Kanters. Mr. Kanters is a man with a record of city service. Among the offices in which he has always been found a faithful servant are those of alderman, city treasurer and county treasurer. He is the popular chief of the fire department, serving the city in that capacity for a number of years. Able for the office, intensely popular, a man of the people, no better man could be found for supervisor of the first district than L. T. Kanters. As candidate for the same office in the second district the Republicans have found a man not less able. This is Wm. Brusse. Mr. Brusse is well known as at one time city treasurer and at another time as mayor for two terms. The satisfaction he has given while serving in these offices and his general ability as business man makes Mr. Brusse the right man for supervisor of the second district.

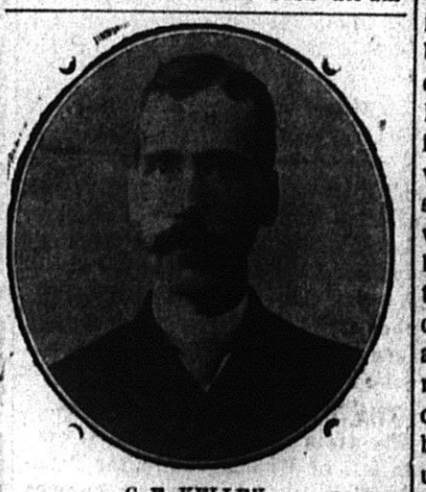

Candidate for School Commissioner.

The only county office to be voted for at the coming election on April 6 is that of County School Commissioner.

Prof. C. E. Kelly, the Republican candidate, whose portrait here appears, is a native of New York, where he was born in 1858. He came with his parents to Ottawa county in 1865 and worked on his father's farm in Wright until he was about 19 years of age. During this time he attended school in the winter season.

After leaving the farm he began teaching school and has ever since followed that occupation, with the exception of time he put in study. In 1897 he graduated from the normal department of the Ferris Institute and the same year received a life certificate from the state board of education.

Mr. Kelly has for four years been principal of the Coopersville schools and in that capacity has given splendid satisfaction. Teaching he has made his life work and it has been his ambition to excel—making him an ideal candidate for the position to which he aspires.

C. E. KELLEY.

No stronger man could have been nominated and Mr. Kelly is certainly entitled to the vote of every Republican and in fact of every person interested in our schools on election day.

The board of directors of the Holland Sugar factory elected the following officers:

President—J. C. Post.
Vice president—Ralph Veneklassen.
Secretary—C. M. McLean.
Treasurer—G. W. Mokma.

Executive committee—A. Vischer, George P. Hummer and D. B. Yntema. C. M. McLean will fill two positions, that of manager and secretary.

Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Pilgrim Home Cemetery Association will be held at the office of L. T. Kanters on Thursday, April 16, 1903 at 7:30 p. m. for the election of three trustees, and the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

The Fourth Reformed church has extended a unanimous call to Rev. Wm. Wolvius, of Boyden, Ia.

The balance in the state treasury is considerably in excess of $5,000,000 and is the largest in the history of the state.

Andrew Van Hoef has resigned from the Holland life saving crew of which he has been a member for three years.

Rev. Dr. Oltmans was in this city on account of illness in his family. He preached in the Third Reformed church last Sunday.

Michigan postmasters apparently are not superstitious. Their meeting will be held on Friday, August, 13. Ludington is the place selected for the gathering.

Albert DeVries of the Ottawa furniture company has purchased the residence of John J. Rutgers on East Thirteenth street for $2900. Mr. Rutgers and family will move to Grand Haven.

Work on the extension of the electric line from Thirteenth street over Van Raalte avenue to West Eighth street is in progress. The company has employed a large number of Italians to do the job.

Dr. A. G. Reetz was fined $100 or 90 days in Detroit in the circuit court for practicing medicine without a license. He was given 10 days to pay up. Dr. Reetz's case was taken through all the courts from justice to United States supreme.

The Pere Marquette has also announced that it will not operate trains to connect with the Graham & Morton boats at Ottawa Beach until the heavy summer business begins in July, and as a result of this declaration it is possible that passenger traffic arrangements will be made with the electric line.

Capt. James Franklin Frowell, one of the veterans of the lakes, died Friday in Milwaukee at the Protestant home for the aged, after an illness of three or four years. Capt. Frowell early became a sailor and for 40 years sailed the lakes. His life history is closely interwoven with the events of lake navigation of the early days, and he will long be remembered as master of the old time steamships in a noteworthy period of Grand Haven's history.

As one of Hope's delegation to Olivet was returning last week he had an exciting experience. Arriving at a station to change cars he wandered from his companions, and proud of Hope's victory walked the platform swinging his decorated cane and showing a Hope pennant protruding from his pocket. Suddenly and before he knew where they came from five stalwart scepter wielders of Ypsilanti girls surrounded him and despite his desperate efforts to save his property was bereft of his banner and cane. It is said that he bore himself manfully and if it hadn't been that the odds were five to one he might have saved more than a piece of the broken cane.

The state Anti-Saloon league is planning to have 100,000 or more citizens of Michigan petition the legislature for the passage of the Holmes bill. Blank petitions are being sent to 2,000 congregations in the state. It is not likely to do much good as the bill has been referred to the judiciary committee. Upon the motion of Rep. Paddock to that effect. Holmes sprang instantly to his feet and in a loud voice shouted, "You might as well send the bill to a graveyard. If you want to kill this bill do it decently, but do not send it to a committee, two members of which have stood upon this floor and opposed the bill. You all know as well as I do that this motion to send the bill to the judiciary committee is a scheme to bury the bill and that if it goes there none of us will ever see it again." Rep. Paddock still hopes to get a bill through requiring liquor dealers to furnish surety company bonds.

G. R. Herald—Tony Vander Hill, who last year caught for the Holland Independent team left Monday for Kansas City to join the American association team. Tony caught a game at Grand Rapids late last fall, when the Holland's lost in 10 innings with a 2 to 1 score, their opponents being the all-American team, with Sullivan of Chicago and Bernhard of Cleveland as a battery and Mercer, Kehoe, LaJole, Cochran, Jones and Bradley behind them. As a result of his work in that game Tony was signed by Kansas City. He is 28 years of age, was born in Holland and has played semi-professional ball for five years, two years with Dickerson's team in Grand Rapids and two with the Big Rapids teams, and last season here with the team which closed the season the undisputed champions of western Michigan. Among the men who played on that team were Havel, who is now with Dayton; Hale of the Milwaukee American association team, Gleason of the Rockford Three I club and Charlie Fox of the Baltimores.

The Saving of Will

OLD Gen. Lawrence was the proudest man in all the commonwealth. Coming from a long line of distinguished ancestors, every generation of whom had stamped the impress of their personality upon the public life of their day, with direct progenitors who had figured as leaders in the Indian wars of the colonists, signers of the articles of confederation, and the declaration of independence, soldiers in the war of the revolution, 1812, and with Mexico, and distinguished statesmen in the halls of legislation and the councils of the nation; added to this a splendid record as an officer in the great war of the rebellion—all these things combined to give the old soldier a pride of family and self and a bearing which, while it may have been at times a trifle trying to the more democratic of his neighbors, was admitted by all to be to a great degree both natural and legitimate.

Hardly less proud and exclusive than the old general was his aristocratic wife, for the Lawrences had ever been mindful of their position in contracting matrimonial alliances and the bluest blood in the state had been passed to their children. The position of the Lawrences was freely acknowledged by their neighbors and the community took a kind of reflected pride in them.

Realizing all this the reader will imagine the shock it was to the old general and his good wife when his second son, Will, wrote him from Cuba that he was about to take unto himself as wife a dark-skinned daughter of that island. It had been with the greatest satisfaction that the old general had seen Will start away in the uniform of a second lieutenant of volunteers at the outbreak of the Spanish-American war. Charles, the eldest son, was in Europe on a combined mission of business and health, both of which would have been seriously imperiled by his immediate return, and for some weeks the general had fumed himself nearly sick at the prospect of an American war in which one of his immediate family was not represented. He had been proud indeed when Will, only a lad of 20, had come to him and announced his determination to go to the front, together with the information that he had been elected a second lieutenant in a regiment organizing for the purpose. To be sure Will was but a boy, but he was a Lawrence and the old patriot had sent him forth with tears of mingled pride and tenderness in his eyes. And Will had rendered a good account of himself; had been advanced to a first lieutenant for gallantry on the field and accorded a captaincy in the reorganized army.

This made the blow so much the stronger.

"Shades of Henry Clay," ejaculated the general, pounding the unoffending floor with his gold-headed cane. "A Lawrence to marry a mongrel Latin nigger. Never, never, if I have to go and drag him home by the scruff of the neck. He is crazy. The long service in that accursed fever-plagued nest of infamy has undermined his constitution and sapped the virility of his mind. He is crazy—that's what he is. I'll have him declared insane and put in a mad house—that's what I'll do. Better a thousand times to endure the thought of a son in a lunatic asylum than as the husband of a mongrel black and the father of a lot of woolly headed brats—a Lawrence, too. It is impossible, that's what it is. I shall proceed at once in the matter."

Mrs. Lawrence, while as greatly shocked and alarmed as the general, was not quite so drastic. The vision of her son in a mad house did not appeal to her as a way out of the dilemma, and Eleanor, the daughter of the household, declined utterly to regard the matter as in so hopeless a vein as either parent.

"Maybe she is a Spanish beauty, with all sorts of aristocratic and even noble blood in her veins," she persisted, "and not a negro at all."

Whereat the general narrowly escaped a fit of apoplexy. He had made up his mind when and where Lawrence had made up his mind that was the end of the matter.

Finally the mother suggested a plan of action. Charles had returned from abroad. He and Will had always been the closest of comrades and friends and loved each other as few brothers do. He was older by five years, and Will would listen to his ripper wisdom and larger experience. He should go forthwith to Cuba on some pretext or other and find means to break up the proposed marriage. It was a delicate mission. Even the general admitted its difficulty. He knew full well the iron determination of the Lawrences, and it had always been his boast that a "Lawrence has never been driven, sir—not a single step; you can kill them, but you can't drive them. No, siree."

So it happened one soft, languorous day that Charles Lawrence disembarked at Havana, presumably upon a mission to secure some transportation franchises for an American syndicate, and hunted up his brother, the captain.

He was received with open arms, and the brothers revelled for several days in their reunion. The elder never hinted at his mission, and when he "talked shop" at all, dwelt enthusiastically upon his franchise quest. If the younger suspected the ulterior design of his visitor he did not betray it.

It was several days after Charles appeared on the scene before he found any sort of opening for the furtherance of his real mission. Singularly enough Will did not mention his love affair or give him any sort of opening, and he hesitated to broach the subject himself. One soft evening, however, after dinner the captain remarked:

"Charles, I want you to make a call with me this evening. I will show you the two most beautiful women in Cuba—in the world."

Acquiescing readily, the two strolled through the better part of the town and brought up at a rather pretentiously built Cuban home of the older type—somewhat run down, but bearing marks of respectability, even aristocracy.

"This is the home of Don Carlos Antonio Silveira," remarked Will. "He is of a very old and very proud Spanish family—of the purest blood, mind you, and for heaven's sake don't forget that point, as he is extremely proud of it. He was formerly away up in G financially, but the revolution and other misfortunes have largely stripped him of his estates. But he keeps up appearances as best he can and is the finest kind of a type of an old aristocrat. And his two daughters are the very flower of the Antilles—especially Julia."

With this preface Charles was ushered into the house and presently was formally presented to the Senorita Julia. He was compelled to admit to himself that his brother certainly had an eye for beauty, for seldom in all his travels had he laid eyes on so striking a girl, so perfect a type of the Latin beauty. Still more was he surprised and taken aback at the high breeding and culture of the fair hostess and her chaperone, the old aunt who guarded her with lynx-eyed fidelity. He was presented also to the master of the house, and was fairly overawed by the dignity and grace of his manner. As he was regarding the senorita with profound admiration and reflecting upon the mammoth proportions his task had suddenly assumed, a curtain was swept aside and a vision appeared before him which drove all other thoughts from his mind and all other objects from his sight. It was another woman very like the Senorita Julia, but very different—more ripened and matured in charm and manner—one of those lustrous-eyed, olive-skinned, voluptuously formed creatures only to be found among the women descended from the pure Castilian blood, and also with a face so alive with intelligence and a head so perfectly formed that he almost forgot the perfection of physical beauty in admiration of the suggestion of intellectuality.

"Ah, this is the Senorita Rosa," exclaimed the captain. "Senorita, my brother, Charles."

The evening sped for both brothers, the younger being engrossed with his fiancée and the elder finding keen interest in the strange, ardent nature of the sister—absolutely a new type to him.

On the way to the captain's lodgings Charles became conscious of a feeling of distinct annoyance in the thought that he was not pursuing his mission with the single-heartedness that he should, and that he had enjoyed the evening altogether too much and did not regard the Silveira family with that aversion which was expected of him. Also he fancied that he detected a note of suppressed glee in the captain's demeanor.

There followed many visits to the Silveira home, and Charles put in many sleepless nights in trying to figure out a plan to break up the affair, but with a growing certainty that he was making a poor job of it and that he cared much more to bask in the sunlight of the Senorita Rosa's lustrous eyes than for expostulating with Will.

Of course the result was foreordained, and that was why old Gen. Lawrence one eventful day received a letter which all but caused the breaking of a blood-vessel and required all the skill of the family doctor to keep him from fading from earth in an apoplectic stroke. It was none other than the announcement that his two sons had been married, respectively, to the Senorita Rosa and the Senorita Julia and begging that he defer judgment until they arrived in America with their wives, when they were sure he would approve of their choice.

And the funniest feature of the entire affair is that he did.

President's Day at the Woman's Literary Club.

The Woman's Literary club met at the home of Mrs. Geo. E. Kollen to celebrate the annual president's day in a right royal manner. In accordance with the historical features of the program the national colors and portraits of American heroes were used to beautifully decorate the home. The program consisted of an original story by Mrs. D. H. Redmond. The background of the story were true historical events of the revolution around which a pretty romance was woven. The story read by the author herself brought out its full effect and was much appreciated by the audience.

Mrs. C. C. Wheeler contributed a poem in which the coming of the Pilgrim fathers was told, their hardships portrayed and their faith in God substantiated by His special care of and goodness toward them. The pleasing poetry of Mrs. Wheeler is always welcome and her success in this phase of literature has earned for her the title of the "club's poet."

Mrs. Thurber won a contest in guessing the largest number of noted American men and women from "counterfeit presentments." She was presented with a bust of Longfellow. WABASH ORDER REVOKED.

Judge Adams Dissolves the Injunction Against Officials of the Trainmen's Unions.

CLAIMS OF THE COMPANY ARE DENIED.

Court Says the Assertions That the Men Were Satisfied Were Not Sustained—Had No Intention of Restraining Commerce—Peaceful Settlement Looked For.

St. Louis, April 1.—In the United States district court Wednesday Judge Elmer B. Adams handed down a decision dissolving the injunction granted March 3, restraining officials of the Brotherhoods of Locomotive Firemen and Railroad Trainmen and other labor leaders from influencing in any way or ordering the men employed on the Wabash system to strike. The temporary injunction had been granted by Judge Adams on allegations made by officials of the Wabash system that the defendants were conspiring to interfere with interstate traffic and the transmission of mails.

Analyze Complaint.
In his decision Judge Adams first analyzes the bill of complaint upon which the provisional restraining order was issued, showing that the gist of the conspiracy coming within the jurisdiction of the federal courts as charged in the bill was to precipitate a strike undesired by the men and thereby, and by other means specifically charged in the bill, to interfere with interstate commerce and the mail service of the United States.

Why Order Was Issued.
Upon the showing made that the first step of the conspiracy, namely, the ordering of such a strike, was contemplated by the defendants, and that irreparable damage would necessarily befall the railroad unless a restraining order was forthwith issued, the same was done for the purpose of holding the property and the parties in statu quo until both sides could be fully heard on the motion to set aside or modify the order. Leave was given to file such a motion at any time within 15 days.

Defendants Made Answer.
Within the time allowed by the restraining order defendants duly appeared and filed their sworn answer, denying the alleged conspiracy in all its phases, and particularly denying any purpose to interfere with interstate commerce or the mails of the United States, and specially denying that the employees were satisfied with wages and conditions of their service; and denying the practice of any and all coercion or false representations to bring about a strike; averring that the only purpose of the present defendants in consenting to a strike was to better the condition of their members who were in the employment of the railroad, by the exercise of their undoubted right to peacefully withdraw from such service until such time as their demands of wages, etc., should be conceded.

Statements Not Supported.
The court, after fully considering all the proof, finds that the statements of the bill of complaint, to the effect that the employees were satisfied with their wages and conditions of service, are not supported; that a real difference of opinion existed between the railroad and a large majority of its employees, members of the brotherhoods, with respect to their wages, and that the defendants as officers and committees of the brotherhoods were fully authorized to make an effort to secure higher wages and change conditions of service, and that the proposed strike, instead of being officiously ordered by defendants, was a result of the vote of the employees, acting without coercion and directly authorizing the same.

Was No Conspiracy.
The court further finds after a full examination of the evidence that the charge of conspiracy to interfere with the interstate commerce of the United States, or the mail service of the United States, is not sustained.

The court finishes its opinion by stating its conclusions with a summary of the situation pertaining to the controversy.

No Strike Probable.
F. N. Judson, of St. Louis, special counsel for the brotherhoods, stated in an interview here that he and Col. W. H. Blodgett, general solicitor of the Wabash, were making efforts to bring all the parties interested together, and that in his opinion an amicable agreement would be arrived at, and that there would be no strike.

Hall of Fame.
New York, April 1.—At the suggestion of Ernest Thompson Seton, the directors of the St. Louis fair have decided to establish a western hall of fame, in which there are to be statues of 50 of the men who distinguished themselves in the winning of the west. The selection of those to be honored, it is proposed, shall be determined by popular vote.

Signs Anti-Trust Law.
Austin, Tex., April 1.—The governor has signed the new anti-trust law and it became immediately effective. This law differs from all other laws of a similar kind enacted in Texas. It does not specifically exempt any sort of combination from its penalties.

Post Office Robbed.
Auburndale, Wis., April 1.—The post office here was robbed of $1,100 in money and stamps. The thieves got away on a railway velocipede. There is no clew.

THE PENNELL INQUEST.

Will Be Held in Buffalo Some Time This Week—An Attorney Gives His Views.

Buffalo, N. Y., April 1.—Judge Murphy announces that he will hold the inquest into the death of Arthur R. Pennell the latter part of this week or the first of next week.

Albert A. Hartsel, one of the attorneys who has represented the Burdick family throughout the inquest, said: "We are very well pleased with the result of the inquest. There seems to have been a great deal of importance attached to the apparent lack of feeling over Mr. Burdick's death by members of the household. This is decidedly an erroneous impression. I have been in a position to know the deep sorrow expressed by them and the tears that have been shed. Much misapprehension has been had also in reference to the question of imparting knowledge, so far as possessed that might have given information about the crime. Mrs. Hull, Mrs. Burdick and Marion, in fact, all the members of the household have given all the information they possessed, and have given it freely. It must be remembered that the terrible shock under which all were laboring might have disturbed natural conditions of mind and thought. Mrs. Hull is innocent of this terrible crime, and absolutely has no knowledge of the person or persons who did the deed. I know that to be so, and I believe the world will gradually reach the same conclusion. Mrs. Burdick has also been wronged; she has been greatly misjudged."

MET HORRIBLE FATE.

Workmen in a Mine in Pennsylvania Enveloped in White Hot Dust and Six Are Killed.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 1.—The accident at furnace No. 1 of the Edgar Thompson plant of the Carnegie Steel company at Braddock Tuesday, proves to be one of the worst in the history of the plant in the number of deaths resulting. Twenty men were injured, six of whom are dead and ten are in the hospital and are not expected to recover. The other injured went to their homes and are suffering from painful burns. The dead are: John Smith, John Bolon, Andrew Brabae, Joseph Polar, John Skotak and John Polar.

The accident was caused by a "hang" in the furnace dropping and forcing large quantities of white hot dust down a large pipe into a pit where the men were at work. The victims were caught like rats in a trap, without means of escape, and all were burned and blistered over their entire bodies and large strips of flesh peeled off of their bodies when they were pulled out of the pit by fellow workmen. The cries of agony of the victims as they writhed in the lava-like stuff from which they were vainly trying to extricate themselves, could be heard for nearly a block away.

ILLINOIS MINERS KILLED.

An Explosion of Coal and Gas Dust Causes the Loss of Six Lives in Sandoval Mine.

Centralia, Ill., April 1.—An explosion of gas and coal dust in the coal shaft at Sandoval, Ill., six miles north of the city, Tuesday, resulted in the instant death of four men, the death of one other before the top of the shaft was reached and the death of another who died soon after reaching home. Those who were killed in the mine were: Lefe Leanny, Frank Deiro, Joe Thebasco, John Giacino and Joe Bianco. Six others were terribly burned about the head and chest. Those seriously burned were: Allen and Henry Newhouse, Henry Wheeler, Frank Day, Charles T. Lewis and William McFadden. Henry Newhouse died soon after being taken home. The accident was due to an accumulation of gases in the mine from imperfect ventilation and coal dust, which has been allowed to gather two feet in depth in many places. The force of the explosion wrecked the interior of the mines, destroying trap doors and knocking down props. The coal shaft is the property of the Sandoval Coal company.

Wayne MacVeagh Selected.
Washington, April 1.—The president has selected Wayne MacVeagh, of Pittsburg, who was a member of the cabinet of President Garfield, to represent the United States at The Hague when the arbitration tribunal considers the question of preferential treatment as between the allied and the nonallied powers having claims against Venezuela.

Rests with American Courts.
London, April 1.—Home Secretary Akers-Douglass, when asked in the house of commons for information as to when the extradition proceedings against Whitaker Wright, the company promoter under arrest in New York, were likely to end, replied that the matter rested entirely with the American courts.

Maj. Gen. Hughes Retires.
San Francisco, April 1.—Maj. Gen. R. P. Hughes has retired from active service and has turned over the command of the department of California to Maj. Gen. McArthur. No special formality marked the event, the retiring commander simply introducing to his successor the staff of the department.

After Bicycle Championship.
Atlanta, Ga., April 1.—Sixteen well-known bicycle riders, including Bobby Walthour, George Leander, Floyd McFarland and Iver Lawson, have started on a 12-hour race for the championship of America. Two hours are to be run each night.

SLANG IN THE MAKING.

Many of the Up-to-Date Phrases Cannot Be Traced to Their Origin.

The study of slang in the making has always been hampered by the fact that no investigator ever sees the inventor at his work. In some college student's room, behind the screens of a drinking hall, or among the roustabouts of the levee the words and highly colored phrases taken up by the world so readily have probably first been altered. Where lived the man who coined word "chump?" asks the New York Evening Post. Who first thought of saying to his rival: "Go 'way back and sit down?" No one seems to know, and the inquirer has to be contented with inferior specimens for study. One of these has just come to light in Chicago. It is not one of the elusive sort, full of fancy and inspiring suggestions. But it has the merit of having been designed, as it were, before our eyes, like the wheat cakes which the white-capped cook makes in the window of a dainty restaurant. It is the word "seg," which is applied to the young women now attending the University of Chicago. Since coeducation has been abolished it is obviously inaccurate to call them coeds. At the same time, the west does not take up the less complimentary terms which the young men in some eastern colleges apply to their feminine fellow students. The new word is certainly as euphonious as the old (more so, if anything, because it has no hiatus), it is highly descriptive and not in the least uncomplimentary.

"Don't Know How I Got Such a Cold"

Most of us have heard this expression many times.

Did you ever notice that the Don't know how I got it cold is a bad one to get over? That before you are through with the hoarseness, the cough, the "tight feeling," the general discomfort, and the out of sorts sensations, you are apt to have another such cold, and so on until it hangs on for weeks?

These colds mean that your system is out of gear. They usually precede serious diseases like consumption, bronchitis. They are dangerous.

We have found a remedy for all sorts of colds, coughs, that is not a so-called cough-cure. It does not stupefy with opium, nor fill the system with vicious drugs.

It is Vinol. We are perfectly willing to tell any inquirers at our store what it is made of and how we came to take hold of it.

It certainly does the work. Old coughs go off like magic. It even relieves people far gone in consumption. People right in town have proved it. We sell it subject to guarantee—money back if it doesn't help you. Isn't it foolish to put the matter off?

Mrs. E. Mulder living five miles east of Holland, near Ebenezer says: "I suffered for years from a deranged condition of the kidneys. The secretions from those organs were irregular and unnatural. I could not rest comfortably at night and rose in the morning feeling tired and unrefreshed. The least cold or a strain always aggravated the constant heaving aching pains through the small of the back. Doan's Kidney Pills were so highly recommended that I procured a box at J. O. London, March 26.—The Evening News announces that Maj. Gen. Sir Hector MacDonald, commanding the British forces in Ceylon, against whom charges based on immoral acts were filed some time ago, committed suicide by shooting in a hotel in Paris.

Gen. MacDonald was regarded as one of Britain's great soldiers. He rose from the ranks in the Gordon highlanders to his present position and the service list shows no more honorable war record than that of MacDonald, while few officers possess more hard-won decorations. He was extremely popular in the army and in civil life.

By this merger the new corporation will save over $7,000 each year in fees paid to the state of New Jersey.

Points to Pennell.

Buffalo, N. Y., April 1.—Justice Murphy's verdict in the Burdick inquest shows that Arthur R. Pennell would have been arrested and tried for the murder of Edwin L. Burdick if the suspect had not been dashed to death with his wife when his automobile, either accidentally or by design, plunged over a precipice into a stone quarry. At the same time the justice hesitates to say that he believes Pennell was guilty; he simply declares the facts would have justified the arrest of Pennell.

OWING TO NERVOUS TROUBLE, YET MALTA PURA CURED HER AND NOW SLEEP IS REGULAR AND HEALTHFUL.

A well known lady residing southwest of this city, says she owes her life to Malta Pura, the great tonic and invigorator manufactured by the Battle Creek Health Beverage Co., Ltd. Although this lady is 72 years of age, she is now enjoying very good health. Here is what she says unsolicited:

"All the folks out here know that I have been a sufferer from a nervous trouble for years. I do not know the cause of the nervousness unless it was stomach trouble, but I do know that Malta Pura cured me, and I only used four bottles. About three or four months ago, I was compelled to take to my bed owing to my condition, but I could not sleep. It seemed impossible for me to get any rest. I took a number of medicines but none of them did me any good. My husband had three different doctors consider my case, but they did not help me. It was after two weeks of sleepless nights during which time I tossed about until I felt I would never get better, that I was told by a friend of my sister that Malta Pura would help me. Well, we bought a bottle and after I had used half of it, seemed somewhat improved for I could get little rest. I kept on taking it and after using four bottles in all, as well as anyone could expect, my age considered. If I know of any person suffering from nervousness I shall feel it my duty to let them know what Malta Pura has done for me. I firmly believe it to be the savior of my life. I sleep well, without any after distress and consider myself as healthy as any woman of my age."

The name furnished on application to the Battle Creek Health Beverage Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Michigan. Malta Pura is for sale at Druggists.

CUBA ACCEPTS THE TREATY

Finally Ratified by the Senate with No Change Made in the Reciprocity Convention.

APPROVAL UNHAMPED BY CONDITIONS

Vote Stood 12 to 9 for Acceptance, as Amended by the United States Senate—Assurances Given by President Roosevelt Turned the Tide in Favor of Ratification.

Havana, March 30.—The treaty of reciprocity between Cuba and the United States, as amended by the senate of the United States, was approved at eight o'clock Saturday night in the Cuban senate by a vote of 12 to 9. This approval is absolute and is not hampered by any conditions, the questionable time limit amendment having been dispensed with through the receipt of a cable message from Secretary Hay in which it was positively declared that President Roosevelt would call a special session of congress prior to December 1.

Says It Means Annexation.

Senator Sanguilly in a speech against the ratification of the treaty pictured the gradual absorption of Cuba by the United States, in which he said the present action was one step. He argued that it was practically disgraceful for Cuba to be a party to such a scheme. The speaker's wit and eloquence caused occasional bursts of approving applause from the spectators and when he concluded he was greeted with a roar of applause in which all the senators joined.

The Vote.

The vote was taken separately on each section of the substitute report. The vote on the unconditional ratification of the treaty was 12 to 9, on the recommendation to the executive it was 11 to 9. The session of the present senate then adjourned. The ratifications will be exchanged by cable.

The Cuban treaty ratified was negotiated in Havana December 11, 1902, between Gen. Tasker H. Bliss, representing the United States, and Carlos De Saldo and Jose M. Garcia Montes, representing Cuba.

Terms of the Treaty.

As ratified it provides that all merchandise produced by either country which now enters the other duty free shall continue free of import duties. All other Cuban products imported into the United States shall enter at a reduction of 20 per cent. from the rate of duty imposed by the United States on such articles of merchandise. All imports into Cuba from the United States not entitled to free entry shall be given a reduction of 20 per cent., provided they do not fall within certain named classes, as to which a greater reduction in duty is made.

Twenty-Five Per Cent. Off.

Schedule A provides that the following articles shall be entitled to 25 per cent. reduction from the regular tariff: Machinery and apparatus of copper, cast iron, wrought iron and steel manufactures thereof, articles of crystal and glass, except window glass; ships and water-borne vessels of all kinds of iron and steel, whistles and brandies; fish, salted, pickled, smoked or marinated; articles of pottery or earthenware.

Thirty Per Cent. Off.

Schedule B gives a reduction of 30 per cent. on the following articles: Butter, the flour of wheat, corn, cornmeal, chemical and pharmaceutical products and simple drugs, malt liquors in bottles, nonalcoholic beverages, cider, mineral waters, colors and dyes, window glass, all articles of cutlery, boots, shoes and slippers, all wines except those now classified under paragraph 279 (A) of the customs tariff of the republic of Cuba.

Forty Per Cent. Off.

Schedule C gives a reduction of 40 per cent. on the following: Manufactures of cotton not included in the preceding schedules, cheese, fruits, preserved; porcelain, soaps other than common, umbrellas and parasols, dextrine and glucose watches wool and manufactures thereof, silk and manufactures thereof, rice and cattle.

Tobacco and Sugar.

It is specifically agreed that tobacco in any form of the United States or its insular possessions shall not be given any concession or rebate of duty when imported into Cuba. Both countries agree that the rates of duty granted during the life of the treaty shall be preferential as respects like imports from other countries. It is specially provided that while the treaty is in force no Cuban sugars shall be admitted into the United States at a greater reduction than 20 per cent. from the present tariff rates, and that no sugar produced by any country other than Cuba shall be admitted into the United States by treaty or convention while the new treaty is in force at a lower rate of duty than that imposed by existing law.

Formal Exchange Made.

Washington, April 1.—Ratifications of the Cuban reciprocity treaty were exchanged at the state department yesterday by Secretary Hay and Senator Quesada, the Cuban minister. There was little formality about the exchange. One copy of the treaty served, and this was delivered to the Cuban minister.

Silk Stolen.

Cedar Rapids, Ia., March 28.—Lyman Bros.' wholesale millinery house was robbed of silk valued at $4,000 to $5,000. The thieves climbed up the fire escape and entered the building through a skylight.

Sick Blood

Feed pale girls on Scott's Emulsion.

We do not need to give all the reasons why Scott's Emulsion restores the strength and flesh and color of good health to those who suffer from sick blood.

The fact that it is the best preparation of Cod Liver Oil, rich in nutrition, full of healthy stimulation is a suggestion as to why it does what it does.

Scott's Emulsion presents Cod Liver Oil at its best, fullest in strength, least in taste.

Young women in their "teens" are permanently cured of the peculiar disease of the blood which shows itself in paleness, weakness and nervousness, by regular treatment with Scott's Emulsion.

It is a true blood food and is naturally adapted to the cure of the blood sickness from which so many young women suffer.

We will be glad to send a sample to any sufferer.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

Mrs. H. M. Bruins Laid to Rest.

The funeral services of Mrs. Rev. Henry M. Bruins, nee Miss Mary Huizenga, were held in the First Reformed church last Tuesday afternoon. She was well known in this city and many friends attended to express their esteem of the deceased. The service was an impressive one, Rev. J. H. Karsten opened with prayer and Rev. J. Van Houtte read scripture which was followed by quartet rendering "Nearer My God To Thee." Rev. H. Van der Werf briefly told the early christian life, the active part in all church work, both before and after her marriage a year and a half ago to Rev. Henry Bruins with whom she labored at Pekin, Ill. Though her early death was a very sad one she encouraged her husband and relatives, knowing that their beloved one had lived a life worthy of her Master. The Sunday school class taught by Mrs. Bruins during her residence here attended in a body, and was touchingly addressed by Rev. G. H. Dubbink. "Today while you hear his voice harken not your heart," were the words according to which Mr. Dubbink pointed to the early death and the warning it included to all who knew her. The quartet sang "When We See His Face" and the services were over. Mrs. Bruins will long be remembered by all who knew her for her upright christian character. She was loved by many who express their sincere sympathy to her husband and relatives.

At the same time that the last ceremonies were performed here, the bereaved congregation at Pekin gathered in the church for memorial service, led by the Rev. Mr. F. M. Smith of the Baptist church of that city, and aided by prominent members of the congregation. Mrs. Bruins was loved and esteemed by the people whom she so shortly had served, and they deeply mourn her loss.

General Items.

A Grand Haven girl recently declared she would not marry a young man until he had $3,000 in the bank. She met him a few weeks afterward and asked him how he was getting along. "Very well," he replied, "I have about $18 saved." "I guess," she said faintly, "that's about near enough."

A farmer near Traverse City, Mich., claims to have cured himself of baldness by sleeping in a nightcap lined with stinging nettles. The hair was compelled to grow to protect the scalp. The old gentleman cured his insomnia by drinking lukewarm water impregnated with salt. He is now able to be out again.

The custom of "linnen showers," and "linen showers" and stocking showers, and various other "showers" for prospective brides is an old one, but heretofore the groom has had to dig along by himself the best he could. There is hope for him, however. The friends of an Ypsilanti young man who is to be married in a few days gave him a "sock shower" the other night, and now that a precedent has been created, perhaps in the future the groom will be "in it" as well as the bride.

A gypsy family camped between Novi and Farmington lost an infant a few days ago, and buried it in the potato field at the Novi cemetery. To a looker-on the father gave the information that of his 11 children, no two had been born in the same state. Five of the 11 are dead, and no two of them have been buried in the same part of the United States.

The entertainment will be held in Hope church on Thursday evening, April 16. An imaginary trip to India will be told by good speakers, and music will be interspersed.

Trailing arbutus, the first spring flower, is slowly making its appearance. It can be found in the woods on the north side. Generally the plant is partially hidden by old leaves and takes a practised eye to find it. Arbutus lasts for only about two weeks but has a very fragrant smell.

Next Sunday morning the Rev. A. Trott of the M. E. church will deliver a discourse on the subject, "Good news withheld." For a number of evening services Mr. Trott will deliver a series of sermons especially for young people. The subject of this series will be "What shall we do for recreation." Next Sunday evening an address will be delivered on "Shall we dance?"

The annual banquet of the Knickerbocker club was held in the hotel Pentland, of Grand Rapids, last Tuesday evening, and was one of the most elaborate affairs ever planned by the organization. Hon. G. J. Diekema was toastmaster, and the principal speaker Judge J. C. Weist, of Lansing. Among other speakers was Dr. H. E. Dosker who addressed the society on the subject, "Holland Women."

Additional scales will be put in, which will enable 38 wagons to be unloaded in 10 minutes time.
