Coast Guard Dims Superior Light; Board Protests

Ship's Masters Agree Lighted Marker Aid To Safe Navigation

Discontinuation of the Superior point light on Lake Macatawa has resulted in sharp protest by members of the Holland Harbor board and masters of ships using the local harbor, it was announced today. The local board has already sent several letters to Comdr. B. H. Brallier, aide to the navigation officer of the Coast guard at Cleveland protesting the decision. Other appeals have been made recently to Rep. Bartel J. Jonkman, of the 5th Congressional district and to Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg.

The action arises after the sudden discontinuation of the Superior point light used as a guide for ships entering Holland harbor. Brallier said "this action has been made necessary by the economical retrenchment due to the reduction in appropriations for the Coast guard. Your (the local harbor board) evaluation of this light, however, is not concurred in by this office. Superior point light was established long before this harbor was improved with a dredged channel, and as a result of its location, is well outside the said dredged channel to which major vessels are restricted. Its value, therefore as a channel aid is negligible."

The local board however maintains that the removal of the light definitely is a hazard to ships entering and leaving the Holland port. The board deems it a necessary aid to local navigation. Its recommendation to Comdr. Brallier states, "Its location relative to the dredged channel is good and it would seem that navigation is entitled to this guide covering over two miles at the east end of Macatawa Bay." The local board mentions that with the discontinuance of the Superior point light, there is only one permanent white blinker light as a guide on five miles of navigable water on three different courses.

"The board has secured statements corroborating its opinion that the light is a 'must' in the local harbor. Among the captains who have replied concerning the light are J. Oscar Spjut, S. S. North American master, Richard A. Harreut, S. S. South American master, and W. J. Petrosky, M. E. Daniel McCool master. All three have guided their ships into the harbor on numerous trips and were agreed the light should be kept. They say that the small, low red gas buoy opposite, is not sufficient to replace the Superior light. They maintain that it is hard to distinguish because of reflections from shore lights and insufficient height. Other arguments which they offer are that the Superior Point light is the only high aid to navigation in the harbor, and in a low fog or haze this light is extremely valuable. The light is stationed at a dangerous turning point in or out of the harbor, they agreed."

At present the board is awaiting replies from further appeals, added to the promised aid in both Vandenberg and Jonkman. In reply to the local request Vandenberg wrote, "I shall communicate immediately with the headquarters of the Coast guard in Washington and express my sincere interest that the matter you (the board) have discussed be given every possible consideration at that level."

Jonkman replied in a letter to the local board saying: "I have this morning telegraphed Commander Brallier to join in your protest, and when I hear from him I shall advise you further." Holland Chamber of Commerce has also sent a request to the Coast guard asking that the light be reinstated immediately.

Coast Guard Ship Places Markers Here

Two ships, the Sun Dew and the Daniel McCool have entered the Holland harbor this week, the U. S. Coast guard announced today.

The Daniel McCool arrived at 2:15 p.m. Tuesday and left at 5:55 a.m. Wednesday. It delivered 4,200 barrels of cement to the local docks.

The Sun Dew, a Coast guard ship used as a lighthouse tender, arrived at 6:45 p.m. Monday, and is still here completing operations. The ship is occupied with the placing of floating harbors, channel markers, spars and cans. The ship is based at Milwaukee and is calling on the ports on the east shore of Lake Michigan.

First Tulips in Bloom In Holland on May Day

Though she may not know it for some time, communications being what they are, Mrs. George W. Moomey's tulips are in bloom. You see, Mrs. Moomey is in California visiting her daughters. She's been there more than a month and so she couldn't really know how well her plants are doing back home at 17 East Seventh St.

But this morning three of the buds burst into bloom in her back yard in Holland. A pink one and two orangish ones.

Mrs. Arthur Van Den Brink, 19 East Seventh, next door to Mrs. Moomey, was first to notice the blooms. Her report is first The Sentinel has had of tulips in bloom out-of-doors.

Mrs. Van Den Brink says she is going to write Mrs. Moomey right away. She thinks Mrs. Moomey would like to know. The blossoming seems so appropriate for May day.

Mrs. Mikula Will Direct Tulip Time Costume Exchange

Residents Urged to Register Costumes to Fill Desperate Need

Mrs. Bruce Mikula, who last year kept records of Dutch costumes available for sale, rent or loan, together with requests for costumes, will continue this service this year. Tulip Time Manager Willard C. Wichers announced today.

Wichers explained there is a desperate shortage this year of costumes, one of the most important and necessary features of the entire festival. He urged all persons having a costume not being used to register it with Mrs. Mikula by telephone.

He said several local manufacturers are helping to provide some men's costumes by providing funds for about 75 new costumes. H. L. Friedlen and Co. will make the garments and Nick Dykema is drawing the patterns. Miss Lavina Cappon is working in an advisory capacity and Mrs. Stanley Boven, Mrs. John Winter and Robert Vischer are working out details.

Anyone wearing a costume is needed in street scrubbing ceremonies the first day. Wichers emphasized. Such persons do not have to be affiliated with any particular organization.

The festival committee also is appealing to luncheon clubs and other organizations to form a nucleus for scrubbing activities as well as co-operating in all festival events. Festival plans were outlined at a meeting Thursday of representatives of various groups.

Those present included Mrs. Stanley Boven, Junior league; Miss Kay Skeetee, student council of Hope college; Mrs. Frank M. Lievesse, Woman's Literary club; Dale Fris and John Benson, Junior Chamber of Commerce; Robert Vischer, Rotary; Simon Borr, Kiwanis; Larry Sneller, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

This program was mapped after the Lions club took action, unsolicited by the Tulip Time committee, to give all-out co-operation to the Tulip Time committee in street scrubbing, parades, selling tickets, and serving in any capacity they are needed.

Wichers also announced that Robert Carley and Donald Lievesse of the Junior Chamber of Commerce are heading a committee on floats and have all information on the subject. It was pointed out that floats must be of an esthetic quality in keeping with the festival. Floats were an innovation last year and proved successful. The committee has lined up several manufacturers and merchants for floats so far this year. These floats probably will be used in all three parades.

Holland Golfers Bow to Kazoo

Coach Paul Camburn's Holland High linksmen went down to defeat at the hands of a powerful Kalamazoo Central squad 351-440 Tuesday afternoon. It was the first match of the year for the locals, and they showed a great lack of experience in play.

Brown of the Central outfit paced his teammates with a low score of 84 to take medalist honors of the match. He was closely followed by Sikkema who completed the route in 85 strokes while Field took an 87. Chanter was high man for the Maroons with 95, but his score was still lower than the low man for the Dutchmen.

Low honors for the Dutchmen went to Bill Hinga who broke an even 100 over the 18-hole distance. Don Lubbers was second with 104 total while Del Van Tongeren garnered a 111. Tom Vander Kuy trailed the field with a 125.

Camburn said he expected the boys to show great improvement as the season progresses. The match was played at the Millham course in Kalamazoo with a steady drizzle hampering the linksmen throughout the match.

Holland journeys to Benton Harbor for a match Thursday.

Five Youths Picked Up For Drinking on Highway

Five local youths aged 16 and 17, were picked up by troopers of the South Haven police post Tuesday night for allegedly drinking beer while parked on the shoulder of the highway near Saugatuck.

Troopers brought the youths to Holland police headquarters where parents were summoned. The quietest claimed the beer was given to them by a stranger in Holland. The case with its assortment of empty and full bottles is being held as evidence.

Officers said the five are members of a local high school baseball team.

Burnips Boy Scout Awarded Hero's Certificate

A 13-year-old Burnips Boy Scout Wednesday night received a Certificate of Heroism, second highest honor a Scout can earn for heroism, at impressive ceremonies Wednesday night in Burnips.

Pearl Goodman, Jr., known more commonly as Junior Goodman, in true hero fashion, failed to mention his exploits last July 14 when he saved eight-year-old Betty Schoolman from drowning in Dumont lake, and it was from others that the true story unfolded several months later.

Several neighboring families had gone to the lake for a Sunday evening picnic last July and Betty went wading while her aunt, Lucretia Sheridan, 14, went swimming. Betty went beyond her depth and Junior, who was on the dock, noticed her plight.

Although he had no life-saving training, he remembered pictures on the "cross chest carry" in his Scout handbook, and after an unsuccessful attempt "to get anywhere" by holding her around the waist, he followed the "chest method" and swam success-

New Tulip to Be Named For Phyllis E. Watkins

A new variety tulip, the "Phyllis E. Watkins," will appear locally during Tulip Time, it was announced Wednesday night at a Dutch supper in Hope church parlors arranged for out-of-town visitors here for a regional meeting of Michigan Federated Garden clubs. Willard C. Wichers, Tulip Time manager, in making the surprise announcement, emphasized the contribution of Mrs. (Victor) Watkins towards Tulip Time activities through the Holland Tulip Garden club of which she was the first president.

The tulip, which will remain a surprise as to color and type, was developed by the Van Bragt Bros. Tulip farm.

Three other local women, Mrs. J. E. Telling Mrs. P. T. Cheff, and Miss Lida Rogers, have been honored previously by the giving of their names to tulip varieties.

Mrs. Jay H. Petter, president of the Garden club, extended congratulations to Mrs. Watkins at Wednesday night's dinner. (See story on page three.)

The group will stop in Holland briefly en route to Grand Rapids to appear at a scout event there Saturday evening. It is the oldest musical organization with continuous service in the Boy Scouts of America. It was organized in 1927 and has been going ever since without a lapse in its activity. In 1937 it appeared at the National Jamboree in Washington, and for three consecutive years won first place in the Chicago land music festival.

The corps travels in a 50-passenger inter-city cruiser type bus and equipment and baggage is carried in a two-ton truck.

Like Variety? Well, There's Fog, Rain &

Holland had a taste of "merry old England" Wednesday night as a heavy blanket of fog enveloped the city and surrounding areas. Driving was hazardous as visibility was shortened by the thick mist and the accompanying drizzle.

All hopes for a bright sunny day following the fog were shattered today when a rain tropical downpour hit the city shortly before noon. The sun, conspicuous by its absence in the last few days, tried valiantly to break through this morning, but was forced to retire. The prospects are not too bright either as the Weatherman predicts more light rain which should end tonight. He also promised a "rarely for these parts"—some nice cool weather for Friday.

It seems as if King Weather disregarded the calendar, because it isn't April, and it is still raining. And on May day, too!

Frank Wade

First White Child Born in Douglas Succumbs at 96

Douglas, May 1—Frank Wade, 96, the first white child born in Douglas nearly a century ago, died Friday in Allegan county hospital where he had been a patient since last January. His wife, who was two years younger, died in 1939.

He was active in the Dutch lodge F. and A.M. for more than 50 years and served as master for at least seven terms. While holding that office he conducted funeral rites for about 50 Masonic brothers. Mrs. Wade was active in the O.E.S.

When the couple was married in 1881, Mr. Wade was engaged in the lumbering and logging business. The winter being open, with the exception of two days when snow fell, workmen had to use wheels entirely for hauling, working day and night, feeding the horses and changing drivers each six hours.

Later Mr. Wade became a partner in Weed and Co mills and was foreman 15 years. When the lumber industry waned, he bought a farm on the outskirts of the village.

He was a member of Douglas Congregational church which he had served as a deacon. He formerly held the office of highway commissioner in Saugatuck township. Mr. Wade, the last of a family of nine, is survived only by nieces and nephews.

Bikini Scientist Tells Convention Women Can Assist

Formal Dinner Fetes Delegates; Sessions Will Conclude Today

Addressing 275 delegates and members of the American Association of University Women, attending the annual state convention of the Michigan division here Friday night, Dr. Ralph Sawyer, dean of Horace H. Rackham school of graduate studies, University of Michigan, challenged his listeners, as "educated women," to help mold public opinion towards the necessity for control of atom power.

Dr. Sawyer based his address, "The Implication of the Atom Bomb Tests at Bikini," on his own experience as technical director of "Operation Crossroads." Peace time uses of atomic power are as attractive, he said, as wartime uses are horrible.

"The development of atomic energy will also open a new era in political and economic history, and I hope our country will benefit industrially and that the standard of living may be raised." He declared the United Nations setup to be the best solution in sight, but that the ultimate strength of government in its control of atomic power will depend on education and public opinion.

Dr. Sawyer, introduced by Mrs. H. B. Norman, state publicity chairman of Lansing, showed his dramatic and starkly beautiful color films taken at the time of the Bikini tests.

The Friday night program in the Woman's Literary club followed a gala dinner in the Warm Friend tavern, when Dr. Sawyer was presented a pair of wooden shoes by the Holland branch of AAUW. Continuing the Dutch convention theme, carried out in tulips and small wooden shoes at the banquet, a group of 12 Holland high school girls, coached by Mrs. Joseph Borgman, and costumed by Miss Lavina Cappon, presented a klompen dance in costume. Willard C. Wichers, Tulip Time manager, also showed a color Tulip Time film.

Mrs. William B. Hubbard of Flint, state president, presided at the dinner, introducing state board members, former state presidents, and other guests. She emphasized the growth of Michigan division of AAUW, in observance of its organization 25 years ago. Charter members were honored.

Greetings from Hope college were extended by Dr. Irwin J. Lubbers, president.

Mrs. Forest Burchfield of Plainwell, state vice-president and membership chairman, introduced Dr. Katherine Robb of Detroit, representing Marygrove college which was approved for AAUW membership at the recent national convention in Dallas, Texas. She also recognized the new branches at Big Rapids and Allegan, which were represented by Miss Marie Roe and Mrs. F. Rummery, respectively. A new branch is about to be established at Ishpeming, she announced.

Today's program, opening with a branch presidents' breakfast in the Warm Friend tavern, continued with workshops on international relations, legislation, fellowships, and creative arts. A final business session at 11 a.m. in the Warm Friend tavern, featured a panel discussion on the Dallas convention, led by Mrs. Hubbard, presentation of resolutions and election reports.

Dr. Meredith Cameron, dean of Milwaukee-Downer college, was to be the luncheon speaker in the Warm Friend Tavern. Mrs. Ruth De Gamboa, accompanied by Mrs. Hartger Walter, both of Allegan, was to sing. Announcement of creative arts awards was to be made before adjournment.

Former Holland High Girl Killed in Motorcycle Crash

Grand Haven, May 1 (Special) —Miss Mary Ann Cochran, 19, of Grand Rapids, was instantly killed about 2:35 p.m. Sunday when a motorcycle on which she was riding, operated by Gerald Gilman, 22, of Grand Rapids, collided with a car operated by Benjamin Meyer, 40, of Kalamazoo, on M-104 east of Spring Lake.

(Miss Cochran was born in Holland and lived here until about a year ago when her mother, Mrs. Anna Cochran, and the family moved to Grand Rapids. She attended Holland high school during her sophomore and junior years. Her sister, Kay, married Lt. Col. Francis Gabreski, top air corps ace, a few years ago.)

Gilman was taken to Butterworth hospital in Grand Rapids for treatment of a broken vertebra and possible concussion. Meyer's wife, Gladys, riding in the front seat with him, received bruises on the right knee and her son, Larry, riding in the rear with two other Meyer children, was slightly injured.

Meyer told state police he brought his car to a complete stop against the curb on the highway in order to avoid a crash with an oncoming car. He said the oncoming motorcycle then hit the left front of his car.

Gilman was with a group en route to the jolopy races in Grand Haven.

A car driven by Gilman's brother, Don, 23, was a short distance ahead of the motorcycle when the accident occurred. James Foley, occupant in the back seat, heard the crash and told Don to stop.

Richard Keel, 21, Grand Rapids, riding a motorcycle about 75 feet behind the Gilman bike, said Gilman had been cutting in and out of traffic and struck the parked Meyer car when he was unable to get back into the line of traffic.

She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Anna Cochran of Grand Rapids; her father, Charles, living in Wisconsin; three sisters, Mrs. Gabreski of South Carolina; Therese and Dorothy of Grand Rapids; three brothers, George of Ohio and Charles and William at home; and the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nellis of Holland.

Four Hurt, Three Cars Damaged in Freakish Crackups

Car Skids 91 Feet on Wheels, Top; Parked Car Sent Into Tree

Four young men, 17 to 22, were hospitalized Wednesday night as the result of a somewhat freakish accident in which their car skidded 91 feet on its wheels and top and sent a parked car 115 feet into a tree bouncing it back nine feet. A third car was damaged to a lesser extent.

The accident occurred at 6:45 p.m. at 18th St. and Maple Ave. involving cars driven by James Bareman, 22, route 2, and Garry Kaasheok, 17, of 147 West 18th St. The parked car was owned by Minnie Strabbing, of 430 Maple Ave.

The Bareman car, traveling west on 18th St., was virtually demolished when it was hit in the rear by the Kaasheok car, traveling north on Maple. The impact caused the Bareman car to skid and overturn on its top, crashing into the parked car before it came to a stop, wheels up. The parked car was considerably damaged by the impact with the tree.

The injured, all occupants of the Bareman car, were the driver, who received a concussion, laceration of the right upper eyelid, left wrist injury to which cast was applied, and right shoulder injury; George Stejskal, 17, route 4, abrasions of the right wrist and left arm, contusions of the back, right lower chest and left leg; Gordon Keen, 17, of 51 West 18th St., contusions of right chest and possible fractured right ribs; Donald Nienhuis, 19, route 2, who was discharged after pelvic x-rays.

Bareman, Keen and Stejskal remained in the hospital.

Stejskal was trapped in the badly damaged car for a short time. His arm was trapped behind the back seat and a baseball bat was used to pry the wreckage through the broken rear window.

When the ship arrives, whistles of factories along the water front will be blown, serving as a signal. Henry Vander Schee, harbor master, and Sea Scout Skipper Fred W. Bucks will board the ship at Macatawa. Bucks will direct a ceremony in which the officers will be "piped" off the ship.

If the ship arrives during the night, the reception committee will gather at the Board of Public Works docks to greet the crew.

Sikkell announced today. At present the strength is three officers and 45 enlisted men. The ultimate goal is seven officers and 150 enlisted men. This goal, Sikkell pointed out, however, does not have to be reached immediately, but the sooner men enlist, the more rapid will be promotions. Effective today the following promotions are authorized under orders received from Headquarters 126th Infantry:

To be corporals, Pfc's Arthur L. Bremer, Albertus De Boe, Clifford P. Haycock; Peter Heeringa, Robert M. Japenga, Henry I. Shaw, Jr.; Clarence E. Bobb promoted to technician 5th grade.

The first payroll of the re-activated company has been submitted and approved by the administrative instructor of the regular Army, and the checks are expected in the near future. The approximate amount of expected pay is $1,725. When the company reaches its full strength the money represented will be quite a sizeable amount.

Capt. Sikkell, the commanding officer has made the following assignments, First Sgt. Oscar J. Van Anroy, a D company veteran, with 21 years of service in the National guard, and also of the New Guinea campaign. Tech. Sgt. Lester J. Pool, public relations non commissioned officer, also D company and with service in both the European theater and Pacific theater of operations during the war. The Supply and Mess Sergeant is SSGT. At the present time plans and preparations are being made for the usual summer encampment which is expected to be held at Camp Grayling. Cooks, bakers and mechanics are urgently needed for this encampment and men with experience will be given every consideration for ratings and promotions.

The weekly drill nights remain as before, Monday and Wednesday from 7:30 to 9:30, during which time any interested persons are welcome.

Holland Member Gets AAUW Award

The state convention of the Michigan division, American Association of University Women, drew to a close here Saturday afternoon with announcement of awards in the Creative Arts exhibit, a comprehensive talk on the Far Eastern situation by Dr. Meribeth Cameron of Milwaukee-Downer college, and announcement of Toledo, O., as scene of the regional convention next spring.

Mrs. Titus Van Haltsma of Holland branch received a "First" in the metal arts division of the creative arts exhibit arranged by Mrs. John R. Pear of Crosse Pointe Park, state arts chairman. The exhibit arranged in parlors of First Reformed church, attracted considerable interest. Awards were announced by Miss Olive Dean Hormel of Owosso.

Dr. Cameron, speaking at the closing luncheon in the Warm Friend Tavern on "The United States and the Postwar Far East," asked for more understanding and therefore greater strength by the United States "that we may use our understanding wisely" in the confused far eastern world. She was introduced by Dr. Nancy Scott of Western Michigan college, Kalamazoo.

Mrs. Ruth De Gamboa, accompanied by Mrs. Katherine Winter, both of Allegan, entertained with a group of songs.

In closing the 25th annual convention, one of the largest to be held in the state, Mrs. William B. Hubbard of Flint, who presided, introduced the new state president, Mrs. A. E. Rhoads of Battle Creek is the new state secretary.

A total of 280 women registered for the two-day convention for which the Holland branch was hostess.

Resigns Post

Allegan, May 1 — Ray Floate, assistant Allegan county agricultural agent for several years, has resigned his post, to be effective May 15. He will accept a position with a fruit concern at Bents Harbor.

Scout Director Named For Festival Activities

Robert F. Topp, local scoutmaster, will take charge of all scout service during the Tulip Time festival May 14 through 17. Scout Executive Donald E. Kyger announced today.

Scouts will assist city police and sheriff's officers in traffic control and will conduct information booths at important entrances to Holland to distribute maps and festival literature. They will serve as ushers at many events, and will be generally useful at many displays.

Topp is coaching the scouts in giving correct information in answer to a wide range of questions. The information booths at approaches to the city will be placed in such a way that cars will be able to pull up outside of the line of traffic.

County Planting Windbreak Strips

L. R. Arnold, Ottawa county agricultural agent, is well pleased over the large amount of interest in windbreak planting. Many farmers are contracting the extension and West Ottawa Soil Conservation district offices, placing orders for trees. Windbreak planting was stressed throughout the winter at farm meetings.

Many miles of windbreaks have already been established in previous years by co-operators of the district. Interest in this practice is keener now than at any time in the past. Glenn Eaton, conservationist, and Arnold have contacted many prospective planters. Detailed information on such plantings may be obtained at the district office.

The value of a windbreak in protecting fields and homes is quite dependent upon having an unbroken planting, or in other words, a 100 per cent survival of trees planted. Farmers who now have windbreaks planted should make close inspection to determine whether any trees are missing. All missing trees should be replaced now. Any opening in a windbreak becomes a sort of funnel, concentrating the wind at this point.

Arnold states that many people are struck by the great number of windbreaks now on farms. If farmers are able to carry out their intentions in 1947, Ottawa county will add to its reputation as a great tree planting county.

It's Not Good to Let Air Out of Police Car Tires

Grand Haven, April 24 (Special) — Two 20-year-old Spring Lake youths learned the hard way Wednesday that letting the air out of tires of a police cruiser "isn't quite the thing to do."

The two were arrested a week ago after an officer found two tires deflated while he had been in a restaurant.

And so Robert Boomgaard and James Hodges each paid $10 fine and $4.45 costs when they were arraigned Wednesday before Justice George Hoffer.

Calvin Defeats Local Netters

Hope's tennis squad didn't fare too well with the Calvin netters Thursday as the Knights walked over the locals six matches to one. Only Roy Zwemer, playing No. 4, singles was able to gain a decision over a Calvin man.

Calvin netters, coached by Al Mayskens, former head cage mentor at Calvin, have a strong outfit and were the smoothest workers the Dutch have seen this year. The Knights have yet to be defeated in four starts this season.

Reens (C) def. Tirrell (H), 6-1, 6-2. Zwemer of Hope gained the only point for the locals as he whipped Vander Weele of Calvin, 3-6, 6-0, 6-3.

The complete results are: Reens (C) def. Tirrell (H), 6-1, 6-2.

Decker (C) def. Scholten (H), 6-0, 6-2.

Bruinooge (C) def. Ligtoet (H), 6-0, 6-2.

Zwemer (H) def. Vander Weele (C), 3-6, 6-0, 6-3.

De Vries (C) def. Beckstort (C), 6-4, 4-6, 6-3.

Doubles: Reens and Bruinooge (C) def. Tirrell and Scholten (H), 4-6, 6-0, 6-2.

Decker and Vander Weele (C) def. Beckstort and Zwemer (H), 6-2, 7-5, 6-3.

Volleys From Ambush

HOLLAND WAS honored Friday with the presence of 275 members of the American Association of University Women, meeting here in a state convention. This organization, numbering more than 89,000 women, with headquarters and a club house in Washington, D. C., is composed of graduates from colleges and universities which have qualified according to standards set up by the women themselves.

The aim of this enterprising group of women, the Ambusher learns is to promote and raise the standards of education for women throughout the nation and the world.

Their interests lie along the fields of legislation, social studies, international relations, fellowships and study grants for brilliant students, the arts, and the economic and legal status of women. The Holland branch, organized here nearly 10 years ago, has 63 members. They entertained the convention guests, giving them a taste of Dutch hospitality.

The Ambusher isn't supposed to know this, but Holland's chapter is the smallest ever to entertain a state AAUW convention. The local women must be congratulated for this distinction. Perhaps it is unseemly to brag about a local honor, but believe me, it's done plenty and for less reason.

The Ambusher is happy to report at least some of The Sentinel's readers are looking at the headlines. Exception has been taken to use of the word "ails" as a noun. The reader suggests "ills" would have been a happier choice. He avers there is no such noun as "ails." Now, of course, it is risky business to take issue with a client, but the staff feels it is on pretty secure ground.

Page 53 of Webster's Unabridged gives the citation as "noun, indisposition, ailment." Ailment is defined as "a malady or uneasiness of the mind." This is in contrast to an "ill" which connotes physical distress.

The word "ails" was used to describe the dilemma of the state legislature and seems to be more aptly descriptive of the situation, since the legislature's problem is mental rather than physical.

The reader's other objection, concerning Celler is of a technical nature that cannot be handled in so brief a space as The Ambusher is allotted for his weekly roundup of odds and ends in the news. However, the reader has been invited to drop in anytime for an explanation of the reason back of this use.

Coach Ets Kleinjans of the Holland Christian baseball team had to miss his nine's opening game with Grand Haven Tuesday, but he had a good reason. He was awaiting an arrival. You see Ets became the father of a son Tuesday. This may be a good start for a Christian team of 1965.

A gray tiger pussy cat tried to help (or hinder) police department employees Friday in painting yellow lines on River Ave. between Eighth and Ninth Sts. Pussy evidently thought the long string down the middle of the road was put there solely for her pleasure and ignored repeated "scats" from the men. It finally took Police Chief Jack Van Hoff himself to send the interloper away.

Credit Louis Osterhouse with one of the most sportsmanlike gestures The Ambusher has ever heard. Said he, "I have practiced law in Ottawa county 41 years and all but five of these years I have practiced under a circuit judge not of my choosing."

He went on to explain that he had politically opposed the election of Judge O. S. Cross, but the election had gone against him and Judge Cross served on the bench for 18 years. He had then actively campaigned for election against Judge Fred T. Miles and again lost and presented his cases for another 18 years before Judge Miles. In the last election he was defeated for the post by Judge Raymond L. Smith.

"I have the compensating thought that I shall not be forced to practice law 18 years before Judge Smith, because I will probably retire before that time," he said ruefully.

He finished his remarks by saying that he had been happy throughout the long years he had practiced before judges "not of my choosing." Assembled attorneys roundly applauded his statement.

Following is an excerpt from a speech by Joseph L. Jones, vice-president and general European manager of United Press:

"We work for the people who read the news, not those who make it. There are still, unfortunately, a good many people who think news should be what somebody wants a reader to read. News is what happens."

"Now is the time when people need facts. There is plenty of propaganda; often it just helps hide the facts. The world over, dependable and alert reporting has never been more essential, or more wanted."

This eloquently expressed the aims of the conscientious public journalist.

Never has The Sentinel handled the volume of telephone calls as the Monday school election brought. Four telephones required four staffers for a quick "Both issues were defeated." But there were some clever comments. One The Ambusher remembers is "Oh, well, we can always send the kids to reform school!" Some questioners appeared pleased the is-

Holland Trails In Quadrangular Track Events

Kalamazoo Central High walked off with top honors in the Quadrangular Track meet held at Allegan Wednesday, with Class B Allegan taking the runnerup spot. Muskegon Heights and Holland, the other two teams in the meet, finished third and fourth respectively. Kalamazoo's supremacy was never threatened as they took six firsts for 87-3/5 points. Allegan took second with three firsts and 49-4/5 points. The Heights had one first and 35-3/5 tallies while Holland took two firsts and finished with a total of 30-1/5 points.

One consolation for the Dutch was the fact that Eddie Leverette broke the annual Quadrangular meet record in the 100-yard dash, covering the route in 10.3 seconds. Holland's other first came in the high jump with Bob Van Dyke scaling the bar at 5 1/2 feet. Leverette also took second honors for the locals in the 220 while Smith of Kazoo captured first place.

Allegan placed first in the mile relay as Holland finished third. The Celery City lads captured the mile run, as Holland failed to place.

The results with their times follow:

High hurdles, Reed (K); Walters, (Hts.); Van Heltan, (K) 12.5.

100-Yard dash, Leverette, (H); Hult, (K); McLagies, (Hts.) third; 10.3.

Mile, Hagadon, (K); Gerstner, (K); Goerick, (Hts.); 4:56.6.

400, Guse, (K); Wilcox, (A); Bernard, (Hts.); 56.3.

Low hurdles, Wells, (A); Andrise, (A); Reed (K), 25.7.

220, Smith (K); Leverette (H); Nuff (K); 23.9.

880, Baber (K); Hern (K); Harrington (A); 2:11.4.

Broad jump, Whitney (A); Nye (K); Vogt (K); 19.7.

High jump, Van Dyke (H); Jennings (A) and Crawford (K) tied for second; 5'6".

Pole vault, Whitney (A), Barret, (Hts.); Tooker (A); 9.6 ft.

Mile relay, Allegan; Kalamazoo; Holland; 4:10.8.

Shot, Johnson, (Hts.); Irwin, (K); Van Dyke (H); 43 ft.

Relay, Kalamazoo; Heights; Allegan; 1:37.6.

This was Allegan and Muskegon Heights third meet of the year, hence Coach Malcolm MacKay feels as if his boys made a creditable showing in their first meet of the year. Whitney of Allegan was the only competitor to win two firsts in the meet. Holland's next track meet will be with Mt. Pleasant Saturday, May 3.

Hope Squads Face Heavy Schedule

Hope will send its golf and tennis squads to Grand Rapids today to tangle with Calvin. Hope holds one team victory, a track win, over the Knights and they will attempt to notch two more this afternoon.

Coach Albert Timmer has selected the same linksmen to compete against the Calvin lads which took part in the Kalamazoo match yesterday. The golfers were narrowly defeated by the Hornets and will be seeking their first win of the season.

The tennis squad will be seeking its second straight victory of the year when they tangle with an exceptionally strong Calvin aggregation. Calvin has not been defeated on the courts this season. It is still doubtful whether Bob Van Dis, Hope ace will be able to play against the Knights.

Hope's baseball team takes to Riverview Park this afternoon where it will battle the Muskegon Junior College nine. Hope has dropped two decisions and is anxious to break into the win column. Coach Schouten is expected to start Bill Ver Hey in the season's third engagement.

Telephone Panel Meet Postponed

Conflicting dates and arrangements have forced cancellation of the public discussion of "What are the issues of the telephone strike," according to Dr. Irwin J. Lubbers, president of Hope college. The event was to be held Monday under auspices of the college student council.

The same discussion was to have included several of Holland's leading citizens. LeRoy Koranda of Hope was to speak for management and K. W. Walton of the telephone workers' union for labor. Mrs. Kenneth De Pree and Mrs. J. J. Brouwer were to discuss the question from the citizen's viewpoint, and Vernon Ten Cate was to give facts on the corporate structure on the company. Dethmers Reveals Court Workings Behind the scenes operation of the Michigan Supreme court was explained Friday night by Justice John R. Dethmers before the Ottawa County Bar association.

Forty members and guests were given a word picture of the procedures followed by the high court in reaching decisions. Dethmers, newest member of the court, explained how cases were apportioned among members, how opinions were checked and studied and how dissenting opinions were prepared.

The Supreme court is made up of human beings, but every effort is made to decide cases on their merit under the law, Dethmers said. He spoke particularly of a recent decision holding that the diversion of sales tax monies was constitutional. This decision has not proved popular with many legislators, he said.

"Unfortunately, not many cases are decided on their popularity," he said.

Allegan county attorneys and court attaches were guests at the dinner meeting in Masonic rooms. Louis Osterhouse of Grand Haven, president of the Ottawa society, conducted the meeting and introduced the speaker.

PERPETUAL POLITICAL MOTION

And now the people who are in the business of running the world are proposing that we move into the hot Palestine problem.
They aren't even willing to wait until we have made the expected appropriation for Greece and Turkey; they declare that the U.
S., for its own sake, can't afford to wait. It has to take over the Palestine problem right away
quick if it wants to prevent world
chaos and keep Russia from gobbling up both Europe and Asia.

Whatever may or may not be true of that contention, the prospect is rather frightening. It looks like a clear case of perpetual political motion, with Uncle Sam providing the "juice" to keep the perpetual motion machine running. For is there the slightest prospect that Palestine will be the last? When that alleged "Holy Land" has been made safe for a doubtful democracy, what country will be next on the list? That there will be a "next" seems certain.

It is already beginning to appear that China will have to be "saved" from the Communist threat. Will the world fixers wait until Palestine has been disposed of? And after China, what? The Scandinavian countries are not too sure of themselves. And then there is Italy. Sooner or later it may have to be saved from the Communists.

And then another phase is likely to develop. When the notion has sunk in that there is a sure-fire method for turning on the spigot in Uncle Sam's financial beer keg, won't a good many other countries take up until now have not yet been "threatened" get into the game and develop "threats"? There is France, for instance. That country has its troubles with its radical Communist party. What will prevent France from turning those troubles to good account by calling on good old Uncle Sam to "save"
her?

But who is going to "save" kind-old Uncle Sam when he has finally been bled white? The time may come when the "threatened" nations will have taken not only his shirt but his pants as well. When that happens the fifth column internal Communists and Fellow Travelers who are always on the job, many of them right at the heart of government in Washington will take over and transfer the seat-of American government to Moscow. And there won't be anybody to "save" us. As likely as not the nations we have "saved"
will be among the first to kick
the daylight out of us.

Perpetual motion of the political brand is not very inviting.

The Revolt of the Northern Tribes
I Kings 12:1-5, 12-15, 19-20
By Henry Geierling

It would seem that foolish as was the choice Rehoboam made on this important occasion, it was not one tenth as foolish as some of the rulers in Europe are making at the present time. The common people can become haughty and selfish and ambitious,
but if one wishes to see these qualities at their worst all they have to do is to study some of the choices of the men to whom have been entrusted the destinies of millions of people. At the present time the world presents a horrible spectacle, powerful nations subjugating small and weak nations against their will. At the same time it is doubtful if any act of a modern dictator had in it more of the cherished hopes of the ten tribes.

It must be said to the credit of Solomon that he got off to a good start. He made one of the wisest choices on record. He asked God for wisdom and understanding rather than for riches and long life and the defeat of his enemies. It is true that he did not always adhere to that principle,
but he fostered it until the nation was thoroughly established. Toward the end of his reign he went to pieces morally and became more or less drunk with the sense of power and took little account of the suffering of the people due to the exorbitant taxation which he imposed upon them.

But Rehoboam did not even start well. He could well be known as the man who made a miserable weak start and never recovered from it. There was very little that was strong and promising in his life. How could there be with a pagan mother, who had far more to do with his training than his father did?

There was something wrong deep in the soul of Rehoboam. It is not probable he would have given the right kind of an answer no matter what the old men or the young men might have said. He knew as soon as he was asked to lower the taxes what he would do. His nature had the wrong bent. If his heart had been right;
if he had thoughts of others rather than of himself; if he had followed the dictates of good, sound reasoning, he would have needed no advice from any source. There is always something within that make our acts good or evil.

Immediate decisions are the best in most instances, for we know without going a step further what we ought to do. Dilly-dallying often tends to weaken our purposes. When the mind is not made up, and further study is necessary, and the two courses are about evenly balanced, one may require considerable time to arrive at a decision. But I am talking now of those choices which are so uneven, as they were in Rehoboam's case. It is a choice between honesty and dishonesty;
between sobriety and drunkenness; between honor and dishon-
or; between truth and falsehood;
between fidelity and infidelity;
between Sabbath desecration and Sabbath keeping; there should be no need for a moment's hesitation. Have you not found that when you delay, and begin the search for arguments on the other side, that you are in danger of weakening and making the wrong
choice?

Shall we take advice of old men or young men? No man can answer that question offhand. No doubt those who have reached maturity would say "Ask the old men." Those who are young would probably say, "Ask the young men." The question on which Rehoboam asked advice was answered best by the old men. But they would not answer all questions right. The old men have that wisdom which comes from experience.
They have learned a lot from the trial and error method. They have observed people making this choice and that, and have that very reason accumulated a good deal of wisdom.

But the young men have some advantages on their side too. They are less set in their opinions.
They may understand modern problems better. They have not had the hard knocks which have the tendency to prejudice the mind. What is wrong with taking counsel with both? One thing we must be careful about, and that is seeking advice from those who we know will answer the question as we want it answered.

It is a good thing to see things from a different viewpoint. Old men are not always in agreement with youth, nor are youth in agreement with old men. There are advantages in viewing the two approaches and comparing them.
There is nothing surer
that we shall get off the right track if we carry about with us a proud spirit. The person who is filled with pride will not take counsel from others. He thinks he knows it all. There is nothing anyone can tell him. He proudly says that he is able to stand on his own feet. There is danger ahead for a person like that.
Jesus was careful to rebuke the proud spirit, which is able to put one as far from the kingdom as the worst sin. He is clearly indicated that the humble person is near the kingdom.

The 22nd annual session of Rebekah District No. 29 was held in Fennville Monday afternoon and evening. Radiant Rebekah lodge was host.

The regular lodge opened at 1 o'clock with Noble Grand Connie Collins presiding. Assembly officers present were president, Mabel Payne of White Cloud, secretary,
Etta M. Smith of Grand Rapids;
Warden, Louvia Fox, of Grand Rapids and past president, Dora
Haight now of Illinois.

District officers introduced and welcomed were president, Ethel Ransom of East Casco lodge; vice-president, Elsie Strout
of Pullman; secretary, Josephine Bender of Holland and treasurer, Gilda Moore of Allegan. Sixteen past presidents of the district were introduced, three of them
members of the local Radiant lodge.

The two representatives of each of the 11 lodges in the district were introduced. The district lodges are Allegan, Moline, Burn-
ips, Saugatuck, Otsego, Fennville, Pullman, Glenn, Wayland,
Holland and East Casco.

Margaret Sheard gave the address of welcome and Inez Spurlock of Pullman responded.

In her report the treasurer reported that the money in the treasury no longer met the expenses of the meeting and suggested that the sunshine collection of the day might be turned into the general fund. This was done and the collection taken amounted to about $16 which covered the expenses and left a balance of about $7.

Roll call of lodges and reports of representatives were given and the lodges were commended for fine reports by the state president.
Each showed growth in membership and activity.

Election of officers resulted in the advancement of the officers and the election of Nellie Green of Burnips to the office of treasurer. New officers include president, Elsie Strout; vice-president, Josephine Bender; secretary, Gilda
Moore and treasurer, Nellie Green.

Beehive lodge of Saugatuck presented a show, in which the cast consisted of an announcer, a young singer and the Dark Town Strutters band, with instruments ranging from toy horns to a wash board. All members were garbed in appropriate style.

Last on the program was the presentation of the unwritten work of the lodge. Three of the six attempting it scored 100. They were Irene Clark of East Casco, Nellie Green of Burnips and Margaret Iwick of Fennville. Judges were Etta Smith, Louvia Fox and Dora Haight.

A dinner was served to about 150 in the dining room. It was prepared by members of the lodge and they were assisted in serving by several members of the IOOF.

Besides other table decorations
there were dainty white shell nuptials. The shells were gathered and decorated by Mrs. Ed Johnson during her winter in Florida.

East Casco lodge presented a lovely memorial service for the 10 sisters and two brothers who died during the last year. Members doing this work were pastel formal.

A white satin-draped altar,
with basket of flowers, a white cross, flag, candles, and palm branches was featured.

Music during the ceremony included the solo "Dear Lord, Kind Lord," the recitation of the 23rd
Psalm accompanied by soft music,
"Abide With Me," and "The Old Rugged Cross" sung as the women stood in cross formation.

Erutha lodge of Holland presented a pageant of the Women of the Bible. Soft music added to the effective presentation with the Biblical costuming of the characters. The narrators named each character and gave a short account of her part in Bible history.

Several of the distinguished guests were called upon.

It was voted to accept the Beehive lodge of Saugatuck to hold the 1948 session there.

Mrs. H. B. Crane and Mrs. Donald Dickinson returned Thursday
from Detroit where they attended the biennial session of the National Federation of Music clubs,
as representatives of the Rubinstein club. This is the first national session to be held in Michigan.

The National Federation was in existence before the state was federated and the Rubinstein club joined it the year of 1900 when the local club was organized. It joined the State Federation in 1916.

The late Mrs. Alice Dawson attended the National Federation twice; once when she happened to be in the West and once in the East. Her large money contribution to the National Federation Fund for encouragement of young composers created quite a sensation when it was learned she represented an organization in so small a town as Fennville, a place never before heard of by the other delegates.

Mrs. William Randolph had expected to attend as a delegate, but when she learned she had to enter a hospital, she gave up her appointment and Mrs. Dickinson took her place.

"Professor" P. H. Brouwer who returned from the Netherlands a few days ago did not neglect his opportunities while making a stay in Europe, nor did he forget Western Michigan. While in The Hague he interested A. Huygen, whole sale produce merchant there, in the products of western Michigan.

Mr. Brouwer convinced the Netherlands man that the "fruit with flavor" for which Western Michigan is justly famous is far superior to the fruit that the merchant had been handling, much of which came from the western part of the United States. This boost for Western Michigan has had results and yesterday Mr. Brouwer received an order from the Netherlands firm to ship immediately to the Hague 12 carloads of Western Michigan apples.

Van Duren Writes On Vet Counselling

Dr. Arthur Van Duren, chairman of academic counsellors at the University of Michigan, son of
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Van Duren, Sr., of Holland, is the author of an article in the Michigan Alumnus answering the query: "Has the veteran's need of academic counselling been as great as anticipated?"

Dr. Van Duren traced the subject from the early stages of the war when the first small group of returning veterans bore out some of the fears that veterans might frequently be neurotic, mal-adjusted, emotionally unstable, war-weary and disillusioned.

"It was not until the end of the war with Germany that the realization came that previous fears were largely unfounded. The first servicemen to return, especially young air force officers, were mature, self-reliant, serious, well-motivated and eager to get the best training that could be offered them. It seems to be the unanimous belief of the faculty that these veterans are the finest group of students the university has ever had."

"The fears of many that throngs of unqualified veterans, enticed
by the prospects of free education under the GI Bill of Rights, would clog the classrooms and laboratories, has been largely unfounded. I personally, know of not one case where a veteran came to the university solely because of that measure. Hundreds, undoubtedly, are here who would never have been able to attend the university without this assistance,
but they have proved themselves
earnest and capable students, entirely worthy of the support being given them."

"Very early we discovered that veterans did not want special favors or preferential treatment.
They wanted to be university students, to proceed with their training, to identify themselves completely with the life of the campus, and to stand or fall on their own merit," he wrote.

Spring Clean-up Urged by State Extension Service

Organization Explains 12-Point Program for Prevention of Fires

Now is the time to start your annual spring clean-up campaign. The nation's record-breaking fire losses make it more important than ever to rid premises of rubbish.

The Michigan Agricultural Extension service says, "Loss of life and property by needless fire is breaking all past records. On our farms alone 3,500 people were killed by fire last year and the fire bill to the American farm approximated $100,000,000. One out of 100 homes is burned to the ground or damaged by fire each year. Ninety per cent of all home and farm fires could be prevented by cleaning out rubbish and unnecessary combustible materials, and by correcting other obvious fire hazards. With the present shortages of housing, goods and equipment, the vital importance of pitching in wholeheartedly in the spring clean-up campaign becomes readily apparent.

"Poor housekeeping on the farm," said the Agricultural Extension service, "means letting rubbish and old furniture accumulate in barns, attics and outbuildings or letting dried vines, weeds, or brush to accumulate along fence rows and near farm buildings—a ready target for a stray spark or hastily discarded cigarette."

The service outlines the following 12-point fire prevention program:

1. Remove all rubbish and oily rags which may ignite spontaneously. Burn them or store them in closed metal containers.
2. Examine heating systems for cracks, soot clogging and defects and see that no combustible materials are directly exposed to heat.
3. Examine wood shingle roofs, if old, replace with fire retardant roofing.
4. Keep ashes in metal containers.
5. Replace frayed electric cords and have defective electrical equipment replaced or repaired by a competent electrician.
6. Remove rags, paper, boxes and old furniture from attics, barn and other outbuildings.
7. Chimneys and flues should be inspected and cleaned once a year.
8. Cut down and burn dead vines, brush and weeds along fence rows and near farm buildings.
9. Remove cobwebs and dust from switch boxes and clean lamps.
10. Install lightning rods.
11. Keep furnace clean and keep stoves a safe distance from walls and wooden boxes.
12. Keep in a very handy place a ladder, long enough to reach the roof of the highest farm building.

In concluding, the Michigan Agricultural Extension service makes a plea for 100 per cent cooperation in the local clean-up campaign with this admonition: "Remember, if you clean up your farm today it won't burn up tomorrow. A clean farm seldom burns."

In the Archives buildings in Washington there is room for 2,500,000 cubic feet of national documents and records.

Arnold Warns About Disease

The new oat disease, Helminthosporium, commonly called "New Blight of Oats" or the "96 disease" has not been observed in Michigan, but county agricultural agent L. R. Arnold advises that seed stocks of oats brought into the state may possibly carry the fungus causing the disease.

If a grower discovers the disease in his field there is nothing he can do. The time to prevent loss from the disease is before planting. There are two courses open to the grower. First, he can grow resistant varieties, and second, he can treat his seed.

Arnold advises resistant varieties as the best method. Varieties with Victoria or Richland crosses are susceptible to the disease. These include Vicland, Boone, Tama, Cedar, Latoria and Fulex.

Only varieties that do not have Victoria or Richland blood are resistant. Therefore, the varieties that will protect the grower by being resistant are the Bond Crosses, Clinton, Marion, Eaton, Ithacan, and Cornellian.

Seed treatment, the other method of controlling "96", has proved satisfactory. The recommended method is one half ounce of new improved Ceresan per bushel of oats. This is the same treatment that will also control several other oat diseases appearing in Michigan, including loose smut, covered smut, scab, and the seedling blight stage of the old Helminthosporium leaf spot.

Holland Company Cuts Price of Products

Henry Labotz of Holland Honey-cake Co., has notified distributors of a price reduction averaging 12 per cent. The action was taken in line with President Truman's warning that business must reduce prices or suffer another depression.

Cards have been mailed more than 225 distributors that the manufacturer's prices will be reduced on a flat 4-cent basis. For one product the percentage will be nearly 15 per cent and slightly less than 12 per cent on the other of the company's products.

A company spokesman said the manufacturer "hoped" distributors and retailers would pass the savings on to the ultimate consumer.

'Apollo Boys' Choir Gives Unusual Concert at Hope

The Apollo Boys' choir, famous group of 23 boys between the ages of 9 and 14, presented an outstanding concert at Hope Memorial chapel Friday morning for college students and the public. Directed by Coleman Cooper and accompanied by Bert Halleck, the choir impressed the audience with their flawless techniques of harmony, pitch and tone.

The program was divided into two parts, the boys appearing in black and white robes for the first part consisting of religious music and in black suits for the second part. Solo and ensemble numbers proved the talents of individual members.

Highlights of the choir program were the "Echo Song," di Lasso, sung by the choir with the echo effected by three members off stage; and the finale of the concert, "A Spring Symphony." Golsen. The audience's enthusiasm drew the boys back to the stage for several encores.

Holland Teachers Go To Area Conference

Miss Beulah Pepper and Miss Margaret Van Vyven Saturday attended a classroom teacher area assembly at St. Johns as delegates of the Holland Teachers' club. Reports from the various committees of the delegate assembly at Lansing were given and discussed.

Among the main topics of interest was the report given by the state representative of the public relations committee which included plans for the 1947 and 1948 salary schedule in Michigan cities as compiled by the teacher's welfare committee. During the business meeting Miss Sandrene Schutt of Grand Haven was elected director and Miss Pepper was elected secretary for two year terms.

Speaker for the afternoon was Miss Mary Ellen Lewis, president of the Michigan Education association. Missionary Union Has Semi-Annual Meeting

Ninth Street Christian Reformed church was filled to capacity Thursday afternoon and evening when the Womans Missionary union of the Christian Reformed churches of Holland, Zeeland and vicinity met for the semi-annual meeting.

The afternoon program, beginning at 2 p.m. was presided over by Mrs. M. Bolt, first vice-president of the union, who welcomed the large audience, said it was fitting that the union should meet in the "Van Raalte" church in this Centennial year of the organization of the church, missions being one of the ideals of Dr. Van Raalte.

The Rev. David Grasman of the Christian Seaman's Home at Hoken, N. J. was first speaker of the afternoon. He told of the work, and said there was a great opportunity to bring the Gospel to the men as they come in on leave. He urged generous support for this work, which was established more than 30 years ago.

The Rev. J. M. Vandekieft, former pastor of the local Fourteenth Street Christian Reformed church, now missionary at large of the denomination, said that there was much similarity between the settling of Holland and the work of Home Mission. "Ideals of both is to establish the Word of God so that we and our children's children will inherit eternal life. The 12 full time missionaries of the denomination, as well as all home missionaries face tremendous difficulties," he said.

The Treble Clef choir of Ninth Street church presented two numbers "The Lord is My Shepherd" and "A Little Nearer Home". Mrs. Robert Pool, president, presided at the supper program which was of historic nature. It included a paper written by Mrs. John Vande Vliet concerning the coming to Holland of Dr. Van Raalte and others and the establishing of the local church. Also in keeping with this theme were two original poems composed and read by Mrs. M. De Boer of Holland.

The evening meeting was preceded by a 15-minute song service with Nicholas Vogelzang directing. Mrs. Clarence De Graaf, second vice-president, presided and introduced the speaker, Dr. John C. De Korne, director of the denomination.

The speaker returned from a trip to the African mission at Lupwe, Nigeria, less than two months ago. He gave an interesting account of the work established there 20 years ago by the late Johanna Veenstra. The work was taken over by the denomination in January, 1940. Workers include the Rev. and Mrs. Edgar H. Smith, Miss Jennie Stielstra and Miss Margaret Dykstra of Holland. Miss Stielstra, who has been spending her furlough with her parents here, will leave the States Tuesday to return to her mission station.

Dr. De Korne expressed praise and appreciation for the workers. He said the churches established there are not only self supporting but the church at Lupwe numbers 182 members and is not yet 20 years old. The church sends out workers to 24 stations and has three foreign missionaries.

Music for the evening consisted of two vocal solos by Mr. Vogelzang, "The Holy City," and "A Dutch Psalm".

A feature of both afternoon and evening programs was the singing of the Dutch song, "Daar Ruiscet Langs De Wolken". The offerings for the day totaled $1,126.35.

Past visitors to Holland's Tulip Time festival have expressed amazement at the intricate detail that went into the "Little Netherlands" exhibit, which is being revived for the 1947 festival for the first time since pre-war years. All miniatures have been constructed on a scale of one inch to the foot. The above scene depicts the Isle of Marken. Note the house has been built on stilts to keep out the sea.

'Little Netherlands' Will Be Revived For City's 1947 Tulip Time Festival

Little Netherlands, a particularly popular Tulip Time feature in pre-war days, will be revived this year for the 1947 festival May 14 through 17, Jay H. Petter, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Tulip Time committee, announced today.

William H. Vande Water, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, which owns the exhibit, explained that unites were stored in the Netherlands Museum and elsewhere during the war years, and some of the choice pieces were exhibited in the museum basement as a permanent display during this period.

The exhibit will be returned to its previous setting in the picturesque brick wall enclosure behind the museum. This enclosure was used as a Dutch market place last Tulip Time.

"Our guests want more attractions, and the Chamber can use the operating profit to cover such expenses as are incurred in the housing program which takes up much time but brings no revenue," Vande Water explained.

Arrangements have been made with Robert W. Houtman, a Navy veteran now attending Hope college, to renew the exhibit material and repair the enclosure at 13th St. and Central Ave. Houtman plans the addition of Dutch arts and crafts demonstrations to augment the miniatures which attracted favorable comment from visitors in past years.

The exhibit was planned and designed by his father, Sipp H. Houtman, who served as festival manager from 1938 to 1941. The senior Houtman will remain in close touch and act in an advisory capacity.

While the brick enclosure is on city-owned property, the entire cost of its construction was paid from gate receipts.

The Little Netherlands exhibit is the product of local artists and artisans and presents in miniature sections of the Netherlands. These are authentic to the minutest detail and give a picture that provide a close second to a sight-seeing trip in old Holland. There are many hand-carved animals and cleverly sculptured human figures, showing everyday activity of the Dutch people.

Hope Netters Bow to Jaysees

The Hope college tennis team was handed its second defeat of the season Saturday at the 21st St. courts by the Grand Rapids Junior college team 5-4. Going into the final doubles match the score was knotted at 4-all, but the Jaysees combination went on to defeat the pair of Hollanders and take the meet.

Tirrell, number one Hope netter, played Martin of Grand Rapids and was defeated 6-1, 6-3. Kimble of Junior college defeated Scholten of Hope 7-5, 3-6, 7-5. Hesse of the Jaysees defeated Ligtyoei of Hope 6-4, 1-6, 6-4.

Zwemer, number four man on the Hope squad emerged victorious over McVoy of Junior college 6-3, 8-6 for the final win of the Hopeites. This set the score at 3-1 in favor of Grand Rapids.

Becksfort of Hope defeated Evans of Junior college 6-4, 6-2 and put the team scores at 3-2. But Gnade of Hope fell before Kanert of the Jaysees 6-1, 2-6, 6-4, giving the Grand Rapids netters a 4-2 advantage.

In doubles Scholten and Tirrell of Hope defeated Hesse and Kimble 6-3, 6-4 and Zwemer and Becksfort defeated Martin and McVoy of Junior college 11-9, 6-2 in an interesting match.

This set the score at four-all and put the pressure on Bowmaster and Harrison. Hope number three doubles team, Evans and Kanert of the Jaysees handed the two Hopeites a 6-2, 6-3 defeat to give the Jaysees the match 5-4.

A strong wind kept both teams from playing their best tennis Saturday, but both teams seemed to be well pleased with the temperature. The Hope squad was still playing without the services of their ace netter Gabby Van Dis.

The Hollanders will face Alma at Alma on Tuesday and Hillsdale on Saturday in two official MIAA contests. The Grand Rapids Junior college team defeated the Alma netters 8-0 earlier this year which may mean that the Hope team has a good chance of trimming the Scots Tuesday.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. Lottie Teason and Mrs. Myrtle Van Dyk of route one, Mrs. Grace Stearns and Mrs. Edna Byle of Grand Rapids; two sons, Edwin and Raymond of Holland; 12 grandchildren; three great-grandchildren; two brothers, Irwin Anderson of Benton Harbor and Clarence Anderson of Coloma; and one sister, Mrs. Edwin Cutler of Colma.

Muskegon Reds Take Close Tilt From Christian

Muskegon Retains Early Inning Margin; Altana Gets 3 Hits

Late inning Holland Christian rallies fell one run short of tying the score Tuesday afternoon as the Maroons bowed to the Big Reds of Muskegon 6-5 at Riverview park. The game was far from well played as a strong wind and steady drizzle accounted for several extra base blows. As far as the pitching was concerned, both Kearney Zoehrfeld and big Don Vandervier, Muskie cage ace, turned in creditable performances. Vandervier allowed eight hits and fanned 12 local batters while Zoehrfeld allowed nine hits and struck out eight.

The Hollanders spotted Coach Harry Potter's charges three runs in the first inning on three hits, a walk and an error. Workman, visitor third sacker, opened with a walk, while Carr, stellar receiver for the Reds, took three bases on a windblown triple scoring Workman. Wilder then struck out Vandervier then got his first hit of three for the afternoon when he hit a booming double to the center-field corner. Wilder scored on the blow. Vandervier later scored on an infield out, giving the Muskies a three run lead.

The locals managed to get one tally back in the second frame on a single by Rosendahl, a passed ball, and a timely single by Junior Bremer. Both pitchers hurled steady ball until the fourth inning when Zoehrfeld became the victim of a three run outburst. Three successive singles and a walk produced three more runs for the Class A school giving them a 6-1 lead.

Coach Ets Kleinjans Maroons staged a three run flurry of their own in the fifth after two men were retired. Zoehrfeld started the outburst with a walk and stole second. Boeve got life on Second Baseman Saylor's error with Zoehrfeld scoring. Louie Altana hit his second single of the day scoring Boeve with the second run of the inning. Gene Schrottenboer then connected for a long double to left center scoring Altana. Rosendahl ended the inning by looking at a third strike. Christian now trailed 6-4.

Muskegon was retired with no damage in the sixth, but the Dutch managed to garner a single tally on a single to narrow the margin to one run. Muskegon threatened in the seventh but Van Wieren saved the day with a leaping one handed catch in left of Workman's drive.

Christian narrowly missed tying the count in the finale as Altana and Schrottenboer both singled, and advanced to second and third respectively on an overthrow. Victory, however, was not their lot, as Rosendahl went out pitcher to first and Van Wieren struck out leaving both runners stranded. Thus the game ended with Christian absorbing its third defeat.

Hope Baseballers Unleash Rally To Whip Calvin

Locals Trail Until Big Sixth Inning; Dutch Hit Two Homers

Coach Jack Schouten's Hope college baseball nine pounded three Calvin college pitchers for 10 hits and a 11-6 victory at Riverview Park Saturday. Included in the hits were circuit clouts by Clair Van Lier and Kenny Rotman in the big sixth inning when the locals scored seven runs on six hits.

Winning pitchers was Clair Van Lier, who gave up only five hits, but got into trouble on errors. Van Lier got into trouble in the first inning on a single and an error. Before the Hope nine came to bat the Knights from Calvin held a 2-0 lead. Starting pitcher for Calvin, De Haan had little trouble in the first inning and retired the side with no hits and no runs against him.

Van Lier came back and worked effectively in the second to retire the side in order on a tricky double play, from the pitcher to second to first. The Dutchmen came to bat in the second, but could only get to De Haan for one hit, but still could not garner any runs and still trailed 2-0.

In the third the Knights added another run to their total by a long triple for lead-off man Timmer. The run scored on an infield out and the Knights led 3-0.

Hope scored their first run in the third inning on a triple by Van Lier, the pitcher. He also scored on an infield out and again the Hollanders took the field with the score 3-1. Van Lier set the Calvin boys down in order again in the fourth inning and followed suit in the fifth when he retired the side one, two, three.

In the fourth the Hollanders got to De Haan for only one hit but did score a run. Things looked black for the Hope nine with the ball game more than half over and the score 3-2 against them.

But the big sixth rolled around for Hope and the locals pounded out their hit and run barrage. Dorsch led off the inning by singling and Rotman followed up with a long home run that landed on Columbia Ave., scoring two runs and tying the score. Mulder then doubled, and Van Wieren singled scoring Mulder. Brieve went out on an infield play. Hilligonds was hit by a pitched ball which sent him out of the ball game, and Clair Van Lier again moved into the batter's box and took hold of the first pitch and sent it over the right center field fence for a homer. Van Wieren and Yonker scored ahead of Van Lier. Yonker was running for Hilligonds. Van Dorn added a single to the cause. De Vette walked, but was later thrown out at the plate. An error sent Van Dorn home and the side was retired with the score now reading 9-4.

Hope added a run in the seventh and one in the eighth for their total of 11 while the Knights got to Van Lier for two runs in the seventh for their total of 6.

Van Lier struck out nine Knights while four Calvin pitchers sent only two Hope men to the dug out by the K route. Van Wieren had two hits out of three trips to the plate for the Hope-ites and Van Lier took distance hitting honors, walloping a triple and a homer in four trips to the plate.
