CHICKEN RAISERS MUST COME TO THIS MEETING

IF YOU WANT TO SAVE MONEY HEAR PROFESSOR DANN

Secretary Brower of the Holland Poultry Association states that on Monday, May 14 (fast time), Professor A. B. Dann, head of the Poultry Extension and Research Work of the James Manufacturing Co. of Fort Atkinson, Wis., is to lecture on the subject "Poultry house and brooder construction."

Mr. Dann is an authority on poultry raising, and has his subject well in hand. He was formerly instructor in the poultry department at Cornell College, one of the leading universities in the country.

Because of the late spring and cold and for some other reasons to be gone into in detail later, many of the poultry men and farmers in this vicinity have been having hard luck with their chicks.

Some of this hard luck may be caused by ignorance in raising, but of course not entirely so.

The information that professor Dann can give will eliminate largely such loss as many poultry raisers have sustained, provided his methods are followed out, and as Secretary Brower states, "the proper housing of chicks is half of their bringing up, and since the baby chick season is now in full swing, all those interested in poultry should attend this meeting."

Remember, the meeting is to be Monday evening at the city hall, and everyone is welcome, the ladies being especially invited.

ALPENA ROAD WILL BE NEARLY COMPLETED THIS SUMMER

Chairman Austin Harrington of the Ottawa County Road commission says that the contract has been let for 1500 feet of concrete to finish up the intervening space between the Macadam and the last hill toward Lakewood Farm.

Last year the hill was taken care of with a wide piece of concrete. Now the space from the hill to the school or in other words the Ottawa Beach intersection will be completed.

All that will be remaining then is the stretch from the hill west to Lakewood Farm, also a distance of about 1500 feet.

Mr. Harrington hopes to have this completed this summer if funds are available.

MILWAUKEE FIRM SELLS BEER IN HOLLAND

MANY BITE; MANY BUY—BUT FIND THAT THE BEER IS O, SO NEAR!

A gang of smooth traveling men said to come from the city of Milwaukee, stepped off the train a few days ago and "siding" up to several of our townspeople who looked as if they liked the amber brew that existed before the eighteenth amendment, held sway, did a land office business.

From one who got stung, and who happened to be a business man, this paper got the following story:

"Smooth traveling men from Milwaukee called on me, and in a soft, velvety voice asked whether I desired to buy some real beer.

"I have no objection to a bottle of beer occasionally, but got suspicious knowing that the minions of the law are constantly on the watch, and that the wholesale shipping of beer could not possibly get by in Holland.

"I asked the man who claims to have sold several Holland people, how he was going to 'put it across,' as our local authorities were constantly on the watch.

"Ah," whispered the man in confidence, we don't pay any attention to the small officers. We stand in with the 'guys' higher up."

According to the citizen, a traveling man told him that the original five percent beer came in bottles packed in barrels.

Six dollars down for the empties and $25 for the beer that filled the bottles to be paid C. O. D.

The citizen said further that the agents had secured at least 30 to 35 purchasers or possibly more, each for a barrel.

Well, anyway, the barrels arrived via the Pere Marquette it is stated, and arrangements were made for a few parties at least, and the sampling of the bottles was soon in progress, but to the chagrin of the recipient, the beer was oh, so near, but it was not beer.

Apparently the kick was left in Milwaukee the place made famous by its liquid refreshments.

This paper cannot vouch for the entire truth of this story, not having been invited up to this time to sample the amber.

Anyway this is the sad tale that was being told at the Holland "Coffee Kletz" where never an untruth is told—maybe.

MORE THAN $200,000 TO BE SPENT AT OTTAWA BEACH

CONCRETE ROAD WILL CUT OFF SANDY STRETCH NEAR POWER HOUSE

Also Concrete Highway To the Bathing Beach

Hotel Ottawa just now is a busy bee hive.

Fred Pantlind, the live wire hotel man of Grand Rapids, who heads the new company that purchased this property has thirty men busy remodeling, redecorating and reshingling the large hostelry.

A new range system for cooking is being installed, the dining room is being remodeled, many of the rooms are being changed, and every room, the lobby and the dining hall, as well as the dance hall are to be refurnished and redecorated.

The entire hotel is to be repainted and by the time guests arrive, the place will be spic and span, and as good as new.

A swimming pool, tennis courts, and a place where band concerts will be played from time to time are figuring in the plans.

This part of the expenditure is to be in the neighborhood of $150,000.

Another vast improvement is to be a 16 foot concrete highway leading from the Ottawa Beach road along the Pere Marquette right of way by the hotel and continuing to the bathing beach on Lake Michigan.

There a small loop will be constructed enabling motorists to turn about with ease.

This stretch of road will cut off the deep sandy stretch around the old power house, and motorists will go more direct into the grounds, cutting off the big long curve the only road now available.

Large spaces will also be reserved for parking purposes and other conveniences for the automobile tourists trade will be provided.

Charles Behm & Co., builders, have been awarded the contract for a big concrete job for the Ottawa Beach Hotel company.

It expected that expenditures on hotel and concrete highway will be in the neighborhood of $200,000.

MRS. HAKKEN OF HOLLAND TELLS OF ARABIAN CONDITIONS

The Allegan News prints the following interesting letter from Mrs. Hakken, formerly Miss Elda Van Putten of this city:

The Queen Esther Circle of the Presbyterian church have just received a letter from Mrs. Bern Hakken, who was formerly Miss Elda Van Putten of the Allegan High school, who has for seven months been a missionary at Barhein, Persian gulf, Arabia.

Everything in Arabia is ancient except the missionaries, she says. When they want anything they have to write to India for it which takes three weeks for the letter to go; then three weeks for the article to come back to Barhein. So when they find out they need something, and order it, by the time it comes they have forgotten that they had ever wanted it. It takes longer for them to order and get something by mail than for a person living in San Francisco to write and receive an answer from England.

It was 80 degrees at noon that day that letter was written, March 3. "The summer will be long and hot," says Mrs. Hakken, "but I do not expect to mind the heat as I enjoy hot weather."

Mr. Hakken says they are beginning to understand so much more, and are able to converse more each day. She says she can now get the gist of sermons and talks given in Arabic.

She tells of the case of an Arabian woman, who was married at the age of nine to a man of about 25. At her first child was born, and after that each year another, but all died. The mother said pitifully "how could they live, I was just a child myself, and didn't know how to take care of them." Finally one child lived to be six or seven, this was a boy and the eighth child. He became very sick, and she tried all her native remedies but nothing helped, so finally in desperation, (she was a very strong Moslem) she came to the mission hospital.

The doctor wanted her to leave the child under his care but she refused until at last she could see he would die, then she asked if she could stay with him. They allowed her to stay. The woman of the mission asked her to come to prayer meeting, but she scoffed at them and refused. Then because all were so kind to her she came out of curiosity, and kept coming and coming. The boy recovered and the mother became a fast friend of the mission. She has not come out openly for Christianity; has not been baptized, for if she did, her husband would divorce her, and she would be cast off from all her people. Later the son died, but she has another son and also a little girl of whom she is passionately fond, and her husband says if she comes out for Christ, he will take the girl away from her and the law would uphold him, for it is a Moslem. Mrs. Hakken says for such as these they need our prayers, as it is only through the love of Christ that conditions there can be changed.

Milton Parker of Grand Haven was arrested by Undersheriff Spangler for being intoxicated. Parker was on probation at the time. He was arraigned Wednesday but no disposition of his case was made at yet.

HOTEL OTTAWA PLASTERING PIKE WITH SIGNS

BEAUTIFUL ELECTRIC SIGN ON ALPENA ROAD

Holland is to get some more favorable advertising, since Fred Pantlind has taken the management of Hotel Ottawa.

Holland is being advertised on large signs stuck all along the West Michigan Pike to the city of Chicago and even further West.

It is stated that signs are also placed on the Dixie Highway which connects up with the Pike near Benton Harbor.

Mr. Pantlind has also erected a electric sign 12 feet high by 30 feet long at the intersection of the Alpena road West and the Ottawa Beach road South.

A large painting of the hotel covers nearly the entire sign. It is a work of art and a large hand points to the road that leads to the original.

MISSIONARY TELLS OF BANDITS IN CHINA

TRAIN HOLDUPS SUCH AS HAS JUST BEEN REPORTED ARE VERY COMMON

Dr. De Pree of China Tells the Exchange Club About the Orient

The speaker at the Exchange Club dinner yesterday was Dr. De Pree, who for several years has been a missionary in China, and told some very interesting things especially as these relate to Chinese bandits who captured many foreigners including several Americans took all their belongings and made men and women leave the train in their night clothes, with bare feet, marching them over the rough country into the mountains.

Mr. De Pree states that this is not an unusual thing in China.

He started his discourse by saying that the Chinese are imitating civilized countries wherever this is possible. When American and foreign warships appeared on parade in Chinese waters the young Chinese must have and advocated warships for China. He advocates soldiers and guns like America has.

He even imitates strikes the way these are conducted in the United States and the Chinese even carry their strikes into the colleges, when professors and methods do not suit their liking.

So when soldiers were recruited they followed their ancient doctrine of getting the man who is the most fit. The most fit man to fight the officials thought was the bandit. Therefore soldiers were recruited from the roving nomad tribes.

Now China is endeavoring to disband her soldiers and dispose of her army and the soldiers better equipped because of no wages given them in the army go back to banditry.

The government tries to suppress these bands sends soldiers in pursuit when they hear of depredations, but the soldiers who at one time were bandits or have relatives that are bandits or even share in the loot with the bandits accomplish very little. Such robberies as reported in the papers have been going on for years, but the bandits have captured and placed at ransom, mostly rich Chinese.

Occasionally foreigners are mixed in the roundups, but apparently in the present case, because of the prominence of the people captured considerable more publicity is given in the world press.

As a rule these soldier bandits first ask for ransom and if the ransom is not forthcoming quickly the torturing begins.

Placing shells between the fingers and pinching them is one method. The second degree is placing the fingers in a vice and flattening them. The next is the cutting off of a finger and sending it to the prisoner's relatives or friends in order to hurry up the payment.

Notwithstanding this worse side of China there is a lot of good being done in that benighted country where only one out of seven can read or write.

The Chinese love America and Americans. This country is the one country that has given them a square deal and they will never forget it.

To show what Christianity has done for China of the 60 Odd Chinese representatives at the world conference recently held, 23 were Christian men. All China needs is guidance, such as the Americans are endeavoring to give and doing this unselfishly.

The spirit of unselfishness on the part of the Americans during the World War which the countries of Europe cannot even conceive and looked upon with suspicion are thoroughly appreciated by the enlightened Chinese. He knows there are no strings attached when the American government gives its good offices to the Yellow race.

A very interesting sidelight in Mr. DePree's discussion will set coal consumers thinking.

He states that 100 miles from Amoy harbor hard coal is sold and delivered one mile by Chinese carriers for $2 a ton while a hundred miles away in Amoy harbor where civilization exists where transportation is adequate the poorest soft coal sells for $15 a ton. This statement surely should set folks thinking.

Mr. De Pree says that the national resources of China have just been scratched on the surface and the coal and mineral deposits not speaking of oil are simply unlimited.

HOLLAND MAN DID NOT JUMP OVER THE NIAGARA FALLS

WIFE OF JAMES F. DEAN INFORMED THAT HUSBAND HAD COMMITTED SUICIDE

Edward Sooter secretary of the local Masonic Order has been working on a peculiar case at the request of Mrs. James Dean, who lives on West Tenth street.

The husband of Mrs. Dean is missing. It is said and a few days ago she received a clipping from a Niagara Falls paper which showed that a man by the name of Fred Dean had committed suicide by jumping over the Niagara Falls. One of the clippings gives the following information:

"City police last night located the rooming house where Fred Dean, the latest Falls suicide lived. Dean had roomed for three weeks at No. 371 First street, where he was known as a quiet and desirable roomer. His effects were turned over to the police yesterday by the proprietor of the rooming house and are now at police headquarters being held for any relatives of the man who may call for them and prove his identity.

"Among the paper are several letters and photographs. One of the photographs is evidently a likeness of Dean's parents who are dead. A bank book shows $50 on deposit in a local bank. There was $18 cash in the room. On the day that Dean is believed to have gone over the Falls he left a note on his dresser and $5 to pay his room rent which was due.

"Yesterday officer of the Falls Masonic lodge received a telegram from a Michigan lodge asking for a description of the suicide and stating that a James Dean was missing. Several other inquiries from persons in search of missing men have been received by the police. In each case replies have been sent out the identity of the suicide has been established."

Mr. Sooter immediately got busy and wired the Niagara River Lodge, F. & A. M. and received a detailed description of the man in question and this description did not tally with that of the missing man of Holland.

The letter received by Mr. Sooter from the lodge states that the police believe that they have established the identity of the man, and he is not the man Mr. Sooter is looking for.

The letter states that it is not likely that the body will be found until early in summer as the river below the Falls is choked with ice, and there is a chance that it will never be found because of the ice. A body is liable to be ground to pieces.

Usually when there is no ice in the river bodies are recovered in ten or twelve days.

MAKING ARRANGEMENTS FOR DECORATION DAY

Mayor Stephan has called a meeting of all citizens who can give a helping hand to make memorial day a success. The meeting is called for Monday evening at 7:30 at the city hall in G. A. R. rooms. Don't forget the evening. NEXT MONDAY. At that time all committees will be appointed and provisions for flowers, decorations and music will be made.

CITY OF GRAND RAPIDS DELAYED ON ACCOUNT OF FIRE

The City of Grand Rapids in making the trip from Holland also makes Benton Harbor, but when it endeavored to enter that port, it was found that a $100,000 fire in the Preston Lumber yards right next to the docks was in full blaze and the steamer could not get to its landing because of the intense heat.

Several hours were spent at the harbor's mouth at St. Joseph until the fire had subsided then the steamer was loaded, proceeded to Chicago and will not arrive here until this afternoon.

FRUIT MEN SAY FRUIT WAS NOT HURT MUCH

The snow storm and rain really saved the fruit crop. The clearing weather that followed with heavy frost promised by the weatherman set the whole of Western Michigan worrying.

The freeze wasn't heavy however, altho a white frost was evident here and there but was gone by sunup.

The rain, the melting snow, absorbed the cold frost, and very little damage if any, was done to the blossoming trees.

Mr. G. J. Deur called up after a thorough inspection of his orchard and states that he can find no damage to either cherries or apples, but that the early strawberries and gooseberries have suffered a trifle, but the growers will not sustain a severe loss.

The weather bureau reports rising temperature and it is hoped that the worries of the fruit men will be over for this year at least.

It seems that this locality has gotten nearly all the winter that is coming to it.

MOTHER'S DAY

St. Agnes Guild girls will sell carnations Saturday. Headquarters at Jake Haan's new location, River and 8th street. Proceeds will go to Grace Episcopal church. 21253

The Chamber of Commerce of Benton Harbor have invited the members of the Exchange club of Holland to that city on May 14, "Which is Blossom Time" in the great fruit belt. There are more peaches around Benton Harbor than in any other place in Michigan.

WILL PROTECT THE PUBLIC AGAINST DRUNKEN DRIVERS

The Ottawa county deputy sheriffs in the vicinity of Holland and the Black Lake resorts are going to show no mercy this summer to automobile drivers who operate their cars while under the influence of liquor. Each summer there are a number of such cases, usually persons from other cities who come here to spend a vacation and who incidentally "tank up" while away from the home surroundings. But few will be able to get away with it while the Ottawa officers are on the job.

The first case of that kind was on the docket of Justice Van Schelven Tuesday morning when George M. Leonard, a Grand Rapids advertising man, was brought in. Leonard on Monday night was driving a high-powered Haynes car and when he was approaching Jenison Park it appears that he could no longer see the road, or if he could see it, it seems that it looked to him as if the concrete took a different course from what it did. In any event, Leonard and his car landed in the deep sand opposite the place where "Professor" Taylor has his place of business. The wheels were buried to the hubs and it took two power of another car hitched to the Haynes to drag it out and back on to the concrete.

This job was done by Deputy Ed Vander West and Deputy George Moomey. Incidentally these officers also placed Leonard under arrest on the charge of operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor. He appeared in Justice Van Schelven's court Tuesday morning and was very promptly fined $100 and costs amounting to $6.85. He paid both without demur.

"That is only a sample," said Deputy Vander West, "of what is going to happen to others who drive cars while under the influence of liquor. We are going to try our level best to protect careful drivers against the menace of irresponsible drivers."

HOPE PROFESSOR IS WELL RICED

Professor Francis Vander Veen, who occupies the chair of Latin at Hope College, quietly left town the forepart of last week, and got married to Miss Helen Jean Gordon, of Detroit. The wedding took place at Detroit on Friday and the happy couple have returned to this city.

When Prof. Vander Veen appeared in college Monday morning he naturally received the congratulations of the entire faculty not alone but was thoroughly riced by every class that appeared before him.

He took the showers good-naturedly and the students just as good-naturedly were compelled to sweep up in the room after each class session.

It goes without saying that Latin was far from the minds of both professor and students at least on Monday, and if the climate permits, there will be a veritable rice field this summer near the exit of Prof. Vander Veen's room, where the sweepings were deposited.

"LEST WE FORGET," "LEST WE FORGET!"

Folks will be thoughtful when it comes to driving an automobile.

Below are three different kinds of violations that the police had to take care of: G. J. Kleis without thinking parked his car too near a water hydrant which was properly marked off with a large sign, "Do not park within 15 feet of this hydrant." Justice Brusse fined him $3.70.

Oscar Nystrom didn't remember the right side of a street car and consequently drove on the wrong side. That didn't make any difference with Officer O'Connor and Justice Van Schelven assessed him $13.70.

R. W. Waterman, a divine from Spring Lake didn't appreciate the fact that he was going 30 on that wonderful pavement on 17th street. "13.70" said Justice Den Herder. Officer Bonetko gathered in the gentleman from Spring Lake.

FORMER HOLLAND GIRL WEDS DETROIT MAN

A wedding of great interest to many Holland people occurred in Detroit on Saturday when Miss Geneva Van Putten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martinus Van Putten of Grand Rapids, formerly of Holland, was united in marriage to Mr. John A. Blok of Detroit. The marriage was performed by Rev. H. J. Veldman, formerly of Holland, and was a complete surprise to the many relatives and friends of the couple.

The bride was visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Douglas P. Hoey, when she quietly slipped away and was married.

The bride was educated in the Holland schools and for a number of years taught in the Holland schools, but lately has been teaching in Grand Rapids. She was a graduate of the Holland high school and attended Hope college; she is also a graduate of Michigan State Normal.

The groom, who from Grand Rapids, is employed in Detroit where he holds a position with the Peninsular State bank. After the news of the marriage had leaked out a number of friends and relatives called on the young couple to extend their congratulations.

There was a good deal of excitement in Holland high school Monday afternoon because of the publication of the annual "Boomerang." This is an important event in the course of the school year and the general opinion this year is that the annual of 1923 is the best ever.

A very good novel idea in this year's "Boomerang" is the dedication. Generally the book is dedicated to some member of the faculty, but this year it is dedicated to the parents, school board and citizens of Holland. It contains pictures and information about all school activities and also has some very interesting snapshots of students and teachers.

If there are any people of Holland who care to buy a "Boomerang" they can obtain them by calling at Holland High school office.

FEW CHANGES MADE IN SET OF CITY OFFICERS

The common council held its regular meeting Monday night for the purpose of making appointment of city officers. The meeting was hardly more than a routine affair as there was no controversy in regard to any of the appointments. The various offices were filled almost without discussion and in most cases the present incumbents were re-appointed.

The following appointments were made: City Attorney, Charles H. McBride; president pro tem of the council, Ald. Frank Brive; city inspector, and city poor commissioner, Henry S. Bosch; city engineer, Jacob Zuidema; city health officer, Dr. B. B. Godfrey, member of the board of park and cemetery commissioners, Cecil Huntley, to fill the place vacated by Benj. Brower, who resigned when he became county treasurer; members of the harbor board, G. J. Diekema and Austin Harrington; member of the library board, Henry Geerlings; member of the board of health, Dr. T. A. Boot; member of the hospital board, Mrs. W. J. Olive.

The council by a unanimous vote raised the salary of the city clerk from $2600 to $2800, of the city assessor from $2400 to $2600; the city treasurer from $1400 to $1800, with the understanding that he is to furnish all his own help where formerly the city provided such help. The city inspector and poor commissioner from $1000 to $1200. The salaries of all the other city officers remained the same.

At the conclusion of the meeting City Attorney McBride took the council members to Keefer's restaurant and gave them a "spread."

ONE KILLED, TWO HURT AS MOTORCYCLE HITS BUGGY

While returning from Grand Rapids Sunday night Wallie Dyer of Allegan was killed when the motorcycle on which he was riding at a high rate of speed collided with a horse and buggy driven by Miles Smith, three miles north of Allegan. In the buggy with Mr. Smith was his wife, who suffered a strained back and a badly injured forearm. Riding with Mr. Dyer was Harry Magorhan, who sustained a broken collar bone besides other minor injuries. Dyer received a fractured skull and a badly lacerated face. He died in the John Robinson hospital four hours after the accident.

HOLLAND FAIR IS IN RACE CIRCUIT

The Western Michigan Racing Circuit is the name of the new organization which has been promoted by officers of five fair associations in western Michigan. F. C. Parker of Hastings has been elected president and John Arendshorst of Holland, secretary. The purpose of the organization is to provide each fair with the best possible racing program. The entry fee of 3 per cent will be uniform.

The members of the association, and the dates for this year's exhibitions are: Allegan fair, Aug. 28-31; South Ottawa and West Allegan at Holland, Sept. 11-15; West Michigan in Grand Rapids, Sept. 17-22; Hastings, Sept. 5-7; Hartford, Sept. 25-29. All races will be governed under the American Trotting Association rules and combination advertising will be run in the horse journals.

FORD THAT WAS AT THE BOTTOM OF THE LAKE ALMOST AS GOOD AS NEW

You can't kill a Ford, according to "Casey" Jones of the Waverly road. On January 14th Jones and some companions were driving over the ice on Black Lake when the ice gave way and the Ford went to the bottom of the lake. It remained in the water until January 21st, and Jones friends, by way of kidding him, declared that he might as well kiss his car good-bye. But Jones had faith in his fiver and he decided that there was still some life in the old bus. He began tinkering at it and hopefully coaxed it back to normalcy.

Today the car was driven to Holland and the attention of many who had made dire predictions was called to it. It is nicely repainted and its innards have been overhauled. While it does not exactly look as good as new it is a real good fiver again, and Jones says there are many years of hard service left in it.

DISCOVERY OF SCIENTIST MAY PRODUCE CANCER CURE

London, May 8.—The cause of cancer may be on the verge of discovery. British medical men declared today following announcement that Dr. A. H. Drew, of the Imperial Cancer Research Foundation had succeeded with the aid of a salt solution, in cultivating and growing cancerous tumors. Scientists now propose to work backward and find the cause of the growth.

WELL KNOWN MISSION WORKER PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Clifford Harrington, aged 39 years, died Monday night at her home on South Lincoln avenue after an illness of thirteen weeks. Mrs. Harrington's maiden name was Bessie L. Gee and she was born in Allendale on Feb. 12, 1884. Later she moved to Holland with her parents and made this city her home. On March 3, 1914, she was married to Clifford Harrington, and three children were born to them, of whom two survive, Irvee aged four and Wayne aged two. Besides her husband and children, Mrs. Harrington is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Harold Porter of Grand Rapids, Mrs. R. M. Carroll of Big Rapids, and one brother, George H. Gee of Grand Rapids. Before her marriage Mrs. Harrington was a prominent worker in the city mission, having been associated with Miss Churchford for eight years. She has also been a prominent worker in the Wesleyan Methodist church. The funeral was held Thursday forenoon at ten o'clock at the home in South Lincoln avenue, Miss Nellie Churchford and Rev. Mr. Kingsbury officiating.

Grand Haven is making preparations for Memorial day.

OTTAWA LEADS IN OTHER LINES BE- SIDES POULTRY

The Michigan Farm Bureau News, a newspaper issued twice a month in Lansing, contains an article nearly two columns in length about Ottawa county. Much of the article is devoted to the poultry business here, the facts of which are familiar to all. But Ottawa leads in other things than poultry, and the Michigan Farm Bureau News gives some of them as follows:

"Ottawa is the second largest commercial fertilizer using county in Michigan. The Farm Bureau has saved many dollars for the farmers thru fertilizer meetings held through various local co-ops. Information on the correct fertilizers and how to use them has resulted in an increased use of high grade fertilizers and a decreased use of low grade fertilizer. People are being more careful and know more about the right kind of fertilizer for their places.

"The Farm Bureau has 12 fertilizer demonstrations on fruit under way and has gotten very good results on grapes and small fruits. Emil Hildebrand of Spring Lake reported increased return of 18 cents per vine over the cost of fertilizer.

"Even with a lot of sand, Ottawa stands second in muck crops production and the Farm Bureau has been carrying on fertilizer investigations for two years. It has shown that where muck growers use high potash fertilizer they will get most profitable results. H. Kiel, a celery grower of Hudsonville, fertilized one plot at the rate of 750 pounds of potash and 750 pounds of acid phosphate. No fertilizer was placed on the adjoining plot. The unfertilized plot returned $653.40 per acre. The fertilized plot returned $843.18 per acre after the cost of the fertilizer had been deducted, leaving a clear profit of $189.78 per acre.

"The Ottawa County Farm Bureau has doubled the acreage of alfalfa and sweet clover during the past two years and expects to double it again. It induced Stanley Kurch of Marne, among others, to grow M. A. C. Yellow Dent certified corn. His 1922 yield was 137 baskets per acre. He had been getting around 50. He helped his yield by using cover crops and acid phosphate, which the Farm Bureau advised. Glenn Getty of Coopersville, got Farm Bureau and soy beans from the Coopersville Co-op, and he claims that he can do better with them than he can with wheat.

"Ottawa is going strong in live stock work. The county is ready for a tuberculosis eradication campaign as soon as State funds are available. The Farm Bureau is lining up 3 cow testing association. It has hog cholera pretty well under control and has killed two out-breaks at the start. Whenever a case is spotted, the Bureau is able to notify everybody within a mile of the place at once and a protecting ring of quarantine is drawn around the center of infection at once. It stays on until the danger is over. Ottawa has not lost 50 hogs through hog cholera in the past four years.

"Ottawa leads again by having a co-operative association in every important trading center but one. They are doing business for their members. The County Farm Bureau is working very closely with them and has organized several.

"The Holland Co-operative Ass'n at Holland serves 500 members. It buys farm supplies for its members and markets their products—wheat, rye and oats, through the Elevator Exchange, of which it is a member. It is also a member of the Farm Bureau Produce Exchange at Detroit. It finds Farm Bureau Milkmaid the best of all dairy feeds. In 1922 the Holland Co-op. and its branch at Harlem did about $520,000 business.

"The Zeeland Farm Bureau Exchange does a prosperous business in Milkmaid, fertilizer, coal, cement and other farm supplies and markets for its members.

"Grand Haven Association handles all supplies for its members.

"Berlin Farm Bureau local has a specialty in a wheat trucking service into Grand Rapids. The trucks come to the farm for wheat and save time and labor for the members.

Your Instincts Urge You To Build a House Around Your Own Best Thoughts.

When it comes to building a home for your own individual requirements, what reason have you to trust entirely to the ideas of some "house-manufacturer", who cannot possibly feel inwardly about some things exactly as you feel.

Your neighbor's house may be very nice indeed, and very saleable, too, but that doesn't mean that your house will be any less desirable if you satisfy your own desires about building.

It is true that some people are actually afraid of themselves, and yet what, may we ask, did the Creator give us that is more precious than our own individualities.

And how can we express our own selves more fully than in the building of a home?

Isn't a man missing a great opportunity if he builds without putting his own ideas into his own home?

With the aid of our Draftsmen and skilled Planners, you will not only find this experience easy enough but tremendously interesting. Some customers consider it "thrilling". Complete information won't obligate you in the least, and if you decide to build this way, you'll get the benefit of a wholesale price all the way through.

A NEAR LYNCHING TAKES PLACE AT OTTAWA BEACH

Fred Churchill, who has just been released after serving a ninety day sentence at Grand Haven, having been sent over for taking indecent liberties with little Holland girls 7 and 8 years old, nearly became the principal in a lynching bee at Ottawa Beach.

Churchill went to Ottawa Beach on Thursday on the "supposition of looking for work. As he was walking on the highway he met some 12-year-old girls, who were going to school.

With some small change he made indecent proposals to the two little ones. The degenerate then grabbed one of the little lassies but it so happened that the little girls had not gotten very far away from home, and the screams of the two brought the mother from the house and Churchill quickly ducked for a ferry boat with the enraged mother in hot pursuit, soon followed by a crowd of 25 working men who were wild to get at the fugitive, and were liberal with their lynch talk, one even securing a long rope to be thrown over a hickory limb.

Churchill however succeeded in getting across on the ferry and losing himself on the highway and byways of Macatawa.

Bill Murphy immediately telephoned Chief Van Ry asking that a couple of officers be sent immediately to get Churchill stating that he would not vouch for the safety of the moron should he be caught by the would-be lynchers.

The Chief immediately detailed Officers Bontekoe and Stetekete on the job and they found their man in the rear of a garage at Macatawa.

The mother, whose name will not be printed made complaint against Churchill and the man was immediately bound over to Circuit Court by Justice Van Schelven, and is again in the county jail where he will remain, until his trial comes off, having failed to secure a $1000 bond.

Churchill seems to have a mania for accosting very little girls, and with candy or money endeavoring to get into their good graces, and after he has succeeded he makes licentious proposals. This creature should be placed where society will no longer be troubled by him and mothers and little children do not have to fear his presence.

It is needless to say that the man will get his in circuit court if found guilty of the charges placed against him.

PLANS ARE FILED FOR THE NEW HOLLAND HOTEL

Plans for the large fireproof hotel at Holland for the Holland Hotel Co., have been filed at the Builders' and Traders' Exchange. Bids close May 12. Plans call for five stories, mezzanine and basement, 160x103 feet.

It will be one of the most modern hosteleries in western Michigan. There will be about 25 guest rooms on each floor above the second. The exterior trim will be of buff Bedford stone.—Grand Rapids Herald.

NAMED MEMBER OF THE STATE Y. M. C. A. BOARD

C. M. McLean has been chosen as the first member that the city of Holland has ever had on the board of control of the Michigan State Y. M. C. A. Association. Mr. McLean was unanimously chosen by the members of the Holland board, which body sent a committee composed of Secretary Henry W. Smith, Thomas Olinger and Joe Koolker to the board member elect to break the news to him and to ask him to assume the duties of the position and accept the honor that goes with it.

Their mission was successful, Mr. McLean agreeing to accept the office. He will attend his first meeting in the new capacity when he goes to Detroit on May 15 to attend a gathering at which members of the board from all parts of the state will be present.

"The members of the Holland Y board are more than pleased with the fact that Mr. McLean has accepted the duties of the office," said Sec'y Smith. "We have felt from the beginning that he was an ideal man for the position who would bring credit to Holland and to the state board."

Provision for a Holland member on the state board was made at the last state Y. M. C. A. convention held in Grand Rapids. At that time the delegates from Holland asked for representation of this city on the board and that was granted. Then the problem came of finding the right man for the position, and this problem has been solved by the appointment of Mr. McLean.

The Holland member of the state board will represent Holland's interests on the one hand but he will also get Holland in closer touch with the state organization so that the local community can get more benefit from affiliation with the larger body.

G. R. GIRL WILL REPRESENT HOPE IN STATE ONTEST

Miss Agnes Buikema of Grand Rapids won first place Friday evening, in the Woman's Oratorical contest at Hope college. Miss Buikema will represent Hope next year in the Woman's contest of the M. O. L. which will be held at the local school. The subject of her oration was "Where There is Vision." The address was written in a pleasing style and her delivery was very effective. Miss Buikema will be a strong contender in the M. O. L. next year, and her fellow students are all boosting for first place.

Second place was awarded to Miss Mary Lee Siegers of Maple Lake, Minn., who spoke on "The Gem of the Orient." She made a splendid plea for China and appealed to America for more leadership in the relations of the oriental lands. Miss Jean Kupler of Grand Rapids, Wis., was given third rank with the oration "This Progress." Miss Kupler traced modern progress and pointed out its evils.

The contest was very interesting, and a large audience attended. The judges were Mrs. G. J. Diekema, Mrs. C. J. Dregman and Miss Lena DePre.

GIVES $500 AND PEDGES ANOTHER $500 ON SAME DAY

President E. D. Dimment of Hope College was again the recipient of a $500 check from Mr. A. Biemvelt of Chicago for the local institution. Mr. Biemvelt presented the gift at the 6 o'clock dinner in Voorhees hall last evening. At the 8 o'clock meeting of the synod he pledged another $500 gift by July 1st.

Prof. A. Raap announced this morning that he received a gift of a $100 Liberty bond from a friend whose name is not made public. The significance of this gift is that Mr. Raap wrote this friend a letter some time ago and that since then he has responded every six months with a $100 bond, the total amount now being $400.

It is all the more gratifying to receive gifts from these gentlemen since neither of them is today a member of the Reformed church. At one time, however, they were members, and while their direct relationship with the church no longer exists, their love for its efforts and its college, Hope college, still persists.

HERE IS WHO CAUGHT THE LARGEST FISH

A very enthusiastic meeting of the Holland Fish and Game Protective Association, better known as the Holland Rod and Gun Club, was held at the city hall, where a gathering of some 60 odd enthusiastic men came together to discuss the fish and game situation and the laws enacted as these affect Holland and its resorts.

In the first place the committee went to Lansing reported that our Representative Mr. G. W. Kooyers had done some faithful work for his district, and especially for Holland and its resorts in getting legislation passed that would be helpful, rather than harmful in this locality.

Holland is peculiarly located as a tributary to Lake Michigan, and for that reason laws that govern inland lakes would be ridiculous to enforce in and around Black Lake.

For that reason Mr. Kooyers and the Holland Rod and Gun Club have been in close co-operation and one of the bills that Mr. Kooyers was instrumental in killing in the house, although it had passed the senate, was the one dollar license fee on every rod levied to be paid by Michigan fishermen. Holland fishermen can still go to Black Lake and fish to their heart's content without being taxed for doing so.

The committee also reported that the white bass situation has also been fixed up. According to the law there was a closed season on white bass in Black Lake until June 15. According to the new law just passed, fostered by Representative Kooyers, and also the Holland Rod and Gun Club, there is no closed season on White Bass fishing in these waters, and white bass can now be caught at any time with hook and line.

Fishermen can also catch all the perch they want. There is no limit. Endeavor had been made to have stricken out of the law the limit of size. However this clause is having hard sledding and may not pass at this session.

The way the law stands now, Holland fishermen may catch as many perch as they please, over five inches long.

It is noticeable to the committee that legislators had at last got their eyes open to the fact that Holland fishing grounds were different than the inland fishing grounds, for the reason that Black Lake was tributary to Lake Michigan and that really Lake Michigan fish came into bay and went out again, and the fishing laws for fish law in Lake Michigan were diametrically opposed to the laws governing fishing in Black Lake, and further that while some of the state laws were excellent for inland lakes it would be ridiculous to lakes situated as is Black Lake, and legislation is now going on and some has been passed to fit the conditions as these exist in different localities.

Chairman Thos. N. Robinson in a short talk praised Representative Kooyers for his faithful, diligent and effective work in bringing about favorable legislation on the fish question that has stirred up many a nasty mess in this locality.

One of the features of the evening was the dealing out of prizes to fishermen who caught the largest fish of certain species that inhabit our bay.

Here are the prizes as given: Largest Black Bass, Jacob L. Hoffmann, 3 lbs. 8 ounces; one pair of best quality waders.

Largest White Bass, Clifford Nash, 1 lbs. 10 ozs., one $12.50 Anti-back lass reel.

Largest Blue Gill, Al Vanden Berg, 10 1/2 ozs., one 20 ft. jointed pole, 1 dozen hooks, one 3-ft. gut leader and one fisher reel.

Largest perch, Tyde Warner, 1 lb 1 oz., one minnow bucket and one fish reel. No other species of fish were brought in to compete for the other prizes which were offered.

The officers elected for the ensuing year are: president, Thos. N. Robinson; vice-president, Andrew Klompars; secretary, Arend Siersma; treasurer, Neil Van Dyke.

Directors for two years, Frank Nash, C. J. Dornbos; directors who hold over are Peter Smith, Peter Lieveense and Cornell DeWaard. The officers named above were unanimously elected.

HOPE COLLEGE HEAD TO ADDRESS BIBLE CLASSES

President E. D. Dimment of Hope college has been booked as the speaker for the next quarterly meeting of the men's federation of adult Bible classes to be held May 21 in the Reformed church.

The federation comprises 19 classes and has a membership of more than 700. The quarterly meetings are held in rotation in the different churches, each class providing its own program. Assignments of date for Sunday services at the county home have been made for the months from April to November and are in charge of the Bible classes.

MRS. G. E. KOLLEN AT- TENDS WOMAN'S CONVEN- TION IN GEORGIA

Mrs. George E. Kollen left Saturday for Atlanta, Ga., where she will attend the biennial convention of the council of the federation of women's clubs of the United States. Mrs. Kollen attends the convention as the president of the West Central division of the Michigan state federation of women's club. The national federation meets in convention every other year, and the council, now in session at Atlanta, meets every alternate year.

Mrs. Dorian Russell, of Grand Rapids, president of the Michigan state federation of women's clubs, and Mrs. Carl Mather, at one time president of the Grand Rapids Woman's club, also left for Atlanta Saturday to attend the meeting.

Among the speakers at the convention will be Secretary Charles E. Hughes and Ida Clyde Clarke, noted writer on questions of interest to women.

The Lowell Journal of this week contains the following story of a reading given there by Mrs. G. E. Kollen of this city:

"Mrs. Kollen of Holland Entertains Women"

"Members of the Lowell Literary Club, the Clover Leaf Club and a few ladies who are not members of either club to the number of about sixty were delightfully entertained on Tuesday afternoon at the closing meeting of Lowell Literary Club by Mrs. Kollen, District President of the M. S. F. W. C. and her son."

"Mrs. Kollen is a very gracious woman and charming officer and anything she might do would be interesting and well accomplished."

"Her reading of the beautiful drama, 'The House of Rimmon,' by Henry Van Dyke will long be remembered by those who heard her as one of the really effective things that it had been their privilege to hear. The Bible story of Naaman cannot now be easily forgotten after so delightful a writing as Van Dyke, and Mrs. Kollen's sympathetic interpretation."

Mrs. Kollen's son, a young man of perhaps 16 years played unusually well four piano numbers, 'Minuet in G' by Beethoven; 'Polish Dance, Scharwenka; 'Gavotte,' Gluck-Brahms and Rachmaninoff's Prelude in C."

"Mrs. Runciman opened the program with two songs."

A JURY CASE CAME BEFORE SYNOD

Members of the particular synod of Chicago are at present the guests of Hope College while having their annual spring sessions. Some fifty ministers and church officers from this section of the state comprise its membership. Dr. H. J. Veldman of Detroit, formerly pastor of the First Reformed church of this city, is president of the synod for the ensuing year.

Other officers elected are: vice-president, Albertus Pieters; clerks, Rev. C. H. Spaan, pastor of Grace Reformed church, Grand Rapids and the Rev. Henry B. Mollema of Spring Lake. Rev. Peter Moerdyke, continues as stated clerk.

At its opening session Wednesday the synod was addressed by Rev. S. Vanderwerf, field secretary on the board of domestic missions, on home missions and extension work; Rev. G. C. Lennington of New York, on the ministerial pension fund; Dr. Edward D. Dimment of Hope College, on education; Rev. E. J. Blekkink of the Western Seminary, on the ministry, and Rev. W. J. Van Kersen, western district representative of the board of foreign missions on work in the orient.

Rev. N. Boer of Grand Rapids, the retiring president, gave an address on the subject of "Seek and ye shall find, knock and it shall be opened unto you." Rev. Boer has recently returned from an excursion to Palestine. Rev. A. Pieters of Japan was the other speaker of the evening. He lectured on the Japanese religion and showed how Christianity was making an impression on the people there.

This morning the synod joined with the students in their chapel worship. Services were conducted by Rev. H. J. Veldman. So much had been heard of Hope's orator, Simon Heemstra, now of national distinction, that he was requested to address the convocation audience. Hope College takes great pride in being host to such an honorable body and to that end took great pains in having a large Glee club render several anthems.

Before adjourning Particular Synod of the Reformed church holding meetings at Winants Chapel in Holland it was decided to hold the next session at Cedar Grove, Wis.

Synod approved the action of the classes for a realignment of the churches in the Michigan classes, which will be referred to the general synod for ratification. The plan proposed is to dissolve the Michigan classes and group the churches into four classes to be named Holland, Grand River, Muskegon and Kalamazoo. The churches in the cities of Holland, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo and Muskegon, according to this plan, would become members of their respective classes and those churches in which these cities are centers would be listed in those particular classes.

An interesting case also came up at the session Thursday. The matter was an appeal brought by the consistory of the Reformed church of Gano, Ill., against the Chicago classis on the basis of a letter of dismissal with a codicil attached, issued by the Gano church, for one of its members to the First church, Roseland. The Chicago classis ordered the Gano church to give the member a letter of dismissal in good standing, and the consistory appealed to the particular synod.

Rev. A. Pieters of Japan officiated as president of the committee which handled the case. Rev. G. DeJonge of Zeeland represented the Gano consistory and Rev. H. Vander Naald the Chicago classis. The synod sustained the Gano consistory and overruled the action of the Chicago classis. The arguments in the case were presented.

In a most judicious and peaceful manner.

SEVENTY-SIX HAVE TAKEN THE SCHOOL EXAMINATION

Seventy-six prospective teachers from Grand Haven, Holland, Zeeland and other parts of the county are taken the examinations for teaching certificates allowing them to become instructors in the schools of Ottawa county. The examinations were conducted under the direction of Miss Iva Stanton, of Holland, recently appointed school commissioner. She was assisted by M. D. Bos, principal of Junior High in Holland and former superintendent of the Spring Lake schools, and Richard Vande Bunte also of Holland.

Certificates of the second and third grades will be awarded to those successful in the examination. These certificates will allow those holding them to teach in the county schools up to the tenth grade.

Some of those who are still students in the high school have taken the tests for their teachers' certificates while others who have been out of school but a year were included. Several older people are included in the list. Sixteen men took the examinations. This is as usual for the greater number of teachers are women. Eighteen of the prospective ones come from Zeeland, that city contributing the largest number. Grand Haven has four taking the examination. Spring Lake has three and Ferrysburg one.

Viola Bavery, Florence Blakely, Caroline Van Toll and Henry A. Trip are the Havenites to take the test while from Spring Lake, Hazel Bottema, Margaret M. Wilson and Russell H. Vollmer are there. Claus Hoitrop of Ferrysburg, last year's Senior class president in Grand Haven High school is taking the examination.

A list of those who took the certificate test are as follows:—From Holland, Wilma Van Doesburg, Katherine Stevens, John Boeve, Helen Post, Christine Broek, Harley Kleinhessel, Harvey Kollen, Minnie Vroomland, Hattie Nies, Sarah Nies, Geneva Kamper, Ada Boone, Marie Klompars, From Zeeland, Jeanette Scholten, Harriet Lippinger, Fanny Riemersma, Lillian Sherman, Kathryn Huizenga, Kate Staal, Johanna Shoemaker, Margaret Moes, Mildred Dalmar, Henrietta Bulthuis, Gertrude Shoemaker, David Ten Have, Hester Frankema, Alice Bolman, Metta Kemme, Dick Elzinga, Herman Jansen and Lena Izinga.

From Hudsonville: Cornelia De Kleine, Helen Behrens, Wesley Swanson, Gladys De Nell, Harriet Haalen, Dena Horlings, Ruth Ellsworth, Chester Van Koeveering, Lucille Dren, Ortna Mosher and Beatrice Edson. From Jenison, Helen Hubbell, Wayne Shoemaker, Jacoba Mohr, Janet De Windt, and Martha De Windt. Coopersville, Eva Rankans, Frank De Young, Jennie Weststrate, Nicholas Nannenga, Cella Ginsberg, Dorothy Albrecht, Marne, Norris Ferguson, Lena Van Liere, Gertrude Hawley, Nunica, Edna Balcom, Marvel Douck Grandville, Clay Shoemaker, Conkka, Effie Riemersma, Florence Knauf, Casnovia, Anna Nelson, Irene McCune, Byron Center, Walter De Kok, Alice Holleman.

DEFEAT OF TAX TO HOLD BACK WORK ON THE PIKE

The failure of the passage of a gas tax will seriously curtail road building on the West Michigan Pike.

Four miles of the trunk line highway are between Muskegon and Grand Haven and four and one-half miles between Muskegon and Whitehall. The other mile of trunk line road is known as the cemetery road out of Montague.

About $75,000 was appropriated at the October session of the Muskegon board of supervisors for the construction of the trunk highways. This money will not be expended until the state works out its program, which apparently will not be this year. The total highway budget for construction and maintenance was around $201,000. The amount provided for the construction of county roads was about the same as provided for the trunk lines, the balance of the budget being for maintenance.

Apparently no more county or Covert act highways will be built, other than those upon which application has been made to the state for reward. Under the Connolly bill adopted by the legislature, the state will pay no reward on other than trunk line highways after June 1. The failure of the state to pay rewards on such highways will probably end the construction of same.

One of the problems facing the county commission is the maintenance of the highways, especially the trunk line roads. The state is without funds to provide for the maintenance of the highways, but the gravel roads especially must be kept in repair. Some repair work has already been done on the gravel portion of trunk line M-1 in Muskegon county but now more will have to be started and these highways kept in the best repair possible during the summer.

The barn on the farm of R. H. Sherman, eighteen miles southwest of Holland, burned Wednesday. The loss is estimated at $2,000, including farm machinery lost. Cause of the fire undetermined.

"Am I Heavier Since I had the 'Flue'?"

Health Talk No. 20

By

JOHN DE JONGE,
D. C. Ph. C.

"My feet are so heavy and it is so hard for me to get up enough gumption to move, that I just wonder sometimes if my body isn't heavier? I don't mean on the scales, I mean heavier to lift?"

"After the 'flu' the body is heavier — to lift! The 'flu' to give it the current name steals most of the energy producing power of the body. The lungs, the heart and the kidneys have more than they can do to rid the body of the 'flu' poisons because, in the beginning they were subnormal or the disease would not have taken hold. By chiropractic spinal adjustments the natural vigor of the lungs the heart and the kidneys is restored, and the waste poisons are rapidly eliminated.

By chiropractic we can prevent 'flu', by chiropractic we rid you of it, and by chiropractic you can overcome and get rid of that 'heavy' after 'flu'ing.

'FLU' AFTER EFFECTS GONE

"I was left in bad condition by an attack of influenza. I coughed much and felt all worn out all the time. As I am naturally active this condition troubled me. During my attack I had only medical attention. I was told my trouble was only the after weakness which so many 'flu' victims who had strength enough to recover under medical care had found unable to shake off after getting up. I was told it would wear off. But it didn't. And so I tried chiropractic and my cough and bronchial trouble disappeared, and best of all I felt like doing things once more. It is now several years since I recovered and I have had no return of it."—Thomas Carr, Chiropractic Research Bureau, Statement No. 1291F

The government sand dredge Gen. Meade has been in port at Grand Haven for some time undergoing extensive repairs as well as having improvements and new machinery installed. Tuesday the Meade was moored at her dock near the U. S. Engineering department office and many took her for a doomed boat. The bow had been sunk down so that even the portlights were below the water in order that the stern might be raised and the propellers attended to. The Meade is a twin-screw boat and one of the "wheels" worked loose this spring. It was in order that this might be attended to that the steamer was sunk down by the head to such a degree that many passing landsmen were alarmed at the ship's supposed plight.

Quite a number of Holland and Grand Haven young men have joined the crew of the steamer and will spend the coming season on the lake. In fact several sailors from Holland have been in the crew for at least 15 years.

The first port call for the Meade will be Waukegon, Illinois. It was announced. For some time it was uncertain whether the steamer would go to Saugatuck or Waukegon. The Meade has just finished dredging at the Holland harbor making a cut of 20 feet.

WILL COMBINE TWO LAUNDRIES IN ONE BUSINESS

Holland is to have a new laundry in about two weeks when the West Michigan Steam Laundry will begin business again under a new management. Ray Tardiff and Calvin Tardiff, formerly of Holland, have come back to Holland after an absence of several years and will go into business here, making this city their home. They have purchased the plant of the West Michigan Steam Laundry of Mrs. M. Beukema and they are now hard at work getting it into shape for the opening date about two weeks hence.

Both of the Tardiff boys are well known in Holland and both are ex-service men. After serving in the war they went to Chicago where they have been since the close of the war.

The new owners will put a completely new equipment into the laundry. All the shafting and the rollers and all the machinery needed for an up-to-date business will be new.

The Tardiffs have also bought the Holland Wet Wash Laundry operated at 16th and River by John Fonckes and this will be combined with the West Michigan under the name of the latter institution. Mr. Fonckes will be retained by the new owners of the combined business and will be in charge of the wash room and other departments with which he is intimately familiar from his past experience. The new concern will run a complete laundry but will specialize in wet wash and flat iron work.

WATER PROBLEM SOLVED AT THE COUNTRY CLUB

Although the weather does not look very favorable to golf playing today with the tail end of a belated blizzard still with us, the Holland Country Club is getting ready for the opening of the club house some time perhaps toward the latter part of May or early in June. The beautiful new club house is practically completed but some problems connected with such an institution still have to be solved. These are rapidly being taken care of and in a few weeks the place will be in shape for the opening date.

One of the biggest problems to solve was an adequate water supply. For sprinkling purposes the river was handy; the water can be pumped from the river at convenient spots and the supply is abundant. But that did not solve the problem of getting water for domestic purposes. A great deal of water is needed for shower baths, for drinking purposes, for cooking and other purposes. The committee was fortunate in discovering a spring on the place that has a capacity of 4,000 gallons a day. A sample of this water was sent to Lansing to be tested in the state laboratories and the reply was entirely satisfactory. The water was found pure and wholesome and fit for domestic use in every way.

So a 4,000 gallon concrete reservoir is being built on the place to collect the water, and a 1,000 pressure tank will also be installed. This will be operated by electric motor and will give the club house the same facilities as far as water goes as any home in the city would have.

The club house will be equipped with electric lights and the "juice" will be obtained from the city. The club joined in with the people of that vicinity to secure electricity from Holland on the same terms on which such places as Central Park are supplied. The line is now being built and the system will be in working order very soon.

YOU GET WHAT YOU PAY FOR!

Experienced buyers the world over, have long realized that when they investigate carefully before buying, they get just what they pay for. The great middle class to which most of us belong, does not make a practice of paying extraordinary prices for fancy things. Neither do sensible people pay a trifle and expect a great deal. They take the "middle of the road." They pay fair prices and meet fair terms. In return, they do not only expect, but get good goods and good service.

The excellent reputation of the Holland Furnace is due largely to the company's policy of holding to the "middle of the road." The Holland Furnace is not fancy; neither is it cheap. It is built for the utmost in heating service. It is manufactured efficiently and sold at prices and terms that are right. Every buyer of a Holland Furnace is fully protected by the Holland Bond. CONTRACTOR IN NARROW ESCAPE UNDER STORE

Jacob Hietje, Grand Haven contractor, narrowly escaped death on Tuesday noon when a part of the foundation brick wall of the old Fuite building in that city, under which he was working, caved in on him and buried him under a pile of heavy brick masses. Fellow workmen, laboring nearby went to his assistance.

Almost immediately Hietje was snatched from under the structure but not without injuries. He was taken to the office of Dr. De Witt where an examination showed a bad shoulder strain. He was also lacerated about the face and body. A moment's delay would have meant the crushing of the Grand Haven contractor who is well known in Holland.

HOLLAND WINS OVER HOPE COLLEGE TEAM

(Mike Schoon)
Previous to the game Benny Batema was re-elected captain by two-thirds majority. With a recruit pitcher in the box the Independents were pushed by the Collegians in order to win.

The Independents kept the outfielder of Hope busy chasing flies; the Hopes kept Shaw and Ingham busy, Shaw accepting eight chances without an error, while Ingham fielded nine chances perfectly. Hope began the scoring in the first inning; Doeckskin being hit by a pitched ball, stole second and registered on a clean single by Riemersma.

In the third inning with two down Ingham safe at first on error by Albers, was sent all the way around on a hit and run play with Shaw delivering the hit, Shaw tallying another score being donated by Albers on a long fly, by Spriggs.

In the fourth inning Hope almost started a rally, helped along by a series of errors but their chances were nipped in the bud by old-style, snappy playing of the local boy executin, a fast double play, Gerry to Spriggs to Japlinga. Riemersma reached left on errors by Japlinga, VanLente trying to sacrifice, was helped along by Berry's error. Albers next up lined one to Gerry Batema who trying a forced play to third pegged poorly allowing Riemersma safe. Then the thrill of the game came when Swerling hit one to Gerry Batema, who threw to Spriggs, retiring Riemersma, Spriggs to Japlinga, retiring Swerling, Shaw to Japlinga finished Eggink for the third out.

In the 4th with two gone Holland added 2 more, Spriggs hit his second safety. Hoover placed one down third, while Doeckskin, was waiting for it to get to first, which it did not. Spriggs was on second and Hoover on first. Spriggs came in and Hoover advanced to third on O'Donoghue's error of Wildie's grounder. Doeckskin brought Hoover home with a single. Gerry Batema put out Lubbers to Riemersma.

In the eighth inning Hope almost started a winning rally. O'Donoghue first up, poked out a single, Lubbers chalked up his second 2-base hit, Doeckskin struck out, Riemersma usually a dangerous hitter hit a hot one to Ingham who cleverly held Ottipoby from scoring and also assisted putting his man out by throw to Japlinga. Van Lente delivered a pretty single, bringing in two runs. Inning ended by pop up fly by Albers to Ingham. In the seventh inning Babe Woldring donated a base hit to the cause but no one sent him around the circuit; again in the 8th Ingham put his frame against one for a double remaining on second. The game was close and exciting but very poorly attended; next week a better crowd is looked for, when the locals meet the Pope-Heyboers who beat them out of the championship game last year.

The annual Arbor day exercises at Hope college were observed in an unusual way Friday morning. After the Senior Class, clad in their graduating togas, had marched into their seats in chapel, Dr. E. D. Dimmitt gave a short address announcing the program of the day. He said "If tradition is to continue, it must be valuable." And so he declared a new program was going to be inaugurated for the annual event.

COLLEGE GIRL GETS MESSAGE OF AUTO TRAGEDY

Miss Alice Jongewaard, a student of Hope college and living at Voorhees Hall, received a telegram Tuesday giving the tragic news that her sister-in-law, Mrs. Conrad Jongewaard, and five other persons, closely connected with her by friendship and relationship, were killed Sunday in an automobile accident near Merced, California. The persons killed in the accident were: Mrs. Conrad Jongewaard, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John DeMots, all three of California, and Dr. and Mrs. Ogg of Orange City, Ia., who were visiting in California and Edward De Mota, of California.

Conrad Jongewaard, whose wife and father-in-law and mother-in-law were killed in the accident, is a graduate of Hope College and has many friends here. He was prominent in Y. M. C. A. work while at Hope and he went into that work as a life profession. He was stationed at Merced, Calif. Mrs. Jongewaard also had many friends in Holland. The Jongewaards were formerly of Sioux Center, Ia., but have lived in California for the past few years.

Dr. Ogg was a prominent dentist in Orange City. He was in the habit of going to California from time to time to visit the Jongewaards and to spend some time hunting and fishing. It was while on one of these trips that he and his wife lost their lives.

The telegram did not give any particulars as to how the tragedy happened but merely stated the bare facts. The bodies of all five persons killed will be shipped to Sioux Center, Iowa, where they are expected to arrive Thursday and where burial will take place. A subsequent report said the auto party was struck by a train. Four or five bodies were 200 yards on the engine pilot and two were tossed fifty feet from the track.

Another person well known in Holland, Mrs. M. E. Flipse, of New York state now, is heavily bereaved by the tragedy. Mrs. Flipse is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John DeMots and a niece of Dr. and Mrs. Ogg, so the telegram announcing the accident advised her of the sudden death of father, mother, sister and uncle and aunt all at the same time.

Allegan News—Interurban service into Allegan may be discontinued on Nov. 1 and both passenger and freight cars made to stop at the top of Depot hill at the New York Central crossing. It was made known here this week.

According to Harry DeMarse, Pere Marquette agent here, six months notice has been given the Pere Marquette railroad to this effect. De Marse was given the information, he says, by F. W. Brown, division general manager of the electric road and F. L. Hooker, traveling freight agent. In an attempt to verify the report The News called Brown, who said, he knew nothing about it.

Michigan railway officials are reported to have said that the business on this division does not warrant the expense of running cars down the hill and that there will be a reduction of frequency of the train schedule into this city.

Although Allegan merchants signed a petition a short time ago agreeing to ship their freight by the electric line, none have lived up to the agreement and the freight business of the railway has not been increased, says DeMarse.

The running of cars into Allegan on the Pere Marquette line costs about $7,150 each year. Maintenance of way costs $3,700 and the electric road, by an agreement made with the P. M. R. Y. last spring, must pay 50 per cent of the upkeep of station and salaries of the office force. This brings the total expense to about $7,180.

Last spring when time came for a new agreement to be signed between the two railroads the Pere Marquette asked more and the electric line then threatened to stop on the hill. An agreement was reached, however, and the Interurban line paid about $700 more each year than formerly. This agreement was for a period of one year and the electric line agreed to give six months notice should they desire to discontinue using the P. M. line.

The stopping of the Interurban on the hill would mean freight would have to be carted there, and passengers would have to walk about 1 1/2 miles or be transported by bus from the station into the city.

OTTAWA TOWN HAS NO WATER OR LIGHT PLANT

The village of Ferrysburg across from Grand Haven wants electric lights. The small town that is to be connected with Grand Haven by the large $200,000 bridge has been without a waterworks and electric light plant all these years.

The businessmen got together, invited City Manager Taylor of the Countyseat over in order to see whether current from the city of Grand Haven could not be purchased for both light and power.

The citizens feel that it would be an easy matter to stretch a cable by way of the new bridge and thus place them in a class with other cities.

Ferrysburg is still using the antiquated kerosene lamps while they are surrounded with electricity.

However the citizens have banded together, and no doubt in a short time Ferrysburg homes and streets will be lighted with the commodity that Benj. Franklin discovered and Thomas Edison developed.

INSTRUCTORS IN GRAND HAVEN SCHOOLS TO HAVE A COFFEE SHOP

Grand Haven Tribune—Miss Rosalind Rice, domestic science instructor at the Grand Haven high school and Miss Aurelia VerDun, also an instructor in the schools will open a coffee shop in the Miami cottage at Highland Park on or about June 24. The place will be known as the Miami Coffee shop and will be run on the most approved plan. This eating place is expected to fill a long felt want in Grand Haven.

HORSE STRUCK BY AUTO DURING STORM

Roy Phillips, a hired man on the farm of John Lemmen on the Zealand road near the Huitzena hill, was seriously injured when he was struck by an automobile driven by an Indiana man named Post. Phillips was riding on horseback near the foot of the Huitzena hill between eight and nine o'clock when the Indiana car, a Ford Coupe, struck the horse. The animal leg was broken and Phillips was thrown quite a distance. When picked up he was found to be bruised considerably and it was feared that his leg was broken. He was rushed to the home of Mr. Lemmen, but later was taken to Holland hospital. While his injuries are painful they are not dangerous and he will recover, it is believed.

The horse was killed that same evening. The accident was partly the result of the storm of Tuesday night which made driving extremely difficult.

J. C. McPherson has been appointed manager of the Ottawa Beach hotel which opens June 18, fully two weeks earlier than usual. The ferry connecting Macatawa and Ottawa Beach will be operated by Capt. W. Brock and Engineer Thomas Van Portfliet.

STORM DOES LITTLE DAMAGE TO FRUIT, BUT

The biggest surprise that greeted Holland on Wednesday morning was four inches of snow that covered the ground and loaded down the trees to the breaking point.

A light rain began to fall at nine o'clock Tuesday evening which turned into a wet sleet by ten o'clock. By midnight the brisk wind from the northwest turned cold and the wet snow stuck wherever it struck and by morning the branches of the trees in many instances hung nearly to the ground, and in not a few cases in the city, limbs were broken because of the heavy added burden.

Centennial Park was a beautiful sight Wednesday morning and many camera fiends were snapping it from all angles.

However most of the citizens were not as much concerned about the beauties in nature as they were about the damage that may have been done upon the thousands upon thousands of acres of fruit in our fruit belt.

Suffice it to say that it did not freeze much Tuesday night, as the official thermometer at the city water works registered 29 1/4 degrees above zero at the lowest point which was at 3 o'clock Wednesday morning. This is only a half point below freezing and the fruit men say that the snow covering and the rain before the storm, prevented the frost from doing any damage. A little damage might have been done by the breaking of limbs because of the heavy weight of snow, but not so much because of the frost.

G. J. Deur who has a large orchard in Holland township stated that the storm did not do very much damage, and if any damage was done at all it was to cherries which are in full bloom. Some of the peaches were in blossom he stated.

John Y. Huitzena did not think that the snow and cold did much damage thus far, and the early garden truck has not suffered much because of the snow covering.

The Weller Nursery Co. manager stated that as far as he could see the blossoming trees were not much damaged, if any. He stated a frost tonight with a clearup would do untold damage, however, for the snow covering had melted away during the day which would otherwise be buds.

Henry P. Zwemer of the Zwemer Coal company who also knows about trees, states that in the investigations that he has made, he found that but little damage was done, and that the snow acted as a sort of overcoat for the blossoming buds.

"I only hope that tonight will not be clear with a north wind, for that means frost and heavy damage."

The weather report states "rising temperature Thursday."

The telephone companies are not having very much trouble with overhead wires and broken poles. The wires were coated with a light snow rather than with a heavy ice as was the case two months ago when such terrific damage was done after a sleet storm. On the way to Lakewood farm there were some trees and branches that had fallen over the highway, however these were soon cleared away. The telephones in that direction were also out of commission for a time.

The face of the tower clock was again thoroughly plastered and the hands stopped to function at 1:30 Wednesday morning. No one appreciates the clock so much as when it is out of commission which only occurs about once a year after a sleet storm.

The railroads and Interurbans were not inconvenienced because of the snow, all running on schedule time.

The steamer, City of Grand Rapids left Holland at the usual time last night, as did the City of Benton Harbor. Mr. Johnston of the C. & M. line stated that he received word that both steamers arrived in Chicago without a mishap. It seems that everything depends upon tonight according to fruit men, whether the blossoming buds will survive a heavy frost if it comes.

A clear sky and a northwest wind is almost sure to leave damage in its wake.

LOCAL

It is reported that a petition has been circulated to have the postoffice at Spring Lake closed on Sundays. It has long been the custom in the larger places to have postoffices closed and yet to have mail distribution for the lock boxes. Some favor the entire closing and others favor the distribution of mail for the lock boxes while still others believe the postoffice should be open during the summer months to accommodate the resorters but that there is little need of it being open on Sundays during the winter.

Holland, not so many years ago kept its postal window open at the noon hour on Sundays and church folk would line up on Eighth street until the postmaster opened the door, when there was a grand rush for the postal windows.

At one time the crowd got to be so large that Postmaster Van Schelven had iron bars made with ropes and made an aisle in order to avoid confusion and congestion.

Some years ago a petition was circulated to have the postoffice closed on the Sabbath and in that way give the employees a day of rest with the rest of us. The petition carried the day and a few Sundays after the abolition of the Sunday service no one thought of Sunday mails and today it would be hard to re-establish the old order of things. Getting Sunday mail was only a habit.

The members of the Missionary society of the First Reformed church were entertained Wednesday afternoon at the parsonage at a farewell party in honor of Mrs. D. Ellerbroek and Mrs. B. Laman. These two women will leave Holland this month to begin work in other fields with their husbands who will graduate from the Western Theological Seminary. They have been prominent in the work of the First Reformed church.

Talks were given by Mrs. G. Tyse, Mrs. James Weyer, and Mrs. Seth Vander Werf, and responses were made by Mrs. Ellerbroek and Mrs. Laman. A duet was given by Mrs. Andrew Steketee and Mrs. Ellerbroek. Refreshments were served and a social hour was spent.

Charles Fabiano, River avenue merchant, has put a $3000 combination piano and violin in his place of business that has been designated by the U. S. Government as one of the eight great inventions of the decade. The instrument is an electric piano with two violins built in and constitutes an orchestra in itself. The inventor Henry K. Sandell was born in Sweden and has 200 patents to his credit. He is now at work on a radio visioning device whereby objects can be seen at any distance by use of radio.

A curious fact about the new instrument that has been placed in the local man's store is that James Whitcomb Riley once wrote a poem in which he asked some one to invent it. Sandell went ahead and did invent it, but too late for the poet to hear it. When the first player piano was invented, Riley, after listening to the music wrote:

"You've wrought a miracle—you've made a pianist of me,
Indeed no master ever played,
Beyond the mastery
Of this device—and twice and thrice
The price, is ready-tiln,
I'll pay for some like device
That plays the violin."

The inventor not only invented a device that plays the violin, but one that plays two violins. It is attracting a good deal of attention in the Fabiano store.

The people of Holland are taking advantage of the opportunity offered by the Hope College Museum to see many strange and interesting things housed there. On one of the open days for the museum the crowd was so large that the attendants had difficulty taking care of all who applied.

But that is what the museum custodians want and they are inviting all other people to come and see the museum. The institution is located on the fourth floor of Van Raalte hall and the place will be open every Wednesday and every Friday during May from 3 to 5 in the afternoon.

On Friday when the beautiful American creed repeated by the Hope College students at the chapel service on Arbor Day was printed in the Sentinel the authorship of it was not known. It was assumed that the creed had been obtained from some patriotic society and adapted for use at Hope College.

It was learned later that Dr. E. D. Dimment is the author of the creed. He has been working on it from time to time, with a view of getting for Hope College a distinctive American creed which the students, faculty and alumni can look upon as their own in a more intimate way than one drawn up for general purposes by some national body. It was used Friday in its present form as a kind of test and changes may be made from time to time until something has been evolved that shall express the spirit of patriotic Americanism, for which, among other things, Hope College stands.

A bulletin from M. A. C. says tuberculosis is gradually being eliminated from the dairy herds of Ottawa county, according to J. G. Hays, extension specialist with the M. A. C. dairy division who has been working in the county recently. Addition, since the first of the year, of several local herds to the rapidly growing list of accredited herds in the state shows that Ottawa dairymen are awake to the need of testing for T. B.

A herd is accredited when it has passed three semi-annual or two annual tests applied under state and federal supervision.

The following Ottawa county men have had their herds accredited since the first of the year: J. S. Schippers, West Olive; E. J. Culligan, Nunica, and S. Elenbos, Coopersville.

Recently in an article in the Sentinel the statement was made that trailing arbutus cannot be domesticated. As a general rule attempts of persons unskilled in horticulture to transplant it prove unsuccessful, but L. Van Hartesveldt of the Holland Printing Co., dug out from his files of the National Geographical Magazine, from away back in 1915, a copy that contains an article on the domestication of this flower.

The article points out that this has been done successfully. The method is described as follows: "In the most successful trials the seeds were sown while fresh in a mixture of two parts finely mixed upland peat, from laural thickets and one part of clean sand. The seeds sprout in about four weeks; and the plants, though exceedingly small at first, grow steadily under successive repottings, until it the age of 14 months they make rosettes about five inches in diameter, with flowering buds already formed. After exposure to cold weather during the winter they bloom freely. The flowers have the same fragrance and range of color as the wild ones, but larger in size, some of them reaching seven-eighths of an inch in diameter, and the leaves are not so disfigured by insects as are those of the wild plants. In their second year the plants reach a diameter of 12 inches and sometimes bear over 30 clusters of flowers. It is useless to try the culture of the plant in a fertile garden soil or in any potting soil enriched by lime, manure or fertilizer. Kindness of that sort is fatal."

The Holland Rod and Gun club is will continue until June 1.

Prizes are to be given to the members getting the largest number of new members. One sportsman is already on the war path and has secured 30 new members and says he will double that number within a week.

The membership last year was 365

and indications are that the club will have grown to double that number by June one when the drive terminates.

Every public-spirited citizen, whether a fisherman or not should support this club. It is in the interest of Holland and its resorts that our fishing grounds be kept up to the standard and it seems that the larger the body the more ready the legislature is to give the proper legislation. Holland is asking nothing more than what it is justly entitled to and is getting less than has been asked for. However the club members are satisfied with the beginning made and only ask Holland to give the club its moral and financial support. The membership fee is only $1 per year with no special assessments. One dollar is surely little enough compared with the excellent work that the association is doing.

The prizes in the membership contest will consist of articles of value as follows:

First prize $25 ;2nd prize $20; 3rd prize, $15; 4th prize $10; 5th prize $5.

Under the direction of Sheriff DeFortney, four arrests were made Friday morning in various cases. Two Robinson men were arrested and two from Spring Lake Twp. were taken into custody on larceny charges.

Marion Kaminski of Robinson was arrested for selling bootleg liquor and his son, John, was taken into custody for resisting the officer who made the arrest. The younger man was arraigned in justice court and demanded examination. He furnished bail of $300.

Charles Rand and John Schipper both of Spring Lake township were taken by county officers in connection with alleged theft of some tools from W. L. Bruce of Spring Lake. The men are held on a larceny charge.

Chicago seems to be sure of getting the next Republican National convention. Good, let's all go!

Fred Coleman, living on the North Side, has unusual talent for the construction of bird houses. He has created some that were like miniature palaces and the product of his art has been shipped to places as far away as Washington, D. C., to provide homes for the birds there.

One of Mr. Coleman's recent creations is now shown in the window of Brink's Book store. It is built on the model of a real house, bungalow in construction, with real glass in the upper windows, the lower windows be left out to afford entrance for the birds. So closely does this birdhouse resemble a real bungalow that a photograph of it with the lake as a background gives the illusion that it is a real house on the usual scale of a home. Photographs of the house will be sent by Mr. Brink to the Eastman Kodak Co.

Walter Johnson, aged 20, was arrested in Muskegon for Ottawa county by Officer Ben Rosema of the Ottawa sheriff's department in connection with the theft of several articles from the Steamer General Meade, reported yesterday.

A gold watch and chain, a camera and several medals were taken. Among these was a medal for bravery earned in the late World War by Lawrence Naonty of Grand Haven, now a member of the crew of the Gen. Meade. Warner Wallis of Coopersville and Wm. Mc Niel also lost articles.

Johnson was arraigned in Justice Lillie's court, waived examination and was bound over to circuit court with bail set at $500.

J. B. Mulder, as everybody knows, is an experienced fisherman and he is usually on the job hooking perch as early in the spring as anyone here.

During his years about the lake he has many a time helped to pull some unlucky fisherman out of the drink who had gone after the fish too impetuously and had tumbled in.

And Thursday it came J. B.'s turn to take an involuntary bath. Arriving at Macatawa, on the interurban, he was so eager to get to the fishing grounds that he did not wait till the car stopped at its usual stopping place but stepped off at the curve of the loop. And in doing so he lost his balance and stepped into the water. Members of the car crew and others, some of whom J. B. had himself helped to rescue in his time, immediately came to his aid and he was not much the worse for the ducking. It did not even spoil his fishing trip and he merely went to his cottage to change clothes before starting out to catch his mess of perch. But the story was too good to keep and the car crew hustled their car to Holland as fast as the schedule would allow in order to tell the story.

When Pruim's Music House gave away a photograph this week, Mrs. Harry Steinfert, 28 West 15th street, was the happy recipient of the gift. Mr. Steinfert, who works at the Holland Furnace Co. came to get the photograph and his smile was so broad that Mr. Pruim could hardly make it seem reasonable that it was for the photograph alone. Also, it seemed queer that Mrs. Steinfert, who was the real owner of the instrument was not there to help bring it home.

"You see, it's this way," Mr. Steinfert explained,—"on Monday my wife presented me with a fine baby boy and that's why she isn't here now. I didn't know anything about the photograph and I had hardly recovered from the excitement of the coming of the baby when I got word of this new piece of good luck. And all that in one week—the world isn't such a bad place after all."

The Zeeland State Commercial and Savings bank have installed an electric burglary alarm.

Charles Rand, 21 and John Schippers, 19, both from Crocker, were sentenced to spend fifteen days in the county jail, pay fines and costs of $13.55 each and were placed on probation for one year by Justice Lillie of Grand Haven Saturday. The men were charged with taking tools from J. Bruce of Spring Lake.

The Woman's club of Saugatuck and others are circulating a petition to the village council to build a public rest room on the vacant lot just north of the village hall. This is an almost imperatively needed public work, and the location suggested is most suitable and convenient. Pledges of funds for furnishing and maintaining it are also being secured.

Preparations are in progress for the big New York comedy success, "A Pair of Sixes," that is to be given by the members of the Longfellow school P-T club at the high school auditorium on the evenings of May 17 and 18. The best dramatic talent in the club has been pressed into service and the result is said to be highly satisfactory.

The story deals with the fortunes of two partners in the pill manufacturing business. Each claims to be the head and brains of the enterprise. After much squabbling they agree to disagree, and through the services of their attorney decide to settle the dispute as to who shall be the head of the firm by playing a hand of poker. A pair of sixes wins. By the terms of the contract the losing partner becomes the servant for a period of one year. He is installed as butler in the winning partner's household, and from then on there are all kinds of amusing complications that make the play.

Miss Marie Markham has accepted a position as teacher in the first grade of the Grand Ledge schools for next school year.

ANNOUNCEMENT

of Interest to

MILLIONS of FAMILIES

"I will build a car for the multitude"

Said Henry Ford in 1903 — Read how the fulfillment of that prophecy is now made possible through the

Ford Weekly Purchase Plan

For many years it has been Henry Ford's personal ambition to make the Ford the universal family car -- to put it within the reach of the millions of people who have never been privileged to enjoy the benefits of motor car ownership.

During the past fifteen years over 7,500,000 Ford cars have been placed in the hands of retail customers -- more than a million and a half of them within the past twelve months -- and yet there are still millions of families who are hopefully looking forward to the day when they can own a Ford.

And now the way is open.

Under the terms of this plan you can select your Ford Car, set aside a small amount each week and you will be surprised how soon you will own it. In the meantime your money will be safely deposited to your credit in the Peoples State Bank where it will draw interest.

Think it over. Five dollars will start an account. The whole family can participate in it -- father, mother, brothers and sisters each doing a little.

Why not start to-day. Stop in and talk it over with your local Ford dealer. He will be glad to fully explain the details of the plan and help you get started toward the ownership of a Ford car.

KOOYERS' VOTE GIVES ARMORY TO HOLLAND

A single vote would have killed the Holland $40,000 armory bill during the closing minutes of the session of the legislature at Lansing Saturday night. But that single vote was forthcoming from Rep. G. W. Kooyers, representative of this district, who thereby represented the wishes of the people at home, altho he was bitterly opposed to some of the provisions of the general appropriation bill of which the armory bill was an item.

When the bill was finally passed there were just 51 votes in favor of it. Had there been only fifty votes it would have been lost. If it had not been for the Holland armory item Mr. Kooyers would have voted against the bill, and then the whole $2,976,000 building program for state institutions would have been wrecked. So the fact that Holland was asking for an armory had results of a statewide significance.

One of the items in the appropriation bill called for the erection of the industrial school on the old site in the city of Lansing instead of on the new 1,000 acre site a mile and a half north of the city. Mr. Kooyers, who has during his service in the legislature become deeply interested in the industrial school, was bitterly opposed to erecting the building on the old site and he fought with all his might to have it put on the 1,000 acre farm. But during the closing minutes of the session it was a case of either voting down the Holland armory or voting for both that and the erection of the armory on the old site, as both items were in the same bill. So the Holland man swallowed his objections to the industrial school item and carried out the wishes of the people at home about the armory.

The appropriation bill including the armory item was next to the last to be passed. It carried the day after a bitter fight, and the fact that it did not have a single vote to spare shows how close Holland came to losing its armory.

Governor Groesbeck's pet weight tax bill, a substitute for the gasoline tax bill carried in both houses but vetoed by the governor, was defeated late Saturday afternoon by a vote of 56 to 39.

Representative G. W. Kooyers of Holland, McEachron of Hudsonville, and Wade of Saugatuck helped to defeat the governor's measure, voting against the bill.

The bill of the governor's substitute, one of the most just laws that possibly could be enacted. In short, the gasoline tax meant a tax of two cents a gallon on gasoline, and that two cent tax went into the state treasury for road maintenance. In other words the man who had an automobile paid the tax. The man who did not, had no maintenance tax to pay, which is eminently fair. A man who had a small car and used less gasoline and whose car did less damage to the road naturally paid less tax than the man with the large truck who used more gas, but also damaged the road most. Governor Groesbeck claimed that this bill was unconstitutional and substituted a pet bill of his own, that was hopelessly killed in the house.

Just where this is going to put the state to meet the requirements of road repairs is hard to conjecture. Something surely will have to be done to meet these repair bills and the gasoline act defeated by the governor, would have found the nucleus to meet the continuous drain on the state treasury and put the burden of expense on those who use the roads, exempting those who do not use them.

Debate on this bill was tinged more or less with the intense bitterness which was developed among the representatives by the Governor's tax veto. Rep. Charles Evans, leader of the "bitter enders" among the gas tax forces voiced this sentiment when he said "This has ceased to be a question of a gas tax or a weight tax. It is now a question of whether or not representative government shall prevail in Michigan." He said that the eyes of the people from every section of the state were riveted on the actions of the members of the House and declared that the methods used to secure the passage of the weight tax bill endangered the integrity of the state. He voiced the sentiment that when 80 representatives and 19 senators should vote for a measure which they feel that their constituents demanded, it was hardly fitting for the Governor to exercise his veto power.

VANDALS DESECRATE GRAVE OF COL STEWART

Military and municipal officials were stirred by reports made of the discovery of desecration of the grave of Brig. Gen. E. R. Stewart in Fulton St. cemetery by vandals, who are said to have destroyed the numerous floral tokens immediately after the burial service Friday afternoon. Almost before the service had ended it is said a throng swooped down upon the flowers, destroyed the pieces which had been placed on the grave and carried away many of the flowers.

The cemetery is owned by a private association. Naming of Michigan's new field house after Fielding H. Yost, athletic director and football coach of 22 years, who has been a guest on several occasions, and has many friends here, was authorized by the board of control of athletics at Michigan at a meeting there Saturday afternoon.

Final action on the matter remains, however, subject to ratification of the faculty senate of U. of M. It was decided to name the building, which is now under construction on Ferry Field "Yost Field House."

The structure will be one of the finest of its kind in the country. In it will be contained a full-sized gymnasium for indoor ball courts, a cinder running track, and facilities for seating of 12,000 to 14,000 people.

OTTAWA COUNTY FARMER MISSING IS FOUND

Word has been received from Helena, Mont., stating that Charles E. Carson, 34, a Crookery township farmer is beating his way home.

Missing since Aug. 29, 1922, Carson seems to have reappeared as one from the dead. He experienced the strange sensation of a man who after weeks of aimless wandering finally realized that he was married and a father, only to find himself unable to recollect where his babies were to be found.

Word upon which Mrs. Carson is basing her hopes that her husband is homeward bound, was contained in a letter received Saturday and bearing the Helena postmark. It was signed "Charles Carson." She said she was fairly sure it was written by her husband.

Because of the peculiar phrasing in parts of the missive, members of the Carson family, however, are inclined to believe that Carson at the time of writing was not fully recovered from the lapse of memory which they believe, was the cause of his disappearance. The letter refers to his discovery in a box car by Montana police, dazed and without memory; of his confinement in a hospital, and finally of his release and departure from Helena in company with a tramp and the realization who he was and where his relatives lived.

Among the statements in the letter cheering to Mrs. Carson is one referring to the children. "Tell the babies I'm coming home," the letter reads.

A relative came to Grand Rapids once to inform police of the "finding" of Carson and asked that officers be on the watch for anyone of his description arriving there, that he may be promptly cared for and taken to his home.

The word from Montana, relatives say, explains a peculiar reason Carson might have had in going west. A brother, who for three years lived near Conklin, formerly lived in Montana and Carson, suffering mental aberration, might have started out on the search for one living at his own home, it was believed.

Last August, Carson came to Grand Rapids to consult a chiropractor in regard to treatment. He did not return and a statewide search was made for him. No expense was spared by his wife in attempting to find trace of him. Radio broadcasting was resorted to in the hope that a clue to his whereabouts might be revealed, but no word was ever heard from him.

And we, the undersigned, will pledge ourselves that we will not patronize any merchants who continue to sell oleomargarine or butter substitutes.

HOLLAND BIRDS ARE IN HALF YEAR LAYING CONTEST

Three White Leghorn pens led in the M. A. C. egg laying contest. Shaw's birds from South Haven win thus far with 1102 eggs to their credit.

Leading in the Plymouth Rock class are pens from the Brummer's poultry farm of Holland. These birds have 957 eggs to their credit.

Another Holland pen is that of A. R. Van Raalte with 613.

The contest continues for a year and the total egg production for the first six months stood at 71,954 eggs.

There are 16 pens of birds in the contest.

C. P. Milham county farm agent reports that many people are having a deluge of poultry troubles this year, both in hatching and in keeping their flocks. Newly hatched chicks are dying at an alarming rate it seems while others are attacked by illness which destroys their usefulness.

Mr. Milham stated that if ordinary precautions were taken this would not be the case, but there seems to be a wave of carelessness in caring for poultry, especially the young birds. Newly hatched birds are having a high death rate through no fault of the hatcheries upon whom most of the owners blame their misfortune.

Four precautions must be taken by poultrymen who wish to avoid difficulties with their poultry, especially their young chicks. Too much heat and too much cold must be avoided carefully. Overcrowding of parks and coops and improper feeding were also listed as the dangers which menace the health and lives of the newly hatched chicks. Mr. Milham stated that he had found these conditions in many cases where he had been asked to investigate the conditions leading to the ill health and death of poultry.

Young chicks especially seem to lack in vitality and die very easily. This condition can be remedied by correct feeding. In case of poor health among poultry due to lack of vitality, epsom salts, cod liver oil and tomato juice is a new discovery in poultry food and seems to contain the necessary food elements which are conducive to health.

According to the farm agent, most people are overfeeding their chickens and are also failing to get enough green stuff into the diet. Greens should be plentiful while milk, either fresh, sour, skim or otherwise is an excellent food for feeding. Many of the most successful poultrymen in the country use milk in some form as a part of their poultry diet.

ALLENDALE MAN KILLED IN AN AUTO ACCIDENT SUNDAY

T. J. Sheridan of Allendale was killed in an automobile accident on the Borculo road about two and a half miles north of Zeeland Sunday noon when a Ford car in which he and his brother were going north struck the abutment of a bridge and was wrecked. Mr. Sheridan suffered internal injuries and a fracture of the hip. He was rushed to Holland hospital where he died about an hour after he arrived.

Sheridan and his brother who was driving were going north on the Borculo road. They were back of a Willys-Knight car occupied by George B. Hanna, 926 South Division St. and Mrs. Hanna and two friends. The Ford tried to pass the Willys-Knight, and Mr. Hanna seeing the bridge ahead understood that the Ford would not be able to get by as the bridge is too narrow for the passage of two cars at the same time. So it was a choice for him of being hit by the Ford or driving into the ditch. He chose the latter course, according to his account of the tragedy, and ran into a hole by the side of the road. In this way he avoided being hit by the oncoming Ford and no one in his car was injured. But the driver of the Ford either did not see the bridge abutment or could not escape it. He hit it squarely, wrecking the car and injuring Mr. Sheridan so severely that he died of the injuries about an hour later. The driver of the car was only slightly injured on the hand. The damage to the Willys-Knight car was approximately $400.

Sheridan, the man who was killed, was thirty years old and was a carpenter living in Allendale. An inquest was held over the body at the Nibbe Link-Notter parlors Monday forenoon. A jury was called composed of John Van Tatenhove, Jacob Lokker, Peter Rowan, Alex Van Zanten, Dick Beter and Chester Van Tongeren.

The jury Monday afternoon brought in a verdict of accidental death.

BARE-FOOTED WANDERER IN CUSTODY AT COUNTY JAIL

After having walked the entire distance from Muskegon Heights during the heavy snow storm in his barefeet, a man who gave his name to officers as Mike Loggevitich was picked up by Turnkey Rosema of the sheriff's force. The man is a Russian and is apparently 25 years old. Sheriff Fortney states that he seems to be mentally unbalanced and that he cannot read or write, consequently there is doubt as to his identity.

Ferrysburg neighbors of Officer Rosema notified him that the man was in the village and the officer immediately found him and brought him to the county jail and it was ascertained that altho the man's feet had been thoroughly chilled, still they would not require amputation. His relatives in Muskegon Heights have not as yet been located.

LESSONS IN REPORTING FIRES GET RESULTS

How many grownups know how to send in a fire alarm properly from a fire alarm box? The chances are that if a test were made a very large number of adults would be found to be deficient in this very necessary bit of information that may at any time mean the difference between saving a house and having it burn down. Fire Chief Blom some time ago called attention to the way a fire alarm box should be operated because of the fact that mistakes had been made by grownup people which had meant serious delay and hence loss from fire.

But the next generation of people in Holland will be better posted on this subject. Drill in operating a fire alarm box has been made a regular part of the physical education of the pupils in the public schools, and a demonstration a few days ago shows that these drills are actually getting the lesson over to the pupils. The work is being put on by William Slater, of the physical education department, and he has found some very good results.

The pupils are taught not only how to operate a box in case of fire but they are taught moreover that at least one boy should always remain near the box until the fire department trucks arrive so as to lead them to the fire without any delay.

While drill and actual performance are often quite different things, a school boy the other day discovered a fire when he looked through the window in school. The teacher detailed him and a companion to turn in the alarm, and they did the job with dispatch, so that not a minute was lost. One boy remained near the box and guided the firemen to the blaze.

Since turning in an alarm from a fire box is the quickest way of getting results, this drill is considered very valuable for the safety of the city. It is a detail in the regular fire drill that is being conducted systematically in the schools.

ANNOUNCE TOTAL OF APPROPRIATIONS OF 1923 LEGISLATURE
Total appropriations of the 1923 legislature, according to unofficial tabulation, amount to $28,772,171 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1924, and $27,359,747 for the fiscal year ending one year later. The amount is practically three and a half millions more than the biennial appropriations of the 1921 legislature when the totals were $25,915,065 and $22,964,565.

Most of the increases over the 1921 legislative appropriations were from special fees and taxes. The general property tax, including the levy for the soldiers' bonus sinking fund and one or two similar items is $16,967,697 and $16,995,992 for the biennial period, the same exceeding by almost a million dollars, the sum set by Gov. Groesbeck in his message as the amount, $16,000,000, that might be charged to general property.

The appropriations charged to the corporation tax, the special fee collected by boards and other items of a similar nature total $11,804,473 and $10,363,755 for the two years.

The appropriations for the present year by the 1921 legislature from the same sources totalled $6,669,960. Last year the appropriation was $8,285,641.

Some of the items of the above appropriation totals may not be finally written into law through intervention of the gubernatorial veto. Lack of expenditure may also reduce some of the sums the administrative board in practically all appropriations, being given the power to withhold moneys if the taxes collected do not reach the figures in the appropriation measures.

Co-operation Made California Farmers Prosperous

No farmers were ever in worse financial straits than were the orange, prune, raisin and other fruit growers of California several years ago. Their markets were glutted, they lacked cars, money to finance their work.

They got their hands together and today those farmers are prosperous through such co-operative marketing agencies as the California Fruit Growers Exchange, the Raisin Growers Exchange, and others. The world is their market, and it takes all their product at a good price.

Michigan farmers have marketing, freight rate, car troubles, etc. Your State Farm Bureau and the great Potato, Milk, Live Stock and Grain Exchanges of Michigan are working together to improve Michigan farmers' market and crop returns through co-operative marketing. It can be done. It is being done by farmers who are co-operative.

Marketing Services State Farm Bureau Gives Its Members

1. Seed Dep't., which assures our farmers guaranteed pure, Michigan adapted seeds.
The Seed Dep't. has built a great out-of-state market for Michigan surplus seed that is profitable to our farmers.

2. Purchasing Dep't. buys about 250 carloads of supplies for co-ops each month. It developed Milkmaid, the only public formula dairy feed. Tells pound for pound what you pay for. Farmers have used 8,000 tons of it. Same service on feeds, twine, coal, fertilizer, cement, etc.

3. Produce Exch. Dep't. markets $50,000 worth of produce monthly for our co-ops on Detroit markets.

4. Wool Pool last year returned poolers three to nine cents better than local dealers paid for same grades of wool.

AFFILIATED EXCHANGES DOING GREAT WORK

Michigan Elevator Exchange sells grain, hay and beans for 20,000 farmers who are members of 107 co-ops. Their returns were good enough so that they built their business from $50,000 to better than $350,000 monthly. April 27 the Exchange paid a patronage dividend of $8,000 to member elevators on the past two years business. It's net worth today is $33,000.

Live Stock Exchange co-ops at Buffalo and Detroit are saving money and improving shippers' returns. May 1 the Live Stock Exchange Detroit Co-op. paid a savings dividend of 10 pct. of all commissions paid or about $7,000 to member patrons on the first year's business. The co-op. house saved $17,500 in commissions its first year and gave superior service.

Michigan Milk Producers Ass'n. enables 19,000 producers to talk as one on the price of milk, and they get it.

Co-operation is doing things.

Farm Bureau Is Helping You

Farmers must market their crops as well as produce them if they would have their just share of the returns.

They can market most efficiently when they are organized for marketing and can enjoy the advantages of volume, which enables them to deal direct with the great buyers and get the profits which now lay in between them and the grain exporter or miller, or city retailer, or packer, etc.

The Michigan Farm Bureau is a leader in co-operative marketing. In three years it has built four great farmer-owned selling and buying services—the Farm Bureau Seed, Purchasing, Wool, Produce Exchange Departments. It also started the Michigan Elevator Exchange.

They serve Farm Bureau members through their local co-ops.

Membership in the Ottawa Farm Bureau and your local co-op. gives you the great marketing, legislative and transportation services of the Michigan State Farm Bureau. Renew your membership—or join.

LOCALS TO PLAY POPE AND HEYBOERS

The ball game to be pulled off on Saturday with Pope and Heyboers of Grand Rapids promises to be a nip and tuck affair. Whenever the name Pope and Heyboer is mentioned a smile covers the face of every fan and some inquisitive person will ask of the ball players what time is it or in other and plainer words, this same bunch of players defeated the locals for the championship of the state a year ago last fall and incidentally snatched a gold watch from each of the local players, for that was presented to each player on the winning nine, beside a cash prize. The game will long be remembered, but last summer the locals gained sweet revenge defeating the Papes in every game.

The local aggregation have gotten off to a poor start this year as far as victories are concerned. The first two games of the season were defeats, but last Saturday's victory over Hope has started the boys on the right side again. It is hoped that Stegerda will be home Saturday to do the pitching.
