Harry Wiltterdink, 76, Grand Rapids, was issued a ticket for failure to yield the right of way following an accident with a car driven by Erma Bruggink, 22, of 611 Crescent Dr., at 21st St. and College Ave., Wednesday afternoon.

Damage to the Wiltterdink '39 model car was estimated at $200 and to Miss Bruggink's '47 model car at $10, police said.

Senate Votes Funds for Any Disputed Elections

The Senate voted $50,000 today for investigation of any contests that may develop in this fall's senatorial elections.

The money will go to the Rules Committee Elections Subcommittee. The rules group originally asked $75,000.

But Chairman William E. Jenner (R-Ind.) proposed the lower figure. He said the subcommittee will ask for more money later if more contests than usual develop.

Girl, 18, Killed In Ottawa Crash

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — One person was killed and three were injured at 1:10 a.m. today when the car in which they were riding went out of control on a curve and slammed into two trees on M-50 about six miles east of Allendale.

Mrs. Phyllis Fish, 18, of 47 South View, Grand Rapids, died shortly after she was admitted to St. Mary's Hospital in Grand Rapids. She had received a crushed chest and other internal injuries.

The other three occupants in the car also were injured and were taken to St. Mary's Hospital. The driver, Charles Westra, 19, of 821 Burton, Grand Rapids, received severe scalp lacerations as did Angelo Palazzolo, 21, also of Grand Rapids. Wanda Baretta, 17, Grand Rapids, was under treatment for severe shock and bruises.

Sheriff's officers said the driver lost control on a curve and skidded on the shoulder for a tenth of a mile before twisting around and crashing into a tree with the rear end. The impact caused the car to bounce and hit another tree. The car, a 1951 model, was a total wreck.

Sheriff Jerry Vanderbeek and other officers were continuing the investigation today to determine whether the driver will be charged. Deputy Roelf Bronkema of Tallmadge Township assisted.

Seeley Exams Finally Start

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — The oft-postponed examination of G. Palmer Seeley and Ronald V. Kennedy, ousted state highway department employees accused of irregularities in land sales for highway right-of-way, opened today in Municipal Court.

Municipal Judge Louis H. Osterhaus granted a motion made by Assistant Attorney General Perry Maynard to dismiss the case against Seeley as a co-defendant but not as a co-conspirator, although Ottawa Prosecutor James Bussard had gone on record that he was not participating in the motion.

First witness called was Louis De Kraker who since has moved to Hudsonville who testified in substance that the two men told him he could purchase the farm buildings for $300 after he sold his property to the state. He said he went to the Grand Rapids office with a $300 check but was informed the two would have to have cash.

The same day, De Kraker said, the two men visited his property and in his hand handed them three $100 bills. Some receipts, a quit claim deed and options were admitted as evidence.

After the motion was granted dismissing the case against Seeley as a co-defendant, Seeley's counsel, Adrian Verspoor, a Grand Rapids attorney, withdrew from the examination and immediately left the court room.

Local Man Admits Taking Collections At Two Churches

Faces Arraignment At Grand Haven On Larceny Charge

Irwin J. Lubbers, Jr., 29, of 92 East 10th St., was to be arraigned in Grand Haven Municipal Court this afternoon on a charge of larceny from a building involving upwards of $50.

He was expected to waive examination and be arraigned in Circuit Court later this afternoon.

Lubbers, who has been undergoing psychiatric treatment, has admitted thefts of $300 at Third Christian Reformed Church building in Zeeland and $500 at Garfield Park Christian Reformed Church in Grand Rapids Sunday. He is alleged to have walked into each church during Sunday morning services and walked out with the collection plates.

The congregation of North Street Christian Reformed Church of Zeeland was using the Third Church building while its own building is being remodeled. The service began at 8:15 a.m.

Police Chief Elmer Boss of Zeeland, who signed the complaint, said Lubbers entered the Zeeland church shortly after the Rev. John Guichelaar finished the sermon, "Yield Not to Temptation."

"He grabbed the collection plates and walked piously out and no one suspected anything until it was all over," Boss said. "The two regular ushers thought he had been appointed an usher by the minister before the service."

Rev. Guichelaar termed the thefts a "tragic thing" and said his church council would meet to discuss the case.

The Rev. Harold Leestma, pastor of the Grand Rapids church, was in the middle of his sermon when Lubbers entered. Members of the congregation said he listened to the minister about 15 minutes then, while heads were bowed in prayer, walked off with the collection.

After the Grand Rapids theft, Lubbers drove back to his home here and told his wife what he had done. She informed her father-in-law, Dr. Irwin J. Lubbers, and he turned his son over to Holland police.

He told officers that his son suffered a nervous breakdown 18 months ago and was treated on two occasions at Pine Rest Sanitarium since that time.

"He's a very sick boy," the father said. "He's had a very difficult time. We have had him under treatment and thought he was making headway. However, the arrival of a new baby (two weeks ago) might have been too much for him and caused a depression. We believe this disturbance dates back to his World War II Navy days when he was in dangerous underwater demolition work."

Lubbers, an architect, was described by his father as being a "very brilliant student" during his college days at Yale. The son, his wife and their two children have been living here with the father and mother at their Hope College campus quarters.

The young man was employed as an architect in Detroit, Lansing and Grand Rapids before he suffered the nervous breakdown. He gave up his home in Grand Rapids and came to live with his parents here. He was at Pine Rest for one month some time ago and later returned for two weeks of shock treatments.

Meanwhile, Rev. Leestma said his congregation prayed for the young man and his family at Sunday evening services.

Ask Mayors' Aid In Seaway Plan

Mayors of 36 port cities in Michigan, including Holland, have been asked to join in development of a program to make maximum use of the St. Lawrence Seaway. Sen. Homer Ferguson sent letters to the 36 mayors, asking them to declare what steps local communities are taking and what work the federal government might be asked to do in such a development program.

Mayor Harry Harrington received the senator's letter Thursday, but said no action will be taken until after Tulip Time.

Ferguson said a meeting of the mayors may be called in Washington eventually.

At Lansing, Gov. G. Mennen Williams Thursday requested the State Waterways Commission to prepare plans for expansion and improvement of Michigan Harbor facilities following congressional approval of the Seaway construction.

Earlier, the Legislature approved creation of a joint committee to study adequacy of state laws permitting port authorities to undertake harbor improvements. The committee will be composed of two senators and three representatives.

"The construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway will open a new frontier for the state of Michigan," the governor said. "It seems to me that we should act now to prepare a plan which will make it possible for Michigan, as a state, to reap fullest benefit of this project."

"I cannot over emphasize the fact that competition for the trade which will be brought to the Midwest by the seaway will be keen. We cannot afford to lose a moment in this contest due to lack of forethought and inadequate planning."

New Western Seminary Cornerstone Is Laid

Western Theological Seminary observed two significant events Wednesday — the laying of the cornerstone for the new seminary development in the afternoon and the 69th commencement for 26 seniors in the evening at Hope Memorial Chapel.

Dr. Jacob Blaauw of Grand Rapids, president of the seminary board of trustees, placed the new cornerstone in place in the presence of the board, the faculty, students and others interested. A brief address was given by the Rev. Peter A. De Jonge of Sioux Center, Ia.

Into the cornerstone went a Holland Sentinel with the account of the ground breaking a month or more ago, a Tulip Time issue of this year, the five most recent commencement programs, the commencement issue of the Church Herald, a seminary catalogue, auditor's report, minutes of General Synod, pictures of buildings torn down for the new construction, an issue of Time magazine and the old box and all the contents which were taken from old Semelink Hall.

Dr. Bernard J. Mulder of New York City, president of the board of education of the Reformed Church in America, delivered the main address at commencement exercises in the evening.

The order of procession listed members of the student body of the seminary with seniors, middle class and junior class, members of the seminary board of trustees, seminary faculty and participants in the program.

Dr. J. R. Mulder, seminary president, presided and the Rev. Blaauw read scripture and gave the prayer. Music was provided by the seminary choir, Roger Rietberg, director.

Two Men Injured In Auto Accident

Two persons were injured, one seriously, and a 1950 model car demolished in a collision with a double bottomed semi this morning at 152nd St. and Port Sheldon Rd.

Injured were the driver, Harvey Wolters, 16, West Olive, who received lacerations on the mouth and hand and back bruises. He also lost several front teeth. He was discharged from Holland Hospital after treatment.

Richard Jones, 20, route 1, West Olive, received possible head injuries and lacerations and abrasions to the face and neck. His condition was described as "serious" by hospital authorities. Jones was still unconscious early this afternoon.

Police said the two vehicles collided in the center of the intersection. The semi, driven by Walter L. Slomka, of Detroit, was heading west on Port Sheldon Dr. when the Wolters' car, northbound on 152nd St., struck the semi at the tandem wheels of the first trailer.

Police said the intersection was a bad one. Trees and bushes make it virtually impossible to see either right or left until a vehicle is practically in the middle of the intersection. Both roads are gravel.

The driver of the semi was not injured. Damage to the truck was estimated at $2,000. Deputy Nelson Lucas continued his investigation today.

Crash Victim Remains In Critical Condition

FENNIVILLE (Special) — Margaret Lynn Martin, 17, reained in critical condition today at Bronson Hospital, Kalamazoo, where she was taken early Wednesday morning after an auto-train crash.

Miss Martin was en route home from Kalamazoo, where she had gone to celebrate her 17th birthday with William Walsach, route 1, Pullman, Muriel McCarty of Fennville and Sonny Shaffer of Allegan. Walsach's car was struck by a freight train a mile north of Fennville. Walsach received minor injuries. The other couple was riding in another car.

The 23 students are returning a visit that was made by the Grand Haven council last month. Included in events this afternoon is a swim in the new pool.

Action May Lead To Federal Grant If Terms Are Met

Local Opinion Will Be Sounded Out in Phone Survey by Auxiliary

City Council Wednesday night unanimously approved a program submitted by the Hospital board which may lead to a $440,000 federal grant for an addition to Holland Hospital, provided the board acts promptly and provides reasonable assurance that other necessary funds will be provided locally.

John Fenlon Donnelly, chairman of the Hospital board, explained that the board received word last week that federal funds would probably be available to Holland Hospital because of two other hospital cancellations. Holland is being considered in view of the fact that considerable progress had been made for the necessary addition here. Hospital Director Fred Burd has kept in close contact with the Office of Hospital Survey and Construction.

Donnelly explained that on the basis of the estimated cost of $1,100,000 for the additional wing, the federal government could provide approximately 40 per cent or an estimated $440,000 through the Hill-Burton act. If Holland city would raise approximately $500,000 (or 75 per cent of the remainder) on a bond issue and surrounding townships approximately $175,000 (or 25 per cent) through fund campaigns, the community would obtain a hospital wing worth over a million dollars with no great burden on any single group.

To provide assurance that Holland would approve such a bond issue, Hospital board members are planning a telephone poll of 25 per cent of the local persons who voted on the Civic Center bond issue. The federal plan requires only a 20 per cent sampling, but local leaders are using every fourth name to allow for failures to reach certain persons.

In order that all others who care to may express themselves on the subject, a questionnaire-coupon will appear in the Holland Sentinel for the convenience of those persons not contacted who would like to add their opinions.

The telephone poll will be carried on by members of the Holland Hospital Auxiliary, with each of the participating members making about 20 calls. Members will attend a briefing session before launching the work. The poll must be completed before June 3.

Plans call for a special hospital bond issue election later in the summer.

Specifically, City Council endorsed a three-point program for the Hospital board.

1. Endorse the telephone poll, and further urge local citizens to approve the measure.

2. Authorize the board to proceed with plans for an early bond issue election, probably later in the summer.

Donnelly pointed out that local persons should not consider the federal allotment as a gift since it is only the people's own tax money being returned to them under the Hill-Burton act. "We would be remiss in our duty if we failed to take advantage of the sum that is available to provide a wing worth more than a million dollars at a cost to Holland city taxpayers of only a half-million," he said.

Council also voted unanimously to adopt the rate equalization and deficit sharing agreement effective July 1, which if adopted by cooperating townships will eliminate the differential rate between city and non-city residents who are patients in Holland Hospital.

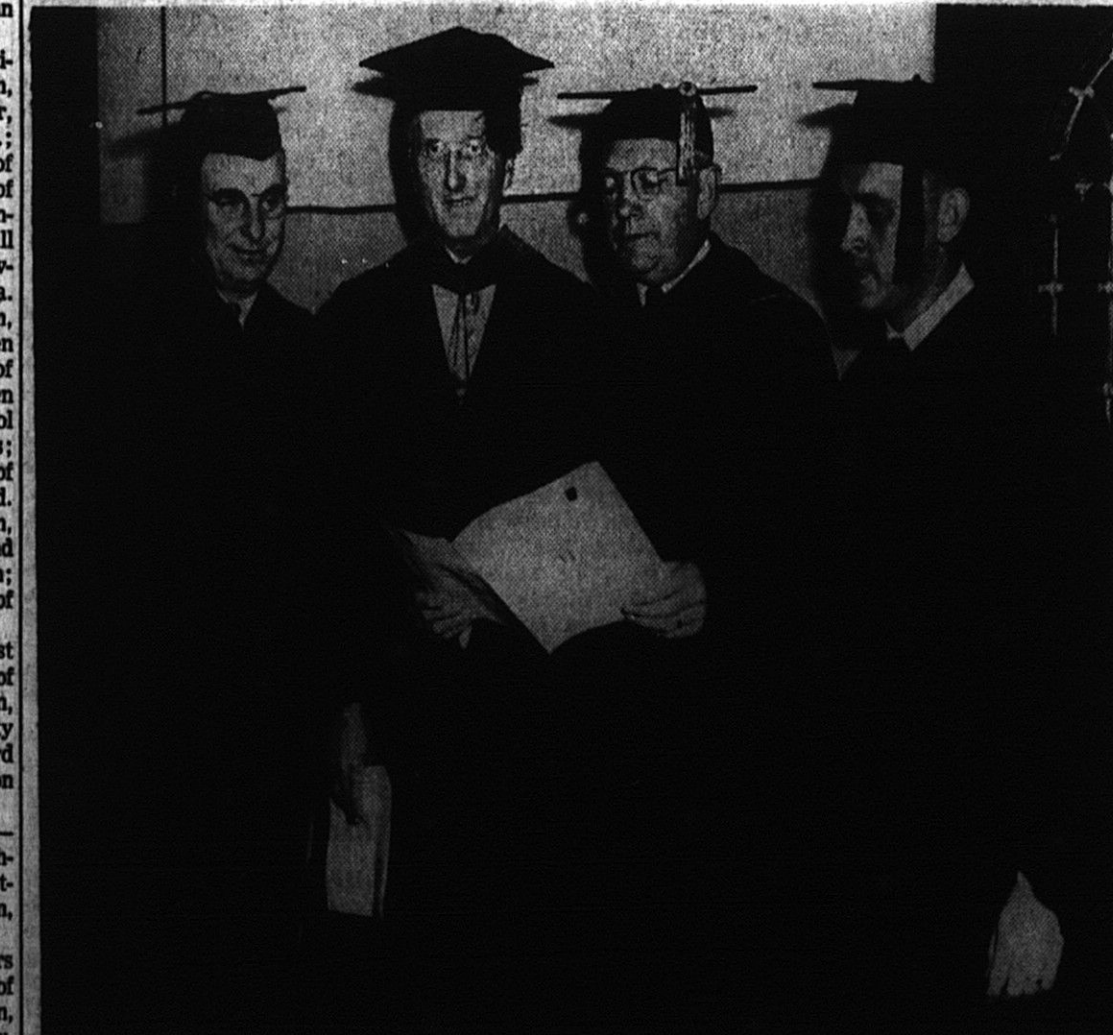

Mayor Harry Harrington felt there would be no question about the need for a hospital addition in Holland. "If we haven't been patients ourselves, we've all been in the hospital at times on visits and we've all seen beds in the halls" and the definite need for more space," he said.

Named Student Council President at Ferris

Ray Mulder of Holland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter W. Mulder of route 5, has been elected president of the Ferris Institute Student Council for 1954-55.

Mulder, a 1950 graduate of Holland High, will begin the term of office June 18. He was opposed in the election by Jim Wain and Carl Schoendorf, both active in campus organizations.

Mulder is a member of the Ferris varsity football team, member of Triangle Club, leader in the Interchurch Student Fellowship and has been active in Student Council as representative from his department and in other college organizations.

Barbershoppers Draw Big Crowd To Civic Center

Mayor Harrington Gives Words of Welcome; Program Highly Varied

An estimated 2,300 persons filled Holland's new Civic Center Friday night for the eighth annual Parade of Barbershop Quartets, a 2½-hour show which brought out the best in harmonies for the human voice.

From sweet harmonies to comic surprises, the program was designed to satisfy every known desire in this type of showmanship which besides music and novelties plays up costumes and fancy banter.

In many respects, Holland's new Civic Center started with the performers in Friday's production. Although not completed, the auditorium was "usable" and town-folk could not help but be thrilled over the building which in general is far more attractive than what most people expected in a "municipal recreation building."

Mayor Harry Harrington greeted the many visitors and said it was a real thrill to entertain them in the new auditorium. Holland always has been known for its hospitality and the fact that Civic Center is now available for such functions as a Parade of Quartets adds even more to the traditional courtesies.

Although all performers were warmly applauded, the quartet getting the lion's share was the Schmitt Brothers of Two Rivers, Wis., international champions. With almost unbelievable range, the four brothers (there are 17 in the family) achieved a smooth professional result which was equally well received in sweet lyrical numbers as in some of the shenanigans which the brothers do equally well. They appeared twice, singing such songs as "Side by Side," a Willis Diekmann arrangement of "Down by the Old Mill Stream," Fred Waring's arrangement of "Dry Bones" and "Sweet Adeline." Many visitors said their best numbers were "Liebestraum" and "Lullaby."

The Holland Windmill Chorus, replete in Dutch costumes, made a fine presentation under the direction of Francis Hodgeboom, singing Irish songs as well as other arrangements. The chorus of 47 voices plans to go to Washington, D.C., in June to compete in the national contest. It won the Michigan district contest several months ago. Hodgeboom also led community singing.

The Atomic Bums proved their versatility in their two appearances, first wearing regulation blue suits and red ties, and then coming out as true bums in tails and white ties. Their funniest number was a takeoff on the Quartet from Rigoletto.

Other visiting aggregations were the Barber-Q Four of Minneapolis which opened the program with a 20-minute presentation of novelties and true quartet harmony. From Holland were the Harmoniacs, wearing white coats and light trousers, singing familiar arrangements, and the Hollandaires, a girls' quartet, singing several Tulip song arrangements. They first appeared in Dutch costumes and then in striking white dresses.

For a change of pace, the program included an act by the Banjo-Tuners of Muskegon—three banjos and a piano. The trio had a nice professional air and showed particular showmanship in a technical act.

The program closed with the Windmill Chorus and visiting quartets singing Willis Diekmann's "Keep America Singing."

Decorated Cake Unveiled at Annual Tulip Time Service Club Luncheon

Hope Church parish house, was crowded Friday noon for the Joint Service Clubs luncheon which has become an annual Tulip Time event.

Mayor Harry Harrington welcomed the guests who included several from other cities and explained again that there is no age limit for Tulip Time. He said the children, marching in Thursday's school parade are the citizens who will be putting on Tulip Time's golden jubilee 25 years hence.

He pointed to the fact that Holland also is awake the other 11 months of the year, and Lida Rogers, Tulip Time founder, is heading a council which is promoting the planting of colorful annuals in tulip lanes after the tulips have died.

"There's a tremendous amount of energy invested in Holland's Tulip Time, but we all agree it has paid dividends. It's good when men work for the good of all, and it seems that more and more people are taking an active part in Tulip Time," he said.

Mayor Harrington also pointed to Holland's new Civic Center which he said can easily become Holland's most valuable asset. He paid tribute to the hard working planning committee consisting of Arnold Hertel, James H. Klompars and Donn Lindeman.

Principal speaker was John Nuveen of Chicago, investment banker and a former ECA administrator in Greece, Belgium and Luxembourg, who chose for his subject, "Let's Take a Straight Look at the Future."

Contending that the foreign problems are far more important than the domestic problems, Nuveen started out with the figures on the federal budget. He said the sum of $70 billion is far beyond the understanding of any person and demonstrated the budget set-up with a series of building blocks, each one representing 10 billion, one going for past debt, one for domestic spending and five for defense and foreign aid, classing the necessity of spending that 5 billion as "our failure to win the peace."

He said after Britain became impoverished after World War II, the mantle of world leadership fell on the United States, a responsibility that the American people must accept or pass it on to Russia. He then demonstrated his building blocks according to resources and industrial potential, shifting them around to present a rather shocking example if the countries of the "free world" go to Russia, thereby increasing their might.

Nuveen closed with high compliments for Holland's fine city, its fine schools and the fine cooperation shown in such a project as Tulip Time. He said when American churches become a greater spiritual force, honesty and integrity will provide the basis for solving social problems.

Harold Ramsey, president of the Inter-Club Council, presided and introduced guests, including Dr. Jan Van der Mortel, Netherlands consul-general of Chicago, and W. A. Butler, president of the Tulip Time commission.

Center of attraction at the Tulip Time Service Club luncheon Friday noon in Hope Church was a beautifully decorated four-tiered cake sent to Tulip Time by the Van de Kamp's Holland Dutch Bakers, Inc., of Los Angeles in friendly recognition of Holland's Silver Anniversary of Tulip Time festival.

Christian Netters Lose to Big Reds

Holland Christian's tennis squad dropped a close 4-3 decision to the Muskegon Big Reds, Friday afternoon at Muskegon. Earlier this year, the Hollanders had stopped the Muskies by a similar margin.

The match was exceptionally close with almost every event hard fought. The outcome of the match hung on a two and a half hour marathon doubles which finally went to Muskegon, 12-10 and tipped the winning point to the Reds. Christian's No. 2 duo of Lewis Stegink and Carl Edwards had match point twice, but still lost the three setter.

In the No. 1 singles match, the Maroon's Paul Dykema had little trouble in whipping Dick Creamer, 6-2, 6-3. Jim Teerman of Christian and Mike Humenick staged another one of their typical battles with Humenick finally edging Teerman, 4-6, 6-4, 9-7. In the No. 3 singles Holland's Bob Balfort was stopped by Bob Hathaway, 6-2, 6-2.

Large Audience Hears Minister

Dr. Robinson, minister in Harlem, New York, appeared here under sponsorship of the Hope College Women's League and was introduced by Mrs. Jacob C. Westerhof, Jr. Mrs. Paul Hinkamp led devotions.

Dr. Robinson, sent by the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions, is an exceedingly entertaining and forceful speaker besides being an outstanding brilliant man. Although he has no income outside of that which he receives for lectures, he supports five foreign students in the United States, including a Mau Mau and a Hindu.

The speaker's general emphasis was the force of Christian nation in international affairs. Speaking of peoples in other parts of the world, he said "we offer them a gun, a bomb or a tank—anything but what they really need." He pointed out that 1,400,000,000 didn't sleep on a bed last night, and in Asia yesterday, people equalling the population of the western hemisphere and Europe were hungry. We must meet that demand, but must meet the spiritual demand, too, he said.

Dr. Robinson, who visited more than 20 countries in six months, said wherever he went, even in East Germany where it was forbidden, people were willing and eager to meet with him. In his travels, he felt that there was a great love for America, but a lot of justifiable criticism, too. Both can do us a lot of good, he said. "Every moral advance has a price tag," Dr. Robinson said, and illustrated with crises way back to Bible history. In our world relations, we must emphasize things that tend toward mutual understanding, such as the student exchange program, especially sending of U.S. students to other countries.

Local Man, Family Forced to Leave Guatemala

The recent headline stories of Red arms shipments to Guatemala are of special interest to 32-year-old Harold Hartgerink of 164 East 32nd St.

Hartgerink, his wife and child were forced to leave Guatemala in March of this year when the Latin American government refused to renew his visa. He had spent three years there working first for a pharmaceutical company and later as a manufacturer's representative.

Hartgerink said he applied for his new visa, which is also a working permit, and was turned down without an explanation.

Now working in a local drug store, Hartgerink said the stories of arms shipments were nothing new. He said Guatemala had been receiving arms from time to time during his stay there.

One wire service report that Russian MIG-15 jet fighters were among the recent shipment brought a response from Hartgerink that he doubted any air fields in Guatemala were long enough to serve the fast planes.

Hartgerink said the United States has a military mission in Guatemala and he has seen native troops being trained by our men. On one occasion he saw the troops being trained in the use of bazookas.

He said the country, which is about the size of Pennsylvania in area, and having a population of three and a half million people, is in the midst of a political swing.

In 1944, Hartgerink said, the country threw out its dictator and a three man tribunal took over.

The following year a president was elected and the country became a democracy. The switch from one extreme to the other appeared to be unsettling, he said. Free speech was allowed to such an extent that the country has no libel laws whatsoever and he said they wish.

If one faction decides to go all out they start a paper or radio station. The country has 18 radio stations and 12 newspapers. Most of the papers are one or two sheet weeklies that last for a few months and fold up, he said.

Hartgerink said less than five per cent of the people can read or write. He felt that there was constantly an undercurrent of mutual distrust between the people. "Not only aimed at the small population of Americans and English, numbering perhaps 2,000, but at each other."

Hartgerink said there is a very active Communist party in the country. Frequent anti-American parades are not unusual, he said. Freedom of speech is carried to such an extent that once a month, by law, each theater must give up the building to anyone desiring to hold meetings, either political or educational.

For the size of its population, Hartgerink felt the country maintained a large army and air force. He said military men in uniform on the streets were a familiar sight.

Hartgerink is a former resident of Zeeland attending high school there. His late father, John, was active in political affairs.

Tulip Time Echoes

We not only enjoyed all of the attractions and events but the attitude of your townspeople and tradesmen. Every one was so kind and friendly and the lack of exploitation was very evident. Considerable work and planning must have gone into the project and we would like to tell you that we appreciated it very much."

ANTICIPATING THE

PULITZER PRIZE

So long ago as last November, the Sentinel was enabled, through its book column appearing once a week under the title "Library Adventures," to pick the volume that the Pulitzer prize committee selected last week.

The writer of that column, six months ago, had this to say: "If a club should be formed to select the 'book of the year' instead of merely the 'book of the month,' I would vote for Charles A. Lin-dbergh's new volume, 'The Spirit of St. Louis.'"

By giving it a Pulitzer prize, the national committee actually made it at least "a book of the year."
The fact that this community was ahead of the Pulitzer prize committee by a margin of six months ought to boost the circulation of the Lindbergh book here.

But the main reason for calling attention to the local angle of a Pulitzer award is the opportunity it presents to reflect on the amazing career of the author of the book after the volume closed. For "The Spirit of St. Louis" ends in the fall of 1925, with Lindbergh's return home from France. His story after that date would make a book fully as meaningful if not as melodramatic as the one that has received the coveted prize.

It is doubtful if any other single American was ever more greatly worshipped than Lindbergh. Not only in America but all over the world. Presidents and kings and queens and dictators and artists and writers and millionaires and paupers courted his favor. Best of all, in all that adulation he did not lose his head but remained the simple, direct aviation enthusiast
he had always been.

Then came the tragedy of the kidnaping and murder of his baby.
But worse was to follow, not at the hands of a kidnaper but through the fanaticism of his own people,
those who had worshipped him with an extravagance that was slightly ridiculous. Because he sincerely believed that the country he loved should not become involved in the war in Europe, he was hounded by Washington, and following the lead of their government millions of Americans reviled him as one who was only slightly above the rank of a traitor.

Many of those millions are not so certain today that their government was one hundred percent right and Lindbergh one hundred percent wrong. There has been a violent revulsion of feeling in Lindbergh's favor, so that the present administration was enthusiastically applauded when it made him a brigadier general, a rank that his professional skill and achievements had entitled him to many years ago but that political prejudice withheld from him.

An amazing career, that of Charles A. Lindbergh. The American people as a whole have more cause to be proud of him than of themselves in that real life saga.

Micaiah Withstands False

Prophecy

I Kings 22:1-8, 13-18, 26-28

By Henry Geerlings

The appearance of Micaiah upon the scene and his stand against the false prophets was occasioned by the union of the kings of Israel and Judah in a military campaign against the Syrians. And that union in itself is a revelation of the spiritual state of the nations.
Jehoshaphat, the king of Judah,
was a good man and a good king who worked many reforms for good in his kingdom. The Lord was with him because he walked in the first ways of his father David. The Lord established his kingdom and he had riches and honor in abundance. He also sent out teachers among the people to teach them the Law of the Lord.

This alliance was the reason for a visit by Jehoshaphat to Ahab in Samaria. He was well received and lavishly entertained. It was during this visit that Ahab asked Jehoshaphat to join forces with him against Ramoth-gilead. He promised full cooperation. But before they went forth Jehosha-phat said to the king of Israel,
"Enquire, I pray them, at the Word of the Lord today."

The king of Israel gathered 400 prophets who promised victory for the undertaking. But Jehoshaphat was not satisfied. He did not recognize these prophets as prophets of the Lord, though they spoke in his name. He asked if there was not a prophet of the Lord besides.
Ahab sent for Micaiah though with evident reluctance.

Micaiah came with good credentials as a true prophet of the Lord. He was one against 400 false prophets, the king and his followers. All that we know of him is related here in connection with his appearance before the two kings. But there is enough to give us an idea of the kind of a man he was.

The name of this prophet is interesting and suggestive. It means
"Who is like to God." It is a question and a challenge. Wherever he went he was a walking question mark calling the attention of the people to their manifest duty to God. To Ahab he must have been like a bad conscience. It was not so long before that Elijah and the prophets of Baal had a contest to show who was the true God.

The contest ended disastrously for the prophets of Baal. It was proved to all the nation that Jehovah was the true God. Ahab had undisputed proof that the gods
he worshipped were false and useless. He knew in his own soul that he ought to serve the Lord God of Elijah. And every time that Micaiah appeared before him, he was reminded of his sins and his coming fate.

On the other hand, the name of this obscure prophet would be a tower of strength to every true believer. Wherever the prophet moved he was giving testimony to the Lord. He was a living epistle.
The messenger that was sent for Micaiah tried to coach him as to his message. He told him that all the prophets were in accord in declaring good things to the king.
He was advised to fall in line. But the prophet took his stand and declared that whatever the Lord said unto him he would speak. He predicted the defeat of Israel and the death of the king.

His real enemies were the false prophets. With the rise of the prophetic ministry in Israel, consequent upon the failure of the priesthood and the monarchy, false prophets appeared simultaneously.
They have been much in evidence ever since. When God establishes an institution, Satan begins to copy
it. When God sends a man with His message, Satan has his emissaries to try to counteract it. And the characteristics which they showed in the days of Micaiah are reproduced in his successors. If we are observant we can detect them readily.

In the first place they were generally numerous. With Micaiah it was one to 400. And this proportion generally obtains. They were many in the days of our Lord and His apostles. During the middle ages Christ's devoted servants
often stood alone.

A second thing is that these false prophets always tried and many times succeeded in moving into the highest places. Here they were in the court of the king, heeded and followed by the king
and so the nation.

And then these false prophets sailed under false colors. They tried to pass off as the prophets of the Lord. They claimed to speak in His name.

Auxiliary Wins
State Awards

Holland Junior Chamber of Commerce Auxiliary came home with three awards from the state con-

Rapids.

The awards were announced at a Saturday Auxiliary luncheon.

the Jessie MacLeod Trophy for the outstanding state chairman of the year. Mrs. Van Oort was chairman of the "Wife of the Year" committee.

tion. Mrs. Don Gilcrest and Mrs.
Ed Nyland composed the local club's scrapbook committee.

group was a second place tie in the State Digest for the Auxiliary's

Polio Victims to Go To Warm Springs

Two local polio victims who have been crippled for the last four or five years will leave Saturday for treatment at the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis at Warm Springs, Ga.

Mrs. Connie Nelson of Wauka-zoo, who has been in a wheel chair since she was stricken in 1949, and Harold Adams, about 23, of Jeni-
son, will make the trip by car, accompanied by Mrs. Irvin De Weerd of Holland, secretary of the county polio chapter. Adams, who is able to walk with crutches, will have a clinical checkup at Warm Springs and return with Mrs. De Weerd. Mrs. Nelson, who moved to Holland two years ago from Detroit, is expected to remain at least three months for extensive therapy treatments. She spent three months at Warm Springs in 1950.

Mrs. Nelson, although confined to her wheel chair, has been active in the work of the local polio chapter. She served as a lieutenant for the Mothers March and worked at the polio vaccine clinic. She was chairman of the Newcomers Polo dance last January which netted $1,70 for the annual campaign.

The two victims are to be admitted to the clinic Monday.

Elsewhere on the local polio front, Mrs. Peter Raffenaud and Althea Raffenaud expect to fly to Warm Springs this week to visit their daughter and sister, Mrs.
Denise Halter, who has been a patient there since March 1. Mrs.
Halter has been showing marked improvement and expects to return home in three weeks.

mined amount of cash was reported taken from the Henry De Visser home at 109 Clover Ave.
sometime Monday, police said to-
day. Chief Deputy Clayton Forry

was on a bureau when he went to bed and was gone the next morn-

INDIAN HEADDRESS and abbreviated Indian costumes are the trademark of the Dowagiac High School Band majorettes. The snappy black and orange uniformed band went through their paces at the band review at Riverview Park and earned a "highly superior" rating from the judges. The band and majorettes continued the snappy marching and playing along the parade route following the review. (Sentinel photo)

Dutch Get Eight
Hits But Bobble
Three in Victory

WYOMING, PARK (Special) —
Holland High School's baseball team swept to its sixth win of the season here Friday as they beat Wyoming Park 6-4 in a game at La Mar Park.

Coach Ned Stuitt started Wayne Westenbroek on the mound and the spunky lad showed promise of giving Stuitt some depth in the pitching department as he allowed only four hits.

The Dutch, seeking revenge from a narrow defeat earlier this week by Muskegon, were hitting well as they pounded out eight hits against a good Parker hurler.

But while Holland looked good at the plate, they were a bit sloppy in the field as they committed three errors. None of the errors were crucial but against a sharper squad could have been serious.

Wyoming Park also committed three errors.

Stuitt said he was well pleased with the performance of his squad,
and especially glad that their hitting had improved.

The win gave the locals a 6-2
record, one of the better marks attained by the school in recent years. With any breaks in the remaining six contests an excellent record could be reached.

Colorful Band Review
Attracts Large Crowd

Climaxing the Silver Anniversary of Tulip Time, the Band Review at Riverview Park Saturday
once again proved that "everybody loves a parade" and everybody enjoys band music.

Colorful uniforms and snappy
majorettes added to the spectacle
when 19 bands assembled to compete for ratings in the various divisions. Several new bands and many oldtimers went through their paces for the judges and the spectators who jammed the park.

As usual Charlotte and Dowagiac proved popular. The grey and orange uniformed band of Charlotte snapped smartly to the precision drills and the Latin American rhythms ending in the hat dance. Dowagiac Indians with their attractive majorettes in Indian headdress and costumes pleased the crowd.

St. John's, comparative newcomer to band reviews, did snappy maneuvers on a showboat theme.
Many of the bands used a 25th anniversary theme in salute to Tulip Time. Others varied from a romantic theme to current television commercials, map of Michigan, school events, nursery rhymes and tulips.

Owosso saluted Dads and Mothers and Grand Rapids Christian gave a salute to John Phillip Sousa, march king, playing Sousa's popular music.

Eugene Heeter assembled the bands in mass formation after the competition for the massed band program.

Judges were Leonard V. Meret-ta, Western Michigan College; Ernie Caneva, Lockport, Ill. and Everett D. Kinsinger, University of Illinois and former Holland band instructor.

Each judge conducted the mass
bands in one selection. Meretta directed "U.S. Field Artillery March" Sousa; Caneva, "National Emblem March," Bagley and Kislinger, "Hosts of Freedom March," King.

Bands were presented plaques with the ratings inscribed at the end of the parade at the Temple Building by Harold Karsten, chairman of the band review.

Bands and ratings, according to performance on program were:
Shelby, highly superior; Lake
Odessa, superior; Plainwell, superior;
Vandercook Lake, superior;
Three Oaks, superior; Quincy, highly superior; Ida, highly superior;
Wayland, superior; Bellevue, superior; Springport, superior and Brooklyn, highly superior.

St. Johns, highly superior; Belding, superior; Ionia, highly superior;
Greenville, highly superior;
Dowagiac, highly superior and Charlotte, highly superior. Owosso and Grand Rapids Christian earned highly superior ratings.

Bands were judged on inspection, music, marching and special maneuvers.

Mail Box Improvement
Week Being Observed

This week is "Mail Box Improvement Week," the 16th consecutive year the postmaster general has called upon rural and suburban folk to repair and beautify their mail box equipment and approaches to help lend brightness to the scenic beauty of the highways, roads and drives.

Postmaster Harry Kramer is asking patrons to cooperate in improving the equipment and he hopes that the routes will become a source of pride for the patrons, the post office department and the carriers.

Many boxes which are the highway billboards of the postal service, have become unsightly with rust, unserviceable due to a leaky condition, broken doors or no lids, missing signals, no names, supports being bent or rotted which need replacing, weeds and wild grass grown around the supports and approaches, and in many places the ground is rough and full of chuck holes.

764 Paw Paw Dr., sometime Monday morning was under investigation by police today. Entrance was gained by prying moulding off a small window then reaching through and unlocking a side door.
Chief Deputy Sheriff Clayton Forry
said the store owners were still checking to determine what had been taken.

MAYOR ROBERT S. DE BRUYN of Zeeland looks over figures showing successful work in rehabilitating delinquent boys at Youth Haven near Muskegon. Looking on is camp director Maurice Carlson (left) who spoke to a group of local businessmen about the Youth Haven program. Youth Haven is located about eight miles east of Muskegon on Wolf Lake. (Sentinel photo)

Formal Support of Youth Haven Promised by Local Businessmen

Eighteen Holland-Zeeland area businessmen met last week to form a "Big Brother" organization for support of Youth Haven Training School, near Muskegon.

Organizational plans were not completed, but Henry Ter Haar of Holland and Vernon Poest of Zeeland will serve as temporary co-chairmen until another meeting June 24 when formal plans will be finished.

The group, meeting under the sponsorship of Mayor Robert S. de Bruyn of Zeeland, met with Maurice Carlson, director of Youth Haven.

Carlson explained purpose of the camp, pointing out figures to show a highly successful program in rehabilitating juvenile offenders.

The camp, although not affiliated with any church, is oriented on a Christian basis. Located eight miles east of Muskegon on Wolf Lake, the 22-acre camp currently has 20 boys.

The boys, from 11 to 17 years old, come from broken homes or similar family backgrounds. A camp psychologist works with them, and they attend either Muskegon public school or the township grade school.

Returned by bus to their camp after school, the youngsters get a chance to work and play on the large campsite. Handicraft classes are held, and the boys keep up the camp.

Carlson said that 20 new boys are expected to arrive within a month, bringing the total to 42. Newcomers will be housed in a recently completed dormitory.

Another addition to the camp is a former principal of Muskegon Christian High school who will act as counselor.

The local men decided to attempt sponsorship of eight boys. Cost is $780 a year for each. Zeeland Rotary Club has supported one at the camp for some years.

Mayor de Bruyn said the formal organizational meeting will be held at Youth Haven, on June 24. All the local sponsors will be on hand at that meeting.

Persons interested in taking part in the program may contact De Bruyn.

Willie Rink Hurls 'Whitewash' Ball To Win Vital One

The MIAA baseball race wound up Saturday as Hope and Alma split a doubleheader at St. Louis and thus repeated as co-champions.

Hope won the nine inning opener on Willie Rink's 5-0 whitewash but the Scots dumped Jack Kempker 7-1 in the second. It was the second league defeat for both teams. Each has won eight.

Rink was handed four runs before he took the mound in the first as Cook, Alma starter, walked three of the first four to face him to load the sacks. Jim Van Hoeven singled driving in a pair and John Busman's long double scored the other two. Hope's other marker came in the sixth on another walk and singles by Busman and Dick Ortuist.

Meanwhile, Rink was working steadily with good control. Five men got caught on the third strike and only four worked free passes. One of the two Scots to reach third did so by means of the first of Hope's two errors.

Cook was followed by Freer in the seventh. Between them they gave only six hits, the same number as Rink allowed, but issued seven passes, four of which wound up in the scoring column.

Hope looked far from champions defensively in contributing six miscues to Kempker's downfall. All but the last Alma run was unearned. However, while fanning five, Kempker also walked eight in the seven innings. Six of the Scots' seven hits were singles.

The Dutchmen did not benefit from any gifts, and with the exception of two inconsequential infield bobbles, had to hit their way on. The lone run came in the third on singles by Ron Boeve, Ortuist, and Don York. Boeve and Ortuist each got two of the team's eight hits. Van Hoeven and Busman collected a pair each in the first game.

Looking at the year's totals for Russ DeVette's squad we find Hope on top of the hitting list with a .355 average. Ortuist is next at .340. Boeve finished at .316 and Don Lubbers at .312. Kempker and Rink had identical won and lost records—4-1 league; 5-1 overall.

Hope Net Team Splits Matches

Coach Ken Weller took his tennis squad to Adrian and Hillsdale to finish out the season over the weekend, coming back with a whitewash over the former and a 5-2 heartbreaking loss to the latter. The Hope record stands at 5-2 in the league and 7-3 overall.

The Friday win over the Bulldogs was not hard pressed with only one match going three sets.

The results: Bill Boeskoel defeated Bob Bender 6-1, 6-1; Bill Coventry defeated Bill Green 6-2, 5-7, 6-3; John Schrier defeated Phil Lewis 6-1, 6-4; Art Bieri defeated Jack Clement 6-2, 6-1; Monte Dyer defeated Dick Burton 6-0, 6-2; Boeskoel and Coventry defeated Bender and Green 6-3, 6-2; Schrier and Bieri defeated Lewis and Clement 6-1, 6-1.

Saturday's play was almost opposite in length and close play as all but two matches went all three sets.

The Dutchmen got their two points as Bieri dropped Art Burns 7-5, 3-6, 6-3 and teamed again with Schrier to take Jim Leszczewski and Lou Adams, 6-3, 10-8. In the other matches Bob Neff defeated Boeskoel 6-4, 2-6, 8-6; Jim Buck defeated Coventry 2-6, 6-4, 6-4; Adams defeated Dyer 7-9, 6-4; Neff and Buck defeated Boeskoel and Coventry 6-8, 8-6, 6-2.

One bad inning, the second, was enough to give the Heights their victory. In this inning, they unleashed plenty of stick power, connecting for five hits and five runs. Sandwiched in between the two singles, two doubles and a triple was a walk and a Holland Christian bobbie.

The Heights scored their final tally in the third inning on a single and a double. From this point on, Wayne Alois, who went all the way for the Maroons, turned in a fine performance. In going the route, the Dutch right hander gave up just seven hits, while walking only two batters.

Coach John Ham's Maroons notched their only two markers in the fourth inning. Ron Nykamp opened the inning and was safe on an error at shortstop Bob Venema, next up, blasted one over the right fielder's head for a triple, scoring Nykamp. Venema later scored on an infield out.

Carlson, a left hander, went all the way for the winning Tigers. He allowed just three Christian safeties and gave up one walk.

Second Contest Played in Protest After Third Frame

Play in Holland City Softball League got off to a roaring start Monday night at Van Tongeren Field with a 10-2 slugfest that ended in favor of Barber Fords against newcomer Gra-Bell, and a protested game that saw Hulst Bros. hurler Larry Knoper hold North Holland to just two hits.

Weather was chilly, but that didn't deter hitters. In the two games there were a total of 29 hits, including two home runs, five triples and three doubles.

Four more teams open their seasons tonight as the defending champion VFW outfit engages newcomer Vandenberg Buick in the 7 p.m. game and Main Auto vs. Bareman Service in the 8:15 encounter.

In the first game Vern Fuder, second man up, slammed a home run and crossed the plate behind Don Sundin, who had walked. That made it 2-0 in favor of Fords. A six-run second inning really put the Autos ahead to stay. It came on a double by Sundin, singles by Chet Johnson and Norm Boeve and a home run by Chet Piersma, a walk an error and one batter hit by a pitched ball.

The winners added their other two runs in the sixth on singles by Sundin and Piersma, two errors and a wild pitch.

Gra-Bell was shut out by Boeve until the seventh inning when singles by Erwin Ter Haar and Norm Scheerhorn along with a stolen base and a walk produced two runs.

Sundin, Piersma, Johnson and Boeve each had two hits for the winners while Scheerhorn led the losers with two out of three times at bat.

The second game was played under protest after the third base coach stepped in with an "assist" in the third inning. North Holland lodged a protest that must be considered by league officials.

The winners combined eight hits with a wild pitch to score seven big runs in the third inning. The rally included triples by Kearney Zoerhoff, Bob Vork, Bud Hulst, Jake Bakker, a double by Dale Hulst and singles by Ed Klinge, Larry Knoper and Bud Hulst.

North Holland had scored two runs in the second on an error, a walk, a wild pitch and a single by Verne Hop.

Hulst Bros. came up with another run in the fourth on a single by Knoper, a walk to Zoerhoff, and a double by Vork. They added the last four in the fifth on Zoerhoff's second triple of the evening, singles by Klinge, Knoper and Bakker and two errors.

Knoper paced the heavy hitting Hulst Bros. team with three singles in four times at bat while Junior Hop and Verne Hop had the only two hits off Knoper and Hulst.

Holland Christian Track Team Ends Season With Win

Holland Christian's track squad closed its season, Monday afternoon, on the local track by taking a narrow 52-49 win over the Grand Rapids Christian thincade. It was Christian's second win compared with four defeats.

Depth paid off for the Maroons against the Eagles as the Grand Rapids club took eight out of 12 firsts, while the Dutch picked up their points on seconds and thirds. The Eagles, who are competing in track for the first time this season, had no entrant in the pole vault which would automatically give the locals another first, even though it was not computed in the final count.

Holland took the firsts in the medley relay, 440, 880 and the shot. Both Sylvan Disselkoen and Bob Venema took point honors for the Dutch, as they took a first and a second. Venema also took a third. Holwerda led the Furniture City outfit as a double winner in the high and low hurdles.

Despite the 2-4 record this season, the Maroons, with a young squad, showed plenty of improvement and should be tough in the coming years.

Complete results are:

High hurdles—Holwerda, (GR); Huijsenga, (HC); Smits, (HC). Time, 18.

Medley relay—Won by Holland Christian (Mannes, Boeve, Nykamp, Voetberg). Time, 2:54.5.

100 yd. dash—Meyer, (GR); Hertel, (HC); De Groot, (GR). Time, 10.5.

220 yard dash—Meyer, (GR); Hertel, (HC); Vande Wege, (HC). Time, 22.8.

880 yard run—Disselkoen, (HC); Kapteyn, (GR); Harbin, (HC). Time, 2:20.2.

880 yard relay—Won by Grand Rapids.

Shot put—Venema, (HC); Westbroek, (HC); Hoekwater, (GR). Distance, 39'6".

High jump—De Groot, (GR); Elzinga, (HC); Venema, (HC). Height, 5'3".

Citizens Request Street Opening

ZEELAND (Special) — A petition requesting opening of South Park Court was presented to Zeeland council at its regular meeting Monday night. Residents of the street asked that it be opened onto Lincoln St. The matter was referred to the street and sidewalk committee.

According to Sears the new rest rooms at Lincoln Park will be completed before Memorial Day, while the 500,000 gallon water tank east of town will be finished within 10 days.

Holland Netters Beat Grand Haven

Holland High's netters continued undefeated Friday by downing Grand Haven 7-0. The Dutch were in excellent form and had little difficulty taking their arch rival.

Henry Visscher played a beautiful game blanking Budge Sherwood, 6-1, 6-2. Sherwood has won most of his other matches this season.

In the No. 2 singles, Bill Japings defeated Doug Port 6-1, 6-3.

Paul Mack was up against Tom Otley who has been swinging a tennis racket ever since he was able to carry one. Otley won one set 5-7, but Mack came back with 6-1 and 6-3 to take the match.

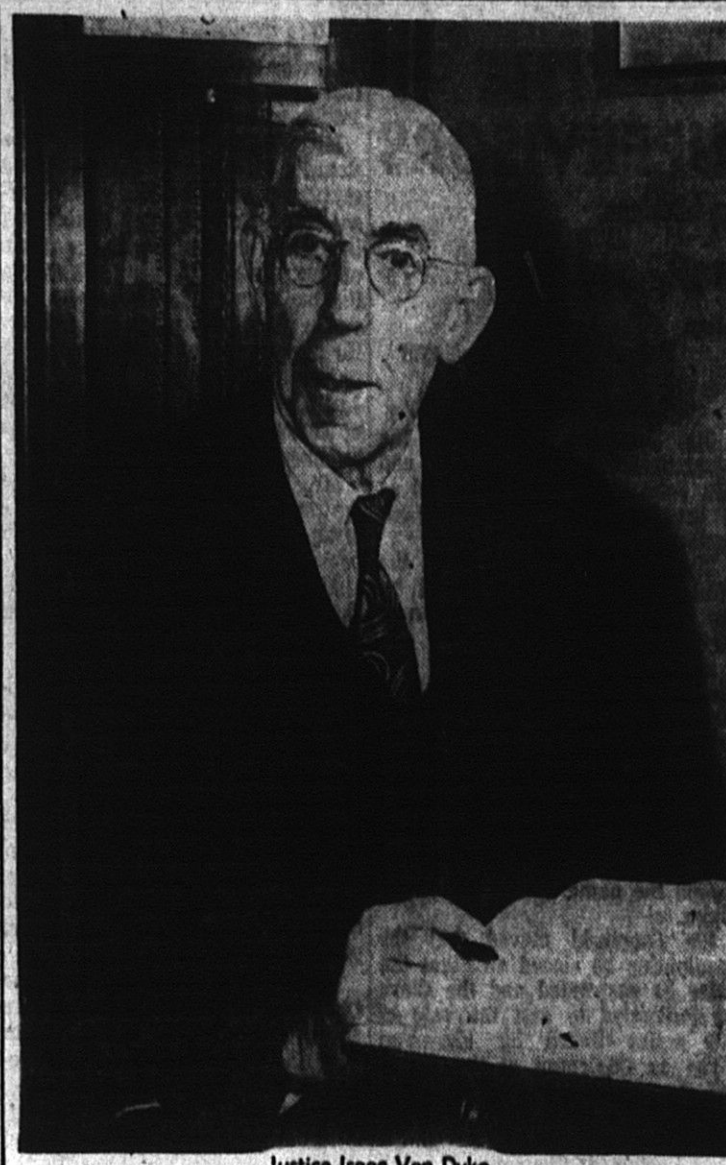

Bob Saunders moved up into the No. 4 single position and avenged a former defeat at the hands of Bill Bile, 6-1, 7-5.

Dave Bosch and Phil Boersma knocked off Ladinski and Mc Bryant 6-2, 6-2 to pace the Dutch doubles squads to straight wins.

Duane and Delwyn Grissen did likewise against Metes and Brinkert 6-2, 6-2.

And in the No. 3 doubles, Jim Vander Poel and Tom Overbeek shut out Wiler and Warner 6-3, 6-3.

Teachers in Holland schools and students at Hope college, as well as just plain sports enthusiasts, provide the bulk of supervision for recreation activities in Holland.

Justice Isaac Van Dyke

Zeeland Justice Isaac Van Dyke Plans Retirement Again July 4

ZEELAND (Special) — Justice of the Peace Isaac Van Dyke closes his books for the last time July 4, but if past "retirements" are any indication, it's merely a change of jobs.

Van Dyke "retired" nine years ago after 44 years in the implement business in Zeeland. Starting in the spring of 1888 working for Henry De Kruif, father of scientific writer Paul, Van Dyke started business for himself in 1901 with his brother-in-law, Gerrit Van Lopik.

Entering public life as a councilman, Van Dyke served for eight years before election as mayor in 1917. He served throughout the crucial coal shortage of 1917-1918 when homes of people spending the winter away were broken into in order to get coal supplies.

He "retired" from public life in 1920 to devote more time to his business.

Upon "retirement" from business in 1945, city council appointed him justice without his knowledge. At the next election he then ran successfully for the office.

Now Van Dyke and Justice Egbert Boes handle all municipal cases in Zeeland, averaging more than 400 cases each year. Van Dyke estimated that in the almost eight years as justice he has processed more than 3,000 cases.

Although these include Zeeland city and township cases, as well as some sheriff's department and conservation department offenses, not all the justice efforts are indicated by the figures.

"We're called upon to give all sorts of information," says Van Dyke. "For instance one fellow wanted to know why his wife left him. How was I to know?"

Van Dyke added philosophically, "Others come to the justice with a myriad of minor problems, children that won't come in on time at night, neighbors who are hard to get along with, or husbands who are irritable."

"All we can do is tell them what we'd do," he said. To appear before Justice Van Dyke is more like a parent-son discussion than a formal inquisition. Priding himself on taking a personal interest in cases, Van Dyke spends long hours getting to know reasons for offenses, particularly in the case of juveniles.

According to the justice the hardest thing about the job is the vast amount of bookwork connected with fines. The average case involves seven different entries in the books, and reports to several agencies.

In between services as city councilman, mayor, board of Supervisors and many church activities, Van Dyke has also raised a successful family.

Daughter Dorothy Jean is a registered nurse working for the Grand Rapids Health department and son Russell is an experimental chemist with Eastman Kodak in Rochester, N.Y. Another son, Lavern Derk was killed in New Guinea during the last war.

Current plans call for getting all the law books in order for his successor, Hilmer Dickman, and then stepping out into the back yard for a lazy afternoon in the lawn chair—that is, until some new job comes along.
