HollandChannel Case Presented

Plans for Municipal Dock Injected as Main Argument
For Extension of Harbor Project; One Protest
From Unidentified Man Is Debated

Col. Charles J. Taylor, U. S. war department district engineer at Milwaukee, Wis., after hearing testimony at a hearing on Wednesday in the city hall on the question of extending the present Holland harbor federal project to include the new Black river channel, stated that he was not permitted to give any advance indications as to the nature of his recommendations.

E. M. Nisen, principal engineer for the war department in Milwaukee, who accompanied Colonel Taylor to Holland, explained that Taylor's recommendations will be forwarded to the division engineer's office in Cleveland, O., thence to the chief of engineers, to the board of engineers and finally to the secretary of war who in turn will transmit it to congress for final action.

Holland's principal argument in favor of the extension of the project from the turning basin for a distance of approximately 2,600 feet was that it is now prepared to develop a municipal dock on the new channel. This statement was made by Mayor Henry Geerlings. The project extends in a north-easterly direction from the turning basin and calls for the widening of the channel to approximately 150 feet and a depth of 21 feet.

The only objection to the proposed project was made in a letter by an "A. B. Johnston, Holland, Mich." An unsuccessful attempt to identify the writer was made. City Assessor Peter H. Van Ark said no such person was listed on his taxrolls. City Clerk Oscar Peterson said no man by this name was listed in the 1940 city directory.

In his letter which Colonel Taylor read, "Johnston" contended that it "was folly for our government to take over an added annual expense for the special benefit of private interests."

He contended that the present channel is adequate to handle the water tonnage shipped into the harbor and that the saving between water rates and rail rates would not compensate for annual upkeep of the channel and charged that an inflated and abnormal tonnage had been shipped here in 1939 and 1940 to make a favorable showing in favor of city's request.

City Attorney Clarence A. Lokker questioned Leo Ebel of the Neitring City Coal dock about its tonnage last year and was informed that its coal tonnage was not abnormal as large amounts of coal are sold on contract but is stored on their property until shipment is made.

C. M. Selby of the Holland Furnace Co., testified that the company began receiving shipments of pig iron nine years ago and that the company's tonnage for 1940 was between 10,000 and 12,000 tons, the supply being depleted in April. He said the company was prevented from receiving larger shipments because of inadequate docking facilities.

Mayor Geerlings informed Taylor that he had contacted local businessmen, individuals and industrialists and found none of them opposed to the project.

Ald. Bruce Raymond who presented the city's brief to Taylor was questioned by Nisen about the probable cost of the proposed municipal dock. He said present options would cost the city approximately $16,000, that it would cost between $50 and $60 per front foot to sheet pile the property along the channel and that it would cost approximately $8,000 for a railroad extension. He was unable to give any cost in the construction of permanent buildings.

He predicted an increase of 50,000 tons annually if the project is approved and suitable docking facilities are made available. Raymond cited various local firms who had expressed desires to use the lake to receive and make shipments.

Ebel and Charles Vos, assistant public works superintendent, were questioned by Nisen about coal freight rates for self unloading boats. Unable to give exact figures, they were requested to send the information to Taylor.

Mrs. Helen R. Caldwell of Benton Harbor was official stenographer at the hearing which was scheduled by the district engineer in compliance with a resolution adopted Feb. 11 by the committee on rivers and harbors of the house of representatives.

Its purpose was to determine if extension of the existing federal project by the government is advisable at the present time.

Regarding the proposed municipal dock, Mayor Geerlings revealed that the city has contacted a number of potential users of the municipal dock and has received assurances of usage.

"Of course, the utility of a municipal dock depends upon its ability to accommodate modern marine traffic," he said. "Therefore, its development depends upon the granting of this request."

"The proposed municipal dock will be modern in every respect in that it would have railroad and trucking facilities. The city would then have a complete municipal dock equipped to serve as a transfer between rail, truck and water."

Mayor Geerlings said the city feels justified in urging extension of the harbor project because there has been a definite upward trend in the harbor tonnage. The record shows, he pointed out, that during the period from 1930 to 1935, the average tonnage was 31,868 tons and from 1936 to 1940, the average was 91,739 tons.

The 1940 tonnage amounted to 137,574 with 50,364 tons moving through the so-called Black river channel. The mayor contended this constitutes approximately 5 per cent of the total harbor tonnage for 1940.

"The city of Holland has made a diligent effort to secure honest and accurate testimony in support of this request," he wrote in his letter.

Mayor Geerlings advised the federal engineer that the city has acquired easements from various property owners along the channel, granting the right to the United States army engineers or their contractor to dispose of the dredging upon these properties, if found necessary by the engineers.

After describing the federal government's existing project in Holland harbor which includes maintaining the harbor entrance from Lake Michigan into Lake Macatawa and the present channel to the turning basin, the distance from the outer end of the channel to the wharves at Holland being 5.5 miles, Mayor Geerlings said:

"The necessity of the extension is due to the benefit of the public and general navigation and to serve several industries upon the east bank of the so-called Black river channel."

The mayor identified these industries as the municipal owned power plant of the board of public works, it being the largest through use of 13,000 tons of coal annually and the other being the Neitring City Coal dock whose tonnage last year was 32,910 tons of coal and 6,000 tons of gravel.

Mayor Geerlings pointed out that these two industries employ the services of modern lake steamers from 400 to 600 feet in length with a maximum tonnage of 12,000 tons. He contended that the difficulty arises when these boats endeavor to back out of the channel.

"Even under normal conditions, it is necessary to use shorelines and gradually work the ship out to a point where it can wind around in the basin. During heavy weather this is practically impossible under present conditions as the channel is not wide enough nor is there sufficient depth."

"Because of the shallow depth in the channel, heavily laden vessels must unload from forward hatches first and gradually work the vessel up the channel to a point where it can be completely unloaded."

To show its intentions of creating the municipal dock, the brief also included a resolution, adopted by council April 8, in which City Attorney Clarence A. Lokker was authorized to obtain necessary options from the Holland Furnace Co. and the Scott-Lugers Lumber Co. for the necessary property along the channel.

The option with the Holland Furnace Co. is of six months duration and calls for the purchase of 188.2 feet along the channel for $10,000. It provides that if the present owner receives a bona fide offer prior to Oct. 14, 1941, of not exceeding $10,000 the city will be given 10 days after notice from the Holland Furnace Co. to match the offer and that if the city declines to exercise its option within that period the owner will be free to dispose of the property to any other bona fide purchaser.

By provisions of the option and easement, the Holland Furnace Co. grants the city of Holland and the U. S. government the right to deposit the dredged materials from the channel on the property which the city proposes to purchase.

The option and easement with the Scott-Lugers Lumber Co. is similar except that it provides for the purchase of 118.3 feet along the channel for $6,300. It also permits the dumping of dredgings onto the property.

A copy of a letter from H. W. Boyd of the Armour Leather Co. is included in the report, the writer stating that the company stands ready to grant the city of Holland or the U. S. government an easement permitting the deposit of some of the materials on available land which the firm owns between the present channel and its sludge storage basins. Deposit can be placed to a depth of four feet on this land or a total of approximately 4,000 cubic yards, Mr. Boyd wrote. Accompanying his letter was a blueprint showing the location of the company's land.

Copies of letters from potential users of the proposed municipal dock also are added to the city's request for maintenance of the channel.

REVAMP FETE'S SCRUBBING DAY TO AVOID DELAY

Groups Will Start Street Ceremonies at Eighth and Columbia

Scrubbing and Dancing to Be Confined Again to Three Blocks

To prevent delays which occurred in past years, the opening day's street scrubbing spectacle, the folks parade and the wooden shoe dance have been completely revamped for the 1941 Tulip Time festival.

The scrubbing and dancing this year, as in the past except in 1940, will be confined to the three long blocks on Eighth St. between River and Columbia Aves. Last year's festival program included scrubbing on River Ave. between Eighth and 10th Sts. as well as on Eighth St.

The various groups this year will gather at Eighth St. and Columbia Ave. and start their performances from there, a distinct change from previous years when they formed on Eighth St., west of River Ave., moved east on Eighth St. to Columbia Ave. and marched back in the folks parade.

Starting at 2:30 p.m., the Holland American Legion band will form on Eighth St. just west of Columbia Ave., will march on Eighth St. and south on River Ave. and halt in front of the Banner bakery.

Behind the band will march Mayor Henry Geerlings and his 12 aldermen who will inspect the streets. The mayor and aldermen will halt at Eighth St. and River Ave. to supervise the scrubbing.

The various scrubbing units will follow the "city fathers" and take their assigned places along Eighth St. In order that all scrubbers may hear the various signals, the committee has arranged for the blowing of the "mocking bird" fire whistle, a single blast marking the beginning of the scrubbing.

Fifteen minutes later a second signal will be sounded to halt the scrubbing. At this point the Legion band will continue south on River Ave. to 12th St., followed by the mayor, aldermen and scrubbers. The parade will be disbanded at 12th St. and River Ave.

The Elementary School band will form in line opposite the National Biscuit Co. and will follow the scrubbers to Eighth St. and Columbia Ave. At the sound of the second signal, the band will march behind the scrubbers and will be followed by the Tiny Tots and flower girls.

The Zeeland High School band will line up between the National Biscuit Co. and the Louis Padnos place of business and will follow in line behind the flower girls. Behind this band will come the Woman's Literary club carriage, Kiwanis club bicycles and the Holland Furnace Co. entry.

The Christian High School band, which will form in line opposite the Padnos place of business, will be followed by the Rotary club wagon, Beechwood school cheese cradles, the Exchange club dog carts and other units of the parade.

The Holland high school band will lead the more than 200 klomp dancers to their places along Eighth St. The band will form opposite the Bos Tobacco and Candy Co. and behind it the dancers.

The school band has been instructed to halt on River Ave. opposite the Banner bakery while the wooden shoe dancers present their dance and then lead them to 12th St. and River Ave. Other parade units will march behind the girl dancers to bring the afternoon's program to an end.

Details of this year's street scrubbing and opening day's program worked out by a committee of which Mrs. Lloyd E. Heasley is chairman. Her co-workers are John De Wilde, who solicited manufacturers for entries; Andrew Klomparsens, who solicited service clubs and downtown merchants; Eugene F. Heeter, in charge of music; J. J. Riemersma, bureau president who is arranging the lineup of entries; Jacob Zuidema, in charge of buckets, brooms and scrubbing equipment; Mrs. Don Zwemer, in charge of the tiny tots division; and Mrs. Lloyd Reed who is aiding Mrs. Zwemer.

Head marshal will be Rex Chapman with Fred Weiss, Bernard De Free, Clarence Klaasen, John Swets, Raymond Holwerda and Hero Bratt as assistant marshals.

Requests No Dumping
of Debris in Streets

Pointing out that "clean up" week in Holland has come to a close, City Engineer Jacob Zuidema has requested local citizens not to dump trash or rakings from lawns into the street.

Mr. Zuidema said the department does not have time to carry away the debris and that rain washes it into drains and catch basins. Council recently set aside one week for "clean up" week in which the city trucks were used to haul away this debris.

ACCIDENT TOLL REACHES TWO

Third Victim in Crash at Marne Is Reported
as Critical

Grand Haven, May 8.—The death toll in the head-on crash of an automobile and a truck on U.S. 16, one-half mile east of Marne, reached two with the death Wednesday night in Butterworth hospital.

Mrs. Nellie Hollibaugh, wife of Andrew J. Hollibaugh, 66, Grand Rapids, died Tuesday afternoon following the accident. Mrs. Hollibaugh and her sister, Mrs. Mary Madole of Ludington, who is still in a critical condition in the Grand Rapids hospital, were riding with Hollibaugh when his car collided with a truck driven by Walter Bernheisel, 43, of Hartford.

Hollibaugh's car crashed into a truck driven by Walter Bernheisel, 43, of Hartford, who escaped injuries.

Sheriff William Boeve of Ottawa county investigated. Boeve said Hollibaugh's car apparently left the pavement after going out of control and struck the truck head on after he attempted to right it on returning to the highway.

Neighbors said the trio left for a fishing trip early Tuesday. Hollibaugh, a carpenter, had been recently employed in Battle Creek.

Double funeral services for Mr. and Mrs. Hollibaugh will be held Friday at 2 p.m. from the Kammeraad funeral home in Coopersville, with burial in the cemetery at Grandville. The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Hollibaugh will remain at the funeral home until the funeral hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollibaugh moved to Grand Rapids about 15 years ago from Howard City.

ZEELAND WOMAN IS HELD FOR FORGERY

Mrs. Rosanna Saeger, 31, 47 Taft Ave., Zeeland, is at liberty on her own recognizance pending arraignment in Ottawa circuit court Saturday on a forgery charge.

Arraigned Tuesday afternoon before Municipal Judge Raymond L. Smith, she waived examination. Local police charged that on Jan. 25, she took a pocketbook, containing $165, from the Modern Hat shop, 28 East Eighth St.

On Feb. 3, it is alleged she cashed a $35 check at the Zeeland State bank by forging the name of Gertrude Wabeke, manager of the shop. The check was part of the money in the pocketbook.

S.A. Leaves Berth for Drydock at Manitowoc

Clearing Holland harbor at 7:40 p.m. Tuesday, the S. S. South American, lake excursion ship of the Georgian Bay lines, sailed from its Montello park dock for Manitowoc, Wis., to enter drydock for repairs.

She pulled away from her winter berth at 7:05 p.m. and is scheduled to return to Holland harbor sometime Sunday. She will make a cruise during Tulip Time festival under charter of the Holland Furnace Co.

While Holland speeded preparations for its Tulip Time festival, three messengers went to Detroit on May 1 and at Detroit's city hall presented Acting Mayor John W. Smith a gift of tulips and an invitation from Mayor Henry Geerlings to visit Tulip Time May 17-21. The three attractive tulip bearers were Marthene Van Dyke, Barbara Folensabee and Margaret Bilkert. They were driven to Detroit by Henry Streuer.

Chief Blom Gives Report on Fire Losses in City

Damage Totals Nearly Ten Thousand Dollars in Past Year

Holland's fire losses from April 1, 1940, through March 31, 1941, amounted to $9,835. Fire Chief Cornelius Blom, Jr., revealed in his annual report to the police and fire board Monday afternoon.

His report showed there were 72 alarms, 17 outside calls, 15 still alarms, six false alarms, eight grass fires and four auto fires.

Amount of property endangered for the year totaled $413,000 and insurance on the property endangered was $303,000.

Fire losses for 1940 were $2,250, $43,475 in 1939, $4,700 in 1938 and $8,040 in 1937.

Total amount of hose the fire department has is 5,650 feet. He pointed out that the department had 6,550 feet of fire hose last year with a loss during the year of 900 feet by deterioration. He reported that 3,100 feet of hose is over 16 years old.

"Our appropriation for the purchase of fire hose has been curtailed during the past several years and we have not replaced our old hose as fast as it went out of service. I believe we are in great need of an additional 2,000 feet and therefore recommend the purchase of 2,000 feet of 2.5 inch fire hose as soon as possible," he reported.

The board members gave consideration to the fire chief's request but Blom said the entire 2,000 feet would not be required at the present time. He estimated the cost at $1.05 per foot.

No action was taken, although it was brought out that $300 had been appropriated in this year's budget to purchase new hose.

Chief Blom also submitted a blueprint on the proposed alterations for the No. 1 fire engine.

COLUMBIA AVE. ROUTE OKAYED

Through Street Approved
by Council; Provides
Four-Way Stop

Columbia Ave. between Eighth and 22nd Sts., with a four-way stop at 16th St. and Columbia Ave., will become a through street by action taken Wednesday night by common council.

Mayor Henry Geerlings suggested it should be given a tryout because of heavy traffic. The police and fire board submitted a recommendation to make it a through street at the mayor's suggestion Monday.

The motion was made by Ald. Bruce Raymond and seconded by Ald. John Menken.

Ald. Cornelius Kalkman, Sr., sought to present a motion to make Eighth St., west from River Ave., Lake St. to Van Raalte Ave. to 17th St. a through street but Mayor Geerlings ruled him "out of order" because of the motion of the floor.

"I get ruled out of order every time. It's too bad, I ain't a professor," he shouted, then sat down with a "thank you."

While the mayor gavelled for order, Kalkman argued that more accidents occurred along Eighth St., Lake St., and Van Raalte Ave. than on Columbia Ave.

"We are here to work for the public's safety, aren't we?" he asked.

It is the belief of the committee that a number of interesting costumes are owned by residents of the community, and any who own such or know of neighbors or friends who have such costumes in their possession, are asked to get in touch with Mr. Wichers, telephone 3227, or other members of the committee, including Mesdames Sidney Tiesinga, Charles Van Duren, Clyde Geerlings, F. E. De Weese, John K. Winter and Miss Lavina Cappon.

MEMBERSHIP ON TWO BOARDS OF CITY CUT TO SIX

Harbor, Playground Units
Reduced at Council's Charter Meet

Three New Men Placed on
One Board; All Others
Reappointed

Deciding that the present membership of the harbor board and the playground commission was too large, common council at its annual charter meeting Monday night voted to reduce these two agencies to six members each.

The harbor board formerly was composed of seven men while eight men comprised the playground commission. Other than making these changes and naming three new members to harbor board, council retained all appointive officers.

The new members chosen for the harbor board are Henry Boersma of the Holland Furnace Co., Joe Kramer of the Hart & Cooley Manufacturing Co. and Dr. Bruce Raymond, sixth ward alderman. Those reappointed to the board were Harry Harrington, Jacob Lieveens and Bernard Arendshorst, first ward alderman.

Playground commission members, all reappointed, are George Damsen, fifth ward alderman, City Engineer Jacob Zuidema, Assistant Engineer Louis Dalman, Andrew Klomparsens of the board of public works, Raymond and William Vande Water. Two representatives from the board of education complete the commission's membership.

Retiring members of the harbor board are Andrew Klomparsens, Andrew Hyma, Ernest C. Brooks and Henry Vander Schel. Those who failed to receive reappointment to the playground commission were Andrew Hyma, William C. Vandenberg and Harry Koop.

Henry Looman who has been serving as acting building inspector since the new building ordinance became effective a few months ago was appointed building inspector for a one-year term.

Officers who were reappointed without opposition, thus eliminating any vote by ballot, follow: City engineer, Jacob Zuidema; president pro tem of council, Ald. Ben Steffens; city inspector and contact man, Ben Wiersema; park and cemetery board member, Gilbert Vande Water; library board, Mayor Henry Geerlings; associate library board members, Mrs. W. M. Tappan and Mrs. O. S. Cross; health board, Dr. R. H. Nichols; hospital board, Charles Kirchen; board of appeals, R. W. Everett.

Mayor Geerlings proposed a five-man harbor board but council increased it to six members to include Raymond because of his extensive work in preparing the city's brief which will be presented at Wednesday's harbor hearing. Zuidema was assistant city engineer from 1910 to 1917 when he was named city engineer. A post he has held in the intervening years. Steffens was appointed president pro tem for the first time in 1940.

Wiersema has been serving as city inspector and contact man since 1936. Dr. Nichols was first appointed to the health board in 1929.

In accepting the annual salary ordinance, the aldermen made one change in the salaries. City Attorney Clarence A. Lokker was granted a $200 raise per year from $1,200 to $1,400. The ordinance, accepted on motion of Steffens and seconded by Menken, became effective May 1.

Ald. Frank Smith brought up the matter of permitting buildings of concrete blocks for a building on Seventh St., west of River Ave. Zuidema pointed out the building met with requirements of the building ordinance.

Raymond proposed that the board of appeals work in conjunction with the idea of submitting amendments to the building ordinance at a later date.

Ald. Henry Ketel requested the playground commission to investigate the matter of providing a backdrop for the playground at 13th St. and Maple Ave. Damsen reported this playground was not within the commission's jurisdiction as it is maintained by the St. Frances de Sales Catholic church.

Lokker, upon motion of Smith, was authorized "to take necessary steps" to bring about the removal of a building owned by William Modders, 187 West 18th St. Council on a previous occasion had ordered removal of this building. The city attorney also was asked to write the Boer Transfer Co., 485 Washington Ave., about an unsightly appearance of trucks on their property.

Freighter Brings Cargo of Scrap Iron to City

TELLS LIONS OF MONITOR WORK

An interesting and informative speech by L. A. Newcomb was heard by members of the Lions club at their regular meeting in the Warm Friend tavern Tuesday noon. Mr. Newcomb, of the federal communications commission, told of the work being done at the monitoring station at Dunnsville, where he is employed.

The chief work of this station, he said, is to check up on all broadcasting stations, making certain that none interferes with another. The station at this time acts only in an advisory capacity, advising different stations to use more or less power in case of interference.

Among specific cases which the government recently has had to regulate, Mr. Newcomb said, was that of a young man who has been asking for army secrets by radio, even making threats in the event this information would not be received. The monitoring station located the young man, finding he was quite harmless.

Before the speech, Burt Post was presented with a key in appreciation of the work he has done in the club.

John Bacheller and Nelson Van Koeveing of Zeeland were introduced as guests, and John Wilson, a new member, was introduced.

MOVE TO MAKE COLUMBIA AVE. THROUGH ROUTE

Recommendation Sent to Common Council by Local Board

Upon request of Mayor Henry Geerlings, the police and fire board voted Monday afternoon to recommend to common council that Columbia Ave. from Eighth to 22nd Sts. be made a through street "on a trial basis."

The board's recommendation includes a "stop" at 16th St. and Columbia Ave. for the benefit of east and westbound traffic on 16th St.

Pointing out that the change had been requested by Baker Furniture, Inc., and the Holland Furniture Co., Mayor Geerlings said the plan should be given a trial. Commissioner James Borr pointed out that the board will be put to considerable expense because it will be necessary to purchase stop signs for the various intersections.

Commissioner Herman Prins, supported by Commissioner William H. Deur, moved that such a recommendation for a through street be made to common council. The mayor reported he had conferred with council's public safety committee and that its members were in favor of the move.

After Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff had reported that various physicians and out-of-town cars were abusing the privilege of overtime parking in restricted districts, the board voted to discontinue the practice of issuing courtesy tickets, upon motion of Fred Kamferbeek.

The police chief said some doctors continue to park cars downtown for several hours and that out-of-town cars remained parked all day without being moved. Deur said some doctors parked on city streets and walked to their offices. The board first considered requesting Van Hoff to contact the doctors, then discussed having the committee on traffic and parking consider the matter before taking final action to discontinue the privileges granted the doctors and the issuance of courtesy tickets to visitors.

Chairman John Donnelly said he was opposed to granting any special privileges, pointing out that the police department and the board several years ago refused to grant a special parking space to Ben Mulder, former Holland City News editor, who "did much to advertise Holland by his writings."

Purchase of two revolvers for the Holland police department was authorized by the board after Chief Van Hoff reported that the new police officer, Gilbert Tors, was without a gun. He reported the department could use a second gun.

Fire Chief Cornelius Blom was given permission to employ two additional firemen to be on duty during the two Saturdays, Sunday and Wednesday of Tulip Time week at the two engine houses.

The board voted to recommend to council that a flood light be installed on the dock at Kollen park on suggestion of Chief Van Hoff.

The matter of providing a three-gallon acid fire extinguisher to be carried in the police cruiser was referred to Chief Blom after he reported he thought the department had an adequate use for one. It is the plan to carry this extinguisher in the rear of the police cruiser, replacing a smaller extinguisher.

Chief Van Hoff was authorized to buy an $8 spotlight for the new police cruiser.

Upon request of Deur, City Clerk Oscar Peterson was requested to write to the Mine Safety Co. of Pittsburgh, Pa., regarding prices on smoke masks for fire departments.

The oaths of office of Police Officer Gilbert Tors and Extra Police Officer Dennis B. Ende were accepted and filed.

WHO CAN BE SURE?

A sincere and deeply troubled Michigan newspaper asks how those who oppose American entry into the war can be sure that they are right? How do they know, the paper asks, what is going to happen? How can they guarantee that our staying out will not result in disaster for us? The paper is not making an argument, it is earnestly asking for light.

Answering in the same spirit of tolerant earnestness, there is no one who can honestly pretend to be sure. Those who want America to stay out of the war are not offering a blueprint of security.
The are expressing a faith that the danger of that position is smaller than of its opposite. When such a thoughtful citizen as President Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago warns against American entry he does not promise that all will be well if America follows his advice; he expresses the conviction that the chances for disaster are smaller in following that course than in adopting its opposite.

Still in the spirit of sweet reasonableness and tolerance, a question that is fair for those to ask who want us to enter the war is also fair for the other side to ask.
Are the people who are hot for our entering the war sure that what they are going to happen? How can they guarantee that our going in will not result in disaster for us?

Not only is it fair to ask these questions of them; the burden of answering them is upon those who would stay out. For those who would enter the war are demanding that the United States shall make a face-about in national and foreign policy. When anybody makes such a demand it is obviously up to him to prove that he is right or is likely to be right; until he has done so the people who would continue America's traditional policy can merely sit still.

But it is a strange thing that,
for the most part, the firebrands —men like Secretary Ickes and women like Freda Kirchway of "The Nation"—assume that the other side must furnish proof, that they of the war party can merely rest on the assumption that what they advocate has already been proved. How do they know that Britain will not be utterly defeated even with American help? We all pray God she will not be; but how do they know she will not be?
And if she is, where will America be when it has sent the ships and planes and guns and ammunition needed for hemisphere defense to the other side of the ocean—perhaps to be used against us?

People who urge such fears are openly or by implication labeled "unpatriotic." But may that term not be applied with equal justice to the other side? Neither side is unpatriotic. Neither side can in the nature of things be sure. The advocates of each side should have the right to advance their own views without being called names.

THE CHURCH INVITES YOU

The Survival of the Sabbath
The carpenter was not created for his saw, hammer, and chisel,
but these tools were made for him.
The blacksmith was not created for the anvil, the forge, and the flame, but these things were made for his use. The carpenter and the blacksmith must obey the laws of their tools or be failures. The carpenter is lord of his tools. The blacksmith is master of his tools.
Jesus disenthralled the Jewish Sabbath, and we today celebrate the Lord's Day. The day of resurrection, triumph and exaltation.
The centuries have been full of storms, controversies, revolutions, in which we heard the falling of dynasties, thrones and kingdoms, saw the change of customs, opinions and philosophies, but the observance of the holy Sabbath still survives.

Why not accept the invitation to go to church next Sunday?

'Sunday School Lesson

May 11, 1931

Responsibility of the Home
Regarding Beverage
Alcohol
Deut. 6:4-7; Jer. 35:5-10

By Henry Geerlings

The obligation of parents to give proper instruction to their children is commanded in the first part of our lesson. And that means not a casual service, a hit-and-miss proposition, just a mere accident, but according to a set program.

The teaching is to be both by precept and example. It is of little use to teach by precept unless the example accompany it.

One of the greatest needs of this day is the instruction for parents, to enable them to know how to teach their children. Some parents make religion unpopular both by teaching and example. A nagging parent gets nowhere in the instruction he gives.

We are to train up a child in the way he should go so that when he is old he will not depart from it.
Who is going to do this training?
Much of it is left to the Bible school teacher and to the public school teacher. This may be good but there is no teaching that can be more effective than the good teaching of a respected parent.

The home is the basic institution in human society, and it determines to no small degree what all the others will be. But it is being threatened at the present time from two sources, first, by the enemies of the home, and second, by those who would relieve it of most of its functions by placing its responsibility elsewhere. Both of these forces come into the picture as we study this lesson, though it is the latter which is the more important for our immediate purpose.

It is no longer that children spend most of their time at home.
There are so many outside agencies and institutions that have taken under their care for a considerable part of the time. Through the conveniences made possible by present-day modes of travel children can be transported almost any distance for recreation, education, culture, special training and the like.

Still we are compelled to believe that the home has not surrendered its functions in the training of the children. If their more formal education takes place elsewhere, their motives and standards and ideals and convictions are formed to a very considerable extent within the family circle. With this thought in mind we are to consider what the attitude of our homes today is, and what it shall be in the homes of tomorrow in respect to one great modern issue.

There are many ways, some direct and some indirect, by which growing children may be encouraged to form habits of temperance and abstinence so wholesome that the temptations of society toward drinking will not change them.

First, present religion intelligently and with living experience.
If a child thinks of God as a moral being, who has the right standards for life and with whom one may have intimate fellowship in the process of trying to measure up to those standards, then he has a resource which will help him determine whether to drink or not.
A sharpened moral understanding which enables one to estimate the values and losses which are likely to be the result of an action is one of the best assets the home
may give to its heirs.

Second, it is possible to discuss alcohol scientifically. Alcohol is a narcotic. It affects the nervous system. The nervous system has three functions vital to life, the spontaneous activities of the body,
such as the beating of the heart,
the secretion of glands, and the breathing through the lungs; the habitualized function, or those activities which once learned become almost involuntary—washing, eating, walking; the creative function, thinking, weighing the consequences, conscious choice of a definite course. Alcohol in any quantity disturbs all three of these functions.

Third, we ought to develop in children and young people the ability to evaluate the effects of alcohol in the light of social experience. A famous physician, who has treated many alcoholics, makes this statement, "Many things could be said for moderate drinking; for the power of alcohol to make life in our high-tensioned world more tolerable, more pleasant or more exciting. Used discreetly, alcohol is undoubtedly a valuable social lubricant. For many people its moderate use unlocks the door to a more inner vivid life. The art of conversation would not have flourished so luxuriantly without it. It has been the fairly godmother which hovered over the cradle of many a literary masterpiece." But when we explore history and investigate modern society we soon discover that this purple eulogy is not true. A careful study of the matter will prove that this and similar flights of popular fiction about the virtues of alcohol are myths.

Aided by a single $100,000 building permit and 10 applications for new homes during April, value of building permits in Holland for 1941 are within $197,029.75 of the 1940 record of $450,208 with eight months remaining in the current year.

Unofficial figures compiled at the office of City Clerk Oscar Peterson list the total value of the permits for the first four months of 1941 at $252,178.25.

Their value for April alone was $151,877.75. Not including the $100,000 application, their value was larger in comparison with other months of this year. More applications were filed last month than in any other month and the number of new homes also was greater.

Amount of money to be spent on building activities in Holland have soared above the marks for the same period of the past two years. The total figure is $59,458.25 greater than the $193,720 up to April 30, 1940, and is $121,311.25 in excess of $131,867 for the first four months of 1939.

The past month's total also is in excess of April for 1940 and 1939. It is greater by $91,627.75 than the April (1940) total of $60,250 and is $133,520.75 in excess of the $18,357 total for April, 1939.

Total number of applications filed last month was 59, forty-nine applications were filed in April, 1940.

The 10 new homes with a total value of $36,900 brings the year's total to 26. This is one less than had been applied for up to May 1, 1940.

The $100,000 permit was filed by the General Synod of the Reformed Church in America and the board of trustees of Hope college in connection with the college's contemplated construction of a new science building on the campus.

Seven of the 10 applications for new homes also called for construction of new garages at a cost of $1,450. There were four other applications for new garages to cost $820, one application to enlarge a garage for $75 and another to rebuild a garage for $125.

Hope College Forensic Society Hears Editor

Archie E. McCrea, editor of the Muskegon Chronicle and popular speaker, addressed the Hope college chapter of Pi Kappa Delta at their annual banquet at the Anchor Inn Wednesday night. Speaking on the subject "What Price Democracy," Mr. McCrea emphasized that it is "only through men of faith that we can hope to continue the American experiment of democracy and liberty."

Abraham Lincoln, he pointed out, least of all wanted to be a war president but even when the country was torn by civil strife he looked beyond the present and said that "This is essentially a people's struggle." The issue ever since our government was formed has been whether or not a nation of free men could endure.

When our constitution was formed we had no precedent of any nation which had been a successful democracy. Our Bill of Rights was especially designed to secure to men those rights the violation of which had been weaknesses in other experiments of this kind, he explained.

We have taken democracy for granted for so long that its only in the past five or six years that we have learned what democracy really means. Democracy presupposes the sportsmanship that causes people to submit to the will of majority rule, to play according to the rules, the speaker stated.

The essence of history shows that the old adage, "What a man sows, that shall he also reap," is true, he continued. The seeds we sow now will determine the future of our American government. If the majority impose an unjust will on the minority, chaos will result and dictatorship will arise as a matter of necessity. But if we sow seed of faith and fair play, of honor and courage, if we abide by the rules in the race of life, then the future of our country is safe.

Democracy is a matter of men. God give us men, young men and young women who will frame a bright future for our liberty, he concluded.

Mary Ruth Jacobs retiring president, opened the meeting. Following installation of officers, John Westhof introduced the speaker.

WILL ASK USE OF RESTROOMS

C. of C. Seeks Aid From City's Schools and Churches

In an effort to solve the restroom problem during the Tulip Time festival, members of the retail merchants division of the Holland Chamber of Commerce at a meeting Tuesday night authorized the chamber's secretary-manager to request all schools and churches of Holland to make available their restrooms to the public on the two Saturdays of festival week.

It was pointed out that such arrangements had been made in other cities to care for overflow crowds. Adequate restroom facilities have been a problem in Holland.

The merchants went on record as favoring a Fourth of July celebration in this community, similar to the one which was held last year. The program is planned for the entertainment of guests and tourists with a fireworks display to conclude the entertainment. A committee composed of Dick Boer, W. A. Butler and Cornelius Dornbos was appointed to contact the Macatawa Bay Yacht club which is planning a celebration at its clubhouse with boat races and other events.

The merchants also voted to join the state-wide observance of "Know Your Michigan" week.

PATENT GIVEN ON NEW ADJUSTMENT

M. Everett Dick and Eldon W. Dick of the Buss Machine works, manufacturers of ball bearing, high speed wood working machinery, have received patent papers from Washington D. C., for a wood planer pressure shoe adjuster.

M. Everett Dick is president and manager of the firm, located at 201 West Eighth St. and Eldon W. Dick is secretary treasurer and assistant manager.

The invention is an adjusting wedge that maintains alignment and rigidity for cabinet planer pressure bars. Pressure bar adjustment has been somewhat complicated by the fact that different conditions of stock demand different adjustments. Prior to development of this new device, adjustment was vested solely in two elevating screws at each end of the pressure bar.

Thus after repeated uncalibrated adjustments, one end at a time, the pressure bar tended to lose parallelism with the planer bed. With this new invention, finger wheels, elevating screws and coiled tension springs are retained while the adjustment gives instant, self-locking adjustments upward on the bar to a maximum of 1/15,000ths of an inch and still maintains the exact parallelism.

Dry-fly or wet-fly, trolling, bait-casting or still-fishing—whatever kind of fishing you favor, there's sport for you in the streams and lakes of Michigan.

THERE'S A BIG ONE CALLING YOU!

The fighting fish of Michigan are waiting hungrily for their annual tussle at the other end of your line. With five thousand miles of rivers and streams where brook trout, browns and rainbows are jumping—five thousand inland lakes, teeming with bass, lake trout, pike, walleyes and "muskie"—is it any wonder that Michigan tops every other state in the number of fishing licenses?

In the past year, millions of fish, many of them of legal size, have been placed in Michigan waters by the state hatcheries and feeding ponds. A splendid system of state highways leads to the lakes and rivers and the deep-water fishing grounds, offshore. And all Michigan is dotted with hotels and camps for the comfort of anglers. Telephone ahead for reservations, boats, guides or information. Then pack up your tackle and go where the fish are calling!

Professor, in Talk Here, Favors U. S. Intervention

McDowell Expects British to Dominate Clash in Iraq

"I am definitely in favor of American intervention in this war," Dr. Robert H. McDowell, professor of Near Eastern history at the University of Michigan, said Monday in addressing the regular meeting of the Holland Exchange club.

He reviewed the international situation today, without enlarging on his interventionist views. Mr. McDowell pointed out that Germany had two aims in the Balkans prior to her recent campaign: To prevent the British from establishing a bridgehead there and to exploit the Balkans as a source of vital war materials.

The oil of Rumania, the animal fats and meats raised in all the Balkan countries, and the metals produced in Yugoslavia were the economic resources that Germany was after, he said. "Germany did not wish to campaign in the Balkans, but rather hoped to control them through fifth column activity," he stated.

Because she felt forced to fight in the Balkans, Germany lost the communications and transport systems in these countries which might have gotten her raw materials into Germany, and during the period that planting should have been going on, the peoples of these countries have been mobilized. Thus agriculture will produce little in these countries this year.

What Germany gained by her campaign were the following: More prestige for German arms, affecting British aid from this country, bases in Greece for attack on Turkey and on the British naval bases in the Mediterranean as well as attacks on Suez, and the postponement of Italian collapse through and artificial Italian victory in Greece.

Britain was interested in keeping the Balkans neutral until the time when Britain could arm the large potential manpower there with modern military equipment, and she lost this possibility through the campaign. What she gained was added experience against Nazi military machinery. She proved that her men could fight the Germans successfully, for there was never a breakthrough through their British lines during the Balkan campaign.

Mr. McDowell gave the opinion that the present Iraqi fighting is a temporary thing, and that the British will continue to dominate the situation there. He pointed out that the British force in Iraq is sufficiently large to destroy the Mosul oil fields in event of a German offensive and that the campaign would be of no material use to Germany if she did not gain the oil.

With regard to Turkey he stated that he thought that they would fight, and that the Turkish army would hold for several weeks at the Dardanelles, and that it would then be forced to retreat to the mountains in eastern Turkey, where they could hold out indefinitely due to the excellent system of communications in that part of the country. In closing, he emphasized that there is a great possibility that Suez will fall, but that control of Suez would not give Germany an added hope for victory.

Following his formal talk, he answered questions, at which time he enlarged on his interventionist views.

Music at the meeting was by the Hope college girls' sextette, composed of Marjorie Brouwer, Dorothy Wichers, Mary Jane Raffensaud, Ellen Jane Koolker, Maxine Den Herder and Marilyn Van Dyke. They were accompanied by Mrs. W. Curtis Snow.

Grant Her, district Exchange club head, addressed the club briefly following the dinner. Guests at the meeting were Ralph Zoot, Harold Scholten, James Zwier, E.E. Fell, Jerry Breen, Malcolm Mackay, Carl Van Lente, Dr. W. M. Tappan, D. P. Schrier and George Albers.

PTA Hears Talk on Family Problems

Mrs. Howard T. Bigelow of Kalamazoo, authority in the field of family problems, addressed the Washington school Parent-Teacher association Tuesday night in the school, at the final meeting of the year. She chose as her subject the needs of young children for parental authority, and discussed the place of the parents in the development of the child.

The speaker emphasized particularly to keep in mind that learning is a continuing process, and that what a child learns during his growing years will determine what his adult reactions will be to the situations that confront him in later life. The responsibility of the parent to the child, Mrs. Bigelow stated, lies mainly in the moulding of his character by exercising a selective function in choosing types of amusement apt to prove continuously desirable and useful in later life; to help him to follow the standards of his own particular group; and to stand between a child and his environment so that disappointment or success may not result in undesirable stresses and strains.

Mrs. Bigelow suggested that children be given practices in whatever the family may do as a whole so that by the time he is an adult he will have formed a habit pattern of family thinking which will serve him best in later life. A further responsibility of the parent was to provide the child with the opportunity of meeting large groups of suitable friends and companions of his own age, among whom he is apt to marry.

The objectives of this parental responsibility, Mrs. Bigelow asserted, were to train children to be successful in their own later adult family life by giving them skills, and teaching them how to work, how to handle money, and by giving them a sane attitude toward marriage.

Mrs. Kenneth De Pree, president of the organization, presided. The Rev. Arthur Barnhart of Grace Episcopal church led the devotions. A nominating committee composed of Charles Van Zyl, Mrs. Albert Van Zoeren and Miss Blanche Cathcart presented a slate of candidates for election to the various offices of the organization.

Mrs. De Pree was reelected president; J. Marcus, vice-president (reelected); Mrs. Theodore Carter, secretary; Burt Post, treasurer (reelected). Appointed by the president were Mrs. Miles Baskett, mother representative; Mrs. Harold Tanis, and Mrs. John Dwyer, membership committee; Mrs. Ted Du Mez and Mrs. W. Aldrich, home room representatives; Miss Gertrude Sprietsma, teacher representative; and Marvin De Vries, publicity.

Refreshments were served by a committee of room mothers including Mrs. John Dwyer, chairman, Mesdames Cecil Van Duren, H. Tanis and C. Knoll.

TOP HONORS TO HOLLAND CLUB

The Holland Rifle club not only won the winter championships of the Central Michigan Rifle and Pistol association but also carried away top honors at the special playoff shoot in East Lansing Saturday night.

The local representatives were Russell Kleis, Al De Vries, Frank Smit, Louis Van Ingen, Russell Dyke, Don Prins and Jarvis Ter Haar.

In the winter championship shoots, the Holland club chalked up a perfect record of 14 victories and no defeats. The 14-week tournament was finished this week and was climaxed by the special shoot.

Principal reason for the success of the Holland team was the shooting of three members of the Prins family, Herman, the father, and his two sons, Don and Herman, Jr.

The Pontiac Rifle and Revolver club was second and the Shilawa-see Gun club third. Fifteen teams competed.

The league matches were conducted by mail. Each week 450 or more individual targets were fired at by the members of the 15 teams. In addition to his work as statistician, Spangler was the leading shooter on the Flint team.

When the league was organized in 1934 by Jack Weaver, of Flint, only six teams were entered. This year's total of 15 was the greatest number to compete since that time.

TRACTOR TIME AT BOWMASTER

The B. H. Bowmaster Co. at 28 West Seventh St. has been serving the public for 22 years with high quality farm and garden tools, hardware and fencing at attractive prices.

Mr. and Mrs. George De Vries, the present owners, offer their store as headquarters for Holland residents as well as farmers.

And now it's tractor time at the Bowmaster store. Featured at the store are the Ford tractors and the Oliver orchard and grove tractor. With the new Ferguson system of linkage and hydraulic control of the implements, the Ford tractor will pull 20-24 inch bottoms in average conditions. It plows on steep hills with a greater degree of safety and it does not pack the land the way heavier tractors do.

The Oliver tractor is economical to use in orchard or grove work. Because of its low streamlines, it is easy to cut close under the trees, cultivating, mowing or discing all the surface that the tools will reach.

The firm's list of merchandise is varied and long.

The service department includes a man who erects fences and services machinery and tractors. Rebuilt farm tools and repair parts for farm tools also are sold.

Mannes Super Service to Celebrate Anniversary

The successful operation of two years in business will be celebrated Saturday, May 10, by Mannes Super Service, 581 State St. on M-40, Glenn Mannes, owner and operator, announced today.

As a token of appreciation for the patronage which has kept the service station bustling, Mr. Mannes will give a pound of chocolate with each purchase of $1 or more on the day of the second anniversary celebration.

Mannes Super Service, one of Holland's finest and most modern stations, was erected two years ago on the old Vander Werf site.

The station is of concrete construction, with living quarters on the second floor, and has added to the beautification of the business section at State and 24th Sts.

The station is complete with modern servicing equipment and has almost anything a motorist needs, including the well-known Texaco products. Along with the gas and oil business, Mr. Mannes handles a complete line of batteries and tires. He has all the facilities for washing and polishing cars and always has a fine selection of used cars on hand.

There will be many special features during the anniversary celebration.

Mr. Mannes and his force which consists of John W. Schaap and Jay Tinkholt said they hoped that "the motoring public will come in and help them with the celebration."

They will all be there to greet old and new friends and acquaintances with the station's top-line products and efficient service.

FOOD AT TULIP CAFE IS GOOD

High standards of food and service are credited for the success of the Tulip cafe, located at 59 East Eighth St. This cafe, one of the nicest and most modern restaurants in Holland, is operated by Miss Nelvina Wiersema. From the time she first went into business three years ago she has had one definite policy: Good food at the most reasonable prices. Through this policy, Miss Wiersema has built her business to the point where it is a by-word of those persons who believe in getting good food at reasonable cost.

The Tulip cafe has a large following of Hope college students. The cafe's location near the campus has little to do with it. Rather, the restaurant's popularity with the students is traced to the quality of the food and the fact that Miss Wiersema employs from six to eight students during the school year.

The good food of the cafe is produced by "home cooking," even down to the baking of the pastries — and that is reason enough for any man's stomach.

Holland folk will make no mistake in going to the Tulip cafe when they want plenty of good food that is inexpensive.

KNOWN BY HER CHARITY WORK

Zeeland, May 8 (Special)—Because of her continuous charity work in Zeeland, Mrs. Nellie Van Bree is better known to her friends and associates as "Mother" Van Bree.

It has become a matter of course for residents of Zeeland and vicinity to seek her aid when in need of assistance. Because she spends so much time aiding the indigent and those in distress, Mrs. Van Bree finds little time to care for her own household.

Mrs. Van Bree became active in charitable work in the early years of the depression, two years before any government agency entered into the picture. She was working in the American Legion clubrooms in the old Zeeland city hall and heard a person muttering that something must be done.

She accosted the person and to her surprise found a Legionnaire trying to figure out how to get clothing, blankets, food and other household needs to a destitute family.

"Mother" Van Bree got busy on the telephone and evoked a generous response that forced her and several other members of the auxiliary to work until 3 a.m. the following day, packing and sorting. The articles of clothing were delivered.

This was the beginning of the welfare work of the auxiliary. From that time to the present Mrs. Van Bree has been in charge and has been chairman of its committee. She has aided in social work ever since that time. She organized the "soup" brigade. Mrs. Van Bree knew many indigent children coming to school without sufficient meals. She, with her group, obtained permission to serve soup to them. Merchants aided by donating various articles that could be used. For two years 75 children daily were given soup.

"Mother" Van Bree has been an aid to the government agencies, sorting "chairs" from the needy. Her advice has been sought by social workers assigned to Zeeland.

Mrs. Van Bree also scored where the professional social worker sometimes found it difficult. She was not bound by regulations. Working by free-lance method she was able to fill most requests.

Mrs. Van Bree, although born a Hoosier, has acquired many Dutch ideals during her half century lifetime here. One thing she has acquired is thrift and she will not allow waste among clients. She is active in civic affairs and is a charter member of the American Legion auxiliary. She also has served as president and vice-president. She is chairman of the committee of community service, organized in 1931. She is a charter member of the Zeeland Literary club and Garden club. She was a member of the first group of citizens organized for charity and needy work in Zeeland known as the Goodwill society.

Mrs. Van Bree also is a member of Second Reformed church and is active in its Ladies Aid.

Warning by Will Rogers About Europe Is Recalled

In a speech in the house of representatives, Paul W. Shafer, a congressman from Michigan, quoted the late Will Rogers in which the noted humorist at one time warned against involvement in Europe's affairs.

Shafer quoted Rogers as follows, according to the April 23 issue of the Congressional Record:

"Europe tells us they want our moral leadership and moral responsibility and tells us we're so big, and so strong, and so wonderful, and so marvelous. But they're the same folks that call us Uncle Shylock and money grabbers and blatant and ill-mannered, and all the time talkin' about how we won the war."

"I don't see how them two ideas work out together. I think we should be sympathetic toward European nations and all that, but we don't have to marry Europe. And when the country finds itself married to Europe there ain't none of this divorce in Reno by noon. Say, listen, you're tied up and you'll find it hard to break loose. And then they'll sue us for non-support."

Pilots Use Planes to See Tulips From Air

Upwards of 17 airplanes were reported to have landed and taken off from Holland township airport Sunday as pilots flew here to view the blooming tulips from the air. It was said they were part of the dawn patrol which visited the Kent county airport near Grand Rapids Sunday.

GOLFERS OF HOPE DOWNED BY ALMA

Hope college lost its first MIAA golf match to Alma 11-1 there Friday.

Alma won two previous matches including one from Hillsdale by 12-0 scores. Alma's lineup which will probably copy the MIAA golf crown and may clinch the All-MIAA sports trophy for Alma includes three sophomores and one veteran who plays No. 4. In their three matches, the sophomores have not gone into the eighties.

Weligos, number two man, was New York Junior amateur champion.

Hope's next match is scheduled for Tuesday afternoon at the Holland Country club against Adrian.

Alma-Hope scores are as follows:

Alma-Katzenmeyer 39, 35-74; Welgoss 38, 40-78; Phillips, 39, 40-79; Firth 42, 40-82.

Hope-Dykstra 37, 42-79; Pel-on 42, 42-84; Lokker 49, 44-93; Baar 50, 47-97.

Deaths resulting from highway-rail grade crossing accidents the first two months of 1941 amounted to 372, an increase of 21 over the same period in 1940.

Pre-Festival Visitors in Holland to View Tulips

Many Tour Lanes and See Blooms at Farms as Fete Nears

With many tulips in bloom two weeks prior to the opening of the 1941 Tulip Time festival, several thousand pre-festival visitors poured into Holland over the week-end.

Many cars toured the tulip lanes and visited the tulip farms on Lakewood Blvd. Sunday.

Anticipating a record crowd of visitors next week-end, William H. Deur, chairman of the festival's traffic committee, said signs marking the route of the tulip lanes will be erected this week.

License plates of the visiting cars Sunday showed many visitors from various parts of Michigan in addition to many out-of-state cars. Most prominent were cars from Illinois. Others were from Indiana, Ohio, South Carolina and other states.

With warm weather continuing, local festival officials said there will be a good showing of tulips on the first Saturday of the festival, May 17. Appearance of cold weather within the next few days will prolong the life of the tulip and permit a larger showing of blooms for the first weekend, it was said.

Tulips along the lanes are in need of water. Park Supt. John Van Bragt today requested citizens residing along the lanes to water the flowers. He suggested that the water be poured at the roots instead of on the flowers to protect the blooms.

The Tulip Time office announced that the S.S. North American and the S.S. Alabama, docked at Montello park, have been sold out for the first week-end as have the Warm Friend tavern and Hotel Netherlands. The office is receiving numerous requests for reservations in private homes.

Festival workers are hard at work in completing details of various festival programs.

The Camp Fire girls drum and bugle corps of Grand Rapids will provide pre-parade entertainment prior to the parade of bands Saturday, May 24. The entertainment will be given between 3 and 3:30 p.m. on Eighth St. between River and College Aves. This girls' musical organization appeared at last year's festival.

Violinists Present Vesper Recital

A delightful program of two-violin music was presented in Hope Memorial chapel Sunday afternoon by Ruth Breyspraak and Ernest Roentgen of Chicago, with Mrs. W. C. Snow serving as accompanist on piano and organ. Both artists are masters of their instruments, and their selections were happily chosen for the occasion.

The program opened with two movements from a Handel Sonata, continuing with "Bourree" and "Sarabande" by Stoeessel and "Serenade" by Godard. In the final group were "Midnight" by Godard, in which the organ chimes were used, "Berceuse" by Godard, and an "Aria" by Stoeessel, also with organ accompaniment.

The Rev. Paul E. Hinkamp opened the vesper recital with scripture and prayer.

Miss Breyspraak and Mr. Roentgen will play for chapel service in Holland High school tomorrow morning.

Recital Is Presented in Community Hall

Students of the Hager School of Music presented their annual recital last Thursday before an audience of 900 in the Northshore Community hall. Six bands participated including Junior accordion, intermediate accordion, brass, junior guitar, senior guitar and professional ensemble. The program was arranged by George Plakke, Martha Volkema, Evelyn Van De Lune, Geneva Brouwer and Marie Bazaan.
