A Six Weeks' Tour Over Land and Sea

Dr. Brower Tells of His Trip in the West Indies and Caribbean Sea

TRINIDAD

Trinidad is the most southern island of the British West Indies, about 7 miles northeast of the coast of Venezuela and about 10 degrees north of the equator. We landed at Labrea. The steamer passed through the Dragon's Jaws, formed by two jutting capes, into the harbor. There are so many little islands around Trinidad that we almost sailed clear around it to get into this harbor.

The water is shallow and full of coral reefs, making navigation dangerous. We anchored about four miles out and went ashore with the ship's motor boats. Each boat accommodates about 15 people. We were told in the evening at dinner that breakfast would be served at 7 in the morning and to leave for shore at 8 o'clock promptly. It was one of the first ready, and stood near the gangway, with many more people in the rear. Quite a rough sea, and to our surprise, orders were given, the boats would take on passengers, on the starboard side, we were waiting on port side, then I was not first anyone, the mob now ahead of me. "Everybody go to first deck above, we will call you when boats are ready" was the next order. Pursuer with whom I was well acquainted told me not to go upstairs, but invites me to step in his office, he had something to show me that might interest me. Not more than 8 minutes later, when we stepped out of purser's office everybody that was going ashore had gone; also the last boat, and I was left behind. The staff captain was furious to see me strolling around and left behind. He swore at the purser for keeping me busy and I thought there was going to be a fight right then and there, and I might have to fight the referee. Staff captain calls the captain: "One man left on boat, all boats gone what will we do?" It would not have been so bad were the passengers all to come back to the ship; but no, the ship was ready to leave for Port of Spain, where we would meet it overland and by automobiles. Well to cut a long story short, everybody was mad and provoked, and a motor-boat was lowered which took about 15 minutes. Seeing that they had to take me the assistant purser saw his opportunity to go with me for they would not take him alone, hence we sat in bottom of this boat with covers to protect us from the spraying waters. Believe me if I ever had a fast motor boat ride and in a choppy sea, it was this time. Boat was so constructed that even if it rolled over, it would not sink; but I was not very sure that I would float. The commander of this small boat was signalling somebody ashore and I felt that everything might be well after all. When we landed after making about 4 miles, to my good luck, my automobile party was waiting for me. They refused to go and have the big boy left behind, for they knew that I was always prompt; something must have happened. Just think almost the first ready, and then left behind on ship. It was the talk of the day "the biggest man on board was lost but found again." I often think I so frequently get the unusual things in life, I even had to fall in the Sea of Galilee and also the Dead Sea accidentally and the drink I was forced to take each time was just plain water. After all the other cars had left and our party was once more reunited and happy we followed them to inspect the world famous Pitch Lake, a lake without water.

Pitch Lake is near Labrea. It has an inexhaustible supply of natural pitch, or asphalt, yielding annually over 200,000 tons. To go to Trinidad without visiting Pitch Lake would be like going to Rome without entering St. Peter's Cathedral or the famous Catacombs. The lake is a vast deposit of bituminous matter, 114 acres in extent. Surface bare of vegetation, gummy, sticky and soft, not able to hold up heavy objects. The pitch is dug out by spade and pick axe and loaded into buckets which are carried by cars on a tramway. It is possible to pick up a mass of pitch and to mold it into shapes without soiling one's hands; but the lighter stuff is terrible on shoes and

GETS ITS FACE WASHED

The face of Holland's only public clock in the tower of the Holland City State bank was thoroughly washed today and the Roman letters were painted a jet black which makes them more distinct than the gold letters of before.

The clock has been in the tower since 1892 and a jeweler by the name of L. P. Huzen and our own John Raven installed the time piece that has done such wonderful service covering a period of 38 years.

Anyways the local bank is all set to go on Daylight Savings time.

BIG ORATORICAL NIGHT TONIGHT AT SAUGATUCK

HOLLAND MEN JUDGE

The sub-district oratorical and declamation contest will take place at the Saugatuck high school auditorium this Friday night.

Seven schools will be represented, Allegan, Grand Haven, Otsego, Zeeland, Marne, Coopersville and Saugatuck. A large delegation from each school will motor to Saugatuck and the neighbor to the south-west of Holland is making due preparations to receive them. Prof. Egbert Winter and Prof. Paul E. Hinkamp of Hope college and Lloyd Moore of Western State Teachers' college at Kalamazoo will serve as judges at the large contest.

Questions That Stump Even the Census Takers

"How Many People Have Blue Eyes?" "How Many Women Wear Size 36?" Are Just a Couple.

The census bureau asks a lot of questions, and answers a lot too, but these are some at least to which it cannot furnish a reply.

With the 1930 census in full swing, the bureau is expecting soon the usual deluge of queries as to particular results of the enumeration, containing the usual large proportion of questions dealing with things, about which it does not concern itself.

Out of many year's experience one woman employee of the bureau has compiled a list of the usual inquiries which a seemingly all-knowing arm of the government cannot answer and believes it may save fact-seekers a lot of postage.

Her list follows:

How many people have blue eyes, brown eyes, gray eyes, in the United States?

How many people in the United States are over six feet tall?

How many people weigh over 100 pounds, 200 pounds, 300 pounds?

How many people have been married 25 years, 50 years, 75 years?

How many women wear size 36?

How many people have incomes between $600 and $1,000?

How many people 65 years of age and over are dependent on others for support?

How many pairs of twins are there in the United States?

How many persons have one leg, one arm, one eye?

How many persons wear glasses?

But aside from inquiries of this general tenor, the United States census bureau will be in a position to supply almost an infinitude of facts when information now being gathered is tabulated.

HOPE STUDENT GIVES SOLO PIANO RECITAL

A large crowd was present at the Holland Memorial chapel Wednesday evening to listen to a solo piano recital by Miss Mabel Essenberg of the Hope College School of Music and a student of Mrs. J. Karsten.

This solo piano recital makes Miss Essenberg a candidate for the Bachelor of Music degree at Hope college. She will be the first student from the piano department to receive that degree.

Miss Essenberg was presented with four corsages and two large baskets of flowers as gifts from friends in the audience sent with wishes for success and also congratulations.

ZEELAND MAN RETURNS FROM WESTERN TRIP

Zeeland Record—After spending four months on a western trip, Peter Wiersma, our old friend, returned to Zeeland Tuesday afternoon, all "hale and hearty" and looking as though he had really enjoyed his trip.

While on this trip he visited the Rehoboth Mission Station and other points in that vicinity before going to California where he visited many friends in the several places, including Long Beach, Los Angeles, Pasadena, Riverside, Redlands and other cities.

Mr. Wiersma declares the trip has been well worth while to him and has given him much pleasure. However, he is glad to get back home and we are also glad to welcome him.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Elgersma, who resided in Holland during the winter, moved to their farm near Hudsonville.

Mrs. D. Gordon and daughter, Barbara Ann, of Holland, spent last Tuesday at Zeeland at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Hirdes on Wall street.

Rev. William J. VanKersen of this city, western district representative of the board of foreign missions, Reformed Church in America, is planning to sail from Japan May 20 on the last lap of his 30,000-mile tour of the mission fields in the Orient. VanKersen was appointed a member of synod's deputation to inspect the fields in Arabia, Mesopotamia, India, China and Japan. He left Holland the middle of September and plans to complete the trip in about nine months. He also visited ancient Biblical lands and some of the countries in Europe.

Local Merchants Are Backing Holland Fair

START OUT WITH A DONATION OF $100. WILL ALSO GIVE IT MORAL SUPPORT

Secretary Shows What Has Been Paid Out in City of Holland During Last Decade

Those present at the meeting of the Holland Merchants Association were very much impressed when chairman of the fair board, Austin Harrington, again brought up the matter of future fairs in Holland. They received a real eye-opener when Secretary Vande Bunte of the Merchants Association who is also secretary of the Community Fair gave a resume of what had been spent in the city directly by this organization. For premiums to city folks and farmers, $22,728.18. To the Board of Public Works for water and light, $4,911.85. Interest to banks, $8,371.41. Insurance to different agencies, $5,338.83.

Permanent Improvements at the fair requiring much labor, $39,709.15.

General Expenses, going in all channels of trade, $69,473.82 or a grand total of $150,533.24.

The merchants saw immediately that to let the fair slide by default was unthinkable, for this vast amount does not begin to represent the indirect benefits that the fair gives and the large amount of money spent by visitors who come for a week's outing during August.

Race horse men, concession men, resorters, agriculturists from all over Allegan and Ottawa counties and even a drove of politicians gather here once a year and "the butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker," derive some direct or indirect benefits because of their being here.

The racing stables last year brought 150 men alone and the horse show also brought a large number. At least 200 strangers came with the different concessions and surely Holland benefits.

Many members present spoke about the benefits derived. Ray Tardiff said that at least 2,000 Holland children who went in free looked forward to these events and the children from the entire countryside were just as interested.

Jake Lokker thought of a phase that must not be overlooked. He said that if Holland lost interest in the fair it might become the property of unreliable people who might stage carnivals and all sorts of money-making, not too elevating shows and entertainments and Holland surely wouldn't want that. He stated that the fair association was endeavoring to keep the fair as clean as it is possible to be done, but that occasionally a gambler would slip through but when caught was severely dealt with. He said the fair association should have the help of the church and good citizens rather than their curse.

Mr. Charles French of the Sentinel stated that it would be a mistake not to keep the Holland Fair

Caslow Speaks To Large Crowd At Armory

NOT FIGHTING FOR INDEPENDENT MERCHANTS BUT FOR PEOPLE

Paraphrases Lincoln's Gettysburg Address; Derides Evils of Chain Stores

William H. Caslow, who calls himself "The Main Street Crusader," speaking in behalf of the people against syndication and the so-called chain store evils, came to Holland Tuesday, first to attend a luncheon at Wagon Friend Tavern at noon and later to give a discourse at the Holland Armory.

Caslow was unavoidably delayed at noon and dropped in after the luncheon was in progress, but he was immediately provided with a seat at the speaker's table by Chairman C. Dornbos of the Holland Merchant's Association, who was in charge of the luncheon.

Much of what Mr. Caslow said at the luncheon was also given in his Armory speech and will be included into one discourse as given in both places to avoid repetition.

The Holland Armory was well filled, the Colonial Orchestra giving a concert of a half hour before the lecture opened. President Cornelius Dornbos was also in charge of the evening meeting while John Ter Beek led in singing "America" at the opening of the evening's deliberations.

Mr. Caslow said in part as follows: "I am called the Main Street Crusader but I want to tell you this is not Caslow's fight. It is a fight started by me for the people. We have made a hot campaign in Michigan and especially in Western Michigan and good seed has been sown that will bear fruit in the way it should. I want to tell you men and women that America's principles are at stake. This system of syndication will break down America's prosperity and America's freedom unless we break the syndication system and preserve our America as the Constitution intended."

"In this Main Street Crusade, so-called, we have been trying to find something upon which to build. The public mind feels that there is something wrong with big business. We may be kidding ourselves and call ourselves optimists and think of nothing but sunshine with no real purpose in mind but such a person is not an optimist but a fool. A real optimist is a person who has courage enough to look at the dark as well as the bright side and then has courage enough to pick the blue from the gray skies. Some will have it that business is good. I tell you that business is not good."

POPULAR, LOVABLE YOUNG HOLLAND LADY PASSES AWAY SUDDENLY AT GRAND RAPIDS

Many Holland folks were shocked Monday morning to hear of the sudden death of Miss Mary Van Putten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Van Putten, Sr., living at River avenue and Fourteenth St.

Miss Van Putten, who was an able nurse and a graduate from Blodgett hospital, Grand Rapids, had been working hard on another case in Grand Rapids and on Thursday afternoon called on her sister, Mrs. Martin Kerkhof, who is also a resident of that city, and complained that she was not feeling well. Her illness became more pronounced and she was quickly taken to Blodgett hospital, where she had been for a number of years, but her condition became more serious.

Heneveld Again Elected Park Supervisor

PARK TOWNSHIP STAGES LIVELY LITTLE ELECTION SCRAP

More votes were cast in Park township in the two precincts than has been cast for some time in a spring election. The two contests were for supervisor and for treasurer. George E. HOLLAND MAN IN ZEELAND FASTER SERVICES

Zeeland Record.—The coming week will be a busy one for the Second Reformed church when special Lenten services will be held Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday evenings at which Dr. S. C. Nettinga of Holland will preach each evening. These meetings will begin at 7:45 p.m. On each evening special appropriate music will be rendered, the Wolverine Four appearing on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, while arrangements for Friday evening's music have not been completed but will be announced later. Everybody is invited to these services.

Sunday morning Rev. R. J. Vandenberg will speak on the theme "Acknowledging the King," appropriate to Palm Sunday, and in the evening he will preach his last sermon in the series on "The Death of Christ." His topic this time will be "Christ's Death the Fulfillment of Prophecy."

RELIGIOUS EMBEZZLER

"Consider! Your Account Is Short! Confess!" This is the subject on which Rev. C. P. Dame of Trinity Church will preach next Sunday evening. This is the last sermon of the Sunday evening series entitled, "Earnest Appeals to Sinners." All who hear the others are invited to hear this sermon too. It is sometimes asked why men should come to God as debtors, why they should confess their sins and shortcomings. Often the statement is made that men are not troubled about their sins. Come and hear a discussion of these questions in this sermon Sunday evening. The evening service in Trinity Church begins at 7:30 o'clock. People without church affiliation are given a special invitation.

COMMUNICATION

In view of the condition all over the country as a result of the unemployment situation, I feel that the different organizations of Holland should draw up a resolution to be sent to the government asking that convict labor be discontinued for this summer on the roads and that some of the unemployed working men be hired instead. It is certainly true that the men who are paying the taxes and supporting families be given preference over criminals in such a time as this. We know that conditions are about the same all over the country, however, we feel very thankful that Holland's situation is not any worse. Still it is our duty to see that our fellow men are given a square deal. I feel that it is only just and right that the working man, who is the backbone of our nation, be given preference over the convicts this summer in this respect. Convicts should not be allowed to work for pay this summer when the working man has no opportunity to earn money to support his family.

Alex Van Zanten.

SET CLOCK AHEAD SATURDAY NIGHT

Holland, Zeeland, Grand Rapids, Grand Haven, Muskegon, and all the country sides will go to Daylight Savings time Sunday and all church services will be scheduled according to this time. Turn the hands of the clock ahead one hour before going to bed Saturday night. The new time will be in vogue until October 1st.

TULIPS CIGARS NOW

At the Merchants' Association meeting Monday, Bert Vander Poel, proprietor of the Superior Cigar Co. on River avenue, who was present, very thoughtfully remembered every one of the hundred merchants present with a smoke. Not alone were these very good cigars but Bert calls them "Tulip Dreams" and each silver wrapper has the word "Tulip" plainly printed on it, another avenue of advertising Holland's coming celebration.

HOLLAND'S PARK AT OTTAWA BEACH TO BE IMPROVED

Holland's State Park will be much improved at Ottawa Beach before summer. Funds amounting to $3,450 have been released by the state for that purpose, approved by Gov. Fred Green. The oval is becoming more popular each year and will have to be extended north before long where the state still owns more land. The oval could also be widened to the east, thus giving again as much parking space. A walk through the middle of it toward Lake Michigan would also improve the place.

MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION THANKS NEWSPAPERS

On a motion of Andrew Du Mez, the Holland Merchants' Association voted unanimously thanking the Holland Evening Sentinel and the Holland City News for being instrumental in putting over an advertising campaign that brought about the most successful trades days last Friday and Saturday in the form of Dollar Days, ever staged in Holland. Patrons came from as far as Byron Center, Grand Rapids, Grand Haven and a few from Muskegon and a large number from neighboring towns. The merchants were surely pleased with the affair.

HOPE PLAYS FIRST BALL GAME SATURDAY

Coach Jack Schouten of Hope college is grooming his baseball squad for the opening game next Saturday afternoon with Western State Teachers college at Kalamazoo. Schouten has a choice of 14 men from which to pick his team. The squad includes two dependable pitchers in Cox Van Lente and Poppink, both veterans. Capt. Harold Japings likely will be on the receiving end of the battery.

Other veterans include Ver Strate, Nauta and Brink, infield. Kuypers, Vanderwerf, Mulder, Van Haltsma and Dalman are candidates for the outfield. Watson Spoelstra likely will draw a position at first base.

IMMANUEL CHURCH

On next Sunday evening Rev. J. Lanting of the Immanuel Church will preach on the subject "The Serpent of Brass." In the morning the subject will be "Jesus Christ as Lord." The services Sunday will be conducted on new time and the evening services will again begin at 7:30 with an inspirational song service and special music. The regular midweek prayer and Bible study hour will be held on Wednesday evening at 7:30 at 210 Central Ave.

BUSINESS ENTERPRISE AT ZEELAND REORGANIZES

During the past week the Superior Poultry Farm at Zeeland has again become a legalized business institution, when the old company under that name was dissolved by order of Judge Miles' circuit court, and a new company was organized as a corporation under the laws of the state of Michigan. The new stockholders are C. E. Boone, J. A. Donia and A. Van Koeveing.

About two years ago the old company became involved in financial difficulties, which threatened to throw the company into bankruptcy. But through timely aid given by the parties named above, the property has weathered the storm, and has successfully carried on its business paying every creditor in full and coming through without suffering any appreciable loss in business or prestige. It is now a good going concern again under able management.

Henry E. Franken and Nicholas Gosselink, members of the class of 1930 in Western Theological seminary, have accepted calls upon graduation in May. Franken takes the pastorate of a church at Eddyville, Ia., and Gosselink will go to East Lawn church, Muskegon.

REPENTANCE AND PROSPERITY

This will be the subject of the sermon that will be preached in the Lincoln Avenue church next Sunday evening by the Rev. J. Vanderbeek, pastor of the church. He will endeavor to show from the Word of God what is the way to restore prosperity and relieve the present industrial depression. The Glee Club of Central College will be present and will sing several special numbers. Dr. S. C. Nettinga will conduct the services in the morning, the pastor having an appointment elsewhere.

Miss Crystal Weener, clerk at the De Pree Hardware store, is confined to her home in North Holland because of illness.

Miss Clara Holkboer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Holkboer, was united in marriage to Nicholas Pieper Thursday at the parsonage of Rev. Zwier. The young couple were attended by Miss Mary Pieper and Henry Holkboer. The newlywed couple have gone on an extended trip and will make their home in Zeeland after their return.

The usual dance held at the Masonic Temple on Friday evenings will be held tonight, Friday, at the Woman's Literary club. Herb Van Duren's orchestra will furnish the music.

Peter M. Nienhuis celebrated his 78th birthday anniversary at his home Wednesday. His children and grandchildren were present to spend the evening. A delicious two course luncheon was served.

Helene Brooks and Lester Plagemeers have returned from a tour through Northern Michigan and Canada.

Zeeland School To Be Built By Holland Man

DON LAKIE TO SUPERVISE A $7,000 BUILDING NEXT DOOR

The Board of Education of Zeeland has decided to remodel its oldest school on Main street and will spend about $7,000 doing so. The building is just a half century old and with the exception of the floors, the brick work and foundations are as good as the day they were put down.

The plans for remodeling the old grade school building were approved and the committee on buildings and grounds were authorized to ask for bids on the work.

It was decided to ask for separate bids on the different classes of work, such as carpenters electrical work, plumbing and heating.

The plans have also been approved by the State Department of Public Instruction. There is one definite requirement, and that is it is fortunate to salvage many thousands of dollars by being permitted to remodel this old structure.

The work will be under the supervision of architect Don Laker, of Holland, with offices in the People's State Bank building, subject to the direction of the board of education.

The definite cost of remodeling this building cannot be estimated until the bids have been accepted, but it is probable that it will run to about $7,000. It is fortunate that no increase in the school budget will be necessary to pay for this work, which condition has been brought about by strict economy.

However, the district was fortunate in getting nearly $4,000 state award money under the Smith-Hughes plan,

AM I MY BROTHER'S KILLER?

A statistician reminds us that "in 1926 more than 12,000 persons in the U. S. A. were killed by their brothers, an average of 33 killings a day."
And what of a nation that goes blissfully on tolerating such wholesale slaughter?
All but 75 of the killers escaped death penalties, which, despite opposition to the death penalty, no doubt accounts for many of our killings.
Whatever may be said on the subject, the murder vote will always be solidly against capital punishment.

THE LION AND LAMB WHEN DOUBLE HARNESS IN MARCH

The month of March ran true to color and there was a mixture of the lion and the lamb. There was beautiful spring weather and a blizzard with a heavy snowfall.
By the 17th there was an accumulated excess of 84 degrees, according to the Ottawa County weather bureau, but by the end of the month this had been reduced to 16 degrees. The highest temperature for the month was 61 degrees on the 16th and the lowest was 15 on the 22nd. Neither of which were records for this office. The greatest daily range was 28 degrees on the 15th.

Precipitation totaled 1.15 inches or about one-half the normal. Snowfall, however, was above normal, there being 9.4 inches or 2.3 inches more than the normal. The greatest snowfall in 24 hours occurred on the 25th and 26th, when seven inches fell. There was but little snow during the month except for the few days following the greatest snowstorm for this season in the history of the northwest.

Wind movement was very mild, for this section being by 12.9 miles per hour. The maximum velocity was 36 miles on the 11th. Sunshine was slightly above normal, averaging 57 per cent of the possible amount. There were 12 clear days, five partly cloudy and 14 cloudy days. Measurable amounts of precipitation were recorded on 10 days.

HOLLAND HAS NEW AMBULANCE

A modern ambulance has been brought to Holland to serve the city in emergency cases, as was announced by John S. Dykstra and Gilbert Vande Water of the Dykstra Funeral Home.
The new ambulance has the latest conveniences for all emergencies. It is fully equipped with ventilators, fans, heaters, and a first-aid cabinet.

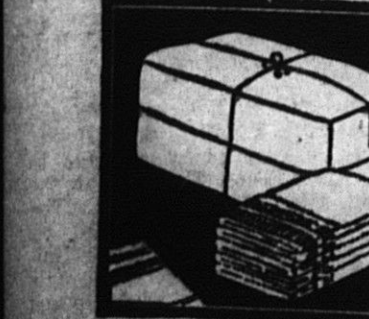

It is built to permit either front or rear loading. The cot has one of the latest type of spring mattresses which adds greatly to the comfort of the patient. The machine is smooth running and fast, capable of carrying out its humanitarian mission with the greatest safety to the patient.

SCOUTS WILL TAKE ALL-DAY HIKE SATURDAY

A group of scouts from Holland and surrounding towns will take an all-day hike to the short term camp Saturday. The hike is open to all the scouts and particularly to those who completed their pioneering work for merit badges.
When the scouts get to camp they will clean up the place and get it ready for the spring and summer. The boys will build rustic steps and do other tasks necessary for passing their tests.

Josephine Rodenberg will head the committee for the annual spring banquet of the Dorian Literary Society. She will be assisted by Olivia Johnson, Annetta Bos and Alma Plakke.

Behold, One Oil King
Our Flying Army
Name It Newton

No Mother Love, No Nation
Los Angeles.—The gasoline threat that worried the big oil men a few days ago is becoming a reality. Here the price has been cut as low as ten cents, and deeper cuts are expected. This is due to disorganized production and disorganized distribution.
Any buyer who exists in the low price of today exists prematurely. He will more than make up for it later on.

Old royalty, kings, emperors, etc., are going out. In the realm of finance kings are coming in. The American government, interested in United States prosperity, might make a careful study of Sir Henri Deterding, head of the Shell Oil Company.
An able Dutchman, born in Holland, knighted by the British, with his office in London, Deterding surveys the world from the oil man's point of view. Literally, as an imperial conqueror.

The other day as lowest bidder he supplied the Japanese navy with oil for a year at 64 cents a barrel, the lowest price ever quoted, and probably bought it from independent California producers for 40 or 45 cents a barrel.

California produces the oil. Japan gets the oil. Deterding gets the profit, the United States sees its oil supply diminishing.

On Mother field, Sacramento, Calif., William E. Gilmore directed the maneuvers of army airplanes, greatest gathering in the history of the army air corps.

One hundred and fifty-nine army planes, from small swift pursuit planes to heavy bombing machines, are taking part in maneuvers such as would be necessary in actual war.

Men that have inspected the equipment of European armies, including France and Britain, say the "provisional wing," commanded by General Gilmore, is as efficient a unit as would be found anywhere on earth.

The small new planet whose existence was asserted by the late Professor Lowell continues to agitate scientists.
Guided by Newton's law, Professor Lowell knew that disturbances in the orbit of Uranus must be accounted for by the existence of another planet.

Officials of Lowell observatory following the new wanderer on the outskirts of our solar system, say it behaves exactly as Professor Lowell would have expected.

A distinguished French astronomer says it is too small to amount to anything, but would change his mind if this earth in the neighborhood of the Place de la Concorde.

The Geographical Society of Mexico very sensibly suggests the name "Newton" for the new planet.
Had it not been for Newton and his law of gravitation, directly, as the mass, inversely as the square of the distance," scientists could not have known of the planet's existence.

Russia, forgetting Sparta's history, plans a human sacrifice made to order. Children, taken from their mothers in babyhood, will be raised wholesale by the state. Mothers will enter factories and otherwise work the same as men do on farms, as mares do, on the farm.

Russia should remember that when a mare is valuable, and a fine horse is wanted, the mare is not put to work before the colt is born, or afterward. Sparta educated its youth; trained young men to surprise and murder the miserable Helot slaves on their way to work at sunrise, that the young men might be fierce in war. Sparta's law used iron for money, that no man might care to have much of it.

Fine theories were worked out there as in Russia, but Sparta amounted to little. Athens, where human nature was allowed to develop according to rules—not suggested by Draco or Karl Marx—produced Greek grandeur, art, literature and philosophy.

We are wound up at birth, to run in a certain way; our inborn impulses are our main springs, and we cannot remake ourselves. To interfere with the family, with the mother's passionate love of her child, with man's ambition, stimulated by duty to his family and reverence for his father and mother, is to insure a nation's downfall.

The government asks farmers, for their own price protection, to reduce by two million acres spring wheat planting to Minnesota and the Dakotas. Substitutions of barley, rye, oats, alfalfa and sweet clover is suggested. That might help if other states reduced acreage. But it is as difficult for farmers as for others to change their habits.

News from Moscow causes anxiety among Jewish citizens, seeming to contradict a statement by Russia's chief rabbi praising the Soviet attitude toward Jews. There was a pretty little scrap on in the 6th ward for constable between Nick Hoffman, Jr., and Gordon Streur, Hoffman winning by exactly 13 votes and not being superstitious he has accepted the office. Hoffman received 165 votes and Streur 152 votes.

The city charter amendment carried by a large majority, 1,189 voting yes, 361 voting no.

LOCAL FIRM GIVES MERCHANTS A LUNCHEON

After the meeting of the Merchants' Association Monday night, Chairman C. Dornbos, in behalf of the firm of De Vries & Dornbos, invited the members to a light evening luncheon at the Boston Cafe. It was a happy gathering, the singing of popular songs, the telling of a few stories with Chief Dornbos as the song leader. He introduced one dedicated to the Holland Merchants' Association.

THE HOLLAND MERCHANTS

Tune: It's a Long Way to Tipperary
It's a great gang of Holland Merchants,
It's a great gang to know,
They are full of pep and ginger,
And their watchword is "Let's Go!"
Always on the level,
Always fair and square,
It's a great gang of Holland Merchants

DOLLAR DAY AND BREAD

That Dollar Day in Holland went beyond even the Merchants' as far as trade goes is demonstrated from the enthusiastic report of one of the local bakeries. He said that all of a sudden his trade for bread had increased one-third and he could not attribute the cause until he remembered that Dollar Day was in progress. He stated that even late Saturday night more bread was called for by local merchants.

going; that it was another means of publicity to the outside world and it was a period of getting together with our friends and neighbors.

Chairman Dornbos also voiced the sentiment that letting the fair go by default would be a calamity and a step backward.

B. A. Mulder of the News stated that it would be unthinkable to discontinue the fair; that it had given Holland a great deal of publicity through the entire state press; that it has been a wonderful educational benefit through the exhibits of our city and rural schools, all pupils being interested in their respective efforts. Through the efforts of our County farm agent, Calif. clubs, Domestic Science clubs and kindred organizations vied with one another and coming from every farm center in Ottawa County to Holland. He stated that we have endeavored for years to come in closer touch with our resort folks and the Holland Fair has done this through the fancy horse show which is growing annually, considering that there were 125 entries last year alone.

Then, said Mr. Mulder, there should be considered your poultry from the poultry centers; your horse racing bringing a small army of men; and your blooded cattle which have outgrown the quarters provided for them at the fair grounds. He stated that Holland could not afford to kick over an enterprise with so many direct and indirect benefits.

"Our greatest need is co-operation on the part of the city and county," said Vande Bunde. "The county should make an annual appropriation of about $5,000 and the city $500 to $1,000 for at least a few years, if we are going to meet the needs for progress and advancement."

NORTH AMERICAN TRUST SHARES
Offers Such Opportunity.
With dividends, come the problems of immediate investment—or the burdens of idle funds.
But not for holders of North American Trust Shares
Through the NATS plan of balanced diversity, shareholders are given a 15-day option after distributions to invest their dividends in additional North American Trust Shares. Shareholders preferring to use the cash are privileged to do so.
The income produced through sale of rights, stock dividends and share splits can be reinvested at the bid price, making a saving of 50c. per share. An investor of a year ago, buying a unit of 2,000 North American Trust Shares, and following the recommended plan, now owns 2,160 shares, the additional ones, being purchased solely with funds received from income investment.
Most other investment trusts disburse only the cash dividends, holding stock dividends and other accumulations. As dividends of this type differ widely in value shareholders, in a few years will find their portfolio unbalanced, diversity destroyed and their investment protected only by the resources of a few companies.

MUSIC TO FEATURE HOLLAND'S FIRST REAL TULIP WEEK FETE

Tulip time week in Holland will be featured with music and flowers. Efforts are being made to enlist every musical organization, both vocal and instrumental, to take part in the event.

SPECIAL SPEAKER AT ZEELAND MEET

Rev. Ralph J. White, D.D., pastor of Trinity Lutheran church, will be the principal speaker Tuesday evening, April 22, at the First Reformed church, Zeeland, where the Children's Institute given under the auspices of the Ottawa County Sunday School association will meet. Mrs. Edith Walvoord of Holland will be in charge. George Schulling, president of the association, will also assist during the day.

Local News

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles K. Van Duren, at the Holland hospital on April 8, a son, Charles Edgar Adrian.

The choir of the First Reformed church under the direction of Miss Suzanne Schoep will present a sacred cantata Sunday evening. There will be a number of solos, duets and quartets, besides choruses.

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the farm home of Steve Taylor, five miles northwest of Coopersville, causing damage estimated at $3,000, partially covered by insurance. Household furnishings were saved.

Rev. Anthony Karreman, formerly of Holland, now of Lansing, Ill., gave a Dutch service over station WMBI, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, this afternoon. Mrs. B. Huizinga, also well known in Holland, furnished the music. Many from this city and Zeeland tuned in at 3:30 o'clock and the reception was fine.

Judge Fred T. Miles has filed a decision in the case of Freeman Lambert, 14, by his father, against M. LeRoy Fear, superintendent of the Plainwell schools, denying the motion filed by complainant's attorneys asking for a new trial. The complaint charged Fear with extreme punishment and the jury returned a verdict of "guilty but no damages."

Charles Vos was pleasantly surprised at his home Tuesday evening, the occasion being his birthday. He was presented with many gifts. Those present were Leon Schaddelee, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Ash, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Kuiper, Mr. and Mrs. William Hovenga, I. Vos, Margaret Vos, Mrs. L. T. Schaddelee, Mrs. A. Vos, Mrs. Charles Vos and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schaddelee.

The annual report of First Reformed church of Zeeland, shows that although the church is the oldest in existence in this vicinity, it still is growing. In the past year 71 persons have been added. The total membership is 672, with 260 families represented. The Sunday school enrollment is 590.

Former Holland Girl Killed At Grand Haven

PROSECUTOR LOKKER AND SHERIFF STEKETEE INVESTIGATING SHOOTING AT COUNTY SEAT

The Ottawa County officials are solving an unusual shooting affair at Grand Haven and Prosecutor Clarence Lokker and Sheriff Steketee have been on the case for two days and a coroner's jury has been sifting the evidence relative to the killing of Miss Alta Boerema, a young girl of 20, who some time ago was a Junior high student at Holland, originally coming from Dorra, Michigan. Floyd Boerema, a brother, now living in Holland, was hastily called to Grand Haven after the shooting.

Henry W. Sickman, a young man of 19 years, is being held in the Ottawa county jail until the evidence at hand has been reviewed and the coroner's jury composed of Grand Haven men finish their work.

It is stated by Sickman, who was alone with the girl, that he had found a pistol which he showed to the girl when he visited her and he stated that the girl was toying the weapon when all at once the gun went off and Miss Boerema sank to the floor with a bullet wound in her heart.

The tragedy occurred at the home of her sister, Mrs. Albert Kruijthoff. Relative to this case the Grand Haven Tribune says as follows: "According to Sickman, the victim's friend, the girl belonged to him and Miss Boerema had been examining it as they were saying goodnight. They both stood near the front door when the gun went off as Miss Boerema held it in her left hand. 'If you don't come to see me on Friday night,' were her last words," Sickman stated, although she said them laughingly, he thought, and the gun went off by accident.

"Sickman yelled for help as the shot rang out and the family, Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Kruijthoff, a brother-in-law and sister of the girl, who had been asleep, hastened into the room as Sickman ran to a neighboring house for help. Not succeeding in waking them he ran to the Home Bakery, found John J. De Vries, who was working and who called the police ambulance and a doctor. Before Sickman got to the bakery he threw the gun in the sand at the rear of the Crescent Theater and covered it partially with dirt.

"He was beside himself, he said, and after giving the message to De Vries, dashed up Washington street and met the ambulance. He got in and went back to the home of the girl.

"The officers took him in charge and heard his story. He said he and Miss Boerema had gone to the Crescent theater and returned to her home about 10:30 p.m. The family had retired. The sister said she heard them laughing and talking. Sickman said he had told his girl of having a gun and as she had handled rifles of her brothers, was anxious to see it.

"He took it out when they first went back to the house and after showing it slipped it into his overcoat pocket. As he was leaving he took it out again and a shell dropped out. He turned away to look for it. They had been discussing dates, Sickman stated, and she had been insisting he come on Friday night. Sickman, having no work, was out of money so did not feel able to arrange a date on that night, he admitted.

"Miss Boerema then had the gun in her hand and said, 'Well, if you don't come again on Friday, I might just as well shoot myself,' and the next minute the gun went off, she moaned a little, and sank to the floor, dead.

"Both young people have excellent reputations at school and where they have been employed. "Sickman told the officers he had had the gun about two years, unknown to his parents. He admitted it was not registered and that he knew it was against the law to have such a weapon. He said it was the first time he had ever carried the gun, and took it to show the girl and to protect himself as he frequently came home late at night. He found it two years ago in an old workshop and had fixed it up so it would work.

"The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harm Boerema, who are living at Dorra, and several brothers and sisters, were notified and are here, prostrated over the terrible accident to their loved one. Alta came to this city in October and has lived with her sister. She was employed at the Grand Haven Brass Foundry, where her employers spoke highly of her.

"Sickman left High School this fall to assist his father in the shipping department of the Story & Clark Piano Co. He was in the senior class. He has worked on other jobs around town and is considered a good steady lad. His parents have never had any trouble with him and are stunned by the serious trouble their boy is in. They said today they know nothing of the gun as Henry had a chest, which he kept locked, and they supposed he kept the gun there. He had been out of work for a time but had tried all winter to get employment.

"Sickman met Miss Boerema he said a year ago out at the lake, when she was living in Grand Rapids. They corresponded and then she got a job here. They had been going together steadily since Christmas. While they had exchanged signet rings there was no engagement, he said, both agreeing they could go with other friends if they cared to. Sickman said he had not gone out with another girl since Christmas and outside of one or two minor engagements Miss Boerema had not either.

"Sickman said they had been having engagements about four nights a week. He stated they were discussing his coming on Friday night just before his departure, but as he had little or no money, he claimed he could not afford to make a date. The girl had offered on several occasions to pay for out-ings, but he had always refused it."

When there is an over production of the necessities of life and many go hungry, when there is an over production of wheat, milk, and butter fats and many crying for bread and butter. This, I say, is caused by syndication monopolizing the necessities of life and the distribution thereof. We are not fighting the chain stores as such—as the cough is the symptom of an underlying disease—in that same way the chain store is the symptom of the cough of a vicious system of syndication.

"I am not fighting to save Main street. I hold no brief for the independent merchant. He can consider himself just lucky to be a part of this fight. He is only an incident in the fight. I am fighting, not for them, but for the prosperity, for the well being, for the independence of the people as a people.

"I hold no brief for the independent merchant who does not keep up-to-date, who keeps his place of business unchanged, where the time worn conditions of the cat in the cracker barrel and the fly specks on the chandeliers still exist. There is no necessity for that condition.

"Some folks use the word progress all too lightly. There is no progress unless all benefit in a greater or lesser degree. A dog running in a circle chasing his own tail is motion but not progress and I feel often that our attributed progress is not really progress but like the dog in motion. The whole system of American syndication is creating an empire of big business, so called, that will eventually make this a nation of clerks and hirelings.

"You farmers who are present, you like to call yourself independent, but are you? We are all dependent one upon the other. The farmer needs the city man and the city man surely needs the farmer. The all-important thing is the equitable division between the two that will bring the greatest lot of happiness to the two classes of people. You farmers if you think you're not dependent, how many gallons of gasoline per acre is your farm raising? No, we are all dependent one upon the other but what we ask is justice and a square deal one between the other.

"Many will call this an economic question. Have you ever thought in what might be the face of it appear a temporary benefit? It's a question worth studying thoroughly. That this is the truth is brought out when our legislators are waking up to the fact, when our schools and colleges are recognizing this great question and the baneful results of big business syndication."

"It is indeed gratifying to note that some of our 'big men' at Washington are recognizing this fact and are coming out flat-footed opposing syndication of business and are registering a vow to fight for the people and for the flag. When the first colonists landed at Plymouth Rock they knelt down and prayed, thanking God that they had a free country in which to serve their God. They knelt in spite of the hardships, the pestilence and the savages which beset them. The first cloud to mar that freedom was the Boston Tea Party and apparently there will be another Boston Tea Party in 1930. There must be a house cleaning in our political life, a battle against men and power who will tolerate syndication.

"I believe that syndication of business is not competition but monopoly. I believe that the 'buying power' of the syndicate system can be likened unto the big fist that brooks no opposition and its presence is felt through all operations today clear from the raw material to the retail cash register. I believe that cutting out the middle elements of our democracy. It will eliminate the great middle class that has been the balance wheel of our country.

"Who were the great builders of Holland? Who laid the foundation of this city? The fruits of whose labors are you enjoying? Upon whose foundation, not alone in Holland, but everywhere, is this syndication of business building? I say it is the foundation laid by the old sturdy pioneers whose headstones bear their name and lie buried in your Pilgrim Home."

In closing Mr. Caslow paraphrased Lincoln's Gettysburg address here and there applied it to today's conditions in behalf of the cause he is fighting through his Main Street Crusade.

Mr. Caslow had with him a representative who assisted him in the sale of his book, and he also stated that considerable money was being subscribed in other cities to keep up the radio campaign and that many new stations were being established, one at Kalamazoo, one at Flint, and a large one at Detroit.

clothes. Almost as fast as it is dug out new fresh material works itself in, by natural pressure from the sides and upward pressure from below. What is taken out one day, almost fills up again overnight. No stock for sale, though better than oil. No speculating or wild catting.

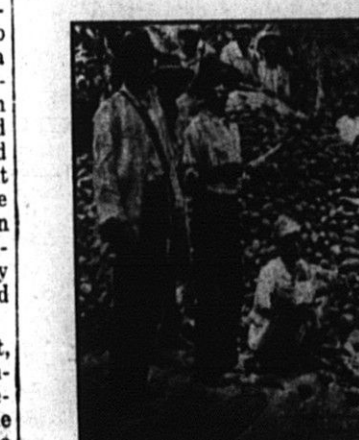

There has been much discussion as to the formation of this pitch, but the best opinion is that the asphalt is a deposit formed from petroleum. Let us hope that it is pitch rather than paraffine or salt that stops the Victor's and Zwemer's in Muskegon. The lake, if you want to call it such, is one of the hottest spots in the world owing to the absorption of the sun's rays, resembling the mud painted of Yellowstone Park, Wyoming. Trinidad was discovered by Christopher Columbus in 1498. The first settlement by Spaniards, was in 1532, very near to the city. Port of Spain, which we visited after leaving Pitch Lake and where the Calendon, our ship, sailed too after we got off at La Brea. Its shape is rectangular with promontories at every corner. It is about 50 miles from north to south and 35 east to west. 1800 square miles or more in area. The inhabitants are nearly all black and colored, people of African descent; and also people of English, French, Spanish, and German extraction.

We saw gentle-eyed girl mothers, with nose rings and silver bangles or bracelets as many as a dozen on arms and ankles—and rings on their toes. Even the tiny babies they carry are similarly bedecked except for the nose-rings which denote the marital state of the mothers.

Climate is hot and moist; sunshine one moment, and rain the other. We carried umbrellas all the time, when least expected it would rain. The soil is fertile, the products much like the other islands, like Barbados and Martinique, only there is much petroleum and asphalt here, for which the island is mainly noted. The island was a British took it away from them, and it remained so since. We sailed along the shores of Tobago island close to Trinidad. This is the island from which Defoe drew his descriptions for his work on "Robinson Crusoe."

The roads in Trinidad are excellent for motoring. The government railroad serves many parts of the island, in all about 125 miles. No railroad accidents, or anybody run over, for the gates are real gates when they close, and you just have to wait. Very large coconut fields here, acres and acres, and also much cocoa cultivation. Port of Spain is the capital of Trinidad, it is a very clean and sanitary city. We noticed a Y. M. C. A. building, nice hospitals, beautiful hotels, colleges, botanical gardens, sugar factories, oil refineries, and it practically lacks nothing of importance.

The cocoa is a small spreading tree usually not higher than 20 feet. Its cultivation is extensive here on account of the hot and moist climate and well drained fertile soil necessary for success. The plants are sown in nurseries where they are carefully tended until about a foot high, then planted among banana trees where they are shaded until they are able to bear the heat. Fruit is borne when the trees are about 5 years old. Fruit looks like big cucumbers of various sizes and full of beans, like beans in pods. Chocolate and cocoa powder is made from cocoa. The inventor of our present cocoa or chocolate powder, as it is called, is none other than the "Well Known" "Van Houten," a Dutch manufacturer. Chocolate is simply cocoa mixed with spices and sugar made into bars. The cocoa, for making the drink called cocoa is simply powdered cocoa. The fat is used for making cocoa butter. The cocoonut tree belongs to the Palm family growing here very extensively. Best grown in tropical countries and climates like of this island. The tree is tall and unbranched, bearing at its summit a crown of long feathery leaves. The fruit is the nut.

As we rode along the beautiful highways we came through acres and acres of coconut orchards, looking in extent much like the large orange grove in the world near Merced, California. Coconuts were lying alongside of the road everywhere. Many times we saw tourists stop their cars to drill holes in ripe coconuts and drink the milk which is very delicious, also see natives climb these trees like monkeys after these nuts, and then see them piled up in big heaps. The fiber or fur of the nut is used by the natives for making ropes and matings. Surely to have a cocoonut field is a rich possession.

We noticed that the natives are very good carvers. They make all kinds of faces like humans on coconuts. Now I really believe I can see where the expression came from, "Low Bridge." "Watch out for your cocoonut." Tall as I am my attention was perhaps called oftener than most people. Out there, the people that labor in the cocoonut fields are all creoles, or blacks and their heads with the short curly fuzz very much resembles coconuts.

There is gloom and lamentation at the "Home." Martha meets the Lord, and the resurrection of the dead is discussed between them. Martha is silenced with the declaration of the Master, "I am the resurrection and the life." The disciples sing their joy there at Mary in sorrow shows the cave where Lazarus has been laid. Jesus, standing in front of the cave, weeps, and after God's power has been prayed for commands that the stone over the cave be taken away and calls upon Lazarus to come forth. At the sight of the risen brother, all exclaim the power of God's love. Lazarus sings his joy at hearing the voice of his Lord within the tomb.

Jas. A. Brouwer Co.Holland Gas Co.
Helps Develop
Local IndustrySLIDING SCALE TO BIG GAS USERS CONDUCTIVE TO MANUFACTURINGCommon Council Seeing Advantage of This New Rate Gives It Encouragement

Elsewhere in the official proceedings of the common council will be found a proposal brought up by Mr. Walter Groth, manager of the Holland Gas Co., suggesting a lower rate to industrial and residential consumers who use gas in volume. This surely will work to the advantage of manufacturing plants already using gas and will be an extra inducement to encourage new plants to come to the city. Reasonable taxes, advantageous freight facilities, reasonable light and power rates and a low gas rate have always been factors in holding large business institutions in a city or bringing others to town. From this standpoint the Holland Gas Co. has done a commendable thing to encourage manufacturing here.

Mr. Groth pointed out to the members of the common council that the company had made a survey analyzing rates and volume of business covering a period of the last three years and found it possible to make this optional rate which in reality is a sliding scale for those who use a large amount of gas covering a period of one year.

The minimum or small consumers are not affected by this rate, however their rate will go no higher than at present.

Mr. Groth stated, however, should additional gas be used because of cooking devices, laundry, drying, refrigeration, house heating or incinerator purposes, they also could take advantage of this new rate and thus effect a saving in their domestic gas bills.

The Holland Board of Public Works, in its light and power rates, also has a sliding scale beneficial to large users of light and power, thus encouraging industry. This is not unusual, in fact, this optional rate is in vogue in the larger public service companies, and especially in Michigan, Mr. Groth explained.

However, in Holland, Mr. Groth said, at least for the time being, the selling of large quantities of gas at less money would bring about the desired effect, increasing the manufacturers' output, causing the employment of more labor in Holland and thereby bring about a substantial growth in the city, the Holland Gas Co. would benefit in the future because of this growth and the officials had faith enough in Holland to take a chance.

As will be seen by the council proceedings the rates waver was granted on motion of Alderman McLean since it did not affect adversely any other rate but would be generally beneficial to everyone if any industrial benefits should be derived.

The rates will be filed with Michigan Public Utilities Commission and if allowed, which it undoubtedly will be, it will mean a large extension of gas mains in the southwestern part of the city where there has been considerable industrial development in the past years.

Mr. Groth stated that better than $100,000 will be spent by the local company for new extensions and this will provide a great deal of extra labor shortly.

It will mean the laying of a large line from 16th street to 32nd street, east on 32nd street to Lincoln avenue. In addition a number of pressure tie-ins would be placed to assure absolute continuity of service regardless of load condition.

The whole story in a nut shell is this: There is no increase in gas rates to anyone. There is a reduction to old and new manufacturers using volume and the more used, the more goods will be manufactured and the more labor will be employed.

If present manufacturing plants manufacture more it will help Holland, if new ones come it will help this city. It surely is a progressive position to take on the part of the Gas Co. at this time when manufacturing needs encouragement.

Selecting the Easter BonnetOttawa County
Nurse Dealing

HEALTH NOW HELPING IN BLENDDON, ALLENDALE AND GEORGETOWN

Smallpox has been widely scattered in Georgetown, Alledale, Blendon and Polkton townships, necessitating quick action on the part of the county nurse, Miss Madge Breshnahan and local doctors there, to suppress by vaccination and segregation what might have easily developed into an epidemic.

During the past few weeks 1093 vaccinations were made, the residents needing no urging to counteract the dread disease, although light in that section, has proved too often a scourge. There were 15 cases of well-developed smallpox in Alledale, three in Blendon and one in Tallmadge. Most of them were light but several were rather serious.

The disease got a heavy start as the first cases were mistaken for chickenpox. It was said to have broken out in a school in that section and rapidly spread through many families.

Miss Breshnahan has also completed 105 toxin-anti-toxin injections, which requires three applications before the patient is declared immune from diphtheria.

During the past month she has visited 20 homes, made 10 water investigations, inspected 76 children of which 12 had defects corrected; made two school inspections and gave two class room talks.

Among the children there were 27 with throat defects, 11 were found to have lymph nodes, four with defective vision, one underweight and three overweight. There were 22 new cases of tuberculosis found and 14 old ones called upon, and two clinics attended. Glasses were obtained for five children.

Dr. William R. Davis of the Bureau of Mouth Hygiene, of the Michigan Health Department is in the county this week to make examinations.

To permit direct control over the plant, a board of public works similar to the one in Holland was established by a similar vote. The board will hire a full-time superintendent for the plant.

OTTAWA COUNTY FARM AGENT SCHEDULES
SOIL MEETINGS

With eight and a half millions of acres of crop land in the state and six and a half million acres in need of lime, all Michigan farmers have a problem on their hands, says agricultural agent Milham. At the rate lime is being applied it will take sixty-five years to cover our acid soils with the correct amount of lime. Ottawa county farmers spend annually sixteen thousand dollars for lime and ten times as much for fertilizer. A farmer on acid soil loses more every year than it would cost to sweeten the soil with lime. Where lime is applied to an acid soil the lime pays for itself and is therefore a good investment. Mr. Milham predicts that more lime will be used this year than in past years.

The last meetings to study soil problems, their solution and the relationship of fertile alkaline soils to profitable farming will be completed next week. All meetings will be on fast time and at township halls unless otherwise stated.

Zeeland will move its clocks one hour ahead next Saturday night. This will be the third type of time to be registered in this section of the county. The postal employees will work according to standard time as will the transportation companies. Farmers in the eastern section of the district will move their clocks one-half hour faster than standard time, thus being between the city time and the standard time.

With the three kinds of time a person is going to be right somewhere, and never have an excuse for being late.

AUSTIN HARRINGTON GIVES
MERCHANTS GOOD ROAD
NEWS

At the Merchants Association meeting Austin Harrington, chairman of the Ottawa Road Commission, gave the merchants some interesting good road news, for new highways to the city are always good news to a merchant. He stated that building had been started on East 16th street, extending the concrete from the old airport two miles farther east which will be encouraging to Overisel and Drenthe farmers and those living in that vicinity.

He also stated that the new superhighway to Zeeland was progressing nicely, that the grade was almost done, that the bridges were being built and that by the middle of summer work on this wide strip of concrete would be well under way.

He also stated that the highway department was progressing on the Black River bridge on US31 and that soundings were being taken at the present channel and at the old channel farther south where several years ago Black River had its outlet crossing River avenue. It is generally believed that if a channel were cut making a flow of Black River more direct to Black Lake that there would be considerable fall in the stream, there wouldn't be a damming up as it is now with all the curves, land wouldn't be flooded, especially during freshets and the filth and stagnation of the stream wouldn't be so prevalent. It is a mighty good thing to consider which channel would be the most advantageous.

COMMUNICATION ABOUT OUR BAND

The Holland American Legion Band of 40 pieces under the leadership of Mr. E. F. Heester are putting forth every effort during this last week in preparation for their Jubilee concert Friday eve, April 11, 1930, at 8 o'clock. The band is holding two rehearsals this week and the advertising is being pushed to the fullest extent in order that everyone near and far may know of this gala event. The band is keyed up to a high pitch and is anxiously awaiting the night of its entertainment in order that they may show to Holland music lovers what a marked improvement has been made. In regard to the program the manager of the band wishes to state at this time that the music selected is of the very best and that does not mean a lot of jazz tunes but numbers that all will enjoy from the youngest to oldest present. Now as citizens of Holland we all know that we need our Legion Band and we all admit it is a valuable asset to Holland and we all want to keep it and see it make big strides, but this cannot be accomplished unless there is sufficient money available to keep the band equipped in instruments, music and the like. Now that the city budgets have been lowered to such a great extent, the band had to look for some other avenue for its present support and they have resorted to this one of giving a wonderful concert for a very nominal price and by so doing all can attend, and the band can make a little money to carry them thru this season.

Now it is just one thing or the other support and a band, no support no band. You have the opportunity this week Friday of making your decision, and if the gymnasium is packed the band will know your attitude, and will be greatly pleased and if there is no crowd at all they have reason to be disappointed. You hear 10 concerts in the park in the summer, free of charge, now come across, and help make these concerts possible.

Now—you know the day (Friday) You know the date (Apr. 11) You know the time (8 p.m.) You know the place (Carnegie gym) You know the price (35c) You know the reason (To keep this band) So all the band has to say is come.

—Music Lover.

Farmers Can Help to Save
Game BirdsBURNING OF MARSH PAS-TURE DESTROYS MANY NESTS AND BIRDS
AS WELL

In Michigan a great annual toll of game bird nests and eggs results from fires that are intentionally set to burn over marshy pasture and meadow lands, according to Dr. Miles D. Pirnie, ornithologist, of the Department of Conservation.

Each year many farmers burn over part of their grass lands, and on these areas many pheasant, prairie chicken and quail nests are destroyed. Such fires also destroy much good nesting cover.

If the burning is done as soon as the snow is off the ground, there is a minimum of such destruction. However, if the burning is delayed until late April or the first of May, much damage is likely to result, for at that time many birds are nesting. Also young rabbits, fawns, and other animals are in danger of death from the flames.

The Department of Conservation is not asking that farmers set no grass fires, Dr. Pirnie said, but it urges that the necessary burning of grass lands be done as early as practicable in order to avoid the destruction of valuable game species.

ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Otto J. Schaap celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary Monday of this week. Mr. Schaap was born in Fillmore township, Allegan county, on the farm which is still owned by him. This farm has been in possession of the Schaap family since 1847, when it was cleared by Mr. Schaap's grandfather, a member of the Van Schaale party. Mrs. Schaap, was before her marriage was Alice Dalman, was born in Grand Rapids, and moved at an early age with her parents to Fillmore township. Fifteen years ago they left the farm for a suburban home, leaving operation of the farm to a son.

Mr. and Mrs. Schaap are 73 and 71 years old, respectively. Both are enjoying good health and able to do their own work. Their hobby is chickens and seldom, if ever, is their flock allowed to decrease to less than 200.

Ten children were born to the couple, eight of whom are living. They are Mrs. J. H. Geerlings of New Holland, S. D.; Mrs. E. Ryensch, Mrs. G. Michenerhuizen and Jacob, Henry, William, John and Arthur Schaap, all of Holland. There are 38 grandchildren.

HUDSONVILLE

Rev. J. F. Heemstra and Edward DeWent attended the Holland classis held at the Trinity Reformed church at Holland.

Mr. and Mrs. Dirk Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Vander Wall of this village and Mrs. A. Pool and little daughter of Muskegon motored to Holland to visit Mr. and Mrs. Vander Wall's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. Borman and family. Little Emily Borman returned home with them last a few days, visiting with grandma and grandpa Vander Wall, but has now returned to her parents in Holland.

Rev. J. F. Heemstra, pastor of the Reformed church, delivered a sermon at the First Reformed church at Roseland, Ill., on Sunday, April 6. Rev. Heemstra formerly was pastor of that church. He came to Hudsonville from Holland, where he was at the Fourth Reformed church.

Rev. J. F. Heemstra preached at the Garfield Park Reformed church of Grand Rapids Sunday, May 30. He also administered baptism to his little grandson, son of Dr. and Mrs. B. J. Hager.

Miss Jennie Lubbers of Holland and Miss Henrietta Lubbers of Beaverdam have been visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Klamer.

BECKER NAMED CAPTAIN OF HOPE'S BASKETEERS

Clarence Becker, present junior at Hope college, who lives in Grand Rapids, has been named captain of the basketball team for next season. Becker finished a great year on the court at his forward position, being one of the hardest workers on the floor that this city has ever seen. He was a member of the varsity in his sophomore year. Coach Jack Schouten looks forward to another good season as he has Howard Dalman and Watson Spoelstra, sophomore regulars, to form the nucleus with Becker. Spoelstra was the choice for the mythical all-M. I. A. center job.

What's a stack of hotcakes got to do with a GARDEN?

HOTCAKES just off the griddle are at their tenderest. Then's the time to eat them—when they're hot. And vegetables just from a garden are at their tenderest. Then is the time to eat them, too—when the radishes are solid, crisp. When the tomatoes sparkle as you peel them, and you can slice them smooth and thin.

Have a kitchen garden and enjoy all your vegetables at their climax-time, when they are most tender and sweet. Plant Ferry's purebred Seeds. These have abundant life inside. They are what their name says—purebred. Generations of the seeds that finally became these seeds produced vegetables and flowers approaching perfection.

Ferry's Seeds are at the "store around the corner." A few packets will show what your own yard can grow—but you will want more than a few packets when you look over Ferry's Seed Annual. With this, your garden can produce from early-radiant time till frost, when crisp, white celery can last clear on till spring again! For the Annual, write to D. M. Ferry & Co., Detroit, Michigan.

P. S.—THE GARDENER HAS NO SECOND CHANCE. PLANT THE BEST.

Honeymooner Gives Help In U. S. Dry Raid

BRIDE, SLEEP BROKEN BY NOISE OF TRUCKS, AIDS IN RUMMERS' CAPTURE

The rumbling of heavily-laden liquor trucks along the roads of Woodbridge, N. J., which disturbed the slumbers of a honeymoon couple, led to the arrest early today at Keasbey, N. J., of seven alleged rum runners and the seizure of 200 cases of cognac, valued by federal agents at $100 a case.

Early this morning John H. McGill, deputy surveyor of the port of New York in charge of enforcement, received a telephone call from the bride, whose name he withheld, informing him that she and her husband were unable to sleep because of the noise of the trucks.

An automobile full of inspectors immediately started from New York and soon located 20 men unloading the cognac cargo from a motorboat at a pier at Keasbey. A large van stood ready to receive the liquor.

Deputy Surveyor McGill said the cognac seized was of the highest quality taken in a raid by customs agents here in several years.

WILLIAM WILDS HAS NOT ONLY SERVED ABLY AS COUN- TY CLERK BUT HAS MILITARY RECORD TOO

Following a career of 30 years of military service to the state, the country and in the Grand Haven company Major William Wilds has received a commission which advances him from a captain to a major in the 338th Infantry Officers Reserve Corps, a distinction which has been well earned as the years of devotion to military circles is reviewed.

Major Wilds, popular county clerk, has been identified in some way or other with military activities since 1898, when with tears in his eyes he was denied the privilege of marching away with old Co. F when it joined the ranks in the Spanish-American War, as he lacked six months of the age limit.

As soon as possible he joined the National Guard, enlisting here as a private and steadily worked his way through the non coms, where his intense interest in the service and his ability was easily recognized. On July 3, 1905, he was appointed Second Lieutenant of Co. F, then the Second Michigan Infantry, afterwards known as the 32nd division. He held this position until Oct. 9, 1909, when he resigned to retire.

However, so capable an officer was not to be allowed to get out of the service so easily and he was called upon many times to assist companies at Ionia, Kalamazoo, Muskegon, and this city.

About this time the rumblings of World war were ever increasing and on Dec. 12, 1917, he joined the air service where he received a commission as First Lieutenant and was stationed at Garden City, L. I. Unfortunately for him, he says, he was never transferred over seas but was kept in camps in this country training the recruits, who were sorely in need of capable instruction. He was sent to Camp Sevier, at Greenville, S. C., and Camp Grant at Rockford, Ill. Following the close of the war he was sent to an air service training school at St. Paul. He was in charge of troop trains sent from St. Paul to Sacramento, Calif., to Arcadia, Fla. on Oct. 30, 1919, he was honorably discharged under the Defense Act.

At the organization of the Officers Reserves in 1920 he was commissioned captain in the air service but shortly afterward was transferred to the 337th Infantry where he has served up until the present time.

Major Wilds is city chairman of the C.M.T.C. and each year since 1922 has spent 15 days at Camp Custer, assisting to train the Michigan boys, who yearly receive 30 days real army camp life. He has been an ardent worker to secure the quota from Ottawa county each year.

Besides his military activities, Major Wilds has taken a prominent part in city affairs. He was the city clerk from 1910 to 1917 when he resigned to enter the service. Judge O. S. Cross appointed him county clerk to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Orrie J. Sluiter in May, 1926. He was elected to office on November of that year and again in 1928. He has announced himself as a candidate for 1930.

Of modest mien, Major Wilds

DRAIN CONTRACTS LET IN TALLMADGE TO RE-CLEAN DRAINS ON M-50; COST $1,500

Following a decision of the Board of Determination of Tallmadge Township two important drain contracts were let within the past few days to reclean two important drains near M-50 in Georgetown and Blendon, the estimated cost to be $1,500 apiece. The contracts were let in two sections, one to Charles J. Baker of Hopkins, the other to Lapham & Son of Shelbyville. Another big job will be the Bush and the Hulst drain in Blendon and Olive, estimated to cost $8,000 to be started in May. The work is all confined to recleaning, by dredging and remarking the banks of the open drains. The average drained includes 1,220 acres in Allendale, 3,000 acres in Georgetown and 7,000 in Blendon. Henry Siersma, drain commissioner for the past fourteen years, has a knowledge of topography of Ottawa county as few in the county, and has served in laying out and making assessment in every section of the county with very little friction among property holders.

was urged to tell of special honors he had won during the 30 years he has been connected with things military. He could recall one honor when as a member of a rifle team he assisted in winning the Evening Press trophy at Berlin, where the team participated in a regimental shoot. He recalled that Herman Vander Noot, the present court stenographer, who lives in Grand Rapids, Jake Poel and Owen Mulligan, a former resident, were members of the same team. They were crack shots and the trophy was a prized one.

During the years of his residence here Major Wilds has always been interested in fraternal organizations. He has held every office in the local B.P.O.E. No. 1200 and at present is the secretary. He belongs to the Blue Lodge and Chapter of the local Masonic Lodge.

Never having married, Major Wilds lives with his mother, Mrs. Mary Wilds. He has always been popular in military, political and social circles and friends have been congratulating him on his advance. He will go to Camp Custer this summer and is at present drumming up boys in north Ottawa county to receive the benefits of the free training which Uncle Sam gives our boys.

Major Wilds has been attending an officers' training school at Grand Rapids for several years, including one of the best known officers in the Reserve Corps in Michigan.

Action Taken By Road Body Against Tugs

COMMISSIONERS SEEK RE-
STRICTION OF CLEARANCE FOR TOWING CRAFT ON GRAND

Due to complaints and requests to relieve the annoying delays at the bridge on US-16 and US-31, the Ottawa County Road Commission took action this week at their meeting whereby they will request the board of supervisors, at their next meeting, to apply to the War Department for regulations restricting the clearance of towing craft on Grand River.

Chicago has such restrictions in force which limit the height of stacks and flag staffs to 13 feet above the surface of the water. Provision is made for this by installed a jointed stack which may be lowered when the craft is going under a bridge, eliminating the necessity of opening the bridge.

The clearance at the local bridge as measured recently is 14 feet. Such a regulation would be of much benefit, the road commissioners believe, as most of the traffic up the river is confined to tugs and small pleasure craft.

Following the tie-up at the bridge on Thursday, when the Fontana was being towed to her moorings below the bridges, several tug owners expressed their willingness to conform to suggestions which might come from the Road Commission.

Coals of fire have been heaped upon the heads of the bridge tenders but they have orders from federal authorities to swing the bridge when the boat whistles. This may sometimes seem in excess of the time to make the opening, but on account of the wind and current, many times there is danger of striking the bridge if precaution is not taken to have it wide open in plenty of time.

The case on Thursday is infrequent and the bridge men were willing to do everything possible to assist traffic. A boat of this size if it should strike the bridge would demolish it and traffic would suffer immeasurably.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Growing in the Kingdom.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Sin of Neglecting and Misguiding Children.

1. The Greatest in the Kingdom of Heaven (vv. 1-4).

1. The disciples' question (v. 1). The prominence given to Peter in connection with the announcement of Christ's purpose to build the church and the payment of tribute with the money in the fish's mouth provoked jealousy on the part of the other disciples. The transfiguration scene revealed the divine person and the program of His kingdom. Seeing that the kingdom was to come to realization despite the tragedy of the cross, disciples wished to know their place of rank in the kingdom.

2. Jesus' answer (vv. 2-4).

He taught them by placing a little child in their midst.

(1) Condition of entrance into the kingdom (v. 3). The great question was as to whether they were really in the kingdom. Their behavior revealed the fact that they needed conversion. Before they could even see, much less enter into, the kingdom, they must be born from above (John 3:3, 5).

(2) Whoever possesses childlike humility is the greatest (v. 4). The child is dependent, lowly and modest. Those who have been born again, or converted, have these characteristics.

II. The Lord's Identification With His Believing Ones (vv. 5-9).

1. Receiving the believer in Christ's name is receiving Christ (v. 5).

Through faith in Christ we become God's children, and so completely are our lives interwoven with His that He regards treatment of us as treatment of Himself.

2. The peril of causing a believer to stumble (vv. 6-9).

To cause to stumble means to give occasion for a moral fall. The particular reference was to the carnality and selfishness which were expressing themselves in their contention for pre-eminence. Their behavior was not only an injury, but a stumbling block to others. Everything causing one to stumble, though it be as vital as hands and feet, should be removed.

III. Believers Are Specially Cared for by the Heavenly Father (vv. 10-14).

1. They are under angelic guardianship (v. 10).

So precious is the believer in God's sight that angelic messengers are provided (Heb. 1:10). These angelic messengers have access to the very throne of God, even beholding His face. So high is the honor bestowed upon believers that the highest angels are sent to guard them.

2. The Son came especially to save such from their lost condition (vv. 11-14).

The Heavenly Father does not will that any one of these should perish. They are objects of the Father's seeking love. The salvation of the humble believer has been secured by the incarnation and the sacrifice of the Good Shepherd.

IV. Jesus Receiving Little Children (Matt. 19:13-15).

We should carefully note the setting of this text. Jesus had been speaking of the sanctity of marriage, which is the bulwark of the home. Into the sacred enclosure of the home comes childhood to complete and ennoble it.

1. Children brought to Jesus (v. 13).

Don'tless they were brought by their parents. Many parents today who are careless as to themselves, desire to bring their children into touch with Jesus Christ.

2. Rebuked by the disciples (v. 13).

They regarded children as too insignificant to engage the Lord's attention. Christ places high value upon children.

3. The disciples rebuked by Christ (v. 14).

These words uttered by the Lord have placed a peculiar dignity upon the child. It is Christlike to care for children and no service in the world pays such large dividends.

4. Christ laid His hands upon the children (v. 15).

Walter Groth, manager of the Holland Gas Co., appeared before the Council with two sets or schedules of optional gas rates, which were in the nature of promotional rates, and would in no way disturb the present rates. One schedule was for intended Commercial and Industrial users and the other for Residential and Commercial users.

Mr. Groth explained that these new schedules of rates would be an advantage to the consumer where large quantities of gas were consumed, and would also help the Gas Co. as they anticipated that larger quantities of Gas would be consumed if the rates were more advantageous. Mr. Groth explained that these rates were to be filed with the Public Utilities Commission.
