Supervisors Adopts Same 4.16 Millage

GRAND HAVEN — The Ottawa County Board of Supervisors Tuesday voted to spread 4.16 mills for operational purposes in 1964; the same millage spread for 1963.

The board also adopted a temporary 1964 budget of $1,431,554.63 with the foregoing conclusion that it would have to be paid by some $100,000 when the final budget is adopted in October, since spreading 4.16 mills would yield the lesser figure. The 1963 budget totaled $1,275,000.

Supervisor Lawrence A. Wade of Holland urged the board to continue its efforts to purchase 7,200 acres of "land use" federal land from the forestry department. He said a large group of North Ottawa residents plan to attend the National Chamber of Commerce convention in Washington, D.C., in May and suggested Clarence Reenders, conservation committee chairman, accompany the group to contact federal officials. The board voted $200 for the trip.

The board was informed that Holland city and Holland and Park Townships have adopted new marine regulations and are willing to appropriate $500 each for a "marine enforcement fund" for Lake Macatawa. The resolution stated that the state will match the $1,500, making $3,000 in available funds to enforce boating laws.

There is $1,800 in the county-wide fund for marine law enforcement through the sheriff's department to be used on Lake Macatawa, Spring Lake, Grand River and other bodies of water in the county this summer. The enforcement situation will receive further consideration at today's session.

In a request tabled previously, the board voted to permit establishment of a man-made lake, Lake Crystal Springs, in a real estate development in Georgetown. The county will seek determination of the lake level in Circuit Court.

Board Chairman Robert W. Murray reported that Howard Fant has asked to be excused from serving on the Youth Home committee of the board. J. Nyhof Poel was placed on the committee.

J.F. Donnelly Cites Benefits

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — John F. Donnelly, national secretary-treasurer of the National Council of Catholic Men, said Wednesday Catholic education is "the greatest bargain ever offered to the American people."

Donnelly, of Holland, Mich., told the 60th annual conference of the National Catholic Educational Association "Americans are reputed to have a sharp eye for a bargain and to place a high value on money."

"If we look at Catholic education in this light," Donnelly said, "it is the greatest dollar contribution that any group makes to the American people—a good estimate of the cost of the total Catholic education program is in excess of $2 billion."

Donnelly challenged his audience to "compare this with the total budget of $520 million for the United Fund or $89 million for the Red Cross, both local and national."

BPW Buys Water Main Equipment

The Board of Public Works Monday approved several purchases of equipment for its 1963 water main program.

James B. Clow Co. of Chicago, lowest of eight bidders, was awarded a contract for 21,600 feet of pipe in six, eight and 12-inch sizes at a cost of $41,532. The Clow Co. also was low bidder for 84 valves at a cost of $5,021.01. Seven bids had been submitted.

Contracts for valve boxes and fittings went to East Jordan Iron Works for $4,319.63, lowest of 10 bids.

A total of 45 hydrants will be purchased from Mueller Co. of Decatur, Ill., at a cost of $5,867.50, lowest of seven bids.

Bids received on 30,000 tons of stoker coal and 45,000 tons of pulverized coal were referred to Supt. Guy E. Bell for further study. There were nine bids on stoker coal and 12 on pulverized coal. Final determination is made on heating power as well as price.

BPW officials pointed out that the bids on pipe were under those submitted in 1962, a particularly welcome quotation in view of increasing steel prices.

Guests Check Machinery

Three Japanese, two from Tokyo and another from Chicago, stopped at the Lithbar Co. at 345 West 14th St. Wednesday to take a look at machinery that builds blocks.

Two of the men, Tadao Shinya and Minoru Ishebashi, are the directors of a newly formed company in Tokyo, the Tokyo Prefabricated Concrete Industry Company, Ltd. Akira Miyaguchi, assistant manager of the Chicago branch of the Tokyo Mitsui & Co., Ltd., was also with the two men from Japan.

The use of concrete blocks in building is relatively new in the industrialization of Japan, according to Miyaguchi, who came to Chicago last year.

In a city as densely populated as Tokyo, he said, fire proof materials must be used; wood is also rapidly becoming scarce in Japan. The Japanese government presently requires all government building projects to be built from blocks, Miyaguchi said.

The two directors from Japan have been in the United States for the past week and will go on to Europe looking at machinery before they return home. All machinery for building blocks is bought from U.S. manufacturers, Miyaguchi said.

Several block making companies have sprung up in Tokyo since its innovation in Japan about ten years ago, he said, and there is still an increasing demand for it there.

Stretch of M-40 To Be Repaired

City Engineer Laverne Serne received word Monday that the Michigan State Highway Commission has allocated approximately $70,000 for repair and resurfacing of M-40 south of the US-31 bypass to a point where the cement highway begins some distance south of 48th St.

The work will be done after the Tulip Time festival and possibly into the summer, Serne was informed.

This stretch of blacktop was damaged in the spring breakup.

Dr. Simon Blocker, 81-year-old resident of Resthaven Home, was a classmate of the late Dr. J. Carleton Pelgrim while attending Preparatory School at Hope College back in 1897. The two also were classmates at New Brunswick Seminary in New Jersey from 1905 to 1908. Dr. Pelgrim died Monday in Coral Gables, Fla., at the age of 79. Dr. Blocker retired in May of 1952 after serving numerous years as instructor at Western Theological Seminary.

Mrs. Henry Steffens of the Herick Library Board of Trustees and trustee chairman of the Michigan Library Association is at Olivet College today where she will speak on "Experiences With Community Groups and Other Donors," at the District II meeting of the Library Association.

Board Votes To Retain Closing Law

GRAND HAVEN—For the second time within a month, the Ottawa County Board of Supervisors Tuesday decided not to exempt the county from the controversial weekend closing law. The issue, often called the Sunday closing law, already has been thrown out in 56 counties in Michigan.

The 19 to 11 vote followed a half-hour hearing during which two clergymen of the Seventh Day Adventist Church pleaded with the board to exempt Ottawa from the law. Although most supervisors voted to throw out the law, the vote lacked the necessary two-thirds majority.

Last March 27, the vote was 20 to 11 in favor of exempting the law. On that occasion, William Koop of Holland was the only absent member of the 32-man board. On Tuesday, Holland City Manager Herb Holt substituted for Koop and added another "yes" vote. But two members who previously had voted "yes" were absent Tuesday, Howard Fant of Grand Haven and Lester Veldheer of Olive Township.

Another setback to the "yes" forces was that Louis Volland who voted "yes" at the first hearing voted "no" Tuesday, cancelling out the "yes" vote of a new member, Raymond Vander Laan of Hudsonville, replacing Herman Vande Bunte, who had voted "no" last time.

Several other new supervisors who were elected April 1 voted the same as their predecessors. Voting "no" were Albert Sall of Allendale, Gerald De Windt of Georgetown and Frank Hoogland, new mayor of Zeeland. Voting "yes" were Hugh Henry of Marne and Marlin Sheridan of Conkling.

First to speak at the hearing was Pastor Hollis Morel of Holland who repeated charges he made at the March 27 hearing that uniformed citizens in the county have been deceived and have been told it is a "religious law." He claimed the law is a restriction on merchants who cannot use their property as they see fit.

The Rev. Jeremiah Floris of Grand Haven asked why the law is not called a "health and recreation" law rather than a Sunday closing law, and he opposed the state's attempt to legislate religious principles.

Arthur Thomas, a Robbins Rd. merchant who operates a large store day and night seven days a week, also reappeared, claiming the law "will be kicked out" before another year passes. "Why not do away with it now?" he asked.

Supervisor Gerrit Botema of Spring Lake said he favored the law and took exception to remarks of the pastors. "The men at Lansing have passed it. Let's enforce it," he said.

But R. V. Terrill and Herb Holt, city managers of Grand Haven and Holland, strongly urged the board to exempt this county. Holt said that it was simply a maximum work law, poorly drawn up and totally unenforceable.

Allegan County which borders Ottawa County was the first of the 56 counties to exempt the controversial law. Holland city lies in both Allegan and Ottawa counties, Kent and Muskegon counties also have exempted the law.

Michigan Bell Delivers Books

Michigan Bell Telephone Company started delivery of its 1963 Holland-Zeeland telephone directory Wednesday announced Carl J. Marcus, manager here for the company.

Some 26,300 copies of the new edition will be distributed.

Marcus urges all telephone users to pay particular attention to the emergency numbers section on page 1 of the new book. Here, the telephone company has provided space for writing in local fire and police department numbers, and the number of the family doctor.

"In emergencies it is most helpful to have these numbers readily available to all members of the family," Marcus said.

"In addition," he explained, "Michigan Bell's operators are trained to handle all kinds of emergency calls whenever 'Operator' is dialed."

"Our operators enjoy a long-standing tradition of coming to the aid of persons who have dialed 'O' in emergencies," he added.

Deputies Investigate Gas Station Breakin

Ottawa sheriff deputies are investigating the break-in of the Short Cut Garage at 238 North 120th Ave., where gum, cigarettes, and money were taken sometime during the night.

The owner, Gordon Dams, told deputies that someone had kicked in the back door and pried open the top of a cigarette machine with a screwdriver. The amount of money and cigarettes taken from the machine was undetermined. Two cartons of gum were also taken.

Dedication Set Saturday At Allegan County Jail

ALLEGAN — Dedication ceremonies for Allegan County's new jail are set for 2 p.m. Saturday, at the main entrance right across the street from the 1906 model.

Saturday and Sunday, county residents are being invited to tour their $445,000 building between the hours of 2 and 6 p.m. Sheriff Robert Whitcomb and his staff expect to be fully operational at the new quarters Thursday, April 20.

Allegan attorney, Chester A. Ray, will deliver the dedicatory address. County historian, John Pahl, also a supervisor representing Allegan city, will relate a brief history of the two jails built prior to the new one. The Rev.

Stanley Siebersma, Allegan Christian Reformed church pastor, and the Rev. Paul Schneider, St. Margaret's Catholic church, Oshtemo, will pronounce the invocation and benediction.

Greg Nulty, board of supervisors' chairman, will act as master of ceremonies, and music will be provided by the Allegan High School band.

Members of the jail building committee of the board of supervisors: Francis Brower, chairman; Francis Cronen, Bernard Miller, Jacob Vander Polen, and Nulty, will serve as guides for the public tours.

Surmounting all other features are the security precautions built into the new structure. The main floor will hold 60 prisoners dispersed in single, 4-6 inmate, incorrigible, and two tank-type cells. A remote control system locks the cell block; and an inter-com between office and cell block and an electronic control for the garage doors, add to safety measures.

Sealed off from the rest of the jail is the radio room, designed to forestall any situation arising that would prevent the operator from calling for outside help. The remainder of the administrative area—offices, squad room, doctor's office—provide personnel with maximum protection and efficiency.

Ultra-modern living quarters for the sheriff and his family are on the second floor which also contains a large well-equipped kitchen for prisoner meal preparation, food cooling and storage rooms. The roof over both wings is constructed to provide additional cell and service areas as required.

The first shoveling of dirt at ground breaking ceremonies for the new building May 3, 1962, was appropriately turned at the site of the county's first jail, a small frame structure housing a court room and sheriff's residence, with a lean-to of logs serving as a lock-up, completed in 1840.

As work progressed last summer, bulldozers brought to light old cobblestones, square iron nails, and broken earthenware from that early site.

Total Tax Levy Rises $56,998

The city budget for 1963-64 calling for a total tax levy of $865,601.86, an increase of $56,998.56 over last year, was presented to City Council by City Manager Herb Holt Wednesday night.

Total general fund expenditures in the new budget are $1,481,920.10 compared with $1,368,844.08 in 1962. These figures do not include Holland Hospital or the Board of Public Works which operate under separate budgets. Also included is a brief account for Project Windmill which does not affect the tax rate since financing calls for revenue bonds.

Council adopted a resolution accepting the budget, ordered the city clerk to place a copy on file in his office and set May 1 as date for public hearing and final adoption. A summary will appear in The Sentinel about a week before the public hearing.

This figure would carry a tax rate of $19.11 per $1,000 assessed valuation, an increase of approximately $1.40 over last year's rate of $17.71. This, Holt said, is the computed rate for Allegan and Ottawa counties. City residents in Allegan county will have a rate slightly under that of Ottawa county because of a county welfare arrangement, but will be billed more in the winter taxes because of the welfare setup.

The tax rate is spread on a total assessed valuation of $45,291,705 for the city, slightly decreased from last year's figure of $45,651,455. The decrease of $359,750 amounted to .8 per cent, due largely to adjustment in personal property assessments.

Budget figures allow for a 5 per cent increase in salaries "across the board" for city employees plus some individual adjustments.

Also in the budget is provision for the share of Board of Public Works profits, earmarked at $275,000 or 50 per cent of the estimated profit of $550,000. Of the $275,000 figure, $175,000 will be turned over to the general fund and $100,000 into the capital improvement fund available for long term capital improvements. Last year, $125,000 went into the general fund.

The improvement fund was established in 1955, mostly from BPW profits above the figure given to the general fund. It was used for buying property for the new library, Smallenburg park and Roamer Boat Co. It also has lent money to the parking meter fund to speed up offstreet parking developments. The fund could be used for a new fire station, swimming pool or any project Council might designate. Present balance in the fund is $82,241.86.

Holt said the budget also includes a $1,500 item for plans for a new fire station in the Holland Heights area.

Of the total tax levy, $674,407.86 is earmarked for the general fund, an increase of $39,242.56 over the 1962 total. The library fund lists a total budget of $97,557, an increase of $19,119 over 1962, a good share of the increase to go for new books.

Debt retirement needs this year total $93,637 covering the hospital, Civic Center and the new sewage plant. This is $1,363 less than debt retirement in 1962.

The new $19.11 tax rate is under the $19.87 rate in 1961. The rate was lowered to $17.71 last year when Council was anxious to keep the rate down because of public school needs, Holt said.

Hold Local Man After Bank Holdup

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—Bernie J. West, 30, Holland, who admitted a $9,519 bank holdup last week, will be sentenced May 7 by U.S. District Judge Raymond W. Starr.

West pleaded guilty to the armed robbery of the Morley State Bank at Morley Wednesday. A factory worker who spent six years in prison for bank burglary, West told officers he robbed the bank because of debts.

West also had been convicted three other times of breaking and entering.

He is held in the Kent County Jail in lieu of $20,000 bond.

A Holland man who pulled a daring daylight robbery at the bank in Morley, Mich., Friday noon, was in the custody of Mecosta County authorities and State Police today after his capture south of Holland two hours after the robbery.

Bernie West, 30, of 601 Bay Ave., surrendered meekly to Ottawa County Sheriff Bernard Grysen and County Detective John Hemple on the old Saugatuck Rd., three miles south of Holland, at about 2 p.m.

West's capture came after a wild, high-speed chase involving two Sheriff's Dept. cruisers. It climaxed an intensive search for the bandit in which roadblocks were set up throughout Western Michigan.

The stolen money, totaling $9,519 and a .38 caliber revolver were on the front seat of West's car when he surrendered.

Authorities said West walked into the Morley bank just before noon Friday, produced the gun, and demanded money from the bank president, William E. Turner. Two other persons were in the bank.

Turner said the bandit had a burlap bag, into which he stuffed the money. As the robber fled, Turner took the license number of the red 1960 model car.

Morley is located on US-131, about 40 miles north of Grand Rapids. West, who had lived in Sparta and was familiar with the area, kept to back roads to avoid roadblocks as he wormed his way to Holland.

Meanwhile, authorities were checking on the license number. The car was found to have been registered to West in Kent County.

Sheriff Grysen said Kent County authorities were familiar with West, and believed that he lived in the Holland area. The Kent County Sheriff's Dept. notified Ottawa Sheriff's men that the license number had been traced to West.

Ottawa County detective John Hemple went to the neighborhood of West's home on Bay Ave. to find out if he still lived there. He learned that West had purchased gasoline at a service station in the Central Park area at 9 a.m. Friday morning.

Hemple and Sheriff Grysen, who was also in the area, were preparing to contact Holland police and arrange a stakeout at West's home, when Grysen, headed into Holland on South Shore Dr., spotted West's car coming from the other direction.

Grysen said he turned his car around and followed West, who immediately turned left off South Shore Dr. in Central Park, and headed south, on Myrtle Ave.

West made several turns, and returned to South Shore Dr., then crossed into the Central Park area along Lake Macatawa. Grysen said he lost West at this point, and returned to South Shore Dr. to pick him up again if he attempted to head west or south.

Grysen said he spotted West again as he came onto South Shore Dr., and sped west. Hemple, who was in the neighborhood of West's home, joined the chase as West careened around the turn at 160th St., and headed south again. Holland police were radioed for assistance.

Grysen said the brakes on his cruiser went out of commission as the two sheriff's cars raced after West, past the Windmill Station intersection on 32nd St., south on 64th Ave. Three miles south of 32nd St., Hemple forced him off the road.

Later, under questioning, West told officials, "I needed the money." He said bills had been piling up, and he had been laid off for a week at Holland Hitch Co., where he was a painter.

Firemen Answer Call

Holland firemen answered a fire call at 3:50 a.m. Monday. Some leaves were burning at 27th St. and Lincoln Ave. Origin of the fire was undetermined, firemen said.

The Rev. Ananda Perera, former Buddhist of Ceylon who is now a missionary serving the Dutch Reformed Church in Ceylon, will speak at the Men's Breakfast at the Youth for Christ Clubhouse Saturday at 6:30 a.m.

The Ottawa County 4-H Clubs are sponsoring a 4-H skating party for the Holland district on Monday, April 22, at the Zeeland Coliseum. Members may bring friends. Skating will be from 7 to 10 p.m.

SHOCKED BY DISASTER — David R. Smith of 129 East 21st St., a pharmacist's mate aboard the submarine USS Chopper, was in Holland on leave when the nuclear submarine USS Thresher was lost in the North Atlantic. Smith said he knew many of the 129 men aboard the Thresher, and had some close friends on board. Smith once served on the Thresher, substituting for the regular pharmacist's mate on a one-day patrol.

Thresher Sinking Close to Home

The loss of the nuclear submarine, USS Thresher, early last week was a particular shock to one local man.

David R. Smith, of 129 East 21st St., Holland, is a 16-year veteran of the submarine service. He was in Holland on leave when news of the Thresher disaster was given out.

The Thresher disappeared in the North Atlantic, during a series of diving tests. Navy officials declared the submarine lost, with all 129 persons aboard.

The submarine service is a small, closely-knit arm of the Navy, Smith said, and "you know practically everyone in it."

Smith said two brothers on the Thresher, John and Ben Shaker of Groton, Conn., were close friends of his. "I spent some time with them last summer. It was the last I saw of them."

Smith, a pharmacist's mate on the USS Chopper, a non-nuclear sub stationed at Key West, Fla., said he served aboard the Thresher on one occasion.

"The Thresher used to be stationed at Key West, and I went out on her when the regular pharmacist's mate had to stay behind because of some emergency. I was on her for only a day, though."

Smith said the Thresher was on a shakedown cruise after being recommissioned in a Navy yard. "That's the worst kind of cruise," he said.

"Coming out of the yard is the period we fear most. There's only one thing to do to find out if anything is malfunctioning: dive with it and give it a good workout."

"The people who work over our boats in the yards are extremely careful. But a submarine is a big, complicated thing. It's hard to be absolutely sure no one has made a mistake."

Zeeland

The Zeeland Lions Club was host to an inter-zone Lions meeting at Van Raalte's restaurant last Monday night.

Clubs attending were from Hudsonville, Cutlerville, Byron Center and Holland. About 135 Lions Club members from the five clubs attended.

Gordon Smith, Lions State Secretary from Lansing, was the guest speaker. His topic was "What Kind of a Lion Are You?"

Zeeland Kiwanis member John Hoogland was the local club's program speaker at his meeting Tuesday.

Mr. Hoogland reviewed the history of the local Kiwanis since its organization on April 23, 1951. This month marks the 12th anniversary of the Zeeland Kiwanis Club.

Speaker at next week's meeting will be Zeeland Hospital Administrator Robert Loetz who will discuss the operation of the hospital, and what service clubs can do to assist the hospital.

Miss Dorothy Sytsma and Mrs. Vicente Izquierdo will be the main speakers at the Christian Reformed Women's Missionary Union meeting Thursday in the First Christian Reformed Church.

Miss Sytsma, speaker for the 1:30 p.m. sessions, is a Bible School teacher among the Jukun people in Nigeria. Mrs. Izquierdo will speak at the "Cuban Evening" program set for 7:30 p.m. She and her husband organized the Cuban Interior Gospel Mission in 1940.

David Bosscher, assistant secretary to the Home Mission Board of the denomination will show slides about the work among Cuban refugees.

Music for the evening session will include singing in Spanish and English by Elsie and Tessie Luria, members of a Cuban refugee family now living in the Zeeland area.

Mrs. Gerrit Van Tamein who

What happened to the Thresher? Smith said he couldn't speculate, but he said that if there was a malfunction, it would have to have been bad enough to put both the hydraulic system and the air system out of commission.

"Hydraulic power works a submarine's planes and vents; if the hydraulic system goes out you lose control of the ship, but you can still blow out the air tanks to get to the surface."

If the air system is out of commission, Smith said a submarine can still regain the surface by angling the diving planes to go up, and running the engines at top speed. "It makes you sweat a bit, but you can do it—if you have room."

But if the Thresher lost both her air and her hydraulic power, "that would be it," said Smith. "They wouldn't have a chance."

He pointed to the service's safety record down through the years. "Everytime you go out you're subject to these dangers. With the amount of dives the submarines have made, they really have a fantastic record. One sub just went out of commission after 10,000 dives."

"After 25 years, this is the first real accident we've had. It's an occupational hazard."

Smith, himself, is transferring to a Thresher-class nuclear submarine soon. The USS Garbo, now being built at New London, Conn., by the Electric Boat Co., goes into service in May, and Smith will be aboard.

And another member of the family is also bound for the submarine service. Smith's stepbrother, Carl J. Jungblut, 22, of 129 East 21st St., begins his training at the submarine academy at New London, Conn., later this month.

Smith said he'll go along, "to help Carl get settled."

Tulip Time is just around the corner, and lots of plans are under way for another big festival May 15 through 18. The Chamber of Commerce receives lots of letters and inquiries on the festival. A few samplings are given here.

Mrs. Von E. Knisely of Ypsilanti writes she had just read an article in "Changing Times" entitled "America the Beautiful, Heritage or Honky-Tonk?" and recalled a wonderful weekend spent with her scout troop at Kiwanis Kamp some years ago.

Outstanding things, she said, were the genuine friendliness of the people on the street, in the stores, the atmosphere of Holland through its costumes, the tulips, and, of course, the dancers.

"I hope you will be able to withstand the temptation to commercialize this atmosphere through cheap junky trinkets or worthless souvenirs. Instead, capitalize on your real Dutch heritage. I can still see Windmill Park, the museum, the wooden shoes being made. That summer we took our family back to Holland and they couldn't help catching our enthusiasm for your parks and all other places I had mentioned."

The Blevins School of Stage Dancing in Cleveland, Ohio, sent out an SOS for new wooden shoes for its Dutch Dollie. The size was 7 1/2 AA and the show was only five days off. The parcel went out COD.

A request from a youngster in McKinley Public School in St. Paul, Minn., sought information on Tulip Time. "In Saint Paul we have skating, skiing, racing, tobogganing and fun," the youngster wrote.

Another St. Paul youngster asked the question, "If it rains all night and day, would there be too much water for the tulips? Could they drown?"

Other Chamber mail concerned other subjects.

A Holland youngster wrote the chamber for information on the Nile River. Her assignment was due two days later.

Another youngster wrote from Grosse Pointe Park for information on Holland. She had been picked to write about this city and wanted information on natural resources, animals, wild life, skunks, weasels, squirrels, waste land, early history and postcards. A child in Wahiawa, Oahu, Hawaii, wrote to thank the Chamber for sending information on Holland, Mich.

Another communication to the Chamber suggested a new theme for Holland—"Dispersion." This, the writer felt, would be the answer to the A-bomb problem since big cities are potential targets. "Your factory and your family will be SAFER at Holland" was a suggested slogan.

Isn't it wonderful to have spring after a long, hard winter! It seems Holland people never before were quite so desperate for green grass and early flowers as this year when snow covered the ground continuously for 107 days (count 'em, Dec. 3 through March 22).

Jim Thomas of Yakutat, Alaska, a senior at Hope College, had a fine chuckle at the expense of Michigan winters. While Holland was buried in snow, his home town had had no snow since Christmas. The temperatures late in February were in the 40's and 50's and buttercups were blooming by March 5. Yakutat is in the southeastern part of Alaska, the land of the Eskimos.

Feeding the birds reached big proportions in Holland during the prolonged period of slim pickings for our feathered friends. Bird feeding stations are in most neighborhoods.

Back in February, Mrs. John Koning was quite shaken to see a chicken hawk swoop down on her bird feeding station and snatch up a small bird, presumably a sparrow. The Koning home is located at 39 East 30th St.

When it comes to Tulip Time inquiries, postal workers all over the nation are seldom baffled.

When a letter from North Carolina was addressed Chamber of Commerce, Tulip, Mich., it arrived at the Tulip Time office in Civic Center promptly, less than 48 hours after it passed through the cancelling machine in the North Carolina post office.

De Boer Gets Class B Rating

William J. De Boer of 620 Maple Ave., has been awarded a sewage treatment plant operators Class B certificate of achievement the Michigan Department of Health announced today.

De Boer and Leon E. Veldhuis of Zeeland, who received a Class D certificate, were among 120 sewage treatment plant superintendents and operators who received certificates. The annual written test was administered to 190 applicants.

The Health Department classifies sewage treatment plants as A, B, C, or D according to size, type and location. The examination for the higher classifications becomes progressively more difficult, Don Pierce, Sewage Section Chief of the Health Department's Division of Engineering, said.

Pierce said an operator may be certified to operate any or all of the four classes of plants. This year, 82 of the certificate recipients upgraded their classification as a result of the examination.

This is the highest number of men to be certified in one year since the certification program started 12 years ago. The percentage of men taking the examinations who passed is also the highest ever recorded, Pierce said.

Pierce felt the training programs of the state health department and the incentive of the applicants were two factors for the high number of men passing the examinations.

Deputies Report Cottage Breakins

Ottawa sheriff deputies are investigating the breaking and entering of two summer cottages over the weekend where numerous household articles were reported stolen from one of the cottages.

George Robinson of Grand Rapids told deputies Sunday that someone had gained entrance to his cottage at Lakeshore Dr. and Crab St. by breaking a small window on the east side of the cottage.

Servos Van Kovering, also of Grand Rapids, told deputies Saturday that someone had kicked in the side door to his cottage at 2119 Terrace, at Ottawa Beach.

Robinson said articles taken from his cottage included a portable radio, a woman's car coat, a five-cell battery flashlight, sheets, blankets and pillowcases, towels, a broom, mop and pail, several knives and a 60 pound gas tank. Two sofa pillows were taken from Van Kovering's cottage.

Runaway Boy Finds Pal In Deputy Doing Duty

How many times does a boy dream of running away from home? For Charlie, about 8 or 9, Thursday was the day. He had received one spanking too many in the Comstock Park foster home where he was staying.

He was picked up Thursday at U.S. 31 and M-50 by Ottawa sheriff deputy Wallace Blair, to be returned home. Charlie had hitchhiked his way across Ottawa County about a distance of 25 miles before he was picked up and transferred to Grand Rapids authorities.

But before he was picked up, he found a dollar bill and went on a shopping spree buying the all American boy's favorites: wieners, peanut butter and bread. And for some unexplainable reason, he also bought a tablet.

Charlie seemed to become attached with the sheriff deputy while waiting for his return ride to Comstock Park. He played with the car's spot light and the deputy explained what all the police radio messages meant.

And then Charlie took out his little tablet and scribbled a note on it, "A gift for you, Wally Blair," and signed his name. Blair was pleased, he said. To a boy Charlie's age, a blank piece of paper with his name on it was a treasured gift to give a sheriff deputy.

The deputy replied, saying his wife would appreciate the gift. But the sheet of paper was not the gift. Charlie handed the deputy his sack of wieners, peanut butter and bread, before he was returned to the foster home. Grand Rapids authorities are checking how children are treated at the foster home, Blair said.

SPRING IS BEAUTIFUL

A friend of ours who moved to California several years ago finds some disadvantages as well as advantages to the California climate. One of his observations is that the landscape is monotonously green the year around. The blaze of fall colors which Michiganders enjoy so much is not in evidence in most parts of Southern California at any time.

Perhaps to the Californian or the Floridian the Michigan springtime is nothing unusual. But to the Michigan native it is a thing of great beauty. It is the amazing change which makes it so. Only people who have tolerated a real Michigan winter can fully appreciate the newness and vitality of Spring. Even in a rainy drizzle, spring is beautiful in Michigan.

Our four seasons can be counted on to have something different for us almost every day in the year. As the world grows smaller by reason of the fast methods of transportation we find that it is fine to go away for a short stay many times during the year as we work.

Most businesses today require many trips of one kind and another. Most people we know find that it is fine to go away but that it is also fine to return home to their Michigan Water Wonderland.

Thousands of people are returning home to Michigan. They seem to arrive with many of the feathered friends that return to our great state each year. This is a fine time to do the fix-up-paint-up and clean-up.

It will only be a short few weeks until Tulip Time when thousands of visitors will return to our Festival. The tulips are already starting to show their growth. Many of the bushes and trees are budding. Spring is in the air. April has reached the half way mark.

Mission Drive Set at Hope

Activities are being held on the Hope College campus this week to raise funds for the annual Mission Drive, sponsored by the Student Christian Association.

One of the primary events is a student-faculty auction scheduled today at 6:45 in Winants Auditorium. Last year such items as meals and school supplies, and services as paper-typing, shirt-ironing and car-washing, brought in nearly $200 for the mission cause.

Last year funds from the auction, a Shakespeare marathon and other offerings went to establish a scholarship fund at Voorhees College in Vellore, India.

This year Hope College has committed itself to the work of World University Service, with special emphasis on Hong Kong.

W. U. S. is an international organization dedicated to mutual assistance in meeting the most crucial needs of the university community throughout the world. It consists of the combined efforts of more than 40 countries, says Virginia Mortensen, chairman. More than 600 U. S. colleges contribute.

Since its founding after World War I, the organization has grown into a world-wide operation of students and professors.

Sunday School Lesson

Psalms in Worship and Life
Psalms 1 and 15
By C. P. Dame

With this lesson we are beginning a series of eleven Psalms. In the New Testament there are more than ninety quotations from the Psalms. Many Christians are fond of the Psalms and read them much. In this course we will study some of the more familiar Psalms. Let us hope that the study will make us appreciate the Psalms more than ever. In this lesson we will study two Psalms and both teach that there are two ways of living—The godly and the godless.

1. There are two kinds of people and they live differently. We do not know who wrote Psalm 1. The Psalm is composed of two divisions. In verses 1 to 3 the enduring prosperity of the righteous is described and verses 4 to 6 tell about the speedy ruin of the wicked. Note that the writer makes much of the importance of environment. A person chooses his company.

Who is blessed? Many think that the man who makes millions is bound to be blessed, that is happy, but this is not so. "Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the wicked, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful." The blessed man does not associate with the wicked, with sinners, with the scornful who cut God and conscience and goodness out of life.

Observe that the words "walketh," "standeth" and "sitteth" teach that when a person decides upon a wrong way he goes from bad to worse. The righteous man knows this and therefore avoids the evil-doer.

The writer also tells what the godly man does—he finds his pleasure in doing the law of God and meditating upon it. His outward conduct shows that he has an inner delight in the things of God. "And he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water"—God's grace refreshes him. He will enjoy true success.

II. There are two destinies. We are accountable to God. The ungodly "are like the chaff which the wind driveth away," they are rootless, fruitless, useless. Marked is the contrast between the godless and the godly now. This contrast will continue.

We shall all be judged. Following the judgment there will be a separation. We are living in a time when universalism is popular. The Bible does not teach it but speaks of two destinies. The Psalmist says that "the ungodly shall not stand in the judgment, nor sinners in the congregation of the righteous."

III. Worshipers of God have obligations. A worshiper should walk uprightly. God approves the man who "speaketh the truth in his heart," shows agreement between profession and performance. The worshiper does not slander his neighbor but he dislikes rogues.

We so easily excuse wrongdoers today. The man who "sweareth by his own heart and changeth not," that is who keeps his word and fulfills his promises pleases the Lord. In the Orient usury and bribery were common. Excessive interest is usury. This is wrong and forbidden.

The Bible teaches honesty. Some people in these times demand excessive payment for work done and this is displeasing to God. It is commendable to worship God in the sanctuary but that should be followed by sound Christian living.

Asks Allegan To Plan for Juvenile Home

ALLEGAN—Probate Judge Harold Weston, pointing out that funds for the new county juvenile home would be available by the end of the year, Tuesday urged the County Board of Supervisors to start making plans for the project.

Judge Weston requested committee study on the selection of a site and designation of an architect for the project.

Most board members have agreed privately that county-owned property adjoining Dumont Lake, four miles north of Allegan, seemed to be the "most logical site." The county medical care facilities and infirmary already are located on this property.

Judge Weston also asked that the finance committee take the fact that the home might be in operation during the last quarter of 1964 into consideration in preparing its preliminary budget for next year.

He estimated annual operating costs at $13,675 and asked the committee to include $3,419 in its budget for 1964. Weston also pointed out that operating costs of the facility would come under the child care program, with the state sharing in the expense on an equal basis.

Cost of constructing the juvenile home has been estimated at $150,000 with between $10,000 and $15,000 for furnishings. Weston said he has asked the board to consider a building with capacity for at least fifteen children.

Hope Initiates New Program In Languages

Hope College will be among several midwestern and Eastern colleges cooperating with Princeton University in an undergraduate program for critical languages.

The Princeton program, supported by a $125,000 three-year grant from the Carnegie Corporation, will make available to undergraduate students of Hope and other institutions Princeton's resources for instruction in Arabic, Chinese, Japanese, Persian, Russian and Turkish languages and related sciences studies in the social sciences and humanities.

Participating colleges will acquaint their own students with the nature of the program, will select and advise candidates, and be represented on a policy committee advisory to Princeton.

Undergraduates will be admitted to Princeton at the end of their sophomore year for either one or two years of instruction in the critical languages and related regional studies and will normally return to their own college as seniors to compete their undergraduate education.

There are two requirements for admission to the Program: a distinguished academic record and one year of the critical language to be studied. The second requirement may be met by an intensive summer course.

Applicants should apply for admission to the Program through Hope College.

Holwerda Is Honored At Christian Banquet

A need for an auditorium-gymnasium for Holland Christian High School was emphasized Tuesday night at the Christian basketball team banquet attended by 170 persons in the Christian High gym.

Highlighting the event was the presentation of an award to Raymond Holwerda, school principal, for his 20 years of service as athletic director. Holwerda stepped down from the post this year and has been succeeded by Clare Pott.

Art Tuls, head basketball coach, made the presentation to Holwerda and lauded his work. Tuls said Holwerda "left a fine image" and he "gave of himself for the sake of athletics and the school."

Holwerda responded, reporting he had been at Holland Christian for 26 years, and he reminisced about some of his experiences while athletic director.

Organized by Henry Windemuller and Carl Edeward, the banquet was held to provide funds for the auditorium-gym fund and to inform the audience of the need for such a building.

Pott, who presided at the event, noted Christian's weak physical education, intramural and interscholastic athletic program because of lack of facilities but because "top notch men do a little extra along with a highly cooperative group of boys" Christian was able to succeed, especially in the interscholastic athletic program, Pott said.

He reported "Christian, in all likelihood would be a Class A school next year" but warned that Christian had "no facilities for a junior high program and all of the teams they would be playing have junior high programs."

Tuls, who has been coaching the Maroons for 16 years, echoed Pott's sentiments feeling the students "were being shortchanged." Speaking to his basketball team, which he introduced to the group, Tuls said "take inventory of yourself and ask if you did your very best and put personal interests in the background?"

Henry Vander Linde, musical director, reiterated the need for an auditorium-gym. John Keuning, a member of the Christian School Society board, hoped the projects the Society has undertaken "will be successful."

Harvey Kronmeyer was named chairman of next year's banquet scheduled March 26 with Gary Otte, Grad Geurink and Claude Dykema, committee members.

Supt. Mark Vander Ark gave the invocation and reserve basketball coach Elmer Ribbens offered the closing prayer. Chairman of the food committee was Mrs. Fred Kolenbrander assisted by Mrs. Wally De Zwaan, Mrs. Albert Schroteboer, Mrs. Russell Boeve and Mrs. Lloyd Steggerda. Christian High girls served the dinner.

Grand Haven Okays New Salary Plan

GRAND HAVEN — The Grand Haven Board of Education Tuesday night adopted a two-year salary schedule for the 225 teachers in the school district. The arrangement calls for increases in salaries for the 1963-64 school year and another minor increase in the 1964-65 school year.

Supt. R. M. Van Volkinburg said the new schedule will result in a 6 per cent increase in next year's budget. The new plan followed several weeks of study by the personnel committee of the board and a salary study committee of the teachers' association. It incorporates a new "index principle" sought by teachers for several years, incorporating increases in 12 steps according to a percentage schedule.

Starting minimum salary for A. B. degree teachers next year will be $4,550, an increase of $50 from the present schedule. Maximum after 12 steps will be $7,167. Minimum for teachers with M.A. degrees will be $4,755, compared with the present, $4,650, and the maximum will be $7,821. Increases also are planned in the 1964-65 schedule.

Van Volkinburg said the new index system is designed to protect the interests of the more experienced teachers on the staff.

Last September, Grand Haven school district voted 3 mills for 3 years for special operations. Allocated millage is 9.04 mills and through the special vote was boosted to 12.04 mills. Holland school district levies 10.84 mills.

Free Art Show to Have Commercial Exhibits Too

In addition to exhibits by 111 artists from all over western Michigan, the first annual Fine and Applied Arts Show in Civic Center Saturday will show several commercial exhibits, all closely aligned with art.

The free art show opens at 10 a.m. and will remain open until 10 p.m. Children under 12 must be accompanied by an adult.

There will be several working exhibits throughout the day. Mr. and Mrs. Andries Steketee of Holland will demonstrate work in ceramics. Margaret Ward of Grand Rapids will do painting and crafts and Elva Stidham of Muskegon charcoal sketching. Robert Evans of Holland will work with ceramics and Ruth Junker of Kalamazoo will demonstrate oils.

In the north exhibition room, a number of local industries will place exhibits which will depict how art is used in the commercial field. Exhibits will be placed by Roamer Yachts, Inc.; Kammeraad and Stroop, architects; Herman Miller, Inc.; Baker Furniture, Inc.; Edwin Raphael Co., Inc.; John Vanderburgh, stained glass windows; Kendall School of Design, of Grand Rapids; and an exhibit prepared by a group of local commercial and advertising artists.

The group of artists is composed of Chris Overvoorde and Dale Van Eck, of Steketee-Van Huis, Inc.; Arthur Harrison of the De Pree Co., and Paul Blaine, of Lindeman Advertising, Inc. These men will show how creative art is used in advertising. They want to show that art is all around us, not only in fine paintings or sculptures, but also in everyday products and in the advertisements for these products.

"The commercial artist," says Chris Overvoorde, "is actually a

'taste-maker' in creating on paper ideas which will sell products, products which appeal to the consumer from an artistic standpoint as well as from a useful one."

Harold Ramsey, of Roamer Yachts, said that when Roamer first started using artists to draw up designs and models instead of making up models from engineer's plans, they found that much time was saved, and also that ideas which developed increased the beauty and appeal of their yachts.

Roger Stroop, of Kammeraad and Stroop, sums up the role of architecture in the world of art by saying, "Architecture utilizes various phases of all other forms of art, the final result of which is the creating for everyone the good life."

James Lucas, Herman Miller Inc., points out that in the early days of our country the pioneers created their own "folk art." But today, he said, "there is no folk art as such. It is relegated to the painters and sculptors, specialists in their fields. We are farther removed from it personally both from the participant's angle and also that of the viewer. But this does not have to be the case. Holland's art show will give us a chance to get closer to art as a viewer, and possibly inspire some viewers to become participants. Remember, art is for everyone."

Zeeland Community Hospital births include a daughter, Joy Renee, born Wednesday to Mr. and Mrs. Norman Sterken, 3423 84th St., Byron Center; a son, James Scott, born Wednesday to Mr. and Mrs. James Bush, 9517 Port Sheldon Rd., Hudsonville; a daughter, Brook Lynn, born this morning to Mr. and Mrs. David Mohr, 8835 48th Ave., Hudsonville.

Supervisors Set Budget For 1964

ALLEGAN—With only one dissenting vote, Allegan County supervisors Wednesday approved an equalization committee report which set the county tax base at a record $173,871,276.

Any unit wishing to appeal its equalized valuation to the state tax commission must vote against the report. Only "no" came from Saugatuck Township supervisor Philip Quade.

The committee gave Saugatuck a base of $12,097,260, 6.957 per cent of the total county equalized value.

The city of Allegan's share of the total was reduced slightly to 8.595 per cent, for a total of $14,944,638, highest in the county.

Other cities' shares included Fennville, 1.943 per cent, $3,378,357; Holland (in Allegan County) 4.165 per cent, $7,243,269; Otsego, 6.923 per cent, $12,038,052, and Plainwell, 6.838 per cent, $11,889,733.

Total real property in the county — assessed at $71,914,564 — was equalized at $134,481,391. Personal property assessed at $21,974,437 was given an equalized value of $39,389,885.

Following approval of the equalization report, the board approved the finance committee's preliminary budget for 1964 which calls for holding the line at a county tax rate of 5 1/4 mills. This would produce a total county levy of $912,824.44, including $75,000 for the county road commission.

The commission had requested a county appropriation of $172,000 to help make up an expected 1963 operating deficit resulting from the high cost of snow and ice control. The road commission also sought an increased allocation on the basis of its need to start a long-range bridge repair and replacement program.

The preliminary budget allocated more than a third of its funds — $315,000—for the social welfare department. The department had asked for $320,000. Many other departmental requests were reduced by the finance committee, indicating that no salary increases were contemplated for 1964. The final budget will not be acted on until the October session.

Ambassador Tells DAR of Nigeria

Visitors to Nigeria, West Africa, should "be prepared to expect the unexpected," Robert Jaehning told members of the Elizabeth Schuyler Hamilton Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution at their April 17 luncheon at the home of Mrs. Harrison Lee.

Jaehning, who was Holland's 1962 Community Ambassador to Nigeria, showed slides with his narration. He said the Nigerians are outgoing, hospitable and intelligent, eager to please visitors.

Nigeria received its independence from England in 1960. Many industries are found in the large cities, but Nigeria is mostly agricultural, he said.

The United States and England constructed a large university in Esukka. People are eager to learn and for proof, Jaehning said the enrollment jumped from 1,500 to 3,000 in one year.

Several modern cities in Nigeria are Port Harcourt and Calabar. There are modern buildings and the nation is making great strides in raising living standards.

The closing DAR meeting for the season will be a spring luncheon meeting on May 9 with the place to be announced by the committee.
