Jack Sooter Writes He Is Prisoner of Germany

Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Sooter, 206 West 11th St., received a prisoner-of-war letter early today from their son, Pvt. Jack Edward Sooter, 19, who wrote he was with the rest of his buddies at M-Stammalager XIB.

This was the first word the parents received since an official war department telegram Feb. 6 stating that their son had been missing in action in France since Jan. 20.

Young Sooter had been serving with the 79th division of the 7th army, the same division his father served in World War I. He wrote in his letter dated Feb. 13 that it was his first chance to write and indicated that he was not wounded. He asked for underwear and socks.

Sooter entered service Nov. 23, 1943, and received training in anti-aircraft at Camp Callan, Cal., and Camp Carson, Colo. At the latter place he was one of 900 soldiers participating in a ration test in the Tarryall mountains for eight weeks.

Last April he was transferred to

the infantry and he left for overseas Nov. 1, 1944.
He was born in Holland Aug. 23, 1925, and was graduated from Holland High school in June, 1943.

Muskegon Negro Who Shot Two Is Picked Up Here

Offering no resistance, Frank Manuel, 44-year-old Negro of Muskegon who shot two persons in Muskegon early Wednesday afternoon, one of whom died this morning, was picked up here at 8:10 a.m. today by Sgt. Rance Overbeck as the Muskegon man was leaving Keefe's restaurant.

Overbeck, tipped off by John Deckelman, bus station manager, was looking for the man downtown when Lloyd Cobb, bus driver who had followed Manuel from the station, pointed that he had gone into the restaurant.

A search revealed Manuel had no gun and he readily got into the squad car to go to the police station. There, he denied everything saying he was Jim Wright of Grand Rapids, but when Detective Sgt. Ernest Bear found his social security card in his cap, establishing his identity, he seemed eager to talk.

Victims of the shooting were Mrs. Sophia Gressier, 44, white, who died at 4:10 a.m. today in Hackley hospital, and Namon Ware, 32, Negro, who was said to be in serious condition in Mercy hospital. Mrs. Gressier was shot three times in the back, chest and left arm, and Ware was shot twice, in the chest and right knee. Ware's address was listed as 1273 Ninth St., Muskegon.

Local officers declared Manuel said he had been living with Mrs. Gressier for several years in Virginia and Pennsylvania and that they had come to Muskegon in January and purchased an $11,000 home. Her preference for Ware was the motive for shooting, Manuel told local police.

Police Chief Peter Hansen and Sgt. Arthur Zillah of Muskegon arrived here at 9:30 a.m. and returned Manuel to Muskegon. Manuel said he buried the gun, a .38 caliber revolver which he purchased in Virginia, in the sand behind the home at 692 West Webster Ave. where the shooting took place. The gun was found by police Wednesday.

He said he walked down the tracks from Muskegon for a considerable distance and spent the night sleeping under a tree. He caught a bus this morning at West Olive.

Manuel seemed not at all disturbed over prospects of a life sentence, police said. He did not appear to be a dangerous character, police stated.

State police were in Holland Wednesday afternoon looking for Manuel.

Holder of Bronze Star Is Killed in Germany

Pfc. Julius M. Heider, 20, attached to the 743rd tank battalion, was killed in action March 27 in Germany, according to word received Monday night by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Heider, 25 East 21st St.

Less than a week ago, word was received here that Pvt. Heider had been awarded the Bronze Star for heroic achievement in Germany Nov. 19, 1944, when he directed medical men under heavy enemy fire to an immobilized tank where three wounded men were lying. The medics had only two litters and Heider carried the third man on his back to safety.

Heider entered the service in March, 1943, and was ready to go overseas last May when he received word that his sister, Mrs. Richard Pettinga, had died. While here he met his sister, 1st Lt. Lyda Heider, who also came home on emergency furlough from New Caledonia where she had been stationed with the nurse's corps for 20 months. She is now supervisor of the surgical department in a general hospital in France, having gone overseas about four months ago. A brother, 1st Lt. Gerald Heider, in Hawaii at the time, was unable to come home. He is now on Leyte or in that area.

Fire Protection For Ottawa Soil District Planned

Directors of the west Ottawa soil conservation district plan to organize a widespread fire control program. Recent high winds, dry weather and fires in other sections have caused the directors to decide that more steps must be taken to protect the large plantings of evergreens in this county.

Clayton Forry, conservation officer, met with the directors Monday night to discuss the situation. Definite steps will be taken to add to the present fire-control program.

During the recent dangerous period several fires did start in the forest area, but due to quick action little damage was done. Widespread damage was reported from many parts of the state. However, as the trees grow larger the hazard increases, hence the interest of the directors in building up an efficient organization for fire-control.

Glenn W. Eaton, Jr., forester with the soil district, recommends that the following rules be memorized:

1. Crush out your cigarette, your cigar, your pipe ashes.
2. Break your match in two. Be able to hold the burned end between your fingers before you throw a match away. At home, use the ash tray.
3. Drown your camp fire; then stir and drown it again.
4. If you must use fire, first secure a permit as required by law; next, have help handy; last, kill every spark.

Flames Damage White's Market

Although smoke billowing from a fire at White's Market, 236 River Ave., Friday morning indicated a major blaze, firemen kept the flames from spreading and damage did not exceed $500.

Starting about 6:30 a.m. in the market's cutting room, the fire was extinguished in about an hour and at no time was there any danger of it getting out of control and spreading to adjacent buildings, firemen said.

Fire damage alone was estimated by Fire Chief Andrew Klompars at about $200. Maurice Brower, one of the market's co-owners, placed smoke and fire loss at between $300 and $500, covered by insurance.

Brower and Bert Kortering, the co-owners, said they would be closed for a week or two to repair damage. About a month ago the market was closed four days for redecorations.

Gerrit Frens, a Federal bakery truck driver, reported the fire which was believed to have started in the cutting room, just back of the front room where meat and groceries are sold. There was no damage to the front room except for the walls, ceilings and groceries which somewhat were "grayed" by the smoke.

Brower said damage was caused to the walls and ceiling of the cutting room. Some office supplies were burned and blackened.

Damage to the meat stock in the cutting room could not be determined because the heat of the fire had expanded the door to the cooler so that it could not be opened this morning.

Woman Killed by Hit-Run Driver

Allegan, April 12 (Special)—State police and county sheriff's officers today continued their search for a hit-run driver responsible for fatal injuries to Mrs. Sarah Ann Plummer, 85, who was hit about 6 p.m. Wednesday as she was crossing the street at Cutler and Chestnut Sts. with her sister, Mrs. Ida McFarland.

Mrs. Plummer suffered two broken legs, crucial chest injuries and a skull fracture died late Wednesday night in Allegan Health center. Her sister, although not hit, suffered from shock. The two had been shopping.

Clues were few, but officers are looking for a sedan of an older model bearing Illinois license. Two men were in the car at the time, witnesses said. Mrs. Plummer was dragged or carried for 37 feet.

The body was taken to the Nyberg funeral home. Surviving are a son, Roy of Elmonte, Cal., and five sisters, Mrs. McFarland of Allegan, Mrs. Emma Merchahan of Mechanicsburg, Ill., Mrs. Nellie Huffard of Michigan City, Ind., Mrs. Nora Brown of Springfield, Mo., and Mrs. Minnie Coe of Springfield, Ill.

Consumers Who Order Coal Now Are Favored

"If consumers of residential types of coal, coke and other solid fuels will fill out declarations of the amount of coal they will use next winter, along with specific orders and give them to their regular dealers by May 15 they will be entitled to special preferential treatment," Carl Harrington, head of the Michigan Coal Dealers association, said today. However, 80 per cent of the coal a consumer used last winter will be the maximum amount they may receive.

Forms are in the hands of dealers now and if such declarations are made out and specific orders requested a dealer is required to deliver at least 30 per cent of a full normal year's supply before Oct. 1.

Memorial Park Idea Is Given to Ottawa Board

Grand Haven, April 12 (Special)—A combined park, playground and forest area in central Ottawa county is sought as a war memorial, the board of supervisors was told Wednesday.

Hunter Hering, former supervisor and now a director of the west Ottawa soil conservation district, said his district had been approached by different organizations in the county, but that the directors felt such a memorial should be under the direction of the supervisors.

Wright township residents. It was pointed out, already have donated $1,200 for a monument.

The proposal was referred to the conservation committee for study. Grand Haven Mayor Edmond Wilds requested $10,000 to help finance an airport at the south end of the city. Private sources have provided $10,000, he said. The funds would be matched by the state. Grand Haven has purchased the site itself for $36,700. The finance committee was to study the request and report at this afternoon's meeting. The airport also is planned as a war memorial.

The finance and budget committee Tuesday afternoon asked that the allocations committee allow four mills for the coming year for county purposes. This is the same amount as last year. The budget for 1945 shows general fund, $145,179.00; county roads, $20,000; county social welfare fund, $26,800; county drain fund, $4,233.59 and county health department, $40,820, a total of $237,132.59. It is expected that a revenue totaling $29,900.08 will be received by the county during the year, leaving a balance of $207,232.51, which is the proposed budget. The assessed valuation for Ottawa in 1944 was $50,080,753.00. The county now has $152,231.48 worth of bonds, and county road bonds totaling $50,011.38. The request was tabled until today.

Holland City Attorney Vernon Ten Cate's report that the chair appoint a committee of three as a coordinating zoning committee was tabled until today. Ten Cate stated that this request was the first of its kind in the county and resulted from a petition from Park township property owners for zoning in their townships. The law permits a four-man zoning commission or a coordinating zoning committee of three members appointed by the board.

Roy Lowing, appearing on behalf of the emergency farm labor program for the third year, asked for $200 for incidental expenses, reimbursed by the state. Last year the request was for $300.

Two More Army Men Are Wounded in Action

Pfc. Kenneth C. Kelley
Two more local army men today were reported wounded in action. Paratrooper Henry Kragt, Jr., route 2, in Manila, the Philippines, and Pfc. Kenneth C. Kelley, former pitcher with the Steffens ball team in Germany.

Pfc. Kragt, 20, paratrooper who participated with the 11th airborne in invasions at Leyte and Manila, has been wounded twice, once on Dec. 3 when he was hit by shrapnel in Leyte, and again on March 3 when he was shot through the big toe of his right foot.

His parents received the official wire last week, although previous letters had informed them the paratrooper had been wounded a second time. He wrote the bullet took the nail off and skinned the bone and that he was confined in a hospital.

The first time he was wounded early in December, he was confined in a hospital until Dec. 24, returning to active duty in time for Christmas.

Kragt entered service in June,

Plan 3-Day Tulip Show

Feeling that there is a strong local interest in maintaining the spirit of Tulip Time during the war-imposed cessation of festival activities, an enlarged Tulip Show committee has completed plans for holding its annual Tulip Show in the Woman's Literary club building, May 3, 4 and 5.

The dates are the earliest in Tulip Time history, but the unseasonable warm weather has advanced the blooming date of tulips by several weeks.

To bring this outstanding event up to ever higher standards, the committee has worked out several new contest rules and added some new classifications aimed at both a broadening and an improvement of entries.

A Specimen class will be introduced for the first time, with the exhibited tulips to be those grown by the exhibitor. There will also be sections covering table arrangements, artistic arrangements.

Missing G.H. Man Wires He Is Safe

Grand Haven, April 12 (Special)—After being missing in action since Dec. 16, 1944, Pfc. Joseph Gasses, 24, sent a telegram direct to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gasses, 100 Beech Tree St., Monday informing them that he was in American hands, was all right and telling them not to worry.

From the telegram it was evident Gasses had been taken prisoner in Germany. He had been in service for three years.

Tests for Brakes Start Next Week

It's brake testing time again! Local motorists today were urged by Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff to see their garages for a check on brakes in advance of the annual checkup starting next week to continue through June 1. The new "O. K." stickers, black on orange, have been distributed to garages.

Holland police have conducted the test for four years. Last year a state-wide program in Michigan was carried on and this year the program has been adopted nationally as a safety measure to make cars last longer and reduce accidents.

Besides testing brakes (30 feet at 20 miles per hour), local police extend the check to lights, horn, proclaimed April 15 to June 1 as a period for the correction of faulty automobile brakes and is urging all citizens to have their car windshield wipers and driver's licenses.

Mayor Elmer J. Scheepers has brakes in proper working condition.

shadow boxes, telariums, miniatures, junior gardens and arrangements, a section for men only, and special displays.

To encourage a large list of entries and to make the contest competition more significant, Mrs. Katherine Cheff has again provided generous war bond and stamp prizes, totaling several hundred dollars. It is pointed out by the committee that the number and liberality of these prizes, together with the wide variety of exhibits permitted by the schedule, enable everyone to enter where their talents can best be displayed to advantage.

Judging will be done by accredited flower show judges from outside cities, with all names removed from the exhibits at the time of judging. All entries must be in place by noon of Thursday, May 3, with judging to be done privately during the afternoon. Doors will be open to the public at 5 p.m. that day, until 10 p.m. On Friday and Saturday the doors will open at 10 a.m. with the show closing at 6 p.m. Saturday so that exhibits may be removed that night.

Plans are being made to make the club house auditorium a most attractive and interesting setting for the many individual exhibits. Special features will be introduced, announcement of which will be made when plans are further along. While last year's show in the armory occupied more floor space, it is confidently anticipated that this year's event will be of an even higher calibre, setting some new standards which will make future tulip shows a more inspiring urge for local residents to take a more personal and active interest in the growing and cultivation of tulips.

The Tulip Show committee comprises Mrs. Leonard G. Stalkamp, chairman, Mrs. Chester Van Tongeren, co-chairman, and Messrs. Kenneth Campbell, John Good, Arthur Visscher, Ransom Everett, Lawrence Lamb, Henry Carver, J. Hobeck, Art Weller and John Mikula and Miss Dora Strowenjan.

Word has been received from 2nd Lt. Robert Louis Stevenson that he has been wounded and is on his back in a hospital. The letter was written by a nurse to his wife, Mrs. Alice Stevenson, now living in South Haven and she relayed the information here to his mother, Mrs. Keith Hutchinson. He said he did not consider the injury serious.

Stevenson was recently awarded the Bronze Star for heroism last Nov. 27 during heavy fighting in France. Noticing a man enemy patrol attempting a maneuver against the U. S. flank, he seized a machine gun, crossed open terrain through a hail of fire and setting up the weapon, directed a murderous stream of fire upon the surprised enemy patrol and pinned it to the ground.

Lt. Bloomfield Is Killed In Action over Belgium

Word has been received by Dr. and Mrs. L. E. Bloomfield, 244 West 22nd St., that the former's son, Lt. Douglas C. Bloomfield, 25, was killed in action.

A war department telegram delivered Thursday to his wife, the former Miss Marjorie Ball of Allegan, stated Lt. Bloomfield, a glider pilot, had been killed in action Dec. 27. He had formerly been reported missing over Belgium on that date. Bloomfield was presumably killed while flying supplies to the 101st airborne division which was besieged at Bastogne.

Bloomfield enlisted in the air corps Jan. 23, 1942, and received his pilot's wings at Lovett, Tex. He was sent overseas last September.

Survivors include the widow; a four-month-old daughter, Christine Ann; the father, Dr. Bloomfield; the mother, Mrs. Florence Bloomfield, Battle Creek; a brother, Robert Bloomfield, in the American Legion hospital at Battle Creek; and a sister, Mrs. Marie Ruster, of Ann Arbor. Bloomfield's wife and daughter reside with her father, Ira Ball, in Allegan.

Four of Allegan Family in Pacific

Allegan, April 12. Officially Ireland isn't at war but the sons of that gallant country are fighting all over the world under the Stars and Stripes. The Mcs, the Kellys and the hundreds of others are fighting for their adopted country.

One Allegan family, the McIntires, have three sons fighting in the Pacific and a fourth, Jack, of Allegan High school was to leave for the army this week.

Pfc. Everett is with the marines and Corp. Evans and Corp. Arthur are with the army.

Everett and Evans are 23-year-old twins who haven't seen each other since they left for service although at one time they missed each other by only four hours.

Evans and Everett would never be taken as twins because Everett is a couple inches taller than his twin, has light hair, a fair complexion and blue eyes, while Evans has dark eyes and hair.

They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. McIntire.

Funeral Today in G.R. for Brother of Holland Man

Ringwald, all of Grand Rapids; two sisters, Mrs. Clarence Baker and Mrs. Larry Vander Lind, of Grand Rapids; four brothers, Albert of Holland, Andrew and Frank also of Grand Rapids and Donald with the armed forces.

Serving Under the Stars and Stripes

Willard G. Pelgrim, fireman 2/C, serving with the U. S. navy in the Pacific, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Pelgrim, Park road. He is a member of the crew on a destroyer, flagship of a squadron. Born in Holland July 31, 1926, he attended Holland schools and was graduated from Holland High school in 1944. He enlisted in July of that year and took his boot training at Great Lakes, Ill., followed by basic engineering school, also at Great Lakes.

He was sent to Shoemaker, Calif., for reassignment, then to Mare Island for intensive training for the ship to which he was assigned. Following interesting practice maneuvers between San Francisco and San Diego, Cal., he left for Pearl Harbor where he met and visited with Lt. Gerald Breen of Holland. While in San Diego he visited with Jack Ketchum of Holland, stationed there with the hospital corps.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Reese announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Nelrose Reese, to A. S. Robert E. Freers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Freers, formerly of Holland.

Red Cross Work Is Progressing

Progress in local Red Cross work was reported by division chairmen at a recent board meeting in the Temple building.

Rev. Paul Hinkamp said more than $70,000 had been raised in Ottawa county for the annual drive and that final figures would be available soon. Mrs. W. S. The normal fuel servicing job was complete in record time, and the cargo supervisor set a record in offloading almost five tons of vital war material. THE QUESTION WITHOUT
AN ANSWER

The other day Corp. Jacob Breuker, of route 6, Holland, now stationed in Italy, asked a question in the Sentinel's "Public Opinion" column. It was a question that would seem to be without an answer.

Protesting against strikes he wrote: "It makes me so mad and I know it does a lot of boys here,
too, when we have to go overseas
and face death itself, notwithstanding all the hardships, loneliness,
being away from loved ones
—and for what purpose? Do we ask to fight or come here, or accept a fixed wage which looks like chicken feed compared with what war workers get?"

When those twelve million service men come back to the home towns, what are we going to answer them when they ask this question? For they are going to ask it with a vengeance—not only in words but in deeds, through the ballot box, through various other channels. Corp. Breuker's question is by no means that of a single soldier; it seems certain that there are millions who have asked and are asking the same question. And in time they will insist on an answer. But there is no answer.

Let members of so-called labor organizations charge that this is an attack on them, it is in order to hasten to add that there are a thousand ways of striking and that there are many strikes that are not the result of a formal strike vote. Every time a citizen
—whether a "laborer" or an employer, whether a worker with a tool or a professional man—does less than his best for the war effort because less than his best is to his personal advantage, he is engaging in a strike. Corp. Breuker's question is addressed to all of us who come under this classification. Each for himself will have to answer that question some time.

Recently at a national public forum one of America's most important labor leaders enunciated
the principle flatly that in wartime there can be no excuse for a strike of any kind, no matter what the provocation may be. All his professional and personal sympathies were with workers and he was fighting hard to get for them
what they asked, yet he was expressing the same principle that Corp. Breuker was expressing in his letter. And the same principle can be applied to the millions of Americans, high or low, who place their personal interests above that of the American people as a whole.
When some Americans are asked to die for their country, "strikes," whether by organized bodies or by individuals, are treason to America. The question of millions of Corp. Breukers will call for an honest answer.

THE CHURCH INVITES YOU

The late Dr. Charles P. Steinmetz has this to say about spiritual force: "Here is a force which history clearly teaches has been the greatest power in the development of men... Yet we have merely been playing with it and have never seriously studied it as we have the physical forces. Some day people will learn that material things do not bring happiness, and are of little use in making men and women creative and powerful. Then the scientists of the world will turn their laboratories over to the study of prayer, and the spiritual forces which, as yet,
have hardly been scratched."
Why not accept the invitation and go to church next Sunday?

Pioneers of Faith—Hebrews 11:8-27

By Henry Geertlings

God's covenant with Noah was one of the historic landmarks of human life on earth. In a sense God made a new beginning with Noah. Yet he and his sons were also sinful. They were descendants of Adam. The story suggests how much can depend upon God's remains in any age. One with God is a majority. The whole world lay in wickedness until God was sorry that He had ever created man.
Still He did not give up. He found one man whose faithfulness was such that God saw possibilities of propagating a new and better race
of men through him.

Noah had his weaknesses, and they are in the record, but there let us deal with him as the representative of our race. With him God made a covenant, a solemn agreement. It stressed the dependability of nature, the sacredness of human life, and the providence of a good God.

As God's love enveloped Noah and the people of his time, so the goodness of God and His mercy
have been around mankind ever since. Genesis records that God's comment on His creation was
"It is good." This we can say of the universe ever since it left the hands of the Creator. The natural resources which we find in the earth are an evidence of God's goodness. The intellectual and moral advances which man has been able to make are to be ascribed to the guidance of God.
Much as we wish that our progress had been greater, a comparison of the present with the past indicates that man has been advancing. God has blessed us with a spiritual heritage, in the gift of His Son, in the establishment of the church and in the expansion of His kingdom.

It would seem that among those who preceded Abram there were not many who took seriously the privileges God bestowed upon them. Take out the eleven chapters of Genesis that precede the introduction of the stalwart figure of Abram those who feared God, and the number, it will be found, is not large. From the beginning men sought to have their own way
and to live for the gratification of their own desires. It was only through the infinite patience of the Lord that the whole race of men was not engulfed by the raging flood. But we must never forget that God has not at any time left himself without witnesses in the earth. There are those who stand forth as beacon lights of faith and virtue and the fear of God when others have sold themselves to do evil. Abram was one of these.

I think all of us would agree that the age to which Abram belonged was one of blind unbelief.
Men did not have the fear of God
in their hearts and there was little thought abroad of pleasing Him. In an age like that Abram was born. His soul was made of different stuff. His heart was in tune with the Almighty. The noise of the world was not so loud that he could not hear the voice from on high. The tide of evil was not so strong that he could not stem
it and make his way toward God.
Whatever else we might be disposed to call this man, we must call him a man of faith. He believed God and it was reckoned to him for righteousness. No sane person would make the pilgrimage
be made, and for the purposes that stirred in his soul, unless he believed there was some worthwhile reward at the end. If we were to ask a Jew, Christian or Mohammedan, who the man of faith was, they would answer Abraham.

Moses stands out as a leader of God's people. His authority was from God. His words to Israel were God's, and his methods were God's suggestions. This accounts for his strength as a leader. He had a strength and skill greater than his own when he obeyed God.
He exalted God by calling for a renewing of the covenant. This linked Israel with the best of their ancestors and brought into prominence obligations for the present.
By thus recognizing God both
Moses and the people exalted God.
The sacredness of the covenant
was acknowledged by the sprinkling of blood which symbolized life. It was a real consecration to God. It was putting God first. It meant a pledge to stand by God.

Corp. Frank Zych, One of Six Sons In Service, Home

One of the six sons, in the army, of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Zych, 54 West 1st, T/5 Frank J. Zych, 28, is home on a rotation furlough from overseas duty. He fought as a rifleman on New Guinea in the battles in and around Buna. He has been overseas 35 months.

He's not the talkative type when it comes to his exploits in New Guinea. He admits one close call when his buddy, Pfc. Frank Zimmerman, Indianapolis, Ind., were carrying supplies to a road block held by other Yanks. Zych and his pal were pinned down for a considerable time by Jap fire but they got the supplies through.

Frank is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Zych to return home from action on New Guinea. Last summer, Sgt. Ed Zych, who left with the national guards, was home. Ed is now an air corp mechanic at Keesler field, Miss.

Sgt. Leo Zych is a prisoner of the Germans. He was a gunner on a bomber.

Pvt. Henry Zych is now in Germany with the 7th army.

S. Sgt. Casimir L. Zych is based in England at an army camp and a sixth son Pvt. William Zych, who was inducted only recently, is stationed at Camp Skokie Valley, Ill.

T/3 or Corp. Frank didn't see any combat action after the Buna campaign. He had several malaria attacks while fighting there and was returned to Australia. Later he moved again to New Guinea where he was stationed until the time of his furlough.

He will report to Miami Beach, Fla., upon completion of his furlough and will be reassigned. He was inducted in April, 1941.

"More service, better service, quicker service." This is the theme of many garages during these war time years and this too, is the theme of Ottawa Auto Sales, 14 West 7th St.

In the past two years, the managers and co-owners, B. H. Westmoreland and E. M. Viehl, have strived to improve the facilities of their garage by purchasing additional equipment and adding more employees when possible.

Among the many services rendered at Ottawa Auto Sales are scientific motor tune-up, complete motor overhaul and collision service, frame and front wheel alignment and also the latest service to be added, the steam cleaning of motor, chassis, etc.

After V-Day, when Dodge and Plymouth cars and Dodge Job-Rated trucks are again available, the theme will be "Sales and Service."

The Mooi Roofing Co. is well known throughout the state and has been in business for many years. Men at the head of the business are men of long experience in the roofing craft and this experience is essential in specifying the roof to suit your need. Some of the men have been employed by the company for 20 years and all are mechanics in their trade.

A large spacious warehouse and office building covers more than 15,000 feet of floor space. A complete line of all types of roofing material is handled and the company handles only nationally known, first grade, time tested roofing materials. The best is none too good for your roof.

The Tite-on-storm proof shingle, securely locked down, manufactured by Ru-Ber-Oid, is one of the most popular type of roofing material. Titeon shingles are particularly designed for easy application over other roofing materials.

The company is an expert on all types of shingles, tile, asbestos, asphalt and built up tar and gravel or asphalt. A complete line of Ru-Ber-Oid material is carried by the firm.

Police Officer Falls Into Lake on Fishing Expedition

Police Officer Ralph Woldring

Police Officer Ralph Woldring was explaining to his friends today just how he happened to be dunked in Lake Macatawa while on a little fishing expedition Saturday morning with his brother, Ken, and Sgt. Jerry Vanderbeek.

Versions of the story differ, but Woldring was up on the prow of the boat rolled into the water, scarcely making a splash. He hung onto the boat and was wet to his armpits. After returning to the boat he remained another hour fishing, but catches were poor, probably because of the laughter of his two companions.

Saturday's little adventure again proved that "there's never a dull moment when you're with the Woldrings." Orle A. Bishop of The Sentinel experienced this last winter while fishing with Ken and Jumbo. They weren't having very good luck and decided to move the shanty. The two Woldring heavyweights decided to pull while Bishop pushed. Whether by accident or design, the shanty was pulled over a hole and down went Bishop.

There are some thoughts like wounds from which there is no recovery.

Leaves Foxhole to Come Home, But Must Return

"Roll up your equipment and report to CP."

That was the message a runner from company headquarters brought Pfc. August Von Ins at noon last Feb. 1 "somewhere in Germany" as the local soldier waited in his foxhole during a mild German counter-attack.

At the command post, Von Ins faced a stern-faced executive officer who barked: "Von Ins, have you been sending something home in those packages that you weren't supposed to?"

Von Ins began to sweat. The officer, fumbling with some papers, said, "By the way, we need a man to go back to the states on detached service. Do you want to go?"

"Are you kidding?" Von Ins exclaimed, catching on to the joke.

And 10 minutes later, the local soldier was in a jeep on his way home. He lost no time getting to the French coast and England. Leaving Le Havre, he met Gen. Eisenhower for the first time. The general said to Von Ins and others, "Hurry back, we need men like you over here."

Thus ended 28½ months of service overseas in which Von Ins, wearer of the Purple Heart, saw 7½ months of front-line action in six major campaigns at French Morocco, Tunisia, Sicily, Italy, France and Germany.

And after 45 days at home, he expects to return to his scrappy outfit, the 179th infantry, 45th division. He explained that "detached service" differs from a rotation furlough in that the former is given with the understanding that the veteran return to his old outfit.

The latter guarantees at least six months in this country.

Von Ins' adventures and narrow escapes during his 28½ months overseas would fill several volumes.

He described one of his tightest squeezes Oct. 13, 1943, in the crossing of the Volturno river in Italy. After leaving his rubber boat in the early morning crossing, he was caught between two machine guns, ran about 10 feet through the bullets and dived into a shallow hole and "dug." He hit water at three or four feet and remained in the hole five hours before he was able to leave about 11 a.m.

Three days later he was hit by an artillery shell on the left thigh leaving a four-inch cut and walked 2½ miles to a battalion aid station. After three or four days in an evacuation hospital, he was evacuated by plane to Palermo, Sicily, scene of memorable earlier battles, and the next day went by plane to Bizerte. After four days he was evacuated by boat to a station hospital at Oran, Africa, arriving Oct. 28. On Dec. 12 he was discharged and placed on temporary limited service for 90 days.

One of his "better" assignments during this period was guarding Wac and nurse's headquarters, he said.

Another rough experience was during the Sicilian campaign in the summer of 1943 when Von Ins' unit, then the 2nd division, together with the 3rd armored, the 82nd airborne and a regimental combat team performed what was described later as "one of the greatest feats of all time." They marched 72 miles over rough terrain including mountains in 72 hours from Ribero to Palermo and beat their own tanks there. The routed enemy was quoted as saying that Americans weren't very sporting, sneaking up like that.

Von Ins also participated in the battle of the "Bloody Ridge of San Stefano," in Sicily also known as the "Million Dollar Hill" because a million dollars worth of artillery shells were used in the battle. It was there that a tank spotted Von Ins' position as machine gunner and dropped two shells near him within a minute, both lifting him a few feet off the ground. He was glad to obey the corporal who ordered him to a foxhole.

Another time when he was getting an "outdoor" haircut from the platoon barber near Messina, Sicily, the "operation" was interrupted by shelling from the Italian mainland and both Von Ins and the barber sought refuge in a foxhole.

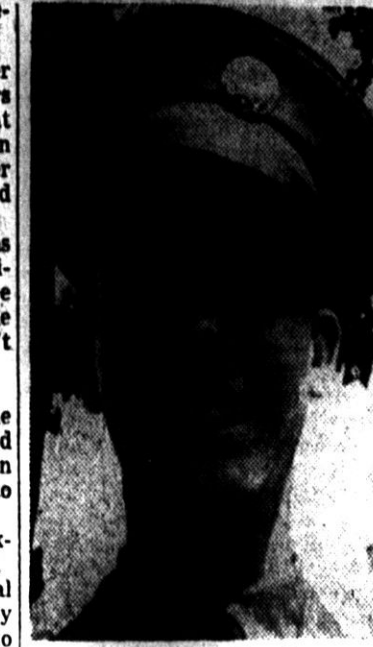

Von Ins started the 38-day Sicilian campaign July 10, 1943, by wading through 150 to 200 feet of water under machine gun fire when he landed with the third wave. A soldier from an adjoining company ended the machine gun threat by dropping a grenade on the nest, but the artillery fire could not be quieted that way.

On Sept. 20, Von Ins went to Italy, landing at Salerno, near Naples, about 15 days after the initial invasion. Less than a month later he crossed the Volturno and was wounded.

Reassigned to active duty following convalescence for his wounds, Von Ins returned to Naples in August, 1944, was assigned to the 45th division and went to France to start all over again. He participated in the fighting at Epinal not far from the German border in October and had a 15-day rest period in November.

Last Christmas found him fighting in Germany in a "cute" little battle involving two allied and three German pillboxes about 75 to 100 feet apart. On Jan. 1, his unit was pushed back from Germany and returned to France. Jan. 2, his birthday anniversary, found his unit moving into position and the following day it was surrounded by two battalions of SS troopers. The Americans couldn't go forward and couldn't go back and finally went single file on a flank and got in contact with friendly troops. Von Ins' outfit, about 150 in number, learned it had been surrounded by 1,600 or 1,700 Germans.

The German experiences were somewhat different from his first battle experiences back in November, 1942, when he landed with the third wave at Fedala, French Morocco, and fought for three days. On the second day an artillery shell landed on a wall 10 feet from him. From there he went to Casablanca, and then got in on the end of the campaign at Tunisia, fighting only one day. He celebrated Mother's day of 1943 leisurely, although his outfit had been prepared to go into the thick of it that day. The campaign fortunately ended the night before.

Pfc. August Von Ins.

Chief among Von Ins' souvenirs is a German helmet taken from the first man he took prisoner. It was while he was on guard last Jan. 19 in France that he saw a German sneaking through the woods. "My finger was itchy, and the German knew it and didn't argue," Von Ins said.

Last week Von Ins went to Lansing to visit his former squad leader, Corp. Douglas Smith, who was wounded by the same shell in Italy Oct. 16, 1943. Smith, who was discharged following injuries to both legs, both arms and his back, once saved Von Ins' life in Sicily by directing him to a place of safety. The hole which Von Ins had chosen was the object of a direct hit a short time later and the ditch Smith chose proved to be good cover.

Von Ins' sister, Mrs. Charles Dunville of San Francisco, Cal., came to Holland as soon as she learned her brother was returning and at present is staying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Von Ins, North Shore drive.

Von Ins entered service Sept. 21, 1941, and after 13 months of training went directly to North Africa, entering combat almost immediately. He will report to Ft. Sheridan April 28.

HERE ARE 27,000,000 GOOD EXAMPLES FOR US TO FOLLOW!

This month, the millions of men and women participating in the Payroll Savings Plan are being extra smart.

Here's how, and why:

In the first place, this war isn't getting any cheaper. It's going to cost us just about as much in 1945, as it did in 1944.

No matter what happens to Germany, or when, there'll be no easing up! The quickest way to end the whole nasty business is to keep going full steam ahead.

But this year, there will be only TWO War Loans — instead of three, as there were in 1944.

That means we've got to lend, in 2 chunks, as much as we lent last year in 3! It means that, in the 7th War Loan, which starts next month, each of us will have to buy a BIGGER share of extra War Bonds!

And right there is where the men and women on the Payroll Plan are being extra smart.

Right now — they're boosting their allotments for April, May, and June. Saving extra money so that they can buy more extra Bonds, and spread their buying over more pay checks.

When the big 7th War Loan starts, these people won't have to scrape so hard for extra cash. A good share of their extra Bonds will be already paid for — because they're putting part of the extra money for those extra Bonds aside right now!

That's a swell idea for all of us. It's better for us — better for Uncle Sam. It's the easiest way for us to fulfill our obligation to the men who are fighting. Let's all start saving now for the mighty 7th War Loan!

START SAVING NOW FOR THE MIGHTY 7TH.
