Saugatuck Commercial: A little less than a year ago at a lunch spread by the Masonic lodge of this place after certain degree work, thirteen of the members sat down at the table. It was remarked then that there was an ill omen in the number, and those who are inclined to be superstitious see its fulfillment in the fact that the lodge room has been draped in mourning for deceased members four times since the event related.

A few days ago one of our bright young men, a former student of Hope, had occasion to go into a business place in this city to make a purchase. Upon entering he found that the proprietor had stepped out for a few minutes, and after inquiry at a neighbor's he was told that the stove pipe in the office was connected with the house, and that by raising the lid of the stove he could easily communicate with the proprietor, and he did so, to the great amusement of several bystanders.

The Commencement exercises of the Western Theological Seminary were held in Hope church, Wednesday evening, according to published program. Notwithstanding the severity of the storm and the rain the church was filled. The several addresses were well received, and the music by Hope church choir was extraordinary fine.

At the close of the exercises the usual certificates were presented to the members of the class by Prof. N. M. Steffens. The class is composed of the following gentlemen: S. J. Menning, who has received a call to Ebenezer, Mich.; H. J. Pietenpol, who has been called to Coopersville, Mich.; and P. Siegers, who is likely to take a post-graduate course, before settling into a pastorate. When upon entering a music store the salesman offers to give you a fine selection of sacred music on a cabinet organ, telling you at the same time that it is a pipe organ, and when upon inquiring where the pipes are he lifts the lid and shows you two Missouri meerschams—for a sequel as to one's feelings under such circumstances, we refer the reader to the editor of the Times.

John M. Cook and wife of Grand Haven visited relatives in this city this week. The papers have it that John has just received a pardon from the Queen of Holland for desertion from military service. This was real kind on the part of the queen, but it reminds us of an incident in the life of the late Gen. Tombs of Georgia, who to his dying day remained an unrepenting rebel. When asked shortly before his death whether he had applied to the U. S. government for a pardon or a removal of his political disabilities he retorted with emphasis: "What, pardon? I haven't forgiven them myself."

The Ottawa County building committee was on a three days' junketing this week, viewing court houses, with a view of obtaining "pointers." The localities they visited were Hastings, where they are just finishing a $38,000 structure; Charlotte, where they erected a $50,000 building about eight years ago, and Allegan, where they have only recently moved into a $44,000 courthouse. Ionia was also taken in. On the way home they stepped into the new Kent County building, with special reference to the vaults. The committee will meet again on Monday, in this city, to formulate an outline of the plan and style of the proposed building.

The last entertainment of the Nykerk-Breyman lecture course was given last Tuesday evening at Lyceum Hall, by Hon. Frank A. Dean, of Charlotte, who lectured on his travels in Great Britain, Ireland, and France. The audience, though not very large, was an attentive one, and the lecture was fairly well appreciated. The reading was enlivened by occasional touches of wit and humor, as he related his experience on voyage and gave his word-paintings of the peculiarities of foreign character. He gave extremely accurate and vivid descriptions of the beautiful scenery of the fair Emerald Isle, and among places of historic interest described were the Killarney Lakes, renowned for their beautiful scenery; Stratford-on-Avon, the birth-place of Shakespeare, and Westminster Abbey, the final resting place of Britain's illustrious and honored dead.

HOLLAND CITY NEWS.

SATURDAY, APRIL 29, 1893.

Holland, Mich.

JOLLY OLD UNCLE JOSH

HIS GENEROSITY TOWARD HIS NEWLY MARRIED NIECE.

A REALISTIC ROMANCE OF HOLLAND IN WHICH A NUMBER OF PROMINENT BUSINESS MEN TAKE A VERY CONSPICUOUS PART.

"Miss Summers—Polly—I—er—dare I— But the speaker took a header over bashfulness, only to hear a sweet:

"Yes, Charley."

"Can I inspire to—er—to that is—"

Again a lapse into silence, followed by an encouraging:

"Yes, Charley."

"Oh, if I might only hope to—er—to—"

Another failure of language. It was seemingly a hopeless case, and might have been, only a demure:

"Charley, I've said 'yes' twice, and if you mean it, I mean it, too, and—"

And to this day that young man will insist that he popped the question.

All this happened away "down east," and it wasn't long before there was a wedding. Not much longer before there came a letter from Polly's Uncle Josh, in Michigan, who wrote effusively of his delight at her exhibition of what he called "grit," and he proposed that "if the young couple would locate at Holland he would start them up in life as a wedding gift.

Of course they accepted, and were bidding their friends adieu.

A few weeks subsequent to the above conversation, a travel-stained party arrived at Holland having had a very pleasant trip from Chicago on the steamer Chas. McVea. Our friend Uncle Josh was in charge and he led the party straightway to a hotel. The City Hotel, said he, "is a typical hotel. G. N. Williams the manager, for years, and he is mine host after my own heart. A thorough business man, he is endowed with that delightful intuition that makes a guest feel at home, comfortable, contented and in mighty good luck. The house is a marvel of convenience; the apartments are handsomely finished; the cuisine all that a superior chef and unlimited orders on the market can make it, and the attendants polite and expert."

I have already provided you with a cage for your bird, said Uncle Josh, "the first thing we'll look after will be the furnishings etc." Hereupon Polly energetically declared that she had heard so much about Jas. A. Brouwer that she desired to go there. The result was that they were ushered into such a bewildering display that the girl was at first at loss how to select. But she soon yielded to the seductiveness of a magnificent parlor suit, a bedroom set in oak (antique finish) that would have done credit to old Antiquity herself. To this she added a dining-room set with all accessories, a complete kitchen outfit, and didn't forget a most convenient and ornamental writing desk for "Hubby" Charles.

"A pretty good start," said the old man, "and now we'll go to Kanters Bros. hardware store." Here Polly's housewifely instincts had full play in marvels of kitchen apparatus.

There is not an establishment in the west that carries a more comprehensive hold of furnishings. Every possible piece of kitchen furniture, from a tin dipper to a cooking range is here in all styles and variety. If Polly fails to accomplish wonders in the culinary art, it will not be for fault of superior cooking utensils.

"Let's see—I promised you a gold watch, didn't I? queried Uncle Josh of Polly. "The place of all places in town is Breyman & Son so we'll go there."

Entering the popular jewelry store, the old man gallantly acquiesced himself of his promise and then directed Polly's attention to the superior stock of silverware carried by the house.

"There is no such house in Holland," said the old man, "and I will guarantee the quality to be of the very best. Pick out your family clock while here," he added Breyman & Son carry a magnificent line. "Don't forget another fact," he continued, "if ever you unfortunately need optical goods, this is the place to come; they have everything required to improve affected eyes and to determine the required treatment."

At this point, somewhat to the confusion of Charles, the old man indulged in a half-serious criticism of his personal appearance. "You are decidedly off style for a townsman," said he, "and we'd better go over to Stern & Co. After Charles had fitted himself out in a neat and late style business suit from the piles of fashionable garments that cover the tables of this extensively stocked establishment, Uncle Josh declared that "now you look like a newly married man." Before leaving, having found goods and prices irresistible, Charles also invested in a complete outfit of gent's furnishing goods, from the latest style and a dozen shirts. This house is not to be undersold in Michigan.

At this point Uncle Josh suggested a resort to some place of refreshment. At the refreshment table Uncle Josh waved philosophically, "Never neglect your larder," said he, "that important adjunct of housekeeping, controls masculine temper. To that end you must patronize a grocer on whom you can depend for honest goods. Through a long term of years I have found Will Botsford & Co perfectly reliable. You will find them careful dealers, always full stocked with every possible thing in the line of staple and fancy groceries, fresh and first class—no shelf worn goods there—while the prices are 'down to brass tacks.'"

"By the way, Uncle," exclaimed Polly, "where can I go for dry goods? This dress of mine is hardly suitable I must admit." Well, my girl, if you want to select from one of the most extensively stocked establishments in Holland I will direct you to Strong & Son, who carry a line of dress goods that, of variety and real value, is not dom seen outside of the largest metropolitan cities. They carry all the latest weaves in fashionable dress goods and you are sure to be guided right in your selections. You will find them pleasant to deal with and their employees polite and expert, while their prices cannot be duplicated.

While Uncle Josh was pondering where to go next Polly suddenly asked: "Uncle, where can I find the leading millinery establishment?" "Just a few doors further on," remarked Uncle Josh, "and we will visit Werkmann Sisters, who, by the way, have on hand one of the completest stocks of millinery to be found in the city. You can get what you want there, the latest styles and lowest prices, being her motto. They have the experience which guarantees that when you have purchased of them you have the thing at the lowest possible price." And a few hours later there was never a happier lady than Polly.

"These house-fixings remind me," said the old gentleman, "that you haven't got your dishes yet. The most famous stock in extent, quality and completeness is at Paul A. Steketee. But the average News reader need not be told what an array of table-ware Polly had to select from. There isn't, positively, a thing in the line of china, crockery, glass or porcelain needed for use or ornament in any part of the house that cannot be found there in infinite variety and at wonderfully low prices. They also have a splendid stock of lamps of every description, and silverware in abundance. Polly's order suggested her thorough appreciation.

"Oh, I must have an album, Uncle Josh," exclaimed Polly, "and—"

"Yes, and a Bible with a reasonable big family register," interrupted the old man, "we'll go down to the Kleinkintveld store. You'll find many articles indispensable for the parlor as well as library there." And for variety, Mr. Kleinkintveld has an unequalled stock and Polly's purchase included miscellaneous books, fancy stationery, (all the latest agonies) bric-a-brac, house decorations, articles of all manner for the center table. This house also carries a fine line of notions.

"I declare, Uncle," exclaimed Charles, "there goes a handsome phatton; I must have one like that. For the girl." "Get it right here," sententiously said the old man. "My friend Jacob Flieman, Sr., conducts a carriage repository here that for variety and excellence of stock cannot be beaten; 2-wheel carts, surreys, carriages, buggies and phaetons of all the leading makes and styles, and is satisfied with a moderate profit, too."

"I would like to make you acquainted with Drs. Gillespie & Lemley, my dentist friends, too," said the old man. "If you ever have to supplement your natural teeth." "Ugh! Don't you mention false teeth to me," cried Polly. "I'll never carry 'pearly lies' in my mouth, if I go toothless." "Oh, as for that," laughed Uncle Josh, "if you'll only consult a good dentist in time, you can save that catastrophe. Drs. Gillespie & Lemley for instance are wonderfully expert in saving natural teeth, and they have the skill and every mechanical appliance necessary to do their work with the least discomfort to their patrons."

"And another absolutely necessary adjunct to farming," remarked Uncle Josh with the air of an old stager, "is a complete outfit of farming utensils. First-class farming implements are necessary to first-class work, and I know of no one who keeps a larger or better stock than B. Van Raalte, on whom you can depend for the strictest integrity even to the minutest detail of business transactions. He handles the standard wheat drill, and in fact everything in the line of implements."

"Now," cried the old gentleman, "now for a picture of this crowd. In good old country fashion, we'll go to the photograph gallery, and Holland has a first-class one, that of F. J. Bertech. His pictures are wonderful in fidelity and finish. I want one full-sized photo for my study and some small ones for my friends. Frank is famous for successful enlarging, and I want to give you a life-sized representation of 'yours truly.' He has the soul of a true artist. All his work is a labor of love, in which he will not stop short of perfection."

While Polly was looking after some other purchases, Uncle Josh and Charles stepped across the street to the popular Union Sample Rooms of C. J. Richardson, who is recognized as the leading caterer in the city.

En route to their home the gentlemen called at the City News office. "You'll want the news every week," said Uncle Josh, "and as this is the favorite paper here, I'll subscribe for it."

Upon rejoining Polly she began to volubly express her thanks. "You have bought us everything," she exclaimed.

"Only one thing," remarked Uncle Josh reflectively, "but I can remedy that. Jas. Brouwer always has a fine line of them and you can get one whenever you want it; I'll pay for the best."

TRAMPLED TO DEATH.

SICKENING OCCURRENCE IN A NAPLES CHURCH.

Fatal Fire at Chicago—Boston Banks Offer Secretary Carlisle One-half Their Gold Reserve—Duke of Veragua Calls Upon President Cleveland.

Crushed in a Church.
A fatal panic occurred in the church of Torre Annunziata, at Naples. During the services, which were attended by a very large number of persons, part of the drapery about the altar was blown against a lighted candle. The flames spread with great rapidity and the congregation made a rush for the doors. The wildest excitement prevailed, and women and children were thrown to the floor and trampled upon. The fire was quickly extinguished, and when some semblance of order was restored it was found that eight women and five children had been crushed to death, while hundreds of others had been more or less seriously injured.

MONETARY CONFERENCE.

President Cleveland Invites the American Legation to Confer with Him.
It is understood that President Cleveland has requested the American delegates to the international monetary conference to visit him in Washington before they return to Brussels for the next session of the delegates. The American delegates are Senators Jones and Allison, Representative McCrory, of Kentucky, Henry C. Cannon and Professor E. Brown Andrews. All the delegates on their return from the first session formally resigned their appointment in order to permit Mr. Cleveland to appoint new delegates if those appointed by his predecessor had not fully represented his views. Mr. Cleveland had requested all of them to return, but Messrs. Allison and McCrory have expressed their earnest desire to be relieved. It is believed that the purpose of the call of the delegates to Washington is to discuss the present financial situation and the preparation of some definite proposition on the subject of silver which the American delegates can submit to the conference.

ONE KILLED AND MANY HURT.

A partition wall in the electric light building being erected at the southeast corner of Hunt street and Broadway, in Cincinnati, collapsed Monday morning, precipitating fourteen workmen into the cellar, a distance of forty feet. At the time of the accident there were nearly fifty men, including carpenters, bricklayers and laborers, at work in the building, a majority of them being on the fourth floor. The center section gave way, carrying the workmen with it. It is supposed the accident was caused by a weak foundation.

Negroes Aroused by a White Man.

A great deal of excitement was caused among the negroes on the line of the Little Rock and Fort Smith Road, in Arkansas, by a white woman, calling herself Mrs. Webb and hailing from British India. She preached in all the negro churches and advocated the social equality of the races, intermarriages, etc. She said she had had three opportunities to marry white men of wealth and high social position, but preferred to marry a negro, which she did. Her incendiary talks were gradually turning the heads of the negroes when the white people drove her from their midst. In many places eggs and stones were thrown at her.

Boston Banks to the Rescue.

The Boston national banks met at the clearing-house Monday morning and took action in regard to the gold crisis which culminated Saturday. The following resolution was passed unanimously: "The associated banks of Boston, relying on the ability and determination of the Government to maintain gold payments, hereby tender to the Secretary of the Treasury one-half of the gold reserve now held by them in exchange for legal tender notes, and the clearing-house committee are directed to carry out the terms of this resolution."

Chicago First Regiment Armory Ruined.

The armory of the First Regiment, Illinois National Guard, was destroyed by fire Tuesday morning. Two lives were lost and two men were badly injured. The scenery and stage fixtures of the Trocadero, which was to have opened April 29, was also destroyed by the fire. The two lives sacrificed were those of colored men employed as porters in the building. They were known only as George and Walter.

Veragua at the White House.

The Duke and Duchess of Veragua paid their formal respects to the President and Mrs. Cleveland on Monday afternoon. The reception took place in the blue room. Cordial greetings were exchanged, and the Duke, upon leaving, expressed himself highly pleased with the warmth of his welcome. The Duke spent the morning walking about the city.

Aged First Cousins Die at the Same Time.

John Sweeney and Patrick Walsh, first cousins, who were born in Ireland 70 years ago on the same day, died Sunday of old age in Clifton City, Mo. Their funeral took place from the same church, the sermon being a double oration on the lives of the two men, who were to each other as Johnathan and David. Both left families.

Winnipeg Has a Case of Smallpox.

A case of smallpox was discovered in a house in the center of the city of Winnipeg, Man. The victim is a young Irish woman who arrived three weeks ago. She was a passenger on the steamer Buenos Ayres, which was not allowed to land at New York on account of typhus being on board, but secured landing at Halifax.

Heavy Losses by Fire.

At Bellingham, Minn., the Northwestern elevator and about 100,000 bushels of wheat burned. This makes over $200,000 worth of property destroyed by fire within the past six months at that point.

Widow of General Hancock Buried.

In a terrific down-pour of rain the body of Mrs. Hancock, widow of General W. B. Hancock, was laid to rest in the family vault at Bellefontaine cemetery at St. Louis, on Monday. No services were held, and only the relatives and two or three friends were present.

Hurled Through the Air.

A boiler exploded at the limekiln and stone-crushing mill of M. R. Smith, at Carey, Ohio. The building was almost totally demolished, and a workman named Jacob Worder was hurled through the air for a long distance and fatally injured.

MALTREATED BY CHINESE.

Christians Attacked by Ruffians Headed by a Band of Students.

The steamer Empress of Japan brings news of a brutal attack on native Christians by the literati at Tse-Tsu, ten miles northeast of Amoy. A band of ruffians, headed by some literary graduates, attacked a small company of Christians gathered for worship in a house of one of the Christians. The worshippers were seized and beaten most cruelly. One woman was killed and her husband had his queue torn out by the roots. Her two sons were so badly treated that one of them is not expected to live. Some of the others present were hung up by ropes tied around their waists, beaten and left hanging the whole night, stripped of every particle of clothing. A few days later the ringleader was arrested in the district city, of Hui-An. His arrest was resented by the people to such an extent that they made a determined attack upon Christians residing in that city. They damaged the Christian chapel and stoned Rev. R. M. Ross. Mr. Ross was compelled to appeal to the yamen for protection. The magistrate granted an escort of soldiers, and under their protection the minister got safely to Lelu. The matter has been brought to the notice of the British Consul at Amoy.

FROM A BITE ON THE EAR.

John Buttermore, of St. Louis, Bitten by a Political Opponent, Dies.
John Buttermore, the Democratic central committeeman from the Twenty-sixth Ward of St. Louis, died from erysipelas, the result of bites received on election day in a fight with Gus Vogel, a well-known Republican politician and ex-committeeman. While the ballots were being counted on election night at Precinct 143, Vogel and Buttermore became involved in a dispute about the chances of W. C. Kelly and John Ball, the candidates for the house of delegates. Hard words passed between the two men, and they clinched after striking several blows. The police interfered and the friends of the pair separated them. Buttermore was bleeding from a bite on the cheek and ear, but was uninjured otherwise. The affair passed off and nothing more was thought of it. A few days ago Buttermore was taken sick and erysipelas set in, and he expired in great agony. The injury which indirectly caused Buttermore's death was on the lobe of the left ear.

FOUR PERSONS INCINERATED.

Entire Family Burned to Death in Cambridge, Minn.

The house of Dan Erickson, of Bradford, Minn., was burned with all the household effects, and the man, his wife, and two children were cremated. Two of his neighbors had spent part of the day with Erickson and the three drank liberally of liquor. It is supposed that while attempting to light his pipe he dropped some fire and was unable to extinguish it. The remainder of the family were sleeping up-stairs.

Michigan Bank in Trouble.

There has been a flurry of excitement in financial circles in central Michigan for several days, caused by the embarrassment of the Lansing Iron and Engine Works and the Lansing Lumber Company, two leading institutions of Lansing. A crisis was reached Tuesday when the institutions filed mortgages upon their real and personal property to the amount of $701,000 in favor of Orlando M. Barnes, who has incurred a large amount of their paper. A feeling of insecurity at once arose among the depositors of certain banks which have been dealing in the paper of the companies mentioned, and a sudden and wholly unexpected run was made upon the Central Michigan Savings Bank. After meeting all the demands of depositors for several hours, Cashier Bradley, upon the advice of State Bank Commissioner Sherwood, closed the doors of the bank. The managers of the bank maintain that the institution is perfectly solvent and in a few days its doors will be reopened. They say that no bank in the State could be expected to withstand a run of this kind, as anyone at all familiar with the business knows how impossible it would be for any bank to pay all the depositors within a few hours. The utmost confidence in the ability of the bank to proceed to business is expressed by citizens and business men generally, many of them continuing to make their daily deposits while the run was in progress. There is, however, nervousness on all sides, and Lansing has never before, even when James M. Turner failed, witnessed such a financial convulsion.

Strung Up to a Tree.

Twenty-five men with black masks over their faces and riding fleet horses broke open the jail at Morrilton, Ark., just before midnight Tuesday and seized Flannagan Thornton, the negro murderer of Constable Pate. The prisoner was hurried to the woods and is doubtless now hanging to a tree with his body riddled with bullets. The Sheriff has offered a reward for the capture of any of the mob.

Crushed by a Tender.

A remarkable accident which will result in the loss of five lives occurred at Centerville, Va., on the West Virginia and Pittsburgh Road. An engine and two empty cars were derailed. While a force of section hands were working to lift the tank of the engine from the track the jacks gave way and the tank fell on five of them, killing J. V. Denison instantly and fatally injuring four others.

Bowler Explosion Kills Two Men.

A boiler in a saw mill at Rossville, Ohio, exploded and killed Edward McGurg and Harry Rex. Pieces of the boiler weighing 500 pounds were thrown 700 feet and smaller pieces nearly half a mile. Rex's body was hurled 200 feet and was headless when it fell. McGurg's corpse was found fifty feet from the boiler. The cause of the explosion is not known.

Took a Woman for a Burglar.

James Burtinett, of Coal Center, Pa., shot and killed his mother-in-law, Mrs. Little Troy. Thinking burglars had entered the house, he procured his shotgun and without speaking to the intruder, fired both barrels. Taking a light and going in the direction he had shot, Burtinett discovered to his horror that he had blown the head off Mrs. Troy.

Farmers' Fatal Quarrel.

Joseph Kausler, a farmer living near Jackson, Miss., was shot and killed by Joel Jackson. The quarrel was over a negro whom Kausler had hired from Johnson's farm.

Bank Office Wrecked.

A gas explosion occurred at the Dime Savings Bank, Detroit. One man was seriously injured, several others badly scorched and burned, and the office of the institution wrecked.

Ohio Encampment.

The Twelfth Regiment, R. C. U., Knights of St. John, met at Findlay, Ohio, and decided to hold the annual encampment at Sandusky the third week in July.

HOME RULE TRIUMPHS.

THE BILL PASSES ITS SECOND READING.

Stars in Our Flag May Be More Numerous—Sings Sing Loses Two Star Borders—Swift Punishment for a Kansas Bad Man.

Looks Brighter for Ireland.

The Irish home rule bill passed second reading Friday night in the House of Commons at London by a vote of 347 to 304, amid the cheers of the Gladstonians and the Irish members. The house had been crowded since early morning and great interest was shown in the debate. Balfour made the final attack on the bill. The leader of the opposition was never in better form. He charged the liberals with attempting to lay the first stepping stone to a system of federation, and called the measure "a childish imitation of the United States constitution." Mr. Gladstone's speech was a calm reply to the arguments against the bill. He was listened to attentively and heartily cheered when he concluded. The division was taken on strict party lines. Every Nationalist member voted with the majority. The dissident Liberals, to a man, went with the opposition. The Prince of Wales, who had been an interested listener all evening, remained until the result of the division was announced. Mr. Gladstone's closing words were: "You cannot be surprised that we have undertaken the solution of this great question, and as on the one hand it is not the least of the arduous efforts of the Liberal party, so on the other, hand it will have its place in history—yay, and not more—but early history—as not the least durable, fruitful, and blessed among its accomplished acts."

FOUR NEW STATES.

Senator Faulkner's Committee Will Investigate the Claims of Territories.

According to a Washington dispatch the Committee on Territories will begin the investigation of the condition of the four Territories now asking for admission as States early in June. Chairman Faulkner has not yet made his selection of the subcommittee, but he has decided that the start will be made from Chicago June 10th, and he expects to complete the work within one month from that date. The committee will go direct to Utah, and after visiting New Mexico and Arizona will return by the way of Oklahoma. The committee will pay special attention to the mental culture of the citizens and character of the schools and the buildings erected for educational purposes. Senator Butler, Chairman of the Committee on Interstate Commerce, has not yet arranged for the investigation authorized by the Senate, and will take no steps in that direction until May. It is not likely, Mr. Butler thinks, that the committee will go to Toledo to investigate the disturbances among the railroad men, out of which came the decision of Judge Taft in the United States Court sitting in that city. Such investigation of this particular matter as may be made will be conducted in Washington.

TWO MURDERERS ESCAPE.

Threw Pepper in a Guard's Eyes, Secured Keys and Climbed Out of Sing Sing.

Murderers Thomas Pallister and Frank W. Hulse, both under sentence of death, escaped from the condemned cells of Sing Sing prison. The discovery was made at 5:40 o'clock Friday morning, when Guard Gilman found the two night watchmen locked in the murderers' cells. When the guards were released they told a remarkable story. Guard Hulse said that at 7 o'clock Thursday night he passed supper into Pallister. The condemned man threw a handful of the pepper into his eyes. Hulse was blinded and Pallister rushed on him, took his revolver away from him, and under threats of death forced Hulse into the cell, first taking the keys away from him. He then locked Hulse in the cell and unlocked the cell of Murderer Frank Robie. The two murderers then unlocked the cells of Carlyle W. Harris and Murderer Osmond. They invited these two to escape with them. Both Harris and Osmond refused the offer to escape. As soon as the escape was reported Warden Brown sent out his men to scour the country. It is supposed that Pallister had been saving the pepper given him daily with his meals.

IN THEIR NIGHT CLOTHES.

Narrow Escape from Death of Inmates of a Minneapolis Lodging House.

J. A. Shea's fruit commission house on Bridge Square, Minneapolis, was burned at 2 o'clock Friday morning, and the Jewel Lodging House adjoining badly damaged. The lodgers escaped in their night garments, and two men were almost unconscious when they were dragged from the third story. Shea's loss is $40,000; insured for $35,000. The building, owned by the Great Northern Railway Company, was valued at $20,000. The lodging house was damaged several thousand dollars.

OBJECT TO SMOKING COFFEE.

Protest Against a Precaution to Prevent Importation of Cholera.

A protest has been entered at the Treasury Department by agents of the consignees against the decision of Surgeon General Wyman to have coffee shipped from Genoa to the United States disinfected by smoking it with sulphur. The coffee in question consists of 1,000 bags and came originally from Aden, Africa. It is alleged that cholera is suspected to have existed in Aden. On the other hand it is asserted that coffee smoked in the fumes of sulphur is unsalable and unfit for use.

No Apples for Kansas and Missouri.

The apple crop of Northwest Missouri and Northeast Kansas will be an almost total failure. Ice froze at St. Joseph to a thickness of nearly half an inch and great damage was done to the apple and peach trees, which were already in bloom.

Chicago Divorce Not Good.

Henry Kohl has received the information from Judge McAdams, of the New York Superior Court, that the decree of divorce which he had procured in Chicago is not worth 4 cents in New York State.

Death of a Senator.

T. Beale, ex-Congressman and a prominent Confederate, at Seattle, Wash., Banker Bailey Gatzert, aged 64; at Terre Haute, Ind., Charles R. Peddie.

Bismarck's Illness Slight.

Prince Bismarck is suffering from an indisposition, or slight illness, which does not, however, cause the slightest anxiety, but is regarded as trifling and transient.

Lives Lost in a Cyclone.

A frightful tornado crossed Jasper and Clarke Counties, Mississippi. A settlement of negro cabins was destroyed and many of the unfortunate inmates perished.

MAY TIE UP THE ROAD.

Santa Fe Strike May Extend to Other Labor Organizations.

The striking Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe shopmen are doing all in their power to induce other organizations to join them. At a joint meeting of all organizations at Topeka, Kan., the executive committee of the strikers explained their grievances. The committee stated that Superintendent of Machinery Player had informed them that all agreements with labor organizations had been declared off. After the general meeting the several organizations met separately and appointed committees to wait upon the railroad officials to determine definitely the truth of this statement. The men say that if it is found to be true, all organizations having written agreements with the company will strike and all trains on the system will be stopped. The officials of the road say the company will stand by all of its agreements and that the object of the report is to create sentiment in favor of the strikers.

VICTORIES FOR THE REBELS.

Honduras Revolutionists Seem to Be Carrying All Before Them.

The revolutionists in Spanish Honduras have captured the Bay Islands Utila and Ruatan. Last week about 300 men left Celba under the command of a nephew of General Policarpo Bonilla for Utila. Here they captured the government buildings and placed a commandant in charge of affairs. They started for Ruatan and took that place without any trouble. The revolutionists are preparing to move by sea from Celba to Puerto Cortez and make an attack on that port. In the interior, Olanchito and Yoro, after a hard skirmish, were taken by the revolutionists. The majority of the people are in sympathy with the revolutionists, and it is with difficulty that vessels can be loaded, as nearly all the natives are up in arms against the government.

Chicago Loses a Notable.

John F. Yattaw, of Chicago, died of typhoid pneumonia Thursday morning. The announcement of the death of John F. Yattaw would not attract attention, but when it is known that he is none other than the famous "Black Jack" Yattaw, commodore of the Chicago Harbor Yacht Club, all Chicago becomes interested at once, because "Black Jack" Yattaw was at once the most unique character in a cosmopolitan city where one learns more of his neighbor's business through the daily newspapers than he does through association. Yattaw had become almost a national character, not through deeds of god, but rather through his long conflict with law. To the world at large he was not famous—only notorious. His notoriety was gained for the most part through his proprietorship of a bumboat at the government pier. The bumboat was the resort of the tough element, and naturally came into contact with peace officers.

Got $1,000 for Being Slandered.

During the campaign last fall, W. M. Scott, of Frisco, O. T., stated that Dr. J. M. Farris, candidate for the Legislature, was a thief. Farris was, however, elected, and afterward brought suit against Scott for $1,000 damages, and the jury has just awarded him the full amount.

Little Rock's Sensation.

WILL STICK TO GOLD.

MR. CLEVELAND OUTLINES HIS POLICY.

No Change in the Redemption of Treasury Notes Contemplated—Denver Gets Rid of a Bad Man—Gov. Fishback After the Lynchers.

Cleveland on the Financial Situation.

"In an interview concerning the financial situation, President Cleveland said: 'The inclination on the part of the public to accept newspaper reports concerning the intention of those charged with the management of our national finances seems to justify my emphatic contradiction of the statement that the redemption of any kind of treasury notes except in gold has at any time been determined upon or contemplated by the Secretary of the Treasury or any other member of the present administration. The President and his cabinet are absolutely harmonious in the determination to exercise every power conferred upon them to maintain the public credit, to keep up the public faith, and to preserve the parity between gold and silver, and between all financial obligations of the government. While the law of 1890 forcing the purchase of a fixed amount of silver every month provides that the Secretary of the Treasury, in his discretion, may redeem in either gold or silver the treasury notes given in payment of silver purchases, yet the declaration of the policy of the government to maintain the parity between the two metals seems so clearly to regulate this discretion as to dictate their redemption in gold. Of course, perplexities and difficulties have grown out of an unfortunate financial policy which we found in vogue, and embarrassments have arisen from ill-advised financial legislation confronting us at every turn, but with cheerful confidence among the people and a patriotic disposition to co-operate, threatened danger will be averted pending a legislative return to a better and sounder financial plan. The strong credit of the country, still unimpaired, and the good sense of our people, which has never failed in time of need, are at hand to save us from disaster.'"

IMPRISONED BY FLAMES.

Horror at the Silver Bow Shaft in Montana.

Probably the most terrible mine-horror in the history of Butte, Mont., occurred Friday, when nine men were imprisoned in the burning Silver Bow mine, and in all likelihood have lost their lives. Their names are: Richard Andrews, Antonio Beana, Frank Gerard, Thomas Gray, James Natlio, Edward Pascoe, Evan Peughs, S. Rovette and Richard Trembath.

Shrinkage in Trade.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

Monetary doubts have overshadowed all other influences at New York, but have not greatly affected trade at most other points. Wheat has fallen 2 1/2 cents, with sales of 40,000,000 bushels, corn 2 1/2 cents, oil 2 1/2 cents, and coffee 1 1/2 cents. Wheat receipts have been 2,300,000 at Western ports in four days, and Atlantic exports not 600,000 bushels. Pork products are somewhat lower, though declining less than corn. In the cotton market liquidation has continued, and, with sales of 1,200,000 bales here, the price has dropped five-sixteenths. The week's receipts from plantations are fully up to last year's, and Southern advices generally indicate some increase this year in average. Reports from other cities show extensive embargoes from severe storms and the backward spring, with some signs of shrinkage in trade from other causes. The tardy spring makes clothing quiet and the advance in shoes retards buying. The building trade is active and the demand for lumber large, but sales of wool are moderate. Iron is somewhat weaker, but the glass trade is active. Money is active and close everywhere.

The above is the result of the Citizens Caucus held Thursday evening. It is what is generally termed, a double headed ticket. The ballot on election day, next Tuesday, will be similar in form to the above. For each term of office the elector is to erase one-half of the number of names, or, if he is not suited, he can vote for whom he pleases.

The caucus was not as well attended as it should have been and as the importance of our educational interests demands, the number of votes cast at no time exceeding one hundred. Dr. H. Kremers presided, with G. Van Schelven as secretary, and G. J. Van Duren and J. G. Van Putten as tellers.

Voters at school elections in this city are 1) every person who is a qualified voter of the City of Holland, and 2) every person who is qualified by the laws of the state to vote at any school election.

The first qualification explains itself. As to the latter, which includes women, the law reads as follows:

SEC. 17. Every person of the age of twenty-one years, who has property liable to assessment for school taxes in any school district, and who has resided therein three months next preceding any school meeting held in said district, or who has resided three months next preceding such meeting or any territory belonging to such district at the time of holding said meeting, shall be a qualified voter in said meeting upon all questions, and all other persons who are twenty-one years of age, and are the parents or legal guardians of any children included in the school census of the district, and who have for three months as aforesaid, been residents of said district or upon any territory belonging thereto at the time of holding any school meeting, shall be entitled to vote on all questions arising in said district which do not directly involve the raising of money by tax.

The supreme court has rendered a decision in the famous Jockey Brown will case, which was tried in the Grand Rapids circuit court last summer and the details of which kept the press and the people at fever heat all the time. "Jockey" Brown, whose legitimate name was James H. Brown, was an eccentric but wealthy old character. For many years he had two daughters, Margaret and Alice, and was always very fond of the latter, while for the former he entertained a decided aversion. Alice married and went to Colorado and the old man went to live with Margaret who had also married and lived at Grandville. He died in 1891 and the surprise was great when it became known that he had left the great bulk of his property, valued at about $300,000, to Margaret. Suit was at once brought by Alice to set aside the will on the ground that the old man was unduly influenced. Some of the best legal talent in the state was represented in the case, Alice being represented by Edwin F. Uhl and others, while the other daughter was represented by Alfred Russell, of Detroit, with several attorneys of Grand Rapids. During the trial the defense set up several sensational points which materially affected the whole case. They claimed that the younger daughter was not the legitimate child of Brown, but the offspring of an intimacy between Mrs. Brown and a physician. The older daughter took the stand and described her mother's alleged intimacy with the doctor in a way that showed her entirely devoid of any feeling other than the desire for the money. After a hard fought battle the jury decided the will invalid. The decision of the supreme court affirms the jury's finding and the estate will be divided according to law between the two daughters.

The Council of Hope College met on Wednesday and continued its sessions until Friday afternoon, with an attendance of twenty members. The important feature—for which alone we can find room in this issue—was the election of a permanent president of the institution. Numerous ballots were taken, the vote being divided between the following gentlemen: Prof. G. J. Kollen, acting president; Rev. J. W. Beardslee, D. D., of the Western Theol. Seminary; Rev. G. H. Mandeville, D. D., of New York, secretary of the board of education of the Reformed Church; Rev. Dennis Wortman, of Saugerties, N. Y.; Rev. Mr. Cranmer, of Astoria, Long Island, N. Y.; and Rev. J. T. Bergen, of Brooklyn, N. Y. As the balloting proceeded there was considerable shifting, Dr. Beardslee at one time receiving eleven votes, until it reached a point when Prof. Kollen had thirteen votes out of the twenty—it requiring a two-thirds vote to elect. Repeated ballots not bringing about any change, the matter was finally laid over until the June session.

Among the leading men in the revolutionary world to-day is F. J. Domela Nieuwenhuis, the founder of the Socialist party in the Netherlands, an orator of great merit, with an unbending will and an executive ability of a high order. He is about to come to this country, through which he proposes to travel and spread his doctrines. His oratorical powers, his intimate knowledge of the social problems which the Socialist party attempts to solve, and his engaging personality are sure to make a stir among American anarchists. He was at one time a Lutheran preacher, and is possessed of considerable wealth, obtained from a legacy. But, though his hair be as long as his name and his tongue longer than either, he will find in America that the red flag does not even frighten people, and that anarchy in America does not rise to the dignity of terror.—Ex.

Luke Lugers, who was supervisor of Laketown township in this county for several years, and whose ability made him one of the leaders of the board when in session, moved to Holland about five years ago, and has just been elected supervisor of Holland township.—Allegan Journal.

The treatment, Mr. Lugers received at the hands of the chairman of the board of supervisors in this county, last week, does not tally exactly with the above. By some oversight or other chairman Molloy, in making up his committee, had entirely ignored Mr. Dykema of this city and Mr. Lugers of Holland township. His attention being called to the fact, Mr. Molloy rectified the omission as regards Mr. Dykema. Mr. Lugers, however, had to remain satisfied with the assignment on the tail end of the committee on drains and surveys, the least significant of all the committees.

Allegan Journal: Of all the expensive and useless methods of doing public business in this state, the Board of County Canvassers for compiling the election returns is about the worst. Our present election law makes the Judge of Probate, County Treasurer, and County Clerk, election commissioners, and requires them to perform certain duties, but the compiling of the returns is not one of these. These men are accustomed to computing figures and could do this work with accuracy and dispatch, but instead of requiring them to do it, one man from each township, ward, and precinct, is required to attend the meeting of the board of canvassers. It costs the county very nearly or quite $200 for this work that the election commissioners could do fully as well, or better, for little or nothing.

"Small farmers, who are wont to grumble at the low price of wheat," said a Texas ranchman the other day, "should not hold any political party responsible for it. Machinery is the cause of their misfortune. For instance, with the improved machinery for sowing, harvesting and threshing, we can raise wheat and make a good profit on it down in the Panhandle district of Texas for fifty cents a bushel. A farm down there of 10,000 and 20,000 acres is not uncommon. The land is level and is easy to cultivate. The same conditions exist in the Northwest. In fact, the small farmers of the country who cannot afford to buy modern machinery (steam plows, etc.) will in a few years find it unprofitable to raise wheat, except for their own use. There is no profit in wheat to the average farmer under $1 a bushel. The mass of the people will be benefited, however, even if the small farmers suffer."

The Council of Hope College met on Wednesday and continued its sessions until Friday afternoon, with an attendance of twenty members. The important feature—for which alone we can find room in this issue—was the election of a permanent president of the institution. Numerous ballots were taken, the vote being divided between the following gentlemen: Prof. G. J. Kollen, acting president; Rev. J. W. Beardslee, D. D., of the Western Theol. Seminary; Rev. G. H. Will some one who is posted tell us why the dredge went to work at Holland before navigation was fairly opened, and Saugatuck harbor is neglected? The same line of boats trade at both places, or at least pretend to trade at this port.—Douglas Record.

We should answer: for the simple reason that the dredge cannot be at two places at the same time. At the close of operations at Holland harbor we learn the dredge is under instructions to proceed to the mouth of the Kalamazoo river.

The Junior Exhibition.

As announced in last week's News, the Junior's gave their annual exhibition Monday evening. Although the weather was unfavorable, the audience was large, so that the chapel was filled. The program was an interesting one, presenting the character of William of Orange, or William the Silent, as he is popularly known.

The ever-welcome Euphonia Orchestra gave the instrumental music, while A. C. V. R. Gilmore and Miss Harriet Hanson, former classmates, rendered beautiful vocal solos. The decorations were tasteful, displaying an elegant lifesize portrait of "the Silent" upon a blue background, while on either side were represented the Stars and Stripes of our country, and the "Red, White and Blue" of the Netherlands.

The G. A. R. was well represented. It is pleasant to notice how much the old veterans are interested in the boys of "Hope." But the best and essential part of the program was the speeches. The boys were true to the motto of the evening, Je Maintiendrai, for they maintained fully their reputation as speakers and humorists. The addresses were good. They showed research and comprehension of the subject, and would have done credit to any speaker. The delivery also was admirable, although the first speaker, Mr. Tyse, was greatly hampered by a severe cold. His theme was "William of Orange," and he did full justice to the man. Mr. Swart's reading of the "Relief of Leyden," was heartily applauded, and the address on the "Influence of William of Orange upon the World" was excellent, both as regards style and delivery.

After the speeches came the presentation of the photos of Alumni, which the class had collected, and now presented to the College, to be hung in the museum. The presentation proper was by Arthur Van Duren. Mr. Deane gave the history of the class of '94. He greatly entertained the audience and many a time "brought down the house." The class prophet gave an exceedingly dark picture of the class as situated in different parts of the country in the year 1925. Prof. Kollen was chairman of the evening. The class of '92 consists of six members: Messrs. Wm. Dehn, Klaas J. Dykema, Peter Swart, Gerrit Tyse, Arthur Van Duren, and Wm. J. Van Kersen.

The Michigan Saving and Loan Association.

The shareholders completed the organization of the Holland board of directors and have their office, as cotenants with the Ottawa County Building and Loan Association, in the Kanters block.

Dr. J. A. Mabbs presided at the meeting on Saturday evening and subsequently was elected president of the board, with Jas. Price vice president, C. VerSchure treasurer, C. A. Stevenson secretary, and J. C. Post attorney. Among other members of the directorate and shareholders present were J. W. Bosman, W. H. Beach, B. L. Scott, C. L. King, Jas. Huntley, L. Mulder, M. Notter, G. A. Kanters, J. G. Van Putten, Albert H. Meyer, George Ballard, Adam McNabb, G. J. Diekema, D. Cronin of the West Mich. Independent, and Mr. Pierce, general agent of the Association, who gave an address with reference to the plans of the Michigan Association and wherein it was similar and wherein different from the Ottawa Association.

All who desire to "save up" to invest or to borrow, are requested to inquire of any of the Holland board or at the office of the Association.

There are two classes of shares, of $100 each; one class matures in 54 years upon monthly payments of one dollar on each share; the other in nine years, upon monthly payments of fifty cents on each share; no auction of money and no deduction of premiums; fixed rates for both classes. The payment of dues are made to C. VerSchure at the Holland City State Bank, on or before the 25th of each month.

To the Trade and to Housekeepers:

Progress. The steady decline in price during the past few years has placed the highest grade of "Patent" flour within the reach of the masses and has resulted in a wonderful increase in its sale as this grade can now be obtained for a lower price than was formerly paid for "Straight" and "Family" grades.

Sunlight. The most exacting requirements of this growing demand are met by our Fancy Roller Patent; the original and only genuine "Sunlight Flour."

Always Branded:

A Triumph of Milling. This magnificent flour is the result of the most careful and scientific manipulation of elaborate milling machinery which we exclusively control, and the careful selection and blending of the choicest varieties of wheat.

Unquestioned Superiority. This flour is universally acknowledged by Millers, Flour Dealers and Bakers to be unequalled for Whiteness, Purity and Strength.

Accept No Imitation or Substitute. The genuine "Sunlight" flour is sold by all the leading Grocers and Flour Dealers. If the parties you buy of cannot supply this brand, write direct to us and we will tell you where you can obtain it, or supply you direct if no dealer in your town handles it. Do not allow yourself to be put off with an imitation or inferior substitute.

Dr. G. C. Osgood,

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

Dr. J. F. Kitchener,
Conway, Ark.

The Centaur Company, 77 Murray Street, New York City.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

GREAT NAVAL REVIEW

PROUDEST EVENT IN UNCLE SAM'S MARITIME HISTORY.

Nations of the Earth Lend Their Monarchs of the Sea to Do Us Honor—Hampton Roads the Historic Rendezvous—Great Day for Gotham.

Representative vessels from the mighty navies of the most powerful nations of the earth joined with the superb warships of our own country in a display grand and impressive almost beyond conception or description. For two weeks prior to the event in New York harbor, the monster ships had been arriving at the rendezvous in Hampton Roads, off Fort Monroe, at the very spot where, thirty-one years ago, the Monitor and Merrimack engaged in the most decisive naval battle in the civil war, and proved to the world that the days of wooden battleships was over.

First to arrive was our own flagship, the Philadelphia, Rear Admiral Bancroft Gherardi, commander-in-chief, Capt. A. S. Barker commanding. Several other vessels of the United States navy accompanied her, and as one after another the foreigners were sighted the monster guns pealed forth their thunderous salutes. For several days the scene was one of animation and excitement. The roadstead was gay with flags of the various nations represented, and saucy little dispatch boats darted about with untiring energy. From the impudent little launch and agile torpedo boat to the ponderous protected cruiser, every species of vessel used in modern warfare was represented, and when finally all were assembled the list was as follows:

American Fleet.

Bancroft Gherardi, commander-in-chief, Captain Albert S. Barker, commanding, Baltimore, Captain G. W. Sumner, commanding, San Francisco, Captain J. C. Watson, commanding, Charleston, Captain H. F. Pickens, commanding, Chicago, flagship, Rear-Admiral John G. Walker, commanding division, Captain John F. McGlone, commanding, Miantonomah, Captain Montgomery Blair, commanding, Venus, Lieutenant Seston Schroeder, commanding.

Kearsarge, Commander A. S. Crow- nshield, commanding, Concord, Commander Edwin White, commanding, Atlanta, Captain F. J. Higginson, commanding, Newark, flagship, Rear Admiral A. E. K. Benham, Captain Silas Casey, commanding, Bennington, Commander R. B. Bradford, commanding, Yorktown, Commander Frank Wildes, commanding.

THE RENDEZVOUS IN HAMPTON ROADS.

Bancroft, Lieutenant Commander A. Walker, commanding, Cushing, Lieutenant F. F. Fletcher, commanding, Constellation, Commander C. F. Goodrich, commanding, Yantic, Commander Samuel Belden, commanding.

Argentine—Nueve de Julio... Protected cruiser, Brazil—Aquidaban... Gun vessel, Republic... Protected cruiser, England—Blake... Armored cruiser, Australia... Armored cruiser, Magicienne... Protected cruiser, Tartar... Par. Pro. cruiser, Partridge... Par. Pro. cruiser, France—Jean Bart... Protected cruiser, Arcturion... Unprotected cruiser, Huesaro... Unprotected cruiser, Germany—Kaiserin Augusta... Unpro. cruiser, Scadler... Unprotected cruiser, Holland—Van Speyk... Protected cruiser, Italy—Zara... Par. Pro. cruiser, Giovanni Baiman... Protected cruiser, Dogal... Armored cruiser, Russia—Omitri Donakof... Armored cruiser, General Admiral... Par. Pro. cruiser, Bahia... Unprotected cruiser, Spain—Reina Regente... The fleet of Xerxes must have awed the Greeks as did this tremendous array of "armed neutrality" the modern world. The Armada was great in its day, and so were the fleets that gathered to besiege Sebastopol. But the advances in naval construction have been almost miraculous in their prodigiousness, and so it is that the war vessels gathered in Hampton Roads could in a day destroy a coast nation as extensive as the line from Key West to New York.

The new vessels of our now renowned navy have been described so often that further mention is superfluous. Of a type different than those of any other nation, they combine fighting ability with swiftness, and challenge the admiration of the world. But, superb as they are, they were in company which divided honors fairly.

England sent the famous Blake, now the equal and lately the superior of any floating battery in the world. Argentina's Nueve de Julio, just from the yards on the Clyde, gave to the world the information that this South American confederation was ready to do battle upon equal grounds with any other power. The Jean Bart, with her gigantic guns, iron-sided hull and wicked-looking ram, looked equal to the task of encountering the whole fleet. Italy, Russia, Brazil, Germany, Spain, and even little Holland, all sent champions fit indeed to appear in this congress of invincible monarchs of the sea.

Under way from Hampton Roads to New York, the American vessels acted as escorts to the visitors, the Spanish fleet having the place of honor, commanded by the Duke of Veragua, Admiral of Spain. Vice Admiral Sir J. D. Hopkins with the Blake led the British squadron; Vice Admiral Korpakoff the Russian, with Grand Duke Alexis second in command; Rear Admiral Magan- ghi was in command of the Italian fleet, and Capt. Amavel, ex-Minister of Marine of Portugal, was in command of the corvette Alfonso de Albuquerque. Admiral Gherardi of the American fleet is a man fitted by education and temperament for the delicate duties intrusted to him. He was born in Jackson, La., November 10, 1832. He entered the navy from Massachusetts as midshipman in 1846, and served on the Ohio, of the Pacific squadron, till 1850, entering the Annapolis Academy in 1852. He became lieutenant in 1855, and at the beginning of the civil war was on the Lancaster, of the Pacific squadron. In 1862 he was made Lieutenant Commander, and took part in the engagement of Fort Macon in that year. In 1863-64 he commanded the gunboat Chocoma and the steamer Port Royal, of the West Gulf blockade squadron. In the latter vessel he took part in the battle of Mobile Bay and distinguished himself for coolness and courage. In 1866 he was made Commander, in 1874 Captain, and in 1884 Commodore. In 1886 he was appointed Commandant of the Brooklyn Navy Yard, and in 1887 he became Rear Admiral.

Up the coast the formidable procession swept in close order and at a speed of nearly every civilized nation in the world and lively with the music of scores of bands, steamed out to take positions advantageous for view. Slowly up the Narrows steamed the mightiest fleet ever afloat; they were joined by the Columbus caravels, the Santa Maria, Nina and Pinta, and the assembled thousands roared a mighty cheer as these representatives of the great discoverer's frail craft swept on in company with the others. At last, opposite

Ports Hamilton and Wadsworth, came the supreme moment. The coast defense guns belched forth a sheet of flame, and from out the smoke boomed America's salute to the nations of the world. Hardly had the first cheer rolled up from the multitude before the fleet gave answer with a roar and crash that seemed to split the very heavens. Columbia had received the proudest homage in her history.

The rest of the exercises were simple. The fleet came to anchor, President Cleveland, his Cabinet, and other dignitaries boarded the flagship Philadelphia, and slowly down the line the party steamed in review. Flags and bunting were displayed in profusion. As the President of the great republic passed the warships the yards were manned, the bands played national airs, and the multitude ashore and afloat howled itself hoarse.

The Presidential review terminated the parade, and many of the foreign vessels departed at once for their respective stations. Quite a number of the commanding officers, however, proceeded to Chicago to witness the opening of the Exposition.

It is the opinion of naval officers that the New York review surpassed in magnificence and grandeur the great English display inaugurated for Emperor William of Germany in 1890. Never in the history of the world have so many of only seven and a half knots to avoid collisions, and in the evening came to anchor in Sandy Hook to await the morning of review. Early on that eventful morning every available space for sight-seeing was crowded with spectators; crafts of all nations consented to participate in an international parade—a fact which plainly indicates that all of the great powers are anxious to show their respect for the United States by honoring the memory of the man who discovered the western hemisphere.

Hood's Cures

Even When Called Incurable

Terrible Siege, Sciatic Rheumatism

Mr. Arthur Simon of Galata, Ohio.

"They said I was incurable, the doctors did, but the result has proven that Hood's Sarsaparilla was able to cure. I had Sciatic Rheumatism and was confined to my bed six months. Three physicians did not help me and I Was Given Up to Die.

When I was in this terrible condition, unable to move hand or foot, I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. The first bottle had a little effect, and while taking the second I gained so rapidly that I could sit up in my chair. My system had been run down by other medicine that it took me quite a while to recuperate. By the time I had taken four bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla I could walk around, and now, as I have taken six bottles, I am cured and can do a good day's work. I do not feel I can praise

Hood's Sarsaparilla enough." ARTHUR SIMON, Galata, Ohio.
