Jesieks Revise Dock Application

A communication from the U.S. engineer's office in Milwaukee today said that Jesiek Bros. ship yard at Macatawa park has submitted a revised plan to accompany its application for a War department permit to construct an extension to an existing dock on Lake Macatawa.

The revised plan differs from that originally submitted in that the proposed extension calls for 300 feet instead of 265 feet and construction of boat wells on both sides of the extension. The accompanying map shows that existing docks already extend more than 200 feet into the water and the proposed extension would make the dock more than 500 feet long.

Any person or persons having objections to the work as now proposed, from the standpoint of navigation, are invited to file written statements with the district engineer's office, 428 Federal building, Milwaukee, Wis., not later than April 26.

Community Chest Board Gets Report From JCC and USO

Participating Agencies Outline Activities During Current Year

Representatives of two participating agencies of the Community Chest, the Junior Chamber of Commerce auxiliary and the local USO, appeared at the regular meeting of the Chest Board of Directors last week, to report on activities.

Mrs. Charles Cooper and Mrs. E. J. Rowder of the JCC auxiliary reported on the work of the Leader Dog league for the Blind which receives support from the chest through the auxiliary. The Leader Dog league, a non-profit organization, founded its school at Rochester, Mich., in 1939.

Mrs. Rowder quoted statistics indicating that the need for lead dogs is far greater than present facilities in the nation can supply. Present indications are that the ratio of men blinded to men lost in action in World War II is 50 per cent greater than in World War I.

Although the government provides funds to pay the cost of leader dogs for eligible veterans, it does not furnish funds for expansion of facilities so that more applicants can be served. The Rochester school is at present expanding its facilities to accommodate 56 dogs, four trainers and kennel assistants.

Students in the Leader Dog School are given four weeks of intensive training.

Arthur Prigge reported on the activities at the local USO which first opened in 1943 when the ASTP training school was set up in Hope college.

The Board of Directors approached the Community Chest at that time for funds to pay for a full-time director of the club rooms and to pay for janitor service. All other expenses such as rent, heat, light, equipment and supplies to be provided through other sources. The request was granted and the USO has continued to operate on that basis.

Attendance at the USO club reached a peak of 1,500 per month shortly after it opened but started to taper off after the local ASTP program was terminated and reached a low of 50 at which time the Board weighed the question of discontinuing the club rooms. However, the final decision was to carry on the work as long as some of our servicemen were using the facility. After V-E day, attendance climbed slightly and an even greater increase was shown after V-J day.

Attendance took a surprising jump in January of this year when 648 service personnel and 40 guests registered.

Equipment includes ping pong tables, pool table, radio, books, magazines, etc. Coffee, doughnuts, cookies and cakes are also provided.

Mrs. Adeline Hillebrands and Mrs. J. G. Van Leeuwen are hostesses at the club.

The Community Chest Board through President Lester J. Kuipers, has inaugurated a plan whereby various participating agencies will have the opportunity of reporting on their activities throughout the year. This also gives the new Board Members a chance to learn first-hand the type of work carried on by the agencies.

Cornelius Vander Meulen, veterans' counselor, and John Van Dam of the Kiwanis club attended the March meeting and explained their work.

Vander Meulen reported on assisting returning veterans with problems.

The Kiwanis club has purchased a site for an Underprivileged Children's camp and has been actively engaged in preparing this property for future use. It is their intention to erect buildings on the property where these children can be taken during the summer.

BPW Report Accepted And Funds Set Up For First Drawings

The go-ahead signal for drawing plans and specifications for a water softening plant for Holland was given the board of public works at a meeting of common council Wednesday night.

The communication from the board of public works listed total estimated costs of plans of such a water softening plant at $16,100, plus cost of preliminary plans. It also said that the state planning commission has approved a grant of $9,269.50 and the deadline for filing preliminary plans is April 30.

The request to council is the result of an elaborate report by representatives of the geological division of the Michigan Conservation department and of the U.S. Geological Survey department on the possibilities of a water supply east of the city.

The communication also pointed out that to finance the program it will be necessary to increase the water rates, although the expected increases are expected to be in line with other cities giving such service. A more detailed plan of financing and a rate schedule will be submitted later.

Soil Conservationist Labels Pastures Poor

Pastures of good quality and quantity are few and far between in Ottawa county according to Ed Schaefer, a director of the West Ottawa Soil Conservation district.

On depleted pasture, it is impossible for a cow to secure sufficient feed to sustain milk production. In a good productive pasture, in sweet clover, a cow can quickly secure plenty of nutritious feed.

Schaefer says that good pastures are an important part of the soil conservation program being carried out by the district. Good pastures don't just happen; they have to be planned the same as any other crop.

The selection of the best grasses to use for pasture depends upon conditions existing on individual farms. Information is available through L. R. Arnold, county agent, or local Soil Conservation district offices.

Preliminary Plans For New Hospital Wing Approved

Common council Wednesday night unanimously approved a recommendation that the hospital board proceed with plans for an addition to Holland hospital which will double the present 54-bed capacity.

Action followed a lengthy report of the hospital board prepared by John F. Donnelly, acting chairman, and presented by City Attorney Vernon D. Ten Cate.

The addition calls for an expenditure of $446,100 which with equipment costs brings the total well over a half million dollars. Ten Cate pointed out that council action approves only the plans now being drawn by Architect Lewis J. Sarvis of Battle Creek, but actual construction of the new wing would have to be approved by Holland voters.

The report covered consultation on needs of the hospital, facilities provided, arrangement of facilities, preliminary financial studies, contract with architect, arrangements with Michigan planning commission and Federal Works administration.

Original plans for a wing to the south which would bring the capacity up to 70 beds have been changed to a wing on the north to provide 110 beds after surveys proved the additional facilities would be necessary at the present growth rate.

Tentative plans call for a new wing north of the present building with a separate entrance facing north, office, waiting room and rest rooms, and a separate building for laundry and boiler rooms. The ground floor arrangement calls for an x-ray department, room for deep therapy, plaster room, cystoscopy rooms, six dressing rooms, room for diathermy and Physiotherapy, metabolism, emergency room and laboratory.

The first floor of the new wing would contain wards, nurseries, semi-private rooms, labor and delivery rooms, a fathers' room, doctors' room, formula room. All rooms on the first floor of the present building not used for offices would be used for O. B. rooms.

The entire second floor, both old and new, would be used for surgery beds, outside of the present children's ward.

The third floor would be used for medical purposes only with wards, semi-private rooms and private rooms.

To Pull Down Wall Of Fire Wreckage

About 50 members of the Virginia Park Community club took action at a meeting Monday night in the Virginia park school in formulating initial plans in replacing the club building which was destroyed by fire last week.

Vernon Van Lente, vice-president, presided at the meeting in the absence of President Arthur Van Looyengood who is at present in New Mexico.

Initial plans call for the tearing down of one of the walls of the building tonight. A fence had been placed about the wreckage to prevent accidents, since the walls which are all that remain standing of the large building are precariously weak.

After the walls are down and the wreckage can be probed without danger, club members hope to salvage some of the contents such as metal chairs.

Fire Destroys Gasoline Truck Forced Off Road

Olive Center, April 18 (Special) —Forced off the road by an unidentified motorist, a gasoline delivery truck owned and driven by Lewis Vanden Bosch of Olive Center caught fire at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday on the Waverly road 10 miles north of Holland, causing a complete loss.

The truck, ignited by a broken gas line, was a mass of flames by the time Vanden Bosch came to a halt on the shoulder and the driver escaped through a window, receiving slight injuries. The truck tilted dangerously and contents of the three compartments drained and caught fire but did not explode. The gas tank of the truck blew up.

Black smoke poured from the fire for more than two hours and the truck tires were still burning at 6 p.m. Intense heat scorched trees across the road. Telephones rang madly over the countryside with residents seeking information.

The truck contained 325 gallons of gasoline and 160 gallons of fuel oil which had just been loaded in Holland by Vanden Bosch, who is a retail dealer. He started the business this spring and last Saturday installed a hose and reel on his truck at a cost of more than $300. Total loss is estimated at $2,500, partly covered by insurance.

Spring Wedding Unites H. Kalmink, Miss Staal

In a pretty spring wedding performed Friday at 8 p.m. in Third Christian Reformed church, Zeeland, Miss Gertrude Staal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Staal, 31 West McKinley Ave., Zeeland, and Howard J. Kalmink, son of Mrs. Henry Kalmink, 92 West 16th St., spoke their marriage vows. Dr. J. H. Bruinooge performed the double ring candle-light ceremony before a setting of palms, ferns, baskets of flowers and candelabra.

Mrs. Claus Bushouse sang "Through the Years" and "The Lord's Prayer." She was accompanied by Mrs. Edward Nagelkirk, organist, who also played the Lohengrin and Mendelssohn wedding marches.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in white rayon faille with fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline, long sleeves and long train. Her lace-edged veil, ending in a train, was held in place with a tiara of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses, sweet peas and snapdragons.

Mrs. Peter Staal, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor and wore a pink gown with lace bodice and net skirt. She carried a bouquet of pink roses, sweet peas and snapdragons. Bridesmaid was Mrs. B. C. Bonnema, who wore a yellow gown with taffeta bodice and net skirt, and carried a bouquet of Johanna Hill roses, daisies, sweet peas and snapdragons. Miss Alma Swagerman was junior bridesmaid and wore a gown of blue taffeta and net. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations, sweet peas and snapdragons.

Assisting the groom as best man was his uncle, Harold Ortmann. Ushers were Peter Staal and Jerome Kalmink. Master and mistress of ceremonies were Mr. and Mrs. Harvin Zoerhof, uncle and aunt of the groom and Miss Erma Hop and Rosalyn Zoerhof were in charge of the gift room.

A reception was held in the church parlors for 100 guests with the Mesdames John Lappinga, Abe Van Zanten, Oliver Dorn and Arnold Appledorn and the Misses Mary Ann Bosma, Marjorie Hop, Henrietta Schout and Irene Sterken, serving.

Mr. and Mrs. Kalmink were graduated from Holland Christian high school. Mrs. Staal is employed as cashier at McLellan store and Mr. Staal is an electrician with De Fouw Electric Co. He was recently discharged following three years in the Navy.

SIGNS OF PEACE

Although the peace treaties have not yet been signed, for the average or garden variety of citizen such as most of us are there come from time to time signs that bolster his faith that normalcy is returning to the world. And normality, to him, is associated with peace.

The latest of the small straws in the wind was the announcement that the automobile license plate will return to the front of the car next January. Production has started at the Southern Michigan prison plant, and the contract calls for two plates per car.
That sounds like old times to the average car owner.

There will be another sign in a month or two when the car owners will be permitted by law to take a sponge soaked in warm water and wipe the so-called "use stamp" off his windshield. It may be taken for granted that the average citizen will go at this job with eagerness on the last day of June, so that he may appear in public the next morning with a clean windshield. Many car owners have a beautiful collection of those multi-colored stamps decorating their windshields; they kept them there from year to year, simply adding one more as the tax fell due on the first of July. It did not seem worthwhile to them to wipe them off. But now that there will be no replacement for the first time in several years, the car owner may be expected to make a clean slate, including in his cleaning job the last tatters that remain of the gas ration symbols. Peace is returning to the nation's windshields.

There are other small straws in the wind that convince the average citizen better than the signing of formal treaties can do that the days of peace are at least returning, even if they have not quite returned. Have you become aware of the return of courtesy in buying and selling? The change over has been so gradual that many may have missed the signs.
But if you will give your attention to it you will almost certainly discover that a new spirit has imperceptibly come upon both the customers and those who serve them. The customer is less hysterical in his fear that he will not get his share; those who serve him do so with more pleasant smiles than was once the case. The curious atmosphere of marking time —on both sides of the counter—is disappearing; the temporary is being replaced by the permanent.
It is a slow process. But day by day more straws appear in the wind that as a people we are recovering from the hysteria of war and are becoming habituated to peace.

Two Friends Talk with Christ

Luke 24:13-21, 25-31

By Henry Goetling

The birth, growth and ministry of Jesus waited on His resurrection for their confirmation. The world might know that such a person as Jesus was born, but little more. If He had not risen from the dead and showed Himself alive for 40 days to His disciples before His ascension. Any attempt to deny His resurrection or to be-litttle its importance is to place a question mark at the conclusion of His whole recorded life.

Luke never saw Jesus in the flesh. He gathered his knowledge of Him from His followers and the written documents. And this recognized historian was thoroughly convinced from all he could gather that the resurrection of Christ was as well attested as any other accepted historical fact. He also made bold to say that Jesus showed Himself alive after His passion by many infallible proofs.
It was his firm conviction that these reports were true and it became his purpose to make others believe them.

The day of Christ's resurrection was made memorable by a series of remarkable events. It was a day that must always have stood out in the minds of all the disciples, and of the apostles especially. There were three appearances of Christ on that day prior to that which occurred on the way to Emmaus.

The two disciples were not apostles. All the apostles were disciples, but not all the disciples were apostles. We do not know who the two men were. There have been many guesses, but that is all. Emmaus was seven or eight miles from Jerusalem.

We can well understand what these two men discussed as they journeyed, for they knew of the trial, death and burial of Jesus, but had not yet learned of His returning to life. There was an eager and earnest discussion. They belonged to the small group that believed Jesus was the Messiah, and they simply could not understand how it was that He had been put to death. They knew He had been nailed to the cross, had died and was buried, but beyond that they knew nothing.

These men were looking for an explanation of the things that had come to pass. They looked at the matter, first from one side and then from the other. Their conversation was so warm and exciting that they did not see Jesus until He was walking by their side. Little did they suspect it, but the answer to all their problems was in the person who had joined them. Let us not be surprised that they did not at first recognize Him. In the first place they were not expecting Him; and in the second place His form was different from what it was when they last saw Him. Added to this fact that it was God's will that he should not at first know His identity. Their eyes were closed against that knowledge.

When Jesus joined the men He saw at once that they were having an animated and serious discussion. It was of no small concern to them that Jesus was so soon to pass out of their lives. They would better understand what He would have to say if they first explained what was on their minds.

The words He spoke to them were somewhat harsh. They combined both pity and reproof, but there was no anger in His words.
They themselves would soon come to see that their words were without understanding and intelligence.
If His words carried a measure of blame it was because these men had read the prophecies of the Old Testament wrongly. Had they read with wide open eyes they would have been ready for His resurrection, indeed they would have been awaiting it. Both mind and heart with them were dull and sluggish.
Arriving at their destination the two disciples turned in, while Jesus indicated that He was continuing His journey. He would not thrust himself into their company without a welcome. But they urged Him to tarry with them, with the usual Eastern hospitality, probably intending that He should remain with them overnight. Probably one of them, if not both, yet suspect who their friend was.
He was no doubt quite as eager to remain with them as they were to have Him, but they would appreciate His presence all the more if they were to extend the courtesy of an invitation.

By a right that was always His, and that was very generally accorded Him, He acted as a host.
Even as they declined to eat they did not know who their guest was.
That may seem strange to us, but His appearance was quite different from what it was when they last saw Him.

It is difficult to determine what it was that led them to recognize Him as the Savior. Was it the bread, or was it the scars in His hands they saw as He passed the bread to them, as was the custom with the host. Perhaps there were many contributing factors; for instance, His place at the head of the table, His blessing, His manner, the nail prints in His hands, His kingly authority, and the divine intent that they should now recognize Him. With the ease with which He could come and go He was gone.

Police Kept Busy Here
With Traffic Offenders

Holland police officers were kept busy over the week-end catching speeders and other traffic offenders, besides checking cars for lights.

The worst offender was a juvenile who turned his car around on Eighth St. on two wheels Sunday at 9 p.m. His car also had no tail light and no muffler. Since the youth cannot be arraigned in municipal court because of his age, his operator's license is expected to be revoked.

Police issued eight summonses for speeding, one for driving on the wrong side of a boulevard, one for drunk driving and five for running red flashers. In the car lights checkup, they issued seven violation tickets for defective lights and one for no license plate.

On top of all the traffic disturbances, they are investigating a case in which some offender or offenders, possibly juveniles, threw black paint over the shop windows of William Bui's new location on Central Ave.

icipal court Monday on various traffic charges: Nelson Westerhof,

Sentinel Newsboys Guests at Banquet

A symphony of noise... If noise is an indicator of a good time—and it undoubtedly is—Sentinel newsboys had a "whale of a time" at their annual banquet Monday night in the private dining room of the Dutch Mill.

Just take more than 50 newsboys, three new girls and some office personnel, fill them with good food, and noise comes naturally, all the way from a gentle murmur to deafening crescendos.

For the most part, the youngsters were well-behaved. The boys apparently had been inspected by critical mothers, before leaving home, since ears and faces shown with cleanliness.

Highlight of the evening was announcement of a Sentinel subscription contest for all newsboys with two first prizes of new bicycles, one for city newsboys and one for rural newsboys. Eight other prizes are offered.

Announcement of the contest was made by Orle Bishop of the business staff who also spoke briefly on the responsibilities of newsboys to their community.

Sound films were shown by Henry Engelsman. These included a reel of the most spectacular sequences taken during the war, a science film, a sports short and an animated cartoon.

Scrubbing of Walks Endorsed

Downtown merchants enthusiastically endorsed plans for scrubbing sidewalks, washing windows and other practices indicative of Dutch cleanliness during the Tulip Time festival, at a meeting Monday afternoon with Tulip Time leaders in the Chamber of Commerce headquarters.

Festival Manager Willard C. Wichers said the merchants are planning to have as many of their clerks and employees as possible wear Dutch costumes during the celebration.

Present plans call for store personnel to come out at their convenience between 10 and 11 a.m. on Thursday and Friday, May 16 and 17, to scrub the walks, wash windows and the like. Merchants decided against this practice on Saturday due to expected heavier trade.

Scrubbing of walks, as well as the big street scrubbing on the afternoon of May 15 officially opening the festival, will be worked out by the Lions club.

HHS Track Team Defeats Zeeland

Win First Place in Every Event Except 120-Yard Low Hurdles

Holland High's track team, capturing all but one point in the field events, swept to a 83-21 victory over Zeeland Wednesday afternoon in a meet at the Zeeland athletic field.

Holland captured all three places in the broad jump, high jump and pole vault and won first and second place in the shot put.

Zeeland's only first place was in the low hurdles when Dale Boes sped across the finish line in 25.7.

Coaches Malcolm Mackay and Austin Buchanan of Holland High were pleased with the unexpected showing of Holland strength. "We still have to go a long way," Mackay said, "but considering the times we made we should gain points in forthcoming meets with schools of the Southwestern conference."

In the high hurdles Austin Chamberlain, lanky ex-Zeeland student now studying at Holland High, romped home in a 16.5 against a strong south wind.

In the mile event Holland's reliable Keith Nieboer came in at 5:03, finishing about 10 yards ahead of Zeeland's Bud Nyenhuis and about 25 yards ahead of teammate Willis Nasir.

Nash set the pace from the start and didn't have the strength for a strong finish, a factor which has marked him outstanding in practice runs. He led for the first two laps and then dropped behind Nieboer and finally behind Nyenhuis in the last half lap.

Eddie Leverette gave Holland some unexpected points in the dashes and broad jump. Leverette, a transfer student from South Bend Catholic Central where he played football, won the 100 yard dash in 10.7 time, the 220 in 24.1 and tied for third in the broad jump which was won by Ken Van Tatenhove, Holland, with a jump of 18 feet four inches.
