CITY AND VICINITY.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. J. Loomis, East Eighth street Saturday—a son.

Four applicants took the examination for carrier and clerk conducted by Edward Westveer.

Lokker & Rutgers will furnish the new uniforms for the members of the Citizens band.

Sena Hovenga has been granted a divorce from John Hovenga by Judge Padgham. The charges are non support.

Bert Hall left Monday for New Buffalo, to take a position as night-yard master; he formerly held the same position at Waverly.

The St. Louis Sugar factory declared a dividend of 12 per cent. Over $21,000 in dividends will be distributed among Holland stockholders.

John S. Dykstra has purchased the Brown bazaar stock of H. Leonard & Son, and the dry goods in the same stock have been purchased by John VanderSluis.

The case against Manus Boeve by the city of Holland for collection of sprinkling tax was decided against the city. Judge Padgham decided that the tax was illegal and advised the city to amend its charter covering sprinkling assessments.

J. E. Hutchinson has purchased the central packing house of the Fennville Fruit Growers Company of Fennville across the track and east of his roller mill, for $687.50 and will use it as a warehouse for the storage of mill products.

Mrs. John Beeuwkes died Sunday morning at her home, 176 East Eleventh street, after a year's illness. The deceased was 49 years of age and is survived by a husband and sons, Henry and George and one daughter Lena. The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, Rev. A. Keizer officiating.

All fast trains will pass through Fennville without stopping in the future and citizens are put out about it, and are devising a remedy to make the P. M. come to terms. This has been tried before and the council passed an ordinance forbidding trains to go faster than 6 miles an hour at that time the railroad officials thought it better to stop as it would consume less time. It is certain that some new ordinance will be passed in Fennville soon.

The case of L. Y. Devries vs Peter F. Zalsman was dismissed by Judge Padgham on motion of the plaintiff. It will be remembered as has been stated in the News that Devries reprieved a stereopticon from Zalsman and in Justice McBride's court Zalsman was given a judgment of 6 cents damages and costs. From this judgment Zalsman appealed. The plaintiff however claimed the said judgment was void and was sustained by Judge Padgham.

Two months ago Wm. Zuber employed Otto Schilf to move his household goods from Otsego to Saugatuck and just before reaching the village the goods caught fire (probably from a pipe, as both parties had been smoking) and the goods, valued at $150, were completely destroyed. Zuber brought suit to recover the value of the goods from Schilf. Attorney Wade appeared for Schilf and settled the case by paying $42.50 in Justice J. H. Schumacher's court at Fennville.

Judge Padgham has issued an injunction in the case of Cornelius Langers against Henry J. Nibbelink and Jesse G. Woodbury, restraining them from advertising and selling certain portions of land near Zeeland. The property was levied upon for an alleged debt from a judgment in a justice court of Holland and the sale was immediately advertised and preparation made for sale. The plaintiff immediately took the case to circuit court and asked for an injunction restraining Nibbelink and the sheriff from advertising the sale or going further with it. The service upon the sheriff was made by Coroner Thomas J. Kiel, a coroner being the only officer in the county who can serve papers on the sheriff. It is seldom that such proceedings are required.—Grand Haven Tribune.

Mrs. E. R. Vander Veen was in Grand Rapids Wednesday.

The steamer Holland will be placed on the Chicago run April 9.

Gerrit VanZanten has taken a position with James A. Brouwers furniture store.

Neal Ball leaves this week for Cedar Rapids, Iowa to join the base ball team.

Henry Karsten left for Iowa Monday to play with Davenport, in the Three I League.

The residence of Egbert Altena on West Fourteenth street has been purchased by John Names. Consideration $1,350.

Jacob Wabeke has purchased of Wm. Overbeek 100 acres of land in Olive township for $3,500 giving as part payment his home on Seventeenth street in this city, into which Overbeek will soon move.

Miss Lizzie Cappon who has been missionary in Amoy China, is on her way home to stay one year. She is a sister of John J. Cappon, Mrs. Wm. Brusse and Abe Cappon of this city.

Thursday Joseph Lane of Fennville contracted to sell his saloon business for $300 to A. W. Stanley and Henry Smith of Watervliet, they to also take his fixtures and restaurant outfit at invoice prices. They have rented the building for a term of two years at $20 per month.

The low lands south of town and the overflowed river bottoms are now the favorite haunts of thousands of ducks and geese and hunters are securing quite a few—only the varieties that can be legally shot at this time of course.—Fennville Herald.

After a lapse of twenty-one years Mr. and Mrs. Ensign of Hamilton were happily surprised this week when Mrs. Vos of Fillmore, mother of John Vos of this village, walked in to the shoe store of the former, and presented him a basket of eggs and other things as a reward for a kind act done her at that time Mr. and Mrs. Ensign had forgotten the event but the reminder was none the less gladly received.

The trouble over the ownership of the stock of bazaar goods known as the J. W. Brown stock has come to an end. The suit brought by Leonard & Sons of Grand Rapids against Slagh & Zuidewind and marshal Kamferbeek has resulted in the signing by the defendants of a stipulation which restores the stock to Leonard & Sons and the paying of an Attorney fee of $30 and the costs connected with the case. The stock is valued at $400.

A runaway occurred on East Twelfth street Saturday afternoon in which the milkwagon of H. Grevengeod suffered considerable damage. The horse was left unhitched in front of the residence of Prof. Bergen and took fright at a passing automobile. The animal sped along a few rods when the vehicle collided with a hitching post breaking the axle-tree and thills and spilling a few bottles of cream. The horse escaped uninjured and was caught a block away. The hitching post was completely demolished.

Kalamazoo is to have an up-to-date high-speed electric line to Grand Rapids during the present year. All doubts as to the reality of the Grand Rapids and Kalamazoo Valley Railway company's intention to build, and build at once, were swept away by the statement, Friday evening, by W. H. Patterson, who has been promoting the scheme for some time, that the board of directors had signed a contract with the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company of Pittsburgh, Pa., for the construction of the whole line within a year. Mr. Patterson stated, further, that the road will undoubtedly be completed, equipped and ready to run by Dec. 1. Sixty miles of track, including a main line from Kalamazoo through Otsego and Plainwell to Grand Rapids, a branch either from Otsego or Martin to Allegan, and a branch from Shelbyville to Gun Lake, are included in the contract which amounts to about $1,200,000. Mr. Patterson is well known in Holland and at the resorts. He owns a summer home at Ottawa Beach.

Attorney George E. Kollen made a business trip to Chicago this week.

Mrs. G. J. Van Duren is visiting her daughter Mrs. W. R. Cox in Chicago.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. C. Hoffman, East Third street Wednesday—a son.

Henry H. Brinkman of Graafschap has purchased of John Zwemer the residence property at 74 East Thirteenth street, for $2,100.

Rev. D. Drukker, pastor of the Fourteenth street Christian Reformed church, is one of a trio of clergymen placed in nomination by the church of that denomination at Vogel Center, Mich.

The Interurban will occupy the whole of the first floor of the waverly building and will move the offices back and enlarge the waiting room about three times its present proportions. Pleasant quarters will be fixed up in the basement for the conductors and motormen to congregate.

A congregational social will be held in the Third Reformed church this evening. It will be in the nature of a welcoming reception to Rev. E. J. Blekkink and family, who have recently come from Kalamazoo. A short program will be rendered and refreshments will be served.

At a county convention of Modern Woodmen of America held Wednesday A. J. Oxner of this city and J. Vander Zalm of Grand Haven were chosen delegates to the state convention of the order to be held at Battle Creek on May 3. Woodmen were present as delegates from Coopersville, Grand Haven, Bass River, Lamont, Hudsonville and Herrington.

F. Van Slooten died suddenly Wednesday evening at his home on East Sixteenth street of heart trouble. The deceased had lived here for several years and was 57 years of age. He is survived by a wife and the following children: Menne and Louis of West Olive, Martin, Benjamin and Edward of this place, Henry F. of Idaho, John F. of Grand Rapids and Frank of North Dakota, and Miss Minnie, who is staying at home. The funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

Chief Deputy Game Warden Charles E. Hoyt arrived home today from a trip through the northern part of the state, where he has been rounding up game and fish law violators. The Bennett Company, of St. Ignace which was arrested some weeks ago for feeding venison to its men, pleaded guilty and ended the case as far as the game warden's department is concerned. Mr. Hoyt visited Marquette and several other cities during his trip and also spent considerable time in the woods.

Geo. Hunt traveling agent for the Pere Marquette, was severely injured in a railroad wreck yesterday in Aurora Ill. As he was getting on the car, a freight train run into his train and in the mixup Mr. Hunt had two ribs broken, two fingers smashed and received a severe cut over the eye. He was taken to the hospital and after being given medical attention was sent home. He arrived here last evening and was taken to his home on East Fourteenth street. Dr. Mersen has charge of the case.

Mr. L. Hoffmeijer, Mr. J. Bekman and Miss Jacobs are on the sick list.

Mr. Fred Hoch's house in which Mr. Parkinson is living was struck by lightning Sunday, March 12th. Considerable damage was done to the house and furniture, which loss was partially covered by insurance.

Farm work has begun in real earnest. The "oldest inhabitants" don't remember another spring like this. Last week Thursday the earth was full of frost and roads were full of snow, and by the following Monday the frost and snow were gone and the farmers were making garden.

Belle Carver of Laketown and John A. Greenwood of Holland were married in the latter city last Saturday by Justice Leonard Y. DeVries.

Geert Jipping and wife to Gerrit Speet, 10 acres of section 1, Laketown, $1,000.

Mrs. J. W. Adams is on the sick list she has been ailing about two weeks.

There were 38 neighbors and friends at the barn raising of Jake De Pree.

Quite a number of farmers have begun plowing for oats. Spring work has begun in earnest.

John Nyland is building a house for his father.

Saugatuck.

The citizens of Saugatuck and vicinity should not forget the Educational meeting that today and tomorrow convene in Saugatuck High School room. Dr. Gaylord, Mr. D. B. Waldo, and Mr. Keeler will instruct the friends of Education in the latest phases of educational problems.

E. S. and Mrs. Pride have returned home for the summer. It was his intention to wire his house for electric lights and put in the plumbing for water and sewer on his return but as the electric light Co. show no signs of going ahead with the work that part of the program will be postponed.

Griffin & Henry are building a shingle shed about 80 feet east of their office, and the red warehouse is being moved to a place between them.

Samuel Shaver is thoroughly remodeling his cottage next to his home on Lake St. Only the frame of the old structure is being kept, for there are new windows being put in it and it will be plastered throughout.

A. B. Miller has moved back to Saugatuck and occupies 20 Lake St.

Mrs. Wm. Rencha has just received the sad news of the death of her mother at Grand Ledge.

Wm. Rencha has bought the Cecelia Gleason place on Lake St. near the bridge.

West Olive.

One of our most highly esteemed young men, John C. Welling, was united in marriage to Miss Grace Maat, March 20, at the home of the grooms father Mr. Wm. Welling, one of Olives most prosperous farmers. Mr. Welling jr. will make his home in Holland where he is associated with the H. J. Heinz Co. Success to you John and best wishes.

Mrs. F. A. Fredrick's brother and sister arrived in Holland Wednesday morning via no dust route. Being exhilarated by the balmy lake breeze they took the pedestrian route arrived at West Olive in time to eat a good square dinner. We are pleased to say they are here to spend the summer.

Jim Schaefer's oldest son had the misfortune of dislocating his shoulder. Dr. H. L. Smith reset the painful dislocation and at present the young man is doing nicely.

Leonard Garnett purchased J. R. Pixley's horse and buggy and moved same with his household goods to Shelby where Mr. Garnett recently purchased a splendid farm. Mr. Garnett however will remain with us as section foreman for the time being.

J. F. Binns has thoroughly renovated the house formerly known as the Irish place and placed thereon a summer kitchen which greatly improves the appearance of this home. We are to congratulate Mr. Binns on his workmanship.

Kooiman Brothers of Grand Haven loaded a car of rye for the eastern markets Wednesday. This being the first introduction to these gentlemen at this place and we earnestly hope they will become better acquainted with our people and come again.

Overisel.

Miss Elizabeth Louisa Schaap and John H. Ter Avest were united in marriage Tuesday noon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Schaap by Rev. M. Van Vessum. The bride and groom were attended by Miss Eva Allen and Albert Boone of Holland. Mr. and Mrs. Ter Avest will make their home in Coopersville.

The Reformed Church will expend $500 in remodeling the parsonage and in the mean time Rev. and Mrs. J. Kuizenga will live with their parents in Holland.

Rev. Kuizenga has been attending a meeting of the classes at Holland this week.

Muskrats

The annual crop of muskrat skins is being collected preparatory to shipping consignments to the fur dealers. Large numbers of the muskrat skins are shipped from Holland annually, and considering the shortness of the season the supply this year is larger and the skins of better quality than they have been for some years.

John Kartsen and Jacob Flieman, the Holland fur buyers, report the skins as being plentiful and of excellent quality. The "rats" are very fat this spring, and this ensures a smooth, glossy pelt. That the animals are in better condition this year than usual is attributed to the fact that the past winter has been steadily cold, giving the animals little chance to go out of their houses and move about.

Down in the weeds and roots at the bottom of the marsh the muskrat builds his house in the fall on some sunken log or snag. He builds carefully so that there is an opening above the water through which he can climb in quest of food and still have his house dry. The house is carefully divided into two rooms, one of them being scrupulously reserved for sleeping and one for eating. At intervals Mr. Rat sallies forth and gathers a collection of roots and other toothsome dainties to be found in marshes and, retiring to his dining room, eats it at his leisure.

When the winters are cold and the "rat" does not do any unnecessary traveling he gets fat with his life of ease, and it is in this condition that the trapper likes to find him.

Last Hope Vanished.

When leading physicians said that W. M. Smith of Pekin, Ia., had incurable consumption, his last hope vanished; but Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, kept him out of his grave. He says: "This great specific completely cured me, and saved my life. Since then, I have used it for over 10 years, and consider it a marvelous throat and lung cure." Strictly scientific cure for Coughs, Sore Throats or Colds; sure preventive of Pneumonia. Guaranteed, 50c and $1.00 bottles at W. C. Walsh's drug store. Trial bottle free.

Benjamin Stegenga of Iowa is visiting relatives and friends here.

Married, at the residence of the bride Friday afternoon, Charley K. Prins of Crisp and Miss Grace F. Kraai of New Holland in the presence of about 100 guests. Rev. DeJonge, of Crisp performed the ceremony. The young couple have always lived in this vicinity and have the respect of all.

AFTER GRIPPE.

OR ANY SEVERE SICKNESS OUR DRUGGIST CAN DEPRESS, ADVISES HOLLAND PEOPLE TO TAKE VINOL.

Every Person Recovering From a Severe Illness May Be Quickly Restored to Health and Strength by Vinol.

Mrs. G. I. Partridge of Franklin, Mass., who recently celebrated her 60th wedding anniversary, writes:

"The gripple left me in a very weakened condition—no appetite, thin, nervous and no vitality. Nothing seemed to help me until a friend brought me a bottle of your Vinol. I commenced to take it, and it gave me a hearty appetite, my health and strength returned until I feel like a new creature. I consider Vinol a wonderful medicine for any one who has had a severe sickness; it makes strength and vitality so fast."

We have never sold in our store such a valuable strength creator and health restorer for the convalescent as Vinol. This is because Vinol contains in a concentrated form all of the vital principles of cod liver oil, but without a drop of oil to upset the stomach and retard its work.

Vinol purifies and enriches the blood, tones up the digestive organs, and strengthens every organ of the body to do its work as nature intended.

We ask every person in Holland who has been ill to try Vinol on our guarantee—to build them up and make them well and strong. We return money if it fails. Con De Pree Druggist.

An Appeal To Drinking Men.

There is not a drunkard upon earth whom Orrine will fail to cure. It is a scientific remedy for the drink habit, discovered by a well-known Washington chemist, and completely and absolutely destroys the craving for drink. No detention from work or business; no publicity of sanitarium treatment.

Orrine No. 1 is in powder form, and can be given secretly, without the patient's knowledge, in tea, coffee or food. Orrine No. 2 is in pill form, for those who take the remedy of their own free will. There is no nausea or other ill-effects from the use of Orrine. On the other hand, it quiets the nerves, regulates digestion and brings restful sleep, good appetite and perfect vigor.

Write to the Orrine Company, Inc., Washington, D. C., for free booklet, mailed in plain envelope. We heartily recommend Orrine to all who wish freedom from the slavery of drink. Ask us about Orrine. The S. A. Martin Estate, Druggists, Holland, Mich.

The Union High School Athletic association is planning for a track meet to be held in Comstock park April 29. The team has arranged dates for track team meets with Holland, Grand Haven, Hastings, Cedar Springs, Ionia and Grand Ledge.—Grand Rapids Post.

THE NEWS IN BRIEF.

For the Week Ending April 5. The recent massacre at Baku, Russian Caucasus, cost 2,000 lives.

Ralph Voorhees, of New Jersey, has donated $100,000 to the American Tract society.

President Palma's message to the seventh Cuban congress is decidedly optimistic in spirit.

Bishop Favier, of the Lazarist mission, died at Peking Tuesday. He had resided in China for 40 years.

New York's records for the last week show that 128 persons died from the mysterious epidemic of meningitis.

Oxford won the sixty-second annual boat race between the universities of Oxford and Cambridge, defeating the latter by three to four lengths.

Fire at Presque Isle, Me., burned two blocks, three connected buildings occupied as stores, and a residence. The loss is estimated at $60,000.

Edward Hines, of Chicago, has closed a lumber deal with N. Ludington & Co., of Marinette, Wis., for 70,000,000 feet of all grades. The consideration is $1,500,000.

The home of W. J. Thompson, ten miles south of Charlottesville, Va., was destroyed by fire. Mrs. Thompson and her two children were burned to death.

Peter Hardy, aged 26 years, was killed by President Roosevelt's special train at Mingo Junction, O., while attempting to board an east-bound freight train.

Montague White, professor of oratory at Beloit college, was accidentally drowned in Rock river, at Beloit, Wis., and a student named Roy Andrews was a narrow escape.

The fourteenth continental congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution will be held in their new Memorial hall in Washington, D. C., beginning April 17.

While Prince and Princess Brogli were riding in a motor car to Naples at a speed of 45 miles an hour their car ran over and killed a woman. The prince was arrested.

Seven Princeton, Ind., industries were tied up as a result of the demand made by the American Federation of Labor for an advance of 25 cents per day for unskilled workmen.

Lester Henry, an Indian, said to be a graduate of the Carlisle school, ran amuck with a shotgun at Little valley, near Corry, Pa., killing one Indian and wounding half a dozen others before his arrest.

Charles Scott, aged 30 years, and Ray Scott, aged 19, of St. Charles, Mich., were drowned in the marsh near that place, while duck hunting. A storm that came up suddenly capsized their duck skiff.

VARICOCELE & STRICTURE

No other disease is so prevalent among men as Varicocele. As it interferes with the nutrition of the sexual organs it produces weakness, loss of semen through the urine, decay of the organs, pains in the joints, aching in the back, nervousness, despondency, bashfulness, palpitation of the heart, constipation, and a combination of these results in complete LOSS OF MANHOOD. Thousands of young and middle-aged men are troubled with STRICTURE. If you have reason to believe you are afflicted with it, don't neglect it. It will ruin you. Don't let doctors experiment on you by cutting, stretching or tearing it. Our NEW METHOD TREATMENT dissolves the stricture tissue, hence it disappears and can never return. We cure Varicocele and Stricture without operation or loss of time. The treatment may be taken at home privately. Send for our Free Illustrated Book on VARICOCELE AND STRICTURE. WE GUARANTEE TO CURE OR NO PAY.

Kidneys & Bladder

All sexual complaints affect these organs, hence the kidneys are a great source of disease. Have you aching or weakness over the small of the back, tendency to urinate frequently, deposit in the urine, coldness of hands or feet, a drowsy feeling in the morning. Don't neglect your kidneys. Our NEW METHOD TREATMENT is guaranteed to cure any disease of these organs or no pay.

O. W. Rowe, of Jackson, Mich., says: I had varicocele in the secondary stage and two strictures of 8 years' standing. I was operated on twice, undergoing great suffering, but only got temporary relief. I was finally advised to try the NEW METHOD TREATMENT of Drs. K. & K. The enlarged veins disappeared in six weeks, the stricture tissue was removed in eight weeks and my sexual energy and vitality returned so I was a man in every respect. I recommend you doctors with my whole heart.

FIGHTING.

MORE BLOODSHED IN CITY OF WARSAW

POLICE BREAK UP A SOCIALIST DEMONSTRATION AND FIRE INTO CROWD.

As Result of Fusillade Four Men Are Killed and Forty Wounded—Bomb Thrown in Street at Lodz Tears Off Feet of Official.

Warsaw, April 3.—A serious conflict occurred at 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening in Dzikia street, where a Jewish socialist society, known as the Bund, had organized a demonstration. The police which came to disperse the gathering fired into the crowd, killing four persons and wounding 40 others. The trouble began when, under the pretext of holding a memorial meeting for a late Jewish socialist leader, a crowd of over 1,000, mostly Jews, carrying red flags, marched into Dzikia street and was met by a mixed police and military patrol of 20 men. The police declare the socialists fired revolvers at them, the leaders inciting the mob to attack the patrol, which thereupon fired several volleys into the crowd. Four men were killed and 40 wounded. The crowd removed all but nine of the wounded, two of whom were women. These were taken to the hospital. It is expected that two or more of the wounded will die. The dead and wounded were all Jews. The police made many arrests. Other disturbances are reported to have occurred. The streets had been patrolled throughout the day, the authorities having anticipated trouble.

Injured by Bomb.
Lodz, Russian Poland, April 3.—Police Commissioner Szabalowicz, of the second district, was seriously injured Saturday by a bomb which was thrown at him in the street.

The police commissioner had been summoned by telephone to come to the office of the chief of police, and started on foot, followed by a policeman. The former noticed at the corner of Konstantinowsk and Zawarski streets a poorly clad man carrying a basket. As Szabalowicz approached the man suddenly hurled a bomb, which exploded with terrific force, blowing off the commissioner's feet and severely wounding him in the breast. It is feared his injuries will prove fatal.

Would-Be Assassin Dead.
Lodz, April 4.—The would-be assassin of Police Commissioner Szabalowicz, of the second district (who was seriously injured Saturday afternoon by a bomb which was thrown at him in the street), is dead. He never regained consciousness after being cut down by the policeman who arrested him.

Amendment Sustained.
Des Moines, Ia., April 5.—The Iowa supreme court Tuesday handed down a decision sustaining the amendment to the state constitution providing for biennial instead of annual elections. By the adoption of this amendment there will be no general election in Iowa this fall, and terms of all officers whose terms expire then are extended one year.

Industrial Parliament.
Washington, April 5.—Preparations are being made for the meeting of the southern industrial parliament, which will assemble in Washington on May 23, and continue until the 26th. The object of the meeting is to formulate plans for the development of the material resources of the southern states.

Death Sentence for Woman.
New York, April 5.—Anna Valentine, who was convicted of the murder of Rosa Salza, at Lodi, N. J., a year ago, and whose attorneys have been making every effort to save from the gallows, on Tuesday was sentenced to be hanged on Friday, May 12.

Enormous Immigration.
New York, April 1.—Immigration to this country, through the port of New York for the month of March reached unprecedented figures, the total arrivals numbering 97,000. Last year for the same month the arrivals were only 47,877.

Admission Price Fixed.
Portland, Ore., April 1.—Fifty cents has been fixed as the general admission price to the Lewis and Clarke exposition. Commutation books will be sold at reduced rates.

GERMANS PREDICT EARLY END OF WAR

EMBASSY AT ST. PETERSBURG BELIEVES CLOSE OF CONFLICT IS NEAR AT HAND.

PEACE MEANS LOSS OF ALL TO THE EMPEROR

Personal Objections Stand in Czar's Light—The Japanese Capture Two Towns, According to Tokio Report—Austrian Captain Lost.

Berlin, April 5.—Peace at an early date is regarded as probable by the German embassy at St. Petersburg and in consequence of dispatches received from there by the government during the last three days this opinion circulates in official circles for the first time since the war began. The Russian emperor, it is true, has not yet decided for peace, but the grand dukes and all, or practically all, the members of the court who have access to the emperor are for peace. His majesty is described in the gossip that goes about here as standing alone irresolutely. The considerations that still delay his decision are personal ones, he feeling that his reign is a failure if Russia does not win the war and that his prestige as a sovereign will be lost at home and in foreign countries, but he cannot yet bring himself to speak the word that will set the peace negotiation in motion. Much good will and sympathy are felt for the Russian emperor in higher official life here, but it is regarded as a certainty that he must yield to his family and ministers, and that the month will not end without peace. In the meantime the prospect of peace and the incertitude of the emperor weakens the military administration and delays the execution of plans for fresh armies and the gathering of new supplies.

Army Reports Routing Russians.
Tokio, April 5.—Imperial army headquarters reporting says: "A part of our Changtu force drove the Russians out of Tsulushu, two miles north of Changtu, and also out of Sumiencheng, nine miles west of Tsulushu, and occupied both places on April 3."

"After driving the enemy from the neighborhood of Soumiaotzu, six miles southeast of Tsulushu, our force reached the vicinity of Santaukou on April 4, at noon, when they were fired upon fiercely by about 500 Russian cavalry retreating north along the railway. Our force dispersed them."

Austrian Captain May Be Dead.
Gen. Kuroki's Headquarters in the Field, April 4, via Fusan, April 5.—The Japanese army has been making a fruitless search for information as to the fate of Count Scheptzky, a captain in the Austrian army and the military attaché of that government with the Russian army in Manchuria. Count Scheptzky has been missing since the battle of Mukden. He is not among the prisoners or wounded in Japanese hands. It is possible, however, he may have escaped into Chinese territory. If killed, he has probably been buried as a Russian among the dead of that army.

Russian Losses at Mukden.
Harbin, April 5.—Complete returns received at headquarters give the total Russian losses in killed, wounded and prisoners at the battle of Mukden as 107,000. The wounded are being taken away from here over the Siberian railway as rapidly as possible in order to free the hospitals preparatory to a renewal of the fighting.

Dies Suddenly.
Bloomington, Ill., April 1.—Dr. E. C. Hewett, for 15 years president of the Illinois state normal school, died suddenly Friday. He was 77 years old.

MRS. CHADWICK GIVEN STAY

SENTENCE WILL NOT BE EXECUTED TILL FURTHER ORDER.

Convicted Woman Is Visibly Impressed When News Is Received—Attorney Is Pleased.

Cincinnati, April 5.—Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick was Wednesday granted a stay of execution by the United States circuit court of appeals, the decision being announced by Presiding Justice Lurton when court convened. The stay of sentence is to hold until the further order of the court, it appearing that a writ of error had been sued out within the required 60 days and a copy of the same had been lodged in the clerk's office of the lower court. After the decision of the court had been announced Judge Francis J. Wing, counsel for Mrs. Chadwick, said that he expected to be able to present the appeal some time during the month of May.

Mrs. Chadwick, when shown the telegram announcing the stay of execution, was visibly pleased. She read the dispatch several times and then exclaimed: "That is good. I thank you for bringing me this cheering news."

J. P. Dawley, senior counsel for Mrs. Chadwick, was much pleased when he read the dispatch from Cincinnati, saying that the circuit court of appeals had ordered a stay of execution of sentence in the case of his client. "It indicates," said Mr. Dawley, "that the circuit court believes that there is a legal proposition involved in the case which is worthy of its consideration, or that the petition filed by us shows, at least, prima facie evidence of error in the lower court."

QUESTION.

Dear heart, if we could walk away Adown the vales of yesterday, Could climb again like laughing Hope Each green-clad knoll, each verdant slope, Could sit and see the rivers shine Through beech and fir and spruce and pine, Would we achieve all that we knew Of peace and love betwixt us two?

If we could see the clover bloom And catch the far-blown sweet perfume Of the wild flowers of the wood, Know everything that seemed as good In those bright days to you and me, The shadow of the buckeye tree, And everything, would your soul then Speak through your eyes to mine again?

If we could stand beneath the moon In purple shade by the lagoon And see the poplars slim and high In silhouette against the sky, And see afar the city's light In thousand stars against the night Where the moonpath just shuns the shore, Would we be as we were once more?

Would we—would we between us two? Would that rare bond that once we knew Hold our two souls as once it did, When my warm kisses were unchid? I know the knolls and slopes are there, The whole vast scene! The skies are fair As they were then, my heart beats true! Do you still treasure all we knew? —J. M. Lewis, in Houston Post.

A Rice Pudding

IN the first place, they were both elderly, sober-minded, dignified people, so there was no possible reason why anyone should be inspired to play ridiculous tricks on them when they finally decided—after 20 years of waiting—to get married and go east on a long wedding trip.

Thomas Carr was 53, a deacon in the First church at home, and a business man of standing and reputation, whose frosty side-whiskers were more likely to inspire respect and awe than levity. Sarah Anderson, his bride, owned to more than 40 summers and possessed a quiet and serene disposition—which latter fact proved, after all, a great blessing.

Then they took care to see that no one was invited to the wedding who might have been moved to do anything foolish in the way of throwing old shoes or rice after the bridal party. And Thomas Carr, with a craft and guile which hurt his conscience, concealed the route they were to take and the hotel they were to stop at in Chicago—at least he thought he did.

No, indeed! There should be no foolishness about their wedding trip. They were too old to be stared and laughed at. On the train to Chicago they sat in the same seat, but Sarah looked out the window, while her newlywed husband read the morning paper, with hardly a glance in her direction. As a matter of fact, he played the part of an uninterested escort too well to suit the bride, who, after all, was a woman.

On arriving in the city, they took the common bus and were driven over to the Sherman house, where Thomas wrote, "Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Carr, Earville, Ill.," on the register, without betraying in any way that he was doing anything unusual.

"About two dollars, please," he said.

"YOU'VE FORGOT SOMETHING."

when the clerk asked him what sort of a room he wanted.

"By the way, Mr. Carr," the clerk called after him as he turned to rejoin his wife, "there's a package came by express for you this morning."

"Send it up to the room," said Thomas. Mr. and Mrs. Carr had agreed that they would spend a whole week in Chicago. Thomas had arranged to leave his business for a month or two, and there was no reason why they should hurry.

The boy brought in the package. Sarah looked at it, and saw it came from Earville.

"I wonder what it can be?" she said. Thomas allowed that he had no idea. He tore off the outside wrapper and unpeeled, one after the other, half a dozen other layers of tissue paper. Finally there stood revealed a large china plate a curious white something, rounding at the top and about the shape of a half watermelon.

"What in all fishhooks is that thing?" asked Thomas. Sarah poked it questioningly with one finger. Part of it broke off and crumbled away into little particles. A look of comprehension, half amused and half angry, came over Sarah's face.

"Why, Thomas, it's a rice pudding," she said.

"A what?" "A rice pudding, I suppose," she went on with a laugh. "They thought rice in the form of a pudding would be more suitable to our age. But I thought you had concealed our stopping place?"

"What are we going to do with it?" asked Thomas, anxiously. "I can't ask anybody around the hotel to take it away without letting them into the fact that we've just been married."

"Well, Thomas," said his wife, "if we stay here the Earville people will be sending us all sorts of foolish things, like's not, now they know the address. I think we'd better keep right on east. We can take the pudding with us and leave it on the train when we get off. That'll be easy enough."

She did the pudding up carefully, plate and all, in the various papers which had originally swathed it, while her husband went down to pay his bill and arrange for taking the evening train for the east. When they got into the cab to drive to the station she carried it on her lap. On the way a bright idea seized her.

"Thomas," she said, "we'll leave this pudding right here in the cab. Perhaps the cabman will take it home to his family. I've no doubt it's a good pudding. Looks like one of Cousin Mary's baking to me."

When they got to the railroad station there were two solicitous porters waiting at the entrance to assist passengers, but Sarah managed to get Thomas and the other bundles out in safety and then stepped down herself, leaving the pudding lying safely on the seat of the cab. She caught Thomas going down the steps and whispered to him that she had got rid of the incubus.

"Lady, lady," a voice sounded behind her just then. "You've forgot something."

It was the other porter, and in his hand he bore the devoted pudding. He came running down after her and handed over the package with a smile so compelling that Sarah felt forced to ask Thomas for a dime with which to reward him.

"Never mind," she said, "we'll get rid of it on the train, all right." Her husband nodded his head.

"Let's drop it out of the window," she suggested, with a sudden burst of inspiration, after they had found their seats in the sleeper. That seemed a good idea to Thomas, but, unfortunately, the train was one of the latest vestibuled arrangements, with not an unguarded opening from one end to the other. Thomas wrestled in vain with a window, and when the porter was appealed to for assistance he raised the window, indeed, but it was protected by a screen which prevented the egress of anything more substantial than a hairpin. Besides, it was cold outside, and both Thomas and Sarah were presently shivering in the draughts of icy air which swept in on them. They were both relieved when a red-faced man across the aisle leaned over and said in an injured tone: "Say, my baby isn't well, and I wish you'd put that window down."

The porter came and lowered the window with a look on his face that seemed to indicate that the two passengers on that seat were mentally unsound. In the morning, after the berths were made up, Sarah shoved the rice pudding out of sight under the back of one of the seats. Now, she was sure, they would get away from it in safety. They got off at the station, the negro porter assisting. Thomas felt so good at noticing the absence of the pudding that he gave the man 50 cents. They climbed into a cab and were half a block away when their ears were saluted with shrill cries from the rear. The cab came to a stop at the side of the street.

"Heah's a package you lef' undah the seat, sah," said the negro porter, sticking his head into the open door of the cab. "I done run 'till Ah'm out uv breef-a-catchin' up to you sah."

Thomas groaned, took the loathsome thing in his right hand and handed the porter a quarter with the other.

"Oh, don't, Thomas," his wife pleaded. "If you do, we'll be arrested for littering the streets, I'm sure."

"Do you expect me to carry a rice pudding about on my lap during the whole of our wedding trip, madam?" he demanded, with dignity.

"Just wait till we get to the hotel, dear," she said. "I'll get rid of it, somehow."

For more than a week the unfortunate couple were haunted by that rice pudding. A dozen times they thought they had got rid of it, only to have some porter or other messenger come running after them, panting and out of breath, to restore the treasure and collect his fee for thoughtfulness. Once they tried to feed it to a dog, but the animal turned up his nose at rice and almost bit Thomas, who was trying to force it to eat. They left it in their room in a hotel, and the boy who carried down their bags brought that also, with the remark: "I found dis on de top shelf in de room, 'um. Once I found a man's laundry up dere an' he give me half a dollar."

Finally they and the pudding, by this time riding their heels like a Nemesis, came to a little inn in the old Connecticut town where Thomas had been born and reared. One side of their room was occupied by an old-fashioned brick fireplace. The chimney was old and there were big cracks between the bricks.

"Now," said Sarah, "I'm going to get rid of it."

She crumbled the pudding into tiny flakes of rice, her husband sitting helplessly. Then she put a chair into the fireplace opening and climbed up on it. A handful at a time she stuffed that pudding into the cracks between the bricks on the inside of the chimney.

"Perhaps," said Sarah, when she was through, "perhaps the chimney swallows will find it."

"Thank heaven," said her husband, fervently, "What should I have done without you?"—Chicago Tribune.

FAVORS STATEHOOD FOR THE TERRITORY

ROOSEVELT PAYS TRIBUTE TO PEOPLE IN RETURN FOR ENTHUSIASTIC GREETING.

DELIVERS SPEECH TO MUSKOGEE AUDIENCE

Chief Executive Is Routed Out of Bed by Kansans at Early Hour—Talks to Gatherings Along Route—Makes Several Stops.

Muskogee, I. T., April 5.—President Roosevelt paid a tribute to the people of Indian Territory and commended them as eligible for statehood in a brief speech at Vinita, where a stop of two minutes was made at 9:08 a. m. Wednesday. The little city was more profusely decorated than any place through which the presidential train had passed. The station was decorated with flags and bunting, and an immense sign suspended at the point where "the Rocket" stopped bore the words: "Welcome to our president." As the train slowed down a salute was fired. Hundreds of people on foot and horseback and in vehicles of all kinds pressed about the train.

Refers to Statehood Question.
The president's reference to statehood was widely applauded. He spoke as follows:

"I cannot say what pleasure it is to me to be to-day in the Indian territory, which I earnestly hope will soon be part of a great state of our union. (Cheers.) I have never had the good fortune to be in the territory before; but I had the great good fortune to have some of your sons in my regiment; and better and truer men never rode a horse nor handled a rifle. (Cheers.) All I need to say of them, speaking to you of the great war, is that we tried in the little war to show that we had some of the spirit that the men had who fought in the great civil war. You will soon be a part of one of the great states of the union (for surely we will see Oklahoma and the Indian territory admitted into statehood), and when that takes place, you will be at the outset a great state. Then it will lie with you to see what kind of state you make of it."

Short Stop at Wagoner.
A stop not in the schedule was made at Wagoner. Several hundred people were waiting about the depot platform. It had been intended that the train should slow down, in order that the citizens might see the president. The train stopped long enough, however, for the president to talk to the people on the question of statehood for the territory.

Routed Out Before Breakfast.
Vinita, I. T., April 5.—President Roosevelt was routed out before breakfast Wednesday. The presidential special stopped at Parsons, Kan., at 7:30 o'clock to change engines, and a crowd of 5,000 persons gathered around the private car "Rocket" and attracted the attention of the occupants by shouts of "Where is he?" Several negroes called: "We have been waiting since four o'clock to see you."

The president hurried his dressing and stepped to the rear platform, where he was cheered. The citizens of Parsons had sent to the car a huge bunch of American Beauty roses, which was placed on the breakfast table. The crowd was not satisfied with merely seeing the president, and in response to a demand for a speech he greeted the people briefly.

Through Indiana and Illinois.
St. Louis, April 5.—From Louisville to St. Louis President Roosevelt took more than a passing interest in Indiana and Illinois, the two states through which his special train passed. He discussed with his guests the relative merits of the states from an agricultural point of view and the warmth of the people as displayed at the various places the special stopped or hesitated. At a dozen or more towns the train slowed down, and at most of these great crowds were at the depot cheering as long as the train was in sight. He made three speeches en route. They were at Milltown, Ind., Huntington, Ind., and Mount Vernon, Ill. At East Junction, near Princeton, Ind., where a change of engines was made, the president jumped down from the rear platform of the train to shake hands with a number of employees of the railroad shops there. The train ran through Princeton slowly, to give the president an opportunity to hastily review several hundred school children who had been assembled near the railroad tracks.

All Quiet in Hayti.

Washington, April 5.—A cable from Minister Powell, at Port au Prince, was received at the state department, which gives assurances that everything was quiet in Hayti, and that the cruiser Brooklyn, which went to Hayti waters upon rumors of gathering revolutionists, has been ordered away.

Aldermanic Bribe Case Reversed.

Madison, Wis., April 5.—The supreme court Wednesday reversed the decision in the bribery case against ex-Alderman William Murphy, of Milwaukee, and ordered a new trial. Murphy was convicted of accepting a bribe of $80.

Junta Representative Dead.

Jacksonville, Fla., April 5.—Jose Huan is dead at his home here. During the war with Spain he was the representative of the Cuban junta, fitting out many filibustering expeditions for the aid of the Cuban revolutionists.

Stood Pat!

What can be done when the republicans stand together has been demonstrated in the election last Monday. They have not listened to the usual democratic whispering to cast aside party lines and have turned the election into overwhelming victories for themselves. Even the idol of the democratic party of this city came so near biting the dust of defeat, that nervous prostration prevailed the ranks of the democratic party.

What has been done can be done again, bear this in mind next spring.

The Recount

The vote on Monday for clerk showed only a difference of five votes in favor of Wm. O. VanEyck, and for this reason the Republican candidate, G. W. Kooyers filed his petition applying for a recount: Mr. Kooyers was represented by Attorney Walter I. Lillie and Van Eyck was represented by W. H. Walker of Grand Rapids, at first some objections were made by Walker that the petition of Kooyers was not brought in specific enough for each ward according to law, but this was settled at last by the council who took a vote on the matter all deciding that a canvas should be made in each and every ward.

The law provides that each candidate can appoint from the body of aldermen, one of the aldermen who will represent him and the mayor is authorized to appoint the third, which completes the canvas board. Mr. Kooyers appointed John Kerkhof, Mr. Van Eyck, Jacob G. VanPutten and the mayor E. P. Stephan.

Then the recount began and proved to be a slow and tedious job lasting until after midnight. The gains and losses of candidate were as follows: First ward Van Eyck gained 1, Kooyers 0; Second ward, Kooyers lost 1, VanEyck 0; Third ward Kooyers lost 1, VanEyck gained 1, Fourth ward, Kooyers lost 7, VanEyck lost 3; Fifth ward, Kooyers gained 1, VanEyck lost 2, giving VanEyck a majority of 10. The vote will be found correct in a tabulated statement elsewhere.

At the close of the contest Mr. Kooyers shook hands with Mr. Van Eyck and congratulated him on the result, stating that he was well satisfied. He also thanked all his friends who so loyally stood by him, and said that two years from now he would try again. Mr. Kooyers will no doubt be the logical candidate at that time and deserves the support of the republican party.

James Whelan, who was to have had a recount on aldermen in the second ward has withdrawn his petition, being satisfied that no change would materially change his vote, and aldermen elect Gerrit VanZanten, will represent the second ward for two years.

Holland Township.

Holland township witnessed a republican landslide. There were two tickets in the field, republican and citizens; the result being as follows: Supervisor—John Y. Huizinga, r, 265; J. J. Van Dyke, c, 89; majority 176.

Clerk—A. Vander Haar, r, 278; no opposition.

Highway commissioner—Johannes DeHaan, r, 198; John Meeuwse, c, 161; majority 37.

Treasurer—John Van Zanten, r, 247; Benjamin Lemmen, c, 92; majority 155.

School inspector—John S. Brouwer, r, 270; L. S. Sprietsma, c, 70; majority 200.

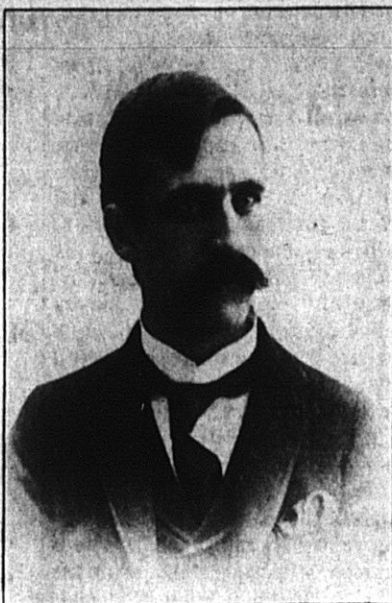

Member board of review—J. G. Witteveen, r, 253; Doeke Bos, c, 97; majority 156.

Justice of the peace—Christian D. Sehlleman, r, 275; no opposition.

Constables—Den. Tozer, Henry Chapman, Philip Heyboer, Gerrit Riemersma. Each republican received 272 votes, a majority of 199 over the citizens' candidates, the following receiving 73 votes each: John Van Dyke, Ed Scott, Henry Hazenkamp, Isaac Houting.

There was but one ticket in the field in Zeeland township, and of necessity these candidates were elected. There were many blanks, but the most noticeable cuts were made on C. Rosenraad, candidate for supervisor, many substituting J. Goosen's name. The opposition to Rosenraad arises from the fact that he is generally accredited a democrat while posing as a republican. In the first precinct, which includes Zeeland village, 212 republican votes were cast, with about a score of democratic ballots in evidence. The vote polled at Vriesland was about the same. The result:

Supervisor—C. Rosenraad.
Clerk—William Van Koeveering.
Treasurer—William Witvliet.
Highway commissioner—John De Weert.

The Workingmans View
Editor Holland City News: In regard to the removal of the freight yards from Waverly, Mr. Walsh in last weeks Sentinel stated the business men's side of the question. Please give me a little space to state the working mans side. Mr. Walsh advocates more factories. That is a move in the right direction. Bringing more factories into the city would create a demand for labor. This in its turn would cause an increase in wages. Those factories now paying small wages would be compelled to pay higher wages or lose their workmen. Any move tending to better the condition of the laborer benefits the whole city. From who does the city derive the most benefit? The wealthy manufacturer who makes his money here and lives in some other place or the man who earns his money here and spends it here? The merchants of this or any other city depends upon the laboring class for their support. We hear the argument that with an increase in the profits of a factory there is a corresponding increase in wages. Do we find it so in our city? No, quite the contrary. But we do find that with a decrease in the profits a reduction of wages is the first thing heard of. Let your committee who has the bonus fund in charge use it as Mr. Walsh says in getting more factories here and they will be helping the city more than another railroad would help.

Come! Holland wake up, or you may awake some day like Rip Van Winkle and find yourself twenty years behind the time.

A Workman.

Doing by the Board of Public Works.

Collector Westveer reported the collection of $1,979.89 for February light rentals Superintendent De Young reported that 25,668,540 gallons of water were pumped in March.

At Tuesday evenings meeting the paving of River street was discussed, but nothing definite was done. It was the opinion of the board that water services and sewer connections should be put in at least a year before the paving was done so that it will not be necessary to tear up the paving.

The board received the recommendation of Superintendent De Young that three new tubular wells be sunk at the Nineteenth street station. The estimated cost of the work is $581.85, but the board has on hand material to the value of $151.85 which can be used and lessen the expense.

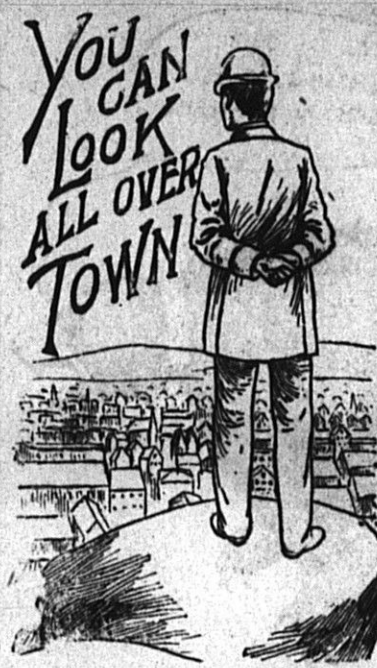

Superintendent DeYoung was instructed to notify Rens & VanEss, contractors of the West Sixteenth street sewer, that they must at once remove the sand from that sewer, or upon order of the board the city would do the work at the expense of the contractors. There is still due the contractors $80, and this will cover the expense if the city is obliged to do the work.

The petition for a sewer on East Sixth street was referred to a committee composed of A. Visscher and J. Dykema and they were also delegated with authority to take up the matter of laying a water main on the same street, as well as a railway sidetrack to the main lighting station.

A very important matter came up in the way of getting a public play grounds to children, which has been a long felt want, on these grounds the boys will not be restricted from many of the pleasures that are forbidden any where else in the city. Messrs. Van Putten, Dykema and De Young were appointed a committee to make estimates of cost and submit plans on converting into play grounds the land at the Nineteenth street water station. The city owns about three acres of land there besides that occupied by the water station, and on this ground tubular wells are located. The wells are all below the surface, however, and so far as appearance they do not exist and form no obstruction to improving and leveling up the ground. The grounds are well adapted for base ball and all outdoor sports.

Annual Report

The postal year so far as office receipts are concerned closed at the Holland postoffice March 21. The figures show the total receipts from all sources to be $18,000 as against $17,460 last year, an increase of $540. This increase is not so large as it has been in other years, due largely to the stationary condition of Holland in a commercial and industrial way.

March 31 also closed the first full quarter since the establishment of three additional rural routes and the reconstruction of the seven old routes. The report for the quarter shows that on the 10 routes a total of 121,371 pieces were delivered; and 18,985 pieces collected, making a total of 140,356 pieces of mail handled.

During the quarter on the 10 routes 61 pieces of registered mail were delivered, and 34 collected, 301 money orders were issued, and stamps to the amount of $305.91 were sold.

Mr. Bird Tells of Havana, Cuba.

Prado is the finest boulevard in Havana. Not only is it the center of Havana, but it is the center of everything that goes to make life enjoyable in a tropical country. Beautiful shade trees surround the whole park, while along the many walks are beautifully designed flower beds, blooming the year round. In the center of the park is the band stand, concerts three nights a week. Beautiful women and children are to be seen everywhere on these evenings. Havana is noted far and wide for its lovely women. At the opera, too, during which some celebrated Italian troupe sings at the Tacon, one hears most excellent music and sees an array of celebrated Cuban beauties, one notices an occasional black-browed brunette or sumptuous blonde with golden hair, but it is exceptional, the majority being neutral tinted. At the foot of the Prado are located the penitentiary and jail and a visit through these prisons is one of the sights of Havana. The garrots chair is kept in the carcel, and strangers not only see this instrument of death, but also the executioner, who is a prisoner.

To the right of the Prado and facing the penitentiary is the spot where the eight innocent medical students were cruelly shot to death by Spanish soldiers, November 27th 1871. A tablet marks the place where they fell, with the name of each young man inscribed. To see President Palma palace, senate chamber and other interesting sights in that neighborhood, is one of the first things the stranger should desire. Colon cemetery, is the most beautiful cemetery in Cuba, containing some of the finest sculpture in the world, tourists should not fail to visit this cemetery, if only to see the Firemen's monument which cost $79,000. The "Maine" martyrs are also buried in this cemetery. The cathedral was built in 1724 containing the vault in which the remains of Columbus reposed prior to 1898 when they were removed to Madrid by the Spaniards and deposited in the Cathedral of Seville. San Alejandro contains paintings of the old Spanish and Dutch masters.

Before the American intervention in Cuba, besides the Roman Catholic Church, there were no others in Havana, except for a time a Methodist mission which was compelled to worship behind closed doors. After the American intervention began more liberal ideas of religion prevailed United States began to send their representatives here.

The locality of these missions and the names of those conducting them are published each week in the daily journals of the City. The genial editor, H. B. Leavitt, and Manager R. T. Tanner, keep constant "open house," and all strangers receive a most courteous welcome. A visit to Havana would not be complete without seeing Morro Castle and the Fortresses. It took an experienced guide nearly a whole day to take us on this trip, the tramp is a hard one, but well repays the effort. Morro, the magnificent old fort, is built of native limestone, which, freshly quarried, can be cut out with a saw, but, upon long exposure to the air becomes extremely hard.

The moss-grown walls of grim old Morro would not now long endure the battering of modern guns. An extensive system of subterranean passages connects Fort Morro with Cabanas. In Cabanas is the historic laurel moat where so many Cuban patriots were cruelly executed the vain effort to suppress insurrection and maintain the sovereignty of Spain. Visitors were furnished with a lighted candle to go through the dungeons. Prisoners were taken from their dungeons to the ghastly dead-line where they were lined up and shot and then fed to the crocodils and sharks. Our next trip was a sail around the harbor, this is quite an attractive trip to the visitor to see the fleet of picturesque harbor boats. These curiously rigged craft with singlepole mast and hooded awning, dotting the waters of the bay in every direction are the usual means of ferry. With a rag of sail spread to the fresh trade winds these boats develop a lively speed and offers an attractive means of visiting the many places of interest in the harbor, including the wreck of the ill-fated "Maine"

In our search for the unusual we came upon many quaint little restaurants where the linen was of so questionable a date that it seemed to have not even a bowing acquaintance with the wash tub and we would have it removed preferring to drink our morning coffee in a glass on a bare little marble-topped table. One wonders at the peculiar flavor of the coffee until discovering that the milk used in it is kept from turning by being well salted. Our favorite place for twelve o'clock breakfast, was on the roof of a cafe down near the Custom House which commands a view of the beautiful harbor where the waters of the bay dapples and glimmers in the most unbelievable lovely shades of blue and green while the wreck of the Maine adds a touch of gravity to the scene. To reach the roof of this fascinating little french restaurant where they serve you the most excellent oysters, lobsters and sea food of every variety, you must stumble up a pair of rickety stairs, and the whole place is so dirty looking and forlorn that you are completely taken by surprise by the dainty appearance of the roof. The floor is as usual, tiled, and gayly colored awnings protect one from the too scorching gaze of the ardent noonday sun. A little wall about three feet high runs around the roof flanked at each corner by barrels of growing flowers and ferns. A visit to the Havana Cigar factory is a very interesting sight, they manufacture some thirty different brands and employ twenty five hundred men, women and girls, they furnish the tourists with a guide to look over the factory. If I arrive home safely I will be able to treat some of my friends with a genuine Havana cigar. Pardon me dear reader, did space permit I could tell of a thousand and one attractions I have seen in Havana. So allow me to give you a description of my visit in the interior. After having visited all points of interest in the city the visitor would indeed have wasted his opportunities did he return to the states without having made excursions into the interior. Our trip in the western part of Cuba was very interesting, we took the Havana Western Railway. The engines and coaches are somewhat of the old American type and not over neat or clean. They have two class of cars, first and third class, the third class fare is one half, the only difference is the better class of people ride on first class passage. Along the line may be seen every variety of fruit and vegetables under cultivation; Pineapple and banana groves, cocoa and royal palms in avenues and graceful groups, coffee bushes, orange groves, and on every side the bushy mango, mangle and zapote trees, and many other tropical fruits too numerous to mention.

Third Church Reminiscences.

The teachers in the Third church Sunday school were entertained last Friday evening at the home of Rev. and Mrs. G. H. Dubbink. A very interesting program was presented, including a vocal number by a quartet composed of Messrs. John Vander Sluis and Henry Kleyn, Mrs. A. Leenhouts and Miss Maggie Beekman; a historical sketch of the Sunday school by Superintendent A. Visscher and a very instructive and edifying paper on "The Peculiarities of the Gospel of St. John," by John Winter. At the close of the program a social hour was indulged in, followed by refreshments.

Mr. Visscher's story of the history of the Sunday school was very interesting: He began with the organization of the school in 1868, Rev. Jacob Vander Meulen being pastor of the church at that time. The organization took place in the home of Mrs. Albert Plugger, located on the site now occupied by Hotel Holland. Isaac Cappon was elected superintendent and among the first teachers were; Jacob Labots, Robert DeBruyn, John Kerkhof, E. VanZee, K. Lief, W. Diekema, Mrs. Hazenbarg, Wm. Visscher, Herman Borgers, Jantje Kleyn, Mrs. G. J. Van Duren, Mrs. F. J. Schouten, Mrs. E. C. Oggeel and Mr. Pensink.

The language of the school at first was partly Dutch and partly English. In the fall of the year 1871—the year of the great fire—the church building was destroyed and the Sunday school lost its home and library. For a year or more following Sunday school was held in the Union school building, an old structure standing on the site of the present Central school building. From then the school moved to the Hulp Kerk, a one story temporary church edifice located on the southeast corner of the present church lot. The entire cost of this building was not in excess of $300. The labor was practically gratuitous, the teachers in the Sunday school and the members of the church assisting in the manual work.

In the year 1876 the school first occupied the present commodious church edifice and its wanderings were over. During these few years of financial loss and deprivation the school was generously remembered by christian friends who gave gratuitously a new supply of bibles and singing books and a considerable number of books for the library. During the first 20 years of the existence of the Sunday school the church had three pastors: Revs. Jacob Van der Meulen, H. Utterwick and Dirk Broek. The school had but one superintendent during that time, Isaac Cappon, who was re-elected each year.

There is no written record of the first 20 years of the Sunday school, the first authentic official record beginning with November, 1888. July 28, 1891, a farewell missionary service was held in honor of Miss Lizzie Cappon, who was about to depart for China. On October 23, 1890, J. Cappon resigned as superintendent having served for 22 years. A. Visscher succeeded him. In July, 1896, Rev. G. H. Dubbink assumed the pastorate of the church and took charge of the teachers' meeting, succeeding Dr. H. Dosker, who accepted a chair in the Western Theological seminary.

Concluding Mr. Visscher says: "Of our Sunday school we can hardly speak of its day of small beginnings. From the day of its organization it at once took a prominent place among the other schools of the city. We have no record of its enrollment from time to time but believe that we are safe in saying that this was always upwards of 200. It has always had an enviable reputation in this city for its high grade and very enjoyable entertainments, either in the form of Sunday school picnics or public exercises, as well as for its general order and discipline in the school and efficiency in class work. Our school has always been generous, especially to the cause of missions."

In Financial Difficulty.

The Grand Haven Glove Co. was levied upon by the Sheriff's office Monday for the amount of three circuit court judgements which were rendered against the concern by Judge Padgham yesterday. The judgements were in favor of George H. Wiltshire of Chicago for $3,057.77; Legalett, Hellwig Tanning Co. Chicago, $300.78; the Chicago Tannery Co. $301.56. These claims were made against the company and judgement was taken by default. Two more claims were filed in circuit court today against the company, one by Isaac Levy of San Francisco for $2000, and another for $1000 from the Grand Rapids Paper Box Co. These levies will undoubtedly mean that the plant in the fourth ward will be closed temporarily and that the property of the concern will be placed in charge of a sheriff's custodian. Until a settlement of some kind can be reached the plant will remain idle. It is understood, however, that an arrangement for clearing away the difficulty will be made and that the plant will be running once more in about a week's time.

Sanford A. Burnham, secretary and general manager of the Grand Haven Glove Company, though his Attorney W. I. Lillie, has filed motions to set aside the judgements against the company recently given by the circuit court to George H. Wiltshire, Legalett Hellwig Tanning Co. and the Chicago Tanning Co. Mr. Burnham in his documents sets up the fact that the plaintiffs are not residents of the State of Michigan and gave no security for costs in the action. He further alleges that the service of the declaration of the commencement of the suit was made up on Charles Wiltshire, president of the company, without the knowledge of the other officers of the company. He further claims that the president purposely concealed the service and allowed the judgment to go by default of non-appearance because he wished to cripple the company and get the concern in his individual hands. Burnham states that he never knew that suit had been commenced until the levies were made upon the plant and he sets up a claim that the company is entirely solvent and able to pay its debts. The secretary asks that each judgment be set aside and that he be allowed to enter his appearance in the matter. Three separate motions are filed with the county clerk, but all contain practically the same allegations and claims. During the trouble the glove factory is shut down under the levies and the employees are getting a vacation.

The Spool Cotton Co. of New York commenced suit last Tuesday for a sum amounting to about $300 against the Grand Haven Glove Co. The motion to set aside the judgements held against the Grand Haven Glove Company by George H. Wiltshire, Legalett & Bellwig Co. and the Chicago Tanning Company were denied by Judge Padgham in circuit court this noon. The case will probably be taken to the supreme court.

Later developments show that the claims have been paid and the men ordered to resume work.

EVERY SPRING.

In the brume of early morning Every twig is wet with dew, And the earth is moist and smelly With green shoots a-peeking through, And the sap is climbing upward In the elm and the oak, And the thrashpiles are a-filling! Every evenin' full o' smoke.

In the morning there's the singing Of the birds' sweet nesting song, And the country lures and coaxes And your heart says: "Go along!" In the evening there's the walking Through the spring awaking street, In the evening there are carpets Hanging out for you to beat.

And at lunch-time there's your helpmate With a dustrag in his hand, And you eat some cold potatoes And a slice of last week's bread, And you eat it in a hurry And you gulp your coffee down So that you can hang some pictures Ere you hustle back to town.

There are ladies' restrooms furnished In 'most every town you know; But in the house-cleaning season Man hath not a place to go. Every couch is sad and tumbled The washday has each apron! Poor, poor man, in this glad season Hath not where to lay his head. —T. M. Lawie in Houston Post.

MINE EXPLOSION COSTS MANY LIVES

DISASTER DUE TO ACCUMULATED
GAS OCCURS IN COAL SHAFT AT ZEIGLER, ILL.

Thirty-Seven Bodies Have Been Recovered and List of Victims May Be Larger—Explosion in Cartridge Factory Kills Three.

Carbondale, Ill., April 5.—Thirty-seven bodies of miners who lost their lives in the gas explosion at the mine of Joseph Leiter at Zeigler Monday have been recovered, and it is supposed several more bodies are in the mine. The exact number of dead will probably not be known for several days, at least not until the mine has been dewatered and the gas and persons are permitted to enter. Among the dead is William Atkinson, state mine examiner for the Seventh sub-district, who lost his life in an attempt to perform his duties as mine inspector, and who died while trying to reach the bodies of those who were entombed.

Accumulated Gas Cause.
The belief is that the gas which accumulated over Sunday, owing to it being alleged by W. D. Ryan, secretary of the United Mine Workers of America, to the fact that the miners did not know how to deal with fire damp, and that the mine was full of it.

A cage was resting at the mouth of the shaft to allow a force of mechanics to enter the mine. J. L. Wood, of Cleveland, O., was stepping on the cage when the explosion occurred. He was killed outright. The flames, leaping out of the shaft, burned several others, all of whom may recover. An overcoat worn by one of these workmen was torn from his back and carried to the top of the shaft, 100 feet away. A six ton cage was blown 500 feet from the bottom of the shaft to the tipple. A miraculous escape from death was experienced by a workman on the air shaft. The concussion hurled him 60 feet into the air, and he fell outside the stockade, 75 yards away. Besides a few slight bruises he was not injured.

Three Killed in Explosion.
Bridgeport, Conn., April 5.—In a terrific explosion that blew to pieces one of the brick buildings of the Union Metallic Cartridge company shortly before the close of the day's work Tuesday, three men were instantly killed. The only man in the building at the time, John Meary, was blown through the roof, with a great mass of debris, and came down dead. Two helpers, Michael Hurley and William Bayless, working near the building were also killed. The explosion occurred in the dry house, where primer caps are dried on long steam pipes. In some manner one of the caps was discharged and the explosion followed.

NAVAL BATTLE EXPECTED.

Clash Between the Fleets of Rojstven-sky and Togo Apparently Imminent.

St. Petersburg, April 5.—News of a battle between Rojstvensky's and Togo's fleets is expected any day. There has been an air of suppressed excitement at the admiralty for several days. This, it is learned, is caused by the knowledge that Rojstvensky's ships are approaching the zone where their discovery by Togo's scouts may be expected at any hour. It is no longer a secret that the Russian fleet sailed from Madagascar on March 16 under orders to proceed to Vladivostok in order to engage the Japanese squadron if it cannot elude them. Rojstvensky has been 18 days on his voyage. His progress necessarily is slow, for he has a great fleet of coalers and supply boats and he must coal at sea. But at the lowest calculation he has steamed 1,800 miles to 2,100 miles of the distance between Madagascar and the Malay straits. Togo's scouts are known to be watching outside of Singapore and Sunda straits. It is assumed naturally that they are cruising west and south of the island of Java. It is not expected that Rojstvensky will elude Togo's scouts. It is expected that a battle will take place. All the hopes of Russia are centered in this battle.

Crusaders Go to Jail.
Wichita, Kan., April 5.—Carrie Nation, Myra McHenry, Didda Muntz and Lucy Wilbert, temperance crusaders, who are awaiting trial for wrecking the glass front of a wholesale liquor house some time ago, voluntarily went to jail Tuesday in order to release a $1,000 bond furnished by Mrs. Nation. Mrs. Nation wanted the money to loan.

Indiana Bank Closed.
Ladoga, Ind., April 4.—The doors of the Bank of Ladoga were closed Monday. In a statement the officials of the Bank of Ladoga place the assets at $80,000 and the liabilities at $109,000. S. F. Kyle, vice president of the bank, said the depositors will lose nothing.

Heavy Damages Awarded.
Lima, O., April 4.—A jury in the common pleas court here awarded Joseph Hicks $35,800 for the loss of both arms. Hicks was a lineman in the employ of the Lima Rail Light company three years ago, when both arms were burned off at the shoulder by a live wire.

Four Killed.
Branchville, S. C., April 3.—As a result of a serious wreck on this division of the Southern railway Sunday, a few miles below Branchville, near a small lumber station called Badham, four persons are dead.

Many a Holland Citizen Knows How Sure They Are.

Nothing uncertain about the work of Doan's Kidney Pills in Holland. There is plenty of positive proof in this in the testimony of the citizens. Such evidence should convince the most skeptical doubter. Read the following statement.

F. Brieve of West First street, employed at Moore's Soap factory, says: "I suffered from kidney trouble for ten or twelve years and until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at J. O. Doesburg's drug store I never found a remedy which gave me effectual relief. I had constant aching pain in my loins and soreness over the kidneys. The kidney secretions became irregular, and I suffered from headaches and attacks of dizziness. I took Doan's Kidney Pills but a few days when I felt they were doing me good and I continued their use until the trouble left me entirely."

DUNNE ELECTED MAYOR OF CHICAGO

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE DE-FEATS HARLAN, REPUBLICAN,
BY 24,248 PLURALITY.

Advocates of Municipal Ownership Win a Victory—Result of Elections in Michigan, Wisconsin, Missouri, Kansas and Elsewhere.

Chicago, April 5.—Judge Edward F. Dunne in the elections Tuesday defeated his republican adversary, John Maynard Harlan, for the mayoralty of Chicago by 24,248 plurality. With but one exception—that of the office of city attorney—the entire democratic ticket was victorious. Frederick W. Block, democrat, was successful in the race for the city treasurer'ship, as was his running mate, A. C. Anson, the famous baseball player, who was elected city clerk.

Among the aldermen the republicans were more successful, electing more than the democrats, thus assuring a republican majority in the next city council. On the city ticket, John F. Smulski, republican candidate for city attorney, defeated his democratic opponent after the closest night seen in the city in years. Not until every vote was counted was the result for this office known.

The struggle for the mayoralty was the bitterest that has been seen in this city in its municipal history. Judge Dunne in his campaign made municipal ownership the issue, and on this line the contest was fought out.

Victory for Municipal Ownership.
Speaking of his victory Judge Dunne said: "In view of the revolution it portends in the operation of public utilities in America and of the magnitude and power of private interests arrayed against us, I regard the result for the people. It means a new departure in America in the management and operation of street cars and other public utilities. If Chicago puts municipal ownership in force other cities of America will follow its lead. Chicago in this matter, as in all other matters, is in the vanguard of American cities."

In Wisconsin.
Milwaukee, April 5.—Election returns received by the Sentinel from various parts of the state up to midnight indicate that Charles P. Cary, the present state superintendent of schools, has been reelected over Albert Salsbury by a safe majority. The law passed by the legislature two years ago took this office out of politics and provided for the election at the same time as that of the judiciary. Quite a number of women took advantage of their right of suffrage on school matters.

The following cities elected republican mayors: Racine, Whitewater, Sparta, Oshkosh, Fox Lake and Virgo.

The following cities elected democratic mayors: Berlin, La Crosse and Monroe.

The following places voted for license: Lake Mills, Ripon, Darford, Waupaca, Viroqua, Thorpe, Milton, Milton Junction, Beloit, Whitewater, Delaven and Lake Geneva.

The following voted for no license: Clinton, Stoughton, Elkhorn and Barron.

Citizens' tickets carried in the following places: Kewaskum, Palmyra.

Beloit and Marinette elected republican councils. Darlington and Kenosha elected democratic councils.

In Missouri.
Kansas City, Mo., April 5.—Elections were held in many cities and towns of Missouri Tuesday. In most instances the issues were local in nature, and party lines were not distinctly drawn. In Jefferson City Henry J. Wallau, democrat, was elected mayor and the entire democratic ticket was elected, reversing the result of two years ago, when the republicans swept the city. A sweeping victory for the citizens' ticket, nominated by the joint republican and democratic conventions resulted in Sedalia. The socialists, against whom the other parties combined, made a vigorous campaign, but polled a small vote. Mexico was carried by the democrats. The republicans and democrats divided the offices in Nevada. West Plains went democratic. At Joplin C. W. Lyons, republican, was elected mayor.

Detroit, Mich., April 4.—Judge Joseph B. Moore, of Lapeer, the republican candidate, was on Monday reelected to the state supreme court by a majority of about 75,000. The republican candidates for regents of the state university, Arthur Hill, of Saginaw, and Dr. W. H. Sawyer, of Hillsdale, and the republican candidate for member of the state board of education, W. J. McKone, of Calhoun, were also elected by the same majority.

In the Twenty-eighth judicial circuit, Judge Chittenden, of Cadillac, who was beaten for the nomination in the republican nomination convention, was elected on an independent ticket.

Gustave Hine, democrat, was elected mayor of Greater Bay City, the first chief executive of the consolidated cities of Bay City and West Bay City. In Flint, D. D. Aikin, republican, and at Sault Ste. Marie Frank Perry, republican defeated the present democratic mayors.

because of the activity of women voters. Of a total registration of 18,000 voters, 5,000 were women, and the election of Rose is due to the women. Leavenworth elected Peter Everhardy, democrat, mayor by 200 majority over D. R. Anthony, republican. Finley Ross, republican, was elected mayor of Wichita by a large majority, and the entire republican ticket.

GIVEN A HIGH HONOR.

Theodore P. Shontz Is Chosen to Head
the New Panama Canal Commission.

Washington, April 3.—Theodore P. Shontz, of Chicago, president of the Toledo, St. Louis & Western railroad, will accept the chairmanship of the new isthmian canal commission. After a long conference at the war department Saturday with Judge Charles R. Magoon and Col. Clarence Edwards, both of whom will be his colleagues on the new commission, in company with the latter he called upon the president at the white house and discussed the appointment. It is understood that the president will fix his salary at a large figure to compensate him, as far as possible, for the financial sacrifice he probably is making in leaving his position. Mr. Shontz was born in Crawford county, Pennsylvania, and has been in the railroad business since 1881. He has been successively general superintendent, general manager and president of the Toledo, St. Louis & Western railroad.

Washington, April 4.—The personnel of the new isthmian canal commission is as follows: Theodore P. Shontz, chairman; Charles E. Magoon, governor of canal zone; John F. Wallace, chief engineer; Rear Admiral M. T. Endicott, U. S. N.; Brig. Gen. Peter C. Hains, U. S. A., retired; Col. Oswald M. Ernst, corps engineers, U. S. A.; Benjamin H. Harrod.

EARTHQUAKE IN INDIA.

Much Damage to Buildings in Various Cities—Some Loss of Life Report.

Mussoree, India, April 5.—A succession of earthquake shocks was experienced here Tuesday, commencing at 610 a. m. The first was the most severe and continued for three minutes, and during that time it was impossible for a person to stand without support. Eleven shocks were distinctly felt. Considerable damage was done to property. The left wing of the Savoy hotel entirely collapsed, the new Catholic church was wrecked, and every house in the place was more or less damaged. Several homes were hurriedly vacated. There were many landslides. The Mall cracked in five places. Several casualties are reported. One woman was killed and many natives were seriously injured. Reports from the Dehra Dun and Rajpur districts show that extensive damage has been done.

Lahore, British India, April 5.—A violent earthquake has occurred here, accompanied by serious loss of life and great damage to public and other buildings. The town hall is almost razed and the cathedral and Juma masjid, one of the finest mosques in India, are seriously injured. Other big buildings are cracked and fissured.

BLOWN TO PIECES.

Three Men Meet a Horrible Fate
Through Explosion in a Dynamite Factory.

Bay City, Mich., April 4.—A small tank used for the storage of nitroglycerin exploded at the dynamite manufacturing plant of H. H. Thomas, six miles northwest of this city, Monday. Three men, Moses Island, an Indian, 40 years old; George Godfrey, of Kawkalim, aged 26, and George Uhlbricht, aged 24, of Auburn, were in a building that covers the tank. They were blown to pieces. The cause of the explosion is a mystery. The monetary loss does not exceed $150.

WHOLESALE SLAUGHTER.

Negro Kills Wife, Her Mother and Father and Another Negro —Is Badly Wounded.

Batesville, Ark., April 5.—John Dow, a negro, went to Sulphur Rock Tuesday to seek his wife, who was at her father's home, and because she refused to return with him, he drew a pistol and shot her dead. Then he shot his wife's mother and another negro. His father-in-law secured a gun and shot Dow, but not fatally, the latter being able to return the fire, killing his father-in-law.

Death Ends the Prosecution.

Lockhart, Tex., April 4.—S. M. Nixon, a prominent politician and lawyer, died Monday of apoplexy induced by nervous collapse. His trial on the charge of murdering R. W. Malone and Capt. J. L. Veasy at Luling in a street fight a year ago was set for Monday. On the docket were two suits for $50,000 each filed by the widows of the dead men, growing out of the killing.

Betrays His Trust.

Boston, April 1.—Charged with the larceny of $5,500 from the estate of which he has been trustee for over ten years, Charles M. Reed, a lawyer, 60 years old, was arrested Friday and held at the city prison in default of $10,000 bail.

Simpson Tunnel Opened.

Rome, April 3.—The Simpson tunnel, the longest in the world, was inaugurated Sunday morning, when from the Swiss and Italian sides the first trains passed through, meeting at the center.

Dies Suddenly.

Bloomington, Ill., April 1.—Dr. E. C. Hewett, for 15 years president of the Illinois state normal school, died suddenly Friday. He was 77 years old.

In an address before the Minnesota Dairymen's association Professor Harry Snyder in speaking on the feeding of dairy cows called attention to the fact that some farmers unknowingly feed perfectly balanced rations as the result of experience, says American Cultivator. Whenever eighteen to thirty pounds of good, coarse fodder, depending upon its composition and water content, are fed along with eight to eleven pounds of mixed grains a reasonably well balanced ration is secured.

There is not such a great difference in the amounts of available nutriment in the different kinds of grain as to cause one to be preferred to another, except as to cost. With the exception of corn, two samples of the same grain, as oats, frequently show as much variation in composition and available nutrients as samples of different grains, as oats and barley. It is a question of combination of foods rather than one of special foods.

A mixed ration of corn fodder, bran, barley, oats and mangels will give better results than corn fodder with mangels and the same amount of only one grain. This is because the highest degree of digestibility is secured in a mixed ration. The farmer should know how to calculate and balance a ration.
Then pencil should precede and direct both the scales and the quart measure.
Too frequently feeding is guided by the eye alone rather than by the scales.

Although the experienced feeder can judge with a fair degree of accuracy the amount of feed that is desirable to use, foodstuffs vary too greatly in bulk and weight to entirely disregard the scales. To feed a mixed ration of three grains does not necessarily mean that each of the grains shall be carefully weighed at each feeding. A quantity of the grains can be mixed by weight and then a suitable measure holding the desired amount can be used.

A Well Bred Holstein.
Mercedes Julip's Pietertje Paul No.
29830 is one of the two great service bulls at Star Farm herd, Cortland, N.
Y., says Holstein-Friesian Register.
His dam, Mercedes Julip's Pietertje, holds the world's third largest A. R. O.
butter record of 29.57 pounds in seven days and recently sold for $2,000.

MERCEDES JULIP'S PIETERTJE PAUL.
She is the second highest testing champion Holstein cow of the world. The average per cent of butter fat in her milk during the entire time of her official test was 4.025 and the average production of milk for the week was eighty-two pounds per day. His sire, Johanna Rue II's Paul De Kol, is sire of fifteen A. R. O. tested daughters, five of them having averaged twenty pounds each.

Cause of Tainted Milk.
Dr. Gerber, the Swiss scientist, gives the following causes of bad or tainted milk:

Poor, decayed fodder or irrational methods of feeding.
Poor, dirty water used for drinking water or for the washing of utensils.
Foul air in cow stable or the cows lying in their own dung.
Lack of cleanliness in milking or manure particles on udder.
Keeping the milk long in too warm, poorly ventilated and dirty places.
Neglecting to cool the milk rapidly directly after milking.
Lack of cleanliness in the care of the milk, from which cause the greater number of milk taints arise.
Poor transportation facilities.
Sick cows, under diseases, etc.
Cows being in heat.

Watch the Herd.

Every member of the herd, young or old, should pass under the critical eye of the owner or his trusty assistant daily and preferably twice a day. The least symptoms of disorder, like dullness, loss of appetite, rough coat and irregularity of milk, manure or urine, should be noted and promptly receive the attention which it deserves. Experience is needed on the part of the caretaker to detect and correct the beginnings of trouble and thus maintain the general health of the herd.

Raising Calves.

A western experiment station reports an interesting experiment on raising calves on whole milk and skim milk.
The whole milk calves grew faster and looked much better for a time, but at the end of a year after both lots had settled down to rations other than milk the calves that had been fed whole milk could not be told from the lot that were raised on skim milk.—National Stockman.

Timothy Hay.

Timothy hay cannot be recommended as a dairy food. Its nutritive value is less than that of clover, while its cost is greater. It would better be sold to buy clover where the latter will not grow or grain of some kind.

REARING GEES.

When to Begin Hatching—Grass For the Goslings.

Geese generally commence laying in the latter part of March or first of April in the northern states, but the laying may be promoted by feeding an egg producing ration, and by removing the eggs from the nests and feeding well a larger number of eggs will be laid, writes A. F. Hunter in Reliable Poultry Journal. When they begin laying they should be watched a bit to locate the nests, as the goose will cover the eggs with straw, hay or other material to conceal them. Then, too, in cold weather there is danger of the eggs becoming chilled; hence they should be gathered and put away in a dry, cool place and turned half over about twice a week until they are put under hens or the mother goose.

When set under a common hen five eggs are probably all she can well cover—a good sized goose will cover twelve eggs all right. It takes thirty days to hatch goslings, and no eggs should be set earlier than about a month before grass usually begins to sprout in your locality; then young, tender grass shoots will be accessible to the youngsters. Sprinkle the eggs twice a week after the fifteenth day and two days before the eggs are due to hatch. When the goslings begin to hatch take them from the nest, wrap each one in a piece of old flannel or woolen cloth and put in a warm place by the kitchen stove. If left in the nest there is danger that the mother will trample them.

When they are about twenty-four hours old or when the hatch is done put them and the mother in a sheltered coop, with a board floor, and give them a feed of stale (but not moldy) breadcrumbs that are moistened with sweet milk, or water if you haven't the milk.
Fresh, clean drinking water should be by them also. Keep the brood confined in a small yard with plenty of young, tender grass for a few days or a week and feed four times a day on breadcrumbs, moistened with milk or water, mixed with cornmeal and wheat middlings.

Fine grit or crushed oyster shells should be accessible always. Keep the young goslings out of the water or from being exposed to a hard rain until they have grown a full coat of feathers. They should have the shelter of a dry, warm coop at night and should not be allowed to run in the tall, wet grass early in the morning. After they are well feathered they need little food or care.

Some Rules About Incubators.

First comply with the manufacturer's direction, as you can be sure that he will give the best advice possible as to the running of a machine that he has probably studied over for years, says the Feather.

Then be sure that you have placed the machine perfectly level.

Keep the lamps well trimmed and use the best oil you can get.

Remove all infertile eggs on about the eighth day and on the fifteenth retest them.

Commencing with the second day turn the eggs night and morning until the eighteenth day.

Do not open the machine while the chicks are hatching.

It is a good thing to let the chicks remain in the incubator for a day at a temperature of about 92 degrees.

Give them their first feed when removed to the brooders.

Give them for a few days fine gravel, stale breadcrumbs and hard boiled eggs, after that boiled vegetables, cracked wheat, meat, bran and green clover cut fine. As they grow they can be fed whole meat and oats. Green cut bone and milk also is good for them.
Never feed wet, sloppy food.

Profit in Poultry.

Few people realize what enormous quantities of poultry and eggs are consumed or how rapidly modern methods are revolutionizing the poultry business. Not many years ago there was not a large poultry farm in existence, and no one believed exclusive poultry farming could be made to pay, but today there are many large poultry farms which are giving a good account of themselves, and it is difficult for one to say what the limit is to the size of a poultry farm or the wonderful improvements in methods of handling and selling. It is certain that the American hen is making herself famous and is rapidly being recognized as on an equal footing with our other great interests, such as dairying, stock raising and other agricultural pursuits.—Commercial Poultry.

Remedy For Sore Eye.

Recently one of my cockerels got a very sore eye, originating, I think, from a cold, and as it became very annoying to the bird he would scratch it with his toes, which, of course, made matters worse, until at last it was entirely closed, and the lids stuck together from the foamy substance that came out of the eye. I applied a few drops of sweet oil each morning and evening for about ten days, and the eye is now in perfect condition.—Cor. American Poultry Journal.

Poultry Pointers.

Loose oatmeal is one of the best materials to feed young growing chickens.
It can be fed dry.

Confinement and idleness cause the rice of feather pulling.

Water is as important as food and should be supplied clean and fresh.

When fowls are permitted to roost in foul, damp houses it causes droopishness.

When the hens are laying abundantly lime should be kept before them at all times.

It is a good plan to feed wheat as the grain food at this time, as corn is too fattening.

OPERATION AVOIDED

EXPERIENCE OF MISS MERKLEY

She Was Told That an Operation Was Inevitable. How She Escaped It

When a physician tells a woman suffering with ovarian or womb trouble that an operation is necessary, the very thought of the knife and the operating table strikes terror to her heart, and our hospitals are full of women coming for ovarian or womb operations.

There are cases where an operation is the only resource, but when one considers the great number of cases of ovarian and womb trouble cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after physicians have advised operations, no woman should submit to one without first trying the Vegetable Compound and writing Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice, which is free.

Miss Margaret Merkley of 275 Third Street, Milwaukee, Wis., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
"Loss of strength, extreme nervousness showing pains through the pelvic organs, bearing down pains and cramps compelled me to seek medical advice. The doctor, after making an examination, said I had ovarian trouble and ulceration and advised an operation. To this I strongly objected and decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The ulceration quickly healed, all the bad symptoms disappeared and I am once more strong, vigorous and well."

Ovarian and womb troubles are steady-ly on the increase among women. If the monthly periods are very painful, or too frequent and excessive—if you have pain or swelling low down in the left side, bearing down pains, leucor-rhea, don't neglect yourself; try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schaap celebrated their silver wedding last evening and was congratulated by a host of relatives and friends from Holland and vicinity. A pleasant evening was spent and a sumptuous spread was partaken of. Many valuable presents were given, silver predominating. The reception took place at the old homestead of the late Jacob Schaap east of the Ebenezer church.

Wholesale Burglaries

Custodian Knutson has discovered that about ten cottages at the park have been broken into and at the present time it is hard to estimate the valuables stolen. Mr. Knutson states that three men and a woman have been hanging around the resorts for three days. Around every cottage broken into there are tracks of men and women's feet in the sand which had been blown on the porches during the winter. A boat in the bay was also found, which contained bed blankets, some women's wearing apparel and other articles which were taken from one of the cottages but the boat was abandoned because it leaked and in their flight some of the plunder remained behind. This same party was also seen several miles up the beach near the Castle by Knutson's hired man and on later investigation in that direction a smoldering fire showed the spot where the party had stayed over night. Some of the stolen articles were also found scattered about there. Two of the cottages entered are Taylor and Chapel cottage. Sheriff Whitbeck is here investigating the case.

Long Case Finished

The jury in the case of Hattie A. Dorris et al. claimants against the estate of Sarah H. Williams, deceased, contestants brought in a verdict in favor of the claimants to the amount of $2500 with interest amounting to $224. This share of the estate is larger than that originally given to the claimants before the commissioner's hearing.

The story of the case is rather an interesting one and while it is not exactly a will contest it deals with the apportionment of an estate. Hattie Dorris, who was a daughter of the late Sarah H. Williams, by a second marriage, has devoted her life to the care of her mother, and lived upon the little farm up in Tallmadge.

When she was eighteen years of age, Hattie Williams began to make preparations for leaving home and intended to learn the art of photography. The mother could not bear to have her daughter leave the farm and she begged her to remain with her during her old age. She agreed to give the daughter the farm as reward for the faithful attendance upon her mother. Hattie Williams agreed and took up a rather isolated life with her mother. When she was thirty years of age Charles Dorris came and offered marriage to her. But even this seemed impossible as the mother protested against losing her daughter. But Dorris agreed to allow his wife to remain with her mother and the marriage was solemnized. Dorris rented the old farm home from Mrs. Williams and the newly married couple settled down to the farm life.

The mother grew feeble and the care seemed to fall heavily on the daughter. Mrs. Williams, true to her word, made a will leaving the farm to Mrs. Dorris, but she feared there might be a slip and she destroyed the will, giving her daughter a deed to the place instead.

Upon Mrs. Williams' death the other members of the family heard of the arrangement between the mother and daughter and immediately began to investigate. It is alleged that they threatened to arrest Mrs. Dorris if she did not destroy the deed and she obeyed. Then there was nothing to make good the mother's agreement. The estate then offered her two hundred dollars but she naturally refused to consider it. The matter was heard before the circuit court commissioners and Mrs. Dorris was given about two thousand dollars. The estate appealed to circuit court with the above mentioned result, giving Mrs. Dorris a total of $2724.97, which is somewhat above the value of the farm. The jury was out but a short time in the case and the following men served: Wm. Wiltvliet, Zeeland; Filmore Turner, Polkton; Leonard Ralys, Robinson; Albert Bolt, Grand Haven city; Thomas Garter, Wright; Egbert Schulte, Olive; Jacob Krygsman, Holland city; E. F. Cook, Robinson; Dick Grevengoed, Holland city; Henry Garrison, Polkton; Anthony Quinton, Spring Lake; John A. Wessink, Holland town.

Gas Plant Changes Hands

Local men have bought the plant of the Holland Gas company and the consideration was $100,000.

The former owners, were Bascom Parker of Niles, Eno Taylor and Julius Dick of Huntington, Ind.

The new company at once selected as directors, I. Marsilje, B. D. Keppel and George E. Kollen, and the directors organized as follows: President, B. D. Keppel; vice president, George E. Kollen; secretary and treasurer, I. Marsilje.

The manager for the company will be elected at a meeting held next Wednesday.

Bascom Parker was granted a franchise to operate a gas plant here in March 1903, and in September of the same year gas was turned into the mains. The plant now has 856 consumers, and applications for service are coming in fast. It is expected that new consumers will be added during the coming summer. A total of two million cubic feet of gas is manufactured and sold monthly, and the company now has 1,350 services laid.

The new company is capitalized at $200,000, one half of which is paid in. The business appears to be in excellent condition, and it is probable that extensions to the mains will be made during the summer, probably in the south and west portions of the city, where many new buildings are being erected.

Mr. Parker on leaving said that he had never been in a town where he found as nice a class of people to do business with, and intends visiting Holland again.

Hope Gets $20,000

"Responding to your commination in behalf of Hope college, Mr. Carnegie desires me to say that he will be glad to pay for the erection of a gymnasium and graduation hall at a cost of $20,000, provided the amount of $20,000 endowment is raised." This is the happy communication received by Dr. Kollen from James Bertram, Mr. Carnegie's private secretary and it means that another beautiful structure will adorn Hope college campus. The gift of the multi-millionaire came as a great surprise to this community.

Dr. Kollen has been in correspondence with the "Iron King" for sometime, and with the assistance of Dr. Donald Sage Mackay, pastor of the Collegiate church of New York city, who is a personal friend of Mr. Carnegie, they were enabled to secure the gift which means much for Hope. At the time when Dr. Mackay lectured to the students in January Dr. Kollen interested him in this work and the results is apparent.

According to Dr. Kollen's present plans the building will have a basement and a large auditorium. The former will be equipped as bathing quarters, and a store room will be provided. The large hall will be fitted up as the gymnasium proper, but on occasion the gymnasium equipment will be removed and the hall transformed into a large auditorium with a seating capacity of 1,200 or 1,500. Designed mainly for a gymnasium the floor must be level instead of inclined, but the erection of a high rostrum will remedy this.

Dr. Kollen has accepted the conditions under which the gift is tendered, and arrangements will be made at once to begin work on the building, so that before the college closes this spring the foundation for the new gymnasium will be completed. Every endeavor will be put forth to have the building completed before the opening of the college next September.

The location of the structure has not yet been decided upon but most likely it will be erected on the site of the present gymnasium.

Will Have a new Salting House

The farmers around Harlem held a meeting Wednesday evening for the purpose of inducing the H. J. Heinz Co. to put in a salting station there. The farmers feel as if the company ought to do this much for them, as there is an average of nearly 500 acres in this vicinity that are utilized in the growing of pickles and tomatoes. Mr. Atwood of the Heinz Co. attended the meeting and told the farmers that it was to late to erect a salting house for this year's crop, but that next year would find a yellow building with a big pickle on it in the place desired. Henry Harrington has been largely instrumental in bringing about this new state of affairs. John Meeuwseu presided over the meeting.

Was it Foul Play?

The parents of Charles DeFeyer were shocked Friday to get a dispatch from Las Vegas, New Mexico stating that their son Charles had been killed in a railroad wreck; but later developments show that there is a mystery surrounding the case which has not been fathomed. The part that puzzles the authorities is the inscription on the rough box in which the casket was shipped which contained the words "died of gunshot wound" which in a way explodes the first story.

It is understood that the young man carried considerable insurance made out to his mother in case of death and G. J. Diekema has been retained on the matter and will make a rigorous investigation. Mr. Diekema knows an attorney living at Las Vegas, and has written him about the matter, telling him to spare no efforts in finding out the details, and it is hoped that some new developments may be heard from in a few days. The body arrived Tuesday and was taken to the home of his parents. On examination it showed on the face numerous knife wounds and several bullet wounds. That he was murdered seems to be borne out by the meagre evidence so far brought to light.

The funeral was held yesterday afternoon from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter DeFeyer 49 West Tenth street, Rev. E. J. Blekkink officiating.
