Asks Legislature for Immediate Takeover as Prison Site

Milliken Recommends Seminary

By Paul Van Kolken
LANSING — Gov. William G. Milliken today asked the state legislature to purchase the 530-acre St. Augustine Seminary property in Allegan County for a state prison and state park before the July 1 state option on the property runs out.

Purchase of the Laketon township site along Lake Michigan was part of a package of recommendations to ease overcrowding in state prisons. Milliken asked immediate takeover of the seminary and the Wayne County Child Development Center at Northville for use this year and recommended acquisition of the J.L. Hudson Co. warehouse in downtown Detroit and parts of Kincheloe Air Force Base near Sault Ste. Marie for conversions into prisons next year.

The estimated cost to acquire the facilities was $28 to $33 million and Milliken asked for an $11.5 million increase in the operating budget of the state Department of Corrections for 1977-78.

Milliken talked with Holland Mayor Lou Hallacy, Douglas village president Bill Shepherd and Saugatuck village president Jim Christensen in separate telephone calls late Tuesday afternoon.

Hallacy said the governor assured him that no more than 50 acres of the site would be used for a prison and that no more than 500 inmates would be housed on the site.

Milliken also said the state would do all possible to have the state park operated the way the local community would like it operated.

A limited day use park is proposed for an area north of the existing seminary buildings. Proposals for the St. Augustine Seminary prison and Northville prison have drawn strong public opposition.

Milliken said he has received more than 2,000 letters in opposition from Saugatuck-Douglas area residents and the corrections department received another 700.

Milliken had been quoted earlier in a Dec. 30, 1976 letter to state Rep. Ed Fredricks saying "Certainly the department does not want to locate a facility where the situation would be intolerable and openly rejected by the residents."

In making his announcement today Milliken said "There are times when those of us in public office must take unpopular stands if we are to responsibly approach a serious problem."

"I believe this is one such occasion."

If the recommended facilities are acquired the timetable calls for inmates at St. Augustine by Nov. 1; Kincheloe by March 1, 1978; and Hudson warehouse by Dec. 31, 1978.

Prison capacity by Dec. 31, 1978 would be 12,283 but prison population would rise to 15,200.

Milliken said the need for immediate housing "cannot be met in time by new construction."

"It can only be met by the adaptation of existing facilities which are studied for conversion to correctional housing," he said.

"Each of the four proposals has some drawbacks," Milliken added. "None meets all specifications of the ideal prison."

"But each is better than the many alternatives that have been considered. Nothing would be so wrong as to do nothing at all."

The Northville facility could house 440 men and 60 women inmates and would be used temporarily until a 600-bed facility can be built nearby.

Milliken said the state should be ready to house 500 male prisoners at Kincheloe should the base be abandoned by the Air Force. The warehouse could house about 530 inmates.

The St. Augustine Seminary is being phased out of use by the Catholic order and will close this spring. The property has been for sale

New Laws Govern Use Of Mopeds

New laws governing the use and registration of "mopeds" or a version of a motorized bicycle go into effect May 1 and Holland police issued a brief description of the codes.

Mopeds are described as a two or three wheeled vehicle with operable pedals which is equipped with a motor that does not exceed 50 cubic centimeters piston displacement, produces 1.5 brake horsepower or less and cannot propel the vehicle at a speed greater than 25 miles per hour on a level surface.

A special restricted license is needed to operate a moped unless the person has a valid operator's or chauffeur's license. A special restricted license for a moped may be issued to a person 15 years of age or older if the person satisfies the Secretary of State that he is competent to operate a moped with safety.

Mopeds operated upon a roadway shall be as near to the right side of the roadway as practicable and persons operating mopeds shall not ride more than two abreast except on a path or part of a roadway set aside for the exclusive use of the vehicle.

A moped shall not be operated on a sidewalk constructed for the use of pedestrians.

Mopeds shall be equipped with at least one and not more than two head lamps which shall comply with the requirements and limitations of the state law with intensity to reveal a person or a vehicle at a distance of not less than 100 feet.

Mopeds shall have one rear stop lamp and mopeds operated upon a highway shall be equipped with at least two brakes, one on the front wheel and one on the rear wheel which may be operated by hand or foot.

Mopeds when operated on a highway shall be equipped with a horn capable of being heard not less than 200 feet away and equipped with a muffler in good working order.

Beginning May 1 and each registration period thereafter, the owner of a moped required to be registered shall file an application with the Secretary of State. A moped shall not be required to be insured. The certificate of registration shall be pocket size and carried on the vehicle.

A decal indicating a certificate of registration is in force shall be issued.

Spurred by Millage Defeat April 12

Administrators Pink-Slipped

All Holland public school administrators with the exception of the superintendent of schools and the director of buildings and grounds were "pink slipped" at a special meeting of the Holland Board of Education late Monday afternoon.

The order also extends to all aides, secretaries, custodians and other employees of the school district.

Decision to eliminate administrators and other office and custodial employees came 10 days after the board had "pink slipped" teachers. That action had been taken earlier because of a 60-day clause in the tenure law in which interpretation had been questioned. Monday's action, like that taken for teachers

April 14, was recommended by the board's labor counsel. Effective date is July 1.

Action was taken reluctantly by the board after a proposal to levy 19.7 mills for three years was defeated by some 600 votes in a special election April 12. Another election for the same millage has been scheduled June 13. Should millage pass in June, a call-back of teachers, administrators and other employees will follow.

The action was proposed by Assistant Supt. Jack Lowe, one of the administrators to be pink-slipped. Board Member Robert Gosselard said the action put the board in a ridiculous situation. "But I know no other way out," Other members expressed the hope millage would pass and most financial problems would be resolved by June 14.

Board Attorney Jack Marquis reviewed developments in the settlement of the $92,000 athletic field sewer litigation. The agreement which "the board felt inclined to accept" at a special meeting April 11 remains the same but Marquis said there are still some negotiations on the language of the documents, and Board President Charles Bradford and Deanna De Pree were named to represent the board in these negotiations.

Marquis said the offer of $65,000 is unchanged, $20,000 to be paid immediately after signing the documents and $12,500 within 60 days with the balance of $32,500 to be paid in monthly installments commencing one year after the agreement is signed. The offer was made by the Lansing law firm of Doyle, Whitmer and Caruthers.

The board accepted "with regret" the resignations of Jane Lampen who has been with the Holland school system for 32 years, a good share of them as principal at Washington and Longfellow, and Lois Kronmeyer, fourth grade teacher at Longfellow who is retiring this year after 35 years of teaching, 18 with the Holland system. A one-year maternity leave was granted Jane Michmerhuizen of Jefferson School.

Supt. Donald L. Ihrman announced that John Tyse of Holland will serve as chairman of the Millage Campaign Committee promoting a "yes" vote in the June 13 election. Ihrman said Tyse is a local resident, taxpayer and parent. Board President Bradford appointed Deanna De Pree and Marilyn Feininger to represent the school board on the committee.

Ihrman said anyone interested in becoming a committee member should call him, Tyse, Mrs. De Pree or Mrs. Feininger. The first meeting is scheduled tonight.

Requests Prison Details Under State Act

PAC Asks Information

GRAND RAPIDS — The Prison Action Committee, citing the state's Freedom of Information Act, Monday demanded all information concerning possible selection of St. Augustine Seminary property as a potential prison site.

The request was made at a news conference this morning where PAC's attorney Lou Drain was introduced.

A letter delivered to Corrections Department Director Perry Johnson Friday demanded the PAC be notified under the open meeting act of any meeting held by the corrections commission of Gov. Milliken concerning selection of a prison site.

Herb Kammeraad of Holland, chairman of PAC, said the request was necessary because state officials have refused to provide citizens with any specific written information on their intent with respect to the St. Augustine Seminary site.

"We have been put off with nothing more than meaningless rhetoric and have been subject to a closed decision-making process," said Kammeraad.

"The freedom of information act was designed to correct such abuses and we are demanding our rights thereunder," he added.

"The insensitivity of the governor and corrections commission to the concerns of the local citizens as revealed by public statements has given us no other choice than to pursue our efforts through the courts if they persist in their present course of action," Kammeraad concluded.

In their letter to Johnson, PAC requested a list of agreements to purchase the property documents of transfer and specifics on a security system, bids and estimates and information on other modifications to the proposed prison site.

The Department of Natural Resources was asked for dates and information concerning development of a proposed state park at the seminary and State Police were asked for records and information.

When asked whether PAC would file a civil suit to block the state from converting the seminary into a medium security prison, Davis said it was "99 per cent certain."

MEETS MILLIKEN — Michigan Governor William G. Milliken met Monday with a group of persons from the Holland area regarding the proposed state prison site the state is considering. Mrs. Elsie Lamb of Holland, spokesperson for the group, Concerned Christians Who Care, told the governor there are persons in that area who would not object to a prison there. (UPI telephoto)

Would Restore and Preserve Grounds

Herman Miller Asks Marigold Lodge Use

A proposal to bring Marigold Lodge in Waukazoo Woods back to its original splendor and relieve Hope College of a financial burden won the recommendation of the Park township planning commission Tuesday.

The plan would allow Herman Miller, Inc., of Zeeland to lease the buildings and grounds from Hope College, renovate the 12-bedroom lodge and grounds and construct a five-classroom learning center along the lake front of Pine Creek Bay.

Max De Pree of Herman Miller said the Zeeland firm planned to use the facilities for the education of its customers, potential customers, dealers and management employees as well as special meetings of the company.

De Pree said weekend use of the facilities was not intended and there would be a full time employee on the grounds.

Hope College Gordon Van Wylen said the property had been given the college in 1969 under terms the property be maintained and preserved as non-income and that it not be sold for 25 years.

But Van Wylen said maintaining the property was causing a financial drain on the college and Herman Miller would be leasing the property for educational purposes and maintaining the property until such time as it could be purchased by Herman Miller.

The planning commission had been requested to change the zoning from single family residential to Planned Unit Development for educational and residential purposes.

At the end of the public hearing neighbor Nelis R. Bade, who opposed the development because of potential commercial nature, vowed to bring the matter to the courts.

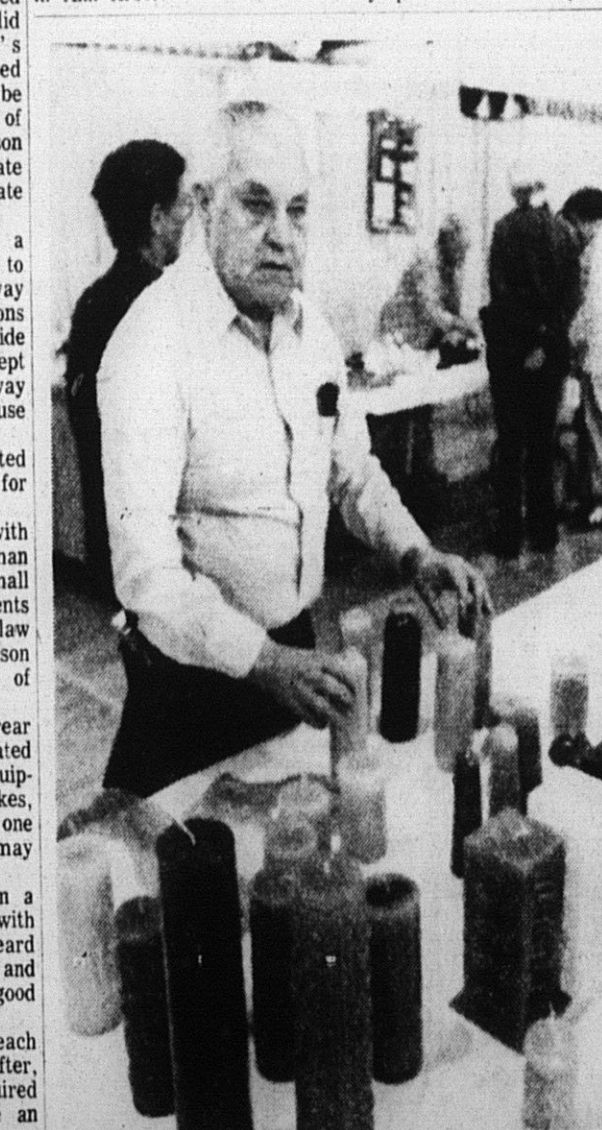

The commission unanimously recommended the zoning change to the township board.

The commission tabled action on a rezoning request from Woodland Partners for 25 acres of water front property along Pine Creek Bay known as the Landwehr property for development of 25 condominiums along 620 feet of lakeshore.

Developer James Jurries envisioned the units selling for $60,000 to $90,000 and appealing to retired persons.

Citizens objected to the proposed development on grounds it would ruin the lakeshore area of Pine Creek Bay, bring more boaters to the lake, and could open additional development should the adjoining P.T. Cheff property become available.

The commission did recommend a zoning change for a portion of land at Ottawa Beach Rd., Forest Hills Dr. and Pine Creek Bay known as the Thorpevsky property for development into seven single family lots by Woodland Partners.

Man Pleads Guilty To Firing Weapon

William Palmer, 22, of 559 College Ave., pleaded guilty in District Court Monday to discharging a firearm within the city limits and was held without bond for sentencing.

Palmer was arrested by Holland police early Sunday after he allegedly fired a .410 gauge shotgun in the area of 191 East Ninth St. where as many as six police officers attempted to take him into custody. No one was reported injured.

Third Missing in Feb. 23 Incident

2 Fishermen's Bodies Found

The bodies of two fishermen missing since Feb. 23 when their boat overturned in Lake Michigan off Port Sheldon were recovered Monday along the beach a mile and a quarter south of Port Sheldon.

The body of a third fisherman in their boat has not been recovered.

Ottawa County deputies said a resident in a cottage in the 5300 block of 174th Ave. notified officers of the bodies on shore Monday at 11 a.m.

The bodies were identified through dental records as that of Gary Lee Brinkert, 36, of 19739 60th Ave., Allendale, and Stanley Joseph Siedlecki, 39, of Comstock Park.

Still missing is Donald Lyle Dunham, 30, of Sparta.

The three had been fishing from a 12-foot boat in the warm water outlet at Consumers Power Co. when strong winds off shore caught the boat in rough water and overturned it.

Fishermen in another boat told deputies the victims were about a half mile off shore when the winds struck and the three were unable to bring themselves to shore.

Windmill Island Incidents Cleared

Two juveniles were apprehended Sunday in connection with window breakage at Windmill Island and police said their apprehension cleared other incidents.

Windows were broken in the mill and greenhouse and the concession stand had been entered. Also cleared damage at Baker Furniture, dwellings under construction at Ninth St. and Columbia Ave.

Under investigation today was a reported $4,000 damage to tires and glass on trucks at Holland Hitch Forwarding Co., 1122 Industrial Ave.

Police said 30 tires were punctured on trucks and windows were smashed in at least two trucks. The damage was reported to police Saturday.

Fire Truck Bids Opened By Township

Holland township trustees Thursday opened bids for a new 1,000 gallon per minute pumper fire truck to replace a 29-year-old engine at the east Eighth St. fire station.

Apparent low bidder for the truck chassis was International Harvester of Grand Rapids at $19,594.27, while the Zuphen Fire Apparatus Co. was the low bidder for the equipment at $32,876.

The bids were referred to the fire committee for study. A fire equipment replacement fund will pay for the new fire truck.

Trustees approved the purchase of a tractor and brush hog for $3,498 from Modern Power Equipment for use in township parks.

Also approved was up to $1,000 for a fence along the west side of the Quincy St. park and the taking of bids for a storage building for the park.

A hearing was held into the necessity of a water district in the area of 104th Ave., Burton St., Chicago Dr. and Paw Paw Dr. One letter of objection was received and two persons spoke in favor of the district.

Trustees adopted creation of the district and directed bids be taken for materials.

An application for a beer and wine take-out licence for Mother Hubbard, Inc., for a new store on the northeast corner of James St. and Butternut Dr. was received. A request for a full year tavern licence from Franz Smith was denied.

Reappointed to terms on the planning commission were J. Herbert Johnson, John Van Iwaarden and trustee Lloyd Van Doornik.

On Energy Program

'It's About Time'

Lydia Villagran
... stay closer to homeDale Scamehorn
... tunes up small carMary De Young
... accept the shortage

By Ann Hungerford
A car salesman's wife is disgusted.

But a research group leader at Chemetron says the proposals are "not nearly stringent enough."

And according to many Holland residents they are in more than full compliance with President Carter's energy proposals.

Declining to identify herself, the car salesman's wife complained that both she and her husband are disgusted. "It said that the country's entire economy is centered on the automobile."

Francis de Monterey, the Chemetron employee states that the proposals are a step in the right direction.

"We have to get rid of our appliances. Who needs an electric toothbrush? We also have to convince people that it's healthier to turn a crank than push a button," de Monterey said.

Dale Scamehorn, maintenance man at Penney's, says he is tuning up the small car he purchased for the family during the oil embargo.

But, Scamehorn said, he used the large car for his family of three children. Now they will revert to using the small car.

His recreation will not be thwarted however. He likes sailing and Carter's new proposals will have little effect.

A local dentist stated that it was a "good presentation of conditions as they exist. It's high time we face up to the austerity needed to perpetuate the economy."

"I will think more before I drive," Barbara Schipper, a legal secretary said. "But I don't consider myself wasteful now."

Her attitude of already conserving was reflected again many times by residents who cut back long ago. Some believe others should now take a greater share of the burden.

"How can I cut back? Arthur Unruh, a machine shop worker asked. "I already did earlier."

The additional five cent tax will be an actual burden on Terry Reem, activities director at Birchwood who also works as a psychiatric aide in Grand Rapids.

"I spend a lot of money on gas each week. It will be difficult to continue with my second job. My option is to seek employment with greater financial opportunities. I guess I'm not really happy with it," he said.

One librarian said she doesn't know whether the energy crisis is real or a myth to generate higher prices.

Her expressed skepticism was in minority as most residents queried believe the energy crisis is indeed real.

Mary De Young, Hudsonville junior high teacher, speculates that people have to "stop waiting for a big technical break and accept the energy shortage."

Lydia Villagran, teacher's aide at L. E. Fell and hairdresser at Annette's, says she and her family will take trips closer to home. "Michigan has so many places to offer."

Holland Hospital Auxiliaries celebrated a quarter century of service to the hospital with a gala birthday party Monday afternoon in the Woman's Literary Club.

With auxiliary and guild gifts of equipment to the hospital amounting to about a quarter million dollars throughout the 25 years, both Board President Kenneth Zuerink and Hospital Director Fred S. Burd acknowledged in glowing terms the appreciation felt for the generous donations in money and service.

Mrs. Judson Bradford, president, accepted a bouquet of 25 red roses for the board and also distributed pink roses to past presidents seated on the platform.

A letter was read from the first auxiliary president, Rose Fehring, now living in Pasadena, Calif. Director of Volunteers Ruth Van Kampen read the roll call or service ranging from 50 to over 2,000 hours the past year. Top honors went to Ann Diepenhorst for over 600 hours and Priscilla Estelle for more than 2,000 hours.

Plaques were presented to Edythe Mannes as chairman of the coffee shop and to Jeanette Veltman, treasurer.

A check for $5,237.27 was presented to the hospital board. The invocation was given by Betty Boven. Louise Laughlin served as chairman of 25th anniversary observances. Board member Pat Mass, also a past president of the auxiliary, led in a tribute to Mrs. Bradford, current president.

New officers were named: Mrs. Dale Van Oostenburg, president; Mrs. Roger Prins, vice president; Mrs. Paul de Kruif, recording secretary; Mrs. K. B. De Pree, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Ed Janoski, treasurer.

Announcement was made that the auxiliary will sponsor blood pressure clinics May 3 in the five area banks and in Civic Center.

247 Donate
Blood Here
At Clinic

The Red Cross Blood clinic held recently at the Civic Center resulted in 147 units of blood donated by Holland residents. Of the total, 188 were collected to replace more than 200 units used by a Holland resident in a recent illness.

Ottawa and Allegan county residents are not charged for blood used by them or their families during surgery or illness, but in order to maintain an adequate supply, it is necessary to have successful Red Cross blood drives.

The increase in population in the area will bring two new programs for the city, according to Janet Cuperus, county blood chairman; one at Holland Hospital, Monday, July 18 and the other at Parke Davis, Friday, Aug. 12, in addition to the regular five two-day clinics at the Civic Center; three at Hope College and one at General Electric.

Donna DeWeerd received her seven-gallon donor pin and card; Dorothy (Dody) Fredrickson, six gallons; Marie Steketee, Robert Dykstra and Gordon Naber, five gallons.

Annagene Halstead, Judi Brink, Clifford Cuneo and Dwayne Tubergan reached four gallons and Gerald Prince, three. Larry Alderink, Belford Teeters, Andrew Blystra and Roger Wabeke received cards and pins for two gallons. There were eight donors who reached their first: Shirley Fink, Lucille Williams, David Weeber, Laverne Johnson, Wesley Brown, Edward Nyland, Robert Pippel and Edwin John De Vries.

There were 22 first-time donors in the two days: Sandra Hildore, Terry Lynn Howard, Linda Lee Bruursema, Laura Cooper, Eleanor Shoemaker, Jean Wiechertjes, Janet Hayes, Nancy Ruth Dick, Marion Geib, Phillip Barnes, Thomas Swierenga, Richard Reyes, David Wierenga, Frank Schurman, Robert Marlink, Drew Appleton, Kraig Schaafsma, Ivan De Graaf, John Timmer, Larry Van Wieren, Glenn Scharphorn and Curtis Vanden Brink.

Party Celebrates
Birthday, Retirement

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence (Clancy) De Vries, of 377 Lincoln Ave., were guests of honor at a birthday-retirement celebration Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. David Johnson of Zeeland hosted the dinner party, given by the honored couple's children. Mr. De Vries recently retired after 27 years with Lear Siegler, Inc., of Grand Rapids. He was presented a gold watch. Cake and ice cream were served.

The children include Duane and Bonnie De Vries, Wayne and Shari Walton, Dave and Lois Johnson and Bob and Shelly De Vries. There are also six grandchildren.

Panelists Define Status
For Local AAUW Branch

"Status of Women," a concern of American Association of University Women since its founding in 1883, was the topic of a panel presentation before the local branch last Thursday in Hope Reformed Church.

Introduced by former president Sharon Rocker, Dr. Margaret Van Wylen, Barbara Padnos and Eunice Bareham gave their definitions of status and told how they saw themselves in terms of that definition.

Dr. Van Wylen, finishing her internship interrupted some years ago by tuberculosis, marriage and five children, expressed her view on status of women in medicine today. Although feeling no personal discrimination, she admitted to struggles with the problems of being a homemaker and older person returning to a field filled with folks under 30. She is quick to point out that her fulfillment comes not from the field of medicine, but from her relationship to God.

Wife, mother and volunteer worker, Barbara Padnos expressed that originally her status came from being Mrs. Stuart Padnos; however, through her years in Holland she has achieved self-worth from the respect of her peers and her own contributions. Her activities have included co-founding of Cherry Lane Nursery School and Volunteer Action House. She challenged homemakers to plan for the time children are grown and gone, extending status beyond the home to the community. She has been guided by the Biblical injunction to "do good, love mercy and walk humbly."

Eunice Bareham, vice chairman of the Ottawa County Commission and long-time resident of Spring Lake, gave her views of a woman in politics. Widowed at 45 with four children, her "Finnish heritage helped" her through adjustments from mother to public servant. Only woman on a board with 20 men, she expressed the need for courage to be a dissenting vote. She has spent 25 years in service, not only in politics, but to schools and church.

The three speakers sparked a question-answer period which extended into the social hour. Lois Boersma, Evelyn Vukin and Barbara Timmer provided a smorgasbord of desserts.

Vander Jagt: A Washington Update

By Cornelia Van Voorst

"Breakfast With Guy" turned out to be a breakfast without Guy at Point West Friday since U. S. Rep. Vander Jagt spoke early in order to catch planes for an 11:10 a.m. appearance on the floor of the House in Washington.

And while a record Chamber of Commerce crowd sipped coffee and juice, the Congressman gave his annual Washington Update and answered questions. After he departed at 8:10 a.m. to catch a charter plane for Chicago, breakfast was served.

Vander Jagt's update dealt mainly with changes in Washington under a new majority administration which rigidly adheres to the Democratic majority of 2 to 1 plus 1, resulting in a committee structure of 7 Democrats to 3 Republicans and a realization that "only when you lose something (the GOP presidency) that you realize how precious a thing can be."

"But in many ways Washington has not changed at all," Vander Jagt said. "We have the same old Congress, and a maze of regulations President Carter is unable to change," citing as an example the 22 pages in OSIA on ladders.

"Congress has not changed in 25 years and like Old Man River just keeps rolling along."

But he cited one great change, and that is the legacy left by Jerry Ford in restoring integrity, truth and openness in Washington, a legacy freely admitted by House Speaker Tip O'Neill who at a farewell White House breakfast proclaimed Ford

Getting Ready for Tulip Time

Holland is shifting into high gear these days getting ready for Tulip Time.

Mothers are checking costumes for their children, and for themselves and husbands too, if they plan to participate in parades or street scrubbing.

Klomp dancers are practicing their steps.

Band directors all over the area are rehearsing their bands for parades.

Police are studying traffic patterns and anticipating where to park hundreds of buses that descend on Holland on charter trips.

Tulip Time headquarters staff is busy with housing, programs and hundreds of large and small details.

The street department, still picking up debris from Cleanup Week, is getting ready to transport bleachers to various locations for downtown parades.

Garden Club members are busy working on a flower show that will transform the Armory.

The Park Department is looking after parks and the tulips, hoping that cooler weather will preserve the city's favorite blooms for the festival.

Places like Windmill Island, Dutch Village, Wooden Shoe factories, museums and other attractions are brushing up for the festival.

Guides are studying city heritage and festival notes.

Choral organizations are practicing for programs and square dancers are preparing for a big square dance.

Barbershoppers are harmonizing.

Parade marshals are crossing their fingers hoping it won't rain on their parades.

Hotel-motel operators and a lot of housewives are preparing for an influx of visitors.

And hundreds of others, working in dozens of categories dealing directly or indirectly with Tulip Time are perhaps even busier than some of those already mentioned, and that's pretty busy.

In case you forgot, Tulip Time is May 11-14.

Hope College Economist Addresses Accountants

Holland chapter 19, American Society of Women Accountants, held its 28th annual Public Relations Dinner Tuesday night in the Woman's Literary Club with employees and spouses as guests.

Lois LaMar, chapter president, in welcoming guests explained that the ASWA was founded 39 years ago and today has 5,000 members in 105 chapters across the nation. Representatives of Grand Rapids, Muskegon and Kalamazoo chapters were present at the annual meeting.

Dr. Melvin W. Harju, assistant professor of economics, told assembled guests that where energy is concerned, only the tip of the iceberg can be seen.

Speaking on "Expanding Needs and Shrinking Resources — A Time for Decision," Dr. Harju expressed sharp concern not only on energy but on overpopulation, the rapid rate of growth all over the globe and increasing demands on available resources.

Viewing the United States as the richest nation in the world, he said this country produces 40 per cent of all the goods in the world, and that 40 per cent of the U.S. population consumes 60 per cent of U.S. production.

"If you are earning over $15,000 a year, you are a rich person," he said. "We've grown and become rich, but it is not likely we will become much richer."

With a 2 per cent population growth each year, Harju sees the world's population doubling in 35 years, and redoubling every 35 years, posing problems far beyond present resources.

'Woyzeck' Provocative For Hope First Nighters

By Holly Ernest

"If we ever got to heaven, we'd have to help with the thunder," sighed Woyzeck, servant to society, in one of his more positive lines.

Hope College Theatre began its run of "Woyzeck" by George Buchner Thursday night.

The "crowd" of about 100 perched on wooden benches surrounding the innovative, multi-level stage in a "dungeon" in DeWitt Center.

The discomfort in the audience, however, was not entirely caused by the hard seats.

"The plot centers around Franz Woyzeck, a soldier in the army who supplements his income by doing menial jobs to keep his family together. When his drab existence is disrupted by events that are beyond his control, his reaction is bewildering and tragic..." At least that's how Hope's theater department described the play.

Ingredients of time, eternity, death, poverty, religion, and social cruelty gave the viewer the freedom to whip up the recipe of his choice to make a conclusion. To the bewilderment of the audience, however, the play did not give much guidance as to what the final outcome should be.

Buchner's work seems to be both a social commentary and an expression of existentialism. The earthy Woyzeck seems insane. Or perhaps it is the society that bombards the poor man with injustices that is insane. At any rate, Woyzeck's selflessness is finally undermined and he is broken—committing murder in a final act of despair. Strangely enough at the time, but logical after much thought, the representatives of society applaud his merciless act.

Just think, all that in 65 minutes—27 acts.

The actors are effective; each character engrossing. Russell Curtis as Woyzeck is intense, wrapping the audience with tension. His lover, Marie, played by Lynn Montgomery is a relieving contrast—typical down-trodden wench.

Even though the production was definitely "heavy" light hearted humor threaded throughout. The Doctor, interpreted by Dan Huizenga, was especially comical with his mad-scientist antics. Glenn Eberhard also lightened the load with his portrayal of the Captain.

Whether John Tammi's directing, Alan Bedell's translation or Buchner's genius, the play is something kin to modern theatre—with the social dilemma of the last century.

No one can brush off Woyzeck without some contemplation.

Cornies Corner

Bill Wichers was hurrying down a street in the Chicago loop due to meet his wife Nell on a shopping trip. He was almost on time.

Then he heard a voice, "Mr. Wichers, Mr. Wichers!"

It was Jimmy De Pree, former Sentinel photographer now with the Chicago Sun-Times. Jimmy and a companion were conducting a man-on-the-street interview.

The question: "How would you feel if President Carter were to visit your home?"

Bill said he wouldn't get all excited and shine up the house, that maybe President Carter would appreciate a folksy visit....

The next question: "Have you ever entertained important guests?"

Bill could have given a long list of high-ranking Dutch diplomats, and royalty, but he only said, "We had President Ford's daughter Susan over for lunch last spring."

"And what do you do, Mr. Wichers?"

Bill nonchalantly mentioned he was Netherlands consul for press and cultural affairs for the Netherlands consulate in Holland's City Hall.

The interviewer was bug-eyed. The Sun-Times' team would have liked to continue the interview, but Bill was already late. Twenty minutes late!

Then to his chagrin, he realized Chicago is an hour slower than his watch. He was 40 minutes early!

Incidentally, Jimmy De Pree has just won four more prizes in an Illinois photo competition - a first, a second and two honorable mentions.

He often comes to Holland to visit his mother, Margaret De Pree, 74 West 12th St., and invariably stops in at his old haunts at The Sentinel.

Pat Loomis of Waukazoo had a great time at breakfast with former President Jerry Ford and a lot of Republican workers April 11 at the Pantlind in Grand Rapids.

Pat was Kent County Republican chairman back in 1948 when Jerry was first elected to Congress. His father, Gerald R. Ford Sr., had been county chairman but he left the post when his son chose to challenge the then incumbent, Bartel Jonkman.

Pat is currently playing protector to a mother duck who has laid 10 eggs, one a day, in her flower box just outside a window in her home. She has named her Annabel and the husband (or boy friend) who struts up and down her yard Oscar. When Annabel leaves the nest, she covers the eggs with

HOLLAND MOTOR EXPRESS

Georgetown Takes Ottawa County Lead

Holland Loses Wealth Status

GRAND HAVEN - Holland City no longer is the governmental unit with the most valuation in Ottawa County according to an equalization report for 1977 submitted to Ottawa County Commissioners Wednesday.

Holland's total equalized valuation for its Ottawa County portion was listed at $113,326,950 or about $520,000 under the equalized valuation of Georgetown township which lists $113,847,202.

Holland showed a 10.029 per cent increase in valuation from 1976 while Georgetown township showed a 27.965 per cent increase.

Total county equalized valuation for the county was $908,796,663, up 17.809 per cent from last year.

Commissioners are to hear comments on the equalization report today before adopting the report.

Wednesday the board heard a recommendation from commissioner Eunice Bareham that the financial and business policies of the Community Mental Health Department be brought under the county controller's office.

Mrs. Bareham suggested mental health employees now in accounting be shifted to the controller's office to continue their work.

Human Services committee chairman Raymond Vander Laan, who also is a member of the Mental Health Board, declined to recommend additional employees for Mental Health as requested by the board claiming the amount of county funding with matching monies provided 61½ employees and that an additional 8½ workers were not necessary.

Commissioners heard requests from the sheriff's department for eight employees under CETA to patrol state and county parks and 15 CETA workers for the road commission for park and road work.

Also requested was a transfer of one employee in the Friend of the Court from CETA to a cooperative reimbursement program and the hiring of one CETA worker.

Commissioners accepted the low bid of Ver Hage of Holland of $41,447.92 for four intermediate sized and seven full sized cruisers for the sheriff's department plus trades and the bid of R. E. Barber of Holland for $6,970 for two trucks for the dog warden.

Bids are to be opened June 1 on construction of the superstructure of the new Community Haven at Eastmanville with contract awarding planned June 7.

The resignation of John Niederhauser as health administrator was announced. He planned to take a position with a health systems agency in the Vermont area in June.

But Battle Lines Appear Firmer

Officials Explain Need

By Paul Van Kolken
SAUGATUCK — Battle lines appeared firmer during an emotion-charged meeting Wednesday on state plans to convert St. Augustine Seminary into a medium security prison and limited use state park.

State corrections and park officials attempted to explain the need for the prison, the types of prisoners expected, security devices planned and proposed development of the park but at times the meeting took off in other directions.

James Farnsworth, an aide in the office of budget and management who conducted the meeting, was called a "hatchet man for the governor" when he declined to rule on a legal question concerning deed restrictions suggested by Gov. Milliken which would limit development to 50 acres and prison population to 500.

Others in the audience discussed Department of Natural Resource restrictions on fishing they claimed forced an end to Bob Peel's commercial fishing in Saugatuck and methods of impeaching Milliken should he not follow environmental guidelines in development of the park.

An estimated 700 persons attended the nearly three-hour meeting in the Saugatuck High School gym. Most in the audience apparently were opposed to the prison but one man, not identified, spoke in favor of the prison.

While the meeting was called by state officials members of the opposition Prison Action Committee were allowed to address the audience and PAC chairman Herb Kammeraad of Holland said "the fight has just begun" referring to legislative pressure and law suits to block the prison.

In his opening statement Farnsworth said the governor "has agonized over this thing" and explained the legislative process the recommendation will follow.

"You still have an opportunity for input into the final decision. The legislature will hold hearings during each of the steps," Farnsworth said.

The steps take place in the joint capital outlay committee, the appropriations committees of the House and Senate and on the floor of the House and Senate.

Failure to block the prison funding at the legislative steps would allow legal action, Farnsworth added.

"Obviously that is your intent. Your rights are being considered all along the line," Farnsworth assured.

"I want you to know that because I don't want you to feel that all is lost because the governor made his recommendation."

Speaking for the corrections department were Bill Kime, deputy director for the program bureau, and Dr. Barry Mintzes, administrative assistant.

Kime explained the need for additional prison space because of increased prison population while Mintzes told of the kinds of offenders expected at St. Augustine and the security system.

Offenders would be in the early 20s with no pattern of assaults, sex offenses, escapes or misconduct. His remarks were interrupted by cat calls from the audience.

Later he answered a question about plea bargaining and conceded some prisoners arrested on a more serious charge could have those charges reduced.

On the racial mix of prisoners Kime said 56 per cent would be non-whites based on total prison population. Prison visitors, he said, probably would make visits in one day although some probably would stay overnight in the area.

Two citizens of Ionia, Mayor Fred Thwaites and former publisher Fred Kidd, explained why Ionia favors prisons as industry. The city has three prisons with an annual payroll of $11 million.

Ray Kelley of the parks division of Department of Natural Resources, said development of the proposed 500-acre state park would be two to three years away since funds are not available. He said the property along Lake Michigan had been under consideration for a state or federal park since 1948.

Farnsworth commended PAC for its well organized opposition to the prison plans.

"It is the best citizen protest movement I have seen in my 20 years of work in the legislature," he said.

PAC attorney Lewis Drain of Grand Rapids challenged Milliken to "demonstrate any realistic threat to public safety which would justify the rape of this sensitive shoreline."

Referring to the governor's offer to restrict property use through a deed, Drain said there was a "serious legal question" as to whether he could tie the hands of later state governments in preventing future expansion of the prison.

He called the environmental impact statement a "tragic joke" and said it contained no factual analysis of the impact of the facility.

In addition to the impact statement Drain said the Michigan Environmental Review Board is to consider such things as "the proposed project's effect on human life, alteration of population distribution and existing land use patterns."

Drain said PAC requests for information concerning the prison filed under the Freedom of Information Act have been referred to the attorney general's office.

"This is an indication of the railroad job you are getting from the Department of Corrections," Drain said.

"The total disregard for the overwhelming opposition to this project can no longer be tolerated," Drain continued.

"The Prison Action Committee will do everything in its power, including the filing of law suits, if necessary, to force the Department of Corrections, the DNR, the Environmental Review Board and the governor to comply with all provisions of applicable statutes."
