Does Holland Stand to Lose Its Boat Line?

HOLLAND MERCHANTS ARE WITH GOODRICH TRANS-PORTATION CO.

That the Holland Merchants fully appreciate the necessity of a boat line in this port is evident when the matter was brought up at the meeting Monday night and many spoke urging merchants to patronize the boat company.

Mr. George Getz, who is receiver for the boat company, made clear that boats were to be sent to and from Holland as frequently as possible, and the company, and especially the receivers who are running under government supervision, must show a need and greater demand for a boat company here.

It is evident that Holland isn't getting its just proportion of tonnage, for while Chicago is 8 miles nearer to Holland than is Grand Haven, Grand Rapids freight coming and going is unloaded at Grand Haven, the longest water-route as well as the longest truck route. It is a matter that should be taken up with the receivers to find out the reason why.

Alderman William C. Vandenberg urged that, coming and going, as much Holland freight be sent by boat as possible. He was wondering whether the evolution of travel and freighting via truck and the passenger car, was ringing the death-knell to boat travel as it did to the interurban lines. He cited the fact that the Holland Interurban property worth $3,000,000 was sold "under the hammer" for $250,000 and incidentally pointed out that these public service companies, that had to maintain their own right-of-way, keep their own roads open in the winter, bear all the expense of maintenance, paying into the state coffers primary tax, were compelled to compete against competitors using the public highway and maintained at public expense.

The news maintained that this was a most unjust competition against railroads, boat lines and interurbans compelling them to pay taxes on highways which their competitors used. Since the demise of these interurbans the State of Michigan may have been levying a more just toll on public service company rolling stock using public highways. If not, such provisions should be made. But that is aside from the question. The thing now is to do something for the boat line and Chairman Cornelius Dornbos appointed William Brouwer, Chairman, Dick Boter and William C. Vandenberg to take up this matter seriously and call a public meeting if necessary, possibly through the Chamber of Commerce and have all the shippers gather and give some time to that particular question.

Holland without a boat line would be like a duck without water and you can be sure that if we ourselves cannot see the handwriting on the wall, namely that our harbor appropriations will soon be cut off—we will know it because of the conspicuous absence of the General Meades, the good old ship which has given us a splendid water-way for many years by maintaining an 18-foot channel, both at the outer and inner harbor.

Not alone should Holland wake up to this situation, but as patrons of Grand Rapids wholesalers, they should demand that this business, at least in a large measure, be shipped via this port.

Holland folks! Remember the days of the Holland, the Soo City, the Puritan, the Grand Rapids, the Milwaukee, the Argo, the Mabel Bradshaw, and the McVea. Don't let those days pass from Holland's history.

The boats entering this port have already shrunk to half the size of other days. We grumbled when the "Grand Rapids" was taken away from us and sent to Muskegon. Let us ask ourselves the question—Who is to blame for this condition? Have we done our full duty by our water transportation facilities? It is time to find out now!

Men who gave earnest talks on this boat line situation were Alderman Vandenberg, President Dornbos, William Brouwer, Dick Boter, Kenneth De Pree, Charles Gross and others.

MORRIS ROBINSON LOSES CAR FOR 18 MONTHS; OTHERS FACE JURY MILES

Morris Robinson, 22, of Watervliet, who was tried on a negligent homicide charge last fall and sentenced to 30 days in the Allegan county jail and placed on probation two years, but who obtained a retrial after the supreme court had decreed Judge Fred T. Miles could not send a man to jail and place him on probation for the same offense, was placed on probation Tuesday by the judge for three years. He was forbidden to drive a car for 18 months or use liquor in that period.

The former trial resulted from an accident on US31 near South Haven. Robinson went to sleep while at the wheel and a companion was killed.

Elmer Berlind, 19, and Leo Gleason, 27, both of Saugatuck, who pleaded guilty to breaking and entering a Saugatuck garage and stealing an automobile and money, were held for sentence Wednesday.

Carl Hoadley, 23, of Watervliet, pleaded guilty to a statutory offense and is awaiting sentence.

Laverne Foote, 17, of South Haven, who pleaded guilty to larceny of an automobile near Holland was sentenced to seven months to two years in Ionia prison.

FIRE IN FOREST GROVE SCHOOL—LESSONS GO ON

Wednesday when one of the children attending the West School, Forest Grove, reported to Miss Boschma, the teacher, that the roof of the schoolhouse was on fire. She thought it was an April fool joke at first but upon investigation it was found ablaze and an alarm was sent in. The Forest Grove fire truck was rushed to the building but was not pressed into service as the flames were extinguished by water brought in buckets from the school well. The south side of the roof was damaged. School was resumed, however, after the excitement subsided.

All Of Us Are Salesmen, Says Warm Friender

SALESMANSHIP IS NOTHING MORE THAN LEADERSHIP

Holland Merchants' Association Gives Rising Vote of Thanks to L. F. Allen of the Holland Furnace Co.

One of the most instructive and at the same time most interesting Holland Merchants' Association meetings held in years was when Mr. L. F. Allen, sales educational director of the Holland Furnace Co., gave the merchants and their respective sales forces a real "eye-opener" on salesmanship.

The pyramiding of business by the Warm Friend establishment even during these stressful times has been something to marvel at but the attentive listeners Monday night to Mr. Allen's discourse were made aware of at least one reason why these "home heaters" have registered such a tremendous success the country over.

President C. Dornbos in his pleasing manner introduced Mr. Allen and told the reason of his coming that evening and that his subject was to be "Salesmanship."

Mr. Allen recognized the introduction and he said in part as follows:

"Your chairman, Mr. Dornbos, I feel, always has the interest of you merchants and the city of Holland at heart. He has just mentioned that the saying goes that a 'salesman is not made, but born.' I do not agree entirely with this time-worn saying. I have had a great deal to do with salesmanship as it relates to the Holland Furnace Co., and I want to say that I have had many cases in which men felt that they never were cut out as salesmen but they did have the fundamentals which was the average intelligence and a small mead of imagination.

"You have often heard of the high pressure salesman. This is not the true salesmanship built on a solid foundation. The term is often used in the selling of unstable commodities. It surely does not inspire confidence.

"I have attended many salesmen's conventions in my day and in looking over the audience, I see all manner of men and it is surprising that in these variations of personalities and types, the men gathered are star salesmen. They do not run to types.

"I feel that any man with the average intelligence could be made into a good salesman. It is interesting to me in my sales classes to see raw recruits develop into real salesmen. It is interesting to watch them unfold day by day, constantly adding to their knowledge, confidence and efficiency.

"I have had many of these men under my supervision who did not appear promising but today we number them among our best branch managers and heating engineers.

"You may believe it or not, but we are all salesmen—good, bad or indifferent. A little babe in the cradle quickly makes it known to its mother in no uncertain tones that food is necessary. A laborer in the shop advertises his ability as a producer. Whether a person is a wholesaler, retailer or a specialist, he is a salesman. Their ability is recognized only in the results they attain.

"I have one conviction in the training of men and that is that they must work in the interest of the customer and from the customer's viewpoint. This has not always been done by salesmen, however, it should be the first essential.

In talking to my class or to an audience such as you have here, I often ask a direct question 'What is your business?', and the reaction I get on this is sometimes rather unusual as are the answers that are brought out.

"A short time ago I asked one prospective salesman what his business was and he says 'I. W. W. service.' Upon inquiry he stated 'Information, water and wind.' I noticed this prospect had a sense of humor but he has cultivated since that time to great advantage.

"A salesman not only must have intelligence but he must also have imagination, and above all, he must love his work. With an imagination he can arouse the imagination of his prospect. If I conducted a retail store, I would always endeavor to get the viewpoint of those trading with me. I would try to create a want by picturing a need to the prospective customer.

"A man selling a house would not get very far if he pictured it as a place to run into when it rains. He must visualize the comforts of a home, the satisfaction of owning one's own home and the thought of seeing its surroundings made beautiful and the knowledge that his property will enhance in value. The only talking point in selling a washing machine is not that it cleans clothes, but the salesman must picture the functions together with the convenience, the relief of drudgery over the wash-board of yesterday.

"Salesmanship also requires leadership—with leadership cut out of the picture we have nothing left. The success of a salesman is not measured by his success over others. That would be a terrible mistake. A salesman's success must be measured by the standard of his previous successes. He cannot simply say 'I did as much as John Jones or more than he did,' but rather he should say 'I did as much or more than I did last month.'

"A good salesman is never satisfied with one success. He follows the true saying of John D. Rockefeller: 'Do your best today, tomorrow do right again.'

"There is a fundamental principle underlying the whole scheme of salesmanship and that is service. This is best expressed in the motto of one of your civic clubs, namely, 'He profits most who serves best.' That is the basic principle of all real salesmanship.

"Marshall Field said many years ago, 'In doing business remember the customer is always right.'

Judging from the size of this tremendous mercantile institution, Marshall Field must have had the right slant on what was best to build up such an enterprise.

"Water will not go higher than its level. By the same token the level of salesmanship reached only such heights as the capacity and the willingness of service is brought out by the salesman. Service, after all, means the building up of good will.

"Tied in the thought of salesmanship is preservation of life and the promulgation of life. Why do you want to keep warm? Why do you want to eat? To sustain life. Sustaining life naturally brings about promulgation of life and naturally that brings about the needs of life and it is just how you present these needs that will either bring success or failure in putting your proposition over. Why do some of our merchants give such splendid service? Because it is a protection to your business. Without it you would sell no goods.

"Quality for a wise buyer is more essential than price. You buy a watch first for the service it gives, price is secondary. You buy a hat for the wear and the up-to-dateness not simply to cover your head.

"Mail order houses and chain stores often have been bones of contention. No up-to-date merchant need fear them. With proper salesmanship tied up with willing service and a home personality, neatness and cleanliness as background attributes, any home merchant can hold his own.

"A good salesman is one who makes a customer see other needs besides the needs he calls for. But first the salesman must anticipate the needs of the customer—visualize these needs in his own mind, and then reveal these needs to his prospect.

"One can be too close in his business and to exacting of his rights. Really the right way to be selfish is to be unselfish. The possibilities of business today, I believe, are much greater than they ever were. From a salesman's standpoint, I see right here in Holland thousands upon thousands of needs that the people in this city do not even know about. But through salesmanship you can create this need by presenting it to a customer in the proper light.

"The day of a customer coming to you is a day of the past. The time has come when you must go to the customer and Holland merchants are beginning to realize that fully. Selling is not the only thing that makes for salesmanship. It is the service that goes with it that counts. Taking the order is only the beginning. The after consideration is service.

"My definition for salesmanship is 'This 'Salesmanship is revealing needs and making wants.'"

Throughout his discourse, Mr. Allen frequently used the black-board, giving convincing illustrations through chalk-talk pictures.

At the close of the meeting, President Dornbos stated that Mr. Allen had given the merchants and the sales-people present ample food for thought and he hoped that Mr. Allen could be prevailed upon again to speak at some future date when still a larger number of the sales-force of Holland could hear him.

The meeting then adjourned to the Boston Restaurant for refreshments.

The driver and the helper were thrown in the street and soon the highway was a mess of flying kegs and sprawling men. When the horses were caught, it was found that these and the men were uninjured and only the beer was a little wild.

Old Mayor of Zeeland Goes in Discards

CITIZENS TICKET TAKES BIG OFFICES FROM REPUBLICANS

Zeeland was rather surprised to find Monday evening that their old stand by, Mayor John H. Moeke, had been defeated this time by Frederick Klumper, by a narrow margin of less than a hundred votes, and the present city clerk, C. De Koster, also was defeated by Gilbert Van Hoven by only 32 votes.

Zeeland candidates have always placed considerable reliance in straight republican votes, but these did not materialize this year in large numbers. However the citizens ticket had plenty of them.

The total vote was 765. Of these there were 87 straight Republican ballots and 79 straight Citizen ballots. The votes received by the various candidates, was: Mayor—John H. WOMAN IS CHARGED WITH BEATING BOARD BILL IN HOLLAND

A woman giving her name as Mrs. Dr. Lawrence Gladstone and her home as in New Orleans, La., was arrested by Deputy Jack Spangler at Grand Haven Monday night on a charge of jumping a board bill at the Warm Friend Tavern in Holland. She was arraigned before Justice C. E. Burr, Grand Haven, following her arrest and demanded an examination which was set for Thursday, April 9, at 10 a. m. Bond set at $200 for her release, was unfurnished. The bill at the hotel amounted to $70 or $80, officers reported. The woman is said to have been giving treatments for various kinds of illness and Sheriff Steketee said that she had in her possession a long list of people who, it was assumed, she had treated. Many well known Holland and Grand Haven women were on the list, the sheriff said.

Peter Bontekoe Plays Role Of Sherlock Holmes

GETS TRIO WHO KIDNAPED HIM AND THEN CHAINED HIM TO A TREE

Illinois Governor Honors The Requisition For Three Men Wanted Here

Officer Peter Bontekoe, who intercepted three gangsters at the East End Restaurant and who in turn was kidnapped and chained to a tree in the "oak grove" near Hamilton, has been doing some real detective work with some extraordinary results.

It appears that after Peter had been chained the robbers had thrown their grip in Rabbit river at Hamilton, that they drove across a country to Grand Rapids, held up a grocery store on Emerald Avenue, taking $800. The robbers then left for Chicago, abandoned a stolen car in Gary, Indiana, and each went separate ways by street car to the big city.

The gangsters had overlooked one bet, however. In the grip thrown in Rabbit river, there was a list of addresses and Officer Bontekoe went to Chicago together with Detective Wolgemuth of Grand Rapids and they investigated the places described on the slip that had been left in the suitcase undoubtedly by accident. These proved to be boarding houses where the three men in question were well known. The officers were told that they had left these boarding houses but were given information as to the hangouts of the men. The description tallied with the description of the trio who had kidnapped the Holland officer. With the co-operation of the Chicago police the three were rounded up in a Chicago hotel and were held.

Frank Walanin, 27, of Grand Rapids, alias Frank Miller, has confessed to his share in the abduction of the officer and the robbery of the Grand Rapids places and has signed a waiver for extradition. Joseph Zonarecki, 26, alias Joe Kay and Ben Towers, 25, alias Joe Kay Towers, both of Chicago will be handed over to the Michigan officers and arraigned in Kent and Ottawa counties.

An agreement has been made between Chief VanVly of Holland and Chief Carroll of Grand Rapids to have Frank Walanin tried in Ottawa county for abduction and have the other two tried in Kent county for burglary. Both offenses carry with it the same sentence.

It is expected that the three men will arrive here today since Governor Louis L. Emmerson of Illinois has honored and signed the papers for extradition. The Grand Rapids police have a score of hold-ups they will question the trio about upon their arrival.

Walanin, when booked by Chicago police, first gave his name as Frank Miller, and later, apparently, said he was Stanley Walanin. A youth who said he was Stanley Walanin, Jr., of the Emerald ave. address stated to newspaper men that the man arrested in Chicago is his brother, Frank.

The arrest of Walanin in Chicago was rather spectacular. Walanin was recognized by Peter Bontekoe on the streets of Chicago, and with several officers and detectives, "grabbed" his man. As Walanin was particularly savage to the Ottawa county officer, suggesting that he be "bumped off," said the officer, Bontekoe was especially pleased to assist in his arrest.

"GROW WHAT YOU EAT"

Why not grow your own vegetables? If you are like most folks who don't you've always had a hidden feeling that you would like to. Working in the good brown earth is a deeply seated instinct handed down to us; and there's a kind of satisfaction in producing with our own hands some of the things we eat.

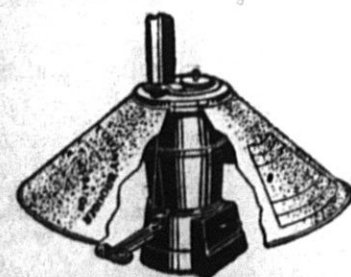

There are at least two big talking points for a good garden this year, according to Estier C. Lott, County Home Demonstration agent, who is sponsoring a county-wide garden campaign during the spring and summer months. One important point is connected with the pocketbook and another is a matter of appetite, a matter of good things to eat. The home garden, designed and operated simply on the basis of supplying the needs of the home, is one farm crop that yields a greater return per acre than any other not only in dollars and cents but in health. If there is a surplus it usually may cause no great concern.

If you've ever tasted green peas or sweet corn gathered from your own garden, at just the right stage of plump maturity, and cooked, while still plump and green, then you know how superior they are to any sweet corn or green peas you ever bought. Just "snap" a freshly picked bean, and one that is two or three days old and note the difference caused by the evaporation of moisture.

Miss Lott points out that the home garden will offer work to the unemployed in many instances; and will also be a source of inexpensive food supply, especially for those persons whose winter diets have been limited because of lowered income. According to nutrition specialists, vegetables particularly, the green leafy ones, are especially important for iron and with the exception of milk furnish more lime than any other class of foods.

Experts of the Horticulture Department at Michigan State who are cooperating with the home demonstration agent in this movement, estimate that seed and fertilizer for a garden to supply vegetables to a family of five to eight will cost no more than eight dollars. Such a garden would yield some surplus for canning and storage. The department distributes bulletins on "The Home Vegetable Garden" and "The City Garden". These may be secured from the home demonstration agent.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Bittner who moved to Flint several months ago, have returned to Holland.

When Nature Strikes
100,000,000 Lbs. of Cotton
Rockne's Power
Why Babies Eat Pins

Nature strikes with horrible force. In six sections Managua, capital of Nicaragua, was destroyed, every building in the business district leveled to the ground, more than 1,000 killed, 2,000 injured.

No attack in war equals that.

William Wrigley, an able business man in a dozen different directions, will buy up to 100,000,000 pounds of cotton in the next eight months if the price does not rise above 12 cents a pound.

At that price Mr. Wrigley will accept cotton in payment for all of his shipments to the South. Mr. Wrigley says cotton is a good investment at 12 cents and is willing to lock up $12,000,000 worth of his company's resources in it and hold it indefinitely. Cotton keeps.

President Hoover telegraphed the widow of Knute Rockne, "I know that every American grieves with you." A great teacher was Rockne. He convinced himself that his boys could win, convinced them that they could win, and they did win.

Success depends on transferring ideas from your own head into the heads of others.

Many old, with creaking joints, will ask, "How many teachers of Latin and Greek, Sanskrit and higher mathematics, how many preachers of the gospel, would have to die to attract half as much attention as Knute Rockne now attracts because he was the best teacher of football?"

Mothers, nurses, read and remember.

Doctor Johnson, whose specialty is removing foreign bodies from human air and food passages, says babies swallow pins because their mothers set the example.

When a child has a baby, a mother holds safety pins in her hand. The baby, learning by imitation, as all young animals must, puts safety pins in its mouth.

Don't hold pins in your mouth in the presence of babies or young children.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., probably without knowing it, has diminished temporarily the income that grafters get from speakeasies. Having bought several blocks in the heart of New York, he is tearing down old, abandoned residences, erecting speakeasies, and the farmer erases rats when he hears down an old barn.

Many blocks in the heart of New York offer a refuge to bootleggers.

Thrifty customers go through the basement doors under old-fashioned stone steps.

On rainy days little boys with umbrellas stand waiting to escort customers from their automobiles to the entrance, collecting tips.

Mr. Hoover says the wage scale must be maintained, and it must, unless we want to shoot prosperity to pieces entirely. It should be remembered, however, that the value of wages depends on the cost of living.

Prof. Carl Stejskal of Vienna discovers a food poison that can be rubbed into the skin, keeping a man alive indefinitely without swallowing food.

Of the new food, called "dimiton," six ounces, rubbed into the skin, is enough for one day. And you can take a bath thirty minutes after the rubbing without losing its nourishing effects.

This will discourage hunger strikes in prisons, make possible the feeding of insane patients who refuse to eat, and will be of great value in certain surgical operations when food cannot be administered.

It is believed that dimiton will also be highly valuable in treatment of diabetic cases.

Earl Cusumano, twenty-two, student at the Pennsylvania Institute for the Blind, and blind from birth, can now see, thanks to surgery, and has taken his first look at the world.

Bright flowers delight him and he finds intense pleasure in studying faces of companions who he knew only by their voices.

The young man says: "I won't have to guess at things any more. Perhaps we shall say that when we awake on the other side of the grave and our eyes are opened, let us hope so. This period of worry would hardly be worth while if it were all."

Two convicts confessed that they started a fire that killed 320 prisoners in the Ohio penitentiary a year ago. They wanted to keep the warden from building a new cell block for fellow prisoners, because they didn't want to work on it.

They may be convicted of murder in the first degree, and in the language of the criminals they may "burn" in the electric chair. In prison or out, the safety of many often depends on the moral character of one or two.

The Great Lakes fleet, comprising 555 vessels of 2,760,914 gross tons on Jan. 1 of this year, was the largest group of vessels in the world operating on fresh water, according to a report of the U. S. shipping board made public Monday.

Vessels under the American flag made up 80 per cent of the tonnage operating on the lakes. "Of the total of 555 vessels, only 23 were under 250 feet in length, many of the freighters ranging from 500 to 600 feet in length."

Holland Men Foster Scout Summer Camp

NEGOTIATIONS ARE OPENED FOR USE OF GROUNDS BY OTTAWA BOYS

Ottawa county Boy Scouts will have their summer camp on the Thumm estate, across Spring lake, opposite the village of Spring Lake, this summer if negotiations between the Scout council and the village council are concluded as successfully as they began Friday night. Under the terms of the gift to the village, part of the Thumm estate, comprising almost 60 acres, was to be used either for recreational or camping activities. David M. Cline, president of the village, said today that the Scout organization was desirous of using the property this summer for a camp site and that the village was eager to have them do it.

The Thumm property is easily accessible by road and has a large acreage of beautiful woodland as well as a fine water frontage and bathing beach on Spring Lake. Facilities for aquatic sports and woodcraft are exceptional. Last year the Scouts camped at Camp McLean on Stearn's Bayou. This site is not favored again because of location near marshy land. The Thumm property also has a supply of good drinking water and there are buildings that might be made use of. Should the plan be a success this year, Scout Commissioner Stephen Mead said the Scout organization would take steps to make the camp permanent and erect buildings.

After the meeting, the Scout committee was to take the proposition back to the county Scout council and later bring the matter up at a meeting of the Spring Lake village council. The committee from the village council Friday met with Scout committee Friday night was composed of Frank Vos, chairman, Barney Boelens, Menno Klouw and D. M. Cline and the Scout committee was headed by William L. Phillips of Grand Haven, camp chairman, Fred Reus and Stephen Mead of Grand Haven, Executive Peter H. Norg, Prof. Egbert Winters and Dr. Abraham Leenhouts, all of Holland and Lee Lilly of Coopersville.

HOLLAND'S FIRE LOSS 44 CENTS PER CAPITA

GOLDEN RULE CHECK PLAN GOES INTO EFFECT AT GRAND HAVEN

The Golden Rule check plan for eliminating bank debts went into effect at Grand Haven Monday morning and an excellent response was reported by agencies having the checks for sale. The checks are issued in $5 and $10 denominations and may be bought at banks or other authorized agencies. If the entire issue of 1,500 of the five dollar checks and 500 of the ten dollar checks, is not out, it will mean a deposit of $12,500.

The Golden Rule check plan calls for passing of each check 20 times. When 20 endorser's names appear on it, the check may be taken to any local bank and converted into its face value of cash. Should a receiver of one of the Golden Rule checks be unable to pass the check along for any reason in payment of debt, it may be redeemed for cash at the Merchant's Service Bureau, subsequent to having 20 signatures.

A large block of the checks has been taken by the Rotary club, sponsors of the idea and these men will encourage their circulations. Employers of labor will attempt to have their men accept checks and place them in circulation and other agencies will work on the proposition.

LARGEST MUSKELLUNGE OF YEAR

What undoubtedly is the largest muskellunge taken from Lake St. Clair in the past year fell to the luck of William Ball, 7600 Gratiot avenue. Ball, fishing near Venice Beach, one-half mile off shore, pulled out a musky weighing 38 pounds. It had a girth of 18 inches and was 52 inches long. It was caught with a live sucker on hook and line. "The fish required 45 minutes to land and the excitement over this period was worth all the physical effort. I thought at first I was trying to pull a young alligator up through the ice," says Ball.—Detroit News.

As Mr. Hannah studied poultry conditions in Europe last summer, doubtless he will have interesting facts to present on that trip.

FAMOUS ARMY SHOW "CORPORAL EAGEN" TO BE STAGED HERE BY 200 LOCAL PEOPLE

Screaming comedy of the American Rookies is to be played at the Masonic Temple. Has made a big hit throughout many surrounding towns. Soldiers and sailors in singing chorus and awkward squads are high spots of the show. Minstrels also a big feature.

On next Thursday and Friday, the I. O. O. F. and Rebekah lodge will stage the sensational comedy drama of the American Rookies, "Corporal Eagen." It is a rollicking comedy of rookie life and is a scream from start to finish. It is not only comedy, but also has a great deal of patriotism and is staged in a very spectacular manner. It is, without a doubt, the greatest show ever offered by an amateur cast. It is put on under the direction of the Universal Producing Co. and everywhere the show is acclaimed an unusual success. The scene is laid in the company street of Camp Shove Off, with army barracks as background. Special scenery and costumes for the production are being shipped here by the company. It is a unique and sensational production.

The story of "Corporal Eagen" centers around Red Eagen, an Irish doughboy, played by George Damson and his screamingly funny Jewish buddy, Izzy Goldstein, played by Ted Wendell. Eagen and Goldstein have been in the army only thirty days, just long enough to think they know it all, and know nothing. They pretend to be very brave and in fact, are very scared, when anyone is around. Red Eagen is looking for a big promotion because he told his girl, Sally O'Neil, that he was going to be a captain. However, instead of getting a captain's job, he gets in with the Top Sergeant, played by Peter Tunstun, and is put on K. P. duty. His buddy Izzy is thrown on K. P. with him for laughing at him. After Red and Izzy are put on K. P. Red's girl Sally comes to see him in his new uniform and Red has to hide to keep her from knowing he is on K. P.

Around this potato pile, a lot of the comedy revolves. Red manages to hide from his girl for a while and then news comes of a spy being in camp and Sally is mistaken for the spy. The guard, a very hard-boiled character, played by Russell Haight finds Sally and sends her to the guard house to be shot at five bells. Then Red and Izzy start out to save her and while walking guard, Red through an accident captures the spy, saves his girl and is promoted to Corporal. He then gets to drill the famous awkward squad. About this time the armistice is signed and Red gets to go back to Four Corners and marry Sally. There are a lot of funny situations in the show. Red and Izzy take up the nurses and in this way Red gets in bad with his girl Sally. The nurses are played by Mrs. Russell Haight and Gertrude Homfield. Two old men, the Irishman and Jew fathers of Red and Izzy played by Mr. Yoeman and Francis St. John also fall in love with the nurses and spend all of their time making love to them. The old maid War Worker, played by Mrs. Yoeman is trying to find a husband and finally nabs the Y. M. C. A. worker, played by Mr. Gross and elopes with him. There are a number of army scenes sensationally staged. A reveille scene in the opening of the first act is true to life. Many of the scenes will bring back memories, such as capturing the spy, being on guard duty, etc. Also there is the scene of Sally hiding under the potato sacks to keep the guard from catching her, with many other scenes which are true to army life, especially to service men. Not only the story and plot of the play is funny and sensational, but the show opens with a patriotic pageant that includes approximately 200 local youngsters as well as the special pageant, "My Dream of the Big Parade," will be read by Mr. Drew dressed in uniform. The pageant is finished by all singing "Over There" and waving a mass of flags.

Another specialty is the men's sailor chorus dressed in sailor uniforms singing a number of old time army songs. The soldiers making up the revue and squad scenes, also lend a lot of color to the show. The big laugh feature of the show is the awkward squad composed of forty business men playing the part of green rookies, they represent soldiers who have been in the army only thirty days and everyone portrays a particular type of character. The awkward squad start the hilarious action of the show with a big reveille scene. The minstrel is also a big hit with George Ryder acting as Interlocutor with all the soldiers, sailors and girls choruses on the stage singing the old time army songs and four prominent men acting as end men.

The chorus girls are dressed in special costumes and appear a number of times, making the show a rounded out production. A full list of the characters will appear on another page in this issue and reserve seats will go on sale Wednesday, April 15 at the Model Drug store.

You will find the show a sensation. The proceeds from this show will be used for various local charities.

AREN'T YOU ABOUT READY FOR "MADE-TO-MEASURE" HOT WATER SERVICE?

LET'S BE FAIR about this. Honestly, aren't you a bit weary of waiting for hot water—postponing your bath to suit the water heater's convenience—doing with lukewarm, or cold water, when it's NOT you really need? Aren't you tired running up and down basement stairs, tending a temperamental old water heater that at best gives "part-time" service? Don't you think it about time to give your family the kind of hot water service every modern family should enjoy?

We knew you'd agree. Your automatic gas water heater will be installed tomorrow morning, if you'll say the word. Just step to the phone now and O.K. the order.

August Niemeyer, 25, of South Bend, mechanic employed in the construction of Allegan's municipal dam, is in Emergency hospital with both ankles badly fractured. He was injured when he fell a distance of 21 feet.

William E. Loutit of Grand Haven was re-elected executive chairman of the state conservation commission; George R. Hogarth of Ionia was renamed director of conservation, and Ray Cotton of Ypsilanti secretary. Loutit, although a life long democrat, was named on this board because of his real worth as a commissioner. We need more men, regardless of party affiliations—like "Bill" Loutit—on such boards. It's conservation we need, not politics.

Harold A. Bosch, Route 2, Holland, was a recent visitor at the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.

About 160 women were present at the Woman's Literary Club luncheon Tuesday noon. The luncheon was served by the Program and House Committee members, assisting the board of directors. Following the luncheon in the tea room, a business meeting was conducted in the auditorium, where the president, Mrs. Jay DenHerder, called for reports of the year's work of the various committees.

The Hope College Girls' Glee club sang three songs, after which Mrs. Den Herder closed the club for this year, with pleasant words of farewell.

ZEELAND SOCIAL ORGANIZATION CELEBRATES TWENTIETH ANNIVERSARY

Zeeland Record.—Tuesday evening the members of the Ladies' Aid Society of the First Reformed Church, together with their respective husbands as guests, enjoyed a bounteous banquet in commemoration of the twentieth anniversary of its organization. About one hundred and forty members and guests were gathered to enjoy the festivities of the evening. The committee on decorations, led by Mrs. Hein Derks, had performed a creditable task, each table being decorated with a beautiful arch, and a big birthday cake with candles held the center of attraction beneath it. Each table was also presided over by a hostess during the period of satiation.

Mrs. William Hietje was honored as toastmistress and she was responded to by the present president and the past presidents of the society who were in attendance. A quartet introduced each speaker with a theme song and the audience was taken on a sea of memory, likening the society to a ship on the sea of time, growing larger at each period as it approached the present.

Mrs. P. P. Cheff of Omaha, Neb., was the first president and a very interesting letter was read as her contribution; Mrs. Henry Harmelink of Chicago responded next with her interesting contribution; Mrs. Fred Klumper, Mrs. P. Madderom, Mrs. M. Huyser, and Mrs. J. Van Peursem, each made her pleasing contribution in person, representing some type of vessel that corresponded with the advance of seafaring methods.

The society has at the present time a membership of eighty-seven, and the officers are Mrs. M. Huyser, president; Mrs. H. Van Dragt, vice president; Mrs. H. Lookersee, secretary.

HOLLAND FOLKS ATTEND 80TH BIRTHDAY PARTY

On Thursday, April 2, Mrs. P. Coburn entertained her children at a birthday party to celebrate her 80th birthday anniversary at her home on North State street, Zeeland, where she laid plates for a bounteous supper.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Cory C. Coburn of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. H. Kleis of Holland, Mr. and Mrs. Milan Coburn and Miss Nettie Coburn of Zeeland. Mrs. Coburn was born in Heerarendskerk, The Netherlands, and came to America in 1855 at the age of four years with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Boone, one sister and three brothers, one brother, Cornelius Boone of South Church street, of whom, survives.

Upon arriving in America the family shared the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Jan De Jonge for three weeks before settling on the place that later was known as the Ed Boone homestead, two miles northeast of Zeeland.

Mrs. Coburn has four children, three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Her husband, Phineas Coburn, well known to our older people, passed away in March, 1903, and was one of the first rural mail carriers in Zeeland.

EL COMANCH TELLS BOY SCOUTS OF INDIAN LIFE

A special meeting of the Boy Scouts of Holland was held at the City Hall Monday evening at which time El Comancho, plainsman, gold miner, cowboy, writer and lecturer, told of Indian life.

Conservation laws were known to the Indians in the early days and were practiced to such an extent that the Indians were able to use Buffalo for food and hides for many centuries, he said. Buffalo were killed off by the white men in 20 years.

Before each hunt, the heads of the Indian families designated their needs for the coming year at a meeting of the tribe. The total number of Buffalo needed was known before each hunt.

Each hunter was assigned to kill a certain number of the animals. If an excess was discovered at the end of the hunt, the Indians were then questioned and those who killed more than their quota were punished unless reasonable excuses were made.

Horses were especially trained for the hunts. Spears and bows and arrows were used to kill the animals.

El Comancho told of the manner in which caps were erected and of the ceremonies in the Indian lodges. Dances, games and raids were described.

At the court of honor which followed the address, 44 boys were given 67 awards.

El Comancho made six talks while in Holland and was heard by approximately 2,800 persons in the city.

The members of the W. C. T. U. will hold a mother and daughter banquet tonight, Friday, at 6:30 o'clock at the Woman's Literary Club rooms.

It seems that the Michigan State Legislature will pass a bill making the robin the state's official bird.

Holland Woman Lectures in Indian Attire

WAS GUEST SPEAKER AT ZEELAND; TELLS OF CHILD MARRIAGES

Mrs. T. Zwemer, of Holland, was the guest speaker at a meeting of the Mubesheraat Society, held in the Second Ref. Church, Zeeland, Tuesday evening. She gave an interesting talk about conditions of missionary work in India. Mrs. Zwemer has spent some years of service in India and her address was a very instructive and entertaining one. She was dressed in the costume of the Indian woman, a brightly colored silk robe and much jewelry being worn, as is characteristic in that country. The women are loved by their husbands, often because of the beautiful bracelets, nose ornaments, necklaces, earrings and so forth worn by them. The women also adorn themselves with red or black spots on their foreheads. These are beauty marks and also caste marks and are characteristic of the Hindu women.

Mrs. Zwemer showed costumes of different classes of Indians and many relics were displayed on a table. The condition of the women in this country was discussed. They are despised and their lot is difficult and discouraging. They greatly appreciate the good treatment that is given them by missionaries and frequently speak of it. The Indian widows especially are often cruelly treated and their lives are very unhappy.

The women of India work hard for the betterment of their country in the rice fields and in their homes. Child marriage was discussed and a law passed about a year ago forbidding girls below fourteen years of age to be married. The homes are simply furnished. The queer custom of bathing idols every day and decorating them with garlands and placing food offerings before them were interesting things to know.

Mrs. Zwemer closed her talk with an appeal for continued interest in missionary work for these people. The help given by prayer and gifts is greatly appreciated. Many boys and girls are eager to enter missionary schools but because of the lack of funds they are sent back to their homes. Mrs. Zwemer is very eagerly looking forward to returning to the work in India.

Mrs. H. Den Herder, president, presided, and Mrs. R. J. Vanden Berg conducted devotionals, speaking about the "Sweep of Prayer." Music was furnished by a quartette composed of the Misses Zelma Hendricks, Gladys Moerdyk, Dorothy Plevens and Laura Berghorst, with Florence De Pree at the piano. They sang "There is a Green Hill Far Away."

Mrs. E. Van Eck and Mrs. G. Van Dyke, the hostesses, served refreshments after the program and an interesting social time was spent.

Michigan Ducks Are Affected by New U. S. Ruling

FIFTEEN DAYS HAVE BEEN TAKEN FROM THE HUNTING SEASON IN ALL NORTHERN STATES

More than 7,000,000 American hunters will be affected by the new regulations governing wildfowl hunting. These were officially approved by President Hoover on March 17 and take precedence over any conflicting state rules.

Fifteen days have been cut from the beginning of the hunting season in all of the northern states and 15 days from the end of the season in all southern states. This means that in Michigan, ducks, geese, brant and all shore birds can not be hunted before Oct. 1 and the season in the South closes on Jan. 15. The closing date for the North remains as it has been, Dec. 31.

In addition, wildfowl can not be hunted the first day until 12 o'clock noon. The daily bag limit on geese and brant has been changed to cover four of combined species in one day and eight in possession. Heretofore it has been permissible to kill four of each species daily, with 16 in possession.

In hunting wild geese not more than 10 live decoys can be used or shot over at any one gunning stand, blind or float. Three species of geese are not protected: The Ross and cackling geese over the entire country and snow geese in all states bordering the Atlantic Ocean.

Although baiting duck shooting grounds is still permitted, the practice is banned under the new regulations in hunting mourning doves. It is being freely predicted that before the new shooting regulations become effective this coming October there is likely to be a universal reduction in the bag limit on ducks which is now held at 25 in most states. If a change is made it is quite likely to conform with the Michigan law of 15 in one day.

BOGUS CHECK UNREARDED BY MERCHANT IN GRAND HAVEN

A bogus check was discovered by a Grand Haven merchant for $16.40 which was passed by a young man, presumably the bearer of the check, Paul Jones. He claimed to have been on the payroll of a Grand Haven contracting company. The check was drawn on a Grand Haven bank.

The check passer was described as being about 18 years old, five feet eight inches tall and weighs about 145 pounds. He was dressed as a laborer. He purchased an article and then gave the check for $16.40.

The Merchants Service Bureau warns business men and merchants to thoroughly identify anyone asking to cash checks. There have been several reports of similar instances in this city and through the county.

SELDOM-REST BRINGS HIM SUCCESS IN COLLEGE

Albert T. Zeldenrust, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Zeldenrust, Grand Haven, has been awarded the prize given annually at the Cincinnati University for the most outstanding freshman.

He received the highest marks in surveying, lecture and field work and is head of the English class. The honorary band fraternity, Kappa Kappa Psi, has had a silver plaque made on which the name of the outstanding freshman will be engraved, the honor given on the basis of fellowship, interest, musical ability and scholarship. He is a member of the Sigma Delta Rho fraternity.

Mr. Zeldenrust graduated from the Grand Haven school in 1929. He worked in the city hall during odd hours in his senior year and one year after, before going to the University last fall. His ability as a player of the mirimbaphone made him well known to many Grand Haven audiences.

The young man, who has a real Dutch name, will find that if literally translated in English it would be "seldom-rests." No wonder such signal honors have come to the energetic young man.

The marriage of Miss Aileen De Jong, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Conrad DeJong, Sigbee, St. S., Grand Rapids and John R. Dethmers of Zeeland, Ottawa county's prosecuting attorney was solemnized at a charming ceremony Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in the home of the bride's parents.

The service was read by Dr. J. A. Dykstra of Central Reformed church, assisted by Rev. Richard J. Vandenberg pastor of Second Reformed church of Zeeland, before an altar of palms, ferns and baskets of Easter lilies. Disposal of pink and white snapdragons and bouquets of pink roses and varicolored spring flowers were used throughout the rooms.

The bride was charming in a Vionnet model of white chiffon with a long tulle veil fastened cap effect with tiny mother of pearl calla lilies at each side. Her bouquet consisted of calla lilies tied with ivory satin.

Miss Natalie Reed of Manistee, the bride's only attendant, wore a long model of green satin crepe with slippers to match. Her arm bouquet was of Talisman roses and lavender sweet peas tied with peach colored malines.

E. Anthony Westin assisted the bridegroom.

Miss Katherine M. Smith and Russell DeJong acted as master and mistress of ceremonies. Miss Smith was lovely in a gown of frosted blue lace with silver slippers and hose to match her gown. She carried sunburst roses and pink sweet peas tied with silver.

GRAND HAVEN GIRL GETS $50.00 REWARD FOR FINDING RING

Clara Jane Gillard, aged 13, of Grand Haven, possesses $50 today because she returned a lost ring to its owner.

Mrs. Mary Landon Sague, instructor at Vassar College, is happy too, since she again has the $300 ring which she lost on the Lake Michigan beach last summer while she was visiting friends at the Oval. The liberal reward which she gave to Miss Gillard indicates her appreciation of the little girl's sharp eyes and honesty.

Mrs. Sague lost a valuable ring that not only was worth much money but carried with it a great deal of sentiment. Her sojourn in Grand Haven was greatly marred by this misfortune.

ARRESTS MADE FOR OVERLOADING TRUCKS

Mr. Nicholas J. Whelan and daughter, Miss Rose, of Washington, D. C., are the guests of the Blom family on River Ave.

On account of the meeting of the Men's Federation which will be held April 30, the Women's Missionary Union of Holland, Zeeland and vicinity will meet in Zeeland at the First Christian Reformed church, April 24 instead of April 30 as had been arranged.

The deceased is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Elhart, two brothers, and three sisters, Gilbert, P. Elhart, Mrs. B. Fiekema, Julia K. Elhart, James W. Elhart and Jane Ruth Elhart of this city. Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the home and at 2 o'clock from the 1st Reformed church, Rev. James Weyer officiated. Classmates of his Sunday school class were the pallbearers. Burial took place in Holland cemetery.

The Women's Home Missionary society entertained with a fellowship banquet Tuesday evening at 5:30 o'clock in the church parlors of the Methodist Episcopal church. Guests at the banquet were members of the World Wide Workers and the Wesleyan Service Guild. The room was beautifully decorated with yellow and white crepe paper. Following the supper, Miss Barbara Evans rendered a solo, accompanied by Miss Marguerite Walker. Miss Helen Biber, national field secretary of Home missions, was the principal speaker and gave an interesting account of her five years' experience at Marcy Center, Chicago. The next meeting will be held Monday evening, April 13, at which time the Lenten offering will be received. Mite boxes will be opened.

First Flowers

In the marshes and on the edges of wet woods, you will find Spring's first harbinger of the flowers to come—the lowly skunk cabbage, the first Spring wildflower. Later on you may find the shy hepaticas, Spring beauties, purple saxifrage and dwarf wakerobins, although you will more likely discover these in April.

March is the month when all the Winter sleepers will have emerged from their dens. The badger comes forth almost as fat as he was in the Autumn, but the raccoon, who is not as provident, is a lean beast indeed. The she-bear, too, with her cubs, is abroad, finding food for her little ones. Snakes are appearing after their long hibernation in crevices or burrows.

"WOODMAN SPARE THAT TREE" LOST ON THIS FELLOW

A huge elm tree, four feet, six inches in diameter, has been felled on the lowlands of the Edward J. Moore farm along the Kalamazoo river, west of Allegan, by Jay VanOrder and his son, Graydon. The tree will be cut into firewood. VanOrder says it will yield more than 20 cords.

EASTER CANTATA

The Choral Society of the Third Christian Reformed church of 55 voices directed by John Vandersluijs, will render the Easter Cantata "Our Living Lord," at Bethel Reformed church next week, Friday evening, April 17th. This church last year to a packed house. The cantata consists of mixed choruses, men's choruses, women's choruses, solos, and duets. Besides the cantata Mr. and Mrs. C. Lamer of Zeeland will play several duets on the piano, accordion and saxophone. Admission is free; an offering will be taken for the benefit of the choir.

March Breaks Drought of Year in Ottawa County

Although March has been marked by several storms, the average temperature for the month, according to W. J. Rice, Ottawa county weather man, was 0.4 degrees above normal, or 32.1 degrees. There were no severe drops, every day being within eight degrees of normal. There were only three days in the month that were more than five degrees above or below normal. The highest temperature was 55 degrees on the 23rd, the lowest was 15 on the 12th. The greatest daily range was 27 on the 23rd and the least was four degrees on the 10th, 18th and 29th. Precipitation totaled 2.53 inches, or slightly above the normal of 2.40 inches. It was the only month since January 1930 that was above normal in precipitation. Much of the precipitation was in the form of snow, and the total snowfall, 13.7 inches was nearly double the normal. Most of the snow fell on the 7th and 8th when a 24-hour fall of 10.0 inches was recorded. This was the greatest March snowfall in 24 hours since records were kept of it beginning in 1900. The total snowfall for the month was the greatest for March since 1912. The greatest 24-hour precipitation was 1.02 inches on the 27th-28th. Most of this was in form of rain, however. The precipitation was quite well distributed through the month with measurable amounts on 11 days.

Sunshine average 32 per cent of the possible amount and much below the normal of 50 per cent. There were 18 days with less than 25 per cent sunshine. There were only four clear days in the month, 24 being cloudy and three partly cloudy.

DORNBOS TO BUILD ARTIFICIAL ICE PLANT

An artificial ice plant will be installed at the H. J. Dornbos and Brothers fish house at Grand Haven. The Dornbos ice plant will have a daily output of three and a half tons with a daily capacity of five tons. The plant will be located on the west side of the retail fish store on Munroe street and will cost about $4,000 including the small building necessary to house the plant. A well is to be driven to supply water for ice manufacture.

HOLLAND GIRLS PROMINENT AT MICHIGAN STATE COLLEGE

Miss Adelia Beeuwkes of Holland has been identified as influential in organizing the Spartan Women's League, a new group on Michigan State campus that promises to set a precedent in co-ordinating all phases of co-ed activity, by virtue of her keen interest in promoting the projects undertaken by that body during the past month.

Miss Beeuwkes is one of the 250 co-eds to become affiliated with the League since its existence this term. Outstanding among the activities of the group has been an active participation in co-ed athletics, where many prizes were won and a formal dance which was a decided success. Other undertakings of the League have been a membership drive and several teas.

The primary purpose of the organization as set down by the leaders of the movement is to create leadership among unorganized girls, to enter teams in competitive athletic sports, to develop a strong bond of friendship among college women, and to provide a common meeting place for sorority and non-sorority co-eds.

Other Holland young women attending M. S. C. who are charter members of the organization include: Mary Elizabeth Boyce, Mabel Boyce, Winona Peterson, and Ruth Westver.

Zeeland Will Stage Second Annual Egg Show

EXPECT EVEN LARGER EXHIBIT THAN LAST YEAR; SCHOOLS HELD IN CONNECTION

Zeeland is getting all ready for its second annual egg show which promises to exceed in every respect the show held last year, and it will also be of greater interest to the average poultry raiser.

Last year the Egg Show was sponsored by Zeeland State Bank and the exhibit was held in the lobby of the bank, but this year the bank feels that the organization has been placed on a firm plan so that it can successfully carry itself through, and it is probable that the bank lobby will not be used. It is also necessary to have more roomy quarters as it is felt that the exhibit will be much greater than the first attempt.

It is proposed to organize this year's Egg Show on a somewhat different plan from last year's, and if present indications are correct there will be three classes, in each of which there will be prizes offered, besides the sweepstakes. The first group will consist of the commercial egg producer, the breeding farm, the hatchery stock and any other type of egg producer. This class is intended to be open for anyone who feels able or desires to compete against all comers.

The second class will comprise the general farmer who raises poultry as an adjunct to his farm business. This group includes all farmers, including those supplying eggs to hatcheries. Last year the farmers supplying eggs to hatcheries were included in the hatchery class, but the committee will probably not have that arrangement at this year's Egg Show.

The third class will be composed of the 4-H club boys and girls, and boys and girls working through high school agricultural projects, and it is probable that Mr. Pino of the local high school and County Agent Milham will be asked to cooperate in attaining success in this group.

There will be many new developments in the Egg Show before the first week in May, the time set for the show.

A committee appointed at the show held last year met at the office of the Modern Poultry Breeder last Thursday evening to discuss plans for this year's Egg Show, and the spirit of the meeting indicated that there would be no lagging of efforts on their part, and the show of last year evidently has taught those sponsoring the move several things by which to improve the show this year. The committee was composed of Jay P. Garlough, George Cabell, Leonard Stallkamp, Harry Derks, Edward Den Herder, Henry P. Wiersma, Robert Pool and John Baar.

Mr. and Mrs. K. Bulthuis of Holland and their three children called upon Mr. and Mrs. J. Bulthuis, Columbus street, as they were passing through on their way to Ludington.—Grand Haven Tribune.

Cow Men Should Test Their Herds Now of All Times

LACK OF PRODUCTION RECORDS MAY RESULT IN SERIOUS LOSSES TO DAIRYMEN

The dairyman who permits his membership in the herd improvement association to lapse in the belief that his pocketbook will be benefited by the elimination of this expense is apt to forget that the feed eaten by one poor cow or the sale of a good cow whose worth is not known from testing records will cost the owner much more than the expense for testing, according to members of the dairy department at Michigan State College.

This tendency to false economy is shown by the decrease in the number of herd associations in Michigan which dropped from 90 one year ago to 88 at the present time. Dairy husbandry men point out that test records are more important in times of small profit than when there is a wider margin between feed costs and production receipts.

Production records furnish the least expensive exact means of determining the amount of milk or butterfat produced by a cow and a record of the amount of feed eaten by the cow furnishes the rest of the data needed to show how much profit the cow makes for her owner or the amount of money lost.

The herd improvement associations are cooperative organizations in which each member pays an amount proportionate to the number of cows in his herd. The test-er's wages are practically the only expense and these are divided among the twenty-five members of the association.

CRAFT ABANDONED 50 YEARS AGO BY GOVERNMENT TO BE USED BY GROUP

The Saugatuck Sea Scout crew has obtained possession of an abandoned steel surf boat, 26 feet long, which about 60 years ago saw service at Saugatuck harbor, where for many years George Baker, sr., was light keeper.

George Baker, jr., says the craft was condemned by the government about 50 years ago, during which time it has lain in the open near the lighthouse.

Carl Bird, boat carpenter, is putting the boat in good condition with a new stern and keel.

Continued low temperatures are holding the fruit buds in check in the fruit belt in west Michigan and no serious damage has resulted. While indications point to an average yield of pears and apples the peach crop is expected to be light owing to last year's heavy crop. Small fruits have been affected by drought and it appears yields will be under average years.

Alligators

IN CEYLON many of the rivers above in alligators which come ashore to bask in the sun and with their heads turned toward the water except one of them who acts as a watchman and whose snout is turned toward land. When he gives the signal of danger there is a general stampede into the river. They are so numerous that one hardly thinks them worth powder and ball, and their horny sides make it more trouble to kill them than they are worth. A friend of mine, when paddling one of these rivers, had a very narrow escape. His companion, who was walking on the opposite bank, took a shot at an alligator right in front of him, and instantly the ball crashed into the branches of a tree under which my friend was walking. It had been deflected from the reptile's back.

There is a method of catching alligators which affords some sport to those who are indifferent to the suffering it entails. You take a live puppy and strap him on a raft formed of two pieces of tough wood lashed in the form of a cross. You sharpen all the four points of this cross and fasten to it a bank of twine a yard long to which you attach a rope. You then float your puppy, who is of course yelping loudly, on a still pool or backwater stream, and tie the end of the rope to a tree. You then see that your revolver is handy, and with a half dozen or more natives you sit under the tree and watch.

In a few minutes a pair of enormous jaws appears above the surface of the water; the puppy disappears into them, but they do not close with the facility with which they open, for the cross has stuck in the brute's throat and the strands of the bank of twine have got between his teeth. You now lay onto the rope with a will, and slowly draw the reluctant monster ashore, while he lashes his tail in impotent rage. When you have got him ashore, you keep at a respectable distance and take pot shots with your revolver at his eyes. If you keep on doing this long enough you will finally kill him. Those who have tried this "sport" say the life of the unfortunate puppy can be saved more often than not.

The alligators of some of the rivers of Ceylon are so voracious and numerous that the natives, who are very fond of bathing, stake out their bathing places. From these strongholds you can safely count an alligator should he come and poke his nose between the bars and sniff your tempting flavor—even jabbing at him with a knife. Near the mouths of the rivers the natives think it is safe to bathe without the protection of any such device, as they believe the water is too hot for the alligators and too fresh for the sharks.

Now is the time to plant your garden. Now is the time to select Ferry's purebred Seeds. Seeds are the most inexpensive, but the most important feature of a successful garden. The soil and your labor represent the much greater investment in time and actual money; but the seeds you choose may mean the margin between success and failure of your efforts.

Ferry's Seeds are purebred. That means generations of seed plants are tested and checked in the Ferry-Morse special seed laboratory fields before any seed grown from a plant is placed on the market. Because of the rigid testing, Ferry-Morse seed specialists know that Ferry's pure-

That's why Ferry's Seeds protect your labor and your garden investment. They are fresh for planting now. URGES TOXIN-ANTI-TOXIN TREATMENT

From time to time people have been urged to have their children protected against diphtheria by giving the toxin-antitoxin treatment. Many communities have responded almost 100%. This has been the case in those communities where there have been recent cases of diphtheria. It should be remembered that the diphtheria germ may be present in the throats of healthy people, so people should never feel safe because no epidemic is present. The germ is always present, ready to produce the disease in the susceptible person. If a treatment for the prevention of cancer would be made available every one would readily present himself for the treatment. However, when diseases are preventable by treatment as is the case in diphtheria, smallpox and typhoid fever many people do not avail themselves of this opportunity.

Regarding dangers accompanying toxin-antitoxin treatment, millions of treatments are given throughout the world and no disease has ever been traced to it. Rumors have of ten been circulated by those who are antagonistic to the treatment. It has always been true that there are always some who are slow in accepting any new discoveries. It is being proven daily that toxin-antitoxin protects against diphtheria. The possibility of infection following diphtheria treatment is remote. Care is necessary to combat this. Needles are boiled and separate needles used on each individual. Syringes are boiled. The toxin-antitoxin is furnished by the Michigan Department of Health and is so carefully supervised that there is no possibility of error. The arm of the child is washed with alcohol before injection. Where difficulty has been experienced, it is possible that the arm was touched previous to inoculation or sneezing may have deposited germs on the arm. However, this is all carefully guarded against.

It must be remembered that toxin-antitoxin treatment in itself is not in the least harmful, that it is the only means of rendering your child and community safe against the dreaded disease diphtheria and that failure to take advantage of this treatment will most certainly cause a return of diphtheria, a disease which has already robbed so many homes of its children. It is urged people to judge wisely, and if opposed to the treatment to reconsider and decide in favor of toxin-antitoxin treatment.

Grand Haven's Piano and Radio Factory Running

Grand Haven Tribune—The whistle of the Story & Clark Piano factory blew today for the first time in many months, calling together the some 125 employees to their benches in the wood-working and radio departments, to push the big orders that are to be filled for the new product, a "grandfather's clock."

This novelty is, in reality, a radio housed in the cabinet comprising the body of the six-foot clock topped by an electric clock of a nationally known make and finished with the artistic beauty which characterizes Story & Clark products. The small model radio is used and the whole presents one of the smartest novelties on the market and one that is making a sensation with buyers.

First orders totaled about 600 and it is expected, said J. W. Eaton, general manager, that about 1,500 would be pushed within a few weeks. About 10 men were taken on this morning totaling 125 in the two departments. They are working nine hours a day, five and a half days a week, turning out from 25 to 50 clocks a day.

The cabinet is made from mahogany, about 18x18 inches at the base, and is designed to meet the popular art demand. They are particularly popular in small apartments where space is at a premium. Both clock and radio are electrically run, one not dependant upon the other.

The piano business also is better than it has been in several months, said Mr. Eaton. Last week a large shipment was made to Texas and another will be made soon. Business is better now than at the usual Christmas rush season, and although it is by no means normal, still the manager believes the clouds are lifting.

The Star of Bethlehem, Chapter No. 40, O. E. S., held their annual election of officers last week on Thursday evening. The following were elected to office: Mrs. Goldie Fox, worthy matron; Mrs. Nellie White, associate matron; John Van derPloeg, Patron; Arthur White, associate patron; Mrs. Mabel VanDon Berg, secretary; Mrs. Luella White, treasurer; Miss Mamie Fwald, conductor; Mrs. William Murnigh, associate conductress; and Herbert Stanaway, Sentinel. The date for public installation has been set for Thursday, April 30.

Miss Lilian Boss, has returned to her home in Holland after spending four weeks in Grapahawk, Ky.

DR. WILLITS MAKES APPEAL AT LEGION MEETING

The Willard G. Leenhouts Post American Legion held their regular meeting last week at Wednesday evening in the city hall. Dr. John C. Willits, pastor of the First Methodist Church gave an inspiring address in which he made an appeal to start a campaign here to arouse patriotism for the defense of the nation.

Dr. Willits spoke in part as follows: "The need is patent to all because of disregard for law, lowering of ideals and efforts to overthrow the government," he said.

The existence of Sunday schools of Atheism and Socialism in America was disclosed. All over America, boys and girls are taught the principles of a Godless Socialism, he said. Thousands are taught to deny God and hate the nation. "They are taught that there is no God, no Jesus Christ and no immortality. Private ownership is denounced."

"A meeting of Communistic leaders near Bridgeman in the summer of 1923 to receive reports from the Third International at Moscow as to how to overthrow all nations is an example of what is taking place in this country."

"At that meeting were an officer of the army and an officer of the navy. They were being instructed on how to stir up sedition and spread discontent."

"One of the men was cleared following arrest and trial in St. Joseph. The other was convicted of Syndicalism, but died while awaiting an appeal."

"We should be aroused. Let it be understood that this country is for patriots only. Give prominence to the flag. Down with a weakening pacifism and up with the sturdy and devoted American who will preserve the principles of the nation."

The members of the local post are considering the plea made by Dr. Willits.

GRAND HAVEN FISH TUG IS EQUIPPED WITH RADIO COMPASS

The first fishing tug to be equipped with a radio direction finder or a radio compass, is the H. J. Dornbos at Grand Haven. The Dornbos is operated by Capt. Henry Fase and the radio compass recently was rigged up by a friend who is a radio expert. The direction finders on the large steamers cost in the neighborhood of $1,800 while Capt. Fase's apparatus was put together at a total cost of about $75.

The radio compass is located forward near the pilot house in an orange colored container and has caused speculation of late as to its purpose until Capt. Fase explained what the instrument was. So far, the compass has been used but once, the occasion being several days ago when the tug was making port in a heavy fog. The compass worked splendidly and Capt. Fase was able to enter the piers without difficulty. Such a piece of equipment, made inexpensively, is of the greatest value to fishermen who are often caught far from land in thick weather.

ALLEGAN COUNTY DAIRY HERDS ARE NATIONALLY KNOWN

The National Dairy Association, for the past several years have recognized herds of Dairy cattle in the United States producing 300 lbs. of butter fat or over per year. Of the ten thousand herds recognized last year, one hundred and eleven had this average continuously for the last seven years.

Three of the one hundred and eleven herds are owned by people in Allegan county:

Mrs. David Anderson, Shelbyville
Mr. H. N. Johnson, Pennville
Mr. Howard Russell, Otsego

These people are to be complimented on the high average they have maintained in their herds.

MICHIGAN HAS WAY OF PUTTING TAX ON ILLEGAL TRADE

A proposal to tax all slot machines of the state was submitted in the House today by Representative Miles M. Callaghan of Reed City. Revenues would be turned over to the general fund.

The tax would be $1 for each one-cent unit machine, $5 for five-cent machines, $10 for 10-cent machines, and $25 for each 25-cent machine. A charge of $10 would be made for each slot weighing machine and $25 for game machines such as football, baseball, and so forth. Michigan sure has a way of taxing those things already prohibited by law such as malt for beer and slot machines.

SPEAKERS TO COMPETE AT ALLEGAN APRIL 24

Rex Orton will represent Allegan High school at the subdistrict extemporaneous speaking contest to be held in Griswold auditorium April 24. Ten schools are to be represented in the competition. Walter Keyes, instructor of public speaking in the local high school, will be chairman and the high school orchestra will furnish music.

ALLEGAN SUPERVISORS PLAN A JUVENILE HOME

The April session of the board of supervisors will take up the proposal to provide a home for juveniles. For several years juveniles have been cared for in homes in Allegan. County Treasurer J. Roy Tanner is asking for a suitable location for such a home in the city or a modern residence. It is believed a new home with grounds adequate for play would be best. Probate Judge A. S. Butler states there is urgent need for a building which also can be used as a detention home. At present delinquents are being sent to the detention home in Grand Rapids.

COW'S TEATS ARE 9 INCHES LONG AND 15 INCHES AROUND

S. Zeinstra, Zealand dairyman, owns an unusual cow in that her udder is abnormally large and the teats are about twice the size of the average teat of Holstein cattle. The teats are approximately nine inches long and measure about 15 inches around. The cow gives a large mess of milk.—Grand Rapids Press.

LOCAL BUSINESS STIMULATED BY WARD WEEK

Record Attendance Promises To Eclipse All Previous Sales!

Indications are that all existing retail merchandising records will be shattered and more people will have visited the Montgomery Ward & Co. Store here in one week than in any like period since the store was opened, according to Manager Pierce, Ward's local manager. The 1931 "Ward Week" has been inaugurated under the most favorable conditions, many of those attracted coming from distant points. While the crowds have been huge, the management has made preparations for all emergencies.

"The attendance thus far," said Manager Pierce, "has exceeded that of the corresponding time last year." We find that people are more willing to take advantage of general inducements. We already have ordered additional merchandise to fill depleted shelves and cases. Our regular sales forces have been augmented to meet the rush, and we feel that our patrons are receiving every possible consideration."

The annual "Ward Week" is being held simultaneously in more than 550 other Retail Stores operated by Montgomery Ward & Co. throughout the United States, and it has come to be regarded as one of the great national merchandising events of the year. It has been termed a "National Exposition of Buying."

"Preparation for 'Ward Week,'" Manager Pierce added, "has increased industrial activity in many directions. Scores of factories have been producing merchandise to meet the extraordinary demands and thousands of extra workers have been employed as a result. As in former years, local business in general is benefiting, and the management of Montgomery Ward & Co. welcomes the general stimulation of business that results from the 'Ward Week' activities."

"Ward Week" will carry through Saturday, April 18th, and the attendance is expected to increase as the sale progresses.—Educational Publicity.

AMERICAN LEGION BAND CONCERT IS RECEIVING MUCH ENCOURAGEMENT

Printed in Holland City News,
April 2

On Friday of this week, April 10, the Holland American Legion band of 45 pieces, under the direction of Eugene Heeter will make their first public appearance for the season of 1931.

All during the winter months the public has heard very little of our wonderful band. But that doesn't say that the men have not been active. Strenuous rehearsals have been staged from week to week and the result is that the local band has an entirely new repertoire of musical numbers and special musical hits.

The preparations of this program going on for months has been largely a preparation for the spring opening concert to be presented at Carnegie Gymnasium at 8 o'clock this week Friday evening.

Holland is proud of its band—all ways has been and during the summer months their offerings weekly are fully appreciated by the citizens and the entire countryside as well. The residents have made it a point to set that evening aside for a visit to Holland in order to hear the band.

Recently the local band gave a concert at Allegan and the Allegan newspapers were loud in their praises.

Since the date of the concert has been announced, the band has received considerable encouragement. The organization deserves the backing of every public-spirited citizen. They have been a real asset to Holland for a number of years, and you can show that you really believe so by being present at Carnegie hall on the evening of Friday, April 10.

Five Telephone Employees Awarded 1930 Vail Medal

Burch Foraker, president of the Michigan Bell Telephone company, announces the award of the Theodore N. Vail medal in bronze, for 1930, to five employees of the company—four men and one woman—for outstanding acts of service in moments of extreme emergency. They are Clarence J. Tietzma, Grand Rapids cable splicer; Glenn Bettens, Houghton lineman; Laurance Earl Harvey, Flint splicer's helper; William L. Rabe, Detroit repairman, and Mrs. Minnie Haas, Romeo operator.

The four men will receive the Vail Medal for the exercise of unusual initiative, quick action, and the application of methods learned in telephone company first aid classes, which resulted in the saving of human lives, three from drowning and one from asphyxiation. Mrs. Haas is cited for rendering material aid in the capture of armed bandits.

Awards of the medals in bronze, silver and gold are made under the Theodore N. Vail Memorial Fund, created eleven years ago in memory of a man whose life-work was devoted to the development of universal telephone service and who inculcated into the Bell System many of its high ideals of service. The silver and gold medals are national awards. Since the establishment of the fund, 48 bronze medals have been awarded to Michigan people, 44 of them employees of the Michigan Bell company and four employed by connecting telephone companies. Two silver medals have been awarded Michigan people.

Clarence J. Tietzma, Grand Rapids, is cited for prompt action, and the application of first aid, in saving the life of a young woman. While on a raft in Big White Fish lake, near Pierson, Michigan, last August 4, he heard the girl call for help and saw her sink, approximately 100 feet distant. Mrs. Tietzma swam to the spot, dived and brought her to the surface, and started with her toward the shore. He was met by a row boat, into which the girl was placed. He applied artificial respiration and, unaided, restored breathing.

Prompt action, and persistent application of first aid by Glenn Bettens, of Houghton, saved the life of a ten year old boy August 3. While bathing in Portage lake, near Hancock, he was attracted by the screams of children, who pointed toward deep water, where he saw the head of a child disappear. Swimming to the spot he recovered the boy at a depth of 12 feet. Returning to shore, he applied artificial respiration. Continued effort resulted in the restoration of normal respiration and consciousness.

A similar citation was made in the case of Laurance Earl Harvey, Flint splicer's helper. While swimming in Bush lake, near Holly, August 4, he witnessed an accident in which a young woman, stunned and unconscious, fell into the water. He sent for a doctor, applied artificial respiration, and directed others in helping him restore consciousness, which was accomplished after more than an hour of continuous effort. Later he learned that the young woman was a fellow employee.

William L. Rabe, Detroit repairman, saved a woman from death by asphyxiation. While using a telephone in a gasoline station on May 27, he overheard a girl appeal to the attendant for help in gaining entrance to the home of her grandmother because she had been unable to arouse the elderly woman and feared for her safety. The attendant and Mr. Rabe forced entrance through a window, and found the house filled with gas and the woman unconscious. Mr. Rabe applied artificial respiration and restored consciousness.

Mrs. Minnie Haas, night operator at Romeo, is cited for initiative, prompt action and the exercise of good judgment in emergency. While on duty at 3:30 a. m., October 19, she received a call from a gasoline station owner, asking that the village marshal be summoned. She switched on the police call light and, after repeated effort, located the officer by telephone. As a result, the marshal and members of the Michigan State Police surprised four men in an attempt to gain entrance to the gas station. Shots were exchanged, one man was wounded, two were captured and two escaped. Mrs. Haas called rural line subscribers and a small connecting telephone company in the direction she believed the escaped bandits likely had taken, and both men were captured because of the alarm she spread.

The four telephone men are holders of certificates awarded jointly by the American Red Cross and the Michigan Bell Telephone company upon completion of first aid training conducted by the company. Letters of commendation for noteworthy acts also were recommended by the Michigan committee of award for Wilbur C. Marsh, cable splicer, and Oscar B. Holcomb, his helper; Carroll L. Bills, lineman; and Foster I. Huber, assistant division Traffic engineer, all of Grand Rapids.

There was considerable discussion by different members of the Council, and

On motion of Ald. Kleis, seconded by Hyma,

It was moved to discontinue the present system of employment for at least two weeks and in the meantime the present Unemployment Committee should co-operate with the Street Committee to see if those who are most in need can be given at least some little work to help them along. It was also suggested that a publicity campaign be inaugurated for the purpose of getting the citizens in general interested sufficiently to find some work about the homes and premises that could be done by idle men, and in this way help to relieve the situation to some extent.

HAS BEEN RECEIVED AT ZEELAND AS TO TYPE
ROAD ORDERED

Work on paving the relocated M-21 between Zeeland east limits and Holland city was begun on Monday of this week. The work is being done by Harry Plaggenmars, a Zeeland contractor.

No definite information has yet been received at Zeeland of whether a twenty-foot roadway of concrete or a forty-foot roadway with the regular curbs through Zeeland is to be allowed.

Workmen are now engaged in leveling the grade to the survey and it is found in three or four short trips some dirt must be removed, requiring possibly one week time to do this work. Meanwhile it is expected that State engineers will come to Zeeland with instructions concerning the type of road the state has finally determined to construct through this city.

There has been a great deal of dickered on this Washington St. Paving so that no one seems to know just what to expect. The question seems to be mostly on the advisability of the type of road rather than any dispute between proponents of various types. The one idea is for the placing of a 20-foot lane for immediate use with the prospect of securing a wider right of way and additional paving later, while the other idea is of placing a forty-foot pavement with a regular curb without respect to the width of right of way. If the latter idea prevails it will mean a much better street in the future, but that future may be so distant that many of us will not care much about it when it comes. The principal interest to the residents of Zeeland now is that the street construction has started furnishing just so much work for idle hands. —Zeeland Record.

JUST PRIMO'S SIZE

A big man saw big things being done in a big way when Primo Carnera, giant Italian boxer, visited the plant of the Western Electric Company at Hawthorne, Ill. Here he is with a telephone of appropriate proportions, but since it was built simply for display purposes and not for use, he probably isn't hearing much of whatever it is that the young lady is saying into the transmitter.

Lesson for April 12

THE PRODIGAL SON

LESSON TEXT—Luke 15:11-24.
 GOLDEN TEXT—Likewise, I say unto you, there is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth.
 PRIMER—What to Do When We Do Wrong.
 JUNIOR TOPIC—What to Do When We Do Wrong.
 INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Father's Welcome to the Wandering Son.
 YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Church and the Repentant Sinner.

The center of interest in this parable is not the prodigal nor his brother, but the "certain man who had two sons." He who fails to see the heart of our Father God will miss the purpose of the story.

I. The Son's Estrangement From the Father (v. 12).
 There is every indication that this was a happy home, but a demon entered it and stirred up discontent in the heart of the younger son. He became tired of the restraints of home. His desire for freedom moved him willfully to choose to leave his father's house and to take with him all that he could get. He was essentially the desire to be free from the restraints of right authority and for selfish indulgence. At the request of the son "the father divided unto him his living."

II. The Son's Departure (v. 13).
 Having made the fatal decision, he went posthaste to the enjoyment of his cherished vision. He quickly got his goods in portable shape. Having thrown off the restraints of his father's rule, he eagerly withdrew from his father's presence. This is always the way sin works. Adam and Eve after they had sinned hid themselves. The son could not now stand the presence of his father so he hastened away, having "gathered all together."

III. The Son's Degeneration (vv. 13, 14).
 He had a good time while his money lasted, but the end came quickly. The indications are that his course was soon run. From plenty in his father's house to destitution in the far country was a short journey. The sinner is soon made to realize the famine when such powers as ministered to his pleasure are burned out.

IV. The Son's Degradation (vv. 15, 16).
 Having no friends to help him when his money was all gone, he was driven to hire out to a citizen to feed swine. It was a tragic change from being a son in his father's house to feeding swine in the far country. It is ever so. Those who will not serve God are made slaves to the devil to do his bidding (Romans 6:16). How vividly this portrays the history of many men and women about us, and yet it is the picture of the inevitable consequence of sin.

V. The Son's Restoration (vv. 17, 24).
 1. "He came to himself" (v. 17). Upon reflection he was made conscious that though he had wronged his father and ruined himself, he was still a son of his father. In the days of his sinning he was beside himself. The sinner continues in his sin because he is insane. The world calls the sinner who leaves off his evil ways crazy, but in reality he has just become sane.

2. His resolution (v. 18).
 His reflection ripened into resolve. The picture of his home, where even his hired servants had a superabundance, moved him to make a decision to leave the far country and go home.

3. His confession (v. 19).
 He acknowledged that his sin was against his father, and that he had been foolish enough to be given a share of his father's property. The sinner who has made a resolution to leave his sin behind him, must confess his sin.

4. His return (v. 20).
 Action was needed. Resolution will not avail unless accompanied with action. When the confession is genuine action will follow. Good intentions will not avail.

5. His reception by his father (vv. 20, 24).
 The father had not forgotten his son. His unchanging love followed the son all the time he was away, and longed for his return. He must often have looked for him, for he saw him when he was a great way off. So anxious was he for him that he ran to meet him and fell upon his neck and kissed him. So glad was the father that he did not even hear the confession through, but ordered the tokens of honor to be placed upon him, receiving him back into a son's position.

6. His restoration (v. 24).
 The father had not forgotten his son. His unchanging love followed the son all the time he was away, and longed for his return. He must often have looked for him, for he saw him when he was a great way off. So anxious was he for him that he ran to meet him and fell upon his neck and kissed him.
