What's the use of living in a mining country and not be a miner? That's evidently the view also taken by our former townsman Fred Breyman, for the latest heard from him is that he is a large stockholder in a mining company organized at Kendrick, Idaho, with a capital stock of $100,000, of which $40,000 is paid up, and of which company Fred is treasurer. Besides he has an interest in other mines, some of which are being developed and promise a good paying quartz. Surely Fred's many friends in this city will wish him success in his venture.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

If subscribers order the discontinuance of newspapers, the publishers may continue to send them until all arrears are paid.

If subscribers refuse or neglect to take their newspapers from the office to which they are sent, they are held responsible until they have settled their bills and ordered them discontinued.

If subscribers move to other places without informing the publishers, and the newspapers are sent to the former place of residence, they are then responsible.

CONCERNING DELINQUENT SUBSCRIBERS:

The latest postal laws are such that newspaper publishers can have arrested any one for fraud who takes a paper and refuses to pay for it. Under this law the man who allows his subscription to run along for some time unpaid and then orders it discontinued or orders the postmaster to mark it "refused" and to send a postal notifying the publisher, lays himself liable to arrest and fine.

JOHN DYKEMA, Board of Public Works.

JAMES DE YOUNG, "

JOHN KRAMER, "

Accompanying the above is the following annual report of the superintendent of the water works:

To the Board of Public Works:

I herewith present my annual report, embracing the operations of the water works department of the city, together with an inventory of what we have on hand, and a description of the work done.

The number of taps inserted during the year is 38. Whole number of taps 305.

We have laid a 4-inch main on Thirteenth street; also a 4-inch main on Sixth street, across River street, for the protection of the new factory theof Holland Furniture Co.

Our boilers and pumps are in good condition.

The total length of water mains is about 11 miles, with 80 hydrants all in good repair.

Tools and supplies on hand: 875 cords of steam-wood, one tapping machine and box, 2 wheel barrows, 14 wrenches, 2 lanterns, 1 50-gall oil can, several small oil-cans, 2 lamps, some carpenter tools, 2 radiators, gates, crooks, crosses, mains, taps, plugs and T's, 100 ft. 1-inch hose, etc.

I would also call the attention of the board to our water supply, which is insufficient in dry weather, and would recommend that the board take immediate action to secure a sufficient supply.

Respectfully submitted.

J. KRAMER, Superintendent.

The Right of a Child to Attend School.

Quite a number of school boards in different parts of the state have recently refused to allow children to enter the primary departments of the schools except at the beginning of the school year, or term, and in response to an inquiry, Attorney-General Ellis has written an important opinion upon the subject. The query comes from Hart, Oceana Co., in the following form:

"This spring twelve little children made their appearance at the primary department for enrollment. They were of proper age, but the department is crowded now, every seat in the room being taken. At my suggestion the board prohibited them from entering this spring term. This term finishes the year and a class is promoted, thus giving these children room, and the teacher will have time to properly start them then. Have not the school board the right to determine the time when first grade pupils can enter, say at the beginning of the year, and thus not interfere with grades already established?"

In reply the Attorney-General has sent the following:

"In my opinion the rule made by the board is unauthorized by law. It simply amounts to keeping out of school twelve pupils who are drawing public money and entitled to participate in the benefits of the school.

While the school board can make any reasonable rules for the government and control of a school, and may expell children who are unmanageable, they have no legal right to establish rules which virtually exclude from the schools pupils within the school age who are not guilty of violating any reasonable rule concerning the government of the school.

If it be admitted that your board could make a rule by which certain pupils could not attend school, unless they commenced at the beginning of the year, the same reasoning would allow them to make a rule by which classes should commence only once in two years. The free school system in this state is not based upon any such theory.

If there is not room enough, the statute gives the board authority to make room, and I do not believe you could prohibit the twelve pupils from entering the school."

Statisticians of the Agricultural Department at Washington have been grappling of late with the problem of raising wheat and corn at a profit. A summary has been made from the individual estimates of 25,000 practical farmers and the conclusion reached by the department is practically as follows:

"With wheat selling at 57 cents and corn at 36 cents a bushel in Chicago a rotation of crops, rather than a persistence in exclusive wheat growing would be more profitable to our farmers. The cost of raising wheat per acre is estimated at $11.69 and corn at $11.71. In each instance the rent of the land is the heaviest item, that for wheat being $2.81 and for corn $3.03. The marketing of wheat is estimated, per acre, at $0.76, and corn at $1.28. It must be remembered, however, that besides the production of the grain the farmer has the straw of the wheat and the stalks of the corn, which in some sections of the country have a feeding value of $5 per acre. In Illinois the estimate of wheat cost of production is $11.45 per acre and of corn $11.76. In Iowa wheat is placed at $9.74 and corn $9.92. In Wisconsin wheat is $12.93, corn $15.53. Indiana, wheat $12.39, corn $12.95. The general average of the Western States is $10.89 per acre for wheat and $11.08 for corn." In refering to the unequal effects of the prevailing low price of wheat the department further finds that "the price of bakers' bread has not generally fallen, and the large proportion of the city population who depend on such bread have not received the normal benefit due them as a result of the low price of wheat."

MICHIGAN'S LOSS.

United States Senator Stockbridge
Dies at Chicago.

His Death Somewhat Sudden and Unexpected — Talk About His Successor — A Brief Sketch of the Senator's Career.

DEATH TAKES A SHINING MARK.
CHICAGO, May 1.—United States Senator Francis B. Stockbridge, of Michigan, died at 7 o'clock Monday evening at the home of his nephew, James B. Houghtaling, No. 27 Banks street, in this city. The end came unexpectedly while the senator was in his room with a nurse. Although he had been ill for several weeks his condition was not thought critical, and his death came as an unusually severe blow to his wife and friends.

Beginning of His Illness.
Senator and Mrs. Stockbridge arrived in Chicago from Washington, D. C., April 3, on their way to visit the

FRANCIS B. STOCKBRIDGE.

Midwinter fair at San Francisco. They had planned to stop for a few days with Mr. Houghtaling and his family before continuing their journey west. When the senator arrived in Chicago he was worn out from the effects of his duties in Washington and was slightly troubled with an irritable stomach. The day after his arrival in Chicago he suddenly became worse and was forced to take to his bed and place himself under the care of a physician. Besides his stomach trouble he was seized with severe pains in the region of the heart. A few days quiet mended matters to a considerable degree and during the last two weeks his condition was much improved. His illness prevented him gaining strength except very slowly. Two weeks ago the proposed California trip was abandoned and arrangements made to return as early as possible to Kalamazoo, the senator's home.

Death Came Suddenly.
Monday the senator appeared as well as at any time during his visit here and he and Mrs. Stockbridge were talking of being at home in a few days. When dinner was announced he said he was feeling well and asked his wife and the other members of the family to go down to the meal, as he would be all right with the nurse.

After they left he sat in his chair looking over the paper and apparently suffering no pain. After a time he arose to walk across the room and was suddenly seized with pains about the heart. He uttered no cry, but with his hands clasped over his heart and his face gray with pain he staggered back to the chair he had just left. Alarmed at the sudden change the nurse notified the members of the family and Mrs. Stockbridge and Mr. and Mrs. Houghtaling were quickly at his side. He was unconscious and apparently dying. Dr. Henry Harper was sent for and when he arrived did what he could, but the senator was beyond the reach of medical science. He sank rapidly and at 7 o'clock the end came.

Action of Congress.
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 2.—The blind chaplain on Tuesday referred to Senator Stockbridge's death with his usual tender pathos. Senator McMillan announced the death of his colleague, offered the usual resolutions, and asked that a committee of seven senators should be appointed by the vice president to act with a committee from the house of representatives to attend the funeral at Kalamazoo, Mich., and that the senate should immediately adjourn. The vice president named Senators McMillan, Washburn, Cullom, Jones, (Ark.), Gibson and Blanchard as the committee and immediately afterward the senate adjourned as an additional mark of respect.

Who Will Succeed Him.
LANSING, Mich., May 2.—Senator Stockbridge's death was a great shock to his numerous personal and political friends here, as none of them were aware that his illness was critical. Both personally and politically he was held in high esteem by his fellow-citizens and nothing but words of deepest regret followed the announcement of his death. Gov. Rich was greatly moved by the announcement and spoke impressively of the senator's worth as an official and as a man. The governor will appoint a successor to fill the vacancy until the legislature convenes in January next, and the appointee will doubtless come from the western portion of the state. Numerous names are mentioned in connection with the appointment, the most prominent being that of ex-Gov. Luce, who was the only candidate against Stockbridge before the legislature of 1890.

There will be plenty of other candidates, however, among those named being ex-Congressman Cutcheon, John W. Blodgett, John C. Fitzgerald, John Patton and Thomas J. O'Brien, of Grand Rapids; Congressman Burrows, of Kalamazoo, and Congressman Hubbell, of Houghton.

Sketch of the Senator's Life.
(Francis B. Stockbridge was born in Rock, Me., April 6, 1832. Early in his life his parents moved to Chicago where for some years he was engaged in the lumber business. This grew rapidly and in a comparatively short time he had acquired large lumber interests in Michigan. In 1861 he decided to move to Michigan and he took up his residence in St. Ignace, where he owned several lumber mills. While living in St. Ignace he also acquired a large mining property, which he retained up to the time of his death. He moved to Kalamazoo about twenty years ago and has lived there since. He was elected to the state legislature in 1869 and to the senate in 1871, and March 4, 1887, took his seat in the United States senate as a republican. He was re-elected again in 1890 and his term of service would have expired March 3, 1892. The senator had large lumber interests on the Pacific slope, was the proprietor of a large spring factory at Kalamazoo and was well known throughout the state as a man of large means who freely spent his money for the benefit of the poor. He was largely interested in the Brown & Co. stock farm near Kalamazoo, and many of the products of his stable rank high in speed and circles.

Although he had had only a common school education in his early youth, he was a great reader, and had acquired a considerable knowledge of art, science and literature during his life. Probably there was no man in Michigan better known to rich and poor alike than was he. He had often said that, as he had no children of his own, he would in a measure adopt those of his neighbor, and his kindly spirit made him beloved wherever he was known. While still a young man he was married to Miss Elizabeth Arnold, who survives him.]

In the house appropriate resolutions were moved by Mr. Burrows and adopted, and Messrs. Burrows, Bynum, McCreary, Boutelle, Payne (N. Y.), Aitken, Thomas and Richardson were appointed a committee to attend the funeral. As a further mark of respect the house adjourned.

KALAMAZOO, May 2.—The remains of Senator Stockbridge arrived here at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening. The city council and a large concourse of citizens were waiting at the Michigan Central depot. The remains were taken at once to the beautiful Stockbridge home in the suburbs, but no further arrangements have been made for the funeral except that it will be held Thursday at 4 p. m. Flags were at half mast on the federal and county buildings here on Tuesday, and the senator's death is the principal topic of conversation.

Many of the friends of Senator Stockbridge ascribe his death to the Chicago cable car. Last September, while attending the world's fair, the senator was knocked down by a cable car and dragged some distance by the heavy vehicle over the rough paving stones.

Our Fire Department.

The latest valuable improvement in our city is the establishing of the fire alarm system. It is something which by our growth had become imperative; and now that we have it, it is essential that all should understand it.

Just seven alarm boxes were placed in various parts of the city. The West side of the city will be supplied with boxes in the near future.

Our fire service at night could and should be improved. It takes too long time for the firemen to pull the alarm by hand to the fire. Our firemen are generally a total loss of time in reaching the fire.

Our night firemen should be improved. It takes too long time for the firemen to pull the alarm by hand to the fire. Our firemen are generally a total loss of time in reaching the fire.

adding a few more each year we will soon have a first-class fire-alarm system.

I again call your attention to the need of a bell, or whistle, in the west part of the city, as the firemen who live there cannot hear the water-works whistle, especially at night. Inasmuch as a bell-striker is too expensive, arrangements should be made with some factory, to blow its whistle in cases of fire.

I would further call your attention to the need of an additional pump at the water works, to be used in case of large fires, as the pumps we have now can only furnish six streams of water, which is not sufficient for large fires. Having referred to these matters (the whistle at the west end, and additional pump at water works) in my report last year, I hope the matter will receive due attention at your hands.

Is there anything more beautiful than a bright and cheerful old age? To see an old man as he nears the grave gradually growing irritable and peevish and fretful is a sight as sad as it is common.

There is not an intelligent Democrat member of Congress, in House or Senate, who does not know that if the pending tariff bill should become a law and remain on the statute-books for three years many branches of American industry would be utterly demoralized; others, practically ruined, with an immense number of people reduced to the starvation wages of Europe, and a general effect upon the American people from which they will not recover in many years.

The sympathy of the world is almost always wholly with the laborer when he starts out to improve his condition in the way of securing better terms of service. In all cases, scarcely without exception, the world hopes the workingman will win his points when he confines himself to civilized, humane and lawful methods of contention. It is when he throws away his case by parting company with these things that the public withdraws its sympathy. When one set of men abandon a job they cannot be conceded the right to say that other men shall not touch what they have left.

Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge, he of Pollard notoriety, appears to have had a narrow escape during the war. Gen. S. G. Burbridge, who commanded the military department of Kentucky in 1864, says in one of his reports: "I captured two spies, Dr. Robert J. Breckinridge's son and son-in-law, during 1864, who had maps on their persons and who undoubtedly would have been hanged, but the President [Lincoln] pardoned them on account of the extraordinary services done for the country by their father Dr. Breckinridge." The General says that the Colonel would have dangled at the end of a rope within half an hour, but for the timely arrival of executive clemency.

Chauncey M. Depew: "The only thing that succeeded in this world is work. Nobody is ever pushed along by any one else or by circumstances. I remember when I started in life in a little village on the Hudson River, with some fifty other boys of about my own age, with much the same opportunities and the same schooling. None of us had any money. Some of us worked, and worked hard and cheerfully; others did not work. Some lounged about taverns, some played, while others worked. I look back and I count up those who took to the taverns; every one of them is dead; they led miserable lives, they made their wives miserable, and their children paupers, and they sank into drunkards' graves. Then those that were always looking for something to turn up and never used a spade to turn something up for themselves—every one is sitting holding a chair down in some corner store, holding it down hard, and talking about this man and that one who in the village or out of it has been successful. "That man has got to be a great preacher," and "that man has got to be a Judge" and "that man has got to be a millionaire—well, there is nothing like luck in this world." Every time I go to my native town and go round among those fellows they say to me: "O, Chauncey! there's nothing like luck in this world, and you've got it."

Church Items.

Theol. student Harry Kremers, who will complete his studies at Princeton Seminary in May, has accepted a call from Owadanna, Minn., as assistant pastor. He will go to his field of labor about June 1st.

Rev. G. H. Hosper of Muskegon, Mich., has accepted a call to Cleveland, Ohio.

Rev. E. Van der Vries of this city is now on a four weeks' outing to Iowa, visiting new struggling congregations there.

Rev. H. Douwstra, at one time pastor of the Collendoorn H. C. Ref. church, is now in charge of a Presbyterian church in Pella, Ia.

Rev. J. A. De Spelder was on Tuesday installed as pastor of the Ref. church at Constantine. Rev. W. Hall Williamson of Grand Rapids presided and propounded the constitutional questions. In the absence of Dr. Beardlee, Rev. N. D. Williamson of South Bend preached the sermon. Rev. H. G. Birchby of this city gave the charge to the pastor and the president charged the people. The service was well attended, and the church has a bright future before it.

Earnest efforts are being made to have the session of the General Synod of the Reformed Church, in 1895, held in Grand Rapids.

Rev. John Van Westenbrugge has been accepted by the Board of Foreign Missions of the Reformed Church, as missionary to India.

THE STING OF THE NETTLE.

Some of the Poisonous Vegetable Monsters of Other Lands.

The leaf and stem of a nettle are literally clothed with erect hollow hairs. If one of these hairs is viewed under a microscope it will be seen that its free end, after tapering to a very fine degree of slinness, finishes as a little knob, while in the other direction, after gradually becoming more robust, it suddenly expands into a large bulb corresponding with the poison gland of the adder.

The point of the hair, says Good Words, is very brittle, and contact with our skin causes the end to snap off, leaving a hollow needle-point which readily pierces our cuticle, and, pressing upon the bulb at the other end, the poison is forced through the central channel and inflames our blood. The tenderhanded who stroke the nettle are stung for their pains, because their gentleness has only served to break the brittle points and render them fit for piercing, but the rough-handed break the hairs at their thickest parts, where they are too stout to prick.

Our common nettles, though they are capable of inflicting considerable annoyance upon many persons, are too insignificant, nevertheless, to be included among vegetable monsters, and we have only referred to them for the sake of making clear the enormities of some big cousins—giants of the nettle family. These are, first, the Urtica stimulans and Urtica crenulata of the East Indies, species whose attack upon one's hand is sufficient to cause the arm to swell with a most frightful pain, which lasts for weeks. But even these are milks-and-water nettles by comparison with the Urtica urentissima, which grows in Timor, where it bears the significant title of Daou setan, or devil's leaf. The effects of its sting last for a year and have often produced death.

THE INDIAN MONEY LENDER.

He is as Hard-Hearted and Mercenary as a Shylock.

The Indian money lender almost everywhere is a thorough Shylock. Rajah Brooke tells me that in Sarawak, where land may be sold for debt, unless a penalty for swindling, and where a limit is put on the interest that his courts will enforce, the Indian money lender has been found as hard and merciless as the Chinaman, and Malay are fair and reasonable. With men like these, says the National Review, and an ignorant peasantry, one would have thought that English judges would have done their best to administer the law between the two as to give the debtor a fair chance, while allowing the creditor what was justly due. But they are so hide-bound, such slaves to the letter of the law and to English precedents, that not a helping hand can the debtor get, and the courts are mere machines which the money lender sets in motion or directs at his pleasure.

I remember a case in which a Mohammedan lady, one who never appeared in public, and the owner of a valuable village, was sued for something like fifty thousand rupees, the money advanced being, so far as I could ascertain, not more than two thousand rupees at the outside. The court of first instance, a native subordinate judge, appointed a committee to examine the creditor's accounts, which reported them as very suspicious. Still, a bond for the amount sued for had been given, and, in face of rulings by the high court, the sub-judge had no alternative but to give a decree for the full sum. And an appeal to the high court of Bombay, which was prosecuted by the lady's friends, met with no success. However much the lady might have been defrauded, they decided the bond was in order and the village must go.

The Man and His Stomach.

The charming wife of a congressman, noted for his energetic labor in behalf of his constituents and his general efficiency and unfailing good-nature, is quite a noted cook. When she is to entertain at dinner, she is fond of surprising her guests with a dainty dish of her own preparing. "I believe," she said, when some one complimented her on her accomplishments, "that we grow like what we eat. My husband has a sensitive digestion, and bad cooking came near making a fiend of him and a maniac of me. I set myself to correct this, and I flatter myself that I have succeeded. Improperly prepared food depresses one, and will transform my husband into a cynical pessimist in less than an hour. I really consider that his popularity in his district and his return to congress depend upon the food I give him and the manner in which it is prepared."

Not on the Bills.

A lady playing the leading part in a melodrama carried with her a very cross Spanish poodle, which slept in her trunk while she was engaged in the play. The little dog was a sound sleeper usually, but this evening was an exception. He was wide awake and sitting unobserved in the first entrance watched the play when the heavy man seizes the leading lady, shrieking: "Then, curse you! I'll strangle you!" The poodle sprang onto the stage, procured a firm hold on the heavy villain's trousers and jerked away at them until his mistress was obliged to arise from her knees, stop sobbing and plead with the villain to "spare her life," and return the poodle to the dressing-room and look him in.

A Friend of the Farmer.

The ladybird, to which so many generations of children have addressed the familiar rhyming admonition, is a most valuable insect destroyer and has the freedom of well-conducted greenhouses. It is the special enemy of the little green aphids that destroy tender plants, and the ladybird is always seen upon rose bushes in summer time, because the aphids especially attack the rose. Every such insectivorous insect as the ladybird is welcomed by those who struggle with the ever-increasing swarm of creatures that attack vegetation.

This shows the esteem in which that remedy is held where it has been sold for years and is well known. Mothers have learned that there is nothing so good for colds, croup or whooping cough, that it cures their ailments quickly and permanently, and that it is pleasant and safe for children to take. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Heber Walsh, druggist.

Those who never read the advertisements in their newspapers miss more than they presume. Madison had been cured. He procured the same medicine, and to use his own words: "It cured me right up." He also says: "A neighbor and his wife were both sick in bed with rheumatism. Their boy was over to my house and said they were so bad he had to do all the cooking." I told him of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and how it had cured me; he got a bottle and it cured them up in a week. 50 cent bottles for sale by Heber Walsh, Druggist.

Miners Parade at Iron Mountain and Demand Relief.

They Call on the Poor Commissioners and Are Given Food—A Sad Condition of Affairs Reported from That Section.

TROUBLE IS FEARED.

IRON MOUNTAIN, April 28.—Five hundred miners, carrying a red flag, paraded the streets Friday morning demanding food. They marched to the high school grounds and stopped the men who were working there for the relief committee. They demanded that Mayor Crowell telegraph Gov. Rich to send aid for 500 starving families immediately. They also adopted a resolution asking Poor Commissioner McClintock to aid them or leave the town. For a time the commissioner was undecided which step to take, but after a consideration of the matter the crowd was pacified by an order for two dollars' worth of provisions on the stores to each man and all is quiet now. The situation now is critical, however, and trouble is feared unless relief of a more permanent character comes soon.

LANSING, Mich., May 1.—The delegation of citizens sent from Iron Mountain to urge upon Gov. Rich the necessity of furnishing immediate aid to the 3,500 destitute citizens of that place conferred with the governor on Monday and declared that unless the mines resumed operations preparations would have to be made for carrying these people through the summer and winter at an expense of $100,000.

Acting on the advice of Gov. Rich the delegation went to Detroit Monday night to confer with the general state relief committee, of which ex-Gov. Alger is chairman. This committee has several thousand dollars on hand and reports that it will not be able to raise by voluntary contributions sufficient funds to meet the emergency. A special session of the legislature may be convened. The limit that can be appropriated out of the state treasury is $50,000.

KILLED BY HIS SON.

A Sturgis Boy Compelled to Shoot His Father in Self-Defense.

STURGIS, April 30.—Jay Seymour was shot and instantly killed by his son at his home in Burr Oak at 11 o'clock Saturday night. He had been drinking and returned home and began to break up the furniture, kicking out the windows and otherwise destroying things. His 16-year-old son, who was alone with him in the house, tried to pacify him, when he knocked his son down and began to pound him. The boy secured a revolver and shot him, one ball striking him in the mouth and one in the right breast, which produced instant death.

Crops Well Advanced.

LANSING, May 1.—The warm spring rains, with the unusually high temperature of the past week, have had the effect of greatly advancing the appearance and condition of Michigan crops. There has been a considerable improvement in the condition of grass. Wheat is in excellent condition and oats in many localities are sprouting. Fruit prospects show no perceptible change and on the whole the condition of Michigan crops is above the average.

End of a Strike.

MARQUETTE, May 1.—General Manager Fitch, of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway, made a proposition to the executive committee of union trimmers, which was accepted, and the strike is settled. The terms of the agreement are that the railroad company will contract to trim vessels at one and a half cents per ton and leave the employment of men and choice of foremen to the executive committee.

Long's Pension Cut Down.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—The limit of time in which Judge Long, of Michigan, was given to show cause why his pension should not be reduced having expired without the appearance of Judge Long or his counsel, Commissioner Lochren has given notification that the pension had been reduced from $75 to $50 per month.

Starving Himself to Death.

KALAMAZOO, April 30.—J. D. Wright, of Cooper, is starving to death at his home. He lost his house by fire a few months since, and, although well to do, he has brooded over the loss. For twenty-two days nothing except water has passed his lips. He refuses all other nourishment, and is determined to die. He is 80 years old.

Drowned While Asleep.

HOUGHTON, April 30.—Joseph Remillard, a farmer residing 9 miles from Lake Linden, started for home about 9 o'clock Saturday night. His body was found in a creek Sunday morning near his home with the head under water. The supposition is that he fell out of the buggy while asleep.

Wins a Naval Cadetship.

COLDWATER, May 2.—In the examination for naval cadet from this congressional district held here Tuesday there were twelve candidates. The fortunate one is Charles Harpham, of Quincy, with Roscoe L. Peterson, of this city, as alternates. Six were rejected because of physical defects.

Smallpox at Jackson.

JACKSON, April 30.—Smallpox has broken out in the family of Fred J. Beaman, of this city. The victim is a girl 5 years old. The disease was brought from Chicago by a guest who visited about town freely. All schools will be closed. An epidemic is feared.

Trial Is Held for Trial.

DETROIT, April 28.—Ex-City Treasurer Thomas P. Tufts, accused of embezzling $10,000 city funds, was held for trial Friday on completion of his examination.

Called to a Saginaw Church.

SAGINAW, April 27.—Rev. Thomas J. Robb, of Toronto, has accepted a call to become rector of All Saints' Episcopal church of this city.

A Little Daughter

Of a Church of England minister cured of a distressing rash, by Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Mr. RICHARD BIRKS, the well-known Druggist, 207 McGill st., Montreal, P. Q., says:

I have sold Ayer's Family Medicines for 40 years, and have heard nothing but good said of them. I know of many performed by Ayer's Sarsaparilla, one in particular being that of a little daughter of a Church of England minister. The child was literally covered from head to foot with a red and exceedingly troublesome rash, from which she had suffered for two or three years, in spite of the best medical treatment available. Her father was in great distress about the case, and, at my recommendation, at last began to administer Ayer's Sarsaparilla, two bottles of which effected a complete cure, much to her relief and her father's delight. I am sure were he here to-day, he would testify in the strongest terms as to the merits of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

The illustrated government reports of Dr. Jackson on the progress of education in Alaska gave a very good idea of the strange inhabitants of that region. Arctic Alaska has only been occupied by missionaries within the past five years. In 1890 the United States government assumed a share in the education of the Eskimos of Alaska, who number fifteen thousand. Dr. Jackson, who has visited all the missionary and educational stations, believes that these Eskimos are worth saving, mentally, morally and physically. Reindeer are being domesticated among them, thus providing for the physical well-being of the people.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

Saugatuck.

Last week Rogers & Bird launched the new steamer, Bonanini, which they have been building the past winter. Her dimensions are 110 feet length, 22 feet width, 8 feet depth, tonnage 110, passenger capacity 75. Captain William Turnbull takes command. She will do a passenger and freight business between Saugatuck, Douglas and Chicago.

Griffin & Henry of this place have sold their interest in the Holland-Chicago Transportation Co.

A couple men belonging to the light-house department arrived here last week and are now engaged in rebuilding the pier head light at the end of the south pier.

There has been considerable activity in the potato market and local buyers have taken about all that were left in the hands of the farmers, paying an average of about sixty cents per bushels therefor.

The tug Harvey Watson was launched at Brittain's yard and will be put on the route between this place and Holland, to connect with the Chicago steamers.

O. D. Robinson, the veteran stage driver on the Richmond-route, has sold his team and entire stage outfit and will soon move to Holland where he has made arrangements to go into business.—Commercial.

Muskegon.

General Manager Heald of the C. & W. M. says the new passenger depot here will not be built this spring, the close times compelling the company to forego for the present all costly improvements that can be dispensed with. He also promises that the depot will be the first of the contemplated improvements attended to.

Daniel J. Moriarty, one of the oldest pioneers of Muskegon county, died at his home on East Western avenue Friday morning after a lingering illness of several years. Mr. Moriarty has held a number of public offices in this city.

Cornelius Sketee of Muskegon has been re-appointed one of the poor directors of that city, a position which he has credibly filled for many successive years.

Ex-state senator O. A. Wheeler of Manitowish came out with the announcement that he would be a candidate before the next Ninth congressional convention, owing to the withdrawal of Congressman Moon from the race. The Republicans think that the northern part of the district is entitled to the candidate. Ex-representative R. P. Bishop of Ludington is another candidate.

Allegan County.

The local option law went into effect in this county Tuesday, and will remain in force two years.

Henry Vosburg, a respected citizen of Allegan, died last week of pneumonia, aged 73. He had been in the jewelry business since 1861, was a prominent Democrat, had served as trustee several times and as village assessor, and was re-elected this spring for the third time.

Gazette: Large numbers of enthusiastic spearmen travel up and down the Kalamazoo almost nightly now, taking everything in sight—that the law allows, of course—that belongs to the finny tribe. Several sturgeon have been captured, and one secured by Adam Plotts Wednesday evening weighed 115 pounds. It not unfrequently occurs that the ardor of some of the fishermen is cooled by a sudden bath, but such slight drawbacks are not noticed when the amount of sport enjoyed is considered.

The Adventists gospel boat which Battle Creek parties have been building here, was launched last week Wednesday noon in the presence of quite a large number of spectators. The hull is now ready to receive the machinery and upper works, which will be put in as soon as possible. It is 72 feet over all and 18 feet wide, and is modeled after the old Mississippi stern wheelers. It only draws five inches of water as it now stands. When fully equipped it will be taken down the Kalamazoo, then to Chicago, and from there via the Illinois river and canal to the Mississippi river, upon which it will do duty as a missionary craft. This is the first large boat that has graced the waters of the Kalamazoo in many years.

John De Wright of Cooper is starving to death at his home. He lost his home by fire a few months since, and although well-to-do he has brooded over his loss.

For our watchword will be

"UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION."

We are winning our way into the favors of an appreciative public. That we are demonstrating this day by day can be testified by the large and pleased patronage we are receiving.

Is here and here to stay, so fall in line and get the benefit of one who has had years of experience. We spent nine years alone operating in some of the best and highest priced galleries at Grand Rapids, so you may come to us, knowing, that nothing but the best of work, and prompt service will be at your disposal.

Persons who sympathize with the afflicted will rejoice with D. E. Carr of 1235 Harrison street, Kansas City. He is a sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism, but has not heretofore been troubled in this climate. Last winter he went up into Wisconsin, and in consequence has had another attack. "It came upon me a gain very acute and severe," he said. "My joints swelled and became inflamed; sore to touch or almost to look at. Upon the urgent request of my mother-in-law I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm to reduce the swelling and ease the pain, and to my agreeable surprise it did both. I have used three fifty-cent bottles and believe it to be the finest thing for rheumatism, pains and swelling extant. For sale by Heber Walsh.

If King Solomon was alive he would now say: "Go to the traveling man, learn his ways, and be wise." Mr. C. W. Battell, a Cincinnati traveling man representing the Queen City Printing Ink Co., after suffering intensely for two or three days with lameness of the shoulder, resulting from rheumatism, completely cured it with two applications of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. The remedy is gaining a wide reputation for its prompt cures of rheumatism, lame back, sprains, swellings, and lameness. 50 cent bottles are for sale by Heber Walsh.

A lady at Tooleys, La., was very sick with bilious colic when M. C. Tisler, a prominent merchant of the town gave her a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says she was well in forty minutes after taking the first dose. For sale by Heber Walsh, Druggist.

Dr. S. F. Scott, Blue Ridge, Harrison county, Mo., says: "For whooping cough Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is excellent." By using it freely the disease is deprived of all dangerous consequences. There is no danger in giving the Remedy to babies, as it contains nothing injurious. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Heber Walsh, Druggist.

Whiskers that are prematurely gray or faded should be colored to prevent the look of age, and Buckingham's Dye excels all others in coloring brown or black.

A revivifying of nature's latent forces occurs every spring. At this time, better than at any other, the blood may be benefited from the humors which infest it. The best and most popular remedy to use for this purpose is Ayer's Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla.
