It is certain that sufficient signatures have been made to petitions to provide for a vote in the county and second representative district on the question of nominating county officers and member of the legislature by the new primary method. It is altogether likely that enough petitioners will be by today secured for similar action in the first district. This means that at the June primary which will nominate governor and lieutenant-governor, the voters will decide whether to extend that system of nomination as above mentioned. It is entirely likely that they will direct the change.—Allegan Gazette.

Judge Padgham has over ruled the demurer and petition for mandamus in the case of the township of Zeeland vs. Grand Rapids, Holland & Chicago Railway and decided that the matter must come on for hearing in circuit court. The complainants claim in this case that the railroad is charging a higher rate of fare in the township than was provided for in the franchise. The road was ordered to show cause why a mandamus should not issue compelling it to lower its rate of fare and the foregoing was the result.

An agent for a new-fangled churn stopped at a farm house and insisted that his churn would get two pounds more butter out of a certain amount of cream than any other. The lady of the house, to get rid of him, told him he could call next morning and try the churn, and if what he said was true she would buy. In the meantime she churned the cream and when he came she poured the buttermilk into the churn. He churned for an hour and then told her that there was no butter fat in the cream. "I know it," she said, "for I churned it last night and left the buttermilk for you to get the extra two pounds from." And the agent was mad.—Otsego Union.

A skunk farm is the latest industry in this county. A. A. Northhouse, a young man living near Rosy Mound has embarked in this business and is buying up all the skunks he can get hold of. He will farm the animals for their fur and oil and has had a large enclosure built. His is the only skunk farm in this section of the state. Once within this "fold" the animal is sure to stay until his hide is amputated and his fat rendered into oil. Those who are in the business elsewhere say that there is more profit in raising skunks than in cattle or hogs. It takes little to care for the animals and the profit from one skunk is equal to that of a cow or a hog. They are prolific breeders and their multiplication is the secret of their commercial value.

A piece of brass shafting was stolen from the Wolverine Boat Works some time ago and two lads, aged 12 and 15 years respectively, are suspected of the crime. They cut the shaft in two and sold the two parts separately to the Holland Metal company. Then they stole one of the pieces from the Metal company and sold it to the Buss Machine Co. How long they might have continued their endless chain tactics if they had not been caught, is problematical.

CORRESPONDENCE

Laketown

A number of eighth graders from this locality attended the examination at Saugatuck May 3 and 4.

District No. 3 closes its school year June 1, 1906.

Mr. Lighthart of Douglas is employed on the farm of A. Diekema. James Tuttle of Robinson is visiting relatives in this vicinity.

Miss Fanny Jarville of Grand Rapids spent Sunday afternoon with friends here.

A Laketown farmer writes as follows: "Improvement is the keynote of success, then let us apply our shoulders to the wheel. Our roads are in poor repair, why not persevere in their improvement, it adds immense value to real and personal estate. There is nothing so attractive to prospective buyers as a well improved stretch of roadway. Nothing else is so pleasing to the eye, why not at the same time improve the wretched condition of the township bridges? Their loud demand for repairs is obvious, notably the Goshorn bridge. Why let it stand an eyesore and a reproach to the people of Laketown? It is unjust to let our neighboring townships hurl this taunt into our teeth. Let improvement abound. Seek where the most good can be done, then let us bend every effort to make our town and our town belongings the best ever."

Good roads agitation has been started here.

Chas. Knowles has moved to the north county line where he will reside on a farm of Luke Lugers.

Saugatuck

Mrs. W. P. Sutton has received a cablegram from her son-in-law, Wm. L. Whitney of Honolulu, stating that he and Mrs. Whitney were ready to start for the U. S. and expect to spend a number of weeks in Saugatuck.

D. F. Ludwig is agitating a Harbor Day celebration for Saturday, June 30, for a grand celebration on account of the new harbor. He has talked with the managers of the Chicago Trans. Co. who agree to use their largest boats in bringing an excursion from Chicago for the occasion.

New Holland.

Arend and George who live at home; John a teacher at Forest Grove; Joe, of Rudyard; James of Berry California; Gerrit of Grand Rapids; and three daughters, Christina and Anna staying at home; and Jennie a nurse in the U. B. A. hospital at Grand Rapids. The funeral was held yesterday, Rev. J. Wesselink officiating.

Zeeland.

The consistory of the North street Christian Reformed church has named the following trio, from which the congregation will select a pastor in the near future: Rev. Smither of Muskegon, Rev. Stuart from the West and Rev. Ypma of East Paris.

Zeeland was the first township in Ottawa county to adopt the township road system and the farmers as a rule are well pleased with the change. Other townships are following suit, however, as Chester will vote on the proposition at a special election to be held on Monday, May 21. Sparta township in Kent county, held a special election on the township road system last week and only three votes were cast against the system to 198 in favor.—Zeeland Record.

Work on the Wivliet & Meeboer store building on the "west end" is progressing rapidly. It is a two-story frame building, 20x40 feet, with basement. The new residence of John Spyker is also well under way, while Johannes De Koster is preparing his old house, which will be replaced with a modern $2,000 residence. Gerrit Veneklaes expects to commence the erection of an elegant new residence on his vacant lot, between the properties of Messrs. Spyker and De Koster, in the near future.

Douglas

Postmaster Kerr has received word from the Central Industrial Bureau asking if the people of this village wish to have a large factory located here. A little agitation now might secure a factory for the town which would start a boom that would not stop till our village was a city.

Frank Kerr is preparing to build a two story brick building on the spot now occupied by the building which was formerly used by Mrs. Ryan as a millinery store. The first story will be used for the post office and the second for dwelling.

One hundred and seventy-five yards of 6 foot canvas has been sent for and it will be used to partially enclose the base ball grounds so those who watch the games will be compelled to pay or make themselves conspicuous by crawling under the fence or climbing a tree or to the top of some near by building.

Lame Every Morning.

A Bad Back is Always Worse in the Morning. Holland People are Finding Relief.

A back that aches all day and causes discomfort at night is usually worse in the morning. Makes you feel as if you hadn't slept at all. Can't cure a bad back until you cure the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys—make you feel better, work better, rest better and sleep better.

Permanent cures in Holland prove the merit of Doan's.

Mrs. F. Andree, of 243 West Twelfth street, says: "For a year or more I had a constant aching pain through my loins, in the side and also a soreness of the stomach. I could hardly stoop to lift anything without suffering severely. I did not rest comfortably at night and became so lame and sore that in the morning I arose feeling tired and unrefreshed. I was bothered a great deal with headache, spells of dizziness, and the kidney secretions became affected, were irregular, too frequent and unnatural. I doctored a great deal and took many kinds of medicines, but without getting better. I believe I still would be suffering if I had not heard about Doan's Kidney Pills and procured them from J. O. Doesburg's drug store. I felt better after taking a few doses and continued their use until cured."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co. Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

Benefit to Mankind.

One of the Greatest Discoveries of the Nineteenth Century.

There is nothing in the way of a discovery in the nineteenth century that has proved of greater benefit to mankind than that of two eminent French chemists, Morgues and Gautier by name, who discovered a way to separate the medicinal curative elements, of which there are about fifty different kinds in the cod's liver from the oil, and give to modern medicine all the tonic, body-building and curative properties of that grand old remedy cod liver oil, unencumbered by the oily, greasy part, which science had proved of no value whatever, either as a food or medicine. Thus they produced Vinol.

Vinol is guaranteed to contain in a highly concentrated form all the medicinal elements of cod liver oil, actually taken from fresh cod's livers, and wherever old fashioned cod liver oil or emulsions will do good, Vinol will do far more good—for being without oil, it is delicious to the taste, easily assimilated and won't upset the weakest stomach.

Vinol tones up the digestive organs, creates a hearty appetite, makes rich, red blood and creates strength for people, weak women, puny children and after sickness, and for all pulmonary troubles it has no equal.

So strong is our faith in Vinol that we freely offer to return money in every case where it fails to give satisfaction. Con De Pree, druggist.

POINTS ABOUT FRANKING.

Had Its Birth Honestly Enough, in 1660, But Has Come to Be Abused.

American legislators are not the only ones who abuse their franking privileges. Recent history in England has caused the London Chronicle to say: "Franking had its birth, honestly enough, in 1660, in the desire to relieve members of parliament of the expense incurred in the discharge of their national duties; but the practice rapidly widened until it became possible for members to transmit their household goods at the public charge, as the following extract from old post office records testifies: 'Fifteen couple of hounds going to the king of Romans with a free pass—two maid servants going as laundresses to my Lord Ambassador Methuen—Dr. Crichton, carrying with him a cow and divers necessities—three suits of clothes for some nobleman's lady at the court of Portugal—two bales of stockings for the use of the ambassador to the crown of Portugal—a deal case, with four fitches of bacon, for Mr. Pennington of Rotterdam.'"

"This form of abuse died when the post office stable underwent a purification, but it speedily gave place to another variety. Members signed packets of letters wholesale, gave them away to their friends, and sometimes paid their servants' wages in franked envelopes; in fact, they became a valuable form of currency, subject to the art of the forger, who did a roaring trade. In 1715 £24,000 ($120,000) worth of free correspondence passed through the post office.

"Fifty years later the nation was staggered to discover that the amount had increased to £170,000 ($850,000), and stringent laws were passed to mitigate the immoral tendencies of the houses of parliament. But all was in vain, until Sir Rowland Hill managed in 1839 to abrogate the privileges altogether."

INACCESSIBLE FORESTS.

Dense Tropical Growth of Guatemala Contains Much Valuable Timber.

Nearly all of the northern and eastern part of Guatemala is covered by a dense tropical forest, consisting of mahogany, different kinds of cedar, cicle and other hard woods. Along streams down which logs can be floated much of the mahogany has been cut, but as yet very little of the other woods have been marketed. This is especially true of the departments of Peten, Alta Verapaz and Izabal.

Most of the forests still belong to the government, and the usual method of securing the timber is by concession, by which a certain number of trees are cut at a given price per tree, or a stipulated sum is paid for the timber on a given tract. It is not an easy matter to get titles to large tracts of land in Guatemala, as it is discouraged by the government. These concessions are not usually granted for a longer period than five years. Sometimes it is stipulated that if a certain number of trees are cut during that time they must be renewed.

The pine forests are limited, being in the mountainous country principally and inaccessible. Most of the lumber used comes from the United States, principally from California. The forests of this country are generally so inaccessible that the railroad companies import nearly all their ties, and even import coal, because it is difficult for them to get enough firewood.

Have our representative call and explain the gas range merits, or call at Gas office. You will be interested.

In any Servian village there is only one swineherd and he leads all the pigs of the community. In the morning he goes through the streets blowing his horn and the pigs come out of their own accord and fall in behind him and follow him to the pasture. At night he brings them home and they disperse to their sties in the same orderly way as they pass the houses to which they belong. They require no attention and no singling out.

Crawford, Neb., May 15.—Four are now dead in the riots between white men and negro soldiers from Ft. Robinson. William Murphy, white, was killed at midnight by a squad of soldiers guarding the jail at Crawford. Murphy, with others, tried to form a lynch party to gain possession of the negro soldier who killed Arthur Moss, the night watchman.

Let the Good Work Continue.

Charles K. Hoyt of Grand Haven, deputy state game warden, and Chris Hansen, the local warden, rounded up three fish dynamiters last Friday and Justice Van Duren imposed stiff fines upon them.

Let the good work continue. Fish law violators have too long been permitted to despoil the streams at will, and not until Mr. Hoyt and Mr. Hansen came in power was there any effective work done to stop them. It is different now. The despoilers are rounded to with sudden jerks in a way that makes the real sportsmen smile and it is hoped that all offenders will be forced to face the justice court music.

There are a few left however. The ones caught thus far have, most of them, indulged in the infractions for the fun of the thing. There are a few others who seine, dynamite and otherwise violate the law for gain. Let the good work continue until they are caught. If they had to do it for a living it would not be so bad; but they do not have to. Work is plenty. They are strong and able, and they can make more working. Then why be pot fishers?

Attend Saugatuck's Celebration.

When Saugatuck was brought into communication with the world by means of the Interurban road a celebration of the event was held. Holland co-operated with the bustling village to the south of us and the celebration was a glorious one. In fact pleasant memories still linger in this city.

Saugatuck is due for another celebration. It's new harbor will soon be open to the commerce of the lakes and it proposes on June 30 to call attention to this great improvement by a monster celebration. Excursions will be run by the South Haven-Chicago steamboat line, by the Chicago Transportation company, and by the G. R. H. & L. M. Interurban railway. Congressman Hamilton and Hon. G. J. Diekenma will be the principal speakers of the occasion, and there will be everything in the line of a scorching time from a balloon ascension to fireworks.

Holland business men ought to take hold of the matter of taking part in the celebration. Let's manifest our neighborly spirit.

Warner Strong With the People

Referring to the charges and criticisms directed against the republican candidate for governor throughout the last state campaign, the Muskegon Chronicle thus well sums up the present situation. "But now with Governor Warner in office almost a year and a half, the people can judge how baseless are these charges. Any intelligent man who has followed Governor Warner's record must admit that he has shown the strength and force required in the chief executive of the state, and that he has given to his official work much more of his personal time and efforts than has been the rule with governors in recent years. He has mingled freely with the people and kept constantly in close touch with the interests of the state and the people. He has looked carefully after the state's business which is apparently being transacted with more than ordinary care and energy. Governor Warner has made some mistakes, it is true, but who is there of past governors who has made fewer errors or less serious ones? The record of the last year and a half should strengthen Governor Warner with the people."

Announcement.

I wish to announce that I am again a candidate for the office of Register of Deeds. During the four years that I have held the office I have always tried to be courteous and accommodating to all who have had dealings in the Registers Office. I invite all to inspect the records in my office, feeling sure that they are the best reference I could give as to my fitness and ability to hold that office. I wish to thank my friends and the people of Ottawa county for the honors conferred upon me in the past; and if they can see their way clear to again support me, I shall use my best endeavors to serve the whole people in a way that no one will regret my being continued in the office, feeling sure that my experience in the office has better prepared me to serve the people than ever before. I earnestly solicit your support.

Holland People Interested in Lansing Business Reverse.

Several people of this city are interested in the National Supply company of Lansing, a co-operative concern which filed a trust mortgage yesterday, running to the Michigan Trust company of Grand Rapids, covering claims of from 400 to 450 creditors and aggregating an amount of more than $85,000. One of the largest creditors is the Union Trust company of Detroit, $20,000. A number of western Michigan people were interested in this concern. Among the directors are George P. Hummer and Cornelius Donkers of Grand Rapids, and A. Visscher of Holland. Dr. C. L. Barber of Grand Rapids is president of the company. The concern, which handled almost all kinds of merchandise, having six stores, has been conducted for about eighteen months by A. L. Haslow as manager. Some time ago he resigned and John Broekema formerly with Siegel & Cooper and with Marshall Field of Chicago took charge of the business.

The concern sold goods on the co-operative basis, patrons buying a $10 stock certificate, which entitled them to a reduction on all purchases. The company will continue in business for the present at least.

WHISPERING TELEPHONE.

By Which Messages Can Be Sent in Privacy When People Are Close By.

The secretephone is the whispering telephone. A message can be whispered into it so that a person standing but a yard away cannot hear what is being said, while every word is correctly transmitted to the receiver at the other end of the line, a mile away or more. For this to be done the message must be actually whispered. If spoken more loudly, of course, the speaker can be heard more than a yard away from the transmitting instrument. Properly used, however, a message can be sent in privacy even with people quite close. As present experience goes, it requires some little practice to pitch the voice correctly so as to get the best results with the faintest whisper. But the lesson is not difficult to learn. People with high pitched voices will undoubtedly make themselves heard more distinctly at the other end of the line with less noise at the transmitting end than is possible for those with low pitched voices. The instrument is claimed to be practically imperishable and cannot get out of order with ordinary use. People that are a little deaf and cannot hear with ordinary telephones can hear quite distinctly when a secretephone is used. A bad or indistinct line is said also to be made quite clear under the most adverse circumstances when this magical instrument is employed; the volume of sound on trunk lines and long-distance telephones is increased threefold, and the troubles caused by induction and cross circuits are largely overcome. Furthermore, it being small of size and light of weight, can be carried and used for attachment to any telephone, and thus the need for the stuffy telephone boxes is obviated.

IN BUDDHIST TEMPLES.

Schools of Modern Education Held in Ancient Halls of Heathen Worship.

"During a recent visit to Hai Cheng," says Consul General Sammons, "a city of between 20,000 and 30,000 population, located near Liac Yang, on the Chinese Eastern railway, the Chinese magistrate, Mr. Kuan Feng Ho, informed me of his desire for illustrations and price lists giving information regarding the following articles: Simple mechanical devices for spinning cotton yarn by hand, simple mechanical devices for weaving cotton cloth by hand, hand machines for weaving coarse sacking, simple hand-power machinery for weaving coarse silk, and machinery for making rope by hand.

"This particular magistrate is one of the most progressive Chinamen I have met in the orient. He is a disciple of Yuan Shih Kai, the Tien Tsin viceroy, who is advocating reform methods for China.

"He has turned the two large Buddhist temples and a temple to Confucius, in Hai Cheng, into temples of modern education and modern prison reform methods. The more important temple is the seat of education in Magistrate Kuan's district, which comprises a large part of that section of Manchuria between Mukden and the port of Niuchwang. Two bright Japanese male educators are in charge, and the chief aim is the practical one of preparing native teachers for the schools soon to be established in the entire district."

ALFALFA FOR WILD ANIMALS

Raised in Yellowstone Park to Serve as Winter Feed for Deer and Sheep.

Raising alfalfa to furnish winter feed for wild animals is proving a great success in the Yellowstone national park, according to Superintendent Pitcher in a report just issued. One hundred tons of fine hay were raised in the government field near the Gardiner arch and stacked near the soldiers' quarters.

Superintendent Pitcher says that three years ago a deer was seldom seen in the vicinity of Mammoth hot springs and as an experiment a few bales of alfalfa hay were scattered around near the parade ground. The next day a dozen blacktail deer made their appearance, the number steadily increased and now comprises over 100. The animals quickly lost all fear of human beings, and are not even startled by the firing of the evening gun within 100 yards of them, but show much more interest in the lowering of the flag from the staff in the center of their feeding ground.

Mountain sheep, considered the wildest of western animals, also became more friendly, and now number about 100 within the confines of the park. These animals are rapidly disappearing in the west, and this fact makes it the more important to preserve those in the park. Antelope, also, are becoming rare. About 1,500 of these little animals make their home in the park and seem to be increasing rapidly.

Dark Continent Magic.

Here is a tale of twentieth century magic on the dark continent. Says a South African correspondent: "A remarkable story has reached Durban from Mandeston concerning the finding of a purse by alleged magic means. A European lost a purse containing coin, and a native was accused of its theft. The owner applied to a certain old woman to whom are ascribed supernatural powers, and received a reply to look under such and such a tree, and he would find the purse. Search was made under the tree indicated, and there was the purse."

THE COMPANY SCATTERED.

Ingenious Ruse of Western Desperadoes in a Job Put Up on Gamblers.

A prominent attorney of Baltimore told the following story to one of his colleagues recently, says the Sun, of the time when he was in the west, when the gold fever was at its height: "One of the largest gambling houses in San Francisco was in full swing, when I walked two men, one of whom carried a large powder horn. They ambled up to the bar, and the man with the powder horn threw it on the counter and said in a loud voice: 'I am tired of it all, and shall end it here, but I may as well take my friend along with me.' He then dumped out on the counter a quantity of what looked to be powder. His companion took from his pocket some of the same stuff and threw it into the fire, whereupon black smoke puffed out from the stove. By that time the gamblers looked around and were horrified to see the other one seize the horn and throw the contents into the stove.

"The whole company, thinking there would be a horrible explosion, jumped to their feet and scattered. With a joyous laugh the two men ran over to the tables and scooped in all the money in sight—a goodly pile—jumped on their horses and galloped away.

"To say that the players were incensed when they returned would be putting it mildly. It turned out upon investigation that it was only black sand that the two 'desperate' men threw on the counter."

The lawyer asked why, when one of these men threw some of the stuff in the stove, it created a volume of smoke. The other thought he must have had some real powder in his pocket.

Now the second attorney is wondering if the friend who told the story was one of those who ran out of the place. Of course, he could not have been one of the desperadoes, so how did he know?

WIRELESS ON RAILWAY.

System Now in Operation on All Fast Trains Running Out of the City of London.

The Midland Railway company is conducting a series of experiments in the vicinity of Derby to determine whether wireless telegraphy can be used in connection with their fast train service between London and the north. The system adopted was conceived by Sir Oliver Lodge and Dr. Alexander Muirhead, who are assisting the electrical engineer of the railway. The difficulty with the aerial wire constituted the greatest problem.

In order to test the idea under the most disadvantageous conditions an old car was used as a receiving station. The aerial wires were carried on porcelain insulators, the height of the wires varying from 9 to 15 inches above the curvature of the roof. It is claimed that never before has so short an aerial wire been used in wireless telegraphy. From the roof the wires are carried in a small cable through a special insulated fitting to the interior of the van to the receiving instrument. Here the succeeding waves of dots and dashes are separated and resolved into words upon a drum of paper similar to those employed in a tape machine, the message being written by a Lodge-Muirhead siphon recorder such as is used with marine cable instruments.

The transmitting station is situated in a hut near Derby, with an installation of apparatus for sending the message into the air. Outside the cabin is the aerial wire which follows conventional lines.

HOUSE NOT LIKELY TO BURN

New Yorker Builds Dwelling That Appears to Be Perfectly Fire-Proof.

A house which is described as "the most remarkable dwelling in central New York and probably the most indestructible" has been built recently by John H. Osborn, of Auburn, reports the Sun.

It appears that Mr. Osborn has been burned out twice and doesn't pine to add a third experience of the sort, so he has put up a reinforced concrete house for which the boast is made that it "could not be burned up, nor probably blown up by anything but a very exceptional charge."

The upper walls consist of four inches of brick on the exterior, then eight inches of concrete building blocks, then a four-inch air space—heated in winter by a line of steam pipe—and a four-inch interior brick wall. The whole interior structure is supported on the concrete columns that rise from cellar to roof, supporting the floor platforms.

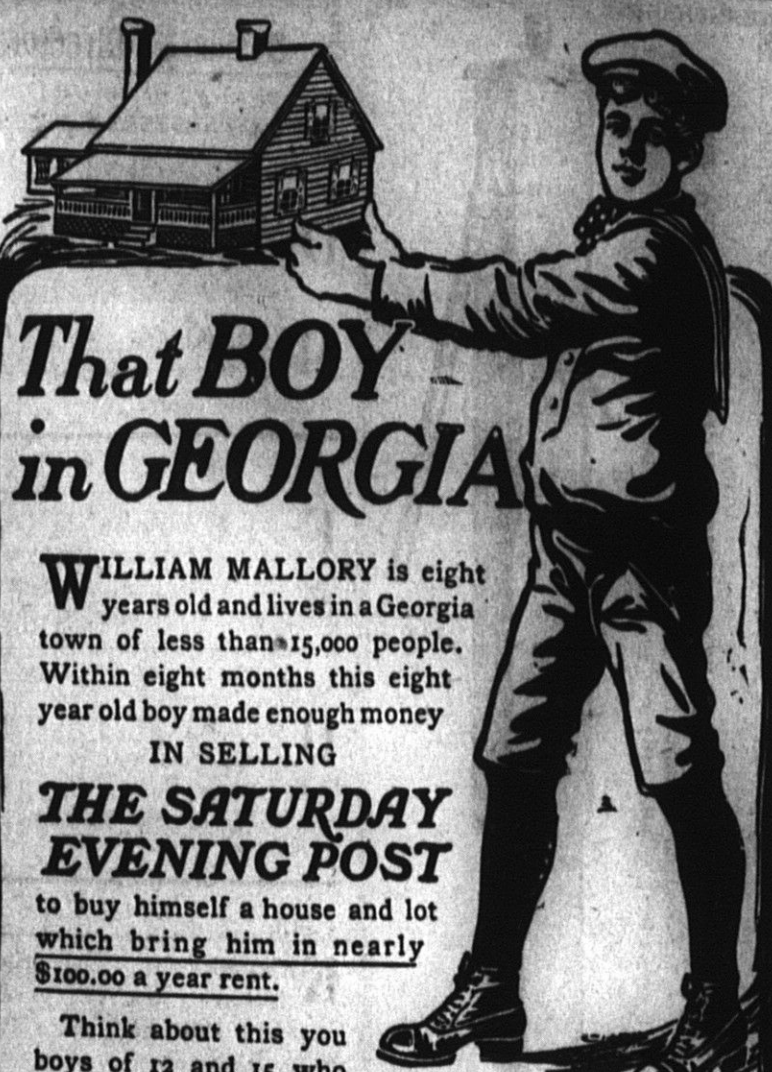

Each concrete column has its spinal core of twisted steel. Of the floors, not only the main beams and lateral cross beams are of steel concrete, but the floor areas themselves. Shafts three feet square carry steam, water and lighting pipes and various wires from cellar to attic. The only combustible material consists of wooden window and door frames and the wainscoting of the dining-room and lower floors.

Brouwer's furniture store, still they have time to show you their large stock and to quote prices. Before purchasing elsewhere call and look over the carpet department, see the curtains, the draperies, the bookcases, the hundred and one other things that are needed to beautifying and to make comfortable the home.

Owing to the state law requiring railroad rates to be placed at two cents a mile when receipts reach a certain amount annually, the fare between Grand Rapids and Detroit on all roads is now reduced to $3.47 a saving of 94 cents on the round trip. The state law establishing this rate went into effect yesterday. The Pere Marquette, the Michigan Central and the Grand Trunk are selling tickets at this rate.

Marriage Licenses.

The question of the population of Grand Haven at the present time is often brought up. At the state census in 1904 Grand Haven had a population of about 5300 but the city has grown considerably since then. About the only way the population at the present time can be estimated is by basing it on the school population. There are at the present time 1594 people of school age in the city. In most cities the number of school children is multiplied by four to give the total population. On this basis Grand Haven has 9376 people but this estimate is too large. Basing the school population at 3½ to one on the total population Grand Haven would have 5977 people at the present time and those figures can not be far wrong. At three and a half to one the population would be 5579 and it is certain that the city has not fewer people than that. Figuring on the basis of three and three quarters to one Holland at the present time has a population of 9607. At three and a half to one Holland would have a population of 8967 but the people of Holland believe that they are very close to being a ten thousand town.—G. H. Tribune.

THE MACHINIST'S TRADE.

Calls for High Order of Intelligence and Hard-Headed Common-Sense.

"There is, perhaps, no other trade, and very few professions," writes William Haddow, in the Technical World Magazine, "that require the high order of intelligence, the study, the application, the real hard-headed common sense, the surgeon's delicacy of touch—for instance, in fitting of fine work—that the machinist's trade demands to give the excellent work and the interchangeability of parts found in the modern rifle or sewing machine. The range of his work is from a needle to a battleship; from automatic machinery that would talk French had it one more movement" to measuring machines guaranteed not to vary more than the fifty-thousandth part of an inch from the absolute. This precision will perhaps be better appreciated when it is remembered that 150 times this limit of variation is only equal to the diameter of the average human hair. Standard plug and ring gauges, to take a specific example, are so accurately fitted to each other that the expansion due to the warmth of the hand, if the plug be held in it for a few moments, will make it impossible to insert the plug in the ring; while, if the ring be expanded in the same way, the plug will drop clear through it.

When the machinist has become skillful enough to fulfill the above requirements, he may receive from $2.50 per day up to whatever he can make himself worth and prove it."

SHIPLOAD LINE IN NORWAY

Stringent Regulations Enforced for the Preservation of Life and Property.

Norway has decided to follow the example of England and adopt a load line for her shipping. Subject to an arrangement with the Norske Veritas, says a recent report, a law will come into force by which stringent rules will be applied to Norwegian shipping. Attention in Norway has been directed to the subject of shipping losses, which are very heavy, and as no inconsiderable proportion of Norwegian shipping sails about the world uninsured because uninsured these losses have been keenly felt of late years.

Apart from the stringent regulations with respect to overloading and the proper provision for life on board ship, the new merchant shipping act stipulates that "when a foreign ship is bought by a Norwegian subject no certificate of nationality shall be issued for the ship if built of wood, or of wood and iron (composite), and more than 20 years old, or of iron (steel), and more than 30 years old, unless classed A1 if of wood and A1 if of iron in the Norske Veritas or other surveying institutions recognized by the king." Even if allowed to registry under these conditions she will have to pass a thorough survey before being allowed to proceed to sea. British ship-owners have long contended that the same regulations which are enforced on British ships should be equally enforced on foreign ships, and in fairness the contention is irrefutable.

HEPBURN BILL BASIS FOR RATE MEASURE

PRESIDENT'S LETTER TO SENATOR ALLISON INDICATES TILLMAN MISUNDERSTOOD.

HIS POSITION IS UNCHANGED

Executive Still Maintains Amendments Should Conform to Principle Advocated by Representative from the State of Iowa.

Washington, May 15.—A lengthy statement bearing on the rate bill incident in the senate Saturday was issued by the White House Monday evening.

Following is the correspondence in part. The president's letter:

"My Dear Senator Allison: As Senator Tillman brought in your name in connection with mine in the statement he made concerning our relations to the rate bill last Saturday, it is perhaps due to you that I should write you on the matter. After the rate bill was reported from the committee, and after by a vote of the committee Mr. Tillman had been put in charge of it, many senators and many outsiders came to see me with reference to it. Among others I was asked to see ex-Senator Chandler as representing Mr. Tillman, who was in charge of the bill. I stated in response that I was, of course, entirely willing to see Mr. Tillman personally or to see Mr. Chandler, or anyone else who could speak for him, and I accordingly directed my secretary to make an appointment for Mr. Chandler to see me. My understanding was that he was the representative of Mr. Tillman. In this first interview he stated to me the views of Mr. Tillman, with seeming authority. He called on me several times. During the same period I saw other gentlemen, who professed to give the views of other senators. In addition I saw numerous senators, both Republicans and Democrats, some of them once or twice, some of them many times. I also saw numerous outsiders, railroad men, shippers, newspaper men and students of traffic regulation, including especially the attorney general and the members of the interstate commerce commission, and on two occasions I saw groups of newspaper men in a mass. To all of these, senators, representatives of senators, and outsiders alike, I made the same statements; those that I made to Mr. Chandler being the same in substance that I made to you and to those of your colleagues of both political parties with whom I had any extended conferences on the subject. The letter of the attorney general, which I enclose, shows fully the facts as to the conferences which, at my instance, he held with Senators Tillman and Bailey. Those conferences were precisely such as, at my instance, he held with many other senators to determine the phraseology and discuss the effect of amendments proposed by them.

Hebburn Bill Covers All

"To all whom I saw I stated that the Hebburn bill was in its essence entirely satisfactory to me. The Hebburn bill as it passed the house simply recognized the right of review by the courts—that is, the jurisdiction of the courts—but did not attempt to define it, thus leaving the courts to prescribe the limits of their own jurisdiction. This was in accordance with the ideas of the attorney general, his belief being that thereby we avoided all danger of the bill being declared unconstitutional because of the attempt to confer either too much or too little jurisdiction on the courts.

"I also repeatedly stated that while it was entirely satisfactory to me simply to leave the Hebburn bill in substance as it was, that is with the recognition of the jurisdiction of the courts, but without any attempt to define that jurisdiction, yet that I was entirely willing that there should be a definition, provided that this definition did not seek to grant a broad review, but explicitly narrowed it to the two subjects which, as a matter of fact, I believed that the courts would alone consider in case there was no attempt to define the limits of their review; that is, would limit it to the question as to whether the commission had acted ultra vires and as to whether any man's constitutional rights had been impaired. I stated that if the question of defining or limiting the review was brought up at all I personally felt that this was the way in which it should be limited or defined.

Not Pledged to Amendments.

"At different times at least a score of tentative amendments were either prepared by the attorney general at the request of senators or submitted to me by senators. As to many of those amendments (including among others the substance of the so-called Long, Overman, Bacon and Spooner amendments) I stated that I should be entirely satisfied to have them in the bill; as to others, I suggested modifications which would make them satisfactory; as to none did I ever say, either to Mr. Chandler or to anyone else, that I should insist upon having them in the bill as a condition of my approving it. On the contrary, I was always most careful to state that I was not trying to dictate any particular programme of action. In no case, either in the case of Mr. Chandler or in the case of anyone else, was there the slightest opportunity for any honest misconception of my attitude or any belief that I had pledged myself specifically to one and only one amendment or set of amendments, or that I would not be satisfied with any amendment which preserved the essential feature of the Hebburn bill as it came from the house.

Hard to Satisfy Everyone.

"To almost every amendment proposed by anyone I found that there were other excellent men who objected, or who at least wished to change it, and I finally became convinced that it was impossible for senators with advantage to use me as the intermediary in coming to an agreement with their colleagues, especially when they only communicated with me through another intermediary, and I earnestly suggested to all to whom I spoke that they should communicate with you, whose purposes and mine were identical. About this time I was informed by various Democratic senators that they could not come to an agreement upon any amendment and that the best chance for success lay in passing the Hebburn bill substantially unchanged. I was informed and believed that this was Senator Bailey's view; and number of the Republican senators who favored the bill expressed the same opinion. Shortly after this you, in company with Senator Cullom called upon me with the amendment which is now commonly known as the Allison amendment. I told you that while I should prefer the Long and Overman amendments, yet that your amendment was entirely satisfactory. Your amendment does not in the slightest degree weaken or injure the Hebburn bill. It merely expresses what the friends have always asserted was implied by the terms of the bill. I may add, that my own opinion that your amendment in no way changed, whether by diminishing or enlarging, the scope of the court review as provided in the original Hebburn bill, is also the opinion of the attorney general, of Mr. Root and of Mr. Taft. Their judgment is that the amendment merely avoids the criticism that the Hebburn bill would be constitutionally invalid in not expressly providing the court review which its supporters have always contended was plainly implied in the original language.

"The original Hebburn bill stated that the venue for certain actions was in certain courts; the amendment states that these courts shall have jurisdiction to consider such actions. To my mind it seems difficult to assert that this works any change whatever in the principle of the bill."

From the Attorney General.

The attorney general's letter to the president:

"My Dear Mr. President: I send, at your request, an account of the conference which I had by your direction with Senators Tillman and Bailey upon the subject of the court review feature of the pending rate legislation.

"On April 14, you told me that Senators Tillman and Bailey had communicated with you through a third person, informing you that they were willing to support an amendment to the Hebburn bill, which while expressly conferring jurisdiction upon the courts to review the action of the commission, should limit the review to the two questions of the authority of the commission and the constitutionality of its action, and include a provision forbidding the issuance of interlocutory injunction. You told me that they were not willing to confer directly with you, but would meet me. The conference was arranged by Senator Chandler and occurred on April 15.

"I informed the gentlemen of my belief that you desired, in the scope of the court review were to be expressed in the law at all, that it should be limited to the two subjects hereinbefore named; that in such case the so-called Long amendment was acceptable to you; that you would be glad to see a rigid limitation on the issuance of interlocutory injunction; if such limitations were possible; and I stated further that I would not assume to agree to any form of language whatever for you, but would submit any proposed amendment to you for your consideration. I also stated my doubt whether in any event it would be possible to enact a provision entirely forbidding interlocutory injunctions. I found myself in entire accord with Senator Bailey as to the rules of constitutional law applicable to the situation, with the exception of those relating to the power of congress to forbid all interlocutory injunctions; upon which I did not offer any final opinion only saying that Mr. Bailey's argument needed an answer. An attempt was then made to accept phraseology which would effect the intention of the two senators. I made some notes upon this branch of the subject and at the close of the interview said to Senator Bailey that I would put my understanding of their views upon the question of phraseology in writing, send it to him, and, if it met with his approval, submit it to you."

Tragedy in Denver.

Denver, Col., May 10.—A man believed to be William Jacob, a Swede, entered a house in the tenderloin district at an early hour Wednesday morning, killed Leona Flammant, 35 years of age, and ended his own life by shooting himself. The woman was shot between the eyes and must have died instantly. It is said that the woman had been living in fear of a man with whom she was formerly friendly and that Jacob was the man.

Whole Family Poisoned.

Rochester, N. Y., May 14.—A whole family named Oppenheimer was taken violently ill after eating supper. Earnie, the eldest daughter, aged 24 years, died. The father and another daughter and two sons are in a precarious condition. The family had beefsteak for supper, and it is believed this contained some poison.

ONE CHANCE FOR JASPER.

The Only Way in Which He Could Hope to Win a Girl for His Wife.

"I should like to ask you one question, Euphorbia," said her mother. "Are you going to marry Jasper Huxtable?"

There was a cold, steely glitter in the young woman's eye, relates the Chicago Tribune, and her lip curled in scorn as she answered:

"I am not, mamma."

"Yet he seems to be a perfectly unobjectionable young man."

"I am aware of it."

"He is in exceptionally good financial circumstances."

"I have never taken the trouble to find out whether he is or not."

"Your father has. He says he is independently rich."

"Well, what of it?"

"And he is handsome."

"Yes, but no handsomer than half a dozen other men I know."

"He is only five or six years your senior."

"O, he's all right, so far as age goes."

"Other girls find him attractive, Euphorbia. What is the reason you do not?"

"I haven't said I don't find him attractive."

"Yet you are not going to marry him?"

"No—not unless there is a decided reform in his way of conducting himself in one particular!" exclaimed the haughty girl, crushing a bunch of costly hothouse flowers in her shapely hand and flinging them away from her. "What is that?" anxiously inquired her mother.

"He'll have to ask me to marry him!"

RELIC OF DE SOTO FOUND.

A gentleman of Monroe county, Miss., while fishing in the Tombigbee about two miles south of Aberdeen, found in the edge of the river, partly imbedded in the soft clay, an old Spanish halberd, reports the New Orleans Times-Democrat.

There was a peculiar interest in this find, because there is little doubt that it is a relic of the expedition of Hernando de Soto, then on his way, unconsciously, to the discovery of the mighty river so closely associated with his name. There is no remnant of the wooden handle, the metal is heavily incrustated with rust, and the once keen edges have worn away, but the form of the weapon is well preserved, and when struck against a hard substance the steel rings almost as true as when it left the armorer's hand, more than 300 years ago.

It has the spear point on top, battle-axe on one side and a curved knife on the other, reminding one of the ancient instructions to the halberdier in training, who was taught that "if the ax stroke should fail to repair his mistake with a prompt thrust of the piked head."

De Soto went into camp for the winter in what is now Pontotoc county, and the remains of his intrenchments were in evidence a few years ago, and may possibly be still visible. In April, 1541, he continued his march to the northwest until he reached what is now De Soto county, where he turned due west and came out upon the bluffs overlooking the Mississippi, which he here saw for the first time.

IRISH FARMER HAMPERED.

Excessive Freight Rates Prevent Free Transport of His Products.

An important economic fact is pointed out by Charles Edward Russell in Everybody's Magazine:

"Let us see. In present conditions the one opportunity for the Irish farmer is in dairy products. For these, he has exceptional advantages, a moist, moderate climate and rich pastures. Irish butter is probably the best in the world; its flavor is marvelous, to quote Jerry Stickles. Here is an enormous market for dairy products right at Ireland's door, for London and most of England must import butter. Ireland can raise almost unlimited quantities of dairy products, and yet Irish butter, for all its excellence, is rare in England. Of what use is land to the Irish farmer if he cannot get his products to market? He might as well be on a coral reef in the Pacific. It is the rates charged on the Irish railroads that shut him in like walls. Here are a multiplicity of small lines, separate companies, all owned in England. The stockholders have no concern except to get their dividends regularly and in large sizes. The arrangements for through transportation are defective. Each little road maintains its own gouging tariff, each insists upon its own pound of flesh; the resulting sharges are probably without a parallel except in some remote and mountainous regions."

Prince Turned Priest.

The best known of royal renunciations of recent times was that of Prince Max, brother of the present king of Saxony, who at one time had the reputation of being the most dashing officer of the crack cavalry regiment to which he belonged. One day he rode straight from some maneuvers to a monastery and changed his uniform for the garb of a priest.

The "Nanny Goats."

The Twenty-third royal Welsh Fusiliers were nicknamed the "Nanny Goats" because from time immemorial the corps has possessed one of these animals as a regimental pet.

PAPER COMBINE IS BEATEN

DECREE ENTERED DISSOLVING GENERAL COMPANY.

Witnesses Who Sought Immunity for Corporation Pay Fines and Agree to Testify.

St. Paul, Minn., May 12.—The United States government Friday secured an unconditional surrender of the paper trust in the United States circuit court, before Judge Sanborn.

The attorney general began a suit December 27, 1904, to dissolve a combination between the General Paper company and 23 other defendants on the ground that an agreement had been entered into by them in restraint of interstate commerce.

Attorney Kellogg, for the government, and Attorney Flanders, for the defendants, appeared before Judge Sanborn sitting as a circuit judge, and Mr. Kellogg moved that the mandate from the United States supreme court affirming the order that the witnesses must testify be filed. Judge Sanborn ordered the mandate filed. The witnesses then appeared before the United States examiner and offered to testify.

The defendants then withdrew their answers. Mr. Kellogg announced that the government did not care to examine the witnesses and moved for a decree in favor of the government.

Judge Sanborn ordered that the decree be entered for the government for the relief prayed and that the decree be settled June 16. The proceedings before the court and the examiner were then adjourned.

The three witnesses who refused to testify, C. I. McNair of the Northwestern Paper company, A. C. Bossard of the Itasca Paper company, and H. F. Nelson of the Hennepin Paper company, paid into court $100 fine assessed against them for contempt of court for refusing to answer questions put to them at a former hearing.

TRADE CONSPIRACY LAID TO DRUG MEN

ATTORNEY GENERAL MOODY BEGINS PROCEEDINGS UNDER THE SHERMAN LAW.

Alleges Manufacturers and Dealers Are in Compact to Illegally Control Prices of Patent Medicines and Proprietary Articles.

Washington, May 10.—The attorney general Wednesday made public the following statement: "The government has to-day filed in the circuit court of the United States for the district of Indiana a petition for an injunction against certain associations, corporations and individuals, comprising what is commonly known as the 'Drug Trust of the United States.' The parties defendant specifically named in the bill have voluntarily combined together to control the prices at which proprietary medicines and drugs shall be sold to the consumer through the retail druggists in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. The parties to the combination include the Proprietary Associations of America, the National Wholesale Druggists' association and the National Association of Retail Druggists, the direct contract proprietors and its agents, members and officers."

Combine to Fix Prices. The bill charges in substance that these associations, their officers, delegates and members, are all engaged in a common undertaking, to-wit, the business of manufacturing, buying and selling of patent medicines and drugs and proprietary articles throughout the United States. That these associations and the members thereof have entered into a conspiracy to arbitrarily fix and regulate the price at which such articles shall be sold to the consumer, and that they have established rules and regulations to enforce such an unlawful agreement by restricting the purchase and sale of such commodities to those members of the several associations who shall live up to and observe the rules and regulations thus arbitrarily prescribed by the respective associations.

Picks Its Customers. "There is but one ultimate object of the conspiracy, viz., to fix the price which shall be observed by all retail druggists in selling to the customer the various commodities manufactured by the several members of the proprietary association. The plan by which such object is offered is in brief as follows: No retail druggist can obtain goods from a wholesale druggist or a manufacturer of a proprietary medicine unless such retail druggist becomes a member of the National Association of Retail Druggists, and in order to become such member he must agree to observe the established price at which such proprietary medicines shall be sold to the consumer.

Penalty for Disobedience. "If such retail druggist, after becoming a member of the National Association of Retail Druggists, cuts prices in the sale of such articles to the consumer, he is immediately placed upon the list of what is known as 'Aggressive cutters,' and thereafter such retail druggist is unable to obtain from any manufacturer who is a member of the Proprietary association, or from any other wholesale druggist who is a member of the Wholesale Druggists' association, any of the commodities which may be manufactured and sold by them or any of them."

Assassination Rumor Denied. San Domingo, May 10.—Investigation shows that the authorities were mistaken in believing that they discovered a plot May 6 to assassinate President Caceres as he was leaving the theater. The persons arrested in connection with the alleged conspiracy have been released. Quiet reigns in this city and its vicinity and business is improving.

Mistaken for Burglar and Shot. New York, May 14.—Frederick Schneider, a manufacturer, was shot dead when he rushed into a dark hallway in a Brooklyn flat house which he owned, and where Vincenzo Morelli, a tenant, was chasing a burglar. Morelli, who was arrested, declared that the landlord was mistaken by the burglar for one of his pursuers.

EXPOSES TRICKS OF STANDARD OIL

METHODS EMPLOYED BY FORMER AGENT TO FOOL CUSTOMERS OF RIVALS.

Lamp Wicks and Chimneys Were Fixed So as to Make It Appear That First-Class Article Was Inferior in Quality.

Chicago, May 14.—After a third day of important disclosures of the methods of the Standard Oil company, its tricks of the trade and the favors it has been shown by different railroads, the Chicago session of the interstate commerce commission closed Saturday afternoon at four o'clock.

The day's developments before the adjournment were of fully startling nature as those of the other days of the Chicago hearing. Gov. Deneen was brought into the investigation when Attorney Monnett cited a refusal to extradite indicted Standard Oil officials as an example that a sort of immunity exists for the officials of the oil corporation.

F. S. Hibbs, the "lamp expert," as Attorney F. L. Monnett, former attorney general of Ohio, who is conducting the examination, called him, was placed on the stand and explained the tricks he employed in "showing" consumers that the oil sold by the independent dealers was not of good quality. In response to questions from the attorney he declared that Frank Bush, former assistant manager of the Peoria district for the Standard Oil company, was his instructor, and that he taught other employees the same tricks. Mr. Hibbs said he was with the Standard for 13 years, but is now connected with an independent company. Mr. Hibbs said:

"Testing" Oil of Rivals.

"In testing the oil of a rival company we used a new chimney and the magnesite in the glass makes the chimney cloudy. For our own oil we use an old chimney. Then we always have our wick perfectly dried out and not too long—just so it will reach the bottom of the oil bowl. We rub a moistened finger tip across the wick of our rival, and after it has burned a little time the damp spot is reached and the light grows dim and there is a spluttering.

"In the meantime our light is burning brightly. We also trim our wicks so as to make a thin flame, and the wick of the rival is trimmed so it will make a thick flame.

"The thicker the flame the yellower the light. Our thin flame always gives a clear white light.

"We often bend down the lower part of the burner, which lets air in under the chimney and causes the lamp to smoke. Sometimes we fill up some of the ventilating holes around the burner with wet flour or chewing gum.

"I only resorted to these tricks when a competitor was selling oil in a town and I wanted to get rid of him."

Independent Oil Better.

The witness named five towns in Illinois where he used these deceptions to convince consumers that the oil of the rival company was of an inferior quality. He said that, as a matter of fact, the quality of oil of all the competing companies was better than that of the Standard Oil company.

In reply to questions, the witness said he worked for the Standard Oil company 13 years, starting as a laborer and finally becoming a salesman. He said he received his training in the tricks of the trade at the Peoria offices of the Standard Oil company. He is at present employed by the People's Oil company, of Springfield, Ill., a competitor of the Standard.

He said that recently at Aurora he met a Standard Oil company agent who cut the price two cents a gallon on lubricating oil in an attempt to take away his customers.

"I held my customers without cutting the price," said the witness with a smile.

"Do the Standard Oil company's agents still practice the tactics you have referred to in meeting competition?" asked Attorney Monnett.

Resorts to Bribery.

"Yes, they are doing it to-day," replied the witness. "They pay rebates, bribe people, cut the price, and substitute an inferior quality of oil, and, in fact, do anything necessary to get business and put the competitor out of the way."

The witness then described an ingenious scheme which he worked in a number of cities since becoming an employee of an independent company to annoy the Standard Oil company. He would go to friends and leave a "fake" order for oil, and when the Standard agent came along later the merchant would receive a certain amount of cash to cancel the order to the rival concern and give a genuine order to the Standard Oil company.

He worked this with such success that the agents for Standard Oil were unable to tell when an order was genuine, and as a result the company was mulcted out of large sums by means of cash presents.

Shot by Watchman.

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 14.—Herbert Cornellison, of Danville, Ky., was fatally wounded, and John Richardson, of Lexington, Ky., killed in a loaded merchandise car in the Queen & Crescent yards here by a watchman. The dead man and his companion were both white, and evidently railroad men. The watchman evidently believed the men were robbing the car when he discovered them.

Haan made a few introductory remarks.

Mr. Hastings of the firm of Hook & Hastings, one of the largest pipe organ manufacturers in America, was here yesterday to inspect the Carnegie Gymnasium with a view of installing the pipe organ that his firm will furnish. The gymnasium organ will cost over $5,000 and will be one of the finest in Western Michigan. Mr. Hastings came here from Richmond, Ind., where he just installed a $40,000 pipe organ in a church costing a quarter of a million dollars.

A baby boy two days old was left on the porch of Dr. and Mrs. M. J. Cook's house last Saturday night and it's cries attracting attention it was taken into the house. The child was wrapped in a shawl, and a card attached bore the words: "I am a little wanderer two days old. Please take me in and be good to me. My parentage is of the best." A bundle containing pretty articles of clothing for the child was also left. Dr. and Mrs. Cook have become considerably attached to the child and may decide to adopt it. Should they do so it would certainly have a good home.

The officials and directors of the Muskegon interurban, who met in Grand Rapids yesterday in their annual meeting, were the guests yesterday of the Grand Rapids, Holland & Chicago Ry. The officers of the Holland interurban. The officers of the Interurban provided a special car and a run was made over the lines, stops for inspection being made at the power house, Holland, Jenison Park and Macatawa. Accompanying the party were General Manager Strathearn Hendrie and General Passenger and Freight Agent C. A. Floyd of the Holland interurban, with General Manager A. J. Bemis of the Grand Rapids-Muskegon power company.

The Interurban railway company will move its Grand Rapids offices two doors nearer Monroe street, having leased the building now occupied by a harness maker. This will give much more room. The waiting room will be in front of the building and back of it will be the office of Traffic Manager Floyd. The baggage room and smoking room will be in the basement.

The Bush & Lane Piano company will donate two pianos, a parlor grand and an upright, to Hope College. The parlor grand will be placed in the studio assigned to Prof. H. C. Post of Grand Rapids. The commendable spirit shown by the managers of this company in thus expressing appreciation of the college is very praiseworthy and will meet with the unbounded thanks of the friends of Hope.

W. H. Sutphen finds it very difficult to buy wool from the farmers of this vicinity as they are holding it in the expectancy of obtaining higher prices later on. Although Mr. Sutphen is willing to give four or five cents per pound more than the market price he has not succeeded in making purchases of any account. In the vicinity of Marshall, Mich., farmers are offering wool for 21 cents and are glad to sell at that figure. Here 25 cents is no inducement.

Cornelius Vander Mel, of Grand Rapids, a graduate of Hope College, won the annual oratorical contest for the Wilson prize at the New Brunswick, N. J. Theological seminary, and received a prize of $25. Mr. Vander Mel spoke on "The Bond Servant of Christ." He spoke on "Good Citizenship."

Supposed Clue to Murder.

What is thought to be a clue to the murderer of Postmaster C. M. Golden of Dennison was revealed yesterday when Orange Dagget, a log scaler, found a satchel just over the fence along the right of way of the T. S. & M. railroad, a short distance southeast of Harrisburg, near Ravenna. The satchel was lying in the woods and it is believed was thrown by some one on a passing train. It contained a revolver, a six-shooter, with four loaded chambers and two empty, also an empty pocket-book and two newspapers containing an account of the murder and robbery at Dennison, April 23. The satchel was found in the edge of the woods on the farm owned by Ed. Averill. The satchel was given to a deputy sheriff who will refer it to Mrs. Golden, widow of the murdered man, for identification.

On Memorial Day and Good Roads Day, it has been decided, there will be a general display of the National flag. A large and varied assortment at Vander Ploeg.

Notes of Sport.

The Holland High school will play the Grand Haven High school next Saturday. A large crowd expects to accompany the team to that place.

The Holland Base Ball club will play the Douglas' club a week from Saturday on the Douglas grounds.

Beekman worked Bill Tibald's old trick of hiding the ball under his arm at Salem last Saturday and touched one of the Salem fellows out so quickly that the Salemite thought the sky fell. Beekman is now laid up with a sore foot from an injury received in the Salem game but hopes to be in shape for the Douglas game.

Woldering and O'Day were the umpires at the Salem game Saturday.

The feature of Tuesday's game between Cedar Rapids and Peoria of the Three-I league was a home run by Neal Ball, formerly captain of Holland's star base ball club.

Paving Contractor Hatch's big steam roller has been borrowed by Superintendent De Young to roll the Nineteenth street play grounds and before long the grounds will be ready for the use of the base ball teams. The Holland base ball club has games booked with all of the nearby towns and some interesting sport may be expected when the grounds are put in shape.

The Holland High School team defeated the Hope College team in a fast contest last Tuesday afternoon on the campus. The score was 9 to 8.

Now that Hope has defeated the hardhitting Zeelanders with their famous would-be professional pitcher in the box, a little confidence has been gained.

What promises to be another exciting and close game, will be played on the campus next Saturday, when Hope will meet the team from the Grand Rapids high school. It will be remembered that last year Hope was defeated by these fellows and they promise to repeat the trick this year. Hope's fellows think different however and are hard at work daily to keep a clean record. That this will be one of the best games of the year is certain. Everybody should see it.

ANOTHER VICTORY FOR HOPE

The old time rivalry which has always been in evidence whenever Hope and Zeeland met was again present last Saturday, when Hope's nine defeated the Zeeland Cigar Makers by a score of 9 to 2. The game was one of the nerve-racking variety from start to finish. After Korstange had been knocked out of the box in the third inning, the much-landed Karsten tried to save the game. Six of Hope's eleven hits were made off his delivery, which, with a base on balls and an error, were good for four runs. Never was more enthusiasm shown and doubtless this, as much as anything helped win the game. Rigaud for Hope was in excellent form. The best Zeeland's sluggers could do, was to gather 5 scattered hits; two being doubles. Fourteen men were struck out by Rigaud, while an equal number of Hope's men fanned the air three times and then laid down their bats. Of these Korstange struck out 2, and Karsten 12.

"The best played game for many years" was the general comment. The score was 9 to 2 in favor of Hope.

HOLLAND DEFEATED SALEM.

It did the Holland Juniors good to change the name of the club to the Holland B. B. club for immediately after doing so the boys went to Salem last Saturday and knocked the championship aspirations of the Salem club sky high.

The score was 4 to 2 in favor of Holland. The lineup was: Holland—Pitcher, Becker; catcher, Fik; first base, Scheerhoorn; second base, Van Ry; third base, Westerhoff; short stop, Beekman; right field, Dyke; centerfield, Waldering; left field, Van Lente.

Salem—Pitchers, De Young and C. Miller; catcher, Gibson; first base, Sturgis; third base, De Young and C. Miller; short stop, E. Miller; right field, Bush; center field, Davis; left field, O' Leary.

The steamer Nyack of the Crosby line raced for a human life last Sunday night on her trip from Milwaukee and came out victorious. At about 1 o'clock in the morning, the stewardess told Captain Cavanaugh that a physician was needed for Mrs. Esther Wilson, who was on her way to Muskegon, where she was called by the death of her husband the day previous. The Nyack was crowded to the limit and reached Grand Haven 40 minutes ahead of schedule time. A doctor was summoned and about 5 o'clock in the morning the woman gave birth to a son. Mother and child were transferred to the steamer Crouse and taken to Muskegon. The mother says that if the child lives he will be named Nyack.

Hope College News.

At the last meeting of the Y. M. C. A. it was decided to raise the membership fee from 75c to $1.50. It was also agreed to send five delegates to represent Hope at the Lake Geneva conference to be held in June.

The citizens of Holland and vicinity are to be congratulated upon the opportunity to hear the oratorio of S. Coleridge Taylor entitled "Hiawatha." This grand chorus will be given June 11 by the Choral Union under the direction and management of Prof. J. B. Nykerk. No work or drill is being spared, but everything is being done to make this musical entertainment excel all those of a similar nature which have been given before.

On account of illness Prof. H. Boers has been unable to meet his classes for some time.

The next game of ball will be played Saturday, May 19 between the Hope and Grand Rapids High School teams. The game will be played on the college diamond.
