In June 12 Election

Contracts for four new teachers for the 1961-62 school year were approved by the Board of Education at its monthly meeting in the library of E. E. Fell Junior High School Monday night.

Carol Brederland of Utica, Mich., whose husband will attend Hope College next year, will teach third grade. She is a graduate of Lee High School of Grand Rapids and Calvin College. She has had two years' teaching experience.

Gretchen Oostenik of Holland, a graduate of Roosevelt High School in Honolulu, Hawaii, and State University of Iowa, will be speech correctionist next year. She has had a year's teaching experience. Her husband will be teaching at Hope College.

The board passed a resolution accepting the offer of $140,000 from the Herrick Foundation for the new Hazel Forney Herrick Art Center at the new Holland High School and acknowledged receipt of $65,000. Contracts for the art center are being negotiated with firms holding contracts on the high school and letters of intent were approved for Elzinga and Volkert to furnish and install items for $33,000; Hertel Plumbing and Heating Co. for $45,000, and Holland Ready Roofing for $3,000.

A progress report on general construction revealed that structural steel erection is in progress on the two classroom units, along with pouring of floors in basement areas of the field house and the two classroom units. Mechanical and electrical rough-in work also is in progress.

Requests from the Joint City and School Recreational Committee listed $5,000 for the remainder of the year if available and asked consideration for $10,000 for the coming year's budget. The requests will be studied with final recommendations to be made by the finance committee.

The board expressed congratulations and best wishes to the new mayor and councilmen taking office the same evening, and expressed appreciation to Supt. Walter Scott and the local citizens committee working on publicity for the cause of schools in the annexation and detachment elections last week. It was suggested that local leaders meet soon with Maplewood school leaders to resolve current school problems.

Secretary James Hallan announced that the annual school election to fill two positions on the board will take place June 12. Petitions must be filed 30 days before the election. Members whose terms expire this year are Harry Frissel and Carl C. Andreesen.

Supt. Scott announced that Miss Clarice Kline, of Waukesha, Wis., president of the National Education Association, will be a guest of the schools of Holland May 18, the children's day of Tulip Time, and will address a banquet for teachers and administrative leaders that night in Phelps Hall on Hope College Campus.

Jack Plewes proposed a meeting of the teachers' committee of the board, the salary and welfare committee and the professional personnel committee of the Holland MEA district to work together on a proposed merit program for teachers. Plewes also reported on the convention of the American Association of School Administrators in Philadelphia which he and Frissel attended a few weeks ago. He said the reaction to the model of Holland's new high school met with an enthusiastic acceptance on the part of delegates from all over the country. He also expressed appreciation that the local administrative staff was aware and cognizant of many problems associated with education today.

The board took action giving official recognition to gymnastics as a varsity sport, thereby making way for suitable awards, etc. Gymnastics cover trampoline, parallel bars, horizontal bars, long horse and side horse, free exercise, long mat tumbling, still rings and moving rings. Gymnastics have been more popular on the east side of the state than on the west side, but is a fast growing sport and vocation, Coach Don Pietsma explained.

Bills for the month totaled $139,712.35 of which $104.50 went for teachers' salaries. President Frissel presided at the meeting which adjourned at 9:13 p.m. Wendell A. Miles gave the invocation. All members were present with the exception of Bernard Andreesen, who was sick and J. J. magazine.

Maroons Take 3rd in Meet

FENNVILLE — Holland Christian's track squad came in third in a triangular meet with Fennville and Lawton held on the Fennville track Tuesday afternoon.

Fennville copped the honors with 61 points, while Lawton had 49½ and Christian had 27½. It was the first meet for the Maroons this season and Coach Phil Persenaire said the inexperience and lack of conditioning really showed up.

"We still have a lot of work to do in order to get into proper shape," he reported.

Christian failed to take a first in the meet while Fennville copped seven and Lawton had six. Ted Strnad of the winners took first in both dashes and a third in the broad jump to lead his team. Werdling of Lawton was the big point getter with firsts in both hurdle events and in the pole vault. He also managed fourth in the shot put.

The point getters for the Maroons were Len Buursma, a second in the high and low hurdles; Dick Valk a fourth in a 100-yard dash; Clare Van Wieren, a fourth in the 880-yard run; Dave Tuls, third in the mile; Cal Lubbers and Howie Lubbers a tie for second in the pole vault; Andy Blystra, a second in the shot put; Klaasen, a second in the high jump and Valk, a second in the broad jump. The Maroons also took second in the mile relay.

One of the best times of the day was a 4:46 mile run by Brown of Lawton. Strnad also turned in a good 10.4 in the 100-yard dash.

Most of the other marks reflected the relay season form of all of the competitors.

The fourth annual 36-hole Tulip City Best Ball tourney will be held Aug. 11-12 and the 18-hole Labor Day Handicap tourney will be staged Sept. 4. Blind bogeys will be held Memorial Day, July 4 and Labor Day.

A new feature this season is a 72-hole full tournament from Sept. 9 to Oct. 4. The tourney will be in flights and individual medal play.

Russ Hornbaker, assistant pro, announced the schedule. In establishing a handicap 10 attested scores are needed and may include nine-hole scores. After the handicap has been established only 18-hole scores will be used for handicapping.

A player should have 10 scores turned in this year to enter any of the handicap tournaments after June 30. Hornbaker said "winter rules" would be in effect at the Legion and explained the rule changes.

He said on out of bounds and lost ball situations, the golfers will lose one stroke and distance. Golfers must play the ball as it lies in the sand traps but for "casual water" on the course the ball may be moved without loss of a stroke. Golfers will be permitted to improve their lie on their own fairway.

Len Bridge, finance director for the Western Open, explained how a big golf tourney is set up. The Western Open will be at Blytheville Country Club and will be a four-day 72-hole medal play tourney.

He assured the Holland group Gary Player, Masters champ, Arnold Palmer, Stan Leonard, defending Western champ, Dave Hill of Kalamazoo and Tuscon Open winner and Art Wall, Jr., would compete.

Others set for the Western are Mike Souach, Tommy Bolt, Lloyd Mangrum, Marty Furgol, Cary Middlecoff, Gene Littler, Ken Venturi, Don January, Bill Casper along with amateur Charley Coe and several other top pro and amateur golfers.

He hoped that Ben Hogan and Sam Snead, all-time favorites, and Jack Nicklaus, outstanding young amateur would participate. The Western is between the U.S. Open, scheduled the week before in Detroit and the Buick Open the week after.

Local Woman Killed When Hit by Train

Mishap Occurs Saturday
At Ninth St. Crossing
Near Lincoln Avenue

A 30-year-old Holland woman died early Sunday at a Grand Rapids hospital after being struck by a train in Holland Saturday night.

Mrs. William Fabiano of 26 West Eighth St. died of injuries at 12:15 a.m. Sunday at St. Mary's Hospital in Grand Rapids where she had been transferred earlier from Holland Hospital.

Officials said she suffered a skull fracture and multiple lacerations. According to medical examiner J. G. Mulder, death was accidental.

Holland police said the accident occurred at about 10:30 p.m. Saturday at the C & O crossing on Ninth St. near Lincoln Ave.

Police said Mrs. Fabiano was walking west on the south side of Ninth St. and apparently walked into the side of the southbound freight train. They said she struck the left side of the locomotive, near the front.

Brakeman Edwin Frazee and fireman Murle Don, both of Grand Rapids, told police they had seen the woman walking toward the train and shouted at her.

She had apparently been standing near the track talking with someone, police said, and turned around and walked into the side of the locomotive. She was thrown over 50 feet by the impact, police said.

The woman was rushed to Holland Hospital and later transferred to St. Mary's Hospital in Grand Rapids.

Police identified the train's engineer as Victor Camfield of Grand Rapids.

The 62-car freight train was traveling about 30 miles per hour, police said. It was bound from Grand Rapids to Chicago.

Mrs. Fabiano was born in Italy and has lived in Holland for the past six years. She was a member of St. Francis de Sales Church, the Altar Rosary Society, and a member of the Opt-Mrs. Club of Holland.

Board Mulls Repair for Court House

GRAND HAVEN — Certain repairs to the court house to take care of fire requirements and a long discussion on what to do with the old jail occupied the Board of Supervisors for most of the opening meeting Tuesday afternoon.

The board earmarked $600 for alterations in the court house to satisfy certain fire requirements, yet not enclose the entire stairwell in view of the fact that the court house may be replaced in three to five years and costly alterations should be avoided. The plan includes closing transoms and replacing glass door panels with fire resistant material, cutting a new door from probation consultation office to the court roof, and placing fire resistant glass in certain locations.

Considerable time was spent on discussing alterations for the old jail, to house several offices, but no action was taken. It was felt no great amount should be spent on the old building and it was pointed out that since the county has financed three buildings in the last five years, another building would involve a bond issue or a vote for extra millage.

Lawrence A. Wade of Holland was elected chairman without opposition after serving as vice chairman for two years. In accepting the position, the chairman said the county is on the way to a new and better building program and he hoped things would run as smoothly for him as they did under his predecessor, Robert L. Murray of Coopersville.

Henry Slaughter of Talmadge Township was elected vice president, edging out William Kennedy of Allendale in a secret ballot by a single vote, 16 to 15. Slaughter, one of the senior members of the board, has served about 30 years.

New members present at the opening term were Holland Mayor Nelson Bosman, Hudsonville Mayor J. C. Grysen, Neal Andre of Georgetown Township and Anthony Wolf of Robinson Township. George Wessel, assistant assessor of Grand Haven, replaced John Stap, city assessor, who entered Veterans Hospital in Ann Arbor earlier in the day.

The proposed budget for 1962 which was expected to be presented at the April session was withheld, awaiting the report of the Equalization Committee which will meet Thursday and Friday. Slaughter said he hoped to keep the budget at 4% mills for 1962.

A letter was read from William H. Nestle, inspector of the Department of Corrections, praising the county for its fine new jail. Nestle said it was one of the finest jails he has visited.

The board adjourned until Monday at 1:30 p.m. at which time the Road Commission will present its 1962 budget.

Allegan Turns Down Police Pay Increase

ALLEGAN—City council failed to pass a ten cent an hour wage raise for the city police Monday night by a vote of two to two, with one councilman absent, and decided the issue will be presented at a future meeting with all councilmen attending.

City Manager, Phil Beauvais reports the contract for the construction of a grit removal chamber at the sewage disposal plant was awarded to Allegan Construction Company for a bid of $9,200, the lowest of four bids. Among these requests is one from the cemetery commission asking for new sidewalk along Western Ave., which would be about $2,000; stump removal along this walk, cost not estimated; and paving of two drives and screened gravel spread on the remaining drives estimated to cost about $10,000 for paving and $4,000 for graveling.

Another request was for a life guard at Little John Lake which would cost about $650. Beauvais said the aviation association also have suggested the council keep them in mind when preparing the budget and have suggested expenditures for around $3,000.

QUALITY OF MERCHANDISE

This to us is a very important subject. Then there is the little matter of service. We also have heard many people over the country complain about the quality of some of the imported merchandise.

Quality control is a common word to all of us in this area as there are many meetings dealing with the quality of the products that we are producing. This can and does apply to every article that we use or eat or drink.

Now what are we, the people, going to do about some of the problems. We think that more and more all of us are going to need to continue to try and improve our product.

The service problem is one of the other problems that we are all faced with. More and more the cost of running service departments continues to increase. We are going to need more efficient production methods all along the line. We can do it if everyone would take more pride in their workmanship.

Many of the products that are being produced today are not made of the same material that some of the same products were made of in the past decade.

We have had to learn how to make these products and keep the prices within reach of the people. Here again is where we come back into quality control.

If you receive merchandise that does not measure up to the specifications then take it up with the retailer and he can take it to the supplier.

In most cases we find that they are glad to make the correction or the adjustment. If you are unable to get the matter straightened out we suggest that you write to the manufacturer. We have followed this line of procedure and in most cases have been able to straighten the matter out to our satisfaction.

This should not be necessary but with the mass production today there are bound to be some mistakes. We all make mistakes. Quality control is one of the processes that we think helps to iron out some of the difficulties. We have heard many people use the old expression "A squeaking wheel gets the most grease."

When the Righteous Suffer
Job 2:3-6; 19:13-21
By C. P. Dame

The word "why" is asked by young and old, rich and poor, the wise and the ignorant. The question, "Why do good people suffer?" is often asked because good people do suffer and sometimes they suffer because they are trying to be good. This lesson deals with a subject that is timely.

I. Life tests us all. Our lesson text records the second test which came to Job. In Job I there is the story of his first test. Job was a godly man, he "was perfect and upright, and one that feared God and eschewed evil. He lived a blameless life before God and man. God blessed him with a family of seven sons and three daughters who lived together joyously. Job was very wealthy. In chapter one there is pictured a heavenly council and Satan, "The Adversary" is also there. God mentions Job to Satan who said to Him, "Doth Job fear God for ought?"

In short, it paid Job to serve God and that is why he served Him. Satan believed that there is no such a thing as a disinterested worship and service of God. Satan got permission to test Job. Four messengers in quick succession came to Job, all with bad news. In a short time Job lost his cattle, camels, servants and sons and daughters. In the midst of his losses Job kept his faith.

Satan was unconvinced by the faithfulness of Job and asserted that "Skin for skin, yea, all that a man hath will he give for his life." Now Job was smitten with sore boils, "from the sole of his foot unto his crown." Although his wife did not offer Job any encouragement he did not sin with his lips but bore his suffering nobly, even though she said, "Dost thou still hold fast thine integrity? renounce God and die." By his faithfulness Job said that the Devil is a liar—people will lay down their lives for a cause or for a person.

Job keenly felt the change that had come into his life. Once he had been a man of standing—he became a nobody, some one who did not count. Once his counsel was sought but in his misery he was ignored. His brethren, the members of his own clan paid no attention to him. His former acquaintances slighted him. The maids and servants in his household disregarded him. He escaped death "with the skin of his teeth" or "by a close shave."

II. Suffering is universal, this truth, our lesson teaches. Some Christians think that they should have special protection and favors. The Hebrews of old believed that the godly would prosper but the wicked would suffer on account of their evil-doing. That is why the friends of Job accused him of sinning. This Job strongly denied. When we see fine, godly people suffering let us remember that no one escapes. All suffering is here because of the sin of the race. This does not mean that much affliction implies much sinning. Both the good and the bad suffer. No one, by becoming a Christian, will thereby dodge suffering.

This lesson does teach us that God gives grace to His people so that they can overcome suffering and make it meaningful in their lives. It is tragic to see people suffering in a rebellious mood. This usually adds to their suffering. It is most encouraging to see and meet people who through their suffering are made more spiritual. Some people get fruit out of their suffering—for instance, a greater faith, more compassion, more prayer and leaning upon God. There are benefits that come from suffering when the sufferer leans more heavily upon the everlasting arms.

Christian Cagers Honored at Team Dinner

honored guests from Calvin who were recognized by Harold Volkema, master of ceremonies, were Prof. Albert Muyskens, a former Calvin coach and the head mentor of Holland Christian's two state championship squads 1933-35; Donald Vroon, assistant cage coach at Calvin; James Kool, Calvin statistician and Ronald Windemulder, Calvin publicity chief.

In his remarks, Steen outlined some of the features which a coach looks for in a basketball team. He based his remarks on the theme, "balance," emphasizing individual balance and team balance. He outlined his philosophy of a co-collegiate program using a pyramid as an example. He said physical education which takes in a large number of students forms the base, while the group participating in intramural activities is a little smaller and higher on the pyramid. The smallest group are those engaged in intercollegiate athletics at the top of the pyramid. He then cited some of the values of the athletic program in a high school or college.

Coach Arthur Tuls spoke briefly and introduced the players. He presented the 13 members of the squad and the manager miniature trophies donated by Holland businessmen. On each trophy was inscribed the player's name and "Michigan Class B 1960-61 Runnersup."

Frank Visser, captain of the team, then presented Tuls with a similar large trophy also donated by Holland firms. Tuls was also presented with a large soft drink cooler.

The tables were decorated with maroon and white streamers with the head table holding the three basketball trophies won by the team this season. The banquet was arranged by Kelly Van Wieren and Henry Windemulder, fathers of players and Carl Edewards, a member of the 1954 Holland Christian runnerup squad.

BRITISH LINER SINKS—Smoke billows from the British liner 'Dara' as it drifted in the Persian Gulf Sunday before sinking early today. Hundreds of passengers aboard the ship jumped into the sea to avoid the flames. Company spokesmen said at least 160 persons are missing and presumed dead. (UPI radio-telephoto)

Holland Couple Survives Sinking

A Holland couple was among the 563 persons known to have been rescued from the British liner Dara which sank early today in the Persian Gulf after being ravaged by fires and explosions last weekend.

Dr. and Mrs. Gerald Nykerk, members of the American mission at Bahrain, an island in the Persian Gulf, just off the coast of Arabia, were picked up from a lifeboat by a British tanker.

The Nykerks, bound for India to attend graduation exercises for two of their three children at a mission school in Kodai Kanal, in southern India, had boarded the Dara at Bahrain Thursday.

The fires and explosions which ripped the 5,038-ton vessel occurred Saturday, after one day out of Bahrain.

Dr. Nykerk described the fire as a "holocaust." He said he had been awakened by an explosion.

"The whole center of the ship appeared to be ablaze," he said. "We could hear moans and groans."

"One lifeboat was lowered suddenly and my wife was left momentarily hanging at the end of the ladder more than 30 feet above the sea. People with us were afraid to go to the boats because the flames from the deck below were lapping the side of the ship."

Mrs. Nykerk said some people just fell into the sea "in confusion" and that she heard of some battling sharks.

Relatives of the Nykerks in Holland said they cabled the mission at Bahrain Saturday after hearing of the fire aboard the Dara. Relatives received a return cable Sunday which reported the Nykerks were safe. The cable did not indicate whether they had been injured in the ordeal, relatives said.

The Nykerks were enroute to Bombay, India, where they were to leave by train for Kodai Kanal, to the south, to attend graduation exercises for their son David, 19, and daughter Nancy, 17. The couple's second daughter, Laila, 15, also attends the interdenominational mission school.

After the graduation, which was scheduled for May 2, the family was to go back to Bombay where they were to board a ship for the United States. They had planned to return to the U.S. via the Pacific.

According to relatives, the Nykerks had just begun a one-year leave of absence. They had planned to spend the year in Holland before returning to Bahrain, relatives said.

The two older children, David and Nancy, were planning to enter Hope College next fall. Relatives said they did not know whether the couple's youngest child, Laila, would remain in school in Holland or go back to the mission school at Kodai Kanal.

The Nykerks were taking the leave of absence after spending seven years at Bahrain where Dr. Nykerk worked as a physician at the mission hospital.

Home Fire Kills Holland Man, 77

Louis Naberhuis Was Sitting in Kitchen Of His 10th St. Home

An elderly Holland man perished when fire gutted the kitchen of his home early Saturday.

Louis Naberhuis, 77, of 216 West 10th St., was found dead in a fire that gutted the kitchen of the blaze shortly after 3 a.m.

Police Find $4,694.53 In Pockets of Victim

Holland police, checking a quantity of money turned over to them, said that $4,694.53 had been taken from the clothing of Louis Naberhuis, who was found dead in a fire that gutted the kitchen of his home early Saturday.

According to Holland firemen, the money was discovered when Naberhuis' body was taken from the burning house. Firemen said the money had apparently been stuffed into the pockets of Naberhuis' overalls.

Police said a total of $3,000 was in $20 bills. There were many smaller bills, police said, and also a quantity of silver.

According to Fire Chief Dick Brandt, Naberhuis had failed to show up for work Thursday and Friday. He was employed at Western Michigan Furniture Co.

Neighbors said they had last seen Naberhuis Thursday night. Firemen said the blaze started in the kitchen of the two story frame house and a small electric heater may have caused the blaze.

Naberhuis, who lived alone, apparently lived in the kitchen at the rear of the house, firemen said. They said he had been using the electric heaters to heat the room.

Naberhuis' body was found in the kitchen where the blaze apparently started, firemen said. The body, although badly burned, was fully clothed, firemen said.

The fire was discovered shortly after 3 a.m. by Holland patrolmen John Vanden Bos and Jerry Kok while the two were on a routine patrol. They called the fire department and tried to get to Naberhuis in the burning house.

Patrolmen Ronald Myrick also came to the scene to aid Kok and Vanden Bos. The three officers said they kicked open the front door of the house but could not get into the kitchen because of heavy smoke and flames.

Flames had burned through the outside wall of the kitchen when firemen arrived, and firemen equipped with oxygen masks entered the house to remove Naberhuis.

Firemen confined the fire to the kitchen and one other room which were gutted by flames. Chief Brandt estimated damage to the

Federation Hears About Work in Leper Missions

A large group of women gathered at the Prospect Park Christian Reformed Church for the 42nd annual Praise Service of the Federation of Women's Societies of the churches of Holland and vicinity in the interest of Leprosy Missions Wednesday afternoon.

Dr. Orville McKay, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Midland, brought greetings from the Teles Leper Colony in Inhambane, Portuguese East Africa. Through word pictures, he described a recent trip to the colony, and gave a vivid picture of the work that is being done at the station.

With the introduction of new drugs for the treatment of leprosy, the nature of the camp is becoming more transient. All patients, who are able, help in the maintenance of the community. Some have garden plots, some raise chickens while others do sewing, carving and weave mats. All do their own washing. Some also help in the work of the hospital.

One of the native graduates of the pastor's training school at Cambine has been appointed to serve as chaplain and director of religious education at Teles. Fifty-five adults were baptized in 1960.

Last year a new water system was completed, providing water safe for drinking and cooking pumped directly to the village and into the dispensary. A second well at the river has a hand pump and a proper place for washing clothes has been provided so that no one need put hands or feet into the river where he could contract the dread disease of Bilharzia or be bitten by crocodiles. Dr. McKay told of the need for a new hospital with more beds for patients and room for modern surgery. A new kitchen is also needed badly, he said.

The devotions for the afternoon were given by Mrs. J. T. Hoogstra. Music was provided by Robert Friese, who sang "How Beautiful Upon the Mountains" by Harker. The offering, which amounted to $263.90, will be used to help in the support of the lepers at the Teles Colony. Mrs. William Hille-gonds led in the offertory prayer.

Mrs. George Damsen, president of the federation, presided at the meeting. She read excerpts from several letters from members of the staff at the Teles Colony. Dr. and Mrs. Robert Simpson, who took over the work at Chicique in Mozambique early in 1959 report they will be coming home on furlough in July. Miss Clara Bartling, head nurse and Mrs. C. J. Stauffacher also sent greetings. Mrs. Robert Strabbing presided at the organ and Mrs. Peter Slenk gave the closing prayer.

Mr. and Mrs. Garry S. Dreyer

The marriage of Miss Sandra Lynne Prins and Garry S. Dreyer was solemnized on March 30 at 8 p.m. in the Fourteenth Street Christian Reformed Church.

Pails, ferns, white glads and mums and seven branch candelabra formed the background for the double ring rites read by Dr. Simon J. De Vries.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Prins, 194 East 27th St., wore a miramist taffeta floor length gown with re-embroidered Alencon lace edging the sabrina neckline. The bouffant skirt ended in a chapel train falling from a butterfly bustle. Her elbow-length veil of illusion was held in place by a matching Alencon half-hat embroidered with sequins and pearls. She carried a white Bible with a white orchid and streamers. She was given in marriage by her father.

The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. George Dreyer of route 4.
