SEVENTH STREET PAVING MEETS WITH OPPOSITION

It looks very much as if history is going to repeat itself in the paving of Seventh street and as if there will be about the same seething about that street that there was about 9th street. The council recently definitely decided on paving the street when the report of the committee on streets and crosswalks was accepted, and the city engineer was instructed to prepare plans, specifications and estimate of costs. These will be reported to the council at its next regular meeting.

But meanwhile, a movement has been started to kill the paving project by counter petition. As in the case of Ninth street it looks as if the paving of the street will be a history of petition and counter petition. The original petition in favor of paving was signed by more than half of the frontage, excluding the Pere Marquette property, and much more than half of that were included. The plan of the counter petition seems to be to reverse this decision and to get persons who signed the original petition to reverse themselves.

It is reported that one of the arguments used by some circulating the counter petition is that the cost of the paving will be in the neighborhood of $7.50 per front foot for each property owner. The question was put up to the chairman of the street committee whether there was any truth in that and he expressed the opinion that that estimate was far too high. The exact estimate cannot be given until it had been scientifically figured out by the city engineer, but there is no basis for supposing that it will be anywhere near as high as that.

In view of these facts, those in favor of paving are asking all the property owners along the street, whether for paving or against it, to wait until they have the figures before signing petitions against the project. The proponents of paving have no objections against counter petitions, but they declared today that they did object to having counter petitions on the plea that the paving would cost $7.50 per front foot when there is not only no warrant in fact for this figure but when it is certain that the actual figure will be far below that.

HOLLAND MEN SEE STATE STORE OF WHISKEY

William Vander Ven and Benj. Brower of the Holland Canning Co. attended the State Cannery convention at Lansing, held at M. A. C.

Incidentally the Holland men were shown the large stores of liquor confiscated by the state from bootleggers. They were also shown the various contrivances used to beat the law. One device was a large can inside of a milk can. When the milk can was opened, nothing but milk was visible, but the milk covered a can of whiskey so that inside. The government soon made milk punch of the whole mess.

They were also shown a double lined violin case that at one time had the stuff in it that brings about the rendering of the old familiar tune, "We won't go home until morning."

Mr. Vander Ven stated the government is now selling the liquor for medical purposes, and a small bottle less than a half pint, the state asks $1.50. "No, we didn't sample any," said Mr. Vander Ven.

DR. JAMES F. ZWEMER HONORED BY STUDENTS

At the chapel exercises of the Western Theological seminary Saturday morning the Senior class, that is about to graduate, presented the institution with a beautiful, enlarged framed picture of Dr. James F. Zwemer, president of the Seminary. The picture will be hung in the auditorium along with a number of other pictures of Seminary leaders. The presentation speech was made by Mr. James Stegeman, president of the class, and the response on behalf of the Seminary was made by Dr. E. J. Bleidink.

Dr. Zwemer served the Seminary for seven years as professor of practical theology. For a number of years he has been financial agent of the institution, and he has been largely instrumental in securing the men's dormitory for the institution, and he also was mainly responsible for securing the funds that made possible a fifth chair in the seminary.

The ninth annual convention of the Grand Rapids district, Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist church, was held in the Plainfield Ave. Methodist church at Grand Rapids, Mich., May 13 and 14. Among the officers for the coming year, three ladies from Holland were re-elected: Mrs. P. E. Whitman, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. E. Lewis, treasurer; and Mrs. A. E. McClellan, one of the vice presidents. Mrs. G. C. Moody made a very complete report of the work done by the local society. Other ladies attending from here were Mesdames O. D. Botz, J. Wise and G. Elferink.

A very beautiful feature was the banquet given to the Queen Esther Circle, when more than two hundred young ladies made merry with their happy yells and songs. Miss Marie Markham of Holland, responded to the toast "I'd Just Love To." The Misses Clara McClellan, Iva Fleming and Lucy Moody also attended the banquet. Mrs. Lucy Durrin formerly of Holland very pleasantly entertained the ladies of the Holland delegation, who could remain over night at the Aldrich Deaconess and Esther home, where she is occupying the position of house mother.

The convention next year will be

ROAD ARTICLE IN LOCAL PRESS BEARS FRUIT

This paper a week ago published an article showing up the bad condition of nine miles of road connecting the West Michigan Pike with South Haven and the only poor connecting link between Holland and Chicago.

We pointed out the fact that South Haven was doing nothing to foster the building of this poor stretch of highway possibly for selfish reasons, namely, that it was not to that city's advantage to have resorters go further north when they might as well stay at South Haven.

The road there is impossible and one must ride over it in order to appreciate how rotten it really is. There is nothing quite like it anywhere else. If one wishes to make an old machine out of a new one quickly, the easiest way to do it is to make a few trips over the 9 miles of road to the north of South Haven.

Anyway this paper advised in this article that readers write to State Highway Commissioner direct and inclose a clipping of the article. This we understand a few have done.

It was up to Thos. Olinger to put the matter up to Mr. Rogers in the right light. Tom told the commissioner how his relatives all lived on the other side of that piece of bad road and what the difficulties were in reaching them and how he simply avoided the highway there by staying at home rather than go thru the ordeal.

Mr. Olinger told Mr. Rogers a great deal more besides, enclosing a clipping of the article relating to the South Haven road at that point as printed in the local press.

Mr. Rogers sent Mr. Olinger the following reply which is self explanatory:

"Dear Sir—This is to acknowledge receipt of your favor of May 4th enclosing newspaper clipping describing the condition of trunk line 11 in Casco and Ganges townships of Allegan county. The worst that can be said is that it is all true about these particular roads. However, we have contracts let on both of these roads. The contract in Ganges township was let two years ago and has been worked in a faint-hearted way for two seasons. The price was very low, probably below cost, as matters developed during war times. We expect that the Ganges road will be finished this season.

The road in Casco township was all graded and drained last year and we have recently let a paving contract on the south three miles and are now taking gravel from the lake shore to build the north three miles and a contract for paving that will be let as soon as sufficient gravel is out.

"I regret the delay on these roads because it is almost impossible to keep the detours in good condition although we will do the best we can with them. I hope before winter sets in that traffic will be moving over the Michigan Pike without interruption at least from north of Petoskey to the state line southwest of New Buffalo.

"Very truly yours,
"Frank F. Rogers,
"State Highway Comm'r."

BREAD TO BE TWELVE CENTS HERE WEDNESDAY

Twelve cent bread—that is the prospect for Wednesday in Holland. One of Holland's prominent bakers announced Tuesday that beginning Wednesday morning his company would sell the "staff of life" at 12 cents a loaf. Though no announcements have as yet come from all the bakers, it is likely that the others will follow suit, thus once more reducing the high cost of living. Bread until now in Holland has been retailing at fourteen cents.

With milk for some time at ten cents a quart, and now with bread coming down, the two main articles of food of the people are finally yielding to the inevitable downward pressure.

CHILDREN ARE RESCUED FROM A BURNING HOUSE

George Sparks was painfully injured Saturday morning at about 7 o'clock, when he rescued his three children from their home on Vissers street in Spring Lake. Mrs. Sparks and a boarder Ed Finch also suffered burns while assisting in accomplishing the rescue of the children.

The fire started while Mrs. Sparks was getting breakfast in the kitchen and the flames progressed so rapidly that there was great difficulty in getting to the children who were still sleeping in an upstairs room. When the rescue was accomplished, the house was completely enveloped in flames and it was impossible to save any of the household goods. It is said that the family lost practically everything in the fire.

GRAND HAVEN AND MUSKEGON ASKS U. S. TO BUILD BREAKWATER

Muskegon and Grand Haven are awaiting the reports of engineers acting on the plea for a breakwater and on improvements to the harbor at Grand Haven. A party of engineers visited Muskegon following the sinking of the Crosby steamer Muskegon, with a loss of 30 lives.

Shipping interests have presented to the engineers facts and figures. The improvement of the harbor is closely linked with the industrial growth of those cities.

Grand Haven also has petitioned for improvements to its harbor.

THREE COUPLES ARRESTED AT HOTEL HOLLAND

Three couples between Saturday night and Sunday came joy riding to Holland, all lit up and dressed to kill.

They came in late at night and boldly registered as L. Bouma and wife, Anna Bouwma, George Smith and wife Ella Smith, and Howard Dawn and wife Ruth Dawn.

Dawn and party were assigned rooms respectively, but no sooner had the clerk given them accommodations, when it began to dawn on him that all was not right with three couples.

He telephoned to Chief of Police Van Ry, who immediately put in his appearance, routed the sextette out of their rooms and herded them into one room in the city lockup.

Here they confessed that they were not married but had gone out for a joy ride, winding up with the results as stated.

A very dejected and shamed bunch appeared before Justice Den Herder who passed a heavy fine of $25 on each one of the men, and $10 on each of the women, which does not include the costs of the case.

It is evident and stated on quite positive authority that the persons mentioned don't go under these names in their home city, in fact it is quite positively known that some of them belong to highly respected families living in Grand Rapids.

It took the party only a few minutes to leave town after the fines were paid, and it is doubtful if they will ever again attempt such misconduct in Holland at least.

The night clerk stated that from all appearances those who applied at the desk were at least 30 years old, and while he had no means of knowing whether the couples were married or not, he somehow felt that they were not, and he immediately called the police.

All hotels are subject to such happenings, but our local hostilities have been very strict along these lines and should not be blamed because these couples got by.

The three couples from Grand Rapids who registered under assumed names at Hotel Holland and as being married, came to the city in the height of fashion, it is said.

When Chief Van Ry and Officer Wagner took charge of the case and looked over the register of the hotel they found that a chauffeur was also registered under the name of George Eddy of Massachusetts.

When the officers looked up the chauffeur, they found him to be a Mr. Klemersma, formerly of Holland, now of Grand Rapids. The man who is well known to Mr. Van Ry stated that he had taken the couples directly to this city.

MAN ROBS SLOT MACHINE TELEPHONES IN ALLEGAN

Henry Williams, a Grand Rapids man, quietly drove into Allegan a few days ago and since that time Citizens Telephone Co., pay stations all over Allegan were short of coin, it is alleged. When noticed, suspicions were directed to Williams. He endeavored to make his get away on an interurban but as he entered the back door the sheriff of the county popped into the front.

The way William was detected is stated in the Allegan News as follows: "A traveling man who tried to put through a telephone call from the pay station booth in the Sherman House was the real cause of Williams' detention. He couldn't get his party on the phone and noticing some part of the phone scattered about the booth floor, decided the phone was out of order. He called the attention of the hotel proprietors to the telephone. They discovered the pay box had been opened and that the cash contents were missing. Sheriff Hare was notified and given a description of a man who had been noticed entering the booth some time before. Hare drove about town but saw no man fitting the description given him. Then he remembered that there was a pay station in the Pere Marquette depot and he went down there. Inside the station he saw a man, altho he did not fit the description given, rather attracted the sheriff's attention.

"After the man came from the station Hare investigated the phone. It too had been tampered with. The toll box was empty. The man had boarded the car. Sheriff Hare also boarded the car and took a seat next to the man.

"How long did it take you to get your call through on the phone at the Sherman House this noon," Hare quizzed the man.

"About five minutes."

"Hare knew he was on the right track now. In a few minutes he was sure this was the man. The man, who was Williams, saw that the game was up and admitted he had robbed both the pay stations, the Sheriff says. He was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Brady and bound to the circuit court on the charge of entering a place with intent to commit larceny.

Ralph C. Melma has returned to Holland after spending a week at his home in Chicago.

The Royal Neighbors will hold a party Wednesday afternoon in Woodman hall. This will be the last party of the season. Friends are invited.

TELEPHONE CO. GETTING OUT A NEW DIRECTORY

William Orr of the citizens Telephone Co. is busy with the annual job of getting out a new telephone directory.

With the monthly statements he is also mailing a card to each subscriber asking said subscriber to write plainly his name or business, street and number or Rural route number as the case may be.

After all these cards have been returned the new directory will be compiled from them, and the accuracy of your name in the new book will depend largely upon how plainly you have written it on the card.

Mr. Orr has followed the system much used by companies who compile city directories.

It is also very essential that subscribers hasten to fill out these cards and return them as quickly as possible, for on the promptness will depend the time when said subscriber will be able to get a new directory.

Delay in sending in the names will naturally cause delay in getting the book to the printer.

Other information on the card is self-explanatory and follows below:

One insertion in the alphabetical section of the Telephone Directory is to be given free of charge with each contract for a Main Line Telephone or Branch Exchange.

Extra listings each 25c per month.

This includes listing of members or employees of a firm, officers or employees of a corporation or association, different companies represented by factory or selling agents and members of a family.

Extra users. Charge for this 75c per month.

Those who use the telephone of a subscriber are termed "extra users" and for their use of the service the subscribers shall be charged 75c per month, which charge shall include one listing in the directory.

FORMER HOLLAND MAN IS AFTER BERGDOLL

Fred S. Bertsch, formerly of Holland, now of Chicago, where he is secretary of the "White Paper Club" is taking an active part in a campaign started there for the return of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll. The White Paper Club, under the direction of Mr. Bertsch has inaugurated a national movement to bring pressure to bear on the government at Washington to make a demand on Germany to return Bergdoll to America. The White Paper Club has sent the following letter to numerous organizations throughout the country, with the request that these organizations get into touch with the secretary of state and demand prompt and vigorous action:

"The Bergdoll case is an affront to every good American. It betrays the patriotic services of all American men and women in the world war. It has left the power of the United States open to ridicule, disrespect and contempt on the part of the foreign nations. Its continuation in its present status weakens faith in American institutions and lessens confidence in the American government. Bergdoll should be demanded of Germany and placed in the penitentiary to which he was sentenced."

INTEREST REVIVES HERE IN AMERICAN CAN LEAGUE

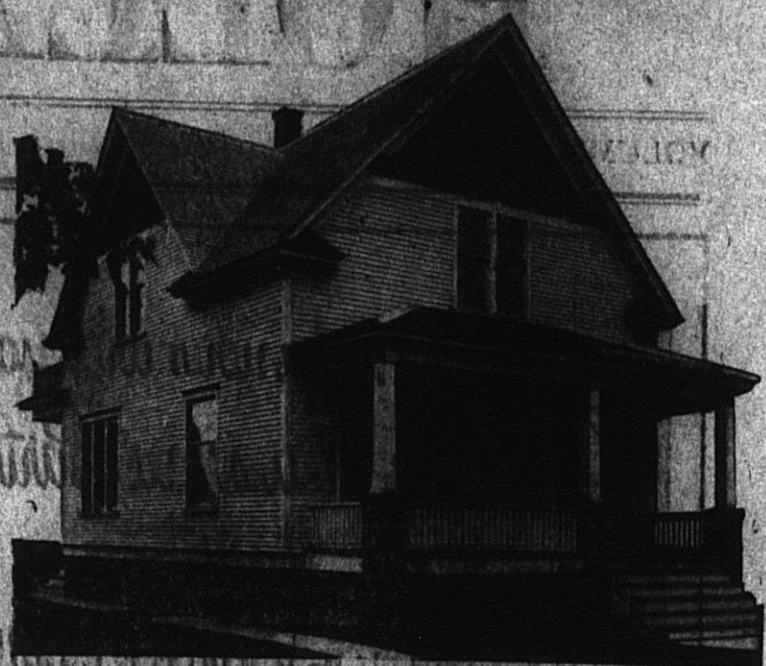

So little interest was there last year in the American League base ball scores that H. Van Tongeren discontinued the wire service. For years Mr. Van Tongeren had been receiving the scores daily by wire, but last year Detroit was always down near the bottom of the league and so there was no interest shown here. Nobody cared who was winning and it was seldom that anybody took the trouble to call for the score.

But this year Detroit has been playing in the first division. Last week Ty Cobb's team was in third place and it is now fourth. Hence the interest of the local fans has been revived. In response to this Mr. Van Tongeren has re-established the wire service and he will receive the score each day at the end of the games.

No claims have been filed in court as yet as the result of the sinking of the steamer Muskegon, formerly the Steamer Holland, of the Graham & Morton Line, with its attending loss of 30 lives; but several such suits are known to be in hands of legal counsel.

The Zeeland city council has chosen the following city officers: President of the council, John Hartgerink; city attorney, J. N. Clark; city auditor, Corey Poest; health officer, Dr. C. E. Boone; election commissioners, John H. De Pree, John N. Haan and D. F. Boonstra. The mayor has designated May 10 as "cleanup day."

The Church League for Service of the First Reformed church held a unique meeting in the basement of the church. This society has undertaken the support of an Indian girl in the way of clothing and the following plan was carried out: each member of the society was to bring a friend and at 7:15 all sat down to enjoy an old fashioned pot luck supper. After all had fully indulged in the varied and plentiful "eat," a measuring party followed. The members and friends were measured about the waist liberally and taxed accordingly per inch. The rooms were artistically decorated in Indian colors and represented a wigwam of the native American. A short but very impressive program was then rendered: invocation, Mrs. A. Walvoord; piano solo, Harriet Vanden Bosch. A beautiful tableau in the form of a "Missionary Album" was effectively presented under the direction of Janet Van Tongeren in which Hilda C. Stegeman took a leading part. A few games and contests were played in which all heartily participated. After a few remarks by the president and the singing of "Blest be the tie that binds," the meeting was closed.

Rev. Herman Heynes, pastor of a Christian Reformed church at East Paris, well known in Holland, and son of Prof. W. Heynes, of the Calvin Seminary, died early Sunday at Blodgett hospital. The village of Pennville was shocked Wednesday when they heard of the arrest of one of their townsmen, Harry Striehoff, for embezzling the sum of $25,000. Striehoff is the son of Lewis H. Striehoff, who lives two miles east of Pennville and was arrested at the home of his father on complaint of Detective Hart of the New York Central Lines. Striehoff was a paymaster of the railroad and it is stated that it was while in the performance of his duties at Chicago that the alleged embezzlements took place over a period of years.

Deputy Sheriff Harry Phillips and Chief of Police Kenneth Weaver made the arrest and took Striehoff to Alhambra from which city he left for Chicago. His sister, Evelyn, Tuesday night went to the same city where she will look after her brother's interests. The young man was making a visit to his former home at the time of the arrest.

The jinx that haunts Hospital corner, 12th street and Central avenue still takes his toll of auto smash-ups, despite the skull and crossbones warning that was intended to frighten him away. Wednesday noon F. Schroeder of Holland rammed a telegraph pole on the northeast corner, with his Ford car, which sustained injuries to the extent of a broken steering gear, fender and headlights. So the safety turtles and the skull and crossbones are of no avail and the jinx goes on with his pranks.

A full house greeted the cast presenting "Nothing but the Truth" at Carnegie Gymnasium Tuesday night. From the time the curtain went up to the time when it dropped at the end of the play, the entire audience as absorbed in the plot and its final outcome. Several times during the performance the creditable acting along with the clever makeup of the play, brought down the house with violent applause. It has been quite a while since an audience in Carnegie Gymnasium became as enthusiastic as the audience of Tuesday evening.

The real whopper of a fish story has come across at last. A season never goes by when some one does not come along with a yarn that illustrates the old saying that "truth is stranger than fiction." The story of the season is rather late this year but the present yarn has the advantage of being literally true. At least E. F. Hiler, a truthful man in every respect, vouches for the accuracy of the story. Here it is as told by Mr. Hiler.

Neal De Waard and his brother Dick were fishing on the river Tuesday morning in a boat. While passing over a shallow part in the river, Dick's oar struck a pickerel. The startled fish jumped clear of the water into the boat, striking Neal, who was in the stern, square in the pit of the stomach and knocking the wind out of him. The fish weighed three pounds. It was not a case of the big one that got away, for the De Waard boys captured it.

The annual X-country track meet between Hope-G. R. Y. and Kalamazoo college will be held in Holland May 14. The track covers a distance of almost 4 miles. The men have been doing some very intensive training for the last few weeks, and the try-out of last week gives indications of a good race this year. The time made by the locals at that time was better than that made in last year's race. The team is in hopes of reducing the time this year over that of last spring in which the G. R. Y. took the lead, making the run in minutes and 49 seconds. The relay race with G. R. Y. will be held May 21. The contest will start at Grand Rapids this year and end in Holland. Hope will have about a half dozen old track men to put into the race.

The Hayden-Kardux Auto Co., is making a very important announcement in this issue of the News. Like Humpty-Dumpty, automobile prices have had a great fall, and while the prices are all knocked to "smithereens" the automobiles are even better than those made during the war. The manager of the Hayden-Kardux Auto Company stated that the automobiles they sell have dropped at least $160, and in many instances $180. This slash cannot help but bring business and while it lasts someone is going to get a cheap automobile. "The early bird gets the worm," says Mr. Hayden.

The funeral of George S. Harrington was held at 3:30 this afternoon at the home, Rev. G. B. Fleming officiating.

The regular meeting of the Home Missionary society of the Methodist church was held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. C. Ingham, 181 E. 6th street. Devotions were in charge of Mrs. McClellan, assisted by Mrs. Haight and Mrs. Markham. There was no program, as the time was given to Mrs. Moody and other ladies who attended the convention in Gr. Rapids. After a thorough discussion, it was decided to adopt the group system, during coming year. The society will be divided into four groups, each having a leader, and each working independent of the others, with the object of increasing the membership and raising more money.

Other plans were made to improve and extend the work of the young people. The Home Guards will be reorganized and all the junior societies will be encouraged and supported. The meeting was very enthusiastic, and profitable. Tea was then served by the hostess and her assistants.

FILLMORE PIONEER DIES TUESDAY AT RIPE OLD AGE

George S. Harrington, father of Austin Harrington, died Tuesday morning at his home in Fillmore township. Mr. Harrington was one of the best known pioneers of this community. A friend of the family, and of the deceased, Mr. Eugene Fairbanks, wrote the following life history and appreciation of his friend:

Thus on other one of our earliest, best loved, and most honored pioneer fathers has quietly gone to his rest.

George S. Harrington was born Feb. 1, 1836, near Oswego, Wayne County, N. Y. His parents came west (as it was then called) to Michigan in the fall of 1845. His father traded his improved 80-acre farm for a 100-acre farm in Michigan. They left Oswego by boat the 15th of September, 1845, and made a tour of the Lakes, Ontario, Erie, Huron and Lake Michigan and landed in St. Joseph, Oct. 6th. They spent the winter at Gun Plains. In the spring of 1846, they moved on the Hackley farm 2 1/2 miles south of Allegan. In April 1847, they moved in town 4N R 15 West, now known as the township of Fillmore, and remained with Isaac Fairbanks three weeks and then moved on the S. E. 1/4 of Sec. 5, where he resided until his death.

All of the early settlers remember the Harrington farm. It was a haven of rest to the early pioneer and foot soldier traveler of pioneer days. Mr. Harrington's early life was spent in the forest. He was a great hunter and lover of the chase. He spent much of his life in the great out of doors, which gave him a strong body and a long life. His playmates were the Indians that lived in this section. Many are the stories that he has told of the Indian's simple life hunting and fishing, etc. When too young to hunt he would go with Joseph and Francis McCasaba and carry the game birds that they killed with their bows and arrows.

Mr. Harrington was a true friend and good neighbor and ever willing to help with word and deed, and beloved by all who knew him. His home was the gathering place for young folks of the neighborhood in whom he took an especial interest. His genial disposition and good wishes, and love for right and true Christian character, will always remain in the hearts of the young men, and I know will help them to live a higher and better life.

Mr. Harrington was married March 5th, 1860 to Martha Parlow. The marriage ceremony was performed by the late A. C. Van Raalte. Mr. Harrington was a quiet Christian and a firm believer in true Christianity. His hope of the future was always bright and he had great joy in the thought that he would meet his many friends that had gone on before him in Heaven, where there would be no more parting.

He lived by faith and not by sight. And thus that faith he saw the light. That helped him on his dying day. As he was called from earth away. He knew that God did reign above. And that he was a God of love. And that his chosen ones would live in peace and love beyond the grave.

How often he has told me that when sorrow and sad thoughts came into his life he would take his rifle and stroll into the solitude of the forest and take his bible from his pocket and read the words of hope and cheer.

Mr. Harrington was confined to his bed only a little over a week and passed away as quietly as a sleeping babe. He leaves an aged wife, and three children, Austin, Burton, and Mrs. Rev. Hoffman of this city and three brothers ex-mayor E. J. Harrington, Millard of Jackson and Wilbur; also by seven grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

The following lines we dedicate to our beloved friends and neighbor: We shall miss your friend and neighbor true. As we think of the days of old. When we shared each other's joys and cares With a friendship as pure as gold.

We will often sit and think of you When we are all alone For memory is the only friend That sorrow can call for own.

Like a vine that circles the lifeless trunk. When all things seem to decay. Our love for you will still remain. And never fade away.

And now thy soul has gone beyond. To a fairer world on high. And may we live by faith and hope And be with you by and by.

—Eugene Fairbanks.

LOCALS

Attorney Raymond Visscher left last evening for Chicago where he will be on business for a few days.

The Board of Education of Grand Haven Wednesday afternoon awarded the contract for the new school building to A. R. Morrison of Port Huron. The new building will be constructed of brick and steel and will contain 33 rooms. It will be on Central school site and face Seventh street, joining the present building in the rear.

C. J. Dregman has resigned his position as field manager of the Holland-St. Louis Sugar Co.

An alarm of fire was turned in from box 12 located on Columbia avenue and Ninth street at 7 o'clock last evening. The fire proved to be a roof fire on Mrs. Hopkins' home at corner of 9th and Columbia.

The Hayden-Kardux Auto Co. took a crew of drivers to Flint this morning to drive in a consignment of Obervets. Since the drop in price of these cars this firm is selling cars as fast as they can obtain them from the factory.

Ernest Brooks and Mayor E. P. Stephan were in Grand Rapids on business yesterday.

Prof. Paul E. Hinkamp felled a sturdy maple that was making itself obnoxious in Dr. Hoppers' front yard on East Twelfth street. Apparently, Professor believes that every great man must follow the example of the Father of Our Country.—Hope College Anchor.

A new Inn has been opened at Macatawa Park called the "Kopper Kettle Inn". The hostelry has a copper kettle as a sign. Must be a good place for a New England pot dinner. The Inn is conducted by D. Livingston.

Fred J. Mulder, Hope graduate of 1917, who is at present the superintendent of schools at Concord, Mich., is making considerable success in his work. Besides his regular school work he has interested himself and others in the development of the village library. They already have a library of some 1700 volumes, and, with the funds donated and appropriated for the purpose, it will soon assume sizeable proportions.

Miss Marion VandenBosch of Zeeland has been awarded the high school valedictory honors. Commencement exercises will be held on June 23 and the baccalaureate sermon will be preached June 16.

The Eagle Transfer Lines began business in earnest this morning. The firm is composed of J. V. Smith and G. H. Souter, both Holland men, and they have placed two big trucks one two-ton G. M. C. and one three-ton International. They will conduct a transfer business between Holland and Grand Rapids and intermediate points, delivering freight right to your place of business. They will have their headquarters at the Hayden-Kardux Auto Co. of whom they have purchased the International. Parties having any business for this line can get service by calling them at the Hayden-Kardux Auto Co. and leaving their order. They also expect to handle van loads of furniture to any part of the state. The freight schedule will consist at present of two trips daily between Holland and Grand Rapids.

LARGE STILL IS DISCOVERED ON OTTAWA FARM

That the home brew people in Ottawa county have not yet fully learned their lesson but are still in the game of manufacturing the liquor which they can no longer conveniently buy was shown Tuesday when the sheriff's department captured a private still that for size has anything but that has ever been discovered in Ottawa county.

The still was discovered on the farm of Mike O'Hava in Robinson township. O'Hava was not caught in the act of manufacturing the liquor but all the "makings" were there, and circumstantial evidence at least very strongly points to the fact that liquor was being made on the O'Hava farm in a considerable quantity.

The sheriff's force found a large still and an extra large coil as well as all the other machinery necessary to make "hooch". The officers moreover came upon ten barrels of mash, also upon a quantity of rye and apples. Taking all these articles into consideration, Sheriff Del Fortney believes that he has found a booze making establishment that has turned out the goods on rather a large scale.

The raid was made by Sheriff Del Fortney, and deputies Nick DeWitt and Oscar Klumpel. O'Hava was placed under arrest and taken to Grand Haven to answer the charge. There have been a number of arrests in the county for illicit manufacture of liquor since prohibition went into effect, but most of the stills discovered were small and crude compared with the one found on the O'Hava farm.

PUTS IN THE POLLYANNA

In order to accommodate Electric Washing machine users with a machine that is within the reach of all, the Winstrom Electric Co. has signed up with the Pollyanna company to take on their thoroughly tried machine. The Pollyanna has leaped into leadership because it offers the American housewife a better machine at amazingly low price.

The Pollyanna is without question the greatest washing machine value on the market today with copper tub and swinging wringer. It sells for $135 which is amazingly low for a machine which has the merits of the Pollyanna.

Thursday morning the assembly enjoyed a short program. Henry Karsten rendered a violin solo accompanied by Miss Kaston. Esther Ten Brink gave a reading.

MAYOR STEPHAN WILL NOT PRESIDE ON DECORATION DAY

At the Decoration Day meeting held in G. A. R. hall Tuesday evening, Mayor Stephan broke the hard and fast rules established by precedent in Holland, namely that the Mayor of the town preside at the Decoration Day doings to be held in Centennial Park.

As long as one can remember, Holland's chief executive has been called upon to make a few remarks and to introduce the speaker of the day, and in other ways take a prominent part in the exercises.

At Tuesday night's meeting, Mr. Stephan made his own motion that the Honorable G. J. Diekema on this occasion, be chosen the chairman of the day.

Mr. Stephan stated that as mayor, he had acted in that capacity several times before, and he believed in passing these honorary positions around, and this year he preferred to work in the ranks and come to the exercises with his fellow colleagues, namely the aldermen and city officials, whom the invitation committee has especially invited.

Mr. Stephan stated that this year we were to have an extraordinarily fine speaker, namely Chase S. Osborn, former governor, and he wished to see to it that this eminent man was introduced by a speaker, second to none in the state of Michigan and for that reason he urged that G. J. Diekema be selected by those present at the meeting.

Those who were at the gathering felt that the mayor was very magnanimous in his request, and told him so.

Mr. Stephan said, "While this may be establishing a new precedent, I feel that 'Diek' can do ever so much better than I could do, who do not pretend to be an orator; therefore let's have an oratorical treat this year, all around. Chase S. Osborn is a wonderful speaker. Let's have a man to introduce him, that stands on a par with the best in the state. Therefore let's give Holland its very best."

HOLLAND SHIPS FOUR TONS OF OLD CLOTHES

Holland is likely to establish a record in Michigan, and perhaps in the United States, for generosity on Bundle Day. The fact that Holland a city of 12000, contributed either as much or perhaps more than Grand Rapids, a city about a dozen times as large, gives an idea of what the people here did for the sake of clothing the people of the Near East.

The old clothes collected in Holland on May 5th weighed very nearly eight thousand pounds, or four tons.

The shipment was made Tuesday, the intervening days having been required to bale the goods and get them ready for shipment. They will be sent to Detroit where warehouses have been temporarily placed at the disposal of the Michigan committee.

The local committee, headed by Mrs. W. J. Olive, Wednesday cordially thanked not only the people who contributed but also all those who helped to bale the goods and get them ready for shipment. Men from a number of factories came and donated their services for this work.

The size of Holland's contribution can be estimated from the fact that James J. Spillane, state director of the relief organization Wednesday announced that the whole state of Michigan had contributed 12 carloads of clothes and shoes. Holland's share of this is considerably over half a carload.

Arrangements will be made to send the apparel to New York in a special freight train, labelling it as Michigan's answer to the plea of hundreds of thousands of men, women and children in Armenia and nearby areas who are entirely dependent on America for their existence.

At the final meeting of the year of the Social Progress Club, held on Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. N. Robinson, former Mayor N. Bosch was elected president of the club for the coming year. Other officers elected Tuesday night are: first vice president, W. E. Vander Hart; second vice president, Dr. Leenhouts; secretary and treasurer, Dr. A. T. Godfrey; members of the executive committee, Prof. W. Wichers and Henry Winter.

Dr. F. N. Patterson at the meeting Tuesday night read a highly entertaining as well as an instructive paper on the subject, "Worms in Worms, or Things Are Not What They Seem." The paper was a masterpiece of ironic comment on social conventions, personal characteristics, and the foibles and follies of the human worm, much of it in an allusion of the life of the earthworm. The speaker noted as a desirable quality of the earthworm that he stayed on solid ground, unlike many people who fail to understand the essential divinity of facts. Also the silence of the earthworm about his own achievements and aspirations was contrasted with the garrulity of most people on the same subjects; and the copious vague talk about "service" of the present day came in for considerable castigation on the part of the speaker. He held out for the idea that usually genuine service does not talk about itself but that much of that which is extolled publicly as service consists of actions that are coersions of the social group in which people find themselves.

MEMORIAL DAY PROGRAM WILL AGAIN BE HELD IN MORNING

Preliminary Decoration Day meetings have always been slimly attended, but Tuesday evening quite a respectable crowd gathered at the G. A. R. hall to take preliminary steps towards celebrating Memorial Day properly and for the purpose of appointing the necessary committees in whose power it will be to either make the day a success or a failure.

Prompt work on the part of the committees is requested as the time is generally all too short, and a great deal of work is to be done.

The flower committee especially has its hands full to get the necessary floral tributes for this occasion.

Last year Jack Frost held sway until within 15 days of Decoration day, and also some difficulty was experienced. This year the spring Zephyrs came early, and the lilacs which heretofore were a mainstay on Memorial Day, will be through blooming, and of course other kinds of flowers will have to be substituted.

For many years the Decoration day exercises have been held in the afternoon. In fact this can be said to have occurred since the time that the day was observed in this city.

Two years ago however a change was requested and the exercises were held in the morning. This new order of things met with such general approval and turned out so satisfactorily that this year too, the exercises will again be held in the morning. It is very doubtful if Holland will ever change back to the afternoon exercises.

On Sunday, May 29 Memorial Services will be conducted under the auspices of Grace Episcopal church, but for want of sufficient seating capacity the memorial services will be held in the Hope church. Rev. M. L. Tate, rector of Grace church will preach the memorial Sunday sermon to the boys in Blue, the Spanish War veterans and the World War soldiers, and the auxiliary bodies connected with the G. A. R. Post and the Willard G. Leenhouts Post. These bodies will gather at G. A. R. Hall at 10 o'clock a. m. and will march to the church in time for the exercises to be held there.
