26 Students Selected For Seminar

Twenty-six students of Holland High School and Holland Christian High School were chosen Wednesday to form Holland's first class for gifted children under the Joseph Berg foundation of Chicago. These students were chosen following a rugged 2½-hour examination in Christian High School.

Students selected for the first seminar are from the sophomore and junior classes of the two schools. They are John Beebe, Robert Bouwman, Paul Bremer, Jack Derks, Dale Dykema, Brian Dykstra, Beverly Hemmick, Kenneth Hoek, David Hollenbach, Forrest Homkes, Nancy Klopstein, Diane LaBouff, Nancy Lamer, Linda and Paul Lucas, Thomas Marsijle, Judy Martin, Norma Meyer, Joyce Michmerhuizen, Ladd Neuman, Robert Parks, Russell Prins, Barbara Renick, Charles Ritters, Kenneth Volkers and David Vander Yacht.

On Wednesday night these students and their parents met with Jacob W. Shapiro, coordinator of the Joe Berg foundation, who explained the program which can result in four-year scholarships to any school of a student's choice providing he or she maintains a straight A average. This program could possibly be carried to a Ph D. degree.

The test given the students Wednesday consisted of 150 questions. It was the same test given to 10 persons with Ph D. degrees who were allowed 10 hours. Not one of them received a perfect score.

Holland's program will follow the Berg foundation setup in the fields of science and mathematics, but plans also call for a seminar in social science in the future, and possibly branching into such subjects as art and music.

Holland is the 26th to start a science and mathematics seminar in the United States under the Berg program. It is possible there may be three or more seminars in Michigan by the end of the year along with such seminars in every state. Shapiro has visited thousands of communities, and has spent over $75,000 in promoting programs for gifted children.

Plans call for seminars Monday nights from 7:30 to 10 p.m. In Holland the seminars will start next Monday or the following week under the direction of Dr. Robert De Haan of Hope College, assisted by local leaders in business, professional and education fields.

Each student will select individual projects which will require work and research throughout the week. Shapiro cited one example in which a student tried an experiment on nutrition involving 600 white rats. After feeding breakfast cereals only to the rats, most of them were dead after 20 to 25 days.

Each project selected will be on a senior college level, and the student will get all the help he or she needs. Shapiro said the student must work hard or get out of the program. He also pointed out that it is no disgrace to drop out of the program.

Shapiro said that the selection of Linda and Paul Lucas for the class is the first brother-and-sister team in all the seminars he has organized.

Set Annual County Safety Checkup

A car safety checkup campaign is being planned by the Ottawa County Sheriff's department according to Leonard Ver Schure, Ottawa County Safety Director.

An organizational meeting, open to the public, will be held May 10 at 12:30 p.m. at Van Raalte's Restaurant in Zeeland. Support for the campaign is being sought from schools, veterans and fraternal organizations, churches, business groups and others.

EVERY YEAR IN MAY — Today is the first of May, with Tulip Time less than two weeks away. To the 300 Klompen dancers at Holland High School, this means that they must get those dance steps "down pat" in the next two practice sessions. Rehearsals are scheduled this afternoon at the Civic Center and Monday at Riverview Park, according to Mrs.

Barbara Ambellas, instructor. In this picture the girls are shown as they practiced Wednesday afternoon at Riverview. Next week the girls will be occupied with dress inspection when Miss Lavina Cappon will inspect each Dutch costume to be worn in the Klompen dance to see that it meets all regulations. ## Kiwanians Hear Talk on Electric Plant

Guy E. Bell, superintendent of the Board of Public Works, addressed the Kiwanis Club Monday night on the subject, "What the Municipal Electric Plant Means to Holland."

Bell, who came to Holland two years ago, told Kiwanians that without ample electricity and low rates Holland could not be the thriving and growing city it is today. He said Holland's municipal electric utility is a part of this growth, and it is the responsibility of the Board of Public Works to keep ready energy for today's needs, as well as preparing for tomorrow.

It was 65 years ago that city fathers purchased a small private utility and in due time it became self-supporting, a characteristic it has maintained to this day. All plant improvements have been accomplished without cost to the people or a bond issue, and today Holland has a plant with a valuation of $6,648,000 and no debt, Bell said.

Bell said the first unit of the hospital was built entirely with electric department funds and later $60,000 was donated for an addition. During a 20-year period from 1923 to 1942 a total of 1¼ million dollars was turned over to the city. To date the BPW has turned over $3,127,000 to relieve the tax load on the city.

Bell pointed to the need for starting now to extend electrical service to meet needs in the future. He said by using the 11,500 kw. interconnection with Consumers Power, Holland can forestall additional needed equipment until July 1963. But to have the equipment then requires action now, and Bell said the board has spent many hours in drafting a program of financing that is sound and feasible.

He said since the new charter has been in effect with the board turning over 50 per cent of its earnings, only $464,000 has been set aside for improvements along with regular system improvements necessary. On projecting a 20-year program, loans would be necessary to accomplish an expansion program if the 50-50 split continues.

Bell cited production costs and national averages, pointing out that Holland pays 2.08 cents per kilowatt hour, compared with a national average of 2.56 cents.

Plan Cleanup At State Park

Holland State Park at Ottawa Beach will undergo its annual cleanup Saturday with the park staff, members of the Tulip City Rod and Gun Club and Troop 44 Scouts of Maplewood Reformed Church doing the work.

This is the seventh year the local sportsman club has taken on the cleanup project. Lewis Kadwell is project chairman and Al Riemersma is in charge of the work groups. Club members and Scouts are asked to report to the workshop at the park entrance at 8 a.m. (rain or shine) for work assignments.

Clare Broad, park manager, and his seven-man crew and the gun club members will place picnic tables throughout the park, open up the pavilion, store the shutters, sweep the walks, paint pavement stripes for parking and paint and varnish the tables.

Scouts will rake the beach, pick up debris and glass and paint stakes for identifying camp markers. State equipment for leveling the beach will also be in use. Broad said the water has been turned on and with the completion of the cleanup the park will be ready for full time operation at Tulip Time.

Lunch will be served at noon by the Women's auxiliary of the sportsman's club. The Holland Chamber of Commerce and a few local merchants are providing the food, Broad said.

Kadwell requested all club members to attend the workshop. He pointed out that one of the functions of the local group is conservation of natural resources such as state parks.

Later this week a special ad will be run in The Sentinel, a registration blank aimed at former members who plan to attend the reunion. Co. D officials ask that these blanks be filled out and sent in to the Armory, to give some idea of how many men will be coming.

Former members are asked to contact old buddies who have moved out of the area and invite them to the reunion. One former member, Osborn Vos, has written from Pomona, Calif., that he is planning to attend and wants to see a lot of his old buddies.

Pictures covering Co. D activities throughout its 37-year history are coming into the Armory, but company commander Capt. Russell Kempker said that many more are needed to fill out an illustrated history which will feature the evening program.

Warn Against High Pressure

Ottawa County Prosecutor James W. Bussard today warned Ottawa County residents against high pressure salesmen who have been working the county lately for a water softener concern.

Two complaints, Bussard said, have been received by his office regarding duress and high pressure being used to obtain signatures on a water softener contract by an out-of-county concern.

In one case, an elderly couple with no money to pay signed a contract, the prosecutor said, after being led to believe the men represented the state government.

High pressure salesmanship, unless fraud is involved, is no basis for prosecution, Bussard said, but he offered two words of advice. First, don't buy unless you really need or want an item. Secondly, deal only with reputable local dealers.

High School Students Adopt Youth Code for All Teenagers

Final revisions have been made on the Holland Youth Code by the committee of students from Holland High School and Holland Christian High School, and their adult advisors. The code is now ready for distribution to all students of both high schools.

The completed code follows:

Holland Youth Code

We, the youth of the Holland Area, believe that we should do all we can to develop and foster within our community, a spirit that demonstrates our respect and love for God, Home and Country. Approaching maturity, we believe that by our example, we can show that we can assume the responsibilities of adulthood. We therefore subscribe to the following principles:

1. Family Relationships: We believe in the family as the strongest unit of social living. Parents and youth are obligated to work out their mutual problems with parents accepting the responsibility regarding their own children in particular as well as teenagers in general.

A. DATING

1. Parents and youth should discuss and agree upon the number of dates per week and plans regarding time and place of dates.

2. Parents should know whom their son or daughter is dating at least by name, preferably by introduction.

3. Public display of affection is not in good taste.

4. Emotional control in dating is necessary.

5. Youth under 15 years of age should be discouraged from dating except for group activities to which boys and girls should come and leave individually or with members of their own sex.

6. "Going steady" should be discouraged unless the individual feels that he or she is mature enough to take on the responsibilities involved.

B. PARTIES (Includes all types such as house parties, summer tent and trailer parties as well as informal parties):

1. The youth of Holland believe that more planned parties within homes would help solve the problems of leisure time and the lack of recreational facilities.

2. Parties should be chaperoned by responsible adults known to the parents of the youth involved.

3. Guests are expected to abide by group standards. If guests do not respect these standards, those who desire to disrupt should be asked or forced to leave.

4. Activities at boy-girl parties should be planned in advance and adhered to by all members of the party.

C. HOURS: Parents have a right and a responsibility in knowing where their children are going, with whom they are going, and when they can be expected home. Teenagers have the responsibility of notifying their parents if emergencies arise. Hours should be agreed upon by parents and youth.

In cases of social functions, youth should be expected home within an hour after the party or function is over. It is suggested that the following time limits might be used as a guide:

Teenagers under 16:
School Nights ..... 10:00 p.m.
Non-school Nights ..... 11:00 p.m.
Teenagers 16 and older:
School Nights ..... 10:30 p.m.
Non-school Nights ..... 12:00 p.m.

Non-school Nights include vacations and holidays.

II. Our Country and Individual Rights: As citizens of a great democracy, we firmly believe in respect for individual rights and in accepting responsibilities.

A. GETTING ALONG WITH OTHERS:

1. All youth are encouraged to participate in activities which are provided as opportunities for recreation and meeting other youth.

2. It is the responsibility of everyone to help others gain acceptance in activities by being friendly, courteous and considerate.

3. All youth should be respected and accepted as individuals who have rights to beliefs and opinions.

4. Gossip can be very destructive and is always disrespectful.

B. STUDIES: As potential voters in a democracy, youth should use the opportunities schools afford to think critically and gain information to their best advantage. Emphasis and recognition of good scholarship encourages all youth to do their best.

C. SPORTSMANSHIP: In that athletics afford an excellent opportunity for physical development, character building and showing community spirit, the youth of Holland are encouraged to participate in organized sports, attend athletic events, and take an active interest in their teams.

1. Attending athletic events as well as actually participating are privileges which must be protected by upholding the honor of the schools no matter where games are played or which schools, teams, or individuals are participating.

2. By accepting rules of "fair play", spectators as well as the athletes can show good sportsmanship.

3. Competition ends with the conclusion of the game. No words or actions after the game will change the results.

4. Athletes should remember that they have an obligation to be examples of good sportsmanship.

III. Respect for Authority: Acknowledging that authority comes from God, we respect the authority of parents, teachers and civil powers, who in turn should regard the authority as a sacred trust.

A. The Divine Laws of God must be respected particularly as they apply to the religious feelings of others.

B. Laws are made by our citizens for the benefit of all. Therefore, Holland youth are reminded of the following:

1. Smoking and drinking of alcoholic beverages by minors is illegal. Drinking and smoking by teenagers shows lack of judgment as well as immaturity.

18 Bands Will Compete In Review

45 Bands Will March In Saturday's Big Tulip Time Parade

Eighteen visiting bands will participate in the big Tulip Time band review this year the last day of Tulip Time May 17, and 45 bands will march in the big Parade of Bands which follows the band review. It was announced today by Harold Karsten who has handled arrangements for band reviews and other Tulip Time attractions for many years.

For many visitors, the Saturday afternoon band review is one of the greatest spectacles of the entire four-day festival, one which attracts huge crowds to Riverview Park where visiting bands compete in marching maneuvers and novelties.

The climax is the big massed band formation in which the 18 bands involving 1,340 persons this year unite to play three selections under the direction of the three judges. This year judges are Everett D. Kisinger of the University of Illinois, former Holland high band director; Ernest Caneva of Lockport, Ill., and Lawrence Fogelberg of Bradley University in Peoria, Ill. The latter two previously have brought their bands to Holland for special presentations at the Saturday Evening Varieties, also staged in Riverview Park.

High school bands performing at the band review this year are the Napoleon band, Saranac band, Bellevue band, Brooklyn band, Vandercook Lake band of Jackson, Ida band, Jonesville band, Quincy band, Belding band, Mt. Pleasant band, Zeeland band, Hudsonville band, Ludington band, Dowagiac band, St. Johns band, Charlotte band, Owosso band, Royal Oak Dondero band.

The Rae-Vens, a drill team of Pontiac, will present a special performance between the band competition and the massed band. The Rae-Vens also appeared at the band review last year.

Karsten will present awards and ratings while the massed bands are in formation.

Position of bands in the parade is to some degree determined by their places in the massed band, and Karsten has conferred with Parade Marshal Paul Van Valkenburgh and Float Chairman Wilbur Cobb in lining up the 45 bands for the big parade.

Karsten said 12 bands were turned down for the Saturday parade and a few were turned down for the band review. April 10 was the deadline for the parade and March 19 for the band review. All late requests had to be declined, Karsten said.

Plans also are progressing for the Tulip Time Varieties Saturday night and Karsten has lined up several acts of diversified talent. The Royal Oak Dondero High School band will perform at this event.

Trust Officer Addresses Club

The Holland Exchange Club was addressed Monday by Ted Hewitt, Trust Officer of the Michigan National Bank of Grand Rapids. He was introduced to the club by Exchange Club member Vernon Ten Cate.

Mr. Hewitt called the members attention to the fact that disposing of property is not an inherent right but is a right established by law and the willing of property goes back as far as Biblical times. It is however a right that only people in a free country enjoy.

In order to draw up a will the person must be an adult, of legal age, be mentally sound and the document must be signed by two witnesses. It is also best to have good legal advice so that the will shall be drawn up properly, Hewitt said.

The reasons for making a will are that it is the only way of making sure that the property goes the way you want it to go; property may be left to someone or some organization outside of the family; in larger estates it may minimize the amount taken out by Federal taxes; and one can take advantage of the trust. A trust means that the property is so left that the income from it may be received over a period of years. In no case can the wife be excluded by the will.

Mr. Hewitt and Mr. Ten Cate both called attention to the fact that the Bar Association has announced that May Day will be observed as Law Day and it is hoped that it will be observed as being in direct contrast to the May Day celebrations of the Communists in which the State is glorified.

President Mel Van Tatenhove announced that the next meeting would be the annual Tulip Time Interclub dinner.

Faculty Members Attend School Workshops

Margaret Van Vyven and Vern J. Schipper of the Holland Public Schools participated in the second annual workshop on "Community Schools" this past week in Flint. The workshop is sponsored by the Department of Public Instruction.

Flint's program under sponsorship of the "Mott Foundation" provides the opportunity to citizens of using all facilities of the schools, (teachers and physical plant) every day and evening. The school is the center of community life in the various parts of the city. Of particular interest is the "spirit" and enthusiasm of the citizens and the school people in working out programs for civic betterment together.

sents problems that were not true a few years ago. Man is becoming a servant to machines and persons must have escapes from the tension of living.

Some of these escapes are recreational, sense of humor, tolerance and vacation, Wickett said. In developing the point, Wickett brought out the fact that leadership responsibility was high, that taking a vacation in the right way was essential and that a sense of humor and tolerance were still the high virtues of life.

Members of the Order of the Arrow were in charge of the opening ceremony, the pledge of allegiance and the closing ceremony. Group leaders were recognized by Rescorla, Ivan De Neff and Meinderama.

WHO WILL BURY WHOM?

Months ago Nikita Khrushchev boasted to a group of Americans that "we" (that is, the Communists) "will bury you" (that is, the capitalists). The other day he repeated the boast, this time in less bloody terms, however. He replaced the word "bury" with "re-educate." Then he added: "Of course we will beat the capitalists. But that does not mean killing anybody."

That last reassurance was of course only for the purpose of lulling the fears of those nervous people in the world of capitalism who are half of two minds—the fellow travelers. Khrushchev depends on them to help him; he does not want to scare them into an attitude of self-defense.

Khrushchev's boast has a strange echo of another boast that was made within the memory of most men now living. That boast was made by a man whose arrogance was exactly like that of the present Russian leader. His name, you may remember, was Adolf Hitler, who had once been an Austrian house painter, just as Khrushchev once was a Russian farm hand. Hitler did not use quite the terms employed by Khrushchev, but his speeches came to about the same thing.

Many people in the free world believed him, not only in America but in England, France, and in other countries. He added a touch that Khrushchev has as yet not emphasized: He boasted that the "new order" he was instituting would "last a thousand years."

It actually lasted from 1933 to 1945. In the process Hitler did bury millions of those who had the gumption to doubt his boast. But at the same time he buried even more millions of the "Herrenvolk" whose self-appointed leader he was. Finally he even buried himself, and his paramour.

It is not at all likely that capitalism will remain word for word and play by play what it is today.
Looking back, the people of a hundred years hence will almost certainly be able to see that the capitalism of the last half of the nineteenth century was materially different from that of the nineteenth century. The graph indicating this is already considerably on its way.

But in a similar way the graph indicating that Communism is in the process of changing is also an augury of that system's future.
One of these days Nikita Khrushchev will lie mouldering in the grave with Stalin and Lenin and Trotzky and the others. He may not see the end of that curve, but others will.

The chances are that neither system will bury the other, or even re-educate the other. Certainly free men will not consent to be buried by slaves.

Joe Moran Addresses
Noon Optimist Club

Joe Moran spoke to the Holland
Noon Optimist Club Monday. Mr.
Moran is Recreation Director of the City of Holland. He told of the various programs the city and schools have planned for summer recreation.

Mr. Moran showed colored movie slides of the summer play schools, sport schools, swimming, and ceramic classes. The large demand for recreation is creating a shortage of facilities and demand for new facilities such as a swimming pool.

President Webb Van Dokkum
opened the meeting and Verne Fader, program chairman, introduced the guest speaker.

Sunday School
Lesson

Sunday, May 4
God Reveals His Law
Exodus 19:3-6; 20:1-4
By C. P. Dame
(Based on copyrighted outlines produced by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. and used by permission.)
There is much lawlessness in our land. One reason is that there is much disrespect for law and for God the author of the divine law.
This lesson directs our minds to a timely subject.

I. God's Moral Law is binding upon all people. At Mt. Sinai God gave the Ten Commandments to Moses. These commandments are also called the Moral Law or the Decalogue. God in a miraculous manner freed Israel from the bondage of slavery. God planned that the Israelites should be organized into a nation and therefore he gave them laws—ceremonial, civil and moral. We are interested in the Moral Law which we believe is of divine origin and therefore binding upon all people as long as this world lasts.

Not all people today believe that the Ten Commandments were given by God. Some teach that mankind through experience learned that these ten rules were helpful in promoting order in society and therefore they should be accepted and that there is no divine authority behind them. We Christians differ. God gave these laws to Israel because he wanted that nation to be a nation under his law.
In these commandments God sets forth his will for mankind. They come from a holy and just God.
And this God seeks man's well-being.

We also believe that these commandments are for all time—they are not relative but absolute. Some people say that a moral law may be binding for some but not for others, and that they are beneficial at one time but they can be disregarded at another time. God does not change and his will is ever the same and hence his laws regarding morals are not subject to change. There are some absolute standards to observe. Some Christians think that they are no longer under the law but under grace.

We are not saved by the keeping of the law but by God's grace.
However the law of God is the Christian's guide to a life that pleases God and leads to happy and holy living. Christ told us that it is not enough to keep the laws of God outwardly but we must also observe them in our thought life.

II. God's laws are basic. We divide the Decalogue into two tables. The first table consisting of four commandments tells us about our duty to God and the second table, consisting of six commandments tells us about our duty towards man. In the prelude God tells us about himself: "I am the Lord, thy God, which have brought thee out of Egypt, out of the house of bondage." God the Deliverer is the Lawgiver. First we are directed to the Lawgiver and then to his laws. In the first commandment the sovereignty of God is proclaimed. In the second commandment the worship of images is forbidden. In it God demands a spiritual worship. Taking God's name in vain, done much and in many ways, is forbidden in the third commandment.

The longest and most beautiful of all the commandments is the fourth—about the Sabbath day which was observed before the Decalogue was given. One wonders why so many working people derive working people of rest on that holy day. The fifth commandment summons children to obey their parents and in the sixth respect for life is enjoined and in the seventh adultery and all manner of unclean living are forbidden. In the eighth commandment theft is prohibited and in the ninth bearing false witness is forbidden and in the last commandment cov-etousness is declared contrary to God's will.

God sets forth his will in the Decalogue. Our inability to keep God's laws should drive us to Christ who kept the law for us perfectly. And after turning to Christ we should look upon these laws as divine directives meant for our good.

Hope, Kazoo
Tied for 1st
In All-Sports

Hope and Kalamazoo Colleges are tied in the MIAA all-sports trophy race and a duel similar to 1957 may be in store as the two schools vie for the coveted cup.
Each school now has 31 points following three sports and lead the MIAA. The rest of the points come from the four spring sports which are completed May 17 with a Field Day at Kalamazoo.

Hope took 14 points for first in basketball while the Hornets matched it with 14 in cross-country. Hope got 11 for tying Albion for second in football while the Hornets picked up six in the grid sport. The Dutch made six in cross-country and Kalamazoo, 11 for tying with Calvin in basketball.

Hilldale is third with 20 points.
They picked up a first in football, tied for fourth in basketball and took fourth in cross-country. Albion is fourth with 26 while Calvin, which doesn't compete in football, is fifth with 21. Alma has 19;
Adrian, seven and Olivet, two.

Kalamazoo won the cup last season edging out Hope, 80-77. It was the first time the Hornets had won the all-sports trophy since 1933.
Albion won it in 1965 and 1966
and Hope took it in 1963 and 1964.
Hope and Kalamazoo split in baseball. Points are based on the league final standings and each team plays the other a doubleheader.

In the other three sports, the points are taken from the final dual meet records and the place finished in the conference field day events.

Kalamazoo will receive the edge in tennis but track is a tossup between Hope and Kalamazoo, with Albion the favorite while Hope has defeated the Hornets in golf.

Points are awarded on a basis of 14 for first, 12 for second; 10 for third, eight for fourth, six for fifth; four for sixth, two for seventh

Worden Wins First in Top U.S. Contest

First Time Hope Takes Top National Speech Honors Since 1916

George Worden, junior at Hope College, took first place in the Interstate Oratorical Association contest Friday night at Michigan State University in East Lansing. His title was "The Publican." Fifteen states were represented.

It was the first time a Hope College entrant had won first place in the national contest since Dr. William Schrier came to Holland in 1939 to head the speech department. George Steininger won first place for Hope back in 1916 and two others, Simon Heemstra and A. J. Muste, won top spots around the turn of the century. Guy Vander Jagt won third place back in 1952.

Worden, whose home is in Cadillac, spoke before seven judges and received four firsts, one second, one third and one fifth for a low point total of 14. His closest competitor was Wayne Hensley of the University of Oklahoma who received 20 points for his speech on "Kangaroo Court." Thomas Doran of Lorain College in Iowa took third with his oration on "The House Always Wins."

Gail Kimes of Oklahoma State University won the women's division; Mrs. Shirley Cree of Manchester College in Indiana, second, and Irene Montgomery of Northern State Teachers College of Aberdeen, S. Dak., third.

Friday's competition was the 84th such contest in the men's finals. Such famous persons as William Jennings Bryan and Robert LaFollette have represented their schools at such contests which have been staged continuously since 1871. In this contest, winners receive medals.

Friday's victory was the culmination of a series of victories for the local man. Worden first won the local contest for Hope College and then won the state contest at Ypsilanti March 7. Last Thursday he represented Hope in the regional contest for 15 contestants in which nine were eliminated, Worden ending up as top man in his group.

Although not a part of state or interstate competition, Worden competed at the Phi Kappa Delta Provincial Convention in Charleston, W. Va., April 9-11, giving his oration three times before different audiences and taking top spot each time.

Arrange that special business appointment at The Bier Kelder. Air-conditioned with only nationally advertised beverages. Open for your convenience from noon until midnight.

Miss Barham, Missionary, Dies in Canada

Funeral services were held Friday for Miss Marie Barham, 82, missionary sent out from the local Immanuel Church, who died unexpectedly Wednesday morning at 11:45 in Western Hospital in Toronto following a five months illness.

The Rev. W. Herbert Scott, pastor of the local church, just 20 minutes after he had purchased his plane ticket to go to see her, received word of her death in Canada.

The beloved missionary who served as Immanuel Church's missionary for many years, spent 20 years in the Chekiang province, China. When Communism began to overrun China in 1948, Mao Tse Tung, Communist leader, invited the missionaries to remain and continue their work. By the fall of 1949 that invitation had changed to a boycott and about two years later 600 missionaries of the China Inland mission were evacuated. She then spent some time in the Philippines.

Miss Barham who was sent home because of ill health, spoke at the local church about four weeks ago. She planned to return to the mission field as soon as she had recovered from her illness.

Miss Barham formerly worked with the primitive, uneducated tribes in the mountains and jungles who had no written language. She took a course which helped her reduce the language to writing, giving the people a grammar and eventually prepared the Scriptures for them to read in their own tongue.

Miss Barham who when in Holland spent much time with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weyenberg, was author of several books which have been published by the China Inland Mission.

Dr. Scott took part in funeral services for Miss Barham. Survivors include a brother who resides in Vancouver, Canada.

Holland Girl Injures Self Running Into Car

Holland police Saturday continued their investigation of an accident Thursday at 11:35 a.m. in which a little Holland girl was injured when she ran into the side of a car.

Judy Corrado, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Corrado, 198 West 18th St., was treated by a local doctor for an injury to her left leg and released.

Police said Judy ran into the side of a car driven by Mrs. Gladys Hoffman, 41, of 113 East Central Ave., Zeeland, in the parking lot behind Washington Square. Mrs. Hoffman told police she had seen Judy and another girl running toward her car, so she stopped the car and blew her horn, but Judy was unable to stop in time.

Probe Records Of Official

ALLEGAN, Mich. — Allegan County supervisors have asked the state auditor general's office to check the records of the county drain commissioner for alleged irregularities.

However, drain commissioner Darl Jennings has denied any alleged discrepancies, charging that the allegations were a "political attack against my candidacy for state representative."

Jennings is seeking the Republican nomination for the seat in the Legislature now held by Rep. Ben E. Lohman (R-Hamilton).

In a resolution directing Jennings to make an accounting of his office's finances by May 15, the supervisors alleged overpayment of contract prices on work let by Jennings; that he paid more than $5 a day to a member of a board of determination; and with over-drawing the county drain fund.

Grand Haven Plans Mall

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — A landscaped, tree-lined mall will be tried on two blocks of downtown Washington Street, June 12-21 and will be closed to traffic for the 10 days.

The idea is to circulate traffic around the downtown business section in accordance with the City Planning Commission's long-range plan for downtown development. Conceived by Bob VerHoef, city planning consultant, the experiment met with success in Springfield, Ore.

It was pointed out that while closing Washington from Third to First Sts. could eliminate 63 parking spaces, additional ones could be picked up on a temporary rearrangement of parking on Second St., between Columbus and Franklin, so the section would still have 525 parking places on public and private lots and streets.

When the mall is opened for foot traffic, there will be vehicle barricades placed at Third, Second and First Sts. on Washington to re-route traffic.

Merchants have been asked to consider placing 100 boxed trees—50 to a block, 25 on either side of the street. Other plans call for piping in special music, a possible supervised children's playground area, special street displays, store hours and special sales values by participating merchants.

If the experiment is successful, it will probably be continued longer, Jack Reichardt, chairman of the event said.

Orange Nassau Order Honors Queen Juliana

Speaker's table guests at dinner meeting in Durfee Hall.

An informal, anecdotal talk, "Tricks Against Old Age," by Dr. Paul de Kruif, bacteriologist and noted author, highlighted the fourth annual dinner meeting of the Order of Orange Nassau, honoring Queen Juliana of The Netherlands Saturday evening.

The dinner was held in the Terrace Dining Room of Durfee Hall on the Hope College campus. Dr. de Kruif's talk was spiced with humorous anecdotes.

Distinguished guests from other cities, holders of decorations in the Order, joined Holland members and guests in signing a specially-designed birthday card for the Queen, to be sent to her in time for her birthday Wednesday.

Originally a group of 100 was expected, but the list grew to 120. Dinner music was provided by two Hope College music students, Hewitt Johnston at the piano and Richard Martin on the violin. One of the Klompen dancers exhibition group also performed the well-known Tulip Time dance.

Dr. Irwin J. Lubbers, president of Hope College, served as toastmaster and introduced the speaker. Willard Wichers and Dr. Lubbers were in charge of arrangements for the event. An invitation was extended to the group to hold the dinner in Grand Rapids next year.

Among the guests seated at the speaker's table were Dr. and Mrs. John A. Dykstra of Grand Rapids, Prof. and Mrs. M. G. Rutten of Utrecht, Netherlands, Dr. and Mrs. William Spoelhof, Grand Rapids; Consul and Mrs. John Steketee of Grand Rapids, Consul and Mrs. W. von Weiler of Detroit, Dr. de Kruif, Dr. and Mrs. Lubbers, Mr. and Mrs. Wichers and Henry Stefens, representing Mayor Robert Visscher.

Mayors of Grand Rapids, East Grand Rapids and Zeeland and the presidents of several colleges and other educators were included in the guest list.

Holland Bands Get Top Ratings at MSU Festival

Bands of both Holland High and Holland Christian High Schools took top ratings at the state festival in East Lansing Saturday.

Holland High band was one of 15 entered in the AA class, and only three won first division rating. Others were Muskegon and Benton Harbor.

The 80-piece Holland Christian band competed in class A although its enrollment for athletics is class B. It is only the second year that Christian is in class A competition and the band did not compete last year. It qualified to enter state competition by receiving a first division rating in the district festival in Grand Haven six weeks ago.

Division I is defined as "The best conceivable performance and worthy of recognition as a first place winner."

This is the first year Holland High has competed as an AA band. Schools of 1,100 enrollment and above are now in this classification. Many bands receiving lower ratings than Holland have enrollments of 2,000 to 3,000 students.

The Holland High Orchestra won a second division rating, also in the AA classification. Four judges assigned to the event split in their decision, two awarding division I and two awarding division II. A division II rating is defined as "A performance of distinction, marred only by minor discrepancies."

E. E. Fell Junior High School Orchestra won a division I rating in Class A competition. The Junior High orchestra left Holland by bus at 5:45 a.m. in order to arrive at the MSU campus in time to play at 8:55 a.m. Carleton Kelch was the director.

In all, five busloads of Holland public school musicians performed in Lansing Saturday with 160 students making the trip. The E. E. Fell Junior High band was eligible to compete at the state level by winning top rating at the district festival. However, the Junior High band and orchestra alternate each year in entering at the state level. Raymond Roth directs the Junior High band.

The Christian High band, under the direction of Henry P. Vander Linde, played "New Colonial March," Hall; "Sea Portrait," LaGassey, and "Tocatta for Band," Erickson. Judges were Clifford Lilly and Larry Teal of the University of Michigan, John Paynter of Northwestern University and Stanley Finn of MSU.

Arthur C. Hills, director of both band and orchestra at Holland High, has announced a victory concert for Holland music lovers for Thursday, May 8, in the high school auditorium. Norma Houtman, concertmistress for the orchestra, will play the second movement Andante of the Mendelssohn Concerto with the orchestra.

The overture to "Oklahoma!" will be a highlight of the program. The band will play the overture to "Porgy and Bess" by George Gershwin as well as a new modern work, "Diverimento" by Persichetti. The Holland High Trumpet Trio also will be featured.

Two Cars Collide

Cars driven by Gordon L. Hoek, 20, of route 2, Holland, and John Bronson, 53, of 585 West 23rd St., collided Saturday at 12:40 p.m. at the intersection of 120th Ave. and Lakewood Blvd. Ottawa County deputies, investigating the accident, estimated the damage to Hoek's 1947 model car at $25 and the damage to Bronson's 1952 model at $50.

The Welsh car spun 200 feet off into the field, turning three-quarters of the way over and ending up on its side. Deputies said Peggy Rae was thrown from the car and pinned underneath until witnesses lifted the car off her.

Deputies said Welsh's 1956 model car was damaged in excess of its value and estimated the damage to Mrs. Ayres' 1957 model at $300.

Five Members of One Family Injured in Two-Car Collision

Five persons from one family were injured Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in a two-car collision at the intersection of US-31 and the US-31 bypass, south of Holland.

Treated at Holland Hospital were the driver of one of the cars, Clarence Welsh, 44, of Benton Harbor, his wife and three children. All were released to the care of their own physician following treatment.

Welsh was treated for a bruised leg. His 13-year-old daughter, Peggy Rae, was treated for a broken left leg, back injuries and bruises. Sue Ann, 11, was treated for severe head lacerations, with some 50 stitches taken. David, 4, sustained facial lacerations and had several teeth knocked out. Allegan County deputies said Welsh was driving north on US-31 and Mrs. Ayres was headed southwest on the bypass. According to the deputies, Mrs. Ayres failed to yield the right of way at the intersection, striking the Welsh car in the side.

The Welsh car spun 200 feet off into the field, turning three-quarters of the way over and ending up on its side. Deputies said Peggy Rae was thrown from the car and pinned underneath until witnesses lifted the car off her.

Deputies said Welsh's 1956 model car was damaged in excess of its value and estimated the damage to Mrs. Ayres' 1957 model at $300.

URNS OVER AFTER CRASH — Onlookers peer curiously at the battered car in which five members of one Benton Harbor family were injured Sunday in a two-car collision at the intersection of US-31 and the US-31 bypass. The car had flipped three-quarters of the way over and was lying on its side before witnesses lifted it to free one of the injured girls, who had been thrown from the car and was pinned underneath. All five injured were released from Holland Hospital after treatment. (Sentinel photo)

Annual 34-Mile Canoe Race Won by Maplewood Explorers

Maplewood Reformed Church, Post 2044, led all the way Saturday from Grandville to Spring Lake on the Grand River to win the annual Grand Valley Council Explorer Canoe race.

The Chippewa District entry, which was one of the last three canoes to finish in the 1957 race, held leads of from 15 feet to one-quarter mile during the 34-mile race.

The race was divided into four shifts. At the fourth relay point, Maplewood experienced a spill and almost lost the lead.

Don Lam and Darrel Staat, who took over at 120th Ave., and paddled the final 10 miles, got into the canoe too fast and tipped it over. They succeeded in uprighting it and had baled out the water just as the second canoe arrived.

For the next half mile the two canoes, battled it out but Maplewood held the lead and increased the distance considerably prior to the finish.

Allen Bos and Phil Mulder started for the winners and paddled from Johnson Park to Grand Valley, a distance of 10 miles. Jerry Van Wieren and Carl Van Ingen took over and paddled to Eastmanville, a distance of about seven miles.

Bruce Masselink and Jack Ten Cate went the next seven miles from Eastmanville to 120th Ave., and Lam and Staat took the final relay. Bob Oosterbaan and Don Caatwe are the Maplewood leaders.

Cary Shoemaker of Lowell, crew leader of the 1957 winner, presented the paddle trophy to Masselink, senior patrol leader of the Maplewood Post.

Unity Stops Maroons, 6-0 On One-Hitter

HUDSONVILLE (Special)—Holland Christian's baseball team absorbed its second straight shutout defeat and their third loss of the season here, Friday afternoon by bowing to the potent Unity Christian club, 6-0. Earlier this week, the Dutch lost a no hit, no run game to Fennville, 1-0.

Only a single by Jim Kool, Maroon third sacker, saved the Dutch from going through another game without a safety. This time the pitcher who silenced the Dutch bats was Gary Gemmen, ace of the Unity staff. On Monday, Gemmen had pitched a similar one-hitter to edge the Zeeland Chix, 1-0.

Although the Dutch had runners on almost every inning and had one reach third in the sixth, they never did threaten seriously. Jim Hulst, regular Dutch first sacker, made his first start on the mound for the Dutch and hurled creditable ball, giving up four hits while fanning 12 batters. Gemmen struck out 11 Holland batters.

Wildness cost the Dutch a couple of runs in the first inning. With one out, Hulst hit two batters, before Gemmen smacked a home run over the right fielder's head to score three runs. A walk, a single and two errors sent two more runners across in the third inning, giving the Unity club a 5-0 margin. They scored their final marker in the fifth frame on a walk, a single, an error and an outfield fly.

Unity was guilty of one error while Coach Elmer Ribben's outfit made three errors.

Mr. and Mrs. George Jay Heidema (Holland Illustrative photo)

A double ring ceremony solemnized Sunday, April 13 in the New Apostolic Church, united in marriage Miss Shirley Ann Cole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Cole, 4317 Thorndyke, Grand Rapids, and George Jay Heidema, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Heidema, 802 Paw Paw Dr.

As the bride approached the altar for the ceremony performed by the Rev. Carl Strang of Chicago she was wearing a gown of imported chantilly lace with sweetheart neckline, long tapered sleeves and a basque waist that fell into a bouffant skirt of nylon tulle ruffles over slipper satin and ending in a brush train. A pleated nylon tulle cap trimmed with seed pearls held the waist length veil of French illusion. She carried two white orchids and a white Bible with white satin streamers tied with tiny white daisies.

The bride's honor attendant was her sister, Mrs. Merlin Hoffman whose white length gown of circle pattern white nylon net over aqua taffeta featured a matching cummerbund and sash. Her headdress was a small matching aqua hat of nylon net and her bouquet was a colonial cascade arrangement of yellow feathered carnations and roses.

Gowns fashioned like the matron of honor's were worn by the bridesmaids, Miss Betty Donze and Miss Bonnie Cole, niece of the bride. They wore yellow and lavender, respectively, and carried colonial bouquets of feathered carnations and roses.

The groom's attendants were his brother, Wesley, Heidema, who served as best man, and Gilbert Heidema, his cousin, and Raymond Sartini who assisted as groomsmen.

Following a honeymoon to Washington D. C. the couple now reside at 213 Calvin Ave. For traveling the bride changed to a tweed suit with navy accessories and an orchid corsage. ## Maplewood Annexation Vote June 3

Three Other Districts Plus Holland Residents Also Vote on That Day

Maplewood school district in Fillmore township will vote June 3 whether to annex to Holland city, the same date three school districts in Holland township have scheduled annexation elections.

Word on the Maplewood election date was received by Arthur Schwartz, chairman of the Maplewood Area Citizens Committee, from Robert Montgomery, director of elections for the Secretary of State's office in Lansing.

With this confirmation on the Maplewood election, Holland city voters will face four issues in the special June 3 election — whether to accept Federal, Apple Ave. and Montello school districts in Holland township and Maplewood school district in Fillmore township. Voters in Holland township will vote on three issues and those in Fillmore township on one issue.

For instance, voters in Apple Ave. district will vote whether they want to annex to Holland city and whether they will release Federal and Montello Park districts from the township. Similar issues face voters in Federal and Montello Park districts.

Voters in Holland township, not included in the annexed districts, will vote whether they will release the three areas to Holland city. In Fillmore township, voters in the district marked for annexation will vote whether they will annex to the city. Those outside the annexed area will vote whether they will release the area.

If annexed areas favor annexation, the vote of the city will be counted with the vote cast in outside areas of the townships. The sum of the votes in separate townships plus the city vote must have a plurality in order to carry.

Last day for registering in Fillmore township for the Maplewood election is May 5.

Meanwhile, the Maplewood Citizens Committee is drafting plans for carrying on the campaign. John Zylman, chairman of the informational campaign, says the plans are under way to contact every voter in Maplewood prior to the election.

Hope Coach Seeks Answers

Coach Russ De Vette of Hope College, president of the MIAA coaches association, is seeking some information and he has sent out letters to 75 coaches throughout the nation to find out their ideas and a possible answer.

The question concerns which rules the schools are going to go along with this football season, either the NCAA or the NAIA rules. The letters have been sent to colleges with enrollments of around 2,000 or less.

With each letter, De Vette has enclosed a post card on which the questions are asked: Are you using NCAA rules? or are you using NAIA suggested rules? or are you undecided?

The NCAA rules call for two points for running and passing an extra point and one point for a kick. A new rule this year also calls for one arm blocking.

The NAIA rules are similar to those of the pros and high schools, calling for free substitution, extra point one point, conferring with coach on sideline by one player or during time out and a fumble may be recovered anywhere and advanced.

De Vette will report his findings at the league meeting May 12. The MIAA is split between the NAIA and NCAA, some schools belong to both, and some to one or the other, or don't belong to any national organization. Hope is a member of the NCAA.

Scott Speaks On Criticisms Of Education

School Supt. Walter W. Scott addressed Rotary Club Thursday noon on the subject, "Some Reflections on Criticisms of Education," with emphasis on what has caused the growing criticism of schools and education, whether the facts support the criticisms, and what to do to correct the situation.

The school superintendent reviewed many phases of education and pointed out that concern for education has lived through the ages and many criticisms which appear critical today existed in like form hundreds of years before Christ.

In studying current criticisms, Scott said there can be no categorical yes or no answer. He said there is much evidence to prove that the critics have overgeneralized and no one criticism can be applied equally in all schools.

In the United States, public education is a function of state government in every state in the union, and the state legislature is the most important policy making agent for education in a state, and the local board of education is the working unit in the state education structure, Scott said.

In improving situations confronting schools, the speaker listed:

1. Redefine the goals and decide just what we want our schools to accomplish, placing priority on those goals so that we make sure we are giving first attention to the foremost goal.

2. Define quality and then go after first-rate schools. Good enough isn't good enough any more — if it ever was.

3. Encourage creative thinking to solve financial problems. America is wealthy but until we translate our faith in education into dollars to provide it, the quality of primary, secondary and higher education will decline.

4. We must staff our schools with the best possible teachers. This is partially tied in with money but not entirely. Some experimentation is needed.

5. We must increase the efficiency of school management. The organization of the instructional program must be made more effective. Our best people must be sought for membership on our school boards.

6. We need to enlist active support of thousands of people to participate in some aspect of the school improvement process.

"As school people, we do not fear criticism. If it is honest and constructive, we welcome it," he concluded.

INCHES PAST DEPOT—Spectators gaped Tuesday afternoon as a huge atomic reactor vessel, destined for the Enrico Fermi Atomic Power Plant at Lagoona Beach near Monroe, crawled cautiously through Holland. At the C and O depot, the train was halted while trainmen checked clearances at the side of the track. Just ahead of the reactor can be seen part of the "mock-up" on the preceding railroad car, the striped boards, which "feel out" the close places before the reactor goes through. The train passed through about 3 p.m., spent the night at Grand Rapids, and is due to reach Detroit tonight. (Sentinel photo)

Reactor Passes Holland

A giant forerunner of the atomic age passed majestically through Holland Tuesday afternoon, riding in state on a railroad flatcar.

Moving carefully at a snail's pace, it slipped its mighty shoulders past trackside impediments and squeezed beneath tall viaducts.

The visitor was a 91-ton reactor vessel, destined to be the heart of the world's largest breeder reactor atomic power plant, situated at Lagoona Beach, near Monroe, Mich.

The reactor is scheduled to arrive at its destination, the Enrico Fermi Atomic Power Plant, within a day or so. This nuclear power plant is now under construction, financed by a 43-company non-profit organization called Atomic Power Development Associates, Inc.

By barge and train, the stainless steel monster has been traveling since April 10 when it left Chattanooga, Tenn. River barges transported it 928 miles on the Tennessee and Ohio Rivers to Columbus Park, Ohio.

There, with a special crane which had been tested for soundness with x-rays and magnetic particle tests, it was carefully hoisted into specially designed cradles on a flat car.

The huge shell was filled with nitrogen gas under pressure to keep foreign matter and dirt from entering the precisely-machined interior.

A "mock-up" made of boards and just slightly larger than the vessel was built upon the preceding railroad car to test close clearances. The height of the "mock-up" was 21 feet, 3 inches and the width 14 feet, 7 inches, just half an inch larger each way than the reactor.

A 700-mile, roundabout rail journey was laid out, dictated by underpass clearances and bridge weight restrictions. One bridge was torn down near Benton Harbor. At another point, "shims" were used on the rails to tilt the cargo clear of side structures.

Five different railroads participated in carrying the vessel, moving at a maximum speed of 15 miles per hour. Through towns the train slowed to four miles per hour and at very close clearances, the engine was detached and the reactor pulled ahead by winch and cable.

The train stopped at the Holland station for a moment while attendants checked clearances at the side of the track and then inched cautiously past.

At Lagoona Beach, a 150-ton crane will lift it from the flat car and into position in the 72-foot high gashlight reactor containment building.

In actual use, Uranium-238 will be used to change non-fissionable material into a new man-made fuel, plutonium. The heat of fission will be used to transform water into steam which will generate electricity to power conventional turbine generators.

The Enrico Fermi plant is expected to be ready for initial nuclear operation in 1960. Eventually the plant will be capable of producing 150,000 kilowatts of electricity.

Hamilton has seen the third landmark being razed within the past few months. The most recent one was the breaking down of the building that served for many years as a Community Building, prior to the erection of the Hamilton Auditorium in 1931. Band concerts, High School plays, lectures, township elections and various other meetings were held there for many years, and in earlier days it also housed a drug store operated by Parker, Davis and Gage in the early 1900's. The past several years the Hamilton Farm Bureau used it for an Electrical Appliance Store until they moved into the large store erected a year or two ago on the same street further east. A new building is to be erected on the site, which will house the new branch of the Zeeland State Bank. Other buildings removed recently were the old former residence of William Root, and the Albert Klomparsen residence, which was moved to another location. The latter site is now a parking lot.

The Rev. Paul Alderink of Jamestown was guest minister for the new Reformed church group last Sunday, using as sermon themes "Jesus, the Light of Life" and "Abounding in Hope." ## Fennville Girl Named Bridge Queen

FENNVILLE—Eighteen-year-old Tila Ramirez of Fennville will represent Allegan County at the Mackinac Bridge Dedication Celebration June 26-28, it was learned today.

Tila, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alejos Ramirez, and Bridge Queens from 82 other counties will participate in the colorful three-day extravaganza.

Miss Ramirez was named Allegan County Bridge Queen following the Blossom Queen Contest at Benton Harbor. She represented Glenn in the contest and also will be Queen of that community's annual pancake Festival in June.

Officials of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, who are sponsoring the Bridge Queens from most counties, said it was agreed before the Blossom Queen contest that the girl who finished highest in the event from each county would be named Bridge Queen.

Since Tila was the only girl from Allegan County in the contest, she automatically won the right to represent her county at the Bridge dedication.

It was also revealed that Gloria Garner of Covert will represent Van Buren County at the Bridge celebration. Gloria, a 17-year-old blonde, was one of eight semi-finalists in the Blossom Queen contest.

Tila, a sophomore at Fennville High, was the shortest girl in the Blossom Queen contest. She is 5-foot-1-inch tall and tips the scales at 125 pounds. She has black hair and brown eyes and her favorite pastime is dancing.

Miss Ramirez and Miss Garner will drive to the Mackinac Bridge June 26 with their chaperones in white convertibles which will be placed at the disposal of each Bridge Queen for the trip to and back home from the celebration by the Oldsmobile Division of General Motors.

All 83 County Bridge queens will cross the giant span together from St. Ignace to Mackinaw City June 27 and at Cheboygan they will be honored at a banquet.

The following day, the Upper Peninsula queens will gather at St. Ignace while the Lower Peninsula queens will be on the Mackinaw City side. They will then carry a huge ribbon from each side to the center of the bridge where it will be knotted, symbolizing the linking of the peninsulas, in one of the highlights of the dedication.
