Hope Alumni Directors to Be Chosen

It was very gratifying to us in the alumni office to observe the enthusiasm with which the representatives from the Hope College Club Chapters entered into the June 6th convocation. As a result we are sure that by next spring our National Hope College Alumni Association will be a reality.

In accordance with the constitution we hope that each Hope College Club will take immediate steps to appoint or elect their representative so that the new organization may hold its first meeting on schedule, next June.

As is brought out in Pearle Leenhouts Beach’s report, the entire association membership participates in the election of the Directors at Large. Please vote for one director in each of the three groups listed on the attached ballot and mail it not later than December 1st to the Alumni Office, Hope College, Holland, Michigan.

The constitution states regarding membership that all graduates or former students of Hope College, or persons who are or have been affiliated with Hope College are members of the association.

SECRETARY’S REPORT

Ten Hope Alumni Club representatives, one each from Albany, Chicago, Detroit, Grand Rapids, Holland, Lansing, Milwaukee, Muskegon, New York City and Rochester met with Marian Stryker and Clyde Geerlings on Friday, June 6, for an organizational convocation.

Clyde Geerlings ’27 called the meeting to order at 10:00 A.M. The Rev. Theodore Luidens ’27 opened the meeting with prayer. With characteristic energy Nicholas Keizer ’27 led the panel discussion on the “Election of Association Directors.” A carefully prepared map and discussion led by Marian Stryker ’31 was helpful in the study of areas where Hope Alumni are concentrated. Since the Hope clubs and chapters are each given one director on the Association Board by the constitution, the group gave its attention to the matter of Directors at Large. A motion was passed to divide the United States into three geographic areas and to choose candidates from each of these areas for the consideration of the Alumni Association. It was pointed out at this time that the constitution provides that the three Directors at Large shall be voted on by the entire association membership through ballots printed in the Alumni Magazine.

Allan Weenink ’43 was the capable chairman of the afternoon panel on “Publicizing Club and Chapter Meetings.” Many helpful suggestions were exchanged. Each representative carried home a new resolve: to seek out all new graduates, to promote interest by classes, and to emphasize fellowship rather than dues or money raising projects.

Pearle Leenhouts Beach ’27, Rochester Club Representative, served as secretary.

RETURNING STUDENTS IN FATAL ACCIDENT

Two Hope College students, returning early to assist with orientation activities, were killed instantly on the morning of September 12 near Canandaigua, New York, when the car in which they were riding collided with a heavy steel truck. Three other Hope students were injured, two seriously, in the same accident.

Those killed were Karol Ann Fairchild, 20, of Schenectady, who was to enter the junior class, and David de Forest, 19, of Duanesburg, New York, who was to be a sophomore.

Those critically injured were Ethel Smith, 17, Schenectady, who was entering Hope for the first time, and Lucille A. Tyse, 19, of Wallkill, New York, a sophomore. Ethel’s injuries included two fractured legs, fractured pelvis, dislocated hip and a fractured jaw. Lucille has a fractured pelvis, fractured jaw, and extreme shock.

Ronald G. Powles, 19, of Schenectady, was the least seriously injured of the five. His injuries were a fractured jaw, a gash in the forehead, and one under the chin and a punctured knee.

The truck driver, Ralph Roberts, 35, of Williamsville, New York, escaped with a scratched shoulder and friction burns. He told New York State Troopers that the students’ westbound car suddenly headed into the lane he was driving his eastbound truck at 5 a.m. The crash occurred on routes 5 and 20, the main east-west trunkline across New York state. The semi was hauling 51,651 pounds of steel.

Karol Fairchild, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Fairchild, Schenectady, was a member of the Girl’s glee club, the YWCA and Delta Phi at Hope. She was majoring in elementary education. Her brothers, Richard and Don, are graduates of Hope with the classes of 1950 and 1951, respectively.

He was graduated from Draper high school in Schenectady where he was valedictorian and editor of the yearbook.

ALUMNI DEMONSTRATE HOPE SPIRIT

By Clyde H. Geerlings

I have always been proud of Hope College, her students, her faculty and her alumni but never have I been more convinced that there exists that something which we call the Hope spirit than I was during the week following the tragic accident near Canandaigua, New York which claimed the lives of two of our most promising students and placed three in serious condition in Canandaigua’s Thompson Memorial hospital.

Canandaigua’s population of 9,000 was impressed. The citizens were impressed when a state trooper picked up a Bible which had fallen from Dave de Forest’s pocket as they lifted him from the wreck. They were impressed by the interest which our college president showed in flying to their city to give what help and comfort he could to the parents and students involved and they were deeply moved by the number of Hope alumni who visited the hospitalized young people. In the words of one prominent citizen, “Most of us in Canandaigua have never heard of Hope College, but we certainly know about it now.” The trooper who recovered the fallen Bible said: “It is hard for me to understand how these good Christian youngsters could be the victims of such a tragedy when a drunk going 90 miles an hour cracked up here only a few days ago and nothing happened to him.”

When the news of the incident reached the campus that morning our Alumni Directory showed two former students residing in Canandaigua, Shirley Otteman Outhouse ’46 and Raymond Otteman ’44N. Tony Luidens ’12 called the next day from Rochester that their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Otteman, Sr., had opened their house to the Tyse’s and Powles’. He also reported that Marion Pennings ’26, pastor of the Lakeview Community Church in Rochester went immediately to Canandaigua to render whatever assistance he could. Until recently Marion has been the pastor of the Princetown Reformed Church in Duanesburg where both Ethel Smith and David de Forest were members.

It was an inspiration to visit with Mrs. Raymond Fairchild of Schenectady and with Mr. and Mrs. Mulford de Forest of Duanesburg. From their conversation it was not difficult to see that both Karol and Dave had inherited their qualities for Christian leadership from a background of firm Christian faith.

Both families asked that funeral flowers be omitted, and that instead educational funds be set up. The Fairchilds requested that the money be given to establish a Hope College scholarship while Mr. and Mrs. de Forest have indicated that the amount received be given the building fund of Western Theological Seminary where Dave would have been a student.

At this writing (September 23) Ron, Ethel and Lucie are doing nicely at Thompson Memorial. Ronald’s doctor says that he may leave the hospital tomorrow and after a short rest at home he may return to the campus. Ethel has been in high spirits in spite of her numerous fractures. She has about memorized last year’s Milestone and last Saturday asked question after question about the campus, the faculty and the students. By this time I am sure she will be wearing the freshman “pot” which we sent her along with a Hope pennant. The hospital staff has given John ’29 and Mrs. Tyse every encouragement about Lucie’s condition. Suffering from severe shock, her powers of recognition show daily improvement.

Some of the Hope alumni who have called at the hospital include: Bill Maat ’27, Casey Dykhuisen ’25, Mart Hockema ’25, Gerard Van Heest ’49, Russ Norden ’49, and John Sutliff ’52. I know that there were many more and also many parents of past and present students.

*1941. Marvin Den Herder has been appointed group leader, catalyst research at the Whiting, Indiana, Laboratory of the Standard Oil Company.

*1951. Leonard Londo is teaching in Lyndon, Illinois, Junior High School.

*1952. William Estell sailed from New Orleans August 20 for Japan where he will be short term missionary. He will teach in the Junior high division of the boy’s school in Tokyo where there are 3,500 boys enrolled.
1952 Fulbright Participants

FULBRIGHT PROFESSORSHIP

Arthur J. Ter Keurst '32 has received a Fulbright award to teach Educational Psychology at the University of Dacca, Pakistan, starting October 1. This university is one of the two national universities in that country and is situated in East Pakistan, northeast of Calcutta. According to available information the enrollment is about 3,000 students who represent the Moslems of high socio-economic status. The students are conversant in English so Prof. Ter Keurst's lectures need not be interpreted into Urdu, the language of Pakistan.

Prof. Ter Keurst comments that his work at Dacca would be greatly limited if he should try to teach Educational Psychology based upon American life to this group that has great difficulty in understanding our culture. It is his general objective to assist the students to develop an Educational Psychology that is representative of their culture and at the same time use that study to promote social and educational advancement.

Mrs. Ter Keurst—Ruth Laug '24—will accompany her husband and they hope to arrange an itinerary that will take them around the world. They flew TWA to London from New York September 3, and from London to Karachi, India via Pan American. Traveling to and from Pakistan they will visit various places of interest in India and Pakistan. They plan to be back home by September 1953.

Mrs. Ter Keurst studied photography at Central Missouri College, as a preparatory phase of the trip. So they are expecting to have an extensive album of worthwhile scenes upon return.

Dr. Ter Keurst's biography appeared in the January 1952 issue. You will remember that he is affiliated with Central Missouri State College as chairman of the Division of Education and Psychology.

COMMENT: "I anticipate a most stimulating and worthwhile year."

FULBRIGHT SCHOLARSHIPS

Paul Schrotenboer '44-N received the Fulbright grant last April for the Academic year 1952-53 for the study of theology at the Free University in Amsterdam, Netherlands. He will study for his Th.D. under Dr. G. C. Berkouwer.

Paul is a native of Holland, graduate of Holland High School, spent two years at Hope College, graduated from Calvin College in 1944, from Calvin Seminary in 1947 and received his Th.M. from Westminster Seminary in 1949.

After graduation from Westminster, Paul has been employed as the Field Representative of Westminster. His work involved contact with students and finance promotion. While carrying out this work he traveled extensively from coast to coast with his family using a house trailer as a home.

Paul plans to take his family with him to the Netherlands. Mrs. Schrotenboer is the former Bernice Oatmen, Hope '42. They have two boys, Calvin Paul, 4 and Murray Paul, 6 months. They planned to sail on the S.S. Ryndam, August 21, to stay in the Netherlands one or two years.

SANDRENE SCHUTT FULBRIGHT EDUCATION EXCHANGE TEACHER

Sandrene (Polly) Schutt '27, who has taught English and Bible Literature at Grand Haven High School since 1927 has been granted a year's leave of absence to teach in The Netherlands for the school year 1952-53. In exchange, Johan Boswinkel from Emmen, The Netherlands, will teach in Grand Haven.

Polly was one of 15 teachers selected by the board of foreign scholarships to teach in Holland under the Fulbright plan. She has been assigned to teach English at Christelyk gymnasmum and Christelyk lyceum at The Hague.

After receiving word from Washington, D.C., in October, 1950, that she had been recommended as an exchange teacher to The Netherlands, Miss Schutt's interest deepened in the program. Because her parents were born there and because she has relatives living in that country she made the decision to accept the appointment. She speaks, reads and writes the Dutch language well, having learned it from her mother. This will be her second trip to Europe, having spent eight weeks there in the summer of 1930.

Miss Schutt is well qualified by way of experience and training for the work, besides her fluency in the Dutch language. In addition to teaching in Grand Haven, she has taught in a rural school in Iowa, and has taught English summers at Hope College. She has done advanced study at the Breadloaf school of English, Middlebury College, Vermont, and the University of Chicago.

Her extensive work with the Michigan Education Association and the National Education Association appeared in the January, 1951, issue of the Alumni Magazine. Since that time she has been elected an ex-officio member of the board of directors of the Department of Classroom Teachers NEA for 1952-53.

Polly sailed from New York August 16 aboard the Holland-American steamer 'Westerdam' with transportation arranged by the U.S. Education foundation. Her address is U.S. Educational Foundation, Bezuidenhout 18, The Hague, The Netherlands.

*1926. Jeannette Veldman left this country September 15 for Amarah, Iraq. Jeannette was formerly in China. She will teach in the school of nursing in Amarah as she did in Amoy. Her address is c/o American Mission, Amarah, Iraq.

CLASS OF 1925

From Jan and Fritz Yonkman's letter of July 28th you already know of our plan to raise some money for Hope as a special 30th Anniversary Gift.

Jan and Fritz have been appointed to handle the details of this important undertaking, and we hope that every member of the class of 1925 will send in annual or monthly gifts directly to Hope College and mark them "Class of 1925 Alumni Fund." The college needs our help now and will credit our class with the total received for our 30th anniversary gift. We would like to get at least three thousand dollars in the next three years.

We are planning a big program for 1955 and we trust that you will receive the June Alumni Day that year for our reunion. If we all do our share we will not only help our Alma Mater but we will rejoice in the results and prove once again that our class can do it! We know that we can depend upon all of you.
Hope Men in Education

MICHIGAN'S TWO COMMUNITY COLLEGES DIRECTED BY HOPE MEN

Michigan has two community colleges, established to serve the young people of the communities who could not afford away-from-home advanced education. The first of these has experienced its first year successfully under the direction of Preston N. Tanis '29. This one is located in Traverse City and is called Northwestern Michigan College.

Stanley E. Van Lare '30 will direct the new-this-year Alpena Community College.

Both of these Hope men are well qualified by training and experience for this large assignment of directing the establishment of new schools of higher education.

PRESTON TANIS, a native of Zeeeland, went to Manistique High School after leaving Hope in 1929, where he taught History and Speech until 1944. In the meantime he received his MS degree in Speech from the U. of Mich. in 1938. During the school year 1943-44 he left teaching to take a position with the State Vocational Rehabilitation program. In the fall of 1944 he went to Traverse City as a combination visiting teacher and speech correctionist. He gradually worked into the field of adult education and during the 1950-51 season became a full time director of the activities pursuant to the establishment of the community college, a combination of both day and evening programs.

"Nels' wife is the former Ione Benore, MSC graduate who taught home economics in Manistique. The family consists also of two sons, Robert, 13; and Fred, 11.

Other educational activities include President of the Michigan Adult Education Association in 1951-52 and a member of the state-wide Committee on the Instructional Program of the Community School since 1951.

STANLEY VAN LARE, a native of Marion, New York, went to the Fremont, Michigan, Public Schools after receiving his AB from Hope in 1930. He taught Social Science there for two years. The next year and a half he spent in business with the White Agency and the Fremont Mutual Fire Insurance Company. In January, 1934, he accepted a position as teacher of French and History in Alpena Public Schools. After two years of teaching, he was appointed director of guidance and placement and later became director of adult education and the Veterans Institute. Last spring he received the appointment of director of the newly organized Alpena Community College.

Mrs. Van Lare is the former Charlotte Foreman. They have one daughter, Mary Ann, 9 years old.

*1948. Raymond J. Heemstra is now nuclear chemist at the U.S. Bureau of Mines, Bartlesville, Oklahoma.

PRESTON TANIS

LESTER S. VANDER WERF

In August, 1952, his article titled 'The Teaching Profession and The Trouble with Merit Systems" appeared in The American School Board Journal (a periodical of School Administration).

The above picture was taken upon the occasion of his receiving the Ed.D. degree from Syracuse University, June 1951. With him is his wife, Bette Dixie Vander Werf, a native of New York City. There are two Vander Werf daughters, Leslie, 10 and Linda, 9.

Lester spent the years between Hope commencement and his present work teaching in Chesterton and Middleburg, New York, and studying at Syracuse University for his MA and Ed.D.

*1928. A. J. Mulder, Chicago attorney, is studying for the Christian ministry. The Chicago Presbytery has approved an accelerated course of study at McCormick Seminary for one year. At the end of the course he will apply for licensure and ordination.

John plans to continue his law office. He will spend a few hours there each week to supervise the handling of matters.

*1946. Louise Kay Edwards Lowande and husband, William, are building a new home in Franklin Park, N.J. next to the home of Hope Alumni Jean Shiffner '45 Fleckenstein.

J. OLIVER LAMPEN '39

Dr. J. Oliver Lampen, (more familiarly known as "Joe" to his friends now), associate professor of microbiology at the School of Medicine of Western Reserve University, received the 1952 Eli Lilly award, top U. S. prize in the field of biology, in May. His award was $1,000 and a medal.

Dr. Lampen was selected by the American Bacteriology Society which makes the award on the basis of a man's total contribution over a period of years. The recipient must be under 35 years of age.

The work upon which Dr. Lampen attained the award, showed that X-ray could create a mutant or changed organism which lost its ability to synthesize amino acids or other vitamins. He studied further the composition of nucleic acid, how it is made and how it is broken down in animals. These substances appear to be involved in determining the inheritable characteristics of a cell, may be of importance in cancer, and are the major constituents of most viruses," Dr. Lampen said.

As another high point of this year for Dr. Lampen, he attended the sessions of the International Congress of Biochemistry which was held in Paris, France from July 21 to 28. He attended on a grant from the National Research Council which awarded a number of grants to young scientists in order to enable them to attend this congress. While in Europe he also visited Copenhagen, Denmark, various cities in The Netherlands, London, and Switzerland. In Amsterdam he met his sister, Barbara '38, who also traveled in Europe this summer.

Another phase of his work during his term of service at Western Reserve since 1949 has been in the experiment at that Medical School in reorganization of the medical curriculum which was initiated on September 17, this year.

Dr. Lampen is a native of Holland, the son of Prof. and Mrs. A. E. Lampen. After graduation from Holland High and Hope College as Valedictorian in both instances, he took his masters and Ph.D. degrees at Wisconsin, special work in biochemistry at Washington University, St. Louis, on a Rockefeller scholarship, and then on to Western Reserve.

Mrs. Lampen is the former Miriam Walsh of Greenwich, Connecticut, whom he met while working at American Cyanide in Stamford, Connecticut. There are two Lampen sons: David, 5, Peter 2½. The family lives at 1530 Rydalmount Rd., Cleveland Heights 18, Ohio.

HOPE PARTICIPATES IN STANDARD OIL SCHOLARSHIPS

Hope College is one of 14 liberal arts colleges in Midwestern states chosen to participate in the undergraduate scholarships established by The Standard Oil Co. (Indiana) for the training of technical personnel.

BOOK ANALYSIS

By Garrett Vander Borgh

Dr. John Piet, Hope '36, missionary in the Arcot Mission of the Reformed Church in South India, has written a scholarly book entitled Saiva Siddhanta Philosophy. It is the eighth in a series of books in the India Research Series, and is published by the Christian Literature Society for India.

The Saiva Siddhanta is one of several expressions of the Hindu philosophy. It is regarded as one of the classical products of the Tamil mind and one of the finest systems of Hindu thought and life. These Indians are worshippers of the Hindu god Siva, which explains the origin of the word "Saiva." The word Siddhanta conveys the idea of absolute intellectual finality. Dr. Piet undertakes to present to his readers the content of this Asiatic religion, to show how this form of Hinduism is related to and complements the other expressions of this way of life, and how by sheer dialectic its propositions and doctrines are derived.

In the last section of the book the author makes his own careful and objective analysis of the Siddhanta, calling attention to certain errors and limitations that inhere in it, as he views it.

The book should be of great value and interest to the missionary, especially to those who come to India as recruits in Kingdom work. Dr. Piet has made available to them a book from which they should be able to derive an appreciation of the Hindu philosophy and an understanding of the Hindu people without which it would be difficult to do effective work among them.

1943. David W. Saxton is with the air weather service in Tokyo. His wife and three daughters will join him early in October.

Dr. J. Dyke Van Putten
Mr. Lawrence J. Green of Pella, Iowa, has been engaged as Assistant Professor of Physical Education at Hope College. He will succeed John H. L. Schouten who retired from the Hope faculty after serving for 33 years as director of physical education.

Prof. Green is a native of Morrison, Ill., where he was graduated from high school in 1941. He received his bachelor of arts degree from Central college in 1946 and his master of science degree from Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa in 1950. He is a candidate for his doctorate from the State University of Iowa this August. He also attended N.W. Missouri State Teachers College in 1943.

Prof. Green served as a deck officer in the Navy from 1942 to 1946 following which he joined the faculty of Laurens high school in Iowa where he coached football, basketball and baseball for a 3 year period. During one of those years his football and basketball teams had undefeated seasons.

An extensive traveler, Prof. Green has visited England, France, Scotland and Ireland. He has also traveled in the Hawaiian Islands, West Indies, Alaska, the Marshall Islands, the Gilbert and Mariana Islands as well as Mexico.

Prof. Green was active in football, baseball and track during his undergraduate training and is a member of Phi Epsilon Kappa, a national physical education fraternity. He has been interested in Y.M.C.A. work and many Reformed church activities. Prof. Green is married and has two children.

Dr. John Hollenbach, Dean of Hope College, was the director of the Workshop in Higher Education which was held on the campus of the University of Chicago for four weeks this summer. The workshop was conducted by the North Central Association as a phase of its Study of Liberal Arts Education. A similar workshop had been held at the University of Minnesota earlier in the summer.

There are some sixty colleges in this North Central Study, of which about 30 were represented at the Chicago conference. All the colleges in the study are carrying on special investigations of their programs of general education. The purpose of the workshops is to give faculty members opportunity to work under expert guidance on their personal problems and also to give help through the representative at the Workshop in solving the college’s problems in general education. These workshops have been carried on for several summers and the participants invariably return to their campuses considerably enthused about them and feeling that they have definitely benefited by the experience.

Another important aspect of the North Central Study is the annual visits to the member schools of a special adviser, known as a coordinator. There are six coordinators who have been carefully chosen by the North Central because of their understanding of the problems of general education as they exist in the Liberal Arts colleges. Dr. Hollenbach is one of the coordinators.

They are left to right from their father: Tim, 6, first grader; Tom, 10, fifth grader; Bob, 12, grade 7; and Jim, 8, third grade. On the top step is Don, 13, eighth grade, saying goodbye to his mother and Rusty, 6 weeks.

Dr. Alice Elliot of Wichita, Kansas, has been engaged as assistant professor of Biology at Hope College.

Dr. Elliot is a graduate of El Dorado Junior college in Kansas and received her bachelor of science degree from State Teacher’s college, Emporia, Kansas in 1942. She received her master of science degree from Kansas State college in 1947 and her doctorate from the same institution in 1950, where she majored in zoology and parasitology. She has also done graduate work at the Universities of Michigan and Wisconsin.

Dr. Elliot comes to Hope with lots of educational experience in high schools and colleges having been a member of the faculties of El Dorado Junior College, Emporia State Teachers college, Gridley High School, Meade High School, Pratt Junior and Senior High Schools, Kansas State College and Kansas State Teachers college, all located in the state of Kansas.

She also holds professional memberships in the American Society of Parasitologists, the Kansas Academy of Science, the American Microscopical Society and the American Association of University Professors.

John Ryskamp ’50 will be Instructor in Physics at Hope starting in September. John, a native of Cleveland, has been an Aeronautical Research Scientist with the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics for the past year. It will be remembered that he was Hope’s regent scholar at the University of Michigan during the year 1950-51. He, of course, chose to do his work in physics. He is also a veteran of one and a half years in the U.S. Navy.

*1950. Dorothy Kranendonk has accepted a position with McCordle Institute, a cancer research foundation, connected with the University of Wisconsin.
"Worshipping at Hope Through the Years"

By Edward D. Dimnent

President Gerrit J. Kollen, with clear vision and dynamic spirit, placed HOPE COLLEGE in the vanguard of the college expansion program prevalent throughout the country at that time. The cornerstone of GRAVES LIBRARY AND WINANTS CHAPEL was laid October 12, 1892. VAN RAALTE MEMORIAL HALL was dedicated in 1903. CARNEGIE GYMNASIUM was completed in 1906. ELIZABETH R. VOORHEES HALL was opened in 1907. The "great advance" began with plans for GRAVES LIBRARY AND WINANTS CHAPEL in 1892, the first new building erected on the campus over a period of twenty years. The PRESIDENT'S HOUSE was authorized and begun in 1886, but it stood from 1888 to 1893 with a skeleton interior and boarded window and door openings until President Kollen was elected in 1893.

Graves Library and Winants Chapel was a combination building with book stacks, reading room, and librarian's office at the north end, toward the east center; a middle section with four large lecture rooms on the second floor; and the administration rooms, and the Chapel Annex on the first floor. The entire south third of the building was designed by the architect, Mr. William K. Johnston of Chicago, as WINANTS CHAPEL. The interior was done in current mode: a high vaulted beamed ceiling finished in natural dark pine, panelled wainscot of clear white pine in natural finish on all sides to the window ledges, floor sloping in semicircle up to a platform at the center of the south wall. This platform was about three feet high, approximately twenty feet long, and ten feet deep, with a fretted rail of white oak at each side.

The platform furniture was of white oak in golden finish. A settee, upholstered in black leather, and two side chairs were set at the back wall; the pulpit was of oak, chaste, simple in design and finish; a Wilton rug in a light rose pattern covered the entire floor. Low steps led from the auditorium floor to the platform. Several years after dedication, a large grand piano was added through the efforts of Prof. John B. Nykerk who was then in charge of the music department of the College.

The order of service followed in the main that of the "Old Chapel" but the members entered from the Administration Rooms and were seated in the south-west block of chairs. The President and one member of the faculty took places upon the platform, the president making general announcements, presenting items of interest to the student body, and introducing guests who were to speak for the session.

Some 450 opera chairs of black ebony finish, arranged in amphitheater style, were set on the auditorium floor from the south wall to the Chapel Annex. The room was heated by hot air furnace. It was one of the first, if not the first, public buildings in the city of Holland to be lighted by electricity, an extreme innovation at the time. Light bulbs were rated in "candle power" rather than in "watts," and the expense of the system was based on the average number of bulbs used rather than on current consumption. "THE CHAPEL" was separated from "THE CHAPEL ANNEX" by a heavy wall in which was slated three accordion doors that could be rolled up into pockets in the partition, thus providing a larger auditorium floor with a seating capacity of 600.

The CHAPEL ANNEX had a low platform in front occupying the large east bay of the building. On it were an upright piano, a pulpfit, chairs, and a cabinet bookcase. The ANNEX was used by the College Young Men's Christian Association for its two weekly meetings, by smaller groups, and by townspeople for meetings of limited size. The COLLEGE LECTURE COURSES were held in the large auditorium under Prof. J. B. Nykerk's management, and many of the nation's most distinguished statesmen, pulpit and platform orators, and scientific leaders drew capacity crowds. Music programs, vocal and instrumental, were given by artists from eastern opera and orchestra concert groups and by soloists of highest repute east and west. Local church congregations used the building for occasional Sunday Services and for minor week-day meetings. Movable hard-maple settees provided seats for more than two hundred persons.

GRAVES LIBRARY AND WINANTS CHAPEL, as one building, was considered, aesthetically and architecturally, to be one of the finest building erected during this long period on any campus in the State of Michigan. It is not Italian nor is it French, but it has suggestions of each, to which is added an unusual delicacy and refinement of execution. It is built of Waverly sandstone, quarried locally, unfortunately a soft stone, and much of its fine ornamentation has been marred or lost after these fifty years. However, it still stands as a beautiful memorial to the men who provided funds for it, the Hon. Nathan F. Graves and Captain Garret Ellis Winants, both residents of New York, and to President Gerrit J. Kollen, who selected the site, chose and advised with the architect, William K. Johnston of Chicago, and who bore the burden of financing and supervising its construction. To some Hope College alumni even today it is regarded as the finest building on the campus.

DR. JOHN LAVAN DIES AT 61

Dr. John Leonard Lavan, who was shortstop for both St. Louis teams and the Athletics, died in a hospital at Detroit, May 30, after a brief illness at the age of 61. He was a product of the University of Michigan, where he played with George Sisler, when Branch Rickey was coach. He later was a teammate of Sisler with the Browns and played for Rickey, both with the Browns and Cardinals.

Following his retirement from the game, Dr. Lavan became nationally known in social hygiene work. He was director of social hygiene for the Wayne County (Mich.) Health Department at the time of his death, had headed health programs in St. Louis, Kansas City, Toledo, Kalamazoo and Grand Rapids, and was assistant flight surgeon for the Universal Aviation Corporation. He served as a commander at the Naval Hospital in Brooklyn during World War II and was a lieutenant in the Army Medical Corps in World War I. At one time he was director of research for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Born in Grand Rapids, Mich., October 28, 1890, Lavan attended Hope College for three years and the University of Michigan, where he obtained his medical degree, from 1911 through 1914. While a young girl practicing the family doctor on his rounds, Lavan decided he wanted to be a physician. He had no diamond aspirations until Rickey showed him how he could play ball and study medicine at the same time. So he went out for the University team and during the summers played with Holland, Mich., and Muskegon in 1911 and 1912 under the name of Lewan.

Rickey, then with the Browns, acquired his contract from Muskegon in May, 1913, and he remained with the St. Louis team until July, 1913, when he was sold to the Athletics. The A's were on their way to their third pennant in four years when Shortstop Jack Barry suffered an arm injury. The doctors said Barry would not be able to play for the rest of the season, so the Athletics bought Lavan to replace him. Barry, however, recovered from the injury in time to finish the season and play all the games in the 1913 World's Series. Lavan did not get into the fall classic, but he received $3,294 as a winning share, which enabled him to complete his medical education.

Returned to the Browns for 1914, Lavan remained with the St. Louis team until the end of the 1917 season when he was traded to Washington with Burt Shotton for Pitcher Melvin Gallia and $15,000. He went into the Army as a medical lieutenant early the following year. On his return from the service, he told Rickey, then with the Cardinals, he would like to play for him and waivers were arranged for him to join the Cardinals in May, 1919. Lavan remained with the Cardinals until 1924. With them, he had his best season in the majors, in 1920, when he batted .289 in 142 games. He filled every infield position with the Cardinals in 1923.

Released to Kansas City early in the 1924 season, Lavan managed the American Association Blues for two years and made his last appearance in the game as manager of Lincoln in 1927. He retired for private practice until 1930, when he began his long career with public health departments as health commissioner at Toledo, O.

Surviving are his wife, Myrtle; two daughters, Mrs. Andrew Gregg Scott of Detroit, and Mrs. Robert Archer of Racine, Wisconsin; his mother, Mrs. William J. Lavan, and two sisters.

Robert Eyerly '51N (AF16354986, A1C, USAF, Allied Air Forces Central Europe) writing from Fontainebleau, France, Sept. 10...

Dear Professor Geerlings: I received the most recent issue of the Alumni Magazine, and was very interested in it. It makes me very homesick to read all about Hope College again, and I wish very strongly that I could go home. However, I am very much looking forward to the fact that the Air Force seems to have other ideas, I won't make it this year. I don't know who it was that paid for my subscription to the Alumni Magazine, although I imagine that it was my folks, but when the subscription runs out, please be sure and send me a bill, since I want to keep on receiving it.

Well, I have seen Paris in the summer, and the weather here is little that can compare with it, although in the winter it is awful. I am planning on taking a trip to the Netherlands next month, and see if I can't find some of the Dutch boys that I knew during Hope College. This year, I also intend to go up there next Tulip Time, since I missed the last one, and see how the original compares with that which is carried on in Holland, Michigan. It will of course have to go some to match.

In case your interest was aroused by the heading on this paper, this Hq, is a NATO organization directly under SHAPE and controlling all the NATO Air Forces in the Central European area. The stories, that are sented in this Hq, are the U.S., U.K., Canada, Belgium, French and last but not least, the Netherlands. The combined nations get along very well with each other, and far better off duty than I expected that they would. It is surprising to see so many different nationalities mixed together for a united cause, and making it work. I don't think that this unity will last as long as the same end situation as the nations did. In fact, it can't if peace is to be preserved.

Please give my best regards to all the professors there at Hope, and tell them that I am planning on seeing them again in 1955.

Barbara Dee Folksie '46 Timmer writing from Muenchen, Germany...

Dear Marian: I thought I'd take care of two items at once by asking you to print a change of address for us in the Alumni Magazine and by enclosing our small contribution to the Emergency Fund. The above address is for local mail only, the one for our friends and relatives in the States is:

Major N. Timmer A0855559, 1812th AACS Group, APO 407-A, c/o Postmaster, New York, N.Y.

The last time I wrote you, we were comfortably situated on Long Island where Norm was sent (Mitchel AFB) after being recalled. Last November he received the overseas orders which we had been expecting, and by the end of February of this year, he was in Germany. The children and I spent the following five (long) months between our Wantagh home and that of my folks in Albany. In May we applied for passport (This was done until we received word from Norm that housing here was available.). The next month we moved out of our home, and by the first week in July we arrived in Bremerhaven, Germany, the port of debarkation.

It still seems like a dream that we are really here. The trip over was full of the unexpected. We sailed from New York June 28th on the General Rose, luxury liner of the Military Sea Transportation Service. This was a week after we had been due to leave and the fact that Johnny got the mumps and was in quarantine for a week. The weather was beautiful and the trip delightful all the way, with the excep- tion of the toll taken by Hitler's submarine convoys. The day before we docked there was a fire in one engine of the ship which had us all a bit unnerved. We were in and out of life jackets several times before the danger was pronounced over; the ship turned into port at half speed, docking ten hours behind schedule, much to everyone's disappointment! Sunday morning, D-day, Barbie (5/2) woke up with fever and suspiciously cold in her neck. Yes, it was the ship's doctor wired ahead for us and we were met by an Army ambulance which took us in style over the cobblestone roads of the city to the Bremerhaven Army Hospital. The hospital, used by Hitler's submarine contingents. Norm drove up from Munich to meet us and after five days the doctor reported that Barbie was well enough to travel.

The trip itself was a distance of 550 miles, almost straight south, was a thrilling one and we saw much more of Germany than we would've seen from the train. (It still seems peculiar to see our car here with plates reading, 'U.S. Army, Germany'). The children are now instead of Michigan's silver and black ones.) Part of the driving, the most interesting at least, was on narrow cobblestone roads, winding in and out of the small towns, and the rest of the time on the autobahn, which was lovely. In our divided highways. Narrow roads are a minor driving hazard compared to the innumerous bicycles that throng the highways and city streets. Whole families travel that way, with tiny babies in baskets on the handlebars. It's quite a sight. Needless to say, it was a relief to arrive here. Munich is the capital city of Bavaria and we have a spacious three-bedroom apartment in the Air Force housing area. The children have continued to attend the American nursery school this summer and Johnny (3) will continue in the fall when Barbie starts kindergarten.

Norm's job is inspecting communications at the Technical Command, Switzerland, France, and Austria, and I hope to be able to take some of the trips with him. We are about two hours from Garmisch, famous winter and summer resort of southern Germany. It is a very picturesque Swiss-type village at the foot of the Zugspitze, highest peak in the German Alps. Munich too is a very interesting city, with much evidence of bombed damage all over.

If by any chance any Hopeites are in this vicinity, they will be thrilled to be able to come over and have them look us up. About the nearest we have come to that was meeting Navy Commander Bob Schugman, head of the Bremerhaven Naval Dispensary, who went to Grand Rapids Junior College with Norm way back when.

Preston Stegenga '47 writing from Berea, Kentucky...

Dear Mrs. Stryker: Marcia (De Young '48) and I just returned to the good ole U.S.A. a few days ago. We had a rendezvous with family and friends and trip this summer as we had a really 'practical education.' We had an opportunity to meet many Hopeites in various sections of the world. In Amarah, Iraq, we spent two weeks with my sister Ruth Stegenga Luidens '42 and her husband Tom Luidens '40, whose office is a branch of the U.S. Foreign Service, which is located along the Tigris River, we met Eloise Boynton Bosch '41. They are all doing missionary work for the Reformed Church in the Arabian Mission.

In Athens, Greece, we visited Helen Baker '50 and her husband Paul Hole for a few days. We are working for the U.S. government in the Mutual Security Administration. In Germany we spent a week-end traveling around the Rhineland with Pat and Ted '56 who is also working for the United States government in the Ruhr area. In Amsterdam we were pleasantly surprised to renew our acquaint- ance with Constance Heyting '50N of the Dutch students who attended Hope Col- lege in 1946 and is now doing advanced study at Amsterdam University in chemistry. Thus, you can see that we had small Hope Alumni reunions in many countries.

Randall Vande Water writing from Fort Bliss, Texas, August 30...

Dear Mrs. Stryker: This marks the 18th day in the service. We began processing at Fort Custer, Monday, August 25 and flew to a Installation at Malmstrom Air Force Base in an anti-aircraft battery and will begin our infantry training Sept. 2. After eight weeks of infantry training we are scheduled for eight weeks of anti-aircraft training.

We are located just a few miles from the Mexican border, about 1700 miles from Hope College.

Your Hope students are stationed together down here which is really swell. Bill Bocks, John Du Mez, Ken Kuiper and myself (all 52) are in the same battery. We get up at 4:45 in the morning and lights are turned out at 9 p.m. We live in five man huts and are taking our meals in the mountains. The food, so far, has been good.

Capt. Vern Meerdink '42 writing from Neufjordland, August 25...

Dear Marian: The family joined me early last Fall. The week of July 4th was a full one for us. On the 3rd I was notified of my promotion to Captain (those wonder- ful days have now given way to the drudgery of my new rank). We got a trip to the Dispensary resulted in the arrival of Jesse LeRoy (our first son and 3rd child). Lora starts school next week and Barbara was on August 23.

I'm still the only chaplain and have seen our base increase in strength. We're supposed to have a Roman Catholic Chaplain arriving sometime next month. I'll believe it when he walks through the door.

I'm on the down-hill slope of my tour here—expect to return to the Zl next April (Mez, Stryker, and I are due here in August). Chuck Kelly '51 is working for Eastman Kodak of L.A. Maurice Joldersma is at Tulip and also Haldor Geerlings: We are both stationed here now and am writing this letter to you while my replacement arrives.

The Labrador current has kept it never over 80 up here; and, the fog has been negligible this year.

Ken Smouse '51 writing from USMC base, San Diego, Calif...

Dear Mr. Geerlings: Lately we have been having quite the Hope College Alumni re-union dinners here on the west coast. Russ Kees '50 and I went through Boot Camp together, and are now stationed here in San Diego. Chuck Kelly '51 is working for Eastman Kodak of L.A., Maurice Joldersma is at Tulip and also Haldor Geerlings: We are both stationed here now and am writing this letter to you while my replacement arrives.

The Labrador current has kept it never over 80 up here; and, the fog has been negligible this year.
HOPE HAVEN FARM
By Proton J. Stegenga '47.

During the formative period of Hope College in the nineteenth century various unique plans were advocated for the financial support of the institution. One of those proposals was that the college should develop and cultivate a large tract of land known as Hope Haven Farm. The profits obtained from the farm were to be applied as a source of income for the college.

The plan originated in 1862 when the pecuniary prospects for the institution were not too bright. The Particular Synod of Chicago in 1863 originally approved the proposal, suggesting in its minutes that "the proceeds of the sales of the farm products, after deducting expenses therewith, shall go toward the establishment of a Professorial Fund." In June of the same year the General Synod of the Reformed Church in America also discussed and approved the Hope Haven Farm proposal.

In order to carry out these suggestions for the farm, a beautiful peninsula of more than eight hundred acres, "Point Superior," was purchased by the college in 1867. The tract of land was a valuable piece of real estate located on the south side of Black Lake mid-way between the city of Holland and the mouth of the Lake Michigan harbor. A large portion of the money used to purchase the farm came from Elder James Sydnam, a church leader in the East. In recognition of his large contribution, the farm was often called the "James Sydnam Farm of Hope College."

The purpose of the Hope Haven Farm gradually expanded so that in 1871 the Special Committee on the Reorganization of Hope College advocated that the farm should not only be used for the financial support of the institution, but it should also be the germ for the establishment of a scientific school for the college. The Committee suggested that the proposed scientific school should become "a department of instruction within Hope College."

No evidence has been found to indicate that these plans for the cultivation of the farm for the establishment of a scientific school were ever completely fulfilled. It was discovered that the area was not adequate for cultivation because of the poor soil. Moreover, instead of helping the fiscal program of the college, the farm became a heavy financial burden. Therefore, during the administration of President Kollen, the farm was sold to three real estate men who later converted the area into a profitable summer resort. Nevertheless, like the Hope Haven University plan of 1868, the entire Hope Haven Farm proposal was an

THE TEACHER'S PRAYER
By Willard Parker Vander Laan '05

Refreshed with sleep, I start this day
On bended knee I humbly pray
That guided by Thy Gospel's light
The battle I may wage for right;
May my fellow teachers feel
The greatness of our task is real;
May train some youths of freedom's land
For all that's noble, true to stand.

Grant me, today, when pupils come
The grace to make my room their home,
To be a brother, mother, dad
To every scholar good or bad,
And that each one may wisdom gain,
Help me my soul, my mind, my brain,
Keep pure and clean; to always work,
Lest one his slightest task should shirk.

Help me, O God, this day to be
Example of humility,
True greatness to mankind extol
And in it make youth hear Thy call
To help his fellows under load
Find pleasure in life's upward road;
That some day, soon, this land may be
From lust and selfishness set free.

Make me alive to this great truth
That each day I am judged by youth
If I, in that opinion fail,
My finished task's no avail.
Be that my guide till life is done,
Till from earth's school Thou call'st me home;
When teacher still on earth I'll be
Through lives of those who come to me.

This poem was found among Mr. Vander Laan's papers after his death on February 8, 1952. (Neurology, Alumni Magazine April 1952)
