Eight Visiting Bands Given Top Ratings

Eight of the 15 bands participating in the Festival of Bands Saturday at Riverview Park emerged with first division ratings, following one of the finest reviews on record.

A pleasant day with temperatures on the cool side attracted the largest crowd in several years, a distinct contrast to the 90-degree temperature last year when several visiting bandmen were overcome by the heat.

The sod was in excellent condition. In some 25 years the reviews have been staged, bands have experienced dust and puddles on some occasions.

Ratings, determined by the three judges, follow:

Class C — Brooklyn High School band, division 1; Jonesville High School band, division 1.

Class B — Quincy High School band, division 3; Corunna High School band, division 1; Allegan High School band, division 2; Otsego High School band, division 1; Lakewood High School band, division 3; Lee High School band, division 1.

Class A — Rockford High School band, division 3; Godwin Heights High School band, division 2; Rogers High School band, division 2; Ludington High School band, division 1; Charlotte High School band, division 1.

Class AA — Lakeview High School band, division 2; Owosso High School band, division 1.

Judges were Everett D. Kisinger of the University of Illinois, Eugene F. Heeter of the American Bandmaster's Association, and Norman C. Dietz of Central Michigan University. Both Heeter and Kisinger, former Holland High School band directors, had formerly been review chairmen.

Heeter directed assembling of the massed bands, a maneuver done with dispatch in which some 1,400 musicians were put into place in about two minutes. The schedule had listed 3:10 p.m. for the massed bands. It was exactly 3:10 when Kisinger mounted the high stand to direct the huge band in its first number.

Grandville B. Cutler of Plainwell, also formerly with the Holland public school music department, served as field inspector. Arthur C. Hills served as assistant to Harold J. Karsten, band review chairman.

After the massed band selections, each directed by one of the judges, the formation broke up with much the same precision which marked the formation. Each band was directed to the southeast gate to find their way for parade formations. A parade marshal usually escorts bands to the proper place.

West Ottawa Board of Education at a regular meeting Monday extended an invitation to residents of Federal school district to inspect West Ottawa educational facilities Monday, May 27, at 8 p.m. at the West Ottawa High School. Federal residents will vote June 10 on annexing to the West Ottawa district.

To qualify, the student would have to be a resident of West Ottawa district, attended West Ottawa high school for two semesters and meet minimum test standards of the armed forces educational program.

Lost a Drum? Try Tulip Time Office

A festival the size of Tulip Time is bound to leave in its wake some lost articles.

Tulip Time Manager Harold J. Karsten has a number of souvenirs awaiting owners. His collection includes four field drums, a camera, a child's suitcase, and five new folding chairs.

One majorette's outfit was claimed earlier this week.

A Chicago visitor wrote the office she had lost a pair of valuable prescription sun glasses and listed all the places she had visited. Karsten ran down the list and located the sun glasses at the Wooden Shoe factory. They were forwarded to the owner Wednesday afternoon.

Truck Driver Hurt In Accident on I-196

MARNE—A 55-foot double bottom truck loaded with lime went out of control on I-196 near Eighth Ave. in Wright township at 6:37 p.m. Tuesday and continued 327 feet off the road before rolling over on its side.

The tractor caught fire and the driver, Ludford B. Kemps, 39, Muskegon, received severe burns on both legs and facial lacerations. He was taken to Mercy Hospital in Muskegon.

Sheriff's officers said the truck, owned by Wagoner Transportation Co. of Muskegon, was headed east. The Wright-Tallmadge township fire department was called.

Low Interest Rate Given in Water Bonds

Lowest of seven bidders, Stranahan, Harris and Co. of Toledo, Ohio, was awarded bid for $250,000 water supply system revenue bonds at a regular meeting of City Council Wednesday night. This will finance a 5,000,000 gallon water reservoir on 120th Ave between 16th and 24th Sts. for the Board of Public Works.

Rate of interest on low bid was listed at 2.9997 per cent and the net interest cost totals $88,207.27.

James Pollock of Kalamazoo, bond consultant, considered all bids "good" and said the highest ran 3.27 per cent. Randall C. Bosch, president of the Board of Public Works, was elated at the fine showing of low interest rates.

Later in the meeting Council approved a recommendation of the Board of Public Works on awarding a contract to Chicago Bridge and Iron Co. for a 5,000,000 gallon steel tank for $166,900, and to Elzinga and Volkers of Holland for tank foundation and appurtenances, $64,500. These were the low bids opened last Nov. 19 and withheld until financing was arranged.

Council approved a recommendation of the city clerk for printing the water revenue bonds totaling $250,000 with the Midwest Bank Note Co. at a cost of $220 for $1,000 bonds, $177 for $5,000 bonds and $12.50 for each change in interest rates.

Mayor Nelson Bosman reapportioned three persons to local boards, R. C. Bosch to the Board of Public Works, Mrs. Richard Oudersluys to the Hospital Board and Kenneth Weller to the Library Board, all for five-year terms. Council approved the appointments.

Council set June 19 as date of public hearings for two ordinances accepted for first reading. One deals with rezoning the old industrial park area back to A-1-family residential, and the other is to amend the zoning ordinance to allow for more flexibility in certain requirements on new dwellings on lots smaller than allowed by ordinance, provided certain requirements are met.

A request of Edward Vos to rezone property at the rear of 254 River Ave. from residential to C-3-central commercial was referred back to the Planning Commission for further study.

On recommendation of the Planning Commission Council adopted a resolution accepting title to unimproved streets in the Hazel Ave. area. The Planning Commission pointed out this is an exception because of the area's particular unique problem and not a change in present policy.

Council confirmed City Manager Herb Holt's appointment of Jack Leenhouts as city treasurer, effective June 3, and the appointment of Mrs. Rose St. John as deputy treasurer. Holt's report outlined Leenhouts' qualifications with emphasis on admirable public relations, praised Mrs. St. John for work well done as acting city treasurer under difficult circumstances.

Council also approved proposed specifications for taking bids on purchasing two additional passenger cars and two trucks with one truck to be equipped with an Elgin sewer ejector.

June 5 was set as date for public hearing on a water main project in 40th St. from Central to College Aves. and in College Ave. from 40th St. to a point 397 feet north. Assessable cost per front foot is estimated at $2.25.

Claims were submitted on behalf of Mrs. Rose Steggeda, 645 Lagers Rd.; Leon R. Marsh, 713 Cleveland Ave., and Edward E. Carstens, 862 Paw Paw Dr. They were referred to the city attorney and the liability carrier.

Three Held For Robbery

SOUTH HAVEN — South Haven state police were holding three persons Tuesday suspected of robbing a truck stop at Douglas of more than $100. The three were picked up at a roadblock near Paw Paw at 6:44 a.m. Tuesday, about two hours after the armed robbery.

Troopers identified the suspects as Raymond Price, 33; his brother, Leroy, 25, and Leroy's wife, Lorrie Price, 20, all from the Chicago area.

They were believed to be the persons who robbed Smitty's Truck Stop on US-31 in Douglas, police said. The three were picked up after Paw Paw police identified them from descriptions given by witnesses at Smitty's restaurant.

Police said two men entered the truck stop at 4:45 a.m. Tuesday with guns and took the money. Law enforcement officers, including Holland police, set up roadblocks after they were notified.

Trio Threatens Motel Operator

MARNE — A holdup at knife-point of the operator of a motel east of Marne at 3:10 a.m. today yielded $10, a wristwatch and possibly a .32 caliber revolver.

Three persons, two men and a woman, were being sought by enforcement officials today after Fred Zarnowski, operator of Motel Marwood on M-11 and Second Ave. in Tallmadge Township, was awakened by one man pulling his hair while the woman held a knife at his throat.

Cords of the electric clock and the telephone were cut and used to bind the owner's hands and feet. A pillow case was put over his head but when Zarnowski said he was suffocating the men cut a hole in the case. The telephone was ripped off the wall.

Mrs. Zarnowski who was asleep in an adjoining room awakened and untied her husband before calling sheriff's officers.

Roadblocks were set up but were lifted at 5:42 a.m. No description of the car was obtained. State police assisted.

Allocation Board Cuts County Tax

GRAND HAVEN — The Ottawa County Tax Allocation Board voted Monday to cut the county Board of Supervisors' request of 4.16 mills to 4.05 mills. This will allow the school districts in the county to increase their tax .11 mills. The county budget asked for 4.16 mills which was the same amount they received last year. The cut in county millage will allow the Holland School District to assess 10.95 mills compared with 10.84 last year.

The information was good news to Holland School officials in view of the fact that the City of Holland's state equalized valuation dropped $1,088,810. Last year's state equalized value was $76,639,250, and this year it is $75,550,440. It is assumed that the drop is due mainly to the decrease in valuation at Holland Furnace Company and the moving of the Super Foods Warehouse from Holland.

The move to reduce the county millage allocation was made by Board Member Harvey Buter of Holland, who is the school-appointed member on the Tax Allocation Board. At the morning session, Buter requested that the county allocation be cut a half-mill in view of the fact that the Board of Supervisors is transferring approximately $125,000 annually from the General Fund to the Capital Improvement Fund. Approximately $100,000 of this comes from county fees and the rest from interest from short-term investment of tax monies.

Supervisor Henry Slaughter, chairman of the ways and means committee, upheld the supervisors' actions on the grounds that it was legal, the county needs a new county building, and that it saves the taxpayers' interest by putting the money away before the building is built.

The afternoon vote was a compromise for this year. However Buter stated that he will continue work on reducing the county allocation with the hope that by next year the county request will be below 4 mills. He said he realized that the supervisors' action was legal but did not feel that it was morally correct when most of the other governmental units in the county must ask for a bonded indebtedness vote to make capital improvements. He also suggested that the county could avoid interest payments by receiving a favorable vote to a Capital Improvement Sinking Fund which stipulated that the money had to be collected before construction could start. The County Capital Improvement Fund now stands at $311,000.

Authorities Probe Series Of Burglaries

A number of breakins and thefts in this area were reported by Holland police and Ottawa County sheriff deputies Tuesday.

Tools, including a tube tester, electric drill, hand saw, several drill bits, saw blades and pliers valued at $125 were taken sometime Monday night from a truck owned by Mike B. Sybesma of 204 East Seventh St.

A radio and barometer were also taken Monday night from a boat in a yard next door to Sybesma's residence at the home of Don Groendal of 202 East Seventh St., Holland police said today.

Several summer cottages on Lakeshore Dr., were broken into sometime within the past week according to Ottawa County sheriff deputies. Although nothing of much value was taken in the breakins, damage was done to the property from forced entrances.

A cottage owned by the Key Investment Co., of Lansing, was broken into sometime during the past week, deputies said. Three cases of beer, about three cartons of cigarettes and two screwdrivers were taken from the cottage in Port Sheldon Township. About $225 damage was done to the triple doors pried open with a five-eighths inch pry bar, deputies said. The owner, Peter W. Rottschaefer, of Grand Rapids, told deputies nothing was missing.

About a dozen LP record albums were taken in a break-in at a cottage at 6421 Lakeshore Dr. owned by Lester Yoder of Grand Rapids. Other more valuable articles, such as the record player were not taken.

In Holland, tools were taken sometime Monday from the Cook Lumber Co., at 436 Lincoln Ave. Taken were a speedway drill, a screwdriver, and a crescent wrench.

A transistor radio, leather case and an extra battery, were taken from the Holland Cotton Products Co. at 462 Lincoln Ave. sometime since Saturday afternoon. Police who found no trace of forced entrance, believe the door may have not been locked.

About 25 gallons of gas was taken from a truck owned by Jay Timmer, of 381 Fifth Ave., while the truck was parked at the Suburban Washmobile at 727 Chicago Dr. Monday night.

Ottawa Beach Court Case Nears End

GRAND HAVEN — A trial before Judge Raymond L. Smith of Ottawa Circuit Court ended today in which a group of Ottawa Beach resort owners, near Holland, sought an injunction against the Department of Conservation of Michigan.

Judge Smith gave both sides two weeks to file briefs after which he will hand down a decision in the case which had been pending for several years. The case began Wednesday.

Defendants in the case are the Conservation Department and the Ottawa Road Commission. The state seeks to expand the Holland state park at Ottawa Beach and through the road commission seeks to add several acres of land to the park.

In the case, the resort owners, represented by the West Michigan Park association, seek an injunction to restrain the state from taking over the area.

On Jan. 7 a hearing on a motion to dismiss the case was held and Judge Smith denied the motion. The state attorney general's office had asked that the case be dismissed, contending that parcels designated as parks on the Ottawa Beach plat are public parks, meant for use by the general public. The property owners claim that the area was designated as private parks, for use by adjacent property-owners only.

Witnesses for the plaintiff Wednesday were Robert Alt, Francis Russell and Jack Spindler, Grand Rapids, officers of the association, and William Beresma, Grand Rapids realtor. Testifying for the defendant were former Judge Fred T. Miles, Municipal Judge Cornelius Vander Meulen, Realtor Isaac Kouw and Martin Van Wieren, all of Holland.

Huge Throng Sees Parade On Saturday

Holland rang down the curtain on its 34th annual Tulip Time festival Saturday and festival leaders agreed that it was one of the most successful on record.

Tulips had been in fine condition, the weather was good (if cool) and the entire four-day program went on as scheduled except for one band concert which was rained out late Friday afternoon. And this concert will be put on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the band shell at Kollen Park.

A bright day Saturday became a bit cloudy in mid-afternoon and while some dark clouds looked threatening during parade time, there was no rain until a few drops fell shortly after 6 p.m. The few raindrops fell while the sun was shining brightly.

The town was jammed Saturday with crowds of people set for a good parade. Lt. Ernest Bear of the Holland police department who has been in charge of Tulip Time traffic detail for many years said the Saturday crowd was the largest he could remember.

Tulip Time officials placed estimates up to 250,000 on Saturday. Crowds continued Sunday, with the heaviest concentration at the tulip farms and on tulip lane.

Saturday's two-mile parade route was jammed up to 14-deep in some areas as people sought some vantage point for a view. Second floor windows were crowded in downtown stores and many more people were on roofs. Some years back, all buildings had been carefully inspected for such uses.

The parade lineup was the longest in the long history of Tulip Time parades, but the 60 bands and other units passed a given point in about one hour and 40 minutes, about 10 minutes longer than some other parades.

A terrific traffic jam developed after the parade, but a well coordinated program between city police and county deputies in directing one-way traffic east on Eighth St. got cars moving. Inside of an hour, the tieups had dissipated in the city, but continued at out-of-town attractions.

Klomp dancers carried a heavy schedule Saturday, some dancers making four or five appearances. They probably made their most impressive appearance at the Tulip Time Varieties Saturday night in Civic Center when they varied the routine step for such special formations as double circles and a huge windmill.

The Varieties program opened with a crack performance by the Wavettes Drum and Baton Corps of Elkhart, Ind., winners of corps twirling competition earlier in the day in Civic Center. Other entertainment was provided by a balancing act, and music by a family trio of Grand Rapids. Arthur C. Hills led community singing, with Erick Wendland of Grand Rapids providing accordion accompaniment.

An unfortunate accident preceding the program marred the performance of the Avon High School Band of Indianapolis, Ind. Earlier in the day several lights had blown out and just before the program, a bleacher rolled over the main cable knocking out more than half of the lights and some speakers. The presentation of "The Great White Way" was carried on in the half light and failed to match the fine performance of the same program the band gave in their home gymnasium Tuesday night.

Manager Karsten today expressed heartfelt appreciation to all the people who helped make the 1963 festival a success. This number, he said, runs into thousands and thousands and includes not only those bands, klomp dancers, and festival leaders, but also the hard working mothers who provided costumes for the children.

Lt. Bear of the police department echoed Karsten's praise in another direction. Bear said local residents were most gracious this year in putting up with the inconveniences that develop when huge numbers of visitors converge on the city. He said residents were most cooperative in keeping tulip lanes clear.

Two From Hope Faculty Are Retiring in June

Mrs. Helen Korsten

Two members of the Hope College faculty who have given a combined total of 52 years of service to the school will retire in June.

They are Miss Emma M. Reeves, Dean of Women at Hope since 1947, and Mrs. Helen Karsten, instructor in piano since 1928.

Miss Reeves will be honored at a tea sponsored by the Association of Women Students on Sunday, May 26. Also honored will be Mrs. Delia Steininger, assistant to the dean and first head resident at Durfee Hall, who will retire at the end of this year.

A 1920 Hope graduate, Miss Reeves joined the English faculty of Annville Institute in 1924 and later became principal. She received her M. A. from the University of Michigan in 1935, while teaching at Berea College, where she remained for 17 years.

Miss Reeves came to Hope as an associate professor of English in 1946. The following year she became Dean of Women.

While serving in this capacity she has been involved in personal counseling and supervision of women's residence halls and acted as advisor to several women's organizations.

One of her special interests has been the development and strengthening of student government in the residence halls. In 1961 she saw the fulfillment of years of hard work when Alcor became a chapter of Mortar Board, the national senior women's honor society.

Miss Emma Reeves

Miss Reeves served as vice president of the Michigan Association of Women Deans and Counselors in 1954-56, and served as its president in 1956-58.

This year a fund in her honor has been created by an anonymous alumna to be used at the discretion of the Dean of Women to help one or more women students who may be in need of financial assistance during the school year.

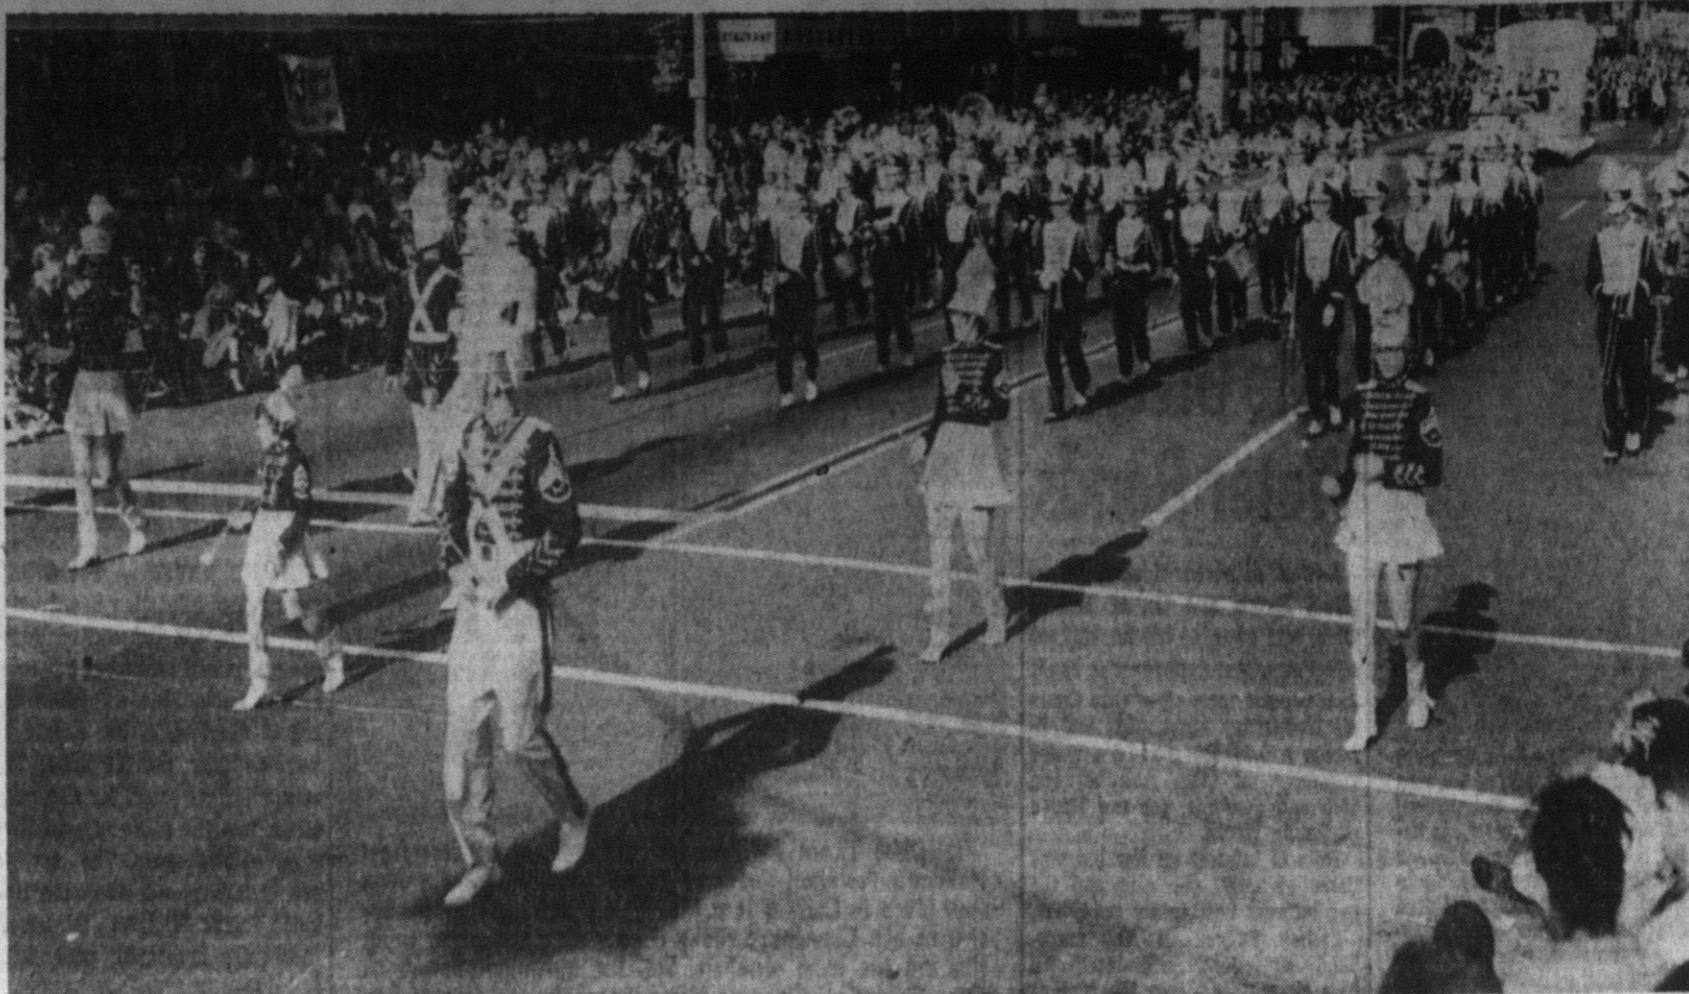

After her retirement she will become a part-time instructor in English at Berea College.

Mrs. Karsten will retire at the end of this year after 35 years with the Hope Music Department. She studied at the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago for three years, and organ, piano and composition with private instructors.

In 1928, at the request of Dr. Nykerk, then President of Hope College, Mrs. Karsten joined the faculty to teach piano, organ and music theory. She was piano soloist when Dimment Memorial Chapel, the organ, and the concert grand were dedicated.

A special member of the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs and a member of its Past Presidents Assembly, Mrs. Karsten is also a member of the Michigan Music Teachers Association and has served on its State Board of Certification. She is also a charter member and past president of the Holland Music Club.

Although she is retiring from the Hope faculty, Mrs. Karsten will continue to teach piano privately.

She carried a white Bible with a corsage of white carnations and pink sweetheart rose buds.

Miss Carol Dyke assisted her sister as the maid of honor and was attired in an ice-green dress of silk organza with a lace bodice and scoop neckline. The bouffant skirt formed a bustle in the back with a cabbage rose at the waist.

Capacity House Cheers 1963 Parade of Quartets

Any parade of barbershop quartets in Holland that features both the Schmitt Brothers of Two Rivers, Wis., and the Midstates Four of Chicago guarantees a sellout crowd.

And so it was Friday night when the local chapter sponsored its 17th annual Parade of Quartets in Civic Center.

Joe Schmitt, the genial tenor of the Schmitt Brothers, remains unsurpassed as an emcee, and his easy patter set the stage for a relaxed evening of uninhibited fun. Joe, who admitted there was a little more of him this year than his last appearance in Holland two years ago, introduced the various quartets with his usual aplomb, meanwhile carrying on a running joke with the slim guys.

Three of the four quartets appearing are now semi-retired, but their music remained as good as ever and the large crowd loved everybody.

The Schmitts, longtime favorites in Holland, opened with "The Girl That I Marry" which Joe described as a bit late since the four members now boast a total of 27 children among them.

The Schmitts demonstrated their various talents which range from lyrical lullabies to belting out "Alexander's Ragtime Band" with all the vigor of an Ethel Merman. Although the Quartet makes few appearances these days, they managed a few songs if only to prove to their host, Bill Diekmann, they still keep working at it.

The zany Mid-States Four who have been organized for 20 years repeated the type of performance that has had Holland audiences rolling in the aisles for years. More and more, the quartet plays up to the baritone, Forrest Haynes, a natural comedian who is funny no matter what he does. The other three members are willing foils and it is quite evident they don't know what is coming next in a good many cases.

What with funny stories and other antics, the quartet also proved it could turn out some pretty good music too.

Two local quartets, the Chord Counts of Holland and the Extension Chords of Grand Rapids, again proved their popularity as favorites with Holland audiences. The Extension Chords opened with their well known "hello" song and vocalized in "Does Your Mother Know You're Out, Cecelia" and "That Old Gang of Mine."

The Chord Counts with a slimmer Marty Hardenberg, the envy of Emcee Schmitt, sang "Let Me Entertain You," "My Cutie's Due," the "Balad of Rodger Young" and an imitation of the Ink Spots in "I'd Climb the Highest Mountain."

A barbershop innovation took place when the two quartets merged into "The Great Eight" and put on the opening of "The Music Man" as a crowd of traveling salesmen in a train coach. They also sang "Lida Rose" from the same musical.

The Windmill Chorus of Holland, which won the state title for choruses a few weeks ago, made three appearances. The first was in a tavern scene about tables with red checked tablecloths singing the Yale "Whiffenpoof" Song. The second was a black-light number in which the chorus wore snazzy white coats and spats, and the third was a repeat of the fine effective rendition of last year's "Battle Hymn" in a Civil War camp setting.

Roger Essenburg, chapter chairman, presented two awards. A $100 scholarship went to Ellis Julien, a Hope College student majoring in music, and the annual award of "Barbershopper of the Year" went to Ken Helder of the Holland chapter.

The program ended in the usual way with all quartets joining the Windmill Chorus in singing the official barbershop song, "Keep America Singing" under the direction of the composer, Willis A. Diekmann of Holland.

A FINE TULIP FESTIVAL AND HOSPITALITY DAY —

The 1963 Tulip Festival was an unqualified success.

Regardless of the original purpose of Tulip Time, the festival has become a national attraction and whether we like it or not, we have found ourselves required to play the part of a gracious host to thousands of visitors. Certainly the community as a whole owes a debt of gratitude to all those who have contributed to making the visits of our many guests pleasant ones.

The Sentinel therefore wishes to publicly thank all those persons who participated voluntarily and without compensation in the many Tulip Time features. Besides the officially designated committees, important roles as hosts were played by the street scrubbers, the children and their teachers in the wonderful folks parade, Hope College, the bands and floats which added so much color and interest to the parades, the courteous city, county, and state law enforcement officers, the Barbershoppers, the city government, and the citizens themselves.

For some citizens the whole affair seems to be an unnecessary disruption of their business or professional routine. But for several hundred thousand guests it is a thoroughly enjoyable and refreshing outing. Tulip Time will continue to be a national feature so long as this community goes out of its way to continue to play the part of the gracious host.

Hospitality Day of Michigan Week is here today and while we have shown our hospitality to hundreds of thousands of people during the last week . . . it is a fine thing to again call your attention to the fact that this is the day to be hospitable.

We think that Michigan Week is a fine way to help our people learn more and more about our great state. Let's keep up the good work.
Thanks again to all those who contributed to the image of "Welkom, Vrienden" which symbolizes the Dutch tradition of friendliness and goodwill.

Worship In The House of God
Psalm 84
By C. P. Dame

In May there are some people who forget all about the church for they are more interested in going places. Not all are like that for many people attend church summer and winter regardless of the weather or conditions. The man who wrote Psalm 84 was of that kind. America needs more people like that man was in his day.

I. For some church going is a duty for others it is a privilege.
The Psalmist considered it a privilege. In a certain sense it is both. When a person joins a church he promises that he will attend church services faithfully. Some churches drop members who for a definite time fail to attend. It is a duty for members to go to church.

All members ought to look upon church going as a high privilege.
The Psalmist said, "My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the Lord: my heart and my flesh crieth out for the living God."

Some modern Christians long for Sunday to come so that they may go to God's House and meet God there. The condition of a person's spiritual life is revealed by his attitude toward worship and God's House.

The Psalmist looked with holy envy upon the birds which built their nests within the precincts of God's House. He felt that all who ministered in God's House were singularly blessed because they could praise Him there all the time. To the Psalmist and to all those who have his spirit, worship is a great delight.

II. Worship builds the spiritual life.

People all worship—if not God then science, art, business, the family or themselves. Man was created to worship God who created him. There is something impressive about a congregation worshipping God together. Every one in the congregation can do two things—sing and pray.

Does it do anything for us? It can do much if we come prepared. It surely helps us to forget the daily problems and anxieties and makes it easier to fix our minds upon the great and the eternal verities of life.

In times past worshippers had to travel miles in order to go to the temple but the devout thought it was well worth while.

Today, people who have a similar spirit go regardless of the weather, season of the year, or the ways of the worldly—they long to worship God and they go to Gods House twice a Sunday if they can. They are concerned about spiritual growth and believe that worship helps and it does.

III. The more we think of God the more we long to worship Him.

The Psalmist said that God "is a sun and shield" and that He gives "grace and glory." God means much to His people.

The Psalmist said, that "a day in Thy courts is better than a thousand, I had rather be a door-keeper in the house of my God than to dwell in the tents of wickedness."

Every devout worshiper agrees.
The lovers of God delight to worship Him in His house. Our nation would be far better off morally and spiritually if more of its citizens had the spirit of the Psalmist. Do you have it?

Chapter Given Details
On Souvenir Spoons

The Christine Van Raalte Chapter of the Quakers held their meeting Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Lee Tapley with 19 members present. Mrs. Joe Jonker, president, conducted the business meeting.

Mrs. Harold Peerbolt gave a talk on the origin of souvenir spoons.
The first spoon was made in 1890.
One of the first spoons was a portrait spoon of George Washington, she said. There were many spoons made during the St. Louis Exposition of 1893 and also during the 1893 and 1933 Chicago World's Fairs.

Each member brought choice spoons from their own collections.
Included were Swedish spoons, coin silver, demi-tasse spoons with full figure handles.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and co-hostesses, Mrs.
Frank Sinke and Mrs. Morris Peerbolt.

Michigan has a highly diversified skilled-labor force, manning 365 different types of industry found within the state.

BIRD'S EYE VIEW — A group of klompen dancers give one of their last performances Saturday before a circle of spectators lining Eighth St. sidewalks, and forming an arc on the street around each dance group. The group here on the south side of Eighth St., at Central Ave., has its attention divided between this group of klompen dancers and another immediately to the east. This bird's eye view photo was taken from the top floor of the Warm Friend Hotel. It seemed that every other person carried a camera with the dancers topping the list of favorite subjects. (Sentinel photo)

Anthony Kooiker Gives Brilliant Performance

Anthony Kooiker returned to the concert stage in Holland Thursday night after an absence of two years during which time he completed work on his doctorate at the University of Rochester.

His return as soloist with the Hope College Orchestra playing the Liszt Second Piano Concerto was a spectacular success and was greeted with an ovation from an unusually large audience in Dimmet Chapel which had gathered for a Tulip Time concert.

The concerto is a brilliant and highly romantic work which is frequently considered to be one of the most difficult compositions of its type in the repertoire for both the soloist and the orchestra. It was extremely well played, the soloist displaying a sincere depth for feeling in the somber moments, a spectacular brilliance when called for, and a complete mastery of the varying moods of the music.

The concerto was originally conceived as a tone poem for piano and orchestra when first written in 1839 and later altered somewhat to fit the forms of the more standard solo concerto. It is cyclic in form and demands of the soloist and orchestra not only technical perfection, but the ability to point out the continually developing melodic line. The performance was one of clarity in which the composer intent was ever in mind and the orchestra conducted by Dr. Morrette Rider provided an accompaniment to Dr. Kooiker's brilliant playing of a standard which is not often encountered outside the professional ensembles.

The program also included the "Elegy for Orchestra" by the American Oklahoma composer Roy Harris and "The Pictures at an Exhibition" by Mourssorgsky in the edition by Maurice Ravel. The latter has become a favorite of the symphonic repertoire and provides colorful musical descriptions of paintings in an art gallery.

Of particular appeal to the audience were the sections entitled The Genome, Goldenberg and Schmuyle in which the difficult trumpet solo was well played by Thomas Steffens, and the powerful Great Gate at Kiev. Other solo parts included in the set were played by Paul Lein, saxophonist and Donald Vuurens in Bydlo.

Reverend Albertus C. van Raalte, both a minister and a physician, led to this state in 1846 the group of Calvinists from the Netherlands who established Holland.

If you count ponds, Michigan has more than 50,000 lakes.

'Caligula' Is Big Triumph For Hope Drama Students

David Karsten's drama students did themselves proud Thursday night at the opening of their final play of the season, a most difficult drama entitled "Caligula" by the Nobel prize winner Albert Camus.

Very nearly geared to the excellent production of "Medea" last year, the Camus drama brought out the ultimate in depth of feeling for young thespians, long accustomed to doing a better job than normally is expected from college drama enthusiasts.

It was a stirring farewell for two talented seniors, B. J. Berghorst and Nancy Rees, in the last of many fine roles the two had played during their college careers. Berghorst, a senior of Zeeland, played the tyrant Caligula to the hilt, making that diabolical historical figure come to life with all the frustrations and instability experienced in a decaying Roman empire in the years of 37 to 41 A.D.

Nancy Rees, who scored at Hope's last presentation in "Six Characters in Search of a Play" was a most convincing Caesonia, the loyal mistress who was one of the very few who in some measure understood the twisted mind of the emperor.

Strong performances also were given by Lew Scudder as Cherea, a Roman nobleman, and Vincent Kleyla as Scipio the poet, both with an integrity of mind and intelligence far overshadowing other key figures whose less meaty roles nevertheless were played with similar conviction.

Hope's production of "Caligula" was an excellent blend of fine costumes, good lighting, an effective multi-level set on which actors moved easily, well selected music,

Chamber Hires New Executive

In a move to enlarge and strengthen the activities of the Holland Chamber of Commerce, the board of directors Monday night, voted to hire Roscoe Giles of Middletown, N.Y., as executive vice president. Giles will begin his duties with the local Chamber July 1.

The action came after several months of screening applications from some 40 candidates by a special committee of board members, composed of John Donnelly, chairman; Charles Cooper, Harold Denig, John Van Dyke, Jr., and William Sanford.

The new post of executive vice president is intended to give the Chamber a full-time professional direction in more fully developing the commercial, industrial and tourist interests of the greater Holland area within the cultural and traditional framework of the community.

The position does not supplant that of the present secretary-manager, held by William H. Vandewater, who will continue as manager of the Chamber office affairs, but is a newly created executive function to broaden the scope and effectiveness of the Chamber.

Roscoe Giles has been executive vice president and industrial coordinator for the Middletown, N. Y. Chamber of Commerce for the past six years. Prior to that, he was Chamber manager at Charlevoix, Pa., and initially at Ft. Fairfield, Me. He is a director of the New York State Chamber of Commerce, a charter member of the New York State Industrial Development Agency, and on the communications evaluation committee of the American Association of Chamber Executives. He is also a director of the Orange County, New York, Development Commission. Giles, 45, is married, and has one daughter, 15 years old.

Stuart Padnos, president of the Holland Chamber, said, "It was thought necessary by the local Chamber board to engage a man of Roscoe Giles' experienced capacity in view of the much greater scope of activities in which the Holland Chamber of Commerce is involved on an area-wide basis."

"Recent formation of the Economic Development Corporation, for example, opens up significantly greater opportunities and responsibilities for the community's industrial and commercial development, and the services of our new executive vice president will be quite important to this movement."

"Then, too, there is the increased attention we wish to pay to the area's tourist and vacation development. Actually, the Chamber wants to grow with the unequalled potentials of the greater Holland area."

Party Orients Miss Holland Candidates

About 20 young women attended the official orientation party for the Miss Holland Pageant held Monday night at Cummerford's Restaurant. About 65 people were in attendance including the parents, guest speakers and representatives from the Holland Jaycees, the sponsors of the pageant.

The party was given a send-off by Henry Steffens, Mayor pro-tem, who commended all in attendance for their interest shown. This civic venture on June 15 will select a young woman to represent the city of Holland.

Roger Stroh, president of the Holland Jaycees, welcomed the guests on behalf of the Jaycees and said the pageant is undertaken as a service to the community.

Keith Ditch, pageant chairman, recounted the many tangible awards that a young woman will receive as Miss Holland.

The less tangible awards, such as meeting people, developing poise and talent, were discussed by Miss Elisabeth Clark, present Miss Holland. Miss Clark also narrated a showing of color slides of last year's Miss Holland and Miss America Pageants.

Jerome Hurtgen, entries chairman, outlined the general pageant format and described the basis upon which the judges would be selecting Miss Holland. Hurtgen announced the deadline for entries for the pageant is Wednesday. It should be noted that although a young woman did not attend the party she may still enter the pageant by contacting Mrs. Charles Armstrong, Jaycee Auxiliary coordinator, explained the auxiliary's functions at the pageant and introduced Mrs. James Drooger as modeling director.

This was followed by a social hour in which the candidates and their parents were able to discuss the pageant casually with officials. The master of ceremonies was Paul Van Kolken. The party was arranged and planned by Mrs. Theodore Bosch and Warren Drooger. For additional information, persons may contact Ken Stanton, EX 6-5271, extension 213.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. William Buis. It was voted to donate $50 to the Elks Major Project Commission, a non-profit organization for aid to handicapped children. Dates for the annual rummage sale were set. A formal initiation for new members will be held on Thursday, June 20.

Garages are not so common in the Netherlands as they are in the United States since the great majority of Dutchmen do not own cars but depend on a bicycle or motorbike. Garages generally are much smaller since most are designed for smaller cars.

Couple to Mark Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John Blacquire will hold open house at their home on Friday, May 24, in celebration of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Relatives, friends and neighbors are invited to call from 2 to 4 and 7 to 10 p.m. at their home located on US-31, and Felch St. They have four children, Mrs. John Ten Harmel of Holland, William Blacquire and Mrs. Wilson Sterken, both of Zeeland and John Blacquire Jr., of Holland. There are 15 grandchildren.

The Senior Blacquires came to the United States from the Netherlands. Having worked as a carpenter for 11 years in the Netherlands, Mr. Blacquire followed that trade upon his arrival in this country. For more than three years he worked in Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota and Minnesota, after which he returned to Grand Rapids where he married Aaltje Wieseke. He later was employed by the Chris Craft Corp. The Blacquires attend Ninth Street Christian Reformed Church.

Historical Site Marker Set Here On Hope Campus

A marker relating the history of Hope College will be erected on the local campus and unveiled at a special "Heritage Convocation" to be held at 8 a.m. Friday at the site on the corner of 12th St. and College Ave. and in Dimment Memorial Chapel.

The marker will be placed on the campus by the Michigan Historical Commission. The date of unveiling coincides with Heritage Day of Michigan Week.

Participating in the convocation will be Dr. Wynand Wichers, former Hope College president, who will speak on the topic "Historical Highlights of Hope's Heritage."

Willard C. Wichers, President of the Michigan Historical Commission and a member of the Hope Board of Trustees will commission the marker. Responding for the college will be Dr. John Hollenbach, acting president.

Also participating in the ceremonies will be Richard Brandma, president of the Student Council and the Chapel Choir.

Many local organizations and professions will have representatives attending ceremonies. These include the Ministerial Association, Western Seminary, the Mayor, City Council and city officers, State Senator and Representative, Municipal and Circuit judges, the Michigan Bar Association, West Ottawa, Holland Christian and Holland High Schools, Chamber of Commerce, Herick Library, Women's Literary Club and the American Association of University Women.

Since 1955 the Michigan Historical Commission has registered and marked over 230 sites, buildings and subjects of historical interest.

The plaques are green and gold on aluminum and stand about six feet high. They mark such items as the pouring of the first mile of concrete highway in the world in 1909 located in Wayne County, Lincoln's only public appearance in Michigan in 1856 at Bronson Park in Kalamazoo and the buried ghost town of Singapore located near Saugatuck.

The only other marker in Ottawa County is found in Holland's Centennial Park, which tells the story of the coming of the Dutch settlers in Michigan.

The public is invited to witness the ceremonies.

Ten Have and Gary Datema, 719 Ruth St., picked ½ bushel of morels in about 90 minutes. The morels, which experts claim taste much better than mushrooms, are hunted by many residents early in the spring. Ten Have declined to pinpoint the area where he found the large morel other than "someplace south of Holland." (Sentinel photo)
