Local Bond Buys Pass County Goal

Holland Furnace Gets Million; Ottawa Total Is Near Three Million

War bond purchases in Holland as of Wednesday totaled $1,980,000 or $350,000 more than the $1,630,000 quota set for all Ottawa county in the April campaign, figures released by B. P. Sherwood, Sr., Grand Haven, Ottawa county war savings chairman, revealed today.

The county total as reported for Tuesday by the district office in Grand Rapids was $2,608,938, the best record of any of the six counties in the seventh bond district.

Holland's quota was set at $635,500 for the big second Victory war loan.

Of the $1,980,000 total thus far, the Holland Furnace Co. was represented with a million-dollar purchase of bonds.

Frank M. Lievens, local bond chairman, said he was exceptionally well pleased with the way local residents responded and said he had taken the attitude of not letting the people know before just how Holland stood so that there would be no slump in the sale of small bonds. He urged all local members of the "Gallant 60,000" to mail their reports to Frank N. Isbey, state chairman of the Michigan War Savings committee, 600 Union Guardian Bldg., Detroit, immediately.

Grand Haven city has gone far over its quota of $540,000, the goal set to purchase a motor torpedo boat for the navy. F. C. Bolt, city war bond chairman, reported Wednesday that total subscriptions through Tuesday were $567,485.50.

County officials have now set a new unofficial goal of three million dollars and Grand Haven is endeavoring to raise its total to $600,000. It was reported that Spring Lake is near its quota of $74,000.

Holland high school reported today that it has collected a total of $14,675 for bonds and stamps.

The sum collected in Holland came from four sources, Holland State bank, People's State bank, the Ottawa County Building and Loan association and the post office.

Washington, April 29 — Undersecretary of Treasury Daniel W. Bell today announced that the $13,000,000,000 second war loan drive will be over-subscribed by at least $2,500,000,000.

To Use Negroes Only As Last Resort Here

Negro labor will be used only as a last resort at the Holland Precision Parts Corp., Kenneth R. Kemp, manager, has stated in reply to rumors that such a move appeared imminent.

Mr. Kemp pointed out that the labor shortage at the local plant is very serious and that everything possible is being done to take care of the situation locally. A survey of the city is being made in regard to occupations and the possibility of part-time work, although Mr. Kemp said that due to the skill demanded in the various jobs in the factory part-time work might not work out so well.

The Chamber of Commerce, according to Manager E. P. Stephan, frowns upon importation of Negroes and is doing everything possible to assist in lining up local labor.

Dies at 91

Mrs. G. J. Van Duren, 91, who organized the Ottawa county chapter of the Red Cross in 1917 and who had been prominent in all types of patriotic, religious and civic activities in Holland, died Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. in the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Van Duren, 92 East 18th St., with whom she had been living for the past seven years.

Formerly Katherine Vander Veere, she was born in Holland Feb. 2, 1852, and lived here her entire life. On Aug. 3, 1872, she was married to Mr. Van Duren. Her health had been remarkable and the times she was confined were generally the result of accidents rather than illness.

Two weeks ago today she fell when attempting to descend the outside steps at the Van Duren home and while she did not suffer fractures or serious injuries she had been confined to her bed since that time.

Mrs. Van Duren was particularly active in church work and was the last charter member of Third Reformed church. She was an honorary life member of the Woman's Literary club. She was a member of the American Legion auxiliary and of the VFW auxiliary and served as chaplain of the Legion auxiliary for 15 years. She also was an honorary member of the Past Master's club of the Star of Bethlehem chapter, Order of Eastern Star.

Mrs. Van Duren served as member of the library board of the city for 14 years. She wanted to retire two years ago when her term expired but Mayor Henry Geerlings insisted on her reappointment, saying that she was the most active of all.

She was a former president of the Woman's Relief corps but withdrew her membership after the GAR disbanded. She also was active in the Ladies Aid society of Third Reformed church.

In 1917, at the request of Fred W. Stevens of Ann Arbor, state Red Cross chairman, and the late G. J. Diekema of Holland, Mrs. Van Duren organized the Ottawa county chapter and served as its executive secretary for 13 years. At the time of her death she was an honorary board member. Mr. Stevens was former minister to China and Mr. Diekema later became minister to The Netherlands.

Mrs. Van Duren's family has been well represented in the armed forces. Her son, George C. of Indianapolis, Ind., and her grandson, Charles K. of Holland, both were in service in World War I. It was through her grandson who always referred to her as "Grandma" that Mrs. Van Duren became "Grandma" to almost everybody in service at that time. She had many contacts with service men later through her Red Cross work. Her grandson, Alan Van Duren of Indianapolis, is in service in the present war.

Surviving are two sons, Pvt. Wyba Schilstra of Camp Phillips, Kans., and Sgt. James Schilstra of Nashville, Tenn.; two daughters, Mrs. Caryl Stevens of Paso Robles, Calif., and Mrs. Harvey Combs of Holland; and one grandchild.

Mrs. Schilstra leaves one brother, James Bos of Zeeland.

Double funeral services will be held Saturday at 1:30 p.m. in the home and at 2 p.m. from First Reformed church. The Rev. W. J. Hilbert will officiate, with burial in Zeeland cemetery. The body of Mrs. Schilstra will be taken to the residence Thursday evening.

Enforcement of Code to Be Asked

The public buildings and property committee of common council which met with the city attorney and building inspector Thursday to discuss alleged violations of Holland's building code will recommend to council at its meeting May 5 that the ordinance be enforced to the letter, City Attorney Vernon D. Ten Cate said today.

The committee consisting of Berta H. Slag, chairman, Herman Mooi and Gordon Streur and Building Inspector Henry Looman met with City Attorney Ten Cate in the latter's office late Thursday afternoon and decided unanimously to recommend this procedure.

Atty. Ten Cate and Inspector Looman Thursday morning inspected houses being built here by William Rottschaefer of Grand Rapids which allegedly contained grade 4 lumber instead of grade 3 lumber in construction of sub floors and sub roofs. They also talked with the contractor and said they found him most cooperative.

Atty. Ten Cate said the committee is convinced that the minimum standard established in the ordinance protects citizens of Holland in minimum building requirements and also protects the city from inferior buildings.

The ordinance provides for a maximum of $100 fine plus costs or 90 days in jail, or both, upon conviction.

When a communication from local builders, charging violation of the code, was presented to council Wednesday night, Mayor Geerlings stated that he had been informed a few weeks ago about the building of these houses in question and as a result had called in Mr. Rottschaefer, the builder, and discussed the matter with him.

The mayor stated he was informed that these houses were being built under the FHA plan and subject to FHA requirements. Holland's building code was patterned after the FHA code, he said, and he felt that if the construction conformed to FHA requirements, it should also be satisfactory under the Holland code.

However, he added yesterday, the FHA had permitted the builder to use the grade 4 lumber, which is in conflict with the local building code.

A discussion of the "equal rights" amendment now being considered by the judiciary committee of the U. S. senate, was a feature of the meeting of Holland branch, American Association of University Women, Thursday night in the home of Mrs. Orlie A. Bishop. Mrs. J. J. Brower outlined the proposal which aims to guarantee equal rights to men and women throughout the country, and Miss Faye Connor contributed a brief history of the amendment which was first proposed in 1923 under the auspices of the National Women's party.

Michigan's laws are more favorable to women than many states, Mrs. Brower brought out, stating that equal protection is already assured in the constitution of the United States, and A.A.U.W. feels that each evil should be corrected individually by the several states.

FANATICISM NOT CURED
BY FANATICISM

About the most ill-conceived plan to meet Tokyo's fanaticism in its execution of American flyers is the appeal to the supreme court to reconsider a decision of half a century ago which held that children born of Japanese or Chinese parents living in this country are regarded as American citizens. Sponsors of the plan would have all such persons deprived of American citizenship, in retaliation for the Tokyo executions.

To the honor of the American people, there has been no widespread demand for the execution of Japanese prisoners in retaliation for Tokyo's crime. Americans for the most part have too much humanity for anything like that, and shooting hostages in America is, at least up until now, inconceivable.

But depriving Japanese Americans of their citizenship in retaliation for Tokyo's criminality is not wholly different from shooting innocent prisoners of war. It would be no more cruel to deprive an innocent American citizen of his life than to deprive him of his citizenship. And those boys and girls, men and women, born on American soil of Japanese parents, are just as surely American citizens as Dutch boys and girls, men and women, born of Holland parents on American soil, are American citizens.

Those Japanese American born Americans are not disloyal to the country of their birth. Doubtless here and there an individual may be lacking in loyalty, but that would be true of any nationality.
Many of those Japanese Americans were quick to offer themselves as soldiers, and they are giving a good account of themselves. Many others would like to get in. Still others are showing in various ways, often in the face of prejudice, that their hearts are with the land of their birth, namely America.

A Hope College student some weeks ago delivered an oration in the Michigan state contest on the subject, "Americans with Japanese Faces." That tells the story in a phrase. There are in this country hundreds of thousands of loyal Americans whose only crime is that they have Japanese faces. Punishing them for the crimes of Japanese war lords in Tokyo would be a denial of true Americanism. And it would solve nothing. It would merely turn loyal Americans into embittered aliens, and of course it would be a slap in the face of many thousands of Chinese Americans as well.

Americans should be too big to meet fanaticism with fanaticism.
The only answer to Tokyo's crime is to conquer Japan and then execute Tojo, Hirohito, Yamamoto, or anyone else who was responsible for the murder of American prisoners of war. Such a course is in keeping with our way of life.

Sunday School
Lesson

May 2, 1943
Christ's Charge to Peter
John 21:15-24

By Henry Geerlings
Jesus did more than to appear to show that He was again alive.
He manifested Himself, showing
His power, His continued ability to minister and help, and His concern for the ministry in which the apostles, particularly Peter, were soon to be engaged. The setting for this manifestation was a fishing scene, in which seven of them took part.

It was at Peter's suggestion that they went fishing. Perhaps it was the call of former occupation, or it may be they needed to have fish to sell for their immediate support. But on that particular night they had no success. Toward morning they had a pleasing surprise, for Jesus stood on the shore, near to which they had come. He directed them where to cast their net, and so remarkable was their taking, that fishermen like, they counted their fish.

John first recognized Jesus.
Peter, as impulsive as ever, and more eager than ever to get to Jesus whom he had denied but who had forgiven him, waded ashore, leaving the others to drag the net to the beach. They saw a fire of charcoal, which Jesus had started, and fish being prepared for them. He invited them to break their fast. They did not need to ask Him who He was, for they realized they were again with Jesus. He took the place of a servant waiting on them. This was the third time the disciples had been privileged to be in the presence of the risen Jesus and have Him manifest Himself unto them. John did not include the appearances to others than the disciples when he listed this as the third manifestation.

Peter was singled out for a particular testing. He was to have a thorough examination, in which he was to be allowed to prove himself worthy of being entrusted with the work of a pastor, an under shepherd.

If Peter was to be useful it was because of his relationship to Jesus. He had not the natural disposition and tendency to qualify him for the work about to be assigned to him. Jesus addressed him as Simon, never Peter. He inquired whether Peter loved Him more than the others did, thus recalling his boast about his personal loyalty even unto death.

This love was rather a putting Jesus first, a complete devotion to Him, a selection of Him as deserving everything Peter could do. He could not reach up to that exalted word, but he was sure that Jesus knew that he had deep affection for Him, the love that prefers being with Him, the love that is full of sentiment and emotion. Again Jesus asked if Peter could put Him first, he wholly devoted to Him in that noblest sense. Jesus omitted the comparison between Peter and the others this time. Peter's answer was as before. He could not bring himself to claim that highest type of love for Jesus. He had boasted before to his shame. He would not risk doing so again.

The third time Jesus comes down to Peter's own word for love, as if to really test Peter's sincerity in having affection for Him. On hearing this word used, in the third question, Peter was deeply grieved to think that it was possible for his Lord to raise any question about his sincere affection for Him. His answer was a plea for recognition of his love for Jesus. Certainly Jesus perceived that Peter's affection for Him was deep, sincere, and could be depended upon.

Each time Peter answered,
Jesus assigned him a pastor's work. He was to feed the lambs, tend the sheep, and feed the sheep.
Having finished this assignment of work, Jesus gave Peter a new outlook for his future. As a young man he had strength and was independent. Age would be coming when in comparative helplessness he would be dependent on others.
John saw in these words of Jesus a foreshadowing of the manner of Peter's death. It seems that Jesus wanted further, private interview with Peter, and ask him to follow Him. It seemed strange to Peter that John had not been included in this invitation, and looking back and seeing John coming, he asked, what of John? In reply, Jesus taught Peter that John's case, his future, would be looked after by Him, but that Peter's individual concern must be in continuing to follow Him.

Red, white and blue barrels have been placed throughout the downtown and outlying business districts today for the collection of scraps of iron, copper, brass and rubber.

Citizens can now dispose of their scrap while shopping, thus eliminating special trips to the junk dealer or other scrap collection outlets.

The Jaycees are planning to use money derived from the sale of this scrap in a program for the benefit of the service men.

Barrels have been placed on Eighth St. between College and River Aves. in the downtown area, and at Washington Square, Central square, 24th and State Sts., and 14th St. and Lincoln Ave.

BY FANATICISM

About the most ill-conceived
plan to meet Tokyo's fanaticism in its execution of American filers
country are regarded as Ameri-
prived of American citizenship, in retaliation for the Tokyo executions.

To the honor of the American
tion of Japanese prisoners in retaliation for Tokyo's crime. Americans for the most part have been too much humanly for anything like that; and shooting hostages
now, inconceivable.

But depriving Japanese Americans of their citizenship in re-
is not wholly different from
shooting innocent prisoners of
war. It would be no more cruel
boys and girls, men and women, born on American soil of Japanese parents, are just as surely American citizens as Dutch boys and girls, men and women,
born of Holland parents on American soil, are American citizens.

Those Japanese American born
here and there an individual may
would be true of any nationality.
Many of those Japanese Ameri-
selves. Many others would like to
hearts are with the land of their
birth, namely America.

in the Michigan state contest on
only crime is that they have Japanese faces. Punishing them for the crimes of Japanese war lords in Tokyo would be a denial of
solve nothing. It would merely
turn loyal Americans into em-
would be a slap in the face of
many thousands of Chinese Americans as well.

to meet fanaticism with fanaticism. The only answer to Tokyo's crime is to conquer Japan and
then execute Tojo, Hirohito, Yamamoto, or anyone else who may be responsible for the murder of
a course is in keeping with our
way of life.

John 21:15-24

By Henry Goerlings
Jesus did more than to appear
to show that He was again alive.
to minister and help, and His con-
apostles, particularly Peter, were
for this manifestation was a fish-
took part.

that they went fishing. Perhaps
it was the call of former occupa-
have fish to sell for their immediate support. But on that particular night they had no success. Tow-
come. He directed them where to cast their net, and so remarkable was their taking, that fish-
fish.

John first recognized Jesus.
more eager than ever to get to
fire of charcoal, which Jesus had
break their fast. They did not
Jesus. He took the place of a servant waiting on them. This
presence of the risen Jesus and
have Him manifest Himself unto
the third manifestation.

ticular testing. He was to have
under shepherd.

because of his relationship to Jesus. He had not the natural
disposition and tendency to qual-
assigned to him. Jesus addressed
him as Simon, never Peter. He
recalling his boast about his personal loyalty even unto death.

This love was rather a putting
Jesus first, a complete devotion
to Him, a selection of Him as
deserving everything Peter could
affection for Him, the love that is full of sentiment and emotion.
Again Jesus asked if Peter could put Him first, be wholly
sense. Jesus omitted the comparison between Peter and the others
of love for Jesus. He had boasted
not risk doing so again.

Him. On hearing this word used,
perceived that Peter's affection
for Him was deep, sincere, and
could be depended upon.

Jesus assigned him a pastor's
work. He was to feed the lambs,
tend the sheep, and feed the sheep.
Having finished this assignment
when in comparative helplessness
he would be dependent on others.
a foretelling of the manner of Peter's death. It seems that Jesus
with Peter, and ask him to follow Him. It seemed strange to Peter
asked, what of John? In reply,
after by Him, but that Peter's in-
tinuing to follow Him.

after a lingering illness. He is survived by several nieces and nephews.

victory, there is no disaster. He could not turn to spiritual gain

SUNDAY DINNER
Suggestions

SINCE simple meals have become so patriotic many housekeepers like to plan one outstanding dish that will give a flip to the menu without making unreasonable demands on rationed items.

There are any number of ways of dressing up vegetables so that they make an extra contribution to the menu. For instance, green beans prepared with a creole sauce are delicious. The sauce is made with chopped onion and green pepper cooked together with tomato juice, seasonings and thickened with a little flour. The sauce also serves as a delicious gravy for the meat course.

This week the Food Service for Homemakers reports that green beans and asparagus are much more plentiful and, therefore, down in price. Avocados are one of the weekend specials and as they have a high fatty content are worth special consideration.

There are a few more than usual smoked hams in market and the supply of beef is a shade better.
Lamb, veal and poultry are very short.

Dollar Error in Purchase Adds To City's Fame

John Knapp Goes Out Of His Way To Identify Detroit, Return Bill

A dollar error in the purchase of gasoline in Holland today had proved two things:

1. The honesty of John Knapp who operates a filling station at River Ave. and 11th St.

2. The value of gasoline rationing coupons in tracing car owners.

Lou Manley, a salesman of Detroit, purchased gasoline at the Knapp station earlier this month and gave Mr. Knapp what he thought were two one-dollar bills and some change. As Mr. Manley drove from the station, Mr. Knapp discovered he had been given three bills. He could not stop the car, but through the license number written on the coupons, he was able to identify Mr. Manley through police license records and sent the dollar to him.

Mr. Manley was so impressed that he wrote letters of praise both to The Sentinel and to Mr. Knapp yesterday.

"This certainly speaks well for the type of businessmen you have in your fair city," he wrote The Sentinel.

In writing Mr. Knapp, he explained that he has traveled in 30 states, said, "In all my travels I have never had anything happen that impressed me with the business of a small businessman as much as having you return my one dollar bill. Please accept my sincere thanks, not so much for the dollar as for the act of kindness that prompted you to go to the trouble of hunting for my address and returning my money." He added that he would "pass the word along to the traveling men I know in your section."

Pointing out that he was well acquainted with the fame of Holland's Tulip Time, he suggested that Mr. Knapp buy tulip bulbs with the dollar he returned and plant them in front of the service station or donate the bill to the general fund that must be maintained relative to your festival.

Mr. Knapp said that since he does not have room for a tulip bed he will donate the dollar to the tulip committee through the Chamber of Commerce.

Cites Ratings in Farm Priorities

Grand Haven, April 29—Glenn E. Taylor, chairman of the Ottawa county war board, said today that under new rulings the war production board has made it easier for farmers to get wiring for their buildings. Any farmer who has been certified for a line extension may get a priority for the purchase of 75 pounds of copper wiring and fittings to wire any farm building, exclusive of homes.

In order to get a rating for a line extension, the farmer must have one of the following items of electrical farm equipment or be able to get such: Water pump, milking machines, milk cooler, incubator, brooder, feed grinder or milk sterilizer. Then he must furnish five "units" for the first 500 feet of wire and one unit for each additional unit.

Number of "units" can be determined from the following table, each item or items accounting for one unit: One milk cow, 10 beef cattle, 30 breeding cows, three brood sows, 75 laying hens, 40 turkeys or geese.

Estimated production of livestock for market also is grouped as one unit in each of the following cases: 20 cattle (in feed lot) per year, 160 lambs (in feed lot) per year, 30 feeder pigs per year, 250 chickens (not broiler) per year, or 600 chickens (broilers) per year.

Granted.

The communication further states that although the Building Inspector's attention was called to these violations, nothing has been done to stop their construction.

It was further stated that other city officials were not cooperating with the Building Inspector in the enforcement of this Building Code.

Mayor Geerlings stated that he had been informed a few weeks ago about the building of these houses in question and as a result had called in the builder—Mr. Rottehafer, and discussed the matter with him. The Mayor stated that he was informed that these houses were being built under the F.H.A. plan and were subject to the inspection under the requirements laid down by F.H.A. The Mayor further stated that our Building Code was patterned after the F.H.A. Building Code and he felt that if the construction conformed to F.H.A. requirements, that they should also be satisfactory under our Building Code.

On motion of Alderman Steffens, seconded by Raymond, The matter was referred to the Committee on Public Buildings together with the Building Inspector and City Attorney.

Committee on Ways and Means to whom had been referred, together with the Board of Public Works Committee the raise in salary for Supt. Abe Naula, reported recommending that this be approved.

In view of this fact, the Committee recommended that the salary increase be approved subject to the opinion of the City Attorney that it is legal for the City to grant such increase.

Claims and Accounts Committee reported having examined claims in the sum of $7,240.07, and recommended payment thereof.

Allowed.
Street Committee reported recommending that they be given authority to purchase the necessary dust-layer for the gravel streets when and as it becomes necessary to use it.

No city of its size affords better educational opportunities, both in the public schools and Hope college, which has become a part of the community. Our citizens enjoy living in an atmosphere of cleanliness and spiritual uplift. These conditions must be maintained.

To continue this way of life, our Country is engaged in a bitter conflict. This presents a special challenge to the officials of our municipality, to stand by and to leave nothing undone that might contribute to the successful conclusion of the war effort.

My boys and your boys are prepared to make the supreme sacrifice in doing their part on the fighting front. We must do our part on the home front. The City of Holland through your guidance will not be found wanting.

I pledge my continued loyalty to my City and such assistance as I may be able to render to its officials.

Sincerely,
Clarence A. Lokker.

THE 2ND WAR LOAN DRIVE IS ON!

This Announcement will make some people blush!

Could this be you? ... "What a breakfast! Eggs without bacon. Coffee—just one cup of it—without heavy cream. Just a skimpy little pat of butter for my toast. Don't talk to me about sacrifice. I'm making plenty. And what about the 10% of my pay that goes into War Bonds every week?"

When THIS is your fellow American!

"We've been under fire night and day for 12 days. Advancing through heavy mud. Wet and tired. The nights are freezing cold. No hot food. Only our iron rations to keep us going. Casualties have been heavy. Yesterday, my buddy, 'Spike' Anderson, got his. But today it's worthwhile. Today we stormed and took the Nazi position."

FROM every front comes a story of the heroism of our troops—of the unbelievable hardships and privations they are suffering. And now from our far flung battle lines comes an urgent cry for help: "Send us more planes, more guns, more ammunition." For today the fighting fronts blaze into new fury. In a last desperate effort to annihilate us, the Axis powers are throwing everything into the struggle. The next few weeks or months may decide the outcome of the war. And that's why your Government is calling on you to lend it more money. Thirteen billion dollars are needed—needed urgently and right now. This is a showdown fight and we've got to top the Nazis and the Japs with our efforts if we are going to win.

The Big Offensive Is On

We're not playing at war. This is the real thing. Our boys are dying in defense of our country—casualty lists are mounting. The least we can do is to back up our men with every single dollar we can scrape together. Remember they do not stop to ask the cost—they pay with their lives. In the face of their sacrifice can any of us back here at home say that we are doing enough?

Millions of patriotic Americans are already putting 10% of their earnings into War Bonds every payday. We can be proud of this record—but 10% is not enough. Today we are confronted by a great and critical emergency. Thirteen billion extra dollars are needed and needed at once. That is a big sum of money, but not too big for America.

What does this mean to you? It means that it is your patriotic duty to put more money into Government securities regardless of what self-sacrifice it may entail. Give up some of your comforts, do without things you need—this is a vital matter.

And remember when you dig up this money that you are not giving a cent. You are merely investing it in the safest securities in the world. You will get it back with interest when the war is over. It will supply you with cash for the things you want when we are free to return to the ways of peace. It will mean security for you and yours.

What To Do

Thousands of men and women, volunteer workers, are calling on everybody possible, explaining the 2nd War Loan Drive and the different types of Government securities offered to meet every individual's needs. Welcome one of these representatives if he calls on you, for he is giving his time and effort freely to this patriotic cause. But don't wait for his call. Go to your bank, Post Office or War Bond booth. Lay down your money—more than you think you can spare—for extra bonds. Know in your heart that when your country called, you answered "YES"!
