Burglary Solved With Ample Clues

Hudsonville—Nelson E. Sebright, 30, of route 5, Grand Rapids is in Ottawa county jail on a charge of breaking and entering because he left a trail of clues.

Henry Peuler, Ottawa county deputy sheriff, received a call Wednesday that someone had broken into the Fisher-McCall Oil company property east of Hudsonville and stolen a quantity of gasoline. About the same time, the state police got a report that a grocery on M-21 near the oil company had been entered. Officer James Hinkley was dispatched to investigate.

Peuler and Hinkley pooled their effort and learned that Sebright, recently discharged as an employee of the oil company, knew where keys were kept to the gasoline pump. The officers found some tire tracks in the driveway.

They drove to Sebright's home, found his car tires checked the clues, found meat trays missing from the grocery store and some choice cuts of meat. Sebright admitted the break-ins, was taken to Holland for a statement and lodged in the county jail awaiting court action.

Sheriff Jerry Vanderbeek, who joined the other officers, said Sebright readily admitted he had been drinking and "probably he was hungry."

Sebright was arraigned in municipal court Wednesday afternoon and waived examination on a breaking and entering charge. He was bound over to circuit court under $1,000 bond, which was not furnished.

He was charged specifically with entering Brink's Superette at Hudsonville on the night of May 2. The charge was signed by state police.

2 Persons Hurt In Local Mishaps

Phyllis J. Frego, 18, of 303 West 15th St., received shock and bruises Wednesday in a mishap on Lake St. She was treated at a local physician's office.

She told police she was driving northeast on Lake and as she came round a corner, lights from another car blinded her and she struck a telephone pole.

Damage to the car was estimated to be $400.

Terry Koeman of 452 West 22nd St., received an ankle injury in a motor scooter-auto collision on Ottawa Ave. Wednesday, near the 17th St. intersection.

The car was driven by Charlotte Vander Hill of 265 West 11th St., who was traveling south. Koeman was going north on the same street and driving a scooter.

The motorist told police that the scooter came from the rear of a truck and slid into her front bumper.

Many Hollanders Scheduled to Get Different Postmen

If you don't recognize your postman in a couple of weeks, it's not that your eyes are going bad or that you're getting someone else's mail.

The reason is that an estimated 60 per cent of Holland residents will have a new postman when the post office re-routing plan is inaugurated about May 15. At least, that's the date post office officials hope it will start.

And it's all a result of last week's cost-cutting order given by Postmaster General Jesse Donaldson at the request of a congressional appropriations committee.

The present 20 city carrier routes are being reduced to 16. About one-quarter of city residents will get their only mail delivery in the afternoon.

Some outlying areas, now delivered by mail trucks, will be delivered on foot. The only change in parcel post set-up is that residents will get packages earlier in the day, in general.

Concentrated business areas still will receive two deliveries daily except on Sunday. But most business places in residential areas will get no second delivery. That's part of the federal order, too.

Superintendent of Mails S. H. Houtman is doing the figuring on how to set up the 16 new routes. This is the first time Holland has had a complete shuffle of all its routes. The shift will have no effect on the six rural routes.

Up to now there have been 20 regular city carriers and one replacement carrier. After the re-route order takes effect, there will be 16 regular carriers and three replacement carriers.

While carrier routes must be covered six times each week, regular carriers are on a five-day work week. Thus, one replacement carrier is kept busy delivering five different routes each week.

The other two carriers will take over duties on special delivery and parcel post formerly handled by temporary employees. They will also make a collection of mail boxes in the entire city each morning except Sunday.

Temporary employees were ordered cut from the payroll by Donaldson's directive.

Areas to be delivered on foot that were formerly delivered by truck are Central Park, Lugers Rd., Graafschap Rd., Huisenga Hill, Howard Ave., North Shore Dr., Lakewood Blvd., Pine Crest, Vander Veen, and River Ave., North of the bridge.

Sheriff's Officers Nab Glass-Breaking Vandals

Names and statements by 14 Holland and Holland area teenage boys and girls today are being referred to probate authorities.

The students admitted throwing rocks through windows Friday night at the Laketown township park home of the Rev. Jacob Vander Meulen. Four windows and a bookcase glass were smashed by the "partying" vandals, according to the Allegan sheriff's officers who made the arrests.

Officers said Rev. Vander Meulen called the sheriff's department and Laketown deputies made the arrests. They said, "We can't figure out what got into those kids."

W. C. Vandenberg Awarded Plaque At Chamber Meet

Awarding of a plaque to State Sen. William C. Vandenberg in recognition of his efforts toward Holland highlighted the Chamber of Commerce membership luncheon which attracted 251 persons to the VFW hall Wednesday.

Presentation was made by Mayor Harry Harrington on behalf of the mayor and common council and the chamber. Vandenberg served as industrial contact man for the community and figured prominently in negotiations with Clawson and Bals and Parke, Davis and Co. All persons rose to applaud when presentation was made.

Henry S. Maentz, chamber president, presided and gave the president's report calling attention to Tulip Time, an activity which he said Holland cannot afford to neglect.

Vandenberg introduced H. W. Burrows and Thomas C. Anderson of Parke, Davis and Co., Hollis Baker, Sr., and Hollis Baker, Jr., of Baker Furniture which recently took over the Lambert plant, Simon Den Uyl of Bohn Aluminum and John Scott of Scotts, Inc., a new business.

In his written report, Secretary-Manager William H. Vande Water reviewed accomplishments of the Chamber committees during the past year. These included airport, city-planning committee service, education, executive, harbor and lakes, industrial, legislative and national affairs, membership, publicity and advertising, streets, highways and roads, tourist and resort.

He called attention to possibilities of extending the city limits, and the proposed establishment of a port of authority for the local area. He pointed out that Holland's publicity reached into the far-flung stretches of Indo-China, Hungary, Germany, Britain, South America, Australia and Africa. The wooden shoe booklets are sent everywhere.

The Chamber is working to secure more resort trade, working in co-operation with the Tourist council. The industrial committee has been active the past year in obtaining new industries and putting former plants into operation.

The Community Service committee arranged for the annual hobby show which attracted nearly 8,000 visitors to the "Holland Museum." The committee also worked on 4-H Achievement day and the Farm-to-Prosper contest.

First Tulips In Bloom Here

Tulips are blooming in Holland. Mrs. W. F. A. Sawitzky, 243 West 22nd St., informed The Sentinel today that more than a dozen tulips are in bloom in her yard. And Festival Manager Willard C. Wichers said an early variety has been in bloom at his home on Central Ave. since April 22. These tulips had been sent him from friends in the Netherlands two years ago. Last year they bloomed on Easter day, 11 days before they bloomed this year.

Although the tulips are behind schedule because of consistently cold weather which averaged six degrees under normal, Park Supt. Dick Smallenburg expressed the opinion that with some warm days there is a good chance of having a good showing of tulips for the festival May 17 to 20. Tulips will probably not be at their full peak of beauty, but it is expected that the early varieties, at least, will be out.

Dick Zwiep, local bulb grower, when consulted on blooms for the flower show, a festival highlight, suggested that members entering blooms in the specimen class cover the plants with glass to hasten growth.

Hamilton Church To Be Dedicated On May 10 and 11

New Edifice of Modified Early American Style Replaces Old Structure

Hamilton (Special)—The evenings of May 10 and 11 have been set aside for the dedication of the new Hamilton Reformed church, with the Sunday following also included in the program of dedication.

On Wednesday, May 10, at 8 p.m., will be the congregational dedication service, with the pastor, the Rev. Peter J. Muyskens, presiding, and a former pastor, the Rev. Nicholas Rozboom of Kalamazoo, in charge of depositions. The Rev. Edward H. Tanis, pastor of Second Reformed church of Pella, Iowa, and a son of the local congregation, as speaker, will use the subject, "What Hath God Wrought." Music will include an organ and piano prelude and postlude, selections by the adult choir and by the combined adult and girls' choir.

The second evening, May 11, at 7:30 p.m., a fellowship night is planned, to which are invited all past members and friends of the Hamilton church. The Rev. Victor Maxam of First Reformed church in Kalamazoo, another son of the church, will be the main speaker. Special singing by the girls' choir and organ and piano selections by the church organists, Fannie Bultman and Muriel Elinga, will be provided. An electric organ, lent by William Ten Brink will be used, since the new Schantz two-manual pipe organ cannot be installed until summer.

On the following Sunday, May 14, the pastor, Rev. Muyskens, will bring the first Sabbath message at the morning service, and Dr. J. R. Mulder of Western Theological seminary will be guest speaker at the evening service. The church choir will furnish music, and a special dedication thank offering will be received for the building fund. The larger portion of the new sanctuary finances have been on hand as needed and other financing has been through loans from local individuals.

The new edifice has been designed in traditional modified early American style. Realizing that the functions of a church are dignity, harmony and peace, the architect has sought to blend these together in this structure to create a dignified atmosphere of worship. Every effort has been made to make the edifice beautiful, lasting and strong.

All of the material is new and of the best construction. It is built with a sloping floor, with a seating capacity of 520 in the main nave, 105 in the balcony and 35 in the choir loft, with a large entrance space under the balcony. Several cloak rooms are provided on the main floor and in the basement hall. Seventeen rooms for Sunday school classes are provided by individual rooms and through division of larger rooms by sound proof accordion doors.

A women's lounge, a consistory room, which can also be used as a reading room, a well furnished kitchen and a small church office to the right of the pulpit rostrum are added conveniences. The main auditorium has a tile floor with the aisles, the front and the back spaces carpeted. The basement rooms are all tiled. A chapel room in the belfry, the original bell of the church, the bell of the American Reformed church, which body merged with the church in 1945. A special plaque commemorating this merger, along with a plaque in recognition of services of World War II will be installed in the rear of the main auditorium.

The church pews of one piece body form type, the pulpit furniture, including two pulpit chairs, two communion chairs, communion table, baptismal font, six offering plates and two hymn boards are all in matching oak.

Hope Wins Over Adrian to Even Its MIAA Slate

Fighting Dutch Outlast Bulldogs 6-5 As Bill Ver Hey Takes 2nd Win

Hope college—behind the steady five-hit pitching of Lefty Bill Ver Hey and a big fifth inning—took its turn at beating oft-mauled Adrian at Adrian Saturday 6-5.

The win evens the Fighting Dutch slate at two victories and two defeats in the hot MIAA race. Hope faces two all-important games this week against Hillsdale and Alma.

As usual Coach Jack Schouten's lads did not get too many hits—only five—but bunched four of them in the big fifth for four runs.

And the Bulldogs rapped on victory's door in the ninth with two counters but they weren't quite enough as Ver Hey—bearing down—struck out the last man with the tying run on third base.

"Wild Bill" had plenty of stuff. He was mixing a wide breaking curve with a blinding fast one which kept the Bulldog throttled most of the afternoon. He whiffed 15 batters.

And he has won both MIAA games the locals have on the right side of the ledger.

In the big fifth for the locals, Second baseman Gordie Van Hoven led off with a triple. He scored on Shortstop Zeke Piersma's single. And Zeke—after stealing second—tallied on Tom Van Winger's one bouncer. Don Brink was hit by a pitched ball, having Van Winger to second. Ver Hey fouled out, but Jack Marema came through with a long single over second to score Van Winger and Brink.

Hope got another run in the seventh when Piersma's terrific smash handuffed the third baseman. He advanced on a wild throw by Adrian's chucker, Gerry Rice, and he scored on Catcher Jim Harvey's hard blow past third.

They tallied the game's all important run in the ninth. Con Boeve singled. Van Hoven was hit by the pitcher. Piersma sacrificed and Boeve on third and moving with the pitch, came across when Van Winger was thrown out by Rice.

The Bulldog's Rice allowed only five hits but the big fifth for the Fighting Dutch proved the difference.

For Hope the hits were evenly divided with no batsmen getting more than one. Marema's blow was the key to victory.

Uniformed Navy Band Called 'World's Finest'

The United States Navy Band, appearing in concert at Riverview park during Tulip Time, has often been acclaimed "The World's Finest." Its official status as "The Band" of the United States Navy was established by act of Congress in 1925 and it has been one of the Nation's proudest organizations in all the years since.

The program is billed as a musical salute to Tulip Time guests. History of the Navy Band dates back to World War I when a 21-piece unit known as the Navy Yard Band of Washington, D.C., began to be exceptionally popular for official occasions. More and more, this little group of musicians, dressed in the regulation sea-going uniform of American sailors, found itself called upon to help welcome distinguished visitors and to play for official functions in Washington. By the end of the war it had improved greatly, in number and in quality, and had earned an outstanding reputation.

With the Armistice, many of the great bands that had stirred the nation began to disappear as quickly as they had been assembled. The big parade was over. But the Navy department, fully conscious of the role they had played, demanded a musical unit that would adequately represent the Navy in the nation's capital and throughout the country for all time to come.

The Navy Yard Band was chosen. Reorganized, strengthened in membership and quality of musicianship, it had achieved great stature by 1923. On March 4, 1925, the day he was inaugurated president, Calvin Coolidge signed the special act of the 68th Congress which recognized the band as the permanent representative band of the U.S. Navy. Its name was changed to the United States Navy Band.

In the fall of 1925, the band left Washington on the first of its annual tours. In the years that followed, the band played for vast audiences in 538 cities and 43 states of the union, as well as Canada, Alaska, Puerto Rico, Panama, Cuba, Jamaica, Haiti and Virgin Islands.

Hope Track Team Drops First Meet To Gd. Rapids JC

Hope college cinder trudgers found enough first place winners but too few "place and show" boys and dropped their first track meet of the season to Grand Rapids JC 69 1-6-61 5-4 at the high school track Friday.

Coach Russ De Vette's crew won exactly half of the events but second line strength paid off for the JC's. The track was "loose" and kept the times and marks "extremely" modest.

Muskegon participated in the meet but their showings did not enter into the summaries.

The Fighting Dutch found themselves seriously lacking in strength in the 100 yard dash, the 440 and 880 runs, the mile, and with Jim Lamb out of the picture, the pole vault. Lamb couldn't get his timing and went unplaced.

Walt Van Der Meulen of Hope, was the individual star of the meet. He captured the 220 dash, placed second in the broad jump and the 440 dash, and in the terrific race of the day, ran a terrific anchor on the mile relay to help the Fighting Dutch to victory in that event.

Hope in the matter of firsts showed up well in the field events. Gordie Van Hoven, Fred Yonkman, and Chuck Link, won the shot put, discus, and javelin, respectively. Ron Bos took time off from his tennis duties to cop the broad jump with a leap of 20' 4".

Sentinel Awarded 'Finalist' Honor In National Contest

By Intercity News Service
New York (Special) — New York spokesmen for national journalism and advertising circles today extended commendation to The Holland Evening Sentinel for earning a "finalist" merit rating in the 20th annual exhibition of newspaper typography conducted by the N. W. Ayer and Son galleries.

The announcement of the judges in the contest, which over the years has come to take on the classic aspects of a national newspaper "derby" of dailies from coast to coast, based upon "unrehearsed daily effort" showed The Sentinel as one of only 24 outstanding newspapers among the 374 entered in the special class of "standard size newspapers of up to 10,000 circulation" which survived the stiff competitive elimination screening to reach final merit placement.

In announcing results, the judges were emphatic in their statements that their task of judging "bests" from more than 840 of the country's leading daily English language newspapers in all categories, was a difficult one. They pointed out that the large number of entries indicated the keen interest of editors and publishers in providing better newspapers each year to the public.

Commenting on this year's awards was James Wright Brown, publisher of Editor and Publisher magazine, who said, "An ably edited and well printed newspaper is a credit to all who have a part in producing it. The Holland Sentinel is evidently well aware of the importance of typography in influencing the readers' appreciation of news content and in exerting strong advertising appeal."

"The Ayer contest has come to be recognized over the years as the outstanding symbol of typographical excellence among American newspapers and to have won final consideration is a gratifying achievement."

It Takes Time to Educate Public on One-Way Streets

Allegan (Special)—In its fourth day of a 60-day trial of two one-way streets, Allegan still had too many drivers going the wrong way to start penalizing the errands, said Police Chief Howard Falk.

"Before we can start ticketing them, we've got to have at least half of them going the right way," Falk said.

The council ordered Trowbridge to be eastbound from Chestnut to Cedar streets, and Cutler westbound same distance. Signs are posted and officers are on duty most of the time there.

"Most of the wrong-way driving is unintentional because they haven't noticed the signs," Falk said. "It's a matter of education."

"So far, I think the only ones who know about the one-way streets are the ones I've stopped and turned around."

When John Q. Adams ran for President for the first time in 1820, he received only one electoral vote. Monore had 231.

Hessel Koolstra read the double ring ceremony at 8 p.m. An arch of ferns and a background of palms, candelabra and bouquets of gladioli, lilies and snapdragons formed the setting.

Mrs. Marvin Johnson sang "O Promise Me" and "Bless This House." Mrs. Ethel Steenwyk played the piano accompaniment and the wedding marches.

The bride wore a gown of white satin with sweetheart neckline, long pointed sleeves and a full skirt with a train. She wore a lace-edged fingertip veil and carried a white Bible with roses and streamers.

Miss Bertha Steenwyk, sister of the groom, as maid of honor wore a pink taffeta gown with sweetheart neckline. She carried a mixed bouquet and wore a tiara of yellow tulips. Marlene Johnson, niece of the bride, was flower girl and wore a pale green taffeta gown and a headband of pink tulips. Lonnie De Neff, nephew of the bride, as ring bearer, was dressed in white.

Jay De Neff, brother of the bride, was best man. Harris De Neff and Clarence Steenwyk were ushers.

A reception for 70 guests followed the ceremony. The Misses Norma King, Grace Harrington, Ruth Woudwyk, Josie Holtgeerts and Hazel Zoerhoff served the guests.

Sunday School Lesson

May 7, 1930
Amos Teaches About Worship
Amos 5:4-9, 14-15; 21-24
By Henry Geerlings

Amos was one of the very earliest of the writing prophets. And while he disclaims qualifications or training for the prophetic office, at the same time his prophecies show that he was a man of more than ordinary ability.
There is excellence in his literary style, and he manifests accurate knowledge of nature and of the history of his own and foreign peoples. His humble calling as a shepherd and a fruit grower did not give opportunity for the flowering forth of those intellectual powers which were disclosed when he entered upon his public ministry.

Without question he prophesied nearly a hundred years after the labors of Elijah and Elisha. He found conditions very much as they were in the days of his predecessors. The same sins were prevalent. The same wealth and luxury abounded. The same degraded idol worship could be seen everywhere. The claims of such common virtues as honesty, truthfulness, sobriety, and spirituality were ridiculed. Amos tried to do over again what Elijah and Elisha had tried to do before him.
And he did not get much farther than they had.

The lamentation or dirge was a familiar form of literary expression in Old Testament times. It was significant of sorrow and tears. It was uttered in token of some calamity past, present or future. Death was the one occasion above all others that called it forth. And to the spiritual mind of Amos the nation of Samaria was as good as dead. He would announce a dirge over his people while they were in the enjoyment of the external forms of life, though he well knew that their strength would soon decay and their prosperity turn to dust. And it was that important word that he wanted them to hear.

The prophet tells his people that if they continue in their wicked ways they will surely suffer at the hands of Jehovah, that fires will break out at the center of their idol shrines and consume them. He reminds them of the night of God with whom they made a deal. It is He who made the stars, who turns the day into night, who fills the sky with rain and sends them down upon the earth again, who brings sudden destruction on those who boast of their strength, humbling and destroying them. But he would also have them know that if they repent they would find God merciful and forgiving, that their sins would be blotted out and He would love them freely.

Conditions had come to such a pass in Israel that the judge who sought to dispense justice impartially was hated, and the individual who reproved wrong and uttered the truth was the most unpopular person in the neighborhood.
The gate of the city where claims and matters of differences of any kind were adjusted was a dangerous place for the man of an honest mind.

Amos as he moved in and out among the people saw the commandments of Jehovah broken in pieces and the poor trodden under foot. The man who was able to offer a bribe escaped the penalty of his wrong doing; but the man who was too poor to offer a bribe had justice withheld from him.
And it was God speaking when the prophet declared, "I know how manifold are your transgressions,
and how mighty are your sins,"
and even though they imagined
he neither knew nor cared.

The sentiment toward evil was so strong that it was not safe for any one to criticize conditions, or offer suggestions for the strengthening of morality, or head a social reform movement. Therefore the man who thought of safety more than of truth never opened his lip. But not so with Amos.

He was more of a prophet of judgment than of mercy, and yet he has some sentences which are remarkable for their representation of the God with a tender and forgiving heart. He had no hesitation in saying that the door of divine mercy still stood wide open.
If the Israelites should return to Jehovah, though their sins were terribly offensive, they would escape
the doom their course
merited, and at the same time, win the life which accompanies doing good. Outward prosperity could not save them, but a change of heart could. The seed of their ruin lay in their own souls. The prophet quickly turned from the note of promised reform to utterances of reaffirmed threats of judgment. He declared that if the day of Jehovah should dawn it would be one of blackness and despair to those who boasted that they were the divine favorites.

The feasts to which the Israelites maintained an external loyalty were of divine origin, but they could be observed to one's injury as well as to one's profit.
Their meaning was perverted.
Their significance was overlooked.
The heart of the people was not in them. They were instruments of self praise and not of humble and devout worship. How could God rejoice in offerings when the offerers brought no love in their souls? They worshipped with their lips, but their hearts were far away.

The songs of the people were no better than their sacrifices. These too were lacking in the element of love which finds God and worships. If we do not intend to adore, then let us stop singing the songs of adoration. If we do not intend to pray, let us cease saying prayers. "There is no virtue in these exercises so long as the right spirit is absent. What God wants is not songs and offerings without justice, nor justice without songs and offerings.

Lt. Gov. Urges Veterans To Safeguard Democracy

Lt. Gov. John W. Connolly urged veterans to safeguard democracy, not by words, but by works.

The wartime Navy officer spoke Monday night at a Loyalty Day banquet sponsored by the Henry Walters VFW post 2144 in the post clubrooms on West Seventh St.

Connolly told his fellow veterans that many persons believe that an individual voice gets lost in the rushing tide of world events.

"Nothing could be further from the truth," he said. "There is no such thing as a small voice in a free nation. It is for us in our own communities, in our veteran activities, in our business associations, among our friends, to recount the good of our American system and join in efforts to improve whatever failings it has."

Connolly emphasized that "our world needs political missionaries

democracy and freedom."

Dutch Crush Bucs For First League Victory of Season

Stupkamen Play Heady Baseball For 11-3 Win; Roger Eggers Winner

Well Friday the ump were on time but the Grand Haven baseball team wasn't. And from what happened they should have stayed home. Because when they finally arrived Coach Bob Stupka's Holland high boys plastered them with an 11-3 defeat.

The locals were downright inhospitable as they got maximum mileage out of eight hits to "ride" to their first Southwestern conference success.

Rog Eggers chucked a smooth game all the way to set the Bucaneers down with four safeties—three of which were of scratchy vintage.

The Bucs—who arrived 40 minutes late and had to hurry through batting and fielding practice—started out as if they meant to chase the Dutch right out of the ball park. They tallied two runs in the first inning on two hits, a walk, and an error.

This lead was short lived, however. Holland came back in the bottom of the first to score three runs—without the benefit of a single hit.

Things started when with one out Morrie Witteveen drew a walk. After two balks by the Bucs' hurler—Pat Kamhout, who didn't survive the last inning—Max Doolittle also received a free ticket. Second baseman Ron Braak conveniently permitted Bob Tasma's easy trickler to roll through his legs for two runs. And "Taz" score a few seconds later when the rattled Kamhout walked three straight batters. Dick Berg hurried in to relieve for the Bucs and got Eggers on an out-field fly.

But in the second the Dutch took to Berg's righthanded slants like long lost relatives. They paraded 13 men to the plate and seven of them crossed it without mishap.

The outburst began when Merrill Human drew a pass. Witteveen was safe on an error. Doolittle—probably bored with scoring without the aid of safe hits—sent screaming drive to the left centerfield bleachers for a triple.

Tasma popped a Texas leaguer over second, scoring Doolittle. It was a nightmare for Grand Haven Coach Steve Sluka for the remainder of the frame.

Two convenient errors, a walk, and an infield hit by Human and Holland had four more tallies.

The scoring pace slowed down a bit and the Dutch got one run in each of the third and fourth innings to settle for the 11-3 verdict.

They scored in the third when Tasma—hitting the ball with a vengeance—unloaded a tremendous triple over the centerfielder's head. He crossed the plate on a passed ball.

Arnie Klompars scored the final tally when he singled, advanced on a wild pitch, and scored as Don Schutt was run down between first and second after getting an infield single.

Grand Haven got their third run in the second on a hit by Thirdbaseman Clancy Laman, a balk, a wild heave, and an infield out. And that's as close as they got.

The locals played heady ball, taking advantage of the breaks. Tasma was the hitting star with his two safeties.

The Dutch cavorted nicely in the field and apart from their first stanza costly bobble, committed only one other error.

Eggers hurled a heady game, permitting one cheap hit after the second. He struck out four batsmen.

As usual, the game was played under trying conditions. The day was bitter cold and only a few died-in-the-wool fans turned out.

The Dutch will travel to Muskegon Friday to do battle with the Big Reds in their next Southwestern encounter.

Census Taking Finished Here

"We're all done!" That exultant cry came from Mrs. Theresa Elferdink as she reported that census taking in Holland is complete. Mrs. Elferdink has been in charge of Holland urban enumerating.

The Holland counting ran two weeks overtime. Starting April 1, enumeration was supposed to be finished April 15. However, it ran over in most cities, and Holland was no exception. Counting ended here Friday.

Some cities still are busy making calls. Mrs. Elferdink said that Grand Rapids, for one, is "quite a bit behind Holland." She credits Holland's lead to co-operation of both the public and enumerators.

"There are a lot of tired enumerators here," Mrs. Elferdink said. "But it has been a wonderful experience."

From here, the figures go to Grand Rapids where they are tabulated and edited. Then they continue on to Washington.

The local census workers can't give an expected population total for the city. It would be only a guess if they did.

The local figures are just sent on to Grand Rapids. Mrs. Elferdink reports. Census workers don't total them here.

Checking-in headquarters will be at the Warm Friend Tavern, soon after breakfast. Tours of tulip lanes and trips to the tulip fields are scheduled along with visits to Netherlands Museum, Little Netherlands and other points of interest. A preview of the street scrubbing and klompen dancing is planned.

Hope Errors Lead To Loss at Hands Of Hillsdale Nine

Two big innings, the first and second, stood up to give Hillsdale its second win of the season over Hope's Fighting Dutch 8-7 at Hillsdale Tuesday.

The Dales tallied all their runs in the big first which netted six, and the second in which they garnered two.

Paul Buckhout—Jack Schouten's ace righthander went all the way. And if his shaky mates hadn't committed three costly errors and he hadn't walked four in the ninth, the first he would have pitched a beautiful ball game.

"Bucky" hurled 6-hit ball and for the last five innings the Dales had trouble getting the ball out of the infield. He didn't permit a hit after the third.

But the old Hope bugaboo—the bobbie led to his downfall.

The battling Hopesters made a game of it and almost pulled the game out of the fire. The heart-breaker was when Gordie Van Hoeven's mountainous drive just did go foul with the bases jammed in the eighth frame.

The Dutch got three runs in their second on hits by Zeke Piersma, Tom Van Wingen, and Buckhout.

They got a single run in the fourth on two passes and Third-baseman Don Brink's single.

In the fifth they scored on Piersma's second hit, two stolen bases, and a long fly.

They got two more in the sixth as Pinchhitter Ron Appledorn patted a home run into deep left field. And they scored for the last time in the eighth on three walks and an error.

Buckhout was very fast but errors coupled with wildness caused his downfall. It makes the third game he has dropped to MIAA opponents this season and all have been toughies. He struck out five.

Brink, with three hits, and Piersma, with two, led the Fighting Dutch attack.

They hope to conquer their case of erroritis when they tangle with the Alma Scots at Riverview Saturday.

Zeeland Plants To Be Saluted

Zeeland—Zeeland will salute its manufacturing plants during one week of special recognition, sometime in May, Chamber of Commerce officials announced last week.

A total of 29 Zeeland manufacturers will display their finished products in downtown store windows during the industrial week.

Definite time for the exhibits, jointly sponsored by the retail merchants, manufacturers and Chamber of Commerce, has not been set. Chamber officials said that it is possible the week will coincide with Holland's Tulip Time, May 17-20.

Purpose of the window exhibits will be to acquaint townspeople, employers and visitors with finished products from Zeeland plants.

Many people, even residents, don't realize just what is being produced in Zeeland, Chamber officials said. Some don't even realize there are more than 30 plants in the city area.

Among the products to be displayed are clocks, wood specialty products, such as handles for hand tools, furniture, hosiery, modernistic furniture, fiber and paper products, food processing and products, chicken feeders and custom upholstery.

Millions of Rural Women Celebrate National Week

Home Demonstration Leaders Lauded for Improvement Work

Once each year, M. L. Wilson, director of extension service, U.S. Dept. of Agriculture, declares National Home Demonstration week, when tribute is paid to the home demonstration agents employed in 3,107 counties, and to the more than three million women who take part in home demonstration activities every year. During that week rural women plan their strategy for the coming year to get more women working on the problems of improving their homes and working together to make the community and the nation a place where good homes thrive. They believe that today's home does build tomorrow's world. In 1950, April 30 to May 6, is National Home Demonstration week.

Home demonstration work of the extension service is a direct, concentrated effort on the part of home demonstration agents, plus their volunteer army of rural women, to improve the lot of farm population from the foundation of family life on up through civic reforms.

Of the 3,107 counties in the United States, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico, 2,301 employ one or more home demonstration agents. County, state and federal governments contribute to this work. There are approximately 50,000 home demonstration clubs with a membership of 1,162,346 women.

Home demonstration work is a continuing program of education in all aspects of home and community life and contributes to changes in knowledge, skills, and attitudes. It is a co-operative program developed democratically and based on needs and problems recognized locally by the people themselves.

In Ottawa county there are 35 organized groups with an enrollment of 600. During 1950, the group leaders will have taught lessons on the theory and practice of room arrangement, the preparation and serving of frozen foods, the rudiments of home landscaping and fun at home. An open meeting is planned at which new textile fabrics and their uses will be discussed.

Members are urged to relay the information received at their meetings to at least two or more non-members. In this way, educational information reaches more people than the actual membership. Anyone interested in belonging to a group or in organizing a new group should contact Mrs. Grace Vander Kolk, home demonstration agent for Ottawa county.

General policies and program of work for Ottawa county are planned by the executive board members and the home agent working together. The board is made up of eight members, two representing groups from each of four districts. Those on the board for 1950 are Mrs. Gerald Smith, Zeeland; Mrs. Ward Keppel, route 2, Zeeland; Mrs. Andrew Van Klompenberg, route 1, Byron Center; Mrs. Harry Lenters, route 1, Hudsonville; Mrs. Fred Ellis, route 1, Marne; Mrs. Russell Lowing, route 1, Conklin; Mrs. August Vanderwagen, Ferrysburg; and Mrs. Rudolph Hodal, route 1, Spring Lake.

Michiganders Should Eat Lots of Surplus Beans

With Michigan producing 25 per cent of the nation's edible beans, Michigan people should have a keen interest in them as food. That's the opinion of A. B. Love, agricultural marketing economist at Michigan State college, who anticipates good support to the program to dispose of the present exceptionally large bean supply direct to consumers.

During food-short war years growers were asked to raise bean production about one-third. It's been hard to get back to lower production again, and in 1949 weather was good to the crop. Result: Many more beans than we normally use.

"If you and I and everyone in the U. S. would use one extra pound of beans during National Bean week, April 27 to May 10, it would do much toward solving the oversupply problem," he said.

And here, briefly, are some of the benefits to be gained: (1) A highly nutritious diet boost, at a money saving price. (2) Less federal spending for farm price supports paid out of tax money. Two million 100-pound bags of dry beans are in storage in Michigan alone. (3) A more orderly market, and insurance for good food service in future years.

Regular Meeting Held By Royal Neighbors

A regular meeting of the Royal Neighbors was held in the hall Thursday night. Mrs. Joe Dore, orator, presided.

Girl contestants from many parts of Ottawa county met at Zeeland City hall for final elimination to determine who would represent the county as dairy queen. Miss Inez Wassenaar, route 1, Zeeland, was the choice of the committee. The committee consisted of Robert De Pree, chairman, Neal Andre, Jenison, and Jay Mulder, Zeeland. Miss Wassenaar is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Peter F. Wassenaar. Dr. Wassenaar is a veterinarian. She attended the Star school, then entered Zeeland high school where she has been active in school activities and other events.

Small Grain Weeds Killed With Sprays

Heavy infestations of ragweed and wild mustard should not be tolerated in small grain fields any longer, says B. R. Churchill, farm crops research scientist at the Michigan agricultural experiment station.

Chemical weed killers can eradicate both of these pests, he maintains. If there is no legume seedling in the small grain, 2-4-D at the rate of one-quarter to one-half pound acid equivalent per acre, can be used. If the ester form is used, the lower rate is advised. The best time to spray the field is when grain is about six to eight inches high. This applies to both winter and spring grains. Winter grains should not be fall sprayed.

Mustard and ragweed plants will have four to six leaves at this time and are very susceptible to the spray. The 2-4-D can be applied in water, using about five gallons of water an acre. Spraying small grains with 2-4-D is very risky if a legume seedling is present.

If seedlings are made, it is safer to use a dinitro spray, carefully following manufacturer's instructions. Spraying should be done when the small grain is six to eight inches high. Spraying at the proper time is important.

March Records Compiled For No. 2 Testing Group

Records on the No. 2 Cow Testing association as compiled by H. M. Sutton, tester, show almost identical figures for the association average as that of the Southeast association for the month of March. Average of milk per cow is 870 pounds, 34 pounds butterfat. The latter figure is one pound higher than for the older association.

In the highest cows class, under three years, those owned by Delmar Barnett and Hecksel Bros., were first and second, respectively; cows under four years, Gerrit Butth, first, Hecksel Bros., second; under five years, John Ter Horst, first, and Wallen Wood Farms, second; over five years, Scott Holmes, first, and Butth, second.

In the high herds class, small herds of 5 to 10 cows, honors went to Edward Koops first, and Joe Wesseldyk, second; medium herd, 11 to 20 cows, John Ter Horst, first, and Scott Holmes, second; large herd, 21 or more cows, Hecksel Bros., first, and Butth, second.

Two new members were added to the association in March. Joe Wesseldyk of Zeeland and Clifford Mulder, Hudsonville.

Repeat Advised for Bang's Vaccination

Dr. I. F. Huddleson, who perfected the "Brucella M" vaccine for prevention of Bang's disease in cattle, recommends re-vaccination after two years. The Michigan State college brucellosis authority advises farmers who used the vaccine on animals more than two years ago to contact veterinarians for another inoculation.

When the vaccine, now widely used in Michigan, was first announced, Dr. Huddleson expressed a belief that its life would possibly be a period of two years.

Veterinarians throughout the state report most farmers to be highly pleased with results of the vaccine developed in the brucella laboratory on the Michigan State college campus. It is available through most Michigan veterinarians who have been given a permit by the Michigan Department of Agriculture to use it.

New Orleans is the world's chief banana port.

Ag Economists Predict Prices

Here's a quick look at future prices of several Michigan farm products, as seen by Michigan State college agricultural economists.

Seasonal dairy price decline will be less than normal—probably one or two cents for farm butterfat, 10 to 15 cents for milk for manufacturing.

Wholesale egg prices, Detroit market, are expected to be 36 to 40 cents a dozen for U. S. Grade A Large during early May. Hen prices will likely decline about five cents a pound by May 15, then continue at that level through summer.

Hog prices have passed the spring peak and will continue to decline through May. Demand for pork is less than a year ago; the supply larger.

"Choice" and "prime" fat cattle prices are expected to be lower during next month; "good," steady; "medium" and "common," slightly higher; "feeders" and "stockers" steady to higher. Lamb prices, steady.

Corn, oats and wheat probably will rise slightly until June or July. Protein and mixed feed prices can be expected to rise. Hay prices have declined some, and will likely change little before harvest time.

Bean prices should rise slightly toward the government support price. Sugar beet prices for 1950 will be near last year's. Potato prices on good U. S. No. 1's are expected to remain near the support level of $2.15 a cwt.
