Swets Assistant Superintendent at State Institution

Local Board to Meet to Discuss Successor to Christian School Head

Resignation of John A. Swets, 79 West 19th St., as superintendent of Holland Christian schools and principal of Christian high school to become assistant superintendent of the Boys' Vocational school in Lansing was announced Tuesday.

The state position was offered Supt. Swets late Monday following a conference in Lansing with members of the Michigan juvenile institute commission.

In accepting his new appointment, Mr. Swets said his resignation here becomes effective May 15.

Ross P. Tenny, since 1929 superintendent of the Oakland County Juvenile Home and Training school, has been appointed superintendent of the schools. He and Mr. Swets will replace Garrett Heyns, former superintendent of Holland Christian school and now state corrections director, who has served as acting superintendent at the boy's school for several weeks since the resignation of Maj. Robert E. Marsh who had been head of the school for nearly 20 years.

Mr. Swets was advised Marvin J. Tincholt, secretary of the Christian school board, of his intentions to resign from the local schools. The Rev. D. H. Walters, pastor of Central Avenue Christian Reformed church, is president of the board.

Mr. Tincholt said a meeting of the school board is being arranged for 9 p.m. tonight in Christian high school to consider the resignation and selection of Mr. Swets' successor.

Mr. Swets said he hasn't had much experience in juvenile work but is vitally interested in this type of work. He revealed that he had been interviewed by the juvenile commission last April 1 regarding his appointment as assistant superintendent.

"It's going to be a big job to fill as there are 600 boys between 12 and 17 years old at the institution," he said. "There are youngsters who haven't had the 'breaks of life.' They come from broken homes or have strayed by the wayside. I see a very definite challenge for kind, humane and sympathetic treatment towards these boys."

His appointment was made from a list of 60 applicants. Members of the state commission are E. L. Bridge, chairman, Mrs. R. C. Spencer, secretary, Mrs. H. H. Halladay, judge Irving J. Tucker and the Rev. Lewis Bliss Whittemore.

Mr. Swets has been associated with Christian schools here for the past 13 years. He came here in 1929 as principal of Christian high school. When Mr. Heyns resigned in August, 1937, to become warden at Ionia State reformatory, Mr. Swets was appointed to succeed him as superintendent of the school system here.

"These 13 years in Holland have been the happiest in my life," Mr. Swets said. "If I am interested in making any advancement, I feel that now is the time to do it. I hate to think of leaving Holland for I love the city and its people very much."

During Mr. Swets' tenure of superintendent, the school debt has been liquidated. Present enrollment includes 743 students. There are 27 teachers and three custodians in the school system.

"Everything is in readiness for my successor to take over his duties."

Mr. Swets revealed that he will be required to take a civil service examination within six months after taking over his new duties.

His two children, John Arthur, Jr., 13, an eighth grade student, and Mary Lou, 10, a fifth grade student, will remain in school here until the end of the current term.

Mr. Swets intends to dispose of his home in Holland as his new position provides a residence at the school. He hopes to be able to report at the school some four or five days in advance of May 15 in order that he may become acquainted with his new duties.

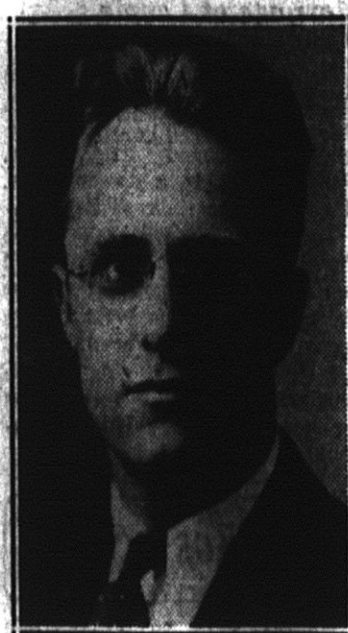

Mr. Swets was graduated from Calvin college in 1924 with an A.B. degree. He attended University of Michigan and received his master's degree in 1925 in school administration and educational psychology. At the present time, Mr. Swets is working on his Ph. D. degree at University of Michigan.

From 1925 until 1929, the year he came to Holland, Mr. Swets taught in the Holly public schools. He is a member of Maple Avenue Christian Reformed church, is past president of the Michigan Christian Teachers' association and a member of the Michigan Christian Principals club.

Holland, Miss., Not Local Army Flier, Is Victim of Crash

Correction by Army
Ends Futile Attempt to Identify Him Here

An army correction of an address this afternoon ended a concerted, futile effort to identify as a Holland resident an army flier who was among seven killed in the mid-air collision of an army bomber and a pursuit plane near Orlando, Fla., yesterday.

First reported as Pvt. E. Wimp of Holland, Mich., the victim was identified as a resident of Holland, Miss., according to United Press, which made two special inquiries in Florida late yesterday and today at The Sentinel's request in an effort to establish the flier's identity.

Pvt. M. C. Brown of Detroit also was killed when the bomber carrying six men and the pursuit ship one crashed to earth a mile apart after the collision.

The Sentinel was convinced, because of the unfamiliar name, that Wimp either resided elsewhere or his name was misspelled. Efforts were made here, while United Press was making its inquiries, to contact persons with names somewhat similar to Wimp.

The selective service boards in Holland, Allegan and Grand Haven were contacted but they had no man by this name in their records.

Holland post office also was checked without success. Western Union and Postal Telegraph said no telegrams had been received here for any relatives of Wimp.

Norfolk, Va., April 30 (UP) — Ensign Robert A. Fineis, of Lowell, Mich., was killed Sunday when his navy plane crashed six miles northeast of Lake Drummond, Va. The plane disappeared Sunday and was not discovered until late yesterday.

Zeeland, April 30 (Special) — John Northuis, 57, died early this morning after a three days' illness in his home, 18 East Cherry court. He would have been 58 next May 28 and had served as a janitor in the local public schools. Death is the result of a stroke suffered Monday morning.

Surviving are the widow, the former Jessie Vande Pels; a daughter, Mrs. Russell Nuismier; three sons, Cornelius J., Elmer and Hollis, all of Holland; nine grandchildren; a brother, William N. Northuis of Glenn, and a sister, Mrs. Peter Dornbos of New Grounigen.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 1:30 p.m. from the Yntema funeral home and at 2 p.m. from Second Reformed church. The Rev. William J. Hilmer will officiate. Burial will be in Zeeland cemetery. The body is at the residence.

Grand Haven, April 30—Replying to rumors that the school lunch program will be abandoned, L. R. Arnold, county agricultural agent, reported today he has official information that this program will be continued.

Red Cross Seeks Volunteers for Production Here

Women Needed to Help
Fill New Local Quotas
In Surgical Dressings

With the recent arrival of a large supply of surgical dressing materials, those in charge of the Red Cross production center in the basement of the Temple building, 17 West 10th St., are urging continued cooperation and help of all women who have helped in this department previously.

New workers who will spend one-half day a week at work at the production center are sought.

Mrs. Willis Diekema and Mrs. Henry S. Maentz, co-chairmen in surgical dressings, said the first quota, amounting to more than 29,500 dressings, has been shipped and the second quota of equal size is nearly completed. With the recent arrival of new surgical dressing materials, there will be plenty of work for all, they said.

Total number of sewed garments and knitted articles shipped from Ottawa county and including all quotas, amount to 20,109. Grand Haven has its own production center and is the channel for distribution in the northern part of the county. Holland is the distribution center for the southern part, including Zeeland, Hudsonville and many other small communities which have helped so generously to aid the local center "to go over the top with our quotas and we deeply appreciate the fine spirit of unselfish service being shown by all volunteers."

Mrs. Thomas H. Marsilje and Mrs. William G. Winter, co-chairmen in sewing, report there is a lack of materials in the sewing department at this time but they feel this slow-up is being greatly appreciated by the women who are now engaged in spring housecleaning.

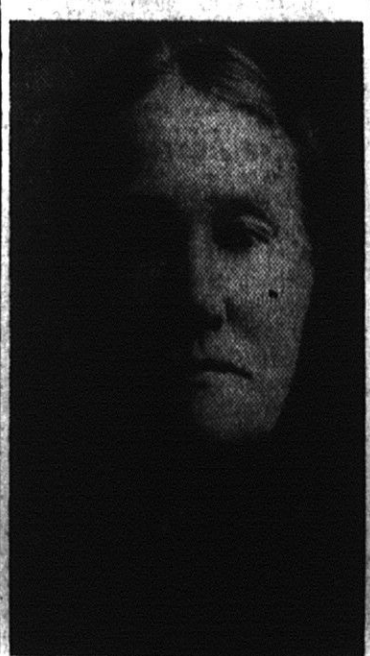

Mrs. Clarence A. Lokker, chairman of the knitting department, says there is plenty of knitting to be given out, especially for the armed forces.

The production corps is probably the best known of the Red Cross volunteer groups because of the vast number of women all over the country engaged in sewing, knitting or making surgical dressings.

"We are most grateful to all the willing conscientious workers as it is only with their help that we are able to produce a finished quota," the Red Cross said.

From now on the Red Cross production center will not be open on Saturday afternoon.

Police Cruiser Wrecked Here

Accident Occurs While
Two Officers Chase
Speeder on State St.

A police cruiser was badly damaged at 1:30 a.m. Monday at 32nd and State Sts., where it failed to negotiate a turn while chasing a speeder who escaped two officers when the mishap occurred.

Driver of the car was Police Officer Henry Borr, 46 East 21st St., with him was Police Officer Isaac De Kraker, 1404 West 19th St.

The officers said their car, driven southeast on State St., skidded on the gravel in making the turn at the intersection. The car struck a road sign, sideswiped an electric pole, breaking it into four pieces, and continued for 150 feet, scraping a tree before coming to a halt.

The cruiser did not overturn but the left side and rear were badly damaged. The car was one of two new cruisers recently purchased for the police department and had been driven about 1,000 miles. Ordinarily this cruiser is maintained for use when one of the other two cars is out of order. One of the cruisers was sent to the garage over the week-end and the wrecked car had been pressed into service.

Henry Grotenhuis, residing near the intersection, was listed as a witness.

Employees of the works board were called as the broken pole left electric lines dangling over the highway.

An accident occurred on Eighth St. Saturday when a car driven by Marian Mulder, route 3, Holland, struck the rear of the car of William Scheele, 228 North State St., Zeeland.

Earl Dykhouse, route 3, Holland, reported his car was in an accident at 24th and State Sts., Sunday.

Scrubbers of Tulip Time Festival to Keep Moving

Including a major change in the method of procedure, the street scrubbing ceremony which has opened Holland's annual Tulip Time festival for most of its 14 years is again scheduled to occur at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, May 16. Mrs. Lloyd E. Heasley, chairman of this event for the past four years, reported today.

S. H. Houtman, general festival manager, today announced a short but important meeting of the Tulip Time bureau will be held Friday at 5 p.m. in the Tulip Time office.

The street scrubbing route will extend this year from the Holland theater on Eighth St., westward to River Ave., thence south on River Ave. to 10th St. The wooden shoe dancers will have to limit their performance to Eighth St. as it is impractical to do the klompen dance on the bricks of River Ave.

In former years the scrubbers took pre-arranged stations in response to a call from the burgemeester and continued to scrub their particular area of the pavement.

Grand Haven Youth in Army Tells of Ireland

Grand Haven, April 30 — Mrs. Mathilda Moss of Grand Haven is in receipt of a letter from her son, Russell, which was written March 11 in which he wrote that he was in northern Ireland and had passed through Belfast.

He is enjoying new experiences and says the boys have a great time changing their U.S. money into English pounds, shillings and farthings. The people laugh at the way the soldier boys talk, and the boys in turn laugh at the speech of the natives, he says.

The country in which they are located reminds him of the beach here. They have been invited to some of the people's homes for lunch and have greatly enjoyed the liberal hospitality, he concludes.

Youth Runs Into Car And Sustains Injuries

Frank Kamphuis, five years old, route 2, Holland, suffered back injuries at 12:05 p.m. Monday when he ran into the rear fender of a car driven by Jack Veen, route 4, Holland, on the North Holland road, two miles north of M-21.

Sheriff's officers were advised that four boys were walking northward along the road, two on each side. As Veen approached them, also going north, he blew the horn and slowed down.

One of the boys picked up a stone and threatened to throw it at another and this lad, Kamphuis, ran across the road into Veen's car.

A Zeeland physician was called and later took the boy to his home. The accident occurred in front of the Henry Kragt home.

The Holland Lions club will conduct the house-to-house canvass in Holland Monday and Tuesday, May 11 and 12, to secure signed pledges from residents that they will agree to buy a specified amount of U.S. war savings stamps or bonds each week.

This campaign, which will be nation-wide during the week of May 10, is being conducted at the request of Secretary of Treasury Morgenthau.

As its major project of the year, the Lions club is promoting the sale of war savings stamps. Co-chairmen of a special committee are Chester S. Walz and Kenneth Kemp.

To conduct the canvass, the special committee has designated a separate committee to supervise the work. Its members are George Danson, chairman, William Nies and Ed Van Dyke.

Walter Vander Haar, Holland township clerk, reported 368 men were registered at the town hall Monday. He said any man who failed to register should contact the board in Grand Haven because all supplies have been returned to that board.

To Close Schools For Sugar Listing

Registration Places Given; Signers Asked To Fill Blanks at Home

Plans to close the public elementary schools of the city for three and one-half days next week, to facilitate the registration of Holland's population for sugar rationing, were announced today by J. W. Moran, who is in charge of registration here.

The five elementary schools will be closed Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, all day, and Thursday afternoon, he said. The Christian grade school will be closed all day Monday.

At Washington school, Site Administrator Carolyn Hawes has designated the kindergarten, the gymnasium, and rooms 4 and 6 as registration places. Site Administrator Verna Althuis of Froebel school has set aside the two basement rooms used for gymnasium and music and the kindergarten room on the first floor for registration.

At Lincoln school, Administrator Hazel Haupt has designated the gymnasium; at Longfellow, Administrator Dora Strowenans has set aside the two basement rooms and all rooms on the first floor; and at Van Raalte school, Site Administrator Hermine Ithman has designated two basement rooms and the kindergarten for registrations.

Facing the tremendous task of registering the more than 15,000 residents of the city, Mr. Moran urged persons going to their various registration centers to take with them the information sheets received from their block mothers, who are assisting in the program.

Every person should be registered, even if he has enough sugar so that he does not need the first book. Mr. Moran stated, as this registration is not only for sugar rationing, but the basis for all future rationing.

Any members of the family 18 years or older may register for the family it was explained, and it will facilitate matters if blanks are already made out before signers go to the schools. It is estimated that about 12 minutes will be required to register each man, woman and child in Holland if blanks are made out at the registration centers.

Many volunteers have been secured to assist school teachers in the registration work. At Longfellow school, as an example, 67 registrants have been engaged in addition to the teaching staff who will devote 36 hours to this work. Other schools will be served in proportion.

A meeting of instruction for volunteer registrars will be held in Holland high school auditorium tonight at 7:30 p.m. This is not to be confused with the meetings for block mothers which are being held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights in the high school. Supt. E. E. Fell of Holland schools will address the group, and Mr. Moran will issue final instructions. Site administrators will meet with their own groups. All registrars are urged to be present.

Residents of the county will register at their nearest elementary schools. Registrars from Lakeview, Harrington and Montello Park schools will meet with the city registrars in the high school Thursday night. A meeting is to be held at the same time in Beechwood school for registrars of that district.

Holland Group Attends Tea at Pier Cove Home

Several Holland women were guests Wednesday afternoon at the attractive Lake Michigan home of Florence Ely Hunn at Pier Cove, south of Douglas, Mich., where they went down for tea.

Those who went down for tea were Mesdames Phillipa Brooks, C. J. McLean, Henry S. Maents, Andrew Klomparsa, Chester Van Tongeren, A. W. Tahany and Henry Oosting.

Miss Hunn, an interior designer of Chicago who has as her hobby the remodeling of homes and the suiting of furnishings to individual personalities, has created a charming year-round home on a site which has an interesting history.

Coming to Michigan for the first time in May, 1913, Miss Hunn's family purchased 250 feet of lakeshore property on the north boundary of Pier Cove near the old mill and bridge. On the property was the old stage driver's house, which formed the nucleus of the present home which has been remodelled and enlarged through the years, keeping intact the style and spirit of the pioneer days.

Miss Hunn recalls the days when two piers extended into Lake Michigan from the cove and the Milwaukee and Chicago boats made regular trips to that port. Two sawmills, several saloons, a post office, grocery and church, were located there long before the advent of railroads. She also remembers the fruit boats, the Anna C. Wilson and Johnny Allen which have long since been replaced by trucks.

When the Hunn family became interested in the spot because of its beauty and ideal vacation qualities, their friends from Chicago, St. Louis and Iowa settled there also, and the third generation is now taking advantage of this quiet Michigan retreat.

Miss Hunn, who began her career as an artist, now uses her college background of psychology and her artistic training in color to create a gracious background in the homes she remodels. Although she maintains a home in Chicago, she spends a good deal of time at her Pier Cove place.

Japan Must Be Invaded to Wipe Out Military Party, Stegeman Declares

Dr. H. V. E. Stegeman addressed the local Exchange club Monday on conditions in Japan prior to war and the outlook today. Dr. Stegeman was formerly a professor in Tokyo university and president of Ferris Seminary for Girls until he returned here on furlough about two months before the attack on Pearl harbor.

He predicted that "it will be necessary to invade Japan to wipe out the military party which is in control because Japan feels it is a favored nation. It has never been invaded and this long standing tradition accounts for the popularity of the military group."

"One of the questions frequently asked of me," he said, "is, 'Could you see the war coming?' Of course we could see the war coming in Japan. We couldn't help seeing it in view of the fireside chats of Roosevelt and the atmosphere in both Japan and the United States. The Japanese knew the United States would act if they made any moves among the islands."

Dr. Stegeman pointed out that there were many in Japan who cherished the same ideals of freedom and justice held by Americans and that they hated to see the ties between the two countries broken.

"Although we look at immediate causes and find Japan to blame, when we take a long view of our relations, the picture is not so simple."

In referring to Japanese nationalists in the United States, he stated that "the government has done a fine piece of work in evacuating strategic centers of the Japs. Most of the Japanese realize why it is done and feel a loyalty to the United States." He told of one leader who constantly urged them to be loyal to this country.

"The United States must wage this war aggressively. But we must also be aggressive in the peace which is to follow. We cannot afford to continue a system of super-nationalism. There must be a freer flow of ideas and goods between countries and a new world order based on justice."

The Rev. W. G. Flowerday opened the meeting with prayer. President Albert Lampen made announcements concerning progress of the various national defense committees. A model airplane contest is being arranged, he said.

Music was furnished by the Holland Christian High School choir, under the direction of Marvin Baas. Guests at the meeting were Alderman Elmer Schipper, Dwight Ferris, Edwin B. Dodge, and Howard Hoekje, nephew of the speaker.

Cites War Effort Of Lions Clubs

Wendell E. Doty, district governor of Lions clubs, addressed the local club Tuesday on "Lionism," in which he covered Lion activities and ideals. Mr. Doty comes from Battle Creek and makes regular visits to as many clubs as he can, bringing to them the benefits of his experiences throughout the state.

"Lionism means national and state conventions, it means yearly projects, glasses for needy children, leader dogs, braille typewriters, youth projects and various other activities," he said. "Lionism doesn't stand still. It's on the move."

In concluding, Mr. Doty said the Lions have felt the impact of war for the first time in their history. "The first bombs dropped on our soil were landed on Lons in Hawaii. The monthly reports show how we have responded. Clubs are sponsoring defense bond sales, Red Cross drives, salvage campaigns, and civilian defense projects. The federal government recognizes Lionism contributions and services."

"After the war," he stated, "there will be increased need. Let's not kid ourselves. It is inevitable. And Lions will be in action to meet the need."

The local club bid goodbye to Hadden Hanchett, first Lion to depart for active service from Holland. Farewell remarks were made by George Damstra.

President Jerry Houting made several announcements including advance notice of the state Lions convention in Muskegon June 7-9. A house to house canvass for defense bond sales will be made in Holland May 11 and 12, he said.

Guests at the club were Ed Heijte and Paul Voelker. A spirited song session was in charge of Lion Hanchett.

Assign Local Selectee To Camp Grant, Illinois

Word has been received here from Ralph Brouwer, recently inducted into the U.S. army under selective service, that he has been attached to the medical training battalion at Camp Grant, Ill.

"This is the prettiest camp I've seen yet. I got my first two Sentinels today (April 25) and they sure look good," his card read.

His address is Pvt. Ralph Brouwer, Co. A, 29th M.T.B., 3rd Platoon, Camp Grant, Ill.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

THIS Sunday dinner table this week can be gay with spring fruits and vegetables and the menu can adopt a definitely festive air without putting any additional burdens on the budget.

Southern and Western truck gardens are pouring fresh fruits and vegetables into the market and there are plenty of low priced items to provide suggestions for Sunday menus. Asparagus is more plentiful and consequently lower, as are strawberries, carrots, cauliflower and spinach. Florida's delicious new potatoes are beginning to appear in market and there is a good variety of the leaf vegetables.

When selecting a meat keep an eye out for roasting chickens which are attractively priced. Lamb prices are still relatively low, but beef is somewhat higher.

Marion House, director of the A. & P. Kitchens, has planned a group of Sunday dinner menus which take advantage of the fresh items in market and are also well balanced as to vitamins and minerals. Here they are:

Low Cost Dinner
Baked Meat Balls With Tomato Sauce
Baked Stuffed Potatoes
Creamed New Cabbage
Enriched Bread
Raspberry Jam-Whip
Tea or Coffee

Medium Cost Dinner
Breaded Roast Chicken
Steamed Brown Rice
New Green Peas
Enriched Bread
Fruit Gelatin With Custard Sauce
Tea or Coffee

Very Special Dinner
Tomatoes Stuffed With Cottage Cheese
Celery and Carrot Curls
Broiled Sirloin Steak
Parsnips New Potatoes
Asparagus With Lemon Butter
Bran Muffins
Fresh Strawberry Parfait
Tea or Coffee

Zeeland Man Loses in Appeal for New Auto

Lansing, Mich., April 30 — Arthur H. Sarvis, state rationing administrator, today said he had denied two appeals for permission to buy new cars because there were no federal regulations which covered the cases in question.

Charles Van Lopik of Zeeland appealed the ruling of the Ottawa county rationing board, stating that he was employed at a clinic in Grand Rapids, and was required to make house calls for industrial and non-industrial cases.

Leonard Bergstein, of Midland appealed on a ruling of the Midland county rationing board, contending that he should be permitted to buy a car to be used exclusively to deliver drugs to consumers.

A DELICATE ADJUSTMENT is made in a dial telephone switching unit manufactured by Western Electric.

WESTERN ELECTRIC men rush installation in a new central office to help the Telephone Company meet war needs.

185,000 PLANES
120,000 TANKS
55,000 ANTI-AIRCRAFT GUNS

... all in the next two years! That means a still bigger job ahead for the telephone, which speeds the work that speeds armament.

For many months, Western Electric, manufacturing unit of the Bell System, has been on emergency schedules, day and night, making telephone equipment to help the nation fight war.

Scores of switchboards, hundreds of miles of cable, hundreds of thousands of telephones and other equipment are rushing to arms plants, military bases and fighting ships. At the same time, Western Electric continues to produce a necessarily limited supply of telephone equipment for the Bell System companies.

In so far as material shortages permit, we shall continue to provide the best service possible, and we look forward to the day when we can meet all requests as in the past. But now, and for the duration, war needs come first.

The Day of Atonement
—Mark 1:1-11; Luke 19:41-44

By Henry Geerlings

Jesus had no ambition to be the kind of a king His people wanted—the kind that fills many a page of history with pomp and a fading glory and a false majesty and a fleeting power. The Jews were anxious for a king like those they had seen around them—one who could fight and frighten and fling nations into a panic and confusion. They were ambitious for one who could put himself at the head of an army and march to conquest. They had been conquered so often and had been the conquerors so long that they craved for the coming of the time when the tables would be changed.

There is something in belonging to a people who rule and a vast deal if they can rule the world. There was hatred in their hearts against the conquerors of the ages. The Jews had been a kind of a football kicked all over the field of centuries by envious and powerful peoples. They had shed rivers of tears. They had sent their heartbroken cries to the stars. Their precious blood had been spilled for years over the very foundations of time. Living in a world where might made right so often, they yearned for the time when they could have a turn at the might game and where they could experience the thrill of being up while others should be down.

There is something pathetic about this yearning for the coming of a mighty one who should lead them to victory over those who have been making them the victims of an age-long harshness and cruelty. There is something indescribably poignant about the heart-cry of the Jews through the centuries down to the present time for earthly power. We almost weep with them today as we witness the pathos of their blind and hopeless longing—a longing that they will still realize the hopes of their hearts, beating against the flint and unyielding walls of the ages, in their long-looked-for Messiah.

Jesus in this entry into Jerusalem wanted a last chance to impress upon the minds of the people the true character of His kingship. The best He rode He meant to symbolize something of His kind of kingship. He was and wanted the people to know that he was a king of peace and not of war; that his kingship lay in His love and His truth and His nobility of soul and His disposition and ability to serve. He ruled by the power of His character. He was kindly not because He had the might of men, but because He had the power of God. He was kindly because His thoughts were His weapons of warfare. His sacrificial love was His royal purple. His service was His commanding scepter. He was king not to compel but to woo. There were some that day who saw their king and glorified and honored Him with the devotion and outburst of their loving hearts.

There were a few who saw a splendid vision of the greatness of the humble man riding into the city, but the majority were blind to the vision. They saw only a poor, deluded young man who they hated and for whose death they were planning. They saw a dangerous fanatic, a disturber of the peace, an enemy of things as they were, a destroyer of ancient customs and an underminer of real religion. They saw no reason for praising such an one. They had no joy in their hearts because of His coming into the city. They had no honors for a blasphemer. They even besought Jesus to silence his disciples as if the music of their souls were but an irritation to the calm and balanced souls of the Pharisees, the only teachers who knew anything about Jewish history and genuine religion.

We are reminded by this experience of Jesus on this faraway day of the difficulty of impressing people with the real powers of this world. People still cling tenaciously to the idea that power is in the material and physical. They still demand war and the implements of war. They still demand the show of power rather than the reality of power. They still demand pomp and parade and powder. They feel safer with guns than with God. They still want to scare people into peace and good behavior. One almost becomes discouraged at the slowness with which people see the power of truth and love and patience and brotherhood. We still yearn for the earthly king whether we call him king or president or general or dictator, just so he has the power and skill with which the nations have conquered one another through the ages.

Miss Tena Holkeboer
Welcomed by Trinity

Approximately 300 persons attended the congregational reception given in Trinity Reformed church Thursday night in honor of Miss Tena Holkeboer, missionary to China whose support the church recently accepted. Yellow forsythia and salmon gladioli were used as pulpit decorations for the program which was held in the church auditorium.

Opening the program was an organ prelude "Worship and Praise" by West played by Mrs. Harold Boernink. Devotions were conducted by George Schurman who read the scripture and offered prayer. Selections by a double quartet composed of Thelma Conk, Mary Lois DeFouw, Myrtle Bos, Eleanor Conk, Kenneth Steketee, Roger Schepers, Dale Fria, and William Conk, included "But They That Wait," Roberts, and "How Beautiful Upon the Mountain" by Parker.

George Schulling, program chairman presided at the meeting and introduced various group representatives who gave welcome messages from church organizations. Representing the Beginners department were Doreen Scheerhorn and Dale Beernink who brought greetings and presented Miss Holkeboer with bouquets of mixed sweet peas.

Judith Penna as spokesman for the Primary department welcomed the missionary and a group of children sang as their welcome song "God Bless You Always." Members of Mrs. Albert Timmer's Sunday School class included in the group were Ronald Dalman, Betty Brewer, Connie Nies, Mary Ruth Kampen, Barbara Lee Antonides, Sammy Pas, Joyce Vlasscher, Joan Siebelink, Ardith Naber, Gloria Hungerink, and Henry Kuiper.

Greetings from the junior department were brought by Robert Miles. Participating in an appropriate choral reading were Roger Visser, Randall Vande Water, Frouwina Vergeer, Myra Jane saunders, Marjorie Knapp, Doris Stecker, and Norma Ladewig, members of the classes of Mrs. John Post and Mrs. Nelson Miles.

Edward Van Eck, Sunday School superintendent, welcomed Miss Holkeboer as representative of the entire Sunday School, stating that the school has an average attendance of approximately 700 and the enrollment nearly reaches 1,000.

Greetings from the Christian Endeavor societies were given by Fritz Jonkman and Mrs. Minnie Meengs represented the women's organizations, mission society, Ladies' Aid society, and League for Service, in the absence of Mrs. Theodore Boot.

Dr. H. D. Terkeurst, pastor, welcoming the church's new missionary on behalf of the congregation, expressed the hope that through the blessing of the added mission work the people of the church might be brought into deeper devotion to God's kingdom and become more wholeheartedly consecrated to the cause of missions.

An analysis of present upset world conditions reveals that strife is a revolution against the existing order and that "Something new is in the making," he said.

"The world is waiting for controls, not of force leading to destruction and bloodshed, but spiritual controls through the love of God as it is revealed in Christ and the redemption." Reviewing the importance of missionaries down through the centuries in which their main purpose has always been to present the gospel message, Dr. Terkeurst concluded by pledging to Miss Holkeboer the loyalty of the church and presenting the challenge of home mission work to each church member as the torch is handed down to future generations.

A message entitled "Trinity Reformed Church and China" was delivered by the Rev. W. J. Van Kersen, D. D., former western secretary for the board of foreign missions located in Holland. Reminiscing, he told of the growth of the local church since its foundation in 1911 and of the great missionaries he has known in his many years of work. He spoke of Trinity's missionaries, Miss Mary Geoph and Miss Esther DeWeerd, both stationed in India, and Miss Holkeboer who first went to China as a Christian worker in 1920, injecting bits of good humor into his talk, he dubbed himself as a "middleman" on the program and spoke highly of missionaries as "soldiers of Jesus Christ, the servants of the church."

A $100 check, the church's gift to Miss Holkeboer, was presented by Marinus DeFouw, chairman of deacons, as the "Spirit of Trinity" on the program. In responding, Miss Holkeboer said that the meeting was truly an occasion of great rejoicing for all, a blessing for the people of China who especially need help in times of stress, and a blessing for the church in its giving for the furtherance of God's kingdom. She described the Chinese as a lovely and admirable people worthy of aid and stated that the response to the gospel in China today is such as was never before known in the history

Greenback Party Ticket Brought to Light in Holland

Two on Ottawa Ticket Of '84, Ver Plank and Baar, Are Still Living

Jack West, 81 West Eighth St., recently discovered a copy of the former Greenback party ticket of 1884 which apparently was printed in the newspapers at that time.

The Greenback party will not be well known to younger residents of Holland but oldtimers can recall it and interesting facts about its campaigns while it was a part of American politics.

The ballot was found in some old account books of Mr. West's father, the late Henry G. West, who migrated from Monroe county to Ottawa county in 1867.

Heading the ticket in 1884 was Benjamin F. Butler, former governor of Massachusetts, who was nominee for president of the United States.

Candidate for vice-president as Butler's running mate that year was Gen. A. M. West of Mississippi.

Gen. West and Henry G. West, father of Jack West, were first cousins. Henry Younglove West, grandfather of Jack West, and the father of Gen. West were brothers and were born in New York state. Henry West went to Monroe county, Mich., in 1827 with his parents. He was 12 years old at the time. Gen. West's father migrated from New York state to Kentucky.

The ticket was as follows: Josiah W. Begole, governor; Matthew H. Maynard, lieutenant governor; William Shakespeare, secretary of state; James Blair, state treasurer; George P. Sanford, auditor-general; Francis W. Cook, attorney general; John H. Dennis, commissioner of the state land office; David Parsons, superintendent of public instruction; and Christian Vander Veen, member of the state board of education.

Henry Pelgrim, 197 West 12th St., recalls that Mr. Vander Veen was an uncle of the late J. A. Vander Veen, local furniture manufacturer.

Charles C. Comstock was the party nominee for congressman of the fifth district. In that year, he was elected to a two-year term.

The legislative candidates that year were Robert E. Bunker, for state senator from the 23rd district; and Reinder E. Werkman, state representative from the first district.

The county ticket was as follows: Robert W. Duncan, judge of probate; Joes Ver Plank, sheriff; Charles W. Ingraham, county clerk; Rense A. Hyma, county treasurer; Jacob Baar, registrar of deeds; Stephen L. Lowing, prosecuting attorney; William N. Angel and Boswell Little, circuit court commissioners; Phylander Palmer and Henry Cramer.

Of those on the county ticket, only two are living at the present time. They are Mr. Ver Plank who served two terms as Democratic sheriff from 1876 to 1880 and Mr. Baar. Mr. Hyma was the father of Albert Hyma, former Holland township supervisor and now member of the county road commission.

Dr. Cramer, coroner's candidate, is remembered in Holland by older residents and his home at 12th St. and Central Ave. was one time used as the city hospital.

State election records show that Begole was a Fusionist candidate that year and ran second in the voting. He had been elected governor in 1882 and lost his reelection that year to Governor Alger, a Republican.

The first step towards organizing the Greenback party occurred in 1874 when a convention was held in Indianapolis. First known as the Independent party, it favored the increased use of greenback currency and more complete recognition of such as legal tender. The party was opposed to resumption and of confidence in government notes as the ideal currency, it demanded withdrawal of all state and national bank currency and the substitution for it of national paper currency issued directly by the national government to the holder.

In 1878, the Greenback party was fused with the National party. It continued to show unusual strength, especially in Michigan, and received its highest vote in 1880.

In 1884, the party made only a feeble showing with Butler as presidential nominee after he had withdrawn from the Democratic convention because it would not adopt a protective tariff plank.

During the ensuing campaign with the election resulting in Grover Cleveland, Democrat being reelected president, Butler was charged with being in league with the Republicans to draw Democratic votes in return for payment of his campaign expenses.

Butler also was nominated president of the United States by the Anti-Monopoly party which denounced national control of interstate commerce and the eight-hour day.

As the Greenback-Anti-Monopoly nominees, Butler received 169,341 in Michigan. In Michigan, he received 753 votes as the straight Greenback candidate. After the 1884 election, the party gradually dwindled away into obscurity with many of the leaders joining the Populist party.

This building was destroyed by the great fire of 1871, and a new building was built on the corner of Pine and 11th St., and served as the church home from 1874 until it was destroyed by fire 12 years later. Charred timbers from this building form a part of the present church building which was constructed on March 11, 1889.

During its 75-year history, four bishops have guided the life and worship of the parish: Bishop McCormick, Bishop Gillespie, Bishop McCormick, and the present Diocesan, the Rt. Rev. Lewis Bliss Whittemore, D. D. The parish has had 17 full time rectors, and five other ministers, directing its parochial life. Beginning with 10 communicant members, a property valued at $600, and an annual budget of some $800, the parish now has nearly 150 communicants, property valued at $28,227, and an annual budget close to $4,000.

A cordial invitation is extended to all interested in the parish to attend these observances.

The anniversary service in the church at 8:30 will be open to the public, but reservations must be made for the banquet with Gerald Kramer at the Holland State Bank.

Issue of Sunday War Labor Is Left Up to Individual

Class Committee Is Selected for Study and Help on Question

The Holland class of the Christian Reformed church, in adopting a resolution concerning the problem of Sunday labor in the war emergency, leaves the question of Sunday labor up to the individual Christian and not the consistory, it was pointed out today.

The resolution points out that a special need has arisen which permits the temporary setting aside of the commandment "Remember the Sabbath Day to keep it holy".

"War has come. Mighty America is beginning to feel the blows aimed at her, blows which she might possibly have avoided had she been prepared. But, now at least, she must prepare. And as Americans citizens, we will do everything in our power to defend ourselves against the enemy that has assaulted us. Everything! Yes, we refuse only to do that which our sanctified conscience forbids us."

The questions are asked, "Is the situation such that we can with a clear conscience labor on the Lord's day? Will such labor really help the cause along? Can we not do as much work in six days, observing the Lord's day, as in seven, disregarding it?"

The resolution expresses hope that the matters will adjust themselves somewhat and that the demand for the seven-day labor week will not be pressed too strongly.

"We feel that in the event that the government requires Sunday labor, the individual and not the consistory should determine whether this work is absolutely necessary. The individual should be guided by God's word in each instance."

The resolution suggests the following three thoughts in guiding the individual in making his decision on Sunday work:

"Sunday labor in war-production plants may be deemed necessary when the plant is working six days a week, 24 hours a day and is not able to keep up with the demand for material needed to keep our fighting forces in action. The skilled labor of certain individuals may also be deemed necessary if their Sunday labor is needed to keep other parts of the plant busy throughout the week."

"Sunday labor is not deemed necessary when a factory does not utilize all possible time during the week. The Christian workman should offer working overtime to avoid working on Sunday."

"Our sensitiveness to what God demands with respect to the keeping of His day must not too readily be sacrificed to the principle that we must obey the God-instituted state. When tempted to set aside the need of keeping the day of the Lord holy in deference to the second principle, we must ask ourselves what motivates us in so doing. Is it fear? Is it doubt? Is it indifference? Or is it conviction that necessity requires Sunday labor?"

As it affects the consistory, the resolution suggests that the consistory should do all in its power to keep the Christian conscience sensitive in regard to God's ordinance with respect to His day; that it is not duty bound to investigate precisely how every individual conducts himself in this matter but that it should consider obvious transgressions; and that the consistory should use its influence upon those who must work on Sunday to see to it that they receive time off to attend public worship and in certain instances upon employers.

The class approved the appointment of a standing committee for the duration of the emergency to study this problem from its various angles as changing circumstances may demand and to enlighten and assist classes and the consistories as they have need of it and request such assistance.

Members of this committee are the Rev. Daniel Zwier, president; Dr. R. J. Danhof, secretary, and Dr. J. T. Hoogstra, all of Holland.

Hope Church History Sketch Found in Old Paper

Hope church as it is seen today in its location on West 11th St., is the combination of two buildings. The Flemish type auditorium with its $15,000 pipe organ was dedicated July 6, 1902, after having been added to the church which was constructed in 1873-4. The original church building, put up in 1864, was destroyed in the great fire of 1871.

A faded copy of the Holland City News, dated Saturday, May 16, 1874, tells the story of "the dedication of the Second Reformed (Hope) church of Holland, which took place Sunday, May 4, 1874 at 3 o'clock. The services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. Abel Stewart, D.D., assisted by Rev. P. Phelps, D.D., president of Hope college, Rev. C. E. Crispell, D.D., Rev. C. Scott, and Rev. T. H. Beck, professors at Hope college, Rev. H. Uiterwyck of the Third Reformed church of this city and Rev. J. H. Karsten of Alto, Wis."

This account referred to the edifice which now forms the Sunday school rooms of the present

Hope church building.

The story in the News continued: "The first church building was built in 1864. Dr. A. C. Van Raalte donated 4 village lots, the present site. The sum of $800 was subscribed in the place, and donations received from abroad. It was 30 by 50 feet, and built principally by Messrs. A. Meerman and P. Nagelkerke."

"The parsonage was built in 1869, at a cost of $3,000. The great conflagration of Oct. 9, 1871 destroyed the church building, but as by a miracle, the parsonage was saved." (The present parsonage was built in 1910.)

The News account stated, "Rev. Dr. Stewart was installed as the first pastor of Hope church in May, 1866. The whole cost of the building, including furnace, is about $11,000. Before the formal dedication of the House, the pastor announced an outstanding indebtedness of $600, of which over $300 was immediately assumed by the congregation present, and the balance, $300 more or less, was assumed by the pastor.

"The present value of the property of Hope church, including the real estate, church building and parsonage, can be safely put down at $16,000," the article stated, going on to include a description of the building which was in the style known as "Rural Gothic."

Contents of the cornerstone were "a brief sketch of the history and records of the church; copies of Holland City News, De Hope, Christian Intelligencer, Ottawa County Register of March 5, 1861, containing a carefully written historical article of Holland from 1847 to 1857, Minutes of General Synod of Chicago, 1873, Second Annual Catalogue and Circular of Hope college, 1866-67 and Hope college circular of 1872, Hope college Remembrance; officers of the corporation of the city of Holland and officers of the church."

Celebration of the 80th anniversary of the founding of Hope church will take place May 3 and 5.

hand knowledge of conditions in Europe. Daughter of the former Lithuanian minister of finance, Miss Ycas and members of her family fled from Lithuania into Germany and then went to Spain, Portugal, South America and eventually came to America. Gives Regulations for Boat Fishing in Lake

Fishermen have been a bit confused about the new regulations on war time travel on the waters within federal control.

Chief Boatswain's Mate Oscar Halstead, in charge of the coast guard station at Macatawa park, has clarified the regulations as follows at the request of Holland Fish and Game club officials.

All persons operating a motor driven boat of any size, whether outboard or inboard motor, must have identification cards for which the coast guards can provide application blanks.

This applies to all Lake Macatawa, Lake Michigan and the connecting channel.

Passengers on these boats other than the operator do not need identification papers. The owner of a rowboat, for instance, whose friend provides the outboard motor for a fishing trip need not have identification papers. Only the operator of the motor needs them.

Four states have substituted fibre sales tax tokens for those that were made of metal.

Dr. M. Pryor, supreme ruler of King Solomon's Temple of Religious Science of Chicago, who owns the Hillview Poultry farm on route 3, Holland, has offered the use of his farm to state civilian defense leaders as an air raid protection base.

In a letter from Governor Van Wageningen, the chief executive wrote that he appreciated Dr. Pryor's offer which was being referred to Lieut. Harold A. Furlong, administrator for the state council of defense.

W. A. Bergin, deputy chief air raid warden of the citizens defense corps, also wrote his appreciation to Dr. Pryor and said it was being filed for future reference.

"Perhaps as we progress further in organizational plans we will be glad to consider your offer further," Mr. Bergin wrote. The farm of 80 acres is located four miles northeast of Holland and about one and one-half miles northwest of Zeeland. Wexford Learns What Ottawa Already Knew

Wexford county has been advised by the attorney general's office in Lansing that boards of supervisors have no authority to set the legal time in their counties. The ruling followed a resolution by the Wexford board which would have placed the county on central war time, effective today.

Some boards, including the Ottawa county board, have confined their time activities to a recommendation that proper state authorities act to place Michigan on the slower schedule. The Ottawa board, when passing its resolution at the April session, pointed out that it had no authority to set the county's legal time. The city commission of Cadillac voted to have the city remain on eastern war time, even if the rural sections of Wexford county return to the former time.

Right Criticism Protects Liberty, Hoffman Asserts

Says Disclosures of Ruinous Policies Are Essential, Patriotic

Washington, April 30 — "Do the American people want the truth or would they rather dream on in false security?" Cong. Clare E. Hoffman of Allegan, Mich., asked this week.

"There can, there should be an end to senseless partisanship," he said. "Truthful, constructive criticism is a safeguard of the liberty of the people of a Republic."

"No administration is perfect. To point out in a clear, unmistakable but charitable way, mistakes which hinder the war effort is the duty of opposition. Mistakes and the remedy therefore must be pointed out publicly, for publicity is the only method of securing relief. That is proved by the fact that only public opinion forced the repeal of the pensions for congressmen act; that it compelled a reorganization of the OGD, with the firing of the dancers, actors and sports instructors. Public opinion is now demanding the abandonment of special privileges, which can be wiped out only by so-called labor legislation."

"Those who thoughtlessly shout, 'Don't criticize,' fail to realize that without criticism those possessing power to spend and to regulate will go from one extreme to another. Therefore, some — myself among them — feel it to be our duty to point out specific instances of the squandering of millions of dollars; the inauguration and enforcement of policies which ruin thousands of businesses; hinder or destroy the civil activities of millions of our citizens, who are the foundation upon which the superstructure of army, navy and air force rests; without which not one of the three can function properly."

"Petty or nagging criticism or criticism when no remedy is offered is of no value. Putting the finger on policies which are ruinous, not only to our war effort but to our national existence, is not only beneficial but essential and patriotic."

"There is not the slightest disposition on the part of any Republican in congress to do other than support wholeheartedly the war efforts of the administration. There is many a member of congress on both sides of the aisle who has called attention to — who will continue to call attention to — expenditures and acts which impair that effort."

"Any other course would permit the bureaucrats, the experimenters, the crackpots, to make it impossible — no matter how brave, how willing, how high the courage of our fighting men — to win this war. Critics should be judged by what they say; not by what some newspaper columnist or radio commentator says they said; by the remedy offered."

"The role which I have tried to fill, as your representative, has been that of a helpful critic and adviser to the administration. That my efforts have met with not a little success is shown by the vigor, the viciousness and the lack of veracity employed by some so-called New Dealers, some columnists and radio commentators, some editors, who have challenged my actions. They just cannot stand the exposure made of certain bad practices."

"My demand that men be permitted to work for national defense without paying tribute is something that gets under their hide. Racketeers always condemn those who throw the light upon their actions. Individuals or groups wanting special privileges, insisting upon the opportunity to collect millions of dollars from innocent victims, hate those who expose them. Others who, while we are at war, would distract the attention of our people from the war effort by insisting that we now haul down the Stars and Stripes, surrender our existence as a nation and, before the war is won, enter into some political alliance which would make us subordinate to a world super-government, fairly froth at the mouth in their bitter denunciations of my patriotic efforts."

"Just as long as I remain here, as the representative of the people of the fourth district, it will be my endeavor to truthfully, clearly, concisely and without fear, point out those things which deprive our soldiers and our sailors, our marines and the men in the air force of the things which they must have to win this war; to suggest the remedy. Many remedies have been suggested by me, some of which, like over-all price-fixing, are on the way to adoption."

"Political opponents may rave and they may rant. They may distort and misconstrue. They may use falsehood. But don't worry. The truth has a way of coming out. And, believe me, as opportunity offers, I will give it a push."

Local Registrars Are Able to Sign As Many as 15,780

Staff of 114 Is Being Organized for Work At Schools in May

Registrars are preparing to sign as many as 15,780 residents when registration for sugar rationing is conducted here May 4, 5, 6 and 7, Joe Moran, in charge of the registration, said Saturday.

The 15,780 figure was set to assure an ample supply of ration booklets as it is believed that numerous persons have moved here since Holland's official census was last set at 14,616, it was explained.

Those in charge of the consumer registration are busy completing plans for the tremendous task which has been assigned to school teachers.

Site administrators are Carolyn Hawes, Washington school; Dora Strowenans, Longfellow school; Hermine Irmann, Van Raalte school; Verna Althuis, Froebel school; and Hazel Haupt, Lincoln school.

These elementary schools will be utilized as the sites for the consumer registration, Mr. Moran said. The estimated number expected to register at each school follows: Washington, 4,300; Van Raalte, 3,500; Longfellow, 3,160; Lincoln, 2,570; Froebel, 2,350.

Minimum number of registrars required to register the local residents has been placed at 114 of which 41 are available in the schools, leaving 73 volunteers to be obtained from outside the schools. Number of estimated registrars for each school follow: Washington, 30; Van Raalte, 25;

Longfellow, 23; Lincoln, 19; Froebel, 17.

Mr. Moran said all public grade schools will be closed Monday, May 4. Christian schools also will be closed on that day as teachers of that school will aid in the registration work.

Registration will begin May 4 at 8 a.m. and continue until 9 p.m. For Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, May 5, 6, and 7, registration hours will be from noon until 9 p.m.

Mr. Moran reported that on these three days, public schools will close during the afternoons. The various school principals are now arranging a staggered work schedule for the teachers so there will be a minimum number of registrars on duty during the registration hours.

The registrars will be obtained from Hope college, elementary, junior high school, high school and Christian school teachers, volunteer workers, P. T. A. members, substitute teachers and practice teachers.

Miss Frederica De Jong of the Christian elementary school is in charge of obtaining teacher registrars from that school. They will assist in registration work during the evening but this school will not close on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons as will the public schools.

Miss Bernice Bishop has been assigned to obtaining teachers from junior high school for registration work and Mrs. Mayo Hadden will obtain volunteer workers from the civilian defense rolls.

An instruction school has been arranged for Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in Holland high school for all registrars and their presence at this meeting is important as vital instructions will be given the teachers on how the registration work is to be conducted.

According to Mr. Moran's instructions, all parents having children in elementary schools will register at the school which their child attends. If, as in a few cases, there happens to be children in two schools, parents may register at the school of their choice. Cooperation of the parents is urged. They are asked to register at such a time as to permit a steady registration, yet not cause any long waiting in line.

As has been reported previously, one person may register for all members of his or her family. To assist the person who will make the registration for the family, a form is being printed and will be distributed soon through the block mothers, an organization which is being organized by Mrs. Hadden in connection with the civilian defense program. If the person making the registration for his or her family, fills out this blank before going to the school to register, it will eliminate any unnecessary delays, Mr. Moran pointed out.

Who Pays Repair Bills If This Happens to Your Car?

This could happen to you! Who would pay the repair bills if it did? Ben L. Van Lente, who has been the local representative for the State Farm Insurance Co. for the past 15 years, states that the State Farm Automobile Co. is the largest insurer of automobiles in the world and last year paid more collision losses than any other two companies combined.

More than 1,000 losses were paid to or for State Farm policy-holders in the vicinity of Holland in 1941. The company's slogan is "Adequate protection and prompt service at reasonable rates". The local office is located at 177 College Ave.

The latest move to promote the sale of U.S. war savings bonds and stamps was undertaken voluntarily by John Cooper of the

Balanced Wheels Vital for Safety

The Holland Body and Fender service, operated by Harold West-morland and Edward Vile, is one of the best equipped body, fender, wheel aligning and glass auto shops in Holland. Special prices are being given on auto refinishing this month.

Using the Bean wheel balancer, the firm also has expert mechanics. Cars with balanced wheels are easier and safer to drive because unbalanced wheels set up a shake or tremble and in many cases a crank which makes hard and tedious steering. Wheels have in many instances thrown a car out of control to such an extent that it left the road.

There are many causes why wheels become unbalanced: Tire changing, uneven wearing of tread such as cupping or more wear in one spot than in another, addition of patches or boots, improper mounting of tires, bumping into curbs or the result of accidents and loss of balance weights.

Since the motor car manufacturer considers it imperative to balance the wheels of a car before it leaves the factory it is reasonable to believe that auto-luists will want to keep cars in the same condition and avoid unpleasant driving.

Time Is Here to Work on Lawns

"Now is the time to seed and fertilize lawns and gardens," says Henry G. Cook of G. Cook Co., dealers in fertilizer, lawn seeds, vegetable and flower seeds.

Besides seed and feed the company specializes in dog food, rabbit pellets and a complete line of remedies for poultry, stock and pets. Some years ago a line of fuel was added.

The company was started by Gerard Cook in 1900 and is now operated by his son, Henry. It is considered one of the oldest seed and feed dealers in Holland.

Construction of a battleship requires the use of 75 tons of rubber, enough for the manufacture of 10,341 automobile tires.

Long Guarantee On Repair Work

The Decker Chevrolet Co., announces it is the first in Holland to offer a service to keep automobiles running for the duration of the war. The company offers a 20,000-mile or two-year guarantee on all repair work made under a special agreement, as well as a similar guarantee on parts serviced, with replacements free if necessary.

Auto owners are urged to use the Decker Chevrolet Co. budget plan which provides that all repairs on motors, electrical connections, brakes, transmission, rear axle, clutch, wheel alignment, wheel balancing, painting, bump work or complete reconditioning can be arranged under this special deferred payment budget plan. If nothing is found wrong through a car inspection, the guarantee of 20,000 miles or two-years will still apply.

Mr. Decker states that from now until May 15, the company offers a special price on all repairs, accessories and parts. Have your car put into the best economical operating condition while materials are still available. Sam Dagen, the service manager, offers expert advice on car problems.

In promoting the sale of war saving stamps, Decker Chevrolet Co., is offering a 25-cent defense stamp free with every accumulated $4 purchase. Full particulars may be had by calling in at the office at River Ave. and Ninth St.

Offer Many Forms of Insurance

L. L. Wolbrink

Protection is the order of the day. The O. A. Wolbrink & Son Insurance agency of 68 West Eighth St., can give you many forms of protection through its various lines of insurance. In these days as never before people are seeking security. One of the best ways of doing this is by having a Mutual Benefit Health & Accident policy which will pay a specified sum monthly or a total sum in case of accidental death. In case of sickness or accident, these payments continue for life in case of total disability.

The Wolbrink agency has represented the Mutual Benefit Health and Accident Association of Omaha, Neb., the past 15 years.

Hospital expense policies and life policies are written for families, groups or individuals. The life policies are written through the United Benefit Life Insurance Co. of Omaha, a companion company to Mutual Benefit Health and Accident association. These two companies working together are able to offer attractive combination policies with reasonable rates.

During the first two months of 1942, the increase over the same period for last year in health and accident applications written by the company was 12,581 or 13 per cent. During February alone 56,566 health and accident applications were submitted to the company by its agents. In Michigan during January, 1942, $66,656.22 was paid in health and accident claims and during February, $50,222.15, making a total for the two months of $116,878.07.

The Wolbrink agency has a general agency for this company and has a number of agents writing through their office. They are represented in Holland by Ben Wierda, in Allendale by Raymond Kraker and Francis Wolbrink, in Hudsonville by Arthur Wolbrink, in Coopersville by John Meerman and in Fennville by Nelson M. Warren.
