West Shore Construction Co. was low bidder for four paving projects this summer listing $38,429.61. The projects are 17th St., Columbia Ave. to railroad tracks; 37th St., Central Ave. to end; 38th St., Central Ave. to Pine Ave.; 39th St., Central Ave. to Pine Ave.

Council adopted an amendment to the bicycle ordinance which provides for licensing bicycles in Holland every two years. When some Council members, smarting under criticism on enforcement of the garbage ordinance, asked whether enforcement would be any question in licensing bicycles, they were informed these programs usually are worked out with the schools and that there had been no troubles in the past.

Mayor Pro Tem Henry Steffens who presided at the meeting of the whole in reviewing the ordinance amendment asked that the city work with the administrators of all schools and that the licensing be reported in the newspaper and be put on radio.

A communication of Lokker and Boter, attorneys, on behalf of John Arendshorst, asking that power poles be removed from his property was referred to the Board of Public Works.

Council granted a renewal of license of the Holland City Buses.

Council adopted a resolution opposing House Bill 194 which calls for what City Attorney Gordon Cunningham called "preferential treatment" in granting that any respiratory or heart disease cases among policemen and firemen would be regarded as statistical or medical proof in workmen's compensation cases. This bill has been passed by the House and is now in the Senate.

An application from Shell Oil Co. for a permit to erect a service station at 1077 Washington Ave. was referred to the city manager for study and report.

Burned Child Much Improved

Lance Johnston, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Rollie Johnston, who was critically burned at home Wednesday morning, was much improved today in Holland Hospital. His name was removed from the critical list and his condition is regarded as fair.

The child suffered second and third degree burns of the body, face and hands when his clothing caught fire early Wednesday morning at his home at 401 Lincoln Ave. Investigation by fire department inspectors revealed the child had been playing with matches in his bedroom.

Treated for minor burns at the hospital were the child's mother and his brother, Dennis Webbert, 16.

Police Arrest Holland Man

KALAMAZOO — A half dozen incidents in which a man posed as a health department doctor to take indecent liberties with young girls were cleared up today with the arrest of a Holland man, Kalamazoo County sheriff's deputies said.

Kenower Stanton, 25, a methodist minister in Holland, Monday admitted the masquerade in Kent, Ottawa, Allegan and Kalamazoo counties, Sheriff's Detective Neal Anderson said.

Stanton waived examination in Municipal Court on a charge of indecent liberties with a 7-year-old Portage girl last week. He was placed under $2,500 bond pending arraignment in circuit court.

He was arrested in Holland Monday by Anderson, State Police from Wayland and Holland detectives.

Anderson said Stanton would approach homes where he knew the parents were not in and gain entrance by posing as a doctor with the local health department. He would then examine the young girl left at home.

The case was cracked, Anderson said, when a Portage resident noted the license number on Stanton's car last week.

inity of East 11th St. and Fairbanks Ave. This included sale of a certain parcel to Western Foundry Co. at a cost of $5,000.

Claims against the city were filed for Edwin Outman, 209 West 11th St., and Richard Nienhuis, 439 Washington Ave. Both were referred to the city attorney and insurance carrier.

Mayor Bosman presided at the meeting which lasted two hours. The invocation was given by the Rev. Wilbur Daniels of Trinity Reformed Church. All Councilmen were present.

Council Sharply Criticized Over Garbage Plan

City Council spent a full hour in garbage discussion Wednesday night, a good share of the time listening to criticism from the audience, plus a good bit of reappraisal on just what happened to have so many things go wrong.

It started out simply enough with Council granting permits to George Bruijschart, 1538 West 32nd St., and Fred Stam, of 144 Fairbanks Ave., to collect rubbish in Holland, and to Howard's Haulaway and De Young Garbage and Refuse Service, both of Zeeland, for collecting garbage.

The representative of Howard's Haulaway stated his fee would be $1.60 a month with collections on a weekly basis but he would furnish a 20-gallon can to customers. The De Young Service would provide weekly service at $1.50 a month. The former burns all garbage and rubbish on a location south of Zeeland but would be interested in using Holland dump provided rates were reasonable, and he considered $3 a load previously paid in Grand Rapids as reasonable.

This led to plans for reorganizing Holland's dump program and Councilman Richard Smith asked where the $15 maximum rate for truck loads originated. Eugene Vande Vusse, chairman of the solid wastes disposal committee, believed it was included in a rate schedule of one of the cities the committee visited, but was of the opinion it was top price charged by professional haulers making periodic visits to large industries.

City Manager Herb Holt said that the new dump program should be self-supporting by the second full year of operation but believed there would be revisions in rate schedules as the program developed. He said there are many unknowns in such programs.

Councilman Morris Peerbolt said it was a sore spot with local citizens on charging to use the dump each time. Holt referred to a Michigan Municipal League Study which recommended no charge to persons using regular pickup services and making only occasional visits to the dump, or providing a season ticket to be punched.

Jerry Fairbanks

Windmill Director Is Appointed

City Council Wednesday night approved a recommendation of the city manager to retain the services of Jerry Fairbanks, former Holland man who currently is president and general manager of the Au Sable Lodge Ranch and Ski Club, as director on a part-time basis of Holland's Windmill Island project.

In this position, Fairbanks will spend about two days every other week in Holland overseeing details of physical planning and directing the promotion for the Windmill project which is scheduled to be ready by May 15, 1965. The agreement calls for his services until May 15 at a cost of $2,500 plus $30 a trip, but does not rule out any continuing association with the Holland project.

Fairbanks, 52, was born in Holland, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fairbanks. He attended public schools and Hope College and was graduated in 1934 from Michigan State University with a bachelor of science degree as a landscape architect.

In 1940 he accepted a position as senior technician with the state of West Virginia and from 1940 to 1944 he engaged in planning and supervising the state park system there. After a period of military service with the U.S. Army Engineers, he returned to West Virginia and in 1947 accepted a position with the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, doing the master planning and development of Kensington Park and the $5 million Metropolitan Beach, and then remained as manager of Metropolitan Beach until 1955 when he joined the Au Sable Ranch and Ski Club as owner-manager.

Local Road Projects in '65 Program

GRAND HAVEN — Several Holland road projects are included in the proposed 1965 program of the Ottawa County Road Commission which was presented to the Board of Supervisors here Wednesday.

Holland projects follow:

Butternut Dr. from Quincy St. to Lake Shore Ave., 4.85 miles, recap, 20 feet wide, $75,000.

South Shore Dr. from 156th Ave. to Macatawa Park, and 160th Ave. from South Shore Dr. to Ottagan St., pavement widening to 24 feet and recap with bituminous aggregate, 2.43 miles, $85,000.

Reconstruct intersection M-21, 112th Ave. and Lakewood Blvd., $6,500. Several accidents have occurred at this location.

Also listed are improvements to Adams St. from 80th Ave. to 96th Ave. in vicinity of Zeeland, resurface 20 feet wide, two miles, $24,000.

Projects in Holland area listed for completion in 1964 list Ottawa Beach Rd., from 152nd Ave. to Holland State Park, $50,253.62; Beeline Rd., James St. to US-31, $12,168.62; Butternut Dr., Riley to Quincy, $17,048.49.

Also in the 1965 report is a new $400,000 concrete bridge with pedestrian walks on each side over Stearns bayou in Robinson township.

This is part of an $842,000 primary road and bridge construction budget for 1965. An allocation of $150,000 in the 1964 budget for a new bridge over Grand River at Eastmanville has been transferred to the Stearns bridge, and $250,000 has been approved by the commission in next year's budget. Engineer Manager H. E. Staffs said 50 per cent of the cost of the bridge will be met by federal matching funds.

The new bridge, replacing the narrow one-lane bridge currently in use, will resemble Bowen bridge over Hammond bayou in Spring Lake township. Staffs said the new Eastmanville bridge has been postponed until 1968.

Proposed Outgo Up Slightly

$19.007 Per Thousand
Seen; Down 10 Cents
From This Year's Rate

City Council unveiled its proposed budget for 1964-65 Wednesday night, calling for expenditures slightly higher than last year but a city tax rate 10½ cents lower.

Council had been holding budget sessions all last week, and there was no discussion Wednesday night other than to schedule a public hearing and final passage at the next meeting May 6 at 7:30 p.m.

The amount to be raised by tax levy in the proposed budget lists $886,731.44 which is $129.58 more than last year's total of $886,731.44.

But because of an increase in assessed valuation this year, the tax rate is slightly decreased amounting to $19.007 per $1,000 assessment or 10½ cents less than last year's rate of $19.112 per $1,000 assessment.

Total assessed valuation this year is $46,653,755 or $1,362,050 more than last year's total of $45,291,705.

City Manager Herb Holt said no provision is made for across-the-board increases for city employees, but that there would be some adjustments as well as an increase in fringe benefits in that the city would pay a larger share in hospital insurance, meeting a basic plan of Blue Cross-Blue Shield coverage for employees.

Holt said costs of operating the city dump also had been removed from the budget but that a separate fund would be set up. He anticipated that the dump would be self-supporting in its second full year of operation. The figure removed from the budget amounts to about a half mill.

He said the budget for the general fund totals $1,510,982 of which $697,386.86 is to be raised by taxes. Debt retirement this year amounts to $97,000 covering bonds on Civic Center and the 1957 hospital addition. The library budget totals $92,344.58.

Among revenues to the city are $185,000 anticipated in sales tax returns, $30,000 in intangible taxes, and $252,500 from Board of Public Works electrical earnings. Of the latter amount, $60,000 is earmarked for the capital improvements fund and $172,500 for the general fund.

Other revenue is forthcoming from licenses, cemetery charges, penal fines, Civic Center operations, and interest earned on cash.

Also included are separate budgets for Holland Hospital, the Board of Public Works, and other divisions which operate largely on their own income.

The hospital lists a total budget of $1,780,000, compared with $1,736,000 last year. This budget lists estimated income of $1,899,206 which is expected to leave $119,180 for a building fund. This is based largely on a $3 increase per room which will become effective July 1.

Also on debt service for the city is a $65,000 item for retirement of sanitary sewer bonds. This figure is paid out of sewer service charges. The special assessment fund for the coming year lists $55,508.75 covering pro-rated costs of improvements in paving, water and sewer services. These costs are paid through special assessments.

The Board of Public Works lists expenditures of $489,000 $2,176,713, up from $2,154,563 last year. The water budget totals $480,577 compared with $469,962 last year. The sewer budget totals $220,049 up from $167,344 last year. The new figure lists a $40,000 depreciation item.

The Motor Vehicle section lists expenditures of $489,000 for the coming year, no change from last year.

The Windmill Island Recreational project lists operations of $80,500 and $425,000 for construction, financed by revenue bonds. The new dump program lists a budget of $66,000.

Car Strikes Building

Mervin Walter Ohm, 44, of 409 Howard Ave., escaped injury Tuesday evening when his car struck a wall at 2155 Ottawa Beach Rd. as he was attempting to drive out of a parking lot in front of the building. Ohm told Ottawa county sheriff's deputies he thought the car was in reverse when he stepped on the gas peddle and back out of a parking space in the lot.

Six More Given Suspended Fines

Six more suspended fines of $15 each were levied in Municipal Court Tuesday on charges of violating the garbage-refuse ordinance.

Given suspended fines this morning were Larry Wade, 282 West 12th St.; Jerry Nyhuis, 87 East 33rd St.; Stanley Sprick, 342 West 21st St.; Herb Stoel, 825 West 26th St.; James Vande Jagt, 315 West 22nd St.; Cerna Zoerhoff, 66 East 22nd St.

Council Continues 4-Way Stop 30 Days

The four-way stop arrangement at 10th St. and Central Ave. remained in effect today, but on another 30-day temporary basis, according to action by City Council Wednesday night.

The Traffic and Safety Commission had advised that the stop signs become permanent, following a 90-day trial period which expired Wednesday. A statement from Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff indicated the arrangement had worked out favorably and had materially slowed traffic tie-ups at the Ninth St. intersection a block north.

Councilman Morris Peerbolt, however, pointed to a reservation he recalled was made three months ago requesting statistics on car counts, etc. He expressed the belief that a four-way stop intersection should not be established for a situation in which there are problems at only a few peak periods each day.

His request for figures led Council to extend the experiment another 30 days to compile these statistics.

Laketown Schedules Special Liquor Vote

A special "advisory" election on the sale of beer and wine in Laketown township has been scheduled May 26 in Laketown township.

The township board is scheduling the special election in response to petitions requesting such a vote signed by more than 275 qualified voters.

The proposition reads: "Shall the sale of beer and wine be permitted for consumption on the premises within Laketown township, Allegan county, Michigan, under the provisions of the law governing the same?"

An election of this type is considered "advisory" because final decision is left to the governing body, in this case the Laketown township board.

Deadline for registering for the election is Saturday, April 25, at 8 p.m. at the home of the Laketown township clerk, Donald Blaauw, in Grafschap.

City Begins To Paint Safety Stripes

Workmen have begun repainting the white safety markings at intersections throughout the city.

The repainting of crosswalks, stop zones, and stall markings in city parking lots is an annual occurrence each Spring prior to the May 13 start of the Tulip Time Festival.

Laverne Serne, city engineer, said the length of time required to complete the job will depend upon the type of weather in the Holland area between now and early May. If the weather remains reasonably good, the job may only take about two weeks.

Serne also said that Holland is first on the schedule set up by the State Highway Department for the repainting of lines on the trunk routes through the city.

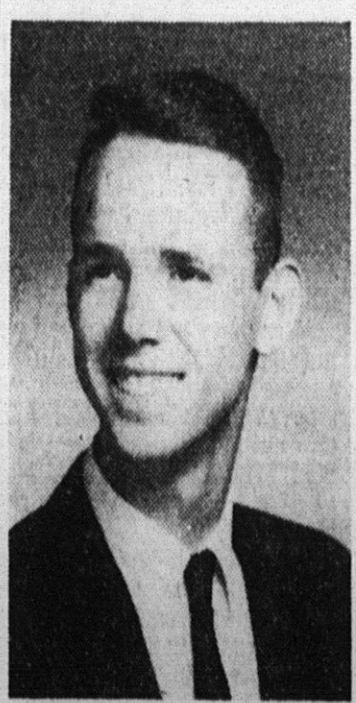

Painting of white safety markings has already been completed at the intersection of Tenth St. and Central Ave., where the four-way stop signs were extended for another 30-day trial by City Council Wednesday evening.

Orderly picketing was in force Tuesday. Office personnel and supervisory personnel are working.

Demand for more money and seniority provisions were said to be the main causes of the strike.

Not only can these childish weapons be a nuisance, they can be extremely hazardous. Broken windows can be replaced, but a shot-out eye is shot out to stay.

Scout-o-Rama Features Hourly Stage Shows

Lawrence Wade, General Chairman for the Scout-O-Rama exhibition at Holland Civic Center on Saturday, April 18, has announced a series of hourly on-stage attractions for the event.

Starting at 1 p.m., the annual pageants will be climaxed at 8:45 p.m. by a dramatic "Black Light" enactment of the bombing of Fort Mc Henry during the War of 1812. This display, on an eight-foot-square fluorescent screen, was created by Ivan Walcott, Assistant District Scout Commissioner for the Waukegan District, and has been widely acclaimed at exhibitions throughout Western Michigan.

Ray Conlon

Dramatically illustrating the sinking of a battle ship during this historic naval engagement, the show utilizes stereo sound to simulate the noise of rockets and bursting bombs during the battle which inspired Francis Scott Key to write "The Star Spangled Banner."

This year's first event will be the 1 p.m. ribbon cutting ceremony by Ray Conlon, President of the Grand Valley Scout Council, to open the exhibition.

Conlon is a 38-year veteran Scouter, holder of the Silver Beaver and National Council representative. He has been a member of the Executive Board since 1936 and served eight years on various committee chairmanships with the council.

He is a past state commander of the American Legion and until his retirement four years ago was field service officer of the Department of Michigan, American Legion.

Following the ribbon cutting ceremony, Sea Scouts from the Saugatuck and Holland ships will welcome visitors with a traditional nautical "piping aboard" ceremony.

Linda Tobias and Dennis Clark, Holland High Students, will perform on the trampoline at 2 p.m. Their act is under the direction of Judy Adams, director of girls' physical education at Holland Junior High School.

Miss Adams will also direct the tumbling act scheduled for 3 p.m. Tumbler from Holland Senior High will include Linda Tobias, Darla Talucci, Peg De Witt and Gail Rutgers. Two Holland Junior High School acrobats, Joy Stewart and Judy Schutt, will also participate.

At 4 p.m., 24 boys from Troop 43 will be on stage to demonstrate authentic Indian dances. Scoutmaster Ken Wright has worked with the boys for several years to perfect such rituals as the Cherokee Hop Dance, hoop dances, Apache Devil Dance, Eagle Dance, and the Arapahoe Tomahawk Dance.

A magic act, with Robert King providing the mystification, will be the 5 p.m. highlight. He is an Eagle Scout from Explorer Post 2043, which is sponsored by the North Shore Community Club.

No stage act will be presented at 6 p.m. but 7 p.m. will see a demonstration of archery by Lee York, holder of the Michigan Field Archery Championship and many other awards.

The Indian dances by Troop 43 will be repeated at 8 p.m., to be followed at 8:30 p.m. with the presentation of awards to the top Scout-O-Rama ticket sellers. Hugh Rowell, Chippewa District Scout Commissioner, and Jim Taylor will present prizes to the Cub Packs, Scout Troops and Explorer Posts making the most sales. Another award will go to the scout who proves to be the best individual salesman.

This year's pageant will close at 9 p.m. after the 8:45 "black light" presentation of the bombing of Fort Mc Henry.

Between the hourly on-stage acts, visitors will be entertained by nearly 50 informative display booths and special exhibits devoted to scout activities and projects.

Judge Suspends Fines for 18

Nineteen Holland residents were arraigned on charges of violating the garbage-refuse ordinance in a half-hour session following the regular traffic court in City Hall Thursday night. Eighteen were given suspended fines of $15 on condition there be no further violations and one case was dismissed for lack of sufficient evidence.

Associate Judge John Galien Jr., explained that the persons charged were not "criminals" but he made it clear they were expected to conform to the law, and any other violation on the garbage ordinance within a year would result in a double fine, the suspended fine and the new fine.

Of the persons arraigned, four pleaded not guilty. Of these four, three changed their pleas after the disposition pattern was set, and the fourth case was dismissed. Other persons charged are expected to appear in court next Tuesday morning.

"Whether I felt this was a good law or a bad law, I would still have to process these cases in court. No matter how we handle them, some people will be unhappy," Judge Galien said. "Most people have regarded the action the past week as an infringement of their freedom mainly because they did not fully understand the ordinance."

Given suspended fines were: Neal Bierling, 1252 Marlene Dr.; Henry Bos, 51 East 33rd St.; Clarence Boss, 1270 South Shore Dr.; Marinus Brursem, 60 East 32nd St.; Marvin Dykstra, 593 Azalea Ave.; Roderick Graham, 581 Azalea Ave.; Irene Hamm, 330 West 21st St.; Marvin Lansen, 1284 South Shore Dr.; Matthew Pate, 301 West 21st St.; James Sal, 1201 Janice St.; David Schrotenboer, 786 West 26th St.; John Schrotenboer, 837 West 26th St.; Glen Slenk, 1191 Janice St.; J. O. Sobota, 288 West 12th St.; Ed Van Tatenhove, 320 West 21st St.; Gerrit Ver Burg, 311 West 22nd St.; William Walczak, 291 West 13th St.; Lawrence Zwemmer, 1242 Marlene St.

Mrs. Hamm threatened to sell her home and leave the city. An onlooker, Cornelius Veersma, who was not charged, expressed thoughts on American freedom.

Complaints on violations, some 30 in number, were filed last Monday after the Department of Environmental Health was ordered to "enforce rigidly" the garbage-refuse ordinance. Last week, City Council approved the No. 2 plan of solid wastes disposal, calling for a reorganization of operations at the city dump, placing it on a fee basis, and rigid enforcement of the solid wastes ordinance which stipulates types of residential garbage cans and prohibits outdoor burning of trash, etc.

Views From The Campus

(Dr. William Vander Lugt, dean of the faculty and professor of philosophy, has been at Hope College since 1954. He received his Ph.D. from the University of Michigan. He formerly was a professor of philosophy at Central College in Pella, Iowa and was dean of instruction at Westminster College in New Wilmington, Pa. — Editor's Note.)

Phillip H. Phenix from Columbia University has written a very timely book under the title, "Education and Common Good." The central theme is the distinction between the life of desire and the life of worth. We live in an unprecedented "age of science" and there is an urgent task ahead for a new education at all levels. This new education will demand more work from teachers and students, more taxes to be paid for buildings and salaries, more appreciation of, and more sacrifices for, the life of the mind. This new age places a great strain and responsibility on the nation as a whole, but especially on local communities and upon each individual. A nation as well as an individual is doomed if the basic rule of conduct is one's own immediate private well being.

It has been said that today many people are beset by a sense of meaninglessness. As knowledge has multiplied, so have our problems. What happens in Europe and Asia has direct bearing on the decisions that we must make in America and in Holland, Michigan. There is an intimacy in the world today to which we are unaccustomed.

We live in a society whose modes of behavior are almost entirely determined by rational choice between possible alternatives. Long established traditions and customs are of little help to us in making our decisions as to what is right or what ought to be done. The rapid rate of change in the world has caused pervasive unsettlement of traditional values. Whereas formerly one or possibly two major changes took place in a person's life time, now they occur in every decade and in the years ahead it is possible they will occur annually. The influence of science and technology will be among the most formative influences in the lives of many today. An understanding of its mode of activity, its discipline, its claims, its authority, is part of all forms of education.

The rate of change in the social order is frightening in its acceleration. Man is puzzled and confused and does not quite know how to react to the changing scene. These changes can and should be blessings for mankind, but the variety of new things with which the industrial age presents us has meant the loss of a sense of direction and purpose. The fresh opportunities presented by a world made over by science do not necessarily bring with them instructions for their proper use.

How do we discover the norms needed to live meaningfully and creatively in a world where the mind of man has discovered so many wonders? How do we find stability in a world that is in constant state of flux?

The way out of the difficulty is to believe in a God who has given us a world full of wonders not only, but also the guide lines for responsible behavior. Our technical revolution must be supported by our best spiritual insights.

A church-related college is the place where leadership for a changing world is developed. When long established customs lose their influence over human behavior, the beliefs we hold must become more and more matters of personal decision. Less and less is mankind compelled to accept the facts of social, political, and economic life as given.

Where does one find as many and such diverse opportunities to develop the ability to make sound judgments as in the Christian college? Where do we find greater emphasis on the need for making our free choices more responsible? I know no more effective approach to a solution of the problems of the world than to send forth into the various social, political, and economic structures men and women who are prepared and

URBAN PLAN
DIVERSITY NEEDED

Jane Jacobs, long time student of city planning, in her book, "The Death and Life of Great American Cities," lists four requirements for generating exuberant diversity in a city's streets and districts.

1 - The district must serve more than one primary function, preferably more than two. These must ensure the convenience of people who go outdoors on different schedules and are in the place for different purposes, but who are able to use many facilities in common.

2 - Most blocks must be short; that is, streets and opportunities to turn corners must be frequent.

3 - The district must mingle buildings that vary in age and condition, including a good proportion of old ones, so that they vary in the economic yield they must produce. This mingling must be fairly close-grained.

4 - There must be a sufficiently dense concentration of people. "Both renewal and public housing projects, with their wholesale destruction, are inherently wasteful ways of rebuilding cities, and in comparison with their full costs make pathetic contributions to city values," says the author, whose book is condensed in Reader's Digest.

We have many problems today - Urban renewal is going on in many parts of Michigan as well as other states.

With the changing world conditions today, careful planning is, we think, necessary - We wish it were possible to do more in our community. We do make progress slowly, but there is work for everyone.

The Christian Faces
Family Tensions
Ephesians 5:21, through 6:4
By C. P. Dame

There are more families with tensions, disagreements, troubles, today than ever. Our lesson text portrays a Christian family. It speaks of the rights and responsibilities of various members of the family. God established marriage and gave the rules regarding marriage and when these rules are obeyed blessings follow.

I. Every member of a family ought to have a submissive spirit. This does not mean to have a servile attitude but a loving willingness to serve. And this should be done "out of reverence for Christ." They who have reverence for Christ recognize His authority. The Lord is supposed to be a member of the family.

II. Wives have a divine responsibility. "Wives, submit yourselves unto your own husbands" - some modern women object to these words. "For the husband is the head of the wife, even as Christ is the head of the church." The subject of the wife is like the subject of the church to Christ. It is voluntary. This does not mean the inferiority of women. Have you ever noted that most people dislike a woman who bosses her husband and feel sorry for a man who allows himself to be bossed? Even the dominating wife finds fault with the neighbor's family where the wife "rules the roost." God ordained that the husband should be the leader of the family. It is biblical that a Christian girl marry a Christian young man.

III. Great indeed is the husband's obligation. "Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church and gave Himself for it." Paul does not tell the husband what his authority is but what duty he has. The love of the husband for his wife must be like the love which Christ has for His church - a sacrificial love, for Christ gave Himself for the church, and a sanctifying love, for Christ cleansed the church, a love that expresses itself in care and service. The husband who rules has a high responsibility to rule in love. In a successful and happy marriage love rules. In marriage two persons become one and hence the one can't hurt the other without hurting self. The husband who loves is not a tyrant but a loving person whom a wife finds it easy to give leadership to cheerfully.

III. Children have duties and rights. Today many parents are too lax. God says children should obey their parents - not the parents the children. Note that the children must obey the parents "in the Lord." There comes a time when children no longer need to obey their parents but they should always honor them. Parents should conduct themselves in such a way that they deserve honor.

God assigned the job of training the children to parents but especially to fathers. Children must be brought up "in the nurture and admonition of the Lord." Too often fathers shun this duty. Paul warns the fathers against irritating their children or correcting them too much. Some fathers can be unreasonable, stubborn, unjust and tyrannical and forgetful of the fact that words of praise and encouragement do wonders - especially when they come from father.

Fennville
Sets Another
Millage Vote

FENNVILLE - The Fennville Board of Education is scheduling another special school election May 18 to vote additional operating millage of 3 mills for 3 years. Another issue will be 1½ mills for five years to establish a sinking fund.

The 3-mill issue was defeated in a special election in February 1963 to 321. Shortly thereafter, the board announced drastic cuts in next year's school program if additional funds were not forthcoming.

The point pointed out that the issues voted upon in the February election were an absolute minimum if Fennville schools hope to carry an adequate program of education. Should the millage pass, programs in physical education and inter-school athletics could be continued.

Persons voting at the May 18 election must be registered with their township or city clerk by April 20.

The annual school election is scheduled June 8 to elect three members to the board. Petitions for candidates must be filed with the secretary of the board before 4 p.m. Saturday, May 9. Petitions are available at the superintendent's office.

Youth Home
Is Approved
In Allegan

ALLEGAN - County supervisors Tuesday accepted a resolution calling for a $170,000 budget for construction and furnishing a new county youth home on the Allegan county farm near Dumont Lake.

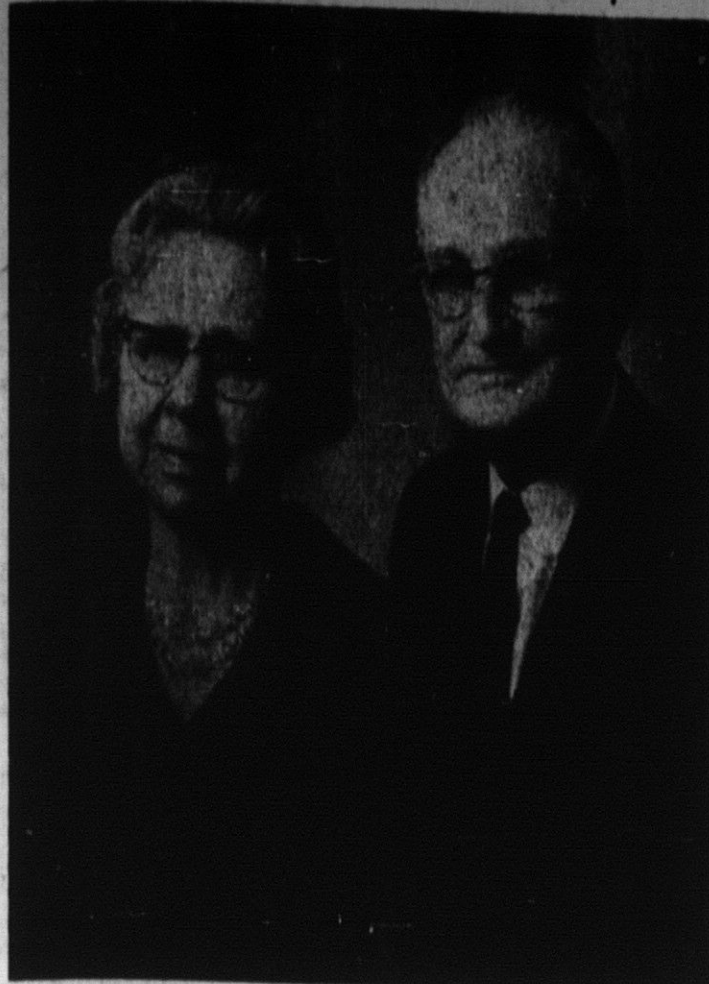

In approving the resolution, the board accepted the low bids of J. W. Blouw, Grandville, general contractor, $109,983; Bert Reimink, Holland, mechanical contractor, $28,334; and the Value Electric Company, Allegan, $11,034, electrical contractor. The overall budget includes $3,000 for furnishings, $2,000 for landscaping, $5,062 for contingencies and $8,000 for architect's fees.

Bids were opened by the special youth home committee on April 2 and the committee recommended accepting the low bids after viewing work done by the successful bidders in company with the architect, Robert Cain, of Kalamazoo.

Committee Chairman Francis Cronan, of Otsego, said the board was "very happy" with the bids which were low enough to allow for inclusion of all alternates to raise construction quality.

The building is being financed by a special 1-mill tax levied this year which will raise approximately $173,000 in addition to the $13,300 balance in the original county jail and juvenile detention home sinking fund.

Housewives, when you're cleaning closets or trunks in your spring housecleaning, bear in mind a plea from Drama Director David P. Karsten of Hope College for any plaid skirts, slacks, jackets (or plaid anything) for use by Hope College Theatre.

You see, the drama department is getting ready to present the musical, "Brigadoon," in May, and the costume department can use plaid of all kinds in the costumes.

Incidentally, the drama department can use old formal, old costumes, old anything. An enterprising staff can utilize practically anything. That takes in some types of furniture, bric-a-brac, draperies, etc., etc., etc. What seems trash to you can look awfully good to a properties committee.

If you have anything, call Hope College and ask for the drama department.

The refrigerated stores ship USS Graffias (AF 29), a unit of the Pacific Fleet Service Force which is under the command of Capt. Mayo A. Hadden Jr. of Holland, Mich., is believed to have accomplished one of the longest deployments of any Pacific fleet ship of her type.

The ship arrived in Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, March 7 concluding 8½ years operations with the powerful U. S. Seventh Fleet in the western Pacific.

Stores ships of this type have the responsibility of providing ships in the Pacific fleet with food. These supplies are delivered to combatant ships while under way thus eliminating the receiving ship's need for dependence upon overseas shore bases. Combined with the services provided by other service for ships, the power combatants can operate at sea indefinitely if necessary.

The ship carries an array of items ranging anywhere from dill pickles to hot dogs to top grade Navy beef. It carries enough bacon and eggs to feed everyone breakfast in San Francisco, Calif.

This grouse-like mystery bird which Garrett Vander Borgh found in his garage some weeks ago and which eventually was traced to two Holland men, Leonard Fought and Don Essenburg, who were raising them, has been returned to the Fought home after being identified as a Chukar Partridge by Eldon Greij of the Hope College Biology department.

But the grouse was not accepted socially by the other little grouse (that's both singular and plural) in the home coop and the owners finally had to segregate her.

Was it because she had been to college?

News comes this way that Kenneth Allen, city editor of the Holland Sentinel from 1946 to 1950 and currently editor of the Albert Lea, Minn., Tribune, has won a $100 award in the 15th annual Freedoms Foundation contest for his editorial entitled "Freedom an Idea More Than Thing."

He wrote in part: "It might be well to reflect that freedom is an unfinished business. We might well reflect that we have tides in freedom that ebb and flow. Each generation faces different threats to freedom, because enemies of freedom are not always persons. Like as not, the threats include ideas, special interests, time-encrusted traditions, deadwood institutions.

"Now it isn't likely that any two Americans think of freedom in the same terms. To one, freedom may mean the right to eat all the ice cream he can hold; to another it may mean the reading of any book he chooses; to another the privilege of voting against a none-too-bright office holder; to another the right to get a relief check; to another the right to choose not to attend church; to another the right to move to another state.

"Freedom will be, as it always has been, the property of those strong enough in spirit to seize it and defend it. It is not something that can be borrowed, lent, legislated or willed — it is too personal a thing.

"In short — freedom is you."

Next November when Mr. Love graduates he will return with his family to the Omaha Indian Reservation and guide his fellow men in religious education.

long. With them are two Holland High klompen dancers, Linda Lound at left and Vicki Sparks. Full House Greeted Cast At Christian High Play

"Cyrano de Bergerac," the tale of a French adventurer-poet who lived in the 17th century, opened to a full house Thursday night in Holland High School auditorium, presented by the senior class of Christian High School.

This age-old poetic masterpiece which ranks with Shakespeare's best is rarely presented by amateur groups, much less by high school students, but the local school is to be commended for aiming high and achieving a result far better than could be expected from normally talented high school students.

Mrs. Bastian Kruithof, the director, was able to bring out the best in her principals, and while the result was something less than Jose Ferrer's masterful role as the big-nosed hero it was refreshing to see teenagers "reaching for the stars" and getting a part of the way. The play Mrs. Kruithof selected was an adaptation of the Edmond Rostand original, one that cut out many scenes yet retained the beauty of the Rostand poetry.

The large high school stage was admirably suited to the play, and the five scenes ranging from theatre to pastry shop, Roxane's balcony, a battlefield and a convent had simple but effective sets allowing ample movement for a large cast. The elevated forestage served as an effective battleground. Technical effects particularly during the battle scene plus excellent lighting effects aided immeasurably.

Mrs. Kruithof was fortunate in casting two students capable of grasping the fine Rostand poetry. Ben Nykamp, wearing a Cyrano nose, did an excellent job as the hero, appearing on stage the greater share of the entire play. Audrey De Young made a pretty and effective blond Roxane, capturing the illusive feeling of beautifully written lines. Richard Bonge was well cast as the less articulate Christian, the handsome cadet who captured Roxane's heart and hand with words provided by the picturesque Cyrano. Their best scene was the balcony scene with Cyrano providing the words as Christian made love to his lady fair.

A large supporting cast and even larger technical crews united to provide background and movement for the three principals in a performance many another school could envy.

Winners will now participate in the Regional contest to be held at Hope College in May.

In the original oratory division, Karen Swets took second place with her oration, "The World of Nylons and Whiskers." Sheila O'Connor with "Broken Windows" took first and Barb Ryzenza with "Forever a Stranger" took second place in the declamation contest.

Teaching Staff Nearly Complete

About 165 teaching contracts have been returned to the administrative office, Supt. Walter W. Scott revealed following a monthly meeting of the Board of Education Monday night.

In addition, the board approved contracts for four new teachers. Gay Moore of Schenectady, N. Y., a graduate of Sargent College of Boston, will teach girls physical education at the junior high. She has been teaching at Oneida High School in Schenectady. She plans to marry a local seminary student in June.

Lorraine Kooyers of Holland, a graduate of Hope College, will teach elementary school. She has had two years of teaching in Middleville and one year at Grant.

Marian Molzahn of Onalaska, Wis., a graduate of Luther College in Decorah, Ia., will teach kindergarten. She has had no previous teaching experience.

Ethelyn Boles of Holland, a graduate of Holland High School and Western Michigan University, will help supervise the art program for elementary schools. Don Rohlick, who has been teaching in elementary school, will resume his work as art consultant along with Miss Boles.

New teachers are geared to a starting salary of $4,700 for the coming year. The personnel committee of the board has scheduled another meeting with the salary and welfare committee of Holland MEA to work on other details of the schedule Friday.

Supt. Scott said about six teaching positions remain to be filled including a boys' gym teacher for junior high, science in junior high, a teacher for special education, and a high school mathematics teacher.

A letter from Jennie Kaufman, Ottawa county school superintendent, included material recommending alert monitors for school systems to be aligned with the CD emergency control center which is now operative with Hans Suzenaar as director. This system would alert on tornadoes as well as Civil Defense matters. Cost per monitor is $225, shared equally by federal funds. An outside antenna may be necessary at a cost not to exceed $25.

Supt. Scott explained the school policy which works in cooperation with City Manager Herb Holt, much the same as the school traffic program. He said Holt has recommended monitors for public, private and parochial school systems, and the administration is currently working with the city manager on details before making final decisions.

The board reappointed President Harvey Buter as its representative on the Ottawa County Tax Allocation Board.

A letter from Peter Attalai, who is leaving the local school system after five years to teach in Schoolcraft College in Livonia, expressed concern over the German program in the public schools and urged the board to continue the program so that eight or nine years already spent in the venture would not be wasted. Buter, speaking for the board, said the German program was considered a tremendous asset to the educational program, and Supt. Scott said he was looking for adequate candidates. There has been no action to discontinue the program.

A letter from Vernon D. Ten Cate, school attorney, clarified details on the recent millage election. A communication from City Clerk D. W. Schipper informed the board that the city has rescheduled its charter amendment special election to June 8 to coincide with the school election. Costs of the election then will be shared equally.

In connection with the June 8 school election, two members to the Board of Education will be elected, one to a four-year term and one to a three-year term. Candidates must designate which position they seek and such petitions must be filed 30 days in advance of the election.

Arthur H. Seddon, who announced several weeks ago that he would resign his position on the Board of Education since he has accepted a new position with General Electric in Schenectady, N. Y., formally submitted his resignation, effective at the close of the meeting Monday. No successor was named. President Buter reiterated previously expressed appreciations for Seddon's outstanding service to the board during his brief 10 months as member.

President Buter commended high school students for excellent results in the district forensics contests.

James Lamb, member of the school forest committee, said Consumers Power Co. has sought permission to cut and remove certain trees in the forest for line clearance. Such permission was granted.

Mrs. Dorothy Wolbert, president of Holland MEA district, presented an opinion of Attorney General Thomas Kavanagh on various aspects of tenure, and stating tenure would take effect 90 days after adjournment. If the legislature adjourns the usual time, this bill then would become effective about Aug. 27.

High School Principal Jay W. Formsma invited the board to a breakfast this morning honoring exchange students currently visiting the high school. Junior High Principal John Noe Jr. invited the board to view the junior high art display in Herrick Public Library.

Mrs. Henry Godshalk presented petitions advancing Mrs. Jerome Counihan as a member of the Board of Education.

Secretary Harry Frissel submitted a report of Junior High Librarian Mildred Alexander pointing to expanded services of the school library and the need for additional space. Since the library is limited to 50, it has been open during the noon hour and after school for a total of eight hours a day.

All members were present with the exception of Bernard Arendshorst. Albert Schaafsma gave the invocation. The meeting lasted less than an hour.

Concert Membership Drive Gets Good Start

About 150 volunteers for the Holland Community Concert Association were at work today lining up memberships for the 1964-65 concert series in Civic Center.

Briefings were made at a dessert meeting Monday night in the Woman's Literary Club with Lewis Vande Bunte, campaign chairman, explaining campaign procedures, and urging all workers to make reports daily to the headquarters in the green room of Civic Center.

Stated so far for the coming series are the De Paur Chorus and the Cincinnati Symphony. Three other attractions will be listed when the campaign closes. It has long been a characteristic of Community Concert Associations to line up financial support before making selections. While the association is non-profit, it also aims to be non-deficit.

Don Witham, New York representative of the Community Concert Association, is assisting with the membership campaign here this week. With reciprocal privileges with series in Muskegon and Grand Rapids, he pointed out that a local membership allows attendance at about $50,000 worth of top musical entertainment.

Also giving a pep talk was Dr. Hollis Clark, president of the Holland association.

It was announced that credit for memberships renewed early in the campaign will go to the volunteers who obtained those memberships last year. Workers also may earn a membership by amassing 20 points, listing 2 points for a new adult membership and 1 each for renewals and student memberships.

Campaign Chairman Vande Bunte also announced five prizes of LP records for the five volunteer workers obtaining the most memberships exclusive of division chairmen and major offices.

So far, more than 350 memberships have been renewed or registered. The association aims to exceed last season's total of 2,000 memberships.

Division chairmen are Mrs. Morrette Rider, Dr. Irwin Brink, Mrs. Myron Van Ark, Mrs. Bernard P. Donnelly Jr., Gary Vanden Bos and Mrs. Arnold Dood of Holland, Katharina Hillebrand and Antoinette Van Koeveing of Zeeland, Mrs. Orville Millar of Saugatuck, Charles King of Grand Haven and Mrs. Marvin Kaper of Hamilton.

Volunteers attending Monday's kickoff came from Holland, Zeeland, Grand Haven, Fennville and Saugatuck.

ly White House Conference on Civil Rights. Most of the other women representatives were from other than religious organizations.

Mrs. Buys is president of the National Department of Women's Work of the Reformed Church.

Principal speaker at the afternoon session will be the Rev. G. J. Holler, missionary at the Arabian Gulf Mission. In 1946 he served as a short term missionary there and in 1950 returned to the field as a career missionary. Prior to his furlough he was teaching in the boys' school in Basrah, Iraq. Mrs. Holler, the former Louise Essenburg whose mother resides in Holland, is engaged in medical work when on the field.

The noon luncheon will include a meat salad, rolls and chips furnished by each church for those attending. The luncheon will feature an international dessert and coffee provided by the host church.

The heart of a grown man at rest pumps out, into the arteries from four to six quarts of blood each minute with, of course, the same amount of blood returning to the heart each minute through the veins.

Mrs. De Wolfe Reviews Books At Library

Mrs. Martin De Wolfe, from the English department at Hope College sharpened the thinking of an appreciative audience at the book review Wednesday at Herrick Public Library.

Blending into one message of gentle force and understanding love, Mrs. De Wolfe retold the thrust in two books, "The Fire Next Time" by James Baldwin and "The Desegregated Heart" by Sarah Patton Boyole. The first book featured a letter from a Negro uncle, Mr. Baldwin, to his nephew. It urged the young man to try to understand white people and to learn their reasons for reacting to Negroes as they do. Mr. Baldwin emphasized that his nephew looks on his white neighbors and town-folk with love.

Mrs. Boyole's book "The Desegregated Heart" is biographical in background and piercingly truthful in describing the change which came about in her attitude toward Negroes. When a child, she was taught to cherish the Negroes but to regard them as living in a different world. As an adult she confronted the Negro face to face as an equal. How she championed the Negro, and lost and regained white friends in so doing spark her story with challenging frankness.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a pink crystal-ette dress featuring a scoop neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. She carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Brown, 16, of 569 West 30th St., after he was struck in the hand by a car driven by Bert Vander Kolk, 57, of Dorr, in the pedestrian crosswalk on Eighth St. between River and Central Avenues. Workshop Set By Garden Club For Spring Show

Mrs. F.W. Stanton will direct the second workshop in flower arranging in preparation for the Holland Garden Club's flower show, "Nature's Color Drama" which will be held at the Woman's Literary Club May 13 through 16. The workshop, whose purpose is clarification of schedule, will be on Thursday at the club house at 9:30 a.m.

The planning committee, Mrs. Nelson Clark, general chairman, Mrs. Harry Wetter, staging chairman, and Mrs. Stanton and Mrs. William Winter, schedule chairmen, will present the floor plan for the show and colors to be used in all the backgrounds. This pre-view and over-all picture of the show will help exhibitors in working out their interpretations in each class.

The 1964 Flower Show of the Holland Garden Club departs from the practice of many recent shows in that the background will be provided by the committee and may not be changed by the exhibitor.

Background colors are planned to accentuate and enhance the character of each class and arrangements must be planned in connection with these background colors.

It is important that all class and section chairmen attend this meeting, as well as all those who plan to enter arrangements in the show. Anyone interested in exhibiting, regardless of whether or not they are a club member may attend. Hand books on arranging will be available.

The primary ambition of the Flower Show Committee is to present exhibits in which living flowers are used.
