Joseph H. Geerds Appointed to BPW For Another Term

Several Appointments Made by City Fathers For Interim Period

Joseph H. Geerds, present president of the board, was appointed to another five-year term on the Board of Public Works by Mayor Harry Harrington and Common Council Wednesday night.

The mayor's nomination of Joe Geerds was backed by Alderman Raymond Holwerda, who said, "In view of the valuable service and leadership he has given the board, I deem it an honor to move that council concur in the appointment of Mr. Geerds."

Alderman Bernice Bishop seconded the motion. The vote was unanimous. Geerds' term will run until July 1, 1956.

John Van Dyke, Jr., was re-appointed to the Board of Supervisors after completing a short interim term. Van Dyke first was appointed earlier this year to succeed the late Simon De Boer. His term will expire Jan. 1, 1955.

A total of 27 appointments were made by the Mayor and council Wednesday night. All were re-appointments. They included:

For indefinite periods, subject to the will of the city manager and common council—City Clerk Clarence Greengard, City Assessor William Koop, Health Inspector Ben Weirama, Building Inspector Joseph Shashaguan, City Engineer Jacob Zuidema, City Attorney O. S. Cross.

Judge Cross was appointed on a fee system, with fees not to exceed regular budget allowance for a city attorney, and details to be worked out by the manager, clerk and one council member to be named. Judge Cross has reached retirement age, and no longer will be under the municipal retirement system.

Term appointments included Ed Van Spyker, member of the heating ordinance board for three years; Alderman Anthony Nienhuis, member of the Dutch Tulip bulb growers association for one year; Harry Harrington, William H. Vande Water, John Bontekoe, Henry Vander Schel, Joe Kramer and Henry Geerds for one year terms on the harbor board.

John Van Dyke, Jr., and Bernard Arendshorst were re-appointed to the Board of Appeals.

Several positions will be ended when certain boards are dissolved July 1 under the new charter. All members were re-appointed for the interim. They include:

Arthur C. Prigge, member of the Park and Cemetery board; Dr. R. A. Schaftenaar, Health board; Alvin Cook, Bert Selles, John Beltman, Jacob Zuidema, Lester J. Kuyper, Edward Prins, John Van Eerden and E. V. Hartman, Playground commission; mayor, clerk, attorney, Arnold Hertel, Edward Dimmett, Clarence Klaasen, Henry S. Maentz, Sinking Fund commission.

Council also decided that the mayor will continue as the council's representative on the Board of Supervisors instead of the manager.

Attorney General To Be Consulted In Judge's Status

The attorney general's office will be asked to decide whether Municipal Judge Cornelius vander Meulen who has reached retirement age may continue in office in Holland.

Judge vander Meulen appeared before Common Council Wednesday night seeking council's intercession on his behalf. He suggested two possible alternatives—one that legislation on the matter is pending in legislature, and the other that he might possibly "retire from the retirement act."

"I don't want to embarrass the city of Holland or throw a monkey wrench into the business, but I don't particularly care to retire yet," he said.

Alderman Raymond Holwerda suggested the matter be turned over to the city attorney for study, but City Attorney O. S. Cross said he had been studying the compulsory retirement act for three weeks and believes the retirement law is "absolute" with no exceptions. He said, however, he would consult the attorney general on the subject.

"Because council felt it had no jurisdiction in authorizing the municipal judge to continue to serve while the matter is not settled, it arranged to have Jay Den Herder, associate judge, continue while vander Meulen's status is determined by the attorney general."

vander Meulen was elected to a six-year term in 1948. The term expires in 1954.

Public Hearings On Paving Jobs Scheduled in City

Light Installations At Municipal Lots Ordered by Council

Common Council okayed plans, specifications and estimates of cost for eight units of the 1951 paving program upon recommendation of Engineer Jacob Zuidema at Wednesday's meeting.

Public hearings on all eight locations were set for 8 p.m. on May 16 at the council rooms. Locations, with projected costs, include:

On 11th St., Columbia to Fairbanks Aves., $34,757.90; East 14th St., from Lincoln to Fairbanks Aves., $21,246.60; East 15th St., from Columbia to Lincoln Aves., $12,347.42; West 20th St., from Harrison to Ottawa Aves., $19,135.58; West 21st St., from Washington to Van Raalte Aves., $14,612.39; Central Ave., from 28th to 32nd St., $22,233.59; Pine Ave., from 20th St. to Michigan Ave., $20,750.30.

Further street action involved a no-parking regulation on the west side of Pine Ave., from Seventh to 23rd Sts., during Tulip Time. The resolution was an outgrowth of a suggestion from Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff that Pine Ave. be made a through street with parking limited to the east side of one block between 12 and 13th St. Council deferred action awaiting recommendation of the planning commission, but followed Van Hoff's suggestion to limit parking during Tulip Time.

Council also approved a police recommendation for installation of floodlights on the tannery parking lot and on Seventh St. and College Ave., parking lots. The lights are available from the Playground commission. The Board of Public Works will take care of installation, with that cost and upkeep cost to be charged to the meter fund.

A report from the state highway department regarding installation of traffic lights on state highways outlined the city's share as $11,718.60—about two-thirds of the cost. The final state report followed several months of correspondence between city and state. The amount was authorized to be paid from the gas and weight tax funds.

J. C. McMonagle, director of planning and traffic with the state highway department, suggested by letter that he come to Holland to discuss relocation of US-31. Council will meet with him on May 9 for the talks.

Council Adopts Recommendations

City Engineer Jacob Zuidema, who was instructed at the last meeting of Common Council to study and make recommendations about three suggestions by the planning commission, reported concurrence with all three measures Wednesday night.

Following Zuidema's report, council adopted the recommendations and made necessary provisions to carry them out. The provisions include:

Subdivision of the Nies property between 24th and 26th Sts., with final consideration to be given upon presentation of completed drawings of the plat.

No change in zoning of the property at the northeast corner of Washington Ave., and 18th St.

Instruction to be given to Alvin Melton, 13 East 27th St., and Arthur Bushee, 351 West 32nd St., requiring building permits to be taken out to convert basement houses into suitable homes within two years. Zuidema suggested further that Herman Kuiper be instructed to remove water from the basement of a house at 325 West 32nd St., as a temporary measure and to complete construction of the house within two years.

Hospital expenses are broken down as follows: administrative, $39,614.30; dietary, $61,115.40; housekeeping, $22,248; laundry, $15,455.16; linen, $6,780; plant operation, $27,903.48; nursing maintenance, $1,445.04; surgical, $147,900; medical and surgical, $24,370.08; pharmacy, $26,040; medical records, $5,455.20; operating room, $19,860; radiology, $36,908.40; laboratory, $18,862.20; total expenses, $453,357.26.

Equipment and improvements call for an outlay of $2,602 and a civil defense budget of $805.

New City Budget Lists $359,500 For Local Taxes

Common Council Adopts Separate Budgets for Holland City and BPW

Common Council Wednesday night adopted a 15-month budget for the year 1951-52 calling for an outlay of $359,500 to be raised by local taxation. Last year's tax figure for 12 months was $238,000.

Council also adopted a 12-month budget for the Board of Public Works calling for a total electric department budget of $817,550 and a water department budget of $79,600, subject to one minor adjustment.

Since Council had advertised a public hearing for the city budget and no objections had been filed or voiced, the entire city budget was adopted with little or no comment. Council had been working on the budget for many weeks.

Action on the BPW budget went a little less smoothly and Mayor Harry Harrington declared a recess which lasted 15 minutes while aldermen consulted with Randall C. Bosch, BPW member, in a closed session.

Council later approved a resolution read by Alderman A. W. Hertel which said although council was not in agreement with the depreciation figures submitted in the budget, it would not object to the figures this year but urged a careful study on depreciation in order to enter revised figures next year. The only change council made in the BPW budget was to limit the salary of the office of the BPW superintendent to $8,800 to keep increases in line with other positions which have not exceeded a 10 per cent increase this year. The salary had been figured on a $10,500 basis, it was said.

The city budget for the 15 months ending June 30, 1952, calls for an outlay of total expenses of $1,215,379.45. Income other than BPW, $739,963.77, making net requirement of $475,415.68. Cash on hand at the close of the fiscal year was estimated at $115,915.68, making a total of $359,500 to be raised by taxation.

Of the estimated total income of $739,963.77, largest entries were liquor tax, $5,000; intangible taxes, $26,100; sales tax, $90,000; cemetery interest on investments, $7,500; cemetery certificate transfers, $8,750; parking fines, $5,000; court fees, $4,000; ordinance fines, $9,000; parking meter receipts, $32,500; BPW share of profits, $80,000; hospital, $443,398.77.

Total expenses for the 15-month period totaling $1,215,379.45 are broken down as follows: council, $8,775; clerk, $16,320; treasurer, $3,737; assessor, $11,633; manager, $16,280; auditor, $5,000; Board of Review, $620; legal, $2,665; elections, $4,530; planning commission, $12,400; audit and dues, $1,770; municipal court, $8,951; police, $92,318; fire, $94,650; parking meters, $32,500.

Inspection, $7,155; dog pound, $1,940; health, $3,060; welfare, $9,550; Jones agreement, $2,155; recreation, $17,076; park, $65,187; library, $21,134; street, $106,081; city hall, $17,745; clinic and museum, $4,480; general sewer, $62,543.70; fire alarm, $2,500; cemetery, $48,255; contingent, $77,004.49; hospital, $457,364.26.

The 12-month budget for the BPW lists expenses of operating the James De Young plant at $379,770; maintenance of plant, $73,450; operation and maintenance of standby Fifth St. station at $89,180; distribution expenses of $52,500; commercial expenses of $18,100; new business expenses of $2,250; general expense of $50,700; and depreciation of $151,600, giving a total electric department budget of $817,550.

The water department lists total pumping expenses of $24,800; distribution expenses of $14,100; commercial expense, $5,900; general expense of $13,300; depreciation, $21,500; total water department budget, $79,600.

The hospital budget calls for total expenses and improvements of $457,364.26; collections of $443,398.77, leaving $13,965.49 to be raised by the city. The hospital budget is on a 15-month basis.

Hospital expenses are broken down as follows: administrative, $39,614.30; dietary, $61,115.40; housekeeping, $22,248; laundry, $15,455.16; linen, $6,780; plant operation, $27,903.48; nursing maintenance, $1,445.04; surgical, $147,900; medical and surgical, $24,370.08; pharmacy, $26,040; medical records, $5,455.20; operating room, $19,860; radiology, $36,908.40; laboratory, $18,862.20; total expenses, $453,357.26.

Equipment and improvements call for an outlay of $2,602 and a civil defense budget of $805.

Summer Weather, Thunderstorms Hit Holland Area

Lightning Kills Cow, Knocks Out Fixtures In William Boeve Home

A surge of warm humid air brought a preview of summer to the Midwest during the week-end.

But the unseasonable weather touched off a series of thunderstorms all over the region, and torrents of rain flooded curbs and gutters, underpasses and overflowed creeks and river banks.

Most serious damage locally occurred at 7:40 a.m. Monday when lightning killed a cow on the William M. Boeve farm north of Holland on old US-31. Lightning also knocked out all the electrical fixtures in the house, blew out the television set and telephone and put the refrigerator out of commission. The four children had just come downstairs. The family saw the fire bolt come through the stairway.

Early Sunday morning in Holland, lightning knocked out six transformer fuses, but there was little or no inconvenience to local consumers since the height of the storm was at 3 a.m. and all power was restored by 10:45 a.m. There was no power on the east end of Hope college campus or on East 14th St. Another transformer was out at Lincoln and 29th St. Lightning hit a wire between two poles on Paw Paw drive, burning out three of the four wires.

Bell Telephone company reported a few fuses were blown.

Rainfall for the week-end totaled .94 inch, according to Charles Steketee, chief weather observer at Hope college. Maximum temperature was 78 on Sunday, 77 on Saturday.

Many persons took advantage of the summer weather to go riding or picnicking. Holland state park manager Clare Broad estimated 7,000 visitors on Sunday and 2,000 on Saturday. Some had picnics but most motorists seemed to be out just for the ride. Fishermen at the piers are becoming more numerous, Broad said.

A few sail and power boats were out on Lake Macatawa and one girl went water skiing.

Eggers Pitches Two-Hitter, But Berg Allows One

Grand Haven (Special)—Behind one-hit pitching by veteran Dick Berg, the Grand Haven Buccaneers opened the baseball season for Holland high school with a 5-0 victory over the invading Dutchmen.

But Berg had to be almost hitless. His mound opponent, Roger Eggers, gave up but two hits to the winners—and one of those was a scratch infield single.

Eggers' opening inning unsteadiness gave the Bucs their first two runs, while the two Bucs hits were combined for the third. The last two tallies crossed later on three Holland errors.

Berg, meanwhile, was shacking the Dutch bats. Eggers was the only Hollander to hit safely with a ringing single to center in the fifth. Only a beautiful backhanded stab by centerfielder Bob Klukos prevented what looked like a cinch triple.

The Havenite hurler faced only 23 men over the seven-inning route—just two over par for the course. He registered 12 strike outs, walked one and hit one batter.

That hit batsman was Jack Kempker, who was beamed by the first pitch and forced to retire from the game. A hospital check-up indicated nothing wrong outside of dizziness and a headache. Freshman Dick Plagenhoef, usually an infielder, took over for Kempker in left field.

Eggers struck out four batters and walked four. Two walks came in the first frame and resulted in the first two Bucs runs. Emery Holzinger opened the game with a walk, stole second and went to third on a passed ball. Klukos then walked and stole second. Holzinger scored and Klukos went to third as Bill McPhee went out on an infield grounder. Then Klukos broke for the plate on an attempted steal of home, and the umpire awarded him the base when he called a balk on Eggers.

The third BUC run came in the fourth. After two were out, Pat Kambout dribbled one into the dirt and beat the throw to first. He stole second and scored as Ron Braak drilled a single to center—the only solid hit to the winners' credit.

The final two tallies came in the fifth. Holzinger, ended up on second when Plagenhoef dropped his towering flyball. He went to third on a sacrifice. A moment later he broke for the plate and came in safely as Phil Yedink popped a bunt into the infield. Yedink was safe when first baseman Alden Klompars dropped the throw to first.

Yedink worked himself around to third and was out on another attempted steal of home. But a walk, a wild pitch and an error by second baseman Bob Tasma gave Coach Steve Siuka's boys their final tally.

Holland, meanwhile, couldn't get a man past first. Kempker reached base by proxy in the first but stayed there. Eggers' single was erased when Ernest Prince hit into a double play. And Klompars got to first on a walk in the fifth but died there.

The Dutch showed the signs of insufficient practice this spring. It was the sixth game of the season for the ambitious Bucs, who now have won five and lost one.

Coach Bob Stupka's charges return to conference action next Friday when they entertain Muskegon at Riverview Park.

Miss Keizer will play the organ for the dramatic spectacle which will be presented at Riverview park the first three evenings of the 1951 festival. (Sentinel photo)

Big Tulip Time Pageant Will Highlight Festival

A highlight of Tulip Time this year will be a dramatic spectacle of pageantry called "Sunrise Tomorrow" to be presented three evenings, May 16, 17 and 18, in Riverview park.

"Sunrise Tomorrow" featuring hundreds of bright costumes as well as 228 Klomp dancers, takes its significant message from medieval legend which becomes part of the program of a modern radio station making its debut in the television field. A love affair between the young announcer and the owner's daughter finds a solution in an impromptu program stunt that backfires to the surprise of the announcer and the audience.

Roy Lumsden, Hope college junior from Niagara Falls, N.Y., will play the part of the young radio announcer and Mary Houtman, Holland junior, will be the owner's daughter. They will be known as Bob Tate and Janie Reynolds. Janie's father, station owner J. C. Reynolds, will be played by Carl Jordan of Fremont.

Gladys Keizer, Hope student of Byron Center, will be organist for the event, and Lois England of Chicago is choreographer for a French scene which involves an elaborate minuet number. John Smallegan of Forest Grove will be the Pied Piper. Many other characters are yet to be selected.

In the legend, a heroic nimble-minded prince thinks his way out of an embarrassing impasse when he rides into a trick situation evolved by the jester, Tyl Uilenspiegel. His philosophy is accentuated by the repeated contacts made by a naive American radio interviewer who follows the dramatic story of the tulip through the pages of history as part of a television program.

The contrast of the impetuous American to the chastened oldsters of centuries-ago Europe gives a vivid picture of the fallacy that riches make for happiness. There is a highly effective scene laid in Haarlem in 1636 when the Netherlands was in its "golden age" and the "tulip folly" almost ruined its economy. A charming colorful scene in the court of Louis XV brings the tulip to France.

The finale is the rhythmic "Four Seasons" dance created by Virginia Borgman and given by 228 Holland high girls wearing Dutch costumes and wooden shoes.

The Reign of David
2 Samuel 5:1-5; 8:15
1 Chronicles 22:17-19

By Henry Geerlings

David's life will always stand out as one of the most charming and instructive in the entire Bible. No one would think of mentioning a dozen of the commanding Bible characters and not include David. He will always be remembered for three or four distinct services he rendered the nation.

He was an able leader and commander. His military campaigns were successful in his highest degree. He subdued the enemies round about who were wont to give Israel trouble. He extended the boundaries of the nation and brought it to a place of power that commanded the respect of foreign countries. He strengthened the nation internally. Cities were fortified and every legitimate industry encouraged.

One of the most notable achievements of his reign was the conquest of Jerusalem. The inhabitants boasted of its location and defied any one to try to capture it. He encouraged the undertaking and the city fell into his hands. He made it the civil and religious capital of the nation and did it in a becoming manner. He located the tabernacle there and made it the rallying point of worshippers of the true God. He would have built the temple but God forbade him.

David's religious influence on the nation was exceptional. He made mistakes, and some serious ones, but on the whole he was a man after God's own heart. He organized the temple choir and gave a might impulse to worship through song. Divine services were regularly maintained while he was king. The annual feasts were occasions of nation wide enthusiasm. As true religion flourished idolatry was suppressed.

God's cause did no lose out because Saul failed. He had another to take his place. His successor was his superior in every way. David came to Saul's throne and proved himself a better warrior, a safer leader, a wiser statesman. He followed a constructive course. He did not digress from the paths of God in public matters and did not lead the people except as God directed. He was the man of the hour, called when yet a boy to face the great task of becoming a nation's king, when the national crisis would arise that would issue a call for him.

As king he was successful. His honors were many among his own people and among other nations. God had given him rare successes. His triumph advance had been enough to turn his head, but he retained a spirit of humility before God, and that doubtless had much to do with his exaltation before men. Strange how people grow up before the world when they go down humbly before God. His one disappointment was that he was not privileged to build a magnificent house of God. When this was denied he did not pine and sulk. He took God's plans as best and turned his attention to gathering materials with which his own successor would be able to build even a better temple than David contemplated building.

God was uppermost in his thought. He went before Him and talked the whole matter over. He recognized the greatness of God and wondered that so great a God would bother so much with him. He was amazed that God should point out a future for his descendants that was filled with honors. I seem that the big idea in David's mind was how he could render proper worship to Jehovah. To him God was very great, greater far than the gods of other peoples. In fact he declared that there was no other God. David knew the commandments. He was willing to obey the one that set God in the place of supremacy. It was faith in and dependence on the great God that made his reign one of the greatest in the history of Israel.

Reviewing the providences of Jehovah he pointed his graciousness of God to His people. He had chosen them, had looked after them, and had planned for them a great place among the peoples of the world. God had been well enough satisfied with His choice that He had determined that forever they were to be His people. Nothing except the stubbornness and sins of the people could change His plans. David threw himself and the people back on the promises of God and was contented to rest there, conforming to His directions and putting nothing in the way of establishing His people in the earth.

David believed in the graciousness of Jehovah. His rich experiences had brought him to this confidence: God had dealt so graciously with him that he was glad to commend his God to others. A leader like that is certain to influence his people for God. Through all this David was eager to make God supreme. He wanted all the people of Israel to proclaim the Lord of hosts as their God and be contented to dwell in the land and His will.

Kortman-Stoeper Vows Spoken

Bob Armstrong, who won three events and placed in a fourth in the Grand Haven-Holland high track meet Tuesday afternoon, here clears the 5' 6" mark that won this event for the Dutch. Armstrong's other wins were in the high hurdles and the broad jump. The Dutch won the meet 81 1/2-27 1/2.

GRANDSTANDING...

By Russ McKee

Bejabsers, but it's summer and what happened to spring? Oh well, never mind, let's get the sailboats sailing and the fish lines fishing and the third sackers sacking.

The boom and bustle of spring—pardon me—summer sports, can be heard in every quarter save the softball dugouts, and even there a few slight stirrings indicate it won't be long before we'll be spending our evenings under the arcs at the Third St. diamond.

All the school sports have been flailing away at their schedules and some have hacked out enough of a chunk to indicate a trend. Hope's baseball squad, the team Coach Jack Schouten said before the season was inexperienced and had to be rebuilt after last year's losses, has fared better than its opposition. Thus far the Dutch have amassed a 5-3 record, not bad for a team with only four lettermen.

Notable, too, is the tennis power in Holland. Both Holland Christian and Holland high have been wrapping up their foes with comparative ease to date. Christian has clouted five opponents while losing one and the high school squad has lost only to Kalamazoo after winning three straight.

Such net power is strong testimony that the Recreation department tours for the pint-sized, under Joe Moran's direction, have been paying off in recent years.

A kicker's handicap at the Saugatuck golf course on Saturday produced four winners from Holland. J. O. Lamb and A. Roberts took the first part of the tourney, Lorin Shook owner of the course said, and Henry Visser and George Slikkers took the second section.

Jim Hagadone, who local fans will remember as wearing a Flying Dutchman's uniform last year was slightly injured in the second Hope-Kalamazoo game Saturday. Jim plays second for the Hornets and in the ninth inning with two out he collided with Jack Wendt. Hornets center fielder. In 'epic fashion both were laid out while base runners scampered onward.

Hagadone finally was able to throw the ball to a teammate, but by then Zeke Piersma had gotten home with the only Hope run that game. Neither Hagadone or Wendt was seriously injured.

The Flying Dutchmen have started practice, and meet each Monday, Wednesday, and Friday evenings on the Riverview diamond. Manager Benny Batema is looking for new material to bolster his draft blown ranks, and invites out anyone interested.

Hook up your hayralls and tie down your windwards, buccos, we're off on another sailing season. Well soon, anyway, and Macatawa soon will blossom forth with mainmasts and jibs and mizzen topgallant stays'ls through I understand the latter now are rather obsolete. But Bert Pollock, captain of the Lightning class fleet, says spinnakers have been ordained for the 19-footers this year, and the big sails will increase greatly the speed of the fleet.

Formerly, spinnakers were not legal on Lightnings he said.

Yes, with the coming of the tulips, everything it seems, in Holland, wakes from the long winter.

League Discusses Sunday Hunting

Members of the Ottawa Christian League and various organizations throughout the county discussed the Sunday hunting issue and hoodlum hunters at a meeting Friday night in First Christian Reformed church, Zeeland. Following a discussion, the Ottawa Christian league stated it still stands for no Sunday hunting.

President Tony Last presided at the meeting and led devotions.

Organizations present decided farmers definitely need protection from hoodlum hunters and others who trespass farmers' property without consent of the owners. It was pointed out the Horton trespass act is ineffective when it comes to property owners.

Many instances were cited as to damage done by hunters. The hoodlum hunter, being in the minority, is making it more difficult for good sportsmen year and year by ruthless disregard for private property. Farmers Union representatives said.

A better understanding was reached at the meeting pertaining to all the problems presented and the Ottawa Christian League feels it can go ahead and make concrete plans as to these problems, is announced.

The Rev. D. D. Boninema, pastor of First church, Zeeland, closed with prayer.

Buchanan Juggles Squad as Runners Win 11 Events

Holland's high school track team forged its first conference victory of the season Tuesday afternoon, swamping Grand Haven 81-27.

The Dutch had been favored to win the meet over the smaller Grand Haven school, but the manner in which Coach Austin Buchanan's crew took the victory was unexpected.

Buchanan juggled his squad and shifted runners from their usual races, one effect of which is a new school record in the 220 dash.

Tom Carey, who usually runs the 440 for Holland, was shifted to the 220, and got up enough steam over the shorter run to set a new school record of 23.7 seconds. Buchanan searched available records after he met, but could find no lower time in past years. Carey also ran the 100 for Holland, taking that event by 10 yards in 11.2 seconds.

Carey came back to bother Grand Haven again later, anchoring the 880-relay team and closing a 10-yard gap to beat out the Grand Haven runner by two feet. Bob Armstrong, Holland's high jumper — broad jumper — high hurdler, took first in all those events, along with placing third in the shot put. Armstrong was Dutch high point man with 16 points.

Frank Van Dyke, too, turned in an excellent day, giving the Dutch 131 points by taking the shot, the low hurdles, and placing in the high jump and the broad jump.

Other outstanding work for the Dutch was turned in by Ron Den Uyl, who ran a good 2:12.6 half-mile. Bob Walker took second behind teammate Orrin Hall of Holland in the 440, Walker closing a sizeable gap in the final 50 yards to beat out John Koppel of Grand Haven, who placed third.

Jimmy Maruri also ran a nice 880 to take second behind Den Uyl, and had to beat out Dick Oskund of Grand Haven in the last few feet to do it.

The summaries: — Armstrong, H.; Snook, GH; Urbanic, GH. 18 second.

Medley relay—Grand Haven, 2:58.8 minutes.

100-yard dash—Carey, H.; Zysk, GH; Rowell, H. 11.2 seconds.

220-yard dash—Carey, H.; Overway, H.; Grissen, H. 23.7 seconds.

440-yard dash—Hall, H.; Walker, H.; Koppel, GH. 57.5 seconds.

Low hurdles—Van Dyke, H.; Snook, GH; Schulz, H. 24 seconds.

220-yard dash—Carey, H.; Kappel, H.; Metzler, GH. 23.7 seconds.

880-yard run—Den Uyl, H.; Maruri, H.; Oskund, GH. 2:12.6 minutes.

880-yard relay—Holland. 1:45.8 minutes.

Pole vault—Polich, Timmer, Vander Ven, all of Holland, three-way tie at 8' 6".

Shot put—Van Dyke, H.; Baldus, GH; Armstrong, H. 45' 11".

High jump—Armstrong, H.; Kamphuis, H.; Van Dyke, H. and Snook, GH, tied for third, 5' 6".

Broad jump—Armstrong, H.; Van Dyke, H.; Koppel, GH. 18' 11".

Chix Lose Fourth Tilt of Season

Zeeland (Special)—The Zeeland Chix lost their fourth baseball game of the season Tuesday afternoon at Zeeland, Plainwell winning 3-1.

The Tri-County league tilt was the third of the season for Zeeland and gives the Chix a 1-2 loop record.

Glenn Schrottenboer pitched for Zeeland and gave up only two hits, while his mates allowed four errors. The errors hurt the Chix, when the Trojans got all three runs in the fifth inning. Both hits were made by Plainwell that inning, and those coupled with a Zeeland error and a walk were the game for Plainwell.

Zeeland's lone tally also came in the fifth. Winning pitcher was Mart Braginton. The Chix' next game is Thursday at Paw Paw. Plainwell ... 000 030 000—3-2-1 Zeeland ... 000 010 000—1-3-4

Michigan Liquor Group Denies Zeeland Request

Lansing—The Michigan Liquor Control commission has denied a petition by a Zeeland man to hold his SDM (takeout) license in escrow pending erection of another building.

The request by Carl Winstrom, 205 West Main St., Zeeland, was made because recent civic annexation of that section of the city made renewal at the present location impossible under present city laws.

Winstrom asked that the license be held until he could build another building.

The commission pointed out that "this license expired April 30, and is not subject to renewal in an area where such permits are not allowed by a municipality."

It is expected the order will be continued.

Benny Batema, manager of the Flying Dutchmen baseball team, got practice underway last week for the opening of the 18th season. Batema has managed the club for many years, and was one of the original coaches. Practices are being held Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at Riverview Park.

Flying Dutchmen Start Practice For Opening of Eighteenth Season

The Flying Dutchmen, Holland's baseball team, started practice last week for the opening of its 18th season in Holland.

The club has waxed through the lean and plump years, but always has come out with a better than 500 average during each of those 17 seasons past. Manager Benny Batema said today.

Batema, who has managed the team for nearly as long as its length of service, started with the original crew and was one of the first coaches.

Aiding Manager Batema this year will be Loran Wenzel, who for many years was a mainstay on the Dutchmen's roster, doing catching chores. This year, Batema said, he will depend on Wenzel for much help in getting the team organized.

The Dutchmen have lost three players to the service since last season, and others have moved away or given up play in favor of age, so that Batema has opened a recruiting service at Riverview Park.

Not that he hasn't a string of Dutchmen back from last year.

Man Charges His Sons Reneged on Farm Agreement

Allegan (Special)—Widowed Steve Bedes, 81, has asked the Allegan county court to help him legally clear the farm he traded for care and comfort during the rest of his life.

Bedes, filing a suit in chancery, is seeking removal of a conveyance to two sons, who promised to take care of their father in return for an agreement that the property would go to them following his death, Bedes declares.

After his wife's funeral in November last year, Joseph and Richard Bedes, his sons, made him the proposition the plaintiff says. On his agreement, Joseph moved in, slaughtered 81 chickens, borrowed $33, used up his supplies, and left, taking a quantity of bedding, food, and furniture with him, Bedes declares.

He was left with three sacks of flour and four pounds of lard, with nothing to buy food for his horses, cow, pig or himself, the record continues. Further, he says, Joseph returned in February and threatened him.

Bedes, seeking escape from his agreement on the grounds that his sons failed to live up to their promises, is asking the court to set aside the conveyance, and to allow damages.

Hope Golfers Drive To Win Over Hornets

Hope's golfers slipped past Kalamazoo on the Saugatuck course Monday afternoon, 9-6, for their fourth win of the season.

But the Dutch had a tough time doing it, only 12 strokes separating the aggregate scores of the two teams. College scoring, however, is based on the number of individual holes won, and here the Dutch outlasted Kalamazoo.

Dick Kruizenga tied Ed Staren of Kalamazoo, each man shooting 78. In the No. 2 position Don Lubbers defeated Vern Bolling, 80-84. Dick Huff of Hope tied Bob Taylor in the third match, 83-83, while Bob Visser of Hope was losing to Dan Larkin 82-77. Larkin's 77 was low medal for the day. The final match went to Hope, Don Prentice defeating Bill Highfield, 83-85.

Next match for the Dutch is Saturday at Hillsdale.

Tulips Coming In 'Fine Shape' For Local Fete

Two Holland Children Appear on Godfrey's TV Program Wednesday

The tulips are coming along just fine in Holland.

Warm rains and summer weather the last few days caused the early varieties to burst into bloom.

Tulip Time Manager Larry Wade said here that the earlier varieties usually bloom about 10 days ahead of most other varieties, and such scheduling this year is a sure sign that hundreds of thousands of tulips will be in bloom for Holland's big Tulip Time festival May 16 through 19.

The magnolia trees at the northwest corner of Centennial park also are bursting into bloom, heralding anew that tulips won't be long in making their appearance.

Park Supt. Dick Smallenburg has planted more early and late tulip bulbs to assure a longer tulip season. Such careful planning provides tulips in bloom for the greater part of May.

Should warm weather continue, Tulip Time officials expect a vanguard of early visitors to Holland next week-end.

Supt. Smallenburg has placed viewing stands for photographers at the big new tulip planting in Pine Court park. Some 20,000 newly imported bulbs were put into a special planting there with the words, "May Time Is Tulip Time" along with two wooden shoes and a windmill. The big planting has early, regular and late blooming bulbs to assure some color in the new bed for a long period. A stand also has been placed for the hospital planting.

Tulip Time received national acclaim Wednesday when two Holland youngsters appear on the Arthur Godfrey television program in New York at 7 p.m. Janet Kay Walker, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Clare Walker, and James R. (Butch) Glatz, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gertrude Glatz, presented an official program and gave Godfrey a pair of wooden shoes.

The two children, Mr. and Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Glatz and the latter's mother, Mrs. Harlow Burrows, left Holland Sunday for New York. A phone call Tuesday night to Tulip Manager Wade gave the information that the youngsters practiced most of the day for their part in the program which will be Dutch in character, featuring many artists and crafts of the old country.

Holland is having its belated spring weather these days—and enjoying every minute of it. The weatherman promises more of the current 70 and 80-degree temperatures for today. Certain signs that spring has sprung can be seen throughout the city and at surrounding resort areas. Kollen park was one of the more popular places in the city Tuesday for children and grown-ups alike. Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Karsten of Jenison took advantage of the July-like weather to bring the children down to Kollen park for a picnic. In photo at left, from bottom to top are: Danny Karsten, 2, Joan Hinken, 2, Linda Hinken, 3½, and Roger Karsten, 4. Supper Club May Lose Its 'Bottle Club' Status

Grand Haven (Special)—The South Shore Supper club of Holland soon may cease to operate as a bottle club, following a decision by Circuit Judge Archie MacDonald of Hastings upholding the state law outlawing bottle clubs.

The case dates back to September, 1949, when the state legislature adopted a law outlawing bottle clubs. Its constitutionality was immediately attacked, and several cases were filed throughout the state. A test case was in Kalamazoo with Judge MacDonald as visiting judge. Action on all other cases was withheld pending Judge MacDonald's decision, which was forthcoming Wednesday.

Ottawa county Prosecutor Wendell A. Miles took immediate steps today to dissolve an injunction restraining Sheriff Jerry Vanderbeek from enforcing the 1949 act, pending the Kalamazoo decision. The injunction was issued in Circuit Court Sept. 23, 1949. Final action may come in a week or so.

Maroon Netters Edge Past Heights For Fourth Win

Holland Christian high school netters stepped out of their class into the Southwest conference Monday afternoon to down Muskegon Heights 4-3 in a close match on the 21st Street courts. The win gives the Hollanders a season mark of four victories in five starts.

Capt. Louis Damstra's crew captured two of four singles encounters and two of three doubles contests to gain the decision. Several of the matches were exceptionally close, going three sets before a winner was decided. The Dutch won No. 1 and 3 singles and No. 1 and 2 doubles.

Dave Schreier, playing the No. 1 singles spot for the locals pulled the match out of the fire with a fighting comeback to down John Carlson 3-6, 6-4, 6-1. Schreier had difficulty in getting accustomed to the conservative style of the Heights player.

Bruce Bouman in the No. 2 slot faltered in his last two sets with Bob Mauch to lose 3-6, 6-3, 6-3. Bouman looked good in taking the first set, but Mauch's terrific service did its damage in the final sets.

Christian's ninth grade combination of Rich Sharda and Jim Teerman split in their singles matches. Sharda, playing No. 3 singles took Don Tallmadge handily 6-3, 6-1, while Teerman pushed Bob Cutler to three sets before bowing 2-6, 6-1, 6-1.

In the No. 1 doubles, Christian's Ed Roels and Ben Bouwman continued to play sharp tennis by easily disposing of Art Hartman and Jack Boles, 6-1, 6-0. The local combination, continuing to improve, played its best tennis of the season.

Holland's second duo of Rich Ribbens and Bill Prins also came through in good shape to stop Kay Miesen and Bob Kerley, 6-4, 6-3. In the No. 3 doubles, Roger Boer and Ken Volkema bowed after a second set rally to Dean Bailey and Ray Johnson, 3-6, 6-4, 6-2.

Abe Nauta . . . at his desk in City Hall

Head of Works Board Ready for Retirement

Abraham (Abe) Nauta put in his last day of work at his desk in the Board of Public Works in city hall Monday.

On May 1, he officially retired after exactly 49 years of service with the BPW. It was on May 1, 1902, that he came to work for the BPW which at that time had a capacity of 350 kilowatts. The capacity today is 20,000 kw. and when the new addition is completed and put into operation, capacity will be boosted another 11,500.

Abe remembers well the old days at the beginning of the century—the days when electricity was used almost solely for illumination and for power in just a few plants.

Those were the days when BPW employees could shut off the power when they went home for dinner at noon. Nobody would be using power during that hour anyway. Later, the BPW had to peddle electric irons and toasters from pushcarts on the streets, and virtually had to force their wares on skeptical housewives. They would leave the appliances at homes on approval, and wait at least two weeks before returning—to collect the price or repossess the appliances. By that time, the housewife usually was convinced the electric iron wouldn't blow up in her face or electrocute her.

Nauta came to the BPW at a time when James De Young, for whom the Third St. plant is named, was superintendent. Other superintendents were R. B. Champion and for a brief period Carl Bowen, now Ottawa county road superintendent. Nauta became superintendent in the spring of 1932.

During his scant half-century with the board, Nauta has seen the service grow from a one-horse plant generating a limited amount of power to the modern plant which today is considered a model of efficiency.

Throughout the years the board has maintained a fine record for service. The breakdown last Jan. 12 which required three days before service was completely restored was by far the worst breakdown in Nauta's career.

Nauta was not the first in his family to pioneer in service for the city. His father, the late George Nauta, was street commissioner for Holland at the time Abe first joined the BPW. The elder Nauta introduced cement sidewalks in the city replacing wooden walks which were constantly rotting.

The BPW superintendent is not the only city employee to retire this week under the retirement program. Others are Sara Koning, William Achterhof, Klaas Van Dyken, John Hooyer and Gerrit Slag of the street department; William S. Shaffer of the BPW, Peter Zeldenrust of the park department, Dick Langejans and Allen F. Harris of the cemetery department, Teunis L. Dykstra of the hospital, Cornelius van der Meulen of the municipal court, and Orien S. Cross, city attorney, also have reached retirement age.

Nauta has no particular plans for the future. Seventy years old last Aug. 15, he'll retire to his home at 143 West 13th St.

Dutch Take First, But Lose Second Of MIAA Games

Coach Jack Schouten's Hope college nine split a doubleheader with Kalamazoo Saturday afternoon at Riverview Park. The Dutch took the opener behind the wobbly 10-hit pitching of Bob Dennison, 10-5, but Hope lost the second game, 3-1.

In the first game, Dennison got off badly, allowing three hits that the Hornets turned into runs. Two of the hits were for extra bases, one a double and the second a triple, but Schouten left Dennison in and he responded by striking out two men to end the inning.

Hope retaliated in the lower half of the inning by getting one run, a round-trip homer by Bob Willyard, first man up. The Dutch got two more hits that frame, but could get neither man home.

Dennison came back strongly in the second to strike out three men in a row, while the Dutch were getting one hit on their half of the inning. In the third, neither team scored, although John Wendt did manage a single off Dennison.

For Hope that inning, Tom Beardsley, Kazoo pitcher, gave up two walks, one double play ball, and an infield out ball.

The Hornets managed another hit in the fourth frame, but the runner went down on the first half of a double play. The third batter hit an infield out.

Hope did little better that inning, all three outs being made by the Hornet infield. Tom Van Wingen managed a double during the inning, but could get no further than second.

In the fifth, both teams came alive, the Dutch getting three runs on two hits and a walk, while the Hornets were getting one man home on one hit and an error. The score was knotted 4-4 at the end of the inning.

The sixth frame went quietly, only one hit being issued, a Hornet double off Dennison, but the man was left on base at the end of the inning.

The first half of the seventh, too, went quietly for the Hornets, Dennison allowing no runs or hits but in the lower half of the frame Hope exploded for five runs a shock the Hornets never overcame.

The Dutch got those five on just one hit, a single by Con Boeve. The Hornets sent it: Chuck Brown to hurl after Beardsley proved unable to stop Hope, but to little avail. Three walks and three Hornet errors, coupled with Boeve's hit, gave the tallies.

Not much was left for Kalamazoo, although they did manage one final run in the ninth on two hits, a walk and an error, but the Dutch had added an insurance run in the eighth and didn't appear too upset by the Hornet rally. Final score was Hope 10, Kalamazoo 5.
