LIGHTNING HITS BALLOON;
FOUR MEN STRUCK DEAD

VICTIMS PLUNGE 500 FEET WITH RUINS OF CAR AFTER GAS ENVELOPE EXPLODES.

Berlin.—Aeronautes have long recognized the danger of lightning as they soar in the skies, but the recent killing of four men who were dashed 500 feet to the ground after a bolt exploded the gas in their envelope, is the first accident of the kind in this country.

The fatal lightning stroke came as the balloon was passing over the village of Reichensachsen, about twenty miles southwest of Eisenach. It had started from Butterfields in Prussian Saxony early in the evening. The car belonged to the Parseval company, and its expert, Luft, was guiding the Deutsch.

It is reckoned that the balloon was over Cassel when she first encountered the gathering thunder clouds. It was some hours after that the storm, a wild and terrifying one, with the wind whipping into a gale, made its appearance at Butterfields and caused anxiety for the aeronautes.

As the Deutsch, tossing and swirling undoubtedly in the fierce winds among the tumbling clouds, unsteadily fought its way, there came the deadly flash, stabbing the great gas bag into a roaring explosion, followed by the snapping and cracking of ropes and cables and the parting asunder and crushing into fragments of the car in which the four men were huddled and desperate.

The horror of their plunge to earth in the blackness and the downpour has its ghastly corroboration in the evidences that were discovered some time after daylight by peasants of the village of Reichensachsen.

It was not until they had arisen in the full morning that the fragments and remnants of the balloon and shattered corpses of its four passengers were found among the trees.

SUICIDE DUE TO RED TAPE

Victim Could Have Been Saved but for the Peculiarities of French Law.

Paris.—When a body is found by the roadside in America its discoverer usually cuts it down, alarms the countryside and does his best to restore life. Not so in France. Here certain necessary formalities are employed. Meanwhile the suicide, who might have been saved by quick action, is allowed to complete his deed.

At Cambrai a young farm servant, after an altercation with his employer, hanged himself from a tree overlooking a railway. A passerby saw him thus suspended and walked off to report his discovery to the local guard, who, when he arrived on the spot, found quite a crowd assembled. He felt the body, perceived that it was still warm, but would not interfere, as the tree happened to be standing on the ground of a neighboring parish.

He therefore proceeded to inform its special guard. After the lapse of half an hour this worthy returned with his comrade and then ensued a long discussion as to whether the tree was situated in one parish or the other, so away they went to consult the ordinance maps. Hours rolled by and when they at last met again on the scene of the tragedy they came to the agreement that the tree was located in the third parish.

They then walked off together to inform that particular guard, who, having visited the spot and confirmed the opinion that the tree was in his special domain, started off to report the suicide to the gendarmes, who finally cut the rope. Need it be added that long before this hour the unhappy young man was dead?

Mrs. E. S. Strong, 246 Lincoln avenue, Holland, Mich., says: "About four years ago I suffered a great deal from kidney trouble. My back was very lame, there were pains through my kidneys and I was subject to attacks of dizziness. The kidney secretions also passed irregularly. While in this condition a friend told me about Doan's Kidney Pills and I began their use. In a few days the pain and lameness in my back had disappeared and it was not long before the kidney secretions became natural. I have had no return of kidney trouble since."

A PLEA FOR HOPEFULNESS

Writer Well Describes Pessimism as a Sin and the Pessimist a Man to Avoid.

Hopefulness is a true sign of greatness. It means a conviction that we are greater than our troubles, greater than the world itself, greater than death, and can hold our own whenever it comes, in the universe any where and through all eternity. Such conviction makes a man a god. It is better than riches or high position. It makes a poor man a king. A person who constantly fears or worries is practically an atheist. He has no faith in himself or any other being. He does not usually live long. Worry kills more than whiskey; it really hardens the arteries.

No man has a right to kill his friends by a sad, morose countenance. A long face is a mark of religion. It is out of date just now and forever. Sour-looking people should be shut up in jail; they are dangerous. It is a good thing to throw back your shoulders, walk erect, and believe that you own the whole city. You do it as really as anyone else, and you feel better for the belief. Most of our troubles are fear for the future, only "bogies" which disappear when you walk up to them. There is a good time coming. It is here already, if we only knew it.

To doubt would be disloyalty. To falter would be sin.

CURIOUS EFFECTS OF SCENTS

Penetrating Odors Have Been Known to Induce Unconsciousness and Even Death.

There is no evidence to support the theory that the smell of narcissus may cause influenza. But many strange cases are on record regarding the effects of the smell of flowers.

"A foreign officer," said a medical man, "one night went to sleep with a number of bunches of oleander—an evergreen shrub with red and white flowers—in his bedroom. In the morning he was found dead. The pungent smell of the oleander had asphyxiated him."

"Less serious is the case of a doctor who, after sitting for some time in a room where there were several bowls of jasmine, became exceedingly giddy. He removed the flowers, whereupon he was himself again at once."

"A number of oranges in a room has been known to make a man unconscious. I know also of the case of a man who, going to sleep in a store-room full of apricots, was discovered next day in an unconscious condition, and lay for some time in peril of his life."

The New Testament From Memory.

Today the Bible is the best memorized book in the world, and no doubt it could be entirely reconstructed from the minds of its students. One young woman alone could dictate the New Testament: She is Miss Leste May Williams of North Carolina, now 20 years old. Some time ago Rev. J. A. Grendall, pastor of the local Baptist church, offered a prize for memorizing verses of Scripture.

On the day of the award Miss Williams had committed and recited to the committee 12,236 verses of Scripture, covering the entire New Testament excepting the two genealogies of Jesus in the first chapter of Matthew and the third chapter of Luke, and including liberal selections from Genesis, Psalms, Ecclesiastes, and other parts of the Old Testament. The New Testament itself contains 7,959 verses and 190,000 words.

A Guilty Conscience.

"That view is rather unscientific," said, at a dinner party in New York, Dr. Simon Flexner, the head of the Rockefeller Institute.

"That view reminds me," continued Doctor Flexner, "of Hopkinson, who was wont to observe Lent very vigorously."

"But on a certain fast day, after three hours of golf, Hopkinson couldn't resist a luncheon of chops. And as he munched his chops, a violent storm came up suddenly; a blue light filled the room, and then a terrific clap of thunder shook the building."

"Hopkinson, pale and shaky, laid down his knife and fork."

"What a fuss," he muttered, "over a mutton chop."

At Maxim's.

Addison Mizner, the well-known first nighter, praised, at supper at the Cafe de l'Opera in New York, the wit of the Parisienne.

"I met my first Parisienne," said Mr. Mizner, "in a restaurant in the Rue Royale, near the Place de la Concorde. She was very beautiful."

"How beautiful you are, mademoiselle," I said; "but you are very pale tonight."

"She turned to me with a smile."

"Then, mademoiselle," she said, "tell me something at once to make me blush."

THIRD READING OF BILLS.

An ordinance entitled "An ordinance to provide for the payment of salaries of certain city officers for the year ending 1910, was read a third time, and

Mr. Carnegie's Opportunity

Reports from Pittsburg are that Mr. Carnegie is still in grave danger of dying rich. If these reports are to be relied upon, the multimillionaire has expressed a determination to keep the $10,000,000 he had promised the city in addition to the $19,000,000 already given for the development of Carnegie Institute, and has raised the price of the farm he was to donate for a boy's training school from $1 and love and affection, to $860,000 without either. Such a sudden change of plan by a man who has often expressed a fear of dying rich would have to be understood as the final triumph of the old mercenary spirit which he had led us to hope and believe he was about ready to put down and out.

But another explanation is offered. It has happened that the day set for Mr. Taft's ceremonial presence in Pittsburg was the anniversary day of Carnegie Institute. Properly enough, it would seem, Mr. Carnegie expected that the ceremonies at the institute would be the chief ceremonies of the day, and that, in the itinerary, the president would be permitted to linger longer there than elsewhere. The city, which is the home of a champion team and of Hans Wagner, had other plans. It put the institute in the forenoon part of the program and gave it but short space on the dial, with a view to keeping Mr. Taft fresh and in fine weather for the afternoon game, in which he was expected to root for Pittsburg. It is this which has moved Mr. Carnegie to resentment. As the story runs, he has informed the Pittsburg who has just called upon him for the $10,000,000 that he intends to keep it, while the Pittsburg who took to him the dollar for the farm has been informed that the city will have to raise $859,999 more.

This is a record breaking advance in the price of real estate. If it can be sustained, it should bring a boom in real estate value in Pittsburg. We are less concerned with that phase of the case, however, than with the moral one presented for our consideration. By withholding the $10,000,000 from the institute, Mr. Carnegie may be keeping upon his back the very hump which will make it impossible for him to pass through the eye of the needle. A half section of farming land in addition, would make the through trip still more difficult. We hope that Mr. Carnegie will think better of it. Of course he could turn these contemplated Pittsburg benefactions over to Holland's institutions of learning or a good library and unload in that way. But we know of no place which stands more in need of the uplifting influence of a great institution than Pittsburg, and recent prices quoted for Pittsburg aldermen convince us that the city needs a farm where prices can be raised. In any event, it is not for Mr. Carnegie to resent the high finance of baseball magnates, who are now making money so fast they may soon begin giving it away. If now, in the cumulative stage of their careers, they are showing a disposition to want it all, he should know that it is possible for them to be philanthropists after they get it. Let him cling to high ideals and set them a noble example. It is his opportunity.

They say Lake Michigan rose four inches last month. It takes more than that to see Halley's comet.

Mr. Bryan is to speak for Mr. Kern as a candidate for senator in Indiana. Mr. Kern should look across the river and see the remains of the Democrat in Kentucky for whom Mr. Bryan did the same thing last year.

Mr. Carnegie claims to have made many millionaires, and it is hoped that he did not fail to vaccinate them against a desire to die rich.

Col. Roosevelt remembers a little jingle that he learned from Dutch ancestors, and it was a happy thought to quote it in Amsterdam. Holland may also be captured by an American of Dutch descent.

Neal Ball, Holland's famous ball player, while at a banquet was asked by a lady why the players always tap the ground gently when at bat. His reply was that the worms have a disagreeable habit of coming up to see who is batting, but a light tap on the head sent them scurrying back. What chance would a cut worm in a radish bed on a base ball diamond have?

It is not often during late years that the rapidly decreasing deer is seen near this place. On Saturday afternoon Mr. Dunton, who was at work on his place, just south of the city limits, was visited by a stray doe; she pulled up a couple of cabbages—very naturally taking it for sour kraut—and went on grazing on an adjoining wheat field.

Spanish Claims Commission Nearly Through

After a continuous service of nine years the work of the Spanish claims commission at Washington is drawing to a close. All the cases before it have been decided and all that remains is for the commission to submit its final reports and to put its records in shape. This will soon be completed. Then, more than a decade after the Spanish war closed, the treaty claims will have been disposed of and an important public position which has been held successively by Gerrit J. Diekema of Holland and Hon. R. P. Bishop of Ludington, will have been abolished. The Spanish claims commission was organized under a special act of Congress of March 2, 1901 under which the United States, in a treaty of peace with Spain, made an agreement such as is customary after wars with nations. The work of the commission has been chiefly notable for the awards which it has not sequently they asserted, that being naturalized citizens they could collect from Uncle Sam for the damages they suffered during the Cuban insurrection. Much of the efforts of the commission and of its agents was directed toward determining whether claimants were bonafide naturalized citizens. For this and for information about the losses sustained, testimony was taken in Cuba and in Spain. And in many instances it was established to the commission's satisfaction that the claimants were not American citizens at all and their cases were thrown out of court.

Then the scope of the legitimate claims was greatly narrowed by the rulings of the commissions about the state of affairs in Cuba. It was held that the Cuban insurrection passed out of Spain's control from the start. Consequently it was held that Spain was not responsible for damages which insurgents inflicted.

American citizens began to multiply. Many of them had strange names, suspiciously like names of Cubans and Spaniards. All of these claimed that they had been naturalized, con-

That part of the work of the commission in its relation to the future which is most interesting and important was that involved in the statement of eleven rules, drafted after prolonged debate, in which were announced the principals of international law to be observed in the solution of every case, after the particular facts had been obtained. These rules, formulated after great study and reflection, and prolonged debate by some of the greatest publicists of the United States, represents a real contribution to the international law of the world. It may be indeed said they have been commissioned by at least two of the most eminent publicists of the old world. Never before were such concrete definitions given on so large a scale to the principles of liability that arise against a parent state after an insurrection has passed beyond control.

The statement of Mr. Chandler before retiring from the commission in Nov., 1907 set forth the reasons why the awards were so small and it is of historical interest to both Spanish and American citizens. He asserted that Spanish authorities, civil and military, were diligent to protect American plantations. In view of this fact it was maintained that they were entitled to the strongest presumptions of good faith without reference to the precise motives that influenced them.

Bradwald is erecting a fancy carving shop on 16th.

At Macatawa a large new building is being erected on the immediate lake front, which will house a dozen stores, butcher and grocery stores included, and a small theatre. The building is so situated that the motor boat men are enabled to run their craft up to the doors.

The new boat house at the southern end of the bay, nears completion, and the extensive reparation of the Hotel Macatawa are now finished. A number of new cottages are under construction at the Park which necessitates the laying of a number of cement floors.

Cement floors are being laid in the big casino at Ottawa Beach and in the grove of Dr. Kirkland a new cottage is being built.

made. Immediately upon its creation the claims came in thick and fast. When all had been presented the aggregate was 542 and the amount claimed was $61,402,000. By a succession of opinions the commission cut down the classes of claims which would be considered legitimate. And when its work was concluded awards had been made in but 91 cases. The amount of the awards was $2,575,910, about one twenty-fifth of the amount claimed. This court was established upon a peculiar basis. It adjudicated no claims which were direct legitimate upon the United States treasury, although the cash to settle the awards came out of Uncle Sam's purse. The claims were valid against the U. S. only because the treaty with Spain made them so. This treaty provided that the United States should settle with its own citizens for any losses which they had sustained during the Cuban insurrection and previous to the Spanish American war. The awards were to be made only for claims which could have been properly raised against Spain under international law.

Notes of Sport

With the decision to open the Michigan state league on May 28, the western Michigan territory will be pretty well closed up in a base ball way, and independent managers who have been able to book through this territory with comparative ease in years past, will find the task harder this year. With Traverse City, Cadillac, Muskegon and Holland playing daily ball, there will be no chance for independent clubs to break in on the territory.

Manistee and Ludington have had good teams for the past few years and have worked up a strong rivalry but playing independent ball this season there will be little chance for these clubs to play anyone but each other, in an independent way. There are but few Grand Rapids teams that can be booked in these cities, and these ones have been organized and known for several years and with them there is not the rivalry, and consequently not the interest and money at the gate that must come to make baseball a success.

Men back of the various league teams will lose no time in preparing for the start of the season. Cal Wenger has signed to manage Cadillac and will have many local semi-pro players under his wing. Archie De Baker has a fast bunch together at Muskegon, while Bob Enos is starting the ball rolling to get his Holland club together. Traverse City has not picked its manager but has a fair line on its team.

A triple victory was gained last Saturday by local baseball teams. The Hope college nine had an easy snap with the McLaughlin Varsity aggregation. Levan played rings around the visitors and the featureless game ended with a score of 15 to 1.

The local high school walloped the Havenite visitors by a score of 11 to 5. Serein commenced to twirl for the locals but as the visitors landed on him for four hits Hadden was substituted who allowed but one hit.

The Holland Independents also easily hit the Sackett Plaster Boards of Grand Rapids. Woldering and Shaw pitched fine ball and rendered the victory not very undecided by a score of 7 to 1.

Dr. Beardalee, dean of the seminary, handed out the diplomas to the graduating class. Those graduated and their respective fields are H. Mollema, who has accepted the call to Muscatine, Ia.; Muller, who accepted Bethany, Ia.; Pankuk, Meserve, Ia.; Hankamp, Hamilton, Mich.; M. Stegeman, who is considering the call to Springfield, So. ## Annual Relay Race

Starting at Campau Square, in Grand Rapids and finishing up at VanTongeren's store on 8th street, the Hope college relay team will next Saturday again run the 32 mile relay from Grand Rapids to Holland against their opponents, the Grand Rapids Y.

The college runners this year are faster than the last year runners, the trial race last Saturday showing up favorably for the local men. Harry Anker will start the race at Grand Rapids and will finish the first lap of 3 1/2 miles till outside the city limits. Capt. Stegeman is to finish the race and if signs come true his run into Holland will be as triumphant as that of last year in Grand Rapids.

The "Y" runners have picked their team and quite a few of the old men of last year are back in the race. However, the collegians feel confident that they have to stretch it some to capture the handsome Van Tongeren trophy.

Telephone Subscribers Win Case

The Citizens Telephone Case which has been in court for over two years and the legal ruling of which has been awaited with much interest from all over the country was decided last Monday in favor of the plaintiff in the Supreme Court upholding the decision Judge Padghem rendered some time ago.

Charles McBride assisted by Attorney Wilkes of Allegan handled the city's case while Judge Stuart and Attorney Kleinhans of Grand Rapids defended the Telephone Co. before Judge Padghem. The case grew out of the raise in rates January 1, 1908, just after the automatic phone system was installed in the city, when the rates were changed from $12 house telephone and $18 business telephone to $18 for residence and $30 for business phone. This seemingly arbitrary raise stirred up so much dissatisfaction, that the city council took matters in hand and circulated subscription to defray the expenses of a suit to be brought before Supreme court.

The litigation of the case has been one which has been watched with intense interest by phone-using communities and the decision of the Supreme Court, which is the first decision covering a knotty problem for business men, may be the beginning of a multitude of suits similar to that of the Citizens Telephone company.

"Slick" the Penitent

"Slick" VanOort created quite a sensation in Justice VanderMeulen's court Tuesday when with a thrill of penitence in his voice he pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing coal.

Martin Beukema Sunday morning made complaint at police headquarters that coal was being stolen from his bin. Subsequent investigation led to the discovery of wheelbarrow tracks led straight to Slick's abode. Upon being arrested Slick gave battle, biting Sheriff Andre's hand for which he received a clubbing from Undersheriff Salisbury.

When brought before Justice VanderMeulen Slick meekly paid $14 fine and costs, rather than board for 30 days with Sheriff Andre.

BIBLE STUDIES

THEY HATED ME WITHOUT A CAUSE.

Matthew 12:22-32; 38-42—May 15.

"He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth abroad."—V. 30.

SOMETIMES on a battle field it would appear as though each man were fighting for himself. All battle lines seem lost in the confusion; yet in the end the victory will show the same clear-cut distinctions as prevailed in the beginning of the battle. According to the Great Teacher the entire human family is either on one side or on the other side of a great battle between right and wrong, truth and error, God and Satan. There is no doubt whatever as to how the battle will end—God will have the victory. Indeed the Bible assures us that at any time he could quickly put an end to the conflict, deliver his saints, overthrow Satan and his empire, etc. The Divine promise is that this will be done in God's "due time"—when the Church will be completed and changed by the power of the First Resurrection, and the time shall come for the establishment of Messiah's Millennial Kingdom for the blessing of all the nations of the earth.

Is it asked why the long delay of now six thousand years that sin has triumphed, two thousand of this since Messiah died for the redemption of sinners and their release from the death sentence? The answer is that during these nineteen centuries those whom he has favored with some knowledge of his will—testing their loyalty to him, to his Law, to his representatives—he is testing because he seeks to find, amongst those professing loyalty, such as have the principles of righteousness at heart. Our present Study shows how some at the First Advent were thus tested and we know that throughout these nineteen centuries the experience of the footstep followers of the Nazarene have been similar to his own. Frequently they have been hated without cause—maligned, misunderstood, slandered—sometimes by fellow-religionists of honorable standing. In every such instance we are to remember that there are but two sides to the conflict—the side of God, truth, righteousness, and the side of error, falsehood, Satan.

As we see how blindly scribes and Pharisees and Doctors of the Law hated Jesus and said all manner of evil against him, we perceive that really they were on Satan's side. As we see Saul of Tarsus stoning Stephen to death and others persecuting followers of Jesus, we see clearly that they were in Satan's service, deluded by him and, in some instances, we are assured that these servants of Satan and unrighteousness verily thought that they did God service. Let us therefore be on guard along these lines, remembering the words of the Great Teacher, "Ye cannot serve God and mammon." "He that is not for me is against me." "He that gathereth not with me scattereth abroad." Alas, how many noble people have unwittingly been on the wrong side of the great controversy—fighting against God and the Truth, ignorantly deluded by the Adversary. By permitting this conflict and the measure of darkness, God is the more effectively trying, testing, those whom he has called to be his people. Not only are we tried directly as to the side we will take, but, in a secondary sense, we are tried as respects our humility. Those who are honest of heart and who make the mistake of fighting against God, when their eyes are opened, have a great test of humility in the matter of confession of their error and becoming zealous for the Truth. Those who are on the right side have also a test of humility that they be not puffed up by their victory, but humble themselves under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt them in due time.

Satan, because created on a higher plane, is styled the Prince of demons in his relationship to the fallen angels. Judge of the delusion in the hearts of the Pharisees which prompted them to charge the Master with being Satan himself and, on this score, accounted for his power to cast out demons! The Master took the time to philosophize with them on this subject and to show that if the time had come when Satan would work against his own associates and servants it would imply the speedy fall of his empire. He also pointed out that demons had been cast out by some whom they acknowledged and honored. If he must be Beelzebub to cast out the demons, what would their logic be in respect to their neighbors and friends who at times had exercised this power? On the other hand, if he, by God's power, cast out demons, it was an evidence that God's Kingdom was nigh, just as he had proclaimed.

Having thus answered their objection, he showed that they were against him and opposing his Word and that this meant that if he were God's representative, they were opposing God. Then he called their attention to the fact that their words were blasphemous in that they attributed God's Spirit, God's power in him, to Satan's power. Since they did this without any real provocation and in opposition to every evidence, it implied that they were wicked at heart. Ordinary sins resulting from the fall, ignorance, superstition, etc., would all, in God's providence, be ultimately forgivable, but a wilful sin against light, against knowledge, would be a sin against God's Spirit. And for that sin there would be no forgiveness, either in this Age, or in the coming Age—neither during this Gospel Age nor in the Millennial Age. If the sin were committed against full light, its merit or punishment would be destruction, Second Death. But very evidently it would be such a sin to only a few. With the majority there would be a mixture of wilfulness with ignorance, and, if so, the proportion of wrong represented by the ignorance could be forgiven; but the proportion represented by the wilfulness would need the extreme penalty, because unforgivable.

The scribes and Pharisees, envious of his popularity, asked for a sign, a proof of his Messiahship—not recognizing his teachings and his miracles as proofs sufficient. He then told them of one sign which would come to them too late—his stay in the tomb would correspond to Jonah's stay in the belly of the great fish. The people of heathen Nineveh in the Judgment Age, in the Millennial Age, he assured them, would rank higher than they, for the Ninevites did repent at the preaching of Jonah, while these repented not at the preaching of a greater than Jonah. The Queen of Sheba had journeyed afar to hear Solomon's wisdom; yet these were in the presence of a greater than Solomon and realized it not and heeded not his message. Let us not be thus blinded, but, with our whole hearts, accept and follow the Nazarene!

Farm and City Papers Speak Well Of Patrick Kelley

The Detroit News says: "Thus far the state has heard most of the present Lieutenant-governor, Patrick H. Kelley, and it has always been Kelley's fortune to have a wave of genial regard follow the mention of his name. He is not as widely known personally as he might be, although his famous automobile tour in Warner's behalf helped introduce him to a goodly portion of the voters in the lower peninsula, but he is widely and favorably known for his characteristics, which are stanchness of conviction, cleanliness of reputation and ability which was shown in his handling the senate better than it has been handled in 30 years. Moreover, he is old-fashioned enough to retain his belief in the wisdom of the people's judgment and this has served to make him a valuable fighter on the side of popular measures. He enters the campaign with a favorable record, but it will be necessary for him to make himself more intimately known to the individual voter if he would duplicate for the governorship the tremendous vote piled up for him for the lieutenant-governorship."

The National Farmer is disposed to regard Mr. Kelley as probably as well known individually as either of the other gentlemen named in this connection. And it can cordially endorse all that is said as to his ability, his familiarity with state affairs, his personal characteristics.

It is true that whoever secures the nomination at the hands of the voters must hustle and must be immensely popular, but in this it would appear that he sizes up favorably with any of the other possible candidates. The people can always bank on Patrick H. Kelley as being with them.—National Farmer.

D. W. Morrison has returned from Lansing where he was called on business and to a representative of the Times he said:

"All heard in the capitol was Kelley for governor. Everyone that I met seemed to be his friend and every friend a booster. Of course there is no organized effort being made on his behalf but everyone seems to have constituted himself a committee of one to make Kelley governor. I think he is large enough to fill the chief executive chair and if he don't it will not be the fault of his friends or because they failed to tell his good qualities to everyone. He has good qualities and a lot of them. He is a genial, whole souled gentleman of broad experience and undoubted ability. He would be governor for all the people—one that politicians and special interests could not influence or control. Personally I would be pleased to see him the next governor of Michigan."—Otsego County Times.

Saves an Iowa Man's Life

The very grave seemed to yawn before Robert Madsen, of West Burlington, Iowa, when after seven weeks in the hospital, four of the best physicians gave him up. Then was shown the marvelous curative power of Electric Bitters. For, after eight months of frightful suffering from liver trouble and yellow jaundice, getting no help from other remedies or doctors, five bottles of this matchless remedy completely cured him. Its positively guaranteed for stomach, liver, or kidney troubles and never disappoints. Only 50c at Walsh Drug Co., H. R. Doesburg.

What's the Use

To suffer with sore eyes when one 25c tube of Sutherland's Eagle Eye Salve will cure you. We guarantee it. You risk nothing. Its a creamy snow white ointment.

WHEN HE MISSED HIS MOTHER

Bishop of Lincoln Regretted Inability to Make Frank Criticism of Poor Sermon.

Cannon Scott Holland, in an appreciation of the late bishop of Lincoln, mentions that Doctor King was a bachelor, and his mother lived with him till her death. He said once, after hearing a rasping sermon that irritated him: "It is at such a time that I miss my mother." He was asked why.

"Because directly we were through the door I should have turned to her and said: 'That was a beastly sermon,' and then it would have been out, and I should have been sorry to have said it and should have begun to apologize for the sermon and to love the preacher. Now the poison is in me all the week and I can't get rid of it."

Doctor King had a delicate and subtle wit. Once, said the canon, we had all been rather swept off our feet by the vivacity of certain Bampton lectures which were laid out on rather well worn conventional lines. The material was old, no doubt, but still it was surprising how well they went. How was it? What would King say of them? "Well, it is wonderful," he said, "how good an old pair of trousers will come out if you have laid them away for some time in a drawer."

He had hit it exactly. The trousers were green, for all their apparent sheen.

"A BROOM FOR THE STOMACH"

So the French Call Parsley—Pumpkin and Apple Both Rich in Phosphorus.

The French have a saying that "parsley is a broom to sweep the stomach." Lettuce is a nerve food. Radishes build tissue and are rich in phosphorus, also in iron.

Horseradish contains a higher percentage of sulphur than all the other vegetable roots, spinach ranking next in value. Spinach also contains a large percentage of iron.

A mayonnaise dressing with lettuce is especially desirable for thin people, but for the over plump French dressing is to be recommended. The action of vinegar on the digestive organs, however, is not to be considered. The acid of lemon juice is preferable.

While apples are a most excellent fruit for brain building, which phosphorus aids in, the humble pumpkin, desecrated to the uses of pie and jack o' lanterns, holds the prize. Pumpkin rates 2.79 in phosphorus, while apple is but .45.

When in search of this special element take up a pumpkin diet. But as winter squash would stand the same analysis, it can be used as a vegetable in many varieties and thus the needed phosphorus supplied. Cucumbers rank next in phosphorus value to pumpkins, being 2.08.—Vegetarian Magazine.

And the Money Came Back.

When a Darby man sent a vest to be cleaned he forgot that in the inside pocket was a roll of notes amounting to $165. He made up his mind that the money was lost in some other way and marked it down as something of the past. When the vest came home the money was discovered.

Perhaps the owner has not yet decided whether the money was overlooked by the cleaner, whether it was returned by an honest man, or whether the cleaning of the vest was merely imaginary. That he got the money back is enough to know, yet it would be only fair to the cleaner to give credit for not being curious to the extent of examining the pockets of garments sent to his shop, or else to hold that he is really an honest man, too modest to parade himself.—Wilmington (Del.) News.

Child's Fiendish Temper.

"Death from exhaustion due to burns caused by being pushed into the fire by her younger brother," was the verdict at a Crewe (Eng.) inquest on the body of five-year-old Violet Capper. The mother left a number of little children playing in the yard, with instructions not to go into the house. Scarcely had she turned her back when Frank, aged two, got into the house, and Violet, who followed to bring him out, was pushed into the fire by him. The mother said Frank had a very nasty temper, and since the occurrence had attempted to push one of the other children into the fire. The coroner said it seemed almost incredible. The child was too young to be criminally charged.

Quarrels of Friends.

I think I have observed universally that the quarrels of friends in the latter part of life are never truly reconciled. A wound in the friendship of young persons, as in the bark of young trees, may be so grown over as to leave no scar. The case is very different as regards to old persons and old timber. The reason of this may be accounted from the decline of the social passions, and the prevalence of spleen, suspicion, and rancor, towards the latter part of life.

Didn't Appeal to Him.

"How did you enjoy the pony show?" "Oh," replied the sophisticated little boy, "I didn't care for it. There was too much horse play."

Apple vs. Onion.

She—They say that an apple a day will keep the doctor away.
He—Why stop there? An onion a day will keep everybody away.—Boston Transcript.

Saugatuck Man Scales Mt. McKinley

Chas. McGonogal of Saugatuck has the honor of being one of the party of four who made the first trip to the summit of Mt. McKinley in Alaska, having just returned to Fairbanks, from which city on clear days the flag which they planted there can be plainly seen.

Mr. McGonogal wrote his parents just before he started on the perilous trip but said nothing about what he was about to do for fear of causing his mother worry, and they have not received word regarding the trip, as a letter has not had time to reach here and all that is known of the adventure is what is learned by newspaper reports. The explorers had a hard trip and were nearly worn out on their return. They found no trace of the marks Dr. Cook claimed to have left.

Killed on Picket Fence

Peter Steketee of 953 Burton Ave. Grand Rapids, one of the Holland pioneers of this section, met a most painful death Saturday. He fell from a ladder on which he was working, striking on a sharp picket fence, three ribs being broken and sustaining internal injuries, from the effects of which he died after some hours of suffering at the U. B. A. hospital.

Mr. Steketee, who was 65 years of age, was making repairs to a house owned by him at 57 Dwight avenue. At noon he started to descend from the ladder on which he was working. As near as could be learned either his foot slipped or the ladder toppled and he was precipitated onto the picket fence below, turning once or twice in the air before striking. The neighbors rushed to his assistance and he was carried across the street to the home of his nephew, Henry Brummels.

He is survived by a widow, one daughter, Mrs. R. Hooper of Middleville, three brothers, George G., of Grand Rapids, and Andrew and Bastian of Holland, and two sisters Mrs. Hoffman of Holland and Mrs. U. DeVries of Jenison Park.

A Test Case

Keeping up his crusade against auto speeders, Chief Kamferbeek gathered two more in the net, making a total of six this month. Three of the offenders were prominent manufacturers and paid fines of $10 one juvenile was released with a warning and Con DePree will fight the charge against him. Local autoists will make an effort to have the ordinance amended, which limits the speed to eight and fifteen miles per hour respectfully in the business and residence districts.

Questioning the legality of the ordinance restricting motor vehicles to a speed of eight per hour on the business streets and 15 in residence districts, local autoist scored a point in the trial of the case against Con DePree, City Attorney VanDuren, nolle prosequing the case on the showing that the ordinance was no longer effective. The ruling was made on account of the state law which has been passed more recently, allowing a speed of 10 miles per hour in business districts and 15 on residence streets and the ordinance may be regarded as a "dead letter" regulation, as it is legally unenforceable.

DePree was immediately re-arrested when discharged by Justice Miles on the original complaint, the second warrant being based on a violation of the state law. This course was adopted in order to make a test of the city ordinance and the legal question being settled, the further trial of the case will be merely an issue of fact regarding the speed of the machine on the day of the alleged violation. The second trial is set for tomorrow morning, DePree having pleaded not guilty to the new charge.

What Is Chiropractic?

This new and wonderful science had its origin in Bohemia. It was used in that country by workmen who had labored hard and had come home tired and ill. It would revive them and at that time they discovered that chronic diseases of long standing were subdued under its treatment and finally disappeared altogether but the best of it was that the cures made in that way would be permanent.

Chiropractic or hand curing has no nasty tasting medicine—it does not need it. It will cure troubles that will not submit to drugs. It needs no knife and no operations to aid it. It is a treatment that effects the nerves.

Chiropractic is based on a correct knowledge of the nerves. In the human spine are 24 vertebrae each one having an inter-vertebrae notch, and these two brought together create a window (foramen) from which bundles of nerves emanate, spreading to all parts of the human system a luxation or displacement which causes the nerves to be pinched and disease to follow. They may be stimulated but will not be cured unless these nerves are released. The Chiropractors fix these luxations, relieve the nerves and put them in a position to do their great work throughout that part which was affected.

Epilepsy, Deafness, Apoplexy, Appendicitis, Blood diseases, Brain fever, Diabetes, Dropsy, Bladder Troubles, Catarrh, Cancer, Constipation, Consumption (first stages) Dyspepsia, Heart, Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles, Indigestion, Lumbago, Lost Manhood, Locomotor Ataxia, Nervous debility, Paralysis, Rheumatism, Varicocele, St. Vitus dance, Female diseases and many others have been cured to stay cured.

If you are sick remember the cause is within you. If you have been taking drugs and are satisfied that you are getting worse go to a Chiropractor and get well. A pinning plant will not get strength by sprinkling the leaves, but by removing the cause from the roots—origin of its living power. The nerves control the human system.

W. H. Roe, D. C. and R. R. Pronk, D. C. are experienced Chiropractors, who have offices at 147 East 8th St., Holland, Mich., and also 9 Jefferson avenue, Grand Rapids, Mich. They have made some wonderful cures in Holland and in the surrounding country, go to them, they are willing to give you names and addresses from some of the people they have treated. Their office hours are 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m., and 7 to 8:30 in the evening. They will give you all the information and advise you wish without charge. Some of our well known citizens who give praise to them are Mrs. C. M. Knowles and Mrs. A. W. Nysson at Central Park, R. F. D. No. 1, they wish you to call on them, and would be happy to tell you what has been done for them.

What Louis Kruit Says About It.

I had a cold all winter that I got last fall which was settling on my lungs. I doctored with several doctors but nothing did me any good, until at last they advised me to stop working. Then I heard of these Chiropractic Treatments and made up my mind to try them. I went to Holland and was treated by Dr. R. R. Pronk and am glad to say that I have been working ever since, my first treatment and am getting as strong and healthy again as I ever was. This is what it has done for me in a few weeks of treatment. I can earnestly recommend these treatments to all, that are, like I was, suffering from lung trouble.

Yours truly,
