Long Time Civic Leader

Marvin Lindeman Succumbs at 76

Marvin C. Lindeman, 76, of 1418 Waukazoo Dr., local civic leader, died Tuesday afternoon in his home after an illness of several months. He had spent 12 days in Holland Hospital but had returned home about two weeks ago.

He was born in St. Clair, Mich., and attended Michigan Agricultural College, now Michigan State University. He was in the insurance field in Detroit from 1916 to 1919 serving meanwhile in France with the 19th field artillery, a component of the 32nd division, during World War I.

In 1920 he began his advertising career, joining the advertising department of Novo Engine Co. of Lansing. The following year he came to Holland for comparable work with the W.E. Dunn Co., and worked briefly for the Bay View Furniture Co. in sales and advertising, before entering advertising agency in Grand Rapids in 1925. He returned to Holland in 1930 as advertising manager for Spring Air Co. From 1937 to 1949 he was in advertising work in Grand Rapids while making his home in Holland, and in 1949 opened his own agency in Holland. For the last several years he was employed at the De Pree Co.

Prosecutor Says No Warrants

ALLEGAN — Target of a report being circulated by Sheriff Robert Whitcomb purportedly showing that a high percentage of criminal charges handled by his office have been either reduced or dismissed, Prosecuting Attorney George Greig said Wednesday that he would authorize no more warrants "without proper investigation."

"We have been aware of the problem ever since taking office," Greig said, "and have been trying to solve it in a number of ways."

The prosecutor said he had sought approval for a special investigator to be attached to his office to "fill in the gaps in sheriff's department reports" but said the request, made in June of 1970, had been turned down by the board of commissioners.

More than a year ago, he said, "I prepared a 12-page set of instructions for distribution to sheriff's deputies outlining practical and legal procedures for arresting officers."

"In that memo I warned that 'no further warrants would be authorized until the investigation shall be complete and exhaustive as to all avenues of inquiry, interviews and analysis necessary to sustain a probable and provable criminal charge.'"

He added that "my single regret is that I did not stick to my original resolve in that regard, because the sheriff's department ignored the memorandum and continued to ask for warrants in cases which would not hold up in court."

Referring to a two-page report circulated among members of the county board of commissioners Tuesday by Sheriff Whitcomb, Greig said, "If the sheriff had carried his analysis a step further, he would have learned that our success in prosecuting cases prepared by Michigan State Police is nearly 300 per cent greater than in cases handled by his department."

In his memorandum of February, 1971, Greig advised sheriff's deputies that:

"There will be no more arrests without warrants, even when you, as a deputy, believe you have probable cause in the legal, technical sense to arrest, where a full and complete investigation has not been done. Warrants will no longer be issued and authorized prematurely to cover the physical arrest and arraignment of an individual where investigation is incomplete or non-existent."

"All persons thus arrested will necessarily have to be released immediately. This procedure will avoid the follow-up investigation necessary after the lodging of a suspect and make it necessary for the deputy to first secure the warrant before the actual physical arrest."

"There will be extreme circumstances necessitating a warrantless arrest where the physical safety of parties involved is concerned, and where it is apparent the subject might flee the state, but experience has shown that the vast majority of suspects do not attempt to flee, even though they are not arrested immediately."

"There is no statutory authority for arrests for 'investigation,' including the holding of a suspect for 24 or 72 hours as is commonly held. I, therefore, cannot authorize such arrests or protect arresting officers from possible civil liability arising therefrom."

The memorandum went on to outline proper investigative procedures, urging officers to get "both sides of the story," prepare complete and accurate reports and comply with recent Supreme Court rulings regarding a defendant's legal rights.

Greig said his memo also emphasized proper handling of physical evidence in criminal cases, indicating that "lost" exhibits had resulted in a number of dismissals.

ATTENDED LOT — The first downtown attended parking lot at the corner of River Ave. and Seventh St. went into operation Monday in the new parking program calling for increased fees and the use of tokens provided by participating downtown merchants. Ray Den Uyl, of 248 West 13th St., one of the attendants is shown here. Automatic equipment will be installed later. (Sentinel photo)

New Parking Fees Are Effective Today

Holland Monday started its new parking program which calls for increased parking rates, attended lots and the use of tokens provided by some 35 participating merchants who give such tokens to their customers.

The tokens are good for 30 minutes of parking, either in the attended lot at Seventh St. and River Ave. or in parking meters.

Eventually, the downtown area will have several attended lots, but for the present the first lot is being operated on a temporary basis until permanent automatic gates and other equipment is received. Those entering the lot receive a blue parking permit with the time stamped. On leaving, the time is stamped plus the fee, and tickets are audited in City Hall.

Five men and one girl have been hired in the parking program under the federal Emergency Employment Act. At present, the services of two persons is required at the attended lot. When permanent equipment is installed, one person will be in control. Equipment is expected in six weeks, and the automatic equipment will be in use in June or July.

Slightly less than two-thirds of the parking meters have been retimed to operate on 30 minutes for five cents (or a token), one hour for a dime or two nickels, and six minutes for one cent. Meters are being adjusted by the parking crew in the vacant Auto Top building at Ninth and River.

No decision has been made on the location of a second attended lot. Both Seventh St. and Ninth St. are considered. Fees at the attended lot is 10 cents per hour for the first two hours and 20 cents for each hour thereafter. Another lot for long time parking is under consideration.

The sale of parking tokens at the city treasurer's office and the Chamber of Commerce has been brisk. Participating merchants are making their own determination on how many tokens to give with sales.

The attended lot operates the same hours as parking meters, from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, from 8 to noon on Wednesday and 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Friday. Changes on Wednesday and Monday are under consideration.

Head-On Crash Injures Drivers

HUDSONVILLE — Two persons were injured in a head-on collision at 2:52 a.m. Tuesday at Eighth St. and Port Sheldon Rd. in Georgetown township.

Admitted to Zeeland Community hospital with chest, knee and scalp injuries was Hilbert Scholten, 47, of 1925 Byron Rd., Hudsonville, driver of one car. He was listed in "good" condition. Treated at the Zeeland hospital and released was Kenneth Oertel, 20, of Kentwood, driver of the other car.

Ottawa county deputies said the Scholten car was westbound along Port Sheldon while the Oertel auto, coming from the opposite direction, apparently crossed the centerline.

Tractors, Mowers Destroyed in Fire

ALLENDALE — A number of riding garden tractors and lawn mowers were destroyed Wednesday when fire swept a barn in which the items were stored.

The barn was owned by William Ossewaarde, 1020 Osborn St., and used by Joe's Repair shop for storage. The fire of unknown origin was reported at 6:04 p.m.

The loss included seven riding garden tractors and four riding lawn mowers. No loss estimate was available. Firemen from Allendale township responded.

Dan attended St. Petersburg JC for a year and a half before going into the Army for two years.

"That's where I really put my game together," Doan said. "Del 'Sandy' Sanders of the army helped me the most in golf. Although reading books on golf was very important too."

While in the service Doan not only won the top prize in the World Military Classic in Las Vegas in 1970 but taught golf lessons and worked in the pro shop during this time.

Recently Doan fired a fine 35 over the front nine. "I guess you could say I was lucky because I haven't played that much at Clearbrook," Doan cracked.

Doan competed in the Big Crosby major tournament last

Commission Gets Bauer Water Study

GRAND HAVEN — A report by the Bauer Engineering Co. of Chicago on "Water Supply Management Alternatives for the Holland - Zeeland Area" was submitted to the Ottawa County Board of Commissioners at the board's first meeting of the April session Tuesday. Fred Roland of the Chicago firm made the presentation. The board will meet again next Tuesday.

The report included an evaluation of the present water supply system capabilities and future water supply system needs in the south Ottawa area. It also evaluates alternative supply and system design factors, growth in usage and service areas and financial mechanisms for the development of possible regional supply.

The report presents projections of future needs through 1990 and also includes consideration of the needs of the Hudsonville - Jamestown area as they relate to the usage demands on the Wyoming City supply and transmission lines used by both areas.

Recommendations outlined are:

1— Water supply facilities for the area be developed and managed as an integrated regional supply.

2— Both Holland city and Wyoming city supplies be managed jointly to serve the Holland-Zeeland and Hudsonville areas.

3— The county should initiate discussions with Holland city to develop a basis for area wide cost participation in present and future treatment and regional transmission facilities.

4— Zeeland be included in the discussions pertaining to opportunities for regionalization of major facilities.

5— Management of both Holland and Wyoming supplies to meet suburban area needs should provide uniform rates for water obtained from both systems.

6— The county should clarify with Wyoming the provisions for future availability of additional supplies obtainable for the county from presently programmed phase II 32 MGD expansion.

Mayor L. W. Lamb of Holland submitted a letter to the board, asking that the board take action on requests for water service in the Holland - Zeeland area and stated that Holland must know by July 1 what the needs are. Engineer-Manager Ron Bakker said that information is being gathered.

Glen Timmer of Holland was reappointed county civil defense director, a position he has held for seven years. The appointment is for two years.

Much of Tuesday's meeting was taken up with the problems of waste disposal and Mrs. James Leach of the Tri-Cities Environmental Council urged the board to promote a program of recycling of solid wastes. Chairman William Kennedy announced that a citizens committee would be named soon to study the problem.

Bakker reported on the use of the landfill in Olive township and said lack of usage has forced the Road Commission to cut down the hours at the dump. Starting next week it will be open only one day, from noon to 6 p.m. on Tuesday as the present schedule has resulted in a huge deficit in the operation. This week will be the last that the landfill will be open from 8 a.m. to noon on Saturday. The new hours are an experiment, he said. Many residents of North Ottawa feel the landfill is too far away from the Tri-Cities area.

Processes of this type require a large amount of water and Chemetron has worked out an efficient and interesting method of obtaining water that is of acceptable quality and constant temperature. Water from Lake Macatawa is pumped into a large, circular moat near which seven wells have been sunk. Water from the moat seeps down through the natural filter of the soil and eventually into the wells. The water table is not unduly lowered and the water is of the quality necessary for the plant manufacturing processes.

Present efforts are being centered around the feasibility of expanded water re-cycling which would reduce the amount to be pumped from the lake into the plant and the amount of effluent going to the lagoon. Possible reuse of recovered solids from the effluent is being thoroughly investigated.

Chemetron Corporation is well aware of the financial advantages of re-cycling in every possible way and the cost involved in disposal of waste material.

The Pollution-Solution group, representing the Holland AAUW, the Garden Club, EAC and the League of Women Voters, is now preparing for the award presentation April 20. Individuals and companies will be honored for outstanding efforts to preserve the environment.

Van Halsemas Recovering

Couple Home After Crash in Turkey

GRAND RAPIDS — Dr. and Mrs. Dick Van Halsema, formerly of Holland, returned home Thursday by hospital plane, the last leg of a long journey from Turkey where the couple was injured in a bus accident March 25.

Both received fractured clavicles, Dr. Van Halsema had a concussion and Mrs. Van Halsema facial injuries. They were on their fifth visit to Turkey in 10 years. Their first visit 10 years ago is recounted in Mrs. Van Halsema's book "Safari for Seven" in which their family toured Europe and the Holy Land.

The Van Halsemas were among 34 passengers on the commercial bus which went out of control on wet pavement and down an embankment. Four persons were killed and several critically injured. Mrs. Van Halsema was thrown from the bus before it came to rest, and Dr. Van Halsema remained inside the bus. They were the only Americans aboard. All others were native Turks.

They were first taken to a hospital nearby and then because of Dr. Van Halsema's status as a reserve chaplain were removed to the U. S. Air Force Hospital in Adana, Turkey. After several days, they were transferred to an Air Force Hospital in Wiesbaden, Germany, stopping in Athens en route for one night.

On March 29 they were flown to Andrews Air Force base in Washington, then to the hospital at Scott Field near Belleville, Ill. On Thursday they were flown to the Kent County Airport aboard an Army Transport plane. Fourteen others aboard were headed for Kincheloe base near Sault Ste. Marie.

As stretcher cases, the Van Halsemas were taken to Butterworth Hospital for medical checkup and after a few hours were released from medical care. They are now in their home and Dr. Van Halsema hopes to return to work in two weeks or so as president of the Reformed Bible Institute.

The Van Halsemas lived in Holland about three years in the early 1960s while Dr. Van Halsema was pastor of Central Avenue Christian Reformed Church.

Their visit to Turkey was for the work of the Paul Society, an outgrowth of his Christian Witness tours. They had left March 16, visited briefly in England and then went to Hungary to study the church situation under Communism. They were to spend March 22 to April 1 in Turkey, visiting friends in several cities and preaching in Armenian and Greek Evangelical Churches in Istanbul, while seeking ways for possible student replacements.

The Paul Society was founded in 1968. It supports gospel broadcasts to Churches and provides partial support for some workers.

$100,000 for Outdoor Pool

Holland To Get Federal Grant

City Hall today was awaiting official word today on a federal grant of $100,000 to help develop a swimming pool at Smallenburg Park on Fairbanks Ave. at the foot of 14th St.

Announcement came Saturday from State Reps. Melvin De Stigter and James Farnsworth in Lansing.

The grant is from the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation of the U.S. Department of Interior through its land and water conservation fund relegated to states which have long range recreational plans. It will be administered through the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

City Council is in the process of planning an outdoor pool at Smallenburg Park, following the offer of $65,000 from an anonymous donor some months ago.

Another Vote Seen In June

Board of Education Assessing Results Before Final Action

A special millage election to raise 4.65 mills for one year in the Holland school district was defeated Monday by 379 votes. The vote was 2,455 yes and 2,834 no.

School authorities said today in all probability the measure will be resubmitted to the people at the annual school election June 12. The Board of Education is in the process of assessing results and likely will take official action at its monthly meeting April 17. The meeting, scheduled April 10, was postponed a week because of the election.

Meanwhile, jobs will remain frozen in the school system and no new teachers or employees will be hired unless additional financing is assured.

Last year, the millage issue of 5.75 mills was defeated in the first round and then was approved June 14, 1971, by a vote of 3,204 to 3,102. Employment last year also had remained frozen until the additional millage was approved.

Supt. Donald L. Ihrman said the 4.65 mills based on equalized valuation would raise approximately $675,000. Cutting such an amount from any budget would affect a severe cut in personnel, he said.

Voter response in Monday's election amounted to approximately 40 per cent of the registered vote in Holland district which includes most of Holland city plus Harrington and Federal districts.

Vote by precincts follows.

Zeeland Library Sets Children's Film Program

ZEELAND — A film program for all boys' and girls will be presented at 11 a.m. Saturday in Zeeland Public Library.

"Ghosts and Ghouls" in which a newcomer to a children's gang is initiated into the club by spending an hour in a haunted house; "Paddle to the Sea," in which an Indian boy whittles a toy canoe from the yellow light of a mountain cabin lamp and dreams of a voyage from Lake Superior to the sea.

The third film will be "Hailstones and Halibut Bones," with Celeste Holm narrating the poem of Mary O'Neill which shows how a writer uses color to convey ways of feeling. All films are in color.

The winter reading program came to an end at Easter, and the 142 boys and girls who joined the club may pick up their charts. Members who read 10 or more books will have a special treat. It is expected the Reading Club group will attend the Saturday film presentation. New adult books put into circulation.

Serving on the committee are Morris Peerbolt, chairman, Donald D. Oosterbaan and Al Kleis Jr.

The committee is about to select an architect to draft plans for the pool.

In announcing the grant, the U.S. Department of Interior stipulated that the money for the pool is to enlarge the public use of Smallenburg Park and to provide opportunity to a low income neighborhood.

De Stigter and Farnsworth saluted the citizens of Holland area for their progressive planning and concern about the future of land development. "It's a pleasure to see some of our federal tax money returned for such a constructive project. Our children and their children will be the real beneficiaries," they said.

Garden Club Has Program On Arranging

The Holland Garden Club was entertained Thursday afternoon in the Woman's Literary Club by the "Magic World of Creativity" as demonstrated by the art of flower arranging.

Mrs. Robert Albers introduced the speakers who are members of the Greater Detroit Flower Arrangers Guild. The arrangements were assembled before the meeting and unveiled separately as they were described to the Garden Club members.

The U.S. is indebted to the Japanese for much of its design creativity. Arrangements were shown in the Japanese manner incorporating the use of bamboo containers and few flowers. The Avant - garde movement resulted from the younger generation not wanting to conform with their ancestors' rules.

The audience was captivated by the unusual, including the stable, where the materials are stationary, and the mobile which dominated one side of the platform. Alexander Caldwell is one of the greatest in the mobile field where balance and motion must be perfect. Assemblages and constructions both contribute to the creativity and fantasy.

A hand - made wooden St. Francis of Assisi was arranged against an antique gold background created from tissue paper applied to plywood and sprayed to resemble antique satin. String and yarn were used to produce effective results.

The new way of exhibiting table arrangements at a flower show was staged.

The climax was the use of black light thrown on unusual mobiles that were accented with fluorescent paint. One mobile was of skeletonized leaves against a black background and another was contrived from dried orange slices, spray - painted, with a music box mechanism added for charm.

Containers hand - crafted from glass, egg crates and junk, showed what can be done with ingenuity and fantasy. "Flower arranging has changed but always remember to do your own thing" were the closing remarks.

Announcement was made of the meeting to be held in Civic Center Tuesday, April 11, at 9:30 a.m. to explain the Flower Show Schedule. Persons entering the show and all chairmen of the Tulip Time Flower Show are urged to attend.

Sunday School Lesson

Sunday, April 16
The Church Organized for Mission
Acts 6:1-7; Ephesians 4:11-16
By C. P. Dame

The lesson text was written by two friends: Luke, who wrote Acts in addition to the gospel which bears his name, and Paul, who wrote Ephesians in prison, teaching that the church is organized to minister to the physical and spiritual needs of people, doing both to the glory of God.

1. The growth of the church called for organization because when a church grows, problems arise. The early church ministered to the widows who were in need and the church in Jerusalem was composed of two groups.

The one group called Hellenists were foreign-born, Greek-speaking Jewish Christians and the other group was composed of Palestinian Jews who spoke Aramaic.

The early church was composed of imperfect members as the story of Ananias and Sapphira makes clear. The lesson also verifies this.

The Grecians murmured against the Hebrews "because their widows were neglected in the early daily ministrations." When the apostles heard about this, they called the disciples together and said they did not think it right for them to "leave the word of God, and serve tables." They suggested that the church should choose seven men to take care of the tables so that they could care for the ministry of the word.

The apostles suggested four qualifications: men from among them, men of good report, men with a good reputation and men "full of the Holy Ghost" and full of wisdom or with understanding minds.

The church members accepted the counsel and selected seven able men with Greek names—the Greek-speaking Jews did the complaining and so were given the job of ministering. The problem was peacefully solved, efficiency increased, the Lord's work was done better and the church grew for even many priests believed.

II. The Lord provides leaders for the church—apostles, prophets, evangelists, pastors and teachers. The work was for "the equipment of the saints," for "the working of the ministry" and for "the building up of the body of Christ" or that is the whole church. It is the work of the leaders to train members for various kinds of service.

It stands to reason that when leaders train and teach members, the leaders as well as the followers become more steadfast in the faith, learn more about Christian doctrine and become fit to pass on the faith to others. It is the task of every Christian to win unbelievers to the faith. Have you led someone to the Lord today?

INCOME TAX TIME AGAIN

On April 8, 1969, our "Dear Abby" struck a responsive note with many when she wrote: "Face it, you're living in the only country in the world where it takes more brains to make out the income tax return than it does to make the income."

In spite of the Internal Revenue Service's protestations some three years later that any fifth grader could figure out a Form 1040, it appears that this year's taxpayers are as baffled and befuddled as ever. For a large metropolitan daily in our state sounded out its readers about this claim, and by a 76.1 to 23.9 percentage margin, they disagreed. Apparently, in the case of the IRS, the wish that the form was simpler, was father to the thought.

For a conscientious citizen, just a slight misunderstanding of one little item may delay the completion of his return, pending his consultation with either IRS officials or with professional tax-help organizations. Either course can in some cases involve long lines if waiting and further delay.

The closing paragraph of "1971 Instructions for Form 1040" recommends that the returns be prepared early, and "... if you find your tax was not fully paid by the amount withheld, you will have time—before April 17—to meet your tax obligation."

Hutchinson Takes Swipe at Courts

U.S. Rep. Edward Hutchinson (R - Fennville), a member of the House Judiciary Committee, criticized the Supreme Court for making decisions that involve national policy.

In an address Thursday noon before the Rotary Club in the Hotel Warm Friend, Hutchinson said the high court is responsible for settling disputes among lower courts and was not to make national policy such as was the case in striking down a state residency requirement.

Hutchinson said the decision sweeping aside the one year residency requirement in Tennessee usurped the state law and in effect amended the state constitution of Michigan which required a six month residency for voting.

The high court said 30 days was long enough to establish a residence.

The judiciary committee oversees actions of the Supreme Court.

Hutchinson said Congress has been unmoved to challenge the court's decisions and actions but predicted that Congress would, however, take a firmer stand on the activist judges.

Hutchinson said he feared Supreme Court repercussions on the backlog of cases in state courts. He said the high court could order charges against the accused dismissed because the accused were not granted speedy trials.

On the Vietnam war, Hutchinson said any beefing up of U.S. forces in Indochina in the wake of the current Viet Cong activities would be a "political mistake."

He agreed with U.S. recognition of Bangladesh and said recognition of the government "does not mean support of the government."

On the economy, Hutchinson blamed rising inflation in part on the unbalanced federal budget and said the bulk of the debt was logged in the past generation. "This country should admit that there are some things beyond our means," he added.

Hutchinson, now third ranking Republican on the judiciary committee, said he would become top ranking member if he wins re-election and that would be the first time in 25 years that a member of the Michigan delegation has achieved such an honor.

He was elected to congress in 1962 succeeding the late Clare E. Hoffman.

Hutchinson was introduced by Robert Wolbrink, program chairman. About 110 persons attended the noon luncheon.

Latin American Fiesta Queen Contest Set for April 19, 21

The Latin American Fiesta Queen Contest, which has become an annual event in Holland, is scheduled April 19 and 21 in the Lincoln School gym at 7 p.m.

The preliminary contest, to be held April 19, is to select from among all contestants, the five girls who, in the opinion of the judges, are the most outstanding. April 21 the judges will select the new Latin American Fiesta Queen.

For both sections of the contest, the girls are judged on the basis of personality, character, poise and general interests. The contest, sponsored by the Latin American Society, began seven years ago when the society felt the community should be made aware of the qualities of Latin American girls and that they also hoped to obtain a college education and get ahead in life.

One of the rules of the contest is that the girl be Latin American and that she be enrolled as a full-time student in either junior or senior high school. The rule was made in order to give a girl who might want to be a contestant the initiative to continue her education, to better her grades and to install a sense of pride in her Latin American culture.

Most judges are businessmen or educators and are chosen to acquaint them with the Latin American girls and their culture.

Many of the judges have learned much about problems which face Latin American youth in school today. They have also learned that the girls have the desire to get a good education and to be a contributing part of this community. As one judge stated, "I didn't realize how these young girls felt about education."

Many of the girls who have been contestants are now attending college or are working in good jobs. The majority have graduated from high school and some of them have become active in volunteer work and work for the betterment of Holland.

The Latin American Society feels that the contest has been a success because of the generous cooperation of the local merchants in giving gift certificates for the girls each year.

Merchants who have contributed so far this year are the Gonzales Record Shop, Sears, Real Estate Exchange, Holland and Park Theatres, Fox's Jewelers and Opticians, Williams Jewelers, Point West, La Belle Beauty Salon, Annette's Beauty Salon, Margaret's Coiffures, H. J. Heinz Co., French Cloak, Holland Photography, Ten Harmes's Furniture and the Kiwanis Club which this year will furnish trophies for the five girls.

The queens of past years are Maria Silva, now Mrs. Eloy Quintanilla, who was graduated from West Ottawa High School; Liz Villanueva, now Mrs. Louis Villanueva, who attended Zeeland High School; Celia Martinez, who graduated from Holland High School and is now a sophomore at Hope College; Frances Trevino, now Mrs. Joe Maldonado, who attended West Ottawa High School; Irma Guajardo, now Mrs. Gilbert Garcia, who attended Holland High School, and the present queen, Maria Luisa Aleman who was graduated from South Haven High School and is now a freshman at Western Michigan University.

The April 19 preliminary contest will not be open to the public, but the April 21 contest will. The name of the 1972 queen will not be made public by the judges until May 6, the day of the coronation, at 10:30 a.m. in Civic Center. The new queen and her court will reign over the Latin American Fiesta that day.

The fiesta committee has received a letter from Sen. Gary Byker, who will attend the coronation and the fiesta, which will feature booths with cultural displays from various Latin American countries. Many of the display items will be for sale. There will be three presentations of folk dances and music by various dance groups will be presented.

The fiesta is free of charge and the community is invited to celebrate this event, planned in conjunction with the 125th anniversary of the City of Holland.

Local Commission Plans for Future

By George Tatum
A little-known yet integral part of local government lies in the Holland Planning Commission.

Little-known in that it is a rather recent branch, submitting its first work product in 1953, and integral in that it is responsible for a "master plan for the physical development of the community," a task difficult to put into orderly practice.

Holland's present Commission members include: Chairman Larry Geuder, Vice Chairman, Howard Kammeraad, L. W. Lamb, Jr., Louis Hallacy, Terry Hofmeyer, Frank Zepeda, Mrs. John Workman, Henry Hekman, and Willard C. Wichers. Dale Wyngarden is planning specialist for the Commission.

The Commission is provided for and the function of the Commission is set by state law. It is a solely advisory body designed to give advice to the City Council regarding the physical plan and development of the city and has no legislative or enforcement powers.

So that the plan the Commission arrives at is more than merely a statement, it is able to be implemented through the tools of: (a) zoning ordinances, (b) subdivisional ordinances, (c) environmental and closely related ordinances such as building and housing codes. In most cases, implementation of the plan directly relates to zoning which is the major form of plan implementation. There must be two public hearings to effect a zoning change; one at the Commission level and one at the City Council level. The present Planning Commission is a nine member body whose members are appointed by the mayor and approved by the Council.

The first master plan for the city was submitted by the Commission in 1953. It laid somewhat of a foundation for the city which then had a population of between 13 and 15,000 and an area encompassing about four square miles.

The plan delineated two major problems to be dealt with: (a) urban blight and (b) suburban sprawl. Urban blight refers to deterioration or obsolescence of an older area of the city.

Older homes become obsolete through new building techniques and older industries become obsolete through new innovations. Mere physical age has much to do with urban blight. Suburban sprawl refers to the erratic growth pattern of residential, commercial and industrial areas beyond the capability of the utilities of the city. Such concerns would ignore vacant, available land in lieu of property further away.

The present Planning Commission has divided the city into five regions for study and is currently concentrating on two in the south and east parts of Holland. This is a slight innovation, but it is important to the city that the plan be kept flexible and responsive to change without taking great variance from the original plan, Wyngarden indicated.

The eastern part concentrates on all portions of the city east of the US-31 bypass and north of 32nd St. Here, a question arises as to whether this area should be zoned for commercial development and the Commission has agreed that it should not. The general thrust is toward residential development with controlled commercial development to serve future needs. In the southern part of the city is a somewhat different situation. This region includes all portions of the city lying south of 32nd St. and east of the US-31 bypass.

Here, it is recognized that there are two highways as well as railroads, and the Tulip City Airport. Therefore, it is an ideal area for industrial concerns and this is where the emphasis is being placed: in industrial development with a minimal residential development, Wyngarden reported.

In the past, the Planning Commission has taken a minor role in local government and therefore has gone unnoticed by most residents.

The Planning Commission used to consist of a one-hour-a-month meeting. Now the Commission has two standard committees, zoning and ordinance study, which meet in addition to regular Commission meetings. The Commission is an unpaid citizen's body, all time being voluntary.

The full-time position of Planning Specialist was created about a year ago. This position, manned by Wyngarden, provides the expertise that up until a year ago was available only through outside consultants.

Wyngarden also serves as a secretary to the Commission, being in charge of meeting minutes, planning meetings, etc. He serves in a research and advisory capacity to members of the Commission, and serves as a person that people can discuss questions and proposals with.

Wyngarden mentioned that much time is put into planning by members of the Commission for little recognition. He said it is characteristic of public hearings for those supporting a plan to stay home and those opposing the plan to show up.

The Planning Commission has a challenge and is rising to it. It is currently studying regional areas and concentrating on suburban sprawl. In time, the focus will turn toward the inner city, this area including mainly 16th St. and north with perhaps some expansion into southern areas and the problems of urban blight.

New Nursing Facility To Be Constructed Here

Meadowbrook Care Center, Inc. announced plans today to build and operate a combined skilled-basic nursing home and residence for the aged on Holland's South Side.

Construction will be in two continuous stages beginning in July of this year with completion in December, 1973. The first phase will include 58 resident beds for the aged and 61 skilled nursing care beds. The second phase will bring the skilled bed count to 92 and will provide 30 basic care beds in a separate wing.

According to Kenneth Bandstra, administrator for the new Meadowbrook Care Center, the rooms for aged residents will be ready for occupancy in July of next year. Skilled beds will be available approximately one month later.

Meadowbrook which will cost an estimated $1.6 million will be a total concept care facility, the first of its kind in Western Michigan. The second floor residence for the aged, accessible from ground level on the south facade of the building, will provide the senior citizens of the Holland area with pleasant and active surroundings. Both single and double occupancy rooms will be available.

The first floor Nursing Care Wings are designed to provide a bright and cheerful atmosphere to patients requiring skilled or basic care. All of the latest efficiencies to permit maximum personal patient care have been included in the planning of the two wings, Meadowbrook East and Meadowbrook West.

The heart of the facility, or the Service Core, will contain dietary facilities, physical and occupational therapy rooms, a chapel, diversional activities space, barber and beauty shop, storage areas and administrative offices. An added feature of Meadowbrook is a private physician's suite with facilities to handle outside patients as well as serve the Meadowbrook patients and residents as required.

According to Dr. Richard Schaftenaar, who provided liaison with the area physicians during the planning of Meadowbrook, the need for a total concept facility was enthusiastically endorsed by the Holland medical community. Many local physicians contributed valuable time, assisting in the planning of various aspects of Meadowbrook through the expression of their ideas, said Dr. Schaftenaar.

The carefully chosen site for Meadowbrook is on 40th St. just west of Washington Ave. The Meadowlane Townhouse Development lies directly south and the 40th West Apartment Complex is under construction across 40th St. to the north. Mr. Bandstra noted that the site is within a mile of Holland City Hospital, which will be a convenience to attending physicians.
