Okay Budget After Brief Hearing

After a public hearing which lasted less than 15 minutes, City Council Wednesday night adopted the 1971-72 budget which contains only a few minor revisions from the document City Manager William L. Bopf presented a month ago.

After weeks of study, the proposed tax levy still remains at $2,939,848.25 which is 5.3 per cent higher than last year's levy of $2,765,903.24. The overall budget totals about $9 million. The tax rate will be $16.70 per $1,000 equalized valuation, a decrease of .044 mill from last year's rate of $16.744. Increases and adjustments in equalized valuations will bring an average $8 to $10 increase on the average tax bill based on an $8,000 assessment.

Only persons to appear at the tax hearing was Lillian McNitt who questioned unappropriated surpluses that could possibly be put to use in providing bus transportation in the city. Both Mayor L.W. Lamb Jr. and City Manager Bopf explained how unspent balances are carried over into the new budget, and the function of a capital outlay fund of $100,000. Bopf said funds from the proposed federal revenue sharing program could possibly be used for transportation rather than tax funds. At least, he believed that would be a more reasonable rationale.

Another hearing was held on the proposed construction of a water main in 40th St. from Waverly Rd. 1,335 feet east. No objections were voiced and the work was ordered in.

On recommendation of the Planning Commission, Council instructed the city attorney to prepare two ordinance amendments, one to rezone a parcel of 14.25 acres on the south side of 32nd St. some distance east of Graafschap Rd. (the Van Wyke farm) from A-O single family residential to A-3 residential, and the other to rezone 22.6 acres north of 16th St. and west of Hope Ave. from A-O to A-3 residential. Klaasen-Daverman Associates had requested the 32nd St. rezoning and the Justus Contracting Co. the 16th St. rezoning.

Also recommended by the Planning Commission was an ordinance to redefine areas within the fire district, and this ordinance was accepted for first reading. The present fire district covers all industrial and commercial property outside the industrial park. The new ordinance concentrates mainly on congested areas where the spread of fire is a real danger. It was pointed out that stricter building regulations control a great share of construction, and strict application of fire district regulations is not necessary where there is no danger of spreading.

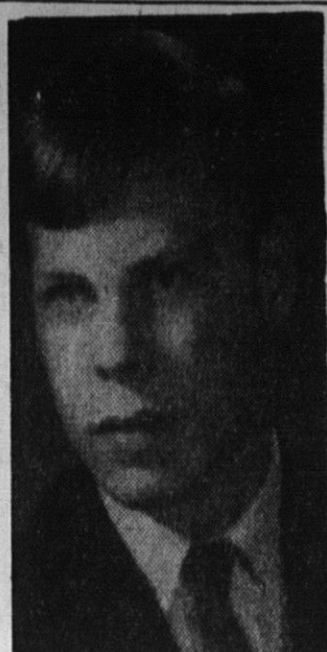

Two applications for rezoning were referred to the Planning Commission for recommendation. One was application from M. L. Den Herder, M. L. De Cook, Rudy Zeedyke, Wilma and Fred Van Wieren to rezone 9 lots in Southwest Heights addition from A-1 residential to A-2 residential. The other was from Joe Roerick to rezone 1 1/2 acres at 747 Paw Paw Dr., from C-1 commercial to A-3 residential.

A city manager report informed Council that HAZAH Corp. is in the process of preliminary review under the new Planned Residential Development ordinance and that the Planning Commission has approved the site layout. The report also commented on problems dealing with storm water runoff which will require more review and work.

It was recommended that HAZAH be permitted to extend sanitary sewer and water facilities from Washington Ave. to their property on 40th St. provided that extensions are in dedicated public right of way and that HAZAH bear full costs. Council concurred.

Another city manager report revealed the Water Resources Commission has requested the city to revise the initial resolution in connection with the grant application for the H. J. Heinz Co. project to provide that in the event the requested federal and state assistance is not in the same amount as originally desired, the city will nevertheless proceed with the proposed city-Heinz antipollution project and reflect the increased cost in sewer use charges to be assessed against Heinz. Council passed a resolution to this effect.

City Manager Bopf commented that is a significant step for city cooperation with an industry—much like the cooperative venture with the Beech-Nut Co. Council also passed a resolution supporting President Nixon's revenue sharing proposals which had been discussed at two previous meetings.

Assemblies Ordinance Is Presented

City Council accepted for first reading Wednesday night a new ordinance on outdoor assemblies which was drawn up by the city attorney after all conceivable institutional units and civic organizations had been contacted.

In general, an "outdoor assembly" means any event attended by more than 500 persons including but not limited to musical festivals, rock festivals, peace festivals or similar gathering. This does not affect an event which is conducted or sponsored by a governmental unit or agency on publicly owned land or property, or an event sponsored by a bonafide educational institution.

The ordinance provides for a license accompanied by a non-refundable fee of $25 for the first 500 proposed attendees and $25 for each 1,000 thereafter. Provision also must be made for police and fire protection, food and water supply and facilities, noise control, etc.

Final passage is expected at the next meeting of City Council.

Two Named To City Posts By Mayor

Mayor L. W. Lamb announced two appointments to city boards or commissions at a regular meeting of City Council Wednesday night.

Terry L. Hofmeyer was named as administrative official to the Planning Commission for a two-year term, and Yolanda Alvarado, an employee in the biology department at Hope College, was named to the Human Relations Commission. Hofmeyer succeeds Guy E. Bell on the Planning Commission, and Mrs. Alvarado succeeds Dr. Carlos Tapia-Ruano who has left Holland.

Council took action to close 10th St. between Columbia and Lincoln Aves. in connection with expanding the playground area at the present Lincoln Park facility for which a grant in excess of $90,000 has been received. Plans call for obtaining seven houses on Ninth and 10th Sts. east of the Park, and join the area to the playground of Lincoln School.

Although no public hearing is necessary in closing (not abandoning) a street, City Manager William L. Bopf recommended a hearing in view of the importance of the matter. Such a hearing will be held May 19 and the city clerk was instructed to publish a notice of Council's intention at least twice. Should the matter pass, the street probably would be closed by September, 1972.

City Manager Bopf said he has received complaints regarding traffic on areas which are not dedicated streets and which are not entitled to maintenance by the city. One is what would be 10th St. between Hope and Ferris Aves. in the eastern part of the city and the other is an area between Black Bass and Midway Aves. running roughly parallel to Heather Dr. in the Central Park area. The areas had received some maintenance due to incorrect records or misunderstandings resulting from annexation.

The city manager also reported on truck usage of certain streets other than designated truck routes. He said the present city ordinances provide that trucks making deliveries within the city are entitled to travel on any street whether or not it is specified a truck route. He added that a great deal of industry in Holland is scattered through the city and to prohibit access to these industries and their most common mode of transportation would be entirely untenable and illegal.

He said new truck routes are presently under consideration and will help alleviate the situation somewhat, and he urged strong support be given the Planning Commission's efforts to properly locate industry and heavy commercial zones, and to Council's ultimate decisions in these matters if truck routes are to be resolved.

On recommendation of the city manager, Council dropped the name of Ann Warren Erickson as a partner in a 1970-71 SDD SDI licensed business at 405 Columbia Ave. leaving May Kooyers guardian for Sandra Warren as licensee.

Anticipating the absence of Mayor Pro Tem Lou Hallacy from the city May 19, Council appointed Councilman Morris Peerbolt as acting mayor pro tem to preside at committee-of-the-whole sessions that evening.

Oaths of office were filed for Gordon H. Cunningham, city attorney; Councilman Hallacy, Planning Commission; Carl J. Marcus, Board of Appeals; John Keuning, Board of Review.

The American Legion Auxiliary was granted a license for solicitation of funds and George Kotman was granted a license as rubbish collector.

A letter from Tulip Festival Inc. invited mayor and councilmen to participate in Wednesday and Saturday parades during the 1971 Tulip Festival next week.

Council approved a Hospital Board recommendation to purchase property at 168 West 24th St. for $21,200 with the owner having the option of selecting date of sale sometime within the next 12 months.

Council also approved a Hospital Board agreement with pathologists which has been under review for several months by the board and the city attorney. The new agreement essentially is an updating of the original agreement of March, 1960.

A certification from Mayor Lamb for recent purchases from Lamb Inc. by the street department for $372.77 was confirmed.

Claims against the city from Taylors Inc., 18-22 East Eighth St., and Russell Schurman, 639 Azalea Ave., were referred to the city insurance carrier.

Civic Center Rentals Are Increased

Revised rentals for Holland Civic Center, the first since the building went into operation about 15 years ago, were approved by City Council Wednesday night.

The increases run from $10 to $50, following a complete study by Recreation Director Joe Moran who consulted organizations and persons customarily renting the facility.

New auditorium rates: educational, religious or charitable, with no admission charge, with or without collection: daytime use, $40, up from $30; evening use, $75, previously $60; combined use, $95, previously $80.

For educational, religious or charitable event, including school and college basketball, with admission charges: daytime use, $75, previously $50; evening use, $135, previously $100; combined use, $175, previously $135.

Commercial: daytime use, $100, previously $75; evening use, $200, previously $150; combined use, $250, previously $200.

On holidays, day rate will be the same as evening rate. No combined rate shall apply.

Green room rental either afternoon or evening is $7, rental subject to cancellation in favor of auditorium rental. Exhibition room either afternoon or evening is $15, all day $25, subject to cancellation in favor of auditorium rental.

The youth room carries no charge for supervised youth groups from inside the city, $5 for groups outside, and adult groups $15.

Parking lot rental is $20, up from $15. Kitchen rental is $50 for full use and $25 for partial use.

City Manager William L. Bopf explained an experimental moratorium on Civic Center rates for July and August in an effort to stimulate more utilization during the summer months. On Sept. 1, all rates will revert to the new schedule.

County Sets Equalized Valuations

GRAND HAVEN — The equalized valuation of the county of Ottawa is on the increase and every unit of local government showed a boost, the final report for 1971 from the office of Equalization Director Fritz Guldswag shows.

The equalization report was approved by the Board of Commissioners at its April session and a review showed minor revisions. The overall increase was $3,190,487, Guldswag said.

As adopted by the board, the 1971 reports shows a 11 per cent increase in the tax base for the six cities and the 17 townships over 1970.

Zeeland township reported an increase of 26.8 per cent, the biggest in the county, from $7,961,825 in 1970 to $10,095,535 in 1971. Ferrysburg led the six cities in increases, 11.469 per cent, from $9,329,237 last year to $10,399,206 in 1971.

The total valuation each year creeps closer to Muskegon county's tax base, which increased by 4.8 per cent in 1971 and was reported Wednesday at just under $380,000,000.

Ottawa's total valuation this year was set at $330,603,155, compared with the 1970 total of $477,412,668. Most of the increase was due to new homes and industrial plants.

Equalization figure for Holland city (Ottawa county portion) is $87,414,016, up $5,327,730 or 6.49 per cent over last year's equalized figure of $82,086,286.

The total valuation in the 17 townships in 1971 is $327,031,860, or 61.6 per cent of the total. The valuation of the six cities accounts for the remaining 38.4 per cent, or $203,571,000.

The following is a list of the 1971 valuations according to local units:

Cities

Holland $87,414,016
Grand Haven $64,754,505
Ferrysburg $10,399,206
Zeeland $24,123,128
Coopersville $6,733,286
Hudsonville $10,107,154

Townships

Allendale $8,281,692
Blendon $7,758,625
Chester $4,504,145
Crockery $5,766,707
Georgetown $5,063,481
Grand Haven $21,139,111
Holland $53,002,884
Jamestown $8,462,394
Olive $5,556,273
Park $30,694,313
Polkton $5,292,500
Port Sheldon $54,435,334
Robinson $6,299,702
Spring Lake $31,107,191
Tallmadge $13,621,632
Wright $7,950,341
Zeeland $10,095,535

Port Sheldon is the smallest township in population, with only 1,059 residents, according in the 1970 census, but it has the highest valuation of the 17 townships because the Campbell plant of Consumers Power Co. is located in that township.

Mary Bruursema Wed To Donald J. Bouwman

Wedding vows were exchanged Friday by Miss Mary Lynn Bruursema and Donald J. Bouwman in the lounge of Trinity Reformed Church. Music for the occasion was provided by Mrs. Case Koolhaas, pianist, and Mrs. Tom Pelon, soloist.

The Rev. Gordon Van Oostenburg officiated at the evening ceremony which united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bruursema, 474 West 32nd St., and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Justin Bouwman, 16 West 33rd St..

The bride was attired in a floor-length gown of white chiffon featuring long sleeves, high collar and empire waist and trimmed with venise lace from the shoulders to the hem. Her elbow-length veil was held by a headpiece of matching lace and she carried a bouquet of daisies.

The maid of honor, Miss Ruth Ann Bruursema, wore a floor-length gown of yellow dacron featuring an empire waist, long sleeves, high collar and trimmed with lace accents and a bow in the back. She carried a single majestic daisy.

Mrs. Glenn Jacobs was the bride's personal attendant.

Attending the groom as best man was Jim Bouwman and the ushers were Jim Bruursema and Fred Bouwman.

The reception was held in Trinity's Ter Keurst Auditorium with Mr. and Mrs. Dan Weighmink presiding as master and mistress of ceremonies. Paul Bruursema and Linda Hulst served punch while Mr. and Mrs. Dale Van Liere attended the gift room and Janice Bouwman registered the guests. Closing remarks were given by the Rev. Harvey Baas.

Following a Northern wedding trip, the newlywed couple will reside at 239 Lincoln Ave.

The groom is employed at Michigan Bell Telephone.

SHADES OF YESTERYEAR — Those last passenger trains which passed through Holland Friday may be efficient but they don't hold the choo-choo glamor of the old steam engine which belched black smoke and blew piercing whistles. The last such passenger train powered by steam locomotive in western Michigan was a Grand Trunk train which ran from Muskegon to Detroit and back in one day. The last run was made 10 years ago on June 4, 1961, according to Charles R. Foss, local ticket agent for the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Co.

West Ottawa Presents Moliere's 'The Miser'

The plot was not unfamiliar, a miserly old man marrying off his daughter to a wealthy but equally aging man; and buying himself a wife of his daughter's tender age, all to complement his board of money which is stashed around the house.

Circumstances in Moliere's comic play, "The Miser" performed by West Ottawa Theatre are complicated by the mysterious identity of Valere, who is in love with Elise, the miser's daughter, and who is posing as his servant equally devoted to money but whose real loyalty lies with love.

Also, Cleante, the miser's son, has plans of his own concerning the marriage of Mariane, whom the matchmaker Frosine is fixing up with his father. Besides this, various subplots are taking place involving the servants, most notably with La Fleche, Cleante's valet and Master Jacques, the coachman-cook.

John Beem gave a tremendous performance as Harpagon, the miser. The role called for quick changes from cunning to vanity and furiousness. The energy and skill Beem employed made the portrayal comic and entertaining.

The blissful raptures of love which Jane Harvey as Elise and Tom Bock as Valere fell into also contributed to the comedy. Their fine performance added well-handled satire to the production. Gail Veneklasen as Frosine, and Mike Troost as Jacques, both came across in beautiful humorous style.

The entire cast did an outstanding job, including Frank Wieringa as Cleante, Emily Porter as Mariane, Geoffrey Mulder as La Fleche, Lars Raarup as Master Simon, Harpagon's agent, Randy Bouwer as the Magistrate, Deb Garvelink, Karen Seideman and Karen Jones as servants and Clark Van Hekken as Monsieur Anselme.

The action filled comedy adapted itself well to the portable stage used in this production. The audience surrounds the stage on three sides, providing more front row seats and getting the audience closer to the performers.

The crowd particularly enjoyed it when some of the action moved down into the audience involving them in the play. Facial expressions and other subtle moves were important to the comedy so the close proximity of performers to the audience was an attribute.

Credit should also be given to production director of the play, Phillip R. Sturdevant and to Doug Buter who doubles as assistant director and stage manager.

The comedy naturally had a happy ending, but there are some great lines, very funny scenes and a few surprises on the way to its conclusion.

DUTCH CLASSIC TRACKER ORGAN INSTALLED IN GALLERY OF DIMMENT CHAPEL.

Dedication Recital May 8 For New Tracker Organ

A dedication recital for Hope College's new Dutch classic tracker organ will be held Saturday, May 8 at 8:15 p.m. in Dimment Memorial Chapel.

The instrument, built in The Netherlands by Pels and Van Leeuwen organ builders of Alkmaar, has been constructed in the gallery of Dimment Chapel.

The organ was a gift to Hope College by an anonymous donor. Prof. Roger Davis, who played the instrumental role in obtaining the organ, will present the recital. His repertoire will include a variety of Baroque, Romantic and Modern compositions.

A dedication litany will be offered before the recital by College Chaplain William Hillgonds.

The new instrument complements the E. M. Skinner organ presently in the chapel. The Skinner organ is one of the few remaining large American romantic organs dating from the 1920's which has not undergone tonal changes.

The new organ is self-contained in an oak case with polished tin pipes forming a prospect across the front of the case. The key action is completely mechanical, like that of a piano. The wind pressure is very low and the sound of the instrument light, clear and articulate.

A series of recitals featuring both organs will be held during Holland's annual Tulip Time festival May 12-15. The recitals will feature several Hope College graduates.

BETTER LAWS ON SIGNS NEEDED

The Michigan Highway Department is having a good deal of trouble lately with an undercover group of reformers who go about cutting down billboards by night. No doubt they are moved by the best intentions and have a great regard for the beauty of our highways and a commendable respect for the laws regarding the placing of signs. What they don't have is a very clear notion of how laws should be enforced.

On the other hand, something must be done about advertising agencies who persist in placing their signs in prohibited areas. Henrik Staiseth, Director of Highways, has said that illegal billboards go up faster than his men can discover and remove them. There is no more to be said for this illegal behavior than there is for that of the nocturnal chain-saw gang.

What there seems to be here is a very lax system controlling the erection of signs. If permits from the state were required for every sign to be erected, there would be small trouble in determining whether it was properly placed.

And besides that, we don't understand why the highway department would be responsible for removing the sign. We should think that the concern that puts the sign up should stand the expense of taking it down. It seems to us that we need stricter or more enforceable laws. Then the lawbreakers would stop enforcing them.

Sunday School Lesson

Sunday, May 9
Israel's Leaders
Hosea 4:1-6
By C. P. Dame

Leaders are important. They have power for good and for evil and God holds leaders responsible. This truth is sounded forth often in the Bible. This lesson teaches that spiritual leaders, if they are untrue, mislead a nation.

I. God speaks to His people about their sins. Hosea lived and taught in Israel and his emphasis was upon the love of God. His tragic marriage experience—His wife was faithless to him—made him understand and appreciate God's attitude toward His people—they were faithless to Him whom they had pledged allegiance.

Hosea began his ministry at the close of the prosperous reign of Jeroboam II, when everything seemingly looked well from the outside, but within, the nation was decaying.

In his book, Hosea, in the first three chapters, tells about his unhappy marriage, and from the fourth on he addresses the nation, charging that there was "no truth, nor mercy, nor knowledge of God in the land." People lied, killed, stole, committed adultery, broke all of God's laws and the land even mourned.

We too, are experiencing moral decline. We show concern about pollution, and there is much reason for it, but we overlook the pollution of minds and hearts. The old sins of the past still are practiced amongst us.

II. Ill is the time when spiritual leaders fail. They failed in Hosea's time, but what about ours? In Israel prophets and priests were the religious leaders—the priests taught the law of God while the prophets pointed out the ways of applying them to daily life. Both stumbled and misled the people and therefore God said, "And I will destroy thy mother"—that is the nation. The nation rejected God and His law.

Some people today scoff at God's law. The new morality teaches situation ethics which say that the situation in which a person is in determines his action. Many do not believe in any absolutes.

III. Pride often leads to a fall. In Israel godlessness led to instability and one king followed another. Irreligion causes confusion today. Israel was called to be a unique nation with a mission but it forgot its mission. In the text, Israel is called Ephraim, and is described as a cake not turned, "baked on one side but not on the other," hence not fit for anything.

Today all stress is on involvement and separation is questioned. There are times and occasions when separation is necessary for the sake of spiritual health.

Israel was deteriorating spiritually but the nation did not know it. It was like a man whose hair was getting grey but he did not realize it or he was too proud to admit it. Israel was a proud nation and pride led Israel to disaster. Does pride live amongst us?

Bomb Hid in Dorm Clears Larcenies

Discovery of a home made bomb hidden behind ventilating grillwork in a second floor student restroom of a men's dormitory at Hope college Saturday led to the arrest of a student and recovery of items stolen from the campus.

Holland police said the device, a metal quart canteen stuffed with matches and powder from firecrackers and fireworks, was fused with a 15-foot length of paper wick.

The bomb was turned over to State Police crime lab experts who said the device would have done extensive damage.

Charged with construction of an exploding device was James A. Peace, 18, a Hope college freshman from Glenview, Ill. who lived in Kollen Hall where the bomb was found. He demanded examination to the charge at his District Court arraignment Tuesday. Bond of $5,000 was not furnished.

Peace also demanded examination to charges of larceny from a building and concealing stolen goods. Bond of $5,000 was not furnished. He was remanded to the Ottawa County jail.

On Monday, Peace demanded examination to a charge of larceny from a building in connection with an alleged offense April 26.

Arrested Friday in connection with the larceny investigation was Peter E. Brown, 18, a freshman from Somerville, N.J. He pleaded innocent to a misdemeanor charge of receiving and concealing stolen property at his arraignment Saturday and demanded examination to a felony charge of receiving and concealing stolen property. Felony bond of $2,500 was furnished.

Police said college authorities recovered the bomb early Saturday after receiving a report from students. The device was turned over to Holland police who called in State Police.

Subsequent investigation led to the recovery of items said stolen from the campus. Recovered were 60 records valued at $180 and two microphones and a slide projector owned by the college and valued at $510. Other items not reported missing were recovered. Police said most were either college property or missing from students living on campus.

Officers continued their investigations and said more arrests were expected.

Holland police cited the excellent cooperation from Hope college officials, Hope college security police and Michigan State police in the effectiveness of the investigation.

Advocate of Non-Violence Speaks to Hope Students

The Rev. Jesse Jackson, national director of Operation Breadbasket in Chicago, told a student-dominated audience of 800 in Dimmet Memorial Chapel on the Hope College campus Tuesday night that they "can't escape the system."

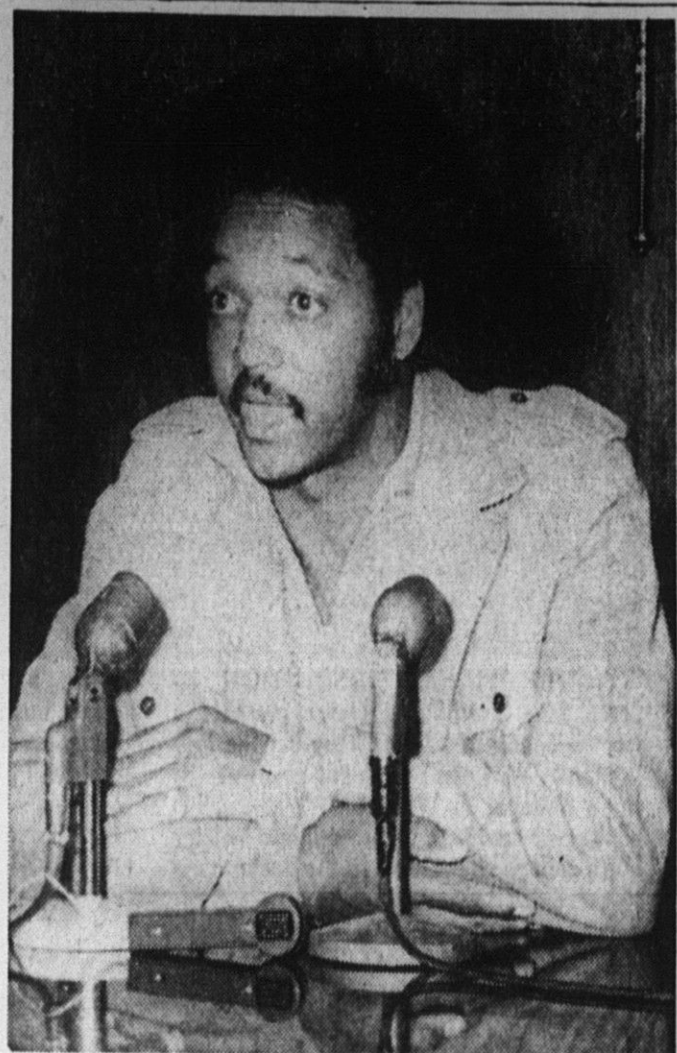

Jackson said, "You may not believe in the system, you may even want to overthrow it, but everyone is in the system. There are only three people who escaped the system, and they got sent to the moon by the system."

Jackson, a forceful advocate of nonviolent black economic and political action, is currently on leave from his position as head of Operation Breadbasket, the economic arm of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference. His appearance at Hope College was sponsored by the college's Cultural Affairs Committee. Prior to the speech he met briefly with a mostly-black group of 50 students for an informal question and answer session.

Jackson spoke Tuesday of a "fourth political force" which he is beginning to organize and which may run a black candidate for President in 1972. The force, says Jackson, is a response to the 1968 election when "37 per cent of the people weren't registered or didn't vote." The major parties, he contends, "are both being pulled toward the 20 per cent who voted for George Wallace in 1968. What we hope to do is make the Democrats, at least, turn toward the left, toward those who didn't vote and those under 21 who will get the vote."

He said "if the Democrats are wise they'll run their strongest candidate for President and (Cleveland Mayor) Carl Stokes for Vice President." Jackson said he wouldn't mind if his fourth force "of persons locked out of the political arena" were absorbed by the Democratic Party "if they come up with a platform for peace and bread—bread representing the domestic struggle at home."

Jackson attempted to get into Chicago's recent mayoral election but, because he was not a member of a major party, he was required to get 58,000 signatures to get on the ballot. Incumbent Mayor Richard Daley needed only 4,099 signatures and his Republican opponent needed fewer than half that many, he said. Jackson went to court in an attempt to standardize the requirements for running. The Supreme Court said his case was not an emergency, but agreed to rule

Rev. Jesse Jackson at Hope press conference. On it later, Jackson thinks the inequity will be corrected when the court rules, but was dismayed when "two weeks later in the Spencer Haywood basketball case, they said that they had to rule on his case because if they didn't the play-offs would be over and it would be a moot question. The fact is that they didn't rule on my case and the election is over and it, too, is a moot question."

Jackson cited Charles Evers' political involvement in Mississippi as "the most fitting memorial anyone could pay to Medgar." Evers' brother who was slain eight years ago during a civil rights march. He said that annual memorial services, like those at Kent State Tuesday, are not enough.

Jackson came to Holland from Kent State, where he spoke in the afternoon during the memorial observance on the first anniversary of the killing of four students by National Guardsmen. He said he came away from Kent, Ohio, with three impressions: "There was an atmosphere of sadness," Jackson said, adding that he was somewhat encouraged by the fact that student leaders were present from Jackson State and South Carolina State, where black students have been killed by local and state police.

men: "I saw evidence of a new urgency and drive toward a nonviolent tactic" at Kent; and "a new political savvy and sobriety that has developed."

Jackson is closely allied with the anti-war movement. "There's a war abroad that's killing people abroad and killing us here at home, too. Our cities are drying up because the money and resources that should be used to employ and feed and bring proper health care at home are being used abroad," Jackson said. He thinks Rennie Davis is handling the current demonstrations in Washington, D. C., "remarkably well" but thinks the movement could get better mileage out of the more than $100,000 that has been paid to get 12,000 people out of jail. He said, too, "People are more impressed by a righteous man's willingness to suffer than by his ability to get into jail."

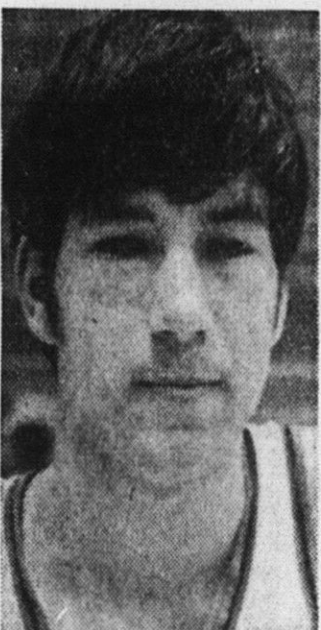

Jackson concluded his Hope speech by directing two challenges at the students in the audience: "You left for college to get something you couldn't get on the street corner," he said. "Don't leave without it." Jackson also said, "Get some hope from Hope. Young blacks and whites, if you don't learn anything else (at Hope), learn how to live together."

Hamilton Senior Named 1971 Merit Scholarship Winner

Nella J. Folkert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Folkert, 5121 138th Ave., was among the more than 700 high school seniors who were named winners of college-sponsored Merit Scholarships. Edward C. Smith, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corp. made the announcement today.

Miss Folkert is presently a senior at Hamilton High School where she is editor of the school paper and a member of the Future Teachers Club and the Future Business Club. She is also a member of the RCYF and King's Daughters girls group at Hamilton Reformed Church. In the past she was a member of the French Club, math team and "Quiz Bowl" team.

Sponsored by Western Michigan University, Miss Folkert will major in mathematics and minor in library science there this fall. She plans a career in secondary education or as a librarian.

College-sponsored Merit Scholarships are renewable, four-year scholarships that are financed by colleges and universities that participate as sponsors in the Merit Program. Scholarship winners are selected by the college or university and are restricted to finalists who plan to attend that institution. They are not transferable to another institution.

The 1970-71 Merit Program began in February of 1970 when approximately 710,000 students in 17,000 schools nationwide took the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. Nearly 15,000 semifinalists, the highest scorers in each state, were announced last September.

Those from the area named semifinalists were Joyce Woodhous, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Woodhous, 27 West 40th St.; Daniel Mouw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mouw, 799 East Eighth St., and Laurey Wyma, daughter of Mr. and

Also Kristy Jacobus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Jacobus, 604 West 29th St., a student at Holland High; Mark Logsdon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Logsdon, route 3, Fennville, a student at Fennville High; Ronald Verburg, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Verburg, 2361 Riley St., Jamestown who attends Hudsonville Unity Christian High School, and Miss Folkert.

Almost all semifinalists confirm their performance on a second test, receive the endorsement of their school, and submit the data required to become finalists. All Merit Scholarship winners, without exception, are chosen from the finalists.

The amount of the stipend accompanying a college-sponsored Merit Scholarship is determined by the sponsoring institution according to its own financial aid procedures. The amount of the stipend can range from a minimum of $100 to a maximum of $1,500 per year for up to four years. Individual stipends are not made public since they are based in part on confidential family information.

Hope College sponsored six Merit Scholarship winners who will start school there in the fall. They are Susan J. Covert of Mt. Clemens, Theodore A. Swartz of Muskegon, David G. Spoelhof of Norton Shores, Cathy R. Seifert of Wayland, Mary E. Koeppel of Stillwater, Okla., and Sara J. Hoebeke of Elmhurst, Ill. Calvin College sponsored one student, Henry E. DeVries of Uxbridge, Mass.

Business and industrial firms, foundations, trusts, unions, professional groups and individuals sponsored 1,300 winners of renewable, four-year Merit Scholarships, bringing the total number of 1971 Merit Scholarship winners to over 3,000.

Lynne Miller, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Robert Lee Miller of Ottawa, Canada won an Army-sponsored National Merit Scholarship, and will be attending Hope College in the fall. She attended West Ottawa High School while her father was in Vietnam. They made their home with her grandmother, Mrs. Pieter Vandenberg, 1406 Waukazoo Dr.

NOSE Tips

by Leo Martonosi

West Ottawa's Athletic Director Roger Borr announced recently that the O-K Divisions have re-aligned for the 1972-73 and 1973-74 seasons.

West Ottawa will remain in the top division along with present Red Division schools that include Rockford, East Grand Rapids, Grandville, and Kentwood.

Jenison, Northview and Rogers have moved up from the O-K White Division to the top division according to Borr.

Holland High's Athletic Director Ken Bauman was hoping that the Dutch would be considered for a place in the O-K League but unfortunately they were overlooked as Forest Hills and Godwin moved down from the Red to the White Division.

Said Borr, "Forest Hills will split into two schools by the 1972-73 season while Godwin was actually too small in numbers for the top league."

A disappointed Bauman said, "We will keep trying to join the O-K or a league in our area that would be the same size as us. Who knows what might happen in two years, maybe the O-K will re-align again and if they do, we hope to join."

Borr did indicate that the O-K Divisions could possibly re-align at the conclusion of the 73-74 season but not before then because the schedules have already been made up.

We asked Bauman if Holland would be in favor of joining the LMAC and he said, "we dropped out of the LMAC in 1964 to join the Valley Coast Conference and I don't think that it would be wise to rejoin the LMAC."

The biggest reason that Holland doesn't want to join the LMAC is because of the travel distance from here to Traverse City.

"Does it make sense to travel for eight hours by bus or car to Traverse City to compete in a cross country meet that takes 20 minutes to run. That actually happened and I don't think that it makes too much sense," added Bauman, and neither do we.

From the sports desk, we would love to see Holland join the O-K League because a lot of people don't realize that a writer's work isn't over when he leaves the ball park or fieldhouse.

It's at that time he's in a hurry to get back to write his story and to answer the busy ringing telephone.

Like my old side kick Ken

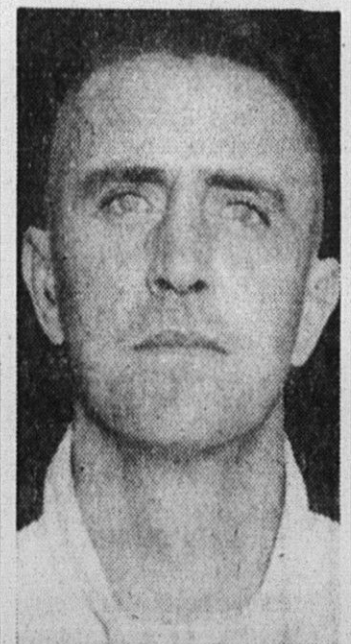

Hill of the Midland Daily News once said, "the closer the game, the better we like it." And we feel the same way. We are referring to travel distance.

"One nice thing about not being in a league is that we are playing different types of teams. Look at the 1971 football schedule, it's really a tough one," continued Bauman. The Dutch will meet such football powers as Niles, Benton Harbor, Portage Northern, Grand Haven and Grand Rapids Creston.

"I just hope the people in Holland will bear with us because we will continue to try to join a league and hope to do so as soon as possible," concluded Bauman.

Competing in the O-K White Division in 1972-73 and 73-74 besides the two Forest Hills schools and Godwin are Wyoming Park, Hudsonville, Zeeland, South Christian and Keno-wa Hills.

The Blue Division will remain the same as this year. Schools in that loop include Hamilton, Byron Center, Middleville, Comstock Park, Caledonia, Kellogg-ville, Lee and Wayland. The Dutch weren't considered by the principals and superintendents that re-aligned the O-K loops recently but we are hoping that the next time they do re-align, that the Holland Dutch will be selected to compete in this fine league.

Ken Bauman... would like to join O-K

Only time will tell.

Dr. Zachary Veldhuis, of Hamilton, Mich., Wayne State University's oldest alumnus at the age of 101, will be recognized by WSU School of Medicine alumni in Detroit, May 12, for his 75 years service to his profession.

Dr. Veldhuis graduated from the veterinary department of the Detroit College of Medicine in 1896. The college is Wayne State's oldest school, dating back to 1868.

When he graduated, Dr. Veldhuis was one of the United States' few veterinary surgeons. He worked in his preceptor's practice in Detroit, eating in Dr. Samuel Brenton's home and sleeping in the barn.

field work on bovine tuberculosis. He retired in 1945 and settled in Hamilton.

Both Dr. Veldhuis and his wife Josie Lucy, age 84, remain very active around their home. On rare occasions during the last few years the doctor inspects meat and performs veterinary work "when it doesn't interfere" with cutting the grass or fishing. He and his wife have no children.

He will be awarded a special plaque commemorating the diamond anniversary of his graduation at the evening banquet program. ## Cites Need for Scientists On Manned Moon Flights

Dr. Eugene Shoemaker, an astrogeologist formerly with the National Aeronautical and Space Administration, said Monday that NASA could have done as well or better with unmanned flights as with the Apollo series of manned space flights.

"It takes a trained observer," Shoemaker said, "with his powers of visual observation, manual dexterity and above all a trained mind and brain to relate his observations and to do the things that it really takes to make discoveries on the surface of a planet — the kinds of things a geologist does on the earth."

To date, according to Shoemaker, trained scientists haven't been among the astronauts selected for moon flights. "I'm afraid," Shoemaker said, "the Apollo program will come to a stop before we can demonstrate what man can do. We have only three flights left." Shoemaker also said that only one scientist has a chance of making one of the three remaining Apollo flights, Harrison Smith, who was named to the backup team for the July flight of Apollo 15.

Shoemaker, chairman of the division of geological sciences at California Institute of Technology and former acting director of Manned Space Sciences at NASA, speculated that the moon may become a tourist attraction — "in five or ten years if transportation is developed" — but doubts that it will become colonized in the near future. "The moon," he said, "has an environment even more hostile than that of Antarctica. The principal reasons for going to the moon will remain for a long, long time ones of scientific observation."

Shoemaker presented a slide-lecture on "Geology of the Moon, as Revealed by Project Apollo" to a standing room only crowd of 200 in Wichers Auditorium on the Hope College campus Monday night. The lecture was sponsored by the Hope College chapter of Sigma Xi, in cooperation with the National Lecture Program of the Society of Sigma Xi and the Scientific Research Society of America.

Shoemaker, backgrounded, then explained, some of the findings and significance of the moon rocks brought back during the Apollo 11, 12 and 14 missions. Many of his slides were adapted from photographs of the moon taken by telescope, satellite and astronauts.

"What we found," Shoemaker said, "added a whole new dimension to the knowledge of what we know about the earth-moon system as well as other planets in our solar system."

Shoemaker said the most significant thing found to date has been the determination that "moon rocks are very old, most of them older than any rocks we have ever found on earth." Most moon rocks were formed during the 1.1 eons (billions of years) from 4.75 to 3.65 billion years ago, according to Shoemaker. He said that the oldest earth rocks found thus far are believed to be 3.5 billion years old.

Shoemaker explained the process by which geologists are tracing the development of the moon — and, thus, hopefully the early development of the earth. The first two Apollo missions landed on lunar "seas" (smooth plains) composed largely of lava flows more than 3.65 billion years old. The seas are believed to be younger than the lunar highlands, where Apollo 14 landed. Analysis of the rocks brought back by Apollo 14 is still in its early stages, he said.

"Much of the story of the moon is still to be unravelled," Shoemaker concluded. "The exciting thing is that it is there. Exploring the highlands closely will enable us to go back to the origins of the moon and of the earth itself."

Assessments Equalized at 11 Per Cent

ALLEGAN — Allegan county's tax base has been equalized by the Board of Commissioners at a level 11.3 percent higher than last year.

The board met here Thursday to consider an equalization committee report which increased real and personal property assessments $24.8 million over the 1970 equalized value.

Largest increase was in real property which was raised $19.2 million — from $179.6 to $198.8 million.

Personal property assessments were up $5.6 million — from $75.9 to $81.5 million. As approved by the board, the county's total tax base stands at an all-time high of $280,431,824.00.

Thirteen of the county's 24 townships and three of its six cities were given "assessment multipliers" by the committee report, indicating real and personal property assessments below acceptable levels.

Townships which will pay taxes on increased assessments as equalized include Allegan, Clyde, Dorr, Fillmore, Ganges, Gun Plain, Heath, Lee, Leighton, Menlius, Martin, Monterey, and Salem. The cities of Holland, Plainwell and Wayland also were awarded equalization factors of more than 100 percent.

Lee township — awarded a multiplier of 1.246261 — earned the dubious distinction of being the county's most "under assessed" unit, according to the equalization committee's findings.

That portion of the city of Holland which lies within the county showed the largest tax base increase of any county unit, rising $5,215,452 over last year. Real and personal property in the part of Holland inside Allegan county was equalized at $28,176,882.

Osage city reported the largest portion of personal property — 15.2 percent of the county's total, Holland has the largest share of real property with 9.1 percent.

Hope Will Host Japanese Group

Hope College will conduct for the seventh consecutive year a summer session for International Students. Some 40 students from Japan will arrive in Holland July 17 to begin a five-week program which will introduce them to America.

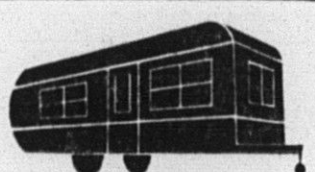

The focus for the 1971 International Summer Session will be topics such as, American politics, education, music, theater, and institutions as well as questions of natural and urban environment. Field trips to the Interloche Music Camp, summer theater performances at Saugatuck, one or two universities and an extended visit to a major urban center will supplement the scheduled on-campus academic and social program.

Many of the students from Japan will come from Meiji Gakuin University in Tokyo which has had close ties with Hope College for almost a century. During the first four weeks students will live on campus, mingling with American students and families taking part in the regular Hope summer session and in the various summer institutes offered by the College.

During the final week of their stay in Holland the Japanese students will be guests in private homes in the community. During this "homestay" they will continue to attend regular classes at the college, but they will at the same time have the exciting experience of becoming members of an American family. For most Japanese students this final week has in the past always been the highlight of their summer in America. Holland host families, too, generally look forward to the opportunity for intercultural exchange brought into their homes by the young guests from Japan.

Making announcement of the 1971 program and new staff members, Dr. Paul Fried, director of International Education at Hope College, first of all expressed appreciation for the long and most valuable service given by Professor Werner Heine and Mrs. Heine to the development and success of the Summer Session for International Students during the past several years.

G. Larry Penrose, newly named director of the International Summer Session, joined the Hope College faculty last year as Instructor in Asian History and in Russian language. A native of Oregon, Penrose graduated from the International Christian School in Tehran, Iran and lived in Hokkaido, Japan, for two years during his period of military service in the American army. He earned his B.A. in Russian language and Middle East area studies at Portland State College in Oregon and his M.A. at Indiana University, where

The program presented involved the Preschool Physically Handicapped Program located in the Wyoming Public Schools but which is open to children in Ottawa and Allegan counties as well.

Robert Crump, Financial Coordinator of the program, introduced Mary Heuvelhorst, Director of the program, who led a staff session with the professional staff as they considered a plan for a new child referred to them. Participating were Barbara Saur, Lucille Doorn, Lynne Perrin, Judy Kuiek, Anne Copps, Eleanor Blanton representing occupational therapy, physical therapy, speech therapy, social work, school psychology and teachers of the deaf, the deaf-blind, the orthopedically handicapped and the visually handicapped.

The program concluded with questions from the audience.

All physically handicapped children are accepted from the time of a diagnosis (from birth on) and are included in the program until they are ready for another placement. If the physical handicap is not the major problem, the child may be referred immediately to a more appropriate service, but the family is served by the staff in accomplishing this goal as well. A major part of the program is working with the parents to help them learn how to help their child grow and learn. No fees are charged the parents for services. No residential restrictions are imposed.

Holland Guard Unit Honors Col. Geerds

It was a night for stories, songs and recollections of by-gone days and for awards as officers and commanders who led the Holland National Guard unit during its 50 year history got together, some for the first time in decades.

About 70 persons, including some of the unit that entered federal service in 1940, attended the banquet Monday night at Point West.

Center of the awards was Col. Henry A. Geerds, organizer of the unit in 1921 and its first commanding officer.

Geerds, who has lost none of his enthusiasm for the guards nor his pride in the Holland unit, was cited by state Adjutant General, Maj. Gen. Clarence C. Schnipke, for the "esprit" Geerds instilled in his unit.

Geerds was presented the Distinguished Service Medal and Gen. Schnipke, in a General Order, said the esprit Geerds instilled in his men during the 12 years that he commanded the unit "was so profound that it has carried on, during war and in peace, and can be traced throughout the history of the unit to this day. The standards that he established has earned the unit repeated awards throughout its history. This esprit was not only felt by the members of the unit, but by the community as well."

This esprit or "magic" that has given the local unit its consistent superior ratings will be studied by regular army personnel in Michigan to establish patterns in training and maintenance of equipment that other guard units can follow, it was announced.

Geerds recalled that the Holland guardsmen played together and prayed together.

"Now other units played together, but I think Co. D was the first at Grayling to come into the mess hall and ask a blessing on the meal before sitting down to eat," Geerds said.

Legion of Merit awards were presented by Gen. Schnipke to 1st Sgt. Ray Naber and his brother, Sfc. Roger Naber for "exceptional meritorious service" during a period when the Holland unit was undergoing reorganizational change.

Each was commended for his work during the extra work load that resulted in achieving six superior ratings on annual inspections.

Geerds was honored by the National Guard Association of Michigan for his more than 50 years of service to the guard.

The Holland unit established the Col. Henry A. Geerds Military Proficiency award to be given each year to members excelling in military competency.
