One Of Holland's Leading Women Is Taken Away

WAS THE ONLY REMAINING
CHILD OF FOUNDER VAN-
RAALTE STILL LIVING

Funeral to Be Held From Hope Memorial Chapel on Saturday.

Although not entirely unexpected, Holland and vicinity were shocked to hear of the death of Mrs. Christine Van Raalte Gilmore, the only surviving member of the family of Dr. Albertus C. Van Raalte, the founder of Holland. Death took place late Wednesday at the age of 86 years, her birthday anniversary having just occurred on March 31, when she received congratulations and floral tributes from hosts of friends.

Mrs. Gilmore was born March 31, 1846, in Arnheim-on-the-Rhine, in The Netherlands, at the German boundary line and lived for a short time in one of the feudal palaces on that picturesque river.

She was only five months old when Dr. Van Raalte and his colonists and the rest of the Van Raalte family sailed for America. Those on board felt that the child must have a cradle to sleep in and one of iron was made during the ship "The Southerner."

eight weeks' voyage on the sailing That iron cradle has held many a child of the Van Raalte family not alone, but of the children's children to the third generation. The cradle is now in Hope college museum and no place could be more appropriate for Dr. Van Raalte who not only gave the site of Hope college campus but founded the college as well.

Mrs. Gilmore, in her youth, attended a girls' school in the East, later going to Albion college where she was prevented from graduating because of a serious accident that had occurred to her shortly before finishing. Nevertheless she was always considered an alumnus of Albion and was tendered the position as dean of women of that college, but accepted a similar position at Hope college, following out the wishes of her illustrious father, who had told her to do what she could for the "College of Hope."

She first became dean of women of Hope college in 1887 and held that position for a quarter of a century. She still held that position when Voorhees dormitory was dedicated twenty-five years ago. During that same year Mrs. Gilmore was made vice president for the Western Board of Domestic Missions and was the founder of several church women's missionary societies, and many women's conferences and missionary unions of the different classes in the Reformed Church were organized by her.

The Federation of Women's Societies was organized on December 18, 1919, at the home of Mrs. Gilmore, the one who conceived the idea of a co-operative inter-church movement, called a meeting of twenty-four women representing nearly all the churches in Holland, effected the organization, became the first president and held that office as long as her health permitted. Inspiring meetings have been held each year, and as early as 1923 this organization manifested a special interest in the work for lepers.

At the fifth annual meeting of the federation held March 12, 1924, in the Fourteenth Street Christian Reformed church, Dr. C. J. Stauffer, a medical missionary stationed at Inhambone, Portuguese East Africa, was engaged as the speaker, and as a result of his eloquent plea for help in caring for the lepers, it was voted to raise $1,400 to pay for a 500-acre estate, including a stone house, which came to be called the Christine Van Raalte Gilmore home.

Mrs. Gilmore was wed to Rev. William Brokaw Gilmore, who was a student of the first class to graduate from Hope college and the Western Theological seminary. Mr. Gilmore came from Fairview, Ill. Four children were born of that union, three children dying at an early age and Dr. A. C. Van Raalte Gilmore being the only one surviving.

The funeral of Mrs. Gilmore will be held at 2:30 o'clock at the home, where private services will be held. The public funeral will be held at 3 o'clock Saturday from Hope Memorial chapel, indeed a fitting place for these ceremonies over the remains of the last child to survive of the founder of both Holland and Hope college.

The remains will lie in state at the home, 60 East Twelfth street, Saturday morning from 10 until 1 o'clock.

Those to officiate at the home will be Dr. Thomas W. Davidson, pastor of Hope church and Rev. J. K. Van Baalen of Grand Rapids. President Wynand Wichers of Hope college is to be in charge at the chapel where Dr. Thomas W. Davidson and Mrs. J. H. Dykstra, president of the Women's Missionary union, are to officiate.

The honorary pallbearers will be Dr. E. D. Dimmet, Dr. J. B. Nykerk, Dr. A. Leenhouts, Dr. B. J. De Vries, Supt. E. E. Fell and Professor G. J. Dregman.

Immediate relatives of the deceased will be active pallbearers, namely Benjamin Van Raalte, B. K. Van Raalte, Louis Kleinhekel, Frank De Mone Kleinhekel, Arthur Visser and John Vander Brook.

STUDENTS WON'T ENTERTAIN FACULTY: MONEY LACKING

Because of present-day conditions and with the approval of the faculty, the students of the Western Theological seminary have decided not to hold the annual banquet this year. This is the occasion every year at which the faculty members and their wives, together with wives and friends of the students, are guests of the student body. According to time-honored custom this is followed by "open house" in the dormitory, the one time of the year at which the seminary students' living quarters can be honored with the presence of ladies. No doubt even the dormitory building itself will miss the affair this year, for many a window pane will very likely miss its annual cleaning and several floors their annual scrubbing.

Things are getting more interesting for the members of the senior class since two of them received promises of calls in the past week. Mr. Henry Bast has been so honored by the community church of Hopkins, Michigan, and Mr. William C. De Jong by the Wortendyke First Holland church of Midland Park, New Jersey. The rest of the seniors are now hoping that, since the "ice is broken," the calling situation will loosen up and more vacant churches will begin to register their choices.

Hope, Zealand and Coopersville High schools will be represented at the finals in oratory, declamation and extemporaneous speaking in the district contests at Paw Paw the latter part of April. Alvin B. Cook of Eastmanville will be Hope's contestant in oratory; Lester Dekoster of Zealand will compete in declamation and Patricia Holmes of Coopersville will be a competitor in extemporaneous speaking. The trio placed first in the respective contests in the subdistrict contest at Hudsonville.

OVERISEL AGAIN GOES DEMOCRATIC

Two Democrats were elected on the Overisel township ticket for the first time in thirty-three years Monday. They were Ben Schipper, town highway commissioner, and George Koopman, board of review. Harry Lampen who opposed Harm C. Verbeek for supervisor lost by thirty votes. John Poppen managed the Democratic campaign.

Overisel has been Republican ever since William Jennings Bryan advocated the free coinage of silver, 16 to 1. The wealthy farmers could not stand for that and voted the gold standard as advocated by William McKinley, who defeated Mr. Bryan at that time.

Before the silver craze Overisel was largely Democratic.

Soule Home Struck By Lightning

ONCE CANDIDATE FOR JUDGE OF PROBATE HAS NARROW ESCAPE IN STORM

Edward Soule of Grand Haven, seated on the porch of the Soule residence, which was struck by lightning, narrowly escaped possible death or severe injuries. He believed when a bolt of lightning hit a tree in the yard and then scattered to the house.

The terrific impact was felt in many sections of the city and Mrs. K. T. VandenBosch, a block away, saw a ball of fire roll around in his kitchen, and N. T. Rice saw one in his shop on Third street, both of which Warren T. Rice of the weather bureau says are very rare occurrences.

The siding over the door of the house was ripped off, the telephone was wrecked and the lights in the house damaged and other queer pranks of the electricity were found.

The fire chief of Grand Haven, electricians and others went directly to the Soule home, but no fire developed. A bolt struck a tree in the front yard, plowing up a furrow in the lawn.

A thermometer hanging by the front door bore evidence of the queer pranks of the lightning, when it was discovered that the upper and lower corners of the glass plate were cut off as cleanly as if it had been cut by a glazier, but the tube containing the mercury was not disturbed. In the front room of the house there is a picture molding, pressed out of brass and running around the four sides of the room. Originally it was gilded, but later was given a coat of white paint. The lightning ran around this molding and showered flakes of paint over the furniture and floor. The paint was removed at short intervals indicating the flame had jumped from spot to spot.

Mr. Soule believes that he narrowly escaped death as before the crash he was standing at the front door, rejoicing in the much-needed rain. He decided to take a seat on the porch. Just as he settled into a seat the whole front yard seemed to lift, as if by an explosion from beneath, and flame and dirt filled the air. Except for being momentarily dazed and suffering an unpleasant ringing in his ears, he was unhurt. Mr. Soule said he probably owed his life, and certainly his eyesight to that decision which took him from the doorway just in time to escape the full force of the bolt.

Mr. Soule will be remembered as a candidate for probate judge. His father was probate judge of this county forty years ago.

Proclamation To The People Of Holland

In view of the fact that Good Friday will be the Nineteenth Hundredth Anniversary of the Crucifixion of the Son of Mary, multitudes of people in all lands will turn their footsteps to shrines of prayer and devotion, in the various countries of the world. This is in every way fitting and proper. Added to the above is the prolonged economic depression which has tried the souls of men and women everywhere, and not least the good people of Holland.

Our Holland Churches—Catholic and Protestant—are helping the community by providing services on Good Friday at various hours of the day, to which all may repair and join in Worship, Meditation and Prayer.

Taking all the facts of the situation into account, by virtue of the powers conferred upon me by my office, do proclaim a general holiday on Good Friday, from 12:00 o'clock noon in order that all who desire to celebrate the day in a fitting manner, may have the opportunity of doing so by attending the services in their respective churches, or in meditation in their own homes.

There is an old proverb which says: "When you're up to the neck in hot water, think of the kettle and sing." Goodness knows we are all up to the neck in troubles of one sort or another, but they are not insurmountable. A great and courageous American said in a former crisis: "Do not pray for easier tasks; pray to be stronger men. Do not pray for tasks equal to your strength; pray for strength equal to your tasks." We must all face life's problems bravely if we are to win through to the freedom we seek.

My hope and prayer is that Holland's observation of Good Friday may contribute to this result.

Respectfully submitted,

NICODEMUS BOSCH,
Mayor.

THANK YOU!

Mr. B. A. Mulder,
Publisher Holland City News,
Holland, Michigan.

My Dear Ben:

It is needless for me to say that I appreciate very much the fine support you gave me in the recent campaign to reopen our sugar mill this year. Then it was nice of you to acknowledge the effort in your lovely editorial in your last week's issue. You know, of course, that the job required the help and co-operation of a lot of folks and if I had not believed in advance that such a worthy project would receive the response it did, I never would have tackled the job.

You were gracious enough to say that the prospect of opening the sugar mill was the first ray of sunshine to come to this community for many, many months and if that bit of sunshine develops into a stimulant to our courage and faith in this community, I will feel that the effort has been worthwhile.

Again I thank you and with best wishes to you always, I am

Sincerely yours,

WILLIAM C. VANDENBERG.

HOLLAND CONSUMES MORE MILK THAN EVER

According to Henry S. Bosch, city inspector, Holland's milk inspection during the fiscal year shows that the consumption of milk in this city has assumed tremendous proportions.

During the year 3,797,864 quarts of milk were consumed. This is the highest in the history of this city, the peak being in 1927 when 2,700,500 quarts were consumed.

During 1932—96,376 quarts of cream were used in the city of Holland.

Mr. Bosch has not only been a thorough milk inspector, the best Holland has ever had, but an accurate accountant of what proportions of milk are consumed. Surely with the milk diet Holland is destined to be a healthy city for there is no better food ration properly used than is milk.

Fifty Years Ago Today

Last Friday night a concert was given by "The Trio" of Holland composed of Miss Maggie Plugger, soprano; Mr. J. Marion Doesburg, tenor; and Mr. Darius Gilmore, baritone. The merits of the concert were numerous and the young folks drew great credit for their very commendable efforts to elevate the standard of music as rendered in this city. On the whole the editor considers the music, though very creditably rendered, of too high order to be fully appreciated as yet by the majority of people composing the audience. Note: This undoubtedly was the introduction of the first real classical music here and the editor, "Bill" Rodgers, as we remember him, had no ear for music. Miss Plugger by the way is the late Mrs. Geo. P. Hummer and the mother of Mrs. Charles Kirchen of West 12th St. Mr. Doesburg, the brother of Miss Kittie Doesburg, East 10th St., and Mr. Gilmore still has relatives living here.

G. J. Diekmann, who has recently graduated from the law school at Ann Arbor, has opened offices at the Vander Veer Building at River Street and Main. We wish Gerrit abundant success in the practice of his profession. Note: And the News followed up that wish through his marvelous career to the time of his passing in The Netherlands as this nation's Minister.

have passed on but time on this large clock continues on at the "dorm." The hospital at Zealand was named after Dr. Huizenga. Mr. De Kruif was a farm implement dealer known throughout Western Michigan, and Mr. Veneklasen was a partner in the brick company bearing that name at Zealand.

Mrs. Bert Slagh made a lucky discovery which enriched her pocket book with a $20 bill. While gathering discarded clothing for the junk dealer she accidentally put her hand into the pocket of her husband's old trousers and pulled out a piece of paper as she thought, but which proved to be a $20.00 bank note.

Wm. Cook, a prosperous farmer living just outside of Zealand, has the distinction of being the largest man in Ottawa county, if not in Western Michigan. Mr. Cook, but 35 years of age, stands 6 ft. 5 in. in his stocking feet and tips the scales at 312 pounds. He is a great healthy, good natured fellow and very proud of his size. As constable of Zealand township he made an excellent record. He is a brother to Dr. Dan Cook of Holland.

Missionary Dies Suddenly In Darkest Africa

MISS JOHANNA VEENSTRA
WAS TAKEN SUDDENLY
AFTER APPENDICITIS
OPERATION

Cablegram Is Received by Co-Worker, Now on Furlough.

A shocking piece of news was cabled to Holland to Miss Nelle Breen, 245 West Fifteenth street, Wednesday as follows:

"Cable received from Nigeria—Miss Veenstra operated for appendicitis fourth—developed heart attack eighth—died peacefully morning ninth—have cabled mother and Beets—writing."

"DAWSON."

Miss Veenstra is well known in Holland, in fact through western

(By courtesy of Missionary Monthly.)

Michigan. During her furlough last year she appeared at several large meetings at Holland, Zealand, Grand Rapids; also in the East and West. Her story of darkest Africa is one of the most interesting that has been written in some time. Besides being a missionary she was an author and her books were based upon her everyday work among the natives. No description of jungle life describing man and beast has been more faithfully portrayed in simple word pictures than in the book "Pioneering For Christ in the Sudan," and "Black Diamonds." Those volumes of Miss Veenstra's, even though she has passed on, will live many years after her passing.

Miss Veenstra took up her work in Africa thirteen years ago. She was the first missionary who went out single handed and alone in that district called Takum which headquarters at Lupwa, the district comprising six out stations.

The books of Miss Veenstra and her letters moved the spirit in three other young ladies, two from Holland. They also felt the urge to go as co-workers to that country.

The first was Miss Nelle Breen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Breen, who left in July, 1930, and is now home on furlough, but is eager to return since the message of the death of Miss Veenstra has arrived.

Miss Jennie Stielstra, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Stielstra of Lakewood boulevard, is now in the Sudan, as is Miss Bertha Zagers of Muskegon.

During Miss Veenstra's period of labors among the heathens, two hundred have become confessing members and many more have expressed their desire to take this step. Not a few of the native men and women are aiding in the work. These have been under Miss Veenstra's tutelage from the time that she arrived in this benighted country.

Very little of the details are known other than those given in the cablegram and it was rather pathetic that Miss Breen, now in Holland, should receive an endearing letter Thursday morning in which Miss Veenstra was hoping for her return and planning still greater things upon Miss Breen's arrival.

Miss Veenstra was the daughter of the late Rev. William Veenstra of Stuphen, Michigan, who died in 1902. A sister, Mrs. Alfred Brouwer, also lives at Forest Grove.

Miss Veenstra was attending a field council of superintendents of the several districts of the Sudan, which began March 25. She intended to go on still farther to Miango, 300 miles from her Lupwe home for a vacation. The supposition is that she was taken ill on the way and was hurried to the hospital at Vom, where, Miss Breen states, is an up-to-date hospital with an efficient surgical force, but apparently the results of the operation proved disastrous to this hard working young missionary.

Miss Veenstra would have been 39 years old next week, Wednesday. It is rather a coincidence that she writes in the monthly missionary magazine just off the press, from which we quote the first paragraph of her interesting letter: "Today it is thirteen years since first I set foot on African soil! As one looks back over the varying experiences, some of them mountain peaks of joy, and others valleys of depression and disappointment, one is led to a very humble gratitude to Him, who all the way leads His children. My heart is full of joy at the remembrance of all His love, and also at the thought of your love to us."

Miss Nelle Breen will leave for Africa next week, Friday, by way

HOLLAND CALIFORNIANS COMING HOME

Dr. Bos with Mrs. Bos and their auto trailer are starting home from California today and will arrive in Holland within the next ten days.

Mr. and Mrs. Gil Haan are to start for home some time the latter part of next week, also motoring.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Harrington are contemplating a trip to Holland and will be with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Harrington, for the greater part of the summer. The last trip they made to Holland was four years ago. Carl sent the Holland City News a vivid story of their experience in the earthquake a few weeks ago.

Old Blind Citizen Passes at Kalamazoo

WAS UNIQUE FIGURE IN HOLLAND IN THE EARLIER DAYS

The death of Marinus Van Putten at Kalamazoo calls to mind a unique figure in Holland in the earlier days. He was the son of the second banker in Holland, Mr. Jacob Van Putten, who organized a private bank called the Holland City Bank, located in a small building on the site of Fris Book Store, later becoming the Holland City State Bank in which blind man Van Putten was also a stockholder.

Marinus Van Putten became blind at the age of 14 and as your editor remembers it, eye infection was brought on by too much diving and swimming in Black Lake as a lad. The family did everything possible for him. He was a graduate of Michigan Blind school and he became a very apt scholar. Even while his father conducted the private bank, Marinus was one of the employees who counted the silver and metal moneys, which through the sense of touch he was able to do. His accounting of silver money was done quickly and accurately.

For many years Mr. Van Putten carried on the news stand which afterwards was purchased by the Fris family. Mr. Van Putten in those days collected many of his own newspaper bills. Despite his blindness he knew where practically every customer in the city lived and found his way without assistance. He knew every business man, although he had never seen their faces, he distinguished them by their voices and he was loved and respected by the entire business street.

Mr. Van Putten often went to Grand Rapids alone and could easily find his way in the business district. He also dabbled in real estate and not only had several dwellings which he purchased but ordered the construction of new ones in which he did his own planning with the carpenters and builders.

He was politically a Democrat and a very positive one and served his ward as alderman for three terms, from 1888 to 1891. Some years ago the family moved to Grand Rapids and the death of Mr. Van Putten took place at the Fletcher hospital at Kalamazoo.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Nibbelink-Notter funeral home, Rev. E. Holmsa of Noline, Michigan, a friend of the family, officiating. Burial took place in the Van Putten plot in Pilgrim Home Cemetery.

Surviving besides the widow Mrs. Mary Dyke Van Putten, of Grand Rapids, are two sons, J. Dyke Van Putten of Chicago and Walter A. Van Putten of New York city; two daughters, Mrs. Geneva A. Block and Mrs. Frances M. Hooley of Detroit, and five grandchildren.

Mrs. Pearl Maskey, 21, was burned fatally Wednesday night at her farm home, eleven miles north of Allegan when oil which she poured into the kitchen stove exploded. Her two-year-old son was burned slightly. She was taken to Emergency hospital here but died a few hours later. Surviving besides the son, are her husband, Gerald Maskey; four-year-old daughter; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Snyder of Allegan, and two brothers and a sister.

THE LITTLE GERMAN BAND

At the boosters' meeting of merchants held Monday evening at the city hall there was one innovation that was especially pleasing, namely the "Herr Louie" Der Imperial Dutchman Band. No, they are not the band of radio fame, but just as good. They are a lot of fine musicians, young chaps from Holland high school under the direction of Harold Woltman.

The boys gave a program of German music with a "Herr Louie" complex mixed with some good American pop stuff.

The correctness of their playing was especially noticeable—nothing amateurish and no sour notes.

The boys were repeatedly called back for added numbers.

The personnel of the band is as follows:

Pretzels

The pretzel business is on the upturn, which is no news to those who have heard that beer is coming back. But it may be news to learn that serious students of pretzel-baking find in the subject something for the mind to chew on.

For instance there is the geographical origin of pretzels, in the United States, that is, Pennsylvania pretzels have their propagandists, claiming special flavor and quality. Western pretzels are denounced by the Easterners as having no individuality, though they may be cheaper. Yet do they "taste like mass production."

Then there is the shape of the pretzel. Is it not enough, some say, for a bit of dough to be steamed, baked and toasted, if it is merely a new-fangled strip, a "pretzel stick." It lacks "appeal to the intellect," the "something cosmic" of the sinuously curved and twisted pretzel. Neither should a pretzel be too big.

One manufacturer who sold 1,400,000,000 pretzels last year expects to sell 280 for every person in the United States this year. He recalled the records of champion pretzel-benders, including the 56,000 total for one day fashioned by a woman who said she had studied piano with Liszt. If spring comes in on the crust of a pretzel wave, perhaps it will bring employment to some nimble-fingered musicians.

Frog Business Has

Its Obstacles

The person who has an idea he can solve his financial problems by going into the frog raising business should think twice if he follows the advice of the Fish Division of the Department of Conservation. The division has reached the conclusion that the obstacles outweigh the possibilities of success.

The chief difficulty, the division points out, is in providing suitable food for frogs. Tadpoles can be raised in almost unlimited numbers but after they have reached the frog stage they require living matter for food almost entirely, and it is something of a problem to provide living food such as insects in sufficient quantities to raise a profitable number of frogs.

And the person who does succeed in raising a creditable number has another problem. Present conditions have resulted in overproduction and a shrinkage in demand for this product. As a result prices received are low.

By far the greatest proportion of the frogs that reach our commercial markets today are wild frogs grown in their natural environment, the division says. Here their number is limited only by the amount of natural food these areas will produce. It is suggested that efforts to improve the food supply and to control such predators as herons and snakes in such places will tend to increase the number of frogs that can be taken from them in season, which in Michigan lasts from June 1 to Nov. 1.

Oversubscription of an additional $50,000 capitalization for reopening the Peoples State bank on Wednesday removed one of the last obstacles to the institution's rehabilitation. Only the release of funds deposited with the state and in closed Detroit banks is awaited before the reopening, officials said. Capitalization of the bank was increased from $100,000 to $150,000 on orders of the state banking department. Clarence Jalving has been receiver for this bank since January, 1932.—Grand Rapids Press.

PEOPLES STATE BANK
MAKING PREPARATIONS FOR OPENING

Oversubscription of the required increase in capitalization by $50,000 in response to a request made a week ago by the state banking department was reported yesterday by the depositors' committee of the Peoples State bank. The capital of the institution, in process of reorganization, has been increased from $100,000 to $150,000.

Reopening of the bank has been delayed temporarily because funds deposited with the state treasurer are impounded in Detroit banks.

Authorities at Lansing are working diligently to release other impounded moneys and, according to John Vanderschuer, 10 per cent of the $50,000 of the Holland institution will be released.

Receiver Clarence Jalving has been working very diligently on many of these matters as has the depositors' committee. The impounded funds is an unfortunate situation temporarily through no fault of those in charge of the Peoples bank. Matters will simply be delayed a little while longer, it is expected.

The added capitalization naturally has strengthened the institution also.

Telephone Women Are Cited
To Receive 1932 Vail Medal

MICHIGAN WOMEN
GIVEN VAIL MEDALTWO TELEPHONE OPERATORS
CITED FOR OUTSTANDING
ACTS OF PUBLIC SERVICE

Two Michigan telephone women have been awarded the Theodore N. Vail medal in bronze for outstanding acts of public service during 1932. It is announced by Burch Foraker, president of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company and chairman of the Michigan Committee of Vail Medal Awards. They are Olive M. Martin, chief operator of the Elmira Telephone Company, a small company operating at Elmira, near Potosky, and Mrs. Eleanor Purdy, 7746 East Ferry street, Detroit, who was an operator in the employ of the Michigan Bell Company in the exchange at Centerline until she left the service last fall.

Both are cited by the committee for initiative, good judgment and prompt action in an emergency. Miss Martin summoned outside help when her village was threatened with fire, and Mrs. Purdy was instrumental in saving the life of a Centerline telephone subscriber who had been overcome by fumes from a heater.

Awards of the medal are made under a fund created thirteen years ago in memory of Theodore N. Vail, formerly president of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company, whose life-work was devoted to the development of universal telephone service and who inculcated into the Bell System many of its high ideals of service. All telephone men and women, regardless of company affiliation, are eligible to receive the Vail medal for the performance of acts of outstanding merit. Since the establishment of the fund, 54 Michigan people have been awarded the medal, 49 of them employees of the Michigan Bell Company and five employees of connecting telephone companies.

Miss Martin was aroused by smoke early in the morning of last July 11, and discovered that fire had broken out in two of a group of four large potato warehouses in the center of Elmira, endangering the business section and several residences. She quickly summoned a neighbor, who aroused the community's bucket brigade. Then proceeding to the telephone office, which was in the path of the fire, she discovered that the Michigan Bell Telephone Company's long distance pole line, the town's only avenue of outside communication, was in flames. Reaching the office, she called the Michigan Bell Company's operator at Potosky before the wires went down, and asked her to send the fire departments from three neighboring towns and to notify the state police. Miss Martin then turned her attention to calling local residents for additional help to fight the flames. The local and outside aid she summoned prevented wide spread of the flames, confining the fire to the four warehouses and the railroad station.

Mrs. Purdy, while on duty in the Centerline telephone office during the evening of February 4, 1932, handled a call placed to a Detroit number by a hysterical woman, and learned that she was being overcome by gas. The woman's voice ceased suddenly, but the receiver was not replaced. Ascertaining the name and address from the company records, Mrs. Purdy transmitted the information to the Centerline fire department, which arrived in time to resuscitate the unconscious woman.

Letters of commendation for meritorious public service also were authorized by the Michigan committee of award for William Managuet, cableman in the Detroit Construction department; Earl H. Baker, installation foreman, Detroit; Herbert A. Cain, switchboard man, Ironwood; and Mrs. Vera Hardman, Pleasant department, Benton Harbor.

He was also a member of the Trinity Reformed church.

Surviving are the wife; two daughters, Mrs. Richard Jager of Hall, Iowa, and Miss Alice Clark at home; two sons, Dr. N. H. Clark of Kalamazoo and Raymond Clark at home; one brother, N. A. Clark of Grand Rapids, and one grandson, Roger Clark Jager.

Funeral services were held on Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the home and at 2 o'clock from Trinity Reformed church. Rev. John Van Beursem of Zeeland, first pastor at Trinity church, officiated at the home. Rev. H. D. Ter Keurst, present pastor, and Rev. C. P. Dams, former pastor of Trinity Reformed church, were in charge of services at the church. Burial took place in Holland Township cemetery.

Pallbearers were David Damstra, Peter Huyser, John Wiersma, Harry Kramer, John Onk and George Schurman. Members of the boys' class which Mr. Clark taught, attended the services in a group.

ACCUSER OFTEN HIT
IN BLACKMAIL CASEMust Make Good or Face
Penalty in Britain.

London.—Blackmail actions in Great Britain are always brought under a cloak of anonymity. If a conviction is obtained the plaintiff's name is never known. But if an unsavory action fails the position is reversed, the glare of publicity turns in the opposite direction and the erstwhile accuser finds himself liable to prosecution for perjury.

Such a reversal took place in the Old Bailey Criminal court when Mrs. Lillian Simmons, thirty-two, was charged with threatening to expose her adultery with "Mr. V." and to force a divorce action upon his wife unless he paid her $1,000.

Judge Exposes Plaintiff.

The plaintiff remained in the court records as "Mr. V." until the jury acquitted Mrs. Simmons. Then Sir Ernest Wild, the trial judge, exposed him and threatened to send the records of the case to the public prosecutor. He is Evelyn Charles Vivian, an author.

Judge and jury found that the money demanded was a debt, and that Vivian under the protection of the practice in blackmail cases, had brought the action to prevent being sued for the money.

Mrs. Simmons' defense was extended testimony dealing with her life as friend and mistress of the plaintiff. She testified that she met him nine years ago. He showed her a book he had written. A friendship had developed and she began lending him money from savings accumulated by herself and her husband.

At one time she advanced him $250 to back a play he had written, and at another time he showed her a second play, in which he said theatrical producers were interested.

Husband Forgives Her.

Altogether she spent $750, the life-time savings of her husband and herself, and later pawned a piano, her sewing machine, and some jewelry to give him money. Finally she made efforts to regain the money and succeeded in collecting less than $100. She turned the matter over to an agent and Vivian gave her a check for $500. She was then arrested.

"You say you gave him this money because you loved him?" she was asked on cross-examination.

"Yes, I always cared for 'Mr. V.," she answered.

Clarence George Simmons, her husband, testified that his income is $20 weekly. He did not know of his wife's infidelity until the case came up. He had forgiven her for that and the loss of the money.

The jury voted Mrs. Simmons not guilty. She was then discharged and the court added: "Go back and behave properly to your husband and remember he has behaved well to you. In my view this is a wickedly concocted story, and I shall retain the papers to consider whether I shall send them to the public prosecutor with a view to his considering a prosecution for perjury against Vivian."

ANOTHER secret is out. All lions have halitosis. Not four out of five, but all of 'em. Clyde Beatty, famous circus trainer and movie star, tells about it in his new book, "The Big Cats." "There's a famous old circus trick," he writes, "in which the trainer puts his head into the lion's mouth. Personally I dislike that trick, not because of any danger that lies in it, but because lions, even the healthiest ones, have halitosis. I can think of nothing more definitely disgusting than the breath of the average lion. If you stick your face into a lion's mouth, you may expect to be gassed. Why toy with a stunt that involves the unpleasantness of being subjected to super-halitosis?"

CANADA SAW WHITE MEN 600 YEARS AGO

Engraved Stone Indicates the Presence of Norsemen.

Winnipeg.—The mythology of Manitoba's white man's history goes back 571 years, Dr. D. A. Stewart, president of the Manitoba Historical society, announced in Winnipeg.

"There is a good deal of reason to believe that white men traveled along the Red river 571 years ago," Mr. Stewart said.

His belief is based on the fact that in 1809 a stone was found along the upper waters of the Red river on which were described in Runic characters the hardships and adventures of a party of Goths and Norsemen who had left their ship and journeyed from Hudson bay and up the Red river into North Dakota and Minnesota as they are now known.

The surmise was, said Doctor Stewart, that these were members of an expedition known to have left Norway in 1330, in search of settlers missing from Greenland, said to have gone to that land about 1354.

The authentic, documentary history of the white man in Manitoba, Doctor Stewart continued, dates back to 1612, when Manitoba was discovered as a by-product of the search for the Northwest passage, Thomas Button, leading an expedition of two ships, having landed near the mouth of the Nelson river during that year.

The subsequent history of Manitoba after that was divided into five periods by Doctor Stewart.

These he classified as the period of discovery, the period of trade monopoly, ushered in by the chartering of Prince Rupert's Company of Gentleman Adventurers, the period of fur trade rivalry, the most romantic period of the five, the colonial period, opened by the arrival of the Selkirk settlers, and the period of provincial life.

Miners Rush to Great Bear in Search of Gold

Cameron Bay, Alberta.—Conditions reminiscent of the Yukon gold rushes and early California mining booms are being re-enacted in the Great Bear Lake district, close to the Arctic circle. Meals cost an average of $2 each. Housing facilities are crude. The only fast transportation is by plane, and few can afford such travel. Hundreds of prospectors, willing to bear the rigorous weather, flocked to the region after hearing reports of the discovery of rich gold, silver, and radium bearing deposits. Forty-seven different minerals have been discovered in the district, a majority of them occurring in such quantities that even cautious mining experts have described the find as "extraordinary."

Large deposits of pitch blende have proved among the most profitable discoveries to date. Eight to ten tons of the material are required to produce one gram of radium, but one gram is worth $50,000. A radium recovery plant to treat the ore has been opened at Port Hope, Ontario.

FRUIT TREES AT FENNVILLE

Rain that froze as it fell, coating pavements and sidewalks, and automobile windshields with thick ice, making both walking and driving hazardous, greeted Fennville recently beginning the first day of spring. Limbs of shade trees and of fruit trees, loaded down with heavy armor of ice, suffered great damage, large branches being snapped off falling on roofs and sidewalks, many of the finest trees in the village being broken.

Several of the younger folks got out their ice skates and spent a good part of Sunday skating on the sidewalks, while some used this method of locomotion to come to town over M-89.

Many telephone lines were down, poles being snapped off in various localities, and users of electricity in Fennville were without service all day on Monday until about 5 p. m., those using power being helpless and housekeepers being unable to cook meals, from which condition the restaurants profited.

The storm occurred almost to the day, on the anniversary of the big snowstorm of March, 1932, that began on the 21st, the first day of spring.

Merchants Hold Last Meeting This Season

BUSINESS MEN TO MAKE SPECIAL WINDOW DISPLAYS DURING TULIP WEEK.

The Holland merchants held their last meeting of the season Monday night at the city hall when it was decided by the business men that they would take part in beautifying their show windows not with artificial but with real live tulips, significant of Holland's annual celebration. The question was brought up by Chairman Van Zylzen and Holland is much enthused about this unique event, which brings thousands each year.

The merchants were also appreciative of the splendid work done by William C. Vandenberg and his assistants in making it possible to open the Holland Sugar mill this fall. There will be a planting of at least 5,000 acres in this vicinity which will bring work to many now on the welfare list. When the sugar factory opens in the fall it will also bring a great deal of added labor.

Henry Geerlings of the board of education spoke on the kind of scrip or rather bonds that the board of education is to issue, carrying a two and a half per cent interest. Mr. Geerlings reported that he had heard that some of the merchants would not accept these bonds in lieu of accounts and the buying of merchandise.

Dick Boter of the P. S. Boter company, assured Mr. Geerlings that the merchants would be pleased to take them. He even went so far as to say he would be willing to sell his entire stock in exchange for board of education "paper." Others spoke favorably on the method of extra money which it would really mean for Holland would not really be short of money for the same flow of currency as today would exist, only we would have a turnover of $50,000 more.

The final feature on the program was another business talk by M. D. Graham of the General Motors company, who was introduced by Mr. Pemberton of the local Chevrolet Sales company.

As has been given in a previous write-up Mr. Graham stressed the point that merchants and sales forces are themselves to blame for not selling. In many instances they have failed to be good merchandisers. They have approached a customer as if they were doing him a favor waiting on him. Many of the sales people look bored at the approach of a customer and say unkind things because this customer in the past had been difficult to wait on.

He pointed out instances where a business man in a crude and uninviting store often did more business than a merchant in a palatial emporium since the merchant of the modest store was a pleasing, affable merchandiser, while the force in the more pretentious store made you feel as if you were in a morgue.

Mr. Graham also ridiculed the business man who was always distributing gloom, telling of his woes. "Depression" seemed to be a slogan and it should have been "impression"—for good on prospective customers.

Mr. Graham pointed out that the extent of advertising done in Holland with the local newspapers was absolutely nil. On the other hand the newspapers appeared always willing to help along any progressive project, including this booster program.

Mr. Graham said that the hardest cities to do business in are towns from 20,000 to 50,000—too large to be personal and too small to be impersonal, and he said the newspapermen in those towns were harder to "get a break from" than cities larger or smaller.

Mr. Graham defined salesmanship as "selling goods that don't come back to customers who do." He urged that care and pains be taken in sales to assure satisfaction of customers.

He pointed out that the clerk's interest in and courtesy to buyers is a vital factor, but is the only business asset which costs nothing.

Mr. Graham said the fundamentals of a successful business are to "have it, show it, tell 'em and ask 'em." There are but three ways to "tell 'em," in printing, talking and writing, he said, and good merchants use all three methods.

In conclusion Mr. Graham said: "Never blame a person for not buying but blame yourself for not selling."

"Many feel so sorry for themselves in this depression that they can't sell, look and talk cheap. This contagion spreads to the buyer. Do you desire or deserve to sell? Too few desire business. Too many are wishing that conditions will improve without taking any initiative to aid themselves or others. A wishbone has never replaced backbone," said Mr. Graham.

NOT AFFECTED BY PROPOSED SHORT WORKING DAY PLAN

Fennville Herald—A misleading report was circulated here, arising from the introduction of a bill in Congress to establish a 30-hour working week in industries throughout the United States as part of the unemployment relief program. The rumor spread that the Fennville cannery factory was to operate six hours a day for five days a week. Marc Hutchinson, the manager of the cannery plant, informs the Herald that because the operation of the cannery is seasonal and the work of processing fruits and other products must be accomplished with the least possible delay to avoid deterioration, canning plants are exempted in the measure now before the national house of representatives. Therefore the schedule of operations at the cannery factory at Fennville will be as heretofore, it now seems probable, Mr. Hutchinson says.

THIEVES WERE BUSY DURING NIGHT

A man was robbed and several places were entered in this vicinity during the night and police are continuing their search for the yeggs.

Everett Root, 30, of Hamilton, was robbed of $185 in cash about 1:30 o'clock this Thursday morning on the road between Holland and Hamilton. He had visited in Holland and was en route to his home when he noticed a car parked along the roadside. Believing the occupants to be in trouble, he stopped to offer his assistance. As he opened his car door a man leaped upon him and stunned him with a blow from a bottle, after which he was robbed of his money. He staggered into police headquarters about 4 o'clock this morning to report to officers. He was confined to his home today because of the injury to his head.

Thieves also entered the Graafschap Christian Reformed church late last night and carried one of the safes outside. The safe contained valuable records and documents but no money. The cracksmen left the papers.

The Service Oil station on South Lincoln avenue was also entered last night and $35 in cash and merchandise was stolen. The Boeve brothers today offered a $10 reward for information leading to arrest and conviction of the thief or thieves.

The schools at Virginia Park and Lugers Crossing were also broken into during the night but nothing was reported to have been stolen. Police suspect that the attack and raids may have been part of the operations of one gang.

Labor Relief Program Is Far Reaching

The program suggested at the recent conference of labor leaders and economists with Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins is by all odds the most far-reaching and daring of its kind ever seriously considered by the American government.

A $5,000,000,000 bond issue to provide 2,000,000 jobs, a national law providing for the 30-hour week in industry, strict minimum wage regulations, abolition of child labor, complete recognition of labor's right to organize—here, surely, is a program which ought to satisfy the most radical.

Whether it stands any chance of adoption is something else again—as, also, is the question whether it would work if it were adopted. But the mere fact that the administration gave it a sympathetic ear is a profoundly significant development.

"What Is Beer?" Asks Innocent College Youth

LEARNED PROFESSOR EXPLAINS WHAT PRE-WAR BEVERAGES CONSISTED OF—EFFECTS

By Robert Jeans

"I note that beer has been returned to its legal status today," said a young college student to his professor, "and being of the young, pre-prohibition generation, I am anxious to learn something about this beer which will again be in evidence after 14 years of discussion and dissension."

"Beer," said the professor, "is a malt liquor used as a beverage. There are many varieties. The kind commonly consumed during pre-prohibition days was lager. This is a light species, stored for some time before being used in order to permit ripening or mellowing."

"Ale is a carefully made beer, consumed mostly in England; it is considerably stronger than lager, though lighter in pigment. Porter is a dark, strong beer, also predominantly English. Stout is stronger porter, fit only for robust palates."

Popular Steamers

"Steam beer was very popular in the American West during the legal era, particularly in a puritan known as the Barbary Coast. It is characterized by its liveliness and its prickly, acrid taste. Weiss beer is similar to stout except that it is rather more sour than acid. "Short beer" is a very mild variety. The term is also used, in the vulgar sense, to denote a small portion of any brand of the beverage.

"There are also beers known as alley beer and skunky beer but they are not defined in the dictionary and are presumably destined for extinction."

"No one knows just when or where beer was originally discovered, but we do know it was manufactured by the ancient Egyptians who drank it with relish; also the Greeks had a gourd for it at their banquets."

In Ancient Time

"The Egyptians carved their brewing processes in marble designs, and in such detail that the Greeks were able to copy the recipe, so to speak."

"After being adopted by the Greeks, beer soon became popular all along the Mediterranean. During the Christian era, when the Romans invaded Britain, they found that beer had preceded them in conquest. The Britons were brewing the drink from barley."

"The Germans are said to be the world's best brewers, though the canny Japanese are coming to the front in the chemistry of beer making, producing what many excellent critical tastes describe as a 'very excellent beer.'"

Lead the World

"However, the Germans, per capita, easily lead the world in beer consumption. America, prior to the passing of the Eighteenth Amendment, drank some two billions annually."

"It is on the whole an engrossing subject, beer, with a remarkable history and an astounding list of addicts, including some of the greatest artists and philosophers."

"What effect do you think this new so-called 32 beer will have on the college student?" asked the college student.

A passing ex-bootlegger overheard the remark, and answered: "None, absolutely none."

Holland Man Still Auditor For Supervisors

OTTAWA SOLONS CHANGE DATES OF MEETINGS; MORE OF THEM

Ottawa county supervisors voted yesterday to change their sessions from the present four a year, totaling 25 days, to several short sessions at intervals throughout the year to a total of 20 days and basing the mileage allowance the same as at present. The motion was introduced by Peter Van Ark of Holland, who said considerable expense would be saved by the board.

His suggestion is that a one-day session be held in May; four in June; one in August; one in September; seven in October; one in November; one in January; one in February and three in April.

The sessions now include four periods a year on the second Monday of January, on the first Tuesday after the second Monday in April; the fourth Monday of June and the second Monday in October. The board usually holds sessions for two weeks in October, about 10 days in June and three days each in the other sessions.

Henry Slaughter suggested that a modification be made in the resolution allowing for extra days if the necessity should arise. He pointed to the recent session when an entire day was taken up on a hearing on the matter of the agricultural and home demonstration offices. C. E. Misner stated if the board was going to confine itself to twenty days, then the business should be accomplished in that time if the board was required to work at night.

The auditing committee was retained by the board of supervisors by a vote of 17 to 7 with four supervisors not voting. The old members were all re-elected by ballot. They are Fred Graham, Ben Brower of Holland, and Philip Rosbach.

Lionel Heap, newly elected supervisor, mayor of Grand Haven, introduced a resolution at the opening session to abolish the committee substituting a standing committee on claims that would function only during the session of the board. He claimed that $250 a year could be saved in this way and that the actual passing of the bills would be done by the board. He stated that there is considerable question as to the legality of the payment of the bills by an auditing committee once a month.

He pointed out that a year ago there were 91 bills passed during one month of which there were only 20 that could possibly be contested. It cost $50, he stated, to pass on these 20 bills, which, he said, was far too expensive.

The auditing committee meets once a month. During the session they receive the same remuneration as the supervisors in session and mileage. Cornelis Rosenraad of Zeeland led the opposition to the change and pointed out the improvement over the old system when the board paid the bills. He is one of the oldest members in point of service. Henry Slaughter was opposed to the resolution.

Much of the afternoon and the morning sessions were taken up by the discussion. On the final vote Dick Smallegan, Henry Marshall, M. Mohr, Lionel Heap, William O. Van Eyck, Peter Damstra of Holland and James De Pree of Zeeland voted to abolish the auditing committee. Harm Plaggenmeyer, Albert Stegenga, Cornelius Baumann and J. E. Whitcomb declined to vote.

Later the bills for March, as passed by the auditing committee, were read by William Wilds, clerk, totaling $1,523. Peter Van Ark of Holland suggested bills for January and February be read for Mr. Heap's benefit, but Mr. Heap said he could get any information he wanted from the files. All voted to o. k. the bills with the exception of Mr. Heap who reserved his vote until he had examined the bills.

A communication was read from John Den Herder, county treasurer, asking for extra help in the office due to the increase of work made by the large increase in delinquent taxes and the attendant increase in reports. It was referred to the finance committee.

The soldiers' relief committee asked for $2,000 as added funds to supply the needs of the ex-soldiers of the county until June. A report showed that in October a balance of $2,643.67 was on hand. The board allowed $4,928.49 at the October session. Since then a total of $5,253.50 has been spent which the committee believes will not leave a balance sufficient to supply the needs up to June. The committee includes Dr. A. E. Stickley of Coopersville; Sam Bosch of Holland, and George Borck of Grand Haven township.

A letter was read from the Michigan state unemployment commission calling attention to the state requirements for making application to the R. F. C. for welfare funds. A copy was requested for each supervisor that the members familiarize themselves with the matter.

The keepers of Michigan's trout breeding stations and rearing ponds have their hands full trying to outwit the birds and other creatures on the alert to help themselves to a meal of young fishes. Kingfishers, herons, water snakes and frogs are the chief offenders. So far as possible these predators are kept away from temptation by use of fine mesh wire screens about the ponds. But it is necessary to destroy them in cases where they persist in spite of all such efforts to discourage them.

Sentence Fay to Ionia Pen for Long Term

MASON COUNTY YOUTH DRAWS 6 TO 15 YEARS SENTENCE; ADMITS HOLD-UPS, CAR THEFT

Paul Fay, 21, Mason county youth, who confessed to a series of oil station holdups and the larceny of a car from Orville Beers of Grand Haven was sentenced in circuit court Saturday by Judge Fred T. Miles to Ionia State Reformatory for a period of 6 to 15 years.

Fay confessed to holding up oil stations in Holland, Traverse City, to have taken a car in Grand Rapids and this city and to have been in several other deals. He did most of the jobs with a trigger and revolver and for many weeks had the officers of the state on his trail which finally culminated when he was caught on M-50 by Grand Rapids officers after robbing an oil station at Holland on River and Sixteenth street.

Cornelius Pippel, Holland, was placed on probation to Jack Spangler for three years and made to pay costs of $36. He confessed to the larceny of a motor from the Bush and Lane piano factory.

Arie Vos was given a 60-day jail sentence for non-payment of alimony. Francis Borrels was also sentenced to the county jail for 45 days on an alimony charge. He was released today on suspended sentence when he was notified that he could go to work as a molder in Grand Rapids.

Leo C. Van Frank, receiver for the Berlin State Bank, was given the following judgments: $5,429.78 against Charles P. Goodenow; $286.20 against Goodenow and Martin Koster; and $334.20 against William Maynard.

SEPARING IN CERTAIN STREAMS

Conservation Officer Maurice Kuite received the following communication late last week, from state authorities: "In view of the present serious economic situation and the passage of an act amending the inland fishing regulations by the house, lights may be used in spearing carp, suckers, red-horse, mullet, dogfish, and garpike in non-trout streams in Allegan and Otsego counties, until May 15, 1933."

RECEIVE FINE TROUT

Three truck loads of brook trout were received in Allegan from the Wolf Lake hatchery a few miles east of Gobles. They were planted in Bear, Swan, Mann, and Miller creeks the latter in Monterey. They were brought by Mr. Marks, superintendent, and were the finest trout ever placed in Allegan county, being from five to seven inches long each. More are promised. Allegan anglers are duly grateful to Mr. Marks for the favors he shows them.

STRANGE ALLEGAN COUNTY CASE

Allegan Gazette—Suit for $500 damages was filed in circuit court by Sheriff Miller, who alleged that Miss Mary Hall of Grand Junction was shot in the calf of her right leg by Knute Rohdin of Lee township. Allegan county, March 7. Miss Hall accompanied by her brother, William, was crossing Rohdin's farm near Grand Junction to visit a neighbor as they alleged they had done many times before that. A bulldog was released by Rohdin and the man fired several shots with a shotgun. The young people then asked him what he meant, and he accused them of robbing his house the day previous. This they denied. The girl treated her wounded leg in her home until it became worse when she finally called a physician. Rohdin was arrested and paid fine and costs of $16.35 in Justice Mort's court in Pullman, Allegan county.

Our Dominies Ask Confidence In Local Banks

CONFER WITH CONSERVATORS OF TWO INSTITUTIONS

At a recent meeting of the Holland Ministers' association a resolution was passed and a committee was appointed to confer with the officials of the First State and the Holland City State banks relative to the prospects and the contemplated planning, re-establishing a better banking situation in Holland since all church organizations are vitally interested in having our local banks functioning normally again.

Conservator Don Matheson and Cashier Cornelius Vander Meulen of the First State bank, together with Otto P. Kramer, president of the Holland City State bank, met with the committee of ministers and gave them all details and difficulties that confronted the Holland institutions, largely similar to conditions in 200 other banks in the state and many of the ministers were given an inside banking complex not fully known to them.

After the meeting the committee was thoroughly satisfied that the local bankers were doing everything in their power not only to re-establish better banking facilities but are eagerly awaiting the plans devised by the state banking department which are being approved by the Federal Reserve system, in other words the United States government.

Undoubtedly this work is going slow for the reason that no mistakes must be made and the plans must be workable, deserving the confidence of present and future depositors and that not only is this the desire of state and federal officers but especially of the local banking fraternity.

The members of the investigating committee of the Ministers' association, comprising the following divines:

Rev. Hessel Bouma, pastor of Fourteenth Street Christian Reformed church; Rev. C. A. Stoppes, pastor of Reformed church; Rev. C. W. Meredith, pastor of Wesleyan Methodist church; Rev. H. D. Ter Kuust, pastor of Trinity Reformed church; and Rev. L. Van Laar, pastor of Prospect Park Christian Reformed church.

These ministers say: "The Ministers' conference of Holland appointed at its last meeting a committee of five to confer with the directors of our banks. It was realized that public confidence in our financial institutions had been shaken and that this condition worked to the detriment of all concerned."

"The committee, therefore, held a number of conferences with our bankers to discuss the situation. The committee found a most willing spirit on the part of the bankers to divulge all necessary information to convince the committee that these officials are working most earnestly for the best interest of the depositors, and banking and the re-establishment of normal banking conditions in our city at the earliest possible moment."

"The committee is convinced that officials of the banks here who are trying to straighten out the financial difficulties, deserve our wholehearted support."

WANT MORE THAN BEER

Hotel keepers in New York, Chicago and other big cities, who have lost money practically without exception for years past, do not expect great benefits from the return of beer. One big hotel manager said yesterday:

"Speakeasies and night clubs are too well established to be upset by beer. Americans want to order what they choose, and what they choose includes cocktails and other things stronger than beer."

"Only absolute repeal of the prohibition amendment will eliminate the speakeasy, gangsters and bootleggers and supply the government with real revenue.—Chicago American."

May Not Go Over Spawning Beds

Use of any motor boat over a posted fish spawning bed is illegal, and the Department of Conservation is warning boat operators this spring to watch for spawning ground posters. The Director of Conservation is authorized to close to fishing any spawning bed where spawning or guarding has been delayed. The same law provides that it shall be unlawful to operate any motor boat upon such a posted spawning bed.

LOCAL BLUE TRIANGLE ENTERTAINS ZEELAND GIRLS

According to the annual custom, the Holland high school Blue Triangle club entertained the Zeeland group on Friday, April 7. After a brief welcome speech by President Grace Keeler, devotions were held. Adelaide Koiker acted as reader, accompanied by a sextet composed of Beatrice Boot, Marianne Boeks, Sylvia Kronmeyer, Thelma Koiker, Mary Jane Vaupel and Gertrude Young. This was followed by a song service led by Lucille Butler.

Renetta Shackson, chairman, then took charge of the program. First there was a series of circus ring performances, a clown act in which Amy Hillard, Carma Coster, Marie Harbin and Lillian Vander Heuvel took part. Then Florence Damstra stunted as a tight rope walker, followed by Marjorie Klompars as a strong man.

After this the girls were hailed by Bakers Jean Houting and Lois De Vries to the zoo and side shows. The spectators were served ice cream cones as they toured the circus grounds. When the crowd had seen all the attractions it returned to the assembly room to witness a play called "No Men Wanted," presented by Augusta Heneveld, Marion Mulder and Dorothy Steketee. The meeting ended with the singing of "Taps."

The faculty advisers of the Holland club are Miss Mabel Geiger, Miss Jeannette Mulder and Miss Emma Hoekje.

The Bible Witness hall of Zeeland will have as its speaker next Sunday Christian L. Eicher of Chicago, head of the World Wide Missionary league.

Mr. Eicher will speak at three services. In the morning at 10 o'clock and in the afternoon he will speak on the subject "World Wide Missions." In the evening the topic will be "The Only Way Out." In the Sunday school hour the Jewel class will give a program of Scriptural poems and songs.

Circuit Judges Bust Pictures Are on Display

BEAUTIFUL ARTISTRY MARKS PHOTOGRAPHER'S SKILL; GIFT OF OTTAWA BAR

On display in the Wm. De Free Co. show window at Zeeland during the past week were the nine life-sized bust photographs of all the Ottawa county bench since the exclusive office was instituted. There have been three judges preceding this group, some of whom were members of the State Supreme Court who performed the offices of circuit judge during their earlier years.

The portraits are reproductions made in color from old small photographs, some good and some not so good.

The portraits are the product of Mr. E. J. MacDermid's skill, and are marvels of beauty in workmanship as well as examples of what can be produced from poor pictures as copy by a real artist.

The pictures are beautifully framed in uniform style and will decorate the walls of the circuit court room in the court house at Grand Haven for all future time.

The pictures are the presentation to the county by the Ottawa County Bar Association, and the presentation will be made at the next coming regular meeting of the association in Grand Haven. Attorney Louis H. Osterhout, of Grand Haven, is president; Elbert Parsons, Holland, vice-president; and Leo C. Little, Grand Haven, secretary-treasurer.

Flavius J. Littlejohn served as circuit judge from 1855 till 1867; Moses B. Hopkins from 1867 till 1869; Augustus H. Giddings from 1870 till 1873; John W. Stone from 1873 to 1874; Daniel J. Arnold from 1874 till 1892; Hannibal Hart from 1892 till 1893; Philip Padgham from 1893 till 1911; Orren S. Cross from 1912 till 1929; and Fred T. Miles since 1930. All these were residents of Allegan except Judge Miles, the present incumbent.

Truckers War On License Fee Now Proposed

Fruit and Vegetable Haulers Call Provisions of Hartman Bill Unfair.

Motor truckers of fruits, vegetables and other farm products in Western Michigan are mobilizing their forces preparatory to joining with Michigan automotive interests in combating a bill introduced by Representative Gus T. Hartman of Houghton, to license and regulate wholesale dealers in agricultural commodities.

The Hartman bill would require wholesale dealers, including truckers, to take out an annual license at a cost of $250 a year and give a surety bond of $1,000.

Truckers complain the proposed license fee is "unreasonably high," that the Hartman bill, if approved in its present form, would legislate nearly every trucker and small wholesaler out of business; and that other provisions of the measure would work to the disadvantage of small produce operators, particularly truckers.

Leading Grand Rapids truckers said they would offer no objection to requiring all dealers to give surety bond. They said there probably is some need for this protective feature, to curb the operations of irresponsible operators who sometimes invade the state and leave a trail of bad checks or poorly graded merchandise. They declare the proposed $250 license fee "out of reason."

With most cities now taxing truckers $50 to $150 a year in license fees to do business, these transient operators said they could not afford to pay the State $250 a year. As proof that high license drive truckers out of business they cited the Grand Rapids wholesale license records. The city issued 260 licenses to truckers in 1931, but last year less than 50 permits were taken out after the city commission boosted the fee from $10 to $125.

Besides the license and surety bond provisions, the Hartman bill would permit the department of agriculture to promulgate such rules and regulations for the produce industry as may become necessary for the proper enforcement of the proposed law. It would authorize the department to revoke licenses of truckers and dealers for violations of the produce laws.

The bill would empower the department's agents to stop and examine truck loads of produce upon any street or highway in the state. It would require transient operators to reveal where they propose to do business if they have no permanent place of business, and would require corporations to list their officers and capitalization. Partnerships are to be required to reveal the names and addresses of the partners.

A bill similar to Hartman's also has been introduced in the house by Representative Leslie T. Barber of Edmore, chairman of the transportation committee. It calls for an annual license of $10. It would make the state commissioner of agriculture czar of the produce industry.

AN ASTONISHING ADDER The South African puff adder is a viviparous reptile but recently one confined in the Johannesburg Zoo laid 22 eggs, much to the astonishment of its keepers and the zoo curator. In explaining this unusual happening the curator stated that it was a case of premature birth; that instead of the reptile retaining the eggs within its body until the young were born they were expelled for some unknown reason.

pledged for the payment of such "scrip" and not the full faith and credit of the City of Holland.
Respectfully submitted,
NICODEMUS BOSCH,
Mayor.

Ald. Kleis, on behalf of the Special committee appointed by the Council to investigate scrip, reported having met with the Merchants Association and discussing freely the proposed plan of the Board of Education. It was reiterated that the Merchants Association was favorable to the plan, and recommended that the City Council co-operate to the greatest extent possible in accepting this paper for the payment of City obligations. It was further recommended that for the present, the City postpone any definite action for issuing scrip on its own behalf.

It was further recommended that the Council extend to the Board of Education every favorable co-operation in making its plan of operation successful.

It was further recommended that a special committee be appointed by the Mayor to work with the Merchants Association and the Board of Education to determine what obligations to the City can be met by the payment of such scrip, and also the further question of redistribution by the City for the payment of its obligations to its employees, etc.

Clerk then presented a message from Mayor Bosch stating that he was presenting certain facts as outlined by the City Charter in response to inquiries from many citizens relative to the connection between the City Government and the Board of Education. It was outlined that the Board of Education and the City government are two distinct and separate governmental units, consequently obligations assumed and backed by the School Board are in no sense obligations of the City government. The Mayor further gave as his opinion that under the Charter, the School Board could borrow legally only such amounts for current expenses as were delinquent on taxes for the present year. Mayor Bosch then called upon different Aldermen for their views on the matter. He also requested City Attorney Lokker to explain and elaborate on the legality in accordance with Charter provisions. Former City Attorney Arthur Van Duren was also requested to give his opinion. Mr. Geerlings, Secretary of the School Board, and Mr. Fred Beeuwkes, President of the School Board, also spoke on the matter. Mayor Bosch stated that in bringing up this issue, he did not want to take the position of being either for or against the issuing of scrip by the Board of Education, but it was his desire to have the legality and facts presented so that all might understand just what they were doing. Both City Attorney Lokker and Mr. Arthur Van Duren took a position substantially as outlined in the Mayor's message in regards to the legal right of the School Board in putting out such scrip. Mr. Geerlings stated that their former plan had now been changed so that they would put out so-called baby bonds instead of scrip. Mr. Geerlings further stated that they would pledge as security for the payment of these bonds, delinquent taxes in the amount of $37,000.00, and impounded bank balances and bonds to the extent of $106,000.00, making a total collateral of $143,000.00, which would be pledged for the payment of these obligations.

Mr. Beeuwkes stated that he could not see any reasons why these baby bonds could not be used for the payment of School Taxes next summer.

Mr. Lokker explained that in his opinion, this could be done provided the Board of Education would pass a proper resolution authorizing such procedure.

After considerable discussion and suggestions by Aldermen and others present, it was moved by Ald. Kleis, seconded by Prins, That the Mayor appoint a committee of five to co-operate with the Board of Education and the Merchants Association in working out some plan that would be successful in the issuing and circulating of such scrip or baby bonds, so that the teachers could be paid in this way and they in turn pay their various debt obligations.

Motions and Resolutions

Wm. C. Vandenberg, being present, appeared before the Council and stated that although he was a Republican, he noticed that the picture of former President Hoover was still hanging alongside of the Mayor's picture, and suggested that it be replaced with one of our present President, Franklin D. Roosevelt. Suggestion of Mr. Vandenberg was heartily accepted, and Chairman of Building Committee delegated to see that the change was made immediately.

Mr. Wm. C. Vandenberg then stated that his real purpose in appearing before the Council was to inform the Aldermen that the task which had been assigned to him last fall, viz. the reopening of the local Sugar mill, had now been definitely accomplished, and that he was very pleased to announce that the only thing that now remained to be done was some small detail work. Mr. Vandenberg then gave the Council a very complete and detailed report of the various activities that were necessary in accomplishing this result. Mr. Vandenberg told of the numerous meetings that were necessary and also the various agricultural agents with whom he had to deal in working out this project. He expressed his appreciation to these agricultural agents in the different counties in this section of Michigan who had given him one hundred per cent co-operation. Mr. Vandenberg also expressed his appreciation to several other local persons who had aided him in working out all the details that were necessary in bringing the matter to a successful conclusion.

Mr. Vandenberg was given a rising vote of thanks by the Council members and the audience.

Clerk presented a communication from the Tax Payers' League setting forth the proposed reductions in the salaries of the City Officers which said league wished to recommend to the Council.

The Clerk further presented a communication from the Hospital Board to the effect that their Board was agreeable to putting into effect reductions in their Budget totaling approximately 33 1/4%.

Referred to Ways and Means Committee to take up with the Council in the Committee of the Whole.

On motion of Ald. Hyma, seconded by Kleis,

The Council went into the Committee of the Whole to consider said Appropriation Bill. The Mayor called Ald. Prins to the Chair. After some time spent therein, the Committee arose and through its Chairman reported having had under consideration an Ordinance known as the Annual Appropriation Bill of the City of Holland.

The Committee further reported that no definite agreement had been reached on said Bill, but by consent of the Council it was tentatively agreed that last year's Appropriation Bill, amounting to approximately $203,000.00, should be reduced about 33 1/4%.

Ald. Kleis, Chairman of the so-called Scrip Committee, reported having met with the School Board and discussing this matter. A general discussion was entered into by the Council in which the Mayor took the position that he was opposed to the issuing of scrip until such time as a definite plan and system of regulation could be agreed upon.

Ald. Van Zoeren expressed a desire to have the Council hold off to see how the system works out with the Board of Education.

After considerable discussion on the whole matter of Scrip, it was moved by Ald. Kleis, seconded by Van Lente, That the Council rescind its previous action in giving the Ways and Means Committee power to act on the Scrip matter, but that such Committee should continue to function and obtain as much information as possible to submit to the Council at a later date.

April 4, 1933.

TO THE HONORABLE,
The Common Council of the City of Holland.

Gentlemen:

Many of the citizens of Holland have made inquiry as to the connection between the City of Holland and the board of education of Holland, especially with reference to the proposed issuance of so-called "scrip" by the board of edu-

In the first place the City of Holland constitutes a single school district and a school district is a body corporate possessing the usual powers of a corporation.

The board annually in the month of September presents to the Common Council an estimate and report of the amounts necessary to be raised for the support of the public schools, etc., and the sum so reported the Council of the City of Holland causes to be raised by tax, the amount being limited by the charter of the City of Holland.

It is, therefore, the opinion of the mayor of the city that the board of education is limited in its power to borrow for the payment of current expenses to the amount of the sum total of delinquent taxes already levied for school purposes.

It is the further opinion of the mayor that the board may borrow a further sum for the payment of indebtedness and interest incurred for the purchase of grounds and the erection of school buildings, the sum of 1 per cent of the taxable valuation of the property of the district.

It is the further opinion of the mayor that the credit of the school district as a body corporate is

Physic the Bladder With Juniper Oil

Drive out the impurities and excess acids that cause irritation, burning and frequent desire. Juniper oil is pleasant to take in the form of BUKETS, the bladder physic, also containing buchu leaves, etc. Works on the bladder similar to castor oil on the bowels. Get a 25c box from any drug store. After four days if not relieved of "getting up nights" go back and get your money. If you are bothered with backache or leg pains caused from bladder disorders you are bound to feel better after this cleansing and you get your regular sleep.
