The Progress of Aerial Transportation

Air Transport companies in the United States operated 294 planes in 1928 over 10,472,024 miles and carried 1,472,024 passengers and air mail traffic. These companies carried 52,934 passengers, according to a report made public by the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce. The figures showed an increase of 420 per cent in passenger carrying and 100 per cent in mileage over 1927.

The report said twenty-three new passenger lines operated over an aggregate of 6,451 miles of routes, while mail routes, new or extended, numbered sixteen, increasing the regular mail routes by 5,928 miles. Nine express lines, with a total of 2,151 miles, went into service during the year.

The airmail volume was trebled, showing a total of 3,632,050 pounds for 1928, compared with 1,222,843 pounds for 1927, the statement said. Twenty-two companies operated thirty-three air mail routes under contracts with the government, while four new mail lines were scheduled for operation early in 1929. Mail planes flew 27,848 miles every twenty-four hours.

A healthy growth in express carried by air was shown by the report, which stated that approximately 2,000 tons were handled. The year also marked the reduction from 10 cents to 5 cents for the first ounce of air mail, the statement explained, while many feeder lines were being added to the long haul systems.

Another feature of the year, noted in the report, was the growth of reputable flying schools and likewise a decrease in "wildcat" schools.

Six Cylinder Sentences

By DR. JOHN W. HOLLAND
Any race well begun is half won. Make up your mind or it will be your undoing. Nature puts a sham face in front of a shameless heart. If one face, alone, gladdens at your coming, life is worth the living. The tax collector may know our wealth, but God alone knows our worth. While our blessings come down from heaven, they have to be worked up on earth.

Shopper "My husband asked me to get him a saw, but I can't remember what kind."

Hardware Man: "Was it a rip, crosscut, panel, flooring, ice, interchangeable pruning, debarking, keyhole, back, butcher, compass, hack—?"

Shopper "Hack! hack saw is the kind. I knew it had some old-fashioned name."

Wm. Olive says: "Fatality statistics for the present year fail to mention the large number who were tickled to death."

Jones (who had called around to see if his friend had recovered from a wild night)—"Is Mr. Wizzy up yet?"

Landlady (sternly)—"Yes, he got up, drank his bath and went back to bed."

The jailer is reported to have said that he will treat Sinclair just like he does any other prisoner; if Harry wants to work he can have a bath every day—otherwise, once a week; he will have the common and coarse food of the other prisoners, served on tin plates; he will sleep in the same cells; he will get up early in the mornings, and he will go to bed early at night; he will entirely forget, in practice, that he comes from a 40-room mansion of a home where he is complete master.

SPEAKING OF KNEES

When the hard wind blows, The girl shows Her knees bestows.

Her knees or bows.

"Where in the world did you get that horrible necktie?"

"The laugh's on you. You gave it to me last Christmas."

Happiness is largely a matter of having plenty of work to do that you like.

He: "I come to bring warmth and light into the bleakness of your home."

Romantic Spinster: "Oh, you dear—"

He: "Nix on the love stuff, old lady. I'm the installation man for the gas company."

HOLLAND'S NEW HEALTH HEAD ASKS CO-OPERATION

Dr. Wm. Westrate, Holland's new chief in the Health Department, asks citizens to co-operate in the present scarlet fever epidemic.

He says: "The people of Holland are earnestly requested to cooperate with the physicians of Holland and the health department in their efforts to control scarlet fever."

"There have been several cases of a mild type because these cases have not had the usual symptoms of high fever, vomiting and prostration it was thought that possibly it was not scarlet fever. "Subsequent 'peeling' has shown the correctness of the diagnosis. Then, also, because measles has been more or less epidemic, some cases have been confused with measles and in some instances the family doctor was not called to verify the diagnosis.

"All cases of rashes with sore throat should be viewed with suspicion and parents are requested not to send children to school with a rash of any kind until a careful scrutiny of the case reveals that it is not a contagious disease. "Knowing the possibilities and the complications of scarlet fever, whether mild or serious, everybody should be on the lookout for this disease, the most contagious of our communicable diseases."

Sunken Tug Is Damaged to Amount of $6000

CONSTRUCTION MATERIALS CO. CRAFT RAISED FROM HARBOR BOTTOM

The Sunken tug Liberty was floated in Grand River after a crew of 15 men had been engaged since Thursday getting her ready to lift from the 20 feet of water, 500 feet from the Grand Trunk railroad bridge, and 125 feet from the Construction Materials Co. docks.

As the little tug rose to the surface, arrangements were made to get the pumps working at the unequal pressure of the water is a difficulty that must be handled carefully. Capt. E. J. Morris, in charge of the operation said, and is one of the most particular times in the reclamation.

Tom Mahon well known Ottawa County diver, and his assistant succeeded in placing two steel slings under the boat fore and aft. He found her on her side. In raising her to her keel she became overbalanced and toppled to the other side which delayed operations somewhat.

The Liberty is in good condition considering the accident. The engines were moved about three quarters of an inch and several steam and exhaust pipes were broken. The sea cocks were broken off which will necessitate drawing the tug ashore on skids where the hull will be looked after carefully. Considerable equipment was lost including 300 feet of rope, six life preservers, ring buoys, oil and gasoline and metal lamp box. The steam gauges were ruined and the moon generator will have to be repaired.

It was roughly estimated the loss, including the time the boat was out of commission, to be between $5,000 and $6,000.

Two scows, one derrick, a tug and about 15 men were employed. Two one and one-fourth inch cables squeaked and groaned as the big derrick gradually lifted her to the surface. It is expected that by today the Liberty will be in commission just a week from the day she was sent to the bottom while towing the gravel boat Andaste from her winter quarters in Ferrysburg to the docks of the Construction Materials Co.

EASE OF OWNING

On our own streets Essex the Challenger, under competent observation, averaged 22 miles per gallon. The average owner in this city can expect 18 to 20 miles and upward. Commercial users operating large fleets of Essex cars say that service and maintenance costs, covering millions of miles of operation, are lowest of any car ever tested.

ESSEX challenges the performance, the style, the luxurious roomy comfort of any car at any price, on the basis that no other gives you back so much for every dollar you put in.

That is why the big buying swing is to Essex. That is why motorists by thousands are switching from past favorites, and trading in their old cars for the big values Essex the Challenger gives. Essex challenges:

IN SPEED—challenging anything the road offers up to 70 miles an hour. IN FAST GETAWAY—any car regardless of size or price. IN RELIABILITY—60 miles an hour for hour after hour.

Essex offers a completeness of fine car equipment formerly identified only with costly cars, and available, when at all, only as "extras," at extra cost on cars of Essex price.

Check these items when you buy—they represent easily above $100 additional value in Essex.

Wide Choice of Colors at No Extra Cost.

The variety is so great you have almost individual distinction

OLD "FATHER OF WATERS" EFFECT FORMER HOLLAND FOLKS

H. J. Derks and Peter Wierda, who with several other families left Holland and vicinity last year for the purpose of raising onions in the bottom lands of the Mississippi near Quincy, Ill., were numbered among the flood stricken sufferers who lost all their investments, with the exception of their furniture. They have returned to this city in search of employment. The men report their lands as well as that of the other Holland families are flooded with 10 feet of water and that the prospects for raising any crops this year have vanished. Most of the families have lost their barns and furniture and may lose their homes. The other families likely will return to Holland to begin life anew. Many of the families were taken from their homes in motorboats.

GRAND HAVEN HAS PAVED OWN STREETS 12 YEARS

According to the city clerk, K. T. Vandenbosch the city of Grand Haven has been paving its streets for the last 12 years with satisfactory results. The last bidding was done in 1921 on the state trunk line road on Fulton st., in which the city figures were way below others. As there has been no bidding since, it is thought the city council will be glad to ask bids for the six blocks paving job on Despelier as petitioned by the property owners there.

The robin is so far in the lead in the voting for Michigan State bird. Mrs. Edith Munger of Hart, president of the Michigan Audubon society, said last night that it seems impossible the choice should be changed. However, no final result will be announced until all ballots mailed on April 30 are received and counted. It is believed that the final announcement can be made today.

More than 165,000 votes have been received so far and the robin is more than 11,000 in the lead.

HOLLAND CHAPTER EASTERN STAR HOLD IMPRESSIVE INSTALLATION SERVICES

The Holland Chapter 429, O. E. S., held their installation of officers Tuesday evening in the chapter room at the Masonic Temple. The room was beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and primroses which gave it an atmosphere of Spring. One of the features of the installation was when a group of eleven little girls and one little boy gave a floral drill in which the points of the star were exemplified through flowers and emblems.

This drill was given under the direction of Mrs. E. W. Dick and proved a wonderful success.

Mrs. Jane Rooks, the newly installed matron, was the recipient of a beautiful corsage bouquet, presented by Miss Marion Dryden. Leonard Dick then presented the worthy patron, Mr. E. J. Leddick, with flowers.

Miss Marcia Bassett was the recipient of a beautiful lavallier gift from the Chapter. Mrs. E. W. Dryden making the presentation. Mrs. Anna Van Dreezer presented Mrs. Mae Allen with an unusual and most beautiful basket of lilies and roses as a remembrance from the chapter, for her able services as installing marshal.

Mrs. John S. Dykstra in her pleasing manner gave a resume of past achievement in the order during the year and welcomed Mrs. J. F. Dryden in the ranks of past matronship. Concluding Mrs. Dykstra presented her with the past matrons jewel.

Mr. Willard Cobb presented Mr. Martin with the jewel appropriate to his office as past patron.

Charles E. Bassett past patron of Bethel Chapter, Fennville, gave a few remarks regarding the beautiful work of the Order of Eastern Star.

Miss Georgia Atwood presented Mrs. Dryden with a very beautiful leather purse from her officers in appreciation of the very satisfactory year spent with her.

A pleasing feature of the program was a group of songs, the offering of Miss Helen Turner.

John Van Der Ploeg of the Shady Lawn Florists is due a great deal of praise for the decoration of the room and the chapter is very grateful to him; also to the Jas. A. Brower Co. for the furniture that helped make the evening a very charming one.

Several out of town guests attended the installation
