School Needs Time Table Is Drawn Up

A time table for meeting needs of an enlarged school district was drawn up at a meeting of the Board of Education and the Planning Commission Monday night in Thomas Jefferson School. Also at the meeting were representatives of Boards of Education from the Van Raalte, Maplewood, Federal, Montello Park, Lakeview and Harrison school districts.

School Building Consultant Arthur Read presented a report on detailed population and enrollment figures and projections, and Scott Bagby, consultant for the Holland Planning Commission, reported for overall community development, confirming Reads' population and enrollment figures. Supt. Walter W. Scott emphasized the need for practical research so that any school building program would be related to the teaching needs. Read's report also included four or five possible building programs.

A general information meeting for citizens will be held Thursday, April 30, possibly in Holland High School. This meeting will involve 200 to 300 persons to work on various assignments.

The following time table was generally agreed upon at this meeting:

1. Policy discussion on the organization of the school program and enrollments will be settled by the end of April.
2. Preliminary architectural programming for the building to begin by May 1 and continue until the drawings and specifications are complete.
3. The location of the Senior High School and Junior High School be accomplished during the month of May.
4. Discussion on repair or additions to elementary schools to be completed in June.
5. The policy on the use of school sites as school and community parks be decided during June and July.
6. A decision on the total cost and bond issue amounts and tax levy be determined in August.
7. With continued and intensive progress on preliminary architectural programming, and with policy decisions completed in general accord with the above, it might be possible to hold a bond election before December, 1959.

Willard C. Wichers, chairman of the Holland Planning Commission, presided at the meeting which lasted until 10:30 p.m.

S.S. Kresge Calls High Tax Rate 'Confiscation of Income'

Stanley S. Kresge Wednesday night branded high income taxes as "socialistic or communistic" and said they virtually amount to "confiscation of a person's income."

Kresge, president of the Kresge Foundation, and vice chairman of the S. S. Kresge Co. board of directors, underscored the need to preserve a favorable business climate "on which the prosperity of all of us depends."

He spoke at a public meeting sponsored by the Hope College Community Council at the Civic Center attended by 2,100 persons. Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, pastor of Marble Collegiate Church in New York City, also addressed the meeting.

Kresge emphasized that "religion is one of the foremost prerequisites of a successful businessman."

He said that as an individual in business and as a human being he could not conduct his business life nor his personal life without trying to follow the precepts of Christianity.

"If we don't wake up soon in this country and put some sensible limitations on our iniquitous socialistic or communistic federal income taxes and their regulations, especially in the middle and higher brackets, there will be further and much more serious consequences to individuals and to our educational institutions," Kresge said.

Noting that there is income tax on business which amounts to 52 per cent of profits, Kresge said such taxes are a major cause of price inflation. Greatly increased wages also influence inflation, he said, but "high taxes and high wages are close together."

He also called for a reduction in government spending. He said Kresge sales in the United States increased over $79 million dollars in the last 10 years but net profit in 1958 was more than $8 million less than it was in 1947.

Dr. Peale, who has been a minister in America's largest city for 27 years, told the people they should be glad they have problems. "Problems are a sign of life! The other day I was in a place where 5,000 people had no problems. It was Evergreen Cemetery and the people were all dead! They had no problems."

But in solving the problems of life, Dr. Peale pointed to the need "of accepting Christ and letting Him help solve your problems." He illustrated this point with several interesting stories gleaned from his years of working with people.

"When the going gets tough, the tough get going," he said, citing Frank Leahy, former Notre Dame football coach.

He pointed to Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees who is never away from defeat but is on good terms with hope. "It was Casey who got the Yankees going after losing three games to Milwaukee last fall. And they won the next four, you remember."

He casually mentioned that he thought the same two teams would be facing each other in the World Series again this year.

Underlying all Dr. Peale's stories, and there were many during his 45-minute talk, was the need for Christ in everyday life, the necessity of the power of the spirit without which no person can solve the simple or complex problems in a civilized world.

Dr. Frank D. Kleinheksel, chairman of the Hope College Community Council, welcomed the group and introduced Dr. Irwin J. Lubbers, president of Hope College, who in turn introduced Kresge and Dr. Peale.

Several musical selections were presented by the Hope College Symphonette and Chapel Choir.

Earlier the two men were entertained at a tea at Dr. Lubbers' home and at a dinner in Durfee Hall attended by 150 persons. Dr. Peale and Kresge and their wives were introduced to Hope students at Chapel exercises this morning by Dr. I. J. Lubbers. Dr. Peale led the students in devotions and Kresge responded with a brief poem.

Dick Brockmeier, President of the Hope Student Council then presented Mrs. Peale and Mrs. Kresge with bouquets of roses, and Isla Van Eenennaam, student council vice president, presented tile plaques of the chapel to the guests as remembrances of their visit to Hope and to Holland.

Hamilton Votes New School 4-1

HAMILTON (Special) — By a vote of about 4 to 1, voters in the Hamilton Community School district Monday approved a $1,250,000 bond issue to erect and equip a new high school and junior high facility for the district.

The vote was 579 to 140 in favor of the issue. Polls were open from 1 to 8 p.m. in Hamilton Community Hall.

Ray Lokers, Hamilton superintendent, said the vote calls for raising this figure on a long-term bond issue, and the millage figures will be set each year by the Board of Education based on the state equalized valuation of the entire district which was reorganized last June to merge 15 former school districts.

Lokers said based on present valuations, the millage this year will be 6 1/2 mills on equalized figures for the new program. As valuations increase, the millage will decrease. The long-term program will cover 25 to 30 years.

"We are happy that the people have given such a vote of confidence to the Board of Education and we would like to extend our sincere thanks to the people as well as the committee members who promoted the program. Our next step will be to get approval for the sale of bonds from the Municipal Finance Commission," Lokers said.

The proposed building, designed by James K. Haveman of Grand Rapids, calls for a junior-senior high school with a gymnasium separating the junior high wing from the older grades. Plans call for 26 general classrooms, a physics and chemistry laboratory, biology and general science rooms, as well as accommodations for typing, bookkeeping, agricultural, band and music, visual aids and a school library.

Crack Big Hudsonville Theft Ring

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Three more persons were arraigned Wednesday afternoon in connection with the Hudsonville larceny gang broken up earlier this week by Hudsonville police, Ottawa County deputies and State police.

David Meekhof, 17, and Jerry Schreur, 17, both of Hudsonville, waived examination when arraigned on charges of breaking and entering in the nighttime in Grand Haven Municipal Court.

Judge Edward Kirby ordered both to appear in Circuit Court on May 5, and both are being released on $500 bond. The charge is in connection with a break-in at the Hudsonville Farm Co-op last October in which four new tires were stolen.

Melvin Meekhof, 29, of route 1, Hudsonville, owner of a gasoline station, was arraigned on a charge of receiving and possessing stolen goods before Grand Haven Justice Lawrence DeWitt. He pleaded guilty, and was assessed fine of $75 and costs of $5.

Chief Ten Have reported that he has been plagued by this type of theft for over a year, and about a month ago asked assistance from State Police and Ottawa County Sheriff's Department.

Ten Have said the gang specialized in such items as tires, car radios, hub caps and gasoline, and operated in both Ottawa and Kent Counties.

Finally, he said, leads began to appear, and during the past weekend, inter-gang fights began to break out as police started to close in, helping them to break the case.

Ten Have estimates that the loot stolen by the gang in the past year runs into thousands of dollars. Some loot has already been recovered, he said, and more is coming in as area citizens realize they bought stolen goods from the youths.

The chief said the youths seemed to specialize in their activities. Ten Have said Van Zoeren told him that he was strictly a "tire man," and the chief said Schreur told him that he was a "radio specialist," and could take out a car radio in five minutes.

Ten Have reported that a member of the gang, recently married, received as a wedding present from the gang 15 gallons of stolen gas and a stolen tire.

Detective William Chandler of the Grand Haven State Police post, Sheriff Bernard Grysen and Ottawa County deputies cooperated in the investigation and arrests.

Sheriff Grysen said the gang members admitted stealing two or three car radios from Veneklasen Auto Parts on M-21 between Holland and Zeeland, but apparently did not do any other stealing in the immediate Holland area.

No Date Set For Recount

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — County Clerk Harris Nieuwsma said Wednesday that he is awaiting word from the Secretary of State on the state canvass of the April 6 vote before the canvassing board can set a date for recounting the annexation vote in Laketown Township which lost 41-40 in the April 6 special annexation election.

Although this vote took place in Allegan County, it was canvassed in Ottawa County since the greater share of area involved in the annexation election was in Ottawa County. Nieuwsma understood that the annexation vote is stored in a container with other ballots, and if this is the case the container cannot be opened until two days after the state canvass is completed.

Zeeland Tops Christian, 9-7

Holland Christian's baseball squad dropped its season opener at Riverview Park Thursday afternoon by bowing to the Zeeland Chix, 9-7. It was the Chix's third straight win after dropping their season opener.

A big six-run fourth inning proved to be the damaging blow for the Maroon cause, as the Zeelanders banged out four hits and took advantage of a couple of walks. A costly Maroon error also figured in the scoring for the Zeelanders.

Up until this time the Maroons had been leading, collecting three runs on two hits in the initial inning. Catcher Henry Sterken and centerfielder Jack Bouman smacked singles in between a walk and an error. Zeeland also scored in the first inning when they took advantage of three walks off from Christian starting pitcher Jim Hulst.

Trailing 7-3 going into the fourth frame, the Maroons notched a lone marker in their fourth on a hit by Ken Wierda, shortstop, and an error. The Chix added two more runs in the fifth on a single, an error and a triple by Jim Van Dam. Christian came back in the sixth to score three unearned runs on two walks and two errors.

Both clubs used three pitchers, with Jerry De Koster and Vern Den Bleyker following Hulst for the Maroons. Eudel Vis, started for the Chix, but was relieved by Visser, who later gave way to Bob Brower.

Christian collected five hits and committed four errors while Zeeland hit seven safeties and were guilty of five errors.

Representative Riemer Van Til of Holland Monday said that he was opposed to the bills thus far presented in the House that call for a state income tax.

Leaving for Germany

Martin Hutton Addresses Club

Communism and its terrorist raiders failed to accomplish either of their two major aims in the world's newest nation, Martin Hutton told the Holland Rotary Club Thursday noon at the Warm Friend.

Hutton is the editor of the Malay Mail at Kuala Lumpur in the Federation of Malaya. Originally a Briton, he went to Malaya during the war, became a commando leader, has stayed there to become editor of the leading English language newspaper. He was a guest at Hope College and was introduced by President Irwin J. Lubbers.

The Federation became the world's newest independent nation only a year ago, Hutton explained. It is about the size of New York State, lies just north of Singapore, has about 6 million population of which half are Malay and the rest mostly Chinese and Indian.

During the war the communists cooperated in the fight against the Japanese. After it they tried to take over the government. Failing in that, they launched the raiding terrorist gangs to break down the established government. That too failed but did leave the country with greatly increased debts.

Today it is a constitutional monarchy with considerable democracy, he said. The head is chosen from one of the nine reigning sultans. Economy is based almost entirely on rubber and tin. The planters, faced with stiff competition from synthetics, are fighting back with better yielding varieties of trees which will bring the natural cost down. Malaya still is world's largest tin producer and is a leading member in the world tin control organization.

The conversion from a British protectorate to a free country was probably the easiest on record. There wasn't a broken head or even a march, Hutton said.

Persenaire Named Christian Track Coach; 4 Vets Return

Only four lettermen greeted new Holland Christian High School track coach Phil Persenaire when the Maroons opened workouts two weeks ago. Several promising underclassmen are working out, however, and could be point winners for the Maroons this season.

Heading the list of the veterans is Wayne De Young, a senior, and a fine runner who should do well in the dash events this season. Other letterwinners are Vern Wedeven as a high jumper and Cal Lubbers and Howard Lubbers in the pole vault.

Other candidates who show promise in the dashes are Dick Valk, Richard Boeve, Len Buursma and Clare De Boer. Candidates for the half mile this season are John Hofman, Howard Boeve, Bruce Vander Kooi, Jerry Steenwyk, Bruce Hulst and Burnell Schroteboer.

Two Youths Held in Crash

Ottawa County deputies held two Holland youths overnight in the city jail following a hit-and-run accident Friday at 11:45 p.m. at the corner of North River and Douglas Aves.

According to deputies, a car driven by John Hilbink, 48, of 529 Plaincrest Dr., was headed south on North River when the car driven by Clyde Wilson, 17, of 523 Plaincrest Dr., ran the red light in front of Hilbink, headed east on Douglas.

The youth kept going after the collision, deputies said, but was later picked up by Holland police for investigation of a defective tail light and admitted the accident.

Also held by deputies was the passenger and owner of the car, O'Neal Wilson, 17, of 37 James St. Deputies said neither of the youths have a drivers' license.

Damage was estimated by deputies at $125 to Hilbink's 1957 model car and at $25 to Wilson's 1951 model car. Deputies said they had not yet decided on charges against the two.

Kazoo Nips Dutch, 2-1

Holland High baseball Coach Con Ekstrom, after his team's first defeat earlier this week, pointed to much-needed improvement in pitching and fielding.

He got just that Friday afternoon but lacked hitting strength as Kalamazoo Central edged the Dutch, 2-1, on only one hit — a seventh-inning single by Denny Adams — at Riverview Park for Holland's second straight loss.

Holland jumped off to a 1-0 lead in the first inning when Steve Groeters, with one man out, walked. Groeters broke toward second on a pick-off attempt, ran to third when a high throw from the first baseman went over second base into left field and scored when the left-fielder overthrew to third.

Kalamazoo came back in the fourth with two men out for its two runs. Bantrager walked and powers hit a drive to right-center that Carl Andrensen, diving to his left, dropped. De Weerd followed with a single, scoring Bantrager and Powers.

Ron Ten Brink, a junior right-hander, went all the way in his first start for Holland. He allowed seven hits, struck out seven and walked four.

Line score:

|-----------|-----|-----|-----|---|---|
| Kalamazoo | 000 | 200 | 0-2 | 7 | 4 |
| Holland | 100 | 000 | 0-1 | 1 | 1 |

OUR TRAVELING CONGRESSMEN

A majority of the House is convinced foreign travel is necessary. Congressmen should see for themselves what is done with foreign aid funds, where defense bases are located and meet face to face with officials of foreign countries. The Rules Committee merely wishes to exercise some control over who goes on these junkets, why they go, and how much of the government's money they may spend.

At present foreign congressional travelers authorized by their committees to investigate or study, draw on counterpart funds for their travels while abroad. These funds are local currencies on deposit to the United States Government to match dollars granted for foreign aid. No accounting for the expenditures is required. The expenses have been running to hundreds of thousands of dollars a year.

Junket is an easy gelatine dessert given to children, invalids, ulcer victims and even to those normal adults who happen to like it sprinkled with a little nutmeg. Junket is also a juicy dessert for members of Congress whenever they can feast upon such fodder. At present, the House Rules Committee has moved again to control foreign junketing by members of Congress.

Junketing is a kind of sometimes justifiable racket whereby members of Congress get free trips abroad to conduct official business with expenses partially or wholly paid by the government. There is no question but what junketing has been highly abused. Sometimes a congressman or other government official takes the family and his secretary along at government expense.

It is time congressmen as well as the House Rules Committee ask themselves - "Is this trip necessary?" or is this just a nice desert sprinkled with a little nutmeg?

Exchange Club Hears Talk By C. Friley

The state president of Michigan Exchange clubs paid the Holland Exchange Club a surprise visit Monday noon. In his brief remarks to the members he emphasized attendance at the state convention in June, which is to be held at Charlevoix on the 14th and 15th.

Exchangeite Russ Bouws was in charge of the regular program and introduced Charles Friley, biologist in charge of the Swan Game Wild Life Station. In his opening remarks, Friley stated that the research works falls into two areas - production of the different wild life species and securing ample space for this wild life. The latter is by far the biggest problem.

The Swan Creek work began in 1937 and at first concerned itself largely with restoring the depleted cottontail, fox squirrel, and raccoon. Later, studies of the habitat requirements for the wild turkey, Canada goose, wood duck, deer, and other animals were made. While the Swan Creek area is not ideal for the wild turkey, the 200 releases in 1954 have increased to the present population of 500 which is believed to be about the top limit for that area.

Special deer hunting permits have been issued in the Allegan area to protect crops while farther north the herd has had to be reduced because of insufficient food supply.

Mr. Friley showed pictures to illustrate the different phases of the work at Swan Creek. It was a surprise to many to hear that from 6,000 to 8,000 geese winter in this area. These migrate north in the spring and nest in Canada west of Hudson Bay.

President Harold Scholten presided.

The Rise of David
I Samuel 18:5-16
By C. P. Dame

(Based on copyrighted outlines produced by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A. and used by permission.)

The contrast between the two men described in this lesson is sharp. Saul yielded his heart to jealousy and allowed it to spoil his life while David conducted himself discreetly, taking his sudden popularity humbly. It is an art to keep humble when prosperity and popularity come along.

1. Popularity has its dangers. More is said about David in the Old Testament than any other man. Through the slaying of Goliath, David became famous in one day. This heroic deed was done in the sight of the whole army and thus received much publicity. It also gained for him the undying love and loyal friendship of Jonathan. Saul gave David a post in the army and this appointment won the approval of the nation. The promotion and the sudden popularity did not make David snobbish - "he behaved himself wisely."

Saul gave David an opportunity to show what kind of a man he was and he measured up to his new responsibilities. Some people are given opportunities but they do not have sense enough to grasp them. And then there are people who are given opportunities by friends but they forget the friends who benefited them.

One day when Saul and David came back from a victorious campaign the women of Israel came out to greet them. With antiphonal song one group sang, "Saul has slain his thousands" and the other group responded "And David has slain his thousands." This made Saul jealous and he spoke about it publicly. Once he was proud of David, suddenly he became jealous of him.

II. Jealousy embitters. The Bible tells us to rejoice with those who rejoice but not all can do that. "And Saul eyed David from that day and forward" - these words tell what jealousy did to Saul. It is foolish to let jealousy spoil one's life. In the Song of Solomon (8:6) we read that "jealousy is as cruel as the grave" and in Psalms 79:5 it is stated that "jealousy burns like fire." The jealous person wholly misjudges the person whom he judges. Saul even tried to kill David who had never shown any sign of disloyalty.

Saul was foolish enough to let jealousy ruin his life. What a delightful relationship there could have been between Saul and David if Saul had closed the door of his heart to jealousy. In some congregations jealousy still does much harm. We are commanded to love each other - the jealous person disobeys this commandment.

III. Smart conduct pleases the Lord. The behaviour of Saul was foolish but David "behaved himself wisely in all his ways; and the Lord was with him." David did not retaliate in any way. It seems as if the unwise conduct of Saul made David all the more cautious. Saul even recognized the fact that God was with David. And the more Saul realized that David was behaving himself wisely the more afraid he became of David.

What a lot of trouble people can make for themselves! In spite of the jealousy of Saul, David won the love of the people among whom he moved freely. Observe the contrast - Saul permitted a sin, jealousy, to control his life while David accepted the guidance of God. The person who permits God to guide him will keep sin at a distance.

Women Accountants Mark 10th Anniversary

More than 100 persons gathered in the Tulip Room of the Warm Friend Tavern Tuesday night for the 10th anniversary public relations dinner of the Holland chapter of the American Society of Women Accountants.

A large tiered birthday cake was featured and President Bonnie Stoltz traced the history of the local chapter and its accomplishments. Among the guests were employers and wives, speakers who have appeared before the chapter the past year, and visitors from Kalamazoo and Muskegon chapters.

Mrs. Bastian Kruithof followed the public relations theme in her talk on "The Noblest Work" with her title taken from a poem by the 18th century poet Pope which reads, "An honest man is the noblest work of God."

Mrs. Kruithof said relations with the public can be pleasant and profitable and social amenities encompass appearance, conversation, tact and poise. "That honest sincerity should be rooted in the soul."

"People should be very, very human... this is something often forgotten and perhaps is the great message that Boris Pasternak brings out in 'Doctor Zhivago.' This book does not have the warmth of Tolstoy's 'War and Peace.' This is what happens when the cold state means more than the individual."

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Jean Lappinga who was the chapter's first president when it was organized 10 years ago.

Dinner music was provided on the organ by Mrs. Kenneth De Jong. A punch bowl was set up in the lobby preceding the dinner. Dr. Bastian Kruithof gave the invocation.

Annexation Issues Taken Under Study

A 10-member citizens advisory committee for Harrington School district was named at a public meeting Tuesday night in the Harrington School.

The meeting was called for the purpose of considering various solutions to current school problems.

With political annexation to Holland city and school annexation to Saugatuck school district both advanced as possibilities, the committee was carefully chosen to represent all sides. Edwin Raphael, the new chairman, said four members are for city annexation, four oppose city annexation and two are neutral.

Serving with Raphael will be George Romeyn, Mrs. Oscar Hallquist, Harry Jacobs, Clarke Field, Julius Van Hus, Eugene Teusink, William Norlin, Delwin Van Tongeren, Eugene King, Mrs. John Kingshott and Fred Weiss. The latter's secretary.

The committee will meet tonight at 8 p.m. in Harrington school and will go to Lansing Thursday for a conference at 11 a.m. with Lynn M. Bartlett, superintendent of public instruction. Bartlett's approval is needed before there can be a district election on annexing to another school district.

Atty. Vernon D. Ten Cate clarified legal issues at Tuesday's meeting which was attended by 200 persons.

Also present were Henry Hopper, president of the Saugatuck Board of Education, Supt. Aldrich, and Board Member Carl Walters. These men said Saugatuck would take Harrington ninth graders for the 1959-60 year. The men said the Saugatuck board has passed the necessary resolution inviting Harrington to annex to the school district.

"With all factions represented on the citizens committee, we plan to send the pro-annexation members into the country and the anti-annexation people into the populated areas so that we'll all know how all the people feel about solving the school problem," Raphael said.

Other suits are brought by Harvey and Rena Visser, Lewis and Marion Helmers, and Albert and Lavina Vandenberg.

The parties own property along Beacon Boulevard near the southern city limits in an area that is zoned residential. They claim the land is useless for that purpose and can only be made profitable if it is rezoned commercial.

PRESENTED WOODEN SHOES — James M. Hare, Michigan Secretary of State, received a pair of wooden shoes from the Ottawa County Citizens Safety Committee Monday night and presented by Avery D. Baker (left), Ottawa county safety director. Hare spoke on the Michigan safety program at a meeting of the Holland Kiwanis Club in the Warm Friend Tavern.

Hare Congratulates Ottawa On Its Fine Traffic Record

James M. Hare, Michigan Secretary of State, congratulated Ottawa County on its fine record of progress in the area of traffic safety over the past few years Monday night when he spoke before the Holland Kiwanis Club in the Tulip Room of the Warm Friend Tavern.

Hare pointed to four methods presently employed to reduce the number of traffic accidents. The first, he listed, was the placing of a maximum speed limit of 65 on highways which have cut down single car off the highway accidents.

The second method was the construction of four-lane divided highways while the third method is the driver education program in high schools.

Hare's fourth method concerned a stepped up traffic enforcement program with a point system for suspension and revocation of drivers licenses.

"Experience has proved that the driver with a mildly bad record placed on probation will usually show marked improvement in his driving habits, whereas with the really serious offender, whose record goes back many years, the only effective method of dealing with him is absolute revocation," Hare said.

Hare felt that the major source of traffic accidents that must be concentrated upon is the drinking driver opposed to the drunk driver. He pointed out that statistics in Michigan showed that more than 60 per cent of traffic accidents involving fatalities or serious injuries occur between 1 and 2 a.m., when taverns and bars are closing.

Hare said solution to the problem is in education to the effects of alcohol on the ability of an individual to operate his vehicle and not on a stiffening of the present laws with reference to drunk driving. He cited that only one person in 10 charged with drunk driving is convicted.

Avery D. Baker, County safety director, introduced Hare and presented him with a pair of wooden shoes.

The Rev. John Hagans gave the invocation. Ray Roth led group singing and guests attending the meeting included Municipal Judge Cornelius Vander Meulen, Marvin A. Nyman, Henry Vander Ploeg, Don Oosterbaan, Don R. Voss, Howard Plagemakers and Milt Ottman. Club vice president Harold Oosting presided.

Mc Clintock-Mc Clure Rites Read

Mr. and Mrs. Richard N. Mc Clintock

Miss Lynda Lou McClure, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen H. McClure of 904 Washington Ave., became the bride of Richard N. McClintock at a pretty wedding solemnized April 9 in the chapel of First Methodist Church. The double ring ceremony was performed at 8 p.m. by the Rev. John O. Hagans in a setting of Oregon and emerald greens, baskets of white gladioli and mums and candelabra.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. McClintock of Webster Groves, Mo., former Holland residents. Mr. McClintock served as city manager while living in Holland.

The bride's attendants were Miss Marcia Vander Maat as maid of honor, and Laura and Peggy Taylor, cousins of the bride, flower girls. Stanley Alberta of Benton Harbor assisted as best man and Allen E. McClure, brother of the bride, and Tim Taylor, cousin of the bride, seated the guests. Lee Taylor lit the candles.

Organist Mrs. Albernard Kamps accompanied the soloist, Martin Hardenberg as he sang "At Dawn" and "I Love You Truly." He was accompanied by Miss Gertrude Beckman at the piano when he sang "The Lord's Prayer."

A basque neckline enhanced by a sabrina bodice, appliqued with Venise lace and long sleeves, featured the bride's floor length gown of peau de soie. Her full skirt, terminating in a chapel train, was draped gently by a bustle effect. A veil of illusion was held by a crown of orange blossoms and seed pearls. She carried a white Bible with a cascade bouquet of snow white roses with ribbon streamers showered with sweetpeas and fern tips.

The bridal attendant wore a street length sheath dress of orchid taffeta with an empire waist, large bow and streamers in the back and carried a bouquet of white roses and feathered carnations tipped in orchid. She wore a circle headpiece of orchid net. The flower girls wore dresses of orchid taffeta with bouffant sleeves, with white pinafores hand embroidered with tiny orchid flowers. They wore orchid ribbon headpieces and carried ruffled baskets of rose petals.

The mother of the bride chose for her daughter's wedding a light green ensemble and wore a corsage of pink roses and white feathered carnations. The groom's mother was attired in a blue grey ensemble and wore a corsage of white gardenias.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ver Hulst were master and mistress of ceremonies and Miss Judy Wilber and Miss Nancy Kennedy served the guests. Miss Mary Robbert and Miss Gail Van Raalte presided in the gift room and Mr. and Mrs. Dave De Nelf served punch. In charge of the guest book was Marilyn Taylor. Allegan Supervisors Okay Equalization Figures

ALLEGAN — With only three dissenting votes, Allegan county's board of supervisors Monday adopted an equalization committee report which heaved to the line set by the state tax commission's spot-check survey of 1957.

The report raised the total equalized value of the county from $90 to $93 million, with two townships — Saugatuck and Fillmore — sharing much of the increase.

The report added $1,197,068 to Fillmore's assessed valuation, and $2,134,900, to Saugatuck's. Fillmore Township supervisor Milton Timmerman and Saugatuck's Phillip Quade were joined by Fritz Jager, of Gunplain, in voting against the report.

The report indicated an increase in the county's total real estate assessment — from $64,004,993 to $66,766,834 — and a decrease in personal property as assessed — from $16,634,808 in 1958, to $16,242,593 this year.

The assessment rolls of only three units were cut by the equalization report. Holland City, within the county, Otsego City and Lee Township all were equalized at less than the face of their assessment rolls.

For the first time in many years, the city of Allegan will be carrying less than its traditional 10 per cent of the county's total tax burden. The new report sets the city at 9.80 per cent, Otsego City is second highest with 9.11 per cent.

Saugatuck Township had the greatest increase, going from 6.4 per cent in 1958, to 7.12 per cent this year.

Chairman Francis Brower announced that Bernard Miller, of Monterey, would serve with members of the regular building committee, Greg Nulty of Otsego, Jacob Van Polen, Salem, and John Scholten of Lakewood, and Brouwer on the special court house building committee.

Register of Deeds Howard Strand appeared before the board to request extra clerk hire to enable his office to provide county assessing officers with real estate transfers necessary for compiling tax assessment rolls.

Strand noted an increase of 400 per cent in the volume of work handled by his office since he was first elected. He said the work load is especially high at present, due to renewed oil and gas drilling activity, right-of-way buying for two super highways through the county and an increase in chattel mortgages resulting from an upsurge in an installment buying. His request was referred to the special appropriations committee.

Deer Herd Study Made By Van Til

Riemer Van Til of Holland, Ottawa County's representative in the Michigan legislature, received a first hand report of the deer herd situation in the northern part of the lower peninsula last week. Van Til and two other House members visited a hunting lodge in Presque Isle County and were shown deer in weakened conditions and made rough field autopsies on a substantial number of carcasses. The tour was sponsored by the Presque Isle Sportsman Club and the Michigan United Conservation Clubs.

Upon opening the deer, the effects of starvation could be seen by the lack of flesh, much less fat on their ribs. Many of the lungs were black which conservation officers explained were the characteristics of pneumonia which resulted in the deer from lack of resistance brought on from lack of food.

"The starvation was sharply pointed out when the bones were cracked open and no marrow was inside, but only a red jelly substance with no fat content whatever," Van Til said.

Many conservation clubs in northern Michigan made an effort to curtail deer herd starvation by putting out hay, Van Til reported. "But when we examined the deer and cut open their stomachs, it was clearly evident that the hay didn't provide the nutritive value for them to subsist. As in many cases, their stomachs were full of the hay, but the deer still died of starvation," Van Til said.

"There were many instances in which farmers had fed the deer. At one time, we saw where a yearling had been taken care of on one farm, and as a farmer was taking some cattle down the road, the deer was so tame that it was leaping around in the road, running back and forth mingling with the cattle," Van Til continued.

Van Til noted that there are several large tracts of private land which often run into several hundred acres apiece where much of the starvation exists. The tracts were large enough that the deer did not roam off of it, and the length of the winter sharply curtailed the food supply, Van Til said.

Van Til concluded that restrictions should be revised as to permit a bigger harvest of the deer herd, rather than to permit the inhuman starvation which has currently existed.

Christian Gets Good Hitting To Win 13-5 Over Fennville

FENNVILLE (Special)—Holland Christian's baseball squad showed some offensive power here Tuesday afternoon by walloping Fennville, 13-5. It was Christian's first win of the season against one loss.

Coach Elmer Ribbens' Maroons pounded out 10 solid safeties off from three Fennville hurlers, starter Gene Luna and relievers Pandel and Turner. Fennville collected nine hits, but less timely ones, off starter Jim Hulst and Vern Den Bleyker, who did a fine job in relief to get credit for the win.

The Hollanders started off the scoring in the second when they bunched two hits along with two walks and two Fennville miscues, good for three runs. Christian added a pair in the third frame on a hit, a walk and a couple of more Fennville errors.

Fennville fought back in the fourth inning when they got to Hulst and tied the count at 5-5. Five solid safeties, two Maroon errors and an outfield fly accounted for all of the damage. Den Bleyker finally came on to stop the rally and pitched scoreless ball the rest of the way.

The Maroons really went to work in the final three innings as they scored a pair of runs in the fifth and sixth and added four more in the seventh. The Dutch collected seven more hits in the process.

Henry Sterken, Christian catcher, was the hitting star for the locals as he banged out three hits in five trips to the plate. Ben Bonselear and Jerry De Koster each had two. Dickinson, Strnad and Turner each had two hits for the losers. Fennville was guilty of four errors and Christian made three.

New Sewer Plant Now Under Study

City Council and the Board of Public Works held a joint meeting Friday night to discuss much needed sewer improvements in Holland. Tom Robinson, an engineer for Black and Veatch, consulting engineers of Kansas City, Mo., submitted a report which was a continuance of plans under study since 1954.

It was pointed out that the present sewage disposal plant built in 1928 is now inadequate and obsolete, and there was considerable emphasis on needs for an adequate system, as already evidenced in petitions for sewer service presented to City Council earlier this week.

The plan as submitted by Black and Veatch calls for a new treatment plant and several additional sewer lines into some sections of the newly annexed areas.

It was the feeling of both Council and the BPW that the most equitable method of financing and operating a new system would be through a sewer service charge. In this way, persons living in outlying rural areas not benefiting from sewage disposal programs would not be paying for services they do not share in.
