ALDERMANIC SANDWICH

Like a sandwich our aldermanic body is peculiarly paired off. Not one ward in the city has two city fathers with the same political affiliations. In the first ward we have a Republican sandwiched with a Bull Moose; in the second a Socialist and a Republican fill the gastronomic bill, while in the third ward a rare Democrat and a republican do the honors. In the fourth ward a Republican and a Socialist break bread together and in the fifth, a Progressive and a Republican are the chief cook and bottle washers. There is a republican in every ward sandwiched with other choice assortments with "Old Nick" as chef.

Hottest Council meeting in History of the City

ALDERMEN ALL THINK ONE WAY
ON LIQUOR QUESTION

PARK BOARD WANTED TO TAKE
SKATING PRIVILEGES FROM CHILDREN.

Long before the council opened last night the hall was crowded with people and the air was full of excitement although no one knew just what to expect. People stood around in small groups talking and there was something mysterious about the whole affair. When the meeting opened the minor affairs were quickly passed over and after a short discussion on people using the sidewalk for a skating rink the principal discussion of the evening followed and was the hottest taken place in the council rooms for some time. The discussion came when the committee on licenses recommended refusing the druggists licenses and the Brewer's license applied for by Anthony Sief.

The first thing on the program was the granting to Mr. Newman and Mr. Rice of Flint permission to start a moving picture theater in this city. A report was then read by the committee appointed to get rates of interest from the various banks for money deposited in said bank by the city. The three Holland Banks, Holland City State Bank, Peoples State Bank and the First State Bank, all offered to pay two and one half per cent interest and agreed to give bonds as required. This was turned over to the committee on Ways and Means.

Statements from various brick companies for furnishing the city with paving brick were read to the council and this was turned over to the committee on Streets and Crosswalks which committee reported in favor of the Bessemer Brick Company latter in the evening. The company offers brick for $22.25 per thousand and it has already been tried on Eighth Street. The report was accepted by the Council.

In the interest of the Park Board Mr. Van Schelven then brought up before the council the fact that people roller skating on the sidewalk around Centennial Park were destroying the sidewalk and that he thought it ought to be prohibited or it would cause the city a great deal of expense to build another sidewalk. Every night, he stated, there were hundreds of people skating on this walk, and as he spoke the sound of the skates rolling over the cement sidewalk and the merry laughter of the skaters flew up through the windows to support his statement. He said this was breaking pieces off the walk and that the walk could not be repaired but would have to be rebuilt. The walk he claimed has cost the city $1000 and he did not think the city should be burdened with this expense. On one hand he said he dreaded interfering with the children's sport but on the other hand he thought it his duty as a member of the park board to bring this matter before the council. Then he said it would not be proper for the council to prohibit skating on these walks without prohibiting it throughout the city and so he proposed that the council draw up an ordinance to prohibit skating on the walks throughout the city unless wooden rollers were used on the skates.

Mayor Bosch answered him by saying that the boys and girls of the city had been promised a Y. M. C. A. ball park, swimming pools and other things but had not been given anything and so it would be very unjust to prohibit them from indulging in this sport. He said that he did not think the fad of roller skating would last any longer than until warm weather set in and so he said it should not be prohibited although it was at time a nuisance.

Alderman Van Drezer proposed that the Columbia Ave. Park should be made into a playground and that a circular walk be built for roller skating. Alderman Drinkwater said that it would be better that the city should put a new walk around the park every time one is worn out rather than stop the skating and he expressed the opinion of the council. So the skaters will still enjoy their sport without being molested by the council.

The committee on Streets and Crossings proposed that a tank of oil for oiling the streets be ordered as this would be the best way to keep the dust down on many of the streets. Last year oiling the streets was tried and it found to be better than water and there was no complaint of odor. It is the intention of the committee to fix some of the street roads with crushed stone and Ald. Harrington claimed that from experience he thought that there was no better road in paving than a macadam road. The committee was authorized by the council to go ahead and order the oil.

The petition of the residents on Fourth Street and Columbia Avenue to have a sidewalk put in there was acted upon and a sidewalk is to be ordered in.

The fireworks of the evening then started when Alderman Congleton as chairman of the License Committee made his report which is printed below in full.

Holland, Mich. April 18, 1913

To the Honorable the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Holland.

Gentlemen: Your committee on Licenses to whom was referred the application of Anton Self Jr., for a Brewer's license, and the bonds of Harry R. Doesburg, Walsh Drug Co. John W. Kramer, Charles Dykstra, H. J. Fischer, Walter Sutton, and Gerber Drug Company, as druggists beg leave to report that we have had the same under consideration and recommended as follows:

1. That the application of Anton Self Jr. for a Brewer's license be refused.

2. That while we are satisfied with the sufficiency of the sureties of the several druggists' bonds, we would recommend that no druggists' bonds be approved.

3. That the committee on Ordinances be instructed to prepare and present to the Common Council an ordinance to prohibit and prevent the selling or giving of any spirituous fermented or intoxicating liquors, and to punish any person so selling or giving, as provided in sub-division eight, of Title 7 of the City Charter.

Respectfully Submitted,
Signed F. J. Congleton
P. Prins
Committee on Licenses.

Alderman Congleton then proposed that the recommendation of the committee be adopted and his motion was supported by Alderman Harrington. Mayor Bosch then left his chair and came down before the council determined to have the question thrashed out from all angles—and the fight was on. Alderman Drinkwater first wished to know if it were legal to refuse to accept the druggists' bonds if they were alright and City Attorney A. Van Duren claimed that the council had the right to do this if it saw fit.

The Mayor then wished to get the opinion of each alderman and called on all for their idea on the subject. Alderman Harrington said that the city had voted against the saloon at the recent election and by that he thought that they wanted the city dry and that he was in favor of the report. He said it was not giving the wholesalers a fair deal to refuse them license and then grant a license to someone else. Alderman Hansen said that he did not take the last election on saloon or no saloon in the light of wet or dry but thought the people still wanted to have a means of buying liquor and that he wished to abide by the will of the people. He said he thought that by the election the people wished to keep things as they were.

VanDrezer said that the question was up for saloon or no saloon five different times and that the saloons were defeated each time but still the city made no progress in any direction on the liquor question. He said it was time to get down to business and that he was in favor of stopping the traffic altogether. If the people want the druggists to sell the liquor then that would be alright but let them pay license as the wholesalers did. He claimed it was unfair to let the drug stores sell all they wanted by paying a small license while the wholesalers had to pay five hundred dollars.

Drinkwater came out in favor of giving all a license but not showing partiality by granting license to some and not to others. Alderman Vander Hill said that he wished to do the will of the people and that he did not think that the people wished to have the town dry, but that it was unfair granting licenses to some and not to others and that he would not consent to this being done. Alderman Prins said that he was not against granting license but that it was unfair to give to some and not to others. He said he would like to see things as they were two years ago when the wholesalers could sell beer by the bottle and whiskey by the half pint. King, Sterenberg and Dyke were not present at the meeting so could not express their opinion.

Mayor Bosch then began questioning Alderman Congleton on his report and asked him what he meant by refusing licenses and why had the committee recommended this. To which Mr. Congleton said that it meant that the Brewery would go out of business and that the committee on ordinances would pass an ordinance regulating the sale of liquor in the Drug Store. He then refused to answer any more of the Mayor's questions saying that he would not be cross examined and that he thought he had clearly stated his views in the report. The Mayor then asked if the council could keep out the brewery and City Attorney Van Duren claimed they could.

Mr. Bosch then asked the council men if they realized that by keeping Mr. Sief from selling beer in the city they would bring in all outside trade as shipments could be made from any place outside of the city. He asked if the council had the right to make a local option town out of this city when the people had shown that they did not want it and when the city attorney's advice was asked for on this question he claimed that the council could do as it saw fit on this question. Mr. Bosch then asked if the council would take the blame if this system did not go right or if they would throw it back at the people saying that it was what they wanted. He asked many of the aldermen if the election was for saloon or no saloon or if it was for local option, to which they all replied that it was for saloon or no saloon. However all stuck to it that it was unfair to give the druggists and brewery licenses to sell and not let the Wholesalers sell.

Drinkwater stated that he was a wet man from a wet ward and that any thing that favored the wets he was going to vote for but he claimed that the proposed method of granting licenses was favoring the druggists. Ald. Van Drezer said that when the city voted dry at the recent election he said that he would make it so "blooming dry" that College avenue would crack open and he said that Mayor Bosch seemed to think himself an Atlas holding the city affairs on his back but that the entire council was as responsible as he. Alderman Hansen was in favor of turning the proposition over to the committee on ordinances as proposed in report of the committee on licenses and see if they could not find a means of remedy. This if the privilege of selling liquor is granted the drug stores and not the wholesale houses would show class legislation which any fair minded man would not be in favor of. Mayor Bosch then came out against the committee's report and said that it was putting the city local option and attacked Alderman Van Drezer on his stand for representing his ward and said he should represent the wishes of the people. Aids, Drinkwater and Van Drezer then went through an Alfonso and Gaston stunt to see which would have the floor and Drinkwater won. He stood by Van Drezer on his stand saying that Van Drezer was not a drinking man and that he was fighting for what he thought right. Van Drezer then got the floor and told the Mayor that he was in the council to take care of just such fellows as he was, meaning the mayor.

The argument waxed strongly back and forth in this way for some time without anything being accomplished, the aldermen claiming that it was not fair to grant the license to one without granting the same privilege to all while Mayor Bosch held to it that it was making this a local option city and that the people did not want this. Finally Ald. Harrington as member of the ordinance committee said that he would never grant an ordinance to the drug stores because it was unfair and Alderman Vander Hill the other member of the board present took the same stand. The question was then put to a vote whether the report of the committee on licenses be acted upon and it carried without a dissenting vote. So now it is up to the ordinance committee to draw up an ordinance regulating the sale of liquor in the drug store and a special meeting of the council will be held next Monday night for this committee to make its report. The ordinance committee invited the license committee to meet with it and so a joint meeting of the two committees will settle the question. The Ordinances Committee is composed of Harrington, Vander Hill and Sterenberg but Mr. Sterenberg is out of the city and will not return for many months.

FORMER HOLLAND MAN

Invents Lock Bolt

John Skinner formerly of this city and a life saver at Macatawa but now living in Allegan, made application for a patent on a lock bolt or nut for on bolts. He and his partner Charles Underkirk received the serial number last Thursday and so their patent has been practically granted.

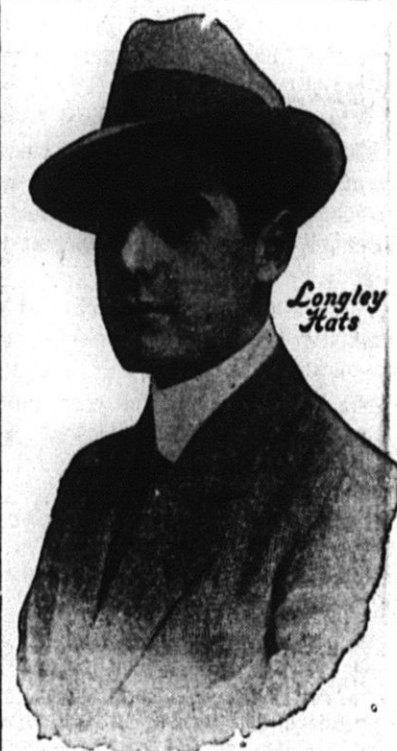

The patent attorney through whom they dealt said that their invention is the simplest device that has ever gone through his office. It is the simplicity of the idea that makes it the more valuable and therefore should find a more ready sale.

The manner in which the nut is locked on the bolt is very simple. Holes on opposite faces of the nut are bored through the sides and then the nut screwed on the bolt in the usual manner. A small chisel, especially designed, is then placed in the holes and the threads battered in such a manner that the nut is securely locked. It cannot be turned off even if enough pressure is exerted to twist the bolt.

The patentees expect to realize a snug sum on their idea and believe that railroads, auto manufacturers and others will readily see the superior merits of their invention over anything of like kind now in use.

WORSE THAN EVER NOW

The new congressional reapportionment as framed up by the state senate, puts Ottawa and Kent county alone in the Fifth district. This arrangement is likely to prove about the most unpopular thing done for Ottawa county in some time, as the majority of Ottawa county people realizing that when hitched unto Kent county, Ottawa has about as much show as the proverbial snow ball. The contention is that Ottawa belongs to the lake shore counties and not with Kent, which has dominated politics for years. No doubt this is a Grand Rapids trick as leaving Ionia out of the reckoning they have us "body, soul and breeches."

OVERISEL

The village of Overisel Monday evening closed a lecture course held there the past season with a lecture by Dr. G. J. Kollen of this city. This lecture course was something new for the quiet little village but it was a great success and the final number Monday evening was a fitting close to the series. Dr. Kollen spent his boyhood in Overisel and he was given an ovation Monday night by people of the village and the surrounding community.

Dr. Kollen spoke on the subject "Reminiscences." This subject was especially appropriate because of the fact that the veteran educator could look back to the days when he was a boy in that community and when people were still struggling against many adverse conditions. The speaker drew freely on his own experiences in talking of the days of struggle and comparing them with these days of modern conveniences.

He showed how great an advance has been made during the last fifty years. A little village like Overisel for instance, has a great many conveniences that the people of the larger cities did not have a half century ago, such as telephones, etc.

At the close of the formal lecture Dr. Kollen was given a reception and met many in a social way.

The people of the village have decided to provide another lecture course next season, and plans for this will soon be made.

SAUGATUCK

The latest thing regarding the change in route of the electric line is that the property owners along the lake shore are offering $10,000 to have the track moved to the route surveyed near the hills. A number of surveys have been made and it was about decided to build further east. It has not yet been decided what action will be taken on this new offer but the chances are that it will be accepted.

It seems that some property owners have taken the position that if the railroad wanted to cross their land they would hold them up for an exorbitant price and they would have to pay. With the lake shore property owners helping the cause, the matter of securing right of way will be simplified.

About half of the voting precincts in Allegan county voted against the Good Roads proposition but the result was that the question carried by between 500 and 600, Saugatuck township furnishing 299 of this majority. Woman's Suffrage lost in the county by a vote of 2,373 to 3,052. Saugatuck township stood 151 Yes and 229 No. There were eight more votes against it in Saugatuck this spring than last fall.

It looks a little like sawmill days in Saugatuck to anyone who would look at the pile of logs across the river just south of the ferry. The Forward Movement Association have had men busy all winter lumbering in their woods and now have about 115,000 feet of logs ready for the saw besides the quantities of stove wood they have cut.

The welcome sound of the Douglas basket factory was heard Tuesday and different parts of the factory have been started from day to day till now nearly all departments have been started and probably next week all machines will be in motion.

A large number of logs were gotten out the past winter, and as a fairly good supply of baskets were made up last fall for the early business the factory is in good shape to take care of the bumper crop which seems almost sure at this time.

The trial of Ed Wendling, William Seehouse, William De Witt, Arthur Karose and Percy Mayhew charged with gambling in the basement of Mr. Mayhew's home was delayed Thursday on account of the inability of the officers to draw a jury. The trial began before Justice Sooy Thursday afternoon.

City Attorney A. Van Duren conducted the case for the people while Att. D. Ten Cate of the firm of Diekema, Kollen & Ten Cate appeared for the defendants. Some of the witnesses called to the stand for the people are Mr. and Mrs. Peter Dalman, Miss Dena Van Lopic and officers O'Connor and Stoketee.

A New Back for an Old One—How a Resident Made a Back Strong
The back aches at times with a dull, indescribable feeling, making you weary and restless; piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the loins are so lame that to stoop is agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back if the kidneys are weak. You can not reach the cause. Follow the example of this Holland citizen:

Mrs. Sarah Kelley, 27 W. Sixth St. Holland, Michigan, says "Last winter I was all crippled up with my back and it was then that I used Doan's Kidney Pills. For a week or two I was unable to get about and I often thought my back would break. Mornings when I arose I could hardly stoop to tie my shoes. I had heard so many people speak favorably of Doan's Kidney Pills that I got a box and it was not long before they brought me relief. I have had no further need of a kidney remedy."

Jamestown Church Will Not Accept Resignation

The Jamestown Christian Reformed church has refused to accept the resignation of the Rev. J. Baker on the grounds that the call which he wished to accept is the second one to come for him from the same church within a year.

The consistory of the Grand Haven Second Christian Reformed church sent him a call about six months ago. He could not leave at that time, so another summons was sent just recently.

It is a rule of the church that no minister can be called twice by the same church within a year, and it is upon this section of the constitution that the Jamestown members are making their stand.

United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

A gold medal to the school boy or girl between the ages of 10 and 15 who writes the best composition, not to exceed 800 words, on the repair and maintenance of earth roads, is to be awarded by Logan Waller Page, Director, Office of Public Roads, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. All compositions must be submitted to Mr. Page before May 15, 1913, and the medal will be awarded as soon thereafter as the compositions can be graded. The composition may be based on knowledge gained from books or other sources, but no quotations should be made.

After many years' experience in dealing with the public roads situation of the country, it is Mr. Page's belief that ignorance on the subject of repair and maintenance of roads is as much the cause of their bad condition as any other one factor. It is expected that the competition will bring about a better understanding of the subject of repair and maintenance in the rural districts.

Many children living in the rural districts have experienced the disadvantages of roads made impassable through a lack of proper maintenance and it is expected that their interest in the competition will stimulate greater interest among the parents. Bad roads have prevented many children from obtaining a proper education and have even prevented doctors from reaching the side of rural patients in time to save their lives.

Any child between the ages mentioned, attending a country school, may compete. Only one side of the paper must be written on, each page should be numbered, the name, age, and address of the writer, and the name and location of the school which he or she is attending must be plainly written at the top of the first page. The announcement of the competition has been sent to the superintendents of schools in the rural districts. No further information can be obtained from the Office of Public Roads. This announcement should be plain to everyone, and all children will thus start on a basis of equality.

PLAN IS STARTED TO PRESENT NETHERLAND RULER WITH APPROPRIATE REMEMBRANCE.

There is a plan on foot to organize a committee of nationwide scope which aims to present Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands with a golden casket containing resolutions of Hollanders and descendants of Hollanders in this country expressing their continued affection to the queen.

The presentation is to be made on Aug. 31, the birthday of the queen. The aim is to call for contributions, each contributor having his name inscribed on the roll of resolutions. The minimum contribution will be 5 cents. The Knickerbocker societies of the country are doing the active work in arousing interest in the matter.

The Netherlands will this year celebrate the centenary of its liberation from French rule under the Napoleonic regime, and the return of the House of Orange to the country. The celebration will be one of the greatest ever attempted in that country. It is to show the continued loyalty of Hollanders in this country, and their maintenance of the traditions of their fathers, that the presentation is to be made.

Mr. Huntley was passing Hubbard's Bicycle and Motorcycle shop on River Avenue when a little black water spaniel owned by Mr. Hubbard ran out of the doorway and grabbed him by the leg. The dog did not get a very good hold and only succeeded in tearing Huntley's trousers from the knee down. HOLLAND BUSINESSMEN GO ON RECORD AS FAVORING IT

Moreover They Decide to Devote the Proceeds of Chautauqua Course To This Cause

Another important boost was given to the Y. M. C. A. plan Monday night when the Holland Businessmen's association enthusiastically endorsed the proposition. The businessmen came out in larger number than has been the case for a long time and the fact that the Y. M. C. A. project appealed to them was shown by the way they took hold of this proposition.

Not only did the association give the project their endorsement but they showed in dollars and cents that they are interested. The mere endorsement of the business interests of the city would in itself be of immense value. But the businessmen decided to give the proceeds of the course of Chautauqua lecture that is to be given in Holland to this cause.

This Chautauqua is a new venture for Holland, but already the indications are that it will be a success. The best speakers and singers and entertainers in this country will appear on this course, and even Europe has been drawn upon for the best available talent. The people of Holland will be given a few days of lyceum entertainment that will interest all classes of people. The businessmen have been back of the venture from the beginning and they believe that one summer of it will convince the people of Holland that they will want it again and again.

And now that the proceeds are to be devoted to the Y. M. C. A. project it will be a case of killing two birds with one shot. The expenses of the Chautauqua are considerable, but if the people of Holland come out in large numbers to hear them, there will be a neat sum at the end of the series for the Y. M. C. A. With other organizations helping the project will doubtless be brought to a successful issue.

BUSINESSMEN'S ASSOCIATION APPROVES OF LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE

Proposed Constitution Will Make Provision for Work for City's General Welfare

The question recently put to the Holland Businessmen's association by the Common Council as to whether the organization is working for the general welfare of the city or is merely an organization that works for the mutual welfare of the merchant class was answered Monday at the meeting of the association when the legislative committee submitted a skeleton plan of the new constitution that is to be drafted. The council asked for this information so that the aldermen might be able to decide if the association is entitled to a room in the city hall or not. Following is the preamble of the new constitution: "An association of business men desiring to obtain a charter under the title (viz. "Business Men's Association of the City of Holland") with the following object or aim: An association not for pecuniary profit, but to work for the best interests of the city of Holland and themselves as citizens of the same working through various committees, boards or departments with power to enter into all necessary contracts and agreements; acquire, own and transfer property, real and personal, and provide money by various means to carry on the work and accomplish the aims of the association."

The plan as outlined by the legislative committee Monday is that the officers shall include one president, two vice presidents, a corresponding secretary, a financial secretary, and a treasurer. The executive committee shall be composed of the officers of the association and the chairmen of the various committees.

Perhaps better than anything else the character and scope of the work to be done by the association is shown by the committees that are to be provided for in the new constitution.

They are as follows: Membership, Legislative, Financial, Public Improvements, Public Utilities, Trade Interests, Transportation, Taxes and Insurance, Industrial, Statistics and Publication, Arbitration, Civic Affairs, Good Roads, Conventions and Entertainment, Retailers' Department, Wholesalers' department, Publicity.

This skeleton plan was outlined by the merchants Monday at the regular meeting and it was adopted by the members present. The committee has been authorized to go ahead and draft a constitution along these lines. This document will however not be completed for several months.

LOOK FOR GOOD SEASON Several Autos Already Sold in Holland

There is a promising outlook for the automobile trade in Holland this season. Already several cars have been sold and it is believed that no less than 50 or 60 machines will be sold in this city this season.

Mr. Thomson, the owner of the largest garage in the city, went to Grand Rapids Wednesday and returned with four cars, which were sold to parties in this city. With the extension of the pavement in the city and the repairing of the country roads that has been accomplished within the last few seasons, automobile is very good in the city and vicinity.—Grand Rapids News.

"Such shipments mean Studebaker has the confidence of the farmer"

Every year over one hundred thousand horse-driven vehicles are sold by Studebaker. Over a million Studebaker vehicles are always in use. Stop and think what that means.

This enormous output means that Farmers—the men who know—depend upon Studebaker wagons to do their work.

And a Studebaker wagon never fails. It is always ready to do a big day's work—and to keep on doing it. There are thousands of Studebaker wagons that have been in service from 20 to 40 years.

A Studebaker wagon is a real business asset. Wheels, body, frame, axles and running gear have been tested and retested by experts. You can buy cheaper wagons but they're not Studebakers, nor will they last like Studebaker wagons.

Whether in city, town or country, for business or pleasure, there is a Studebaker vehicle to meet your requirements. Farm wagons, trucks, contractors' wagons, buggies, surreys, runabouts, pony carriages, business and delivery wagons—each the best of its kind. Studebaker harness also, of every description.

CAN MICHIGAN SUGAR STAND THE NEW TARIFF?

Had President Wilson deliberately connived at the confusion of his own friends and followers in Michigan he could not have fattered any one policy so successfully as free sugar. The convention that nominated him on a "tariff for revenue" platform proffered this solemn reassurance to the investors and manufacturers and producers of America.

We recognize that our system of tariff taxation is intimately connected with the business of the country, and we favor the ultimate attainment of the principles we advocate by legislation that will not injure or destroy legitimate industry.

It will not be denied by any democrat that the beet sugar industry of Michigan is a "legitimate industry." It can hardly be questioned that the admission of sugar free of duty will "injure" that industry, if not "destroy" it. Congressional investigation has shown that the average cost of producing a pound of beet sugar in eleven plants in the United States is 3.54 cents. Of this 2.4 cents goes to the farmer and 1.14 cents to the manufacturer. The cost of producing a pound of beet sugar in Germany is 2.41 cents, according to official reports. Obviously Germany could send duty-free sugar into the United States at 3 cents a pound or less and make a reasonable profit. Only those concerns in the far west which are said to produce sugar at less than the average cost, and which are better protected by freight rates from the seaboard, could withstand such competition.

Any doubt on this point will be quickly removed by a perusal of the testimony taken during the congressional investigation of the sugar business by the Hardwick committee, when the officers of several large refineries testified, as did Secretary Heike of the American Sugar Refining Co., that the removal of the duty on sugar "would destroy the (beet) industry absolutely," and urged such removal for their own benefit.

Wiley Extols Beet Farming

So well is this menace to Michigan recognized by President Wilson's best friends and supporters in this state that many of them have petitioned him to remember the pledge of the party for the protection of "legitimate industry" and have pleaded for a moderate tariff on sugar rather than no tariff at all. Among the petitioners are Chairman Shields of the democratic state committee, and such prominent Wilson workers as Chairman Hemans of the state railroad commission, George P. Hummer of Holland and L. E. Rowley of Lansing. These men speak for 17 factories in Michigan which, in less than two decades, have come to challenge the supremacy of Colorado and California in the beet industry, and which produce an annual output equal to the value of the whole wheat crop of the state.

These men speak for an industry that promotes agriculture by encouraging deep plowing, intense cultivation and scientific crop rotation. "When I consider the beneficial effect of this sugar industry on other agricultural industries," said Dr. Wiley before the Hardwick committee, "I would go as far as it would be profitable to the farmers of the United States to maintain that industry." It is fair to assume that if it were not profitable for the farmers of Michigan to raise sugar beets they would not have planted more than 150,000 acres with beets last year. And yet the only hope held out to Michigan's Wilsonian petitioners is the presidential offer of an immediate reduction of 25 per cent in the sugar tariff, and a postponement of the free entry of sugar for three years.

Will the Price be Reduced?

Surely there must be good reason for the Wilson sugar program. The democrats who tried to force free sugar through the last congress said the removal of the duty would lower the price and so help to reduce the cost of living. Speaker Clark said sugar would cost the consumer two cents less a pound without the duty and Leader Underwood said one and a half cents. The average duty being 1.35 cents a pound, these gentlemen had evidently convinced themselves that free sugar would save for the consumer more than the duty.

There is more of hope than common sense in this absurdity. Free hides have not reduced the cost of boots and shoes in more than three years of trial. The price of sugar will depend on other circumstances besides the tariff—the available supply, for instance, and the extent to which the refining trust has got control of the market. Only when the world has come to understand that the American government has permanently discouraged the production of sugar at home, and when foreign equipments have been increased to supply the 1,700,000 tons grown in the United States would a substantial reduction in the domestic price be secured. And this will be accomplished at the cost of part or all of the domestic industry.

How Beet Sugar Broke the Price

But Wallace P. Willett, the expert who testified before the Hardwick committee during the congressional investigation of the sugar trust, and whose opinion is generally accepted as authoritative, gave another method of reducing the cost to the consumer. Mr. Willett explained that the sudden rise in the price of sugar in the fall of 1911 was due to a shortage in the world's supply and that the fall only came when the beet product of Michigan and other states reached the market. It was in reply to interrogations by Congressman Sulzer, democrat, now governor of New York, that Mr. Willett said:

The moment our American beet sugar production became available on the market the rise stopped, and owing entirely and totally to this American production, refined sugars were a cent and a half lower than they were at the highest point. But for that American production, we today would be buying sugar at the world's prices.

Mr. Sulzer—If the manufacturers of sugar in the United States could get raw sugar free, they would be able to sell the manufactured sugar cheaper to the American consumer just now?

Mr. Willett—Yes, sir.
 Mr. Sulzer—Hence, the elimination of the tariff tax upon importations of sugar would cheapen the price of sugar to the people of the United States?

Mr. Willett—Yes, sir; and to the manufacturer.

Mr. Sulzer—And that is one way to get cheaper sugar for the people?

Mr. Willett—Yes, sir.

Mr. Sulzer—And another way for the United States would be to encourage the production of beet and cane sugar in the United States and in her insular possessions.

Mr. Willett—Yes, sir.

Mr. Sulzer—And these are the only two ways by which sugar can be sold to the consumer more cheaply?

Mr. Willett—Yes, sir; and in one of these ways the price of sugar would be dependent on the F. O. B. Hamburg market, but in the other case the price would be entirely independent of the f. o. b. Hamburg market.

Is it the Wilson way to import foreign sugar rather than encourage the development of the home industry?

A Wilsonian "Error of Judgment"

Evidently we have not yet found the best reason for the Wilson sugar program. We did not find it, in the president's first message to congress, delivered in person for the better psychological effect on senators and representatives. It is monopoly that the president is after and it is the tariff he attacks first as monopoly's greatest bulwark.

We have sought in our tariff schedules to give each group of manufacturers or producers what they themselves thought that they needed in order to maintain a practically exclusive market as against the rest of the world.

Consciously, or unconsciously, we have built up a set of privileges and exemptions from competition behind which it was easy by any, even the crudest, forms of combination to organize monopoly; until at last nothing is nominal, nothing is obliged to stand the tests of efficiency and economy in our world of big business but everything thrives by concerted arrangement.

The object of the tariff duties henceforth laid must be effective competition, the whetting of American wits by contest with the wits of the rest of the world.

Verily and progress breathes in every word of this. Even the method by which the president would proceed to put his principles into effect is unquestionable:

It would be unwise to move toward this end headlong, with reckless haste, or with strokes that cut at the very roots of what has grown up amongst us by long process and at our own invitation. It does not alter a thing to upset it and break it and deprive it of a chance to change. It destroys it. We must build up industry as well, and must adopt freedom in the place of artificial stimulation only so far as it will build, not pull down.

Quite in accord, this; with the democratic promise written at Baltimore not to "injure or destroy any legitimate industry." And yet neither the president's laudable purpose to break up monopoly, nor his eagerness to reduce the cost of an article of food nor his possible faith in the ability of the beet industry cheap competition from abroad can alter the fact that beet sugar can be produced and shipped into this country at a price much lower than the average cost of production in this country. How far this means the injury or destruction of the beet industry in Michigan, how far it means a handicap to the advancement of scientific agriculture, how far it means a reduction in the revenues of Michigan farmers, who now receive $8,000,000 for their crop, remains to be seen; but it is not pleasant to contemplate. Perhaps this is "only an occasional error of judgment," which the president foresees in his message. It is at least a problem in readjustment that necessitates a "whetting of American wits," such as we are not likely to see in any other industry touched by the new tariff.

God is good to the republican party. Detroit Saturday night.

A Democratic paper remarks that Baltimore is determined to be noted for its robberies. For both sides of this subject apply to Secretary Bryan after hearing Speaker Clark.

Michigan came within 700 votes of approving woman suffrage in 1912, but backed away in 1913. A miss is as good as a mile, but the miss will keep on trying to get the ballot.

Relative to the liquor situation in Holland the Allegan Gazette says in an editorial: "Dry should mean dry, and not half wet." But then the Gazette doesn't know what dry—"Drys" we have in Holland.

HOLLAND, Mich.—Hope college team played a good game of ball Saturday on the college field, defeating the Holland High school by the score of 11 to 4.

This was the first scheduled game of the season. The pitching of Popper for Hope was very good and the support given him up to the average. Hope made five errors, but they were not too costly.

The pitching of Rex for the high school was good, but the support was ragged. The seven errors were, expensive, these being chiefly the cause of the high school losing the game.

Dr. Vennema has received an answered letter from Jacob Steketee, vice council of the Netherlands at Grand Rapids, and Dr. J. London, minister of the Netherlands at Washington, D. History of the Rise and Fall of City There Most Romantic in Michigan History

Port Sheldon is to have another summer hotel. Upon the site of the famous hotel which was erected at great cost by a Philadelphia syndicate back in the pioneer days, a man named Van Wert is to build a new hotel. It has been many years since the old hostelry disappeared from the historic Port Sheldon and the last vestige of the old building has been carried away or destroyed. The huge pillars which adorned its main entrance are still serving as supports to the portico in a residence known as the Pike home on Fulton street in Grand Rapids.

The Port Sheldon bubble is among the most interesting bits of Michigan history.

It was in the first year of Michigan statehood; Chicago had seen about half a dozen years of its infancy, when the Port Sheldon Land Co., composed of adventurers and pleasure seekers from New York and Philadelphia attempted to establish a large city at Port Sheldon. It was to be the metropolis of the west. Money was obtained from the First National bank of Philadelphia by a Mr. Judson, who succeeded in obtaining financial aid for the venture because he was related to the cashier of the bank.

In the first year and a half after the party of adventurers, mechanics, bankers and woodmen had picked their way along the Grand River and built the settlement at the mouth of the Pigeon, the Ottawa house, a wooden structure of no mean architecture, superbly furnished for a building of that day, rose from the dark forest almost as if by magic. A balcony, supported by Grecian columns, graced the front of the hotel. The inside furnishings, it is claimed, were put in at an expense of $60,000.

The projectors of this undertaking evidently intended to make it a permanent settlement. They undertook to construct a railroad to connect with the eastern world. A grand depot was built at an expense of from $8,000 to $10,000. Two miles of railroad were laid, all plans were pushed with eagerness and energy; suddenly a halt was called, the task was abandoned and the half finished road was left to the worrying weather and reclaiming nature.

The city had been laid out in lots of 62x128 feet, board walks had been laid along the streets, streets had been graded, stores had been built and stocked, and the appearances of a city had been established. Another evidence that these adventurers intended to establish a permanent settlement is found in the fact that they had offices in various sections of the country, among which were those of A. Judson in New Orleans, La.; by S. Taylor, in Philadelphia, Pa., and another by a man named Coates, in Mobile, Ala.

Wealthy families from the east frequented Port Sheldon during its short period of prosperity, their dazzling wealth making a striking contrast with the stolid Indians who roamed the streets in feathers and buckskins. The stores were stocked with the finest broadcloth and goods. The man at the saw was compelled to buy the goods at a high price and was robbed through wasteful luxuries of many of the necessities of life.

A lighthouse was built at the mouth of Pigeon river, and a harbor bell was installed. The river was navigable for boats of heavy draught then, although since that time it has become clogged with sand bars. W. B. Stevens, of West Olive, south of Port Sheldon, tells many a tale of the wild nights the sailors spent at the Ottawa house over champagne and sherry in unrestrained revelry in this palace of the wilderness.

The Ottawa house was the scene of many a dance and frolic. Hospitality and generosity were the order of the day. The hotel register is still in possession of a man living in Grand Rapids, and it gives many a sidelight on who frequented the place. The hotel opened with eight guests in 1838. They arrived mostly by boat and some followed the train of the Grand river and thence along the lake to the mouth of the Pigeon. Names of several noted personages are found on the register. One secretary of a legation registered in French. His name was La Comte L. De Baellert. Later names appear of Lieut Macomb of the United States army, and Gen. Lewis, of Lewisburg, with destination Victoria.

But before the settlement had had time to get fairly started the financial bubble burst. The reason for this is evident when one considers that it was in the days of unrestrained banking liberties. Money was drawn and spent with unchecked freedom. The company paid its debts for the most part with promissory notes. When the resources had been exhausted the promises to pay of course had to be repudiated. Till a short time ago a retired workman in Holly held one of these notes with the Port Sheldon Land Co. as debtors. The company went into bankruptcy; the mortgage was registered and the movable articles were turned into cash.

The beautiful columns that supported the balcony of the Ottawa house were dragged by oxen to Grand Rapids, where they may be seen supporting the porch of a house on East Fulton street. The hotel property was sold to Dr. A. C. Van Raalte, some years later, when that pioneer founded the Dutch colony ten miles to the south. The material was taken to Holland and is still in some buildings here. One red building, now used as a barn, alone remains of the city of Port Sheldon, and the merry buzz of the numerous sawmills has given way to the quiet rural country side. Where once the revelers gathered in wanton freedom in the summers of 1838 and 1839, dense underbrush now impedes ones progress. The lighthouse and harbor bell are now buried under the shifting sand dunes. What was once a harbor that sheltered the sailor is now shallow and unsought, and all one sees is the continual lapping of the waves as they fall idly against the few remaining pieces of piers that were built nearly 75 years ago.

DATE IS MAY 2 AND THE PLACE
IS THE METHODIST CHURCH.

The Federation Male chorus is planning upon a big benefit concert for Friday evening, May 2 at the M. E. church. This chorus has practiced faithfully during the past eight months in preparation for this concert and they promise a varied and entertaining program consisting of part songs, quartets, duets, solos and humorous readings.

They are to be ably assisted by the Lacey Instrumental Trio of this city. At a meeting of the executive committee of the Men's Federation of Bible classes held Friday night it was decided to postpone the next quarterly meeting indefinitely and to enter in with the chorus in their endeavor to make this concert a big financial as well as a musical success.

Tickets will be sold. There will be no reserved seats and everybody is invited to come with the expectation of spending an enjoyable evening.

HOLLAND MEN ARE FREED FROM CHARGE OF GAMBLING.

After being out just four minutes by the clock the jury in the case against William Witt charged with gambling under the ordinance, brought in a verdict of not guilty Friday afternoon. This verdict also frees Percy Mayhew, William Seehouse, Archie Rousseau and Ed Wallender from similar charges.

The charge was that this party had engaged in gambling at the Mayhew home on the evening of March 12. The jury was composed of John Buchanan, W. G. Van Dyke, George Roest, Henry Winter, Al Toppen and F. C. De Vries. It was tried before Justice Spoy in the court room and there was great interest in the outcome so that a large number of people gathered to hear the arguments.

Att. D. Ten Cate appeared for the defendant while, since it was a charge of violation of a city ordinance City Attorney Van Duren was assigned to appear for the people.

Officer Wagner, Officer Steketee, Albert Van Lopic and Mrs. Peter Dalman appeared as witnesses for the people, while the witnesses for the defendant were William Witt, Wm. Seehouse and Percy Mayhew.

TWO HUNDRED DELEGATES FROM HOLLAND ATTEND THE

GATHERING IN ZEELAND

The Rev. J. Groen, pastor of the Eastern Avenue Christian Reformed church of Grand Rapids was the principal speaker at the Semi Annual meeting of the young peoples Alliance of the Christian Reformed Churches of Holland and Zeeland held Thursday night in the 1st Christian Reformed church at Zeeland. The churches of Holland were represented by about 200 delegates and other delegates from Graafschap, Noordeloos, East Saugatuck, Boreculo, Hudsonville and Drenthe were in attendance.

The Rev. M. Van Vessum of Graafschap, president of the Alliance, presided at the meeting. A short program was rendered by the entertaining church which consisted of music by the choir and a recitation by B. Mulder. After the program a social hour was spent. The entertainers served dainty refreshments to their guests. About 400 people attended the meeting.

CATCH LAKE TROUT AND THE LOCAL MARKET SELLS THEM.

The fishermen who recently came to Black Lake from Cheboygan, Wis to engage in fishing here during the summer, have secured the necessary papers from the state and they are now engaged in the work. They have made some pretty good hauls some miles out in Lake Michigan. Thursday they made a haul of several hundred pounds of lake trout. It is some thing of a new experience for the people of Holland to eat lake trout a few hours after the fish was caught in the big lake here, and Jake Kulte who had the fish up for sale, had little difficulty in disposing of them.

HENRY JACOBS IS HOPE'S ORA-
TOR AT PROHIBITION
CONTEST

Friday night Henry Jacobs of Hope College spoke in the state prohibition oratorical contest that is to be held at Albion college. Mr. Jacobs was awarded first place by the judges in the local contest that was held at Wicants chapel a few weeks ago and his oration and delivery are such that his fellow students believe he will be given a high place this evening at the state contest. This is the first year that Hope has taken part in the prohibition contest. It is the last state contest and keen competition is expected.

Following are those who will compete for the honors: Adrian W. I. Lyons, "Make Michigan Dry;" Albion Guy Fox "The Strength and Strategy of the Liquor Traffic;" Alma, Grant L. Cook, "A Reward for Service;" Hope, Henry Jacobs, "The Decree of the Century;" Spring Arbor, Frank Lee, "The American Tryant." The winner of the contest will represent Michigan in the interstate contest in May.

RECEIVED BY THREE HOLLAND BANKS.

Thursday another $3.50 was received by the First State Bank for the Flood sufferers. This was the first donation received by any of the banks since Monday. It was contributed by the M. E. church. The total now has reached the figure of $2737.35. That much has been received by the three Holland banks, means that that much has been donated by the people of Holland and the surrounding churches, since the chances are that practically all the donations went through the banks.

The relief committee made its appeal to the so-called Holland colony, and the Hollanders have responded very well. Even the smaller churches in the vicinity of Holland have sent in comparatively large donations. The $2700 is not the extent of the donations of the Hollanders of Ottawa county since places like Zeeland and Grand Haven and other communities made independent campaigns for gifts.

The Hollanders remembered the days when they were the recipients of donations from other localities and they have responded generously to the call for help.

John Lampen to Conduct Business in That Town

John Lampen, who for a number of years has conducted a horseshoeing shop together with his brother Benj. Lampen, has disposed of his interest in the business to his brother and will move to Jamestown. There he has bought the general store conducted for a number of years by Peter Takken, also formerly of Holland. Lampen has taken in as partner Richard Scholten.

Benj. Lampen will continue the horseshoeing business in the shop on Central avenue. Mr. Takken, who disposed of his store in Jamestown has not made any definite plans for the future.

For Coughs and ColdsNET FISHING INDUSTRY
IS POOREST IN YEARS

Allegan, Mich.—The net fishing industry has been the poorest this season of any year within the remembrance of those longest engaged in that industry.

There are several sets of nets in the Kalamazoo river here and the demand has grown to be. Suckers sell for 25 cents each where other years they sold two for a quarter.

The poor season is attributed to the cold weather. The trapping season just closed has also been a very poor one.

HENRY JACOBS IS GIVEN FIRST PLACE AT ALBION.

Word was received in this city late Friday night that Henry Jacobs had taken first place in the state prohibition oratorical contest at Albion. Mr. Jacobs' oration was "The Decree of the Century." Second place was awarded to Guy Fox of Albion college on the oration entitled "The Strength and Strategy of the Liquor Traffic." While third place went to Grant L. Cook of Alma on his oration "A Reward for Service." The other colleges represented were Adrian and Spring Arbor.

Mr. Jacobs will now represent Michigan in the inter-state district contest. The winner of this contest in turn will enter the national contest to be held at Washington, D. C.

As this is the first prohibition contest Hope has entered there is great satisfaction at the result.

Three groups of states will hold prohibition contests, the Eastern, the Middle and the Western. Mr. Jacobs will represent Michigan in the Middle District. The district includes about a dozen states from the middle west. The winner in this contest will then represent this entire group of states and will be required to compete with the winners of the other two districts.

This is the second time in the history of Hope College that a Hope student has won a state intercollegiate contest, the first being A. J. Muste who won the regular intercollegiate contest in 1913. The victory Friday night is all the more remarkable because this is the first time that Hope College has entered a prohibition contest, and perhaps not a single college in the state expected that the representative from this college would have any chance. At least the Hope College students did not expect to win believing because of lack of preparation, odds were against them. When the news reached Holland Friday the college boys here at first refused to believe it. But a direct telephone message from Albion confirmed the good news.

Mr. Jacobs is a young orator of great promise. This is the first time that he has taken part in college oratory. At the local contest a few weeks ago he won by ease and magnetism in delivery as well as by strength in thought.

DEFEAT ARMY OF REDS IN THE STRUGGLE FOR SOCIETY
MEMBERSHIP.

The Blue Army commanded by Mr. P. Koopman defeated the Army of the Reds commanded by Mr. A. Van Ry Thursday when the final count was taken in the membership contest inaugurated two weeks ago for the purpose of increasing the membership of the Relief society of Trinity church. The Blue's captured 19 candidates while the Reds were credited with 17. The commander of the Reds captured ten men unassisted and if his men had followed the flag the result would have been different. Anyway the losers are a game lot and they promise to put up a feast for the winners that will be long remembered. May 2 has been agreed upon as the date when the banquet will take place and the winning side have promised to furnish the program. The Society's membership now totals 76.

THE REV. W. J. VAN KERSEN AD- DRESSES PARENT-TEACHERS CLUB

The following program was rendered at the Maple Ave. Parents-Teachers' meeting Thursday afternoon—songs by the First, second and sixth grades, solo, Miss Jeanette Prakken; recitation, Werner Thiele; Piano solo, Miss Marguerite Pieters; vocal solo Mrs. John Telling.

The principal address was by the Rev. W. J. Van Kersen on "Some Thoughts on the Bending of the Twig." All are engaged in cultivating trees of knowledge. The inclination of the child's heart toward evil doing must be changed. He needs constant and helpful guidance. This necessitates our calling upon the Lord for help. Education is of great value; it promotes efficiency in all lines. Education is the basis of discovery; it makes better and more useful citizens; it improves social conditions. Education is primarily for the building of character. Both in the home and in the school we must not lose sight of the child's nature. Parents and teachers ought to know more of child psychology and pedagogy. We do not always fully understand our children. The time of most rapid growth in children is from five to twelve years of age. It is a time of growth in all lines—physical, mental and moral. It is the impressionable age. We should be very careful of the statements and impressions we make. As the twig is bent the tree is inclined.

Mrs. Henry Geerlings presided at the meeting. Mrs. E. E. Fell conducted the Question Box and Miss Mary H. Baker the Story Hour. Refreshments were served to about sixty people.

HURON RIVER GIVES UP LAST OF THE TRIPLE DROWNING OF WEEK AGO

Ann Arbor, Mich.—The body of Miss Elsa Rysdorp, the Spring Lake young lady who was drowned three weeks ago in the Huron river, was recovered Sunday, the body was almost entirely covered with sand and was about one-eighth of a mile downstream from the where the other bodies were found. The body like the other two victims of the triple tragedy was in a very good state of preservation. Dr. Rysdorp, father of the dead girl, and an aunt took the body home with them Tuesday.

IS LARGEST IN COLLEGE'S HISTORY AND HAS LARGEST NUMBER OF WOMEN

The senior class of Hope College has achieved distinction in more ways than one. It is the largest class ever to be graduated from the institution and has a larger number of women than any class since the institution was incorporated in 1866. The enrollment comprises twenty men and ten women. Four members of the class received scholarships in the universities, two in Chicago, one in Ohio and one in Dakota.

William J. Moordyk of Grandville and Lambertus Hekhuis of Overisel successfully passed the Rhodes' scholarship for Oxford university and are eligible for appointment next year.

FAMILY WAR BROUGHT TO CLOSE IN LOCAL COURT MONDAY MORNING

Joe Slayer was arrested Monday on complaint of his wife Mrs. Anna Slayer on the charge of having threatened to make her leave their home.

He was arraigned before Justice Robinson who listened to their story and effected a reunion. The case was dismissed. Mrs. Slayer claimed that her husband had taken their baby from home Sunday morning and was gone all day and that he told her if she did not get out of town before 8 o'clock he would beat her. She also claimed that when she got into trouble with the neighbors he took their part and would not stick up for her. He brought many complaints against her but they finally consented to go back home and do their best to help each other.

The officers of the auxiliary societies are also printed, as well as a list of the standing committees of the consistory. The back cover is devoted to general information about the church.

Mr. Sternberg has been a contractor in this city for many years and during the past year has represented the people of the fifth ward in the common council. He has undertaken a big job but his record in this city has shown that he is able to take the big jobs. He expects to be gone about four months and unless he resigns as alderman his chair will not do but be left vacant until his return.

Ottawa County People are Reminded of Pioneer Days.

Agnew had a bear scare Friday when the tracks of Mr. Bruin were discovered leading north through the village toward Grand Haven. The alarm spread immediately through the village and there was soon a good sized posse on the trail of the bear. No one had seen the animal, but the measurement of the footprints in the sand, indicated that the animal was a large one. After following the tracks a distance of about three quarters of a mile the trappers gave up the chase believing that the animal might have gone into a swamp nearby.

The bear tracks were found around several of the farm yards in the vicinity of Agnew, but as far as could be learned he had done no damage. It is believed that the animal escaped from a show.

General Meade Started Work On It Monday

The Government sandpucker Gen. Meade, arrived in Macatawa Bay Sunday and began work on the sand bar just outside of the channel Monday.

HERMAN G. VANDEN BRINK AT WORK IN THE OFFICE NOW

Herman G. Vanden Brink, the city treasurer-elect, who will take office the first day of May, is already at work in the city treasurer's office. He has been there for some time and is rapidly learning the ropes. Mr. Vanden Brink helped Treasurer Essenburg during the busy spell just before the fifteenth of the month when the light bills were being paid, and that was his first taste of what a rush in the treasurer's office looks like. Since then he has been learning the ins and outs of the work, and before the first day of May comes along he will have thoroughly familiarized himself with the work so that there will be no hitch in the smooth running of the office.

HAD A DAY OFF MONDAY BE- CAUSE OF TRIUMPHS IN DE- BATE AND ORATORY

Monday was a day of rejoicing at Hope college. Early Monday morning preparations were made for a fitting celebration of Hope's recent triumph in oratory and debate.

Before chapel started there was a triumphal march if the faculty would be so kind as to grant a day off. The hopes of the studentry were not in vain for after chapel exercises Dr. Vennema announced that the day would be given over for celebration. Needless to say the applause was very earnest.

Some difficulty was experienced in getting the various winners into the carriage on account of their extreme modesty. Finally however the carriage containing Miss Helen De Maagd who took second place in the ladies contest in March, Henry Jacobs, who took first place last Friday in the Prohibition contest at Albion and the members of the two victorious debating teams moved off in triumphal procession drawn by practically the entire student body.

When they passed the First state Bank Hon. G. J. Diekema was prevailed upon to give a few remarks. Mr. Diekema spoke words of congratulation in his characteristic style which were much appreciated by the students. The procession then returned to the Chapel where the eagle was allowed to scream some more.

Speeches were given here by Dr. Vennema, Prof. Kleinheksel and Prof. Nykerk. Mr. Jacobs and Mr. Althuis told of the contest at Albion while Mr. Koeppel spoke in behalf of the Prohibition league. Miss De Maagd, in her winning way, also made a few remarks. Mr. Hoff's "the old steam boiler" made the air ring for a time while he "let off steam". The members of the debating teams Tillema, Ter Keurst, Dame and De Motts, who were present spoke a few words on the recent debating victories. Probably the speech which was most highly appreciated was when Prof. Nykerk said that next year there would be a twenty-five dollar prize for the Prohibition contest if he had to pay it himself.

BOAT LINE BETWEEN ALLEGAN AND SAUGATUCK

Allegan Gazette.—Is there any objection from Allegan people to having the M. U. T. build and operate an electric railway through Allegan? Well, that is just what is going to be done, and very soon if the men who are in Allegan buying a right-of-way can be believed. Mr. F. H. Skinner of Jackson and others have been engaged here most of the week and he said to the Gazette yesterday that when the company gets through Allegan people will be perfectly satisfied. He could not say much because such undertakings are hindered and made expensive by publicity. He said enough to confirm the belief that the depot and yards of the line in Allegan will be near the Pere Marquette depot. Mr. Skinner is about to close a deal for property which is now owned by Griswold & Nichols. For some time an option was held on the Moore property, west of the Sherman house, but that has been passed by now. The first step will be the construction of the line from Battle Creek to Allegan, using the Michigan Central tracks, and its extension down into the city. Then a line will be built to the lake shore, either to Saugatuck or to the southeast—to Paw Paw, South Haven, or St. Joseph. There is no telling what the developments will be, and everybody had the right and pleasure of guessing.

The fact is that these men are buying a right-of-way down into the city and they say there are to be further improvements. Mr. Skinner said: "If the Board of Trade had made a request for railway improvement for Allegan they would not have presumed to ask for anywhere near as great things as are to be done for the town." There is no probability now of the Pere Marquette being electrified. That is perhaps a thing of the future but it is not very near. There is a possibility, however, of the electric company operating a boat on the Kalamazoo river from Allegan to Saugatuck. The Commonwealth company now controls the water and might be able to navigate the stream. Nobody else can. The Michigan Union Traction company and the Commonwealth company are practically one.

The fifth District Women's Temperance Union Convention, which includes Ottawa County, will be held at Lake Odessa, Apr. 29-30-May 1. A special car for delegates will leave Grand Rapids at 11 a. m. April 29. An interesting and helpful session is promised, one feature being a grand gold medal contest.

THE UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT SUSTAINS HIS DECISION

The Famous Ferry Case Has Been In The Courts For Ten Years.

The United States Supreme Court at Washington has handed down an opinion in the famous Ferry litigation which began ten years ago in the Ottawa county probate court, affirming the decision of Judge of Probate Edward P. Kirby. The case with all of its phases and angles has been in many courts since leaving Ottawa county probate court, and without a doubt was one of the greatest, most intricate and important cases ever tried in the courts of Michigan. Many difficult legal points were involved and it is said that more probate law has been settled by it, than by any other case tried in the courts in recent years.

The decision of the United States supreme court is a direct compliment to Probate Judge Kirby of Grand Haven, whose decision is sustained by the highest court in the land. The fact that in reaching its opinion the United States supreme court overruled and reversed the decisions of the United States district court of Utah and the United States circuit court of appeals of Denver, adds more distinction to Judge Kirby's ruling in favor of the contesting heirs of the estate of William M. Ferry.

The ten years which have been required for the case to pass through its various stages of litigation, have served to familiarize the public in a general way with the famous Ferry case. The suit was brought by the heirs of the late Wm. H. Ferry, founder of Grand Haven, against Edward P. Ferry administrator of the estate asking for an accounting.

Judge Kirby's findings, at the conclusion of the case in probate court were that Edward P. Ferry, owed the estate of his father, $915,000 and ordered him to pay it. E. P. Ferry living in Utah, the Michigan Trust Company administrator de bonis non of the William M. Ferry estate commenced suit in Federal court in Utah on the judgment entered by Judge Kirby. The attorneys for E. P. Ferry demurred to the declaration and the Federal court in Utah sustained the demurrer.

The Michigan Trust Company appealed to the United States circuit court of appeals sitting at Denver. That court also sustained the demurrer. Then the Michigan Trust company by certiorari, carried the question to the United States supreme court which has now reversed the decisions of the United States circuit court of appeals and the U. S. district court of Utah.

The decision is a victory for the heirs of the estate of the late William M. Ferry and the Michigan Trust Co., represented by H. C. Hall of Colorado Springs, Butterfield & Keeney of Grand Rapids and Walter L. Lillie, of Grand Haven.

REQUEST OF $100,000 FOR ROADS

The proceedings of the Ottawa county board of supervisors thus far include a number of matters of more or less importance, but the one which most directly interests the people of this and surrounding counties is the request entered by the road commission for permission to dispose of $100,000 worth of bonds immediately for the improvement of the worst of the main traveled roads during the coming summer.

All of Tuesday afternoon was spent in a discussion of the subject and the matter was still the chief topic of their conversation even after adjournment was called.

Sheriff Hans Dykhuis entered several petitions, the first of which embodied a request for a turnkey in the jail. As it is, both the sheriff and his Deputy as frequently called out on a case, leaving no one in charge of the prisoners.

GAS COMPANY WANTS INJUNCTION CONTINUED

Tuesday the hearing of the Holland City Gas Company case against the City of Holland was held in Judge Sessions' court in Grand Rapids. The gas company has asked that the injunction restraining the city from putting into effect the resolution passed by the Council last October, be continued, pending the decision of the appeal to the United States Supreme Court. If the company's request is granted it will mean that for the next two years the city will have its hands tied for it would be two years before the case could be decided in Supreme Court. Attorney Hyde of Grand Rapids argued the case for the Gas Company and Attorneys Sheridan F. Master and Arthur Van Duren represented the city.
