Sleep Well —AND— Keep Well

—ON A— Sanitary Floss Mattress

The Restwell Mattress is made from floss, called KAPOK, and is grown in Java, and imported to America, and made into the finish, lightest and most restful mattresses made.

THE KAPOK FLOSS is sanitary in its natural state, and chiefly so by the provision of nature, because every fibre of the floss is a solid fibre, and not hollow in the center like wool or hair, and consequently cannot absorb moisture.

Having no hollow center it affords no refuge for nucleus of germ life.

KAPOK FLOSS is as light as feathers, and makes an elastic, firm, smooth mattress, and is about one-half the weight of any Cotton Felt Mattress, and can be handled with ease by a child.

A RESTWELL MATTRESS will live forever. It never gets hard or lumpy, never becomes clanny or damp and after being slept continuously, if given a sun bath will be just like new again.

A RESTWELL MATTRESS permits a free circulation of air and it is always sweet and pure.

RESTWELL MATTRESSES are made in many styles and sizes at a minimum price for maximum quality.

Would you keep well then you must sleep well - this is assured on a Restwell.

Come in and let us show you.

POST WAS A FAITHFUL READER OF THIS PAPER

POST WAS A SUBSCRIBER TO THE HOLLAND CITY NEWS 43
YEARS TWO MONTHS AND SEVEN DAYS

The late Charles F. Post who died at the age of 81 in South Bend, Ind., and whose interment took place Monday in this city was the oldest subscriber that the News had on its list. He started to take the News on February 23, 1872 and was a subscriber continuously up to the day of his death, showing that he was a reader of this paper for 43 years, two months and one week. Mr. Post subscribed for the first copy of the News issue by Dr. Morris, who was at that time editor, and proprietor.

CHARLES F. POST DIES AT AGE OF EIGHTY-ONE YEARS

Was Brother of the Late Henry D. Post.

Charles F. Post died at his home in South Bend, Ind., on April 30, at the age of 81 years, after a short illness.

The funeral services were held May 3rd at the home of Mrs. J. C. Post, Dr. G. J. Kollen and Rev. C. S. Dutton officiating. Honorary pallbearers were members of the A. C. Van Raalte Post, G. A. R., who attended in a body.

Interment was in Pilgrims Home Cemetery.

Charles Francis Post was born on March 2, 1834, at London, Michigan. His boyhood days were spent on a farm in Victor, Michigan. At the age of twenty, he went to Holland, Michigan, where he took a position in his brother, Henry D. Post's drug store.

At the call of his country, he enlisted in Co. I of the 25th Michigan Infantry, Volunteers on the 14th of August, 1862 at Holland, Michigan. He was mustered in on September 23, 1862. He was commissioned as 2nd Lieut. in Co. F of the 35th Kentucky Infantry on Jan. 26, 1864. He was honorably discharged from the service Dec. 29, 1864, after having served nearly two and a half years.

In 1862, at the organization of Hope Reformed church of Holland, Michigan, Mr. Post joined as a charter member and held that membership to the time of his death, being the only surviving charter member at that time. He took an active part in church work and held the office of elder for a number of years.

On February 2, 1865, he married Charlotte D. Taylor of Geneva, N. Y. To this union were born three sons and two daughters, four of whom Mrs. Frances C. Dodger, Walter T. Post, Margaret C. Post and Charles F. Post survive and are living in South Bend, where the family moved from the farm home near Holland, Michigan, where they had lived for twenty years.

BAD COMPANY LEADS TO DESERTER'S ARREST; HOLDUP PAIR LEAVE POINTED MORAL IN THEIR WAKE.

In the year 1913 Frank E. King left his home in Albion, N. Y., to enlist in the U. S. Army from a Maine recruiting station for a term of seven years. After serving a few months his name was posted all over the country as a deserter upon whom there was a reward of $50. His whereabouts were unknown and his parents in the little New York town did not hear from him.

On Sunday evening, April 19, 1915 in Holland, Mich., two young men were arrested on a charge of highway robbery preferred by John Knapp, bridge tender, who said they had beaten him to insensibility and robbed him of valuables. The pair were caught and gave their names as William Brownhill and Frank E. Dawson, both of New York state. Brownhill admitted having struck the bridge tender and taken his valuables. Dawson's story of not participating in the holdup was in the main corroborated by Brownhill.

Brownhill pleaded guilty and received sentence from Judge Cross to a term of five years in Jackson prison.

The authorities insisted that Dawson prove his character before he would be given consideration in this case. Then Dawson wrote home. But his letter home was his undoing. He wrote a strong plea to his parents in the little New York town to speak for him and to intercede with their county sheriff for recommendation.

The New York county sheriff could not recommend Dawson for leniency upon comparison with a photograph of the man wanted for desertion from the regular army he was without doubt the Frank E. King wanted in Maine. Then he admitted the charge.

King was taken to Ft. Sheridan, Ill., Monday morning where he was turned over to Federal authorities. Brownhill will be taken to Jackson prison within a few days after he has been taken to Holland as a prosecuting witness in a case of liquor sales

OLIVE WOMAN ASKS ABSOLUTE DIVORSE FROM SPOUSE

ALLEGES HUSBAND DESERTED
HER IN SUMMER OF 1914 AND HAS FAILED TO PRO-VIDE FOR INFANT
SON.

Says Her Husband Tried to Sell Her
One Night to a Drunken Companion

Mrs. Gertrude Estele Loveland, now living with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Headly of Olive township, has brought suit for divorce against her husband, George Loveland, whom she has not seen or heard from since he left her in Milwaukee during the summer of 1914. The complainant alleges that the husband was repeatedly cruel to her and has failed to provide for herself and infant son who was born several months after the father deserted her.

Shortly after their marriage in October, 1913, Mrs. Loveland says they went to Racine, Wis., where she was forced to work for her board. After going from place to place for a time the husband finally had her come to Milwaukee. She says the rooms he provided there were beyond her endurance and he took her to another place. Mrs. Loveland says in her bill of complaint that she believes her husband tried to sell her one night while among some drunken companions in a Milwaukee saloon, a few days after that time he left and she has not heard from him since.

The complainant asks for an absolute separation and such alimony as the court shall deem necessary for the support of herself and child.

BULK OF TAX TITLE DISPOSED OF QUICKLY

Old Wiley Water Works Taken Over
By A. M. Cosgrove of This City;
Grand Haven Appears Many Times in List

Grand Haven Tribune:—

Of over 100 pieces of property advertised for sale in the Holland City News as delinquent tax sales, were sold this week in the regular annual event, the greatest number were disposed of Tuesday, the first day of the sale. In the last several years, when general interest in sale of delinquent tax titles has diminished noticeably, this sudden rush for purchase is out of the ordinary at this time.

There were originally 217 titles listed for sale, but 105 of these were redeemed by owners before coming to sale. Now there are very few of the titles left.

As has always been the case Robinson township was well represented in the list of titles. Holland township and city were also in prominence. This township and Grand Haven had a long list upon many of which there were excess state cumulations. Zealand was another section of the county showing no small number of titles. In some instances there are delinquencies since the year 1889.

The most important sale locally was that of the old Wiley water works, which went to A. M. Cosgrove at $138. The sale will be held open all week.

HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS WILL PRESENT "IN THE VANGUARD."

The popular peace play "In the Vanguard" by Katrina Teasak will be given by the Senior Class of the high school, Friday evening, May 28th in the H. S. Auditorium.

This play creates unusual interest at this time because it deals with the questions of war and peace which are uppermost in the minds of all thinking people.

The opening scenes reveal the time honored opinion that there can be no true heroes except the heroes of the battle fields of war—that the manly virtues can only be preserved through fighting. A battle field scene in which a dying soldier, one of the enemy, sees through the glamour of war and describes it in all its reality, teaches Philip Gordon, the hero of the play, to understand the futility of war and the importance of arbitration and peace.

A love story runs through the play which adds to its interest.

The Seniors are spending time and effort to make this play a success. The funds received will go towards paying for the Senior Memorial.

NICODEMUS BOSCH SAYS THIS IS HIS LAST TERM AS MAYOR

Tranquility prevailed at the Common Council rooms last evening and all business was quickly disposed of, and the long deferred committee appointments of the mayor were finally made. In appointing the members of the Ways and Means Committee the Mayor sprung what proved to be quite a surprise to the aldermen and will no doubt be to the readers of the News. He said after appointing Ald. Prips as chairman of this committee and Alderman Van der Hil as one of the members that he wished also to confer an honor upon Ald. Drinkwater by placing him upon the most important committee connected with city business. The Mayor said in substance, "Because Ald. Drinkwater was dean of the council, had been a faithful servant of his city and his ward and because it might be possible that this would be Mr. Drinkwater's last year and that it would also be the last year that he would serve as mayor of this city, he wished to take this opportunity of conferring this honor upon the alderman of the second ward. Because of his efficient work the past year Ald. Congleton was again named chairman of the committee on Streets and Crosswalks and he will be supported by Ald. VanderVen and Brower. Mayor Bosch instructed the Street Com. to continue to carry on the good work commenced last year and put our streets in such good condition that in the future paving will be a luxury and never a necessity. He told the committee members not to be stingy in spending money for the streets, but to build them up wide and solid. In making other appointments the mayor reminded the aldermen of the importance of their work.

The following are the other committee appointments, the first named being chairman: Claims and Accounts—Vander Hill, Brower and Congleton; Poor—Prips, Brieve and Lawrence; Public Buildings and Property—Brieve, Wiersma and Vander Hill; Public Lighting—Vander Ven, Slagh and Steketee; Sewers, Drains and Water Courses—Lawrence, Steketee and Slagh; Sidewalks—Brower, Congleton and Brieve; Licenses—Drinkwater, Vander Ven and Lawrence; Bridges and Culverts—Wiersma, Slagh and Steketee; Ordinances—Kammeraad, Vander Ven and Wiersma.

The committees to visit and meet with the different boards will be named by the Mayor at a later meeting.

MAY CO-OPERATE WITH COUNTY TO BUILD ROAD

That the city will very probably act with the county road commissioners in building a good road on East 16th street from Lincoln avenue to past the Pilgrim Home cemetery can be construed from the discussion at the council meeting of last evening.

Road Commissioner Austin Harrington brought to the attention of the council that the county was going to improve the 16th Street road East of Fairbanks avenue and that it would be well for the council to take action at the same time so as to give a good road from the city to the cemetery. Plans were therefore made for a sixteen foot highway from Lincoln avenue in the city to the other side of the Cemetery. The city will then be called upon to stand its share of the expense which will amount to a sum very probably in the neighborhood of $200 or $300. Mr. Harrington had conferred with Mr. Van Schelven, chairman of the Park and Cemetery committee on the project and Mr. Van Schelven spoke on the benefit to be derived from the road.

The question was referred to the committee on streets and crosswalks with power to act.

WILL BEAUTIFY THE PARK NEAR THE LAUNCH DOCK.

Mayor Bosch last night brought to the attention of the council the efforts being made to beautify the Park at the foot of Fifth street near the launch dock and said that much more could be done. In the first place he said the Pere Marquette officials were abusing the use of the property by unloading freight from cars on a side track that runs into the Park. The Mayor recommended that the P. M. officials be notified to take out the side track there and the matter was referred to the committee on streets and crosswalks and the city attorney to be investigated.

This spur of track is used by many local merchants and others for unloading and Ald. Vander Ven recommended that no action be taken until the Pere Marquette is given time to make other provisions for unloading cars near this place so merchants

The gravel is so coarse that it will not pack. Quite a few farmers take the road east and go to Zeeland where the roads are better. No passage whatever on that road and people think of sending a petition to the State Highway commission if the county does not make it better.

FILLMORE

Several Fillmore Township farmers called on the editor of the News declaring vehemently that the authorities of Allegan county, and the detectives from Grand Rapids were to hasty in condemning a man before they had sufficient evidence. They claim that Ben, Gerrit and Herman Tucker, good honest responsible citizens, were taken from their beds in the middle of the night on a charge of arson, that they were taken to the Allegan county jail and were given the "third degree" and even by this method no evidence pointing to the guilt of any one of these parties could be obtained. They claim that the Tuckers are well-known and highly respected citizens in the community of Fillmore and have never been guilty of any small misdemeanor, letting alone the awful crime of burning a neighbor's barn.

Apparently there was not much foundation for the charges as all the men alleged to have taken part in such a crime even Herman Tucker who was held longer than the other boys, were all discharged and the case dropped.

As far as the News, knows the Tucker boys have always been well behaved and progressive farmers, and this statement was borne out by other highly respectable citizens such as Mr. Lubbers and others, who called on this paper, and whose testimony can be taken without question.

COMMITTEE OF C. OF C. WILL ASK MR. POOLE TO CLEAR TREES FROM "DEAD MAN'S CURVE"

The automobile accident of Monday afternoon in which Lewis Van Slooten lost his life again brought to the attention of the Chamber of Commerce the danger of the part of the Park road near Poole's place called "Dead Man's Curve." Here the road dips down a hill and curves sharply. The view is obscured from autoists on either side of the curve by small trees making the curve an especially dangerous one.

Nick Hoffman suggested that Mr. Poole be asked to have the trees and brush cleared away so that an autoist before making the curve can see the road ahead and will know whether or not another automobile is coming. Mr. Landwehr said that at one time Mr. Poole had been asked to cut down the trees and he had refused. Mr. Diekema then suggested that another effort be made to have the trees cut down, and on his motion a committee of three will be appointed to see Mr. Poole on the matter.

On motion of Mr. Vandersluis this same committee will be empowered to place danger signs both at this curve and at the hill near the ice houses.

WOODPECKER TAPS AT WINDOW FOR FOOD

Has Been Coming For Five Years.

The woodpecker, made a pet by the employees at the Bush & Lane Piano factor, is back for its fifth year. The bird announced his arrival Friday afternoon by alighting on the window-sill and pecking at the glass. He then flew away as the men scampered for their dinner pails to get crumbs to put on the sill, and in a short time the woodpecker flew back to enjoy the choice bits set out for him.

The woodpecker was first noticed by the piano factory boys five years ago when it had a habit of flying from its nest in Prospect Park to a telephone pole near the factory. The workmen set crumbs out on the window sill and finally coaxed the bird to come and eat them. Each day they would put the crumbs closer in and now, when the window is up, the bird will fly inside of the factory and eat. During the mating season the woodpecker brought its young to the telephone pole near the factory window and it would fly back and forth to feed them.

A Holland Man Gives Evidence

His Testimony Will Interest Every Holland Reader

The value of local evidence is indisputable. It is the kind of evidence we accept as true because we know we can prove it for ourselves. There has been plenty of such evidence in the Holland papers lately, and this straightforward testimony has established a confidence in the minds of Holland people that will not be easily shaken.

LEWIS VAN SLOOTEN LOSES CONTROL OF MACHINE AT "DEAD MAN'S CURVE" OR LAKE SHORE DRIVE AND RUNS INTO TELEPHONE POLE

Is Killed Instantly; Other Occupant of Machine Escapes Uninjured

Lewis Van Slooten, a farmer of West Olive, was instantly killed shortly before 3 o'clock at "Dead Man's Curve" on the Park road Monday afternoon, when he lost control of his automobile and dashed the machine into a telephone pole at the rate of somewhat under 20 miles an hour. With Van Slooten in the machine at the time of the accident was T. A. Roberts, also of West Olive. Roberts escaped unhurt, but he was hurled through the air and landed some twenty feet away from the machine.

Mr. T. A. Roberts, Mr. Van Slooten was at the wheel and was driving towards Macatawa Park. Near "Dead Man's Curve" something went wrong with the steering gear so that the driver lost control of the machine. He could not make the curve and it seems he was unable to stop the car. The car shot in a straight line directly into a telephone pole. Van Slooten's head was crushed, apparently against the pole, although the exact way in which he met his end is unknown. When found he was lying under the car; the machine had rebounded from the pole and had been twisted completely around so that it stood heading in the opposite direction from which the men had been driving.

The car was going at a moderate rate of speed, according to the story of Roberts, but at the crucial moment Van Slooten was unable to control the car according to the description given by Roberts of the accident. H. Van Tongeren, who happened to be passing from Macatawa to Holland took Roberts to the city and went for help. Physicians and Nibbelin's ambulance were hurried to the scene.

Lewis Van Slooten is the second member of the Van Slooten family to meet death by accident. In 1913 his brother, Martin Van Slooten was instantly killed in a saw-mill accident.

MUSEUM OF HOPE BEING FILLED WITH CURIOS FROM ALL LANDS

Student Body Now Numbers 444 Students.

The council of Hope College ended its April meeting Thursday after a 2-days' session. The report of President Vennema in regard to the year's work at the college contained several points of interest.

Dr. Vennema reported that the total enrollment of students in Hope College this year, in the Preparatory Collegiate and Music departments, is 444.

The demand for additional library facilities has been supplied by increasing the height of the stacks and adding over 500 feet to the shelving. The 478 books added during the year have been carefully selected and were much needed.

Van Vleck Hall, the oldest landmark on the campus, was in such sore need of repair that its mere appeal was irresistible. The whole building has been carefully gone over and put in a more healthful and habitable condition. This has involved a considerable expense.

The museum has been enriched by many valuable additions. The curator, Dr. Schuelke, and those of the college alumni especially who are on the mission fields are constantly adding to the number and variety of choice specimens. Between 7000 and 8,000 different mosses and lichens from all lands have been collected and contributed. Besides the student themselves and many of the townspeople, large delegations from the district school avail themselves from time to time of the opportunity of visiting Hope's growing museum.

A Board of Control of Athletics has been organized, made up of two members of the faculty, one member of the Alumni association and two students representing the athletic association of the college. All the games are scheduled by the consent of this board. They will make formal application in June to have Hope College admitted to membership in the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic association.

The endowment fund has been increased by $7,173.00.

The West End Baseball team defeated the South Ends by a score of 9 to 7 Saturday afternoon on the 19th street ball grounds. Batteries were: South Ends, Jellema and Robbets; and for the West End, Griffin and Baxter.

AGED NEW JERSEY RESIDENT REMEMBERS HOPE COLLEGE EACH YEAR BY SENDING $300 ON EVERY BIRTHDAY

Just before the beginning of the business of the Hope College Council Thursday, President Vennema showed the members of the Council a letter with a check of $300 which he had just received in the morning mail. The letter came from an elder of the First Reformed church of Passaic, N. J., in reply to a note of congratulation which Dr. Vennema, his former pastor, had sent him on the occasion of his 93rd birthday.

When Passaic's "grand old man" whose name has not been made public was 90 years old, a letter from Dr. Vennema brought a check of $500 for the college; when he was 91, a like amount; when he was 92 he sent his check for $300, and this kindness was repeated this year. The generous donor is hale and hearty, and frequently goes to New York unattended to look after business matters in the most congested parts of the city.

BERNARD BLOEMENDAL HAS SERVED LOCAL INSTITUTION TWENTY-SEVEN YEARS RESIGNS AS JANITOR AT HOPE

Announcement was made to the Hope College council in session last week, that Mr. Bernard Bloemendal, who has faithfully served that institution as janitor for 27 years, has asked to be permanently released by October or November of the present year. Though occupying a comparatively humble position at the local college, Mr. Bloemendal has during his long service made hundreds of friends. He has seen the successive student generations come and go at the college and in the minds of all he has always been closely identified with their memories of the institution. He has friends in all parts of the world where the graduates of the college are located.

THE MASTER KEY

The but took the money, but the glare accomplished his purpose. It slowly drew the watchers toward it.

Satisfied that no one would be spying on him now, but that all would have eyes only for the fire, he set forth quickly, careless of the fact that John Dorr was burning alive.

In the darkness he passed Achmet and Ruth.

The blaze had almost entirely enveloped the hut when Ruth finally staggered in and with a sob of joy cut John's bonds and half dragged him through the swirling smoke into the open.

When she had done this she promptly fainted.

The smoldering embers were sending up blue spirals of smoke into the morning sky when Consul Reynolds and Sir Donald spurred their wearied horses up to where John and Achmet squatted with Ruth between them, still but dimly conscious.

Dorr briefly explained his experiences and related how Ruth had suddenly appeared, just as he had given up hope.

Sir Donald, kneeling by Ruth's side, merely patted her hand.

The next morning Mrs. Reynolds laid down the law in set terms to the party assembled around the breakfast table.

"You must get this young lady back to America," she said, "papers or no papers!"

John and Sir Donald nodded without glancing at each other.

Thus it was that a couple of days later old Tom Kane at the "Master Key" mine received a cablegram reading:

Wilkerson Darnell aboard steamship Pacific, Frisco, 30th, with papers. We follow next steamer. DORR.

Thus it was that the struggle between Wilkerson and John Dorr was again transformed to the valley in which lay the "Master Key" mine.

Wilkerson and Jean Darnell, with the precious papers in their possession, slipped away hurriedly, taking the first steamer that sailed.

He had told her about Drake's death, though unable to say how it had happened. Privately he had no regrets.

The young man had served his purpose, and it was by no means doubtful that Mrs. Darnell would have seen to it that he had his reward, for she liked him as much as it was in her nature to care for any man, he thought.

"He was an awfully good sort," she said to Wilkerson one night as they leaned over the rail and watched the long swells from the bow speed fanwise into the infinity of the sea.

"Yes, the fellow had his good points," he admitted.

"I miss him," she said simply. Later she added thoughtfully, "I think he was in love with me."

Wilkerson laughed.

Mrs. Darnell glanced at him with an expression strange on her handsome face. "Yes, I am sure he loved me."

"In vain," he returned lightly.

"I don't know whether it might have been wholly in vain after all," she murmured. "Life has given me little love of that kind. It seems as if I had always been a woman who for mere self protection could not let any one love me or let myself love him."

"I should not have let you love him," was the quiet response. "I have struggled too hard and fought too long for you to allow any one else to have you."

"And what does your love amount to, after all, Harry?" she asked. "Tell me plainly. Has it done either of us any good? Will it ever do us any good?"

Wilkerson stared out at the dark sea, and his face grew slowly very cruel. "Good?" he repeated. "All that I know is that I love you more than anything else in the universe. You love luxury and jewelry and gold and silk. Because I know what you love I am trying to get it for you, because I want you more than I want anything else. I—I think we are even."

"Even?" she said in a suddenly strained voice. "Yes, we are even—the felon and the murderer, I the receiver of stolen goods, stolen happiness, stolen life, stolen gold!"

When they finally reached San Francisco Wilkerson found her oddly distraught. She did not know whether to go to the mine or to return to New York.

One moment she was in a tigerish rage; the next hour she was staring at the fog haunted hills with eyes that saw nothing.

He stormed and argued to no purpose. He recalled to her constantly the fact that he had the deeds, the master key itself, the plans of the location of the mother lode.

She either listened listlessly or drove him away with furious upbraids. Yet in the end she accompanied him to Silent Valley.

It was a bitter moment for old Tom Kane when the stage drove up and Wilkerson and Mrs. Darnell got out instead of John Dorr and Ruth.

He had hoped against hope, and now his dreams were in ashes, for Wilkerson instantly took charge, the men, as Tom put it to himself, followed the paymaster, and so far as outward appearance went the "Master Key" mine was firmly in Wilkerson's possession.

Mrs. Darnell here proved herself the shrewd mind. Though she was little seen, her influence was potent.

And more than anything else she worked on Wilkerson so that he did not use the plans and open up the rich vein.

"Wait," she told him. "Don't be impatient. Our whole power here is in the fact that we have the secret. Once that is public we'll likely lose everything."

"But we ought to be at work before Dorr gets back," he would argue.

"Yes, and every court in the land will help him to regain this mine and its wealth. Don't you see? Compromise!"

"Compromise!" he repeated dully.

"Yes, you fool!"

"But how?"

"Wait—wait till John and Ruth get back. They'll be glad enough to buy those plans, Harry."

When John Dorr and Ruth arrived on the following steamer Everett met them at the pier and told them the news as he had gathered it from faithful Tom Kane, whom Jean Darnell had insisted should resume his duties as cook, sagely observing to Wilkerson that it would be well for them to have a witness whose veracity Dorr would not impugn.

Settled in the hotel, Dorr briefly recited the experiences of the past months and then bluntly asked, "What are we to do?"

Everett was ready with his answer, "Compromise!"

The dull red blooded John's face, and he bit his lip. Had all his work gone for nothing?

Everett laid a friendly hand on his knee. "Now listen," he said gravely.

"Here is Miss Ruth minus her key, practically ousted from possession of her property and, if we are not mistaken, unable to lay her hands on her most precious inheritance—the plans of the mother lode. They're in Wilkerson's possession."

"And he's digging the gold night and day!" John burst out.

With a swift glance to reassure Ruth, who sat in mournful silence, Everett went on:

"That is the shrewd part of Wilkerson's play. He knows that the law will give Miss Ruth her back her mine and all that it contains. It would take time, but as sure as we are sitting here, and no one knows it better than he—justice would strip him of every ill gotten cent and send him to prison with his accomplice. So what does he do? Hastily uncover the real prize? No. He conceals it still and merely works the original mine."

"But we can put him out of father's mine, can't we?" demanded Ruth.

"And when we do we shall still be no wiser as to the location of the real gold. All our trouble and expense will have gone for naught. Wilkerson will still hold the secret of the 'Master Key.'"

"And how are we going to get it from him?" demanded Dorr, clenching his fist.

Everett smiled. "By buying it from him."

"He will ask millions!"

The broker smiled again.

"Consider Wilkerson's position for a moment. He is liable to arrest, trial and long imprisonment on a dozen charges. Within twenty-four hours we can have him behind the bars. But we wouldn't be helping ourselves much, would we? Yet Wilkerson and Mrs. Darnell don't want to go to jail. We hold that club over them."

"They have the secret we must have and we can ruin their lives. Therefore we make a trade. We give them assurance that we will not prosecute them, that we will even enrich them, if need be, and they in return for this, hand us over the plans that Thomas Gallon made."

CHAPTER XXX.

"I—I thought you loved me too!"

RUTH had listened intently, and now she seemed to draw herself a little out of the conversation. Her change of attitude did not go unobserved, and both Everett and Dorr were puzzled.

Everett saw that there was another mystery of which he knew nothing and instantly and in the most businesslike manner turned to Ruth and said:

"Now, all this subject to your approval, Miss Ruth. You know you are practically of age."

She looked at Everett steadily and said in a low tone, "I think Sir Donald Faversham should be consulted."

"But he has nothing!"—John began.

"He has everything to do with this plan," Ruth said steadily.

"I know he's done a lot," Dorr stammered, feeling the ground give under his feet, "but in this matter!"

"I think Miss Ruth is perfectly right," Everett said quickly, trying not to let the pity he felt for John show in his eyes. "Let us call him, by all means."

Sir Donald had kept himself most discreetly in the background for many weeks. Only the constant oversight for her comfort showed Ruth that she was never out of his mind.

She could not even think of him without a throb of gratitude.

And now when all must be made plain and she must live up to her own promise she steeled herself for the ordeal.

Sir Donald listened to Everett's plan and approved it thoroughly.

"And now that we have decided what to do," he concluded, "I think we should immediately go to the mine and make the—ah—the deal. I by no means like this affair, and the sooner it is over with the better."

"Good," said Everett, much relieved. "And you and I, Sir Donald, being the third parties, had better handle this deal. Do you agree to that, John?"

"I'd like to just get my hands on that fellow once more," was the hoarse response. "There would be no further need of this 'deal' as you call it."

"Yes and the fat would be in the fire," Everett replied.

Dorr finally agreed to maintain a strict neutrality and Ruth gratefully accepted the offer to conduct her affairs as Sir Donald and Everett should judge best.

That night they left for Silent Valley.

Tom Kane received them joyfully and informed Ruth that Mrs. Darnell had especially seen to it that the bungalow was ready for her.

He was full of other news, but both Sir Donald and Everett put him off and set about their business.

It was a strange conference that met that night in the office. On one side were Harry Wilkerson and Mrs. Darnell, on the other Everett and Faversham, the latter looking so intensely bored that shrewd Mrs. Darnell instantly made up her mind that she and Wilkerson would have to accept bitter terms.

Sir Donald was only too evidently waiting for formalities to be over before he said the few words necessary for him to say as Ruth's representative.

Wilkerson himself felt, too, that he was at last playing a game where all

"Yes, and the fat would be in the fire."

the cards were to be face up on the board.

When Everett had coldly and definitely set the situation before them Wilkerson sat motionless and in silence for a moment.

His shifty eyes did not meet the gaze of the three who looked to him for his yes or no. When he spoke it was with a dash of his old effrontery.

"I understand the proposal," he said, working his lean, brown fingers back and forth over a blue print on the desk. "We quit, give you the plans, and you give us"—he suddenly leaned over and darted a bright glance into Everett's eyes—"you give us what?"

Everett was prepared for the question and answered it promptly. "We'll give you $50,000 cash and won't prosecute you."

Wilkerson shook his head.

"You understand that half this mine was mine by rights when Tom Gallon took it for himself by shooting me and leaving me to die on the desert. Fifty thousand? Pah!"

"And immunity from prosecution," stated Sir Donald impassively.

Wilkerson swung on him, thrusting his lean, furious face close to the Englishman's calm, unperturbed countenance.

"What have you to do with this?" he snarled.

Faversham did not shift his position nor change his tone. "I have Mrs. Gallon's promise to marry me."

There was a sudden silence, broken only when Wilkerson's dry throat uttered a triumphant croak.

Mrs. Darnell looked at Faversham with her tawny eyes filled with dull embers of passion. Everett sat as if stunned.

"So John Dorr gets the kicks and you get the halfpence!" said Wilkerson wildly. "I have cursed him, but all my curses couldn't have punished him worse. Why," he went on half hysterically, "the poor fool loves her!"

Again silence.

This time Everett broke it, saying stiffly: "You understand our proposition. Do you accept it?"

Mrs. Darnell laid her hand on Wilkerson's arm, and he seemed to fall into a profound reverie.

They could see the lights and shadows flit over his saturnine visage, the sparkle of his eyes dying into a mere dreamy glow, the sudden tightening of his thin lips, the working of his hands.

Finally he roused himself as by an effort.

"I think I ought to have more," he said quietly. "There are signs of gold on one part of this property which has never been worked. It is nowhere near the place marked in the plans, as you will easily see. You understand that Tom Gallon and I were partners when Bygones are bygones. But I want $50,000 and that little claim. It may not amount to anything, but then again it may. Fifty thousand is soon spent. A mine is a mine."

"The plans!" demanded Sir Donald.

Wilkerson pulled out of his shirt bosom an oldskin folded around a square paper. He laid this on the table.

"There they are," he said, as though driven to bay.

Mrs. Darnell's movement of protest did not escape either Everett or Faversham. They looked at the little packet that had cost so much agony and bloodshed.

"It is a—a gentleman's agreement," said Sir Donald presently, taking out his check book.

The money passed, and then Everett picked up the oldskin packet and put it in his pocket.

"The deeds and the master key," he said gently.

Mrs. Darnell's face became splendid in its futile rage. She tore the ribbon from about her throbbing throat and flung the key on the table.

Sir Donald picked it up carefully and rose. At the same moment Everett pocketed the deeds and started for the door.

He and Faversham passed out into the starry night and vanished, leaving Wilkerson still at the desk fumbling the check.

Suddenly he reached for pen and ink and scrawled his name on the back.

Then he silently handed it to Jean Darnell, biting her red lips and moving almost imperceptibly, like an animal about to spring.

She took the bit of paper and tucked it in her bosom. Then she turned on her companion. He met her fiery gaze coldly.

"The mother lode is on that little bit I got them to give us," he said calmly.

"The plans Everett has are false."

And the look that she allowed him to see in her eyes was such as no other man had ever seen there. It was as if her tortured and lonely, proud soul had found its mate in some darkness made lurid by the flames of hell.

Sir Donald spoke a brief good night to Everett when they had left the office and turned toward the bungalow, leaving the other to go up to where the light burned in John Dorr's cabin and tell him of the events of the evening.

He met Ruth at the door and quietly told her that all was well. She looked up at him with her great eyes filled with unshed tears and he bent over her a little.

Then he drew out the master key and put the ribbon over her head until the dull brass shone on her white throat.

"You are once more the mistress of the master key," he said gently, "and of my heart."

Something in her expression told him he had said enough. With a cheerful word he went away.

But the next day Sir Donald renewed his wooing in such a fashion that Ruth was sorely put to it to keep him from demanding such caresses as her engagement made him rightfully ask for.

The hardest part was that she perceived that John Dorr now knew that she was to marry Sir Donald.

He did not know, nor ever would, what that marriage was the price of.

Everett, of course, had quietly introduced Sir Donald's assertion of his new relation to Ruth into his narrative of what had occurred in the office.

John had taken the blow steadily, but he was not one to walk in the dark. He sought out Ruth and in a few words drew from her the truth.

"Now we all know where we stand," John said bravely, smiling at her.

"But I—I thought you loved me too," she murmured.

"That doesn't alter the matter," he said comfortingly. "Now I must get to work. I've lots to do. Wilkerson has already started work around the spur, and I must begin driving into the place where your father found that rich vein. We may drift into it any day."

Naturally enough the two camps kept pretty much to themselves, but Tom Kane carried the gossip to John Dorr, evidently in an effort to distract his mind.

The old cook knew that John's heart was breaking, and between his love for each of them he was himself hard-pressed to maintain a cheerful countenance.

"Wilkerson's impatient as ever," he told John one afternoon. "He can't wait on tunneling and such, but he's going to blow the whole face of his hill right off. Told his men that dynamite was better than pick and shovel."

"Well," said John, "that may prove all right. At least he'll get a notion of what formation he has to deal with."

Later that same day Kane announced that Wilkerson was going to set off the biggest battery of shots ever tried in the valley.

As a consequence Faversham, Ruth, John, Everett and many others went across the gulch toward evening to watch the show.

Old Tom Kane wagged his gray head doubtfully as he related how much dynamite had been planted and how Wilkerson's men were actually too nervous to work any longer.

"He has to fix the fuses and fire the shots himself," he said.

True enough, they saw man after man come down the hill till only Wilkerson was left.

Ruth noticed that he worked rapidly and with an occasional glance down toward Mrs. Darnell, who stood near a big rock shading her eyes against the evening sun.

At last the work was apparently done, and Wilkerson waved his arms. At that signal there was a general rush for cover.

Then the man straightened himself up as if master of the demons hidden at his feet, and waved his hand to the woman watching him from below; then he stooped.

An instant later there was a terrific explosion, and a smoky gap appeared halfway up the hillside.

At the foot of the slope lay the body of Wilkerson, tossed there as one might toss an old hat. The smoke on the hill eddied and swirled.

No one stirred. There were a dozen other unexploded shots in that hillside, any one of which would likely bring the toppling crest downward.

With white faces they held their breath. Wilkerson's body twitched slightly, the only moving thing in that amphitheater.

Then there was a wild scream, filled with terror, with passion, with flaming and awful desire, and Jean Darnell ran over the rubble toward the smoking hill, crying:

"Harry! Harry!"

A dozen men started to run to drag her back, and a hundred voices muttered warnings that held them in their tracks.

Jean reached the body and hung herself on it; then she rose and stared up at the great rocky crest.

MAYOR WANTS MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP OF GAS; DOES NOT HELP SITUATION IN FIFTH WARD.

Mr. Van Schelven Makes Lengthy Report at Meeting; Matter Taken Out of Hands of Committee

On request of the committee, the Chamber of Commerce, on motion of G. Van Schelven, seconded by G. J. Diekema, relieved the committee on Public Improvements and Utilities from further work in obtaining gas for the Fifth ward. The committee is composed of A. Harrington, G. Van Schelven, I. Kouw, W. J. Garrod and H. G. Peilgrim, Jr.

In the absence of Chairman A. Harrington, Mr. Van Schelven brot in the report of the committee at the meeting Monday night. He reported that since the matter was placed in the hands of the committee to investigate it was discovered that, as wood is scarce the summer fuel question has become quite a serious one in the fifth ward and that there has been a change of sentiment in that ward since the election of a few years ago when the Gas company's proposition was turned down. The committee asked Mayor Bosch, he said to confer with them on the matter and the mayor did meet with the committee.

Mr. Van Schelven reported further: "We came right to the point and said to him, 'We all know the results of the gas election and know why it resulted that way. Since the election Mr. King and others have left our midst but you are still here; what stand will you take on the gas question if it is brought up for election again?' The mayor said he would consider the matter and when a few days ago he was reminded by me of his promise to give a statement he sent the committee a lengthy letter on the question."

Mr. Van Schelven said that he would not read the letter on the question as it brought in too many things foreign to the work conferred on the committee and that had no place in the report the committee was called on to make. In the letter the Mayor still sticks to his former views, said Mr. Van Schelven, that is, in favor of the old franchise, bringing in other matters such as using electricity instead of gas and a plea for municipal ownership. These things Mr. Van Schelven said were not what the committee was instructed to investigate, and so he asked to have the matter taken out of their hands.

In conclusion Mr. Van Schelven said that if the people of the Fifth ward wanted gas it would be best for them to petition to bring the question to vote again and that they would receive the support and aid of the Chamber of Commerce.

INCREASES AND READJUSTMENTS SALARIES OF CITY EMPLOYEES MADE BY THE COUNCIL

There were several increases in salary of city officers passed by the council Monday night. In some cases readjustments of salary were made so that they are lowered for some offices, but in those cases offices were combined.

The city clerk's salary has been placed at $1500 instead of $1350. The city treasurer is to receive a salary of $1,000 instead of $800; but this is not an increase in view of the fact that he will have to pay his own assistant in the future. The city attorney will receive $600 as in the past.

The office of health officer carried with it a salary of $450 and the office of city physician $300. These have been reduced to $350 and $250, respectively, but the offices have been combined making a total for the holder of the office of $600. The combined salary of the city inspector and director of the poor is to be $780. The librarian will receive a salary of $900, formerly $720. The salary of the city engineer will remain $1500, and the city assessor has been raised from $1200 to $1500.

PETER VAN DOMMELN NOT BEING A CITIZEN OF THE U. S. RESIGNS AS MEMBER OF BOARD.

Contested Election of Peter Ver Schure and Then Had the Tables Reversed On Himself.

To have two men running for city office when neither of them is a citizen was the case in Holland's last election when Peter Verschure defeated Peter Van Dommelen for membership on the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners by a two to one vote. At the meeting of the Common Council Monday night the leak was discovered when Van Dommelen handed in his resignation as member of the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners. Van Dommelen has already served the city on the Board for some time and he was now after the four year term.

Right after the spring election at which Van Dommelen was defeated he contested the right of Ver Schure to the office on the grounds that Ver Schure was not a citizen of the United States and therefore not entitled to hold office or to exercise his power as an elector. On investigation it was found that although Ver Schure has been exercising the powers of a voter for many years he is not a citizen, and of course he could not hold office. Van Dommelen then claimed that he was entitled to the office.

City Attorney Mc Bride got busy to discover whether or not Van Dommelen was qualified to hold office, and although Van Dommelen declared he was a citizen Mr. McBride produced the evidence showing that he was not. Van Dommelen thereupon sent in his resignation to the council and Dr. M. J. Cook was appointed member of the Board for a term of four years.

But for inquiries from Alderman Vander Ven it is probable that the fact that Van Dommelen is not a voter—although he has voted since he was twenty-one years of age—would never have been made public. Van Dommelen's resignation reads as follows: "I hereby tender my resignation as member of the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners to take effect as soon as my successor is appointed. I feel that at the last election a new man was elected and I do not care to take advantage of any technicalities but want to give the new council an opportunity to fill the vacancy and start off with a clean slate and everything in their favor."

CITY APPOINTMENTS CONSUME BUT LITTLE TIME WHEN CITY FATHERS MEET

Most of Them Named On the First Ballot; Several Were By Acclamation.

At the annual charter meeting of the Council Monday evening there was not much difference of opinion among the aldermen as to who should serve on the various boards. Many of the officers were named by acclamation and in not a single case was it necessary to take more than two ballots.

C. H. McBride was reappointed as city attorney on the first ballot, receiving seven out of the twelve votes. As president pro tem of the council, Alderman Frank Congleton was reappointed on the first ballot, also receiving seven votes out of twelve.

The offices of city health officer and city physician were combined Monday and Dr. J. J. Mersen was appointed to both positions. As health officer he was appointed on the first ballot, receiving nine votes, and as city physician he was appointed on the second ballot receiving seven votes.

offices of city inspector and city poor director, in both cases on the first ballot. Mr. Van Zanten held these offices the past year and his appointment Monday was a re-election. He received eight votes for each.

But the man who received the largest number of votes, outside of those elected by acclamation, was Peter Ver Wy, who was again given the job of city poundmaster. Ver Wy received the unanimous vote of the twelve aldermen present.

The following were reappointed by acclamation: Member Library Board, Arnold Mulder; member park board, G. Van Schelven; member board of health, Dr. T. A. Boot; members of the Harbor board, G. J. Diekema and C. Ver Schure.

As member of the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners for the four-year term, Dr. M. J. Cook was appointed on the second ballot, receiving nine out of the twelve votes.

The health board recommended to the council the appointment of Dick Ras as city scavenger, who was the lowest bidder. This recommendation was adopted unanimously.

KEROSENE OIL SPOILS 350 POUNDS OF MEAT AT THE BUTCHER'S

JONKMAN & CLARK WILL ERECT NEW WATER AND LIGHT PLANT.

Local Board Sticks By Local Men.

The Board of Public Works last night awarded the contract for the new light and water station to Jonkman & Clark of this city, whose bid was $15,500. Including the item of special brick demanded by the board the bid became $15,800. Jonkman and Clark were the next to the lowest bidders, the lowest being J. H. Sullivan of Grand Rapids. Before awarding the contract however the board made exhaustive investigations. It was a week ago that the bids were opened, and since that time the board has made two trips to Grand Rapids and has made various investigations, the result of which were that the Grand Rapids firm did not get the contract. It was found that the Grand Rapids man did not stand by his bid, claiming that he had forgotten items that would make it higher. The engineer's estimate of the cost of erecting the plant was $21,850.

CARNEGIE COMMISSION AWARD-ED MEDAL TO CLIFFORD
KEIZER FOR BRAVERY

Boy Who Gave His Life to Save Another Is Honored; Medal Goes to His Father

A news dispatch from Pittsburgh Saturday announced that Carnegie Hero Fund Commission in their regular spring session had voted to award a hero medal for the heroism shown by Clifford A. Keizer of this city who on Sept. 13, 1913, died while attempting to save Oscar A. Byrnes from drowning in Black lake. The medal goes to Kaiser's father.

This is the first time in the history of this city that a Carnegie hero medal has been granted for heroism of a local person. At the time of the double drowning accident in Black lake in which both Clifford Kaiser and Mr. Byrnes lost their lives the suggestion was often made that the act of the Holland High school boy in trying to save the life of the drowning man was worthy of such an award. The Carnegie Hero Commission however works very slowly and makes exhaustive investigations before coming to a decision to make sure that the medals are awarded only in cases that seem wholly worthy of it. For that reason the award was not made until now. In the meantime the people of Holland have honored the local hero by having placed a monument with public ceremonies on his grave. This act on the part of the local public probably had much to do with the commission coming to a favorable decision.

At the spring meeting of the Commission fifty-two acts of heroism were given recognition. In two cases gold medals were awarded; in fourteen cases silver medals; and in thirty-six bronze medals.

Ten of the heroes lost their lives; and to the dependents of four of these, pensions aggregating $2,760 a year were granted; to the dependents of five of the others who lost their lives, sums totaling $3,500, to be applied, subject to the direction of the commission in various ways, were granted. In addition to these money grants, in 13 cases sums aggregating $25,000 were appropriated for educational purposes, payments to be made as needed and approved; and in 29 cases award aggregating $30,500 were made to be applied toward the purchase of homes and to other worthy purposes. Payments to be made in these cases when beneficiaries' plans for the use of the award have been approved by the commission.

Since the publication of the story of the awarding of the medal in Saturday's issue in the state press it was learned that the medal was secured for the heroism of Clifford Kaiser through the efforts of the Legislative and Educational committee of the Woman's Literary club. Mrs. A. F. Bruske is chairman of that committee, and the other members are: Mrs. Etta Whitman, Mrs. G. E. Kollen and Mrs. C. H. McBride.

It was this committee that took the matter up some months ago. The members secured the necessary information as to how to proceed in making application for the medal. They got into communication with the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission of Pittsburgh, and it was through their efforts that an agent of that commission came to Holland to make the necessary investigations.

Too much credit cannot be given to the committee of the W. L. C. without the assistance of which the heroic act of the local high school boy would doubtless not have been given this recognition.

PARENTS OF CLIFFORD KAISER RECEIVE SUM OF FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS.

They Thank W. L. C. Committee and Express Their Gratitude to Hero Fund Commission

Mr. and Mrs. William Kaiser, the parents of Clifford Kaiser who was recognized by the Carnegie Hero Commission for bravery, received a letter from the commission informing them officially that the medal had been awarded and that with it goes a death benefit of $500. This is the first official information that has reached the city of the award.

In the letter the commission asks the parents to advise them whether or not they will accept the medal and the death benefit. As soon as that information has been received the medal will be ordered from the manufacturers and will be sent in a short time.

In a public statement Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Kaiser showed their appreciation in the following words:

"We wish to acknowledge our heartfelt gratitude to the Woman's Literary club and especially to the committee composed of Mrs. A. F. Bruske, Mrs. Etta Whitman, Mrs. G. E. Kollen and Mrs. C. H. McBride, for their earnest work and for the kind spirit shown in securing the awards granted by the Carnegie Hero commission for the heroism of our dear son Clifford.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kaiser."

The parents of the boy further made the following statement:—

"Furthermore we wish to thank the Carnegie Hero Fund commission for both the benefit financially and the honor shown in recognition of Clifford's efforts to save the life of a fellow man. In acknowledgement of our appreciation for the same a copy of this paper will be forwarded to F. M. Wilmot, of Pittsburgh, manager of the commission.

"Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kaiser."

VAN'S FIGHTING OVER PROPERTY

Two Members of Vandenberg Family Refuse to Agree on Disposal of Property in Which They Have Equal Shares

Suit has been commenced in the Ottawa circuit court by Elizabeth, et al., plaintiffs, Benjamin and Lucy Vandenberg, defendants, heirs of the late Wm. Vandenberg for satisfaction of division of Zeeland property amounting to about $2000. The other plaintiffs named in the declaration filed in circuit court in Grand Haven Friday are Henrietta Vandenberg, Alfred Vandenberg and John Brandel. Solicitor for the plaintiff is Jared N. Clark of Zeeland.

It is alleged in the first declaration that the above named defendants refuse any division of the property which is held jointly by the whole number of parties concerned, and that any effort to agree upon a selling price has been the cause of such disagreement until now any compromise among themselves is impossible. The plaintiffs pray for a legal settlement of the matter with the costs of court to come from the proceeds of the property.

Suppose We
Pared These Tires

Suppose this All-Weather tread—now double-thick—was pared to the thinness of the usual anti-skid. Would it endure like this one? Or so resist puncture?

Suppose we used—as some do—one less fabric ply. Or made the whole tire lighter. Suppose we omitted our exclusive features:

Our No-Rim-Cut feature—
Our "On-Air" cure—
Our rubber rivets—
Our 126-piano-wire base.

All rivals do omit them. All of them are costly. Our "On-Air" cure alone costs us $450,000 yearly to save needless blowouts. But could Goodyear Fortified Tires retain top place if we did not give those extras?

Cost Added
Prices
Lowered

Instead of that,
we all the time
add costly better-

We spend on experts $100,000 yearly to seek out new improvements.

Our All-Weather tread—always double-thick—is made still thicker in some sizes.

Our Inner Tubes have been thickened 14 per cent on the average.

Our fabric has been strengthened.

Yet on February 1st we made our third big price reduction in two years, bringing the total to 45 per cent. Now you are getting in Goodyear Fortified Tires the best value ever known in tire making.

It is due to yourself that you this year join this army of contented tire users. It is by far the largest army in Tiredom. Any dealer will supply you. (2331)

HOLLAND TO BE HOST TO MEMBERS OF WEST MICHIGAN PRESS ASSOCIATION.

Chamber of Commerce Makes Elaborate Preparations For the Event.

May 13 and 14 are to be big days for Holland and the Holland Chamber of Commerce is making active preparations for the festivities of those two days when this city will entertain the Western Michigan Press association, comprising the editors and publishers of the newspapers of Western Michigan and their ladies.

At a meeting of the entertainment committee of the Chamber of Commerce Monday full arrangements for the event were made. Some one hundred visitors and their wives will leave Grand Rapids in a two-car interurban special at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of May 13, arriving in Holland about three. They will be met at the P. M. Station by thirty automobiles of the members of the Chamber of Commerce, headed by the big Packard car of the Lakewood Farm, which will be followed by the Lakewood Farm auto truck on which the high school band will be seated to furnish the music. The automobiles will be appropriately decorated for the parade which will follow through the streets of Holland. The visitors will be shown the various places of interest in the city and will be taken through some of the most important industrial plants. Later they will be given an automobile trip to some of the nearby resorts.

This feature of the program will be followed by a trip to the Lakewood farm where the delegates of the press association, the officers of the Chamber of Commerce and other members of the Chamber of Commerce who wish to attend will be entertained by George Getz.

At 6:15 of the first day of the convention the automobiles provided by the Chamber of Commerce will take the entire party to Ottawa Beach from which point they will be ferried across to Jenison Park. At that resort a banquet will be served to the Press association, the officers of the C. of C. and the local speakers at Crawford's Cafe.

A. H. Landwehr, president of the C. of C. will make the address of welcome and will introduce Hon. G. J. Diekema as the toastmaster of the evening. One of the principal speakers will be President E. B. Bleett of the Press association, while there will be some other visitor-speakers. N. J. Whelan, publisher of the Sentinel will also make an address.

After the banquet the party will go to Macatawa Park, there they will be the guests of Swan A. Miller, president of the Macatawa Park Association. Mr. Miller will open Hotel Macatawa specially for the occasion and the guests will be shown a good time there.

Bright and early the next morning the second day's activities of the big convention will begin. President Morton of the Graham and Morton Company has placed the steamer Puritan at the disposal of the Chamber of Commerce for the entertainment of the guests. At 8 o'clock in the forenoon the big steamer will leave the dock at Holland, and the members of the press association, their wives, and the members of the Chamber of Commerce and their wives are invited to enjoy a two hours' sail on Lake Michigan. The big steamer will leave the Interurban dock at Jenison Park at 8:30 o'clock.

Returning to Jenison Park the guests will be given in charge of Jacob Lokker who will be ready with a program of sports such as have made outings at Jenison Park famous during past years. All the old time stunts will be on the program and nothing will be left undone to make the entertainment exciting.

At 12:30 on the same day a big barbecue will be provided under the direction of Joseph Bureau of Grand Rapids who has been in charge of the barbecues at Jenison Park for a number of years past. The committee plans on entertaining at this meal about three hundred people. The picnic tables will be pressed into service and on account of the comparatively small number to be entertained the service will be more systematic than is usually the case at popular barbecues.

A whole ox will be roasted for the occasion, and in addition to roast ox, bread, pickles, olives, broth and other delicacies will be served to the assembled guests.

Nothing will be left undone to make this one of the biggest events of this kind ever pulled off in Holland.

Wm. Ten Haken Has Narrow Escape From Having Broken Leg.

William Ten Haken, a student at Hope College, had a close escape from having his leg crushed or broken Saturday afternoon in Grand Rapids when a large brewery truck passed over it. Ten Haken was standing with the crowd in front of the Grand Rapids Y. M. C. A. building waiting for the Hope College runner to arrive when the truck swung through the crowd and one wheel struck his leg and passed over it just below the knee. Ten Haken stood up, examined his leg and shortly afterwards he was enjoying a plunge in the Y. tank.

HOLLAND ALL STARS DEFEAT INDEPENDENTS BY THE SCORE OF 7 TO 5

In the opening game at Zealand's new enclosed baseball park the Holland All Stars defeated the Zealand Independents by a score of 7 to 5. Saturday. It was a hard fought game throughout, but the hitting of Gary and Ben Batema and Ben Lieveense was too much for the Zealanders. The All Stars took the lead in the first inning when, with three men on bases, Ben Lieveense got a two base hit, scoring two. Carl Smith starred on short, and Rex Sirrine did stellar work in the box for Holland.

will not have to go to the depot and put to any unnecessary inconvenience. Mr. Van Schelven in reply to the Mayor's statement that the park ought to be beautified said the Park Board has made several efforts to fix up this property but that on account of damage done and the dirt spread around by unloading freight there they could not do much. He assured the council that if the track was taken away that the park board would see to it that the place would be fixed up in the way of planting trees and shrubbery, fixing up the walk and landing, etc.

Incidentally, Mr. Van Schelven mentioned that at the time he was in the council many years ago he made the motion that the Pere Marquette be allowed to build the side track referred to. Of course he could see no harm in it at that time.

MAY HAVE SWIMMING POND.

Mayor Bosch at the council meeting last night revived the old swimming pond project that was turned down by the aldermen last year. When last summer H. P. Zwemer offered his grounds just east of Fairbanks avenue to be used as a swimming pond the council investigated but did not think favorably of it. Since then Mr. Zwemer has built a dam at his own expense and had the lot flooded last winter to be used as a skating pond the Mayor says the proposition looks different and he asked the aldermen to see Mr. Zwemer and look the thing over.

ASK PERMISSION TO MOVE BUILDINGS

That it will be no easy matter for people to obtain permission to move old buildings to other locations was the sense expressed by the council last night. Mayor Bosch said he was unalterably opposed to moving old buildings and inflicting them on other people and he said that if the building is moved to a place where there are no buildings at present it will decrease the value of that property.

The question arose when a petition was read to the council from Mr. Becker asking permission to move a small store building from First Avenue to the corner of Columbia Avenue and Eighth street to be used as a cigar and candy stand by his son. Alderman Vander Hill said this building has had an eventful career having been located on 14th street, on First avenue, on Central avenue and in several other places. The matter was referred to the committee on streets and crosswalks.

A petition to move a house near Jackson's garage in Seventh street was also referred to this committee.

HOLD UP SALOON LICENSE.

After a short recess the committee on licenses reported to the council that the city bonds given by Jack Vander Heide and Mr. Thomas, who have applied for license to conduct a saloon in the Slagh block in East 8th street, were insufficient and asked that the matter be held over until the next meeting.

COUNCIL REJECTS ATTORNEYS' BILLS.

The council last evening voted unanimously to refer back to the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners the bills of Attorneys Diekema, Kollen and Ten Cate, and Attorney A. Van Duren with the recommendation that the bills be rejected. The bills presented by these attorneys were for work done in defending Police Commissioner De Keyser in the recall case against him. The bills amounted to upward of $200.

TO HEAL BREACH WITH THE PLUMBERS.

At the council meeting last night Mayor Bosch said that he was thinking of appointing a committee to meet with the plumbers of the city to discuss the differences existing between the city and the plumbers. When the city decided to go into the municipal plumbing business last year to make sewer connections with private homes the plumbers made a protest and although they partly won their point there are still differences that have not been settled. PETER VER WY SAYS THERE ARE NOT ENOUGH DOGS TO MAKE THE JOB PAY; GETS RAISE

The council last night decided to pay Poundmaster Peter VerWy two dollars a month over and above what he makes on fees. This was brought about when Ald. Prins told the council of the sad fix the poundmaster finds himself in. The mayor jokingly said that it was Peter's own fault because he kills them off too fast. Peter complained to Mr. Prins that there were not enough dogs in the city at present to make the job pay but that if the city would give him a present of, say $15 he would consent to take the job for another year. Ald. Wiersma suggested that Ver Wy be allowed a fee for catching cats too but Ald. Prins said Ver Wy did not like to catch cats, so this would never do. It is a fact that Ver Wy has cut the dog population down to a mere handful of what it was when he took the job of poundmaster several years ago so the aldermen decided to grant his request in a little different way than he asked for it.

Now Ver Wy gets 75c for every dog he kills and buries, one dollar for dogs he finds dead on the street and buries, fifty per cent of all dog license money and twenty cents a day for boarding dogs in the pound. His income in this way amounts to about $300 a year according to city Clerk Overweg.

The licensed dog population of Holland is now a little over 300. Last year at this time it was in the neighborhood of 400.

APPOINT NEW MEMBERS TO THE CENSOR BOARD

The council last night adopted the recommendation of the Board of Motion Picture Censors in regards to appointing the additional members to the board as voted on at a recent meeting of the council and the following appointments were made: Mrs. C. H. McBride, A. H. Landwehr, Milo De Vries and Prof. C. Drew. The board is now composed of six ladies and six gentlemen.

WILL ASK FOR REPAIRS ALONG THE CAR TRACK.

Ald. Slagh last night recommended to the council that the Interurban Co., be asked to fix up the road at several places along the car track. Mr. Slagh said that brick has been torn up along Eighth street and River avenue, making the street dangerous. On the corner of Sixteenth street and Ottawa avenue, Mr. Slagh said the car tracks are much higher than the road and that the company should be reminded of their promise to put in planking at this place. Ald. Kammeraad said that the corner of Thirteenth street and River avenue is also in need of repairs. The matter was referred to the committee on streets and crosswalks with power to act.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

The committee on streets and crossings was instructed to investigate complaints made by Ald. Drinkwater and Ald. Steketee on sand blowing over the sidewalks. Places named were in West Eighth street near the Tannery and on 24th Street near Central avenue.

The annual report of the Board of Public Works was presented to the Council last night.

Ald. Vander Ven reported to the council that the special committee appointed to investigate the advisability of having motion pictures exhibited to the censors before being shown to the council, will probably be ready to report at the next meeting of the council.

The following are the tests for gas during the past two weeks; number of tests, 26; highest, 631; lowest, 553; average 596.6; 22 were below 600 B. T. U.

City Clerk Overweg reported that W. H. Smith wanted to sell the City a paper press. The council took no action on matter.

A detailed report of the Auditing committees on the examination of the books and records of the city was made to the council.

Al Vanden Berg complained to the council that a hydrant on the corner of 12th street and Central avenue leaked continually. The acting city engineer was instructed to take up the matter with the board of public works.

The sum of $96 was spent for temporary aid for the poor during the past two weeks.

Dr. Brouwer was granted permission to install a gasoline pump with a light attached in front of his garage in Seventh street.

The Ottawa Furniture Co. was granted permission to pile material on the sidewalk near the factory for a couple of days while building a new smokestack.

Henry Vander Warf was granted permission to do junk business in the city of Holland by the council last night.

The Studebaker company has notified the city clerk that the new city street flusher will be here by next Monday.

An application for conducting a pool room was presented by Lee Cummings and was referred to the committee on licenses.

W. H. WING SURPRISES BURG-LAR WHEN HE RETURNS HOME

Attempted Burglary Is Similar To Robberies of Last Winter In That Neighborhood

Apparently the same "jimmy man" who operated in Holland a few months ago commenced to try the same houses on Thirteenth street that he broke into last winter. When W. H. Wing, 88 West Thirteenth St. returned home Tuesday night at 8:15 he discovered a burglar in the house. Evidently the man had just come thru the window as nothing in the house had been disturbed. When Mr. Wing entered the burglar started for the window and Mr. Wing was just in time to see his back as he crawled out. That finished the would-be burglary for that night as no other reports came to the police department.

Mr. Wing's home, with others in that neighborhood were broken into last winter in the same way. At that time the robbery was committed on Sunday evening while the residents were in church. Tuesday night the burglar waited until the family had left the house to visit a neighbor and then began his job. Mr Wing returned unexpectedly.

It is believed by some that the robberies are the work of a local man, but no clue as to who the person is has been discovered. It is also possible that the burglaries are committed by hoboos passing thru Holland, as there are a great number in town every day.

BEN MULDER HEADS NEWLY ORGANIZED BOARD OF POLICE AND FIRE COMMISSIONERS

The new board of police and fire commissioners met Tuesday for the purpose of organizing for the year's work. Ben Mulder was unanimously elected as president of the board to succeed C. DeKeyser who held the office of chairman of the board the past year.

Dr. M. J. Cook who was appointed member of the board by the council last night to succeed Peter Van Dommelen took his oath of office, and routine business was transacted by the newly organized body.

THE MAN WHO CAME BACK FROM THE WAR ON TUBERCULOSIS

By special arrangement and thru the courtesy of local Modern Woodmen, the Apollo theater has booked a reel of 1,040 feet, featuring Robert Wilson of Missouri, in a true and realistic film story of his part in the present war—not of bloodshed—but in the fight against and conquest of that human flesh—tuberculosis. Wilson is one of the million members of the Modern Woodmen of America.

Discovering that he is afflicted with this disease, he takes advantage of the comforts, care and cure of the Sanatorium owned, maintained and operated by that Society, free of charge to its members. For several years that fraternal institution has thus actively and effectively co-operated in the world-wide movement advocated by the Red Cross and medical authorities, to stamp out the dread "white plague" and Wilson is the beneficiary of this Woodmen lifesaving station. It is an intensely interesting and heart-gripping story of the leave-taking of wife and children. Weak in body and hopeless in mind he journeys to the beautiful Rocky Mountain region near Colorado Springs, Colo., where, in the rarified climate and constant sunshine, at an altitude of 7,000 feet, he is destined to spend nine months at the foot of Mount Cedar, in the care of the most modern Sanatorium in the world. His experiences in "chasing the cure," his absolute rest from all cares and labor, his gradual return to health and strength, his "hikes" among the fragrant pines and over the rocky trails of the U. S. forest reserve, leased by and adjoining the Sanatorium, result in his final return to family and friends, victorious over his foe. "The Man Who Came Back" is a thrilling and dramatic story—and absolutely true as well; indeed, his experience has been duplicated by nearly 2,000 of his fellow Neighbors, who have already enjoyed the benefits of this justly celebrated institution. This film is pronounced by competent authorities to be one of the very best in this highly developed age of motion pictures, and is in such great demand that it can be booked for only one day and night in each town or city. It is a rare opportunity one cannot afford to miss.

At the Apollo theater on Tuesday, May 11.

Admission, Matinee 5c; evening 5c and 10c.

WILL KEEP OPEN HOUSE SATURDAY; PROGRAM IN THE EVENING.

The Holland Elks will celebrate their first anniversary in their own hall next Saturday. It will be just a year ago Saturday that the Holland Elks were organized and since that time the order has shown a consistent growth.

All day Saturday the Elks will keep open house for the entertainment of visitors from the other lodges, of other cities, especially Grand Haven and Muskegon. A very elaborate program has been prepared for the evening meeting of the lodge.

This program is in charge of the committee on arrangements of which John A. Kelley is chairman. Among the entertainers will be Bert Hogan, the well known Grand Rapids character delineator and reader, and Frank Girdler, also of Grand Rapids, a clever singer and monologist.

The principal address will be made by John K. Bertsch of Grand Rapids. Exalted Ruler, and a program of music will be given including numbers of the Grand Haven quartet.

Tonight the High school Band will give their second concert of the year in the High school Auditorium. The work of the Band has greatly improved since their last public appearance, and the coming concert will without doubt be a good one. The High school quartet will also take part in the program tomorrow night. The concert will begin at 7:30.

W. L. C. GIVES INTERESTING PROGRAM

"Holland" was the subject of the program given by the Woman's Literary club Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. G. J. Van Duren gave an interesting talk on "Early Holland". Mrs. D. B. K. Van Raalte, Jr., sang two songs. She was accompanied by her sister, Miss Alma Hopson of Grand Rapids. Mrs. G. E. Kollen reported on work of the committee in getting a medal for Clifford Kaiser. Mrs. G. W. Browning read an interesting paper on "Holland's Share in Our State Institutions." Miss Vander Meulen's paper on "City Improvement" was read by Mrs. Garrod.
