Holland Sugar Mill Is To Be Opened Again

WILLIAM C. VANDENBERG
BRINGS FIRST SUNSHINE
AND AN INDUSTRIAL AWAKENING

His Report to Common Council
Brings Applause and Also a Rising Vote of Thanks.

One of the most gratifying pieces of news that could possibly come to Holland was found in the report of William C. Vandenberg, who was appointed some months ago to make an endeavor to have the Holland Sugar factory opened again. This large plant, once a hive of industry, has lain dormant for several years, but it is destined to be reopened this summer for the necessary acreage has been secured, the seed for beets is here and the other matters relative to legal procedure, etc., have all been arranged for.

The News is pleased to give Mr. Vandenberg's report in full for it is very gratifying to feel that this is the beginning of more industrial sunshine in Holland.

The report is self-explanatory and follows:

City of Holland.

To the Honorable Mayor and the Common Council:

On December 7, 1932, your honorable body requested me to undertake the task of reopening the local sugar mill. I am very happy to announce tonight that the sugar mill will be reopened this year and the only detail lacking is the formal approval of the receiver to a lease is a company to be known as the Lake Shore Sugar company. In view of economic conditions generally, the absolute need to Holland is that the sugar mill be reopened and the interest displayed throughout this entire community by the growers of beets of other days and many farmers wanting to grow them now—there is no doubt about the receiver readily approving the project. The Lake Shore Sugar company owns the first mortgage bonds of the old Holland-St. Louis Sugar company and they have associated with them men who know the beet sugar business.

For the reason that our sugar mill is one of the very smallest mills in the central states and because of soil conditions in this locality and the lack of interest in the raising of sugar beets during the last few years the mill was in operation, the Lake Shore Sugar company rather reluctantly agreed to operate the Holland mill this year. Now that they have decided to do so, however, I bespeak for them the hearty co-operation of western Michigan. I am sure it is our desire to have the mill open not only this year but into the future years indefinitely.

I am wondering whether your honorable body would have assigned this task to myself as an individual or to anyone had they known in advance that to make sure the mill would be reopened, it would be necessary to make three trips to Saginaw, three trips to Toledo, one trip to Mount Clemens, three trips to Detroit, three trips to Chicago, one trip to Lansing, two trips to Grand Rapids, and to hold seventy-seven meetings in an effort to revive and build up necessary financial support and interest in the growing of sugar beets to make the operation of the mill possible. I am frank to say that were it not for my own conviction that if ever this community were to get back on an upward grade, some time and effort would have to be spent in taking hold of our industries that are down and trying to help them, I do not know that I would have tackled the job. All with whom I had dealings in connection with the mill itself were cordial and friendly and the reception, interest and response at our meetings with the farmers was all that could be expected. These facts encouraged me to keep going.

This really was not a one-man job, and I want to, with your indulgence, give expression of appreciation first of all to my brother Vandie; he has gone side-length with me in this project and then, too, to Ed. Plaggenmeyer, who has been in my employ for almost fourteen years and who sees what has to be done and then goes ahead and does it.

If my assignment was to be successful I realized at once that I would have to negotiate with the receiver—and I think all are familiar with the fact that this plant has been in receivership for a considerable length of time—and also with the farmers of this community in an effort to interest them in raising sugar beets. Needless for me to say, both ends of the task required time and there was much detail to be attended to.

I enlisted the good offices of the county agricultural agents of Ottawa, Allegan, Barry, Kent, Muskegon, Newaygo, Oceana and Van Buren counties, and I want to go on record in publicly expressing my thanks and appreciation to them for 100 per cent co-operation without which I would have been lost as to knowing how to start. In passing, I want to say a word for our county agricultural agents because in my opinion they are being made the object of some very unjust and critical attacks on the part of some of our political units. I am impressed that these men know their business and are experts in their line and the farmers need them because of the help and advice they are able to render and the city folks need them because through their work we are getting better farm products.

In addition to our county agricultural agents, I solicited and received whole-hearted support from the farmers' co-operative associa-

QUO-VADIS IN SCRIP

Alderman Fritz Yonkman believes in letting the "tail go with the hide" when it comes to scrip. He thinks the desperate need is here for a circulating medium besides real money and "we should not look so narrow." He stated that Nero fiddled while Rome burned—"I am for scrip!" he said. History does not say just what started the fire in Rome, and scrip is not mentioned. However "Andy Klomp" says scrip is "hot stuff," but we hope not so hot that history of '71 will be repeated in Holland in '33.

Anyway there was one saving grace in the Roman city in the way of "cackling geese." It appears that episodes in the Holland common council in a measure parallels Roman history for it was even suggested by the city attorney that the mayor appoint a Mussolini on the scrip committee to alleviate the burdens of two aldermen and three attorneys, who constitute that committee. What a time that dictator is going to have.

HELD OVER

Because of belated news and advertising the column "Fifty Years Ago" must be held over for this issue. This interesting feature will appear as usual next week.

CHIEF LIEVENSE BELIEVES HE HAS BANK ROBBER

Chief of Police Lievensse arrested a man named Fred Zanger, aged 32, at Mt. Clemens, said to be the gangster of Chicago, and is holding him as a suspect in the First State bank robbery of last September.

Zanger was arrested by Mt. Clemens police on information furnished by Chief Lievensse and his aides following a search which extended over a period of several months.

"I'm positive the suspect we have is the man who did all the machine gunning at the rear end of the bank last September at the First State bank," Chief Lievensse asserted. "He's the only one of the gang I got a look at and I don't think I could be mistaken in his identity."

Chief Lievensse, undersheriff Edward Ryenga and Capt. A. A. Downing of the Rockford post of the state police, were en route to Pontiac to investigate another angle in the extended hunt for the yeggs when the radio message was received near Lowell over the radio receiving set in their automobile.

They altered their course immediately and drove to Mt. Clemens where they took Zanger in custody and brought him to Holland last night.

The man is locked up at the city hall where a show-up was held and several from Holland who saw the men were brought to headquarters to identify the suspect. The show-up will continue today, Friday.

ATTENTION!

The Tabulation of the entire county election returns are found on the next page.

A son was born April 4 to Mr. and Mrs. Gus Nelson of Chicago at the home of Mrs. Nelson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Kammeraad. The child has been named William. Mrs. Nelson was formerly Miss Cornelia Kammeraad of this city.

Bernard Vanderbeek was a business visitor in Detroit.

tions, granges, creameries, booster clubs and chambers of commerce. All of this was very fine, very much needed and highly appreciated.

Last, but by no means least, I wish also to give public expression of my thanks and appreciation to the newspapers of this community for publishing schedules of meetings and giving freely of their space and to all those who made it possible for us to use schools, town halls, and other places in which we have held our meetings.

The general spirit of wanting to help and co-operate was very splendid, indeed, and nothing could have been accomplished without it. After learning something about the capacity of the local sugar mill, which information was generously furnished to me by Mr. C. J. McLean, formerly superintendent, I set as my goal the securing of sufficient acreage to make possible the operation of the mill on a profitable basis. I am pleased to announce that we have signed up approximately 5,000 acres and in view of the fact that there is more acreage available in other sections of the state where mills are located than these same mills can possibly handle, our goal in that respect has been accomplished.

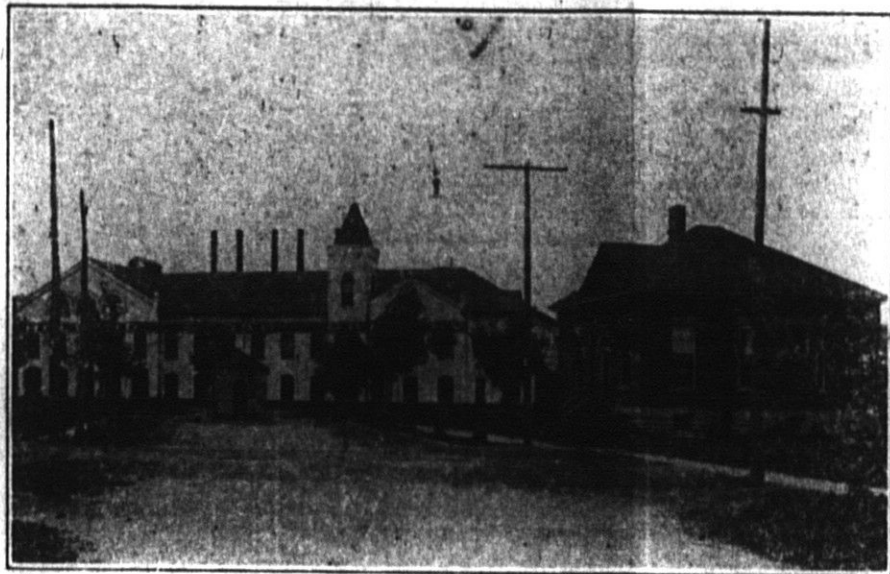

I would like to urge that farmers of Ottawa and Allegan counties, particularly, those who have soil suitable for raising sugar beets, that they come in and sign contracts without delay so that it will not be necessary to take any far-away acreage.

I have tried to give you the important points of the job assigned to me and the way it worked out. In closing I would like to urge that the city of Holland this entire community, having in prospect the reopening of this mill, pledge our support in a 100 per cent manner and that we use beet sugar and talk it to others, always having in mind that we ought to be boosters for a home industry.

If I have been of service to the community I want to say that it was a pleasure and I appreciate the opportunity.

William C. Vandenberg

HOLLAND'S SUGAR MILL TO OPEN

The Holland Sugar factory, we are pleased to state, is again to be put in order to make the pure white kernels of sweetness of yesterday. A decade ago the Holland Sugar mill was the most active spot during the fall and winter. It was a twenty-four hour campaign with several hundred actively employed night and day. Pyramids of beets nearly as high as the factory building filled the yards after the large car sheds had been filled. There were times, especially when teams were largely in use, that the parade extended a quarter of a mile from the factory, waiting to be unloaded. The day and night whistle, the change of shifts, was a welcome sound. We are pleased to announce that this activity is about to begin, first by putting the factory in order, then with activity on the farm and later when the beets are grown, the great sugar campaign at the mill begins, making pure beet sugar and other byproducts.

Now is the time to use beet sugar on your tables for Michigan cannot make enough to supply her own demands. Use Holland sugar—boost for the Holland product.

It is said that when thinning and weeding begins on the farm that at least 300 of those on the welfare list will be able to find work in the beet fields. That also was very encouraging.

EDITORIAL APPRECIATION

The Holland City News has no doubt but that it voices the appreciation of the city of Holland and the countryside in saying "Thank you" to William C. Vandenberg and his able assistants in making possible the opening of the Holland Sugar Company.

His report to the Common Council, fully given on this page, only partly reflects the tremendous task that has been accomplished and the obstacles that had to be overcome. At a time like this, when even the crumbs of good industrial news give the courageous more courage, a real achievement such as the opening of the Holland Sugar Company, which has proven in the past to open up so many diversified avenues of commercial and financial developments, should prove to be a tonic to build up renewed hopes in the minds and hearts of the most discouraged citizens of today.

Your editor knows that this sugar plant has been to Holland in the past. Thousands upon thousands of dollars were paid to the farmer. Much of this money was left in the city. Many thousands more were disbursed to labor during the fall and winter campaign at a period when such an industry was the most appreciated.

The opening of the sugar mill, while in itself most gratifying, we are assured that it will do more than reopen one industry for industrial development is contagious when once started. We have already heard during the day that another plant has called many of its men back and there is still a third enterprise where new activity and development may take place soon.

Mr. Vandenberg's achievement has not only opened an industry but has given us renewed courage and is instilling confidence in us again, an attribute that has been lamentably lacking for the past two years.

Mr. Vandenberg has shown that he believes in Holland. We can do no less than encourage him and others who endeavor to achieve in behalf of our wonderful city.

Do not let us always think of number one, but let us think of all. Then number one will share mutually as all share.

DECISION RENDERED IN AUTO ACCIDENT CASE

Diekema, Cross & Ten Cate have received the decision of the supreme court of Michigan, rendered yesterday, in the case of Dorothy Kimber vs. Harry Brower and Jacob Eding, and the court affirmed the judgment of no cause of action as to Jacob Eding.

The plaintiff started suit for injuries resulting to her when she was struck by a car driven by Harry Brower on the evening of December 4, 1931, after the dedication of the Hamilton auditorium. Plaintiff also claimed that Jacob Eding was liable for the damages she suffered, claiming that he was the owner of the car driven by Harry Brower.

The car was delivered to the garage of Jacob Eding on December 4, the date of the accident, but the certificate of title was not assigned or delivered to Mr. Eding until December 16.

The court, in deciding the case, says: "This court consistently has held in cases involving actions for negligent injuries as well as controversies between the immediate parties to a sale, that title to a motor vehicle passes from seller to purchaser when the former delivers to the latter assignment of certificate of title, and not before."

The court also ruled that there was not sufficient evidence of the alleged reckless driving of Mr. Brower to show any liability on the part of Mr. Eding.

A regular meeting of the Attic Players was held last Tuesday evening. Two one-act plays were presented. The first, "The Minuet," was directed by Mrs. Bruce Raymond, and parts were taken by Miss Betty Smith, George Damsen and Herbert Marsille. The second was called "The Girl." The cast included Earl Goosen, Elmer Winsink and Vernon Ten Cate, and was directed by Mrs. Ernest Penna.

MR. VANDER VEEN'S CONDITION IS MUCH IMPROVED AFTER ACCIDENT

For the past week J. A. Vander Veen, head of the Holland Furniture company, has been in a dangerous condition at Holland Hospital after serious injury early Thursday night when his car turned turtle, crashing through highway guards into a gully a few hundred feet from his home on the Park road.

How the accident occurred may never be known, and but for the timely appearance of Guy Kleis, son of Alderman Kleis, who was driving towards Holland and from the swirling of the road headlights knew that a car accident was taking place, rushed to the spot and there found Mr. Vander Veen under the wrecked car in an unconscious condition with his head beneath the water that recent rains had filled the ditch with.

Young Kleis was unable to extricate Mr. Vander Veen, but did the only sensible thing left for him to do, namely keeping the head of the manufacturer above water until other motorists stopped to lift the automobile and thus free the unconscious man.

He was taken to Holland hospital in an unconscious condition even before the ambulance, which had been called, arrived.

During the week Mr. Vander Veen has been in a semi-conscious condition at the hospital, but is said to be steadily improving and is taking a little nourishment.

The report that Mr. Vander Veen's legs were broken is absolutely untrue.

While not out of danger it is said his condition is much improved.

The chorus, composed of fifty voices, is under the direction of Mr. Baas. Miss Johanna De Pree will preside at the piano and John Pott at the organ.

The opening of the new lodge rooms of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks on Central avenue was signaled last Tuesday evening by the installation of the officers elected for the current year. N. J. Whelan, representing the Grand Lodge of the order, was in charge of the installation ceremonies, and he had as assistants those who in the past have filled the various stations. Arthur Van Duren occupied the chair of the exalted ruler for the ceremonies and other positions were filled temporarily by the following former officials: E. M. Cook of Allegan, and Brothers Bontekoe, Borgman, Meyers, McCarthy, Milesoski and Konklaf of Holland. The new quarters of the lodge are sumptuously furnished. Parlor, clubroom, reading room and lodge hall all bear witness to the efficient work of the special committee consisting of Vance Mape, Frank Dyke and Calvin Tardiff. Following are the newly installed officers: Exalted ruler, Walter Sutton; esteemed leading knight, Paul Weidenhamer; esteemed loyal knight, Dr. H. J. Masselink; esteemed lecturing knight, Harry Bronkhorst; trustee, Charles Fabiano; inner guard, Arthur Van Kollen; Tyler, C. M. Pippel; esquire, Calvin Tardiff; chaplain, L. J. Vandenberg; treasurer, E. W. Dick; secretary, H. D. Kelley.

The first violation of Zeeland's new photographer's ordinance was recorded in justice court Wednesday, when M. Maxwell of South Bend, Ind., paid a $10 fine and costs. The ordinance says each person taking photographs in Zeeland must pay a $200 yearly license fee or a fee of $10 a day to conduct business. The council passed the ordinance to protect local business houses.

Common Council Was Long Drawn Out Affair

REQUEST TO ESTABLISH A MARKET PLACE IN CITY DOING AWAY WITH PEDDLERS

Scrip for the City Brings Much Discussion; City Employees, Together with Teachers, May Get Scrip as Part Pay.

The common council participated in a two-and-a-half hour session last evening. The mayor and the city fathers, together with the audience, which was large, saluted the flag, and Alderman Steffens followed with a short prayer.

"Right from the bat" the matter of scrip came up through a communication of the Holland Merchants' association, asking that the city employees under the city government, be asked to help assimilate this scrip as part pay, the same as teachers are compelled to do. The resolution was signed by the secretary, Thaduis Taft, and was the outcome of a meeting attended by fifty merchants in the afternoon.

Alderman Kleis in a resolution supported the contentions of the merchants, that all should work in harmony and help Holland by co-ordinating with the city officials and the board of education in alleviating this temporary stressful financial strait in which we find ourselves.

Mr. Kleis, chairman of the scrip committee, reported that that body recommended postponement of the issue to allow a special committee to ascertain from the board of education and the local merchants' association what bills could be paid with this sort of paper.

Mayor Bosch thereupon gave a message which is self-explanatory, giving the status as to what could be legally done in the way of scrip. The message follows:

April 4, 1933.

TO THE HONORABLE, The Common Council of the City of Holland, Gentlemen:

Many of the citizens of Holland have made inquiry as to the connection between the City of Holland and the board of education of Holland, especially with reference to the proposed issuance of so-called "scrip" by the board of education.

In the first place the City of Holland constitutes a single school district and a school district is a body corporate possessing the usual powers of a corporation.

The board annually in the month of September presents to the Common Council an estimate and report of the amounts necessary to be raised for the support of the public schools, etc., and the sum so reported the Council of the City of Holland causes to be raised by tax, the amount being limited by the charter of the City of Holland.

It is, therefore, the opinion of the mayor of the city that the board of education is limited in its power to borrow for the payment of current expenses to the amount of the sum total of delinquent taxes already levied for school purposes.

It is the further opinion of the mayor that the board may borrow a further sum for the payment of indebtedness and interest incurred for the purchase of grounds and the erection of school buildings, the sum of 1 per cent of the taxable valuation of the property of the district.

It is the further opinion of the mayor that the credit of the school district as a body corporate is pledged for the payment of such "scrip" and not the full faith and credit of the City of Holland.

Respectfully submitted, NICODEMUS BOSCH, Mayor.

The mayor stressed the point as did City Attorney Lokker that the board of education and the city government are two separate corporations and are divorced financially and otherwise; that the board of education under home rule is responsible for its own affairs and by the same token the city government has nothing in common with the board of education. Both men were not opposed to giving full co-operation if this could be done legally, but the charter as well as the state constitution absolutely forbids that one assume the responsibilities of the other.

Mr. Lokker stated that the supreme court has long since ruled against such a procedure.

Mr. Geerlings of the board of education was then called upon and he said that the plan of the board was not to issue scrip so-called, but rather bonds which would be issued against delinquent school taxes, impounded bank deposits, in all $115,000 which would be ample to take care of $50,000 worth of these so-called bonds.

Mr. Geerlings said that teachers must have their pay and if scrip is illegal, we feel that the "baby-bond," so-called, will extend the credit of our board of education and we are in hopes that this paper can be redeemed before it comes due.

He pointed out that the bonds could be used for the payment of school taxes and as a moral obligation Holland is not going to allow its school bonds to default.

There was considerable discussion by several aldermen present as well as by the mayor after Mr. Geerlings had said "that unless all take part and assimilate this bond issue," that some merchants might become overloaded. Mayor Bosch immediately stated "that is just exactly what I don't want to see our city government become, overloaded with school bonds which would

AMERICAN FIRST—REPUBLICAN AFTERWARD

Former Alderman William C. Vandenberg sprung a pleasing surprise apparently getting ahead of some other committee, when he asked that the portrait of President Franklin D. Roosevelt be placed on the walls of the common council together with those of ex-Presidents Wilson and Hoover.

Mr. Vandenberg stated: "You all know I am a Republican but I am an American first, and I want to see our president's portrait displayed in this council chamber with the permission of your honorable body."

The vote was unanimous and "Bill" was given a round of applause.

A Terrible Tragedy Near Spring Lake

CRAZED HUSBAND KILLS WIFE, SON AND HIMSELF. FAMILY HAD QUARRELED FOR WEEKS.

Husband Told Friends Before the Murder that He Loved His Wife; Said "All Was Dark in His Head."

One of the most appalling tragedies to take place in Ottawa county occurred early Sunday morning when Louis Paul killed his wife, 54, and his son Tony, 25. The double murder and suicide took place two miles north of Ferrysburg on a lonely "out-of-the-way" farm.

The sheriff's force and state police were informed of the tragedy and closed in on Paul who had crawled in a shack on what is known as Jerusalem bayou, Spring lake. Here the man killed himself with his own gun, shooting himself in the breast.

Another son, William, 19, barely escaped the crazed man's gun as he was in the farm yard and heard the shot that killed Tony. He ran to the dying man and heard him groan and then yelled to his father to come back as Paul ran out of the yard down the road. The father replied, so the son said: "I'll get you, too," but Paul failed to shoot and continued north on the road. William ran two miles south to the home of Fred Vander Waggon, where he collapsed, calling on the neighbors to send for the police. He was "all in" when he arrived and could not tell them what had happened.

Officers from the Ottawa and Muskegon county sheriff's departments and the state police quickly mobilized and with some neighbors began one of the most intensive manhunts ever organized in this county. Paul ran about three and a half miles north, so the officers judged by his trail, and then backtracked south toward Spring Lake from bayou, where he was closed in on by the officers about 9 o'clock Sunday morning.

A State police officer was on the brow of a hill when it is believed Paul saw him. He had the 12-gauge double barrel shotgun, with which he had killed his wife and son, with him. He placed the butt of the gun on the ground with the head of the barrel to his breast. With a piece of lathe he pressed down the trigger in some way and the shot went straight through his body, piercing his heart. Officers saw him get up after the shot but he immediately sank back and died.

It is believed that the mother was killed on the front porch of the home as evidences of blood showed that the shooting had taken place there. The body was dragged through the house to a back bedroom and placed on a bed. Officers called by what they supposed was the death of the young man, were startled as they pulled a covering from the bed and saw the woman's body. William did not know until some time later that his mother had been killed.

Paul, police think, had a bitter quarrel with his wife and shot her, then waited on the porch for the return of his two sons, who had been to Muskegon for the evening. They returned about midnight. Tony came in his car. He left it outside the yard and walked up half way to the house when he was shot through the right shoulder, and fell near a small tree. William, who had come in about the same time but from a side road, came around the corner of the house from the rear. He heard the shot and saw his father run. He yelled to him to come back.

According to the officers the mother must have been shot at very close range, though the side, as the clothing was badly scorched and the shot went through the body. When Coroner Van Zantwick called, he judged the body had been dead for some time before the son had been killed, indicating that the older man had waited with the intent to kill.

The terrible deed of the farmer is believed to have resulted from a series of family quarrels, in which the son, Tony, appeared to be the center. It is said the father and mother had been having more trouble than usual for the past five weeks. Paul told a friend, Joseph Johan, upon whose property he shot himself, that he was crazy with worry and family troubles.

On Friday a warrant was issued by Sheriff Ben Rosema for the arrest of Paul, charged by Joe Martinique of the larceny of some small trees. Paul appeared before Justice Behm, demanded a hearing, which was set for Monday but never appeared.

Holland Holds Very Unusual Election

KNOCKS OUT OLD SUPERVISOR; GOES DRY; SHOWS CONSIDERABLE DEMOCRATIC STRENGTH

Although Holland's election day was rather a quiet affair, considering the many issues of vital importance, the whole outcome shows rather a mixed complex.

Holland and Zeeland and Holland township were about the only spots in the entire county to go dry and that, in a measure, was due to the fact that Wynand Wichers, one of our most substantial citizens, loved by everyone in Holland, and born in the city of Zeeland, was opposed by William A. Hanrahan of Grand Haven, who few people have met. Personalities were not supposed to enter into this election, but in the case of Holland, Zeeland and Holland town, undoubtedly the placing of Mr. Wichers on the ballot aided materially the dry side of the question. With three precincts missing the wets have a majority in Ottawa county of 928, with one precinct missing.

The majority for the dry cause in Holland was 368.

The state ticket, in a measure, was also a surprise. Although Republican, the lead of thousands was cut to a few. For instance, Chief Justice Clark won by 2,106 over Busnell, Democrat, who had 1,794.

John S. McDonald of Grand Rapids, one of the finest men on the supreme bench, had even less votes. His vote in Holland was 2,060 against Edward Sharpe, Democrat, 1,173.

The Socialists and Prohibitionists made very little impression on the vote, the total number in the entire city on the state ticket for the former being 84, and the latter 44. The rest of the state tickets, as this relates to the Republicans and Democrats, run about the same.

Grover C. Dillman, Republican, state highway commissioner, who has been the main target in the entire state campaign, had 2,143 votes in Holland as against 1,792 for Murray Van Wagner, Democrat.

The total vote in the city which is more accurately given on the state ticket where there is more straight voting was as follows by wards:

Rural Schools

The little red schoolhouses of sentimental fame usually are painted white or gray in Michigan, but they still exist in great numbers. Of the 6,775 school districts in the State, 5,138 maintain one-room schools. And these schools have an average daily attendance of more than 100,000 pupils. It is easy to see that the problem of educating these children and furnishing them proper facilities for study and growth is a considerable one, in which every citizen should be interested.

F. M. Thrum, of Michigan State College, has completed for the Michigan Commission of Inquiry into County, Township and School District Government a report on the condition of rural schools in several typical counties. He finds there is distinct waste in the present system of maintaining numerous, local, small, independent school districts and estimates that in a majority of the counties of the lower peninsula a fourth of the one-room schools could be closed with advantage to the pupils and to the taxpayers' pocketbooks.

In Ingham County, for instance, he finds 97 one-room schools, of which he closes 59 as poor and says 24 could be closed. The pupils would not have to walk too far to reach other schools, or they could be transported where necessary. They would enjoy better facilities and instruction, and the cost per pupil, including transportation, would be lower. As an example of extreme variance in costs, he points out that for the 549 schools in the State with 10 or fewer pupils per day, the cost is $13.95 per pupil a month, while for the 220 schools with 40 or more pupils per day, the cost is $3.96 per pupil per month.

Similarly in Cass County there are 83 rural schools, 61 of them poor, and 16 could be closed. In Antrim County there are 42 such schools, 23 of them poor, 14 could be closed. In Saginaw County, on the other hand, he finds the 124 rural schools hard pressed to care for the growing enrollment, and estimates only five could be closed.

It is clear that wherever it is possible to close some schools and raise the attendance average of the others savings can be made, or money be found to raise the quality of education, or, in many cases, do both. The method of accomplishing this, he says, would be to increase the unit of school government. Township units could make some of the savings, but a system of county units could make more.

However, Mr. Thrum adds a word of caution in describing the way the 1917 law permitting the consolidation of rural schools has worked out. Too frequently, he says, it has meant building bigger buildings, adding more expensive equipment, and hiring more teachers. What he suggests, on the other hand, is tackling the job with the idea of making the best use of facilities already existing.

Holland Holds
Very Unusual
Election

gadget, too, had a couple in the earlier days.

According to the latest reports, rock-ribbed Michigan has gone overwhelmingly Democratic by approximately 130,000 votes. The only lone Republican who graces the capitol will be Frank D. Fitzgerald, secretary of state, who was elected last fall. Apparently voters know their candidates for Mr. Fitzgerald was an outstanding figure as a public official.

It is only deplorable that men like John S. McDonald and John H. Clark, members of the supreme bench, peers in manhood and the essence of honesty, were swept aside in the landslide through the one-sided whirl in the campaign. Grover C. Dillman, regardless of political stories, was an outstanding public official, and this is not stated in a disparaging way, reflecting upon the opposing candidates.

Democrats are not to blame for the stand the people have taken, but it can be laid at the door of not a few men in our own party who have taken the Republican party as their own personal organ. Undoubtedly time will change a great deal of this, for without doubt there will be a whirlwind breaking loose within the party ranks. The Republican party must stand for all the people and the needs of these people, and no time is more auspicious than now. Both major parties have been guilty of retarding good measures that would bring credit to one or the other. It has been a deplorable attitude and an expensive pastime to our nation.

In speaking of the local contest, while the election of Peter Damstra seemed a foregone conclusion, Henry Luidens, the present incumbent, was defeated by Herman Van Tongeren, Al Joldersma being third in the race. The tabulation is found elsewhere.

There was also a spirited contest for a member of the police board, Huizenga defeating Henry Venhuizen by a narrow margin.

There was quite a contest on the fourth ward for alderman between Ben Steffens and Marvin Linderman, the present alderman, Mr. Steffens, winning easily, however.

William A. Thompson, won over Frank L. Smith and James H. Klomparsen in the sixth ward. Mr.

Thompson was an alderman before and made a very creditable showing.

In the third ward there will be another new face in the person of Neal De Cook, who won over John Knoll. Dixie Hyma, who has served the city well for a good number of years as alderman of that ward, refused to take the nomination again this year.

For many years the constable job was considered the appendix of the city ballot. Because of the deputy system they were rarely called upon to do any work. But this year the woods was full of constable candidates. Some were elected at the primaries and nine were in the election contest Monday.

The tabulated results on the entire city ticket, including the constables are found elsewhere in this issue.

MUCH BELOVED WOMAN,
WIFE OF FORMER MAYOR,
PASSES AWAY AT HOME

The host of friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brusse were shocked to hear Monday that Mrs. Sarah Brusse, wife of the former mayor, had passed away Sunday morning at the home at 69 West Twelfth street, after an illness of several months. Mrs. Brusse was 65 years old and death was caused by hardening of the arteries.

Mrs. Brusse was a woman whom everyone loved and intimate friends called her "Ma" as an endearing term. She was always very considerate of others and was intimately in touch with the neighborhood in which she lived.

Mrs. Brusse was an active member of the Third Reformed church, taking a deep interest in Ladies' Aid society work.

Private prayer services were said at the home on Twelfth street, and public services were held on Tuesday afternoon at Third Reformed church at 2:30. Rev. James M. Martin, her pastor, officiating. Mrs. H. M. Veencholten, missionary to China, who is home on a furlough, sang at the services.

The floral tributes from home and abroad were many and beautiful.

Interment took place in the family plot in the Holland cemetery, the pallbearers being John Ten Brink, Nick Hofstee, A. J. Schermer, Frank Dyke, John Good and Postmaster Ed Westveer.

Mrs. Brusse was born on January 26, 1868 in The Netherlands, coming to the United States with her parents when she was 11 years old.

For a short time they lived in Grand Rapids, but for the past 44 years Holland had been her home. She had always been intensely interested in her husband's welfare and saw him elevated to the position of mayor of the city repeatedly; also as member of the charter commission, drafting our last charter, as well as member of the police board.

Besides her husband, Mr. Henry Brusse, she is survived by two sons, Mr. Orrie Brusse, who has a wonderful record as a world war veteran, and Mr. Julius Brusse of Holland. Mr. Orrie Brusse is now living in Brooklyn, New York.

Others surviving are four sisters, Mrs. Alice Adams of Long Beach, California; Mrs. Fannie Klooster of Holland; Mrs. Susan Kane of Tacoma, Washington, and Mrs. Sam Ryckman of Eugene, Oregon; three brothers, Gerrit Elzinga of Dyer, Indiana, Martin Elzinga of Central Lake, Michigan, and Harry Elzinga of Charlevoix, and three grandchildren, John C. Heines, Jr., of Minneapolis, Minnesota, and Henry W. Brusse, II, and Elaine Brusse, both of Holland.

Among those from out of town who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Brusse of Brooklyn, New York, Martin Elzinga of Central Lake, Michigan, Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Elzinga of Dyer, Indiana, Mr. Conrad Klooster and Mr. John Bos of Atwood, Martin Blok of Hastings, Miss Julia Heines, secretary of Central Reformed church of Grand Rapids; Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Blok and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Blok and family, Wallace Brown, Fred Brown and Joseph Hager of Grand Rapids, and Mrs. Everett Blok of Fennville.

The final meeting of the season of the Women's Literary club was held Tuesday afternoon in the club rooms. A luncheon was served at 1 o'clock, after which Mrs. J. D. French and Mrs. Charles K. Van Duren presented a series of up-to-the-minute news flashes, showing the work of the various committees. Musical numbers consisted of selections by Miss Ruth Keppel, violinist, and Miss Marjorie Selby, pianist, and piano solos by Mrs. Hazel Wing Guild.

FINAL RITES FOR JOHN DIEKEMA HELD

Funeral services for John Diekema, 35, former Holland resident, who died Monday evening in Millersburg, Michigan, were held this Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the home of his brother, Willis A. Diekema of East Twelfth street, Rev. Hope Reformed church, officiating. Burial took place in Pilgrim Home cemetery.

Mr. Diekema, son of the late Gerrit J. Diekema, minister to The Netherlands, was born in Holland. He graduated from the Culver Military academy and was also a student at the University of Michigan. He enlisted in the United States navy during the World War, but did not see active service.

He was employed in Chicago for some time, but for the past eighteen months he made his home with Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Hill in Millersburg, where death took place. Mr. Diekema had been ill for several weeks with bronchial pneumonia. Besides his brother, Willis A. Diekema, the deceased is survived by two sisters, Mrs. J. M. Rodger, and Mrs. J. H. Rodger, both of Winnetka, Ill.

WE THANK YOU

I would like to take this opportunity to express my sincere thanks for the kindly support received from the voters of Holland at Monday's election when I was elected a member of the board of police and fire commissioners.

I had a most worthy opponent in Mr. Venhuizen, but nevertheless I feel grateful as to the outcome. I will endeavor to merit your confidence in service on that board.

Mutually,
CORNELIUS HUIZENGA.

Local News

The Daughters of the King Sunday school class of Ninth Street Christian Reformed church held its annual meeting at the home of Mrs. Peter Kaashoek last Friday evening. Reports of the secretary and treasurer were read and accepted among other business conducted. Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: Miss Anne Holkeboer, president; Mrs. P. Kaashoek, vice president; Miss Anne Straatsma, secretary; Mrs. A. Branderhorst, treasurer; Miss Hattie Slenk, assistant secretary and treasurer. After the business session a social hour was enjoyed by those present.

Father Fred Ryan preached the funeral services over the remains of Barney O'Neill of Chicago. Mr. O'Neill had been a summer visitor here for a number of years and was a regular attendant at St. Francis de Sales church. Those from Holland who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Vance Mape, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Duffy and Mr. and Mrs. John Good.

Andrew Steketee of Steketee & Sons, dry goods, has just returned from a buying trip to Chicago.

The dates for the Holland high school interclass indoor track meet and the annual junior high school event were announced today by Leon N. Moody, director of physical education. The junior meet will be held Tuesday of next week, and the senior event will take place on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons, April 12 and 13.

Max D. Graham of Grand Rapids, merchandising expert, who will speak in the local city hall on Monday evening in conjunction with the monthly meeting of the Holland Merchants' association.

Peter Hettinga of 240 East Eighth street underwent an operation for appendicitis at Holland hospital Sunday morning.

Mrs. Jake De Pree of Graafschap was taken to University hospital at Ann Arbor for treatment. It is expected that she will be confined there for about three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Tromp have left for Lincoln, Nebraska, where they will visit relatives.

A meeting of the Eunice Aid society will be held today, Friday, at 2:30 o'clock in the Fourteenth Street Christian Reformed church.

The following officers were elected at the annual meeting of the Parent-Teacher association of the Russcher school held recently: H. Russcher, president; Augustine De Witt, vice president; Mrs. Herman Kortering, secretary; Mrs. Edward Boeve, assistant secretary; H. De Witt, treasurer; Mrs. J. Mannes, assistant treasurer. The president, John Boerman, presided at the meeting. Organ singing was led by Gerrit Oonk. Henry H. Boeve offered prayer. The following program was presented: Violin solo by Miss Margaret Stryker, accompanied by Miss Cornelia Stryker; reading by Miss Ruth Stryker; play, entitled "Henry's Mail Order Wife," presented by E. J. Mannes, Glen Mannes, Miss Edythe Boeve, H. Russcher, H. Kortering and Mrs. Herman Kortering; instrumental numbers by Arthur Hoffman; solo was sung by Dr. J. O. Stryker of Grand Rapids and a novelty song was presented by eight girls from Holland. The closing number consisted of a talk by Gerald Nykerk on his trip abroad. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Breuker will be in charge of the program for the May meeting.

A GOOD SINGER IS THE THRUSS
The hermit thrush, earliest of all our thrushes to arrive in the spring and latest to leave in the fall, is one of our most accomplished songsters. Its voice is judged by many critics to equal that of the famed British nightingale in power and range.

A group of friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Holbeom of East Twenty-fourth street Monday evening, the occasion being Mr. Holbeom's birthday. Refreshments were served to the ten guests present.

The girls' mission circle of Third Reformed church met at the home of Mrs. Wilson Diekema Monday evening. The following officers were elected: Miss Joyce Notier, president; Miss Beatrice Boot, vice president; Miss Cornelia Lieveens, secretary, and Miss Marjorie Zuidema, treasurer. Following a social hour refreshments were served.

Mrs. Eldon W. Dick of East Ninth street entertained members of the Past Presidents' club at her home Monday afternoon. The affair was in honor of her mother, Mrs. Lillian McIntosh, past president of Union City. Refreshments were served the eight guests.

Mrs. Ben Harris, 288 West Seventeenth street, entertained with a 1 o'clock dinner at her home recently in honor of her mother, Mrs. Ida Weed, who celebrated her seventieth birthday. A three-course dinner was served to eleven guests. Tiny dolls were used as place cards. A beautiful birthday cake also adorned the center of the table.

Mrs. Herman Schippers and Mrs. Henry Schippers entertained with a shower at the latter's home on College avenue Friday evening in honor of Mrs. John Boeve, who before her marriage recently was Miss Frances Terstra of East Holland. Games were played, after which refreshments were served. Eleven guests were present.

HAMILTON

The Republican party candidates won in the election race Monday by a 2-to-1 vote. The following officers were elected: Supervisor, George Schutmaat; clerk, Levinus Slotman; treasurer, Gerrit John Slotman; highway commissioner, John Ter Avest; justice of the peace (full term), Frank Lemoin; justice of the peace (to fill vacancy), Louis Vander Meer; board of review, George Kaper; constables, Bert Vos, Henry Kempker, Bert Scott and Joe Hagelskamp. The "drys" also were winners in this village, but the contest was surprisingly close with a 157 to 130 result. The Democrats have the consolation, however, in the fact that they have broken the solid Republican front and have obtained a better standing. The vote was rather light, however, and after it is over we are still wondering what the results would have been if everyone had cast his ballot.

Mrs. Ed Evenhuis of Holland is visiting at the John Japink home.

Prof. Stanley Bolks returned to his work at Purdue university Saturday after spending spring vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Bolks.

The congregational prayer meetings at the First Reformed church have been extended until Easter. The attendance has been large.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Blyma, Mr. and Mrs. R. Vader of Grand Rapids were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Schutmaat Sunday.

Gladys and Etta Borgman of Kalamazoo visited relatives and friends during the past week-end. Sylvia, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Koops, submitted to an operation for appendicitis at the Holland hospital Sunday night. The operation was performed by Dr. M. H. Hamelinck.

Mr. and Mrs. John Tanis visited friends in Zeeland last week, Friday.

Dora Rankens spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Klein of Holland.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Schaap and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Bowman of Holland visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Ten Brink, Sunday.

The Sunday school rally of the North Central district of Allegan county, which was scheduled to be held at the Burnips Methodist church, has been postponed indefinitely because of an epidemic of scarlet fever.

Henrietta Bolks of Kalamazoo is a visitor at the G. J. Bolks for a few days.

The Henry Van Doornink family moved into town and now are residents in the First ward.

Della Vander Kolk, who teaches in Muskegon High school, is spending vacation at home.

The community plays given at the community hall last week on Thursday and Friday evenings, drew large crowds. Three one-act plays were presented under the direction of Mrs. John Brink, Jr.

Gladys Lubbers and Aileen Dargremont, the titles being "Alice's Blue Gown," "What's the Matter with Mother?" and "Detour Ahead." Each play held a good plot and was enough different in character as to keep the interest of the audience to the end. Music between acts, most of it by local people, was as follows: Songs by a sextet of girls, the Misses Dargremont, Eunice Hazelskamp, Josephine Kuite, Mae Rankens and Gladys Lubbers; violin solos by Kathleen Ash, accompanied by Elaine Ashley; vocal solos, by Josephine Kuite, accompanied by Ella Roggen; guitar duets by Gladys Lubbers and Dirk Brink; piano trios, by Beatrice Lugten, Ella Roggen and Eunice Hagelskamp; duets by Beatrice Lugten and Eunice Hagelskamp; music by the Colonial orchestra from Holland. All of this was given free of charge. A collection was taken during the intermission and about $52 was realized. The community is grateful for the help received in this way—both by the players, musicians and the audience.

Funeral services for Mrs. C. Luthe, 78, were held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Van Dyke and at the First Reformed church last Saturday afternoon. Rev. J. A. Roggen, pastor, officiated. Death came after months of sickness and suffering. She leaves, besides other relatives, five children to mourn her death, Mrs. Ed Brower of Grand Rapids; Mel of Mill Grove; Mrs. George Terstra of Moline; Cornie of Hamilton, Mrs. Bert Van Der Kamp of Holland, and Mrs. Roger Van Dyke with whom she made her home since the death of her husband eight years ago. The Luthe family was among the earliest settlers in this community and has resided more than fifty years on the farm south-east of town.

Jane Fairgrieve of Grand Rapids was a visitor at the Andrew Lubbers home Sunday and Monday.

The local school was again open for work Monday.

Harm Lodenstein, 81, resident of Hamilton for many years, died on Monday evening at the home of his son, Lew Lodenstein, of Hopkins. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. J. D. Bloemers of South St. Paul, Minnesota, and Mrs. Jacob Eding of Hamilton, and a son, Lew Lodenstein of Hopkins.

Funeral services were held this Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Eding of Hamilton and at 2 o'clock at First Reformed church, Rev. J. A. Roggen officiating. The burial took place in Holland cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wabeke and Luella Evon called on Mr. and Mrs. B. Lemmen at Holland.

Mr. C. Dregman Is Retained As Welfare Head

COUNCIL HIRES FROM MONTH-TO-MONTH

The Common Council at a special meeting held Thursday voted unanimously, accepting a resolution recommended by the Citizens Committee of the Welfare Department, retaining Cornelius J. Dregman as the head, stipulating however, that his retention be from month to month.

The council, however, by a 6 to 5 vote, refused to accept the resignation of the citizen's committee, consisting of E. E. Fell, W. C. Vandenburg, Arthur Van Duren, John Arendshorst, S. Henkle and C. J. McLean. Mr. Fell presented the report with the resignation. The committee felt it had completed its mission.

Mayor Bosch took a hand in questioning the reasons of several of the aldermen for being for or against the retaining of Mr. Dregman for that position. Some objected to the menu, others on the method of house renting while others made very favorable comments upon Mr. Dregman's administration.

At times it was difficult to know which side of the railing represented the council meeting and which the Taxpayers' League. At one time there was one Taxpayers' League, headed by a man by the name of Hazzard. Since that time this Taxpayers' League has resolved itself into two Taxpayers' Leagues or rather "Property Owners' Leagues," Peter Koopman and Peter Zalsman and others having resigned, forming another league of their own. Representatives from these two leagues were having it "hot and heavy" between one another at this meeting in which "names were called."

Mayor Bosch used considerable tact in handling these gentlemen on the other side of the rail who were having sessions at intervals of their own.

Mayor Bosch, during the council meeting, called on Aldermen Kleis, Steffens, Prins, and Brieve, who all gave expressions why they opposed the present administration. In the grievances came rent, milk problems, cookies, unbalanced portions of food, etc.

Mayor Bosch, in reviewing all of these complaints, stated that while there was considerable opposition at first because of continued propaganda, these complaints had mostly faded away and the real taxpayers were in full accord and the complaints were practically nil at this time. Among the men called upon to speak from the outside were the following: Charles Kirchen, D. B. K. Van Raalte, R. D. Esten and Willis Diekema, manufacturers; Dr. A. Leenhouts; W. L. Eaton, business man; Prof. Egbert Winter; Arthur Van Duren, advisory committee; Peter Zalsman, president of the Property Owners' League; and C. A. French, of the Sentinel.

They invariably sustained and upheld the administration of Mr. Dregman. Attorney Arthur Van Duren, legal advisor for the welfare, stated that during January, February and March the cost for welfare was $3,000 less than the cost for the preceding December in spite of 178 more families being cared for than was the case in December.

The official Council proceedings of that evening is found below.

Holland, Michigan,
March 30, 1933.

The Common Council met in Special Session and was called to order by the Mayor.

Present: Mayor Bosch, Ald. Kleis, Prins, Woltman, Brieve, Hyma, Van Zoeren, Habing, Steffens, Huyser, Veltman and Van Lente, and the Clerk.

Devotions were led by Ald. P. Huyser.

The Mayor stated that the meeting had been called for the purpose of considering the appointment of a Welfare Director. It was explained that at the time Mr. C. J. Dregman was engaged, he was employed for a period of three months which will end on March 31, 1933. Mayor Bosch then called upon the Citizens Committee, which during the past few months has acted in conjunction with the regular Welfare Committee from the Common Council. Mr. E. E. Fell, on behalf of the Citizens Committee, presented to the Common Council a communication outlining the activities of the Citizens Committee and the setting-up of the new Welfare System which is in use at the present time.

It was stated that a considerable saving had been made to the City under the new System and they felt that a large part of the success was due to the services of Mr. Dregman. The Committee went on record in expressing its appreciation to him for the work he has done, and recommended to the Common Council that he be re-appointed to continue as Welfare Director.

The communication from the Citizens Committee further expressed its confidence that the Welfare Department of the Common Council would carry on the System as inaugurated with such minor changes as might be necessary due to new conditions that may arise. The Committee then tendered its resignation to the Common Council, feeling that it would not be necessary for them to continue to serve.

It was moved by Ald. Kleis, seconded by Prins, that the resignation be accepted and the Committee be given a vote of thanks by the Council for their services.

Ald. Hyma offered a substitute motion, supported by Van Zoeren, that the resignation of the Committee be declined and the several members be requested to continue their services in the same capacity as they have in the past.

Said substitute motion prevailed by Ayes and Nays as follows: Ayes: Van Lente, Huyser, Habing, Hyma, Van Zoeren, Woltman.

Nays: Veltman, Steffens, Brieve, Prins and Kleis—5.

The Mayor ruled that the substitute motion prevail and that the services of the Committee be retained.

Mayor then suggested that the Council proceed to the appointment of a Welfare Director to succeed Mr. Dregman.

On motion of Ald. Prins, seconded Kleis, it was moved that the Council proceed by ballot for the appointment of Mr. Dregman's successor.

The Mayor objected to this procedure, stating that he felt that the Council should not act upon this matter by secret ballot.

It was moved by Ald. Hyma, seconded by Van Zoeren, that the recommendation of the Citizens Committee relative to the reappointment of Mr. Dregman be adopted.

The Mayor then called for remarks on this motion for the reappointment of Mr. C. J. Dregman.

City Attorney Lokker, in opening the remarks, stated that he felt that the Council should enter into a free and open discussion on this issue since there seemed to be a division of opinion and he took the position that everyone should speak their mind openly so that the facts might be known and the best interests of the City would thereby be served.

Mayor Bosch then suggested that those Citizens present, who were interested in this matter, should also speak their mind. There was considerable discussion by different members of the Council and by private citizens who were present.

Remarks were made by Mr. A. I. Hazzard, P. F. Koopman, P. Zalsman, Mr. Esten of the Holland Shoe Co., Chas. Kirchen, Dr. A. Leenhouts, Willis Diekema, D. B. K. Van Raalte, Prof. E. Winter, Arthur Van Duren, C. D. French, and others.

In discussing the matter, there was a division of opinion both among the Aldermen and among the citizens as to the desirability of retaining Mr. C. J. Dregman or whether someone else should be appointed whose services could be obtained at a lower wage.

After discussing the matter for quite some time, Ald. Hyma offered an amendment to his original motion to the effect that the recommendation of the Citizens Committee be adopted with the proviso that the services of Mr. Dregman be retained from month to month at the will of the Council at his present salary wage. This motion prevailed by Ayes and Nays as follows:

Ayes—Ald. Van Lente, Veltman, Huyser, Habing, Steffens, Van Zoeren, Hyma, Woltman, Brieve, Prins and Kleis—11.

Nays—None—0.

Ald. Prins brought up the matter of having the City issue scrip.

On motion of Ald. Prins, seconded by Kleis, the Mayor was instructed to appoint a committee of three to work with the School Board in working out a system for the City. Mayor appointed as such committee: Ald. Kleis, Hyma and City Attorney Lokker.

pointment of a committee to work in conjunction with the board of education relative to the issuance of $50,000 in scrip as adopted by the board to meet its pay roll and other expenses. The scrip will be in denominations from 10 cents to $20, backed by school funds, tax anticipations and funds now held in local banks. Time for redemption likely will be made in September, rather than harm.

1934. No definite action, however, was taken by the common council, Mayor Bosch being very much opposed to having Holland's financial condition muddled by a scrip problem. It was his contention that before entering a proposal of that kind, we must be sure that we have a workable scrip that will help be the case if we allowed city resources, including city taxes, to be paid with school scrip. We cannot clog our city financial system which would include our welfare.

City Attorney Arthur Van Duren, who was called upon for advice, stated that legally or morally the city government and the board of education had no legal authority to mix accounts for the city.

It was then suggested to appoint a committee of three aldermen to see what can be done with the impounded money in local banks. Mayor Bosch stated:

"I am not going to put this full burden upon three aldermen and the city attorney."

The city attorney flashed back:

"You might appoint a dictator, which brought a round of laughter."

It was then suggested that three lawyers be appointed with two aldermen and one member of the board of public works.

The mayor then appointed Albert Kleis and Henry Prins of the council, City Attorney Lokker, Elbert Parsons, Arthur Van Duren and James De Young.

Attorney Arthur Van Duren made a request that a market place be granted to Conrad Vandenberg and Cornelius Helkema of Grand Rapids on Cleveland avenue between Eighteenth and Nineteenth streets.

The place would be laid out with walks, drives, there would be rest rooms and garden truck racks conveniently planned so pedestrians could back in and places where people could buy.

Mr. Van Duren stated this would prevent peddling throughout the city which is worse competition to the merchants than if the peddling were segregated.

Mayor Bosch objected, stating that the merchants were having a bad enough time without bringing added competition.

Mr. Huyser, Alderman Yonkman and others spoke on the advisability of such a market and even the building ordinance was brought into play.

Attorney Van Duren stated that the farmers would come to town anyway and peddle, but in this way they would all be together in one market and if we treat the farmer right, he was bound to buy other things in Holland after having sold his produce.

Henry Prins of the ways and means committee brought in an encouraging report from the board of public works, which in substance points out that the board agrees to help the city government during the year to a sum of approximately $60,000. The light and water plant has surely proven "a friend in need."

Alderman Yonkman, who is chairman of a committee composed of Park Commissioner Bragt and City Engineer Zuidema and Mr. S. Henkle gave a report on the development of 24 acres of swamp land west of the waterworks, which is being ditched and drained by unemployed to be parceled in garden plots for the city welfare.

Arthur Van Duren of the Holland Red Cross gave a flattering report of what the Red Cross has undertaken in behalf of welfare in Holland. Surely "welfare is faring well" in this city when a comparison is made with other cities.

Even the work done by the Red Cross, which has nothing in common whatever with the city welfare program, the Community Chest or the welfare work done by the churches, show the following extra help from the Red Cross:

Thus far 18 carloads of flour has come into Holland and 10,000 cut garments were distributed; 1,600 pairs of hosiery, 1,000 pairs of socks, 288 pairs of trousers for men and boys, 170 blankets, and 190 comforters are to arrive here within two weeks, and Mr. Van Duren asked that the council consent to use the welfare force to make the distribution, which was unanimously consented to by the common council.

At this period Mayor Bosch injected that Mr. Dregman had picked up several hundred pairs of $5 shoes at 75 cents per pair, which would also be distributed.

The cost of welfare during the past three weeks, the report shows, was $10,138.71. At this juncture of the council meeting, Mayor Bosch called on William C. Vandenberg to bring in his report on the opening of the Holland Sugar company. This report is found elsewhere in full.

A Terrible Tragedy Near Spring Lake

er came off. Paul admitted he had planted some small trees around his home which he had taken from some cut-over woods, known as the Cornelius woods.

Previously to this Paul had asked Sheriff Rosema to bring his son Tony in for questioning about some automobile tires and accessories which Tony had brought home. The father also wanted to know where Tony was getting his gasoline, since Tony had no money to buy it so far as he knew.

The sheriff said he had talked with the young man and warned him about the actions under his father's suspicion.

Paul tried to get an injunction restraining his son from coming to his home, but the fees amounted to more than he had, he told Joe Joham.

Joham appears to have been the last man Paul talked to. Paul went to Joham's Saturday noon after he had been arraigned and told Joham his troubles. He said that for the past five weeks he had not been allowed to get into his home, that his wife refused to cook for him and that he was starving.

He stated that Tony caused all the trouble and if he could get him out of the house he believed he would be happy again. He told Joham that his wife sided in with Tony whenever he found fault with him.

Paul spoke of his love for his wife and pointed to their thirty-second wedding anniversary which would fall April 12. "But it will never happen," Paul told Joham. "All is dark in my head; I think I go crazy," he stated.

Joham warned his friend to be careful and not do anything rash. Joham said: "You'll go to jail if you do anything wrong." Paul stated: "No, I'll go before that."

"Paul left the house in a highly excited frame of mind," said Joham, "and I was fearful of what might happen. I believe he was a good man, a kind husband and father. When he was able to earn large wages he brought it all home to the family. He and his wife were very affectionate, generally."

Tony was engaged to be married to Miss Henrietta Bont of Muskegon county. They were to have been married as soon as the young man could secure work.

As he was coming home that fateful night he had a plotted plant in his arms for his mother, whose birthday fell on Friday. Evidently there was a closeness between this boy and the mother.

The family has lived in the section for the past thirty years, having come from Chicago. The parents were born in Austria and came to Ottawa county as young people. Tony was born in Chicago. The father worked in the Lake foundry, Muskegon, and is said to have made a good salary until the depression.

Sunday afternoon many neighbors drove up to the farm to retrace what they could of the awful scene of the night before. On the table in the kitchen was a loaf of bread, with a knife, partially cut. Evidences of home life were all around. A number of shells were found around the house, some of them old ones. The boys are said to have been hunters and trappers at times. Several new shells were picked up, evidently fired on Saturday night. After Paul was found, the officers looked up the house but later turned it over to the relatives and closed the case. An inquest was deemed unnecessary.

For supervisor—Dirk F. Boonstra, C. 378; Cornelis Roosenraad, R. 567.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Leeuw on Roosevelt avenue, Zeeland, was the scene of a happy gathering last Friday evening when their children gathered there to help them celebrate their forty-third marriage anniversary. Those present besides the aged parents were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Leeuw, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Van Lier and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Leeuw, all of Holland; Mrs. F. Dykstra and Mrs. Anna Shaw of Kalamazoo; Mr. and Mrs. John Leeuw and Ralph Leeuw of Zeeland.

Miss Mary Wichers entertained the girls of her Sunday school class at her home on Maple street. All the members of the class were present and the evening was spent in playing games and in working jig-saw puzzles. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and everybody reported a very pleasant evening had been spent.

The Christian Labor association will hold a meeting at the city hall on Wednesday evening, April 12, at 8 o'clock. All interested are invited to attend.

Johannes De Vries moved from his farm home, two and one-half miles northeast of this city into his residence on North Centennial street. M. Rogers recently vacated it, to occupy the M. Hirdes residence on Wall street.

James Kloosterman of Harrison avenue purchased the house located on the corner of Centennial and Lincoln street of Mrs. John De Pree recently. He tore the house down and will use the material to build a new home on the Kloosterman farm in Beaverdam.

The Froebel Parent-Teacher association held its annual meeting Tuesday evening in the school. The following officers were elected:

Lloyd Heasley, president; Mrs. Deckard Ritter, vice president; Mrs. Margaret Van Vyven, secretary, and Albert A. Nienhuis, treasurer. Fred Beeuwkes, president of the board of education, led in prayer. The following program was presented: A play, "The Acid Test," was given by Mrs. Carl Shaw and Miss Rose Whelan, members of the Attie Players. Another play was presented by a group of high school girls. The high school girls' sextet also sang several selections. The program was arranged by Mrs. Vaudie Vandenberg. Refreshments were served.

The chorus choir, consisting of fifty voices of Bethel Reformed church, will render an Easter cantata at Bethel church next week, Thursday, April 13, John Vanderstuis is the director and Mrs. S. Meeusen is the accompanist. The public is cordially invited. Admission is free.

Paul tried to get an injunction restraining his son from coming to his home, but the fees amounted to more than he had, he told Joe Joham.

Joham appears to have been the last man Paul talked to. Paul went to Joham's Saturday noon after he had been arraigned and told Joham his troubles. He said that for the past five weeks he had not been allowed to get into his home, that his wife refused to cook for him and that he was starving.

He stated that Tony caused all the trouble and if he could get him out of the house he believed he would be happy again. He told Joham that his wife sided in with Tony whenever he found fault with him.

Paul spoke of his love for his wife and pointed to their thirty-second wedding anniversary which would fall April 12. "But it will never happen," Paul told Joham. "All is dark in my head; I think I go crazy," he stated.

Joham warned his friend to be careful and not do anything rash. Joham said: "You'll go to jail if you do anything wrong." Paul stated: "No, I'll go before that."

"Paul left the house in a highly excited frame of mind," said Joham, "and I was fearful of what might happen. I believe he was a good man, a kind husband and father. When he was able to earn large wages he brought it all home to the family. He and his wife were very affectionate, generally."

Tony was engaged to be married to Miss Henrietta Bont of Muskegon county. They were to have been married as soon as the young man could secure work.

As he was coming home that fateful night he had a plotted plant in his arms for his mother, whose birthday fell on Friday. Evidently there was a closeness between this boy and the mother.

The family has lived in the section for the past thirty years, having come from Chicago. The parents were born in Austria and came to Ottawa county as young people. Tony was born in Chicago. The father worked in the Lake foundry, Muskegon, and is said to have made a good salary until the depression.

Sunday afternoon many neighbors drove up to the farm to retrace what they could of the awful scene of the night before. On the table in the kitchen was a loaf of bread, with a knife, partially cut. Evidences of home life were all around. A number of shells were found around the house, some of them old ones. The boys are said to have been hunters and trappers at times. Several new shells were picked up, evidently fired on Saturday night. After Paul was found, the officers looked up the house but later turned it over to the relatives and closed the case. An inquest was deemed unnecessary.

Holland Township Goes Dry By 64 Votes

HYMA AND EILANDER EACH POLL 1,125 VOTES FOR SUPERVISOR AND CLERK, RESPECTIVELY

Monday's election contest as far as Holland township was concerned, was a comparatively quiet affair. Here, too, as was the case in Holland city, the drys won out, registering 601 votes as against 537 wet votes.

Albert Hyma, present supervisor, was re-elected, having no opposition. A total of 1,125 votes was cast for Mr. Hyma, which number was also polled by John Eilander, running for township clerk without opposition.

Jacob Oosterbaan won out in the contest for township treasurer, receiving 599 votes. John H. Helder, his opponent, polled 526 votes.

Three candidates were in the field for highway commissioner, Manus Laarman being the winning candidate with 520 votes, Gerrit H. Ter Beek receiving 290 votes, and Peter Kuysers 333.

Nicholas Hoffman, Sr., had no opposition for justice of the peace, and received 1,116 votes of those cast.

Dick Plaggenmars as candidate for member of the board of review, also had no opposition, and consequently was elected.

Although Arthur Tors was the only candidate on the ticket for constable, three other men were also elected to that office. Tors, running on the ticket, received 1,100 votes. Others elected are Andrew Baker, 6 votes; C. J. Tuberger, 7 votes, and Peter Cook, 5 votes.

In district No. 1, John Geerts was elected as overseer at the primaries as was also the case with William Van Hugen of district No. 3, and Albert Daining of district No. 4. In district No. 2, Gerrit H. Van Kampen and Leonard E. Barema were elected to the office of overseer.

Allegan County News

Suit for $600 damages was filed in circuit court here Thursday by Sheriff Fred W. Miller, who alleged Miss Mary Hall of Grand Junction was shot in the calf of her right leg by Knute Rohdin of Lee township on March 7.

Miss Hall, accompanied by her brother, William Hall, was crossing Rohdin's farm near Grand Junction to visit a neighbor, which they alleged had been done many times before. A building was released by Rohdin and the man fired several shots with a shotgun. The young people then asked him what he wanted and he accused them of robbing his house the day before, which they denied. The girl treated her wounded limb at home until it became worse, then finally called a physician. Rohdin was arrested and paid a fine and costs of $16.35 in Justice Harry Mort's court at Pullman.

The following officers were elected unanimously at the annual business meeting of the PTA at Saugatuck: President, Mrs. Carl Bird; vice presidents, Donald Howard and Miss Vanderhart; secretary, Mrs. F. Trautman; treasurer, Mrs. Herman Bekkan.

According to pear growers affiliated with the Fennville Fruit exchange, the prospect for a banner pear crop is not bright. Bartlett, the variety that has made this part of Michigan famous, will do well to carry more than a third or a half crop, and the later varieties do not promise much better yields, it is said. Fennville has a number of prominent pear growers, including Thomas L. Gooding, former president of the Fennville exchange, and Verne A. Kanter, a member of the board of directors.

WHO'S RIGHT?

William H. Loutit, chairman of the Michigan Conservation Commission, opposes our private preserve shooting law, claiming it is against public interest and doesn't contribute very much to stocking public hunting grounds with pheasants.

Haswell Noyes, chairman of the Wisconsin Conservation Commission, says: "I am surprised at the attitude of the Michigan commission in opposing the private reserve shooting law. Wisconsin has had a similar law for two years and we have found no better way to stock public hunting grounds with pheasants than this. There is little opposition in Wisconsin to this law."

CORONER'S JURY SAY ACCIDENT COULD HAVE BEEN AVOIDED

The death of Mrs. Alice Poppe could have been avoided, according to the coroner's jury, as is fully explained in the verdict below. All the details were given in the last issue of the Holland City News and need not be repeated here.

State of Michigan,
County of Ottawa.

An inquest at city hall in the city of Holland in said county on the fourth day of April, A. D. 1933, before me, one of the coroners of the county of the county of Ottawa, upon the view of the body of Mrs. Alice Poppe then and there lying dead, by the oaths of the jurors whose names are hereto subscribed, who, being duly sworn to inquire in behalf of the People of this State, when, in what manner, and by what means the said Alice Poppe came to her death, upon their oaths said that Mrs. Poppe was hit by a truck owned and driven by Henry Kramer of R. R. 6, Holland, Michigan, on the evening of March 29, 1933, about 8 o'clock.

That in view of the fact established by the evidence, that the accident happened in close proximity of a street light, that there were three adults and a girl of 13 years in the driver's cab, that the headlights were very defective, that the emergency brake was entirely out of commission, this killing could have been avoided if ordinary caution in driving and a proper observance of the law had been complied with.

In testimony whereof, the said verdict, and the jurors of this inquest have hereunto set their hands the day and year aforesaid.

EVART STEPHAN,
ALBERT H. GOLDS,
BERT VANDE POEL,
SIMON KOPPER,
MARTIN WABEKE,
BURKE W. TAYLOR,

The Mokma brothers again entertained with instrumental music, after which two solos were sung by John Siebelink, accompanied by Mrs. Boeve. Mr. and Mrs. A. Van Anrooy will be in charge of the program at the April meeting.

Frank Bottje and Mrs. Irwin Are Married

OUR REGISTER OF DEEDS BECOMES BENEDICT AT LAST

Mrs. Minnie Barbara Irwin and Frank Bottje, Ottawa county register of deeds, were married quietly Thursday at six o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Roth, 215 Madison St., Grand Haven, by Rev. Charles A. Bowler, pastor of the Presbyterian church. They were attended by Miss Alida Bottje, a sister of the groom and Oscar J. Roth, a nephew of the bride.

Immediately following the ceremony a dinner was served to the members of the immediate families who witnessed the ceremony. The bride and groom left shortly for a short motor trip.

The bride was dressed in a blue traveling suit, which she wore for the ceremony and her going-away gown. Her hat and accessories corresponded.

Mr. Bottje took the occasion of his 39th birthday anniversary to enter the ranks of the benedicts and although it was not generally known that the wedding was to be Thursday his associates at the court house were well aware of it and assembled at the Roth home after the wedding to give him a fine serenade. The car was plastered with signs, old shoes and rice were liberally scattered as the bride and groom emerged from the house to get into their car.

The bride and groom are both Grand Haven folks and are well known. Mr. Bottje especially, as he has been register of deeds for the past five years. He attended the Grand Haven schools and has always been identified with that city, where he was born. Miss Ann Bottje, the deputy register, an aunt of the groom, passed out cigars and candy at the office of Register of Deeds and acquainted the many people from over the county of the "big news" that has emerged from that office in the court house.

REV. SCHIPPER GIVEN LEAVE OF ABSENCE BY FIRST REFORMED CHURCH

Grand Haven Tribune — Rev. Henry Schipper, pastor of the First Reformed church, has been granted a six months' leave of absence from his duties in the church on account of ill health. The pulpits each week will be filled by a committee and the affairs of the church generally will be taken care of by the officers.

Don't Get Up Nights

Physic the Bladder With Juniper Oil

Drive out the impurities and excess acids that cause irritation, burning and frequent desire. Juniper oil is pleasant to take in the form of BUKETS, the bladder physic, also containing buchu leaves, etc. Works on the bladder similar to castor oil on the bowels. Get a 25c box from any drug store. After four days if not relieved of "getting up nights" go back and get your money. If you are bothered with backache or leg pains caused from bladder disorders you are bound to feel better after this cleansing and you get your regular sleep.

"Wade Bros. Drug Store, and Peck Drug Store, say BUKETS is a 'best seller'."
