Will Return Stephens To Michigan

Defective, Deputy On Way to South Dakota;
Youth Signs Statement

Authorities were on their way to Kadoka, S.D. today to return James Scott Stephens, wanted for questioning in the rifle slaying of two Macatawa Park girls Saturday.

The 16-year-old youth was reported to have signed a statement admitting the shooting according to Paw Paw State Police Capt. Bion Hoeg.

"It was an accident — and the shootings just kept going," Stephens was quoted by Don Licht, special agent for the South Dakota Criminal Investigation Division.

The bodies of Margaret Chambers, 12, and Carol Gee, 11, were found Monday in the Macatawa Hills near where they had been picking wild flowers Saturday afternoon.

Allegan County Deputy Harry Smith and State Police Detective Charles Long left by car from Allegan Wednesday afternoon to make the 1,000 mile trip to Kadoka.

Licht said the youth gave authorities a two-page handwritten statement Wednesday. Authorities refused to reveal details of the statement.

Licht today said Stephens was cooperative, willing to go back to Michigan, and "almost casual."

"He's not at all smart alecky," Licht said. "He's no dummy."

The youth showed no sign of emotion Wednesday night during his stay in a basement cell or as he breakfasted on cold cereal.

Guards said Stephens appeared to have slept soundly.

Licht said he had telephoned details of Stephens' confession to Michigan authorities.

Jackson County, S.D., Juvenile Judge Flagg Carlisle ordered Stephens held for Michigan authorities following a hearing Wednesday night.

Stephens was seized at Jeff's truck stop in Kadoka by Police Chief Irvin Baldwin late Tuesday night. He told authorities his name was Jim Sinclair and that he was from Cleveland, Ohio.

Sheriff Warren Pearson said Stephens was out of money when he arrived in Kadoka, a town of about 500.

Chief Baldwin, who had seen a newspaper picture of Stephens, became suspicious of the youth, after spotting him at the truck stop.

Baldwin said that the youth finally admitted his identity after Baldwin showed him a newspaper picture of Stephens and said, "that's you."

"That's me," the boy replied, according to Baldwin.

The youth claimed at first his name was Jim Sinclair and that he was from Cleveland, Ohio. But he carried a social security card made out to Stephens.

Stephens also carried a knapsack — an item he was known to have taken when he fled Holland — and a hunting knife. He said he was hitchhiking to Arizona or New Mexico.

Authorities recalled that the note Stephens left to his mother said "When you read this I will be on my way to Arizona or New Mexico." They also noted that a "J.S." laundry mark on his white shirt could stand for either "Jim Sinclair" or James Stephens.

Stephens was born in Cleveland and his grandmother still lives there. The youth also had a diary listing the rides he received in his cross-country trip.

Stephens, nervous and fidgety, finally broke down and admitted he was the wanted boy. In the brief court session he fingered the zipper of his jacket and picked haplessly at a finger.

The session was closed to the press and Carlisle threatened to hold in contempt of court any photographers taking pictures. United Press International Correspondent Wesley Pippert sought to take a picture of the youth as he was lodged in jail. Sheriff Pearson slammed Pippert's arm and said, "There will be no pictures."

Michigan authorities believe that Stephens traveled as a hitchhiker west on US-2, after crossing the Mackinac bridge, until he reached Rapid River, Mich. They believe he then went south and west across Wisconsin.

Stephens was definitely identified as the youth that spent Sunday night in a motel north of the Straits. The handwriting on a note he left, thanking the motel owner for her hospitality compared to handwriting on notes he left on a bicycle in Holland and one he left at home.

The note at home said he had shot two persons by accident. A rifle found in the attic of his home also was determined to be the gun that fired the fatal bullets.

The note was found about 4 p.m. Sunday afternoon in Stephens' room by his mother. The envelope containing the note was addressed "Mom, April, 1961."

co. Keep your chin up. I'll be back. Don't do anything rash. Your loving son, Jim.

I will send back the $10.05 I borrowed from Mexico or Arizona as soon as I get a job."

Stephens' bicycle was found at 11 p.m. Sunday in Holland at the Allegan spur of the C&O railroad tracks and 16th St. A note attached to the handlebars of the bicycle read, "Please return to 2026 Ottagan Ave., Holland, Mich. Reward for return."

The bike, an old red J.C. Higgins model with no fenders, is being kept by Holland police. The bicycle was spotted by special patrolman Ray Stam, scoutmaster of Stephens' troop, said "He was a good scout, but a strange boy."

Bob Anderson, 16, who attended classes at Saugatuck High School with Stephens, called him, "A lone wolf."

Stam and Anderson both said the youth liked the outdoors. He was known as a crack shot — "one who could sit up on the sand dunes and pick off a dime at the bottom," according to Anderson.

Stephens' parents said the boy seemed nervous and upset when he returned home Saturday night, but that he ate a hearty breakfast in the morning. He left home about 9 a.m. and did not return.

Searchers were led to the bodies of Carol Gee, 11, and Margaret Chambers, 12, by a handful of wild flowers and a few expended .22 rifle bullet casings found lying along a trail in the rugged Macatawa Hills 300 feet from the bodies.

The Chambers girl had the Gee girl's sweatshirt twisted around her neck as if it had been used to drag her to the spot where the bodies were found.

Her clothing was undisturbed. The Gee girl was fully clad except for her sweatshirt.

The trail into the hills is directly opposite the office of the Jesiek Brothers shipyard. It is possible to drive about 20 yards up the trail before it becomes a path, too narrow for a car to travel. The bodies were found approximately a quarter mile in the hills from the start of the road. The path winds high up into the hills.

The girls had left their homes here Saturday to pick wild flowers. Searchers were led to their bodies today by a handful of wild flowers and the bullet casings which had been found by Forrest Flaucher of 2096 South Shore Dr.

Both girls had been shot at close range, Margaret five times and Carol seven times.

With the discovery of the bodies in Allegan County, just across the line from Ottawa County, Allegan County authorities assumed jurisdiction in the case.

During Monday's search, roadblocks were thrown up on US-31, south of Saugatuck, following reports the boy had been seen in the area. All cars were stopped and motorists questioned. The roadblock was lifted after search hours.

The bodies had been cleverly concealed just beyond the first of the hills. The Chambers girl lay about 60 feet from a trail that had been heavily tramped during the search Sunday and the Gee girl lay about 30 feet beyond.

One of the Gee girl's feet protruded from the leaves covering the body.

Capt. L. R. Hunt of the Rockford state police post said it appeared the girls had been shot

Final rites were held in Holland Wednesday for two Jenison Park girls who were slain Saturday afternoon while picking wild flowers in the Macatawa hills.

With no reference to tragedy, Requiem High Mass was sung in St. Francis De Sales Church Wednesday for Carol Gee, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gee. The Mass was celebrated by Msgr. A. J. LeRoux, assisted by Fr. Edwin Thomas. The children's choir of St. Francis School sang under the direction of Sister Mary Mechtild, R.S.M.

There were no eulogies, and the Rite for Christian Burial included prayers and Holy Communion. Although it was an occasion for sorrow, the priest pointed out it certainly was not one of sadness due to the fact that sadness indicates a loss. According to Christian teachings, the death of a faithful Christian marks the beginning of eternal happiness.

The Rev. Douglas Gray, pastor of First Baptist Church of Zeeland, officiated at services Wednesday in Dykstra Funeral Chapel for Margaret Chambers, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon S. Chambers.

Rev. Gray chose for his text I Corinthians 15:54-58 with emphasis on verse 55, "O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory?" Inasmuch as Margaret had entered the church recently, Rev. Gray said this section of the scriptures providing for victory over death and the grave and victory in Christ was appropriate.

His message to the living was verse 38: "Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labor is not in vain in the Lord."

Both girls were buried in Pilgrim Home Cemetery. Pall bearers for Carol were six uncles. Pall bearers for Margaret were six members of the Young Adult Sunday School Class of which Margaret's parents were members.

Petitions were being circulated today for Hans Suzenaar of 352 Wildwood Dr. as a candidate for the Holland Board of Education at its annual election June 12.

Suzenaar is Ottawa County Civil Defense chairman.

Other candidates announced thus far are Harry Frisell, board president who is seeking reelection, Mrs. Leon Kleis and Harvey Butler. There are two openings on the board. Carl C. Andreason, member of the board whose term expires this year, has announced he will not seek reelection.

Somewhere on the trail and then dragged to the place where the bodies were found.

During the height of the search, more than 500 men probed the woods of the area. Their method of travel ranged from horseback to helicopter, airplane, motor vehicle and foot. Also employed were bloodhounds in the forest.

The informal dinner meetings were introduced by former Mayor Robert Viscoper when he first lost office six years ago.

Holland Boy, 4, Hurt in Accident

Four-year-old David Heerspink, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Heerspink of 67 West 17th St., was reported in fair condition today at St. Mary's Hospital in Grand Rapids where he was taken after he ran into the side of a moving automobile on 16th St. in Holland Wednesday afternoon.

Hospital officials said the boy underwent surgery Wednesday night for head injuries. He was transferred from Holland Hospital to St. Mary's Wednesday after the mishap.

Holland police said the youngster ran into the side of a car driven by 16-year-old Jerry Lee Terpstra of 132 West 32nd St. at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday on 16th St., between River and Pine Aves.

Police said the boy darted into the street, running from the north side of the street to the south side. Terpstra was driving west on 16th St. when the mishap occurred, police said.

Junior High Fair Attracts Crowds

Profits from the E. E. Fell Junior High School Fair amounted to approximately $300 and will be placed in the Junior High Republic Fund to be used for school assemblies. The fair, held last Friday in the school gym, attracted 588 students and many parents.

Homerooms under supervision of teachers were responsible for the various booths in operation during the evening. The fair is a student-centered activity in which students receive experience in planning, constructing and operating booths.

The King and Queen booth was especially popular. Nominees were named from each homeroom and each student was allowed one vote. Winners crowned were Jeanette Steinger and Tom Thomas, seventh grade; Leslie Nienhuis and Brian Marcus, eighth grade; Gail Van Raalte and Steve Bronson, ninth grade.

Council Confabs Closed to Press

Holland City Council Wednesday decided that all future pre-Council meetings will be held behind closed doors with the press excluded.

Mayor Nelson Bosman said the decision was largely that of new members of Council which has four new members.

Some newcomers felt that there were news leaks coming out of the informal meetings. Bosman said. In the past a Sentinel staff member has been present at the informal meetings where the agenda is discussed.

Mayor Bosman assured the Sentinel that so long as he is mayor no official votes would ever be taken in informal meetings.

The informal dinner meetings were introduced by former Mayor Robert Viscoper when he first lost office six years ago.

Detachment Query Gets Cool Hearing

City Council Not Enthusiastic for Another Election

A communication from John H. Schurman, chairman of the South Side Farmers, suggesting a new Maplewood detachment election in which 48th St. will be approximately the cutoff line received a cool reception at a regular meeting of City Council Wednesday night in City Hall.

Councilman William De Haan, himself of the Maplewood area, reflected the general feeling of Council when he said Holland citizens already had expressed their opinions at previous elections, and in his opinion the city of Holland was not interested in another detachment election at this time. He moved that the communication be filed for information and Council supported his motion.

Schurman's communication read: "We herewith submit for your approval and or non-opposition to the proposed area to be detached from Holland city as outlined and enclosed in this letter. Please inform us as soon as possible as to your reaction." Signed John H. Schurman, chairman of South Side Farmers.

Included were diagrams of two possibilities using 48th St. as the main cutoff line, jutting north on the western extremities and jutting south on the eastern section.

Two previous detachment elections calling for general cutoffs at 40th St. were defeated, the last one at the April 3 spring election.

Two public hearings were held with no objections voiced. Council quickly approved paving Third St. from River to Pine Aves. On the second hearing involving an application of Arlyn Lanting and Ken LaGrand for permission to erect a temporary produce stand for five months at 533 West 17th St., considerable discussion was held. The application was approved with the firm understanding that the stand would be removed after the five-month period.

A communication from the Liquor Control Commission requesting Council action on a request from Arvid and Malinda Larson for a tavern and SDM license was referred to the city manager for study and report. No address other than the home address of the applicants was listed.

Applications from Tulip Time, Inc., for several Tulip Time events were approved including costume show, square dance, baton twirling contest, Tulip Time varieties, antique show, flower show, Dutch Treat Show, African art exhibit and band review. A separate license was granted SPEBSQSA for the Parade of Quarts.

Gerald Meeusen, of 314 East Washington, Zeeland, was granted a license to collect rubbish. Hotel Warm Friend was granted a license to operate a dance hall. Arthur Quist received a license to operate a bowling establishment with 18 alleys known as Holland Bowling Lane, and Von Ins Recreation received a license to operate a pool room.

Several damage claims were referred to the city attorney and insurance carrier, one for damage to a car and three for damage to mail boxes.

A communication from Michigan Municipal League's new International Municipal Cooperation Committee extended an invitation to an all-day state people-to-people congress in Bay City to hear national leaders discuss the town affiliation program. The communication was filed.

A letter from the department adjutant of the Michigan American Legion expressed appreciation for the fine hospitality extended by citizens and officials of the city during the spring meeting here April 9.

A letter from Mrs. Harold Ketchum, 1105 Ardmore, advocating use of loud sirens in strategic spots for a tornado warning system was referred to the city manager for study and report. City Manager Herb Holt said various methods have been tried for tornado alerts with none of them very satisfactory. He said the city has a mocking bird and several factory whistles.

Council acknowledged with thanks the following gifts for Herick Public Library: 22 paintings for the children's area from Holland Garden Club valued at $150; a case of valuable books, papers and pamphlets of genealogical materials from the Sons of the Revolution.

Council approved the city manager's recommendation changing some meters in the vicinity of the Woman's Literary Club from two-hour to four-hour limits to alleviate a parking problem there. This involves nine meters on the north side of Central Ave. between Ninth and 10th Sts. at the rate of five cents an hour.

Mayor Nelson Bosman presided at the meeting which adjourned at 8:35 p.m. All Councilmen were present with the exception of Henry Stephens and Donald Oosterbaan. The Rev. Paul E. Hinkamp gave the invocation.

Tax Increase Is 30 Cents Per $1,000

With few revisions, City Council Wednesday night adopted the city's 1961-62 budget calling for a property tax levy of $817,612.32, the same figure adopted at a meeting two weeks ago.

This involves an average tax rate of $17.98 per $1,000 assessed valuation or an increase of 30 cents per $1,000 (.3 mill) over last year's tax rate.

There was only one written communication on the budget, that coming from the Library Board requesting approval of the library budget as originally submitted plus an additional $800 to provide adequate insurance coverage.

Total 1961-62 budget for the general fund amounts to $1,265,346.33 which includes operations of Herick Public Library. This figure does not include debt service of $97,000, nor are the budgets of such non-tax supported departments as Holland Hospital and Board of Public Works reflected in the totals.

Revisions mainly involved $7,000 forthcoming from Fillmore Township as part of the 1958 annexation settlement, following a Supreme Court decision favoring the city's claim. The money had been held in escrow by the clerk of Allegan Circuit Court. City Attorney James E. Townsend said the exact figure was $7,109.77.

Budget revisions allowed $1,000 for a sprinkler system in Smallerburg Park, $800 for the library budget, $200 for reserve police uniforms, and $5,000 for City Hall contingency.

The budget resolution, which was passed unanimously, included approval of the employee compensation plan in which the pay range of all classified positions be raised one range amounting to approximately 5 per cent. The vacation schedule also is adjusted allowing two weeks for 10-year employment, three weeks for 15-year employment, with adjustments between 10 and 15-year employment, one day for each year 11 through 14.

In lieu of a seventh paid holiday, employees will be given a day's vacation on their birthday anniversaries instead of a half day before Christmas and a half day before New Year's as previously authorized. Volunteer firemen will receive one year's credit toward seniority for every three years served as a volunteer when entering full time service in the fire department.

The public hearing and discussions plus action on approval took a total of 10 minutes. Council also adopted the capital expenditure program presented by the Board of Public Works. This proposal had been tabled until this meeting. There was no discussion.

Parents Happy Their Son Safe

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kerbs, 2026 Ottagan Ave., parents of James Scott Stephens, today expressed relief that "Jimmy" had been found safe and sound in South Dakota.

"Jimmy is a good boy," his mother said, "and we are going to do everything possible to help him. I know in my heart that Jimmy would never intentionally hurt anyone. More than anything else he needs our love and understanding."

The Kerbs said they have retained an attorney, Gordon Cunningham, to represent the family in the matter. "We all have faith that the law will deal fairly with our boy. We also would like to thank the many persons who have offered us comfort and support during the last few days. We have been deeply touched by the understanding and Christian forgiveness shown by Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Chambers and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gee. We are sure everything will work out," they said.

After admitting his identity authorities said Stephens refused to talk to his stepfather and his mother by telephone Wednesday night.

Thief Loots Coin Vendor At Self-Service Laundry

Make Grants For Research

ALLEGAN—The Allegan County unit of the American Cancer Society, currently completing its annual spring educational and fund-raising crusade, made direct grants for research of nearly $3,000 during the past year.

The grants were in addition to crusade funds allocated to research projects from money sent by the county unit to the national Cancer Society.

The Allegan unit made two separate grants totaling $2,000 for research projects at the University of Michigan under the direction of Dr. Norman F. Miller. Back in August of 1960, Dr. Miller applied to the ACS national organization for a $28,015 grant, but national funds already had been exhausted. He turned to the Michigan division which was able to allocate nearly $9,000 from funds of hand, then sent out a plea to county units to help raise the balance needed.

When all of the contributions were in, the Michigan division reported a total of $31,303 received in response to the special appeal, leaving a balance of $3,288 for other research.

In addition to the $2,000 contribution, the Allegan unit also made separate grants to the Michigan Tumor Registry and the Michigan Cancer Co-ordinating Committee.

WILLIAM E. DUNN

William E. Dunn, one of Holland's well known industrialists for almost fifty years died at the age of 80 years. Mr. Dunn had been in the masonry machinery business for more than sixty years starting in Chicago at the age of 19. He moved to Holland during 1914 and established the business at the present location that has grown into many different businesses both here and in Canada. Many people in the community will remember William E. Dunn. We have lost another one of our pioneer industrialists.

Time marches on and as the span of life continues to become greater many people are thinking of retirement before they are much past sixty. The national figure at the present running from 62 to 65 years. Not so with Mr. Dunn. He seemed to keep busy with the problems of business, of which there are many, almost up to the time of his death. Many younger people could very well use their time for equally energetic investment of their time and talents.

ing secretary and James Kiek-intveld, treasurer.

gress made since the forming of the Council in 1957.

Reactions and comments on the food service plan to be used at the new high school showed that some felt the service too costly.
Other types of food programs available were requested. The question of operating expenses of a cafeteria was raised. Hot lunch programs in use at Lakeview School and elsewhere were discussed with some disadvantages brought up.

Announcement was made of the PTA district workshop to be held on May 11 in Grand Rapids.

Coffee and light refreshments were served by Van Raalte School

Lesson

Sunday, May 7
Out of the Heart
Proverbs 3:1-8; 4:20-23
Luke 6:43-45
By C. P. Dame

The word "heart" appears a number of times in this lesson.
We belong to "a heart-conscious" generation. We read often about people who die because of a heart failure. The Bible, when it uses the word heart, speaks of it as the center of a man's being, it includes the will, the mind and our emotions. This is the heart
we are enjoined to watch.

I. We are commanded to trust the Lord. Too often we forget what we ought to remember. The author of Proverbs had confidence in his teaching as the words, "forget not my law; but let thine heart keep my commandments" indicate. Having commandments is not enough — they should be kept, practiced day by day. The reason—"for length of days, and a long life, and peace, shall they add to thee." Are the good always successful? No, indeed not but right and godly living has its own rewards. Godliness promotes physical well-being, emotional stability, and the favor of God and men.

We are commanded to trust God "with all thine heart." Some one who reads the Bible much said one day that he likes the little word "all" which appears so often on its pages. It is used a goodly number of times. To trust the Lord means to accept His promises and rely upon them. We should not trust the Lord half-heartedly but wholly and lean not upon our own understanding—something which we are so prone to do. We are urged, "In all thy ways to acknowledge Him" not just in a few critical matters but in all our ways—in making of dates, friendships, work, business, pleasures, in marriage and in all the big and little affairs of life. If we do that then God will "direct thy paths" which means they will be well directed. The person who is wise in his own eyes will not seek divine direction.

II. Guarding one's heart is very important. The author of Proverbs has confidence in his teaching and therefore he urges that we keep them in the midst of our heart for these words of his "are life unto those that find them, and health to their flesh." In these days we are stressing again an old truth which the Bible taught long ago that there is a close connection between religion and health. We are all finding out too that it is of vital significance to keep the heart with all diligence
"for out of it are the issues of life" or the springs of life.

Many people are concerned in these days about the physical heart but they pay too little attention to their thoughts and emotions and their spiritual resources. It makes a world of difference whether a person has an evil heart or a believing heart.
The question, "How's your heart?"
is a most important one, and the counsel, "Watch out for your heart" significant.

III. We reveal what kind of a heart we have. The last three verses of the lesson text are from Luke's gospel and the word
"heart" appears in them three times. Jesus tells us that a tree is judged by its fruit, not by its looks. The Lord contrasts two men
— the one is good and out of the treasure of his heart he brings forth that which is good, but the evil man brings forth that which is evil. Our Lord concludes this comparison by asserting that out of "the abundance of the heart his mouth speaketh." Daily experience verifies this statement—people talk about the things of which the heart is full. People with a new heart talk about the new things that have come into their lives through God's grace. By prayer and fellowship with God's people and by reading of the Bible
we fill our hearts with the things of God.

Senior Citizens Survey
Released by AAUW Group

The Holland Branch of the American Association of University Women will release this week to the churches and other civic organizations of the city a survey of the Senior Citizens in Holland.
The study was made by the Social Issues Committee of the AAUW with Mrs. Tunik Baker, chairman and Mrs. Robert Horner and Mrs.
George Wedel assisting.

The survey was conducted with the cooperation of Dr. Paul Ny-berg's 1960 senior Hope College sociology class whom he instructed in interviewing technique.

One thousand names of people 65 and older were requested from 48 churches, including the City
Mission and Salvation army.
Questionnaires covering housing,
health, leisure time, finances, employment and public assistance were completed for a statistical sampling from this group.

Because the people interviewed were, for the most part, strongly church and family oriented, the tabulation of the questionnaires did not reveal great need from this group in Holland. However, in view of future changes in the community and increasing numbers of Senior Citizens the general pattern of the study indicated a need for further thought in the areas of recreation, planned housing, and medical care. Several local churches are already using their facilities for Senior Citizen leisure time activity, especially to meet the request for limited exercise.

The Social Issues Committee of the AAUW concluded its report with suggestion to the City Council, Planning Commission, Chamber of Commerce, all churches and civic organizations to instigate more extensive investigation into the Senior Citizen problems.

It recommended that the newspapers, radio stations and public libraries could serve as communication centers. Industries should help in their areas in preparing workers for retirement.
Lastly, the Board of Education

Police, Deputies From Two Counties Aided in Search

At the height of the search for the two Macatawa Park girls Saturday and Sunday more than 150 law enforcement officers and 500 volunteers participated in an organized search which combed the hills and beaches from Macatawa Park to Saugatuck in both Ottawa and Allegan Counties besides checking leads as far north as Grand Haven.

Sheriff Bernard Grysen had a dozen deputies, 37 mounted men from the sheriff's posse and 30 to 40 reserve sheriffs. State police had 20 state troopers headed by Corp. 5. F. Hayes of Rockford including two state police skin divers from Grand Haven and Ionia.

Holland Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff was on the scene Saturday night and Sunday with six local officers and seven reserves. Zeeland Chief Larry Veldheer and one of his regulars plus 34 Civil Defense auxiliary police were present. Allegan Sheriff Walter Runkel had eight cruisers and 20 men on the scene and Hudsonville Chief William Ten Have and four reserves were present. Other officers were from Fennville, Casco Township, Saugatuck and Douglas.

Park Township firemen also assisted Saturday night and several groups of Boy Scouts assisted in the search Sunday.

Jesiek's Boatyard became central headquarters for coordinating the search. Jesiek's also opened the cafe next door to the boatyard offices and the Red Cross, Salvation Army, several churches and several individuals prepared and served sandwiches, coffee and cake as a public service for rescue workers.

State police arranged to bring Art Van Aken and a pair of bloodhounds here from Ionia.

The Ottawa County Civil Defense sent its CD rescue truck with six men.

Holland police had two men in a water patrol boat along with two Coast Guardsmen dragging Lake Macatawa. Several boat owners also provided private boats for dragging operations.

A helicopter from Grand Rapids was used in the search, particularly along the lake shore and beaches. The far-flung search was reminiscent of the search Nov. 20 and 21, 1953, for missing Scott Rozboom, 3½ years, whose body was found late the second evening in Lake Macatawa. That search had included city police and auxiliary, county deputies, state police, Coast Guard helicopter from Traverse City, bloodhounds from Mt. Clemens, National Guardsmen and hundreds of volunteers from the area.

At that time, neighbors made the Kenneth Atman home on South Shore Dr. a canteen headquarters for the search which started early on a Friday evening and ended the following evening.

Heads of enforcement agencies today joined in expressing gratitude to the hundreds of persons who worked untiringly in the tragic search.

Local Musicians Get Division I Ratings at Meet

The Holland High School Orchestra, under the direction of Arthur C. Hills and the E. E. Fell Junior High Band, under the baton of Alvern Kapenga both won Division I highest honors at the State Festival Saturday. The High School Band also directed by Hills won at Ann Arbor State Festival last Saturday.

In order to qualify for entrance at the State Level a band or orchestra must first win a I rating at the district level. The meaning of the Division I rating is "Division I will represent an unusually high standard of performance and musicianship for the event and classification being judged and worthy of being recognized as a first place winner."

Over 5,000 band and orchestra members played for ratings Saturday in Grand Rapids. The previous Saturday over 6,000 performed at the Ann Arbor site. While there is no limitation on the number of Division I ratings which are given if the quality is good enough over all, it is seldom that more than 10 per cent achieve the top rating. Each year the standards are raised and the excellence of performance continues to improve.

The festivals are run by The Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association, which is an agency of the Michigan Education Association. There are over 1,000 members that actively teach instrumental music to the students in Michigan schools.

The Junior High Band played "Elsa a Procession to the Cathedral" by Wagner, "Brasses to the Fore" March by Walters and "Berkshire Hills Overture" by Akers. The Holland High Orchestra played "The Shepherd King Overture" by Mozart, "Rumanian Folk Dances" by Bartok and "Andalucia Suite" by Lecuona.

The Holland High Orchestra will next perform in Holland Thursday evening at "The Fine Arts Festival" in the Civic Center.

WELL REMEMBERED — Mrs. Lucy Dogger, long-time patient at Holland Hospital, smiles happily as she reads the first of an avalanche of birthday greetings on the occasion of her 56th birthday anniversary Saturday. With her is Nurse Janice Veeder. Mrs. Dogger, who has been in the hospital almost constantly for the last year and a half, spends nearly all the time on her stomach with her head on the footend of the bed so that she may share in ward activity. The tent-like arrangement over her is a heating cradle. (Sentinel photo)

NATIONWIDE DISTRIBUTION — Jim Brooks, United Press International bureau manager in Grand Rapids, speaks on the phone to UPI's picture office in Chicago just before transmitting photographs of the search for the two Macatawa Park girls Sunday throughout the country. A half dozen pictures, taken by Sentinel staff members, were moved during the weekend and several more were sent out Monday. The pictures were sent from the Sentinel office. (Sentinel photo)

Eight Sentinel Pictures Used on UPI Network

Eight pictures of the search for the two Macatawa Park girls and the finding of their bodies were transmitted directly from The Holland Evening Sentinel Sunday and Monday via the nationwide United Press Picture network to waiting newspaper offices and television studios across the country.

The photographs were taken by Sentinel staff members and processed at the Sentinel.

James Brooks, UPI Bureau manager in Grand Rapids, used a portable transmitting unit that is only slightly larger than a portable typewriter case.

Once the pictures were printed the caption material, which goes at the bottom of the photograph, was written and pasted onto the glossy prints.

Wires from the transmitter were hooked directly into the bottom of a standard telephone, after the base was removed. A call was then made to UPI's picture bureau in Chicago which in turn advised New York, control point for the network, that pictures of the search were ready.

New York told Chicago to have Holland transmit the pictures as soon as the picture tent moving on the network, a weather map, had finished. In a few minutes the map was through. Brooks pushed buttons on the transmitting machine and through the open telephone line the first photograph began to move into Chicago and simultaneously into newspaper offices from New York to California and Maine to Florida.

The pictures were also coming over the Sentinel's picture machine, while only a few feet away the picture was being transmitted.

These pictures, supplied by the Sentinel have already appeared in numerous metropolitan papers in Michigan and elsewhere in the U. S. plus being seen by scores of television viewers.

The photographs were head and shoulder shots of the two girls, one of Sheriff Bud Grysen with members of the horse posse, and the third of a group of deputies following a pair of bloodhounds and their owner. Other pictures were sent out Monday.

Responsive Audience Fills Hope Theater

A responsive audience filled the Little Theater on Hope College campus Thursday night for the first performance of "The Curious Savage," a warm hearted philosophical comedy by John Patrick, presented by the Hope College Drama department.

While this student-directed production may have lacked some of the artistry of "The Potting Shed" presented by college players previously, Thursday's happy audience seemed more than content to sit back and enjoy drama that appeared light but which more often had an impact far greater than the clever lines would indicate.

Cast in "The Cloisters," a better class mental institution where the gentle inmates were people of warmth and dignity, "The Curious Savage," revolved around a widow, Ethel P. Savage, committed by her stepchildren because after her husband's death she sought to do "all the foolish things" she had wanted to do all her life.

As the curious Mrs. Savage who usually appeared more sane than her headline-grasping children, Nancy Rees received strong support from other cast members who included inmates, hospital staff and ambitious children.

Contrasting humor was provided by the inmates, Sharon Norris as the woman with a doll for a son, Charlotte Curlee as the plain girl, Ed Smith as the former statistician, Tom Wombwell as the pianist and Mary Ten Pas as Mrs. Paddy who wouldn't speak except to recite the things she hated.

Karen Blum, Jay Nyhuis and Don Karkus appeared as the ambitious and spoiled children whose antics were more ridiculous than those of the inmates. John Vandenberg was the sympathetic doctor and Carol Rattray was the understanding nurse.

Robert Fisher served as director with Lorraine Lawrence as assistant director. Tom Oosting was technical director and B. J. Berg-horst stage manager.

Many Attend West Ottawa Play, 'My Three Angels'

West Ottawa High School's first major production in the dramatic world got off to a good start Thursday evening when an all-school cast presented the three-act comedy "My Three Angels" by Sam and Bella Spewack before approximately 400 persons in the school auditorium.

The production began somewhat slowly but soon regained its tempo with the antics of the "three angels" whose tactics in assisting the Ducotel family were always questionable.

The comedy roles of the angels, or better known as the three convicts, were played by John Hudzik as Joseph, the eccentric, who considers doctoring books an art, not a science; Jack Helder as Jules, the father, and David Piet as Alfred, the playboy, the strong silent type.

Action in the production, directed by Gene Rucker, centers around the Ducotel family and the convicts whose unscrupulous determination helped to solve their problems. Ably portraying the part of Felix was Ken Tenckinck with Mary Hakken taking the active role of his wife, Emilie. Love interest revolves around the daughter, Marie Louise, played by Nancy Pelon, the idealist and dreamer, and Paul, played by Dave Hakken, whose uncle, Henri, played by Richard Nienhuis, is the villain in the story.

Cast in supporting roles were Sue Longstreet as Mme. Parole, a deceitful character and Harry Knipe taking the part of a lieutenant.

ALLEGAN — Allegan's Mayor H. Richard Haskins issued a public statement Wednesday aimed at reassuring city employees that a change in city managers would not be a threat to their jobs.

At the same time Haskins urged municipal workers to remain "loyal" to the city and continue at their jobs during the changeover from City Manager P. H. Beauvais to his yet-to-be-named successor.

The mayor's statement was obviously made to counter widespread reports that many department heads and other key employees are planning to accept jobs with private firms when Beauvais' resignation becomes effective, May 1.

Although reassuring city workers that a change in managers would not mean any staff changes, Haskins did point out that under Allegan's charter, the city manager is responsible for hiring and firing all municipal personnel.

"The council has no intentions of making any personnel decisions," he said, "we will stick to our job of setting policy and watching the purse strings."

Reappointment of Joseph Vander Veen and John Young to the city planning commission was announced this week. Members of the city council and the commission held a joint session Wednesday night with Acting City Manager Clarence Wise also on hand.

Three Given Prison Terms

GRAND HAVEN—Three persons were sentenced to prison terms in Circuit Court Friday as the result of breaking into East End Tavern last February.

William Ten Brink, 24, Zeeland, and Charles S. Kitchel, 18, Grand Haven, were sentenced to 2 to 15 years at Southern Michigan Prison and Louis J. De Kraker, 22, also of Grand Haven, was sentenced to 3 to 15 years. All sentences were without recommendation.

Gary Ten Brink, 20, Grand Haven, who appealed a Municipal Court conviction involving $50 fine and 60 days in jail on a charge of receiving and concealing stolen goods, stood mute and a plea of not guilty was entered. Trial will be held during the June term. His $500 bond was continued. Beer taken in the cafe breakin allegedly was brought to the Gary Ten Brink home.

Two Damage Suits Settled Out of Court

GRAND HAVEN — Two civil suits brought by Donald Ter Beek seeking $20,000 each from two tavern operators have been settled out of court.

One case in which Ter Beek was suing Alvin E. Miller and Elmer A. Strohecker of Log Cabin Tavern in Grand Haven Township had been scheduled for trial Friday in Ottawa Circuit Court. The other $20,000 suit was against Ferris R. Cassis of Harbor Inn of Grand Haven.

Both suits are an aftermath of an altercation Aug. 28, 1959, in which Ter Beek claims he was assaulted by William Arbogast at Log Cabin Tavern. He claimed that the sale of intoxicants to Arbogast at both the Log Cabin and Harbor Inn was a contributing cause to the assault.

The declaration stated Ter Beek's injuries resulted in almost complete loss of sight in his right eye as well as involving hospital and medical expenses and loss of wages in excess of $2,000.

No settlement figures were disclosed.

Winter Briefly Returns to City

Winter paid a return visit to the Holland area today as temperatures dropped to near the freezing mark and brief but heavy snow storm made this late April day look more like January.

Most traces of the snow which fell heavily around 9 a.m. disappeared quickly. Snow mixed with rain continued to fall all morning.

The Weather Bureau at Grand Rapids pooh-poohed the snow reports, but police officers in Ottawa, Muskegon and Oceana counties said otherwise.

The Weather Bureau, which insisted there could be no more than snow showers, said light snow had also been reported as far west as Milwaukee and Madison, Wis. The temperature was down to 35 as far south as South Bend, Ind. Overnight lows of 27 and 29 were recorded in Alpena and Houghton respectively.

Sault Ste. Marie and Marquette both recorded 30 degrees overnight and Traverse City had a 32.

By 10 a.m. the snow squalls had pushed eastward in to Newaygo, Montcalm, Kent, Barry and Kalamazoo counties and south into Allegan and Van Buren counties.

The Weather Bureau continued to insist, however, that the storm would not leave any measurable amount of snow on the ground.

Garden Club Gives Paintings To Local Library

Since so much interest has been created in the paintings of the Dutch Masters on exhibit at the Herrick Public Library, the board of the Holland Garden Club decided to make a gift of them to the library following their use in the Tulip Time Flower Show.

The paintings may thereafter be taken from the library on a loan basis. The announcement was made by Mrs. Robert DeNoyor, president of the Garden Club after the board decision on Wednesday morning.

The entire flower show for Tulip Time is built around the theme "Tulips, Tints, and Tempors" based on paintings of the Dutch Masters. The horticulture, artistic, educational and junior divisions of the flower show will have reproductions of these paintings hanging with their exhibits and will be interpreted according to the provisions of the schedule as written by Mrs. William Vandenberg, general show chairman.

The reproductions are already framed for the show and after Tulip Time will become a permanent collection of the Herrick Library.
