City Budget Raises No Questions

Final Program Calls
For Expenditures
Of $1,397,329.06

With no comment from the audience which numbered six at the time, City Council Wednesday night quickly wound up the public hearing on the 1964-65 budget and adopted the financial program calling for total expenditures of $1,397,329.06 of which $886,731.44 is to be raised through city taxes.

Details of the new budget were made known when the document was presented to Council three weeks ago following many night sessions on budget study.

Although the budget and tax total are higher than last year, the tax rate will be 10% cents per $1,000 assessed valuation lower this year, because of increased assessments. The tax rate per $1,000 will be $19.007.

Wednesday's adoption of the annual budget was in direct contrast to the situation a year ago when 40 persons crowded into the chambers to protest placing $100,000 of earmarked Board of Public Works profits into the capital improvement fund without specifying what the money would be used for. A total of $175,000 of BPW funds had been placed in the general fund.

Most persons protesting last year's budget were chiefly concerned over building an outdoor swimming pool and seemed somewhat mollified when at least three Councilmen stated they would not approve such a move without a vote of the people.

A special election later to build an outdoor pool financed by $125,000 from the capital improvements fund was defeated.

But what time Council gained Wednesday in passing the budget, quickly, they spent in discussion of garbage and rubbish licenses, occasioned when Councilman Eugene Vande Vusse objected to one application for rubbish collection on the grounds that the premises on which the licensee operated should be cleaned up.

The motion then called for tabling all licenses, but this proved impractical since some requests were for Tulip Time and for other functions which technically called for expiration date as of last April 30.

Approved were licenses for the VFW and Legion Auxiliaries for the sale of poppies May 22 and 23, the SPEBSQSA for its Tulip Time Parade of Quarters, Sea Way Bar and Hotel Warm Friend, dance hall permits; Von Ins Recreation, pool hall; Holland Bowling Lanes, bowling alley.

Applications held up until next meeting are Jacobusse Refuse Removal Service, licenses for both garbage and rubbish; De Young's Garbage and Refuse Service, rubbish; George Kotman, rubbish; Gerald Meussen, rubbish, and Albert Van Huis, rubbish.

When asked whether the health department does not inspect all premises, City Manager Herb Holt explained that according to ordinance the environmental health director inspects equipment but not particularly the applicant's yard or dump since any infraction there usually brings complaints from neighbors. It was pointed out that a previous court action in a rubbish case was a matter of zoning enforcement rather than rubbish license.

Council spent about 20 minutes discussing rubbish, trash, etc. At one point Councilman Richard Smith felt Council should not discuss the Environmental Health Department so long as a representative is not present.

Routine Business Processed

Several routine matters were processed at a regular meeting of City Council Wednesday night.

A communication from Hospital Director Frederick S. Burd clarified a question asked in Council some time ago whether Blue Cross would pay the increase in room rates which will be boosted $3 a day July 1 to start a fund for a new addition. Hospital authorities have discussed the question with Blue Cross, the communication said, and it would appear that the increase would be covered in the light of audited figures.

The following gifts were announced for the Hospital: a human skeleton from Drs. William and John K. Winter; a bulletin board valued at $18 from Wabeke Woodcraft Co., forms and supplies for mothers' classes valued at $119.50 and a thermometer valued at $150.50 from the Margaret Hummer Guild.

The Library board also announced a gift of $10 in memory of Mrs. W. J. Olive from Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Butler and $35 for books from Beta Sigma Sorority Theta Alpha chapter. All gifts were accepted with thanks.

A letter from the Library Board invited mayor and council to a coffee at Herrick Public Library immediately following the Tulip Time parade Wednesday. It was indicated that Gov. and Mrs. George Romney also were invited.

Council approved a Planning Commission recommendation to rezone a portion of land on the east side of Lincoln Ave. south of 32nd St. from A-1 one-family to C-1 neighborhood commercial and directed the city attorney to prepare the necessary ordinance.

Council okayed a transfer of $850 from the contingent account to the election account.

A city manager's report on an application for a Shell Oil Station at 1077 Washington Ave. revealed that the company does not plan to erect the station for perhaps two years and inquired if a building permit could continue valid for such a period. A statement from the building inspector indicated reasonable extensions would be granted.

A damage claim on behalf of George Visser, 554 Bay Ave., was referred to the city attorney and insurance carrier.

Council approved a change order in the amount of $1,498.75 for the BPW five-million-gallon reservoir for which Elzinga and Volkens hold the contract. If involved a small pocket of peat material in laying the foundation. This had to be removed and sand grove material replaced to stabilize the base area.

Council also approved a BPW recommendation for installing a sanitary sewer under the alternate procedure in 40th St. running 500 feet east of Central Ave., and in Central Ave. from 40th St. south to the US-31 bypass.

Councilman Bertal Slagh inquired whether highway signs at the new interchange in the southern part of the city could be clarified for the benefit of Tulip Time guests. Local residents heading east on I-196 become confused over the Washington Ave. turnoff whereas strangers follow the simpler way of "keep left" for Holland on the shorter turnoff.

A resolution was passed making Dr. J. J. Boot, mayor of Hilversum, The Netherlands, an honorary citizen of Holland during his visit here during Tulip Time.

Mayor Nelson Bosman presided at the meeting which lasted an hour and a quarter. All Councilmen were present except Donald D. Oosterbaan. The invocation was given by the Rev. Adrian Newhouse of First Reformed Church of Zeeland.

Millage Vote Set May 18 In Fennville

FENNVILLE — A second millage election in Fennville to raise 3 mills for school operations will be held May 18 for voters in Fennville school district.

Following defeat of a similar issue earlier this year, the Fennville Board of Education on March 9 adopted an austerity program for next year eliminating all music, art and physical education as well as the purchase of school buses and other necessary equipment. The program also provides for book fees and charges for the use of school facilities.

The three mills on equalized valuation will cost Fennville property owners approximately $6 per $1,000 assessed valuation.

An open meeting to discuss school costs and educational problems will be held in the school gym Monday, May 11, at 8 p.m.

Police Track Car Through Streets

Franklin Kolk, 49, of Brighton, was ticketed by Holland police late Tuesday for careless driving after police tracked the car through Holland streets with the aid of area residents.

Police were called to 19 South River Ave. to investigate a report of a car hitting a tree in front of the residence, but when they arrived the car was gone.

Following tracks left at the scene by the vehicle, police traced the car to Aniline Ave. and Ottawa Beach Rd., where the car lost a wheel. With the aid of area residents awakened by the clatter of the passing vehicle, police finally caught up to the slowly moving car at Riley St. and Butternut Drive. Its front, right wheel was missing.

Kolk told police he apparently blacked out before hitting the tree.

JENISON — Raymond Scott Wells, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Wells, 8993 Kenow St., is in serious condition at St. Mary's Hospital in Grand Rapids with a skull fracture and multiple bruises received at 3:45 p.m. Wednesday when run over by a tractor operated by his father.

The accident occurred as the father was moving dirt with a front-end loader on a tractor about 300 feet from the Wells home. The father did not know the child was behind the tractor. In backing up the rear wheel of the tractor passed over the child's head and chest.

The child received a skull fracture, chest injuries, a collapsed left lung and multiple bruises. Sheriff's officers investigated.

City Council Wednesday night unanimously approved hiring Joseph Moran as Holland's first full time recreation director in a program which would include managing Civic Center.

City Manager Herb Holt's report indicated Moran's willingness to accept the assignment, and a communication from the Board of Education assured its continuing cooperation.

The 56-year-old Moran came to Holland in 1930 as supervisor of physical education in the Holland elementary schools. He became director of athletics, physical education and recreation for the Holland schools and the city in 1950.

Moran had been serving on a part time basis as city recreation director during the school year and as fulltime director during the summer.

Councilman Harold Volkema explained the new move as encouraging for the city recreation program "putting us on the threshold of the thing we've talked about for years — a full time recreation director." Volkema said under the new program, a well rounded recreation program for the city would be using Civic Center as a focal point.

Volkema expressed pleasure at the Board of Education's continuing cooperation and pointed to possibilities of matching funds (something that was stopped during the austerity program the last two years) in the hope of providing a better recreational program for the city and particularly for those areas which have annexed to the city in recent years.

Volkema also expressed the hope that the joint advisory committee on recreation would be revived. This consisted of City Council representatives as well as citizens and school representatives.

Moran, who was present at the Council meeting, said he was proud of Holland's recreation program in past years, but felt handicapped at spending the greater share of nine months in the school system.

"A great deal can be done in Civic Center and we can make it a true recreation center in many areas in the field of adult recreation. The greater share of our former program was with youth — where it was needed most. With the backing of Council and the school, we can do it and multiply the program and have one we can all be proud of," he said.

Earl F. Price, manager of Civic Center for 10 years, died a few weeks ago. In the interim, City Auditor John Fonger has been handling bookings. Moran begins his new duties July 1.

A native of Alma, Moran graduated from Eastern Michigan University in 1930. He has been Holland High tennis coach for many years.

Active in civic affairs, Moran has worked on Tulip Time committees and was president of the Holland Community Chest.

Resthaven Board Has Regular Monthly Meet

The Resthaven board of directors met in the board room Tuesday night and the secretary reported receipts of $1,047.50 since the last meeting.

The treasurer reported a balance of $560.14 in the current fund and a balance of $2,524.61 in the building fund.

Every room is now occupied, according to the Rev. Paul Hinkamp, secretary of the board.

NEW FEED MILL — Operations are in full swing at the newly constructed feed mill in Hamilton. Although plans for a new mill had been contemplated for some time, a fire on March 17 of 1963 forced the owners to rebuild.

New Mill Now In Operation At Hamilton

HAMILTON — The Hamilton Farm Bureau Cooperative has moved into its new feed plant which marks a milestone for this organization.

Ground breaking for the mill, considered one of the most modern and efficient in the midwest, was held on June 4, 1963, less than three months after a fire, on March 17, completely destroyed the south mill. Contractor was T. E. Ibberson & Co. and engineer J. Albert Axelsson.

The new feed mill, located in the center of Michigan's most concentrated poultry industry, is made of poured concrete and features 90 individual storage bins for mixed feeds.

It has a manufacturing capacity of 50 tons of feed an hour, a storage for 12,000 tons of mixed feed and 70,000 bushels of grain. Other features of this "push-button" mill include facilities for pelleting, crumbling, adding fats, addition of molasses, grinding and mixing.

Adequate facilities are available for both custom mixing of feeds and commercial feed manufacture, however scientific formulated feeds with bulk handling and delivery will be emphasized.

The Hamilton Farm Bureau had its beginning in 1920 with 138 investors and since then has transacted more than $116 million worth of business and has passed on a total savings to its patrons of $3.3 million. About 100 are employed at the plant.

Local Doctors Hear Zuidema

Dr. George Zuidema, associate professor of surgery at the University of Michigan Medical School at Ann Arbor who will become head of the department of surgery at Johns Hopkins in Baltimore July 1, addressed the Ottawa County Medical Association at its monthly meeting Friday night at Cumerford's restaurant.

Subject of the former Holland man was "A Surgeon Looks at Medical Education," pointing out that medical knowledge has increased 10-fold since the turn of the century, particularly in the last 20 years since World War I, and yet the four-year medical course has changed but little.

"Since the emergence of medicine as a science, the whole body of medical knowledge can no longer be taught or learned in its entirety. The comfortable concept of medical school as a 'trade school' no longer holds true and institutions need a complete overhauling. The major program is to furnish 'core knowledge' together with a sound approach to continuing education so that we can practice up-to-date medicine 10, 15 and 40 years after graduation from medical school.

"Medicine stood still for centuries until research gained respectability and laboratory advances were applied to patient care. This may lead to misunderstanding on the part of the lay public and we hear that the 'art' of medicine has been lost or that scientific medicine has destroyed the doctor-patient relationship. Yet none of us would like to return to the days when we had nothing to offer our patients but compassion. Our best medicine is practiced when humanism and objectivity are present in proper balance. Doctors take many things for granted today and do not always appreciate the contributions of our forbears.

"We must recognize the continuing need for skilled clinical surgeons. The metropolitan areas are well staffed but specialty practices are reaching into smaller communities to fill their needs. Our objective should not be to train fewer surgeons but to train them better," Dr. Zuidema said.

Dr. Zuidema is a graduate of Holland High School, Hope College and Johns Hopkins.

Forest Grove

Mrs. John Brummel is showing improvement at St. Marys Hospital. Mrs. Almon Van Dam is improving at Butterworth hospital.

Gov. Romney Coming Here For Tulip Fete

Gov. George Romney will be in Holland on the first day of the 1964 Tulip festival to help kickoff traditional festivities.

Romney, his wife Lenore and others in his party will arrive at Civic Center Wednesday, May 13, shortly before noon to join local residents at lunch.

Last year, approximately 700 persons gathered in Civic Center for the event and passed through the reception line for personal greetings.

Tom De Pree, luncheon chairman, said anybody can have "lunch with the governor." Children are welcome too. Tickets are available from Mrs. James Bradbury.

Romney and his wife and party will be introduced and the governor will give a brief speech. The noon event will be over by 1:20 p.m. so that persons participating in the street scrubbing and parade will have plenty of time to get into their Dutch costumes before downtown ceremonies begin.

The Romneys will don Dutch costumes along with the rest of the local burghers. The governor is expected to bring with him the wooden shoes presented to him at last year's luncheon. These klompen were designed with a special high arch, providing considerably more comfort than the regulation pair the governor had worn scrubbing the previous year.

Youngsters seeking Romney's autograph had a field day along the line of march last year.

Reed Kuite Listed Dead At Hospital

Girl Hurt, Two Escape Injuries As Auto Hits Guard Rail, Overturns

A Holland man was killed and one other person was injured when the convertible in which they were riding overturned early Saturday on M-40 at 48th St.

Reed Allen Kuite, 21, of 99 East 31st St., was pronounced dead on arrival at Holland Hospital of a compound skull fracture. Medical examiner was Dr. J. B. Kearney.

Admitted to the hospital for observation was Mary Raffenaud, 18, of 242 West 16th St. Hospital authorities listed her condition as good.

Another passenger, James Parrot, of 166 East Seventh St., and Richard Lee Glass, 20, of route 1, Barry St., Zeeland, driver of the car, were not injured in the crash, although Glass was reported to be under sedation.

Holland police said the convertible, heading north on M-40, skidded 97 feet before striking a guard rail and rolling over into a ditch. All but Parrot were pinned under the wreckage of the car.

The accident resulted in the fourth traffic fatality in the city this year.

Kuite was born in Holland and was a graduate of Holland High School. He was employed as a machinist at Bohn Aluminum, and was a member of the Third Reformed Church.

He is survived by his mother, Marriet; a grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Kuite; an uncle, Junius Kuite of Hamilton, and an aunt, Angeline Kuite of Holland.

Women Hear Discussion On Ways to Help Needy

Holland area church women learned how they, as lay people, could assist those in need at the annual May Fellowship Day observance held Friday morning in First Reformed Church.

"Hand to Hand—Reaching Out to Help Those in Need" was the theme of the program which was sponsored by the Holland Area Council of United Church Women.

Mrs. Adrian Van Putten, a case worker with the Ottawa County Bureau of Social Aid, explained that the bureau currently handles about 800 cases a year for the aged, blind, disabled and finally for dependent children.

Mrs. Edna Heidel of the Public Health Nursing Department explained that the purpose of their work was to prevent disease through health processes. The department controls and regulates environmental health, she said, such as water, sewage and restaurant inspections.

Cushion, Flight Map Are Found

Objects Washed Ashore In Lake Michigan South of Muskegon

MUSKEGON — Positive identification at 1:15 p.m. today of a cushion, navigational maps and other objects washed ashore in Lake Michigan 1½ miles south of the Muskegon break-water spurred a small army of officers and volunteers in their search for the missing small plane which vanished Wednesday night in Muskegon area.

Aboard the plane were two 40-year-old Holland businessmen, James J. Taylor, of 123 East 26th St., vice president of Taylor's of Holland, and Andre (Andy) Docos, of 401 Fairhill Dr., manager - personnel accounting at General Electric.

Also reported spotted were some bubbles about a mile out in the water and oil in about 100 feet of water.

Identification was made by members of the Holland Flying Club owner of the four-seater Cessna Skylark which the two men had boarded at Park Township airport at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday to fly to Muskegon to practice instrument landings. They were last heard from at 9:42 p.m. Wednesday.

Ottawa County Sheriff Bernard Grysen made the identification announcement at 1:15 p.m.

A jacket washed ashore Thursday in the general Muskegon area bearing the label "Taylor's of Holland" also pointed to a strong possibility that the plane had gone down in the area. It was found by two boys who put the jacket in a tree. When their parents talked about a missing plane Thursday night, the youngsters recalled the incident and returned to the scene this morning and turned over the jacket to authorities.

The jacket was discounted first when a similar jacket was found in Taylor's parked car at Park Township airport. Then it appeared that Taylor had two such jackets, and his brother Richard was reasonably certain the jacket washed ashore belonged to his brother.

The search concentrated at Muskegon after a search by four divers near the Holland harbor proved fruitless this morning. An oil slick had been spotted about 200 yards west of the south breakwater where the water was 35 to 40 feet deep and "very cold" according to searchers at the scene.

A Coast Guard helicopter of Traverse City and three small planes participated in the search along the Lake Michigan shore this morning particularly over the area at Holland where the oil slick appeared.

Mrs. Taylor, wife of one of the missing men, was at Muskegon airport today, maintaining contact with searchers through facilities in the tower control room.

The search shifted to Lake Michigan today after a day-long search over land and water failed to produce any trace of the light plane.

50,000 Visit Polio Clinics In County

More than 50,000 persons visited polio vaccine clinics at 16 centers in Ottawa county Saturday in the second and last series of tri-valent vaccine to combat polio.

Reporting to clinics in south Ottawa were 31,650 and in north Ottawa, 20,410.

Breakdown for the south half follows: Holland Civic Center, 5,094; West Ottawa, 6,928; Thomas Jefferson School, 6,139; Montello Park, 3,725; Zeeland, 5,047; Borculo, 1,852; Hudsonville, 2,917.

Response was considered good with about 200 fewer reporting in South Ottawa compared with the first clinic Feb. 29.

Organization worked smoothly at all centers, a fact praised by representatives of the Lederle Laboratories which provided the vaccine. Representatives were present to observe local function in preparation for a new immunization manual.

The greater share of people reported in late afternoon, a contrast to the Feb. 29 clinics when the heavy press was at noon. Because of ideal weather, many people were motoring Saturday afternoon.

Dr. John J. Yiff, president of the Ottawa County Medical Society sponsoring the clinics; Dr. Ralph Ten Have of the Ottawa County Health Department, and Mrs. Irvin De Weerd, executive chapter of the Ottawa county polio chapter, today joined in thanking the hundreds of volunteers assisting at Saturday's clinics.

SCHOOL BOARD ELECTION

We wonder just how many people are thinking about the coming election June 8 to elect two members to the Board of Education.

Deadline for filing petitions is Friday, May 8, only a few days off. To qualify, a candidate must have the signatures of not less than 50 qualified electors in the school district.

Every community today has school problems and Holland is far from being an exception. As the population increases and costs of education rise, we must all remember that our schools are only as good as the citizenry helps make them. We have two new high schools in our midst, and all of us should familiarize ourselves with the needs of modern education.

When people spend more time helping to make our government work efficiently, this community will be a better place in which to live. It's been easy to criticize. Now let's work.

Also appearing on the June 8 ballot is a city charter proposition revising the salary schedule for municipal judge to $8,000 to $15,000 a year instead of the current $3,000 to $6,000 a year.

Indian Dinner Attended By Kindergarten Class

As a part of a study on Indian life in early America, the kindergarten children at Thomas Jefferson School enjoyed an Indian dinner at school on Friday. The meal was planned for a comparison of Indian food with foods here. The braves were served by maidens as they sat Indian fashion around a mock council fire.

The children did not have eating utensils and most of them lived up to the tradition that Indian children ate everything they were served.

Mrs. Bonnie Tregloan, kindergarten teacher, was assisted by Mrs. Don DeWitt for the morning group.

Later, the children, each with a chosen Indian name, joined in an Indian dance to show their gratefulness for the food. The setting included a tepee, totem poles, tom toms, baskets and pottery, and other Indian relics.

The Christian's Use of Leisure
Matthew 6:33; Mark 6:30-32;
I Corinthians 6:12-14, 19-20;
Philippians 4:8
By C. P. Dame

People in general have much more leisure time now than people had years ago. Working hours are shorter, we have many more labor - saving devices in our homes and most people ride to work faster and get home quicker. In spite of all of this many people complain about the lack of time when they are asked to do something worth while. Often the people who waste the most time claim not to have enough. The wise use of leisure time is an art many people should learn. And besides the wise use of all his time.

I. A Christian has a great task to do. The Lord told Christians to seek first the kingdom of God - make that task number one. The worldly people are so wrapped up in the material things of life that they give no thought to God. It is very easy for Christian people to do likewise and thus miss their calling. And that is why it is good to learn to use time well.

2. Rest should follow work. Jesus sent the apostles out on a preaching tour. Full of enthusiasm they came back and reported to Jesus about their experiences. Jesus was constantly surrounded by crowds and hence He could not confer with them and so He suggested that they retire to a quiet place for a time. Two reasons prompted Jesus to leave Capernaum—one was the death of John the Baptist and the other to rest and confer with each other.

We all need rest. Some modern Christians go to a retreat for a time and get new strength and inspiration. God in His mercy has given us a weekly day of rest. Many people are more tired on Sunday night than they were on Saturday night because they misuse the Lord's day, spending the day in physical pleasure rather than in seeking physical rest and spiritual profit. Let us study to use our leisure time well for the whole man.

3. The body is the temple of the Holy Spirit. Many of the early Christians came from paganism. Some found it hard to forsake their pagan ways. The Corinthian Christians mistook freedom for license and hence they needed instruction in Christian living which called for purity. Paul told these new Christians that the body "is not for fornication"—that is immoral living—"but for the Lord and the Lord for the body." These people thought that it was natural to satisfy the sex drives and instincts just as it is natural to eat when a person is hungry.

The Christian's body belongs to Christ, it is occupied by the Holy Spirit and it is the duty of the Christian to glorify God in the body and in the spirit—with the whole personality.

4. Christians are called upon to do high thinking. We know that thoughts are important. Paul summons us to think on that which is true, honest, just, pure, lovely, things "of good report" and "if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise" — these are the things we Christians should think on daily.

And this means reading books that are Christian and shunning reading of books and magazines which are filthy or even suggestive. Our times call for high and holy thinking. Let us feed our minds so that they will think in ways that please the Lord.

Thermotron Ships Two Chambers

Thermotron Corporation, one of the nation's leading manufacturers of test chambers for the Space-Electronic industry has just completed two large temperature-flight simulation units.

These chambers are each 125 cubic feet inside. The units are used for development of products for the Bendix Corporation, a prime defense contractor of the U.S. Government.

The interior of the chambers and the exteriors are bell-arc welded stainless steel. The Thermotron cascade system of direct refrigeration can cool the interior of the chamber from temperatures hotter than boiling to as low as minus 100 degrees Fahrenheit. Instruments will record and control any pre-selected temperature in the range within two degrees.

The vacuum pumping system can create flight altitude conditions as high as the Mercury space flight capsule encountered.

Kieth L. Dadd, application engineer and Charles F. Conrad, Thermotron Corporation president, negotiated the sale and basic design for the equipment.

Milton Steketee, Mark Briggs, and J. D. Homkes are the Thermotron engineers responsible for manufacturing design and final engineering. Lawrence Brouwer is responsible for the Thermotron production department.

Thermotron Corporation has been manufacturing equipment of this type in Holland since 1962. The products are installed in many important electronics and space equipment manufacturing plants throughout the United States.

The company is located at 937 South Washington Ave., in the original Roamer Boat Plant. The City of Holland arranged to lease space in the building to permit the company to start operations in 1962.

Since that time, the operation has grown to employ 33 people in Holland, 15 representatives in other cities, and a subcontractor with six men working on Thermotron projects.

According to Conrad, plans are under way for expanding the facilities as required to handle the backlog of orders ahead, and to permit manufacture of larger units now in process of engineering and assembly.

Named first runnerup was Miss Ann Wissink, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wissink of 323 West 30th St. who is a senior at Holland High School. She also was winner at the talent award trophy given by the Holland Community Theatre.

He also read the questions for the five finalists each of whom answered two questions taken from decorated bowls, the first a frivolous one and the other of a serious nature. Matthews also was the recipient of a pair of wooden shoes presented by Paul Van Kolken, president of the Holland Jaycees who gave the welcome and introduction.

As her talent number Miss Timmer presented a piano solo entitled "Frankie and Johnny," and Miss Mrok gave an original piano number "Prelude in C Sharp Minor" by Rachmaninoff. Dr. William Creason

Liberty Bell Award Given Ottawa Man

The Liberty Bell award presented on behalf of young lawyers in Ottawa county to a layman who has done the most to promote freedom, individual responsibility and respect for law and order, was awarded Friday to Dr. William M. Creason of Grand Haven at a Law Day luncheon at Legion Memorial Club.

Dr. Creason, who served as Grand Haven mayor for two terms and who is currently serving as councilman, is a Grand Haven dentist, father of four children and an elder of First Presbyterian Church of Grand Haven. A resident of Grand Haven for 18 years, he is a past president of the Rotary Club, was the Jaycee "Young Man of the Year" in 1959 and received the Elks Civic Award in 1963.

One of his greatest contributions to Grand Haven was promoting the building, construction, operation and maintenance of Grand Haven's musical fountain.

In presenting the award, it was pointed out that the honor goes to the person who has done "the most substantive, but not spectacular" work for the county as a whole.

"In the day and age where it appears fashionable to sit back and let the large units of government take care of people, he drove the city of Grand Haven to realize that individual self-help is the best solution to one's problems, and that is also the least expensive. While the public at large can enjoy the beauty of the Grand Haven fountain, young lawyers much more appreciate the lesson in individual responsibility which lies behind it," judges said in selecting Dr. Creason for the award.

Also recognized were Dr. Creason's help in establishing an efficient library in Ottawa county, and his interest in analyzing vocational training programs and instituting improvements in Grand Haven.

Serving on the committee making final selection were Hannes Meyers of Zeeland, R. Neil Stanton of Grand Haven and Don Hann of Holland.

Hear Report Of Plans for Church Union

A large crowd gathered in Trinity Reformed Church Sunday evening for a public meeting to consider the proposal of union of the Reformed Church in America with the Southern Presbyterian Church.

In charge of the meeting was Dr. Bernard Brunsting. Speaking were Dr. Henry Bast and Ekdal Buys who told about the assignment and progress of the "Committee of 24," composed of 12 members of the Reformed Church and 12 of the Southern Presbyterian denominations.

This matter will be chief topic of deliberation of the General Synod which meets the first week in June at Buck Hill Falls, Pa. The Southern Presbyterian church already has met in their General Assembly and has passed the recommendation of the "Committee of 24."

The recommendation states that the two denominations draw up a plan for union. Should the recommendation pass at Buck Hill Falls, the "Committee of 24" will then work on a plan of union which would be submitted to a later General Synod. Should that plan of union pass the General Synod and the General Assembly, it would then be submitted to each Classis for a vote and it is probable that a three-fourths vote of the Classes will be needed to approve it.

Ottawa County 4-H News

By Willis S. Boss
4-H Agent

The spring county-wide recreational program of skating parties has been completed with the Coopersville skating party on April 30 at the Ravenna rink. Although the turn-outs were not as great as previous years, the fellowship and fun of 4-Hers getting together and the wholesome sport of skating was enjoyed by all. I, again, had the chance to speak to some of the leaders and members in the various districts. We anticipate having skating parties in the fall of the year at which time membership cards will be honored.

April is clean-up month. This is the month we start cleaning up the yards and in general getting things straightened out after the long winter season. We would urge each of our 4-H members to check around their home and correct anything that might create hazards such as electric wiring, bad steps, accumulated rubbish, etc. If each 4-H member would do this, I am sure that Ottawa County would be clean and safe for the summer months that lie ahead.

The awards program information has been sent to various 4-H members who have qualified to fill out applications for various awards on district and state level. The awards committee will take the necessary steps to pass on these at

Flower Show Chairmen Prepare for Festival

The theme for the Holland Garden Club's Tulip Time Flower Show is "Nature's Color Drama." The flower show committee, of which Mrs. Nelson Clark is general chairman, will stage the show in the Woman's Literary Club on May 13, 14, 15 and 16.

Mrs. F.W. Stanton and Mrs. William G. Winter Jr., schedule chairmen, and Mrs. Harry Welter, staging chairman, developed the theme of the show to convey its aesthetic and emotional appeal. They will use the many colors and moods that are seen in the world of nature in such a way that a continuous line of beauty sustains the harmony of the show in its entirety.

Exhibits in which living flowers are used will give arrangers, who are practicing a true form of art, an opportunity to be creative artists. Nature has many dramatic colors and against the painted colors of niches and backgrounds, flower arrangements will depict the feeling of each class of the flower show. The fresh appeal of each exhibit will contribute its part in the picture which will be created by the show.

The seasons of nature will include spring with the thrill of experiencing anew the delicate budding of plants and flowers; the lush fulfillment of summer; the glowing autumnal colors and the sparkling beauty which winter can bring. Artistic arrangements will portray the moods and colors of the seasons.

Another section of the flower show will develop the theme of the moods and colors of the day beginning with the lovely opalescent colors of dawn with its feeling of restfulness and ending with the somberness of the midnight sky. The stress and heat of day will be emphasized through the floral arrangements as will the repose of the sunset hours.

The strong and muted colors of nature will also be seen in the table section which has for its theme the "colors of living." The arrangements will reveal the varying hues of the sky from dawn to dusk and from the brilliance of the rainbow to the flaming sunset. Nature has a beauty in rocks and ores which reach refinement in jewels; and has beauty in fruits, birds, flowers, shrubs and trees—all of these will be used as inspiration for various sections of the flower show.

The highest tribute visitors can pay to the exhibitors of a club and its show committee is that their delight and interest was stimulated from beginning to end and that a second study of detail is inspired toward this goal the Holland Flower Show committee has been devoting its efforts.

Meany Lashes At Democrats

Edward A. Meany Jr. of Grand Haven, Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate, departed from a prepared speech to the Ottawa County Women's Republican Club Tuesday night in Hotel Warm Friend to lash out at the Democratic party in Washington.

"It is about time that the people of this country take note of the fact that while the Democratic party holds a 2 to 1 majority in the Senate and a 3 to 2 majority in the House they blame the Republican party for failure of passing their bills. Then they have the audacity to lock Republicans out of the House committee on education and labor for two weeks while they write their bill for anti-poverty. If the bill fails on the floor they will go to the people of the nation and say baldly that the Republicans are against doing anything for the poor."

"The Democrats ought to recall that it was the Republican party that brought about civil service, anti-trust laws, food and drug acts, the homestead act, good labor legislation, conservation legislation and the first civil rights bills in 100 years. It is time for the Democrats to fish or cut bait. They have the votes in Congress. Let them use them and get on with the task," he said.

Meany emphasized the out-state vote potential that must get to the polls on election day if the Republicans expect to win in the fall. He praised Gov. Romney's accomplishments in his first 15 months in office.

He was introduced by County Chairman Ed Ellis who cited Meany's 15 years of service in county Republican politics and his statewide travel in seeking the nomination.

By Dr. Morrette Rider
A few days ago The Holland Evening Sentinel headlined the following information, "Carpenters Win 7-Hour Work Day."

Some months ago the Massachusetts Institute of Technol-

Dr. Morrette Rider

gy issued a report stating that we can expect a twenty-hour work week as common practice within thirty years.

One large manufacturer is now investigating the possibility of retirement at age 55 for his employees.

Everywhere this nation is experiencing not only a shorter work week, but also an earlier retirement date. This all points to an increased amount of leisure.

William Stirlon, Vice-President of the University of Michigan, said recently that we are headed toward either the greatest period of creative cultural activity in all history, or toward a bored society concentrating on tv, stereo, plush motels, and ping pong.

School music programs educate students for creative and fruitful use of leisure. For the talented student needing additional challenge and stimulation, they serve as enrichment programs. For the less academically talented student they provide a means for stimulating interest in learning of developing self-confidence, of granting encouragement.

The purpose of school music programs is not limited to the development of mechanical skills. They are also concerned with the areas of theoretical music and music as history.

Only a comparatively small number of students now in high school bands, orchestras, and choirs will become professional musicians. High school groups educate the amateur musicians as a performer, as a listener, and as a well educated man equipped to accept the arts not only as entertainment, but also as expression of human feeling and emotion.

Surveys made by the U. S. State Department report that 32 million Americans (one in every six) play a musical instrument. Nine million children are receiving instrumental music instruction today compared to 2½ million 15 years ago.

More than half of the two thousand symphony orchestras existing in the world today are located in the U. S. More money has been spent in the U. S. on concerts, concert recordings, and hi-fi equipment than on all spectator sports during each of the last three years. More persons attended live concerts last year than attended all baseball games, major and minor league, including the World Series.

The idea that the United States is a country without culture is obviously outmoded!

One of our nation's most important tasks is to bring our cultural resources to fullest fruition. And we must be concerned with quality as well as quantity.

Dr. Allen Britton, past-president of the Music Educators National Conference, said recently in an address at Yale, "Any general improvement in the quantity and quality of American musical education will result from the general improvement in the quantity and quality of the American music teacher. Improvement can only come as college departments of music attract better musicians, give them better musical education, and send better music teachers out to teach."

Because of our political traditions most artistic and educational affairs fall outside the province of both our national and state governments. Controls over whether or not the arts are taught at all in our schools is in the hands of the 29,000 independent school boards responsible for school programs. If music education in the schools is to be adequate — if education in any area of our schools' curriculum is to be adequate — the individual citizen and the individual student must accept his role with seriousness of purpose and a sense of responsibility.

The high school student contemplating a career in music must feel himself to be a part of that profession here and now. And the professional musician must also feel that he has a stake in the education of his future associates.

Fund Drive Nets $2,300

ALLEGAN — The "Dollars For Scholars" fund drive launched here over the weekend netted $2,343.67 in cash and pledges, according to Mrs. Francis Clair, Citizens' Scholarship Foundation president.

A goal of $7,000 has been set for the current drive.

Of the total collected by 75 volunteer workers, Sunday, Mrs. Clair said all but $245 was cash, and most in individual gifts of $5 or more.

Allegan High School students, stationed at the south side bridge Saturday took in $250 in "tolls" for the benefit of the foundation.

In order to avoid misunderstanding about how "Dollars for Scholars" are distributed, Mrs. Clair explained that the term "supplementary funds," rather than "scholarships" should be applied to awards.

It was explained that amounts awarded students for college vary, depending on how much a student needs in addition to money he has earned or that has been provided by his parents.

After two years, students who originally obtained grants are eligible to re-apply if they still qualify under terms of the Foundation, Mrs. Clair said, adding that this year's goal of $7,000 will be used to assist those re-applying as well as 1964 applicants.

Dr. Green Is MEA Speaker

Speaking on "The Sociology of Time," Dr. Thomas Green, professor of philosophy of education at Michigan State University, told the Holland MEA district at its annual dinner in Phelps Hall Monday night that the consideration of time not only influences the way people behave but becomes even more important as more leisure develops and the concept of work is redefined.

"Time is conceived in three different ways, diurnal time, clock time, and the right time. The concept of diurnal time is that time will repeat itself, a Greek idea of living in a relaxing atmosphere, not by the clock.

"The idea of clock time came about when it became necessary for man to coordinate with the machinery he had invented. Then time began to be money. It could be earned, counted and spent. Punctuality became a virtue as time became the basis of modern technology.

"The third concept, the right time, is important to contemporary society. It is being able to know when the time is opportune to battle for one's convictions.

"Teachers will be coming 'to grips' in the future with the way concepts of time work themselves out in the lives of young people," Dr. Green said. Mrs. Dyke Van Putten who is retiring was presented with a gift from the MEA with Vida Harper making the presentation speech. Mrs. Van Putten taught social studies in E. E. Fell Junior High School.
