Annexation Vote Is Set For June 3

Supervisors Okay
Elections for Federal,
Apple Ave., Montello

Voters in Holland city and Holland township will go to the polls June 3 to vote on three separate annexation issues involving the Apple Avenue, Federal and Montello Park school districts.

Plans for the election were unanimously approved by the Ottawa County Board of Supervisors at its opening meeting of the April session Tuesday afternoon. The three school districts previously had filed petitions with the county clerk.

The resolution calling for the election was introduced by Gordon Cunningham, Holland attorney. With him were representatives of the three districts, Richard Smith of Apple Avenue, Elmer Atman of Federal and Clare Walker of Montello Park.

The three petitions calling for annexation to Holland city had been examined by County Clerk Harris Nieuwma and Prosecutor James W. Bussard who found they complied with the applicable state law. Bussard told the board the petitions bearing signatures of 35 per cent of the property owners were in proper form.

Meanwhile, Maplewood school district south of Holland in Fillmore township is awaiting word from the Secretary of State's office on its request for an annexation vote. There is a possibility that the Maplewood election will be on the same day, thereby eliminating the necessity of having Holland city voters go to the polls twice. In case the Maplewood election is confirmed for June 3, Holland city voters will vote on four issues, Holland township voters will vote on three issues and Fillmore township on one issue.

June 3 was selected as an election date for two reasons, one so that the school districts involved may make the necessary plans for the coming year and secondly an early June date will find most people at home, thereby eliminating a big share of absentee ballots.

Voters will face separate issues on the voting machines. Persons living in Holland township outside the areas proposed for annexation will vote whether to release the areas to Holland city. Voters in Apple Ave. district will vote whether they want to annex to the city and whether they will release the Federal and Montello Park districts to the city. Similar issues face voters in the latter two districts. Holland city voters will vote whether to accept the separate districts.

Finds Stowaway In Trunk of Car

William Teunissen, of 287 West 22nd St., put an old bicycle in the trunk of his car early this afternoon and drove off to the junkyard. When he arrived, he was surprised to find his young son, David, 6, also in the trunk. David had climbed in when his father wasn't looking.

Teunissen hadn't known about his stowaway, but the Holland police did. As Teunissen drove off, Greg, 4, told his mother where David was and she called police, who immediately began searching for the car.

David rode home in the front seat.

GRAND TAVEN (Special) — Robert A. Hawthorne, 38, route 2, Coopersville, was taken into custody by sheriff's officers and lodged in the county jail Wednesday night on a rape charge. Districts File Organization Petitions

Petitions and resolutions for the reorganization of 13 school districts north of Holland were filed Wednesday with Jennie Kaufman, county school superintendent. The petitions which request approval of the Michigan Department of Public Instruction for the reorganization were brought to Grand Haven by Paul Brouwer, co-chairman of the Suburban School Committee.

The county school board met Wednesday night to accept the petitions and resolutions which will be sent to the state department and to the Municipal Finance Department. Approval is expected without delay, according to a member of the county school board.

School districts included in the program are Waukazoo, Pine Creek, Beechwood, Waverly, Lakewood, Harlem, Ventura, North Holland, Robert, West Crisp, East Crisp, West Olive and Noordeloos.

If this procedure is approved, the next step is to obtain signatures from 51 per cent of registered voters in each district to bring the issue to a vote.

Hold Suspect In Arson Case

Ottawa County Sheriff Gerald Vanderbeek said today that arson was "definitely committed" in the fire at the home of Gerald Tuxford near Port Sheldon Tuesday night.

The decision was reached following a full investigation conducted by the Sheriff's department, Michigan State Police and representatives from the state fire marshal's office.

Sheriff Vanderbeek said a suspect, arrested at the scene of the fire Tuesday night, is being held at the county jail for questioning. The suspect fought with Tuxford on Sunday, Vanderbeek said, which resulted in Tuxford being taken to Holland Hospital and 14 stitches being taken to close his wounds.

Vanderbeek said fires were set at several different places in the new structure, a motel which is still in the process of being built. From evidence gathered on the scene, it is believed that paper was used to start the fires, he said.

Allegan Road Engineer Will Resign in June

ALLEGAN (Special) — Allegan county's Board of Supervisors learned Wednesday that the road commission has voted to accept with regret the application of Homer Ward, engineer-manager since 1935, for accrued vacation and retirement benefits at the end of the present contract year June 30.

A copy of the minutes of the commission's April 9 meeting showed that they first voted 2 to 1 against making any change in the top administrative post as recommended by supervisors at their Jan. 21 meeting.

Ward's letter — in effect his resignation — was presented to the commission following this vote of confidence. Ward had served the commission since 1935 except for the war years when he worked as a civilian engineer for the government in airport construction. He returned to Allegan as engineer-manager in 1945.

Chalmers Monteith, road commission chairman, also presented the department's annual report and emphasized the high cost of snow removal the past season.

City Council Kills Proposed Pay Hike

Supervisors Considering New Budget

Action on Record Sum
Tabled Until Tuesday;
Reactions Are Mixed

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — A proposed budget for 1959 was presented to the Ottawa County Board of Supervisors Wednesday afternoon calling for an outlay of $1,070,197.43, the highest budget figure in history.

The budget was tabled until next Tuesday when the board will hold its next meeting. In the meantime, the equalization committee and the tax allocation commission will meet.

Some of the larger allocations in the proposed budget follow: Salaries, $250,000; county roads, $150,000; county parks, $5,000; social welfare fund, $106,015.35; juvenile court and juvenile care fund, $25,000; justice court, $23,100; court house and grounds, $16,625; County board of education fund, $60,324; sheriff's department, $43,410; Board of Supervisors, $19,175; miscellaneous, $85,750.

The proposed budget was submitted by Henry Slaughter of Tallmadge township. William Kennedy of Allendale said a budget was required at this time so that the allocations commission could decide what millage the county should raise.

In the discussion which followed, George Swart of Grand Haven reminded the board that the members are public servants, not public masters, and he felt the board should not continue to raise county taxes when many people are on old age assistance and many others cannot pay their taxes, let alone an increase.

Richard L. Cook of Grand Haven said his county tax has advanced almost fourfold and he felt everything possible should be done not to raise taxes. Kennedy felt, however, that the board should not stand in the way of progress.

The 47th annual report of the Ottawa County Road Commission was submitted by Engineer-Manager Hank Stafeth. He explained that the commission has received permission from the Corps of Engineers to replace the deck of the Eastmanville bridge rather than building another bridge at a new location which would involve buying up property. Amount listed in the budget for a new deck is $250,000.

The board accepted the offer of Holland city to purchase county-owned property at 57 West 12th St. in Holland for $11,800. It was pointed out that this figure represents a loss of $1,900 to the county. Holland's offer was the only bid received.

The coordinating and zoning committee reported that at present it does not feel a county planning commission should be established and recommended that action be postponed until a future date. The committee felt that the program would necessitate establishment of a county planning office in another location since no room is available in the courthouse.

The board granted a request of the buildings and grounds committee for $500 to build a retaining wall at the new county branch building north of Holland since sand is blowing toward the building next door. Some members suggested tearing down the house next door, but Dick Nieuwma said the house was occupied by a man working as a janitor whose services may be available for the new building. Larry Wade of Holland cast the only dissenting vote, feeling that no such expenditure should be made when the board might decide at the June session to tear down the building.

Avery D. Baker, new member of the sheriff's department, explained the new disaster plan as outlined by Civil Defense. This involves a Plan for Survival Evacuation and mobilization of state police.

Further action on the plan will be taken next week, and meanwhile Attorneys James Townsend and Howard Fant together with Larry Wade will confer with Prosecutor James W. Bussard to discuss legal points on a proposed resolution.

Miss Shirley Noble, 21, of 3380 Butternut Dr., this morning in Municipal Court pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while drunk and was assessed fine and costs of $105.30, with the alternative of 30 days in jail.

Holland police said Miss Noble, driving north on River Ave., at 11:18 p.m. Wednesday, left the road just north of 11th St., snapped off a fire hydrant, knocked down several street signs and collided with a tree.

Miss Noble was treated at Holland Hospital for an injury to her right knee and released. Officers estimated the damage to her 1953 convertible at $300.

Yost, who has been elected county surveyor for a second term, previously was arraigned before Judge Smith March 18, 1957, at which time he stood mute and a plea of not guilty was entered by the court. He has been at liberty on his own recognizance.

Officers Visit City Council High School

A large audience of high school student leaders was present at the regular meeting of City Council Wednesday night. Mayor Robert Visscher was flanked by Bill Kall, mayor of Holland High School, and Paul Weener, president of Christian High. City Clerk Clarence Grevengeod was seated with Bonita Kolan, clerk of Holland High, and Sally Bluekamp, secretary of Christian High. Aldermen and other officers of the two schools were in the visitors' section.

Mayor Visscher welcomed the group and after introducing his guests asked those in the audience to introduce themselves. At the conclusion of the hour-long meeting, President Weener and Mayor Kall expressed their appreciation for courtesies shown during Student Government Week and said they had found Council proceedings most informative.

City Engineer Laverne Serne, Junior Chamber of Commerce chairman for Student Government Week, also thanked Council for its efforts in making Student Government Week a real experience for the student leaders. On Monday school officers spent a part of the day with their counterparts in City Hall and then were guests at a special luncheon in the Warm Friend Tavern.

In other business, City Council accepted with thanks a gift from the W. G. Leenhouts American Legion Auxiliary of $1,650 towards the purchase of an organ for Civic Center as a memorial for World War I veterans. Mrs. E. P. Slooter explained that soon after the auxiliary was founded in 1920 a fund was started for a memorial but through the years there had been some difficulty in determining what kind of a memorial.

Conditions of the gift are that Council accept $925 to this amount for the purchase of a blond Hammond Concert Organ, and that the auxiliary provide a small plaque indicating the organ is donated in honor of World War I veterans. The organ is not to be removed from Civic Center and will be available free of charge to those desiring to use it in Civic Center.

Mayor Visscher, in accepting the gift, commended the auxiliary for its thoughtfulness in providing a memorial which will benefit the entire community.

Council also acknowledged with thanks a donation of a valuable curtain track at Civic Center provided through the efforts of the Junior Welfare League and Edwin Raphael.

Council granted licenses to collect rubbish for Gerald Meussen, 314 East Washington, Zeeland, and Edward Jaarda, 89 East 21st St., Holland.

A petition requesting vacating River Ave. between 27th and 29th Sts., was referred to the planning commission for recommendation. Petitioners agreed to the pro-rating of the expense and sharing with the city in equal amount of expense for tiling a creek in the area.

Councilman William Heeringa reported on the special committee on bus service to Kalamazoo. He said he had received a letter stating that the Allegan city council was dropping the case on advice of its city attorney because of legal complications. He moved that Holland also drop the matter and that the special committee be dissolved.

Councilman John Beltman announced Holland was withdrawing from the Mayor Exchange group because the exchange city had cancelled out. The special committee for Mayor Exchange day also was dissolved.

Council okayed resolutions to be forwarded to the Michigan State Highway Department for closing local trunklines for Tulip Time parades.

Council okayed a bid entered by West Shore Construction Co. for 10,000 gallons of road oil at a cost

$30,000 Trimmed From Budget

Public Hearing Slated
For May 7; Tax Increase
Slashed by 91 Cents

City Council has trimmed almost $30,000 from this year's budget which City Manager Herb Holt presented at the April 2 meeting.

The reductions which were made at a series of budget study sessions cuts out in the proposed 2 1/2 percent increase for city employees among other cuts such as new desks for Councilmen in City Hall chambers.

At Wednesday's meeting, Council voted to place the revised budget on file in the city clerk's office for public inspection, and set a public hearing at the next regular meeting of Council May 7 at 7:30 p.m. City Clerk Clarence Grevengeod was instructed to publish a summary of the budget.

Budget cuts totaled $29,986.65 which sets the new city tax outlay at $519,856.93 instead of the original proposed total of $549,843.58.

Instead of a tax increase of .98 per $1,000 valuation, the tax increase will be $1.07. This puts the new tax rate at $15.76 per $1,000 valuation instead of $16.67. Last year's rate was $14.69.

In his budget message two weeks ago, the city manager had proposed that a 2 1/2 per cent increase for city employees be included in the budget and that approval be withheld until June 18 to allow another look at the economy and relief rolls.

While setting date for public hearing, Council also approved the capital expenditure program of the Board of Public Works which had been postponed by mutual agreement.

Council also authorized the Board of Public Works to institute a system of sewage charges sufficient to place the utility on a self-supporting basis similar to the electric and water departments. Council withheld action on BPW proposals to limit electric department earnings to the general fund to $100,000 a year in lieu of the 50 per cent of earnings permitted by charter. This limitation was requested for five years to provide for future growth of the electrical plant.

Also tabled for further consideration was a BPW proposal that after the five years that a sum equal to 6 per cent of the gross revenue be transferred annually in lieu of the 50 per cent of net earnings.

of 12.2 cents per gallon applied. It was the highest of three bid submitted, but the only one that met specifications as outlined by the State Highway Commission. City Engineer Serne explained that 6,000 gallons will be applied on some three miles of gravel roads in Holland before May 10 and 4,000 gallons during July or August.

Council okayed plans for landscaping the new band shell at Kollen Park. The cost is estimated at $406 for material and $150 for labor. Costs will be charged to the band shell fund which has an uncommitted balance of $3,466.20.

City Manager Herb Holt reported that the city's bid of $11,800 for the county-owned property at 57 West 12 St. has been accepted by the Board of Supervisors, and the city attorney has been authorized to close the transaction, with costs charged to the capital improvement fund to be repaid from the $38,000 BPW Workmen's Compensation Reserve due capital improvement fund from the hospital construction fund.

On recommendation of the city manager, Council denied a request from the Dutch Boy Bakery for a variance in the curb cut on the west side of Cleveland Ave. between 17th and 18th Sts. A dissenting vote was cast by Councilman Henry Steffens who felt the matter should be referred to the planning commission.

Council authorized the city auditor to place $10,000, received from the Board of Education, into a Recreation Improvement Fund along with amounts remaining in the city recreation contingency account.

Councilman John Van Eerden's suggestion that employees refrain from burning rubbish in the city dump during Tulip Time was referred to the city manager who felt that such an arrangement could be made.

Also referred to the city manager was a suggestion from Councilman Robert Kouw for some type of traffic control at the junction of Pine and River Aves. on the north side. City Manager Holt said considerable study already has been done and would continue. The question of increasing the speed limit on Pine Ave. north of Eighth St. also was referred to the city manager.

Terms of Hallan And Mrs. Winter Expire This Year

The Holland Board of Education will hold its annual election Monday, June 9, in E. E. Fell Junior High School, it was decided at the monthly meeting of the board Monday night. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Terms of two board members, James Hallan and Mrs. John K. Winter, expire this year. Monday, May 12, is the last day for registering for the school election.

Dr. Lester J. Kuyper, secretary of the board, was authorized to engage three election inspectors.

In other business, the board approved the transfer of $10,000 to the city recreational fund matched by $10,000 from the city. This fund will provide a shelter at Fairbanks Park and improvements at school playgrounds. Building Consultant Arthur Read is working with the joint school-council committee.

The buildings and grounds committee is considering solutions for the parking problem at senior and junior high schools. One solution concerns off street parking for school employees, and another an attempt to control the number of cars driven by high school students.

The board authorized the transfer of $750 from the Jefferson bond issue balance to match $750 from the Jefferson PTA for an intercommunication system in the building with additional speakers to provide music for ice skating, and the like.

The building and grounds committee also is attempting to clarify the status of the second 40 acres under development as a school forest northwest of Holland. No records concerning this property can be located and the administration was instructed to consult the school attorney for clarification.

Edward Donovan, administrative assistant, reported that total budget requests as submitted by principals exceed the estimated income by some $350,000. He said this is not so alarming as it might be since the requests cover all maintenance and building needs, many of which may extend over several years.

Donovan also told the finance committee a critical need exists for elementary textbooks which are furnished by the school district and he estimated $100,000 should be allocated for elementary textbook needs. Amounts spent in recent years list $5,000 in 1953, $3,900 in 1954, $4,316.39 in 1955, $7,043.70 in 1956 and $6,117.11 in 1957. Two years ago a book rental fee was collected from all students in kindergarten through eighth grade ranging from $1.50 to $3.50. It brought $5,110.49 in 1956 and $5,561.43 in 1957. The committee recommends that the book rental fee be studied with a view to raising it in proportion to the increase in book prices.

Supt. Walter Scott reported that the state aid prospects for next year look rather bleak and Holland would be fortunate to receive the same amount as this year. He said there might be some change in state equalized valuation in the city and county. Meanwhile, the Holland board is petitioning the Ottawa County allocation board for the maximum millage or 12 mills.

Scott also reported on the American Association of School Administrators convention in Cleveland March 29 to April 2, with emphasis on the president-elect of Harvard University, Chester Bowles, former ambassador to India, and Frederick C. Gruber, associate professor of education at the University of Pennsylvania.

The board authorized transfer for bills for the month totaling $114,167.49. A letter was read stating that the board of liquidated $100,000 in treasury bills purchased last October in order to meet current obligations. Supt. Scott said the treasury bills had yielded a high rate of interest.

A letter was read from the Apple Ave. school board in appreciation of the efforts of Arthur Read in the Apple Ave. school construction program.

A group of professional actors, the Red Barn boasts of an atmosphere that is devoid of commercialism. The theater is the old Belvedere farm which has lost none of its country charm in its transformation into a well equipped summer theater.

The downstairs lounge is an art gallery showing the work of the best artists in the vicinity. Refreshments are available at a quaint little chuck wagon, and two patios furnish a comfortable place to lounge during intermissions. There are acres of orchard and a farm lands complete with a babbling brook for those who like to stroll around.

Patron tickets which can be used in any combination are available by calling Mrs. Jay C. Petter at ED-5-6789 in Holland or Mrs. George F. Lowry at PR-2-6837 in Zeeland.

American Ideals Aired In Century Club Talk

Dr. Herbert Carleton Mayer, President of American Viewpoint, Inc. addressed members and guests of Century Club on Monday evening at the closing dinner in the Terrace Room of Durfee Hall on the Hope College campus.

"Americans must maintain their ideals of freedom and responsibility, not because they are good for us, but because the captive people of the world want to share what we have found good." This was the challenge Dr. Mayer left with his audience Monday night following an analysis of American ideals.

This educator who received his degrees from Oberlin College and Harvard University, who has taught at Boston University and been president of Parson College, has visited 30 colleges this year to acquaint America's young people and others with the message of his corporation, American Viewpoint, Inc. was organized 13 years ago by a group of American men who felt that Americans didn't understand American ideals.

In answering the question in the minds of many Americans: "Why do we have leadership forced upon us?" the speaker who has traveled extensively and who has worked in other countries, said, "It is not because of our unlimited resources — other countries have more — not because of our industry or technical know-how, other countries have that if not on so large a scale; nor because of our agriculture which produces too much of everything though other countries have even better soil;

Conditions At Jail May Bring Action

Martin Boon Reelected Chairman of Board Of Supervisors

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Poor conditions at the county jail may force court action by the State Corrections Commission, the Board of Supervisors was informed at its opening meeting of the April session Tuesday afternoon.

A communication from William H. Nestle, state inspector of jails for the Department of Corrections, revealed that his inspection April 8 found the local jail to be in very poor condition physically, overcrowded, and a lack of segregation and security. He said steps must be taken before there is a breakout and someone is killed.

Because of existing conditions, Nestle wrote he is placing the matter before the Corrections Commission so that it may take court action if deemed advisable.

Final action was to be taken at today's session on a resolution establishing a civil defense policy and organization. The report of five pages was presented to the board by William Kennedy of Allendale township, chairman of the safety and Civil Defense committee. Kennedy said each county must pass a resolution to set forth a Civil Defense policy.

Martin Boon of Grand Haven was re-elected chairman of the board and Robert Murray of Coopersville was re-elected vice chairman for another year.

James Van Volkenburg, director of the Ottawa County Welfare Bureau, reported on working projects for those on welfare. He said restrictions are tight on rates and supervision, and rates of pay must be according to the prevailing rate of pay for that kind of work in this area. He said three townships including Georgetown and Crocker, have hired these men as private employees so that they could be taken from the relief rolls.

Van Volkenburg said the prevailing wage for the highway department starts at $1.59 an hour. There are 254 men on the rolls who are employable including 35 in Holland city, 28 in Grand Haven, three in Zeeland and two in Hudsonville. Any township can set up such a project and the bureau will supply names, addresses, etc., Van Volkenburg said. He explained that there are 538 active direct relief cases in the county at present. His department must be notified when men return to work and when they receive their first pay so that the bureau can remove the names.

The board also received an inspection report of the Ottawa County Infirmary, following a visit there March 31 by John Gambotto, administrative assistant, and Imogene Hickey, R. N. The report was highly favorable and the impression was that the inmates are happy and contented. The only recommendation given was that all bed care persons be transferred to nursing care homes. The census lists 31 men and 14 women, some of whom pay $3.25 per day. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Modderman continued as keeper and matron.

Groups Stage Combined Meet

A combined meeting of the three women's missionary societies of First Reformed Church was held Tuesday evening. The Rev. Walter de Velder conducted opening devotions and special music was furnished by a trio composed of Miss Kathryn Smith, Miss Betty Cook and Mrs. Victor Kleinknecht, accompanied by Mrs. Eugene Prins.

Rev. de Velder, missionary on furlough from Hong Kong, China, addressed the group. He gave a vivid picture of living conditions in the Hong Kong area which is so densely populated that 20,000 people must live on one acre of ground, in hovels and caves on the hillsides, on the streets and in small boats.

This is due to the many thousands of refugees who have fled Communist China and has resulted in much tuberculosis, he said. The medical and relief situations are staggering, averaging only 14 hospital beds for 1,000 people. There are now two Amoy-speaking churches in the area with a combined membership of 700 and wherever possible, the love of God is proclaimed in chapels, preaching stations and Sunday Schools. Miss Nellie Herrema offered the closing prayer.

The program was arranged by the Women's Missionary Society and refreshments were provided by the Mission Guild and Missionaires. Mrs. R. Van Heukelom and Mrs. Harry Young presided at the tea table.

French Crisis Explained at Hope Lecture

"America's interest in the French crisis today is due to the expectation of America to solve today's world problems," Henri Peyre, professor of French language and literature at Yale University, said at a public meeting in Hope Memorial Chapel Friday morning.

"In seeking to solve problems, America needs allies and critics, and France which is advantageously located is such a European ally," he explained.

"France has experienced crises many times throughout the centuries. The main aspects of such crises have been political — the apparent instability of her government, the lack of a two-party system, social and economic problems, inequality of taxation and the disturbing size of the Communist party in France."

Dr. Peyre, distinguished lecturer and author, explained that present and past governments of France represent individuality, and the two-party system as it operates in Great Britain or the United States would not be in keeping with the temperament of the French people. He said the usually accepted statement that the French government is unstable is actually not true. He explained that paradoxically the evil in the French governmental system is overrigidity in stability. Quite generally changes in French government are only re-shuffles and basically the ministers of foreign affairs and education remain exactly in the same post.

Dr. Peyre said the two-party system in America brings compromises before election, but in France the compromises come afterwards, with the party in power adjusting to the desires of the people. He felt a two-party system in France would probably lead to a civil war, opening the way for Communism.

While the United States and Germany made scientific and technological advances during World War II, France was left far behind and it took nearly 10 years to catch up. Dr. Peyre said France today has the highest rate of productivity and prosperity to be had, along with an unemployment rate that is nil. There is much research to adapting atomic power to industrial and civilian uses, plus developing one of the richest natural gas sources near the Pyrenees.

Yet in spite of these advances, France has often been on the verge of bankruptcy because of inefficient management and a tax system which collects 80 per cent through hidden taxes. This puts a heavy burden on the working class with its large families, although the government offers a bonus for each child born. Socially France is trying to conquer class barriers and restore some dignity to the working class by encouraging supermarkets, luxury appliances and cheap automobiles.

On the North African problem, Dr. Peyre said it is not a material crisis for France—rather a moral crisis which is the result of a problem which lay stagnant until too late. He contends that the North African countries are not an economic advantage for France but a drain on her resources — consequently France should pull out.

Yet if France pulls out of North Africa, the starving populations would require aid and the two avenues open are to turn to the United States or Russia, and the latter holds an amazing position in the North African countries because Russia rose to a first-rate world power from a backward country in 40 short years.

Dr. Peyre said more than aid, France needs understanding, sympathy and a hope of peace, and the future of the world lies heavily on the youth of America who may be called upon in the future to share the problems of the world.

PEOPLE, PEOPLE, MORE PEOPLE

More people, more problems. Today we are starting a promotion that has moved around the neighboring states. It started in Cleveland, Ohio with a slogan "You Auto Buy Now". This slogan was tied to the sales of automobiles and many of the products that go to make up the family car. It proved to be successful and so the Automobile Manufacturers with the help of the local business people and industry have kept the wheels moving.

Holland and the vicinity will start off their sales campaign by using their own coined slogan of the retail merchants "Buy Days Mean Pay Days" along with the automobile dealers who will use "You Auto Buy Now". There will be tie-ins from the local retailers as well as from industry, used car dealers, gasoline station owners, builders, truckers, wholesalers, insurance, realtors, banks, finance companies, in fact everyone can tie-in with the sales promotion.

We have found that there are many Michigan cities and communities that either have their sales campaign well under way or they are collecting some of the information from the surrounding cities that have already found that their efforts proved that there is business to be had and that their cash registers were ringing.

We ask that everyone gets into the spirit. Let's make this sales campaign a grand success. We can do it if we all get out and do a fine selling job. There is work for everyone who wants to help.

Quoting from the Chamber of Commerce bulletin of a few days ago: "Will you please do your share toward making this a really BIG SALES campaign. Call the Chamber office and let them know you are anxious to participate."

God Prepares A Leader
Exodus 3: 1-7, 10-15
By C. P. Dame

(Based on copyrighted outlines produced by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A. and used by permission.)

The Bible tells us that God often called certain men for some special task. One of the most familiar stories in the Bible is the call of Moses to become the leader of a slave nation. God both prepares and calls leaders.

I. God calls workers. Moses was busy when God called him, busy taking care of the sheep of his father-in-law. We all know the story of how Moses fled from the Egyptian court into the desert of Midian because he had killed an Egyptian slave driver. Moses, the man who had lived in royal surroundings and had been educated in all the wisdom of the Egyptians had to make a terrific adjustment in the desert where he saw only sheep, sand, the sky and the mountains year after year. Moses did not know that God was training him for service. First Egypt gave him an education and then the desert gave him a training which he used later on in his life.

It was while Moses was attending the sheep that God called him. Moses saw a burning bush and noted that it was not consumed and so he went to see. It was while Moses was standing by the bush that God said to him, "Draw not nigh hither; put off thy shoes from off thy feet, for the place whereon thou standest is holy ground." The place was holy because God was there in a special manner.

II. God has something to do for workers. God made himself known to Moses, telling him that he is the God of Moses' father, of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. Sometimes it seems as if God does not see what is going on in this world. This story informs us that God sees all that goes on here. God had seen the affliction of his people—note the words, "my people." There is much oppression in our world, peoples and nations are in bondage to tyrants. God sees and knows. The oppression of his people made God determined to act. He needed a man and that is why he called Moses to deliver a nation.

When Moses was 40 years old he was ready, so he thought, to deliver the nation but now at 80 he hesitated. Moses thought he was ready at 40, but God did not think so, and now Moses at 80 thought he was unfit for the work but God considered that he was well qualified. God needed a well-trained man and Moses had this requirement. The Bible tells us that God has a way of finding able leaders. The two outstanding examples of educated leadership in the Bible are Moses and Paul. Consecration is highly desirable but not enough—the Lord needs educated and consecrated leaders. In this day and age the best training is none too good and the more consecration the person has the better God can use him.

III. God knows how to answer excuses. It is no wonder that Moses, a man of 80 hesitated about accepting the call that came to him. The task seemed exceedingly big. Moses had been away from Egypt for 40 years and therefore he was out of touch with things. Some church members today dodge every responsibility they can and shirk all duties and excuse themselves constantly. Moses was different. The most church members who beg off do so because they are too lazy or indifferent or because they have so many little things to do in which they are much interested that they simply say they have no time for church work. They have the time but not the desire.

Moses felt himself unready and unable to do this great work to which God called him and that is why he made excuse after excuse. The Bible tells us how God overcame every excuse that Moses made and won Moses over to agree to do the work God had prepared him for although he did not realize it while he was being prepared. God used Moses greatly—and he wants to use every one of us.

Youth Is Arrested In Hit and Run Incident

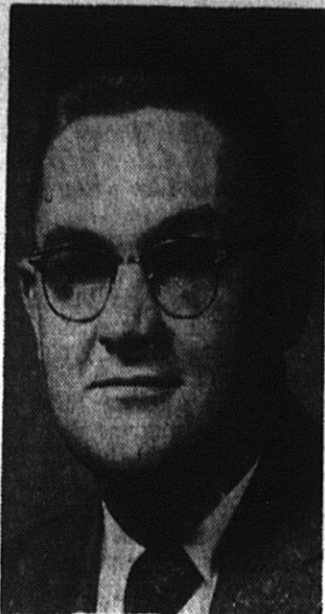

Holland police Monday continued investigation of a hit-and-run accident Sunday at 11:14 p.m. on First St. just west of River Ave. Robert L. According to police, Tasker left the road to strike a telephone pole six feet off the roadway and continued on to strike the front porch of a home.

She has had no previous teaching experience. Her husband, Tom, teaches in Junior High School. She is a daughter of Circuit Judge and Mrs. Raymond L. Smith.

Miss Fernita Harmelink of Sioux Center, Ia., a graduate of Central College in Pella, Ia., will teach later elementary grades. She has had five years' teaching experience, three years in Yokohama, Japan.

Gardner Wierenga of Hudsonville will teach later elementary grades. He was graduated from Hope College in 1951 and received an M. A. degree from the University of Michigan in 1957. He is married and has three children. He has had six years' teaching experience.

In other business, the schools committee announced plans for an evening Honors Convocation to be held Tuesday, June 3, in Civic Center in connection with other commencement week activities. The program, as tentatively outlined by High School Principal Jay W. Formsa, would consist of a procession, invocation, salutatory, departmental and academic awards, presentation of scholarships, the valedictory and benediction.

The schools committee also has approved several new textbooks for the coming year involving eighth grade English, bookkeeping, chemistry, intermediate algebra, elementary science, 11th grade literature, and elementary reading textbooks.

Plans also are progressing for the Science Seminary for Gifted Children as presented by Jacob Shapiro of the Joe Berg foundation at the March board meeting. Preliminary planning is under study by principals of Holland High and Christian High schools and Dr. Robert De Haan of Hope College. About a dozen consultants from Hope College, business and industry in Holland and some faculty members will meet Wednesday to make further plans. Shapiro will return to Holland April 29 to conduct screening tests and meet qualifying students with their parents.

Students considered for the special program are 10th and 11th graders who have an average of 3.5 or better, with further consideration on IQ, reading scores, teachers' recommendations and according to student and parent interest.

The board appointed Bernard Arendshorst to represent the board on the County Tax Allocations Committee.

Supt. Walter Scott warned that state aid payments will not come through until May and then only if the funds are available. He said it is possible that the Holland Board of Education may have to borrow money in June or transfer some money from other funds in order to meet July and August salaries. He said there have been some delays in tuition payments, and to complicate the problem further, state aid payments are not made until tuition payments are made.

President A. J. Cook presided at the meeting which lasted 2 1/2 hours. All members were present and Cook gave the invocation.

Board Sets Meeting on Salaries

Teachers' Salary And Welfare Committee Appears Before Board

The finance and schools committee of the Board of Education Monday night scheduled a meeting with the Welfare and Salary Committee of the Holland MEA district Thursday, April 24, at 7 a.m. to discuss the teachers' request for salary increases for the coming school year.

The 7 a.m. meeting was set because of conflicts in free time for several board members, plus the fact that meetings at 7 and 8 a.m. have been more common than uncommon for Board of Education committees in recent years.

To explain further the teachers' request which was outlined in last Tuesday's edition of The Sentinel, Myron Van Ark, chairman of the Welfare and Salary committee, briefly reviewed the status of the teachers and the long-range objectives listed in the eight-page report. He also emphasized the increase in the cost of living, the comparison with positions in industry, and that fact plus signing a teacher's contract commits a teacher 15 to 18 months in advance.

Vida Harper, another member of the committee, pointed out that in 1955 teachers requested a 16 per cent increase and received 9 per cent; in 1956 teachers requested 20 per cent and received 16 per cent; in 1957 teachers requested 20 per cent and received 16 per cent; and this year are requesting 7 per cent of which 3.4 per cent accounts for the increase in the cost of living.

She expressed the hope that the present business recession would be short-lived and expressed appreciation for what the Board of Education has done for Holland teachers in the past.

Supt. Walter W. Scott said if the finance and schools committees grant increases for teachers, they also must consider custodians, principals and administrative staff and clerical workers.

He read a letter from the custodians asking consideration for increases if teachers are granted increases. The letter pointed out that the average teacher increase is $300 plus increments, and the custodians hoped the board could grant $100 to $200 to custodians if economically possible.

In case no increases are possible for teachers or custodians due to business recessions, etc., the custodians appeared quite willing to trust the integrity of the board.

Harold Streeter, a third member of the salary and welfare committee, was present.

Supt. Scott said if increases were to be granted there would have to be a millage election, or school staffs would have to be curtailed. The latter could include (1) continue without a speech correctionist; (2) hire a teaching principal for Van Raalte School and gradually return to the system of teaching-principals in all elementary schools; (3) eliminate assistant principals in high school; (4) eliminate or curtail guidance personnel in junior and senior high schools; (5) curtail adult education and vocation programs to eliminate one or more positions; (6) eliminate school psychologist or reduce amount of time devoted to such work; (7) curtail physical education in elementary grades; (8) reduce staff members in foreign languages, coaching, music and shop courses.

He said that while the board makes final decisions, it has always sought the advice and counsel of the teachers on educational matters, and if the recommendations made by the Welfare and Salary Committee are to be regarded highly, they must be supplemented by advice and suggestions to the board as to how their recommendations are to be achieved.

Scott said teachers' contracts will be issued immediately upon settlement of the salary schedule matter.

The salary report which teachers adopted April 7 by a 100 to 10 vote asks that the present salary schedule starting at $4,000 and increasing in 14 steps to $6,200 be revised to start at $4,000 and increase in 13 steps to $6,600. Teachers with M.A. degrees get an additional $300 a year. The median salary for teachers this year is $5,913, ranking seventh in the state of Michigan. Next year, Holland will have 75 teachers at the top of the salary schedule.

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — John Kow, Jr., 34, of 960 Columbia Ave., Holland, was brought before Judge Raymond L. Smith in the Ottawa Circuit Court Monday afternoon for violating his probation.

According to the probation department, Kow has failed to support his family properly and had been drinking in a public place in Holland on April 5, both of which were violations of the terms of his probation.

Garden Club Plans Flower Show

The theme "Stars and Gardens" will be interpreted in flowers when the annual flower show, sponsored by the Holland Garden Club opens its doors in the Holland Armory for the 1958 show.

Long an outstanding feature of Tulip Time for both tourists and local residents, the show this year is directed by Mrs. R. E. Sessions, general chairman. The executive committee which planned the theme and execution of the show includes Mrs. Titus Van Haisma, Mrs. J. W. Lang, Mrs. Harry Wetter and Mrs. Carl Cook, club president.

Mrs. Titus Van Haisma is staging the show using the natural beauty of 2,000 tulips and pointing up the theme of stars revolving in outer space by exhibiting a large hammered steel mobile designed by the contemporary sculptor, George Riecke. As in former years, Dick Smallenberg, City Park Superintendent, works with the staging group in supplying much of the formal plantings used in the show. Mrs. Arthur Read is in charge of properties, and Mrs. Robert Bresnahan will keep the property inventory.

In accord with the new trend in flower shows, this year the schedule calls for an equal number of classes between Horticulture and Artistic divisions. This idea will be carried through all competitive portions of the schedule, including the Junior divisions. Schedules and entry cards are available at the Chamber of Commerce.

The Horticulture divisions, entitled, "The Bountiful Earth" will display flower specimens, house plants, propagation, garden plants, shade loving tuberos rooted plants, and flowering branches. Mrs. H. F. Wetter, Horticulture chairman, has as her committee Mrs. Fred Pickel, Mrs. Frederick Stanton, Miss Gertrude Steketee, Mrs. D. K. O'Meara, Mrs. Nelson Clark, Mrs. Forrest Gibson, Mrs.

"Morning Sun" will be shown by breakfast, "High Noon" will be luncheon, "Evening Star" will be a formal dinner and "Seventh Heaven" a midnight supper.

Mrs. J. W. Hobeck is chairman of this section, assisted by Mrs. Frank Lieverse. China and crystal for these many tables will be furnished by Post's Jewelry Store up-

The children's divisions show the time and effort spent by members of the Garden Club throughout the year. The Garden Therapy committee works with a special education room at Jefferson School each week. Their section in the flower show is entitled "Star Dust." The horticulture entries feature tuberous begonias, a terrarium and a coleus rooted in a big dipper. The artistic entries will display multi-colored arrangements to suggest Aurora Borealis, or the Northern Lights, and the Northern Crown, a corsage. Mrs. Frank Fleischer is chairman of this division assisted by Mrs. Don Burrows, Mrs. Arthur Peters and Mrs. James H. Nibbelink.

The Junior Garden Club division will bear the title "Stairway to the Stars." The horticulture classes will appeal to the child's wanderlust. Orion the Hunter will be made up of mounted and labelled collections of one kind of object found by the 12 to 14-year-old exhibitor.

Different colored stars will be affixed to the cards which the women wear on their uniforms. Each star will represent 50 hours of work.

Mrs. Jencks announced that there will be a June meeting of the board if it is found necessary.

Campy's Progress 'Painfully Slow'

GLEN COVE, N.Y. (UP)—They're still keeping a good man, Roy Campanella, down in the hospital here but the painfully slow progress of his battle against paralysis has failed to dampen Campy's spirits.

"His morale remains excellent and he listens to every baseball game that is broadcast," Glen Cove Community Hospital announced in its latest bulletin on the condition of the Los Angeles Dodgers' star catcher Thursday.

However, the hospital had to admit that Campy has made only a little progress in the last month—the fact that "sense of feeling" now has returned to his lower abdomen, whereas the limit a month ago was the upper abdomen.

Campanella has been paralyzed since Jan. 28 when he suffered a broken neck in an auto accident.

Christian Hosts Chix In First Tilt

Coach Elmer Ribbens of the Holland Christian High School baseball team is taking good advantage of the fine spring weather these days in an effort to get a starting lineup for the opener today Christian will host the Zeeland nine at Riverview Park.

Four experienced performers led the list of 18 players still working out with the Christian club. A total of 32 boys answered the call for candidates, but last week, Ribbens cut the squad to the present workable size.

Heading the returnees are seniors Jim Kool, Merle Dykema, Dan Bos and Warren Otte. Kool appears to have his old job, the third base sack, pretty well clinched while Bos is a sure starter in center field. Ribbens reports, Dykema is the only experienced pitcher on the staff and will have to carry a big share of the pitching for the Maroons this season. Otte is working out in the outfield this season and is being pushed by several candidates.

In listing his opening lineup prospects, Ribbens listed either Jim Hulst, a junior, or Jerry De Koster, a sophomore, at first base. Wayne Van Dyke, a sophomore, has the inside track for the second base position. Another senior, Alvin Lanning, has been looking good at shortstop and may well get the opening nod here. Starting at the catcher's post will be either one of two sophs, Henry Sterken or Ben Bonselair.

Although Bos seems to have the centerfield post all sewed up, the other two outfield spots are wide open. Leading the outfield prospects are three seniors, Otte, Bob Jansen and Cal Klaassen.

With Dykema, the only experienced flinger, the Dutch could be hard pressed in some tight game scheduling, unless some of the pitching newcomers can come through. Three boys who have been throwing for the Dutch in practice are Bob Klingenberg, a senior, Vern Den Bleyker, a sophomore and John Sommermaand, a freshman.

In summing up the overall situation, the Holland mentor feels that the infield should be strong defensively. The outfield, regardless who starts should be the same, with fair speed. Ribbens has been pleased with the hitting so far in practice and is anxious to see what the boys can do in a game.

Other members of the squad are Jerry Zoerman, a junior, Alvin Compaan, a freshman and Bob De Boer, a freshman.

To date, the Dutch have a 10 game schedule, with at least two more to be added. As soon as the dates have been set, Ribbens said he would release the complete card.

Colorful Boy Scout Circus Attracts Overflow Crowd

Civic Center was crowded to overflowing Friday night for the first presentation of the Scout Circus, an ambitious program which dramatically portrayed Scouting skills and fun all geared to the flashy quick-moving antics of the circus ring.

The program was efficiently coordinated with fast-moving acts presented simultaneously in the four circus rings. And only a Scout-master or the parents who worked hard on costumes, props and performance have any conception of the hours and hours spent by hundreds and hundreds of people.

The most colorful presentation was the Indian lore sequence with Scouts from four troops presenting Indian dances in the four rings, and then joining in a single Indian dance circling the floor. This presentation was replete with war paint, feathers and blood-curling war cries.

Another presentation unique to Holland was the popular Jamboree klomp dance with Scouts in Dutch costumes and klompen performing in all four rings.

Perhaps the most fun was a series of acts involving cowboys and Indians. The intrepid Cubs appeared as frontiersmen with covered wagons artfully designed for their play wagons. At a given signal, the covered wagons formed a small circle within the ring and Indians with bows and arrows, tomahawks (and some guns) raced round and round the embattled pioneers who carried on a pitched battle with cap guns. The only casualties were a couple of wild Indians who stumbled over their own feet.

In another ring, the brave cubs portrayed Custer's Last Stand (or some such heroic tale of history). But here, both Indians and pioneers were quickly annihilated with only three big Indian Braves left on their feet to view the slaughter.

A big lion trainer act with ferocious lions (what's more ferocious than a young Cub Scout playing lion?) was a cute presentation well deserving of its big hand of applause. A couple of live ponies parading around in another ring put an authentic touch on circus atmosphere.

And the elaborate props which came and went with excellent timing made one wonder where there was room enough in Civic Center to house all the props to say nothing of hundreds of active Scouts all working hard. A colorful bicycle act was one of the last presentations.

George Lumsden served as an excellent narrator from the radio booth where he had a good view of all the action. From 700 to 800 youngsters performed Friday night. In most acts, other Scouts performed Saturday, making a total of 1,200 boys participating in the two-day event.

Status Still Unchanged

An announcement from Ann Arbor that Holland Christian High School is still accredited by the University of Michigan was received rather calmly in Holland Saturday.

The somewhat routine announcement that the University of Michigan has not reached any decision about changing the school's accredited status was interpreted in some other quarters as being highly significant, but leaders here seemed content to await the report which is being compiled by the University of Michigan Bureau of School Services, following a visit to the local school last month by some 17 University personnel.

No date for a meeting has been set as yet when Holland's case on accreditation along with several others will come up for discussion.

Holland Christian's accreditation has been dropped by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

LANSING — State Sen. Clyde Geerlings (R-Holland) Saturday demanded that the University of Michigan withdraw from the North Central Association because it took Holland Christian High School from its accredited list.

Geerlings sharply criticized the association for its attempts to coerce the Holland school into a vocation program by eliminating it in the college entrance field. He said University of Michigan officials had assured him that the policy is not sanctioned by top officials of the university.

Brunsell-Stehle Vows Spoken

Miss Marjorie Stehle became the bride of Donald Brunsell April 5 in Ganges Methodist Church. The Rev. Henry Alexander performed the double ring ceremony before a setting of palms, candelabra, pink carnations and white snapdragons.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, John Stehle of route 1, Fennville. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Brunsell of 193 West 18th St.

The bride wore a ballerina gown fashioned of chantilly lace and tulle. A peplum effect was created by a sweep of lace over the bouffant skirt which was accented with sequin-trimmed lace motifs. The bodice was designed with short sleeves, a square neckline and embroidery of sequins and pearls. A fingertip veil fell from a crown trimmed with iridescent sequins. The bride carried white roses and carnations.

Mrs. Robert Stehle of Fennville, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a gown of pink net over taffeta and carried pink and white carnations. William Riddle of Grand Rapids was best man. Robert Stillson and Elwin Perkins, brothers-in-law of the bride, seated the guests.

Mrs. May Winne provided the wedding music, playing "The Lord's Prayer" and "I Love You Truly."

The mother of the groom wore a rose and white two-piece dress and a corsage of white roses.

A reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony. The women's society of the church assisted. Master and mistress of ceremonies were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stehle. Miss Marie Stehle, sister of the bride, served punch. Mrs. Elwin Perkins and Mrs. Robert Stillson, sisters of the bride, assisted with the gifts.

After a southern wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Brunsell are living at 563 West 22nd St.

FINISHING TOUCHES — Jerry Sova, 26-year-old Holland sportsman, puts the finishing touches on one of the ducks he has carved. He is now in the process of carving all 19 species found in the Holland area and has finished the five shown. It takes him about five hours to complete the carving and three hours to paint the small, to-scale model. (Hohl photo)

Holland Sportsman's Hobby Inspired by Love of Ducks

Jerry Sova loves ducks. All his life, the 26-year-old Holland resident has carved, painted, studied and hunted the fleet-winged bird which can fly at speeds of 30 to 70 miles per hour.

Sova has carved hundreds of ducks, and then, "just throws them away." Right now, he's working on a "perfect set of decoys, and around the first of the year began carving a complete, "as perfectly to scale as possible" set of the 19 species of ducks found in the Ottawa-Allegan area, and has already completed five of them.

It takes him about five hours to carve one of the small to-scale ducks with his little three-inch pocket knife with its broken blade, and nearly three hours to complete the careful painting to make the bird as authentic as possible.

Jerry says he's been sketching and making oil paintings of ducks all his life, but somehow, he said, "something just seemed to be missing in the sketches and paintings."

He began to study the birds more closely and has spent many of his free hours "crawling around swamps" studying the habits, calls, and anatomy of the birds, especially ducks found there.

He then carved a few ducks and found that a thorough knowledge of the bird, brought out in his carvings, added "certain depth" to his paintings and gave them that "something" they lacked.

He is now concentrating his study on the anatomy of the birds to further improve his carvings. He carves nothing until he has gone out and spent many hours studying the bird in its natural habitat. "I'm a stickler on perfection," the youthful craftsman said.

An avid hunter, Jerry says, "I go hunting every chance I get." And he has a few tips for hunters which he would someday like to publish as a "Hunters' Guide" with the tips on conservation, courtesy and hunter-farmer relationships in cartoon form.

He believes hunters should study what they're going to hunt. Most deer hunters wouldn't think of going north without learning about deer, he says, yet the same person will often go and shoot away at ducks just for the "lust of killing." Many persons, he says, don't even eat the birds, but just let them lie there and rot. This, he adds, results in a terrific waste in waterfowl.

If hunters learned where to find the birds, and the species they're shooting at when they do find them, Sova said, they would certainly find they would get better results. And even more important, he points out, "If a person understands what he's hunting, he enjoys the sport more."

Trade Expert Meets Coffee Kletz Crowd

About 50 local businessmen gathered in the Tulip Room of the Warm Friend Tavern Friday for a coffee kletz honoring Dr. J. H. Dirk van der Kwast, director general for trade and industry in the Netherlands Ministry of Economic Affairs.

Introduced by Chamber of Commerce President Jack Plewes, the Netherlands trade expert spoke briefly of his experiences in meeting American businessmen the last 4½ weeks. He hastened to explain that he was citing only the opinions voiced by the American businessmen which tended to be a bit pessimistic on the economic situation.

He was particularly interested in the American pricing system and its paradox of rising prices while business activity declined. He foresaw a slow increase in business the last quarter of 1958 and a gradual climb to the 1956 levels. Further on the optimistic side, he pointed to the mounting birth rate and increasing consumer needs which stimulate sales.

After the initial presentation, the kletz continued on an informal basis.

Cancer Drive Set in Allegan

ALLEGAN (Special) — More than 250 Allegan county volunteers are ready to go into action Monday in the 1958 Cancer Crusade, according to S. M. Nahikian, chairman of the county-wide effort to meet the $7,900 goal.

Expressing confidence that the goal would be topped as substantially as it was last year, Nahikian said the sum represented the county's share of the $30 million needed nationally "to sustain the momentum of the war against the No. 2 killer in the United States."

"It is a war being waged on three fronts," according to Dr. Bert Van Der Kolk, Hopkins, president of the Allegan County unit of the American Cancer Society. Education, research and service are the three phases of the attack, he said.

Although meeting the $7,900 goal is considered important, equal emphasis is placed on the educational aspect of the drive, according to Nahikian. Volunteers this year have been thoroughly trained to push the educational objective and will be armed with informational material which explains why "regular health check-ups are the best protection against needless death from cancer."

Once again, the national campaign slogan is "Fight Cancer With a Check-up and a Check."
