Polio Campaign Funds Audited

The Ottawa County polio chapter today submitted an audit of cash receipts and disbursements of the 1954 fund raising campaign as carried on by Verne C. Dagen, chapter chairman. Receipts for the campaign as of March 31 totaled $64,007.43, and disbursements, $3,420.31, leaving net proceeds at $60,587.12.

Supplementary information reveals that during 1953, the county chapter processed 36 polio cases and 22 suspected cases. To date in 1954, there are three polio cases and three suspected cases. Of the 36 cases in 1953, 25 carried some form of insurance. This is an increase over 1949 when only six had any insurance.

During 1953, the average age of patients was 14 years, one month. So far in 1954, the chapter has arranged to have one patient at the University of Michigan Respirator Center and two patients at Georgia Warm Springs Foundation.

The 171 cases handled in the last several years are broken down as follows: Up to $1,000, 129 cases; $1,000 to $5,000, 34 cases; $5,000 to $10,000, six cases; $15,000 to $20,000, one case spanning three years and seven months; $30,000 to $35,000, one case spanning nine years.

School Board Seeks Applicants

ALLEGAN (Special) — James Green, president of the Allegan school board, told a general teacher's meeting Wednesday that it probably would be July 1 or later before the board would complete the job of selecting a successor to Arthur A. Kaechle, Allegan school superintendent who died last Friday.

Green said "We are asking that each teacher do the very best he can for the balance of the school year. Full control of each building is being delegated to the individual principals and all policies will remain the same as they were."

"We feel it will take time to choose a new superintendent and we will take applications from everyone interested," he said. Green also indicated the board would work closely with the state department of education in the consideration of each applicant.

Contract renewals were distributed to the teachers at the meeting which was held in the new West Ward school. Mrs. Julie Hunter, secretary, said that, as far as is known, there will be only five faculty vacancies and that Kaechle had filled three of these before his death. May 1 is the deadline for teachers to return their contracts, she said.

Local Delegation Going To Bowling Tournament

Ten Holland bowlers, all with averages 185 and under, will go to Chicago to roll in the annual Hogstaters classic at 3 p.m., Saturday.

The local delegation will include Harry and Will DeNeff, Cecil Seiser, Jay Hoffman, Evert DeNeff, Gil Moeller, Wally Reagan, Ted Kouw, Howard Ehrlich and Herb Wise.

All are singles matches and each kegler rolls eight games.

'TOM EDISONS' — Holland State Park Manager Clare Broad (right) and his crew have solved a pesky problem by using a conglomeration of timbers to erect this weird looking contraption. They pieced the timbers together and drilled the sand scoop so that the gadget could be bolted onto the scoop. With this they are able to reach all lights in the park that must be replaced periodically. It would take a pretty high ladder to get up to the lights and it's always a problem finding one. However, their regular ladder is long enough to get them up to the platform and presto—it's done. (Sentinel photo)

False Alarms Pulled In Holland, Graafschap

Two false alarms, within 15 minutes of each other, were under investigation today by Holland police and Allegan deputies.

The first alarm was pulled at the corner of Columbia Ave. and Eighth St., at 12:45 a.m. today. The second was turned in shortly after 1 a.m., at Graafschap.

Police believed the two false alarms were the work of the same person or persons. Graafschap Fire Chief Dave Schripsema said the entire volunteer department was thoroughly disgusted by the false alarm.

Schripsema said the possibility of posting a reward for information leading to the arrest of the persons responsible is under discussion.

SGT. MILTON SWINGLE

Sergeant Takes Kamhout's Place

Sgt. Milton Swingle has been named commander of the Grand Haven State police post to succeed Sgt. Carl H. Kamhout, who retired effective April 12.

Commissioner Joseph Childs announced the appointment at state police headquarters in East Lansing today.

Swingle has been in command of the Mt. Pleasant post. He joined the state police Oct. 16, 1936, and became a detective April 1, 1942, at which time he was assigned to the wartime special investigation squad.

In 1944 he returned to the uniform division and was stationed at Keego Harbor. He was promoted to corporal Sept. 1, 1948, and transferred to the Mt. Pleasant post.

On Dec. 30, 1951, he was promoted to sergeant and placed in command of the New Buffalo post. He returned to Mt. Pleasant as post commander in September, 1952.

In addition, Childs announced the transfer of Trooper Walter Bilanow from South Haven to Jackson.

Zeeland Netters Score Shutout at Coopersville

ZEELAND (Special) — Zeeland High's tennis team stroked its way to a 4-0 victory over Kennewa League foe Coopersville at Coopersville Wednesday afternoon.

In the No. 1 singles match, Paul Schipper defeated Jerry Marsac, 6-4, 6-2, and in the No. 2 singles match, Burt Moeke defeated Dave Haan, 4-6, 6-2, 6-2.

The doubles team Ed Geerlings and Pete Beyer of Zeeland scored an easy 6-1, 6-1 win over Jim Tanis and Doug Conran. And in the final match, Jack Van Eeden and Denny Huxhold defeated Bill Van Dorn and Dale Bronkema, 6-2, 6-3.

Boeve Elected Captain by Dutch

Members of the Holland High baseball team elected Jim Boeve captain for the coming season Wednesday afternoon.

Boeve, who was regular catcher for the Dutch last season, has been switched to pitcher this season and Coach Ned Stuitt expects to start him in the season against Godwin Heights next Monday.

Stuitt is pretty well set on his infield but has a few question marks remaining in the choice for outfielders.

It's likely Dick Plagenhoef will be at first base, Bill Sandahl at second, Joe Okrei or Norm Witteveen at shortstop, Bob Van Dyke or Tom Klompars at third and Ron Van Dyke behind the plate.

Godwin will present a formidable test for the Dutch. The Godwin team is always one of the top contenders for honors in the Grand Valley League and has won before the championship six of the last nine years.

"They have a young hurler in Jack Ruhmor who has been drawing envious glances from several big league scouts."

Holland Golfers Bow to Kalamazoo

Coach Fred Zuidema brought an unexpectedly strong Kalamazoo Central High golf team to the Saugatuck greens Wednesday afternoon and Holland High's swatters just couldn't match them.

The Celery City lads scored a 334 to 419 victory over the Dutch in the first match of the season for the locals.

Coach Russ Hornbaker of Holland figures his charges were just a bit rusty from lack of practice and feels they will give a better showing in subsequent matches.

Individual scoring for Kalamazoo was: Carter, 84; Hoosier, 81; Pleyte, 83 and Telfer, 86.

For Holland scores were: Dave Jalving, 82; Carl Holkeboer, 95; Dave Mulder, 109 and Curtis Baldwin, 133.

Holland now gets ready for a match against Muskegon Catholic Friday at Muskegon.

Teachers Prepare For Polio Vaccine In Ottawa County

Official Relates Reasons Behind Boerman Switch

In a letter to The Sentinel today, D. Robson, chief of the field administration of the state department of Conservation, related reasons for the transfer of south Ottawa Conservation Officer Elmer Boerman to Kent County.

Robson sent the letter in answer to a query to Gerald Eddy, director of the department, made Monday in a phone call by The Sentinel.

Robson said, "This move was made necessary due to the recent death of Officer Buzzard whose assigned area was the north half of Kent County. Because of the large population in this county and the corresponding work load, we have known from past experience that one officer cannot adequately handle the work. It takes a large portion of one officer's time just to make the investigations and checks in the city of Grand Rapids that are required by other officers in the northern part of the state. Because of the importance of having a thorough job done on all these investigations, it was the opinion of Officer Boerman's supervisors that he was especially qualified for this assignment."

"At the present time we have 12 conservation officer vacancies in the state and, because of lack of funds, we have been unable to fill a vacancy when it occurs. To take up the slack, it has been necessary to expand the officer patrol areas and spread their services a little thinner, particularly in those cases where the seasonal work load will allow."

"This does not mean, however, that the southern part of Ottawa County will be neglected. District Supervisor Clock has plans for adjoining conservation officers to extend their patrol across the line to assist Officer Bowditch. In addition, he has made plans for group lake patrols on Macatawa Lake and for special free lance patrols throughout the year. During the busy season (small game and trapping seasons), additional officers from northern counties will be assigned."

"It will be necessary for us to operate in this manner until such time as funds are available to bring our officer class up to full complement. Your interest in this matter is appreciated and we assure you that we are attempting to give the sportsmen the best possible service under the circumstances."

Allegan Planning Bicycle Rodeo

ALLEGAN (Special) — Boys and girls 15 and under are eligible to enter a bicycle rodeo set for Saturday, April 24, under the joint sponsorship of the Community Council and Allegan Lions club.

The rodeo, which will consist of tests of skill, rather than trick riding or races, will start at 1 p.m. with a parade through the business district. Prizes will be awarded for best decorated bikes and original costumes after the parade. Other prizes will be given to winners in the rodeo tests.

City police will check the bicycles for safety prior to the contest. Entrants must have a city bicycle license, according to John Scotty Wallace, general chairman, and Harold Sager, Lions club chairman.

Separate prizes will be awarded in various age groups. Corporal Richard Nicolen, of the Paw Paw State Police post, Rudy Whitney, Police Chief Howard Falk and Earl Lewis will assist in judging, inspecting the bicycles and award the prizes.

Demands Examination On Negligence Count

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Clifford William Bastian, 50, Muskegon, demanded examination on a charge of negligent homicide when arraigned in Municipal court Wednesday. Examination was set for April 23, at 2 p.m. and bond of $500 was furnished.

The charge is the result of an accident last Dec. 12 on US-16 in Polkton township when Pearl Geldersma, 52, wife of Andrew Geldersma, 1210 Ferry St., Grand Haven, was fatally injured.

Bastian, who was confined in Municipal Hospital with injuries until Jan. 2, was the driver of a car which struck the Geldersma car on a large sweeping curve.

Complaint against Bastian was signed by Corp. Clarence Beuerle of the Michigan State Police.

JOHN VAN DYKE, JR.

Supervisors Elect John Van Dyke As New Chairman

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — John Van Dyke of Holland, former vice chairman of the Ottawa County Board of Supervisors, was elected chairman of the board at the opening meeting of the April term Tuesday afternoon. Roy Lowing of Georgetown township was elected vice chairman.

In turning the gavel over to Van Dyke, Mayor Harry Harrington who was serving as temporary chairman said, "It is a great experience and a great honor to serve this board as chairman. It is not the privilege of very many to attain this office. You already have had a chance to make decisions on this board and have learned to be neutral until you have found out the facts of the different issues." Mayor Harrington also extended his personal thanks to former Chairman Clarence Reenders of Grand Haven who served as chairman for two years.

Road Commission Chairman Neal Van Leeuwen presented another request for the $133,000 which was submitted at the October meeting. He said, "It looks as though we are just not going to be able to do anything at all unless we have a special appropriation of that type so that we can at least maintain what we have."

Sheriff Jerry Vanderbeek reported that Holland city will soon have a change in its police radio frequency and since two of his cars operate completely out of the Holland area, it would necessitate a change in county equipment costing $3,402.72. It would cost an additional $1,047.58 if the Holland police transmitter is not used. The board delayed action until Mayor Claude Ver Duine receives information from Police Chief Lawrence De Witt on Grand Haven changes.

The sheriff also called attention to the demand from the corrections department that prisoners wear coveralls. He said white duck coveralls would cost $44 a dozen or $180 for 50. When the issue was introduced previously, it was referred to the buildings and grounds committee but not given power to act. Vanderbeek also requested a replacement of a kitchen stove in use since 1915 at a new cost of $370. He also said the lockers suggested by the corrections department have not been okayed. The buildings and grounds committee was given power to act on the coveralls, but Chairman C. Szopinski informed the board that funds are not available at the present time and the item should be given a special appropriation. The request was tabled until today.

A communication from the Michigan Department of Aeronautics calling attention to airport hazard areas near Muskegon county airport was referred to a committee consisting of Garrett Bottema, Ervin Hecksel and John Hassold.

A letter from the Grand Rapids Audubon club asking the county to discontinue spraying of the roadsides was placed on file. The letter said that the program has sacrificed foliage and valuable nesting sites for birds without accomplishing a worth while purpose.

A communication from a Saginaw auto firm offering to provide cars to the county at what could be a substantial saving was filed. Jacob Ponstein said the board should leave the business in Ottawa county and that a similar offer will be forthcoming from a local concern.

George Swart, Grand Haven city assessor, called the board's attention to a bill before legislature which provides that all school taxes shall be levied on the state equalization figure instead of the county's figure. The measure was passed by the senate which attached an amendment authorizing the local boards of supervisors to decide whether school taxes shall be levied on state or county basis.

'Go Ahead' Hinges On Full Approval Of Medical Society

County Teachers Meet To Discuss Procedure; Parents Must Consent

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — The wheels of the vaccine program definitely started today with a meeting of all teachers in the first, second, and third grades in the Allendale town hall at 3 p.m. Teachers are being mobilized by Jennie Kaufman, county superintendent of schools.

Dr. Ralph Ten Have returned from Lansing Wednesday afternoon where the program was discussed before the state medical men. All have returned feeling confident that the Salk vaccine is safe and sound, but they are still waiting for the State Medical Association to give its approval.

Information regarding this program will be distributed to teachers who in turn will send it home to the parents with request blanks. No child will be inoculated unless he has the full consent of the parents.

About 130 schools in Ottawa county with 5,000 pupils are involved in the county program.

Florence Vander Woude, supervising nurse in the Ottawa County Health department, is assisting in the program, and Verne C. Dagen, chairman, will be at the meeting to instruct the teachers in clinic technique. Eight clinics in various schools will be set up over the county. According to Dr. Ten Have, the vaccine is expected here about April 24. If received, inoculation will start by April 26.

Blaze Destroys Farm Buildings

FENNIVILLE (Special) — Fire of undetermined origin about 3 p.m. Wednesday completely destroyed a garage and two farm buildings on the Louis Kuency property about 3 1/2 miles southeast of Fennville.

Kuency first discovered the blaze in the forest surrounding his farmstead. He has no telephone and went to a nearby house to send an alarm. By the time he returned, his garage was ablaze and flames had spread to two other buildings.

The Fennville auxiliary fire truck responded, along with Allegan state forest fire equipment. The blaze spread into the surrounding forest and several acres burned. The South side of the Kuency house was completely blackened, but did not ignite because it is covered with asbestos shingles.

Firemen said a much more disastrous blaze was averted by the southwest wind, which carried the fire as far as an east-west road, where it was halted.

Fennville Mayor A. H. Hogue reported wonderful response to the alarm and said that at one time there were 80 men working at the scene with shovels. State forest fire fighting equipment was used to plow fire lanes to prevent spread of the blaze.

Kuency said his loss, amount not determined, is covered by insurance.

Window Peeper Fined

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — George Mitchell, 36, Grand Haven, paid $25 fine and $5.10 costs in Municipal Court Monday afternoon after pleading guilty to a charge of window peeping.

Mitchell was picked up by city police Sunday night while in the process of window peeping on Ferry St. When taken into custody by the officer he had his hands on the window sill of the residence. Officers were lying in wait for the culprit, after receiving many complaints from residents in the eastern part of the city about window peeping.

Coopersville Nips Zeeland High Nine

ZEELAND (Special) — A five-run outburst in the fourth inning enabled Coopersville to defeat Zeeland High's baseball team 7-6 here Wednesday afternoon.

Gay Cassenbacker went the distance for the winners and allowed Zeeland eight hits. Jim Kaat of Zeeland went the distance and gave up just seven hits.

Zeeland was charged with five errors to just two for the visitors. Jack Faber helped the Zeeland cause considerably when he pounded a long triple in the third inning with the bases loaded to score four runs.

Holland CE Union Plans Annual Sunrise Service

Slack Convicted In Robbery Case

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Irwin Slack, 25, Grand Haven, was found guilty of robbery-unarmed, by a Circuit Court jury Monday afternoon following an hour's deliberation. His bond of $5,000 will remain the same and he will return for disposition April 22 at 10 a.m.

The court stated it may be necessary to keep Slack at the Ottawa County jail for other purposes but, in all fairness to him, his sentence is to begin as soon as possible.

Slack also is awaiting sentence on a jail breaking charge which is the outcome of an escape with three other prisoners the night of Feb. 7. He is also a parolee.

The offense of which he was found guilty Monday afternoon occurred in Spring Lake Township Nov. 5, 1953, when he, together with Wayne Wymore, 18, route 1, Grand Haven, Duncan D. Tucker, 17, Grand Haven, and a 16-year-old Grand Haven high school girl allegedly assaulted and beat Harold Van Raalte, 21, Ferrysburg.

A billfold containing approximately $75, a $30 wrist watch and a pair of eye-glasses were missing when Van Raalte recovered from the alleged assault which followed a drinking party in Grand Haven. A similar charge of robbery - unarmed is pending against Wymore and Tucker, each of whom stood mute when arraigned in Circuit Court last Nov. 23, when pleas of not guilty were entered in their cases.

The jury has been excused until April 21 at 9 a.m., when the case of Thomas Carroll, on a charge of felonious assault will be heard. Carroll, 27, of 272 East 8th St., Holland, pleaded not guilty Dec. 18, 1953.

Zeeland Council Accepts Platts Near West End

ZEELAND (Special) — Common council officially accepted addition of two new city plats at the regular meeting Thursday. The meeting, originally scheduled for Monday, was changed because of the spring election.

Accepted were the Ver Plank and Westebroek plats, completely surveyed and platted out.

The Ver Plank addition consists of 11 lots, between Central St. and Lawrence St. extended, and halfway between Pine and Taft Sts., on the east end and Taft and Lindy Sts., on the West.

Adjoining it directly to the south is the 12-lot Westebroek addition. It lies between Lawrence St. extended and Lincoln St. extended.

Council also approved installation of new toilet facilities at the City Park. City Superintendent Leon W. Sears explained that facilities had long been a health menace.

Total cost of the project which involves new buildings on either end of the present canteen, was estimated at about $3,000.

A new four foot fence on the south side of the park was also approved, at an estimated cost of $750. The fence is 854 feet long.

In other business Mayor Robert S. De Bruyn appointed John Stevenson as new council representative to the county board of supervisors. He will succeed councilman Peter De Kock who was defeated at the first election.

Upon recommendation of City Attorney Randall Dekker and the police department, council passed a new ordinance raising the schedule of fines upward.

Dekker explained that it was "an attempt to bring penalties up to date—some of which dated back to 1912."

Currently, justices of the peace are forced to try cases under state statutes, in order to get into a level of reasonable fines. Shortcoming of this method was that the money collected must then be turned into county authorities.

The new levels are now generally in line with charges possible under state statute.

SAUGATUCK FIREMAN MORGAN J. EDG-COMB continues to pour water on the still burning wreckage of Westminster Lodge more than two hours after fire destroyed the building. Fire Chief William Wilson said the blaze was believed to have been started from defective wiring. Strong winds from the south provided a handicap and help at the same time.

$100,000 FIRE RUINS — A smoldering mass of rubble were the only remains of a three story frame building at Camp Gray after wind-whipped flames leveled the structure in less than an hour Thursday afternoon. The Westminster Lodge, on eod 89 buildings on 142 acres near the Saugatuck oval, contained two dining rooms capable of seating 600 persons, kitchen, bakery, soda fountain, four walk-in coolers, and living quarters on the second and

Wilson said. Winds from any other direction would have whipped the flames into cottages and dense woods on three sides of the lodge, Wilson said. Firemen from Saugatuck and Douglas departments remained on the scene until early evening to prevent any new outbreak of the fire. The ruins at right were walking coolers. (Sentinel photo) third floor. The lodge building was being used as storage for 700 to 800 blankets, pillows, mattresses, books, chairs and virtually all equipment and supplies needed to equip the huge camp. Dishes, chairs, tables, kitchen equipment, were all reduced to ashes and twisted metal. The intense fire melted glass and badly charred a nearby administration building. Library Adventures

By Arnold Mulder

Napoleon's famous dictum that "God fights on the side that has the biggest battalions" has a speciousness that may well be mistaken for truth. But in reading recently Kenneth P. Williams' book, "Lincoln Finds a General," I was struck by the fact that it is just as true to say that "God fights on the side that has the best leaders."

The North won of course partly because it had the greater industrial war potential. But if a Jefferson Davis had been in the White House in Washington and a Lincoln in the executive mansion in Richmond, it is not at all sure that the North's superior industrial potential would have carried the day.

And if a Robert E. Lee for the South had not been matched after a period of fumbling by a Ulysses S. Grant for the North, there would still have been a real chance for the South to win or at least to achieve a negotiated peace. It was the genius of Lee that kept the South on the winning level until Gettysburg, in July, 1863, and it was the genius and stamina and character of Grant that made success for the South an impossibility after he took command.

On the political side the genius of Lincoln so far outshone that of Jefferson Davis that the North maintained the initiative in spite of the bungling of northern generals in the field. But if Gettysburg and Vicksburg had not come Lincoln would not have been re-elected in 1864 and then the South would still have won.

Such is the picture that comes out of Williams' book. The basic strategy of the war is very simple. The northern armies tried to capture Richmond and the southern armies tried to prevent it. Then, in 1863, with Lee's campaign that culminated at Gettysburg, the forces of the South tried to capture Washington and the armies of the North tried to prevent it. Finally Grant conquered Lee's army and captured Richmond, and the war was ended in defeat for the South.

But through it all, a dozen leaders or perhaps fewer had the fate of their nation in their hands. If by the term "God" Napoleon meant the force of destiny, then God was fighting alternately during the American Civil War on the side of the North and on the side of the South. And Lincoln was never more human and never more wise than when he recognized frankly in his second inaugural address that God had not been exclusively on the side of the forces of the North.

The North was on the losing side almost consistently during the first two years of the war because its military leaders were weaker and less devoted than their opposite numbers of the South. McClellan was vain and vacillating, a man who was thinking much more about his place in history and his possible election to the presidency than he was thinking of the triumph of his army. He did not have what it takes, and unfortunately it was impossible for Lincoln for a long time to get rid of him because he was popular with the people.

Then came Burnside and Hooker and Meade, and others — all of them too small for their shoes. The genius in the White House had to work through them because they were the best he had. It was not until Grant had finally proved what he could do that the North began to win, that "God" joined the side that had the best leader.

In the South the story had been still more clear. "God" was on the side of Lee, not because he had the biggest battalions or the greatest industrial potential — he had neither — but because he was an incomparably greater leader than the North had developed. Williams does not say any of these things but the implication is clear in his book.

The name planet means "wanderer" in Greek. This name was given because the planets change their positions in the sky so frequently.

During the 17th century, actors in France hired "claque" to clap loudly for them at a performance.

Origin of Flag Traced for DAR

"Since the beginning of time man has used emblems and banners of various kinds to express his hopes, his ideals, his struggles, his accomplishments," Mrs. William C. Vandenberg told members of the Elizabeth Schuyler Hamilton chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Thursday in an address on "The American Flag" at the home of Mrs. Martha C. Robbins.

The first emblems or signs primitive man used, she said, were clubs of different patterns or decorations of colored clay on the human body. When shields came into use, special designs were placed on them to distinguish various clans. In time these were supplanted by skins of animals fastened to poles so they could be seen and recognized at a distance.

From these primitive beginnings were traced the origin and evolution of flags of civilized man, and Mrs. Vandenberg traced the history of the American flag, giving the symbolism of each part and color used in the design.

With use of charts, she showed development in a flag which started with 13 red and white stripes and 13 white stars in a field of blue from 1777 to 1795, 15 stripes and 15 stars from 1795 to 1818, 13 stripes and 20 stars in 1818, 28 stars in 1846, 34 stars in 1861, 45 stars in 1896 and now 48 stars since 1912. Michigan is represented by the 26th Star.

Before the Continental Congress adopted a flag for the United States, a number of colonies had flags of their own which were kept as state flags. As early as 1896, the DAR sought legislation from Congress to prevent desecration of the flag.

June 14 was established as Flag Day by proclamation of President Wilson on May 30, 1916. His closing words follow: "Let us on that day rededicate ourselves to the nation, one and inseparable, from which every thought that is not worthy of our fathers' first vows in independence, liberty and right shall be excluded and in which we shall stand with united hearts for an America which no man can corrupt, no influence draw away from its ideals, no force divide against itself—a nation distinguished among all nations for its clear individual conception alike of its privileges, its obligations and its rights."

The usual pledge of allegiance to the flag was led by Mrs. Harold Niles, regent. Mrs. William Kendrick, conducted devotions. Mrs. R. F. Keeler asked members to save books and magazines for the Marine Library at Sault Ste. Marie May 1 to 30.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Eldon Dick and her committee.

The final meeting and annual luncheon will be held May 7 instead of May 13 because of the Tulip Time festival.

A PUBLIC MAN'S PRIVATE LIFE

Public men frequently resent any interference with their private lives on the part of the people.
The late President Roosevelt was particularly quick to insist on a public man's right to his own private life. And Mr. Hoover was similarly jealous of invasions of his private life, and many other men of both parties have expressed similar sentiments.

The objection is being given renewed significance in the case of James Roosevelt, who insists on running for congress in spite of a wave of scandal that has engulfed him. National Democratic Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell has denied the party's support to Roosevelt and has warned him that no national party funds will be allocated to his campaign.

Roosevelt has bitterly resented this attitude on the part of his own party chieftain. His domestic life is his own, he argues, and it is none of Mitchell's business. Roosevelt of course asserts that he is entirely innocent, but the implication of his argument is that even if this were not so, it is still only his own business, not that of Democratic Washington; his private life belongs to him.

But a political party wants to be successful. The loss of an important California district would be serious to the party on a national basis. And Mitchell knows very well that the American people do not agree that a public man's private life is his own. Invasion of personal privacy is the penalty a public man pays for the chance to serve the public.

Moreover, there is a certain justice in this attitude. There are areas in personal life that would seem to belong to the public man.
Thus when the late President Woodrow Wilson threatened to punch a reporter's nose if he did not lay off on his daughter, he was on firm ground. (No, this is not a mistake in presidential identity; President Truman used exactly the same words, but Woodrow Wilson had anticipated him.)

But a public man's personal morals are the legitimate concern of the people who are being asked to vote for him. Even when the moral lapses have not been proved, the mere charges concern the public. This is true even of men who are in semi-public positions. A minister of the gospel, or a professor in a college, or a judge, or anyone else in such positions, would certainly face the same invasion of privacy, and legitimately so. Public office involves honors and emoluments, but in its very nature it involves disabilities also.

Christ the Living Lord
John 20:24-29; 21:15-17
By Henry Geerlings

John gives us a beautiful story about the resurrection. He does not discuss the fact. He did not see Jesus at this time. He saw some things that were convincing evidences to him of the resurrection of his Lord.

On the first day of the week
Mary of Magdala went early to the tomb. He adds that it was still dark. This makes the story more natural and increases its reliability. It was not too dark for this loyal and anxious woman to see that the stone was taken away from the sepulchre. This of course was very significant to her. But it did not mean resurrection to her. It did seem to mean that the tomb had been robbed of its precious occupant.

Her soul was in alarm. To her it was a terrifying discovery. She runs to bear the news of her discovery to Peter and John in the hope that they might be able to do something about it. If friends had removed the body she wanted to know what they had done with it. If enemies had broken open the tomb and had robbed it of the precious remains of her divine friend she wanted to know what they had done with the body. She could not bear the thought of its falling into unholy hands. It was torture to think that possibly new indignities were to be offered it, that body already had been so cruelly treated.

So, tumultuous anxiety and driving affection hurried her along with swift feet to her friends and the friends of her crucified Lord.
Her anxious word of news was sufficient to arouse Peter and John and they hurried to the garden to investigate for themselves the fact that Mary brought to them.

John was younger than Peter and so outran him. Arriving at the empty tomb he saw for himself that the body was gone, but he did not go in. Possibly his natural timidity and his reverence kept him out. His observing and searching eyes went in and he saw the bandages lying on the ground.
Surely this must have startled him thinking as to what happened to the body of his Lord.

By this time Peter arrived and went at once into the tomb. That was characteristic of this impulsive man. We presume that it never occurred to him not to go in. He came to see and he wanted to see all that was to be seen. He made the same observation that John did as to the bandages, but he made an additional discovery. He noted that the napkin which had been around Jesus' head was folded up by itself and not lying beside the other bandages.

Then it was that John made up his mind to go in the tomb and to make further investigation for himself. What he saw convinced him of the resurrection of their Lord. Peter was convinced too.
They were convinced by evidence that was eloquent. There was evidence in the empty tomb and in bandages and in the carefully folded napkin to be persuasive to honest minds who do not fight the natural testimony of such evidence.
Detectives have used much less plain and convincing evidence as stepping stones to the final fact toward which they were climbing.

Wherever the body of Jesus was these two men were convinced that Jesus did not leave that tomb as a corpse, but as a living being. They staked the integrity of their souls on the eloquence of the folded napkins. Enemies stealing the body would not have left behind the kind of evidence that Peter and John and Mary found.
These two men returned to their homes with a new song of hope singing in their hearts. A new rising sun had shot its first shafts of light through their night of despair. It was beginning to be morning in their souls.

Now Mary returns to the empty tomb. She comes with a heavy heart and that heart finds expression in tears. Through her sobbing she tells the angels what hurts her tender heart. Then turning around she sees some one whom she takes to be the gardener. Quite naturally so. She was not thinking of a living Jesus. Grief blind us. Her tears and her pain were veils across her eyes.

Even the first voice of Jesus did not arouse her to the fact she was facing Him. Jesus took in the situation at once. Then He did a beautiful and tender thing. He called her by her name and then she knew. There was something of the old affection in that voice, something of the old tenderness.
She needed no further proof.

Central Park Groups
Have Joint Meeting

At their regular meeting Tuesday evening at the church, Central Park Reformed Church Mission Guild entertained the Women's Missionary Society.

Highlight of the joint meeting was a report by Mrs. Benjamin De Vries, missionary to India, on the work of Dr. Joseph John's family in India.

Plans are going ahead at a rapid pace for Holland's Silver Anniversary Tulip Time festival which will be staged here May 12 to 15 with all the gaiety of former years, plus a few new touches.

Tulip Time Manager Larry Wade and his assistant, Earl F. Price, who will take over the reins as manager July 1, are putting in full time at Tulip Time headquarters at the rear of the Chamber of Commerce building. Each mail brings a stack of inquiries and reservations.

Housing reservations to date are slightly ahead of other years. So far, most reservations are for bus groups which prefer resort hotels, motels and cabins. Facilities from Saugatuck and Douglas north to Grand Haven are being put into use for the 1954 festival.

An Ohio train excursion for some 500 guests is being promoted by a travel agency and the Ohioans will be put up in a Grand Rapids hotel.

The Chicago, Duluth and Georgian Bay line which maintains winter docks for its luxury liners in Holland, also is planning a Tulip Time-Cherryland cruise out of Chicago May 14 through 17. The boat will be in Holland for cruise fans to see klompen dancing, Dutch Fantasies show and Tulip Time Varieties, and then take off for Sturgeon Bay, Wis., for the Cherryland blossom festival. The cruise is aboard the S.S. North American.

Of most interest to local residents will be the Tulip Time events to be staged in the new Civic Center, the first time the place will be open to the public. Two performances of "Tour the Town" are scheduled Wednesday and Thursday nights, May 12 and 13, and Parade of Barbershop Quartets will be held Friday.

The 25th anniversary festival also will see the popular events which now have world-wide fame. These include the street scrubbing ceremonies, klompen dancing, the famous tulip lanes and farms, flower show, costume show, band review, parades and many other attractions.

After four years as Tulip Time manager, Wade is retiring this year. His successor, Price, was appointed last month by the board of directors of Holland Tulip Time Festival, Inc., of which W. A. Butler is president.

Price came to Holland in 1933 as manager of the J. C. Penney Co., retiring in 1952 after 19 years as manager. Throughout his years here, he has been active in civic life. Until he takes over full time on Tulip Time work, he is serving as observer and general assistant in the Tulip Time office.

Plan Improvement
At Allegan Camp

ALLEGAN (Special) — Improvement of the 4-H Club Kidwell was the main subject for discussion at the camp board of directors meeting last Wednesday evening at the home of William J. MacLean. Another important item was the replacement of Carlton Woodhams, who has moved from the county, by Franklin Kelly who will complete the term as treasurer of the organization.

Improvements to the camp include replacing the front porch of the main lodge and installing lights in the cabins plus yard lights in the cabin areas.

It was decided that it would be less expensive to replace the old porch on the main lodge rather than to attempt repair on the old one. An architect has been contacted to draw plans for the new porch and upon receipt of the plans, a meeting will be held of the board of directors to consider the project.

The drainage field for the shower house was not functioning properly and a committee consisting of Leslie Miner, Franklin Kelly, Gerald Fenner and William J. MacLean was delegated to investigate the matter and act for the board as they see fit.

Other improvements discussed and approved by the board included installation of new dishwashing tanks in the kitchen, painting and repairing of bedsteads, repairing and painting the diving raft and repairing the roof on one of the cabins, which was damaged by the recent windstorm.

Further improvements include graveling part of the entrance road, disposing of brush in cabin areas, repairing and rodent proofing the kitchen ceiling, and outlining the drive next to the baseball field with painted stones.

Present at the meeting were Leslie Miner, chairman; Mrs. Ruth Johnson, secretary; William J. MacLean, executive secretary; Mary E. Bullis, home demonstration agent; Gerald Fenner, Mrs. Avis Brown, LaVerne Lettinga, Milton TenHaven, Franklin Kelly and Jack Parker, new 4-H Club Agent.

State Park All Ready For Summer Visitors

The "Open for Business" sign is up today at Holland State Park, thanks to the efforts of some 35 hardy Tulip City Rod and Gun Club members.

Despite a bone-chilling rain Saturday morning, the sportsmen turned out and worked right through into the balmy afternoon in their annual park cleanup project.

Net result is that the park is now ready to go—a job that would take Manager Clare Broad and his crew a month to do.

The group took shutters off the pavilion, assembled some 25 new log picnic tables, took 325 picnic tables from the pavilion and spaced them throughout the park and also placed the benches. They ended by clearing the winter accumulation of rubbish and other debris from the entire beach area.

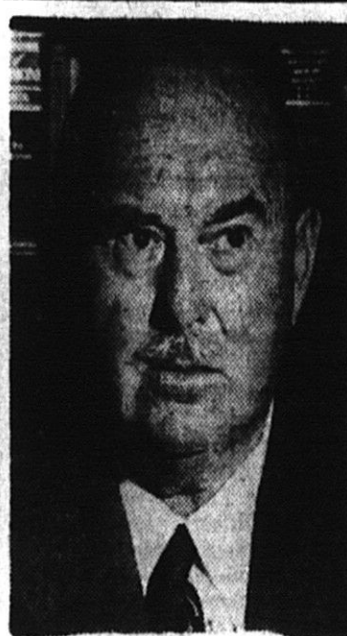

It was an all day job and attracted attention from many other sections of the state as evidenced by attendance of other park managers, namely Louis Haney of Grand Haven State Park, Lyle McDonald of Warren Dunes State Park and Carl Van Weeden of Yankee Springs Recreation Area. W. L. McDonald, assistant superintendent of parks and recreation, region 5, also was present and heartily thanked the Tulip City Rod and Gun Club.

Chairman of the cleanup was Harold Door. He said damp weather prevented painting any of the tables Saturday but some of the men probably will return another Saturday to finish up that phase of the work.

Among those participating were Gil Boerman, Jay Vander Bie, Door, Al Kuipers, Don Elenbaas, club president; Steve Wissink, Howard Ehrlich, Ken Kadowell, Bernie Waterway, Ken Vanden Brink, Bill Wenzel, Ernie Phillips, Arnie Bos, Lewie Kadowell, Verne Fogarty, Jake Roelofs, Les Lemson, Gerrit Ver Berg and Bob Hostlin.

Program chairmen were Mrs. Cook and Mrs. White. Mrs. Boersma, alumnae president, welcomed guests and presided at a brief business meeting. The secretary's report was presented by Mrs. Hakken and Mrs. Robert Carley gave the treasurer's report.

Plans were announced for a tea to be held in June honoring senior girls who will enter the alumnae chapter.

DR. PAUL DE KRUIJFF

De Kruijff Backs Medical Society On Polio Vaccine

Paul De Kruijff of Holland, consultant to the Chicago Board of Health and roving editor of Reader's Digest, has joined the forces opposing the Salk polio vaccine at this time.

In a telegram to commentator Walter Winchell during the week-end, De Kruijff said:

"As you reported in your broadcast and in Daily Mirror last week the Michigan State Medical Society has disapproved Salk vaccine for infantile paralysis for Michigan's children until certain questions as to its safety have been answered by Michigan State Health Commissioner Albert Heustis and by Surgeon General of U.S. Public Health Service Leonard Scheele.

"Michigan State Medical Society has not yet received these answers from Dr. Heustis or from Dr. Scheele.

"On April 1 Dr. Heustis promised executive committee of council of Michigan State Medical Society that he would not proceed with plans to vaccinate Michigan's children till these questions answered. Despite his promise Commissioner Heustis of Michigan State Health Department announces this week that he is going ahead with Salk vaccination.

"A reiteration of disapproval by Michigan State Medical Society may be expected. I am confident the people of Michigan will not allow their children to be vaccinated so long as the doctors of the state disapprove. The people will follow the doctors not the health department.

"The American Medical Association is withholding comment on Salk vaccine pending decision as to its safety by U.S. Public Health Service and other independent authorities. The American Medical Association has been informed (I am told) that the U.S. public health service director of biologics control believes use of Salk vaccine is premature. The American Medical Association has also been informed (I am told) that U.S. Public Health Service director of national health institutes believes Salk vaccine should be tried.

"Who is right?—the director of biologics control who actually tested the Salk vaccines and believes it to be premature? or the director of the national institutes of health who has no experience (repeat) no experience in this field—yet believes Salk vaccine should be used on our children?

"I am confident that the American Medical Association will back the adverse opinion on the Salk vaccine already expressed by its component Michigan State Medical Society.

"It is my suggestion that you inquire from U.S. Public Health Service just how many batches of Salk vaccine have been found free from living virulent deadly polio or other viruses.

"It is urgent that a commission of independent virus experts and

Mr. and Mrs. Dale K. Schurman

Miss Donna May Bosman and Dale K. Schurman spoke their marriage vows Tuesday, April 6, in double ring rites read by the Rev. William Haverkamp in Central Avenue Christian Reformed Church. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin A. Bosman of 100 Vander Veen Ave. and Mr. and Mrs. William Schurman of Virginia Park.

Mrs. Ken Bosman attended the bride as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Warren Bosman and Mrs. Jack Schurman. Ken Bosman assisted the groom as best man and Robert Van Huis and Ronald De Vree served as ushers.

Sorosis Alumnae Stage Style Show

Highlight of the Hope College Sorosis Alumnae meeting Friday night was the presentation of a style show depicting college fashions from the early 1900's to the present date. About 65 attended the affair in the Juliana room at Durfee Hall when alumnae members served as hostesses for the active chapter.

Mrs. Lincoln Sennett, wearing a large velour hat with trailing ostrich plumes, served as narrator for the style parade, "Fifty Years of Fashions." She traced coed gear from the tight fitting styles of the turn of the century, through the daring, scanty fashions and bobbed hair of the roaring '20's, the "sloppy joe" and saddle shoe styles of World War II days.

Interesting anecdotes about popular songs, literature, national events and the theater were related as various styles were described.

Most popular with the audience was a charcoal tailored suit and authentic "beehive" hat of 1918-20, modeled by Miss Althea Raffenaud and some of the flapper styles worn by Mrs. L. W. Lamb, Jr. Other models were the Mesdames James Hardie, Gerard Cook, William Hakken, James White, Vernon Boersma, Clarence Becker, Preston Luidens and Paul Vander Hill.

Miss Florence Oiert conducted devotions "By the Bend of the River," Edwards and "Gianina Mia," Friml, were sung by a trio including Mrs. Andrew Vollink, Mrs. Jack Leenhouts and Mrs. Paul Van Eck with Mrs. Clyde Geerlings as accompanist.

Corsage making was demonstrated by George Minnema who created several attractive combinations using roses, hyacinths and carnations. Refreshments, featuring rosebud cakes, were served from a table centered with an arrangement of snapdragons, narcissi and daffodils in sorority colors, yellow and white, and tall tapers. Mrs. Kenneth De Pree was chairman of the food committee.

Program chairmen were Mrs. Cook and Mrs. White. Mrs. Boersma, alumnae president, welcomed guests and presided at a brief business meeting. The secretary's report was presented by Mrs. Hakken and Mrs. Robert Carley gave the treasurer's report.

Plans were announced for a tea to be held in June honoring senior girls who will enter the alumnae chapter.

DIP NETTERS—One of the more popular sports these days in the Holland area is dip netting for suckers at various points along Black River. And the bridges along the river are popular spots, especially in the evenings. As a matter of fact traffic near the bridges slows to almost a crawl because of the congestion. From left to right are: Nelson Ver Beek,

Local Accountants Hear Public Relations Expert

Contending that the biggest problems facing the country today can be broken down into simple everyday questions and answers, Mercedes J. Hurst of Chicago gave some good down-to-earth advice in a talk at the fifth annual public relations dinner of Holland Chapter of the American Society of Women Accountants Tuesday night in Warm Friend Tavern.

Miss Hurst, who is associated with the public relations department of the International Harvester Co. of Chicago, laced her common-sense talk with humorous quotations, a few well-turned statistics and some timely Biblical references.

She explained her public relations work with her company which includes a well developed program in which wives of the workers are taken on factory tours, explained all products and functions of manufacturing particularly the safety program. The last 15 minutes are spent with their husbands on the job. Later at a luncheon they are encouraged to ask any questions they please.

And it is these seemingly unimportant simple questions asked by wives of 70,000 International Harvester employees that often set new policies in one of the country's biggest manufacturing firms, Miss Hurst said. She said the project is a two-way street—the wives learn exactly what their husbands do and what is expected of them, and it gives them a touch of reality. "Often too many believe bases can all be run in home runs, and that's not in the business world," Miss Hurst emphasized.

She said the factory tours are followed by questionnaires on several subjects. One question is "What are you afraid of?" and the answers range from the H-bomb to mice. And yet, from questionnaires sent to people from coast to coast emerges a pattern of thinking which according to Miss Hurst cements the solid truth that the home is still the greatest thing there is.

Mostly, the thinking among the American women centers on honesty, integrity and sincerity and how these are often flaunted in a Christian nation. Others question lack of religion, economic insecurity, communism, war, and can the economy of the country withstand strain and pressure, not to mention government spending.

Miss Hurst, a born optimist, pointed to the great forces for good in this country—the schools and the churches—and urged full-time practice of honesty, integrity and sincerity at the grass roots level. "If we keep our thinking level in the small things, we won't be wrong about the big stuff." Then she quoted Henry Ford: "No job is a big job when you tear it down to little bits."

As for government spending, she said a lot could be done "if we stop asking the government to do things for us that we should have the manhood to do for ourselves." She added that women are born crusaders and when they join forces for good and have the courage to meet the challenge of the day, they can't be stopped.

Her announced topic was "The Lady Gets What She Wants," but remaining feminine to the end by reserving the right to change her mind, she changed her topic the last minute to the title of a song she heard some weeks ago at Folies Bergere in Paris: "You can't hit the ball with the bat on your shoulder; you gotta get out there and swing!"

Miss Hurst was introduced by Miss Minnie Haan. The 150 guests including delegations from Grand Rapids, Muskegon and Kalamazoo, were welcomed by the president, Miss Irma K. Hoeland, who announced a new $75 scholarship to be offered this year to a high school graduate to continue her education in accounting. The invocation was given by Vernon Van Lente. Dinner music was provided by John Swieringa.

Federation Board Meets At Montello Park Church

Board members of Holland Federation of Women's Society held their April meeting Monday at Montello Park Christian Reformed Church. Mrs. Peter Slenk, president, called the meeting to order and spoke on "Spring and Winter." She contrasted the "winter" of a leper's life with the "spring" coming into his life after he enters a Christian leper camp.

Mrs. Fred Handigton led devotions and Mrs. John Huff sang "Open the Gates of the Temple." Business included roll call, minutes and a report on the recent children's meeting. A letter from Dr. C. Stauffer was read by Mrs. Slenk. In the letter, the doctor at Inhamane leper camp contrasted the government leper camp and the Christian Camp at Inhamane. In the government camp they have the best that money can buy, but the people are "so hopeless," while in Inhamane, money and material things are short but "happiness it is at its best."

It was announced that 100 teams have visited 14 churches this year.

A picture, "The Divine Architect," was shown. Taken by Mrs. Katherine Ulstrom, the film is the story of two leper children in India who were cured, became physicians and now run a leprosy hospital in India.

Mrs. Al Knipe closed the meeting with prayer. Women of Montello Park Church served tea.

Federation receipts of the year totaled $7,523, enabling support of 175 lepers, compared to a collection of $6,903.14 for the support of 166 lepers last year.

Holland Christian Net Team Defeats Muskegon Heights

Holland Christian's tennis squad got off to a good start Monday afternoon on the 21st St. courts as it humbled the invading Muskegon Heights Tigers' 7-0. The match was the first of two to be played between the two clubs this season.

Neither squad played up to top form with both showing the need of more practice and some warm tennis weather. Players on both teams committed numerous faults, in service and ground games, which must be ironed out by more hours of steady practice.

Outside of the No. 2 singles match, the class A Tigers didn't offer too much opposition for the Maroons. In this match Christian's Jim Teerman was extended to the only three setter of the day to down a stubborn Eugene Fethke of Muskegon. Several new boys played in competition for the first time for the Dutch. They included Dave Vander Ploeg, Bob Bazuin and Carl Van Appledorn. Two well known performers in the Heights lineup were M. C. Burton and Len Hartman, both members of the class A state champion, Heights cage team.

In the No. 1 singles match, Christian's Paul Dykema had little trouble in beating Hartman, 6-1. Teerman, playing the No. 2 spot, outlasted Fethke, 2-6, 6-4, 6-4. Warren Boer took the No. 3 singles event by stopping Bruce Schneider, 6-2, 7-5. In the No. 4 singles, Dave Vander Ploeg blanked Donald Sanborn, 6-0, 6-0.

Rich Sharda and Norm Lokker performed in the No. 1 doubles slot for the Maroons and whipped Bob Thornley and M. C. Burton, 6-0, 6-2. In the No. 2 doubles, Carl Edewards and Warren Nykamp stopped Edward Ferguson and Dave Lambrix, 6-1, 6-1. In the final doubles event, Bob Bazuin and Carl Van Appledorn defeated Gordon Murray and Klaas Berkner, 6-2, 6-2.

In non-counting practice matches, Bob Balfout and Gary Vander Ark of Christian also won their decisions from two Tiger players.

Probes Undoing Shoddy Pitching Of Maroon Nine

Muskegon Heights' baseball team spoiled Holland Christian's season opener at Riverview Park Monday afternoon when they mauled the Maroons 20-0. Coach Okie Johnson's crew showed little mercy as they scored in every inning to rack up the score.

The game was called with the Heights batting in the seventh inning with another rally brewing. They had already scored four markers when the game was called.

It was a case of Heights' offensive power plus some great pitching against ineffective hurling on the part of the locals. Two Maroon flingers gave up 16 walks and 11 hits to the Tigers. Although the Muskegon club possessed plenty of stick power, it was the wildness on the part of Dutch pitchers that caused the greatest share of the trouble.

Meanwhile, Ott Smith, ace Muskegon hurler, sailed along in fine fashion. He allowed just two hits and two walks before he was relieved in the closing stages of the contest. He fanned nine batters in his stint on the mound, with the Maroons having trouble getting the ball out of the infield.

The Heights mentor left his regulars in most of the way and they kept the Dutch in trouble in every inning. Wayne Alofs started on the hill for Coach John Ham's club, but he was relieved in the first frame by newcomer, Al Bosch. Before they managed to retire the side, five Heights runners crossed the plate on just two hits.

Nine runs in the big second inning for the winners was the clincher. Oddly enough they managed only three hits in the uprising, but received five walks and an error. Two Heights doubles sparked the big uprising.

Christian had more success in the third frame as the invaders managed only one marker as Bosch started to settle down for the Dutch. A home run by Shortstop French, a double and a Maroon error paved the way for the Muskies' two tallies in the fourth.

Coach Johnson's club added two more in the fifth and one in the sixth before the game was halted in the seventh frame. Centerfielder Haan and French led the Muskegon attack with two hits apiece.

Christian never did threaten seriously, although they did manage to get two men on in both the first and fifth innings. Third baseman Vance Bouman and Leftfielder Ron Nykamp got the only two Christian hits.

The Maroons entertain Grand Rapids Christian here Thursday.

Willie Rink Teams With Don York to Stifle JC Batters

Veteran Willie Rink and Don York team up to limit Grand Rapids Junior College batters to a measly three singles Wednesday afternoon while Hope College batters teed off for 11 hits and a 6-3 opening game victory.

All three Raider runs in the game at Riverview Park were unearned.

Rink was touched for two singles in the first inning but settled down quickly and held the visiting batters hitless for the next five frames. Along the way he fanned eight batters.

A passed ball squeezed between those two first inning singles allowed the visitors their first run. However, Coach Russ De Vette's crew snapped back with two runs in the bottom of the same inning. Second baseman Dick Ortlund walked, stole second and scored on Leftfielder York's blooper over second. Third baseman Jim Van Hoven poked a single to right that scored York.

Raiders evened things in the 3rd after Kelley's drive to right field was misplayed by John Busman for a three-base error. However, in the bottom of the same inning Hope forged into the lead to stay. Centerfielder Alan Dykema paced the Hope onslaught with a long triple to the right-center field fence that drove in Shortstop Carl DeVree.

First Baseman Don Lubbers, who collected three for four, opened the fourth inning with a single. He moved on Busman's sacrifice and scored on Catcher Ron Boeve's drive through the middle. Lubbers drove in Dykema in the fifth inning with a single and Van Hoven in the seventh with a tremendous triple to the base of the grandstand in center field.

York took the hill in the seventh and retired six of the first seven Raiders to face him. In the top of the ninth, two infield errors, a force at second and two walks gave the visitors one run. But, with the bases loaded, Kelley sent a liner to short for a game ending double play.

Totals for Hope were six runs, 11 hits and four errors to three runs, the same number of hits and two errors for the Raiders.

Rink was the winning pitcher while Van Cassen was the loser. Schultz relieved Van Cassen in the eighth. Bylenga was behind the plate for the losers.
